Alice Elmira Sargent.

Died, of apoplexy, Sunday June 4, 1893, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Woods on West Middle street, Miss Alice Elmira Sargent, aged 84 years, 10 months and 19

Alice was born at St. John's, Mich , July 15, 1858, and was the third child of John and Eliza Sargent. Her parents had resided in Chelsea before going to St. John's, in fact, it was to them and to their parents that a portion of the riginal farm belonged out of which the village lots of Chelsea have been formed. 'She belonged therefore to one of the families who had been identified with the interests of this village from the earliest history.

entered into covenant relation with the M. E. church of this place. But for a number of years she has been identified with the Congregational church, having rendered efficient service in the choir and in other ways. It is appropriate here to state that on the morning of the day she passed away from us she was in her accustomed place in the choir. Though not well then she made a special effort to be present as some other members of the choir were out of town. Several at the close of the service remarked, "How sweet Alice sang her part in the anthem." The words she sang

"I would not live always.

I ask not to stay,
I ask not to stay,
Where storm after storm
Rolls dark o'er the way,
I would not live always,
No. Welc. me the tomb,
Since Jesus has lain there
I dread not its gloom."

If any sadness to loved ones who remain accines from the suddenness with which she was called away, leaving no time for farewell, no last words long to be remembered yet it is a positive benediction that her last day on earth should be a holy Sabbath and a portion of it spent in the House of God, singing to many who could not have gathered at her bedside, yet who loved her, and that the richness of her voice should strike the chords of sweetest Christian thought.

In 1885 she entered the Farrand Training School for Nurses at Harper Hospital, Detroit. In 1887 she accepted the responsible position of head nurse at the Detroit Sanitarium, which position she held for two years. Then for a time occupying a Music-Instrumental-Cora M. Irwin similar position in a private Sanitarium. The funeral was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Woods, Tuesday atternoon Rev. O. C. Bailey conducting the services.

Addie Allen.

Addie Allen, youngest daughter of Mr. (deceased) and Mrs. Allen, died May 14, 1893, in Conway, Livingston Co, Mich. On the 6th day of Oct. 1876, this tiny baby girl first opened her eyes and in Waterloo township, Jackson Co., Mich., saw this world. Character developed with the passing years and events. She won her way into the hearts of her acquaintances, notably kind to all around her. She was a sweet christian girl, organist in the Sabbath School, but her voice is hushed in death. It was hard for the mother to give her up. But she would say to her sorrowing Mother. "The Lord will provide." I fancy she heard the angels call Hall, at 1:30 p. m., Sunday, June 11th, to and saw three pairs of hands reaching out attend in a body the exercises at the Town to her, and then saying to her friends 'T'm going, I'm going," "She crossed the bar" before she felt the chill of Autumn. And to her loved ones have come again the Heman M. Woods dreariness of winter. She leaves a widowed mother, five sisters and two brothers to mourn the loss of a dear daughter and sister. But they have the comforting assurance that their loss is her gain.

Oh can it be that thou art gone, Taken away in youth's bright morn, To dwell in thy celestial home, While we are left behind to mourn.

We miss thee, oh, we miss thee Addie In vain we strove to have thee stay, 'Mid sighs and sobs and falling tears, Naught can assuage but rolling years

But our great loss is thy great gain;
'Twere wrong to wish thee back again
To share the sorrow, pain and care
We ail are sublect to while here.

The grave we know thou art not there, Thy home is in a brighter sphere, Exempt forever from all strife A spirit free in spirit life,

We can not think thee far away, Our loving and beloved Addie, For angels came from Heaven's shore With balm in wounded hearts to pour. A few more fleeting days or years we'll all be freed from earthly cares, And join thee in the spirit land, A happy and unbroken band,

BRIGGS IS OUSTED.

He Refuses to Recant and the Presbyterms General Assembly Suspends Him from the Ministry.

WASHINGTON, June 2 .- The committee of the Presbyterian general assembly to which was delegated the work of fixing a penalty in the case of Dr. Briggs reported on Thursday in favor of his suspension, and the assembly adopted the report.

During the session of the committees motion was made by Dr. Stewart to adopt a resolution admonishing Dr. Briggs for his delivery of the inaugural and requesting him to refrain from the further spread of his' teachings against which the church has spoken. It was suggested, however, by another member that possibly admonition would be of no avail, and it was decided that a subcommittee should wait upon Dr. Briggs and ascertain what position he would take in that case. As had been expected from his speeches they found that Dr. Briggs was not disposed to take back or modify anything which he had said. Upon making this report to the full committee it was decided that the only other thing to do was to suspend him from the further practice of the offices of a Presbyterian minister, and this was agreed to by a unanimous vote. Dr. Briggs is suspended indefinitely and can only be reinstated on the recantation of the matter in his speeches and writings to which objection has been made. It is unlikely that he will ever do that.

The moderator at the opening of the morning session announced the makeup of the committee. By a vote of the assembly Rev. Thomas A. Hoyt, D. D., of Philadelphia, was made chairman; the other members are as follows:

"We, the undersigned ministers and elders in the Presbyterian church in the United States love for the Holy Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments and our entire loyalty to the principles of the Presbyterian church, desire respectfully to record our solemn protest against the verdict and judgment of suspension, and the proceedings leading to the verdict, in the case against Rev. Charles A. Briggs, D. D., in the general assembly of 1893:

"I. As involving, in our judgment, acts of doubtful constitutionality;

"2. As seeming to abridge the liber ty of opin. ion hitherto enjoyed under our standards by office-bearers in the church:

"3. As tending, we believe, to the Ascouragement of thorough study of the Bible and rev. erent advance in the apprehension of divine truth, and "4. As inflicting what we cannot hel) but feel is an injustice on a Christian scholar of acknowledged high character and learning as well as on the presbytery of New York which had ful ly acquitted him of the charges alleged against The protest was received to be spread on the records. It was voted as the sense of the assembly that no answer to the protest was necessary. Saratoga, N. Y., was chosen as the place of the meeting of the assembly of

A BANK ROBBED.

Dean Brothers' Institution at Ava. Ill.

Loses $3,000.

Ava. Ill., June 2.—At noon Thursday Dean Brothers' bank was robbed of $3,000 or more in cash by unkown parties. It was done while Banker Dean and his employes were at dinner, and although two men were seen coming from behind the building nothing wrong was suspected. On entering the bank from dinner Willie Husband, Dean Brothers' stenographer, noticed the window nearest his desk u and at once suspected something wrong. On leaving for dinner the doors to the vault were closed but not locked, and upon examination Murray Dean found a snug sum had been taken by the burglars, which was done by simply pulling the vault doors open. There is a space of about 5 feet between William Divers & Co.'s store and the bank. This little alley is traveled considerably by those employed at the mill, store bank, consequently nothing was thought when strangers were seen coming from there. FOR FOREIGN EXHIBITORS.

Information Concerning Goods Brought Here for Sale.

Exhibitors at the world's fair who desire to sell and deliver goods which they brought here for the purpose, but which have already been entered as exhibits, can do so by having the acceptance of the goods by the fair canceled. They will then be transferred to the government warehouse on the grounds and appraised, when the duty may be paid and the goods sold and delivered. Most of the exhibitors are said to be unaware that any such storage warehouse exists on the grounds, or that any arrangements had been made for goods not for exhibition, but for sale. The blame for this condition of affairs is laid on the fair officials by the customs officers, who say they fully instructed the fair authorities as to the customs arrangements. There are hundreds of exhibitors on the grounds from foreign countries who, in addition to their wares for exhibition, have brought thousands of dollars' worth of goods for sale. As all their goods were entered as exhibits they could not hitherto dispose of any to intending purchasers. Another source of trouble is that the law provides that not less than a single case of goods can be imported for sale, single pieces not being admissible. Most of the packing cases have been destroyed, and it now rests with Collector Clark to determine what constitutes a case. He has been empowered by the treasury department to do this, and every effort will be made by the government to accommodate every foreign exhibitor who may desire to take advantage of this law.

Fish Hatched While You Wait.

"Fish Hatching Now" is the newest sign in the Government building, and directs to a row of glass nests where messes of eggs are gradually bursting into minnows. The spawn came from ent hatcheries, all the various governo selected to show the process in all stages. Since the exhibit was started, a day or so ago, more than 8,000,000 trout and perch have broken their shells. In one of the tanks are a lot of voracious youngsters of a previous crop which rally around the pipe through which the little fellows come into the water with them and devour the newly born.

Appropriate and General Observance of Memorial Day - Ceremonies in Many Cities-Eulalie Places Wreaths on Gen. Grant's Tomb.

CHICAGO, May 31.-Memorial day was appropriately observed in this city. In addition to the decoration of the graves of the heroes of the late war who rest in Rose Hill, Graceland, Calvary, Oakwoods and the other cemeteries in this vicinity a procession of Grand Army veterans, military and civic organizations marched through the streets, being reviewed on the lake front by Maj Gen. Miles, Gen. Newberry and their staffs. There was one feature of the parade which distinguished it from former ones. Soldiers of her majesty, the queen of England, formed in line with those of America to help commemorate the day. It was a surprise to the spectators and they cheered loudly as the fine body of English, perfectly drilled, passed. The English contingent consisted of the Black Watch, light horse guards, Irish fusileers, royal artillery, hussars and lancers, commanded by Gen. Willoughby and Col. Vibart. These troops are giving exhibitions of horsemanship and military maneuvers in this city this

At 2 p. m. Grand Army posts assisted at the laying of the corner stone of the new public library and memorial building being erected on the site of Dearborn park, on the lake front.

Memorial day was observed throughout the northwest with enthusiasm. People attended in thousands the special literary exercises held in nearly every city and town and crowded the various cemeteries to take part in the dedication of the graves of dead soldiers. Some of the features of the exercises in Michigan centers were as fol-

Over 2,000 people took part in the parade at Negaunee. Rev. Dr. Kerridge was the orator of the day at Adrian. An address by Rev. J. h Preston, of Lyons, was the feature of the day at Decatur.

In Wisconsin observances of a notable character were held in these places: A procession of 1,000 men was held at Oshkosh and exercises at Riverside cemetery; Col. W. G. Bryant, of La Crosse, delivered the oration at Racine in the afternoon and the graves at Mound cemetery were decorated in the morning; elaborate exercises marked the day at Bayfield.

Celebrations in Iowa were in part as

Gen. Byron, state treasurer of Iowa, addressed the people of Davenport, Rock Island and Moline at Rock Island; Capt. J. S. Lathrop delivered the oration at Dubuque; Rev. Dr. Carter, of Clear Lake, was the orator at Mason city; business was suspended for a general observation of the day at Ottumwa: there was a large parade and appropriate exercises at the cometeries at Des Moiues.

Some of the observances in Indiana were as follows:

Rev. Dr. John M. Driver, of Columbia City, delivered the oration at Fort Wayne; Brazil was profusely decorated with flags and several prominent speakers were on the grounds. NEW YORK, May 31.-Memorial day was observed with the usual parade, but the national guards, as a body, did not participate in the exercises. The day was propitious and the streets on the line of march were crowded with patriotic and enthusiastic spectators. Eight divisions of the Grand Army posts were in the parade which was reviewed by Gov. Flower. Over 21,000 men were in line and the route of the parade was crowded. In the parade were the sailors and marines of the white squadron, the Italian warship and the Spanish warship Infanta Isabella. The Spanish and Italian sailors were fully armed and equipped. There were about 300 men from the Italian ships and about 200 from the Spanish ships and about 600 from the white squadron. At all the soldiers' and sailors' cemeteries interesting memorial exercises were held. Princess Eulalie and suite witnessed the formation of the New York veterans at Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue. Many of the old soldiers doffed their hats in salute as they passed by and the princess acknowledged the greetings by waving her handkerchief. After the parade was over the princess was taken to Gen. Grant's tomb, where in the presence of an immense throng she laid two memorial wreaths upon the tomb. The steps of the tomb were literally covered by flowers and wreaths by the dead hero's comrades. Nearly 200,000 people witnessed the ceremonies at Gen. Grant's tomb. The orator of the day was ex-Gov. Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio.

WASHINGTON, May 31 .- At an early hour on Decoration day processions began forming at the various Grand Army of the Republic headquarters and at noon the programmes at the different cemeteries were under full headway. The largest crowd was at the National cemetery. After honoring the 14,000 dead heroes an immense audience gathered in the amphitheater, where a carefully selected programme of music and addresses was gone through with. The orator of the day was Hon. W. E. Si-

At the Soldiers' Home cemetery the veterans took a prominent part. The music was by the Fourth Artillery band and the oration was by Hon. Benjamin Butterworth.

Paris, May 31.-About 500 persons, largely Americans, were present Tuesday at the decoration of the tomb of Marquis de Lafayette in honor of his services to the cause of American independence.

Addresses were made by Hon. James B. Eustis, the American ambassador, and by Francais De Courcelle, great-grandon of Lafayetta

Colored Brute Suffers from a Mob's Vengeance at Decatur, Ill.—Taken from Jail and Hanged-The Action of the Mob Denounced by Gov. Altgeld, Who Offers a Reward for the Perpetrators of the Deed.

DECATUR, Ill., June 5 .- Sam Bush, the negro arrested near Windsor early Friday morning for outraging Mrs. Vest, of Mount Zion township, was lynched at 3 a. m. Saturday. There were threats heard early Friday evening, but a scout sent out by the officers to Mount Zion returned with the information that the people were quiet and had no intention of coming to Decatur. Nevertheless a guard of twelve men was put in the jail and an extra force of men was put on duty outside. About 500 curious people stood around the jail all night, though most of them thought no serious attempt would be made to take the prisoner out.

At just 2 o'clock twenty-five men came on a rush up Wood street. They were quiet, without masks, and moved in a solid body. They forced their way through the crowd and knocked on the door of the jail. Deputy Sheriff Midkiff and Special Officer Foster sat just inside and refused them admission. One blow from a sledge crashed in the wooden door, and the two officers were surrounded by twenty-five armed men. The keys of the jail were demanded, but both officers declared they did not have them.

The men then went to work with sledge hammers and chisels on the outside door. It was of solid cast-iron an inch thick. Twenty minutes elapsed before it was forced. Meanwhile the crowd of Decatur people stood outside quietly. No one seemed to care much. There was no talk of resistance and the officers were not upbraided for making no more objection.

When the first door was opened another one of steel bars held them another twenty minutes. There was only an occasional yell, and altogether it seemed to be a quiet attack on a jail. The next bars across the corridor were forced, and with them a lock that opened all the cells.

found it apparently empty. They and many were forced to the hig over the mattress, then liftjerked ed it up and tumbled out the negro. He had crawled inside. All day Friday Bush shook with fear. Now he seemed cooler than at any time before. "Gentlemen, you are killing an innocent man," he said. He was dragged up into the jail office. So many men stood around that it took five minutes to pull him through the crowd to the street. All this time Bush said nothing, but the crowd yelled excitedly. News of the attack on the jail seemed to have spread over the town, and 1.500 people were there. In front of the jail is a telegraph post. A drive towards that was made, but the lynchers finally went to one about 600 yards away, on one of the most prominent corners in the city, and directly in front of the courthouse. An arc light made the street intersection as light as day. A rope made of halter straps had been put around the negro's neck. When the crowd stopped at the foot of the pole the victim asked for time to pray. The men said: "Give him all the time he wants." He knelt down on the bricks and began to pray in a sing-song way, calling on Jesus to come and take his soul and forgive the men who were murdering him. He did not beg or cry as he had done when first arrested, but seemed to make up his mind he must die, and prayed disconnectedly full ten minutes, while a thousand people crowded around as close together as they could be. There were side jests, and not a single soul seemed impressed with the awfulness of the scene. Finally the spectators began to get impatient. A man had climbed half way up the pole and stood in the glare of the light all the time. "Cut that short," he said; "he gave those women

no time." Others took up the cry.

'Hang him; he's prayed enough." "Let him go," was yelled. The rope was passed to the man on the pole, he put it over a guide wire, and the crowd

The negro's body, now naked as the day it was born, swung up into sight 4 feet from the ground and fell back. The negro uttered no sound. A few in the crowd groaned, while others yelled. Then a hack was driven into the crowd against the protests of the cab-man. The negro was told to stand up on it. He refused, when half a dozen hands threw him up and then held him while the rope was tied to the cross arm on the pole. The hack was then driven away and the body fell with the man's toes not feet from the ground. It was then just 8:07 a. m. Two doctors walked up and held the pulse, and pronounced him dead in two minutes. The neck was not broken. The body was cut down by Coroner Bendure at 3:40 a. m. The rope was cut up and divided among the crowd around. The Mount Zion men left for home as soon as the negro was pronounced dead. A dispatch from Springfield says that Gov. Altgeld has issued a proclamation denouncing the lynching as a cowardly and diabolical act, as murder, and as a blot upon the fair name of the state. He declares the men who were engaged in it must be punished and offers a reward of $200 each for their apprehenion and conviction.

BRAVE MEN KILLED.

Two Firemen Lose Their Lives and Several Are Injured by the Collapse of the Walls of a Burning Building in Omaha,

OMAHA, Neb., June 5 .- The large furniture house of Charles Shiverick & Co., on Farham street, burned to the ground Saturday night, and the fire was attended withthe death of Capt. C. D. Cox and Robert Ouray, of the fire department, and the fatal injury of Firemen Ben Morris, Charles Ellington, George Couller, C. H. Pringle and James Conley, of Scranton, Pa., a bystander. The loss on the building is $40,000 and the stock $150,000. Ed Maurer's restaurant next door was damaged $25,7

During the progress of the fire the west wall fell, burying the firemen in the ruins. The fire was caused by lightning in the worst storm ever experienced in Omaha. For six hours the rain descended in torrents and the lightning never ceased. Telephone and telegraph wires are burned out, cellars flooded in almost every part of the city, and it is roughly estimated that $100,-000 worth of damage has been done to Heavy rains earlier in the day had pretty well filled the lowlands of Omaha and shortly after appeals began to come in to the police station for help from the rising waters in the northern part of the city. The fire alarm was sounded and several companies sent to the scene. Another force of firemen was assigned to the southern districts of the city, where a like situation prevailed. The firemen found many families in the second stories of their dwellings with a current as swift as the Missouri threatening to start their homes down the river. In many places the flood was 6 feet deep and rising with alarming rapidity.

Firemen went to the rescue of the imprisoned people with everything that would float two persons. Shed doors were in demand, and in some instances prominent citizens came sailing down the middle of the avenues between the street car tracks on their parlor doors, hastily detached for the purpose of going for assistance for their families. A frightened negro inside pointed out | Those residing in cottages in flooded Bush's cell. Three men rushed in and districts were in the greatest danger, point of any single story houses to avoid the rushing torrents.

> Hundreds of people lined the high grounds surrounding the inundated places to render what assistance was possible to those seeking shelter after being driven from their homes. The districts from which families were removed from their homes were in the vicinity of Grace, Clark, Twentyfourth and Nineteenth streets on the north, and along Costello and adjacent avenues on the south.

AN OLD BANK ASSIGNS.

Hermann Schaffner & Co., of Chicago Forced to Suspend-The Senior Partner

CHICAGO, June 5.—Herman Schaffner & Co., the oldest and largest private bankers in the west, did not open their doors in the Title and Trust building Saturday and the news that the institution was insolvent was soon the talk of the town. To add to the excitement came the report that Mr. Schaffner, one of the best known men in Chicago and one of the most popular of the Jewish race, could not be found, the result of the report being the rumor that the banker had become insane over his troubles or had taken his own life. The banking firm made an assignment in the county court at 10:10 a. m. In the absence of a statement by the assignes it is given out, but not authoritatively, by those concerned that the liabilities of the concern will not exceed $500,000 and that the assets more than cover the amount.

Mr. Schaffner's family have offered a reward of $500 for information as to the missing man's whereabouts. The bank had been in business since 1878. Herman Schaffner and A. G. Becker composed the firm. The bank transacted but little deposit business. Its specialty was the handling of commercial paper. In this way the firm is reported to have handled in the last year $35,000,000 worth of paper. The assignment was made, it is said, from the fear that when the fact of Schaffner's disappearance became public there would be a run on the bank.

KILLED BY A TEXAS CYCLONE.

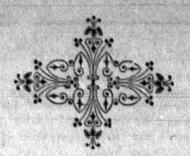

After Living for 100 Years a Negro Perishes in a Furious Storm-Three Other

Housron, Tex., June 5. - Spanish Camp, in Wharton county, 20 miles from the railroad, was struck by a terrible cyclone Friday night. Numbers of houses were unroofed and destroyed. In the village Josh Wilkins' house was blown down and two of his children killed. For 3 miles square everything is wrecked. Three miles from town Mrs. Simmons was killed and Wash Jenkins, a colored man over 100 years old, was caught beneath the ruins in his cabin and crushed to death. All the residences and outhouses on the Montgomery plantation were blown away and several persons hurt, but none killed.

Depositors Will Be Great Losers. NEW YORK, June 5 .- It has been figured out that there is due the public from the National Bank of Deposit $738,000, and that its assets are a little short of $1,100,000, which means that the stockholders of the bank will receive fifty cents on the dollar.

Many accounts had been withdrawn through the medium of the Milwaukee clearing-

The suspension is largely due to the failure of F. A. Lappen & Co. and the Lappen Furniture company, two weeks ago, with liabilities that will probably amount to three-quarters of a million. when the worst is known. The Lappen firms, so far as claims have been recorded, owe the Plankinton bank $219,000, and this sum is due on Mr. Lappen's personal notes, which are considered to be practically valneless. The Lappen inventory shows the estimated value of the latter's stock to be $208,888. But the stock will not bring a sum anywhere approaching this figure, and ahead of the Plankinton bank claims are others amounting to over $100,000. The outlook for the Plankinton is, therefore, not favorable. How Lappen succeeded in placing the Plankinton bank in the position in which it finds itself is a mystery.

A heavy run on the bank followed the Lappen failure on May 12. It was freely predicted on the morning of May 13 that the bank was going to smash and when the doors were opened a great crowd rushed in to draw out their money. The banko officials had made rapid preparations for the run. The available collateral was used in increasing the amount of cash on hand and a sensa tional trip was made up from Chicago with $100,000 of the Plankinton's funds which had been on deposit with the Continental bank of that city. The trip gave rise to the story that Philip D. Armour, out of consideration for an institution named after his old friend and partner, John Plankinton, had sent up $1,000,000 to withstand the attack of the frightened depositors. This story had mere to do with allaying the excitement than the actual facts would have had. It obtained wide circulation and, although it was denied by the packer, the denial did not reach Milwaukee till too late to destroy its effect, and at the close of banking hours it was believed that the run was over.

President Frederick T. Day, who is now a physical and mental wreck, is responsible for the failure. While no statement of the affairs the Plankinton bank has been 0 made public, the general fact is known that President Day loaned Lappen $219,000 of the bank's money, or $19,000 more than the bank's capital stock; also that Lappen's entire available assets, against which there are other claims besides that of the Plankinton bank aggregating more than $300,000, are only $210,000.

Late in the afternoon the bank made an assignment, the court appointing William Plankinton assignee. His bond was fixed at $1,600,000, which was immediately furnished. The sureties are Congressman John Mitchell, David Ferguson, vice president of the Wisconsin Fire and Marine Insurance bank, and Charles Ray, president of the National Exchange bank.

Attached to the assignment papers was a statement signed by Frederick T. Day as president, W. H. Momsen as cashier and K. Langland as bookkeeper, giving the nominal assets of the bank as $1,600,000. No statement of the liabilities was given. Later in the afternoon Mr. Plankinton as assignee gave out for publication a notice to the effect that the assets of the bank will be turned into money in the shortest possible time and paid to depositors as soon as realized. From an unofficial source was learned that over half a million dollars has been withdrawn from the bank since the run two weeks ago was precipitated, leaving on deposit $1,000,000. According to the same authority the assets amount to $1,670,000, including the capital stock of $200,000, a surplus of $150,000, undivided profits of $59,000 and personal liabilities of $200,000.

IN A BURNING MINE.

Twenty-Six Men Perish m a Mexican Colliery.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., June 5 .- Fire broke out at 4 o'clock p. m. Saturday in the Fuente coal mine on the line of the Mexican National railway, on the banks of the Rio Escondhido river. About one-half of the miners were working near the main tunnel and these made their escape, leaving twenty-six of their number to perish by the heat and smoke and from the poisonous gases, which spread like lightning to every portion of the mines.

There are twenty-six chambers in the mine, and the dead miners are supposed to be well to the front of the mine. At 12 o'clock Sunday one body had been recovered from the seventh chamber. and shortly after another, fearfully scorched and blackened, was brought to the surface. The tenth chamber has been reached, and men with ropes tied to their bodies, to effect their rescue if overcome by heat and smoke, are fighting their way to where the bodies of their dead comrades are lying. Superintendent George Spence ventured in too far and was overcome by heat and smoke. He was prostrated, but was rescused. It is believed that to-night the mine will be cleared of the heat and smoke, which at present it is impossible to cope with, and that all the bodies will be recov-

Large numbers of the friends and relatives of the unfortunate miners are gathered at the mouth of the mine mutely awaiting the recovery of the bodies of their sons and husbands. When a body is taken out there is an outburst of grief, and a look of quiet resignation and deep grief appears upon every countenance. Hundreds of people from Eagle Pass and Piedras Negras have visited the scene, and the smoke still issuing from the airshafts impresses on all the folly of hoping any of the men may be taken out alive.

All the miners employed were Mexicans and most of them leave destitute families. It is reported that all the parties responsible for the management of the mines have been placed under arrest pending an investigation of the causes of the disaster. This is the first great disaster in the history of coal mining in Mexico.

Flames Destroy a New York Tenement-Five of the Inmates Lose Their Lives. NEW YORK, June 5.-Five persons were killed at a fire that began just about midnight Saturday night in the five-story flat house at 138 East Fortythird street, half a block from the Press Club fair. They were:

William Bente, a stenographer: Mrs. Bente his wife: Elsie Bente, his sister, aged 200 Helen Wetmore Dietz, his niece: Edward Pugsley, a young man who roomed on the tep

All these were on the top floor when the fire was discovered. All the flats in the house were occupied except the third, and there the fire began. It broke through the roof in a minute, mounting the stairway shaft and illuminated the whole neighborhood. From 138 and the houses on each side men and women in their nightgowns and bare feet poured into the street.

From the fourth floor Charles H. Bjorwall, with his wife and four children, escaped, the father by the fire escape and the others by the steps. A Miss Boylston who lived on the fourth floor was also got out in hysterics: All these, as well, as the people from the adjoining houses, were sheltered in the conservatory of church music at 139, across the street. Here Mrs. Bente, the mother of the stenographer, and Mrs. Dietz, his sister, who were among the refugees from the two adjoining houses, met, and each found that the other had seen nothing of the Bentes and their visitors of the night. The fire was easily controlled, but before it was put out and within ten minutes from their arrival the firemen had long ladders up to the front windows of the building and were beginning a search. It was nearly 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning before they found the five Owe $500,000. MILWAUKEE, June 5.-Frederick T. Day, president of the Plankinton bank, has made a voluntary assignment to William H. Momsen, cashier of the bank, who furnished bonds in the sum of $800,000, with Charles F. Pfister, George B. Miner and Willis A. Meyer as sureties. Mr. Day's nominal assets are placed at $600,000 and his liabilities at $500,000. So far the examination of his assets has been only cursory, but it is believed that enough can be realized from them to meet all his debts. In doing this, however, his large private fortune will be utterly wrecked. Reckless banking methods are said to have been the cause of Mr. Day's failure.

T costs more to make Royal Baking Powder than any other, because its ingredients are more highly refined and expensive. But the Royal is correspondingly purer and higher in leavening strength, and of greater money value to the consumer. The difference in cost of Royal over the best of the others does not equal the difference in leavening strength, nor make good the inferior work of the cheaper powders, nor remove the impurities which such powders leave in the food.

Where the finest food is required, the Royal Baking Powder only can be used.

Where the question of health is considered, no baking powder but Royal can be used with safety. All others are shown by official analyses to contain lime, ammonia or alum.

A FEW FACTS.

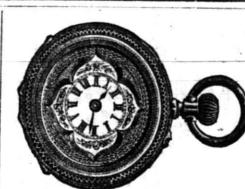

A remedy has been found which cures chronic diseases; not in every case, but a large precentage of them. And in cases too far gone for cure; it affords relief and prolongs life. Many who have been given over by physicians have been prevailed upon by friends to try this remedy, the Compound Oxygen Treatment of Drs. Starkey and Palen, of Philadelphia, and are now living to testify to its wonderful curative powers. It has been successful in curing many cases of catarrh, malarial diseases, hay fever, asthma, bronchitis, neuralgia, nervous prostration and other chronic diseases. In these diseases physicians have had little success, as the name they have given to this class of disorders indicates, but Compound Oxygen has worked wonders.

There is only one genuine Compound Oxygen, and any made elsewhere or by others than Drs. Starkey and Palen, is spurious. Avoid imitations.

If you wish to learn more of this wonderful remedy, send for our book of 200 pages, sent free, with numerous testimonials and records of surprising cures. 49

The ringing of the curfew bell is to be revived in the cities and towns of Canada rather of the ancient law revived, all persons under the age of 17 years are expected to make for home at the first tap of the bell.
