Up for Ninety Days.

Chas. Collins, who has been doing odd jobs about the village for the past two weeks, stole two lap robes and two blankets from Wilbur Kempf's barn, last Monday, and sold them to some parties here in the village. On Tuesday Mr. Kempf missed the above named articles and learning that Collins had been offering blankets and robes for sale, he looked them up and found that they belonged to him. He then procured a warrant, and, with Marshal Green started after Collins, who had left town in the direction of Jackson. They arrested him near Leoni and brought him before Justice Bacon, who sentenced him to 90 days in the county jail.

Concerts.

Don't forget the grand literary and musical evenings at the Town Hall next Monday and Tuesday evenings, June 4th and 5th, given by the celebrated Rose D'Erina, and her distinguished husband, Prof. G. R. Vontom. It will be a delightful treat.

The entertainment has been given all over the world, and greatly enjoyed by thousands. A most attractive and varied program has been prepared, and our readers will never have an opportunity to hear such distinguished singers and elocutionists. A different program will be given each night. The admission will be 25 and 15 cents.

Of all the fruits of the earth there is scarcely another that may compare with the strawberry, writes Eliza R. Parker in an article on "A Few Strawberry Deserts" in the Ladies' Home Journal. Even the poets have made it a worthy theme for their pens, Leigh Hunt saying, "Strawberries are beautiful to look at, delicious to eat, and so wholesome as to agree with the weakest digestion." The most acceptable mode of serving strawberries is doubtless in their natural freshness, accompanied with sugar and cream, but to give variety to the family table they may be served in a number of other dainty and delicious ways.

Protecting Cottolene.

The N. K. Fairbank Company of Chicago have lately brought suit in the United States Court against W. L. Henry, of this city, for $5,000.00 for infringement of their trade mark "Cottolene." The N. K. Fairbank Company sets forth that they originated, prepared, and put upon the market a new food product consisting of refined Cotton Seed Oil and a small proportion of Beef Suet, making a pale yellow material of the consistency and substance of lard, almost without odor and intended to take the place of lard in cooking.

In order to indicate the source and genuineness of their new food product, they originated, coined, and used as a trade mark the word "Cottolene." The healthfulness and many other advantages of Cottolene over lard were so apparent that Cottolene became at once very popular and is now largely sold all over the country.

The new food product, and its name "Cottolene" have become widely known as the product of The N. K. Fairbank Company. The trade mark is described as a "trade mark for Oleaginous Food Substances, &c.," consisting of a head or neck of a Steer or other bovine animal enclosed by sprigs and branches of the Cotton plant."

The N. K. Fairbank Company charges that W. L. Henry, of Macon, Ga., a dealer in fresh meats and food products generally, has been and is endeavoring unlawfully to avail himself of the benefits of the name "Cottolene" and its popularity; that he has been and is selling a product similar in kind, but inferior in quality, under the name of "Cottolene" to the injury of the original and genuine "Cottolene," and to the loss and injury of its manufacturers The N. K. Fairbank Company.

The infringements upon the trade mark of "Cottolene" have become so frequent, and so many dealers are selling an inferior article and claiming it to be Cottolene that The N. K. Fairbank Company are determined to protect their customers and propose to sue every retail dealer who is thus imposing upon his customers and infringing upon The N. K. Fairbank Company's trade mark.—Telegraph, Macon, Ga.

Almost Blind

His Head a Mass of Corruption

Blood Purified and Sight Restored by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"Three years ago Clarence, three years old, was taken with convulsions on the head which gradually spread until it got into his eyes and he became almost blind. We did everything that could be done with the assistance of a skilled physician, but nothing did him any good. His head and neck were one mass of corruption, and we thought he would lose his eyesight."

It was then that we commenced to use Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in less than three weeks his eyes began to improve. In a short time the sores took on a healthy appearance and gradually healed, and now all are gone, and Clarence is a bright and healthy child, with clear beautiful eyes. We are satisfied that Hood's has made a complete cure. D. M. CROCKETT, JR., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

The Twentieth Annual Meeting of this Society will be held in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol, at Lansing, commencing Wednesday, June 6, 1894, at 2 o'clock p. m., standard time, and continuing through the afternoon of Thursday, June 7.

The program will consist of music, address by the president, reports of the officers and committees, interesting historical papers, interspersed with spirited five-minute speeches and reminiscences.

The following, with perhaps other historical papers, are expected to be read:

Ex-Gov. Alpheus Felch, Ann Arbor—Cessions of land in Michigan by Indian Treaties.

Ex-Lieut. Gov. Henry H. Holt, Muskegon—History of the Portrait of Gen. Lafayette hanging in the Senate Chamber of the Capitol.

Prof. Andrew Ten Brook, Ann Arbor—The early German Settlers in and about Ann Arbor.

L. D. Watkins, Manchester—The Indian Trails and Wayside Camps of Southern Michigan, with a short paper from Hon. Peter White of Marquette on the Indian Trails of the Upper Peninsula.

Hon. Henry P. Cherry, Bedford—Early History of Johnstown, Berry county.

Mrs. A. M. Hayes, Hastings—History of Hastings.

N. W. Parker, Addison—Reminiscences of Brooklyn.

Joseph M. Griswold, Brooklyn—Reminiscences of Brooklyn.

Judge Melville McGee, Jackson.

Geo. H. White, Grand Rapids—Yankee Lewis' famous Hostelry in the wilderness.

If there are others not here mentioned who have papers for this meeting, or to be published in "Pioneer and Historical Collections," they will please notify me, giving name and residence and title of paper.

Reduced rates have been secured at the hotels in Lansing, as follows: Hotel Downey and Hudson House, $1.50 per day; Chapman House, Commercial House and Kirkwood, $1.00 per day; provided, that if necessary, two will room together.

A Scheme to Enhance the Value of Wheat.

A scheme is under way in Kansas to enhance the present values of wheat. Each farmer having winter wheat sown will plow up 25 per cent of the growing crop and put into corn or such other farm products as may yield a fair return for his investment. Field and Farm, which calls attention to the foregoing, says:

By this method it is suggested that the reduced average will so eliminate the crop as to make more than a corresponding advance in prices. It is the intention of the originators of this plan to make it extend all over the wheat producing states in the Union. In the northwest the idea is to reduce the acreage to be planted in spring wheat and to promise liberal compensation to the farmers of that section for the unemployed land made so by their co-operation in the proposed scheme. The promoters of this measure are large producers of wheat and in a financial position to carry out the policy outlined. The subject has been under secret discussion for some time and is now brought out in its full maturity, all contingencies being provided for and all details arranged to take effect before too late to plant corn. A meeting was held at Topeka to complete arrangements.

Strength is not all that is required in a work horse. One that has a fast walking gait and moves off rapidly with a load will always be in demand. There is a large field open for the introduction of a breed of fast walkers, with pedigrees that permit of tracing them to selected families. Size will also be desirable, but size can also be secured at the same time. Some draft horses are too slow and clumsy for general work.

Commencement week looms up in the not far distant future. The Chelsea Class of '94 is composed of the following young ladies and gentlemen: Misses Minnie C. Allyn, Cora I. Taylor, Nellie C. The three tramps who robbed Henry Schaefer, near Scio recently, plead guilty and were sentenced by Judge Kinne last week. The two elder men were sentenced to six years in Jackson, and the younger to four years in the Ionia House of Correction. While in jail at Ann Arbor, awaiting their trial, they attempted to dig their way out, but were discovered before breaking jail.

The north window of W. P. Schenk & Co's. store was the center of attraction Decoration Day. It was the representation of a grave, at the head of which stood a marble slab and upon and about the grave were beautiful flowers. Muskets, swords, and cannon decorated with flags were conspicuous, and the whole denoted a soldier's last resting place. The effect was very beautiful and appropriate.

An exchange says a young man in a certain town purchased some flowers for his best girl to wear to a ball recently. He also bought a suit of underwear for his own use. The flowers and garments were wrapped in similar packages. On reaching home he wrote on the package that he thought contained the flowers: "Please wear these for my sake." He discovered his mistake when it was too late.

The tendency of everything in the public school system to fall into a hard and fast mechanical condition, to the neglect of individuality in pupils, is illustrated by a not uncommon rule with teachers that the reading book shall always be held far enough away from the pupil's nose to leave the child's face visible to the teacher. A very considerable percentage of near-sighted children is found in every public school, and it is painful to see the little ones trying to reconcile a general rule with their own peculiar natural defect of vision.

It is confidently predicted by those gifted with an ability to look into the middle of the next century that the umbrella as a rain-shedder will ere long be numbered among stage coaches, charcoal foot-stoves, pewter spoons and other appointments reckoned as more or less elegant in our grandfather's days. Rain overclothes and rain hats are to be the proper thing even before the next century is ushered in. Speed the day. When that blessed time arrives when women will no longer enjoy so carrying their umbrellas as to ab a man pedestrian's eyes out and a man with a sharp pointed umbrella under his arm will no longer be as formidable an obstacle on the sidewalks as a chariot equipped with outrigging scythes, the millennium will be close at hand.

This a big country, and the best on earth. It is not going to, the dogs this year, or any other for that reason. Business has been dull, it is true, but do you suppose it will stay so? Those who are prepared will reap the benefit when things come around all right. During the dull days is the time to clean up, and examine your unpaid bills, your books, your possible needs. Get your stock in good shape. Those who do not keep up with the times will get badly left. Don't get frightened at the Wilson Bill, or the McKinley Bill, or any other Bill, and sit down over the fire-place and toast your shins, but get up and sweep down the cob-webs and comb the knots out of your hair, or you will find, when it is too late, that you are "not in it."

SUICIDES have become so alarmingly frequent in Denmark that it is proposed to check the desire for self-destruction by a law which will give the bodies of suicides to the dissecting rooms.

ACCORDING to a decree issued by the French minister of war, the following defects, among others, will no longer exempt a man from the obligation of military service: Toothlessness, dwarfish stature, hair-lip, squint-eyes, superfluous or deficient fingers or toes, varicose veins, hernia, stuttering and baldness.

An automatic apparatus for indicating to passengers in railway cars the name of the next station has been adopted on the underground railway in London. As each station is passed a card bearing the name of the next station drops into place in a glass-covered frame and an electric bell rings to call attention to the change.

STURGEON fishing in Delaware bay promises to make up in some measure this year for a dull shad season. One sturgeon boat sometimes earns from $15 to $20 per night. A sturgeon fisherman recently caught in one night two sturgeons worth $10 each. A day laborer in that region would be several weeks in earning that much.

LORD ROSEBERY, the British prime minister, has just placed over the grave of his wife, in the Jewish cemetery at Willesden, near London, a magnificent monument, inscribed with the dates of her birth and death, the Jewish year being given, also, and inscribed: "The Child of Many Hopes. The Woman of Rich Fulfillment. So He Giveth His Beloved Sleep."

SINCE the dismemberment of the famous Spitzer collection of antiquities, which was sold at auction in Paris last summer, an American collector, Mr. Riggs, now living in Paris, is considered to have the finest private collection of ancient armor. Mr. Riggs is a native of Washington and very wealthy. His collection is estimated to be worth nearly $1,000,000.

UNDERGROUND London is getting to be many stories deep. The new City and Waterloo Underground Electric railway, in traversing Queen Victoria street, passes for a considerable distance under the low level sewer, which in its turn runs underneath the underground railroad. The electric road at this point is sixty-three feet below the surface.

DR. J. A. GILBERT, of the Yale psychological laboratory, has just completed some tests regarding the mental and physical developments of the pupils of the New Haven public schools showing that boys are more sensitive to weight discrimination, that girls can tell the difference in color shades better than boys, and that boys think quicker than the other sex.

GOV. TILMAN has issued an appeal in behalf of the starving whites on the South Carolina coast who were rendered destitute and homeless by the hurricane which swept that region last fall. Contributions are not requested for the Negroes, as it is stated that the Red Cross society has fed and otherwise aided them, while the suffering whites were left to shift for themselves.

The recent earthquakes in Greece were observed in England. The earthquake which shook Thebes to pieces had occurred only fourteen minutes before the pendulum in Birmingham began to move. The distance between the two places is 1,550 miles; from which it appears that the shock traveled through the rocks underlying Europe at the rate of nearly 111 miles a minute.

A New York bacteriologist has made a report to the New York health department of his investigation into 268 cases of so-called "membranous croup" and says he has seen enough to justify the conclusion that the disease is nothing more or less than laryngeal diphtheria and he recommends that the disease be listed as contagious and physicians made to promptly report all such cases to the health authorities.

NATHAN STRAUSS, one of New York's practical humanitarians, has reopened his summer depot for the sale of raw and sterilized milk. It is now held that babies who do not have mother's milk should be fed on sterilized milk. The poor do not generally understand this, but Mr. Strauss had much success last summer inducing them to use it, and this summer he will afford increased opportunities for obtaining it, as well as ordinary milk, and some children's foods at low prices.

THE MINERS.

Strikers and Deputies Come Into Open Collision.

Trouble at La Salle and Centralia in Illinois—Militia Called Out—Four Strikers Shot Down by Armed Guards in Pennsylvania.

WORKERS FORCED TO QUIT.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 25.—Wednesday morning 250 strikers from Kelleyville came upon the Beard mine. This being the third visit of the kind and fearing serious trouble, the men at work fled to the woods. A little later a mob of over 1,000 miners started for the Mission Fields mine. They were armed with knives, pistols and clubs besides having a covered wagon loaded with rifles. Those in charge of the mine seeing that the thirty-five deputies would be no protection told the men they could stop work. Many took the opportunity. The men who remained at work were compelled to swear that they would come out of the mines and stay out.

BRAZIL, Ind., May 25.—Striking miners formed in groups Tuesday evening and visited every slope in the county where men were at work and ordered out the employees. All complied, and not a pound of coal is being dug. These slopes furnished coal for the city only, and since they have ceased operations it is difficult to secure coal for domestic use.

LA SALLE, Ill., May 25.—A mob of 200 striking miners took possession of the Illinois Central Railroad company's property Wednesday afternoon and emptied all the coal out of the chutes on the tracks. The sheriff was called and with his posse finally dispersed the mob.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 25.—The strike of American coal miners has caused the price of northern coal to rise very sharply in Mexico. This, coupled with the attending scarcity of coal, is seriously inconveniencing many Mexican manufacturing industries.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 25.—On Thursday Gov. Altgeld ordered out four companies of the Illinois national guard to La Salle and five more to Centralia.

Sheriff Taylor, of La Salle county, telegraphed the governor the condition of affairs at the La Salle County Carbon Coal company's mine. He said he with a large force of deputies had been attacked by several hundred miners with stones, revolvers and other weapons, shooting three of the deputies, severely injuring several others, including himself. He was unable to quell the riot, and there was imminent danger of great loss of life and destruction of property if immediate action was not taken by the governor. He appealed to the governor for such military aid as could be furnished. There are 3,000 striking miners at Spring Valley, Ladd and Seatonville, who are likely to come there at any time and continue the riot. A mob is surrounding the hotel where he is lying wounded.

The telegram was confirmed by one from the mayor of La Salle, F. W. Mathison, who states the mob has released one of the arrested strikers from jail. Later the sheriff telegraphed that the strikers were running riot and to forward troops at once.

Sheriff M. J. Helms, of Centralia, telegraphed that he had arrested seventy-five men for conspiracy in destroying property, that he has 200 armed deputies. The mines at Sandoval, Kimmund and Odin are threatened with destruction by approaching miners, who are also determined to release those under arrest.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., May 26.—A story which had been circulated of a riot and bloodshed at Little's mines was greatly exaggerated. Miners from Washington went to Little's to persuade the men to come out, and during the negotiations a slight contest arose, but with no serious results.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., May 26.—The long-threatened attack by striking miners on the pits of the Washington Coal & Coke company at Stickle Hollow was made Thursday morning. The fight was one of the fiercest in the history of the mining troubles in western Pennsylvania, and in the section where it occurred as well as throughout the whole coke region the situation it has developed is one of the most intense excitement.

Four strikers are lying dead, and double that number are badly wounded, some of them mortally. Thomas Kenan, of Wood's run, is the only American killed in the encounter with the deputies. The other dead men are Slavs. The wounded men, who fell under the first volley from the deputies, were taken off by the retreating strikers, and even now the actual number of wounded is not definitely known, their friends having the strongest motives for concealing them.

Sixty-six of the strikers were placed under arrest and taken back to the company's ground, where they were closely guarded during the rest of the day. The whole lot of them were later placed in box cars, which were nailed up, and kept there until this evening when they were brought here to the jail in charge of twenty-five deputies.

The situation at the mines is alarming and more serious trouble is expected. Reports from there are to the effect that 3,000 strikers from the lower end of the fourth pool were marching on Stickle Hollow, thoroughly armed, for the purpose of storming the works regardless of consequences.

TRADE IS GOOD.

Volume of the Week Large in Spite of Strikes and Storms.

NEW YORK, May 26.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "Storms and floods, prolonged strikes and large exports of gold have done their utmost this week to give business a vacation. But wants unsatisfied during the last year, belated and much lessened, and yet greater than those of any other nation, have caused a volume of trade quite large for the season. Prices of products still tend downward without much speculation.

"It is not surprising that farmers retain wheat at present prices where they can. Corn has been stronger, notwithstanding large receipts and insignificant exports. Cotton has recovered a shade, to 74 cents, though receipts for the week were nearly as large as last year and exports much smaller. Pork products also declined with heavy receipts, and coffee is also lower. The astonishing cheapness of wheat and cotton will affect the rapidity of the movement in the fall, and also will directly lessen the amount of money required in moving the crops.

"While the iron industry especially and many others to some extent have been restricted by scarcity of coal and coke the number of works resuming have been greater than the number stopping from other causes. But it is a symptom not to be overlooked that the demand for manufactured products instead of increasing appears for the moment rather smaller than before, and indifference of buyers is shown in cancellation of orders hitherto given. It is a waiting season, but the disposition to wait is this year much intensified.

"Failures diminish in importance, the amount of liabilities for the third week in May being only $2,304,139, and for three weeks, $7,836,972, of which $2,642,687 were of manufacturing and $5,025,007 of trading concerns. The number of failures reported this week is 183 in the United States, against 259 last year, and in Canada 28, against 14 last year, and again there are noted scarcely any of importance."

Bradstreet's view of the situation appears not so rosy as that of Dun & Co. It says:

"The unfavorable conditions prevailing in commercial and industrial circles throughout the country, together with the prospect for no material improvement during the summer, mark the present season as probably the dulllest, relatively, for twenty years. At no time since panic and business depression manifested themselves last year have reports as to the volume of sales of merchandise, the manufacture of staple goods, and disposition of merchants generally been so pronounced and so general throughout the country as during the last few weeks. Superficial examinations of business conditions leading to unwarranted optimistic conclusions as to the future of trade have not been wanting; but, as a matter of fact, based on comprehensive and careful examination, the next few months promise a continuance if not an intensifying of existing conditions of extreme dullness and depression.

"Quite unfavorable advices come from Pittsburgh, where there are numerous shut-downs, involving large numbers of men. The total number of industrial employees idle as a result of coal scarcity is placed at 35,000, and the total idle number on account of the strike, which now appears likely to fail, is 210,000. In other industrial lines 25,000 men are reported idle as a result of strikes, making the total number now idle 235,000. An encouraging industrial feature is the probable settlement of next season's iron and steel wage scale without a strike."

BANDED TOGETHER.

Liberals in Religion Form a Permanent Congress in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 26.—As a result of the congress of liberal religions which ended in Sinai temple Friday there has been formed a permanent body to be incorporated under the style of the American Congress of Liberal Religious societies and to do its various work under one creed, and that a creed of one plank and one word—"humanity." A charter under the Illinois state law will be obtained in a short time. Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas was elected president of the new organization, Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones general secretary and Leo Fox treasurer.

The seal of the congress was adopted without discussion. The device is the earth with the word "humanity" inscribed at the equator and around that word are the words "knowledge, justice, love and reverence." The plan of the organization is to allow any church or organization to become a member of the congress on the payment of a stipulated sum of money annually. By-laws will be adopted after the incorporation papers are issued.

TORE DOWN THE FLAG.

Canadian Militia Insult the United States Consul at St. Thomas.

TORONTO, Ont., May 26.—About 1,000 of the Queen's Own volunteers went up from here Thursday to celebrate the queen's birthday at St. Thomas, a small city about 100 miles west of Toronto. While there some of the volunteers imbibed too freely and hauled down the American flag from United States Consul Willis' office. Lieut. Col. Smith, of the Canadian militia, was a witness of the incident. Others attempted to interfere, but the militia were persistent and not only hauled down the stars and stripes, but destroyed it. Consul Willis was very angry. Col. Smith tendered an apology to him, but he was not satisfied, and wired an account of the affair to the authorities at Washington and to the United States consul at Ottawa. What the affair will lead to it is impossible to say. The citizens of St. Thomas generally deplore the incident, and in no way sympathize with the volunteers' action.

FOUND HIM GUILTY.

Senate Committee Convicts Buttz of Attempted Bribery.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—The special committee of the senate appointed to investigate the charges of attempted bribery of senators on the part of Charles W. Buttz, the North Dakota lobbyist and ex-congressman from North Carolina, has submitted a report to the senate. Buttz is found by the committee to have made the attempt at bribery, despite his denial, and Senators Hunton and Kyle are exonerated from all blame.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

HELD IN CHECK.

Grand Lodge of Pythians.

The Pythian grand lodge of Michigan held its annual meeting in Benton Harbor and elected officers, as follows: Past grand chancellor, George A. Reynolds, Saginaw; grand chancellor, F. M. Robertson, Albion; grand sword bearer, Phillip T. Vanzile, Detroit; grand warden, C. R. Hawley, Bay City; grand sentinel, Alexander McGregor, Detroit.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended May 13 reports sent in by seventy-six observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that intermittent fever and inflammation of the kidneys increased, and measles decreased in area of prevalence. Typhoid fever was reported at fourteen places, diphtheria at twenty-three, measles at fifty-three, scarlet fever at forty-nine, consumption at two hundred and twenty-three, and smallpox at Jackson, Bay City, Grand Rapids, Muskegon and Sturgis.

Order of the Red Cross.

At the sixth annual meeting in Bay City the grand commandery of the Michigan Order of the Red Cross, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Grand commander, C. C. Willer, Kalamazoo; grand lieutenant commander, William L. Whitford, Bay City; grand scribe, F. A. Ray, Lansing; grand treasurer, Mrs. Emma Suthers, Jackson; grand prelate, Mrs. M. E. Livingston, Detroit; grand sergeant, J. H. Murray, Jackson; grand guard, Charles Schilling, Kalamazoo; grand sentinel, Theodore Bortel, Lansing; supreme representative, A. H. Bostwick, Detroit.

Senator Stockbridge's Will.

The will of the late Senator Stockbridge, bearing date of 1886, was filed in the probate court at Kalamazoo. The petition, signed by James L. Houghteling, of Chicago, a nephew of the late senator, names James A. L. Houghteling as executor. The value of the real and personal estate to be administered is $800,000. The senator's near relatives and the children's home at Kalamazoo are named as beneficiaries.

Organized to Enforce Laws.

A state league of game and fish clubs was organized at Lansing with the following officers: President, Judge John J. Speed, Detroit; vice president, A. L. Landy, Kalamazoo; secretary, C. L. Boynton, Port Huron; treasurer, George A. Gould, Grand Rapids. The purpose of the organization is to secure legislation for better enforcement of present fish and game laws.

A Peculiar Accident.

Charles Salsbury, a stonemason at Grand Rapids, while breaking a boulder with his hammer felt a sharp pain in the abdomen and went home. A doctor was sent for and it was found that a sliver from his steel hammer had passed entirely through the man's body, penetrating several intestines. He was taken to a hospital.

Short But Newsworthy Items.

There were eleven contestants for the Sherman prize to the freshman class of Kalamazoo college and Miss Lulu May Hough won the first prize and Harry S. Waterman the second.

In the recorder's court at Detroit Judge Chapin sentenced Henry W. Smith, who was convicted of having two wives, to five years at Jackson. He is 32 years old.

The corner stone of the new city hall at Marquette was laid with imposing ceremonies by the grand lodge of masons.

The steamship Shenandoah was launched from Davidson's yard in Bay City.

Rev. Peter J. Leeson, formerly connected with St. Ignatius college in Chicago, dropped dead in Detroit of paralysis.

The boiler in F. C. Ross' planing mill at Bay City exploded, killing George Clayson and badly injuring five other men.

The state board of agriculture has decided to abandon further efforts to reclaim thousands of acres of pine barrens in the northern part of the lower peninsula.

The state encampment of the Sons of Veterans will be held at Three Rivers June 26 to 28.

Porter Avery, of Coldwater, says he has an 1804 United States silver dollar. There are only about half a dozen in existence and their value is put at $1,000.

The coal famine was affecting the copper mines, and Osceola and Tamarack were burning cord wood at the mine and stamp mills. They will consume over 6,000 cords per month.

The Presence of State Troops Prevents Riots at La Salle and Centralia.

LA SALLE, Ill., May 26.—Six companies of the Third regiment Illinois national guard, commanded by Col. Fred Bennett, arrived here Friday forenoon and went into camp. The force numbers, officers and men, about 300. Adj. Gen. Orendorff is here. Their position was reconnoitered by some of the strikers, who attempted to guy and hoot at the men, but a bayonet charge and establishment of picket line kept them at proper distance, and they made no further demonstrations.

The arrest of the two men who were taken to Ottawa jail has caused much anger among the strikers, and they have made all sorts of threats about marching to Ottawa and releasing them by force. A large meeting of miners was held Friday to consider this matter which was addressed by David Ross, formerly a miner and member of the legislature, by Gen. Orendorff and Mayor Matthiessen. It was finally agreed to secure the release by legal means, if possible, and Attorney Ross was given the job of attending to the matter.

F. O. Wyatt, the manager of the La Salle County Carbon Coal company, which employs over 1,400 men, said that he had no fear of trouble from the English-speaking miners. There were over 300 foreigners, however, who could not speak English and who were not even citizens of the United States that were liable to resort to violence at any moment. There were a great many anarchists among them.

CENTRALIA, Ill., May 26.—Centralia is now under military rule, there being five companies of the state troops camped in the heart of the city. After the sheriff's posse captured seventy-five of the rioting miners Thursday afternoon word was received here that several hundred more miners from Duquoin and Murphysboro were coming here to liberate the prisoners. To prevent this Gov. Altgeld ordered out the troops. Company K of this city, company I of Vandalia, company B of Effingham, company C of Carbondale and company M of Marion, all of the Fourth regiment, are now on duty under command of Col. Bayle, of Springfield. The camp equipments arrived Friday afternoon.

The seventy-eight rioting coal miners from Duquoin arrested here Thursday by Sheriff Helm and his deputies were arraigned before Justice Andrews late Friday evening on charges of conspiracy, trespass and intimidation and held to the grand jury in bonds ranging from $100 to $500 each.

OTTAWA, Ill., May 26.—A mob of 200 miners from Oglesby, a mining camp across the river from La Salle, marched to the Gorbet and Dick mines, south of Utica, which have been worked during the strike. The miners fled at their appearance and the strikers burned the wagons, sheds, tools and clothing found on the premises and wrecked the mines by knocking out the props in the entrances and letting the earth down into them. The mob having done all possible damage then marched back to Utica.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., May 26.—When a long west-bound freight train on the Big Four pulled in here at 9 o'clock Friday night the tops of the box cars were crowded with miners. They were on their way to Pana, Ill., where they said 4,000 Illinois miners were to assemble and try to persuade the men at work in the mines to join in the strike. The train was sidetracked and the engine run to a safe distance. The officials of the road had telegraphed to the chief of police asking protection for the company's property. The men were quiet, and only a few of them left the cars when they came to a stop. There were 800 or 1,000 of the strikers. Each carload formed a company and there was a captain for each company, with a man named Murphy from Brazil as commander. They came from different mining localities in Clay, Parke and Vigo counties. Assembling at Grant, a few miles east of here, they boarded the cars without offer of resistance by the train crew. All but 300 of the men are from bituminous mines, the 300 coming from the block coal mines in Clay county.

One of the leaders said that they had received a request from the Illinois strikers to come over and camp out at Pana to get the men to leave off work there. He said:

"If the 2,000 men at work in Illinois, of whom 600 are at Pana, would come out the strike would soon be brought to an end. They are keeping 150,000 men from going to work. We do not intend to commit any act of violence—just camp out and try to persuade the Pana boys to join us. We are orderly. We had a mass meeting and agreed that there was to be no violence. It was strictly understood that no man was to take a weapon on the trip."

COLUMBUS, O., May 26.—President McBride is a much worried man. He said Friday night: "This strike will be the greatest in the history of the world. If a settlement is not made soon I dare not contemplate the consequences. The worst is in the future. But there will be no settlement other than on the basis already offered by the miners."

President McBride has issued a circular to the miners deprecating all violence. Among other things he says: "In several places mine property has been destroyed, railroads interfered with and life jeopardized and lost. It must be understood that every miner who advances or participates in unlawful methods in the movement simply brings discredit upon us and aids the operators. All that is needed is to remain firm, keep cool, maintain the peace, protect property, and the victory is ours."

BARBAROUS STRIKERS.

They Throw a Lot of Dynamite Into a Cripple Creek Mine.

The Shaft Is Wrecked and Eleven Miners, Working Hundreds of Feet Below the Surface, Are Killed by the Explosion.

DEPUTIES FORCED TO SURRENDER.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Col., May 26.—Eleven men dead, with a report of other fatalities, marks the first day of active hostilities here, though a pitched battle has not yet taken place. At 10 o'clock Friday morning eleven men started to work in the Strong mine on Battle mountains. Shortly afterwards a large party of strikers blew up the shaft-house with powder, causing a loss of $25,000, and then dropped 100 pounds of giant powder down the shaft, which was also exploded, killing all the inmates.

Sam McDonald, superintendent of the Strong, Anna Lee and Gold King mines, and Charley Robinson, foreman of the Strong, are missing, which gives credence to the story of slaughter. If the men were in certain portions of the mine the concussion may not have killed them. Sam Strong, owner of the mine, is given as authority for the statement that eleven men were killed, though there is a rumor that the men were warned by a masked striker and got away safely.

Not more than 300 yards from the Strong shaft house sixteen men who had been engaged to go to work in the Independence mine were surrounded in their bunk house, and, after a long parley, agreed to surrender. Each one was armed with a rifle and a brace of revolvers. The arms are now in the possession of the strikers.

The deputies have withdrawn from the field. Their train has pulled out some distance on the Florence and Cripple Creek railway, there to remain until reinforcements arrive. Denver will send another trainload of hired fighters at 11 o'clock to-day. Colorado Springs will add several hundred and Leadville will contribute 200. These forces with those already in the field will aggregate 1,100 men, who are selected for courage. With a twelve pound rifled cannon at their head they will renew the assault by noon without, however, much prospect of dislodging the strikers, who are terribly effective in the use of giant powder and dynamite.

The Anna Lee, it is now said, was treated as was the Strong, and McDonald, the defiant superintendent, is reported dead. Following this the strikers erected fortifications on Battle mountain overlooking the Portland and Independence, and now have the two highest points in the district almost impregnable. Gov. Waite is considering the expediency of calling out the entire militia, infantry, artillery and cavalry, to capture the deputies imported from outside El Paso county, as the law expressly forbids such action. He favors martial law.

When the deputies are finally massed and the two forces come together a desperate battle will doubtless be fought. The situation is one of most painful anxiety. Not a few believe that the town will be a smoldering mass of ruins by another sunset if the strikers be not restrained.

At Victor, 6 miles away, where fully 1,000 persons reside, a reign of terror exists. Within a half mile of the corporation limits of the town all day long fully 300 union miners, armed with rifles, have paraded up and down the side of the hill. Occasionally a detour into the village would be made and persons whom the miners thought to be objectionable were ordered to leave the place. The guards from Denver upon arrival at Victor went into camp on a neighboring hill. The strikers threw out a picket line, entirely surrounding them, but at a distance that guarantees them safety from the deputies rifles.

It is said that the strikers have planted under their breastworks on Ball hill a quantity of dynamite, with the intention of blowing it up if it should be taken and occupied by the deputies. One of the largest mine-owners in Colorado Springs is author- ity for the statement that the mine-owners have planted a rifled cannon on a hill commanding the breast- works, and that it will be used to dis- lodge the strikers from that position. The capturing and disarming of deputies numbering eighteen was accom- plished by women, and ever since the occurrence two of the women have been holding high court in a saloon, where the strikers shower congratula- tions on them. Two wagons loaded with powder and cartridges for one of the mines were captured by the strikers and their contents confiscated.

FALL OF A BUILDING.

One of the Occupants Killed and Three Others Injured. New York, May 26.—While in process of reconstruction incident to a fire that recently damaged it an old four-story brick storage warehouse at No. 200 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, col- lapsed Friday afternoon at twenty minutes after 9 o'clock and buried half a dozen men in the ruins. One man was almost instantly killed and three injured. F. B. Lattimer con- ducted the business. He estimated the damage to his establishment at $24,000, and said there was about $20,000 worth of furniture stored in both buildings.

THE TARIFF DEBATE.

Senator Gorman Defends the Measure Now Before the Senate.

On the 23d Senator Gorman (dem., Md.) made a reply to the attacks that had been made upon him, explaining the necessity for the com- promise. He rehearsed the difficulties that had con- fronted the democratic party in dealing with the question of tariff reform. The difficulty was not all in opposition but in internal dis- sension as to how the fruits of victory should be secured. What he claimed that action by the present congress had not been unusually delayed. It was the last of September before the president signed the McKinley bill, and this is only May.

The Wilson bill, he said, had been reported to the house before its effect upon existing in- dustries could be properly studied; an imper- fect measure that not only failed to meet the treasury demands but actually increased the duties created by the republican prohibitive duties.

There was no expectation that it would be- come a law unchanged. The senate had al- ways perfected such bills, yet no sooner did the finance committee begin its work than the cry for "action" was renewed with extra- ordinary vigor, and the democratic senators were informed that any change would be set down as a "betrayal of the party's promises," and that every senator who showed the least con- cern for the interests of his own state was a traitor to the union and his party; that the senate was no longer a coordinate body, but its sole duty was to ratify blindly the action of the house.

In answer to the charges by the republicans, Senator Gorman asserted that the bill had been constructed on the democratic theory of a tariff for revenue, with such incidental protection as could be given consistently to the in- dustries of the country. It followed stupidly the course marked out by President Cleveland in his letter of acceptance, upon which he was re-elected, and the democratic party intrusted with full power. If there had been the slight- est apprehension in the public mind of a radical overturning of our industrial affairs Mr. Cleveland would not have been elected.

This was not a free trade measure, but it was a longer step for freer trade than either the Mills bill or the tariff act of 1883. It was not for protection for protection's sake, but it did discriminate between raw materials and man- ufactured articles to the full extent of the difference between European and American wages. Nor was it a deficit-creating bill, such as the present law was or the house bill would have been. It was democratic because it re- duced taxation to the requirements of the gov- ernment. It was just, it was wise, it was busi- nesslike, it was patriotic and it was prudent, because it did not attempt to ignore fact in carrying out a theory. It was not perfect, but it was the most logical, most fair, most broad, most timely, and would prove to be the most advantageous tariff legislation enacted since the republican party sprang into existence.

The assertion that any trust or trusts have dictated any part of any schedule of this bill I pronounce as unqualifiedly false. They have received the same attention, although not as much consideration, as individuals engaged in the business of manufacture—no more and no less. We felt the necessity of dealing all such combinations a death blow, but we found them so hedged about by the bounty and other de- vices of republican statesmen that it was possible only to curtail their privileges to the farthest limit consistent with the rights of others intimately concerned, but not responsi- ble.

I consider that it has no fitting place in our fiscal system in a time of peace. I could not vote conscientiously to make this method of taxation a part of our settled policy, but, much as I deplore the fastening of an income tax in any form upon our tariff bill, I cannot, as a democrat, bound in honor to let no ordinary prejudice or difference of opinion prevent the passage of a tariff measure, refuse to vote for this amendment, simply and solely, however, as an emergency tax.

IN GREAT PERIL.

Miners and Visitors Climb Up Ladders Out of a Mine.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 25.—At 9 o'clock Thursday morning 125 members of the New York Coal exchange on a visit here started, under guidance of Superintendent Lawal and other officers of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company, to inspect the work- ings of the South Wilkesbarre shaft and breakers. This shaft has an out- put of 70,000 tons of coal a month, and the great breaker, only three years old, has a capacity of 4,000 tons a day. Some of the party had descended the shaft, which is 1,000 feet deep. Nine others were on the carriage 500 feet down. Others of the party, including the superintendent, were waiting to descend.

Those at the shaft and those waiting to go down were terrified by a terrible explosion. One of the eighteen boilers had burst. There were 400 workmen inside the mine and the explosion had paralyzed the hoisting power and the big ventilator. The mines are the most gaseous of the country and half an hour meant death with the fans stopped. The carriage, descending with nine of the New Yorkers, had stuck 500 feet down.

The workmen inside at once noticed the stoppage of the air current. They rushed to the foot of the shaft and told the visitors that they must climb straight up the curbing to the surface. All grasped the cross bars nailed to the timbers and toiled slowly up to the surface, assisted and encouraged by the miners.

A thousand persons had collected around the shaft. As the men began to swarm out the crowd cheered wild- ly, expecting, however, to hear that some one had lost his hold and fallen, to be crushed in a shapeless mass. But all had clung fast. Some fainting as soon as they reached the surface from the strain. At noon all the New York- ers were safely out and all but a few miners, while workmen were busy re- pairing breaks in the steam pipes.

St. Louis Four Courts Crumbling.

St. Louis, May 25.—It has long been known that the Four Courts building was in a condition of decay. Presi- dent McMath, of the board of public improvements, has received a com- munication from the board of public commissioners setting forth that the building was dangerous to life and recommending that the building be torn down. The building is daily thronged by thousands.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mu- cous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from re- putable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly de- rive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure man- ufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken inter- nally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testi- monials free.

Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. Hall's Family Pills, 25 cents.

Free as Air.

Although long and obstinately obstructed, free as air become the bowels when Hos- tetter's Stomach Bitters is used to relieve and regulate them. Not that the great laxative operates unduly upon them. Quite the contrary. Neither does it cause griping. In both these particulars it is preferable to a violent cathartic. Use the Bitters for ma- larial and rheumatic ailments, kidney trou- ble, biliousness, dyspepsia and nervousness.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live bet- ter than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleas- ant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxa- tive; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kid- neys, Liver and Bowels without weak- ening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance. Syrup of Figs is for sale by all drug- gists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is man- ufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.

Here and There.

How doth the little busy ad. employ each shining minute, and show, that though trade is quoted "bad," that still there's something in it.

There is no occasion to be frightened over small-pox. Many girls look just too sweet for anything on crutches, and often a cane is sufficient.

A man in Stevens Point, Wis., was shot by a neighbor the other evening for singing "After the Ball." On reflection, it seems exceedingly strange that this should be the first instance of the kind.

They must have cunning eyes we ween who see things that are not visible to the naked eye. Yet some folks are all the time trying to make us believe they are the fortunate possessors of optics of that kind.

An Alameda woman who had been married to thirteen different men has just gone where, according to best authority, there is neither marrying nor giving in marriage. It is a puzzle to surviving friends how she will contrive to amuse herself.

A proof-reader who reads aloud three hundred and odd days in the year must envy that fellow in Paris his spiral silver larynx, covered with rubber—which, say our dispatches, he can insert and remove at pleasure, for a metal throat would never get tired.

Sullivan appeared the other night before an audience of New York sports and was hooted at by his old worshippers. The mighty had fallen, but when he said, "Laughing at me, eh? I'll get out," and got, he displayed an intelligence that even people never his admirers, cannot justly overlook.

According to Figaro, a new and successful industry has been discovered in the selling of rabbit skins to confectioners for the making of calf's foot jelly. The hair is taken off and used for stuffing of couches, manufacture of hats, etc.; then the skin is subjected to certain processes until the oils are extracted. It is said that over 5,000,000 skins are annually imported into England from Melbourne alone.

A young girl in New York whose soul revels in large bunches of violets, has devised a scheme by means of which she "can have her cake and penny too." She has purchased a large bunch of artificial violets which are so natural that any one would be deceived by them. To these she adds each day a ten cent bunch of the real article and thus keeps herself supplied with what passes for large bunches of her favorite flower.

It is gratifying to know that at least one American girl cannot be bought with a title. There are others, no doubt, but Miss Maude Alice Burke, in refusing Prince Poniatowski, has set an example that many of her country women will do well to follow. The day when a king or any of his royal descendants, can win a woman by merely shaking his handkerchief at her is over, for Republican America at least.

In one vault of the Philadelphia mint there are stored 50,000,000 silver dollars which have to be counted at stated intervals to verify the accounts. Some of the bags containing these coins having become decayed, gave way, and the counters had to literally run for their lives to escape the cataract of dollars. In the silver downfall there were $200,000 and $1,000,000 were expected to follow. Nobody was injured and we are spared the harrowing spectacle of imprisoned counters being dug out by rescue parties from under piles of the metal.

Onions are a kind of all round good medicine, and every housewife knows this without knowing why. She knows that a solid red onion eaten at bedtime will by the next morning break the severest cold. She also knows that onions make a good plaster to remove inflammation and hoarseness. But she does not know why. If anyone would take an onion and smash it so as to secure all the juice in it, he would have a most remarkable substance that would quiet the most nervous person. The strength of it inhaled for a few moments will dull the sense of smell and weaken the nerves until sleep is produced from sheer exhaustion. It all comes from one property possessed by the onion, and that is a form of opium.—Ex.

An exchange voices the sentiment of every newspaper in the country when it says: "Complaint is sometimes made that one social event receives more extended notice in a newspaper than another similar event of equal or possibly greater importance. This is undoubtedly true, and it is easily explained. Better facilities for getting information are extended in one case than in the other. There are many demands upon a reporter's time and he has little to spare in looking up society news, except such as comes directly in his way. When details of social affairs can be obtained without much effort, or, better still, brought to him, they are gladly published. Otherwise the mention is necessarily brief and lacking in detail. Those who complain have the remedy in their own hands."

Plant Food.

In all soils there will be found certain plant foods, some scarce and others in abundance, but such foods are in the form of insoluble substances and unavailable for use. All plant food has to be brought to a liquid condition before the rootlets can take it up to nourish growth. If cultivation is given, and warmth, air and moisture enter the soil, a certain degree of chemical action is the result, and when some such substance as lime is applied chemical action is hastened or promoted, because it unites with some other substance existing in an inert condition in the soil. The chemistry of nature is wonderful. Really, by the application of lime, disintegration of inert food material takes place, and a struggle for position of the atoms occurs, the result being that there is a breaking down of molecules, the creations of new compounds and the formation of salts that are soluble and which can be utilized by the plants. This demolition of molecules and particles is constantly occurring, but may be hastened or increased according to the treatment of the soil by the farmer. Many poor soils have been made very fertile simply because the insoluble matter has been rendered soluble although nothing may have been added to the soil.—Patriot.

An Incredible Story.

Many good people living in secluded spots do not realize how serious a study the game of whist has become of late years. A certain gentleman and his wife who settled in a country town brought with them from Boston a love of whist and recently gave a whist party to some of their neighbors, who came as people doing something daring. A day or two later one of the older ladies of the village extorted from her daughter the confession that she had been at the whist party.

"What do they do at whist parties?" she asked.

"Why, they play cards," was the response.

"That's what I'd heard," was the old lady's retort, "but I didn't believe it."

Gems of Thought.

When people get rich how soon they forget how to give.

If we would look for more to love we would see less to hate.

It is hard to convince a dyspeptic that the world is growing better.

The more we do to help others the lighter our burdens will become.

A lie is always several shades blacker than the sin it tries to hide.

Nobody needs your prayers any more than the people you do not like.

Not mine this saying, but the sentence of the sage: nothing is stronger than necessity.

There are people who never accomplish anything because they undertake to do too much.

Narrowness of mind is often the cause of obstinacy; we do not easily believe beyond what we can see.

There ought to be more people getting religion so that those living in the same house with them can see it.

It seems to me that the sun's average distance from the earth is not yet settled upon to the satisfaction of those interested in that curious topic of research. From a discussion of all the data obtainable, Professor Harkness of Washington, has recently stated the most probable value of the parallax to be 8.90905 seconds of arc, corresponding to a distance of close to 93,800,000 miles. In a recent article Professor Auwers gives the result of 754 different measurements obtained by the German astronomers who observed the transits of Venus in 1874 and 1882. It is 8.88 seconds, corresponding to a distance of 61,800,000 miles, or a round million of miles away from the Harkness computation. On this point it may be interesting to note the changes that have been made in estimates of the distance. The most ancient ones known were less than 5,000 miles. That of the age of Ptolemy less than 5,000,000 miles; the one used by astronomers in the eighteenth century less than 88,000,000; that generally taught in the schools after Encke had attached undue importance to the records made by Father Hell at Wardhus, in computing from the transits of Venus in 1761 and 1769, was in excess of 95,000,000. This was cut down to less than 91,500,000 about thirty years ago, and since then the most generally accepted estimate is about 93,000,000 miles. It may be stated as probable that the Harkness value of the parallax, being nearly a mean of all the more important deductions of the quantity from the work of astronomical observers of different nations, will probably be accepted as the nearest approximation to the truth in spite of its wide divergence from the German value.

Recipes for Shoe Dressing.

Here are two recipes for making a dressing for shoes: Take 3 drams of spermaceti oil, 3 ounces of good molasses and 4 ounces of finely powdered ivory black and stir them together thoroughly. Then stir in half a pint of good vinegar, and the dressing is ready for use. It gives a bright, clean surface and makes the shoes look almost like new. The second dressing is for rainy weather and is said to make the shoes water-proof. Take an ounce of beeswax, an ounce of turpentine and a quarter of an ounce of burgundy pitch. Put them into half a pint of cottonseed oil and melt together over a slow fire, being careful that the mixture does not take fire.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Millions of Egyptian Mummies.

Competent authorities estimate that not less than 400,000,000 of human mummies were made in Egypt from the time of the beginning of the art of embalming until its discontinuance in the seventh century. Herodotus and Diodorus both agree in the statement that there are three grades in the embalming process, the first costing not less than a sum equal to $1,225, the second about one-fifth that amount, and the third cheaper than common earth burial.
