THE usual signature of Mrs. Jefferson Davis is "V. Jefferson Davis." It was explained by some writer not long ago that the V. stood for the French word widow, and that the signature as written by her was the lady's own conceit for paying homage to her distinguished husband's name. That this writer was partly wrong is shown by the signature in the reply made to the request that she designate Richmond as the final burial place of Mr. Davis. This reply is signed "Varina Jefferson Davis."

Series of Shocks Cause a Panie, but Little Damage in the Indiana City. EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 27.-At 8:30 Sunday evening Evansville experienced a severe earthquake shock. The entire city was thrown into a panic, congregations in all the churches to their feet in the midst of the service and ran pell mell into the street, women and children screaming and fainting. hotels the greatest ex-At the citement prevailed. Guests rushed from their rooms into the corridors, then into the office and finally on to the streets. The duration of the shocks was scarcely more than three seconds, but it was long enough to unhouse nearly every man, woman and child in Evansville.

The noise accompanying the disturbance was really the most panicky part of the whole performance. It was loud and indescribable. It was not a report like a cannon, but rather like crashing of a big tree in a heavy wind. At the First Baptist church Dr.

Heagle had just given out his text when there was a rumble, a shock and the building groaned. The congregation was thoroughly terrified and the church was empty before one could count five. James Seiffert and wife and two adies were driving along Cherry street in a carriage when the shock came. The people pouring out of McFarland chapel frightened the horse and a runthe vehicle were more or less injured, but none fatally. At first nobody appeared to be certain of just what was the matter. On Sycamore street, near courthouse." Immediately there was a headlong rush in the direction of that structure. Its foundation had been said to be weak and everybody seemed to conclude that the massive pile had collapsed.

The shock was felt more severely in the southwest end of the city. Part of the side wall of the Stock Yard hotel was shaken off and the window lights in several houses in the western secthe first shock felt in this vicinity for several years. It was much more pronounced than the last.

The distinct report accompanying the shock led many to suppose that a powder magazine on the outskirts of the city had let go. The vibration at Henderson, 10 miles below here, was very violent. Chairs were overturned and several buildings are said to have been wrecked. Reports from other outlying cities tell of no serious damage. Mount Vernon, Newburg and other southern Indiana points and places in northern Kentucky experienced stronger earthquake shocks than those felt in Evansville.

AWFUL BUTCHERY.

A Black Desperado Chops Three Mem bers of a Kentucky Family to Death-He Is Killed by a Neighbor. LOUISVILLE, Kv., July 27.-Five miles from Paris, Ky., lived Nathan Conway. 61 years old, his wife, about the same age, their sons, Charley and William, nieces, Miss Florence and Leager. As they sitting on the veranda Sunday mornand asked if it was not a good knife. Charley Conway nodded assent and the negro throwing down the cup of water struck him with the knife, splitfamily ran into the house. Craig continued to hack the young man till he thought him dead. He then attacked the father, who had returned, and killed him. Then the mother coming up had her head split open and instantly died. After the negro had insanely hacked her body in a dozen places he attacked William Conway, cutting him in the head and on the body as he ran. He had just struck Conway to the ground when G. W. Bailey, a neighbor, attracted by the screams, came up and shot Craig twice with buckshot. This seemed to have no effect, but other neighbors had come up and a young man shot Craig with a pistol. Craig ran, and, falling beside a havstack, died in a few minutes from the effects of the buckshot wounds. The pistol ball had glanced around his head. The Conways were from Maysville originally, but came to Bourbon eighteen months ago from T. G. Meggin's farm, near Cynthiana. They were orderly citizens and held in the highest esteem. Craig said he had killed seven per sons and intended to kill that whole family. They also brought the gratifying intelli-gence that he had done this in compliment to the United States and at the instance of this country. While the relaxation was described as temporary and intended by the czar as a respite until he could consult with his political advisers, there is no doubt that it will lead to a permanent modification of the oppressive orders of expulsion. The matter has been very delicately managed in its diplomatic bearings. Strictly speaking the action of the ezar in expelling the Jews was a matter of purely domestic concern, with which neither the United States nor any country had anything to do. A diplomatic remonstrance would have been resented, but means were found for putting the matter in its proper light before the ezar. President Harrison interested himself personally. Some time ago a delegation of leading Jewish citizens headed by Jesse Seligman, the New York banker, and Oscar Straus, ex-minister to Turkey, waited on him and he assured them that the best efforts of the administration would be used to soften the rigors which the Russian Jews away resulted. Trains on a French Railroad Collide and Two Score and Ten Deaths Result-Three Lives Lost by a Disaster Near Paris, July 27.-A collision between excursion trains occurred at St. Mande day brought the important official news Sunday night in which fifty persons were killed and three carriages wrecked. Both trains were returning from a musical festival at Fontency. The second train crashed into the pre-ceding train before the latter had left the St. Mande station. The guard van and the three rear carriages of the fast train were wrecked and caught fire from the gas. The injured occupants were shricking in despair and the other passengers hurriedly left the train and assisted in extricating the victims. Soldiers also aided the fire brigade to quench the flames and rescue the sufferers. The work of helping the injured was carried on by torchlight. A dispatch from St. Mande dated 1 o'clock a. m. says that 100 persons were injured and that forty-nine dead bodies have been recovered, including those of two children who were mangled beyond recognition. Most of the dead victims are legless, their limbs having been crushed off through the jamming together of the seats. Fully 20,000 onlookers are at the scene. Many relatives of the victims are assembled at the railway station, and heartrending scenes are witnessed as the victims are extricated from the wreck. The driver and fireman of the second train were burned alive. It is reported that the station-master has gone mad and decamped. DISASTER IN OHIO.

Several other trains took passengers to Woodsdale and at time to return, about 2,000 people boarded the train. The day had passed merrily and everybody was laughing and chatting when the train reached Middletown at 8 o'clock on its way to this city. Some one had turned the air-brakes on for a joke and the engine was puffing and wheezing to pull the heavy load with the brakes on. Pretty soon a drawbar broke and the train was stopped on the siding at Middletown for repairs. The train was No. 8, with Conductor Glance and Engineer Harry Brewer in charge. Several flagmen were sent back to flag No. 44 freight, with Engineer Schwind and Conductor Sam King in charge As soon as the repairs were made the passenger excursion pulled out on the main track to make a start. Shrieks of men and women rent the air. Wild confusion prevailed for a time, and soon citizens of Middletown and the excursionists who were not hurt lent a hand in rescuing the dead and injured. A wrecking train and two relief trains with physicians and assistants were sent out from here and two trains from Cincinnati. The rescuers succeeded in getting all of the wounded out of the wreck and bringing them to this city at 8 o'clock Sunday morning. The dead came on a later train at 10 o'clock. A thousand people thronged the union depot anxious to see and hear of friends and relatives. Women cried for children, husbands and sweethearts, and the scene at the depot was a sad one. At length all the wounded who could walk were taken to the hospital or to their homes. The killed were Maria Frier, William Matthews and Frank Simonton, all of Dayton.

HIS ULTIMATUM.

Gov. Buchanan Informs the Tennessee Miners That He Will Advocate a Change in the Law at a Special Session of the Legislature Which Is to Be Called, but in the Meantime the Convicts Must Be Allowed to Work.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 23.-Gov. Buchanan reached the city Wednesday morning from Nashville, and as soon as he breakfasted began his work to smooth the tangled skein of the mining difficulty. He called his militia officers He first his consultation room and listinto ened to their reports. Later on prominent citizens of Knoxville and friends of the governor were admitted. The governor listened to all suggestions, evidently wanting the fullest possible discussion of the situation. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon by appointment he met the committee of the miners and the commission of five named by the miners. The session lasted several hours and at the end he announced his decision. He stated that before he left Nashville he had decided to call an extra session of the legislature, and had already made a call for an election to fill the vacancies in the legislature. In his call for a special session he will embody a recommendation to the legislature that the convict lease system be modified if not repealed. In the meanwhile, pending the election, the convicts must be returned to the Briceville mines, from which they had been evicted. If the miners agree not to molest them until such time as the legislature may act the militia will be sent home.

The committee from the miners, although having power to act, concluded that the decision of the governor should be laid officially before the miners as a whole, and the governorwas so informed The result is anxiously awaited by Gov. ings everywhere. The unveiling was Buchanan. He is interested in the sit- preceded by a parade with Maj. uation as no other man can be, for all the best lawyers believe that in calling last surviving commander of the out the militia he has exceeded his Stonewall brigade, as chief marshal, power. "The militia shall not be called into service | States in the state of Maryland, the except in cases of rebellion and invasion, and Southern society in New York, Camp then only when the general assembly shall declare by law that the public safety requires it."

Those best acquainted with the mountain people believe that the miners will be willing to leave the matter to the legislature, and will give the required promises. If they do not the convicts will be returned to Coal Creek, and with them the militia. If the force is not large enough to guarantee protection to property and the safe working of the convicts the United States government will be called upon for a force of regulars.

Public sentiment is against the policy of working convicts in competition with labor in the mines or anywhere else, and there is but little doubt the law authorizing the working of convicts outside of the prison will be repealed as soon as the legislature

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Aims of the New Political Organization Set Forth in an Address by Secretary

MILWAUKEE, July 23 .- The address of the national executive committee of the people's party has been sent to Secretary Schilling. A synopsis is as fol-It starts out with the information that the times which try men's souls are here once more. The descendants of British tories of 1776 and other European and American cap-italists have bound the country in chains. The declaration of independence from British arrogance needs to be supplemented British arrogance needs to be supplemented by a declaration of independence from the powers of concentrated wealth; the political independence gained by the revolution is but a shallow sham unless our country can secure industrial independence. The addressenlarges on the subtle power of money to oppress the poor, and then declares that the railroads of the country are capitalized at $9,000,000,000, and the great majority of their stock is held by people in England and other foreign countries who have no more interest in the United States than the vampire has in its rictim. At a rear than the vampire has in its victim. At a rea-sonable estimate foreign capitalists have in-vested $10,000,000,000 in our country. What value have they given us in return? They did not give us gold or silver, because these metals have been carried abroad by the shipload and are mined here, not in Europe. To secure this valuable property these foreigners have merely loaned us their credit in bank checks, drafts and notes, and they are paying these with the dividends they draw from our people.

Comparing the foreign capital invested here with the total wealth for the country the address declares that, reckoned at compound per cent. but that its plant could be duplicated with $15,000,000, showing that the actual rate of interest is 30 per cent, and that the same applies to numerous other corporations, thus making a source of great national danger. The policy o

the government in paying high premiums for money to take up bonds now due, so as to dis-pose of the accumulations of the treasury, is the professed inability of the treasury department to redeem the $50,000,000 of 4 per cents.

about to fall due.

The address makes the statement that the treasury contains $750,000,000 of money, but that the bankers who control the department fear that the release of $50,000,000 of ready money would break down the money market and release the grip that unproductive capital has upon the people of the country.

The burden of the debt resting on the people,

as shown by farm mortgage statistics, is discussed and the following remedy is proposed

"If the billions of dollars of bank and corporation paper, mortgages and other paper evidences of debt issued by individuals are good enough for the extortioners and the usurers, paper notes issued by all the people jointly in the form of government notes are better."

The address then goes into details

Every one suffers from Catarrh in the Head. Those who don't have it suffer from those who do. It's a disease you can't keep to yourself.

Here are some of the symptoms: Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid, and offen-sive; eyes weak, ringing in care, deafness; offensive breath; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. But only a few of these likely to be present at once.

The cure for it-for Catarrh itself, and all the troubles that come from it—a perfect and permanent cure, is Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

For Use of Children and Young People,

an important influence over young people in after life: "As the twig is bent the tree is inclined." It is surprising, even to old people, how rapidly money accumulates by these little droppings of only a nickel. Let all your young people interest themselves in a Nickel Stamp Book furnished "with a starter" of one nickel On motion, Special Ordinance No. stamp-free of charge by The Chelsea Savings Bank.

Most of the stores in Chelsea, Stockbridge, and other near by places, are agents, and furnish the Books and Stamps also.

The Bank supplies its agents with gummed Stamps, engraved in steel in handsome design. The purchaser of the first stamp or stamps receives from the agent the Stamp Book, in which the stamps are to be pasted. When the first page has been filled, the depositor takes the Stamp Book to the agent, who tears out the first full leaf of stamps, and detaches from the inside back cover of the Pullman Tourists Sleeping Cars Stamp Book the signature slip, which must be properly signed by the depositor and the agent who receipts for the page, and with the full leaf of stamps, delivered to the Bank.

In case of children, or others unable to sign their names, parents, guardians or legal representatives may sign for them, also signing their own names after the word, per. The signature slip is held by the Bank as a means of identifying the depositor.

Upon receipt by the Bank of the full leaf of stamps it will issue to the depositor through the agent a handsome and durable Deposit Blind, Bleeding, Itching, Ulcerated, and Card, upon which has been entered a credit to the depositor of each week personally conducted parties $1.00, the value of the first full leaf of the Stamp Book, holding The comfort, conveniences. On Thursday of will leave Chicago for all Coast Points. Protruding Piles .- Price 50c. For sale by twenty Nickel Stamps, and said deposits will draw interest according to the rules of the Bank.
