The rumor that water is to be retailed at five cents a drink during the world's fair need not raise visions of inextinguishable thirst on the part of intending visitors. There are a good many drinks in Lake Michigan, and besides, 6,866 liquor saloons have just taken out licenses to tide over any possible shortage of liquids in case the lake should run particularly low.

A peep into the churches of Chelsea last Sunday indicated that the celebration of Easter is becoming an event of considerable importance among the various denominations here represented. A profusion of flowers and plants formed a prominent and pleasing feature, and the beautiful and appropriate music rendered served to finish out the special features of the exercises.

A noteworthy example of the vast agricultural resources of our country is found in the official report of the cereal harvest for the year 1892. The yield of three cereals—wheat, corn, and oats—reached the enormous aggregate of 2,341,450,000 bushels. Assuming that the population of the United States is 65,000,000, those three crops would give an average of over thirty six bushels to every man, woman and child in the whole country.

BELONGS TO INDIANS. Investigations on Foot Involving the Title to the Upper Peninst If H. F. Chipman's conclusions are borne out by more minute investigation and sustained by the courts every acre of land in the Michigan peninsula west of Sault Ste. Marie and Mackinac to the Montreal and Menominee rivers, and from Lake Superior to Lake Michigan and the straits, inclusive of city and village lots, will be handed over to their rightful owners, the descendants of the Chippewa Indian nation of the Lake Superior region. Mr. Chipman asserts that his investigations have convinced him that no cession of the upper peninsula lands has been made to the United States government, and that, therefore, the title deeds in every registry of deeds in the region indicated are as worthless as so much blank paper. The claim to title will be brought up in the courts.

Gallagher Was Murdered. The coroner's jury in the matter of inquest over the body of James Gallagher, who was found dead in a burning building at Frankfort, returned a verdict that deceased came to his death by strangulation and violence at the hands of some unknown party, and that the building was set on fire by some one to the jury unknown. Finger marks were plainly visible around the old man's throat, and other marks of violence found on his person indicated

Health in Michigan. Reports to the state board of health by sixty-one observers in different parts of the state for the week ended March 25 indicated that erysipelas and pleuritis increased, and that intermittent fever and diarrhea decreased in area of prevalence. Diphtheria was reported at twenty places, scarlet fever at forty-nine, typhoid fever at fifteen, and measles at twenty-two places.

State Baseball League Formed. The Michigan Baseball State league has completed its organization. The circuit includes Saginaw, Battle Creek, Manistee, Owosso, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Jackson and Benton Harbor. The salary limit was fixed at $50 a month, exclusive of manager. Oh, whither away is the iste of dreams,
The silent iste of dreams?
It's over the ocean of stariit skies,
Away in the west, where the daylight dies;
Slumber, sweetheart, and your wondering
Shall awake in the iste of dreams!

Oh, who is there dwells in the isle of dreams,
The distant isle of dreams?
There's Little Boy Blue with his silent horn,
And the dear old dame whose skirts were shorn
And you, sweetheart, shall await the dawn
In the distant isle of dreams!

Oh, what will you do in the isle of dreams, The golden isle of dreams? Whatever you've hoped for, the long day In the isle of dreams will all come true!

Listen, sweetheart, they are calling to you From the golden isle of dreams! Oh, how do you go to the isle of dreams,
The drowsy isle of dreams?
Ah, that is something we do not know,
For you shut your eyes before you go!
But see, sweetheart, you are sleeping!—so
You have found the isle of dreams!

houghts of summary trials, decisive stion, terrible sentences and quick intermingled with tormenting visions of austere courts, deted offenders, and scenes verging on he inquisitorial abuses of old. A horrible panorama of an execution in some ed spot in the gray dawn haunts the dismal fancy of the morbidly sensiire, and in the mind's eye is depicted the hapless and helpless victim as he totters on the brink of an open grave and receives the leaden messengers of teath from smoking rifles in the hands of an unfortunate firing detail, who are afterward seen to perform the sadlaties of a burial party.

In the face of such conceptions who could regard the life of the soldier as a one? While such fancies may not have been beyond the possibilities of dread reality in that gloomy time when families were divided and brother tought against brother, they are in time of peace too absurd to be entertained by intelligent persons, yet 1 have frequently been asked if such ditions now exist.

BAYARD HONORED.

The Delaware Statesman Sont as Ambas sador of the United States to the Court

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Thursday was notable in the diplomatic history of the government because of the appointment of the first ambassador from the United States to a foreign post since continental days. Hitherto, though empowered to appoint ambas-sadors under section two of the constiministers, but the last congress proeyes upon Schute with a please-for-give-me look that had its effect on the court if not upon the prisoner.

France and Germany have promptly followed. Thursday President Cleveand appointed the first ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary, Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, of Delaware. Bayard's nomination caused considerable surprise. It had been stated frequently of late that Mr. Cleveland did not propose to make any change for the present, at least, either at London or at Vienna, and that both Messrs. Lincoln and Grant would be permitted to remain for some time. The appointment is regarded in Washington with general satisfaction. Mr. Bayard being an ex-senator was immediately confirmed by the senate at its executive session without the formality of a reference to committee. It is felt that Mr. Bayard is specially equipped for service at the court of St.

Mr. Bayard, who was secretary of state during Mr. Cleveland's former administration, is now in his 65th year. He has been in public life since 1851, when he was appointed United States district attorney for Delaware. In 1855 he removed to Philadelphia, where he became the partner of William Shippen and practiced for two years, but returned to Wilmington and continued practicing law until he was elected in 1868 to succeed his father in the United States senate. He took his seat March 4, 1809, and being reelected in January, 1875, and again in 1881, served continuously until he became Mr. Cleveland's secretary of state in 1885. On the day on which he was elected to the senate for a full term his father was also elected charges covered by the articles of war balance of mind, his condition as to pired part of his original term. UNDER ARREST.

San Domingo's President Gets Into Trouble Through Breaking Into a French

NEW YORK, April 1.-The Clyde line steamer Saginaw arrived from San Domingo Thursday morning. The passengers bring news of the arrest of the president of San Domingo by French naval officers in San Domingo City. The president had taken $62,000 from a French bank. The president's sudden descent upon the bank was the outcome of a legal suit between him and some of the French residents, involving the payment of money. The case was sent to a higher court for judgment, but this was delayed too long to suit the president. So he ordered out his militia, with instructions to seize whatever French gold they could find. The soldiers proceeded to the bank March 14, bore down the doors, blew open the vaults, and carried off $62,000 n cash. The French commander on the cruiser was appraised of the outrage and sent an armed force ashore, who captured the president as he was about to proceed to Monte Cristo. The president was held in custody and word sent to France regarding the af-

If You Want The Best

A LTHOUGH you may have had good luck with but few failures in making cake and biscuit in the old-fashioned way with soda and sour milk, or soda and cream of tartar, you will have better luck and (following directions) no failures with the Royal Baking Powder.

The truth of this must be evident when you remember that in the leading hotels and restaurants, and in the homes of our city cousins, where the latest and best methods are invariably employed, and where the most beautiful and dainty food is always set out for the guests, the Royal Baking Powder is exclusively used for all quickly risen food.

Royal Baking Powder never disappoints; never makes sour, soggy or husky food; never spoils good materials; never leaves lumps of alkali in the biscuit or cake; while all these things do happen with the best of cooks who cling to the old-fashioned methods, or who use other Baking Powders.

If you want the best food, Royal Baking Powder is indispensable.

This is 'what the Farm Journal says about potato raising. We think that our potato raisers in this vicinity may profit by the advice: "It would be common sense for all the potato growers within reach of the same shipping station to plant some one approved variety. A car-load, or half a dozen car-loads, all of one kind, can be sold half a dozen times over, before a mixed lot' will be even looked at."

Prof. Niel,

Government chemist, writes: I have careully analyzed your Royal Ruby Port Wine, bought by me in the open market, and certify that I found the same absolutely pure and well aged This wine is especially recommended for its health-restoring and building up properties; it strengthens the weak and restores lost vitality; particularly adapted for convalescents, the aged nursing mothers and those reduced and weakened by over-work and worry. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby;" $1 per quart bottle, pints 60 cts. Sold by R. S. Arm strong & Co., Druggists.

This story cropped out since Christmas. The person most concerned lives, it is said. within less than a thousand miles of Olean: A lady dropped into a telegraph office, and as she drew a blank toward her, said: "My husband has gone to Buffalo to order a motto for our Sunday-school room, but I forgot to tell him what the inscription was to be, or how long I wanted it. If I send particulars, how soon will he get the message?" The operator answered the question as best he could, and the message was written. The husband was somewhat
