My Darling Boy.

Last night, as my dear boy lay dead,
In agony I knelt and said:
"O God! what have I done,
Or in what wise offended thee,
That thou should'st take away from me
My only son?"

Upon the thousand useless lives—
Upon the guilt that vaunting thrives,
Thy wrath were better spent!

Why should'st thou take my only son?
Why should'st thou vent thy wrath upon
This innocent?"

Last night, as my dear boy lay dead;
Before mine eyes the vision spread
Of things that might have been;
Licentious riot, cruel strife,
Forgotten prayers, a wasted life,
Dark red with sin!

Then, with soft music in the air,
I saw another vision there,
A shepherd, in whose keep
An innocent lamb—my darling child—
Of worldly wisdom undefiled,
Lay fast asleep!

Last night as my dear child lay dead,
In those two messages I read
A wisdom manifest;
And though our home be lonely now,
I am content—to Him I bow
Who knoweth best.

BABY'S HANDS.

Dainty, dimpled, little things,
Soft as angels' plumy wings,
Naught to do but grow.
Awake you move about,
Up and down, and in and out,
Tell me do you know
Why such antics you go through?
What you're trying now to do?
Where you want to go?

Dainty, dimpled, little things,
Clutching, as your cradle swings,
At this nothingness,
Who can tell what you will hold
When your grasp is firm and bold?
May be honor—may be gold—
May be nothingness!

Dainty, dimpled, little things,
Whate'er the future brings,
There'll be work for you.
Though you still be soft and white,
You cannot your duties slight
While there's work to do.
There'll be burdens to be lifted,
From the bad good must be sifted,
From the false, the true;
And though you're so soft and small,
Of this work, a part will fall,
Little hands, on you.

—Womankind.

Two Dogs AND A JURY.

MARGUERITO VELASQUEZ was a person of some notoriety on the American side of the Texan frontier. There were patriots, indeed, when members of his acquaintance, notably sheriff's officers, sought his society with an ardor that was difficult to withstand. The present was one of those occasions, and although Marguerito had shown some coyness about accepting the urgent invitation extended to him and had, moreover, given the state officials some healthy exercise before allowing them to deliver it personally, yet he had eventually given way to force of circumstances.

Fortunately for themselves, the representatives of law and order in Jacubaya knew within one hundred miles or so the localities where Marguerito was likely to be found. His natural modesty would, they were aware, prevent his crossing the American border, where his return had long been awaited with anxiety by certain of his compatriots. Therefore the chase had been short.

Still, while it lasted, like most of the proceedings in which Marguerito was actively concerned, it had proved full of interest to the persons sharing in it. But now the object of all these attentions had recognized the uselessness of further resistance, and feeling that he had done his best, was prepared to rest upon his laurels. Wherein his friend, Don Carlos, agreed with him.

The pair, accompanied by a large proportion of the population, made their way toward the courthouse, a building which but unflatteringly illustrated the quality of the law dispensed therein. As a matter of fact, before it became a hall of justice, it had been a loft, and access to it was still gained by means of a ladder. Marguerito, followed by the judge, the jury and the crowd, mounted with impassive slowness, and he was shortly occupying a prominent position in the court.

Don Carlos, who suffered from a constitutional objection to climbing, had elected to remain in the yard below. Knowing from past experience that the trial was likely to be a lengthy process, he gravely seated himself upon the ground and prepared to await events. It should be explained that Don Carlos was not handsome. Neither was he good. Still, he possessed merits which might have been patent to the casual observer. In complexion he was black and tan, being rather like a dachshund in the face, while he strongly resembled a greyhound in the figure. His tail, however, it was impossible to classify, for it belonged to no species or epoch. Owing to his having been dropped by his nurse when a baby, it had a break near the tip, which caused it to curl over his back in coquettish manner far from exemplifying the real solidity of his character, while its length would have done credit to a cat.

Don Carlos himself seemed to be aware that it was not the latest fashion in tails, and he habitually underwent many things in a vain endeavor to sit upon the whole of it at once. He was thus engaged upon the present occasion when, glancing up, he chanced to catch sight of a bull mastiff which was strolling into the yard apparently in search of stray refreshments.

Don Carlos pricked up his ears and blinked his eyes, into which the light of battle gradually crept, until the intruder, unconscious of danger, drew nearer every moment.

In the meanwhile the sonorous tones of the judge, mingled with the drawl of the witnesses, sounded clearly from the open window of the loft above. It appeared that Marguerito was accused of horse stealing this time, and as he listened to the details of his error, as described by the sufferers from it, he felt by no means certain but that this might be the last of his many adventures.

"Judge Hopper's got a hanging look about him this morning," he meditated, with an unemotional face. "If I get off this time I will go home to Conchita, and they shall find me no more."

The last witness for the prosecution finished his tale of woe, and a feeble effort was made at defense, while Marguerito wondered idly if he really were as great a ruffian as the evidence seemed to imply.

Silence broken only by the buzzing of flies fell upon the close room, as the judge seated himself in his wooden chair and prepared to sum up. The culprit, who was looking through the window at his side, appeared to be the only uninterested person present. A deputy standing near was about to call his attention to the proceedings when, following for an instant the direction of the prisoner's gaze, he, too, became absorbed.

The sheriff himself then glanced at the window, through which short barks were beginning to make themselves heard, and after one look he rushed to the door and commenced hurrying descending the ladder. The audience gazed at each other in amazement for an instant, and with a simultaneous movement they took a hurried survey of the yard. Having looked, they wasted no more time, but, with an expression of rapture stealing over their faces, they made for the ladder, accompanied by the prisoner and his guard.

The judge, being left alone in the loft, frowned severely at the empty benches, as he said with impressive dignity: "I guess this court will now adjourn." Then he tucked up his sleeves and made good time for the yard. A vigorous struggle for the best view took place between Marguerito and himself, without either man being in the least aware of the identity of the person by whom he was jostled. Nor would it have made any difference if he had known, because not even for a free pardon would the accused have consented to forego the enthralling sight on which he was feasting his eyes.

Affairs were just at their most exciting stage. The bull mastiff, it appeared, had drawn quite close to Don Carlos before perceiving his presence. He had, then, instead of apologizing for the intrusion, critically examined Don Carlos' tail, afterward giving vent to an insulting bark. This brought matters to a climax, and in less time than it takes to tell the two dogs were so inextricably mixed up that but for the appendage in question waving over the scene like a flag of battle, it would have been impossible to distinguish one combatant from the other.

There was no necessity for the haste displayed by the spectators in reaching the seat of war, for the fray promised to be as long as it was sanguinary. No quarter was asked or desired. The stranger possessed a vast amount of staying power, inasmuch as when he once took hold little short of extraction.

AN ENTIRELY INVOLUNTARY FLIGHT.

ing his teeth made him let go again. But the military tactics of his opponent were new to him, and prevented his getting an opportunity to show what he really could do.

Don Carlos dashed underneath him and sent him sprawling in the mud; he jumped over his back and gave him a perfunctory bite in passing, and he harried his front and rear guards both at the same time, until the bull mastiff felt that, for all the good he was able to effect, he might as well be a toy terrier. The ironical cheers of the crowd incited him to fresh endeavor, and he spent himself in frantic efforts to gain the mastery.

At length, however, he saw a chance. Making a sudden dash while Don Carlos was in the act of executing one of his wonderful leaps, the bulldog met him in midair, and at last obtained a grip on the enemy's throat. Both dogs fell to the ground, the stranger savagely worrying his apparently vanquished antagonist.

The crowd showed signs of a desire to interfere, but Marguerito waved them back. "Let 'em alone," he said, placidly, "and bet your boots upon old Carlos."

The intelligent animal, as he lay beneath his conqueror, appeared to understand and to be encouraged by the aid he reposed in him by his master. He gathered his long legs together, planting them firmly against the enemy's body, and the next development of the case was that the bull mastiff was seen to be taking an entirely involuntary flight through space.

Don Carlos, meanwhile, slowly arose, shook out his tail, and yawned.

The discomfited interloper, after a short period of meditation in a dust heap, picked himself out of the dirt. He looked back at the field of battle, glanced at the open gate which he had entered, and then in a depressed manner he evidently made up his mind that it was time to leave. He accordingly did so, and not until he had slowly lurched out of sight around a sandy corner did Don Carlos creep up to his master for congratulations. That gentleman muttered something in their native Mexican that was clearly intelligible to his companion, for Don Carlos' eyes said plainly that he found life a very satisfactory thing. With unlooked for docility Marguerito turned to ascend the ladder leading to the loft.

Brought back to everyday life by his movement, judge, jury and audience followed suit in a silence too blissful for breaking.

The prisoner, impassive as ever, resumed his careless survey of the room, letting his gaze rest longest on the benches occupied by the jury.

The judge took his seat, scrutinized the faces of the crowd, and, apparently satisfied by what he read there, cleared his throat and began.

"Gentlemen of the jury," he said, "when we were interrupted by unforeseen circumstances a short time ago I opine that you were just a-goin' to declare that accordin' to the best of your belief the pris'n'r was innocent of the charge agin him."

"You've struck it, judge," unblushingly responded the jury.

The judge frowned down an attempt at speech on the part of the sheriff and turned to Marguerito.

"Pris'n'r," he said, "you heard the remarks of them gentlemen opposite, so you may take it that the proceedin's is concluded. But don't get up to any more of your tricks in this country, for it 'pears likely that next time you won't get off so easy. And now, what'll you take for the dog?"—Pall Mall Gazette.

THE MONEY WAS SAFE.

He Had Bought a Nice Yellow Gold Brick with It.

"Joe," said the farmer's wife, after they had retired for the night, "that raise in corn was a mighty nice thing for us—"

"Yes, Jane, but don't talk to me; I want to sleep."

"Um-uh! Sold all we had to-day, did ye?"

"Yes, yes—be still—I—"

"Exactly! Collected my butter bill at De Kay & Spoils' grocery, did ye?"

"Yes—I—I—keep still, Jane, that's a dear woman."

"And to think this good fortune should come as a reward after we had toiled and slaved and deprived ourselves of the necessities—"

But Joe was snoring.

"Joe! Joe!"

"What in thunderation d'ye want? Can't a man sleep in his own house?"

"Joe, did you put all the money in bank?"

"Of course."

"Then it's safe, and I think it's about time now that the girls had that piano—"

"What! While the people are starvin' ye'd fool away yer money on a music box. Well, there's a fool woman fur ye."

"Joe, I'm goin' to order that piano to-morrow. We've arnt it. The whole family's skimped for years with that view—"

"Now, look h'yer; the corn's done middlin' well, wheat an' oats far, but taters an' apples doin' no good, an' I'm goin' to be mighty close run for money, without any o' yer fool woman notions. Now, shet up!"

Jane listened to Joe's tremendous snoring for a time and reflected.

Suddenly he began talking loudly, but he was evidently still asleep.

"Five hundred! Five hundred! Well, it'd be better to have the gold all in one piece, mebbe; could hide it better—but, say, fellers! S'posin' I want to turn the brick into money ag'in, where—do—I go—"

He slept peacefully on. So did the piano scheme.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Last of Her Species.

A story is told of Prince John Van Buren a few years before the civil war. The whig and native American parties had disbanded. At a ball in Baltimore about 1858 or 1859 one of the belles of the evening was very outspoken in her political dislikes. "I am not a democrat, nor am I a republican," said she. "But what politics are you then?" was the natural question of the bystanders. "I would have you know," replied the lady, "that I am an old-line whig." Instantly taking the lady by the arm John Van Buren faced the assemblage and remarked: "Here, ladies and gentlemen, you may see one of the greatest curiosities in the whole country. This young lady says she is an old-line whig! The male of this species is extinct."—Boston Budget.

The Mote and the Beam.

In the corridor outside a hotel dining-room the following conversation was overheard, the speakers a woman and man, proven bride and groom by a hundred outward and visible signs.

She (hanging back at the doorway and whispering)—Don't look so happy. I shan't go in with you while you wear that rapturous expression. Everybody there will know at a glance that we are bride and groom.

He (whispering also)—My dear, take the beam out of your own eye.—Harper's Bazar.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Winter Wheat Doing Well.

The Michigan crop report for February issued by Secretary of State Gardner says:

"Cold weather prevailed during the month of January. Snow fell in the early part of the month in sufficient amount to afford good protection to the wheat plant. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in January is 1,031,833, and the six months, August to January, 7,296,941, which is 1,952,971 bushels less than was reported marketed in the same months last year. At twenty elevators and mills from which reports have been received there was no wheat marketed during the month. The condition of live stock averages from 98 to 99 per cent., comparison being with stock in good, healthy and thrifty condition."

To Leave the Copper Country.

At a big meeting held in the opera house at Lake Linden details were perfected for the colonization of a large tract of crown and Canadian Pacific lands in the Nipissing district of Ontario, Can. Two hundred French Canadians, principally heads of families, will leave March 1 under the guidance of Rev. C. Paradis, a Catholic priest. It was expected 800 families would leave the copper district for the new colony this year.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended February 16 reports sent in by sixty observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that pleuritis and pneumonia increased in area of prevalence. Frozen to Death.

A farmer named Thompson, who resided near Birch Run, Saginaw county, was frozen to death while driving on a load of wood. The team of horses which the unfortunate man was driving stopped at a country hotel of their own accord as was their custom, and the proprietor observing that the farmer did not come in stepped out, only to find him frozen stiff, having evidently been dead some time.

Trombley, made an application to the probate court, in Bay City, to have a guardian appointed, and is a candidate for the position herself. MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 19.—The fifty days in which bills can be introduced in the legislature will expire Wednesday at midnight and the reception of bills now takes up the entire time of each house. The indications are the total number of bills to be introduced will equal, if not exceed, that of two years ago, which was the largest in the history of the state. One of the bills introduced in the house Monday is aimed at Mayor Plingree, it making it unlawful for any person to fill the office of mayor more than three term in cities having a population of more than 50,000. Altogether there were 128 bills introduced in the house on Monday, among them the following: Prohibiting alien stockholders of corporations from participation in the election of the board of directors; prohibiting aliens from practicing medicine; prohibiting the employment of aliens by corporations; prohibiting the insurance of children under 16 years of age; appropriating $34,000 for establishing a state normal school at Bay City; prohibiting the granting of teachers' certificates to persons using tobacco in any form; for an interchangeable system of railroad mileage; for use of the Osborne voting machine; establishing a state weather service and appropriating $4,200 therefor.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 20.—In the senate Tuesday the free silver resolution was the special order, but its consideration was postponed until February 23. The question of an investigation into the affairs of the deaf and dumb institute at Flint was made a special order for Wednesday next.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 21.—The senate adjourned Wednesday afternoon until Monday night, breaking the record for the number of bills introduced in that body. The total was 316, which exceeds the record of 1893 by two. In the house the total will reach 1,000, as against 950 two years ago. The senate passed the house bill providing for a general registration of the voters of the state previous to the April election. It will temporarily disfranchise many foreign-born persons who voted last fall. Under the recent constitutional amendment they cannot vote again until they are full-fledged citizens of the United States. Many of the bills introduced were in skeleton form and will be perfected later. Among them were bills to regulate the charges of express and telegraph companies, and to repeal the special charters under which the Michigan Central and Lake Shore & Michigan Southern roads have been operated and bring those corporations under the provisions of the general railroad law in all respects.

House.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 20.—By a vote of 66 to 21 the house on Tuesday passed the senate bill authorizing the governor to appoint a new health board for the city of Detroit. There is no doubt the governor will approve the measure. Bills were introduced as follows: Increasing the tax on liquors; providing a bounty of $100 each to surviving veterans of the late war; abolishing the present state board of health and creating a new one, in which the secretary of the board is prohibited from being a member; providing for the appointment of an assistant attorney general at a salary of $2,000 per year, for the township unit school system; providing a one-fifteenth full tax for the support of state normal school; abolishing the medical department at the state university; appropriating $2,000 for the holding of dairy-men's state institutes; providing a bounty of two cents per pound on beet sugar; establishing a state hospital for consumptives; providing a state board of medical examiners.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 21.—In the house on Wednesday among the more important measures introduced were the following: Appropriating $60,000 for the establishment of a state consumptives' hospital; appropriating $100,000 for a G. A. R. memorial hall; prohibiting the game of football at any college supported in whole or in part by the state; making appropriation for an executive mansion; prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within 1 mile of the state normal school; providing for the purchase and display of United States flags upon all public school buildings, and providing a state inspector of beer.

FLOUR COMBINE DEFEATED.

Sperry Syndicate Compelled to Close All But Three of Its California Mills.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—The Union flour mills of Stockton, purchased last year by the Sperry combine for $294,000, have closed down. Of the thirteen mills owned by this syndicate in various parts of the state only three are now in operation. The closing down is said to be due to the strong opposition of the Crown mills, for which the combine vainly offered $1,000,000. Had the offer been accepted the flour trust would have been in complete control. Instead, a bitter fight has been waged, in the course of which the price of flour has fallen from $5.50 to $2.85 a barrel.

QUEER LIQUOR LAW.

Saloons Not to Be Licensed, But to Be Fined Ten Times a Year.

NASHUA, N. H., Feb. 22.—Should the New Hampshire senators agree with the lower branch, this state will have the most unique liquor law of any in the union. The judiciary committee of the house favorably reported the bill introduced by Representative Pierce. It provides that the mayor and aldermen in each city shall regulate the amount of the fine imposed by the police court justices for the sale of liquor and limits the number of times a dealer can be fined each year to ten.

PUNCHED EACH OTHER'S FACES

Disgraceful Arguments Used by Two Elected Colorado Senators.

DENVER, Col., Feb. 23.—A disgraceful row occurred in the state senate on Friday. Senator Mills, in course of debate, called Senator Peace a liar. Mills threw a paper weight at Peace. Both senators then clinched and fought viciously, resulting in black eyes and lively flow of blood. After the contestants were separated, the senate ordered an investigation of the rampus and adjourned.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Diamondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at

A counterfeit 10 cent piece is being circulated. When new it is a cleverly executed piece, but can be detected by total absence of a ring. Fourteen years ago, quietly and without ostentation, was born the first society of Christian Endeavor. Fourteen years have nearly passed, and there is scarcely a land on the globe that has not its Christian Endeavor society, and there is scarcely a language of civilized nation into which its constitution has not been translated. From one little society have sprung more than 37,000 societies.

The most important action of the legislature was the passage of a bill for registration in the entire state previous to the spring election. This is made necessary by the adoption of the constitutional amendment last November providing that only bona fide citizens shall vote, thus disfranchising a large number of foreign-born citizens who have been voting heretofore upon a declaration of intention to become a citizen.

There is a good opportunity in Chelsea now for some lady who wishes home employment to start a "Clothing Repair" industry. All the school ma'ams, lady clerks and office girls are wanting new braids on their dresses and their elbows patched, and the young men need their socks darned and trowsers mended to make them last the season out. It is morally certain that if some enterprising person should take hold of this, get out her price list and advertise generously, she would soon be buried under a heap of old clothes—Chelsea Cor. A new religion is spreading over the world, says the Pioneer Press. Not through a new sect, but in all sects. It is a gentle flood that is slowly but surely breaking down the reefs of cruel dogmas. It is the religion that teaches simple, natural goodness and nothing more. It teaches that somewhere there is perfection and omnipotence. It teaches the worship of this great soul of the universe. It teaches the mastery of self in a patient pursuit of excellence. It teaches a love of mankind that comprehends all other virtues. It regards prayer and confession, baptism and penance, alms and sacrifice forms and doctrines as insignificant and of no consequence. The only essentials are the worship of God, the subjugation of self and the service of man.

Repairs in front of land bounded north by John McGill, west by Main street, south by Mrs. J. C. Harrington, east by P. Westfall, owned by Lucy Stephens, $5.35.

Moved by A. C. Pierce, and supported by W. F. Riemenschneider, that the cost of walks built by the Village Marshal by order of Village Board be referred to special assessors to be assessed against the property on which said walks were built. Carried.

To the President, and Trustees of the Village of Chelsea.

As a member of the committee on Electric Lights, I will make the following minority report. The Board has received from the Chelsea Electric Light Company a proposition for lighting the streets of Chelsea with Arc Lights, also a request to have this proposition submitted to a vote of the citizens of Chelsea at an early date.

I would therefore recommend that this board take such action as is necessary to bring this proposition before the people of Chelsea for their vote at our next annual Village Election. Signed.

W. P. SCHENK.

Moved by J. L. Gilbert, and supported by A. C. Pierce, that the report of minority committee be adopted.

Yeas—Gilbert, Schenk and Pierce. Nays—Riemenschneider, Schumacher and Wm. Bacon.

The following resolution offered by J. L. Gilbert.

Whereas, a large number of the citizens of the village desire that the Board of Trustees put in Arc Lights in place of those now in use for lighting the streets, and having received from the Electric Light Co., a proposition to furnish 20 2000 candle power lights at $7.00 each, which the Board of Trustees do not feel warranted in accepting without instructions from the citizens, and for that purpose we therefore resolved that the clerk give notice, that at the regular Village election to be held March 11, 1895, he will supply the voters with tickets upon which shall be printed the words: For Electric Lights—Ye. For Electric Lights—No.

Which ballots shall be deposited by the inspector in a separate box prepared for that purpose.

Moved by J. L. Gilbert, and supported by A. C. Pierce that the above resolution be adopted.

Yeas—Gilbert, Schenk and Pierce. Nays—Riemenschneider, Schumacher and Wm. Bacon.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.
Any person who takes the paper regularly from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not, is responsible for the pay. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them uncollected for a prime sale evidence of intentional fraud.

THERE were only 3,000,000 song birds killed last year for the purpose of adorning women's hats with their plumage; if the fashion of wearing feathers had been more generally followed the number might have reached 6,000,000.

A EUROPEAN army surgeon located in Java is reported to have dug up an old fossil which supplies the link long missing between the monkey and the man. It is claimed that this genus has about two-thirds the brain mass of a man, to have had teeth almost human and to have walked on two legs.

THE dangers of ballooning are to be slightly mitigated by the invention of a Frenchman, which provides for the equipment of a cylinder of membrane to the car, so arranged that by the pressure of a button it may be automatically inflated with air in the unfortunate event of the balloon falling into the sea.

C. P. HUNTINGTON has pointed out the way for a young man with a little capital to make a barrel of money. In the Congo Free State, he says, beyond the mountains, crude rubber gum can be bought for about a cent a pound; it can be got down to the sea for another cent and in New York it will bring not less than $1 a pound.

THE first sailing vessel to be lighted by electricity is said to have been the Spanish bark La Viguesa, a bulk oil and general cargo carrier. She is fitted throughout with incandescent lights, the power for the dynamo being furnished by a small oil engine, which also furnishes power to pump her oil cargo when she is loading or unloading.

DWIGHT L. MOODY, the evangelist, celebrated his fifty-eighth birthday in San Antonio the other day, and the same day his mother, Mrs. Betsy Holton Moody, celebrated her ninetyeth in the house in which she brought up her children and in which she has lived sixty-six years, at East Northfield, Mass. She is in good health and superintends the work about her house every day.

THE centenary of George Peabody, who was born at Danvers, Mass., February 18, 1795, was celebrated at various places in this country and in England. The public gifts he bestowed with such a generous hand and wise discrimination amounted in all to $8,400,000, including large sums to libraries, colleges, education in the southern states and model lodging houses in London.

NEARLY a hundred schemes have been devised for utilizing culm, the name of the fine dust or refuse of coal that is shipped from the mines. Many of these schemes have proved useless. It is now suggested that electrical power plants be established at all coal mines where culm accumulates, and that it be used as fuel for generating power, which could then be conveyed by wire to neighboring cities.

ACCORDING to the American Shipbuilder, the large shipbuilders, Harland & Wolff, Belfast, Ireland, who built the Majestic and Teutonic, pay riveters $7.54 per week; pattern-makers, $8.27 per week; platers the same, and fitters $6.57 to $8.00. More than twice these sums are paid in this country to the same trades, and it is no wonder that merchant ships are built abroad instead of in this country, with such a wide discrepancy in the cost for labor.

A NOTION of the enormous sums of money that Russia is pouring into the Siberian railroad may be got from the recently published figures of the financial budget for 1895. In that document the estimate for the Siberian railroad proper for 1895 is $21,261,000 and for works auxiliary to that railroad $1,273,000—say, a total of twenty-five and a half million dollars. The estimate for 1894 for these items was $17,964,000—about forty-three and a half millions in two years.

ACCORDING to the official statistics of farms, homes and mortgages in the United States, of the 12,690,152 families in this country, 4,677,479 occupy farms and 7,922,973 occupy homes in the cities, towns and villages. Of the total $7.80 per cent. own their farms and homes and $2.20 per cent. pay rent. It is shown that 72.03 per cent. of the farms or homes are wholly free from incumbrance. The mortgages on the farms and homes represent but 37.50 per cent. of the value of the property.

ACQUITTED.

A Verdict of Not Guilty Rendered in the Howgate Case.

The Jury Deliberates for Seventy-Two Hours—The Charge of Embezzling $11,800 from the Government Is Not Proven.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Capt. Henry W. Howgate was acquitted Sunday of the charges of embezzling $11,800 from the government while holding the position of disbursing officer in the United States signal service, and of forging a voucher for that amount to even up his alleged wrong-doing. The verdict was rendered about noon Sunday, when the jury had been locked up nearly seventy-two hours. Capt. Howgate received the announcement without emotion, but after he had been taken to his cell beneath the courtroom he danced for joy in the realization that part of the burden and anxiety of fifteen years had been lifted from his shoulders.

Judge McComas entered the courtroom at 11 a. m. Sunday, and received word that the jury had agreed. The attorneys in the case went sent for and Howgate was brought from his cell and took his usual seat beside his faithful daughter, Miss Ida Howgate, who was on hand promptly as usual.

Judge McComas had instructed the jury to bring verdicts upon three distinct points. The first of these was whether the government was disbarred from prosecuting Howgate because of the statute of limitation. An affirmative reference on this point would have the effect of not only throwing out the indictments charging forgery and embezzlement, but of disposing in a like manner of all the other indictments against the defendant and thus setting him free. The verdict as announced found for the government on the issue upon the plea of the statute of limitation. It found the defendant not guilty on the charge of forgery and also upon the charge of embezzlement. Judge McComas then discharged the jury.

District Attorney Birney said he was very much annoyed at the verdict. If the jury had found that the statute of limitations applied in the case, he would doubt, he said, the right to bring Howgate to trial on the other indictment, but as the jury had decided that the statute did not apply, he would, according to his present intention, give the defendant another chance to show whether he was not guilty.

[Fourteen years ago important frauds affecting large sums of money were discovered in the signal service accounts, and Howgate was charged with having committed them. He was arrested, but by a ruse escaped from his guards and for thirteen years remained in New York city. Although a reward of $5,000 was offered for his capture, he was not arrested until last fall.]

KILLED AT HIS DOOR.

Mysterious Murder of J. R. Zollinger at Newton, Ia.

NEWTON, Ia., Feb. 25.—J. R. Zollinger, a merchant of this city, was brutally murdered Saturday night. A little after 9 o'clock his wife and daughter heard his footsteps on the porch, and opening the door found him in a dazed condition. He was able to tell them some one had struck him, but before he could reveal more he lost consciousness and died a few hours afterwards. A wound on the top of his head indicated he had received a heavy blow there, and a club found on the sidewalk near the house appears to have been the weapon used. The walk is spattered with blood from there to the house. The affair is shrouded in mystery, as no motive has yet appeared for the deed. He had about $60 in his pocket, but that was not taken. The murdered man was a prominent citizen of this place for many years and served several terms as sheriff of the county. During the war he was an officer in the Twenty-eighth Iowa regiment.

TO SUCCEED DOLPH.

George W. McBride Elected Senator from Oregon.

SALEM, Ore., Feb. 25.—George W. McBride, ex-secretary of state, was elected Saturday on the thirtieth ballot as United States senator to succeed Dolph. It was a narrow escape from a deadlock, for had the election been delayed fifteen minutes longer the time for the adjournment sine die of the legislature would have arrived.

[George W. McBride, senator-elect, is 41 years of age, a native son of Oregon and a lawyer by profession. He has served in the state legislature and held the office of secretary of state for eight years, going out of office last January. Mr. McBride has never been identified with the silver or anti-silver element, nor has he ever been in a position where he was obliged to make a record on the question. Inasmuch as he was elected by Dolph's supporters, however, it is reasonable to suppose that he will not ally himself with the free-coinage people.]

BARRED FROM FRANCE.

An Order Issued Forbidding the Importation of American Cattle.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—At the cabinet meeting M. Gadaud, minister of agriculture, made an order in council forbidding the importation of American cattle into France on account of the Texas fever and pleuropneumonia, with which they are alleged to be infected. This order is undoubtedly the outcome of the persistent protectionist agitation in the rural districts of the north of France. Ever since the new cabinet entered office M. Gadaud has been besieged by agrarian deputations and petitioners.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.

Appropriately Observed in Many Cities—Archbishop Ireland Speaks in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Reports come from various cities of the appropriate observance of Washington's birthday on Friday. The national congress of women devoted the morning session to the consideration of patriotic subjects. Various other bodies also fittingly celebrated the day in the capital. Reports of a notable celebration also come from the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, Pa. The day was observed in New York with as much spirit as usual. The American flag was prominent in the city and on the water. Denver celebrated with a parade of civic and military organizations. The Norfolk (Va.) Light Artillery Blues, Capt. Keeling, fired at sunrise the national salute of twenty-one guns, which was continued to sixty-seven guns, the anniversary salute of the company. Business was entirely suspended Friday in Kansas City, Mo. In Detroit the Michigan club gave its tenth anniversary banquet at the Auditorium. The hall was decorated in the national colors. Toasts were responded to by Gov. McKinley, of Ohio; ex-United States Senator Patton, of Michigan, and others.

In Chicago, commemorative exercises were held in all the public schools under the auspices of the Union League club. The Union League also held in the Auditorium a celebration at which Archbishop Ireland was the orator of the day.

The famous prelate began his oration with a lofty tribute to Washington. He continued:

"I am a Roman citizen" was a proud title, but to be an American citizen is a distinction still more to be sought for. The Roman was a subject; the American is a monarch. American citizenship is American manhood, the manhood of all born into the American nation. The republic of America was a supreme act of confidence in man, a concession and a gift. It has never been heard of human dignity and human ability. Its creation was the boldest act recorded in history."

After reviewing the birth of the republic the archbishop concluded by reminding his audience of the responsibility of citizenship. In this connection he said: "The ballot is the pride of the true American; its proper use is his sacred duty. The American republic is a free government, and it is the duty of every citizen to vote on election day merits disfranchisement or exile. The American boasting of his political indolence proclaims his shame. Thoughtful writers mark a the most perilous foe of democracy the indifference towards the political life of the country practised by respectable, well-meaning and educated citizens. These are the ones who most generally eschew politics, while others, the selfish and reckless who have private ends to serve, who care but little what comes of the country, are never absent from the caucus or the voting booth. I am afraid some of us are not altogether free from the undemocratic feeling that we lose our self-respect if on election days we mingle on equal terms with all social classes. Far from us be the feeling. When we mingle with men as citizens we mingle with noblemen. When we serve country, no matter when or where, we ennoble ourselves."

"Among the misfortunes of America I mention the caucus and primary, by which a few are able to impose upon a whole party their choice of candidates. A royal work of patriotism is to rid the country of them, or so transform them that the verdict shall in some manner be the verdict of the party, and not merely as it now is that of the expert wire-pullers and state-makers. The political boss is the outgrowth of ignorance and vicious citizenship and his reign fosters the low element which makes it possible. Bribery at the polls is demagogic mockery of manhood. Be as you will, democrats or republicans, but first of all Americans."

WAS AN EX-CONVICT.

Sensational Disclosures Regarding an Absconding Banker.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 21.—Discovery has been made that Albert Whipple, the absconding president of the Crawford (Neb.) bank, was from 1886 to 1889 a convict in the state prison at Fort Madison, Ia. He was sent there from Coia, Ia., where he had been for a number of years agent of the Burlington railway. He was sentenced for forgery in a method of marking tickets, by which he made a handsome profit. He was a shrewd criminal, and for several years escaped detection, although under suspicion. In prison he learned shorthand, and afterwards went west and became attached to the regular army, and thence to army stores and banking. He is still at large.

MISSISSIPPI HAS CORN TO SELL.

For the First Time in Her History She Possesses a Surplus.

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 25.—A special dispatch to the Manufacturers' Record from Mississippi reports that that state has produced a surplus of corn and that for the first time in its history corn is being shipped from Mississippi to the west. Kansas City grain houses now have buyers located in Mississippi purchasing corn. The dispatch says: "Corn can be raised here at a cost of twelve cents per bushel, and at twenty-five cents it would pay better than cotton at five cents."

NO FLAG BUT "OLD GLORY."

New York Now Has a Law Prohibiting the Use of Foreign Banners.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Gov. Morton thought Washington's birthday a most excellent day to sign the flag bill and make it a law. He said it contained nothing but patriotic sentiments and was truly American. It provides:

"It shall not be lawful to display the flag or emblem of any foreign country upon any state, county or municipal building; provided, however, that whenever any foreigner shall become the guest of the United States, the state, or any city, upon public proclamation by the governor or the mayor of any such city, the flag of the country of which such public guest shall be a citizen may be displayed upon such public buildings."

OHIO MINERS.

Reports Show a Distressing Condition of Affairs.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 25.—The commission appointed at the instance of Gov. McKinley by the boards of trade and chambers of commerce of Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus and Toledo, to make an official investigation of the destitution of the miners in the Hocking and Sunday Creek valleys, have discovered some startling facts. In the localities so far visited the commission has discovered that each miner last year earned only from $75 to $125, largely because of the great national strike, and that by working regularly they could have earned from $2 to $3 every day.

It was also stated that of the 10,000 or 12,000 miners in the two valleys, fully one-third, representing, with their families, nearly 15,000 persons, are in greater or less distress. With reference to future prospects, all the miners declare they are not encouraging. They are almost a unit in declaring that there are at least 50 per cent. too many miners in the two valleys for the amount of work that can be supplied, and many of them are making preparations to locate on farms or seek other employment.

IRWIN NOT GUILTY.

Blind Pool Operator, However, Ordered to Pay the Costs of the Suit.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 20.—The sealed verdict in the case against George M. Irwin, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was opened in court Monday morning. It found the discretionary pool operator not guilty of the offense charged, but ordered him to pay the costs of the case.

[It will be remembered Irwin was forced to quit business last October on account of the raids on the different pools. It is believed he had over 10,000 depositors on his books at the time of the run on his pool and that he had received deposits variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 from the time he began business until he closed up.]

FRENCH CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Three Hundred Soldiers Surprised and Put to Death by Natives in Africa.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—A local paper reports that the French expedition which left Marseilles some months ago, under the command of Commandant Monteil, for service in the interior of Africa, was surprised and a sanguinary conflict ensued. Three hundred men, comprising half of the force of the expedition, are said to have been killed, while the remainder have been driven from the line of march, and their retreat has been cut off. The minister of colonies has received an urgent appeal from the commander of the expedition for reinforcements.

PENNSYLVANIA VOTES.

Republicans Generally Successful in Municipal Elections.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Philadelphia maintained its reputation for stalwart republicanism Tuesday and elected the candidates of the republican party by a majority of from 45,000 to 50,000. The election was for mayor, receiver of taxes, councilmen, police magistrates and school directors. Elections were held in every city, borough and township in Pennsylvania, and returns received indicate that the republicans in every case have either held their own or increased their majority.

In His Own Behalf.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 22.—On Thursday Harry Hayward was upon the stand in his own behalf in the Miss Gung murder case. In answer to questions he declared the testimony of Blixt and his brother Adry to have been almost wholly false. He said that he had played roulette and faro in almost every city of any size in the country. He further said that Miss Gung had often insisted upon his taking her money with which to gamble. He accused Adry of being the one who held up the buggy in which he was riding with Miss Gung and Miss Vedder. He then attempted to account for his use of all the time between 6:45 and 7:45 o'clock on the evening of the murder. The prisoner's evidence was hardly begun when court adjourned.

An Enormous Over-Subscription.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—For the new issue of bonds 116 was bid here on the street Wednesday. The subscription to them was closed within twenty-two minutes after it opened in the office of Morgan & Co., on account of the tremendous subscriptions in London. From the latter place comes the report that the loan allotted to Europe has been covered twenty times over.

Slain by Mexican Bandits

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 20.—G. E. Morrison, an American, residing in Detroit, Mich., was killed by Mexican bandits about 60 miles south of Cordoba, two days ago. He was on his way to inspect coffee lands, with a view to investing in them, when the outlaws made the attack upon him. He was robbed of a considerable amount of money. Four of the bandits have been captured and will be shot.

Will Lose Their Heads.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—A dispatch to the Globe from Tien-Tsin says an imperial decree issued on February 19 announces that Tao-Tai-Kung and Gen. Yen-Chi-Gao have been tried by the board of punishment and condemned to imprisonment until autumn, when they will be beheaded. This punishment is inflicted upon them for the loss of Port Arthur.

PRISON OR EXILE.

It Is Said That Liliuokalani Will Be Allowed Her Choice.

HONOLULU, Feb. 11, per steamer Gale, via San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 25.—The government has caused the arrest of 381 persons since January 6, of whom ninety-four have been tried before the military court. Sentences in but twenty-four cases have been made public; twenty-three natives charged with treason and V. V. Ashford, charged with misprison of treason. Fifty-five men have been released by the authorities; the military court acquitted two. Three men, Cranston, Johnson and Mueller, were deported.

V. V. Ashford, charged with misprison of treason, was found guilty and sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000. Ashford has practiced law in Honolulu since about 1884. He was banished several years ago for conspiracy against the monarchy. Twenty-three natives, convicted of treason, have received sentences varying from five to ten years. In one case a fine of $5,000 was remitted by President Dole. Prince David has been found guilty. His sentence has not been made public. Thirteen persons are at liberty with the understanding that they leave the country within a reasonable time and not return without permission from the government. British Commissioner Hayes gave the men to understand he would not interfere in their behalf, as they admitted their guilt.

It is understood that the queen's sentence will be five years for the part she has taken in the trouble. Probably she will be allowed to leave the country without serving the sentence if she so desires. Twenty-four natives have been sentenced to prison for terms ranging from seven to eight years. The sentences found instant favor among the people generally, though some thought Ripikane at least should have been summarily dealt with.

In regard to the dispatch sent by Secretary Gresham to Minister Willis about demanding a delay of execution, Attorney General Smith stated that the government had no intention of executing the condemned men until the military court concluded its labors and every fact bearing on the case was brought out. Mr. Smith intimated nothing would be done until the United States government is in possession of the facts in each case. According to the attorney general the queen will not be sent out of the country.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Minister Willis has been instructed to insist on postponement of the execution of American citizens in Hawaii until the charges and evidence can be looked into.

MET AN AWFUL FATE.

An Aged Couple in Connecticut Burned to Death.

HADDAM, Conn., Feb. 25.—People on the way to church Sunday morning made a horrible discovery about 1 mile back of the village of Middle Haddam, at what is known as Hogs Hill. For some thirty years Thomas Cavanaugh, an industrious farmer has lived in a little story-and-a-half farm house there with his wife. The house is down in a valley completely hidden from the sight of the neighbors. The church-goers were surprised to see that the house was a mass of ruins, with only here and there a bit of smoke arising from a dying ember. A search of the ruins was begun. The searchers soon came upon a man's body, badly burned and barely recognizable. Near by was found a pelvic bone, which was all that remained of the woman's body. From the location it was concluded that the couple, who were about 60 years old, were asleep at the time the fire started and were burned in their bed.

SISTERS ARE SLAIN.

Sad Accident at a Railway Crossing at Linden, O.

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 25.—At Linden, a station on the Nickel Plate railroad 10 miles east of Fostoria, Sunday morning a west-bound freight ran into a double rig containing a party of young people on their way to church, killing two and probably fatally injuring two others of the party. The dead are: Miss Allie Hunt, aged 19, and Miss Bessie Hunt, aged 16. The injured are: Miss Margaret Hess, aged 17, badly hurt internally; Miss Louise Camp, aged 19, leg and arm broken; Walter Briggs, the driver of the rig, slightly injured.

A YEAR IN PRISON.

Punishment Fixed for Ex-Treasurer Woodruff, of Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 25.—The jury in the case of ex-State Treasurer Wm. E. Woodruff, charged with embezzling government funds, reached a verdict on Saturday night, finding him guilty, and assessed his punishment in the penitentiary for one year. He was tried here twice before, but the state failed to convict. The case went to Perryville on a change of venue, filed by his attorneys.

Dear Sir—As you are probably aware in 1887 the legislature of this State enacted a law making municipalities liable to individuals, who are injured by defective sidewalks, etc., our city council believe that it is possible to have that statute repealed, if the cities and villages will all unite in an effort to that end. I should be glad to have your views on this subject; will also be pleased to have the influence and assistance of your village government in this matter. Will you kindly advise me if Chelsea will aid in this work. Hoping to hear from you by an early mail, with your views on this subject, I am, sir, very truly yours,
