DATES TO BE OPEN.

Sunday opening. After May 21, included upon by World's Fair directors. The main buildings of the Exposition in the United States, however, upon day of Twenty-five cents, May 21, 1894. Through the Park and Find Entrance to Midway Plaisance and its Attractions, Foreign Buildings and Most of the State Buildings.

CHICAGO, May 18.—Members of the local world's fair directory passed a resolution Friday that the world's fair should be open Sundays on and after May 21. They took this action upon the recommendation of Director Edwin Walker, the leading legal adviser of the board. After many hours of thought Mr. Walker, in consultation with Lyman J. Gage, Henry B. Stone and others, came to the conclusion that congress had no authority over anything other than the exhibits, and that the directory was free to act in accordance with the terms of the resolution which Mr. Walker presented. His resolution does not propose to open the exhibit buildings, the great structures in which the products of all countries are housed, but merely the grounds about them—the Plaisance and the state and foreign buildings—providing those in control of them so elect.

Inasmuch as the big exhibit buildings may not be entered by the visitors the directory proposes that a charge of but twenty-five cents be made to enter the grounds Sunday. The action of the directory was taken in accordance with what is believed to be public sentiment.

Members of the national world's fair commission are disposed to resent the assumed right of the local board to open the gates, even if the exhibit buildings remain closed. Most of those who were seen declared that the directory could not, without the sanction of the commission, put such a resolution into operation; and they have previously threatened that legal proceedings would be instituted if their concurrence was not secured before Sunday opening in any form was attempted.

The resolution creates a new regulation differing from the Sunday closing one adopted by both bodies. The commission will be in session to-day and some action may be taken by it. Inasmuch, however, as there is no probability of a quorum being present, it will be unable either to authoritatively approve or reject the new rule. But there is little reason to doubt that, unless explanations accompany the resolutions, there will be some bitter talk at today's session of the commission.

The meeting of the board of directors Friday afternoon was one of the largest yet held. The only subject discussed was that of Sunday opening, and the session lasted several hours. When the final vote was reached it was found that the sentiment for an open Sunday at Jackson park was twenty to twenty at first supposed. The special committee on legislation, composed of Edwin Walker, Ferdinand W. Peck, F. S. Wainston and Arthur Dixon, made its report, and after a full discussion of the question Edwin Walker introduced the resolutions, which were passed by a vote of 37 to 7. The resolutions are as follows:

"Resolved, That in accordance with the opinion of Edwin Walker, chairman of the committee on legislation of this corporation, submitted herewith, the public be admitted to the grounds surrounding the exposition buildings, the ballroom, the great structures, the state and foreign buildings, and that the price of admission on such days be fixed at twenty-five cents."

"Resolved, That this resolution take effect from and after May 21, 1894."

As a result to the day's work the board, by a resolution, named Edwin Walker solicitor general for the position.

The report of the committee on legislation, by its chairman, Edwin Walker, defines the powers of the exposition on the Sunday closing question. Mr. Walker holds that the acts of congress refer to the exhibition which is inside the buildings, and not to the fair grounds, which are not an exhibit. The grounds are not an exhibit, but they have no special relation to the exhibit, nor are they a part of the exposition. Mr. Walker does not believe that the prohibition of congress can be extended to the public park and grounds. Again the committee does not believe it was the intention of congress to prohibit the representatives of foreign nations and the commissioners of states from visiting their buildings and temporary houses Sunday. Therefore the opinion of the committee is that the act of congress of August 5 only requires that all the main buildings containing exhibits installed for exhibition shall be closed to the public Sunday and that the admission of the public to the grounds and the buildings not devoted to exhibition purposes would not be in violation of the letter or spirit of the law. On this opinion the board of directors passed the resolution which opens every part of the world's fair grounds to the public Sundays with the exception of those buildings which are placed exhibits.

This really leaves the question of the fair still undetermined. The board of directors, however, has decided that the grounds are not an exhibit, and that the public may enter the grounds and the buildings not devoted to exhibition purposes without being in violation of the letter or spirit of the law. On this opinion the board of directors passed the resolution which opens every part of the world's fair grounds to the public Sundays with the exception of those buildings which are placed exhibits.

Mr. Walker holds that the acts of congress refer to the exhibition which is inside the buildings, and not to the fair grounds, which are not an exhibit. The grounds are not an exhibit, but they have no special relation to the exhibit, nor are they a part of the exposition. Mr. Walker does not believe that the prohibition of congress can be extended to the public park and grounds. Again the committee does not believe it was the intention of congress to prohibit the representatives of foreign nations and the commissioners of states from visiting their buildings and temporary houses Sunday. Therefore the opinion of the committee is that the act of congress of August 5 only requires that all the main buildings containing exhibits installed for exhibition shall be closed to the public Sunday and that the admission of the public to the grounds and the buildings not devoted to exhibition purposes would not be in violation of the letter or spirit of the law. On this opinion the board of directors passed the resolution which opens every part of the world's fair grounds to the public Sundays with the exception of those buildings which are placed exhibits.

The report of the committee on legislation, by its chairman, Edwin Walker, defines the powers of the exposition on the Sunday closing question. Here and There.

Pluckney wants a town hall.
Burglars have been doing a good business in Ann Arbor recently.

In 1890 we had 93,200 miles of railroad in the U. S. we now have 170,600 miles.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw county flower society will be held in Saline, June 14.

The supervisor of Waterloo township reports 16 births and 11 deaths in that township during 1892.

It's now said that the trusts embrace the typewriter. No doubt, if they could they'd squeeze the whole country half to death.

The Good Templars of Dexter will give an entertainment in that village Saturday evening, May 20. The program will be entirely new.

Lost, last Thursday, on the road between Chelsea and the Michael Foster farm, in Sylvan, a plaid lap robe. Finder will be rewarded by leaving the same at this office.

Piano sounding boards are made of American spruce. American woods, by the by, are employed in many ways. The American pine shingle, for instance, is the sounding board of youth.

The theory that flies may spread cholera, now being discussed by medical men, is a great "snap" to the fly-screen manufacturer. It is as effective an ally as is a polar way to the weather-strip man.

Mrs. Chas. Root, Cedar Springs, Mich., was told by physicians that they could do nothing for her. After taking two bottles of "Ailronde" she was able to do her own work and ride to town to do her shopping.

The Pluckney Dispatch says: A farmer in this vicinity has succeeded in making good brandy out of saw-dust. That is the stuff. When a man can take a rip-saw and get drunk on a full fence, sumptuary laws will have no further terrors for him.

A U. of M. student while taking a walk down the Huron river near Ann Arbor, one day last week, saw three blue jays close together. He killed them and found that the shortest measured five feet and the longest, which he brought to town, five feet six inches.

We note from a fashion journal that mammoth earrings are again to come in vogue, and that they will be larger than ever, reminding one of the era of cannibalism. This Oriental fashion it was thought would never be introduced to America, but it is coming sure, for English swiftness has decreed it, and we may soon expect to see the lobes of ladies' ears weighted down with them.

The young impersonator and humorist, Herbert L. Cope, will give an entertainment at the Chelsea Town Hall, Tuesday evening, May 23, for the benefit of the Y.
P. S. C. M. The Ithica Sentinel says:
"One of the best entertainments of its kind ever given in Ithica. For two and one half hours Mr. Cope kept his audience convulsed with laughter or nearly in tears." Detroit Gazette: "We cannot say too much in praise of his selections." Admission 10 and 20 cents.

The Eaton Rapids Herald says the legislator who would get the following "game" law enacted could soar to the topmost pinnacle of fame without any danger of having his wings clipped: "Book agents may be killed from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1; spring poets from March 1 to June 1; umbrella borrowers from Feb. 1 to Oct. 1; tramps from the time the robins nest till snow flies; life insurance agents, lightning rod dispensers, confidence piano men and politicians to be annihilated at sight and at all times."

Bro. Stearns, of the Holly Advertiser publishes the following timely advice to married men, as well as those who intend to get married: "How common it is for a man to dictate what shall be used in the house, in the way of decorations, furniture etc., and yet how piggyish. It is the lady that must live in the house, do the work and spend all of her time there, and she should have her say, but it is seldom that she does. A husband that will dictate just how things should be in the house is selfish to say the least. He should bear in mind that his wife is equally as good as he, and should be so recognized."

Don't forget the Herald when you have an item of news, and don't neglect to hand it up early. If your wife whips you let us know, and we'll make it all right before the public. If you have company, tell us —that is if you are not ashamed of your visitors. If a youngster arrives at your house and demands food and raiment, buy a quarter's worth of cigars and come around and if you are a cash subscriber, we will furnish a name for him or her, as circumstances may warrant. If you have a social gathering of a few friends, bring around a big cake, six or seven pies and a ham—not necessarily to eat, but as a guarantee of good faith. You needn't invite us for it may be a little too cool for our wardrobe.
We simply mention these things because we want the news.

Beware of Such People.

There is a class of people working the farmers in Michigan that deserve some attention from the press. These are the travelling cloth and grocery sellers who make a pretence of wholesaling their wares and saving the farmer the profit of the middleman. This is a very catching expression, and has caught hundreds of farmers throughout the country of late years. We have before us a business card of one of these concerns claiming to be large importers and manufacturers of the goods they sell, stating that nothing is sold by retail in their store, and only by their salesman outside. We can hardly think that any of our readers are simple as to believe for an instant that there is such an institution in Detroit. That a firm might refuse to sell by retail is all right, but that a merchant would refuse to do business because the order had not been taken in by "our outside salesman," is something original and unique in its way. The best way is to give these "fakirs" a wide berth.
If the matter is investigated it will be found that the supplies to fill these orders are drawn from the wholesale houses of this city, and that the quality of the goods furnished is much as will leave the seller a large profit on the transaction. It is safe to say that your nearest grocer or dry goods merchant will be glad at all times to furnish you with a better class of goods at as low rates as these travelling frauds.
The wholesale merchants of this city have not yet put men on the road to solicit orders from the farmers.—Michigan Farmer

Odds and Ends.

An exchange remarks that the "fall door yawns," and seems to regard this attitude on the part of the floor as highly commendable. Perhaps it is. All depends on which side the door the rascal is.

The modern stage has the tank, the railway train, the safe-blower, the fire engine, the race track, the circus, the shipwreck, the stump-puller and the storm-anatcher (Cicopatra brand), and now we have a drama in which a sewer plays the principal part. Is the stage to be "elevated" by the sewer route? About half the plays now presented ought to have a sewer in their "properties."

New Mexico has a story about the discovery of forty-three skeletons left hand vertically on the desert sands by a company of cavalry that went out in 1870 and never came back again. The habit of the army authorities of turning companies into the wilderness and not even sending to find what had become of their bones is very late to make itself known, but it is reprehensible and ought to stop.

This was a conundrum they asked at a church social the other night: "Why is the wind blind?" One young lady promptly answered "the wind is a breeze; a breeze is a zephyr; a zephyr is a yarn; a yarn is a tale; a tale is an attachment; attachment is love and love is blind." She got three invitations to supper that night, and four young men wanted to walk home with a remarkable genius.

The story is told that explorers along the Nile have unearthed a pile of modern clothes, and a photograph camera, the evidence being indisputable that the articles are at least 6,000 years old. This is a fairly good story. It might have been advantageously rounded out by adding to the collection a nickel in the slot machine, a type writer and a talantograph, but then it will do as it is.
