High School Commencement.

The Town Hall was filled last Thursday evening with happy young people and equally happy parents and friends, the occasion being the graduating exercises of the Chelsea High school.

The stage was decorated with flowers, and among the attendants were many who held bouquets to be subsequently tendered to the successful scholars in token of parental affection and friendly admiration.

The graduating class numbered seven, and each member took part in the exercises. The numbers were interspersed with music by the orchestra. The diplomas were presented to the graduates by Prof. A. A. Hall.

The New Tax Law.

Everybody should be familiar with the provisions of Section 135 of the new tax law, which is as follows:

"When any deed, land contract, plat of any town site, village, or addition to any town site, village plat or city, or any other instrument for conveyance of title to any real estate, is presented to the register of deeds of any county in this state for record or filing in his office, he shall require of the person presenting the same a certificate from the auditor general, or from the county treasurer of the county, whether there are any tax liens or titles held by the state, or any individual, against such piece or description of land sought to be conveyed by such instrument, and that all taxes due thereon have been paid for the five years preceding to the date of such instrument, and in default of the presentation of such certificate he shall not record the same until such certificate is secured and presented. The register of deeds shall note the fact upon said deed that such certificate has or has not been presented to him when such instrument is presented for record, and in case the person presenting such instrument shall refuse to procure such certificate, he shall indorse that fact upon said instrument, over his official signature, and shall refuse to receive and record the same: Provided, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to the filing of any town or village plat for the purpose of incorporation, in so far as the land therein embraced is included in a plat already filed in the office of the register of deeds, or in so far as the description of lands therein is not changed by such plat, nor to the filing of a copy of any town, village or city plat in case the original plat filed in the office of such register of deeds has been lost or destroyed, nor to any sheriff or commissioner's deed executed for the sale of lands under any proceeding in law, or by virtue of any decree of any of the courts of this state, or any deed of trust by any assignee, executor or corporation executed pursuant to any law of this state. A violation of the provisions of this section by any register of deeds shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof he shall be fined not to exceed one hundred dollars, and he shall further be liable to the grantee of any instrument so recorded for the amount of damages sustained, to be recovered in an action for debt in any court of this state."

Homes for World's Fair Visitors.

In view of the crowded condition of Chicago and its hotels during the World's Fair period, Poole Bros. have done a public service in issuing a very carefully prepared list of the Homes in Chicago that are thrown open to the public upon this occasion. The list is complete and gives the name, location, number of rooms etc. so that correspondence may be had and arrangements made before the visitor comes to Chicago. This list is accompanied by splendid sectional maps of the city on a large scale, by which the location of every house can be accurately found. Copies can be obtained at the Michigan Central Ticket Office at the publishers price, 50 cents—less really than the value of the maps themselves.

Substantial Studies Better Than Fads

An honest education in the primary branches is all the public schools should be expected to give. As it is, there is a disposition to divert the pupils from substantial studies to fads that tend to defeat the main object of the public school system. By giving them a smattering of a dozen things they are deprived of useful knowledge that can be easily imparted in the schools and sent out into the world imperfectly equipped, when they might have been supplied with knowledge that would have been useful to them in every item.

The Summer Tour.

The Latest in Potato Bugs.

Saline comes to the front with a new variety of potato bugs, that strip the vines of their leaves very rapidly. They are a small dark red bug, with black and yellow stripes extending only about one-half the length of the back, in size are not larger than a kernel of buckwheat, have a hard coating or shell, many legs and keen eyes. In their nature they are not logy but very active, are easily frightened, will often run when you appear in sight, a slight shake will jar them from the vines, but it takes but a few seconds for them to pick themselves up and climb on again.

The Decline of Profanity.

In commenting on the decline of profanity, an exchange says:

"After all, the most that can be said about swearing is that it is a silly and useless habit, and therefore to be condemned, as are all habits that are silly and useless. It need not be acquired any more than the habit of picking one's teeth with a fork, and while it does not partake of the immorality and irreverence with which it is so generally charged, it cannot be defended on esthetic or utilitarian grounds, and therefore should certainly not be cultivated. As to its decline in modern times, we incline to believe that it is as prevalent as ever, but that humanity, has become more regardful of the feelings of those who object to it, and that for this reason it is kept more under cover than it was a century ago, when the good old Scotch lady declared that 'Doubtless swearing was wrong, but it was certainly a great help in conversation'."

A NAVAL HORROR.

DEATH ON THE DEEP.

LONDON, June 24. — Her majesty's great twin screw battleship Victoria, flying the flag of Vice Admiral George C. Tryon, K. C. B., commander of the Mediterranean station, was sunk in 18 fathoms of water off Tripoli, and at least 400 of her officers and crew went to the bottom with her. The disaster was due to the fearful bungling of either her own officers or those of the battleship Camperdown. In broad daylight, during a maneuver, she was run into head on by her companion ship, and in less than a quarter of an hour she had disappeared in the waves, carrying with her all on board. Twenty-one officers, including Vice Admiral Tryon, are reported drowned, and the great fighting ship lies a useless wreck, bottom side up, beneath the waves.

The information so far received is scant, but enough news has come from Syria to make it apparent that the disaster is one of the most horrible, as well as one of the most disgraceful, that has ever befallen the English navy.

Tripoli, near where the accident happened, is about 70 miles from Damascus. It has a small harbor, which is so shallow as to be notoriously unsafe. It is supposed that the Victoria found a lack of sea room in putting about as the Camperdown came on and the latter boat hit the flagship squarely on the starboard side with her ram. The Camperdown was moving under a high steam pressure and the effect was such as would have been made with an ax on a plank.

The plates of the Victoria just forward of the turret were torn apart and a perfect flood poured into the hold of the flagship. She began to sink immediately. The engines of the Camperdown were reversed at once, but not before she had hit the Victoria a second time and completed the work of destruction. Every effort was made to save the ship, but the Victoria settled so fast that this was seen to be impossible, and the men, losing all discipline, cast loose the small boats and attempted to reach the Camperdown. Only three of the boats got free of the suction of the sinking ship. The rest were overturned and many of the occupants of these were drowned with the men who were cooped up in the battleship beyond all chance of rescue. Vice Admiral Tryon is said to be one of those who went down with the ship. The Victoria hardly moved forward after the blow. The water poured so rapidly into her engine-room that the fires were extinguished before the engineer had time to speak.

The Camperdown was in command of Capt. Charles Johnstone. Every effort was made by her officers and crew to save the wretched men of the Victoria. All her boats were put out and many of the Victoria men were picked up in the water besides those taken from the fortunate boats of the flagship. The number of saved is given at 350. The officers of the Victoria are reported to have acted with great bravery and coolness. Most of them stuck to the ship till the last, trying to steady their men and cast loose the boats. The action of the younger officers is especially commended. Many of them went down with the ship. The Victoria sank evenly till the water in the starboard side pulled her over, when she capsized completely, with her keel in the air.

The Victoria was a battleship of 10,470 tons and 14,000-horse power and mounted fifty guns. She was built by the Armstrongs and was regarded as one of the crack fighting machines of the British navy. Her model is now in Chicago at the exposition. She was selected as Sir George Tryon's flagship when Tryon was made vice admiral, and assigned to the Mediterranean station August 20, 1891. The Camperdown is also of the Mediterranean fleet and is a slightly smaller boat than the Victoria. She is of 10,600 tons and 11,500-horse power.

Admiral Tryon's Record.

[Vice Admiral Sir George Tryon, who went down in the wreck of the British battleship Victoria, was one of the best-known men in the British navy. He had vast experience, his service beginning in the days before steam was a prominent feature in naval architecture and running through all of the various phases of development that were marked by the substitution of steam for sail power, of iron for wooden hulls, of steel for iron, of turrets for broadsides and of armor for thin sheathing. He was a man who had earned the highest honors within the gift of the British nation. His name first appears on the naval list away back in the days of the Crimean war, where he served in the naval brigade before Sebastopol during the winter of 1855-56 in the trenches, where he was wounded. He was present at all of the operations before Sebastopol and at the capture of Kiburn. He received medals for distinction and was specially mentioned in dispatches for services as director of transports during the Abyssinian war in 1868. He was private secretary to the first lord of the admiralty from 1871 to 1874, received various orders of knighthood and won the approval of the government for the manner in which he discharged his duties on the coast of Tunis and in the Stax commission of inquiry in 1881. He became acting permanent secretary in the following year. In 1884 he became commander in chief on the Australian station, and after a brief attempt at a parliamentary career was made admiral superintendent of naval reserves in 1888. He commanded one of the opposing fleets in the naval maneuvers in 1888-89, and was made a commander in chief of the Mediterranean forces August 20, 1891.]

Removing a Source of Peril.
Danger is near when the kidneys grow active. The source of peril is removed with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which unquestionably averts Bright's disease, diabetes, gravel and other ruinous malady attributable, in the first instance, to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder. A healthful impulse to the performance of the functions of these organs is speedily communicated by the Bitters, which like wise removes constipation, malaria, liver trouble and dyspepsia.

Swellings in the Neck

Or goitre, made my neck fully twice its natural size. For three years all my strength seemed to go into the swelling, and I was reduced from 185 to 89 pounds. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which gave me strength, relieved distress in my stomach, and best of all, entirely removed the goitre. I am now in the best of health, weigh 193 pounds, and tell everyone what wonders Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me." Mrs. H. C. SWINFORD, Union County, Minn.

"German Syrup"

My niece, Emeline Hawley, was taken with spitting blood, and she became very much alarmed, fearing that dreaded disease, Consumption. She tried nearly all kinds of medicine but nothing did her any good. Finally she took German Syrup and she told me it did her more good than anything she ever tried. It stopped the blood, gave her strength and ease, and a good appetite. I had it from her own lips. Mrs. Mary A. Stacey, Trumbull, Conn. Honor to German Syrup.

DR. KILMER'S SWAMP-ROOT CURED ME

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILED!
La Grippe Baffled!

The After Effects Cured

Mr. Bilger writes: "I had a bad attack of the Grippe; after a time caught cold and had a second attack; it settled in my kidneys and liver, and Oh! such pain and misery in my back and legs.

The Physicians' medicine and other things that I used made no impression, and I continually grew worse until I was a physical wreck, and given up to die.

Father bought me a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's SWAMP-ROOT, and before I had used all of the second bottle I felt better, and to-day I am just as well as ever. A year has passed and not a trace of the Grippe is left. SWAMP-ROOT saved my life."

The Livingston Democrat suggests that slates be hung in the church vestibules whereon the young ladies may register when they enter the church. This will save time and no end of anxiety on the part of many young men who now experience difficulty in locating their charmers Sunday evenings.

They come, the merry insect train; the borers and the dippers; the gnats waltz in again, and eke the gallinippers. The weevil and the cutworm now do polish up their armor; the chinch bug makes his vernal bow in ambush for the farmer. The weird curculio setteth out to mad the fruit tree tillers, and in each garden lurks about ten billion caterpillars.

An epidemic of scares is going over the country in regard to the condition of the banks, in view of the recent failures of a number of these institutions, and depositors are losing faith and withdrawing their money from them. Probably not one bank in a score would be able to pay off all its depositors in case of a run, although perfectly responsible and financially safe if given time to call in some of their loans. The cause of the bank failures is due to a stringency in the money market, and depositors will only make matters worse by any hasty action.

Congressman Gorman called on Pension Commissioner Lochren at Washington recently and effected the following changes in the pension boards in this district: Northville board, Dr. M. A. Patterson, succeeding Dr. John M. Swift, removed; Monroe board, Dr. J. B. Haynes, of Dundee, succeeding Dr. George R. Richardson, removed; Adrian board, Dr. Jewett Williams, succeeding Dr. Nelson, resigned; Jackson board, Dr. Cyrus Smith, succeeding Dr. M. H. Raymond, removed; Ann Arbor board, Dr. E. F. Pyle, of Milan, succeeding Dr. W. F. Breakley, removed; and Dr. Thomas Shaw, of Ypsilanti, succeeding Dr. Owen, removed.

A large number of our exchanges are asking that steps be taken to govern bicycle riding. The two wheeled vehicle is now so commonly used that the privilege given to riders is beginning to be abused. Reckless bicycling is as dangerous to pedestrians as reckless driving. No one objects to the bicycle rider who has due regard to the rights of others in the streets. Always, if she is feminine, and when he doesn't bend his back double, if he is masculine, the considerate cyclist is a pleasing sight. But those fellows that scorch through village thoroughfares with an air of having bought the town need to be regulated with a stalwart club.

It is to be hoped that the parents of our town will get some honest employment for their boys during the long summer vacation; work on the farm, or anything else that is respectable, even if the wages are low. If you don't want your boy to be a loafer when he becomes a man grown, don't teach him to be one now by keeping him in idleness. There is no wonder that our best public men and business men in our cities are largely from the farm; farm life for a boy is in many ways decidedly safer than town life. There are better opportunities for education in our towns, but the boy or man who never had but one opportunity come his way and took good solid hold of it, is far ahead of the loafer who sees processions of good opportunities going past him every day.

The famous Blarney stone is now on exhibition in the Irish village at the World's Fair, and one may kiss it without standing on his head, as was the case when it was in the wall of the castle in Ireland.

At last a good use has been found for the despised banana peel. If you wear russett shoes, grease the leather with it, then polish with a cloth. In this way all discolorations will be removed and a fine polish obtained.

Last April Bertha Burnham, a Deerfield girl about 18 years of age, was bitten by a dog. The wound healed and no attention was paid to it. Last week the girl graduated from the high school. She showed signs of hydrophobia, and Monday she died.

Lieutenant Peary, Dr. Nansen and Frederick Jackson are all to start for the north Pole this summer by widely divergent routes. The pole thus far has succeeded admirably in dodging discoverers, but it looks now as if it would be driven into a corner and caught.

It is said that the castor oil plant is a valuable protection against mosquitoes—that planted about the house it will drive them away, and that young plants in pots in the rooms or leaves placed about will completely rid the house of these pests. This is very important, if true, and is easily tested.

People should never go in the early morning to get boots and shoes fitted. In the latter part of the day the feet are at their maximum size. Activity and standing tend to enlarge the feet. If people would remember this rule there would not be so many complaints of shoes when worn being tight which, when fitted, seemed so comfortable.

You can always judge a town and its people by its newspaper. Never buy town lots or lands where a poor, half starved newspaper is published. Newspapers these days are a necessity, not a luxury. They are so cheap that the poorest man can have them. It matters not how many city papers a man may take, he should give an honest support to his home paper.

We clip the following from the Grass Lake News: "If a woman thinks the current fashions improve her looks, she is badly fooled. The ballooning of sleeves and general exaggeration of outlandishness of gowns from the waist up, suggest scarecrow architecture but bear not the faintest resemblance to the comely and beautiful. The present fashions make the fair sex look dowdyish and frightful."

Every barn should have a cistern under it, and especially if the barn have a basement for wintering stock. With suitable contrivances a supply of pure water may be provided, so that the water is shut off automatically when the vessel is filled to a certain height. This is done by a wooden valve resting on the water and buoyed up by it so that the water is shut off whenever it is needed. Such cisterns under barns have often furnished the water promptly so as to save serious losses from fire.

ARTHUR BALFOUR says that his greatest political help comes from his sister, Miss Agnes Balfour, who is his housekeeper. Each day she devotes a fixed amount of time to reading the newspapers and marking what is useful for his perusal.

MRS. A. B. MARSHALL, of London, is at the head of the largest cooking school in the world. She recently gave an object lesson in preparing a ball supper for 100 guests, preparing everything in the elaborate menu of forty dishes herself.

AN Armstrong gun in the British navy hurls a solid shot a distance of twelve miles, the highest point in the air described by the shot being 17,000 feet above the earth's surface. The discharge of the gun can not be heard at the place where the ball strikes.

UNDER the laws of the state of Georgia the salaries of day laborers, especially railroad men, can not be garnished. Judge Key has been called on to decide a case of evasion where the claims were transferred so that the salaries could be garnished in Tennessee.

MONSIGNOR is a title conferred upon members of the papal household and church and also upon prelates. All archbishops are monsignors, but all monsignors are not archbishops. In the case of an archbishop the title monsignor is, as it were, a familiar form of address.

THE collection of postage stamps has brought into existence a professional stamp repairer, who, for a small fee, dexterously repairs mutilated stamps. His specialty is restoring the margin to envelope stamps that have been cut to shape, and have thus lost much of their philatelic value.

YOUNG women of Boston, where they far outnumber the young men, are becoming restive and are moving toward the setting sun. A large number of them are in Chicago earning their living as waitresses. Every waiter in the New England restaurant and cafe, for example, is from Boston. Forty-five recently emigrated to Denver, where they are serving as waitresses.

IN Boston, Washington, Philadelphia and San Francisco the Irish outnumber the Germans. In New York, Chicago, Brooklyn, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Buffalo, New Orleans, Pittsburgh, Detroit and Milwaukee the Germans outnumber the Irish. There are 3,500 natives of Ireland to 55,000 Germans in Milwaukee. In Boston there are 10,000 Germans to 71,000 Irish.

THERE is much popular as well as scientific interest in the second Arctic journey upon which Lieut. Peary is soon to start. The success of his first expedition, after the discouragement and even ridicule which it encountered, augurs well for the attempt which he will now make to map the northern coast of Greenland, to explore the archipelago beyond, and, if the conditions of the ice permits, to make a dash across the frozen sea toward the pole.

A LITTLE French girl's map of North America, shown in the educational exhibit, makes the Ohio river rise in Canada, cross Lake Huron and serve as that lake's outlet. The Mississippi rises in Alaska, Lake Huron empties into the St. Lawrence river, Lake Huron reaches down to Washington and Lake Erie is still further south. No corrections are marked on the map, so that it is difficult to decide whether the French teacher thought it correct or amusing.

GOV. FISHBACK, of Arkansas, made some surprising statements in his speech at the dedication of the state building at the World's fair. He said Arkansas has a school to every 375 people, a church to every 322, and, during the past ten years, has built an average of one of each every second day. He asserted that Arkansas is educating a larger percentage of its whites than any of the New England states, and that New York, Massachusetts and other eastern states are educating a smaller percentage of their population than the percentage of Negroes whom Arkansas is schooling.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

The Crop Condition Good.

The weekly crop report issued by the Michigan weather service bureau indicates that the warm weather and absence of any excessive rainfall have improved the condition of the ground generally. Crops are growing quite rapidly and the outlook at present is favorable. All kinds of small fruits are in good condition. Prospects seem favorable for a large crop of pears, peaches, plums and apricots, but apples are below the average. Hay, potatoes and vegetables promise a good yield.

A Fiendish Deed.

Mrs. Napoleon Plue, wife of a dairyman on the Joy farm near Detroit, was robbed and outraged in her own home by an unknown man. Mr. Plue had just gone to the barn half a mile away, as was his custom, and his wife was alone in the house with her 2-year-old child when the tramp entered. He demanded her money and threatened the woman with instant death if she made any outcry and forced her to submit to him. The scoundrel escaped.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended June 17 reports sent in by sixty-six observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that intermittent fever, pneumonia and erysipelas increased, and inflammation of the bowels decreased in area of prevalence. Typhoid fever was reported at sixteen places, diphtheria at thirty-four, measles at twenty-one and scarlet fever at thirty-eight places.

Taken Off the Market.

The state board of agriculture has withdrawn from the market 160,000 acres of agricultural college lands, situated in the upper portion of the lower peninsula. The lands will undoubtedly be reappraised before being again restored to market as the last appraisal was made several years ago and the lands have greatly appreciated since then.

Michigan's Arbeiter Bund.

Burned to Death.

Charles Pettit's house was burned at Newaygo and a 7-year old girl was burned to death. The family were all asleep and in the excitement the parents counted seven children, forgetting until too late that a neighbor's daughter was staying in the house. The body of the child was burned to a crisp. Mr. Pettit was badly burned in trying to save his family and goods.

Escaped from Jackson Prison.

James Morrison and William Henson, short term convicts, escaped from the prison at Jackson during the night by scaling the walls. They were employed about the engine-room of the electric light plant. At the time of their escape no guards were on the wall. They were not missed until three hours after their escape.

Dr. Jacob Devries, of Grand Rapids, has sued Seth W. Lyon, a nephew of his deceased wife, for $10,000 for alienating her affections and depriving him of considerable of her property.

A PATRIOTIC MASS.

Rare Relics Melted Together to Form the New Liberty Bell—It Is Successfully Cast at Troy, N. Y.—Mrs. Cleveland Unable to Take Part in the Programme.

TROY, N. Y., June 23.—At 8:15 Thursday evening Miss Eugenia P. Meneely, daughter of Clinton H. Meneely, let loose a flood of metal at her father's foundry which, when cool, will be the liberty bell of this century. And the molten mass that flowed at her command was composed of patriotic material, implements of warfare, material of the most historic interest, swords that have been used in battle, metal identified with every progress in invention and science, remembrances and love gifts.

The time for the casting was set for 4 o'clock in the afternoon, but owing to the damp atmosphere the furnace did not draw well and it was 8:25 when the boiling metal bubbled over the top of the mold. It was originally intended that Mrs. Cleveland would touch a button at Gray Gables, whereby the electrical apparatus at the foundry would be set in motion releasing the metal from the furnace, but Mrs. Cleveland was in poor health and could not venture out in the stormy north and east gale which prevailed at Buzzard's Bay.

The mold of the bell was not visible prior to the casting, but was imbedded in the earth just in front of the furnace. The core was placed in first, the outer case containing the inscription and dates being placed in after, and all the joints hermetically sealed. When the committee arrived at the foundry all they could see was the great furnace filled with 13,000 pounds of molten metal melted by the use of coal furnished free by the state of Pennsylvania. Then there was a small hole in the earth just in front of the furnace, and into this the molten metal, sparkling and looking like a snake of fire, found entrance, until, when the mold was full, the fiery mass began to spread out over the ground. Then the flow was stopped and Mr. Meneely announced that the bell was cast.

The bell is to be placed in the world's exhibition at Chicago. At the close of the exhibition it is intended that it shall be sent throughout the world as a missionary of freedom. It is suggested that it may be sent to Jerusalem to commemorate the 1900th anniversary of the birth of Christ and also to the next world's exhibition, which is expected to take place in Paris during the year 1900. It is proposed that the bell shall ring at each sunrise and sunset; at 9 o'clock in the morning on the anniversaries of days marking great events in the world's progress toward liberty; at 12 o'clock on the birthdays of the "Creators of Liberty," and at 4 o'clock it will toll on the anniversaries of their deaths. H. Walter Webb, third vice president of the Central-Hudson railroad, has placed at the disposal of the committee in charge a special car for the transportation of the bell to Chicago. Exercises will be held by the Daughters of the American Revolution at Syracuse, Rochester, Buffalo, Cleveland and other places along the line.

[The idea of casting the Columbia liberty bell originated with M. O. McDowell, of Newark, N. J. A committee was organized with members from every state and territory and several foreign countries, Daughters and Sons of the American Revolution, and the League of America. Besides fragments of old guns, revolutionary relics, silver coins, candlesticks, etc., there are 250,000 bronze pennies contributed by school children fused into the bell metal. Mr. Roger A. Pryor, of New York, sent two bullets which met in midair during a battle of the late rebellion. One came from the rebel lines and the other was from a "Yank's" rifle. The concussion caused the lead to assume the shape of the letter U. There is also a bit of Washington's old surveying chain, a lock from Jefferson's musket and nails taken from the flooring of the room in which he wrote the text of the declaration of independence. Every state contributed some cherished memorial. A former slave of Jefferson Davis sent the keys of his old master's mansion. There are also some old Roman coins in the fusion. The total weight of the Columbia bell is 13,000 pounds or about ten times the weight of the old liberty bell. The inscriptions upon it are: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another;" "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof;" and "Glory to God in the highest, peace on earth, good will to men."]

THE SCOURGE.

Cholera Increasing in Virulence at Mecca—One Hundred and Eighty Deaths Reported in a Single Day—Reassuring Reports from Russia.

LONDON, June 23.—A dispatch from Alexandria says that there were 180 cholera deaths among the Mecca pilgrims Wednesday. At Toulon there were three deaths Wednesday, making 100 since January. The authorities have appointed a commission to thoroughly examine the sanitation of the port, parts of which are notoriously unhealthy. A telegram from St. Petersburg confirms the previous reassuring news that the latest Russian official returns indicate that the disease is slowly declining in the provinces which were ravaged last year. In Bessarabia there were only ten cases and three deaths in three days, at Podolia nineteen cases and four deaths, at Kursk five cases and one death, in the town of Orel nine cases and three deaths. There are no other cases worthy of mention.

St. Petersburg, June 23.—Cholera is decreasing rapidly throughout Russia. In Bessarabia, Podolia, Kursk and Orel only an occasional death and a few fresh cases are now reported.

SENATOR STANFORD DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 22.—United States Senator Leland Stanford died at 12 o'clock Tuesday night at his residence in Palo Alto. The senator was apparently in the best of spirits Wednesday, when he took a drive around his stock farm and seemed well. He retired shortly after 10 o'clock, and about midnight his valet, going into his bedroom, discovered that he was dead.

It had been evident for some days past that Senator Stanford's demise was a question of but a short time. His symptoms were apoplectic, and his weight was increasing alarmingly. There was stiffness about the limbs that made locomotion an exceedingly difficult task. His body was fast becoming too heavy for his limbs to support, and he could take only the slightest exercise. Six months ago the senator sent for Dr. Curtis, of San Francisco, who prescribed heroic treatment, but the senator was not ready to undergo drastic methods for a reduction of flesh and the restoration of waning strength. His apoplectic symptoms increased, and his situation became such as to create serious alarm about six weeks ago, when it was found necessary to impose a severely plain diet upon the senator, and since that time his sole food has consisted of fried hashed meat, with hot water as the only liquid accompaniment.

The senator rigidly adhered to the severe requirements of his physician, and it seemed for a time that the results were most beneficial and might possibly effect a permanent cure. The senator, indeed, expressed himself as much encouraged and looked forward hopefully to the time when he could devote himself with renewed energy to public affairs and to the completion of certain educational and other benevolent enterprises that were very near to his heart. But his strength was not sufficiently great to respond to the demands upon it. Its fundamental weakness suddenly manifested itself and he passed quietly away.

[Leland Stanford was born near Albany, N. Y., March 9, 1824. Until he reached manhood he spent his time on a farm varying farm labors with his studies, in which he made such advancement that at the age of 22 he entered a law office at Albany and three years later was admitted to practice in the supreme court of the state of New York. Some time after he removed to Fort Washington, Wis., where he practiced law presumably without much success, for in 1852 he abandoned the profession and went to California, where, after spending a short time at Michigan Bluffs, Placer county, he moved to Sacramento and engaged in the mercantile business. He amassed wealth rapidly, and his house soon became known as one of the most extensive and prosperous on the slope. While thus engaged he identified himself with the anti-slavery sentiment and became a staunch member of the republican party in the earliest days of that organization. In 1860 he was a delegate to the Chicago convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln. In 1861 he was elected governor of California, in which capacity he did much for the cause of the union during the years of rebellion. He was one of the chief promoters of the trans-continental railway project, and organized the Union Pacific Railway company July 1, 1861, and himself drove the last spike in the road May 10, 1869. He built 530 miles of this road in 292 days. In 1891 he was elected governor of California. After his retirement from the gubernatorial chair Mr. Stanford held no political office until 1885, when he was elected to the United States senate.

The foundation of Stanford's great fortune was laid in the building of the Central Pacific road. The revenues derived by him and his country merchant associates were marvelous. The first ten years their net cash earnings amounted to nearly $20,000,000. From early manhood Stanford was fond of horses. Fifteen years ago he bought Mohawk Chief, a son of Ryadick's Hambletonian, Gen. Benton and some thirty head of brood mares of Lexington stock, and at Palo Alto, 30 miles south of San Francisco, started his breeding farm, the products of which have become famous all over the world. There are now nearly 80 animals there of all ages, from the newly dropped foal to the great sire, Electioneer, over 21 years old. There were bred Bell Boy, who sold for $50,000; Hinda Rose, who had a 3-year-old record of 2:19; and Sunol, with a 3-year-old record of 2:10, sold to Robert Bonner for a large price.

At Palo Alto he established the Leland Stanford Jr. university as a memorial to his only son, who died in Italy. The endowment of the university will amount in value to $20,000,000, exclusive of the buildings, which cost $3,000,000. Both sexes are eligible to admission to the university, which is founded on the widest and loftiest lines.]

CITY IN POSEN SINKING.

Many Houses Completely Wrecked—The Citizens Are Panicked.

BERLIN, June 23.—The sinking of the ground in Schneidemuehl continues. Scores of buildings have been rendered unsafe and many have been completely wrecked. The Grosse Kirchstrasse and the Kleine Kirchstrasse are in ruins. The inhabitants are panicked. The subsidence of the ground began several days ago and is attributed to the opening of an artesian well through which an immense amount of water has been expelled from an underground reservoir. Schneidemuehl is in Posen and has some 12,000 inhabitants.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A Train in New Jersey Strikes a Carriage, Killing a Woman and Three Children—Two Men Cremated in the Ruins of a Wrecked Train in Wisconsin.

NEWARK, N. J., June 23.—A train from Jersey City on the Newark branch of the Erie railroad struck a carriage near Avondale station Saturday afternoon. The carriage contained Mrs. Williams and her 13-year-old daughter and Mrs. Druett and her two children—a boy aged about 3 years and a girl about 5—all residents of Newark. The three children were instantly killed. Mrs. Druett was carried to the bank alongside the track and died within a few minutes. Mrs. Williams was so badly injured that her death is expected at any moment. The blame for the disaster is said to lie entirely with the engineer of the train. The bodies of the little children were frightfully mangled.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., June 26.—An extra freight, carrying forty-four cars and running 30 miles an hour, ran into an ox asleep on the track near Parkridge, 40 miles from Superior, at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and was wrecked. Every car was derailed and twenty cars loaded with coal and merchandise were piled in a heap, quickly ignited and burned, together with the remainder of the train excepting the caboose. The company's loss is $100,000, including the engine, which is a total wreck. Engineer John M. Ingersoll and Head Brakeman Michael McNulty were buried beneath the debris and burned alive. Several tramps who were beating passage it is thought are also cremated. The charred bones of two bodies were taken from the ashes of the wreck. John Riley, the fireman, has an arm broken and is sealed about the abdomen. Conductor Baxter Hall and Rear Brakeman Thomas McCambridge were in the caboose and are severely injured.

MONTICELLO, Ill., June 26.—George Barnett and John Bartlett were run over by the Wabash cannon-ball train 1 mile west of Bement Sunday morning and Barnett was instantly killed. Bartlett was terribly injured and will die. Barnett's body was literally torn to pieces. Three trains passed over it before it was discovered. The men had been to Bement and had been drinking. When they arrived at the crossing they sat down on the track and, it is thought, fell asleep.

TO DEAD ANARCHISTS.

A Granite Shaft Placed Over the Graves of Parsons, Spies, Fischer, Lingg and Engel.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The unveiling of the granite monument to the memory of the five anarchists, August Spies, Albert Parsons, Adolph Fisher, Louis Lingg and George Engel, which took place Sunday afternoon at Waldheim cemetery, was an impressive ceremony. More than 2,500 persons assembled at the burial ground to stamp once more with their approval the sentiment and actions of the men whom the state of Illinois found guilty of treason and put to death. The crowd was orderly and the few policemen under whose protection the ceremonies took place had little to do.

Scarcely an American was to be seen and the exercises were carried on mainly in foreign tongues. The character of the speeches could not be called incendiary, but rather that of mild protest against the existing order of government. The ringing oratory of the days when the red flag waved where it pleased was gone, and all the enthusiasm the orators could bring from their auditors was an occasional outburst of applause not very certain in its sound. A marked feature of the oratory, however, and one which was most liberally applauded, was a showing of strong animosity toward Judges Geary and Grinnell and other officials of the law who had been prominent in the celebrated trial.

The exercises at the grave were preceded by a short parade in the city. The entire ceremony was under the auspices of Matthias Schmiedinger, president of the Pioneer and Support association, which has made the monument a possibility and which, ever since the celebrated execution in the yard of Cook county jail, has supported the widows and children of the five anarchists.

At the cemetery addresses were made by M. Schmiedinger, Sculptor Weinst, William Holmes and Ernest Schmidt. The red hood which enveloped the monument was drawn aside by young Albert Parsons, who was directed by his mother, the widow of Albert Parsons.

DUEL WITH REVOLVERS.

One Man Loses His Life and the Other Is Fatally Wounded.

OMAHA, Neb., June 26.—James Frame, proprietor of the Hotel Gardner, and Constable Winfrey engaged in a pistol duel at short range Saturday night ending in the death of the former and the fatal wounding of the latter. The officer attempted to levy on some property of Frame to satisfy an execution for five dollars. Both drew their guns at the same instant and commenced firing. Only a foot separated the duelists. Both emptied their revolvers and nearly every bullet took effect. Frame fell dead and the officer by his side fatally wounded.

Failed for Many Millions.

MELBOURNE, June 26.—Goldsborough, Mort & Co., bankers and merchants in this city, have suspended payment. Their liabilities are $2,500,000. They are expected to resume business shortly.

AN EASIER FEELING.

New York Bankers Regaining Confidence in the Financial Situation—More Bank Failures in the East and West.

New York, June 24.—Banks report an easier feeling in the west, and say that the demands for accommodation, discounts and currency are much less. The attention of bankers is mostly concentrated on the situation on the Pacific coast. At the subtreasury it was said that $500,000 in currency was expected Friday for transfer to San Francisco. Besides gold thus transferred, shipments of currency were made direct Friday to the city by express, which made the aggregate amount of money forwarded about $1,000,000, and more will be sent to-day in the same way. It is believed that the help sent to San Francisco from this city has relieved the stringency there, so that no further trouble is expected.

The presidents of some of the leading banks were asked what they thought of the financial situation. They agreed in the statement that the situation was decidedly improved compared to what it was this day week.

The subtreasury began the payment Friday of interest on United States coupon bonds due July 1. The total amount of interest to be paid out by the government in this city is about $6,000,000. The disbursement of this sum is expected to aid very largely in the relief of the money market.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—At a meeting of directors of the Pacific bank, of San Francisco, it was decided to close the doors. In a statement issued by the vice president the liabilities, outside of capital stock and surplus, are placed at $1,630,000. Assets, properly handled, $2,008,000. All the banks of this city were well prepared for the expected runs on them. The People's home savings bank closed its doors, but only temporarily, the officials say, in order to secure time to collect on securities. It is claimed that the assets are very much greater.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., June 24.—The Cataract bank of this city, the largest bank in Niagara county, closed its doors at noon. There is great excitement among business men in consequence, as over $700,000 of their money was on deposit. The suspension was totally unexpected and was not preceded by a run on the bank.

MILWAUKEE, June 24.—W. H. Homans, assignee of Frederick T. Day, president of the Plankinton bank, has filed in the clerk of court's office a statement of Mr. Day's assets and liabilities. The former are placed at $800,000 and the latter at $500,000. There are in all 116 creditors. The statement which should have borne the signature of Mr. Day was, with the consent of Judge Johnson, filed without it, for the reason that Mr. Day has disappeared, and his whereabouts are known to nobody, not even to his family. Mr. Day left the city ten days ago—about the time that the grand jury began the investigation of the Plankinton bank and Lappen's failures.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 24.—The State Bank of Minneapolis suspended payment Friday owing to heavy withdrawals of deposits, withdrawals since March having aggregated $100,000. The bank's attorney states that the suspension will be only a matter of a few days, when the bank will resume business. The suspension indicates no particularly serious condition of affairs, and the doors are closed merely for the purpose of allowing the officers and employees a chance to make a complete statement of the bank's business. Prominent directors stated that there would be absolutely no loss to depositors.

PUGILIST DORAN'S CRIMES.

Kills His Little Boy, Wants to Drown His Wife and Commits Suicide.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 24.—Bartholomew J. Doran, a lightweight pugilist of Detroit, came to this city a week ago accompanied by his wife and little boy Philip. The woman was prepossessing and the boy a handsome lad of 5 years, apparently healthy. Friday morning Doran and his wife disappeared. The boy was found dead in the room. The police suspected foul play and set out to search for the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Doran took a late avenue street car and went to Charlotte. They crossed the river and went to Windsor beach, where they spent the day. Just at night, as a train was passing under the wheels and was derailed. Mrs. Doran ran down the track, where she was found later by the coroner. She said that the child had been ill the night before, but that she had quieted him before she slept. When she awoke in the morning the boy was dead. Her husband told her that he had administered morphine to the child, and declared that they must get away. At Windsor beach her husband wanted to rent a boat and row out so that he might drown her and himself. He could not get a boat and so threw himself beneath a passing train. The officials are inclined to believe her story.

Expense of the Naval Review.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Paymaster General Stewart has completed the statement of the expenditures of the Columbian naval review. The total expense of the review was $76,800 and the appropriation was $350,000, leaving a balance of $273,200, of which $250,000 will be covered into the treasury, leaving the department a balance of $23,200 to meet any contingent expenses which may be reported later.

THEIR DUTY POINTED OUT.

Judge Vail Censures a Grand Jury at Decatur, Ill., for Failure to Indict a Crowd of Lynchers.

DECATUR, Ill., June 23.—The grand jury in the Sam Bush lynching case made a report in the circuit court Thursday afternoon, failing to bring indictments against the leaders or anybody connected with the killing of the negro. Foreman Paris then said the jury had completed its work and expected to be discharged.

To this Judge Vail took exception. With much earnestness he said:

"Gentlemen, when this court convened I went out of my way somewhat in the instructions as to what your duty was in regard to the murder that was committed in this county. That is, I departed from my usual custom in defining your duty in that case. You have ignored those instructions. I will now read the oath which you took."

Turning to the statute he read the paragraph referring to the duties of grand jurors, who swear that they will carefully investigate all infractions of the law brought to their notice and return indictments. Then the judge said:

"Now, gentlemen, you can return to your room and obey your oaths, and remember that the circuit court of Macon county is not a plaything. Pass out to your room."

The jury returned to the supervisors' room to reflect on what the court had said and determine what they would do.

The action of Judge Vail is generally commended. The jury had investigated the case for a week, and it was stated that twenty-five or thirty persons would be indicted. But when it came to a rising vote on the question of finding a true bill against anybody only ten votes out of twenty-three could be secured. Once the vote was 15 to 8 against an indictment. It is not known how long the judge can keep the jury out, but they will probably not make any further headway in the case, and will meet from day to day and adjourn until the court is convinced that no bill can be found.

WILL FLOAT MORE CASH.

Secretary Carlisle Takes Steps to Relieve the Monetary Stringency.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Secretary Carlisle has directed Treasurer Morgan to anticipate the payment of the July interest on the 4 per cent. United States bonds and on the Pacific railroad bonds. The total interest on both sets of bonds aggregates $7,534,000, of which $1,900,000 is for the Pacific railroad bonds and $5,634,000 for the 4 per cent. bonds. The action of Secretary Carlisle is taken to relieve the tightness in the money centers. He has decided that payment may be made as fast as delivery of the checks can be effected, and the treasurer of the United States and the several assistant treasurers have been notified accordingly. Holders of 4 per cent. coupons due July 1 may therefore now present them for payment without rebate and owners of the checks for July interest may have them cashed as soon as received.

Extensive shipments of money by telegraph from New York to San Francisco were made Thursday by direction of United States Treasurer Morgan. The bank failures on the Pacific coast evidently spurred the banks to increase their supply of ready money to meet any emergency that may arise. This money is transferred in a simple manner. A bank in San Francisco telegraphs its New York correspondent to place in the subtreasury at New York a given sum of money to its credit to be sent to the San Francisco bank. The subtreasurer at New York telegraphs the subtreasurer at San Francisco to credit the bank with the given amount of money. The San Francisco bank thus saves the express charges and the government, which receives gold for the money it transfers by telegraph, builds up its gold. It is a mutual arrangement by which both the banks and the government are benefited.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Lots of people say they will not go to the World's fair, because they open it on Sunday. But the greatest reason we think is because they have not the money to spend.

Quite Right.

It has been well said, says an exchange, that the most commendable and helpful persons in a community, as well as in a church, are those who go ahead and do something. Of course, they are liable to make mistakes sometimes, but if they are progressive that is at least a sign of good sense. They will try to do the best for themselves as well as for others. They deserve encouragement, but are often criticised instead, and that unjustly. Many stand aloft and find fault with what is done, simply because it was not done in some other way, or because it does not happen to be done in the manner they would like to have seen it done. It is easy to criticise, but that sort of thing never gets anything done. Those who thus air their opinions, may flatter themselves that they could have done the work better, but they gave no practical demonstration of their superior knowledge and efficacy. Society, business and the church call for good workers—for those who push matters according to their ability and opportunity; not for those who wait till the thing is done and then pass judgement upon it. It is a satisfaction and comfort to the wide-awake and active that they are doing something, even if the laggards do not approve of the manner in which it is accomplished. If people will not work they should not criticise.

A Recipe for the Bite of Mad Dog.

Here is the recipe for the bite of a mad dog, taken from the Universal Magazine of Knowledge, published by John Hinton at the King's Arms in Newgate street, London, May, 1758: "Take the youngest shoots of the elder tree, peel off the outside rind; then, scraping off the green rind, take two handfuls of it, which simmer a quarter of an hour in five pints of ale; strain it off, and when cold, put it in bottles. Take half a pint, make warm, the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night, and be sure to keep yourself warm; also bathe the part affected with some of the liquor warmed. The dose to be repeated the next new or full moon after the first. It is good for cattle as well as the human species."

How to Clean Jewelry.

Put a teaspoonful of household ammonia or a few drops of spirits of ammonia into a basin of warm into which some toilet soap has been lathered. Put in all the jewelry and allow it to remain a few minutes, turning it over with the hands occasionally. Then clean each piece separately with an old soft tooth-brush, throwing it back into the water after the brushing. Rinse all well, shake out and put into a soft cloth and dry gently. When quite dry, take a piece of flannel or sockinet and rub or polish each piece with crab's eyes or prepared chalk. They will immediately show a lovely polish, and any remains of the chalk can be removed by using any soft haired brush which is perfectly dry.

Odds and Ends.

It is pleasant to be informed from London that diamonds, which were a trifle passe, are again in the flood tide of favor. Newspaper men who were largely stocked up with sparklers when fashion sent them to the rear will now bring their supply down from the attic and wear a quart or two without exciting much criticism.

It is said that canceled American postage stamps are worth more than their face value in the far east, and American missionaries are turning them to good account in the conversion of pagan children. For some time the big business houses have received numerous requests for old stamps, and many thousands have been gathered in this way by Sunday school children. Missionaries in China, on entering the interior of that country, have realized the value of the canceled stamps, which the natives prize for decorative purposes, and have sent requests to this country for all the postage stamps procurable. They are being collected by hundreds of thousands throughout the country.

The antiseptic properties of tobacco have long been acknowledged. This is given as a reason why most medical students and anatomy demonstrators smoke while in the dissecting room. But a French scientist has recently startled tobacco slaves who have flattered themselves they enjoyed an immunity from infectious diseases and other ills to which humanity is heir by the statement that their immunity is enjoyed at the expense of the next generation, that the offspring of inveterate tobacco users often greatly lack the normal power of resisting disease, chiefly through the transmission of defective nervous systems. These French quidnuncs also insist that the offspring of tobacco slaves are apt to be deficient in physical development.

Sweet and aromatic odors have always been in request among mankind. Eastern nations especially have ever been noted for their intense love of perfumes. Some years ago Professor Tyndall showed that sweet and aromatic odors were cooling to rooms—in other words, their presence bars out the heat rays of the sun, allowing those of light chiefly to enter. All ether-spray of perfume, kept up for a few minutes in a summer room room too hotly heated by the sun, has almost a magical effect in cooling its atmosphere, for the reason assigned by Dr. Tyndall. It has just been discovered that odors and perfumes are also an antiseptic—that is to say, protective against epidemic disease in a very high degree. No wonder, therefore, that ladies instinctively put their perfumed pocket-handkerchiefs to their nostrils upon noticing a foul smell.

Only Live Men Wanted.

It takes live men to make a town. Dead men are only fit to inhabit cemeteries. If they are really decidedly dead all over, we tenderly lay them away in the sleep of the tomb; if they are dead to all enterprise and spirit, outside the narrow lines of their own selfish interest and yet persist in walking around, moving their calloused hearts and conscience where real business is wanted to push and throb with vigor, they are only like the drone bees, in the way until they are stung to death and dragged outside of the hive of legitimate industry. Twelve really live men are worth more to a town generally than a round thousand of such useless material that lays around like rubbish in a rushing stream that is aching and foaming to run mills and factories. Live men bless and dead men curse a town.

These tickets will be good going only on special train of first-class coaches arriving at the Terminal Station in the World's Fair Grounds on the morning of July 4th, and leaving there at 10:45 that night.

Those who desire to stay longer can return within seven days of sale of tickets on regular trains Nos. 2, 8, 12 and 16, from the Chicago city stations.

The law concerning stray animals is not as well known as it should be. If you take up a stray animal, you must, within ten days, give notice to your township clerk, who must take an entry of the same; then you must advertise the animal in your local paper, and sixty days after such advertisement has appeared you apply to a justice of the peace to sell the animal. He issues a warrant for the constable, who gives ten days notice by posters and you get your expenses. The penalty of taking a stray animal and not giving notice is five dollars, and besides the owner can come upon your place and take it away without paying you anything.

Why?

Taste of "Royal Ruby Port Wine" and you will know why we call it "Royal." A glass held up to the light will show why we call it Ruby. $500 reward for any bottle of this wine found under five years old, or in any way adulterated. Countless items of news are lost to the newspaper by the modesty of people who hesitate to tell a reporter of matters concerning themselves, not because they do want it to appear in print, but are afraid some one will think they are pushing themselves forward. Such an idea is wrong. From a reportorial standpoint the man who stops a newspaper man on the street and kindly informs him that he has been to Chicago, that he is going to get married, or that his wife was entertaining friends from a distance, is the dearest man to this mundane sphere. Would that his like was on the increase throughout this broad land.

Many persons do not know and many may be interested in learning that for 100 years pigeon English has been the recognized language of trade and commerce for about 500,000,000 Asiatics and Africans in all their dealings with foreigners of all other nationalities. The English, Americans, French, Italians, Russians, Germans, and Dutch must all use pigeon English in order to transact business with the natives. Pigeon English is more nearly a universal language than any other in the world, and if our alphabet could be made "fonetik" would likely soon become a special language for all nations, especially if aided by the 100,000,000 speaking regular English and its dialects.

A FEW FACTS.

A remedy has been found which cures chronic diseases; not every case, but a large percentage of them. And in cases too long gone for cure; it affords relief and prolongs life. Many who have been given over by physicians have been prevailed upon by friends to try this remedy, the Compound Oxygen Treatment of Drs. Starkey and Palen, of Philadelphia, and are now living to testify to its wonderful curative powers. It has been successful in curing many cases of catarrh, malarial diseases, hay fever, asthma, bronchitis, neuralgia, nervous prostration and other chronic diseases. In these diseases physicians have had little success, the name they have given to the class of disorders indicates, the Compound Oxygen has worked wonders.

There is only one genuine Compound Oxygen, and any made elsewhere or by others than Drs. Starkey and Palen, is spurious. Avoid imitations.

If you wish to learn more of this wonderful remedy, send for our book of 200 pages, sent free with numerous testimonials and records of surprising cures.
