Easter.

All hail! the blessed Easter morn,
That brings undying hope,
That brightens up Life's thorny ways,
And comforts those who grope

Amid the weary paths of sin,
Amid Earth's darkening care,
And bids them look above and see
The Christ in splendor rare.

From out the grave comes hope and joy,
Life rises out of Death,
Christ is the Victor, Love hath won,
Hate flies as with a breath.

Death, Sin and Hell in terror lie
Beneath the Savior's feet;
O let us go with Magdalene,
The risen Christ to greet.

The Cross triumphant shines like sun,
In Heaven's majestic dome,
O weary pilgrims come and rest
In that celestial home.

Come, on this happy Easter morn,
With Faith and Hope and Love,
And glorify the risen Christ,
Who reigns in bliss above.

Come, pilgrims weary of the strife,
Come, Sinners and Sinners all
And let the glory of the Lord
Atone for Adam's fall.

Let ardent Faith and Hope and Love,
Overwhelm us today;
And let the glory of the Cross,
Sing Faith's divinest lay.

Re-opening of the M. E. Church.

Next Sunday will be an occasion of rare interest at the Methodist church in this place. Some repairs and decorations have been made in the interior. It will be ready for re-opening at that time. The eloquent Bishop W. X. Ninde, of Detroit, formerly president of the North-western University, will preach morning and evening.

On Saturday evening, an informal reception will be given the Bishop. It will be held at the church from 7:30 to 9:30. The citizens generally are invited to be present at the reception, and also at the Sunday services.

In Memoriam.

The funeral of Howard Maurice, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ready, whose death we announced in last week's issue, was held from St. Mary's church, Thursday March 15, 1894 at 10:30 a. m. The altars were beautifully decorated with choice flowers and many waxen tapers. The beautiful and pathetic burial service for infants as employed by the Catholic church, was performed by the pastor, Rev. Father Considine, who spoke touchingly of the joy of the church, that another innocent soul had joined the heavenly choir. He sympathized with the grief-stricken parents, but reminded them of the fact that they had a most powerful intercessor, their son, in the Kingdom of God.

The exquisitely beautiful words of the poet come to mind at a death like this. Let us say:

"There's a new, sweet face in heaven, and it glows with wondrous light,
As the beauties of God's kingdom are opened to its sight.
There's a hissing voice in heaven that with childish rapture sings,
And I know the angels listen when in joyousness it sings.

There's a pair of tender blue eyes that are opened big and wide,
That yet are filled with memories of a home beyond the tide.
There's a pair of tiny dimpled hands held out in fearful plea,
Asking him who rules heaven and earth to comfort you and me.

There's a sound of footsteps musical, echoing through the streets,
There's a shout of happy multitudes as they rush forth to meet
The newborn angel baby that to heaven has found his way,
That we have given back to God, with sad aching hearts to-day.

Easter at St. Mary's.

Next Sunday will be Easter or the Feast of the Resurrection of Christ. St. Mary's church as usual, will celebrate the event in a befitting manner. The choir will sing Ganss' beautiful Mass in C. The altars will be beautifully decorated with flowers and lights. Congregational singing, which is a feature of the evening services, will take place at 7:30 p. m. The pastor will preach at 10:30 a. m. on "The Resurrection of Christ." The offertory collection on that day will be for the Pastor.

A COLLECTION of tools said to be used by workmen in building the pyramids of Egypt, are on exhibition by a famous Egyptologist. These indicate that many tools credited to modern ingenuity were in use when Moses was troubling the Pharaohs.

THE total catch of Pacific fur seals delivered last season at the ports of this country and British America was about 140,000 skins. About fifty vessels from British Columbia brought in nearly 70,000 skins from the coasts of British Columbia, Japan and Russia.

PENNSYLVANIA produces nearly 2,000,000 tons of iron in the anthracite furnaces, nearly 3,000,000 in bituminous furnaces and 17,000 tons of charcoal iron. Over 625,000,000 tons of anthracite coal have been mined in the state and one oil field has yielded 150,000,000 barrels.

Writing in the San Francisco Examiner a contributor states that the largest tree in the world lies broken and petrified at the end of a defile in northwestern Nevada. The tree, the writer further claims, measures 696 feet in length and sixty feet in diameter at the butt.

THE botanist of the agricultural department at Washington says that unless something is done to relieve the two Dakotas from the Russian thistle incursion, which has settled down on the farmers of those two states, the annual loss from it will amount to not less than $25,000,000.

SACCHARINE, the new sweetening substance extracted from coal tar, is now used for preserving fruit. It is claimed that the fermentation that often results from the use of sugar is thus avoided, and that the new process preserves the flavor, color and form of the fruit better than the old.

In Germany a man advertised that he would pay five marks to the sender of the largest potato. In less than fifteen days the clever advertiser found himself in possession of many sacks full of the finest potatoes, which, after paying the five marks promised for the largest example, might be reckoned a profitable speculation.

THE wonderful power of the Lick telescope is well illustrated in an address made by Prof. L. A. Mitchell recently. He said that the number of stars visible to the naked eye on a moonless night is about 7,000. By the use of so magnificent an instrument as the Lick telescope the number may be increased to 100,000,000.

THE World's Fair management does not seem to realize on its assets as well as a shrewd business firm would probably do. It knocked down to a Chicago man the other day a piece of iron weighing 40,500 pounds for $13. The man who goes about with a cart yelling "Raaxironstoves" has no show in an iron market like that.

AMONG the messages of condolence Mrs. Childs has received on the death of her husband is one from the town officials of Stratford-upon-Avon, who testify to the appreciation in which they hold Mr. Childs' gift of the Shakespeare public fountain. This one generous act alone of the editor gave him a lively fame in England.

THE first practical system of towing canal boats by electricity has just been inaugurated on the Bourgogne canal, connecting the Seine and Saone rivers, France. The power is furnished by water falling from sluices at the two ends of the canal, and the current is made steady by means of storage batteries. The trolley system is used.

JUDGE RITCHIE, of the superior court of Baltimore, has just rendered a decision, in which he holds that it is the duty of the city to keep the sidewalks in repair. It was held by Judge Ritchie in his decision that the sidewalk is as much a part of the public highway as the bed of the street, and that the abutting owner has no more right of property in the sidewalk than in the street bed.

A FIRM of New York carpet manufacturers has created consternation in Great Britain by sending to that country 40,000 rolls of carpet that were offered at rates considerably below those asked for English and Scotch carpets of like grade. The result was an immediate reduction of from ten to twenty per cent. in the price of the native product, and an order to produce at the mills special grades to compete with the American product.

GEN. OLIVER O. HOWARD, who is in command of the military department of the east, with station on Governor's island, will apply for leave of absence within three months for a term that will carry him to the date of his retirement, November 8. This will require the detail of another major general to the command of the department of the east, and this officer will be Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who will probably be the next commander of the army when Gen. John M. Schofield retires.

KILLED HIS SISTERS.

For This Awful Crime John Hart Is Hanged at Rockford, Ill.

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 19.—John Hart was hanged here Friday, the drop falling at 11:04 a. m. Hundreds of people flocked from all sections of the country to witness the execution, and the streets in the vicinity of the jail and stockade were blocked two hours before the hanging took place. Hart remained up and visited with friends until 4 o'clock a. m., when he retired and slept soundly until he was aroused at 7 o'clock. Three guards were with him all night and he talked freely of his impending doom.

"So help me God," he declared to his watchers, "I know nothing of the crime that I have been charged with. My mind is a complete blank on the subject. I am not afraid to meet God and will die feeling that I am morally innocent of any crime."

When the procession which escorted the doomed man to the gallows reached the scaffold Sheriff Burbank led the prisoner to the deathtrap, over which the noose was swinging. He placed a chair for Hart to sit down. Said the latter: "I'll stand." Without a tremor Hart stood erect and faced the crowd in front of him. There was no perceptible change in his demeanor. He moistened his lips occasionally, and his eyes wandered from one part of the yard to another.

When offered a chance to say what he wished Hart replied that on the advice of his spiritual adviser he would say nothing. Sheriff Burbank placed the noose about his neck. Not a tremor was observed and the murderer was outwardly not affected. The sheriff then bound him with three straps, Hart offering no resistance, and a long white shroud was passed around his form and a white cap was drawn over his head. All was ready and the sheriff stepped back from the deathtrap. There was an instant's pause, awful in its intensity. Then there was a dull, grating sound, and the death-trap fell at 11:04 with a loud noise, and the body of the murderer shot downward. His neck was broken instantly.

[The crime for which Hart was executed was the most atrocious ever committed in this part of the state. On September 5, 1893, Hart was alone on the farm 6 miles west of Rockford with his mother and two sisters, Mary and Nellie. During the afternoon the mother left the house for a short time, going to the potato patch in the rear of the residence to get some potatoes for the evening meal. No sooner had his mother left the house than John Hart called his sister Nellie to the barn, telling her that the granary floor had sprung a leak and was letting oats into the basement below. When the unsuspecting girl had reached the bottom of the basement steps Hart turned on her, and after choking her severely forced her to drink parais green out of a bottle. He then struck her on the head with a hammer and shot her in the stomach with a revolver, leaving her on the floor for dead. Going to the front yard where his elder sister Mary had been rocking in a chair Hart shot her four times after a struggle that left the porch besmeared with blood. When the victims were found Mary was dead, but Nellie recovered sufficiently to dictate a dying statement which was admitted as evidence in the trial and doubtless convicted the murderer. After completing his work Hart changed his blood-stained clothes, and mounting a swift horse rode to Rockford, where he was arrested in a barber shop, the man who shaved him just telling the murderer of the crime when the police entered.]

DEATH BY DYNAMITE.

One Member of a Minnesota Family Killed and Five Others Injured.

DULUTH, Minn., March 19.—Edward Wagner, a German laborer living in the outskirts of the city, put three sticks of dynamite in the oven of the family cook stove to thaw out while he was eating breakfast Friday morning. The house is now in ruins and the family in mourning. Otto Wagner, a 13-year-old boy, was killed, and Edward Wagner, his wife and two other children were badly hurt. The house was a total wreck.

Heavy Failure in St. Louis.

St. Louis, March 19.—Felix H. Runke, doing business as Hunnicke Brothers at 706 Lucas avenue, and dealing wholesale in hats, caps, etc., made an assignment to W. C. Jones for the benefit of creditors. The failure was caused by pressure of a claim for $12,000 borrowed money. The assets are about $75,000; liabilities, including the claim, about $175,000.

A BOMB THROWER'S FATE.

Tries to Blow Up a Paris Church, But Is Killed Himself.

PARIS, March 17.—A dynamite outrage involving the death of the alleged anarchist who threw the explosive missile was committed Thursday afternoon inside the chief entrance of the famous Church of La Madeleine. In addition to killing the bomb-thrower, a number of people who were in his vicinity at the time of the explosion were more or less severely injured.

About the house mentioned a loud explosion was heard inside the church. A crowd of people immediately rushed to the church and in a short time the interior of the church and the Place de la Madeleine were in a state of great confusion and excitement.

The people who were the first to rush up the steps leading from the place to the main entrance of the church succeeded in entering the building and found it filled with smoke, and from the inside could be heard the shrieks and groans of apparently a number of wounded people.

Near a small door on the right of the main entrance the people who were first to enter found shattered human remains. For a time, owing to the smoke and excitement, the people who made this discovery did not dare to penetrate any further. As the smoke cleared away and the people regained their presence of mind, it was seen that the remains were those of a man who was terribly shattered by the explosion. Upon the body of the man who had been blown to pieces were found a number of papers and a portrait of Ravachol, the executed anarchist.

When the smoke had cleared away and examination was made of the premises, it was seen that the bomb or infernal machine, which had apparently exploded prematurely while in possession of the anarchist, had done but little damage to the church.

At the Lenten services, which were to have taken place at 4 o'clock, a large number of people would have been present, and the police expressed the opinion that the dead man intended to explode his bomb in the midst of the crowd of worshippers.

There were but few people in the church at the time of the explosion as the hour was too early for the Lenten service, but they were so alarmed that they set up a chorus of cries and groans, which led everybody to believe that the explosion had injured quite a number of them.

The door by which the bomb-thrower must have entered the church, according to the police, was the cause of his death. This door opens and shuts with a heavy swing, and it is believed that the bomb-thrower, pushing upon the door and having the bomb upon his person, forgot or did not know of the strong swing of this door, and, in closing, it struck him and exploded the bomb.

The corpse of the bomb thrower has been removed from the church to a morgue. After it arrived there Dr. Alphonse Bertillon made an anthropometrical measurement of the body and found that it coincided with the anarchist Pauwells, who was an intimate friend of the anarchists Bastard and Paul Reclus. A number of rivets similar to those used by skin-dressers were found on the body, and Pauwells was a skin-dresser. When the corpse was lifted up to be taken to the morgue it was found that one of the hands tightly clasped a revolver. Both hands were badly injured. The bomb was filled with nails and rivets which literally ripped the abdomen of the anarchist into shreds.

THE GREAT NORTHWEST.

Capital Invested and Value of Product of Its Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Statistics of manufactures in the United States, according to the figures from the census of 1890, make a showing for northwestern states as follows:

Illinois—Establishments, 20,492; aggregate capital, $602,004,512; value of products, $908,640,284.
Iowa—Establishments, 7,440; capital, $77,513,007; products, $125,044,183.
Michigan—Establishments, 12,127; capital, $232,412,240; products, $277,836,700.
Wisconsin—Establishments, 10,417; capital, $240,515,494; products, $248,546,164.
Indiana—Establishments, 12,354; capital, $132,405,390; products, $224,825,082.
Ohio—Establishments, 28,673; capital, $402,793,019; products, $641,688,004.
Nebraska—Establishments, 3,014; capital, $37,569,508; products, $96,037,794.

The total number of manufacturing establishments in the United States is reported as 353,401, as against 253,552 in 1880. The summary of totals gives the following figures for 1890: Capital, $6,121,473,305; miscellaneous expenses, $630,944,058; aggregate of the average number of employees, 4,771,812; wages, $2,282,823,205; cost of materials used, $5,158,868,353; and value of products, $9,370,107,624. The contribution to the wealth of the country, it is stated, is more clearly shown by deducting $5,158,868,353, the cost of material used, from the value of the products. This leaves $4,211,239,271 as the increased valuation of the raw materials.

Fire Destroys a Big Clubhouse.

NEW ORLEANS, March 17.—The interior of the Pickwick club, the handsomest in the south, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning, and only the walls remain. The building was erected in 1893 at a cost of $130,000, exclusive of the site. The furnishings cost $40,000, which does not include costly paintings and statuary. The combined loss on building, furniture, etc., is $178,000; insurance, $130,000.

After reading the following letters can any one longer doubt that a trustworthy remedy for that terribly fatal malady, consumption, has at last been found? If these letters had been written by your best known and most esteemed neighbors they could be no more worthy of your confidence than they now are, coming, as they do, from well known, intelligent and trustworthy citizens, who, in their several neighborhoods, enjoy the fullest confidence and respect of all who know them.

K. C. McLin, Esq., of Kempville, Princess Anne Co., Va., whose portrait heads this article, writes: "When I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery I was very low with a cough and at times spit up much blood. I was not able to do the least work, but most of the time was in bed. I was all run-down, very weak, my head was dizzy and I was extremely despondent. The first bottle I took did not seem to do me much good, but I had faith in it and continued using it until I had taken fifteen bottles and now I do not look nor feel like the same man I was one year ago. People are astonished and say, 'well, last year this time I would not have thought that you would be living now.' I can thankfully say I am entirely cured of a disease which, but for your wonderful 'Discovery' would have resulted in my death."

Even when the predisposition to consumption is inherited, it may be cured, as verified by the following from a most truthful and much respected Canadian lady, Mrs. Thomas Vansicklin, of Brighton, Ont. She writes: "I have long felt it my duty to acknowledge to you what Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and his 'Pleasant Pellets' have done for me. They almost raised me from the grave. I had three brothers and one sister die of consumption and I was speedily following after them. I had severe cough, pain, copious expectoration and other alarming symptoms and my friends all thought I had but a few months to live. At that time I was persuaded to try the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the first bottle acted like magic. Of course, I continued on with the medicine and as a result I gained rapidly in strength. My friends were astonished. When I commenced the use of your medicines, six years ago, I weighed but 110 pounds and was sinking rapidly. I now weigh 135, and my health continues perfect.

Mrs. J. H. Vansicklin.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures consumption (which is scrofula of the lungs) by its wonderful blood-purifying, invigorating and nutritive properties. For weak lungs, spitting of blood, shortness of breath, nasal catarrh, bronchitis, severe cough, asthma, and kindred affections, it is a sovereign remedy. While it promptly cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.

"Golden Medical Discovery" does not make fat people more corpulent, but for thin, pale, puny children, as well as for adults reduced in flesh, from any cause, it is the greatest flesh-builder known to medical science. Nasty cod liver oil and its "emulsions," are not to be compared with it in efficacy. It rapidly builds up the system, and increases the solid flesh and weight of those reduced below the usual standard of health by "wasting diseases."

To brace up the entire system after the grip, pneumonia, fevers, and other prostrating acute diseases; to build up needed flesh and strength, and to restore health and vigor when you feel "run-down" and "used-up," the best thing in the world is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It promotes all the bodily functions, rouses every organ to healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, and through it cleanses, repairs, and invigorates the entire system.

A Treatise on Consumption, giving numerous testimonials with phototype, or half-toned portraits of those cured, numerous references, also containing successful Hope Treatment for chronic nasal catarrh, bronchitis, asthma, and kindred diseases, will be mailed by the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., on receipt of six cents in stamps, to pay postage. Or The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1,000 pages, 300 illustrations, mailed for $1.50.

VICTIMS OF A GALE.

Persons Visited by a Tornado Costly to Life and Property.

Eighteen Persons Are Reported to Have Been Killed—Many Others Injured and Some of Them May Die—Houses and Barns Ruined.

A FATAL STORM.

LONGVIEW, Tex., March 20.—A destructive storm passed over this place at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. Half a dozen persons were killed, and many others injured. Chickens and turkeys were killed, and some of them were being eaten by the dogs, geese and hogs were pelted to death.

At Lansing Switch the cyclone struck the house of John Cains, occupied by a family of negroes. The house was destroyed and six persons were killed, three mortally wounded and five seriously hurt. Old man Alexander was found entirely nude 50 yards from the house dead, Alexander Lester, Jr., 18 years old, the mother, Susan Lester, Robert Lester, Jasper Collins and Sissy Lester, 2 years old, were also killed. Sissy Lester was found several yards away in a treetop.

Mollie Collins has a hole in her head and many bruises; Silas Johnson, who was visiting the family, received ugly abrasions from the crown of his head to his heels, he may die; Frank Dizer had his leg broken below the knee; Dock Simmons, a relative, has a badly crushed head and will die; Odessa Lester, 4 years old, was found in the field with her right leg broken above and below the knee, she will die; Arthur Lester, 6 years old, Willie Lester, 9 years old, were injured seriously.

Half a mile south of the ill-fated Lester house the house of John Buffitt, a white man, was dashed to splinters, leaving the family unhurt, except from bruises from hailstones. Two miles east the large barn of Nick Harris was unroofed, and 1 mile farther the house of Sallie James (colored) was destroyed. The inmates escaped.

Lorilla James, 3 years, was badly and perhaps fatally hurt with hailstones. A Mr. Davis, living on the Little Nick Harris place, three-quarters of a mile from the Lester house, had his house demolished, escaping with many bruises.

At Emery, the county seat of Rains county, the entire western portion of the town was ruined at 7:30 Saturday evening. Miss Easter Alexander, Eras Henry, George Walker and the 4-year-old son of Henry Murray (colored) are the known dead.

Three unidentified bodies were found north of Emery Sunday. The post office was used as a hospital and morgue.

SANTA ANNA, Tex., March 19.—A tornado swept over portions of this town and of the cotton counties, wrecking buildings and leveling fences. At Tricketham, in Coleman county, W. D. Tricketham's house was blown to the ground. Mrs. Watson and four children were killed outright. An infant escaped unhurt, while Watson's injuries will prove fatal.

Three Persons Drowned in San Francisco Bay After a Long Struggle for Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—Mrs. Mollie Martin, wife of a saloonkeeper, her daughter Ora, aged 6, and Miss Nellie McCarthy, who lived with the Martins, were drowned in the bay Sunday by the capsizing of a yacht. They were out on a pleasure trip with Peter Thornburg, a Swedish sailor. The latter gave the tiller to Mrs. Martin, while he adjusted the sails. She was inexperienced, threw the boat too close to the wind and it turned over. All managed to hold on to the overturned boat, which drifted with the ebb tide past the British ship Mary Down. Thornburg claims their cries for assistance were heard, but the officers refused to lower a boat, throwing out a life buoy instead. The women, exhausted, finally loosened their holds and sunk. Thornburg was rescued after being two hours in the water.

EVERY STORE ROBBED.

Thieves Carry Off the Plunder from Ooltewah, Tenn., by the Wagonload.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 20.—A telegram received by Chief of Police Hill from Ooltewah, Tenn., says that every store in the town was robbed Friday night and asking that men and bloodhounds be sent to trace the robbers. Officers were at once sent with dogs and mounted horses to scour the intervening country. Ooltewah, the county seat of James county, is 14 miles from here. The place has seven stores. The thieves loaded the booty on wagons. At one store they blew open the safe, but as the town has no officers their work was not discovered until Sunday morning.

MRS. NOBLE EXPIRES.

Wife of the Ex-Secretary of the Interior Dies Suddenly in Her Home.

St. Louis, Mo., March 20.—Mrs. John W. Noble, wife of ex-President Harrison's secretary of the interior, died suddenly at her home in this city Sunday afternoon. The end came to her while standing in her dining-room chatting with friends and waiting for Gen. Noble, who had stepped from the room to call her carriage for a drive. She complained suddenly of dizziness and her maid caught her as she was falling and before she could be taken to a couch she was dead. The cause of death was organic heart disease.

HAS NO FEARS.

Gov. McKinley Anticipates No Trouble with Coxe and His Army.

COLUMBUS, O., March 20.—Whether Coxe and his army of peace, if one is gathered, can be legally suppressed as a public menace before they start from Massillon on the journey to Washington next Sunday is a question on which Gov. McKinley was induced to talk, though with evident reluctance. However, when seen, Gov. McKinley asked a number of questions about the army scheme. He wanted to know if Gov. Patterson had been appealed to or would take any cognizance of the case. The governor was decidedly loath to talk about the affair. He said:

"I have heard no fears expressed by anybody. Really I do not believe there is the least cause for alarm. Surely you do not think that a large number of men will gather and march to Washington? The country would not support them. Besides I can't see what they would accomplish in Washington if they got there. The whole thing is too visionary. If an emergency arose I would meet it promptly."

Gov. McKinley intends to go to Minneapolis this week, and will be out of the state when the army begins its march next Sunday. Under the Ohio laws the absence of the governor would not make much difference, for the mayor of Massillon or the sheriff of Stark county could order out the Eighth regiment if the soldiers were needed. Local militia in Ohio can be called out without a request to the governor. It may be added that the members of the regiment expect to have some work. In the Buckeye state the militia is frequently called out on slighter provocation than in Pennsylvania.

MASSILLON, O., March 19.—Commander Coxe and Lient. Browne were in town Saturday. They had spoken the night before at Trotter's Hill, a mining camp which is now sorely racked by a strike. Five hundred miners were at the meeting. With scarcely an exception the men indorsed the commonwealth march to Washington and many of them assured the speakers that they would accompany the expedition.

There is grave apprehension that the army will meet with trouble in Pennsylvania. The column will move through one of the most depressed industrial districts in the state, and it is firmly believed that the army will be joined by thousands of idle men before it reaches Pittsburgh. The mayor of Beaver Falls, a town through which the army is scheduled to pass, has publicly declared that he will stop the column the instant it swings into his territory. He argues that the army will be nothing more nor less than a band of vagabonds, without discipline or conscience. To bring such an army into Beaver Falls, he says, would be the crowning misfortune of a town which has been paralyzed for a year or more by industrial conflicts. On the other hand the village of Economy, a rich communistic community, through which the army is to pass after leaving Beaver Falls, has offered to feed and shelter the commonwealthers for a day. The offer comes from one of the wealthiest men of the town and is indorsed by a score of citizens.

It is the belief of the men who look upon the pilgrimage in a conservative way that the army will be so unwieldy after it enters Pennsylvania that it will slip away from the control of Commander Coxe and become a noisy, pillaging mob, preying upon the hencoops and smokehouses of farmers and inviting and eventually receiving a stern reception from the troops of the state.

Numerous applications have been received from enthusiastic women who wish to join the commonwealth. Gen. Coxe has decided that his army must not entangle itself with women. "If it were an ordinary military campaign," he says, "we might use our women sympathizers as nurses, but we expect no bloodshed, and under such circumstances a nurse would be an expensive luxury."

Lowell L. Marvin, of Falmouth, Ky., proposes to join the army with 200 men, and C. O'Brien, of Lagro, Ind., promises to be present with 600 of the unemployed.

Saturday several letters reached Coxe and Browne from various parts of Pennsylvania saying that Gov. Patterson has ordered Sheriff John Moon, of Green county, to meet the army on the state line and read the riot act. The general at once wired the governor and received the following reply, which he regards as highly noncommittal:

"The sheriff of Green county knows his duty and I have no doubt will fully perform every requirement of the law."

Cheap Rate for Veterans.

New York, March 20.—Eastern roads have announced a rate of a cent a mile for the Grand Army encampment at Pittsburgh in September.

Easter.
What have you brought us, gentle spring?
Songs the robins and blue birds sing,
Emerald robes for branches bare,
Blossoms of woodland, fresh and fair,
I bring new life to the waking rill,
I clothe in loveliness vale and hill,
I call from the dark, unsightly mold
Lilies of white with hearts of gold
To crown the beautiful Easter.

What does the welcome Easter bring?
Carols of joy the children sing,
Praise to One who has died to save,
Hope that springs from an empty grave.
It tells of a prison with broken bars,
Of life and beauty beyond the stars.
And when the days of our years are told,
Out of the sepulchre, dark and cold,
God's lilies shall crown the Easter.

A Singular Form of Monomania.

There is a class of people, rational enough in other respects, who are certainly monomaniacs in dosing themselves. They are constantly trying experiments upon their stomachs, their bowels, their livers and their kidneys with trashy nostrums. When these organs are really out of order, if they would only use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, they would, if not hopelessly insane, perceive its superiority.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

It is said the society woman who went to all the grocery stores and then gave up having a pink tea at her house, because she could find only horrible green stuff, has learned that things are not what they seem to be.

It is rumored that the bang is to be ousted for some time to come. The most coquettish girls now wear the hair parted in the middle. If this is too severe for the face, one soft small curl directly in the center of the forehead has a softening and pretty effect, or fluffy, vagrant hairs twisted into small feathery ringlets at the ears will be found to have a relieving grace.

One of our citizens wrote to the Attorney General last week in regard to the legality of our recent village election and received the following reply, which is on file with the village clerk: "I have carefully read your statement and see nothing whatever illegal in the manner of holding your election, and I should say that the election was all right. The fact that notice of a caucus was not given does not vitiate the election."

Mrs. Ryan, of Munith, whose death we noticed last week, was buried from St. Mary's church last Friday morning, March 16, 1894. Rev. Father Considine officiated at the solemn services, which were attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the deceased. The remains were conveyed to St. Mary's cemetery, Sylvan, and laid beside the husband and children. Mrs. Ryan was a good christian woman who leaves hosts of friends to mourn her departure.

While at work in his garden yesterday morning your scribe overheard some one singing: "It's nice to be a papa, Oh, don't you wish me joy; It's nice to the father. Of a bouncing baby boy." We peeped very cautiously through a crevice in the barbed wire fence and, Lo, it was Fred Staebler. It happened March 16th. Fred expects the kid to vote the democratic ticket A. D. 1915.

E. A. Nordman and Geo. A. Peters, of Scio, addressed a large but not very enthusiastic audience Saturday night at the town hall. Their object was the dissemination of populist doctrine and an attempt at founding a club. They requested all those present wishing to organize a populist club to make it manifest by a show of hands. Your correspondent reckoned them up on his fingers and found them to amount to 000. This is a correct list.

THE NEWS.

Compiled From Late Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL

Regular Session.
THE resolution by Senator Peffer for an investigation as to whether senators had been speculating in Wall street was defeated in the senate on the 12th by a vote of 33 to 27. Newton C. Blanchard was sworn in as senator from Louisiana to succeed E. D. White. Senator Peffer introduced an independent tariff bill amending the McKinley law in various particulars. The seigniorage bill was further discussed. In the house the time was devoted entirely to the consideration of a bill for allowing a street railroad company in Washington to change its system of motive power.

On the 13th the time in the senate was occupied in discussing the seigniorage bill. Senators Stewart and Lindsay spoke for and Senator Dolph against it, holding that its passage would destroy the existing equality between gold and silver. The house began consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill and fair progress was made.

THE time on the 14th in the United States senate was occupied in discussing the Bland seigniorage bill. A motion to reconsider in order that the bill might be opened to amendment was defeated. In the house the sundry civil appropriation bill was further considered, but no action was taken. A bill was introduced providing that no more than two persons shall be appointed receivers for any corporation.

By a vote of 44 to 31 the Bland silver seigniorage bill was passed in the senate on the 15th. The bill now only lacks the president's signature to become a law. A bill was also passed authorizing the building of a bridge across the Missouri river near Sioux City, Ia. In the house a bill was introduced to authorize managers of soldiers' homes to employ medical officers other than soldiers disabled in the service, as the law now requires. The sundry civil bill was further considered.

THE senate was not in session on the 16th. In the house the army appropriation bill ($23,677,284) was reported. Mr. Cummings (N. Y.) introduced five bills affecting the administration of naval affairs. The sundry civil appropriation bill was further considered.

HONORS FOR A REFORMER.

Celebration of the 90th Birthday of Neal Dow, the Temperance Veteran.

NEW YORK, March 20.—It was made manifest at the meeting which the American Temperance union held Sunday in Carnegie hall in celebration of the 90th birthday of Gen. Neal Dow that the total abstinence advocates of this city look to the granting of suffrage to women as the only measure that will insure the abolition of the saloons and the general traffic in liquor in this city and the country in general. Carnegie hall was crowded when the anniversary exercises began. It had been expected that Gen. Dow would be present, but he sent a letter saying that a severe cold and an engagement in Maine on Tuesday rendered it impossible to undertake the journey to New York. Dr. Theodore L. Cuyler delivered a vigorous eulogy of Gen. Dow's temperance work. Dr. B.

GEN. NEAL DOW.

B. Tyler, of the Church of Disciples, declared that women's votes were necessary to the cause. Noah Davis said that without women armed with a legal vote as an aid man could not battle with the temperance problem with any hope of success. Mrs. Mary T. Burt, Prof. Samuel Dickie, Rev. Dr. McArthur, Rev. Joseph Cook and others spoke and A. M. Powell, secretary of the National Temperance league, offered a series of resolutions praising Gen. Dow and favoring the annihilation of the liquor traffic all over the country.

THE Brooklyn Temperance league celebrated the 90th birthday of Gen. Neal Dow at the union assembly room. Chairman Walker spoke of Neal Dow's birthday and said it was being celebrated all over the United States, England, Germany, France and Australia.

Neal Dow was born in the city of Portland, Me., on the 29th of March, 1804. His parents were of the Society of Friends. His first identification with the temperance movement was in connection with the Maine Temperance union, an organization composed of those who withdrew from a society which had, by the form of its pledge, compromised with wine-drinkers. The union appeared before the state legislature in 1837, demanding the abrogation of all license laws, and the substitution of prohibition of the sale of all alcoholic beverages. His first public appearance as an advocate of the prohibitory policy was in 1839, when he appeared before the board of aldermen in his own city, and induced them to refer the question of "license" or "no-license" to a vote of the citizens. No-license was defeated by a majority of 35 out of a vote of 1,163. In 1842 he again succeeded in having the question submitted to the people, and it was carried by a majority of 440. He turned his attention to the state in 1843, printing and circulating petitions to the legislature at his own expense, praying for a stringent law, and that "the traffic in intoxicating liquors might be held and adjudged an infamous crime."

In February, 1844, he went before the legislative committee, which reported a bill favorably. It passed the house, but was defeated in the senate. Meetings were held all over the state the next two years. Mr. Dow was speaking in school districts, and scattered a literature profusely everywhere over the state. In 1846 he secured the passage of a prohibitory law by a vote of 81 to 42 in the house and 23 to 5 in the senate. The penalties were insufficient, and the next year another bill was passed, but was vetoed by the governor. In 1850 he presented a bill of his own drafting, and secured its passage in the house, but it was lost in the senate by a tie vote.

In 1851 he was elected mayor of the city of Portland, and for the sixth time appeared before the legislature with a bill of his own, which passed the house 83 to 40, and the senate 18 to 10. Mayor Neal Dow issued a proclamation that he should promptly enforce the law, giving venders sixty days to ship their liquors out of the city. He seized 12,000 worth of liquor and had it openly destroyed. Mr. Dow was reelected and a mob gathered to resist the execution of the law, but he was equal to the emergency, and the mob was repelled and dispersed. In 1853 he attended the world's temperance convention, held in the city of New York, and was made president of the convention. The "Maine Law" was repealed in 1856, but Mr. Dow rallied the people, and it was reenacted in 1857 with increased restrictions and penalties.

In 1861 he recruited the Thirtieth regiment of Maine volunteers and a battery of artillery, and entered the army. President Lincoln appointed him brigadier general in 1862, and he was twice wounded in battle, in the attack on Port Hudson, Louisiana, and taken to a plantation in the rear, was captured by a squad of Logan's cavalry and taken to Libby prison in Richmond, Va. He was exchanged in March, 1864, for Gen. Fitz-Hugh Lee.

He was vice president of the national temperance conventions held in Saratoga in 1865 and in Cleveland in 1868, representing the National Division Sons of Temperance on both occasions. He visited England three times and delivered over 500 addresses under the auspices of the United Kingdom alliance, in every part of the kingdom. He was initiated into the National Division Sons of Temperance of North America at the session held in Richmond, Va., in 1852, and was elected most worthy associate of that body.

He was the candidate of the prohibition party in 1880 for the presidency of the United States, and received 10,800 votes. He was a member of the national temperance convention, held at Saratoga Springs in 1885, which organized the National Temperance society and publication house, and has been vice president of the society from its commencement.

The 4-ton Armored Steel Truck weighs 175 pounds, has 16 inch wheels with 2-inch face. When three of the wheels are on the floor, the other end one is about 14 inches from the floor, thus enabling it to swivel easily. The body is 28 inches wide by 59 inches long. A bottom board is easily put in to make the bottom tight. If stakes are required, narrow boards can be put in slanting over the outer rail and under the inner one; or, if wide boards are used, they will practically make side boards. By making these stakes long enough and putting in end ones in the same way bulky material may be handled. We are making this offer to show a sample of our work. We want to show how nice a thing we can make, and how reckless we are in the matter of prices. THE EASTER OFFERING.

LET me the offering bear," she asked, And on the little face The earnest wish of her young heart Laid its own tender grace.

She was the youngest lamb of all The flock I called my class; As fair as any Easter bud Was the wee, winsome lass.

So in her little dimpled hands I placed our "offering" fair, Sweet rosebuds, white and pure, and bade Her to the chancel bear Those emblems of her precious self, A bud for Heaven grown, And destined on some glorious day To bloom before the Throne.

I watched the little figure speed Along the marble aisle, Her eyes like stars, her crimson cheeks All dimpling with a smile. I saw her lift her "offering" up, And then—ah joyously— The baby voice rang out: "Please give These flowers to Dad for me; And tell him all us little girls Send him our love!" and then, With happy eyes, my little maid Came tripping back again.

Content to feel that she had done With us her little part, And given, with her sweet "offering," Also her precious heart To the dear Father, for whose sake The Easter bells so clear Ring out the tidings: "Christ, once dead, Is risen and is here!" —Mary D. Brine, in Chicago Advance.

An Easter Lesson.

T was the only child of the stately house who was carried slowly out that autumn day with a wealth of fragrant roses heaped on the lid of the white casket which shut from sight the face of the little lad who so short a time before had been in truth the sunshine of the home. And as the tear-filled eyes of the mother, walking closely behind in her deep mourning, rested on the six little bearers, Ray's Sunday school class, from her heart throbbing in fierce rebellion rose the cry that her lips almost uttered: "The children of other mothers are spared; why should mine be taken?"

MRS. DENBY ENTERED THE BREAKFAST-ROOM.

For Helen Denby was passing under the shadow of her first grief. A bright girlhood, a happy marriage had been hers. From her childhood friends and wealth had softened life's friction, lessened its care, made possible the gratification of its tastes and desires. To these a great, crowning joy had come in her child. From the first hour when she held him in her arms her whole existence had merged in his; her every hope and plan and ambition had been of his future. That he could be taken from her she had not believed till the last breath had fluttered out from the little body. But God had been cruel, the stroke had fallen. Ray had gone, gone beyond her sight, her touch, her care.

Always unconsciously selfish, in a grief as new to her as it was to the first mother of earth, Mrs. Denby felt it impossible that ever anyone had suffered as she did. And though a church member from early girlhood, and believing herself a truly Christian woman, the thought of submitting to God's will, much less of accepting it, was far from her mind. So the autumn and winter passed, and still she kept Ray's hat on the rack where he had hung it, his velocipede in the hall where he had last left it, and his pictured face looking down on her from out a funeral wreath. With the rains of autumn she wept thinking of her darling, so loved and sheltered, lying chill and alone under the beating skies. Through the storms of winter she sat by her fireside and shuddered, her heart going out to the little grave under the folded drifts. Shutting herself up from outside interest and occupation, daily she tore open her grief afresh, day by day she sat and looked not beyond the grave, but into it, shrinking from every child face as if it were a blow, and to all remonstrances of husband and friends, made answer: "You can't enter into my sorrow; you don't know what I feel."

But at last the winter was past. The crocuses were budding on the lawn, and the Easter lilies in the sunny bay-window were unclosing their white flowers. Spring had come and Easter was at hand. And looking at the lilies Helen Denby could but remember how only a year before Ray had watched their unfolding; and with what eagerness Easter morning he had carried the great sheaf of snowy, fragrant bells for his class table in the Sunday school. Ray had always loved Easter. From the first time, when hardly more than a baby she had taken him to its service, the music, the flowers, the whole atmosphere of the day had appealed to his sensitive responsive nature. That last Easter he had said to her: "Mamma, how beautiful it is!" And in the quiet afternoon, as holding him in her arms she had read to him the wonderful story of the first Easter, he had looked up in her face with bright, brown eyes, eyes that she now felt were already touched with a light not of this world, and exclaimed: "What it must have been to have seen the risen Christ; and to think that some day we too shall see Him!"

And now the lilies were in bloom again; the morrow would usher in the gladness of another Easter; and Ray was in his grave, and the spring grasses were slowly springing over the low mound above which heart and faith found it so hard to rise. Her tears were falling fast, but they did not dim the vision of the face that a year before had smiled at her over the flowers that later were to cheer the sick room of a little classmate. For Ray with all the luxury and fondness that had been lavished on him was a sympathetic, generous little fellow, always ready to share his own good times and abundance with those less fortunate. And especially dear to the frail, delicate child, touched it may be with some mother, on whose slender resources the necessary expense of his illness had been a heavy drain, was unable to afford. And the thought came to her, had Miss Davis noticed the unused velocipede in her hall? But no, no, she could not give that, she could never see another using what Ray's touch had made sacred. If she had thought of it before, she might have bought him one and sent it as an Easter gift for Ray. But now it was Easter eve, and so late that all the household save herself were asleep. And in the lonely stillness of the room, whose center of beauty and fragrance was the clustered lilies, the grief of Helen Denby's heart rose into a whelming flood. How could she bear it—how could she? Pacing restlessly up and down, her eye rested on the Bible out of which she so often read to Ray. With a yearning for something of comfort, of strength, she opened its familiar pages.

"And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things have passed away."

"And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it; for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof."

Gently she closed the volume and laid it down. And this was the "glory everlasting" into which Ray had entered; tenderness beyond a mother's, freedom forever from death and sorrow and suffering; and radiant and eternal the presence of Christ Himself. It was the flash of a sudden revelation, and with it came the thought, the question: If this were so, ought she, dared she indulge in a grief so passionate and unreconciled? A heart question whose answer required a strength above her own and a struggle that left her spent and weary when at last as she rose from her knees the chime of the clock told that a new day, another Easter day, had been ushered in.

The next morning when Mrs. Denby entered the breakfast-room her husband looked up with a start of surprise. In place of the unrelieved black of heavy mourning she wore a dress of creamy white, with a cluster of the white stately Easter lilies in her hand. "You know," she said, meeting his questioning look with a smile—a smile that held the peace won only through tears and heartbreak—"this is Ray's first Easter in Heaven, so I am wearing his favorite dress to show my gladness in the joy that he must feel to-day. And," with lips that despite her efforts would tremble, "these flowers are for his Sunday-school, and I have just sent his velocipede and some of his books and clothes to Sammy Sloan. I knew you would approve, and I felt that Ray would wish it."

"Dear Helen," said Mr. Denby, "I know what this has cost you, but it will bring a blessing."

"Yes, Henry," she hid her tearful face against his shoulder, "it has already. I see now that my sorrow has made me blindly selfish to the world. Ray's grave filled all my vision; that he was dead was all that I could realize, and so I lost sight of the Easter truth that I hope never to forget again, that the grave is but a sign of the resurrection, and that it is through death that 'in Christ shall all be made alive.'" —Ela Thomas, in Christian at Work.

Her Stratagem.

She met him at the door with a smile and a hug that brought a pleasant reminder of his courtship days. When he was out of his wraps she jollied him thus: "Henry, why is it that you never entered politics? You are thoroughly magnetic, have a beautiful command of language, a charming address and a wonderful ability to adapt yourself to circumstances. You had just as well be in the enjoyment of both fame and fortune. No longer hide your light under a bushel, dear, but shine as nature and cultivation meant you to." "Now for the bill," he said, and knew just what he was talking about, for she flushed guiltily as he conned the items of a forty-dollar Easter hat.—Detroit Free Press.

An Easter Hymn.

"He is not here," the angel said To woman weeping at the tomb; "Behold the place where He was laid; Why stand ye here in grief and gloom?"

Not here, but risen is the Lord, Though on the tree He bowed His head, Forget not ye His spoken word, Nor seek the living 'mong the dead.

Yes, Thou art living, Lord, we know, And to the world hast given life, Its selfish will Thou bended low, 'Thou still' at the tumult, calm 'st the strife.

Breathe on us, Lord, Thine own life's breath, A weary road we long have trod; Give us the life that conquers death, The life that's hid with Thee in God.

—Christian Life.

Easter Bells.

Ring, glad some bells of Easter-tide, The Christian's psalm far and wide, From Russia's plains of frozen snow To fields where Easter lilies blow! Christ is risen!

Laughing beneath the laughing sun, The merry brooklets tinkling run, And bursting buds reveal the sheen Of summer's wealth of leafage green. Christ is risen!

From the long night of winter's sleep To life the fair spring blossoms leap; So 'mid the night of pagan gloom New light and life shine from the tomb! Christ is risen!

—Mary J. Safford, in N. Y. Ledger.

"Did you find Mrs. Highfill at home when you called?" "No; the maid said she was out." "Dear me, and it was such a lovely day! I don't see why she wanted to shut herself up in the house." —Inter Ocean.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

WORLD'S FAIR STATEMENT.

The Secretary's Report Shows Expenditures Amounting to $123,969.

The secretary of the board of world's fair managers for the state of Michigan has issued a report showing the expenditures from August 5, 1891, to March 1, 1894, as follows:

Construction and furnishing of building	$45,390
Maintenance of building	11,834
Board and general expenses	10,857
Secretary's salary and expenses	6,100
Expense of selling building, etc.	1,010
Ceremonies dedication and Michigan days	957
Agricultural exhibits	19,147
Mineral exhibits	12,175
General state exhibits	5,583
Educational exhibits	4,999
Forestry exhibits	4,498
Woman's work exhibits	1,415
Total	$123,969

Monthly Crop Report.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in the state in February was 1,035,127, and in the seven months, August to February, 10,285,089, which was 244,894 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year. At twenty-three elevators and mills from which reports were received there was no wheat marketed during the month. In condition live stock averages from four to seven points below a full average, comparison being with stock in good, healthy and thrifty condition.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended March 10 reports sent in by fifty-six observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that inflammation of the bowels, intermittent fever and consumption increased in area of prevalence. Typhoid fever was reported at thirteen places, diphtheria at twenty-eight, measles at thirteen, scarlet fever at forty-six and smallpox at Crystal Falls and Menominee.

Cremated in His Barn.

N. S. Nixon, a Batavia township farmer, was cremated in the ruins of his big grain barn. It was not until the building was nearly burned to the ground that Mr. Nixon was missed. Forty sheep, four horses and other stock were burned. Nixon leaves a widow and several children in poor circumstances.

Court Dismisses a Murder Trial.

Judge Maxwell did an unprecedented thing at Bay City by taking the murder case of William Sweeny from the jury and directing a verdict of not guilty before all of the witnesses of the prosecution had been sworn. He concluded the stabbing of John Markle was justifiable.

Took His Own Life.

Byron H. Crane, a well-known business man at Albion, committed suicide by hanging himself. Last summer he was interested in the Hotel Manchester during the fair at Chicago. Since the fair closed he had been in poor health and was despondent on that account.

Short But Newsworthy Items.

Andrew Mosbar, an insane man in Scofield, has confessed to the murder of Mrs. Gierman, but no attention was paid to his ravings.

Kalamazoo won in a cock-fight with Grand Rapids, and a large amount of money changed hands.

Mary Allard, 19 years old, died of smallpox at Menominee. There was little danger of an epidemic.

The Dickinson county relief committee has closed up its business and turned over the small amount of money and provisions on hand to the poor commissioners of the county.

Robert Richards, a prominent merchant at Plainwell, has become partially insane. He has begun numerous suits against his neighbors for imaginary debts owed him.

Logging roads in the vicinity of Ironwood have been destroyed by the recent thaw and rain.

Nearly one-half of the usual factory employees at Lansing are out of employment.

Poundmaster McCarthy of Grand Rapids has killed 700 dogs within the last four months.

Chinese Inspector Downs captured fifty pounds of opium at Detroit, but the smuggler escaped.

Detectives were unable to find any clew to the mystery of the Gierman murder in Carleton and abandoned the case.

Lake navigation opened at Muskegon several weeks earlier than usual.

The death was announced of Rev. George H. Ferris, a missionary at Kalohur, India. Mr. Ferris was a son of the late Hon. C. W. Ferris, of Hillsdale, where he was born and where his mother now lives.

James Howard, an American civil engineer, said to be a resident of Michigan, was drowned in the Gulf of California near Guaymas.

Justin Lawyer, long a public officer at Coldwater, died at his home, aged 70 years.

No ice was in sight at St. Ignace, a northwestern gale having swept it out, carrying with it several fish shanties and nets.

Henry Benson, a wealthy farmer living near Flint, was arrested charged with starving his horses.

LYNCHED.

A Mob Captures an Escaped Murderer and Hangs Him.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., March 17.—Richard Puryear (colored), who several weeks ago killed Christian C. Ehler and tried to murder the entire Ehler family, was lynched by a mob Thursday morning. By some means Puryear had secured a stick, with which he pushed back the bolt of the cell door during the night, and the outer door being unlocked through carelessness on the part of some one he gained access to the hall of the jail. He tried to force his way out through an upper window, but failed. He next secreted himself in the bath-room and waited until the sheriff should come in in the morning.

About 7 o'clock Thursday morning as Sheriff Kryes unlocked the door of the jail to take breakfast in to the prisoners and stepped into the corridor he noticed that the outer door of Puryear's cell was unlocked. At the same time the prisoner jumped from his hiding place and sped out of the open jail door, closed it quickly and locked the sheriff in. He then went out through the kitchen of the jail building, and running across some vacant lots was soon outside the borough limits. The sheriff shouted and attracted the attention of his wife, who unlocked the door and set him free.

A general alarm was at once sent out and an immediate pursuit of the escaped murderer was begun. As he had but a few feet the start of his pursuers there was no possibility of his getting away. The desperate man swam McMichael's creek, closely followed by a big negro, who caught him just as he landed on the opposite bank. Puryear resisted, but the sight of a revolver in his captor's hand caused him to yield. He was then brought back across the creek, where he was seized by a crowd that had gathered. Some one in the mob had a rope, which was quickly attached to the limb of a tree, and willing hands swung the desperado up. From the time he escaped from the jail till he was hanged only nineteen minutes elapsed.

DEATH OF AN AVENGER.

Francis E. Brownell, Who Killed Col. Ellsworth's Assassin, Passes Away.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Francis Edwin Brownell, a man whose name became a historic one during the late rebellion, died in this city at 10 a. m. For some years Mr. Brownell has been a clerk in the pension office here. Mr. Brownell gained his fame in the earliest days of the civil war by avenging the assassination of Col. E. E. Ellsworth, the famous commander of the Ellsworth zouaves, at Alexandria, Va. The incident created a furore at the north and fanned into intensity the blaze of patriotism then sweeping over the land.

Brownell was a private in the Ellsworth zouaves and was with that company when it went to Alexandria, Va., the day after the ordinance of secession was passed. Mr. Jackson, proprietor of the Marshall house in that city, hoisted the confederate flag over the building. Col. Ellsworth went to the hotel and hauled it down. When on the stairway he was shot dead by the proprietor, Jackson, who in turn was promptly shot and killed by Brownell. Brownell was awarded a medal of honor by congress for his act. He was also presented medals and other tokens by citizens of Troy, N. Y., New York city, Boston and Providence.

Brownell was 33 years of age. During his fatal illness he talked in his delirium of his efforts to disclose the conspiracy of the Knights of the Golden Circle, which he investigated while acting as assistant to the provost marshal general of St. Louis. He was a member of post 28, G. A. R., of Chicago, and of the commandery of the Loyal Legion of Washington. He filled a clerkship in the pension office at the time of his death.

FIFTY LOST IN A COLLISION.

Steamers Song Guan and Aing Hoo Lost in Asiatic Waters.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 17.—Oriental advices which have been received here announce that a disastrous collision occurred recently in the strait between Bengalis and Cagal. Two steamers, the Song Guan and Aing Hoo, collided while going at full speed. Those on board the Song Guan jumped into the water and were picked up by the crew of the Aing Hoo. Hardly had they reached the wreck when both steamers lurched and went down. About fifty people were drowned and as many saved themselves by swimming ashore, among them being two Americans, Capt. Miller, of the Song Guan, and Chief Engineer Pirie.

THE IDAHO FLOOD.

Total Loss Probably Will Not Exceed $100,000.—Trains Delayed.

BOISE, Idaho, March 17.—The damage from Indian creek flood is not so bad as reported. E. K. Mitchell, assistant manager of the Orchard Farm company, came in from there. He says about 60 feet of the lower wall of the dam broke, making a clear cut and emptying the reservoir, but that the farm was not overflowed nor damaged in any way. Ten thousand dollars will make the dam as good as ever, and this can be done in time to provide water for the prune trees. The town of Nampa was damaged to the extent of $20,000 and the railroad company $50,000. The water has subsided.

A good farmer says it is a waste of clover seed to sow it on the surface of the snow, as a large portion of the seed will not germinate, and much of it will be eaten by birds. The proper mode is to use a smooth harrow over the wheat field and sow the clover seed. The rain will then cover it. Harrowing the wheat field will not injure the wheat, but prove beneficial. A roller may also be passed over the wheat field after the clover seed is sown, if preferred. These matters largely depend on the land, however.

The low price of wheat and other farm products are teaching farmers to diversify their crops more than they ever did before, says the Jackson Patriot. Those whose land is best adapted to wheat growing and who understand how to secure good crops will continue to grow some wheat. But even their area in this crop is certain to be smaller than usual until the growing demand requires all the wheat that this country can produce. For the next year or two other products, especially those requiring more labor, will pay better than wheat. It has been too easy on cheap land to grow wheat. No crop that is very easily grown pays large profits.

A Quarter Century Test.

For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of Throat, Chest and Lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for Coughs and Colds. Trial bottles free at F. P. Glazier & Co's. Drug Store. Large size 50c and $1.00.

Chancery Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN. The Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery. Wilhelm Batzer, Complainant, vs. Johanna Batzer, Defendant.

Suit pending in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw in Chancery, at Ann Arbor, on the 30th day of January, A. D. 1894, in the 22 Judicial Circuit for the State of Michigan. It is satisfactorily appearing to this Court by affidavit on file, that the defendant, Johanna Batzer, is not a resident of this state, but resides at Rosenfelden Peterswalde, West Prussia in the German Empire, on motion of Lehman Bros., Complainant's Solicitors, it is ordered that the said defendant, Johanna Batzer, cause her appearance to be entered herein within five months from the date of this order, and in case of her appearance that she cause her answer to the complainant's Bill of Complaint to be filed, and a copy thereof to be served on said complainant's solicitors, within twenty days after service on her of a copy of said bill, and notice of this order; and that in default thereof, said bill be taken as confessed by said non-resident defendant.

And it is further ordered, that within twenty days after the date hereof the said complainant cause a notice of this order to be published in the Chelsea Herald, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said county, and that such publication be continued therein at least once in each week, for six weeks in succession, or that he cause a copy of this order to be personally served on said non-resident defendant, at least twenty days before the above time prescribed for her appearance.

E. D. KINNE, Circuit Judge.

LEHMAN BROS., Complainant's Solicitors.

"Some 8 years ago I contracted a serious constitutional blood disease. I went to Hot Springs to treat for syphilis. Mercury almost killed me. After a while the symptoms again appeared. Throat became sore, pains in limbs, pimples on face, blotches, eyes red, loss of hair, glands enlarged, etc. A medical friend advised Dr. Kennedy & Kergan's New Method Treatment. It cured me, and I have had no symptoms for five years. I am married and happy. As a doctor, I heartily recommend it to all who have this terrible disease—syphilis." It will eradicate the poison from the blood."
