SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 30. -- Advices from Melbourne state that influenza continues to rage with unabated fury throughout the colonies and that the epidemic is causing many deaths. Among the latest recorded is that of William Byrne, one of the oldest members of the legislative council.

Large numbers of railroad employes are down with the disease, so much so that traffic is considerably interfered with. Numbers of telegraph operators are also laid up, and the department is consequently working short-handed.

The public schools at South Goulburn have been closed owing to the great prevalence of the disease. In one district there are over 7,000 cases and the deaths number several hun-

The disease is particularly virulent in some country towns, where in many instances whole families are prostrated. Hitherto fatal cases have been confined to those advanced in years, but there is now a change and all classes are dying.

Doctors say that the epidemic is increasing in virulence. Five hundred school children at Collingwood are municipality of Williamston, which includes Newport and Spottiswood, is about 15,000, and it is estimated that the bulk of the inhabitants are prostrated. At Sydney nearly all the employes of the mint have been seized with it, and work in the water and sewer departments is almost at a standstill in consequence of the absence of many officials, who are away on sick leave.

The engineer of the Marquette train was a new man on the run. When found the lever was almost perpendicular and not reversed. The engineer could not be found, and the fireman, too, has not been seen since the wreck. An investigation will be made at once as to the cause of the wreck, and the Lake Shore officials will see if it is not possible to make the Pere Marquette people pay the damage incurred.

The opening story is as delicious and fresh: "How Christmas

In her story "The Fairy Content," Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont is at her brightest and best. "Queen Margaret's Needles," by Susan Coolidge, is an historical ballad of Norway. Another fine ballad is "The Fourth Little Boy," by Mary E. Wilkins, fully illustrated. "The War of the Schools," by Capt. C. A. Curtis, U. S. A., is a splendid snow-balling story. "There's something behind it."

That's what you think, perhaps, when you read that the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer $500 reward for an incurable case of Catarrh. Rather unusual, you think, to find the makers of a medicine trying to prove that they be-lieve in it. "There must be something back of it!"

But it's a plain, square offer, made in good faith. The only thing that's back of it is the Remedy. It cures Catarrh in the Head. To its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, the worst cases yield, simply relieve - it perfectly and permanently cures. With a Remedy like this, the proprietors can make such an offer and mean it. To be sure there's risk in it, but it's so very small that they are willing to take it.

You've "never heard of anything like this offer?" True enough But then you've never heard of anything like Dr. Sage's Remedy.

THANKSGIVING.

Thanksgiving is upon us. We have many things to be thankful for this year. The season that is closing has been remarkable for its many mercies. Nature has distributed her favors with a lavish hand. She has given us the greatest amount of agricultural products that have ever been known on this continent, and as if to emphasize the fact, she has added to it a foreign demand unprecedented in any former year. Now let us enjoy the gifts of a benign Providence, and show that we appreciate it by taking care of our health. Pulmonary complaints are the foes of the agricultural community. Over one-seventh of the farming community suffer from colds that are suffered to run until they produce pneumonia, pleurisy, or consumption. These maladies can be cured by taking Reid's German Cough and Kidney Cure. This great preparation is the best thing on the market. See that you get this and take no other. Of course, I knew I had no legal right to interfere, nor to tell him to stop his infernal playing. But an insatiable desire to see what this fiend in human shape looked like, and whether, perhaps, by bulldozing or by skillful flat-tery I might prevail upon him to let up on me, had taken possession of me. I had wasted away to a shadow during that the office minutes. "Sleeve claimed," that fortnight, and I thought he might possibly take pity on me if threats or diplomacy should not prevail. So I elimbed up that flight of stairs and touched the electric button. Instantly the playing ceased. Slow, heavy steps, as of one tired out, came, and the door was opened. I was invited in.

There were pretty embroidered tidies on the sofa and chairs; there were several tiny paintings—quite evidently the work of a female amateur; and there was a portrait of the deceased herself, draped in crape, and in one corner of the frame atuck a faded, dried bunch of flowers. The picture shows a female amateur to the four kings now called a club. The four kings were originally David, Alexander, were originally David, Alexander, the fortitude, piety and wisdom. The picture showed a pretty young face, whose dark eyes seemed to look upon me with a gentle, reproachful gaze. I began to feel a load settling down on me and the heart within me grow heavy. "I have the greatest snap," he exclaimed as he broke into the office the other day. "Here's a pair of diamond sleeve buttons the elevator boy sold me for fifty cents. They are worth twenty dollars."

"Told you he bought them from another boy?" sneered the next newest man in the office. "Yes."

"Buy 'em for one dollar and fifty cents a gross," the third added. "He tried me, too, but I didn't bite."

MILITIA AS JURORS. The Act Exempting State Guards Held to Be Constitutional.

The law of 1881 exempting honorary members of the state militia from jury service, which was recently set aside by Judge Burlingame, of the superior court of Grand Rapids, has been held to be entirely constitutional by the supreme court. It was claimed that the act conferred on military officers power to arbitrarily set aside the authority of the courts to compel the attendance of qualified jurors, but the supreme court held that when a citizen had complied with the provisions of the act he was then exempted by law, the law, not the military officers, fixing the exemption, and further that it was wholly within the power of the

His death was announced as having been caused by typhoid fever, but the general supposition among his relatives was that he died of slow poison, administered, it was supposed, by the friends of some of his former companions in the business, who have recently found themselves in tight corners.

Farmer Shot by Hunters. Farmer Peter Hanower, of Boot Jack Point, attempted to stop a party from hunting on his farm and shot and wounded one of their dogs. An hour later the hunters surrounded Hanower, and one of them fired twice, the first shot taking effect in his right arm, the second in his head and neck, destroying the right eye. The party were Deputy Sheriff John F. Schroeder, William Walls, William W. Ellis, of Red Jacket, and Mat Blau and son, of Calumet village.

She says her husband was a nurseryman at Kokomo and two years ago disappeared with her brother's team of horses and she never saw him again.

NOBLE REPORTS.

The Secretary of the Interior on the Work of His Department During the Year. WASHINGTON, Nov. 80 .- The secre tary of the interior has submitted his annual report to the president. In a summary of its contents he gives this

A Summary. The general land office is nearly abreast of its work; the Indian bureau is accomplishing the rapid disintegration of the Indian reservations, the severance of tribal relations and the education of the Indian youth. The pen-sion office is rapidly completing the allow-ance of all pensions legally possible under the laws, moving at the rate of about 30,000 a the laws, moving at the rate of about 30,000 a month; the census has been taken and its publications rapidity going on; the geological survey is selecting the reservoirs for the arid lands of the far west and southwest; the railroad bureau is making ready for the maturity of the debts due from the subsidized railroads, the Union Pacific and others; the bureau of education, besides having distributed the year fund allowed the agricultural colleges.

The report notes: "The years of the presen The report notes: "The years of the present administration have been marked to a notable degree by the expansion of the public domain for private settlements." The history is given of the opening of the new Indian purchases in Oklahoma under the proclamation of September 22, when nearly 1,000,000 acres were taken by settlers between pears and design white a feet affects. between noon and dark; while 2,718 Indians were elevated to citizenship by taking allotments of 160 acres each. It is a significant fact that a shipment, by special train, of cargo of wheat from the Oklahoma lands first opened by proclamation on April 22, 1889 was received in August last at one of the Armour elevators in Chicago, and the popula-tion has already reached 80,000.

Naturalizing Indians. Over 16,000 Indians have already become cit izens of the United States, and about 4,000 more by taking their allotments have signified their desire to become citizens. To these numbers should be added the 7,619 Indians in Okiaboma, who have taken or agreed to take allotments. A total of 27,619 Indians naturalized, and total of acres acquired for settlement of about 13,000,000 during the present administration alone.

The Indian Population. The Indian population is reported as 250,000, of Indian youth enrolled and the average attendance in the schools has in creased. In 1888 the appropriation for support of Indian schools was $1,179,916, in 1891 $1,842.770, and for 1892 it is $2,291,650. The Indians, as a rule, have consented so readily to send their children to school that it was not found necessary immediately to enforce at the act of June 27. 1800, to thousands of dis abled veterans and their dependent relatives, who through lapse of time are not able to prove the origin of disability in the line of-duty as required by prior enactments. It is shown that first payments have greatly decreased in amounts, that the allowance of original pensions will soon all be made that there will then be a great decline in the sum necessary to pay pensions, and the lists will rapidly decline from death and other causes. There was 252,521 first payments made during the fiscal year, requiring $38,552,214.31, being less in amount by $69,592 than the 130,514 first payments of the previous year required. plies. Since that time nothing has been heard of the boat or her crew, al. in the fiscal year of 1890 was $485.71, though advertisements have been sent ments in all claims was $239.33, and first payments of claims under the act of June 27 1890, was only $71.28. The present issue of is thought that the pension bureau will be able to carefully adjudicate 350,000 claims during the present year. The work at this rate will allow all lawful pension claims within the next thirty months, and of course all first payments will then have been dis posed of. This alone will cause a drop of $30,-000,000 in the appropriation, and the list will thence on constantly diminish by natural causes. It is predicted that the pen-sions will when the highest point is reached not exceed very greatly the present sum, and be subject to a great decrease immediately after. The estimate for 1893 is $144,956,000.

The Census. The secretary expresses the belief that the cleventh census will stand as much fair and honest criticism as any work of the same magnitude heretofore done either at home or abroad The announcement of the population, November 26., 1890, as 62,629,250, has not been changed, and upon that announcement the ap portionment law was passed nearly two years sooner that at prior census periods. It is esti mated that to complete the work will require further appropriation of about $1,000,000.

The Patent Office. The work of the patent office shows a slight falling off as compared with the previous fisca year. The number of applications received was 43,616 as against 43,810 in 1890. A surplus of receipts over expenditures amounting t $157.491.69 was turned into the treasury to the credit of the patent fund.

Debts of Railways. The secretary gives an abstract of the earnings of the several aided railroad companies, showing also the amounts due from them to the government December 31, 1890. It appears therefrom that the total debt, principal and interest, to the United States of each company was as follows:

 Central Pacific

 3,654.621

The Territories. In considering the territories the report says there has been an increase of 10,000 in the population of Arizona, making it about 70,000. In New Mexico it is claimed there are 153,076 persons, and the governor appeals for an enabling act to become a state. In Utah the population is estimated by the gov-ernor to be 215.000. The total assessed value of property, real and personal in 1891, was $121.146.648.37, an increase over the year before of $16.387,598.37, or 16.55 per cent.
