BARDSLEY'S CHARGES.

They Are Emphatically Denied by Post master General Wanamaker-Suppr

Interviews Made Public PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—The subcommittee of the finance committee of the city council that is inquiring into the failure of the Keystone national bank and the affairs of ex-City Treasnrer John Bardsley held a protracted session Friday afternoon. The main Mitnesses were Robert M. McWade, city editor of the Public Ledger; William V. McKean, editor in chief of the same paper, and Postmaster General Wanamaker.

Mr. McWade was the first witness.

He said in answer to questions that he went to the county prison June 18 and interviewed the imprisoned ex-city treasurer. Bardsley talked freely and understood that the interview was for publication. He told Bardsley at the beginning that in view of certain charges that had been made in the newspapers he thought it proper for him to make a full statement. particularly as to what became of the $945,000 deposited and which had disappeared, the charge being made that it had been stolen. After McWade had written out the first statement he said a consultation was held between Mr. McKean, himself and other members of the editorial force of the Ledger, and after full deliberation and discussion it was decided not to publish it because so strong reference. unsupported by facts, was made to certain people.

Mr. McKean was not sworn. . He said that as editor of the Ledger he had charge of the interview which Mr. Mc-Wade had obtained. He said that because the statement implicated a number of reputable citizens it was decided that it was not proper to publish it. It was locked up in the office fire-proof safe. and had, so far as he knew, never been out of the Ledger office until brought to the committee-room now. No member of the committee had ever seen it; in fact, no one except the three editors of the Ledger had ever seen it. Both interviews were submitted to the committee.

It was decided by a vote of 5 to 2 to at once listen to the public reading of the statements. Mr. McWade, being familiar with the manuscript, was asked to read the papers. Much that Bardsley told to Mr. McWade was afterward incorporated in the statement he read in court when called up for sentence June 23 and which has already been published. In these Bardsley again went over the story of the Keystone bank and stoutly maintained that he put the $930,000 in the bank, but did not know what became of it any more than he believed that President Marsh got it. Bardsley said that Bank Examiner Drew had been a heavy borrower from the Keystone bank and was completely under Lucas and Marsh's thumb. In regard to John Wanamaker Bardsley said that Marsh told him that he knowingly held overissue shares of bank stock and demanded $100,000 for them and upset the plans for reorganization of the bank, then Bardsley said he advised Marsh engage counsel a demand on Wanamaker for the overissued shares, as he was guilty of a crime in holding them. Marsh remade a demand on Wanamaker which he refused. Wanamaker's position was that the Lucas estate should and the bank $25,000. The law yers then notified Mr. Wanamaker that if the fraudulent shares were not In British India much anxiety has delivered to them by a specified date they would resort to legal measures to get them. The shares were then turned over without delay. Wanamaker had made a threat that he would see Comptroller Lacey in Washington and have the bank closed before they expected "Marsh came to said Wanamaker wanted and Wanamaker got it." Postmaster General Wanamaker entered the room while Bardsley's statement was being read. In answer to questions he said that his interests in the Keystone bank are out of his acquaintance with President Lucas and his brother when they were young merchants. He said that he never pledged the overissued stock after he was told it was an overand never had met Mr. Lucas but once, DURING a storm eighteen farm houses and that was at an interview about the told by Bardsley to McWade that he had threatened to close the bank unless he was paid for the overissued stock, and that Lawyer Sulzberger and Johnson had forced him to return it, Mr. Wanaand beauty has been discovered in Bardsley's statement that Marsh obtained from him $200,000 for Wanamaker in March, 1890, he said was absolutely untrue and without the slight est foundation, and invited the committee to inspect his books.

Mr. Wanamaker was then informed by a member of the committee that during an examination of the stockbook of the Keystone bank they over forty persons, mostly Indians, in his name in addition to the 2,515 shares which he testified An explosion on the boat Ethel off | had been given him by Lucas to use stock. "When I appeared before this committee before," said Mr. Wanaprivate operations."

In regard to the stock which has been found in his name, 250 shares of it, Mr. Wanamaker said, who held by Irvin & An excursion train collided with a Toland, his bankers, as collateral. Of these, five blocks of 200 shares each were dated March 3, 1886, and while issued in his name the power of attorney had never been indorsed by him, and they could never have been used. Of these shares he had absolutely no knowledge. The next lot, five blocks of 200 shares each, was dated four weeks earlier-February 3, 1886. He was a director in any and Lucas came to him and asked him to obtain erable time afterward it was paid of by the Lucas estate and they got the

Mr. Wanamaker also presented the committee with a letter from John C. Lucas, dated May 28, 1886, inclosing check to pay the interest on this loan. "Of the other unused five blocks of stock," said Mr. Wanamaker, "my impression is that Mr. Lucas at first intended to ask for larger loan and so issued them. It was never used, however, as it could not have been without my indorsement. I know of no other stock, but I remember that ten years ago when Lucas was securing control of the bank he came to me and said he did not want people to know who certain stock belonged to, and for a time he placed some in my name. In regard to certificate No. 450, which was transferred by H. H. Yard to Soudder & Durham, of Trenton, that is a part of the stock on which the loan from the Girard Trust Company was secured, and after the Lucas estate got it back it was very likely to pass over to Yard again to raise money on." The fact that some of the certificates held as collateral by Irvin & Toland were dated after Lucas' death he said was due to the brokers' refusal to handle them while in a dead man's name. In closing his testimony Mr. Wanamaker read letters from Comptroller Lacey and Assistant Secretary Nettleton to show that he had never influenced or delayed the appointment for an instant of a receiver for the Keystone bank.

They Are Found in a Nebraska Farmhouse-J. H. Puterbaugh Believed to Have Taken the Lives of His Wife and Four Children and Then Killed Himself. ELLIS, Neb., July 11.-About 4 o'clock Friday afternoon Mrs. Dr. Allen, of Beatrice, came to Ellis on a visit to her brother, John H. Puterbaugh, who lived a mile and a half south of town. She was driven to the farm by Louis Perling and knocked at the door, but receiving no response entered the house, the door not being locked. As she entered she saw her brother on the floor near the door and supposed he was asleep. She spoke to him, but there being no response looked more closely and saw blood and her brother's ghastly face. Mrs. Allen called Perling in, who made an investigation and found a horrible state of affairs. On bed in the room in which the husband and father lay was the mother with a bullet through her head. In bed with her was a 2-year-old babe, also shot through the head. On a lounge in the room lay a lad of 10 years dead, shotthrough the head. In the room above was another bed occupied by two young girls, one 13 and one 15, both with bullet holes in their heads. The dead are John Puterbaugh, his wife and four children. How they met their horrible fate is as yet not known, only by surmise. The general belief s that the terrible deed was the work of the husband and father. The motive is not known, as Puterbaugh was a peaceable man in comfortable circumstances, and it is believed no trouble

Coroner Wells, of Beatrice, arrived on the scene shortly after 6 o'clock, and the inquest is in progress. It seems certain that the terrible crime was committed by Puterbaugh. By his side. under his arm, lay a 32-caliber, sixchambered revolver with all the chambers empty. The scene in the house was a horrible one and made the strongest hearted turn away. The faces of the dead, though covered with blood, were calm as though sleeping. No signs of fear were portrayed on any of them and no evidence of a struggle was seen anywhere. All seemed to have been killed while sleeping and all were shot directly through the skull. In every case the pistol was placed close to the head, as powder stain were visible upon the pillows or bed clothing.

Puterbaugh was not a drinking man and had the reputation of being an honest and peaceable citizen. He suffered from the grip last spring and since then has not been in the best of health, frequently complaining of a pain in his head. He was a man about 38 or 40 years of age, and his wife was a year or two younger. The murdered children were as follows: Carrie, 15 years; Mabel, 13 years; Charles, 10 years; ph, 2 years. One son, Allen, 17 ars of age, survives. He was away from home at work, having left Wednesday.

Puterbaugh was in Beatrice Wednesday and is said to have then purchased the revolver with which the terrible deed was committed. In the barn near the house were the two mules and three horses. Hitched to a wagon in front of the barn were two more horses, and in the field a number of cows. The house was fairly well furnished for a farm house, and in the cupboard was an abundance of good food. Puterbaugh owned 240 acres of land which he purchased March last from A. Wisnell, of Beatrice. He was liked by all who knew him here and at his former home in Diller.

Enormous Debts of the Falls Bank of Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 11.—The Falls City bank has closed its doors, making an assignment to the Mechanics' Trust Company. Bad debts and bad management are responsible. For over six months the clearing house has been tiding it over, but it was never able to recover from the panic of last December, when the general money market was so tight. It had a capital stock of $600,000. The liabilities, including the capital stock, will reach $1,200,000. The depositors will probably be paid in full, but the stockholders will be fortunate if they get 10 per

The bank has been in a tottering condition for some time. It began to topple last December, but the other panks, fearful that its failure would precipitate a general crash, came to its rescue. First the clearing house loaned it $50,000, then a month later $50,000 more. It has thus been kept up until the danger of a general panic was averted. The other banks, however, have since obtained a firm footing and recently concluded to withdraw the props from the Falls City bank. This was done with the above result. In 1869 this bank was the victim of one of the most sensational robberies in riminal history. The robbers engaged a room overhead and bored through the walls into the vault, securing $400,000

BIG FIRE IN CINCINNATI. Property Valued at $1,100,000 Destroyed by the Flames.

CINCINNATI, July 9.—The great hat, fur and cloak house of A. E. Burkhardt & Co. of this city was destroyed by fire Wednesday night. The establishment. which was located at Fourth and Elm streets, was seven stories high, and was the largest of the kind in the United States. The house was also the most extensive in the manufacture of fur goods and sealskins in this country and had a large amount of valuable stock on hand. The concern did a retail as well as a wholesale business in gentlemen's hats, millinery and ladies' cloaks. The firm moved into its present quarters about 2 year ago and the house was fitted up in the most magnificent style. About 250 employes will be thrown out of work. The building was the property of William A. Hooper, banker and financier. It was nearly new and cost $200,000. Mr. Burkhardt had spent $90,000 in interior adornment.

Soon after the start of the fire in the lower one of the two cellars the entire fire department was called out. Dense volumes of blinding smoke at first filled the streets, but presently the flames sped upward through the building and with incredible rapidity shot skyward through the roof, lighting up the city for half a mile around. Soon the walls began to crumble and the building with its contents became an irretrievable loss.

The east frontage on Fourth street of the Goodman building was occupied by Henry Geiershofer & Co., dealers in clothing and manufactures. They estimated their stock at a valuation of over $400,000. Geireshofer's loss will not be less than $250,000, and they have that amount of insurance, so that their loss will be fully covered. The loss of the building will not be less than $250,-000, and if Mr. Burkhardt's estimate of his stock is correct the loss will reach $1,100,000 at least.

Mr. Burkhardt said that he could only give a rough estimate of the value of the stock in the building, and that he said was, to the best of his belief, between $600,000 and $700,000. In addition to his own immense stock he stores great quantities of valuable furs for citizens every summer, and these furs were all in the burning building.

The Elm street wall of the building had gone down and the east wall a midnight threatened to tumble. Soon after midnight it also leaped from it dizzy height on to the roof of the Pape manufacturing company's building, three-story brick. It was an extensive picture-framing establishment, one of the oldest in the city. The front three-quarters of the build ing, where the most valuable goods were kept, was completely ruined. The Pape Manufacturing Company's loss can hardly be less than $100,000, while the loss to the building is possibly $20,-The east wall in falling also struck the five story Steinway piano building next east of Pape's and knocked the west wall of that building in. It is hoped that the damage to the Steinways will be light. At 1 o'clock the fire. seemed entirely under control.

A Cloudburst Almost Entirely Destroys Russian Village, Many Residents Being in Galveston Bay.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 9.-Intelligence has reached here that the village of Eakterinoslav has been entirely destroyed by a cloudburst, which swept away 150 houses and drowned hundreds of people. Only the most meager details of the disaster are as yet known. It is said that the storm broke forth almost without warning, and during its continuance raged with FIVE MEN DROWNED.

GALVESTON, Tex., July 9.—The loss on Galveston island from Sunday night's storm did not amount to more than $1, 500. The citizens were worse scared than hurt. The fishing smack, Danica, commanded by Captain Robert Frankovich, was wrecked off Smith's point on the north side of Galveston bay during the squall Monday morning and five of the six men aboard of her were drowned. Those drowned are Robert Frankovich, Frank Millovich, Pete Strangel, Jack Spech and another unknown man. News of the terrible disaster was brought to the city by Vincent Sagovich, the sole survivor of the little craft. He reports that the sloop was wrecked on the reef just off Smith's point and the captain and all the crew washed into the sea, from which he escaped in a miraculous manner. He reported that the body of Pete Strangel had been washed upon the reef at the point and recovered, but at the time of his departure om the city none of the others had been recovered. Immediately upon the receipt of the news Sheriff Tiernan took steps to rescue the bodies of the other unfortunates and have them brought to the city.

Washington, July 9.—The secretary of the treasury has authorized the acceptance of the offer of the master of the Chilian steamer Itata to pay $500 for the violation of our navigation laws, having cleared from San Diego, Cal., without the necessary permit. Destroying the Wheat. TACOMA, Wash., July 9 .- The Washington wheat crop is in danger of partial destruction by gophers and squir-rels. For several days wheat buyers have been receiving advices that for five or six days these animals have been appearing in large numbers in the Big Bend and Palouse district. In some stances not less than 10 to 20 per cent. of the large fields of grain has already been devastated. Arsenic is being spread over the fields, mixed with grain, and is kill-ing large numbers of the rodents. If the devastation continues it is estimat-ed that not less than 1,000,000 bushels of grain will be destroyed.

LAST YEAR'S IMMIGRATION. Germany Still in the Lead, with Italy a Close Second. NEW YORK, July 10.—The statistics of immigration at this port for the year ending June 30, 1891, have been completed. They show that the total number of immigrants landed here during that period was 405,604. Germany sent the largest number, 74,882. Itoly was next on the list, with 70,778. Ireland came third, with 35,424, and Russia fourth, with 33,514, most of whom were Hebrews.

From England there came 24,229, from Scotland 4,908, and from Wales only 252. Sweden increased our population by 29,415, Norway added to it 10,932, and 9,043 were sent here by little Denmark, making a total of 49,390 for the Scandinavian peninsula. Hungary contributed 26,443 immigrants; Austria, 26,539; Poland, 24,256, and Bohemia 8,498.

Among the Italian immigrants there was the greatest disproportion between males and females, there being 57,947 of the former and 12,829 of the latter. This indicates that the majority of the Italians landing on these shores do not come with the intention of settling here, but expect to return to their own sunny land to spend and enjoy the money they have made here. Of the total number of immigrants only 18,270 went to the southern states, 4.281 of whom are credited to Texas. The middle states got by far the largest share. New York comes first, with 169,841 put down to her account, and Pennsylvania is next, but a long way behind, with 55,527. New Jersey captured 17,965 immigrants, Massachusetts 13,378, and Connecticut 10,483. Among the western states Illinois leads with 32,420 immigrants added to her population, Michigan got 13,574; Minnesota, 9,645; Wisconsin, 8,440; California, 6.901, and lowa, 5,937. Missouri gained 4.281. Arizona got the smallest share, her quota being only 280. North Carolina comes next to the bottom with 407. Of the total number of immigrants 155,936 are classed as unskilled laborers, 40,449 as farmers, 8,612 as tailors, 5,402 as shoemakers, 6,682 as joiners, 3,484 as carpenters, 2,371 as blacksmiths, 2,436 as butchers, 2,813 as peddlers, and 2,446 as bakers. Of those who arrived 510 were returned. Of this number 310, most of them Italians, were returned for violation of the contract labor law.

We shall also confer with consuls."

Crop Prospects.

A recent careful survey of the crop situation in the Northwest showed better prospects than for several years past. There was an unusually excellent stand of wheat in the No. 1 hard districts of Minnesota and North Dakota. The rains had been seasonable and the growing temperature just right. There had been no damage, except in limited and isolated cases, from winds, rains or insects. The Red River Valley, in which there nas never been a general faiture, promised to beat its best record, when it produced 35,000,000 bushels of wheat. There was a scarcity of farm-hands, and from $2 to $2.50 a day and board was being offered for harvesters.

In a moment an avalanche of rocks and earth and trees was upon the doomed settlement, carrying away everything close to the cannery. The occupants of the houses had time to get outside of the buildings, but, before they could escape from the advancing torrent of debris, were caught and carried along at a fearful velocity. In all nine houses, with their occupants, were destroyed, including the mess-house and residence of the foreman of the cannery. In the messroom at the time of the catastrophe was the young wife of the foreman. She was carried along and dashed to death. The Indians claim that among those destroyed were about forty Indians of the Post Sampson, Sitka, Metlakatlah and Kilimat tribes.

NICKEL SAVINGS BANK STAMP SYSTEM

For Use of Children and Young People,

And it is a good idea both in regard to saving up money that might otherwise be spent foolishly and even harmfully, and to inculcate habits of prudence, self-denial and thrift, that will have an important influence over young people in after life: " As the twig is bent the tree is inclined." It is surprising, even to old people, how rapidly money accumulates by these little droppings of only a nickel. Let all your young people interest themselves in a Nickel Stamp Book furnished "with a starter" of one nickel stamp free of charge by The Chelsea Savings Bank.

Most of the stores in Chelsea, Stockbridge, and other near by places, are agents, and furnish the Books and Stamps also,

DESCRIPTIVE.

The Bank supplies its agents with gummed Stamps, engraved in steel in handsome design. The purchaser of the first stamp or stamps receives from the agent the Stamp Book, in which the stamps are to be pasted. When the first page has been filled, the depositor takes the Stamp Book to the agent, who tears out the first full leaf of stamps, and detaches from the inside back cover of the Pullman Tourists Sleeping Cars Stamp Book the signature slip, which must be properly signed by the depositor and the agent who receipts for the page, and with the ered free of charge, by leaving your order full leaf of stamps, delivered to the Bank.

In case of children, or others unable to sign their names, parents, guardians or legal representatives may sign for them, also signing their own names after the word, per. The signature slip is of second-class tickets and others, the held by the Bank as a means of identifying the depositor.

Upon receipt by the Bank of the full leaf of stamps it will issue to the depositor through the agent a handsome and durable Deposit Card, upon which has been entered a credit to the depositor of each week personally conducted parties $1.00, the value of the first full leaf of the Stamp Book, holding will leave Chicago for all Coast Points $1.00, the value of the first full leaf of the Stamp Book, nolding twenty Nickel Stamps, and said deposits will draw interest according ness of a trip to California via the Sania to the rules of the Bank.
