NUMBER 39.

S. C. STIMSON.

Memorial Day.

Preparations are in progress by R. P. Carpenter Post, G A. R. for the proper observance of the day set apart by Congress to remember the fallen heroes of the nation, and to cover their graves with beautiful flowers on Wednesday, May 30.

In these obsequies they should be assisted by every patriotic American citizen at least. Aid them by your presence at the exercises and show on this one day of all the year that the effect for which they died was worth the price it cost. On Sunday, May 27; at 2 p. m., at the Town Hall, Rev. W. W. Whitcomb will preach a memorial sermon. The post and Relief Corps will attend in a body. The following is the order of exercises:

Music, Prayer, Music, Calling Roll of Honor, Sermon,

Prayer, Music.

Benediction:

On Wednesday, May 80, at 10 o'clock, weather permitting, the Post and Relief M. Cutcheon at 2 p. m., after which the usual order of exercises will be observed. Flowers will be received at the Town Hall, where a committee will be ready to receive them at 9 o'clock Wednesday forenoon.

A MAN WITH A HISTORY.

The Terrible Experience That Befell John W. Thomas, of Theta, Tennessee.

Afflicted with a Peculiar Disease-His Body Covered with Lumps-Could Not Eat and Thought He Was Going to Dry Up-His Recovery the Marvel of Tennessee.

[From the Nashville, Tenn., Banner.] Mr. John W. Thomas, Jr., of Theta, Tenn., is a man with a most interesting history. At present he is interested in blood ed horses for which Maury County is famous.

"Few people, I take it," said Mr. Thomas to a reporter who had asked him for the story of his life, "have passed through as remarkable a chain of events as I have and remained alive to tell the story.

"It was along in 1884, when I was working in the silver mines of New Mexico, that my troubles began; at first I suffered with indigestion, and so acute did the pains become that I went to California for my health, but the trip did me little good, and fully impressed with the idea that my last day had nearly dawned upon me, I hurried back here to my old home to die.

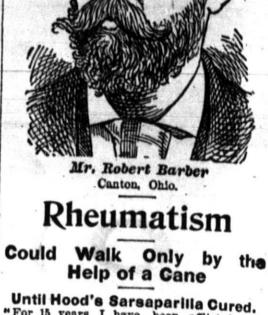

"From simple indigestion my malady developed into a chronic inability to take any substantial food, I was barely able to creep about, and at times I was prostrated by spells of heart palpitation. This condition continued until one year ago.

"On the 11th of April, 1893, I suddenly collapsed, and for days I was unconscious, in fact I was not fully myself until July. My condition on September 1st, was simply horrible, I weighed but seventy pounds, whereas my normal weight is 165 pounds. All over my body there were lumps from the size of a grape to the size of a walnut, my fingers were cramped so that I could not more than half straighten them. I had entirely lost control of my lower limbs and my hand trembled so that I could not drink without spilling the liquid. Nothing would remain on my stomach, and it seemed that I must dry up before many more days had passed.

"I made another round of the physicians, calling in one after the other, and by the aid of morphine and other medicines they gave me, I managed to live though barely through the fall."

Here Mr. Thomas displayed his arms, and just above the elbow of each there was a large irregular stain as large as the palm of the hand and of a purple color, the space covered by the mark was sunken nearly to the bone. "That," said Mr. Thomas, "is what the doctors did by putting morphine into me.

"On the 11th of December, 1893, just eight months after I took permanently to bed-I pleted a trip around the world in 64 shall never forget the date-my cousin, Joe Foster, of Carters' Creek, called on me and gave me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, saying they had cured him of partial paralysis, with which I knew he had all but died. I followed his directions and began taking the medicine, as a result I stand before you to-day the most surprised man on earth. Look at my hand, it is as steady as yours; my face has a healthy look about it; I have been attending to my duties for a month. Since I began taking the pills I have gained 30 pounds, and I am still gaining. All the knots have disappeared from my body except this little kernel here in my palm. I have a good ap-petite and I am almost as strong as I ever was. "Yesterday I rode thirty-seven miles on horseback. I feel tired to-day but not sick. I used to have from two to four spells of heart palpitation every night, since I began the use of the pills I have had but four spells altogether. "I know positively that I was cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I believe firmly that it is the most wonderful remedy in existence to-day, and every fact I have presented to you is known to my neighbors as well as to myself, and they will certify to the truth of my remarkable cure.' Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are not a patent medicine in the sense that name implies. They were first compounded as a prescription and used as such in general practice by an eminent physician. So great was their efficacy that it was deemed wise to place them within the reach of all. They are now manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred, and the public are cautioned against numerous imitations sold in this shape) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor). He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week atter taking it. Read the label. If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squeamish feelings at first.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

I had to come, Joe. Had to come Fur one more Thirtieth o' May. To see the boys 'nd help 'em some In keepin' Decoration day.

But whar ye bound fur this time, Joe? To set the flags! We'll both on's go 'Nd mark the end o' the march that's done. 'Nd call the roll o' the boys that's gone. Say, Joe, you 'n' me have come so near The still place where

They're camped, that we can almost hear 'Em answer their names from Over There

There's jest ten graves. I r'member 'm all -Ten men that's answered detail call. Five flags fur me, 'nd five fur you. What's all the rest fur? Ten'll do. 'Nd whar's the rest of the boys to-day? There should be twelve on's countin' you 1 hope they ain't took to stayin' away? That ain't the way they uster do! "Tain't right! They all had orter come To mark the graves fur 'Mori al day, No matter 'f work is pushin' some!

Why Joe! You're cryin'! What ails ye, Joe! What's that? Good Lord! That can't be so! All dead but us? Why, Joe-but thar, That couldn't be, outside o' war.

Did fall in battle! Yes-you're right We've all been in a long, hard fight. They fell in battle. Yes, that's sol 'Nd that's the way we've got to go. An' Joe, I'll bet-Not one o' them boys ever let The colors outen 'is sight!

Well Joe, we've got these flags to set. Here's ten fur me 'nd ten you keep. Ther's two o' us is walkin' yet To stan' guard over them that sleep! But which of us two, Joe, d'ye s'pose Will set the flag fur the next that goes? -James C. Purdy, in Kate Field's Washington.

As the children stood wondering how they could most easily get in a neat little old lady came round the corner of the churchyard and joined them. She stopped and looked when she saw the steps were gone. The children noticed she carried a crutch and was "How can I get in?" she asked, ap-at one another. "Oh, say. Lu," Fred began, suddenly,

"don't you remember there used to be some loose pickets over on the other side? Maybe I can take them out, and we can all get through in that way."

"Come on; let's see." And Lulu and Fred went to examine the fence.

The old lady sat down on the grass and smiled at Mollie and Nellie.

"I'm very tired, children," she said, apologetically. She held a little bunch of lilacs and syringas, which she laid down in her lap.

The children smiled back at her sympathizingly.

"I try to come to his grave every year," the old lady continued. "My boy, you know, he was killed in the war."

"A soldier!" the children said under their breaths.

"Yes, a soldier, and a brave one, too, even if it is his mother who says it. He was only eighteen. He enlisted younger than they meant to take them, but he the minister were going to head the was large and full grown and he was wild to go. The children were silent, and Nellie asked, softly:

"Do you live far from here?"

"Yes, it's a day's journey, and I'm getting so old and so lame that each year I'm afraid I won't be able to come the next."

Just then Fred and Lulu came back. the procession began to move. "Oh, we've found a splendid place to There weren't very many soldiers get in. Come on " they cried. "Have to leave 'em out till to-morrow," Fred said, looking at the pickets. They talked it over and over on the dry eye in the crowd. way home, and they made a plan, but they didn't tell a soul about it until Decoration day, so I'm not going to, either.

They met on Saturday and rehearsed for the celebration and Fred didn't mention the fact that he was up at four o'clock and had been raking and putting a certain lot to rights all the morning.

Decoration day came bright and beautiful. The sky smiled down as blue as the myrtle blossoms. It seemed as if everything was conspiring to make the day a success. Hon. Horatio Bigelow came on the morning train and Deacon Miles brought him over from the station in his buggy. He and procession in Esquire Tonnley's best

Finally Mollie luster to his already famous reputation-to this day the Crane's Corners folks speak of him in the same tone of awe-struck admiration that they use in speaking of Daniel Webster and Gladstone. Then the band burst forth into "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and made a way for himself through the crowd up to Nellie and Fred.

"Was this soldier a relative of yours?" he asked, softly, as he saw the tears in Nellie's eyes.

Then Nellie poured the whole story into this great man's ears. He listened to it with close attention.

The old lady clasped her hands as if you to tell that story over again, just "Good-by, children! God bless you! before she knew it he had lifted her as you have been telling it to me," and onto the front seat of the deacon's "Good-by!" and they stole softly and double carriage that was waiting in the driveway to carry back the "veterans," and she was telling the story over again. When she stopped there was not a Esquire Tonnley was wiping his eyes with a big red bandanna and saying to Deacon Miles "that he remembered as distinctly as if it was yesterday. It was John Allen's boy Robert-as good a lad as ever lived."

Then Hon. Horatio Bigelow's clear voice rang out:

"Fellow citizens! Brothers! Patriots! Your faces tell me that you are deeply touched with this little story. You are grateful to these little children who have saved one of your heroes from neglect to-day. You weep with the widowed mother whose fond ambition to raise a stone to her son has not been gratified. Let me tell you-do something more than weep-raise the monument for her. Make the widow happy and do honor to her boy hero!"

Here the speaker's words were drowned in wild applause, and the band broke into "The Star Spangled Banner." In the midst of it all Nellie found herself in the crowd with Hon. Horatio Bigelow's silk hat in her hands, and men and women, young folks and children were doing their best to fill it, raining in bills, silver and small change.

That was several years ago. The old lady still lives and is able to come on her annual pilgrimage to her boy's grave. The year after this first Decoration day at Crane's Corners, Nellie and Mollie Dent, Lulu and Fred Ashley were waiting for her at the train and escorted her to the little cemetery behind Deacon Miles' gray team, with the deacon himself driving. The marble monument that stood over her soldier boy's grave could be seen towering slim and white a half mile away. The children had written her about it, but it was more beautiful than she had ireamed And to this day there is not a lot so beautifully kept, nor a grave so constantly covered with flowers as the one with the tall monument inscribed: "Robert Allen, aged eighteen years, of Company G, Fourteenth infantry. Died in defense of his country at Vicksburg, 1863."-Emma Bennett, in Detroit Free Press.

Tells Another Story.

For a murder done in a homestead cabin in Ontonagon county some time ago a man named McDonald is serving alife sentence in the Marquette prison. The witnesses against him were Dunc. Beveridge and one Redpath, a pair of notorious men. Now comes a woman, the associate of Redpath, and tells another tale-that Beveridge and Redpath did the murder-and those men are now in arrest and the woman will give her evidence against them.

Health in Michigan.

From various portions of the state the reports of seventy-four observers for the week ended May 12 show that erysipelas increased and influenza, pneumonia and remittent fever decreased in area of prevalence. Scarlet fever was reported at fifty places, measles at sixty-eight, diphtheria at twenty-five, typhoid fever at fifteen, consumption at two hundred and thirteen places and smallpox at Jackson, Bay City, Muskegon and Marquette.

Representative Griffen, of Detroit, who was elected to succeed J. Logan Chipman, has for a long time suffered from a defective hearing. Within the past few weeks his trouble has grown so much worse that he is now entirely deaf. He has consulted eminent physicians, but they hold out little hope, and he will probably be compelled to retire from congress, although serving his first term.

School Superintendents. The twenty-first annual meeting of school around by the cemetery that night. The teacher had been telling them that afternoon that all the arrangements were made to have a big celebration Decoration day. It hever had been celebrated at Crane's Corners before, but when the Crane's Corners folks undertook to do a thing they did it "up brown." Esquire Tonnley and Deacon Miles had been up to the city and engaged a great orator-oh! a wonderful man!-to come and make the speech. And the Crane's Corners band and the band from East Milbank met twice a week in the old brick meeting-house and practiced till their lips were sore and their arms ached. And now the school trustees had decided that after the bands and the orator and the few old veterans, and the citizens who would join in the parade, the children should march in line. The girls were all to be dressed in white with blue sashes, and to carry bouquets, and the boys were to carry flags for the soldiers' graves. The graves were all to be marked beforehand, and after the orator had spoken the band was to strike up some real stirring war tune and the children were to march up the narrow, grassy walks and on each soldier's grave the girls were to leave a bouquet and the boys to plant a flag.

After school was out they all walked together as far as the corner, and the teacher told them they would meet and go over it all together Saturday afternoon, for Decoration day was only next Tuesday and it would be awful not to have everything go just right. Then she went into the house where she boarded, and the most of the children said good-night and turned down the west road toward home. There were just Mollie and Nellie Dent and Lulu and Fred Ashley who kept on straight up the road. "Say," Lulu said, when they were by themselves, "it wouldn't be but a little out of the way to go round by the cemetery. Let's go."

"All right," the other girls said, and Fred said he'd just as soon. So they went on, the longest way round, till they came to the dear old-fashioned cemetery. It was surrounded by a high board fence, painted white, like the tombstones peeping over it. You grave." buried in the Crane's Corners burying

She brought its close Hon. Horatio Bigelow made them into a forsaken corner to a grave covered with rose briars and hidden she sank down and said, piteously:

"I'll have to rest." Nellie got down on her knees and began scraping away the leaves with her fingers, and the other children followed her example. The old lady sat watching them with the tears trickling down her cheeks.

"Saturday morning I'll bring over the rake, and these rose bushes need trimming," Fred said, with a businesslike air.

Mollie slipped her hand into the old lady's as she rose to her feet. "Do you like pinks?" she whispered.

APPROPRIATE CELEBRATION.

The Educative Influence of Decorating the Graves of Buried Heroes.

It has frequently been hinted, by some, that if the money expended on flowers to decorate the soldiers' graves was used to supply the widow and orphan with food and raiment, it would be commendable. Granted, but how then would the memory of the brave men who gave their lives in defense of country be kept fresh and green in the hearts of our children? It is befitting the families of the dead heroes should be cared for, and we do not believe the government is neglectful of its duty, but if that were all, if all thought or honor to the dead soldiers ended there. printing of Michigan. what an unfeeling, ungrateful nation this would be. Every beat of the drum, every note of the bugle, every column of soldiers on Decoration day, every grass-grown mound in the soldiers' plot in the cemetery, stirs the heart and was playing with a loaded revolver at brings vividly back to mind that time Detroit when the weapon discharged, of great peril when noble men responded so promptly at the call of 18-months-old child. country when right and wrong were struggling for the mastery.

Those were sad, dreary days, many hearthstones were desolated, and many returned from the field of battle bearing scars which a lifetime will not efface. But think you that either the soldier who fell in battle, or the scar marked veteran who marched so proudly home to the music of victory, would regret the part he took in so noble a conflict? Would they not each teach their sons if any danger threatened this dear land again, to follow in the same footsteps and with their lives if need be conquer the evil that assailed it?

It is well, then, if for no other reason than to teach lessons of patriotism to our young people, to perpetuate the heroism of our dead soldiers by decorating their graves, friend and fou alike, for now the blue and the gray are not looking upon each other as enemies, but as brothers of a common Nellie Dent and Fred Ashley were at race, both strong and valiant. Made Another Confession.

William Alguire was arrested on his confession that he helped Horace Mansfield to murder Louis Schilling in Kalamazoo a year ago. He says he held Schilling's head while Mansfield cut his throat. Alguire's first confession last February laid the crime on Mansfield and a woman who was formerly Alguire's wife, but this was not proved.

HUDSON, W18., May 18 .- The heavy rainstorm of Tuesday night has caused Willow river and Trout brook to overflow their banks, causing a damage of over $50,000. H. T. Drake, of St. Paul, owned a private trout hatchery and has lost 70,000 yearlings and 50,000 fry, valued at $20,000. F. O. Crary and others of this city owned another like hatchery and lost 300,000 fry and 20,000 yearlings, valued at about $20,000.

Chickens Beheaded.

CARTHAGE, Ill., May 18.-A cyclone at Denver, in this county, destroyed a number of farm buildings, fences and fields of grain. One hundred chickens had their heads cut off as smooth as if by a knife. No one was injured. The cyclone cloud resembled a balloon with a twisting rope hanging below it. In Indiana.

LEBANON, Ind., May 18 - A cloud burst in the vicinity of Dover, 6 miles west of this city, about midnight Tuesday night, and the entire country is flooded to a depth of from 2 to 10 feet. Wolf and Sugar creeks, which were small streams, but are now rushing torrents of water from 1 to 3 miles in width. The new iron bridge which spanned Wolf creek on the Crawfordsville road, 10 miles west of here, gave way about daylight Wednesday morning. The crash was distinctly heard a mile away. Numerous wooden bridges and culverts were destroyed and the roads are impassable. Hundreds of rods of fences and dozens of small buildings were washed away. The damage to growing crops and the loss by drowned live stock will be very great, and, while it is impossible to estimate the damage until the waters recede, it is known that it will reach many thousands of dollars.

south of this city, the Smith City iron works, in course of construction, were destroyed, with a loss of $10,000. Kokomo, Ind., May 19.-The roof of the furnace of the Diamond plate glass works was blown off Thursday night, and Zion church, 4 miles east, was destroyed. The damage in the county; will exceed $100,000.

In Iowa.

DUBUQUE, Ia., May 21.-The spectacle of snow falling after the middle of May was seen Friday morning. After several days of extreme hot weather resulting Thursday in prostrations by sunstroke, the mercury sunk from 90 degrees to 42 degrees inside of twelve hours.

Terrific Storm in New Jersey.

NEW YORK, May 21.-Southern New Jersey experienced a thunderstorm Friday night. Fourteen houses were struck by lightning in Bridgeton, three at Cedarville, four at Newport, two at Butch Neck, seven at Vineland and several in Millville. Several barns were struck and burned to the ground Z. Johnson lives in the southern quarter of Bridgeton and the lightning ran down the chimney of his house and prostrated all the occupants. Such was the force of the storm and the rain came down in such torrents that the earth was washed away in many places and the gas and water pipes were laid Ships Founder and Go Down with Their Crews in a Gale.

CHICAGO, May 21.-The northeast gale which began with the change of weather Thursday night blew with increasing force all day Friday. The gale approached the dignity of a hurricane, blowing at intervals at miles an hour. The beach 60 the neighborhood of Chicago in was a "lee shore." From Glencoe to South Chicago it was strewn with wreckage. Eight vessels came to grief and at least ten lives were sacrificed. The lumber fleet suffered most. The financial loss approaches $100,000.

The scene off the lake front was unparalleled in Chicago's history and thousands of people turned out to witness the thrilling incidents of the day. At midnight several craft were in danger of going on the beach. Following are the vessels wrecked in the vicinity of Chicago:

Flight-Fears of a Repetition of the Ruin of 1889-A Big Dam Bursts Near Altoona.

WASHED AWAY.

ALTOONA, Pa., May 21.-The reservoir in the Allegheny mountains at Kittanning point, 6 miles above here on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, broke at 2 a. m. and the flood is pouring down upon Holidaysburg. The break in the dam is 15 feet wide. A mighty volume of water is behind the breast. A Pennsylvania locomotive was sent down to Holidaysburg, 5 miles, to warn the people. It was a wild race with the flood. When the people heard the news there was a panic. An earlier report of danger had put the residents on the lookout. They fled for safety and are awaiting developments. The reservoir is used to supply the city of Altoona with water and the break is in one section.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21, 3 a. m. - News comes from Williamsport that at 1 o'clock a. m. the big lumber boom broke and the logs are going down the river. There were 175,000,000 feet of logs in the boom.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., May 21.-Since Friday night a steady and almost con tinuous down-pour of rain has been swelling all of the streams and late Saturday night numerous cloudbursts along the Pine creek and other tributaries of the west branch of the Susquehanna have made all of the streams overflow their banks. The water has spread out over the country and at every point is pouring into the main river.

In anticipation of what is expected the fire and church bells were rung at 10 o'clock Sunday morning to notify the people of the impending danger, and since that hour the work of preparing for the worst has beeen in progress. In the hundreds of homes that were submerged five years ago people were moving out and storing their goods in the houses of those living on the highlands. The business part of the city was a complete wreck five years ago, and hundreds of merchants on Sunday moved their stock to places of safety. Conveyances of every description were hurrying through the streets of the city loaded with household goods and merchandise. The regular church services were all suspended and in all of the houses of worship those who attended confined their devotion to the offering up of prayers for the assistance of Providence in the present grave emergency. With the rain still falling the river has overflowed its bank in the central part of the city and the water is rushing up Market street and out to Third and Fourth streets, in the business part of the city, where the cellars are now full of water. The present height of the flood is 24 feet, and it is estimated that it will reach 27 feet from the present rainfall. Four miles of track of the Glen Allen Lumber company have been swept away. The boom at Lock Haven has broken and 15,000,000 feet of logs have been lost, The Upper Linden boom also broke at 5:30 Sunday afternoon. It contained 10,000,000 feet of logs and they have gone down. There are about 150,000,000 feet of logs in the main boom and half as many more in the city mill ponds that may go on a 25-foot flood. Advices from all points up the river say the same conditions exist. A cloudburst at Keating, 20 miles above Reaovo, early Sunday morning raised the river about 20 feet, and the river at Renovo is reported higher than in the dood of 1889, when half the town was ander water. Above there and extending to the headwaters at Clearfield every town and hamlet has been reduced by water to the conditions that prevailed in 1889. BRADFORD, Pa., May 21 .- The worst flood in Bradford's history is rushing through Tuna valley. Twenty streets contiguous to the creek are inundated and hundreds of families are driven from their homes. The east and west branches of the Tuna are both transformed into good-sized rivers. Below Foreman street, at the confluence of two streams, the flood the quarter of a mile wide and is high enough to ruin all the carpets in the houses Hilton and other streets in the lower part of the Sixth ward. The Douglass dam is partly torn away. The North street bridge is gone and several railroad and street bridges are in danger. The railroad people are holding down their bridges with heavilyloaded cars. In the Sixth ward twenty families were taken out of their houses in boats during the night and on Clarence, River and Hilton streets a rescue corps with skiffs saved as many more. HUNTINGDON, Pa., May 21 .- Within the last forty-eight hours the Juniata and the Raystown branch have risen 22 feet, flooding the low farms and im-McCullough, captain, Marine City, Mich.; prisoning whole families in their ately after they st

One of the features of the Antwerp exhibition will be a number of exhibits illustrating the history and progress of the various forms of artificial illumination. All kinds of lights, from the early Pompeiian and Roman lamps down to the most modern forms of electric lamps, will be represented.

THE vilrometer, an electrical instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf by stimulating the vibratory action of the ear, has been given a series of interesting tests at the Maryland school for the deaf in Frederick. Md., during the past few days. The experiments were made by Dr. Henry F. Garey, of Baltimore, and the results are reported to be very gratifying.

THE movable sidewalk on the Casino pier at the Columbia exposition has been sold to Mr. L. K. In case permission is refused, 351 cars will Great Western and Minneapolis & St. be changed into mining and coal and Louis employed all the idle men they dump cars and sold, together with the could find in repairing bridges and thirty-pound rails forming the track.

It has been frequently remarked since the Chicago fair closed that more merchants have advertised themselves as prize winners there than there were exhibitors ten times over. Many of these enterprising men will be disgusted to learn that a United States secret service officer has been ordered to look them up and enforce the law against that kind of fraud on the public.

CHICAGO has successfully established a new idea for working women. It is a lunching place, known as "The Noonday Rest." They pay twenty-five cents a month for membership, may hring their lunches with them or buy it at the rate of eleven cents, and have the advantages of library, lavatory, reception rooms and pleasant association besides. There are already three hundred members.

She passed through terrible storms, narrowly escaped destruction at Rio, struck an iceberg, had two men killed and one drowned, but landed her mutton in good condition.

More Dams Burst.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 19.-A Hudson (Wis.) special to the Dispatch says: The Jewett mills dam, besides the new Richmond and Burkhardt dams, have goue out, causing much damage. Several bridges are out, including the Tower bridge, which cost originally $25,000, and has now been made use-Superintendent Scott, of the less Omaha railroad, is here and estimates the damage to that road in washouts and otherwise at upwards of $75,000.

Loss Will Reach $1,000.000.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 19 -- Reports from the districts visited by storm and flood indicate that the loss was heavier than first reported and will reach at least $1,000,000. All the railway lines entering St. Paul except the Chicago tracks washed away by the torrents which swept down every river and brook in this section on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Every Bridge Gone.

MAIDEN ROCK, Wis., May 19. Rush river overflowed its banks during Wednesday night and the raging torrent carried everything before it. Every bridge from the headwater of Rush river to the outlet in the Mississippi has been swept away. Both flouring and sawmills were ruined and the total loss will reach $100,000 in this county. At least a dozen farmhouses along Rush river were washed away.

Killed by a Cyclone. KUNKLE, O., May 19. - A cyclone passed one-fourth mile west of here at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, killing five persons, fatally injuring two others and slightly wounding several more.

When It Occurred.

The scene of the cyclone is a hard one to describe. Houses, fences, trees and obstructions of all kinds in the path of the storm have been carried away and nothing left to mark the spot where they stood except holes in the ground.

The scene of devastation is about one-quarter of a mile wide and 6 miles in length. The great funnel-shaped cloud traveled in an irregular southeasterly course, the greatest damage being done about a mile from where it rose and passed on east .

MISSOURI DEMOCRATS.

Synopsis of the Platform Adopted by the State Convention.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 17 .- In the democratic state convention on Wednesday the majority report of the committee on resolutions was adopted by a vote of 423 to 109. This Whether on pleasure bent, or business, take report embraces Bland's 16 to 1 ratio plank. The convention gave rousing cheers and Bland is overwhelmed by congratulations. A synopsis of the platform follows:

It adheres to the old platforms, and declares for special privileges to none; believes in tariff for revenue only; denounces the McKinley act as a culminating outrage of taxation; advocates the income tax; demands gold and silver coinage; upholds congress in the repeal of the federal election law, and pledges the party in the state to resist the introduction of religious faith into political belief.

Francis M. Black was nominated for supreme judge. W. T. Currington for superintendent of public instruction and J. H. Finks for railroad commissioner.

VOTE TO INCREASE PENSIONS.

House Committee Favors Veterans of the Mexican and Indian Wars.

WASHINGTON, May 17.-The house committee on pensions voted to report to the house a bill increasing the rates of all pensioners of the Mexican war and Indian war from $8 to $12 a month. Representative Caminetti (Cal,) had introduced a bill to give this increase to Mexican war pensioners, and the committee decided to extend it to the Indian war survivors. But one member of the committee opposed the measure, taking the ground that it would open the door for a service pension to survivors of the civil war.

BATTLE WITH BURGLARS.

Thieves Surprised in an Alabama Store-One of Them Killed.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 16 .- Burglars entered J. H. May's store at Woodlawn at 2 o'clock a. m. Adolph Griffith, Tom Whitson and Elijah McPherson, officers, were secreted about the place. After breaking open the store one of the burglars opened fire on the officers, when a pitched battle followed. James Milton, one of the burglars, was killed. Another burglar, who escaped, was wounded, and Tom Whitson, one of the officers, was shot in the leg. The officers are after the escaped burglars with dogs.

It is not darkest just before dawn. The maximum of darkness begins when the sun has sunk below the horizen so far that none of its rays are refracted to the earth by the atmosphere or reflected by clouds, and continues without variation until it reaches a point near the eastern horizon. when the light reaches the earth once more marking the commencement of dawn. It is hard to understand how such an erroneous idea came to be generally accepted.

A wave of great men (or babies that were destined to become great) seems to have swept over the world in 1809. Why they were precipitated upon the world during that particular year will, perhaps, never be known, but it is a fact that the following named historical personages count it as their birth year: Lincoln, Gladstone, Darwin, Edgar Allan Poe, Cyrus McCormick, Benjamin Pierce, Alfred Tennyson, Mark Lemon, Jules Favre, Rapheal Semms. Albert Pike and Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Keep Accounts.

Keeping household accounts is an affair. if not of necessity, still of the greatest wisdom. In comparison with the small amount of time and labor which the doing so employs, the satisfaction of knowing, at the end of each year, how the family funds have gone is the amplest compensation. One especial satisfaction gained from the keeping of household accounts is the ability when or if the necessity arises, to reduce expenditures on the outlay for luxuries and unnecessaries. The money spent for food, Not a shot-hole was to be found in the can for medicines or for fuel is capable of far less reduction than that used for amusehalf of the cartridge evidently went through ments, for wages or for clothing, and a without spilling a single shot from its system of accounts which will show at the tail of the chicken.

Practice Medicines

The manner in which animals practice medicine is narrated by the Medical Review which says it is known that they not only treat themselves, but that they also treat each other. Animals get rid of parasites by using dust, mud, clay, ashes, etc. When a dog has lost his appetite he eats that species of grass known as dog grass, which acts as an emetic and purgative. When a cat is ill it is a motter of common observation that they eat grass. Animals suffering from chronic rheumatism always keep, as far as possible, in the sun. If a chimpanzee is wounded it stops the blood by placing its hands on the wound, or by dressing it with leaves and grass. A dog. on being stung on the muzzle by a viper, was observed to plunge his head repeatedly for several days in running water. Animals that have been injured in the eyes avoid light and heat. It is also very gen crally known that when animals are ill that they abstain from food; in fact, many times this is the only way the farmer knows that his horses and cattle are ill.

A Lesson in English.

"Pardon me," as the criminal said to the Governor.

"Step this way, please," as the dancing master said to his class.

"By, by," as the clerk said to the customer.

"Ho, there," as the farmer said to his fired hand,

"Take a chair," as the dentist said to his patient.

"You make me tired." as the hired girl said to the Monday washing.

"Drop in some time," as the slot machine said to the nickel.

"Call again," as the poker player said to the other poker player.

"Get on to it," as the bicycle teacher aid to his nervous scholar.

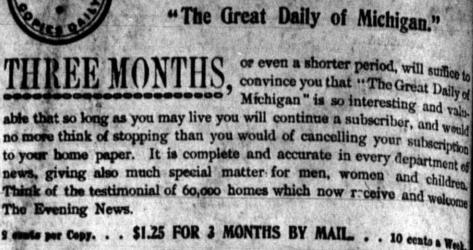

"Come around next week," as Thursday said to the day before.

"It's all up with you," as the sidewalk weeper said to the root cleaner.

"You're a corker," as the brewer said to the bottler.

"That's the end of it," as the boarder said to the landlady when she gave him

Ah, hat The bicycle rider gets his rights at last. Justice Wheeler of Chicago, says that wagons must go around bicyclers. This puts things on the proper basis I has long been conceded that the pede-trian has no rights that the cycler is bound to respect. He must run for his life when the shrill blast of the whistle announces the approach of the lordly wheelman, But hitherto there has been, some difficulty in reducing cabmen, truck drivers and other stubborn plebeians to proper subjection These persons have shown a disposition to contest the claim of the wheelman to sole and exclusive possession of the planet Justice Wheeler has remedied all this Henceforward no jehu may venture to stir so long as there is a bicycle in sight. This is well and proper. All that is now necessary is a decision forbidding railroad trains cable cars and fire engines to dispute the right of way with the apostles of the whirk-ing wheel. That will fix things just right.
