Fair Items.

Everything that goes to benefit and build up an agricultural community, benefits and makes prosperous the whole community within the same or greater radius. So city, village or town, is in a measure, benefited by the prosperity around them. Chelsea is wide awake to these facts, and is making preparations for grand displays at our coming fair, her streets and stores will be decorated in gala dress; the homes of her citizens will float to the passing breeze, the colors of the nations triumph of Liberty, the Star Spangled banner, the emblem of protection, to American citizens the world around. Besides her merchants will make fine displays at the fair grounds

There will be two good bands of music in attendance daily. A game of ball Wednesday, Oct. 10th, between Gregory and Chelsea, at 10 o'clock a. m., which promises to be of great interest. A balloon ascension each day of the fair. The ascensions will be made by Prof. W. W. McEwen, of Jackson. We have secured his service Oct. 12th, especially to entertain the children, being School Day on that date.

The Michigan Central Railroad will sell half fare tickets between Ypsilanti and Chelsea and Jackson and Chelsea and return, good for dates Oct. 9, 10, 11 and 12 inclusive. So it will be as cheap for people along the line of the M. C. R. R. to come to the Chelsea fair as it will be for them to stay at home, so come and we will entertain you in gorgeous fashion. Chelsea will be hospitable, engaging and generous. We have the greater array of attractions for you this year, than of any previous meeting of the Society.

Look for large and small bills giving tuller particulars. Everything is moving along smoothly. Success is certain.

M. A. LOWRY, Pres.

Owning vs. Renting Land.

Statistics show eyen in the West that a large proportion of farmers rent instead of owning their land. It is probably due to the retirement of those who have passed the three score and ten limit, and yet hold on to their farms as a safe means of securing revenue for their remaining days. We cannot believe that the renters will not buy the farms if they have a good chance. The money is safer on a mortgage than the rent would be. When a man works rented land there is constant temptation to take from it all he can and best for both parties.—American Gultivator 28

Long Death Roll Reported from Cyclone-Swept States.

Total of Upwards of Seventy Victim in Minnesota and Iowa-Many Others Injured - The Property Loss Enormous.

IT DEALT DEATH. ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 24.-The cy clone of Friday night that swept of the worst that ever visited this section. At least seventy persons were killed and many others were fatally injured. In addition several towns were wrecked, some of them being totally demolished.

Just how many lives have been lost is still uncertain, but the reports received indicate that certainly not less than seventy are dead while some reports place the number from seventy to 100. The towns damaged or destroyed are Cylinder, Burt, Forest City and Manly Junction, in Iowa; Leroy, Spring Valley, Dodge Center, Homer and Lowther, Minn., and Marshland, Wis.

Eliminating apparent duplications of names of dead the following from points in Iowa is fairly accurate: Algona, 19; north of Garner, 18; north of Britt, 16; near Manly, 12.

In Minnesota the storm seemed to start at Leroy, after traveling in the air for several miles. Three persons were killed at this place. At Chatfield, Minn., a dance was in progress at the opera house when the storm descended upon the town. The building was blown down and many persons were hurt. Sixty houses in all were demolished and 100 persons were injured. At Spring Valley three were killed.

ALGONA, Ia., Sept. 24.—Sunday was a day of sorrow for Kossuth county. Nineteen funerals were held and others will come, for at least six more will die. The injured reported are thirty-nine in number.

The storm as witnessed from this place was one of grandeur. A funnelshaped cloud of inky blackness swept along to the northeast, illuminated by almost continuous flashes of lightning. The thunder was deep and continuous. The opera house was packed to witness a popular play, and a panic was almost caused by the war of the elements. Robert Stevenson, living 4 miles north of Whittemore, was the first victim. He was hit in several places by flying missiles and a stick was driven into his head. He was unconscious until death Sunday morning. His grove looked as if it had been mowed by a scythe. Calvin Barrick's house on the Henry Durant place was made into kindling wood in an instant and all of the fourteen occupants except two children were injured. Mrs. Barrick was hit in the back by timber and her spine is so injured that her body and lower limbs are paralyzed. Charles Lee, 6 years old, was hit on the head and will die. The house of Fred Pompe was completely demolished but his wife and five children came out of the wreck unhurt, The force of the wind was such that barbed wire was stripped from the posts. At George Holman's the roof of the house went, leaving the walls standing, and the whole family were carried about 30 rods, one child being killed. M. W. Ferguson's family were carried some distance through the air and all but one landed in a willow hedge. An infant went a little farther and was found seated on a piece of roof. The wife of Swan Peterson had her skull cut open in two places, and the exposed parts of her head were literally packed with sand, plaster, hair and grass. The destruction of property will not be less than $100,000. George W. Beavers, 3 miles north of Algona, had just got home from the fair. He got into the house with his wife and two children and an adopted boy and was just getting down cellar when the cyclone struck the house and demolished it completely. The entire family were covered with the ruins and blown about 4 rods into the the republicans nominated E. D. Cooke, road, Beavers had the baby in his arms and with it he made his way north to the house of Christian Dau, his father-in-law, for help. His wife was just dying when he returned and his little girl gasped "Papa, papa," and expired.

Osage also felt the storm's terrific force At Emmetsburg the amphitheater at the fair grounds was wrecked, also one residence dwelling. Several are reported injured here. Four miles north of Wesley great destruction was caused. At Cylinder the whole family of Alexander Goldman, consisting of himself, wife and two children, were killed. About ten are injured. Six dwellings were demolished and a large number of outbuildings. Reports say there were nine killed in the vicinity of Cylinder and Emmetsburg. Three miles north of Wesley, J. Bingham's house was overturned and set on fire. The inmates had a narrow escape. It is variously estimated that from twentyfive to thirty were injured in all here.

cyclone which resulted in the death of six people, fatal injuries to seven others and the partial destruction of the towns of Homer, Leroy, Spring Valley and Dodge Center. The property loss will amount to $300,000.

aminations for the baking powder awards were made by the experts of the chemical division of the Agricultural Department of Washington. The official report of the tests of the baking powders which were made by this de partment for the specific purpose of ascertaining which was the best, and which has been made public, shows the leavening strength of the Royal to be 100 cubic inches of carbonic gas per ounce of powder. Of the cream of tarta baking powders exhibited at the Fair the next highest in strength thus tested contained but 133 cubic inches of leaven ing gas. The other powders gave as average of 111. The Royal, therefore was found of 20 per cent. greater leavening strength than its nearest competitor, and 44 per cent. above the average of all the other tests. Its superiority in other respects, however, in the quality of food it makes as to fineness, delicacy and wholesomeness, could not be measured by figures. It is these high qualities, known and appreciated by the women of the coun-

This morning Jan was standing at the door placidly smoking his pipe and looking away towards the mountains with a self-satisfied expression. The scene presented to his phlegmatic mind simply earth, vegetation and air, while in the clear, propitious weather he discerned alone the promise of extended patronage. As he stood there, wrapped in pleasant anticipations, he heard a faint, low, steady rumbling, as if of distant thunder. He looked up quickly. There were no clouds in the sky. What could it mean? Jan took the pipe from his mouth and listened. Suddenly a shout, accompanied by the report of a number of revolvers, startled the neighbors far and near, and there issued from the gulch a black mass which shortly resolved itself into a body of horsemen bearing down towards the town. Jan watched them lazily, thinking of the money he would be able to raise from them.

Nearer and nearer sounded the clattering of horses' hoofs, until Jan could almost hear each separate footfall, and presently they slowed up and stopped outside his door.

One of them, a burly fellow, asked him for a certain kind of liquor, and after the keeper of the tavern had taken it from the shelf and turned about, his smile was suddenly transformed to a look of horror, for he saw several revolvers leveled at him.

"Dutchy," said the burly fellow, "don't you know you're desecratin' the best day in the week by keepin' yer saloon open?"

"Well, how can I help it, gentlemen? It's the best day for business."

"Business or no business, old man, you've got to reform. We're a Salvation army, we are, and don't you forget it." "Fetch down them bottles from that pelled obedience. Before the cavalcade moved on he had been obliged to see the destruction of a large part of his wares, and the unfortunate man was left standing amid a confusion of broken kegs, neekless bottles and pools of wines and liquors, wringing his hands and calling down maledictions upon his persecutors, who were now continuing their mad career down the street. The cowboys soon came in sight of the little church standing in a lot surrounded by a rough picket fence, couch in the further corner. while a few small poplar trees seemed endeavoring to cast a little shade

"An' fer you, parson," said Spot, pointing his revolver at the trembling man. "I sin't had no one to pray for me since I was a little kid at my mammy's knee. You jist get down on your knees and pray fer me now."

The little man did not seem quite ready to depart for the better land, so, covered by Spot's revolver, he was obliged to sink on his knees and begin his prayer.

"Lord," he prayed in a quivering voice-"Oh, Lord-forgive and protect -this poor sinner."

"See here, now, I don't want you givin' the Lord no mistaken impression 'bout me. You tell him about the benefit I am t' this yere world."

The parson prayed for some time, then prepared to rise. "That ain't enough," shouted Spot, flourishing his revolver. "I'll be hanged of I'm not goin' to have enough prayin' to last me a week, and here's all these boys ain't been prayed for yet." So the parson resumed his prayer.

Several times he attempted to finish and arise, but every time Spot compelled him to return to his prayer. At last, when he was out of breath, stiff in every joint and sick with fright, Spot condescendingly said:

"There, little 'un, that's enough. And now we're going to take up a collection. Boys, take yer hats 'roun', 'n' don't let any guilty man escape."

Nobody seemed to know, but he was told where she lived, and the cavalcade of cowboys turned their horses around, and passed from the church into the bright sunlight.

The horse had been trotting briskly, but upon nearing the little, half-decayed shanty standing alone among the sage brush and wild flowers their pace slackened, and they finally came to a standstill before the broken gate. "Who's a-goin' to take the money

"Yes," he said, "I live here and I am a cowboy.

"How long have you been following this occupation? How long have you been in Colorado? You were not born in the west, I know, for you have neither the speech nor the manners of the people. Where did you come from? Tell me, I implore you."

"Why, madam, I'm perfectly willing to tell you. My home was in New Haven, Conn., God bless it, and I came west eight years ago. Since then I've tasted the sweetness of prosperity and the bitterness of adversity.

"About a year ago l had a comfortable sum of money and was preparing to return to the east, when by an unlucky speculation I lost it all. Then I drifted into my present situation. But I mean to accomplish something before I go home to my dear old mother.

"But I am forgetting my errand," continued Billy. "My friends and I have brought you a little offering, which I hope will be acceptable. It should be, for it is a present from the good church members of the village, who beg you will accept it with their compliments."

He advanced to the side of the couch and bent down to place the contents of his hat in her lap. As he did so a ray of light stole through the halfclosed blinds and fell upon the woman's face.

"My God!" He started back paler than his companion, while the hat dropped heavily to the floor.

In the meantime, his companions outside were becoming impatient. "Wonder what's keepin' th' feller so "I should think he could. Tell you what, I'll just creep aroun' t' th' winler 'n see what he's up to," said Spot,

Dropping on his knees he cautiously peered through the half-closed blinds. The next moment he had fallen backward and was soon hastening to his comrades with a curious expression on

"Well, what's up, Spot?" he was asked.

"I du' know," replied Spot, scratching his head; "pears like Billy's gone and got mashed on the widder. He's down on his knees 'fore th' bed a-holdin' her in his arms."

At this moment Billy appeared at the door with his sombrero pulled well down over his eyes.

"Boys," he stammered, and the strong man's lips quivered-"boys, there's an old lady inside who wants to know my friends. Come in. It's my mother."-Californian.

The great hive of lady Maccabees elected the following officers:

Great commander, Mrs. Lillian M. Hollister, Detroit: lieutenant commander, Mrs. Frances Burns, St. Louis; record keeper, Miss Emma E. Bower, Ann Arbor; finance keeper, Mrs. Suste R. Graves, Port Huron; medical examiner, Miss Emma E. Cook, Detroit; chaplain, Mrs. Mary O. Knight, Lansing.

Spring Versus Winter.

Rosa Schlesinger, 30 years of age, has commenced a suit for breach of promise against Louis Barnett, 70 years of age, in the Wayne circuit court at Detroit. The young woman demands $10,000 as a balm for the dispelling of her dream of married bliss. She claims that Mr. Barnett promised to marry her in good faith, and that the wedding day was set, but that he then repudiated his engagement. Mr. Barnett claims that he never promised to marry Rosa at all.

State Board of Health Report.

Reports to the state board of health by seventy-seven observers in different parts of the state ended September 15 show that tonsilitis increased, and that whooping cough decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 234 places, scarlet fever at of the terminal company on the cars, forty, typhoid fever at sixty-one, diphtheria at twenty-five, measles at five, and smallpox at Detroit.

Declines to Run. At a meeting in Lansing of the democratic state central committee Elliot G. Stevenson, of Detroit, was chosen chairman of the committee in place of John Strong, of South Rockford, who declined to accept the place. Secretary Hosford announced the withdrawal from the ticket of Milton F. Jordan, of Barry county, nominee for lieutenant governor.

Michigan Bankers.

At the annual meeting in Bay City of the Michigan Bankers' association officers were chosen as follows:

President, S. M. Cutcheon, Dime Savings bank. Detroit; first vice president, L. H. Withey, Michigan Trust company, Grand Rapids; second vice president. W. H. Withington, Union bank, Jackson; secretary, Frederick W. Hayes, Preston National bank, Detroit; treasurer, W. T. DeGraff, National bank, De-

PREY OF FLAMES.

Elevator and Docks at Portland, Ore., Burned-Loss, $1,500,000.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 24.—The most disastrous fire in the history of this city broke out at 4:80 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the dock of the Pacific Coast Elevator company and raged for three hours, destroying property valued at nearly $1,500,000.

The scene of the fire is across the river from the main part of the city and it was at least fifteen minutes before more than one engine could respond to the general alarm. When the engines arrived the fire was beyond control, and in half an hour from the time it started the docks for half a mile were on fire. Nothing could be done but to let the fire burn itself out.

The fire started in the dock below the Pacific Coast Elevator company's main building and the wind drove the flames to the elevator itself. The flames shot into the air 200 feet, making a beautiful sight in the twilight. The coal bunkers of the North Pacific Terminal company, on the west, were next attacked and soon were a seething mass of flames. On the east was the Oregon Railway & Navigation company's wharf, 400 feet in length, and this, too, was soon on fire. There was no means of getting water on the fire except from the river, and the fireboat is an improvised old scow and of very little service.

The elevator contained nearly half a million bushess of wheat. The new plant of the Portland General Electric company, which had just arrived from Lynn, Mass, was standing in the yards not having been unloaded. The plant occupied an entire train, and the machinery was of the most expensive kind, the most of which was destroyed and the remainder badly damaged. Two hundred freight cars, eighty of which were loaded, were destroyed. The Oregon Railway & Navigation dock held 1,500 tons of freight, consisting of wool, salmon, general merchandise and cement, all of which was destroyed with the dock. There were stored on the dock about 12,000 cases of salmon from the lower Columbia river and Puget sound awaiting shipment for the east. It was valued at about $40,000 and was partly insured.

Three men are supposed to have perished in the elevator. Charles Anderson, a man named Brown and one named Murray were seen at an upperstory window of the elevator and it is thought they were all burned. Every available locomotive at the terminal works was set to work moving freight cars out of danger, but the fire burned so rapidly that all could not be moved away. Sparks from the fire went across the river and set fire to the boneyard, but it was extinguished before any serious damage to the yard was done. The large steamboat Williamette Chief, moored at the yard, took fire and burned. She was used as a towboat and was valued at about $45,000.

The losses, as near as can be ascertained at this time, are as follows: North Pacific Elevator company, $500,-000; Portland General Electric company, machinery, $50,000; coal bunkers of the North Pacific Terminal company, $40,000; Oregon Railway & Navigation company, on dock, freight cars and steamer Williamette Chief, $250,-000; merchandise on docks, $200,000. The insurance carried will reach $500,-000. The Liverpool & London and Globe Insurance company has a large share of the policies.

A JURIST'S FATE.

Judge Thurston, of the New York Supreme Court, Killed.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 24. - Judge Ariel Standish Thurston, of Elmira, N. Y, a supreme court judge, fell downstairs and broke his neck at 1 o'clock Sunday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Gayley, wife of James Gayley, general manager of the Edgar Thompson steel works and blast furnace at Braddock. The judge and his wife had been visiting at his granddaughter's since last Thursday. He was 85 years old. He was frequently troubled with sleeplessness and often on these occasions would arise and read for an hour or two. It is supposed he arose in the night and started to go downstairs to the library for a book, and becoming confused in the hall, stumbled and fell backward down the broad stair case from top to bottom. Judge Thurston was born in New Hampshire and his father was an officer in Washington's army during the revolution. His family removed to Elmira, N. Y., sixty years ago, where he has since resided, and held many positions of trust. He died wealthy. He was especially well known throughout western and central New York.

Bran Dearer than Wheat.

The value of bran as food has been so exaggerated by some agricultural writers that the demand has put it beyond the reach of farmers who are not carried away by this new fad. In truth, bran as made nowadays is mainly the husk of the wheat grain, and it is not worth nearly so much as it used to be when much of the gluten went with it. Then bran was really the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paine, of valuable. Now, though worth but little, West Middle street, a few days of last it sometimes sells at more per pound than does wheat. A Canada farmer took a few bushels of wheat to mill and intended to return with a load of bran. He found the pound, while his wheat would hardly bring as much. He has concluded here

The History of a Cent.

The first American cent was "struck off" and put in circulation just one hundred and one years ago, in 1793. Previous to that date several "pattern pieces" had been made, but they were experiments only, and were never put in circulation. The so-called "Washington cents," which existed previous to the date above given, were not issued by the government, and were, therefore, only medals. The cent of 1793 was very similiar to the large copper cents of later date, with the exception that the face of "Liberty" was turned to the right, and the legend, "One Cent," was inclosed in a chain of thirteen

Sleep, the Great Physician.

Sleep as a prolonger of life is upheld by a curious calculation which appeared in a recent medical work on the digestive organs and faculties. The duration of human life may be ascertained by the pulsations of the body. Say a man lives to 70 years, his heart beating 60 to the minute; the pulsations in that time foot up to 2,207,520,000. If by intemperance or any oth r cause he raises pulsation to 75 a minute, the same number of pulsations would be finished in 56 years, thereby abbreviating his life by 14 years. And as the number of pulsations is less in a sleeping than in a waking state, it stands to reason that a long sleeper has a much better prospect of a long life than a person who is satisfied with short naps. Napoleon I., who slept very little, did not attain old age; General Butler, who could sleep at will, rounded out a good ripe sheaf of

What Paper is Made Of.

Paper is one of the most lavishly used articles of modern times. The materials of the state exchanges received during the of which it can be made are almost as dry summer just past complained of there numerous and common as the uses to which the finished article is put.

There are something over 2,000 patents told, that over in Bellevue people have had covering the making of paper. It may be manufactured under one of them, from leaves of trees, from hop piants, bean hold swill. John Stirling contemplated stalks, pea vines, from the trunks and running a sprinkler ahead of the steamer stems of Indian corn and every variety of grain, from mose, clover and timothy hay, and more than 100 kinds of grasses# from straw and cocoanut fibre; from fresh water weeds and sea weeds; from sawdust, shavings and asbestos; from thistle and could wipe their face on the small sheets thistle down; from banana skins, tobacco of water. Eaton Rapids is a mighty dry stalks and tan bark; from hair, wool, fur, old sacking or bagging and from almost any other imaginable refuse .- Kate Field's Washington.

A GRAPHIC idea of the immense size of Siberia may be gleaned from the following comparison: All of the states, kingdoms, principalities, empires, etc., of Europe (except Russia) and all of the United States, including Alaska, could be placed side by side in Siberia and yet the uncovered space would be equal to a country containing an area of 300,000 square miles.

THE St. Louis authorities have adopted a plan of conveying patients from the dispensary to the city hospital by means of an electric railway ambulance. A street car, with electric motor attachments, has been fitted up as an ambulance. It is intended to run the car to all parts of the city in response to ambulance calls. The car will be permitted to make an average speed of twelve miles per hour.

THE danger of the destruction of foliage by the ravages of insects was foreseen this summer by the authorities of Rochester, N. But that sum was represented in 8,500,000 cocoons destroyed, and resulted in effectually ridding the Rochester trees of the nuisance.

The Chinese Suffer Defeat on Land and Sea.

Decisive Engagement at Ping Yang-Desperate Naval Battle Off Yalu-Li Hung Chang Suffers-Big Army Headed for Pekin.

LI HUNG CHANG DEGRADED. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Information of the official degradation of Viceroy Li Hung Chang came to the state department Tuesday in a dispatch from Charles Denby, the United States charge d'affaires in Pekin. It was to the effect that the emperor of China had deprived the viceroy of two of his decorations for his failure to properly conduct the military operations, and stated further that he would probably be subjected to still greater punishment.

Fought in Yalu Bay. SHANGHAI, Sept. 21.—Early reports of the great naval battle in Yalu bay between Japanese and Chinese forces have been confirmed. Both sides are yet claiming the victory. The loss was very heavy on both sides, during the engagement while the Chinese lost two, including the flag ship, Chin Yuen, the pride of the Chinese navy. Early dispatches reported the loss of this boat, but it was supposed it had been confounded with the Chao Yung. The latter was rammed so hard that she was beaghed in order to avoid capture by the ... panese.

The Chinese claim they defeated the Japanese fleet. This claim is not entirely indorsed by the correspondent at Port Arthur, which lies across the Gulf of Corea from the scene of the engagement. He says he has seen some of the Chinese officers who took part in the battle, and from what he gleaned from them it is apparent they did not believe their fleet had been victorious. On to Pekin.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 22. - Field Marshal Yamagata, commanding the Japanese forces in Corea, is marching with 45,-000 troops against Moukden from the southeast. The object of attack is one of the strategic points and should it fall into Japanese hands the progress of the invaders of Chinese soil would Yalu Naval Battle. LONDON, Sept. 22.—Dispatches received here from Shanghai say that the total number of the Chinese fleet engaged in the battle fought off boats. The Japanese fleet, it is added, was composed of seventeen ships, some of which were small war vessels. The Chinese claim to have sunk the Japanese warships Abushima and Yossina and a Japanese transport which had been converted into a cruiser and named the Saiko. A private report received here from Shanghai declares that these vessels were not sunk, as the Chinese claim, but that they retired from the action in a disabled condition. It is reported that the after she had landed her troops, but this is thought to be probably incorrect. The report that Admiral Ting and Col. Von Hannekin were severely wounded seems to be incorrect, for they have both returned to duty.

The officials of the Japanese legation here have received a private cable message from Yokohama saying that on September 16 twelve Chinese warships encountered nine Japanese ships, with the result that after severe fighting the Chinese lost four vessels and the Japanese none.

Powers to Interpose.

London, Sept. 24.—The Berlin correspondent of the Standard says that negotiations are in progress between Germany, England and Russia relative to the war between China and Japan, and that identical instructions will probably be sent to their respective ministers at Pekin.

Four Commanders Killed.

LONDON, Sept. 24. - A dispatch to the Central News from Shanghai dated 6 p. m., September 21, says: "The commanding officers of four of the Chinese warships were killed in the engagement off the mouth of the Yalu river. Admiral Ting was wounded in the cheek and leg, but in neither case seriously. Five of the transport ships are still missing. Three Chinese transports are reported to have been captured. All of the Chinese warships that were not sunk are badly damaged. The Japanese ships are preparing for another at-

Japan's Empress Prepares Bandages.

Washingron, Sept. 24.—Dispatches received at the Japanese legation here give further confirmation of the sea fight off Yalu and add the interesting information that the empress of Japan, as chief patroness of the Red Cross society in that country, is personally engaged daily with her court ladies in preparing bandages, lints, etc., for wounded Chinese as well as Japanese engaged in the recent great battles of Ping Yang and Yalu. The activity of the empress in personally directing the humane work of the Red Cross while the emperor has gone to the front is a source of pride among the Japanese officials here.

Mr. Kurino, the new Japanese minister, was in consultation with Secretary Gresham for some time in pursuance of the negotiation of a new treaty of trade and commerce, which will contain no assertion of the right of extra-territorial jurisdiction by the United States in Japan.

BUSINESS STILL IMPROVING. But It Is Still Far Below a Full Volume for the Season.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 -R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Plenty of material for encouragement and also for discouragement can be found by those who seek that and nothing else. But business men who want to see the situation exactly as it is find accounts so far conflicting that it is difficult to strike a balance. In the aggregate business is about a tenth larger than last year. but still falls about 25 per cent. below a full volume for the season.

The iron business, after its great increase of output last month, shows a disappointing weakness at all eastern and central markets with consumption not large enough to keep fairly employed the mills in operation.

In textile fabrics there has been a distinct decrease in trade, as initial stocks for the next season have been ordered and dealers are now waiting for the retail trade to give encourage ment for further purchase. The strike at Fall River and New Bodford has not ceased, and about a dozen additional cotton mills have gone into operation elsewhere, several with reduced wages, but the orders for the present are narrow and much smaller than usual.

Breadstuffs are weaker, possibly because the government official report went so far in predicting short crops so as to cause a reaction in opinion. While lower estimates of corn are commonly accepted, the price fell 314 cents and men are reasoning that if the official estimate of wheat has been found 100,000,000 bushels out of the way the corn estimate may er from 400,000,000 to 500.000,000 bushels.

Failures in two weeks of September show liabilities of only $2.867.764. of which $969.716 were of manufacturing and $1,796,048 of trading concerns. Failures during the week have been 212 in the United States, against 321 last year. and in Canada forty-eight against forty last

BOSTON TAILORS STRIKE.

Garmentmakers Refuse to Work for the "Sweat-Shop" Contractors.

Boston, Sept. 22.-Acting upon the instructions of the Clothing Trades council No. 2, the garmentmakers of this city to the number of 2,000 struck Thursday morning. Promptly at 7 o'clock the committee having charge of the strike started on their rounds and called the men out systematically, not a contractor being overlooked. This action is the result of the refusal of a number of contractors to concede to the demands of the union for the abolishment of the "lumping" and "sweating" systems and the introduction of the weekly wage system. The operatives are also desirous of establishing a working day of nine hours with fixed wages. Every man, woman and child responded to the call to stop work. Many of the contractors have a large amount of work half finished and heavy orders ahead, and a number have already made application to sign the new agreement. By the close of the day fully 5,500 clothing workers had joined the strike.

Used a Dirk.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 24.—In a sensational altercation with James Livingston, an Owens man, in the Phœnix hotel, Desha Breckinridge attempted to stab Livingston. Livingston, in a moment of desperation, reached for the glittering blade, which Breckinridge had aimed at his heart. The knife went between the second and third fingers of Livingston's right hand, cutting the third finger to the bone. Desha seemed to desire no more blood and gave Livingston two hard

The hotel clerk and several bystanders rushed in and seized Breckinridge, and at the same instant Matt Lane, a strong Breckinridge man, ran up and said he would take a hand in helping Desha. Two witnesses say that Lane also flourished a big knife, but Lane denies this. Livingston was hurried into the wash-room, where his wounds were bathed, and he was then taken to the office of a physician, where his hand was dressed.

Jail Delivery Checked by Bullets.

ALBIA, Ia., Sept. 20.—Sheriff Lambertson was knocked down by three prisoners in the county jail Tuesday evening. They ran for the outer door, but Lambertson fired five shots after them, three taking effect. Deputy Sheriff Lambertson, son of the sheriff, was shot in the breast. Butch Head; ling, one of the wounded prisoners, is not expected to live. All were captured.

Sugar Officials May Be Indicted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.-The grand he Japanese at the battle of Ping torney that it will have no further wounded is unknown. The Pon San | meyer and Searles of the sugar trust column captured 611 prisoners, 84 for refusal to answer questions put by the senate investigating committee.

FATAL AND DESTRUCTIVE.

Severe Storms Bring Suffering to Iowa and Minnesota Towns.

EMMETSBURG, Ia., Sept. 22 .- A terrific cyclone passed over this section at o'clock Friday evening. Many ruined houses and several deaths tell its sad results. The Foley house, one-half mile south of this city, is demolished. daughter is dead, and father, mother and a son are frightfully wounded. Mrs. Foley's arms are both broken and she can hardly recover. Mrs. Alex Golden, living a few miles east of here, is dead, and Mr. Golden is not expected to live.

At the little town of Cylinder, 6 miles east of here, there are two or three houses blown down and several persons injured seriously. Several others whose names it has been impossible to learn are missing, and many are supposed to be killed or wounded. In Great Oak township, 5 miles southwest of here, the storm was very severe, and many buildings are reported to have been blown down.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 22.—The town of Leroy, Minn., is said to have been partly ruined by a cyclone late Friday evening. The telegraph operator at McIntyre reports that three people were killed at Lercy and the whole eastern part of the town badly damaged. A fire about the same time destroyed a hotel and three stores.

DODGE CITY, Minn., Sept. 22. - A cyclone struck this place at 8:50 Friday evening, blowing Warren Fairbanks' warehouse down and scattering it across the railroad track. Several barns and smaller buildings are blown down and shade trees are badly damaged. The Winsor house barn was blown down and the stock destroyed.

OELWEIN, Ia., Sept. 22. News has just been received here stating that a cyclone raged along the line of the Chicago Great Western railroad Friday night at Lowther, a town of 100 inhabitants. The storm destroyed the Chicago Great Western depot, grain elevator, store buildings and dwell-

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 22.-The damage done by Thursday's rain and hailstorm has been greatly underestimated. Nearly 3 inches of water fel! during the evening and night. The floods ruined thousands of dollars' worth of carpets and furniture in the Des Moines clubrooms. The caving-in of the roof pushed out the walls so they also are ruined. The clubhouse cost $30,000.

KNOXVILLE, la., Sept. 22.-A terrific hail and rainstorm visited this city. and vicinity Thursday evening at 5 o'clock. The damage by hail is very great. In the home for the adult blind 160 window panes were broken; in the courthouse a large number were broken, and the damage to the private residences was general. During the storm the roar was like that of a number of trains crossing a bridge at the same time. The hail was as large as walnuts and fell to the depth of 21/2 feet in places.

BANDITS ARE BALKED.

Officials on the Santa Fe Were Forewarned and Forearmed.

MEMPHIS, Mo., Sept. 20. - An attempt was made to hold up train No. a going west on the Santa Fe at 2:15 Tuesday morning near Gorin, Mo., in this county. One of the persons in the plot to rob the train told the officers here about three weeks ago and they communicated the fact to the officials of the road.

W.E. McDaniels, who had advised the officers of the plot, went with C. E. Abrams and Link Overfield and two other robbers to Gorin. Sheriff W. H. Saling and City Marshal L. E. Byrne went to Medill, east of Gorin, and joined Detective J. J. Kinney and two assistants of the Santa Fe, C. W. Stockton, detective of the Wells-Fargo express, and two assistants, and took passage on train No. 5.

As they neared Gorin the engineer noticed the switch signal light had been removed. He heard a torpedo explode and saw a signal flag being waved. He answered the signal and stopped the train. Abrams, the leader of the gang, ran to the engineer and ordered him to throw up his hands. The engineer was a little slow responding and Abrams shot him in the shoulder, inflicting a slight flesh wound Detective Kinney, who was concealed in the tender, shot Abrams in the shoulder with a double-barreled shotgun loaded with buckshot. Abrams started for the brush and the other robbers ran for their horses. Abrams' horse was killed by one of Kinney's assistants. The robbers fled when the other officers appeared. The officers followed in pursuit, but did not find them. The officers came to Memphis about 4 o'clock a. m., got out warrants and went 3 miles northeast of this city and located Abrams and Overfield, brought them to town and they are now in jail. Abrams will die. Two others are supposed to have been implicated in the hold-up and the officers are after them, but refuse to give their names. All the men are residents of this county.

Preferred Death to Disgrace.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 20.-United States Marshal Johnson went from here to the village of Mayflower to arrest Postmaster J. C. Little for opening a registered letter. Little heard of Johnson's coming and was found dead in bed when the officer arrived. He had cut his entrails out with a butcher's knife.

Congressman Sereno E. Payne, chairman of committee on resolutions, presented the platform. National affairs were referred to as follows:

"The democratic president of the United States and the democratic chairman of the ways and means committee of the house of representatives have announced that the war against the protected industries of the country has but just begun, and that it is to be prosecuted to the bitter end. On behalf of the wage earner, the agriculturist, the business man and of every sacred interest in the empire state of the union, the republican party of the state of New York, in convention assembled, accepts this challenge and pledges itself to defend against all assaults the rights of the workingman and his employer, both wantonly invaded by reckless Arraigning the democratic administration the platform declares its most important achieve. ment has been fitly characterized by the chief executive as one of perfidy and dishonor; that, while denouncing trusts, it permitted one of them to formulate its tariff bill: that. while arraigning protection as "a fraud upon labor," it passed a mongrel protective measure tainted with scandal: that, pledging retrenchment, it exceeded at the last session of congress the expenditures of the corresponding session of the last repub lican congress by $27,000,000 in the face of decreasing revenues, and after it had added $50,000.000 to the public debt; and that while pretending to favor individual freedom, enacted the odious income tax force bill.

"We denounce the federal administration for surrendering an annual revenue of $8 000.000 on wool and imposing a burden nearly ten times greater by levying a tax on sugar the commonest household necessity.

"We favor an honest dollar and oppose any effort, whether by the removal of the tax on state bank issues or the free coinage of silver, to lower our currency standard, and we favor an international agreement which shall result in the use of both gold and silver as a circulating medium."

Gen. B. F. Tracey in an extended speech placed in nomination ex-Vice President Morton. There was a storm of applause as Gen. Tracey fluished. Col. Baxter, of Elmira, placed in nomination J. Sloat Fassett. Silas R. Dutcher, of Kings county, nominated Gen. Stewart L. Woodford. John S. Wise, of New York, formerly of Virginia, seconded Morton's nomination. E. A. Nash, of Cattaraugus, named Gen. Butterfield. Ex-Congressman Parker, of St. Lawrence county, presented the name of Judge Leslie W. Russell.

Cries for a vote followed, and the chairman ordered the roll to be called by counties. Before Ontario was reached Morton had been nominated, and when the vote was finished the clerk, amid great confusion, announced: "Morton, 53214; Fassett, 63; Woodford, 40; Butterfield, 29; Russell, 20; Bliss, 40%, and Arkell, 1." The nomination of Morton was made unanimous.

FIREMEN AND THE STRIKE.

Brotherhood Denounces Those Who West

Out Recause of Sympathy. HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 22.-The Brotherhood of Firemen at its session on Thursday adopted a series of resolutions denouncing the action of those members who struck through sympathy with Pullman strikers; pledging the brotherhood hereafter to abide by all its agreements and to await the action of the grand lodge officers before going out on a strike; protesting against the other labor organizations on strike attempting to induce the members of the brotherhood to join them through sympathy, declaring against the position of Vice Grand Master Hannahan in the Pullman strike in advising members not to work with the nou-union men, and approving that of Grand Master Sargent and other grand lodge officers. The convention gave Hannahan another slap by reducing his salary from $4,350 yearly to $2,500 and leaving those of other grand lodge officers undisturbed. Twelve thousand dollars was voted for the relief of tire men who went out during the Lehigh Valley strikes who are still idle. Grand Master Sargent and Grand Secretary and Treasurer Arnold were directed by the convention to remove the headquarters from Terre Hante to a place selected by them. After listening to a speech from Eugene V. Debs the convention adjourned finally, to meet two years hence at Galveston, Tex.

The Ohio Democracy. COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21,-The democratic state convention met Wednesday. The platform praises the efficient, economical and honest administration of President Cleveland; declares protection a fraud, and enumerates business failures, strikes, low wages and low prices for farm goods as the result of the McKinley law. It favors the unlimited coinage of silver at the legal ratio of 16 to 1 with legal tender power. The platform was amended by adding a resolution favoring the election of United States seaators by a direct vote of the people.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 21.-But one record was broken Thursday, and that was by Monroe Salisbury's wonderful 2-year-old pacer Directly, who sent the 2-year-old record down from 2:09 to 2:07%, and at the same time reduced his own record two and a quarter seconds. This performance was witnessed by 20,000 people and created the most intense enthusiasm.

THE FARMING WORLD.

STALL FASTENINGS.

Why a Well-Known Dalryman Uses Chains for Tying Cattle.

George Redburn, of the province of Quebec, describes and illustrates his method of fastening cows, in the Farmers' Advocate. It is not new, but as we have had recent inquiries which his article will answer, we have had an illustration made and reproduce his description as follows:

I would by all means advise the use of the chain in tying cattle. After twenty years' experience I have found this to be the best way. I shall never forget the first time I saw cattle fastened in stanchions; It reminded me of the pictures I had seen of the way prisoners were punished in the olden times by being put in the stocks, and I cannot understand how any enterprising breeder would for one moment endure it in his buildings. The way we fasten our Jerseys is by a chain sliding up and down on an iron rod. made with five-eighth-inch iron, twenty inches long, bolted to the side of the division top and bottom. All our cows are in single stalls (which is by far the best) four feet wide by seven feet in length, including manger; the divisions are six feet long, three and onehalf feet in height at the cow's head, and three feet behind; this is sufficient to separate them and does not hide them in the least. The divisions are made with one-inch planed boards; posts at each end three by six, and grooved sufficiently to allow the board to be sunk into the post. Opposite where the rod is we put a one-inch board on end between the planed boards, so as to have it solid to hold the bolts firmly. This gives a perfectly smooth division three inches thick, and no posts projecting to rub the skin off the animal's hips when it lies down. Our mangers are made so as to slide out like a drawer; they are about four inches above the floor, and can be removed any time to remove any foul stuff that has gathered. We have the front of the stalls boarded up with one-and one-quarter-inch boards, but if water is kept in front of the cows a slide will have to be made above the manger so as to feed by it instead of over the top. This is easily done by having a one-and-a-half-inch plank one foot wide, at an angle of fortyfive degrees, just above the manger, and fastened at every division with and as a Soiling Crop.

Crimson, or scarlet clover (Trifolium inearnatum), is a comparatively new plant which has been steadily growing in popular favor during the last five years. It is an annual variety, of special value as a stolen crop, both for feed and for improving the soil. It is not a substitute for red clover.

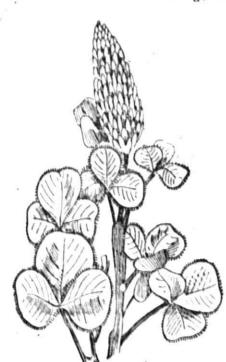

The best results so far obtained indicate the latter part of the summer as the best time for seeding. This will give an early spring crop for pasture forage or for green manuring. Crimson clover may be sown in orehards, berry patches, with corn, tobacco, tomatoes, etc., and upon raw ground following potatoes, melons or other early harvested crops. It is not adapted for seeding with wheat or rye.

Twelve pounds of seed should be allowed to the acre. Experience shows that the seed takes better when lightly covered. Failure to secure a good stand results generally from heavy rains just after sprouting has commenced. American seed is superior to foreign.

Crimson clover, in common with other plants, requires good soil for its best development, though it is well adapted for light lands. It will catch readily and grow well where red clover will not thrive, and is also more hardy. It will also make use of the mineral constituents not available to the cereals, hence good crops may be obtained on naturally poor or wornout lands, fertilized with potash and phosphoric acid only. The use of the crop as a green manure will rapidly improve the condition of the land.

Experiments conducted at the Jersey station show that the crimson clover possesses many advantages. A crop six inches high April 24 showed an amount of nitrogen equal to that contained in ten tons of city manure or nitrate of soda to the value of fifteen dollars. On May 12 a crop averaging thirteen inches high contained nitrogen to the value of twenty-five dollars with their heads curled round just the tains sufficient digestible food to propsame as if they were on pasture, I am erly nourish twelve cows for one week. satisfied that the chain is by far the The roots are equal to three tons of city manure.

As a soiling crop it is excellent both for quantity and quality. It is satisfactory for that purpose for about twenty days, during which period an acre will provide sufficient for ten cows in full flow of milk.

The composition and digestibility of crimson clover show it to be superior to red clover, both for fodder and for hay, the stems being less woody. The advantages derived from the crop when used only as a green manure are but slightly reduced when the crop is used for food, providing the resulting manure is properly saved and applied. -N. Y. World.

Winter Feeding of Pigs.

Feed pigs one pound of corn or corn meal to twenty pounds of skim milk. This will give a nutritive ratio of one to eight, which is a very suitable one for winter feeding in warm and dry pens. They should have some exercise. As the porkers approach the time when it is proposed to sell them, increase the proportion of corn meal to skim milk. During the last few days of feeding the porkers no exercise should be allowed. Bran or oats are neither so well adapted to the feeding of pigs as corn meal. Pigs, like calves, enjoy a little oil meal, an ounce or so ered the best grains for eggs. Barley a day per pig. If they incline to get too fat, reduce the corn; if too lean, increase it. There is no certain rule nor certain ration. The feeder should be the judge of what is most economical and best for the animal. -I. P. Roberts, Cornell Experiment Station.

An Egg-Producing Mess.

The Wisconsin Agriculturist says: Take a piece of liver, rough lean meat or any cheap portions from the butcher and boil it to pieces, or to a broth. Add sufficient salt to season, and cooked turnips or potatoes also may be added. While boiling add sufficient of a mixture of equal parts of middlings and ground oats to thicken the mess to a consistency, the thicker the better. as the fowl is killed the feathers come When cold, feed it at night, giving the hens all they will eat. We may have said it before, but it will do to repeat now as a reminder, says the Rural, that a crop of common field beans is a good thing to put in if you have a piece of land to spare. They do not require very rich soil, nor is the cultivation very laborious. But it should be clean culture from the start, as the crop can not make headway against weeds. The harvesting also must be done with great care, not allowing the bears to lie upon the ground if it is at all wet. A good crop should pay at least as well as a crop of wheat, and has the good point that it! helps to distribute the labor over a larger Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Feyer portion of the year. After the beans are Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, harvested they may be stored and threshed Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and out at any time during the winter. ## Exercise and Feeding Points.

Here is Manager Gilbert's Ottawa station summary of exercise and feeding points for poultry, which contains hints valuable outside of Canada:

Do not gorge the layers by overfeeding. Use every incentive to keep them from

Feed as much cut or broken green bones

Less grain is to be fed when bones and regetables are supplied in abundance. The evening ration should be a grain one and generously fed, the object being to keep the crops of the layers full during the long night.

The soft food and cut bones should be fed in a clean narrow trough.

When necessary, take the chill off the Keep only young, active, prolific layers [A true copy.] WM. G. DOTY, Probate Register and select from them to breed from. Kill the non-layers, for they are only eating away the profit margin,
