If you have money deposit it in the Chelsea Savings Bank, that it may earn for you interest, or until wanted, that you may be free from care and fear of loss by fire, thieves or otherwise. If you need to borrow money, upon good approved security, the Chelsea Savings bank will be glad to supply it for you.

The Chelsea Savings Bank has recently had built for it one of the strongest safes made, being the new patterns of the Mosler Bank Safe Companies, Round Screw Door, Laminated Chrome Steel, Burglar and Dynamite Proof Safe, with no keyhole, spindle or other connection through the door or walls, nor any access to the lock from the outside, the door being screwed in and held secure by a Double Chronometer Time Lock from inside. It is considered the strongest and best security ever devised against efforts of burglars. The safe is protected by a large new fireproof vault made necessary to store the upwards of twenty years' accumulation of books and papers of its business, and the whole premises are further protected by an Electric alarm System, which gives instant warning of trespassers at night.

Tobacco merchants handle a larger amount of ready money than any other class of business men.

The Italian government has taken steps to restrict emigration by refusing to allow minors to leave the country except under certain conditions.

JAMES W. BRADBURY, of Maine, and Alpheus Felch, of Michigan, who entered the senate in December, 1897, are the oldest ex-senators of the United States now living.

DR. OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES says: "If nine-tenths of the medicines in the world were thrown into the ocean mankind would be greatly benefited." But what about the poor fish?

The statistics for 1890 for the Pasteur Institute show that fifteen hundred and forty-six patients were treated. The record for the past five years shows only .06 per cent. of deaths.

A LECTURER in Massachusetts is trying to demonstrate to the young ladies that old maids are the salt of the earth. That may be true, but the girls prefer to be likened to the sugar of one house-hold.

THERE is a laundryman in Paris who has discarded all soaps, sodas and bleaching powders in his establishment. He merely uses plenty of water and boiled potatoes, and can cleanse, without employing any alkali, the most soiled of linens, cottons or woollens.

AN Indiana judge who did not believe that women were curious has changed his mind since the ladies at his hotel locked him in his room and refused to release him until he gave them the judgment he intended to give in a divorce case which he had taken under advisement.

At a low estimate American tourists spend $100,000,000 every year in Europe. It makes Uncle Sam sweat occasionally before breakfast to keep them all in pocket money and give the dear girls a chance at the dukes and princes and their usually attendant miseries. But it is the fashion, and that tells the story.

THAT was a rude interruption to the festivities of a wedding at Vienna. Lightning struck the house, killing two guests and injuring eighty. In years gone by a dread coincidence like this would have been interpreted as a sign of Divine displeasure at the contemplated union. Happily the spread of scientific information has freed mankind from many superstitions.

PHILANTHROPY and religion had a big windfall in the New York surrogate's court the other day. Three wills filed there left over $350,000 to benevolent objects. Of this amount $300,000 was from the estate of Hector C. Havemeyer, who distributed the money among various organizations. Charles W. Morrill left $146,000 to similar objects, and David Stewart bequeathed $10,000 to charity.

TELEGRAPHY without wires is said to have been accomplished in England. Mr. Preece, the head electrician of the postal system, succeeded in establishing communication across the Solent to the Isle of Wight, and telegraphed also across the River Severn without wires, merely using earth plates at a sufficient distance apart. It is now proposed to make a practical use of this system in communicating with lights.

In two-thirds of a century but one man has been nominated for the vice presidency. He was Richard Mentor Johnson, put up with Van Buren in 1840. He was defeated. Johnson was one of the most striking and picturesque characters in his time. He had been a gallant officer in the war of 1812, and had served in both branches of congress for many years before reaching the vice presidency. Socially and politically he stood high in his state, Kentucky, and in the country at large.

E. L. AYER, of Portland, Ore., recommends as a sure and humane method of inflicting legal death injection of prussic acid into the jugular vein. He would have the prisoner lie on a cot and be placed under the influence of an anesthetic. When he is unconscious a hypodermic syringe will force the acid into the vein, and death will be almost instantaneous. The advantages of the method are its inexpensiveness, its simplicity, requiring no elaborate preparation of horrifying machinery, and its merciful certainty.

The annual coffee crop of the world is estimated at over eleven billion pounds, worth at first hands $145,000,000. This enormous quantity is grown in lands between the parallels of thirty degrees north and thirty degrees south latitude, mainly in British India and the neighboring islands, in Liberia and other parts of Africa, in the West Indies, Mexico, Central America and Brazil. The domestic consumption of the United States amounts to 561,132,100 pounds, which is valued here at $72,140,000, and of which 90 per cent. comes from countries geographical belonging to this continent.

When inventor Edison was an unknown telegraph operator in Boston one of his pastimes was the slaughter of cockroaches by electricity. He rigged an arrangement on the wall of the office made of two squares of tinfoil from tobacco packages. These were pasted on the wall near together and between them was daubed molasses. Each piece of tinfoil was connected with an electric current by a fine copper wire. The cockroaches would march up the wall and as they reached the sweet stuff they would connect a circuit between the pieces of tinfoil, the demise being swift and sudden.

THE Hatfield-McCoy family feud which raged for many years in Kentucky and West Virginia, resulting in the killing of about 200 persons, was supposed to have ended a few months ago. Like Romeo and Juliet, of the rival houses of Montague and Capulet, a young man and a maiden of the Hatfield-McCoy family fell in love with each other. A truce between the factions was declared and the couple were married. But Cupid and Hymen ruled the roost only a short time. Again the McCoy are on the rampage, and two of them have killed one George Roberts, of Black Creek, and the fight is again on.

SPANISH RECIPROCITY.

The Treaty Between Cuba and Porto Rico Proclaimed by President Harrison—The Admitted Free by America.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The president Friday night issued his proclamation announcing the completion of a reciprocity treaty with Spain as to certain products of Cuba and Porto Rico and the United States.

The treaty contains two distinct provisions: 1. For the transitory schedule from September 1, 1891, to July 1, 1892. 2. For a definite schedule of goods to be reciprocally exchanged after that date.

The products to be imported from Cuba and Porto Rico are those provided in section 3 of the McKinley act, viz: Sugar, molasses, coffee and hides.

The products and manufactures of the United States, which are to be admitted free, or at greatly reduced rates, are set forth in long schedules.

The formal correspondence between the two countries which preceded this proclamation is of the most friendly character. The details of the negotiation have been under the supervision of Hon. John W. Foster, former minister to Spain. It is to be noticed that there are some restrictions, due to the international obligations of Spain; and some conditions imposed by the provincial laws and customs, and others out of regard for the agricultural interests of Spain.

The condition as to United States flour is one of these.

The Spanish minister in his concluding communication says: "The benefit in the reduction of duties granted to American wheat and wheat flour shall not take effect until the first day of January, 1892. Flour shall be excluded from said reduction, and shall not therefore share in it, which, on its departure from the ports of the union destined to those of Cuba and Porto Rico, may be favored with drawbacks or other tariff advantages."

This restriction was deemed necessary by the cabinet of Spain in order that the Spanish farmer and miller might have some slight advantage over the United States flour.

Cuba has been the chief market for Spanish flour; and it has been made so on account of tariff negotiations, which discriminated in favor of Spanish flour. American manufacturers, by better methods of manufacture, better quality of produce and cheaper transportation, may be able to overcome the slight discrimination that is still retained in favor of the Spanish farmer and miller.

The maintenance of the municipal duties is another reservation. As to these the Spanish minister says: "Respecting the North American articles of food, drink and fuel specified in the annexed transitory schedule, which were imported into said islands, the government of Spain, with restricting the rights of the municipal councils, will seek to have the latter impose upon them no greater municipal duties than those which national product pay, and that they shall not materially increase the price of said articles."

This means that the government of Spain will not attempt to abolish these ancient municipal duties; but the influence of the Spanish cabinet will be exerted to prevent these local taxes from adding to the price of the imports.

HARRISON'S PLANS.

How the President Will Spend the Rest of His Vacation.

CAPE MAY, N. J., Aug. 1.—Following is the itinerary of the president's coming journey to Bennington, Vt., where he is to participate in the ceremonies incident to the unveiling of the monument there. He will leave Cape May on the morning of the 17th of August, arriving in Bennington on the evening of the 18th.

On the 19th the monument will be unveiled and the same evening the president will take his departure for Mount McGregor, where he will arrive on the morning of the 20th, and on that day will celebrate his 57th birthday. A dinner will be given him by Mr. W. J. Arkell. The president will remain at Mount McGregor until the 22d, when he will go to Saratoga and remain at the Grand Union for a few days.

From there he will return for a few days to Bennington where he will be the guest of Secretary Proctor, and will arrive back here on Saturday, August 29. The length of his stay here after his return from the north will be determined by the time that it will take to finish repairs now under way at the executive mansion at Washington.

GUILTY OF DOUBLE MURDER.

The Mystery of a Michigan Murder Revealed After Sixteen Years.

ALPENA, Mich., Aug. 1.—William Repke, a farmer living near Rogers City, 30 miles from Alpena, has confessed to having taken part in the murder of Albert Molitor and Edward Sullivan sixteen years ago, and has given himself up to the sheriff.

He implicates a dozen others, ten of whom still reside in or near Rogers City, and warrants have been issued for their arrest. This murder was a mysterious one. Molitor was a wealthy man and was considered a tyrant. Sullivan was his bookkeeper.

It was known that the murder was the result of a conspiracy, but no arrests were ever made. Repke says his conscience troubled him so that he felt that he must confess.

HAS NOT RESIGNED.

Reports That Secretary Noble Has Left the Cabinet Denied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The report that Secretary Noble of the interior department had tendered his resignation having been again revived, Acting Secretary Chandler of the interior department was asked for information on the subject. He said in a very positive manner that the report was untrue, and declared his belief that it was simply a revival of previous rumors.

It was denied by the secretary himself. Secretary Noble is spending a vacation near Richfield Springs.

Burned to Death.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 1.—Fire broke out in the Montana livery stables, completely consuming the stables, a saloon, lodging house and three Chinese stores.

George Williams, a butcher, was burned to death, and a negro cook and wife received fatal injuries. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

LORD ALBURNHAM'S famous "Texts of the Gospels" is valued at $50,000, and is on view at the Bookbinder's exposition in London with the Mazarine Bible and Mary Tudor prayer book.

THE BOYS IN BLUE.

Everything Ready in Detroit for the Silver Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 3.—To-day Detroit is in full bloom for the twenty-fifth reunion of the G. A. R., the triumphal arches, the decoration of the public buildings and of business houses, extending in artistic beauty, variety and extent any similar preparations in honor of the veterans. This is the verdict of all the past commanders who have attended all of the reunions of the army.

Not only in the matter of decorations is the city prepared, for all grandstands, all arrangements for medical and hospital service, all camps and all headquarters preparations are completed, and they are perfect in appointments.

Department headquarters by States will be located as follows: Arkansas, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Ohio, Texas, West Virginia, Wisconsin and District of Columbia, at the Russell house.

California, Iowa, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont and Women's Relief Corps, at the hotel Cadillac. Commander Veazey and staff will also have their headquarters at the hotel Cadillac.

Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska and Sons of Veterans at the Hotel Normandie.

Loyal Legion at the Detroit Light Infantry armory.

To date the registration committee have received notices from over 300 regimental organizations, representing forty-five of the states and territories, that they will be present and quarters have been assigned to all persons and organizations who have applied.

All branches of service in the armies of 1861-65 will be represented and what is most uncommon, every one of the divisions in all the armies of the north will be represented.

There will be held during the week the annual convention of the National Association of Naval Veterans and reunions of the "Comrades of the Battlefield," of the "Medal of Honor Legion," of the "Association of Survivors of the Mississippi River Fleet and Marine Brigade," of the "Silent Army of Dead Soldiers, Sailors and Marines;" of the "United States Veteran Signal Corps Association;" of the "National Association of ex-Pensioners of War;" of the "United States Maimed Soldiers' League;" of the "Royal Legion;" of the "Sons of Veterans;" the "Daughters of Veterans;" the "Woman's Relief Corps;" and others.

Finally, the programme announces reunions for forty-eight Michigan regimental organizations, for thirty-nine Ohio regiments, for twenty-one New York regiments, for five Wisconsin regiments, for fifteen Illinois regiments, for eight Massachusetts regiments, and for upward of sixty other regiments from all parts of the country.

The streets are crowded with men in blue coats, and still these are only a drop in the bucket as compared to the number who will pour into the city in the next twenty-four hours. There seems to be every reason to believe that the silver encampment will be just what has been prophesied and intended—the greatest gathering of veterans since the grand review at the national capital at the close of the war in 1865.

GORED TO DEATH.

Mrs. William Brown and Her Two Little Girls and a Cowboy Killed by a Mad Steer in Kansas.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Aug. 3.—Mrs. William Brown, the wife of a rich Cherokee living in the strip south of this city, with her two little girls, was gored to death by a mad steer. Mrs. Brown was riding several miles from her home when a drove of range cattle came up. Several of the steers charged the light vehicle in which the woman and her children were riding, and the wagon was overturned by a steer, which gored the horse and then killed Mrs. Brown. A cowboy with the drove rode up hurriedly, but before he could shoot the frenzied animal had unseated him and pierced him through.

The children were caught under the overturned wagon, and the mad animal crushed them with his feet. Brown is one of the wealthiest of the many rich cattlemen on the strip. He is at present somewhere in the east. The cowboy, a man named Dalton, was formerly a herder for Brown and was a cousin to Mrs. Brown.

Letter From W. F. Hatch.

Watertown, Conn., July 27, '91.

EDITOR HERALD:

As you know, we left our pleasant village July 23 in search of health, and arrived here July 25th, after a tiresome ride through dust and smoke.

The country, after leaving Essex Junction, Ont., became very dry, and fires raged on each side of the track, burning fields of grain, fences and endangering farm buildings, until we crossed the Welland canal.

Half an hour's ride brought us to Falls View, Canadian side, where the trains stop four minutes enabling all to get some idea of the grandeur of this world's renowned water fall. A full description of it is impossible.

Oliver Goldsmith attempted to write a description, but methinks when he said that Indians in their canoes had ventured down in safety, he would have expunged it from the description had he viewed it as it is. There are the usual number of visitors here this season.

At the Clifton, on the Canadian side, I was assured there were real live Lords and Ladies. I asked a laborer by the roadside how they would vote this fall, for Harrison or Cleveland? He wanted to know if either belonged to the Royal family, as he said if Her Majesty did not stop forming alliances soon, there would not be money enough raised to furnish underclothes for the babies.

After leaving Buffalo with a train of fourteen passenger coaches on the N. Y. C. R. R., we arrived at State Line between New York and Massachusetts, where we changed for the Housatonic railroad, passing through several towns, many bearing Scripture names, which showed the zeal of their Christian faith. After changing cars five or six times we arrived at Watertown, which is four hundred feet higher than Waterbury, which is only six miles distant.

The air is bracing and water is found in abundance, and supplied from springs in the village.

It is an old town, and full of interest. Two silk factories are located here, which give employment to all the surplus boys and girls in the village. The wages run from $1 per day for spoolers, to $5 for dyers, which is very hard work.

The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Company is located near, but the stock has fallen from paying 100 per cent. to less than 15, and a great many here who bought the stock are financially ruined. Three brothers built a hotel here costing $225,000, but it never paid one per cent. on the investment, and was sold to some New Yorkers a few years ago for $35,000, who come here with their families to spend the summer. It is an immense structure, and with its grounds is attractive beyond description.

I trust this place will aid me to recover my health.

Mrs. H., with myself, send kind regards.

OBITUARY.

Died, Thursday, July 29th, 1891, Mary Melina, wife of William Westfall.

The subject of this brief sketch was born in the township of Putnam, Livingston Co., Mich., July 8th, 1859, and was therefore 32 years and 21 days old.

She was the only daughter of Daniel and Mary Barton, of Unadilla, and one of a family of six, two of whom preceded her to the farther shore, and there of whom are still living.

When 10 years of age she removed with her parents from Putnam to Lyndon, Washtenaw Co., Mich., (in the spring of 1849.) to the old homestead where James Barton now resides. There the family lived nine years, removing in 1858 to a farm one mile further north and half a mile south of Unadilla village.

Christmas day, 1859, she married William Westfall, and they commenced life together on a farm near Plainfield. Here they lived about seven years, moving in 1865 to the home where she died, one and a half miles north-east of Stockbridge, and where, by economy and dint of hard work, they had gained a fair competency.

Two children were born of this union, both of which passed away in infancy.

Herself and husband were for some years identified with the Protestant church at Plainfield, but were afterwards transferred by letter to the M. E. Church, of Stockbridge, which last relation they each continued to sustain.

The cause of death was heart disease, induced by severe neuralgia of a few days duration, and was quite unexpected.

The funeral obsequies were held at the M. E. church, Stockbridge, on Saturday, Aug. 1st, 1891, Rev. E. L. Moon discoursing upon the afflictions and patient life of Job. The last of earth was laid to rest in the Stockbridge cemetery.

The large number in attendance at these last sad rites, tell better than words could express, of the esteem in which she was held in the community.

THE CHELSEA SAVINGS BANK HAS ADOPTED THE NICKEL SAVINGS BANK STAMP SYSTEM.

For Use of Children and Young People.

And it is a good idea both in regard to saving up money, that might otherwise be spent foolishly and even harmfully, and to inculcate habits of prudence, self-denial and thrift, that will have an important influence over young people in after life: "As the twig is bent the tree is inclined." It is surprising, even to old people, how rapidly money accumulates by these little droppings of only a nickel. Let all your young people interest themselves in a Nickel Stamp Book furnished "with a starter" of one nickel stamp free of charge by The Chelsea Savings Bank.

Most of the stores in Chelsea, Stockbridge, and other near by places, are agents, and furnish the Books and Stamps also.

DESCRIPTIVE.

The Bank supplies its agents with gummed Stamps, engraved in steel in handsome design. The purchaser of the first stamp or stamps receives from the agent the Stamp Book, in which the stamps are to be pasted. When the first page has been filled, the depositor takes the Stamp Book to the agent, who tears out the first full leaf of stamps, and detaches from the inside back cover of the Stamp Book the signature slip, which must be properly signed by the depositor and the agent who receipts for the page, and with the full leaf of stamps, delivered to the Bank.

In case of children, or others unable to sign their names, parents, guardians or legal representatives may sign for them, also signing their own names after the word, per. The signature slip is held by the Bank as a means of identifying the depositor.

Upon receipt by the Bank of the full leaf of stamps it will issue to the depositor through the agent a handsome and durable Deposit Card, upon which has been entered a credit to the depositor of $1.00, the value of the first full leaf of the Stamp Book, holding twenty Nickel Stamps, and said deposits will draw interest according to the rules of the Bank.

1 A is Addition here used to show, how many nickels to dimes and dollars can grow.	6 B is the Blessing this book conveys, By teaching good reason in various ways.	11 C is Contentment from labor won, From early morn to the setting sun.	16 D is the Duty faithfully done, And persistently followed when once begun.
2	7 E is Endeavor—a true, golden word, That offers to all a treasure well heard.	12 F is Frugality, surely applied, Of value to every one when it is tried.	17
3 G is the Gold you surely will win, As the bright nickel stamps are here pasted in.	8 H is Happiness, a priceless bequest, Which brings to its owner a coveted rest.	13 I is the Ink used to credit the sum, Of the stamps just as fast as they dollars become.	18 J is the Joy over-spreading your face, As oft you appon-tion stamp to its place.
4	9 K is the Knowledge that here you find, And pledged to the comfort of all mankind.	14 L is the Labor, from which you essay, To gather the nickels in day after day.	19
5 M is the Man, who, wise, is to place, His money in stamps to increase here apace.	10 N is the Nickel, invested here, That is put at interest year by year.	15 O is for Oil that fills the lamp, That glids with glory the Nickel Stamp.	20 P is the Profit, each one receives, That belongs to deposits of stamp-filled leaves.

GROCERIES
