November Crop Report.

Wheat sowing was delayed this fall by dry weather that prevailed previous to the middle of September. The rains that began on the 12th of that month placed the ground in condition that it could be worked, and wheat was sowed from this time on until near the middle of October. A much larger percentage than usual was sowed the early part of October.

The area sowed this year compared with acreage sowed in 1892 is estimated as follows: Southern counties, 75 per cent; central counties, 77 per cent; northern counties, 91 per cent, and State, 77 per cent. The reduction in area here indicated is not greater than it was reasonable to expect, and is due in part to low price, and in part to the dry weather.

Wheat is doing fairly well. It is small because late sowed, but is yet growing, and but little damage has been done by insects. Less than a dozen correspondents in the southern counties report damage by insects. Compared with vitality and growth of average years the average condition is as follows: Southern counties, 88 per cent; central, 90 per cent; northern, 98 per cent, and State 89 per cent. The per cent for the southern counties is the same as in 1891, but five points above the condition November 1, 1892.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in October is 1,127,516. The number of bushels reported marketed in the three months August, September and October is 4,654,020, which is 787,117 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

Corn in the southern counties is estimated to yield 44 bushels of ears per acre, in the central 54, the northern 61, and the State 47. The average yield of corn in the State for a long series of years is about 50 bushels of ears.

The acreage of clover seed harvested in the southern counties is about two-thirds, and in the State seven-tenths of an average. The yield in the southern counties is 1.12 bushels, in the central 1.47 bushels, and in the State 1.20 bushels per acre. The yield of the small, or Jude clover, is very light, but the mammoth yields fairly well.

Potatoes are estimated to yield as follows: Southern counties, 54 per cent; central, 62 per cent, and State, 57 per cent, of an average crop.

The condition of live stock is rather below the condition one year ago, the averages, however, are all above 90 per cent.

The statistics of land in farms in May of this year, as shown by returns made by supervisors, are as follows: Total number of farms in the State, 141,235; acres of improved land, 8,366,023; acres of unimproved land, 4,347,877; average size of farms, 90.02 acres.

The statistics of wheat, corn and oats raised in 1892, and acres of wheat in 1893, as shown by the farm statistics, are as follows: Acres of wheat, 1892, 1,622,244; bushels, 25,284,190; yield per acre, 15.59 bushels. Acres of wheat in May 1893, 1,582,127. Acres of corn in 1892, 700,570; bushels of ears, 34,599,245, average per acre 49.39 bushels. Acres of oats in 1892, 825,893; bushels 24,638,787; average per acre, 29.84 bushels.

JOHN W. JOCHIM, Sec. of State.

Under One Man's Control.

The sales of Armour & Co., Chicago and Kansas City, for the fiscal year ending April 1, 1892, were $210,000,000, that is over $300,000 for every working day in the year. The firm killed 1,750,000 hogs, 1,080,000 cattle, 625,000 sheep. It employs 11,000 persons and pays them $5,000,000 wages. It has an equipment of 4,000 cars, 700 horses. And the brains and push of this gigantic enterprise lie with one man—American Grocer.

Prof. Mel,

Government chemist, writes: I have carefully analyzed your Royal Ruby Port Wine, bought by me in the open market, and certify that I found the same absolutely pure and well aged. This wine is especially recommended for its health-restoring and building up properties; it strengthens the weak and restores lost vitality; particularly adapted for convalescents, the aged, nursing mothers and those reduced and weakened by over-work and worry. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby," $1 per quart bottle, pints 60 cts. Sold by R. S. Armstrong & Co., Druggists.

Latest Figures from the Election of Last Tuesday.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—The official returns are in from three-fourths of the eighty-eight counties and with the unofficial figures from the remaining counties Gov. McKinley's plurality is placed at 83,791 and his majority over all at 30,000. The senate will stand: Republicans, 26; democrats, 5. House, republicans, 86; democrats, 21. Mercer county, which gave Neal 1,800 plurality, elects a populist representative. Neal only carried twenty-three out of eighty-eight counties, and these by very narrow majorities. Hamilton county gave McKinley 11,054 and Cuyahoga 9,248. Twenty-one counties that gave big majorities for Cleveland last fall went equally strong Tuesday for McKinley, who carried eighteen out of twenty-one congressional districts. The two constitutional amendments on taxation and separate legislative districts were defeated.

Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Complete corrected returns from the state on governor give Frederick T. Greenhalge (rep.) a plurality of 34,105, as indicated by the following figures: Greenhalge (rep.), 190,000; Russell (dem.), 156,769; Banks (pro.), 8,158; total vote, 355,789.

This is a republican net gain over 1891 of 40,512. A recapitulation of elections to the house of representatives shows a total of 187 republicans and 53 democrats. The senate will consist of 84 republicans and 6 democrats.

It is practically certain, however, that Mr. Jackson's plurality over Gov. Boies will not be less than 30,000, and it may go as high as 35,000.

New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The latest newspaper advices give John Palmer (rep.), for secretary of state, 28,500 plurality over Cord Meyer (dem.). The latest figures on associate judge of the court of appeals give Bartlett (rep.) 85,000 plurality over Maynard (dem.).

ANNIE PIXLEY DEAD.

The Popular American Actress Expires During a Visit in London.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Annie Pixley, the well-known American actress, died in this city Wednesday night. Death was caused by a violent attack of brain fever and took place at the residence of her brother-in-law, Edward Fulford, 188 Pentonville road. Miss Pixley had come to England for rest and recreation. She was accompanied by her husband, Robert Fulford, who was present at her demise. The devotion of this husband and wife was as much of a watchword in American theatrical circles as that of the Kendals on the English stage. Mr. Fulford is entirely prostrated.

(Miss Pixley in private life Mrs. Robert Fulford) has been a favorite with American playgoers for the last twenty years. Her first stage successes were won in San Francisco, in such farces as "Nan, the Good-for-Nothing." She subsequently went to Australia, where her popularity was as great as it had been "on the coast." Returning to San Francisco in 1875, she took the leading part in "M'liss," a comedy by Clay Greene and Slason Thompson, with such marked success that her managers brought her and the play to the east, where she became as much of a favorite as she had been in the west. She appeared in "Zara" and "Elly," and then went to Philadelphia as the original Josephine in "Pinafore," for Miss Pixley could sing as well as act, and her voice was well trained by Mme. Mario Celli. She was always anxious to try comic opera, but her experience of a chorus of 125 voices in "Polly Middle" resulted in financial disaster and she returned to her previous line of work, her eastern hit being certainly made in "The Deacon's Daughter."

LOWER THAN EVER.

The Balance in the Treasury Has Reached the Bottom Point.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The treasury net balance has dropped below the $100,000,000 mark, standing Thursday at $99,908,902, of which $84,640,412 is gold and the balance of $15,268,490 currency. This is the lowest point ever reached. The general suspension of business election day is given as the probable cause. It is believed the receipts will now begin to increase and the balance to creep upward.

IN THE INTEREST OF PEACE.

England Seeks Uncle Sam's Aid in Stopping Strife in Brazil.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—It is stated that the British government, through its ambassador, has urged the United States to exert their mediating influence between the conflicting elements in Brazil in order to bring to a speedy close the internal strife which has been in progress in that country for some months.

"New York City, June 22, 1900. I had no appetite, and when I did eat a hearty meal I felt much distress for hours after. I did not seem to have any ambition; was restless at night, and in the morning tired and nervous. My digestion was irregular and unsatisfactory. My wife urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and the result is that I have

"German Syrup"

I am a farmer at Edom, Texas, have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Pains in Chest and Lungs and Spitting-up Blood. I have tried many kinds of Cough Syrups in my time, but I can say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best. We are subject to so many sudden changes from cold to hot, damp weather here, but in families where German Syrup is used there is little trouble from colds. John F. Jones

Old Time Methods of treating Colds and Coughs were based on the idea of suppression. We now know that "feeding a cold" is good doctrine.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil with hypophosphites, a rich fat-food cures the most stubborn cough when ordinary medicines have failed. Pleasant to take; easy to digest.

An Apache's Arrow Causes the Death of a Well-known Pioneer At Last.

The following from the Denver Republican of Nov. 5, 1893, will interest a number of our old inhabitants as the subject of the sketch spent the first twenty years of his life in this township:
"In the death of A. W. Begole on Thursday, another name is added to the list of Colorado's pioneers who have passed away. Mr. Begole was born in Sylvan, Wash-tenaw county, Michigan, September 23, 1837, and at his death had just passed his 56th year.
At the age of 20 years, he was seized with the Western fever and came to Kansas. He spent the next few years in that state and Texas and Arizona, in which latter territory he spent a number of years prospecting. In 1865, he came to Colorado going first to Del Norte, and afterwards to Denver.
He was a well-known resident of a number of mining localities in Colorado, and finally settled permanently in Ouray, where he located the celebrated Mineral Farm mining claim, in 1875. This mining property panned out handsomely, and in a few years he sold out and engaged in the grocery business, in which he continued until his death.
During his twenty-eight years' residence in Colorado the deceased became widely known to the old residents and early comers, and he was always held in the highest estimation by his friends and acquaintances. For many years past he has suffered severely at times from wounds received in a battle with Apache Indians during his residence in Arizona in the early 60's, and to his death he carried an arrow head in his right side, which was received in that attack. The story, as often told by him in his lifetime, is as follows:
He and his partner were in charge of a stamp mill connected with a mine near Prescott, Arizona. They lived in a cabin near the mill, and one dark night the cabin was discovered to be on fire. Both men were roused hastily from their slumbers, and they heard the yells of the savages outside. Realizing that they had been attacked by the murderous Apaches, and well knowing the cruelty and atrocity of that ruthless tribe, they quickly agreed that neither should be taken alive. Mr. Begole left the cabin and undertook to put out the fire, while his companion stood in the doorway and kept up a rapid fire in the direction from which the yells proceeded. All the while the Indians continued to shower volleys of arrows in the direction of the cabin, guided in their aim by the light from the burning roof. Mr. Begole received an arrow in his right side and two in his left arm and shoulder. He went back to the cabin after he was wounded, and his partner continued to blaze away at the redskins. The Indians soon retreated, and when daylight dawned Mr. Begole and his companion discovered by some traces left by the Indians that one of their chieftains had been killed in the encounter.
Mr. Begole never entirely recovered from the effects of these arrow wounds. The arrow-heads were extracted from his arm and shoulder, but that in his right side could never be taken out without serious results. Mr. Begole came to Denver about two years ago, when he was quite sick. He came to visit his sister, Miss Emily R. Begole, at 2153 Curtis street. His last visit took place in August and while here he was taken down with his final illness."

How dear to our hearts is the old yellow pumpkin, when the orchards are barren of stuffing for pies; when peaches and apples have all been a failure, and berries of all kinds have greeted our eyes. How fondly we turn to the fruit of the cornfield, that fruit which our children are taught to despise, the old yellow pumpkin, the golden hued pumpkin, the mud covered pumpkin that makes the good pies. Oh, golden hued pumpkin, you surely are "in it," you jolly old rascal, so recently spurned we beg your forgiveness for thus having wronged you, when from your fat face we so scornfully turned. Come rolling down hill till we meet you and greet you, your bulk is a feast to our fruit loving eyes; we love you old pumpkin, so well we could eat you, for you are a dandy when made into pies—Ex.

There is always something new in the line of socials says the Ann Arbor Courier. The latest are known as "Hand Socials." The ladies squeeze the gentlemen's hands until they hand over a dime. Some of the boys don't shell out till they have been squeezed half a dollar's worth.

The Ann Arbor Democrat says girls and young women are contracting a habit fully as ruinous as the cigarette. They are known as coal oil fiends. They inhale the fumes of kerosene and are just as keen in the desire for it as the tippler for his "eye-opener."

It is probable that sugar will be lower. Part of this drop is due to the fact that it reached a fictitious value during the recent scarcity of that staple, and part is the natural decline owing to the decreased demand by reason of the canning season being over. New Orleans sugar coming into the market also has a tendency to reduce the price.

The Baptist missionary society of Washtenaw County, elected the following officers for the ensuing year at their meeting in Milan recently: President, Mrs. J. C. Rouse, Milan; Vice-President, Mrs. Everett, Chelsea; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Hodge, Ypsilanti; Corresponding Secretary of home missions, Mrs. Salyer, Ann Arbor; Corresponding Secretary of foreign missions, Mrs. Hurne, Ypsilanti; Treasurer, Mrs. Lamb, Ann Arbor.

Here is something for the ladies to try their skill on: Take the leaf of a tree or shrub, place over it a small piece of white linen soaked in spirits of nitre, and insert between the leaves of a heavy book with a sheet of paper to receive the impression. Lay the book aside for a few days and then examine. The leaf will be found devoid of color, which has been transferred to the paper, and all the original beauty of tint and outline of the leaf. So says one who has tried it.

No, the country editor has nothing to look after, nothing to do, so think many. All the local items drag themselves into the office, the type sets itself and heaven pays the bills. Job work makes no difference in his sport for it furnishes its own stock, does the work, collects the bills, and sticks the money in his pocket while he is studying whether Cleveland's course in regard to Minister Blount was proper or not or whether Darwin's evolution theory had been exemplified to the satisfaction of the present generation. Oh, no! Nothing but sport in the news-paper business and nothing coming in on subscription to make a fellow tired of checking the old account.—Ex.

Of course hazing is wrong and ought to be suppressed in all our institutions of learning. If the ordinary modes and limits of discipline are not sufficient then the stern hand of the law should be called upon to put an end to it. It is often brutal and ruffian, always silly, ungenerous and cowardly. A dozen or twenty conceited and pompous sophomores will drag one poor, shivering freshman from his bed at midnight in the dead of winter, risk his life by exposure to cold and commit various indignities and insults upon him for no other offense than that of wearing headgear of wrong shape or color or carrying a cane. And this, by some curious subversion of their ordinary common sense they call manly, dignified and proper. Yet, probably no one of the same dozen sophomores would dare stand up against that freshman in fair fight. They gain their courage, or rather their cowardice by their number.

The evangelists, Smart and McLachlan, are having great success in this place. They are a strong team. Mr. Smart is a tornado, while his co-worker is a balmy spring zephyr, and together they strike most of the string of emotion. There is no "cant" but they are thoroughly business like in their methods. Our village has never been favored with more earnest and efficient religious workers. It is believed all the churches are being elevated in religious life, and that members will be added to each, as a result of their work. Their meetings will continue until next Tuesday evening. On Sunday the services will be as follows: at 9:30 a. m. for men only; Preaching at 10:30, Remarks to women only at 3:00 p. m.; Mr. McLachlan will conduct a meeting for young men and young women at 6; and a general service at 7. The topics for discussion are: "Make me a little cake," Sunday a. m.; "Address to a moral man," Sunday evening; "The door was shut," Monday evening; Tuesday 2:30, sermon on "The Higher Life."

THE World's fair souvenir half-dollars, or, at least, those that have not been sold for one dollar each, are to be turned back into the treasury and re-coined into standard half dollars.

It is computed that the death rate of the world is sixty-seven a minute and the birth rate seventy a minute, and this seemingly light percentage of gain is sufficient to give a net increase of population each year of almost 1,200,000 souls.

PHYSICIANS say that the present low death rate in New York is in part tracing its ravages of several years, carried off a great number of weak persons who, but for its coming, would have lived to swell the death rate this year and next.

PRINCE BISMARCK has added another feather to the journalist's cap. The Man of Iron is reported to have said that books written by journalists have a vividness and dash altogether wanting in the labored productions of professors, magicians, literary workers and learned writers generally.

WEST VIRGINIA Baptists are much exercised over Broadbent college. Two years ago Hon. Stephen R. Elkins offered $50,000 in cash and lands if the institution was removed from Clarksburg to Elkins. The question of removal bred the dissensions alluded to. The trustees finally decided to sell the property of the college, and at the general session their plan was approved.

A CORRESPONDENT who recently interviewed Prof. Blackie says that the remarkable octogenarian, Scotch scholar and thinker quotes Greek to his friends one minute and sings them a song in Highland dialect the next. JOHN SARTAIN, the Philadelphia steel engraver, has just celebrated his 85th birthday, is in excellent health, and as industrious as ever. One of his chief titles to distinction is the fact that he introduced the mezzotint process into America and practiced it with success. THE Missouri river is threatening, and will most likely soon accomplish, the complete destruction of the town of East Atchison, Mo., on the opposite bank from Atchison, Kan. The stream has been eating a new channel for several months, and during the past summer has washed away over 300 acres of land. It is now within an eighth of a mile of East Atchison, and the destruction of the little town, with many thousands of dollars' worth of valuable property, is regarded as inevitable, and the people are moving away as rapidly as possible.

Certainly for sixty years I have seen nothing comparable to the cicatrized faces so common in my childhood. Ladies so afflicted habitually wore the thickest of veils out of doors."

TO BE RESTORED.

Queen Liliuokalani to Again Govern Hawaii.

Secretary Gresham Declares She Was Deposed Through Intrigue and Fraud, and Uncle Sam Must See That She Is Righted.

AN IMPORTANT DOCUMENT. WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—Secretary of State Gresham made public Friday night the most important state paper that has borne his name since the present administration began. It was addressed to President Cleveland, and informed him that the overthrow of Queen Liliuokalani, of Hawaii, was brought about by such an abuse of the authority of the United States, and by such "force and fraud," that nothing short of a restoration of the queen to her throne would satisfy the demands of justice.

The cabinet had considered the Hawaiian question for two hours Friday afternoon and the Gresham letter was given out at the conclusion of the meeting. While no official indorsement by President Cleveland was attached, the formal manner in which the letter was made public left no room for doubt that it voiced the views not only of Secretary Gresham but of the administration.

Moreover, it is well known that the publication of the letter was intended to anticipate stirring news which is daily expected from Hawaii. The new minister to that country, Mr. Willis, was due to arrive in Honolulu last Sunday, and the anticipated news can be nothing else than the restoration of the dethroned queen, as foreshadowed in the Gresham letter. The secretary declares that the following facts are established:

Queen Liliuokalani announced her intention Saturday, January 14, 1893, to proclaim a new constitution, but the opposition of her ministers induced her to change her purpose. At a meeting in Honolulu late the afternoon of that day a so-called committee of public safety, consisting of thirteen men, a majority of whom, including five Americans, were aliens, was appointed "to consider the situation and devise ways and means for the maintenance of the public peace and the protection of life and property."

The committee addressed a letter to John L. Stevens, the American minister at Honolulu, stating that the lives and property of the people were in peril and appealing to him and the United States forces at his command for assistance. On receipt of this letter Mr. Stevens requested Capt. Witz, commander of the United States steamship Boston, to land a force. The well-armed troops were promptly landed and marched through the quiet streets of Honolulu with two Gatling guns to a public hall just across the street from the government building and in plain view of the queen's palace.

The governor protested against the act as an unwarranted invasion of Hawaiian soil and reminding him that the proper authorities had never denied permission to the naval forces of the United States to land for drill or any other proper purpose. About the same time the queen's minister of foreign affairs sent a note to Mr. Stevens asking why the troops had been landed and informed him that the proper authorities were able and willing to afford full protection to the American legation and all American interests in Honolulu. Only evasive replies were sent to these communications.

Then the committee entered the government building after first ascertaining that it was unguarded, and one of their number, a citizen of the United States, read a proclamation declaring that the existing government was overthrown and a provisional government established in its place, "to exist until terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon."

No audience was present when the proclamation was read, but during the reading forty or fifty men, some of them indifferently armed, entered the room. The executive and advisory councils mentioned in the proclamation at once addressed a communication to Mr. Stevens informing him that the monarchy had been abrogated and a provisional government established.

On receipt of this letter Mr. Stevens immediately recognized the new government, and in a note addressed to Sanford B. Dole, its president, informed him that he had done so. The queen was informed that the provisional government had the support of the American minister, and, if necessary, would be maintained by the military force of the United States, then present; that any demonstration on her part would precipitate a conflict with that force. Believing that under the circumstances submission was a duty, and that her case would be fairly considered by the president of the United States, the queen finally yielded and sent to the provisional government a paper to that effect.

Secretary Gresham concludes: "The earnest appeals to the American minister for military protection by the officers of the provisional government after it had been recognized shows its utter absurdity of the claim that it was established by a successful revolution of the people. These appeals were a confession by the people who made them of their weakness and timidity. Courageous men, conspicuous of the strength and the righteousness of their cause, do not thus act. It is now claimed that the majority of the people who have the right of voting under the constitution of 1877 have never favored the idea of annexation to this or any other government."

"Mr. Blount states that while at Honolulu he did not meet a single annexationist who expressed willingness to submit the question to a vote of the people, nor did he meet with one favoring that subject who did not insist that if the islands were annexed suffrage should be so restricted as to give complete control to foreigners, whites, and representative annexationists have all made similar statements on the subject."

"The government of Hawaii surrendered its authority under a threat of war until such time only as the government of the United States, upon the fact being presented to it, should reinstate the constitutional sovereignty and the provisional government was created to exist until the terms of union with the United States of America have been negotiated and agreed upon. A careful consideration of the facts will, I think, convince anyone that the treaty which was withdrawn from the senate for further consideration should not be re-submitted for action. Should not the great wrong done to a feeble independent state by an abuse of the authority of the United States be undone by restoring the legitimate government? Anything short of that will not, I respectfully submit, satisfy the demands of justice. Can the United States consistently insist that other nations shall respect the independence of Hawaii while not respecting it themselves?"

"Our government was the first to recognize the independence of the islands and should be the last to assume sovereignty over them by force and fraud."

HIS HEARTY APPROVAL.

The President Sustains Gresham's Action Regarding Hawaii.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—In an interview with James Hyde Pratt, of Albany, N. Y., a kinsman and friend, President Cleveland stated that he had absolute faith in the accuracy of all conclusions drawn by Secretary Gresham with reference to the Hawaiian affair, and that Minister Stevens and Capt. Wilse had committed an act of usurpation and done a wrong to a helpless power which it was the duty of the United States government to undo.

Certain democrats here incline to the belief that it is probable Minister Willis' course will be to advise the provisional government that it is the desire of the United States that the question as to which government is preferred by the people of the islands—that of Queen Liliuokalani or that of President Dole—shall be submitted to the vote of all those residents of the islands who have a right to vote under the constitution of 1887. Whether or not, pending this appeal to the people, Admiral Irwin and Minister Willis have received direct instructions to reinstate the constitutional sovereign will probably not be authoritatively made known until the next Honolulu mail steamer arrives in San Francisco.

Some lively times may be expected in the United States before the whole matter is settled, and it is not improbable that it will develop into a political issue of possible gigantic proportions. There are as many opinions concerning the decision as there are men to express them—each takes a different view of the matter. Senator Morgan displays considerable feeling in his opposition to the anti-annexation sentiment. Congressman Hitt does not believe in the interference by the American government in favor of a monarchy.

Secretary Gresham said Saturday that he had "never made a mistake in his life by supporting what he believed to be right and opposing what he thought to be wrong." He characterized the attempt of the Harrison administration to acquire the country as a fraudulent act and upon the same pretext some conspirators may with the same consistency attempt to depose President Cleveland and establish another form of government. The secretary admitted that he would not doubt be severely criticised at first for his action, "but," said he, "when the country has had time to weigh it carefully and look at it calmly all fair-minded people will be compelled to admit the correctness of my position." He continued:

"It is not the policy of this government now to encroach upon the rights of other governments, nor has it ever been. Neither is the policy of this government to be molested by other governments without protest. The American people always stand for what they believe to be right and honest. To depose the queen was a dishonest act, and on the part of this government—loving liberty and independence as it does—there was nothing left to be done but to act honorably and restore her queen to her former place, wrongfully taken from her by the cowardly provisional government crowd."

One novel and totally unexpected result—or rather possible result—of the reinstatement of the queen is suggested by a person possessed of diplomatic lore. It was, in substance, that this action will be an absolute acknowledgment that the queen was dispossessed by the United States, and, therefore, that she will have a sound claim against the United States for compensation for the pecuniary loss she has sustained through her temporary exclusion from the exercise of her functions and her emoluments.

AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 14.—In a signed leader in the Kennebec Journal Hon. J. L. Stevens, late United States minister to Hawaii, makes the following reply to Secretary Gresham's report:

"All that American piety, American benevolence, American schools and American patriotism have accomplished in Hawaii in the last seventy years are now centralized in the provisional government and stand in its support. It is a government honestly and ably administered, and the best government that Hawaii ever had. I know not the influences which induced Secretary Gresham to become an active agent in attempting such a great offense against American civilization, justice and law. His intense hostility to ex-President Harrison and to the illustrious ex-secretary of state, who passed to his grave in January last, is well known. It was that which caused him to betray and desert the great political party whose honors he had shared and brought him to his present attitude toward his former associates and their work. So far as his recent manifesto on Hawaiian affairs casts reflection upon my official action I care little except to the degree that his cruel and untruthful words strike at the noble band of men and women who have for ten months stood so devotedly and unitedly in defense of American civilization."

Mr. Stevens then makes specific denials of statements in the Blount-Gresham report touching the landing of the marines of the Boston, and adds:

"Queen Liliuokalani inaugurated the revolution by attempting to destroy the legislature by revolutionary means. From Saturday afternoon, January 14, to January 16 there was no government in Honolulu except in the United and self-possessed attitude of citizens, who assembled in a great mass-meeting on January 16 and consummated their efforts for law and order by the establishment of the provisional government on the 17th, which was promptly acknowledged by all the foreign representatives. When I did recognize it, late in the afternoon of the 17th, the provisional government was complete master of the situation and had full control of the city and of the government archives. The committee on public safety and the provisional government constituted the only Hawaiian government de facto existing for twenty-four hours previous to my recognition, the monarchial government having completely collapsed several days before."

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation by Gov. Rich Naming Thursday, November 30.

Gov. Rich issued the following Thanksgiving proclamation:

To the people of the state of Michigan, greeting: In pursuance of a time-honored custom, I do hereby appoint Thursday, November 30, as a day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings which He has bestowed upon the people of this commonwealth during the present year. You are requested to abstain from all labor and business, except of necessity and charity, and to assemble at your respective places of worship for the proper observance of the day and occasion. In the preparation of those joyous family gatherings, around the tables supplied with the luxuries of all climes, do not fail to remember in a substantial manner the needy, sick and afflicted, that they, too, may have reasons for thanksgiving. Let the day be so observed that all may have cause for thankfulness, those who have an abundance, for that abundance and the privilege of aiding those who want; and those who want for the generous giving.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the state at the capitol in Lansing, this 8th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1893, and of the independence of the United States the 117th.

JOHN T. RICH, governor.

By the governor: JOHN W. JOCHIM, secretary of state.

Both classes of banks have at the same time greatly increased their cash and reserve funds.

State Board of Health.

From various portions of the state the reports of sixty-nine observers for the week ended November 4 show that consumption and bronchitis increased and inflammation of the bowels and diarrhea decreased in area of prevalence. Scarlet fever was reported at forty-five places, measles at seven, diphtheria at thirty-one and typhoid fever at fifty-four places.

Victim of His Own Folly.

Henry Johnson, an eccentric resident of Benzonia, embarked from Frankfort, intending to cross Lake Michigan alone in a sailboat. His intention was to go via Chicago and the Mississippi river to New Orleans, all the way by water. His boat was found wrecked on the beach south of Frankfort and the life-saving crew were searching for his body.

Walked on His Money.

A Genesee county man who visited the world's fair was much afraid of being robbed, so he put his cash, which consisted of a $5 and a $20 bill, in the heel of his sock. After using his small change, which lasted two days, he found that his $5 bill was badly dilapidated and the $20 bill was ground to a pulp.

Newberry Gets the Asylum.

The locating board authorized to select a site for the new upper peninsula insane asylum located it at Newberry, Luce county. Five hundred and sixty acres are donated for the site, 400 acres cleared and twenty in a lake fed by springs, which will furnish the water supply for the institution.

Short But Newsy Items.

Charles Martin, a prominent civil engineer, died at his home in Bay City, aged 74 years.

The Jewell house at Vassar was discovered on fire, flames breaking out of the roof. The building was saved, but damaged by fire and water $2,000.

Mr. James Ryder, one of the oldest citizens in Kalamazoo, was stricken with paralysis and died, aged 80 years.

Drs. Harris and Treadgold, United States immigrant inspectors at Detroit, have been notified that their services will no longer be required, the inspection of all immigrants now taking place at the port of entry into Canada.

The big sawmill of S. A. McLean & Co. was totally destroyed by fire at Bay City. Loss, $30,000, with an insurance of $20,000. The whole mill district narrowly escaped destruction.

T. A. Winans, of Mount Pleasant, lost ten fine wool sheep by worthless dogs.

George Canite, a carpenter, whose home was in Coldwater, fell from a scaffold and was instantly killed.

THE JEAD ANARCHISTS.

Their Memory Honored by Followers in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—The annual anniversary observance of the execution of Parsons, Spies, Engel and Fischer took place Sunday afternoon at Waldheim cemetery. Notwithstanding the fact that the exercises were held in the open air and that a driving rain was falling nearly 1,000 people were on the grounds.

The exercises at the cemetery were brief, and after they were over there was a quick scattering for a place of shelter from the rain. Those who had brought flowers deposited them about the monument and on the graves of the dead and then joined in the general throng about the speakers' stand. To the left the band was stationed, and it began the exercises by playing "Annie Laurie," which A. R. Parsons made famous by singing on the morning of his execution. During its rendition Mrs. Parsons stood silent, and as the last plaintive notes died away the tears which trickled down her cheeks told plainer than words her deep emotion.

The principal speakers were Michael Schwab and Samuel Fielden, who were convicted of complicity in the Haymarket riot and after serving several years of a life sentence in Joliet were pardoned several months ago by Gov. Altgeld. Whatever their feelings or emotions were they kept them to themselves, and while they spoke in all earnestness it was without a tinge of bitterness or the expression of a desire for revenge.

Schwab reviewed shortly the situation of affairs and the causes which led up to the Haymarket riot. He defied the police to trace the thrower of the bomb to the ranks of the workingmen. In conclusion he advised his hearers to submit all questions of difference between labor and capital to arbitration.

Fielden said those present were met to protest a great wrong, the like of which had not often been committed in the history of governments. The executed men, he said, had been in life the friends of their enemies as well as friends of their friends, and had always stood for peace and order. They had possessed no feeling of self-interest, but were working fully as much for the cause of all humanity as for themselves. "To-day," said he, "we stand in the face of a society based not on equal rights of the people but on the rights of privilege, and the only thing that gives us courage is that here and there a man rises up like Gov. Altgeld who has the courage of his convictions." In conclusion he said: "I beseech of you that you go to your homes and resolve to do your duty in righting this wrong."

The exercises concluded with a song by the Mannerherd entitled "Awake," which was led by Oscar Neebe.

The procession of the morning was slow in getting into line, but when at 12 o'clock the order to march was given by Marshal Stamm, between 500 and 700 men and women gave heed to the command. A band was at the head, and along the line of march to the depot played funeral dirges.

LONDON, Nov. 14.—A meeting of English and foreign anarchists took place Sunday on Trafalgar square. There were about 1,200 of these "reds" assembled upon the place referred to, the object of the assemblage being to honor the memory of "the Chicago martyrs and the bloody Sunday of 1887," when the police violently dispersed the anarchists.

There were a large number of police and detectives among the crowd listening to the speeches, and in some cases taking notes of the most sensational remarks. The speakers, however, were less violent than usual, and seemed to be in dread of being taken in by the authorities of Scotland Yard. This did not prevent the anarchist orators from calling on their hearers to emulate the example of those "who died for the cause," but the usual bloodthirsty remarks were generally avoided.

VICTIM OF AN OLD GAME.

A Farmer Draws $5,000 to Win That Amount and Is Robbed and Perhaps Killed.

OLMA, O., Nov. 14.—A man drove up to the residence of Andrew Bright, a rich farmer, Sunday and said he was looking for a farm to buy. Bright told him he could have his. The stranger decided to take the land, and as they were driving to the town of Troy they met a stranger who introduced a new game of cards. They got Farmer Bright interested in the game and he won $5,000, but he could not get it until he showed that he was worth that amount. He went to the town and drew the money, which the strangers took away from him and after beating him into insensibility left. The farmer may die.

REVOLUTION IN MEXICO.

Juarez Being Armed to Resist the Attack of the Insurrectionists.

EL PASO, TEX., Nov. 14.—The city of Juarez, Mexico, is in the greatest excitement and the military and civil authorities are busily engaged arming the citizens with all the weapons obtainable. Information has been received by the military commander and commander of the frontier customs guards that the city, and particularly the custom house, will be attacked by the revolutionists, who are soldiers, a detachment of whom captured the custom house at Las Palmas.

VOICE OF VOTERS.

Republicans Successful in the Elections of Tuesday.

They Carry Ohio, Iowa, New York, Massachusetts and Several Other States by Enormous Majorities—Synopsis of Returns.

MCKINLEY'S BIG VOTE.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.—Chairman Dick at the republican state headquarters, has later unofficial returns indicating that McKinley's plurality is between 70,000 and 80,000, the largest in the history of the state, except in 1868, when Brough had 100,000 over

GOV. MCKINLEY.

Vallandigham, then an exile in Canada. Chillicothe, the home of Neal, the democratic candidate for governor, went republican for the first time.

The telegraph is busy handling congratulatory telegrams to McKinley from all parts of the country wishing that he may be equally successful in 1896. Republican papers are out with McKinley's name hoisted as their candidate for president.

The proposed constitutional amendments—one to permit the general assembly to tax franchises, such as the Pullman cars, telephone and telegraph companies, etc., and one to divide the big counties, such as Hamilton, Franklin and Cuyahoga, into legislative districts—were swamped for want of attention to the subject on the part of voters.

The republicans have elected twenty five or twenty-six of thirty-one senators and from eighty-five to ninety of 107 representatives. Also three-fourths of the county officials of the state chosen and most of the district officials. All of the congressional districts but two appear to have gone republican.

The returns show that the prohibition and populist vote has almost disappeared since last fall, when it was 22,000 and 13,000 respectively. Both of these parties appear to have voted for McKinley.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 10.—The latest figures up to 10 o'clock Wednesday night bear out the previous estimate of 35,000 plurality for the head of the republican state ticket, while the balance of the ticket will probably get more. The legislature will be overwhelmingly republican, standing, according to latest advices, as follows: Senate—republicans, 32; democrats, 18. House—republicans, 76; democrats 24. There are several very close contests, and the official count may change these figures slightly.

At this writing it looks as though the Bennett-Mitchell vote would not be over 8,000 to 12,000 and that the populist vote would hardly exceed the 20,000 which they had last fall.

It is given out by the friends of Congressman J. H. Gear, of the First Iowa district, that a majority of the republican members of the legislature are already pledged to support him for the United States senate to succeed James F. Wilson.

New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., Nov. 10.—The latest newspaper advices give John Palmer (rep.), for secretary of state, 28,500 plurality over Cord Meyer (dem.). The latest figures on associate judge of the court of appeals give Bartlett (rep.) 85,000 plurality over Maynard (dem.). The rest of the republican ticket is elected by pluralities ranging about that for Palmer. Gov. Flower by means of private dispatches received estimates Palmer's plurality at 20,000.

The republicans have also carried both branches of the legislature, the senate standing, republicans 18, democrats 14; the assembly, republicans 74, democrats 54. The delegates elected to the constitutional convention to hold next year consist of: Republicans, 110; democrats, 65.

Brooklyn, which has always been a democratic stronghold and counted good for from 10,000 to 15,000 majority for the state ticket, has overturned all prophecies and given the Republican candidates about 10,000 majority. The democratic candidate for mayor is also defeated by a slightly less vote.

Massachusetts.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Practically complete returns show this vote for governor: Greenhalge (rep.), 190,868; Russell (dem.), 156,763; Banks (pro.), 8,104; republican plurality, 34,105. The entire republican state ticket is elected by about the same plurality. The largest gains are to be found in the manufacturing towns and mill centers, in places like Lawrence, Fall River, Ipswich, East Hampton.

New Jersey.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The result in New Jersey, according to the computations of the republican state committee at Newark, gives the republicans the senate by one, a net gain of six, and the assembly by fifteen, a net gain of twenty-four—a total on joint ballot of sixteen and a reversal of the present democratic majority of twenty-nine.

Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—The returns of votes and county pluralities as far as received for state treasurer, give Jackson (rep.), 128,072; Osborne (dem.), 20,150.

Populists Claim Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 10.—Notwithstanding the adverse reports, the populists claim that they have carried the state and that a full count of the votes will bear out their ante-election predictions. Populist Chairman Bridenbald claims that the dispatches published Wednesday morning were based on the returns from precincts in the cities or near railroad stations; that no definite information has been received from rural communities, where the populist strength lies. The republicans, on the contrary, say reports from city and country precincts alike show republican gains and that they have carried the state by a plurality which insures the election of their state ticket and a majority in the legislature next year.

In Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Judge Gary has a plurality for superior court judge of about 11,000. The entire republican judicial ticket, with one exception, is elected. The republicans also elect their county commissioners.

JUDGE JOSEPH E. GARY.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 10.—The state election in Nebraska is still in doubt and returns come in slowly. The republican committee claims the state for Harrison for supreme judge by a small plurality, but the returns from the western part of the state show a gain for Holcomb (pop.), and the chances that he is elected are still good.

The Result in Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 10.—Corrected returns show Mayor Pingree swept the city by over 5,000 majority and has carried the entire republican ticket through with him. Pingree ran far ahead of his ticket. In the First congressional district Griffin (dem.) is elected by between 1,000 and 1,500 majority.

Maryland.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 10.—Heavy gains were made by republicans in this state on Tuesday. The vote on the state ticket is light, and the majority for Smith (dem.) for comptroller, is only 10,000.

Scattering Votes.

Virginia goes democratic, but by a decreased majority.

Equal suffrage was successful in Colorado by from 400 to 500 majority.

Republicans claim that Bemis (rep.) is elected mayor of Omaha by 2,500 plurality.

The republican supreme court ticket was elected in South Dakota by a plurality of about 5,000.

The democrats continue in control of the Kentucky legislature, and United States Senator Lindsay will not have any opposition for reelection.

Utah has gone largely democratic, the returns indicating a safe majority for the party in the legislature. In Salt Lake City Basmin, nominee of the citizens' party, was elected mayor.

SHOT HIM DEAD.

A Well-Known Horseman Kills an Abusive Bartender.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—James I. Collins, head bartender at the East St. Louis Jockey club track, was shot and killed Wednesday evening at the east approach to the Eads bridge. The killing was done by Charles McCafferty, the well-known horse-owner from Chicago, who has a number of horses on the east side track. The killing was very sensational. The general testimony indicates that Collins was partially intoxicated, and on the car from the track used language that was not becoming in the presence of several ladies who were with McCafferty. The latter remonstrated and Collins attacked him with a knife, whereupon the shooting occurred.

Are You Going South This Winter?

If so, make your arrangements to go via the Big Four Route. Whether in pursuit of health or pleasure, no portion of the country offers so many and varied attractions at this season as the Sunny South. The Orange Groves of Florida, radiating with the perfume of sweet blossoms, wave their branches in hearty welcome to the tourist from the Snow-clad Northland and the mellow breezes of the Southern Sea woo the invader from the Blizzards of the Frozen North. There is one line to Florida, "The Big Four Route," which on account of its excellent train service, perfect connections in Union Depots and absence of transfers, forms the "Tourist's Ideal Line to Florida." From all points north of the Ohio River the Big Four Route, in connection with the Through Car Lines from Cincinnati, will be found to offer the Best Time, Best Service and Best Equipment to all Southern Points, and if you desire to travel with comfort and ease be sure your tickets read via the Big Four Route.

WONDERFUL CURES!

THOMAS MINCHIN.

MAJOR W. A. SIMFIELD.

Before Treatment.

After Treatment.

Nervous Debility and Catarrh Cured.
Thomas Minchin says: "I was reduced to a nervous wreck—only weighed 118 pounds. The result of early abuse was the cause. I had the following symptoms: Miserable mentally and physically, melancholy, nervousness, weakness, specks before the eyes, dizzy, poor memory, palpitation of the heart, flushing, cold hands and feet, weak back, dreams and losses at night, tired in the morning, pimples on the face, loss of ambition, burning sensation, kidneys weak etc. Doctors could not cure me; but Dr. Kennedy & Kergan by their New Method Treatment, cured me in a few weeks. I weigh now 170 pounds. It is three years since I have taken their treatment."

Blood Disease and Dyspepsia Cured.
Major Simfield says: "I had Dyspepsia and Catarrh of the Stomach for many years. To make matters worse I contracted a Constitutional Blood Disease. My bones ached. Blisters on the skin looked horrible. I tried sixteen doctors in all. A friend recommended Dr. Kennedy & Kergan. I began their New Method Treatment and in a few weeks was a new man with renewed life and ambition. I cannot say too much for those scientific doctors who have been in Detroit for fourteen years. I conversed with hundreds of patients in their offices who were being cured for different diseases. I recommend them as honest and reliable Physicians."

Shoe.

The Dairy, an English Journal, is now engaged in discussing the advantages of washed and unwashed butter. There is little doubt that too much washing injures the flavor, and the Danish butter makers whose product controls the English market get all the milk from butter by repeated pressure. It requires much work, while getting rid of the buttermilk by washing is comparatively an easy matter. One of the best butter makers we ever knew made butter that would keep unchanged through the year, and she never used water. It was her oft expressed belief that the practice of washing was due to unwillingness to perform the work that other ways of ridding butter of its milk required. In this country there are few now who do not wash butter. Most of them consider it essential in fitting it for long keeping. The contrary opinion by many English dairymen will perhaps set our own butter makers to thinking.

Relief in Six Hours.

Farm Notes.

Let no dead flowers remain on the flowering plant.

Raw onions chopped up are a healthful dish for fowls.

Celery delights in liquid manure. It needs plenty of moisture.

Remove the suckers from the apple trees. They ruin the trees.

Crush the broken chinaware and give it to the fowls to grit.

The milking should be done thoroughly but as quickly as possible.

Some stockmen advise breeding heifers early to encourage the early habit.

If you keep cows keep good ones. There is more pleasure as well as profit in good cows than scrubs.

Good draft horses bring good prices while the little scrub is selling for less than cost of raising.

An old stockman advises boiling the unmarketable potatoes and feeding them, mashed, with milk to the calves.

It is said that pulverized potash placed in the runs will kill moles. Open the runs, put in the potash and cover with a stone.

To cleanse the milk vessels rinse first with cold water, then use hot water and soap or sal soda, then rinse with cold water.

Feed the low grade of wheat to poultry. It will pay better to save for winter poultry feed than to sell for 25 cents. It is cheaper than corn, and a better egg-producer.

An old stockman says that sheep that are put on fresh clover or rape, especially if it be damp, often become bloated. It is good practice to allow them short stays at first while the fodder is dry.

Why?

Taste of "Royal Ruby Port Wine" and you will know why we call it "Royal." Be sure you get "Royal Ruby," don't let dealers impose on you with something "just as good," but go to R. S. Armstrong & Co., and get the genuine. Sold only in bottles; price, quarts $1, pints 60 cts. Bottled by Royal Wine Co.

Chattel Mortgages.

A man who gives a chattel mortgage should always examine it carefully to make sure it is not "on demand." Sharp money lenders who loan funds on chattel mortgages often try to have this clause inserted, and when it is the borrower may expect to part with his chattels at almost any moment. It is a trick by which advantage is often taken of the unwary.

Mormonism in New Zealand.

Mormonism has taken a considerable hold in New Zealand, mainly among the Maoris, the latest statistics showing the sect to have 3,176 members in New Zealand of whom but 232 are Europeans. The annual conference was held recently, and hundreds of Maori members, including several leading chiefs, attended. Twenty Mormon elders are at present in New Zealand trying to spread the faith.

See Stings and Rheumatism.

The Malta Standard state that the theory that the virus of the bee sting is an infallible remedy for acute rheumatism has received most unquestionable confirmation from the practices of the country people in Malta. Bees are said to be plentiful in the island, and the virtue of the sting as a cure for rheumatism has long been established. It is, in fact, said to have been a common practice for generations past to resort to this remedy in all severe cases, the results being most favorable.

Extinction of the Alligator.

The report comes again from Florida that the alligator is threatened with speedy extermination. It is estimated that over 2,500,000 of them have been killed in the last dozen years or so. The alligator grows slowly, but he grows as long as he lives, and it is said that a 12 footer is at least 75 years old. If let alone, their average life is longer than man's.—Cotton Plant.
