OUR LAMENT.

Laundry troubles oft remind us,
That our lot is not sublime.
Our work must never be behind us,
We must push it all the time.

On the shirts once new, now ragged,
And so old they're getting blue,
We must put a handsome polish,
And make them like new.

Then let's all be up and doing,
Send your shirts and collars here,
We will wash them, and construing,
Make them just like new appear.

An Able Sermon.

It was my good fortune, last Sabbath morning to listen to a discourse delivered by Rev. Wm. H. Walker, Pastor of the Congregational Church, of Chelsea. His text was from Rev. 21st last clause of first verse, "And there was no more Sea." It was a sermon that gave an inspiration to all who listened, and made one desire to reach out for such a fruition of life's warfare.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squeamish feelings at first. No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

WINTER BIRDS.

I watch them from my window,
While winds so keenly blow;
How merrily they twit!
In brown and ruffled feathers
They dot the white around,
And not one moping comrade
Among the lot I've found.

"Cheep! Cheep!" their tiny voices
Seem thankfully to say:
"A blessing to the Giver
We sing upon our way.
Though skies are dull and stormy,
To sigh would never do;
For He who sends the winter
Will send the summer too."

Have I a heart so thankful
For all that He bestows—
The sweet as well as bitter,
The snowflake and the rose?
Or do I sigh impatient,
And thankless, at the gloom
That makes all brighter, sweeter,
The springtime's boundless bloom?

Ah, may I be as cheerful
As yonder winter birds,
Through lills and petty crosses,
With no repining words!
So, teaching me this lesson,
Away, away they go,
And leave their tiny footprints
In stars, upon the snow!
—George Cooper, in S. S. Times.

STOLEN EVIDENCE.

NO ONE ever knew how it was first discovered that Miss Dinker was a kleptomaniac; but it was a fact, and people made the best of it. Old Miss Dinker was tolerably well off, or her habit of appropriating other people's property would have got her into trouble. But Cumminseed was used to Miss Dinker. When she visited the village store, and put a piece of tape up her sleeve, the watchful shopman added its price to her bill. When she took a neighbor's forks the neighbor sent a polite message to Miss Jane Dinker to have them restored; and Miss Jane, who was old Miss Dinker's niece, would find them up chimney or down cellar, and restore them.

Old Miss Dinker knew that she was deserving of blame in thus indulging her desire for stolen fruit, but as she often remarked when reasoned with, "she couldn't help it."

She was a generous old lady, too, and kindly, and if she taught Jane that man was a deceiver and that spinsterhood was blessed, she meant well.

Capt. Richard Murphy told another story when his ship lay in port, and he himself rested at a little hotel in Cumminseed. And Jane, won over by his merry voice and jolly ways, forgot her aunt's precepts, and one day ran away with him, leaving a penitent little note for her aunt and begging her forgiveness.

The old lady was naturally indignant, but when, three days after, the captain brought Jane back under his arm, established her in a beautiful little house, which he had purchased, and sent for "the old lady to make up," Miss Dinker relented, took tea with her niece and deigned to approve of her choice, and so the village scandal was silenced for awhile, and people called on Mrs. Capt. Murphy.

They lived together for five years in great contentment and a little boy was born to them, and all went prosperously; but at the end of that time the sword that always hangs by a hair over the head of a seafaring man's life fell at last. The captain's vessel was a wreck, and the captain and crew perished in mid-ocean, and Jane, after hoping against hope, and refusing to believe when no one else doubted, and listening night and day for a step that came not and could never come, accepted the truth at last and put on her widow's cap and took the awful truth in place of suspense, and tried to live and bear it for her boy's sake.

Then there came from some far-off place a man who proved himself the captain's brother and who claimed his property, alleging that Jane Dinker had never been married to John at all. Jane was furious, but she could only vow that a clergyman of the Episcopal church had married her. She could not remember the name of the church nor of its pastor, nor had she what the brother called "er lines." The marriage certificate, as she declared, the captain always kept among his private papers and had taken to sea with him. She advertised in a New York paper for the clergyman who had performed the service, but no answer came and finally the law and popular opinion declared that the widow had never been a wife and she was left poverty-stricken and helpless, and not a friend in the world but old Miss Dinker. She came out nobly.

Alas! all the rest of Cumminseed held a contrary opinion. They shuddered at the thought of having associated with such a creature, and wondered how she had dared to impose upon them so. They sent her to Coventry and tabooed her. I think some of the dearest creatures would have tarred and feathered her if they could. Jane Dinker had the comfortable Yankee pride of "respectability" in its Yankee sense strong within her soul, and this scorn quite crushed her. She hid herself from human eyes as much as possible, and went thankfully home with old Miss Dinker, whose income had grown smaller in these years, and who really showed great generosity in taking her disgraced niece to her bosom.

And now that she had countenanced poor Jane and opened her house to her, she also had lost her friends, and people grew hard upon her.

"You'll tell your aunt, Miss Jane, that I shall proceed to law if I lose another spoon," said one angry matron, to whom Jane had been forced to speak.

When her boy grew older there were children near by who, if he ventured into their company, were dragged away as though he had the plague. And when Jane would have placed him at the one good school, Aunt Dinker having allowed the money, the lady who presided thereover gently hinted that it would not do.

And little Richard, clinging to her hand, asked, as they went home: "What is it, mamma?" Then poor Jane wished that she were dead.

Old Miss Dinker called in high dudgeon upon the schoolmistress, and remonstrated in vain. The fact that she stole a spelling book during her brief stay did not further her object. When a little boy was sent for it at dusk Jane wished herself dead again. If only she could have had pride in anything or anyone, she thought; but life was all shame to her.

"Habits are hard to break," she said, "but I'll try. Only you oughtn't to be so hard on me when I've stuck to you so." And then she revealed a plan which she had concocted for giving the boy an education. "I'll put him to the best school in New York," she said.

"I'll keep the story that they tell—lie, as it is—to myself, and I'll pay his bills regular. Tain't likely I'm going to see him grow up without education. We'll make him a clergyman or a doctor. We'll snap our fingers in the faces of these critters. I'll take him up myself to-morrow and he shall come down every Saturday night."

"I shall miss him so," said Jane. "But it's for his good, and thank you, aunt."

So Jane spent the night in tears, and in the morning Aunt Dinker went to the city, taking with her little Richard. Jane suffered a great deal that day, and when at night she saw Aunt Dinker return alone she could not find voice to speak to her. But the old lady was in good spirits. She sat down before the fire with her shawl on, and told Jane how pleased Richard was with the journey and how Miss Speers had admired him. And Jane brought her the tea, and she took it sitting by the fire, but still kept her shawl on; and moreover, the shawl looked curiously thick and bunched.

Once before had Jane seen the same thing, and it had resulted in the appearance of somebody's workbox. Her heart misgave her.

"Aunt," she said, in trembling tones, "are you cold?" "Not particularly," said Miss Dinker. "Then shan't I take your shawl?" "When I ask you to do so."

Jane was silent. Old Miss Dinker fidgeted. Finally Jane burst into reproaches.

"Oh, aunt! couldn't you help disgracing my poor boy, to steal in New York, where they have no mercy on you, and at the school, where I hoped he could hold his head as high as anyone? Oh, aunt, aunt!"

"You ought to be ashamed of yourself, Jane. I've been a good aunt to you; and, as for the school, I never touched a thing. I put my hands in my muff, and sat just so, and made a pint of it. And it's nothing much to make a fuss over. I took it almost without thinking. It came in so handy."

"What is it?" asked Jane, desperately. "Well, I'll tell you," said Aunt Dinker, "and if they want it they can have it. From the school to the depot there came up a rain. I had on my best bonnet, so I looked about me and there was a church open and in I popped. 'Well, as I stood there, out came a gentleman that I knowed was a clergyman, and says he: 'Walk in, ma'am, and wait for the rain to be over. There's a fire in the vestry.' And he left me before the grate in the nicest little room. And I waited until the streets were dry. The sexton came and talked to me, and told how they'd been workin' there, and they'd just gone. And somehow, when I got into the street, this was under my shawl," the street, this was under my shawl, "she's committed sacrilege at last," cried Jane. "Oh, dear! oh, dear!" "Tain't neither," cried Aunt Dinker. "It's only a shabby old book." And as she spoke she unfolded her shawl and tossed upon the table a dingy leathern tome, on the covers of which was marked in black letters:

"Marriage Register of St. Grace's Church, 1860-1873."

Jane seized upon it with a low cry. "St. Grace's church!" she said. "Aunt, aunt, that was the name. That was where I was married." And her trembling fingers turned over the pages, and her eyes sought out the date, and suddenly glittered with joy. "It is here!" she cried, "here! here! here!" and cast herself down upon the floor and sobbed as she had never sobbed before for very thankfulness; while Miss Dinker, bending over the pages, saw written there, in a plain, old-fashioned hand:

"On the 30th of June, by me, Oliver Sparkle, Capt. Richard Murphy to Jane Dinker, spinster, of the town of Cumminseed, N. J."

"Witness—B. Britters, Clerk." When Jane Murphy arose from the floor she was an altered woman. Proof of her matron dignity and of her boy's birthright was in her hands, and he-bosomed.

fore the next sunset all Cumminseed knew the truth. The pastor of St. Grace's came from New York at her summons to swear to his book and his deceased predecessor's signature, and legal proceedings were instituted to restore the widow to her rights. Of course they were successful.

To-day no one is more respected in all Cumminseed than Mrs. Capt. Murphy, although she has never quite forgiven her neighbor's cruelty. And Aunt Dinker, growing quite old and unable to go abroad, indulges her singular propensity by stealing napkins from the linen press. There is good in all things, Jane Murphy often says. She never will deny that since such great good came to her of old Aunt Dinker's kleptomania.—Toledo Blade.

SOLDIERS WERE POOR COOKS.

Some of the Makeshifts to Which They Resorted During the Crimean War.

In those Crimean days our soldiers had no knowledge of cooking, being in this respect far behind the French and Turks. But even had our men been perfect cooks, they would have had but little opportunity of exercising their skill. Camp kettles were issued at Kalamata bay, when the troops landed, in the proportion of one to five men, says a writer in the Fortnightly Review. Now, the kettle would cook fresh but not salt meat for five men, as more water is required to extract the brine from salt meat than the kettle could hold, and, moreover, this number (five) represented nothing then, nor does it now, in our regimental systems.

Most of the kettles had been dropped at the Alma, or in the subsequent march, and the soldiers were reduced for all cooking purposes to the mess tin which each man carried on his back. These were inadequate. The lid, perhaps, was most prized, for when the body is wet and cold there is a craving for a hot drink, and it took less time and fuel to roast the green coffee berries in the lid than to boil the salt meat in the body of the tin. It had not occurred to anyone in the department then responsible for our commissariat that to make a mug of coffee, out of green berries, roasting and grinding apparatus was essential, and till January, when some roasted coffee was landed, our men might be daily seen pounding with stones or round shot the berries in a fragment of exploded shell.

An Actor in Pawn.

Lemaitre, the French actor, was always head over heels in debt, despite an enormous salary, and was always kept busy in devising means by which he could raise money. One evening, an hour before the curtain was to rise upon a new play, a well-known pawnbroker entered the private office of the director of the Theatre Francaise. "Here is a pawn ticket for you, sir," "For me?" exclaimed the astonished director. "Yes, monsieur. It is for twenty thousand francs, and I hold M. Lemaitre for security. He cannot leave my place until I have been paid." The director had to pay this amount before he could get his star. Lemaitre and the pawnbroker divided the spoils.—San Francisco Argonaut.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

A Matrimonial Scheme.

Among the large colony of French Canadians from Lake Linden, whom Father Paradis is seeking to induce to settle in the vicinity of Lake Temiscamingen, in Canada, are about 400 bachelors and maidens of marriageable age, who have been unable to enter the bonds of matrimony, owing to the narrow circumstances in which they are placed. If the scheme succeeds, it is the intention of Father Paradis to hold a grand marriage ceremony in the course of next summer, when most of these sturdy young men, after they have made a home for themselves, will be united to the girls of their choice.

Confessed His Guilt.

The marriage of Miss Matilda Hilby, heiress to $60,000, and Peter Erpelding was to have been celebrated in Menominee, when Rev. Paul Halbmaler, pastor of St. Mary's church, received a telegram from Waterloo, Ia., informing him that Erpelding deserted a wife and two children there a year ago. Erpelding when confronted with the charge confessed his guilt. He has since fled to parts unknown. A few days ago he obtained $2,000 from Miss Hilby to pay on a farm which he had purchased and on which they intended to live.

Interesting Statistics.

Compared with the census of 1884 this is an increase of 20,563 in the total number, 10,570 in the number cultivated by owners, 3,470 in the number rented for money and 6,523 in the number rented on shares.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 6.—The senate, in committee of the whole, considered the municipal commission charter bill for fourth-class cities, one of those prepared by a commission authorized by the legislature of 1894, intended to cover all the necessary charter legislation and obviate the necessity of coming to the legislature. Serious opposition has arisen against these bills applying to third and fourth-class cities. A public hearing will be had on the bills Thursday evening.

LANSING, Mich., March 7.—In the senate Wednesday the joint resolution to increase the salaries of state officers was referred to the judiciary committee. The senate concluded the consideration of the charter for cities of the fourth class in committee of the whole, but passed it informally in order to give its opponents a hearing.

LANSING, Mich., March 8.—The senate on Thursday passed the bill appropriating $8,000 to provide for eight inspectors of factories. The bill making it lawful to shoot deer in any section of the state only from November 10 to November 30 was also passed. The senate committee on labor made a favorable report on the bill recommended by Gov. Rich as a solution of disputes between capital and labor. The bill provides for the incorporation of labor organizations so that they may sue and be sued, and thus settle their difficulties as other corporations do.

LANSING, Mich., March 9.—The senate judiciary committee on Friday reported adversely upon the house resolution for a general increase of salaries for state officers. Favorable committee reports were made on bills appropriating $126,000 for additional buildings at the home for the feeble-minded; appropriating $176,000 for the soldiers' home; appropriating $72,000 for the state fish commission, and providing for local option on the local traffic by the vote of cities, villages and townships, instead of by county, as now.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 5.—The most important legislation Monday was an agreement by the house in committee of the whole to repeal the clause in the general tax law of 1891 providing for the taxation of mortgages and land contracts.

LANSING, Mich., March 6.—The house, in committee of the whole, Tuesday agreed to bills for the appointment of a state board of military examiners to pass upon the qualifications of line officers; allowing women to become trustees of Baptist churches; appropriating $46,500 for the school for the blind. In committee of the whole the house agreed to the bill providing for the payment of 50 per cent. of state and county taxes in July and the balance in December, instead of having the entire assessment paid in December as under the present law.

LANSING, Mich., March 7.—The house on Wednesday resurrected the joint resolution providing for increasing the salaries of state officers all along the line, and by exactly the number of votes necessary—sixty-seven—succeeded in passing it. The resolution provides for the submission of the question at the April election.

As passed by the house the resolution fixes the salaries as follows: Governor, $4,000; attorney general, $3,500; auditor general, $3,000; circuit judges, secretary of state, state treasurer, land commissioner, superintendent of public instruction, each $2,500. An amendment to include the lieutenant governor at $1,200 was defeated.

LANSING, Mich., March 8.—Bills passed the house Thursday authorizing the city of Menominee to build a bridge across the Menominee river, and authorizing women to act as trustees of Baptist churches. Bills abolishing days of grace on commutation and reappraisal of 2½ state lands were killed. A bill was passed requiring nurses and midwives to report any inflammation of the eyes of children under 5 weeks old. Oculists say 25 per cent. of the blindness among children can be avoided if these defects are treated at the proper time.

LANSING, Mich., March 9.—In the committee of the whole the house Friday agreed to bills providing for the return of any bonus that may have been paid to corporations for locating at a given point in case they abandon the locality, and for the purchase and display of United States flags on all public schoolhouses. The Campbell bill providing that before any corporation can do business in Michigan the entire amount of the authorized capital must be subscribed and 25 per cent. thereof actually paid in was opposed by the upper peninsula delegation, who asserted that it would drive vast numbers of Michigan corporations into other states. No conclusion was reached and the bill will come up again next week.

WARNING TO PUBLISHERS.

They Must Not Scare Delinquent Subscribers by Holding Up Bugaboos.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Assistant Attorney General Thomas, of the post-office department, has made an important ruling in regard to so-called "newspaper laws." Mr. Thomas decides that a publisher who makes a demand for payment of subscription to his paper through the mails accompanying the demands with a threat of enforcing it by the use of these pretended laws, may be prosecuted for attempting to obtain money under false pretense, provided he knows that these laws have no existence as laws or as judicial decisions. The so-called laws referred to are those often promulgated by some newspapers to the effect that subscriptions to a paper cannot be stopped until full payment of arrearage has been made and that a publisher may prosecute in criminal action a subscriber who refuses to take his paper from the office, not having paid full arrearage, or a subscriber who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. These rules, the assistant attorney general says, have no existence under the law.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 7.—Henry Riddle, an aged resident, at one time a man of means, was found frozen stiff in his home here. He had not been seen for several days, which led to an investigation.

Here and There.

The stingiest men on record are first the man who won't drink as much water as he wants unless it comes from his neighbor's well. The second forbids his family writing anything but small hand, as it is a waste of ink to make big letters. The third stops the clock to save wear and tear of the machinery. They all refuse to take a newspaper on the ground that it is such a strain on these spectacles to read.

The Ann Arbor Courier says, one of our fruit growers remarked the other day: We are pleased to state that the prospects for a crop of all kinds of fruit were never better at this time of the year. All kinds of fruit buds entered the winter in fine condition owing largely no doubt to the drought last fall, and the recent cold weather has had no effect upon them. Fruit growers have greater reason to fear a warm, open winter, followed by spring frosts, than steady cold weather.

A recent census bulletin in relation to farms and dairy products in Michigan, gives the following statistics for Washtenaw county: There are 3,758 farms in the county, 3,079 of which are cultivated by the owners. Of the remainder 247 are rented for cash, and 432 for a share of the products. The same bulletin shows that for the year ending June 1, 1894, this county produced 5,578,559 gallons of milk, valued at $103,765; and 1,352,638 pounds of butter were made on the farms of the county during the same period. 3,383 pounds of cheese are reported to have been made here during the fiscal year.

A grocer with two good eyes remarks: "A nibbler is a man who eats a grocery store, runs his fingers into the sugar barrel and laps up a couple of ounces; takes a nibble at the back of a herring; eats a handful of nuts; then goes to the cheese and cuts off a slice just to taste; then as a matter of course, must have a few crackers and perhaps before he has made up his mind to purchase a quarter of a lb. of tea he has eaten up the profits on $2. worth of groceries. To wind it all up, after getting trusted for his tea, on which the merchant realizes a profit of five cents, he leaves the store munching a couple of apples. This is no picture of imagination, but a reality, except that sometimes the nibbler does not purchase the quarter of a pound of tea.

"During dangerous weather of this sort," said an old doctor, "the most careful persons are likely to catch a cold in their chests which will extend swiftly to their lungs if not attended to. It usually makes its presence known by a constricted sensation just under the breast bone, where the flesh is thinnest. When a person experiences this feeling he can rest assured he can procure almost instant relief by drinking a cup of water as hot as he can bear to take it in the mouth and to swallow. There is no better medicine in the world to arrest the progress of a cold than hot water, and, besides its effects upon the stomach and the system generally, is beneficial in the highest degree. And in sore throat the same remedy will be found almost a specific.

The origin of the word Lent is obscure. By some it is derived from the old German "lenz," to lengthen—the Lenten season coming as the days are becoming perceptibly longer; others derive it from the Latin "lens," lentis—because owing to the prohibition of meat diet these in the early days furnished the great food staple during the fasting period. Ash Wednesday is always the 46 day before Easter, the latter being a movable holy day, and the one, too, on which the dates of all other movable church holidays depend. Easter is always the first Sunday after the 14th day of the calendar moon, which happens upon the next after March 21. Although Lent is counted a 40-day season of fasting; yet, in reality, it consists of 46 days—for some unexplained reason the Sundays being excluded in the count.

The grip played the deuce with Chelsea's mail service. It seized postmaster Laird along the back bone, spread to his hips, crept up a long his spine, put brevet tears in his eyes, took an extra twinge through his knees, jumped up into the small of his back with both feet, made an eye trough of his nose, took an in-shoot over the eyes, and gave proof positive of the correctness of the fundamental principles of the universalist doctrine. It then reached for Miss Foster, the assistant, but had a big fight with inflammatory rheumatism (a twin brother of the grip) for supremacy and even the young lady can't tell which is ahead, but she "knows how it is." With these two officials of Uncle Sam thus demoralized, it is no wonder that the mail service is a bit hampered, but the postmaster has sworn in an assistant, has sworn in secret, and public, and the work of the office is kept up as well as circumstances will permit. The public is patient and don't swear at all. Laird hopes to get this grip on the letters again in a few days—Adrian Press.

Finis.

Another victory for the right was recorded here last Monday night. When the Workingmen made a sick clean sweep, And municipal light was buried deep.

Our little industry across the track, Was about to receive a setting-back. But thanks to the efforts of belly and brains, The American people still held the reins.

We have read some of late about our "fore-fathers blood." How, in their strife for the right, they were stamped in the mud. But we did not expect to hear even a mention, From one whose grandfathers caused the contention.

Has it got to that point where it can be said, That our forefathers died in vain, suffered and bled, And that we are to be robbed of that God-given right, To encourage home industry by using its light.

We admit that the human are liable to err, But from close observation we have a right to infer, That this opposition to our present good light, Is carried on chiefly through malice and spite.

So the harsh accusations we expect they will come, From those who feel power slip from under their thumb; Whose thoughts are employed on contrivance of ruin, And who never reflect on the harm they are doing.

We are aware of the weakness of this earthly tribe, That the greed of some men may tempt them to bribe, We are also aware that when permitted to choose, That the greed of some men won't let them refuse.

But putting aside all strife and contention, We cannot believe its the forefathers intention, Of this new board elect regardless of right, To burden our town with electric light.

What the Electric Light Company ask is but fair, Its treatment that's simply, honest and square. They will accept of no contract, short or remote, Except it be approved by the people's own vote. A. R. CONGDON.

March Crop Report.

As bearing upon the question of the amount of wheat in farmers hands March 1, in this State, the following data will be of interest:

Wheat crop of 1894, as estimated in Oct. '94. 21 627 649
Seed—1 108 000 acres 1 662 000
Bread to farmers one year. 6 627 000
Sales reported Aug. 1, 1894 to Mar. 1, 1895, 8 006 618
Feed of stock, twenty two per cent of crop as estimated by correspondents, March 1. 4 758 000
21 058 618

Remainder. 574 081
In the above calculation, only sales actually reported are included. The sales in February and previous months, not yet reported, but that will be reported, will wipe out the remainder shown. In other words, the amount of wheat sold and amount fed between August 1, 1894, and March 1, 1895, together with seed and a sufficient reserve for bread of farmers for one year, equal the crop of 1894. All future deliveries by farmers must come from reserves from previous crops. The marketings by farmers as returned to this office and published in these reports from month to month seem to confirm this conclusion. They are less each month than in the corresponding month of the preceding year. The quantity of wheat reported marketed from all points in the State in the seven months, August-February, is 2,278,421 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year, but as no reports for February of this year have yet been received from a large number of stations, the actual decrease is less than this total.

The amount marketed at 273 points in the State, from which reports were received monthly from August to February each year, was 627 337 bushels less in the six months from August 2, 1894, to Feb. 1, 1895, than in the six months ending with February 1, 1894.

Temperature and precipitation in February were both below the normal in all sections of the State, snow, however, covered the ground fairly well until near the close of the month, affording good protection to wheat. In the southern counties the snow was all gone at the end of the month, but in the central and northern counties the covering was ample.

In condition, live stock averages from five to seven points below a full average comparison being with stock in good healthy and thrifty condition.

TYPHOID fever can not be transmitted by sewer gas, is the report of experts to the London common council. The bacilli of the disease, also, find it hard to live in town sewage.

A CANADIAN blacksmith named Alard has finally solved the great problem that has stood in the way of the general use of aluminum in place of iron and steel, and has succeeded in tempering the new metal to the hardness and resisting power of those heavier metals.

The board of aldermen of Brooklyn have voted to extend the rights of the Municipal Electric Light Co. over the entire city, with the understanding that at the end of ten years the municipality may take possession of the plant upon the payment of a sum equal to the cost of the plant.

ONE of the savings banks in Portland had a book presented for settlement recently which was opened in 1863 with a deposit of $200, followed by $200 in 1864 and $300 in 1868; total deposits $700, of which $528 was withdrawn in 1878. There is now due the depositor a balance of $2,027.97.

THE peach growers in the lake shore fruit belt of Michigan nearly all agree that a temperature of 22 degrees below zero is required to seriously affect the fruit buds at this season of the year. After the first warm weather of spring expands the buds a much higher temperature will often do great injury.

A RECEIVER will be appointed for the Icarian community, the socialistic village near Corning, Ia., conducted by adherents of the society founded originally in Texas in 1846 by Cabot and his associates. They came from France. The existing members have agreed to divide the property and dissolve the society.

A BILL is being considered in the Illinois legislature to provide for the transfer of the Lincoln monument from the association to the state, the purchase of nine acres of ground surrounding the burial place, the appropriation of $30,000 to carry out the transfer and $50,000 to repair the historic pile.

At the age of sixty-one August H. Merrike, of Laporte, Ind., fell in love with a comely young woman of twenty. She refused him, but he declared her opposition should be broken down, and for thirty years he has been paying her assiduous court. Finally he prevailed, and at the age of ninety-one he has won his bride, who is now fifty.

It is probable that Norman A. Mozeley, of Missouri, will be the youngest member of the next house of representatives. He was born on a farm in 1866, and worked as a farm hand until 1887, when he had educated himself sufficiently to reach school and study law. Col. George B. McClellan, who is about thirty, will be another of the youthful members of the house that bids fair to be noted for the young men in it.

Miss ANNA GOULD, now the Countess Castellane, is a fairly good looking girl, but not pretty, as many newspapers have tried to make out. Her one real point of beauty is her soft, dark brown eyes. To see her busily occupied taking notes at the law lectures you would never guess her to be one of the great heiresses of America. Her figure is petite and graceful, and her manners are entirely simple and unaffected.

A MAN in Island Falls, Me., placed in the hands of an attorney for collection a bill of about $50 for work done on a building. A short time since he wrote to the disciple of Blackstone to see if the bill had been collected, and received answer that it had, but the cost of collection was so great that the bill lacked sixty-eight cents of being enough to cover the expenses. He then hired another lawyer to investigate, who sustained the first verdict.

It has been nearly two years since Dr. Nansen sailed from Christiania in the endeavor to solve the mystery of the North pole. Many arctic explorers believe the hardy adventurer and his eleven companions are dead, since he failed to call at the various depots he expected to before throwing his ship in the great ice pack. Dr. Nansen himself, before leaving civilization, warned the public it might be five years before intelligence could be had of him.

DRUNKENNESS has increased alarmingly in Belgium in the last forty years, according to M. Lejeune, lately minister of justice. The revenue from the excise in 1851 was 4,000,000 francs, now it is 33,000,000; the number of saloons has increased from 53,000 to 175,000, and the annual consumption of spirits is 12 litres per head of the entire population, or 48 litres for each adult. Crime has increased 200 per cent and insanity 138, and of every 100 deaths among males 80 are traceable to alcohol.

BULLETS FOR BUMS.

Tramps and Policemen in a Fight at Boone, Ia.

An Officer Shoots One Through the Heart and Wounds Two Others—Fifteen Are Arrested and Sent to Jail.

BOONE, Ia., March 11.—Between 2 and 3 o'clock Saturday morning the police were notified that a row was going on at the Chicago & Northwestern rail mill, in the eastern part of the city, and help was asked to quell the disturbance, which was almost a riot. The rail mill has long been a resort for tramps, who would congregate there and spend the night. Friday fifteen or twenty gathered and when night came they got a couple of gallons of alcohol and held a drunken carouse. Charles Elliott, the night foreman of the mill, was struck over the head when he tried to protect the company's property and knocked senseless. The tramps drove off the railroad men and the police were called upon for assistance.

The three policemen on night duty attempted to arrest the fellows. The tramps attacked the officers and the latter drew their revolvers. Officer Campbell, who was at the door of the engine-room, was attacked by the tramps in their efforts to escape, and he shot one through the heart, killing him instantly, another through the back, wounding him so seriously that it is believed he will die, and a third through the hand. Coroner Clark was notified and held an inquest over the dead man, County Attorney Holmes conducting the examination. After closely investigating the case, the jury brought in a verdict of justifiable shooting, and Officer Campbell was exonerated.

After the shooting the officers succeeded in capturing fifteen of the gang and bringing them to the city jail. The man killed is James Freeman, alias Riley, and came from somewhere in Minnesota. The fatally wounded man, Tim Lallan, is said to be from Des Moines. The man shot in the hand got away.

After the coroner's jury had rendered this verdict, Mayor Hornstein, acting as justice of the peace, arraigned the fifteen tramps in the jail, under the state tramp law, and gave all ten days in jail. The usual method here of handling the tramp is for the sheriff to turn them back to the city authorities, who make them work upon the streets with balls and chains.

NEGRO EXODUS.

Hundreds of Blacks Leave Alabama for Settlement in Mexico.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., March 11.—A special from Entaw, Ala., says: Within about forty days 500 negroes have emigrated from Greene county to Mexico, and several hundred are now awaiting arrival of trains to take them away. They are sacrificing their mules, horses, cattle, etc., to enable them to go, and renters are leaving plantations they have leased for this year. Owing to the late date other renters cannot be obtained to make the crop. This means much loss to the land owners and to the railroads, as the corn and cotton will not be grown to freight away. Much excitement exists here among land owners over the negro exodus, but it is probable that a great deal of the lands will be taken by emigrants from Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana and other states, and about sixty home seekers from Tippecanoe county, Ind., are shortly coming to Entaw, to select and purchase plantations for their future homes. Owing to the excited condition of the white people it is not probable that further efforts will be made by the railroad people or by the paid emigrant's agents to induce the negroes to emigrate to Mexico.

MINERS ENTOMBED.

Eight Men Imprisoned in a Burning New Mexican Mine.

SOCORRO, N. M., March 11.—The shaft house of the Old Abe mine at White Oaks, Lincoln county, caught fire Sunday morning, and in a few moments the flames were communicated to the shafting of the mine, which was completely destroyed. Nine men were in the mine at the time, only one of whom, C. F. Wilkinson, escaped. The others are supposed to be dead, as there is but slight possibility that they escaped suffocation.

Wilkinson was in the cage at the time the fire broke out and escaped through the air shaft. The others were in the lower levels and had no chance to make their way out. It will be impossible for a rescuing party to enter the mine for at least twenty-four hours.

A COSTLY MEAL.

An Eastern Man Swallows Several Coins and His Death Follows.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 11.—Patrick Sullivan, aged 59 years, and residing at 23 Tecumseh street, met with death from an extraordinary cause Saturday night. About 9 o'clock he went to bed with three pieces of money in his mouth. When his wife went to awaken him Sunday morning his body was cold, and he had probably been dead for some hours. The medical examiner was called and it was found that Sullivan had swallowed a half dollar, a quarter of a dollar and a nickel.

BIMETALLISTS.

Lines Upon Which the New Party Will Organize.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A statement signed by the members of the executive committee appointed by the bimetallic conference called to meet in Washington February 22, 1896, has been published declaring the issue upon which "the new party" styled "The American bimetallic party" will organize. The signers to the call are: A. J. Warner, president American Bimetallic league; chairman, John P. Jones, of Nevada; William W. Stewart, of Nevada; J. L. McLaughlin, South Carolina; Anson Wolcott, Indiana; George G. Merrie, Colorado; Henry Jones, Georgia; J. C. Green, California; Joseph Sheldon, Connecticut; C. J. Hilyer, District of Columbia; Byron E. Shea, Colorado, and Mortimer Whitehead, New Jersey.

The paper issued by these signers starts out by asserting that the money question is indisputably the dominant issue in the United States. The issue, it declares, "is between the gold standard, gold bonds and bank currency on the one side and the bimetallic standard, no bonds and government currency on the other." The statement in its entirety is an elaborately specified opposition to the single gold standard and a demand for an immediate return "to the constitutional standard of gold and silver, by the restoration by this government independent of any foreign power of the unrestricted coinage of both gold and silver into standard money, at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact equality, the silver coin to be a full legal tender, equally with gold for all debts and dues, public and private."

Their views as generalized embody in carefully condensed shape the various expressions of ultra free silver men in both houses of congress during the sessions of recent years and are unalterably opposed to the issue by the United States of interest bearing bonds in time of peace, and demand the payment of all coin obligations of the United States, as provided by existing laws, in either gold or silver coin, at the option of the government, and not at the option of the creditor.

The inauguration of a movement for relief from the conditions the call describes, the signers to it declare must spring from the people. They continue: "Politicians never institute great reforms, and it were idle to wait for them. This cause is the cause of the people, and it is believed that it more profoundly concerns the welfare of the great body of the people than any question since the civil war, if not, indeed, since our independence was signed, for on its ultimate outcome the question of a sufficiency or a scarcity of money is a question of freedom or serfdom for the mass of the people."

The address concludes: "Fellow-citizens: The power is still in your hands to right by the ballot the great wrong of 1873, and to save yourselves and your children from the thralldom which the gold standard policy, if persisted in, will surely bring upon you and them."

"We pray you, therefore, not to let the settlement of this question go beyond the election of 1896, but subordinating all questions for the time being to this, the supreme issue, settle this now and settle it forever, and we especially urge upon you the importance of immediate organization in townships and counties throughout the entire country for the purpose of carrying on this great movement for the common good of all."

"If the conference had authority from the people to name a candidate for president it would name Joseph C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania, but not having such authority it can only suggest the name and invite expressions from the people by petition, resolutions or otherwise, believing that nominations when made should reflect in the most direct manner the will of the people, uncontrolled by caucus machinery or by professional politicians."

Supreme Court Decides Important Patent Case Against Big Companies.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The case of the Bate Refrigerator company against Francis Sulzberger & Co., upon which depends the question of when American patents expire when foreign patents have been previously issued, was decided by the United States supreme court Monday in an exhaustive opinion by Justice Harlan. It is estimated that not less than $200,000,000 of capital hinges upon the decision, which determines the status of many valuable patents. The court held that the invention for which Bate received a patent was previously patented in a foreign country, and that the United States patent did expire with the foreign patents. The decision is against the electric and other patents involved in the decision of this suit.

Substantially the decision will affect in the same way the quadruplex telegraph patents which were applied for in October, 1874, and issued December 15, 1875. The incandescent lamp patents filed by the General Electric Light company are also included in those which will be affected by the decision. There was no dissenting opinion.

Strike in Pittsburgh District.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 10.—A strike was ordered in the Pittsburgh district Thursday to enforce the demand upon coal operators to pay the 69-cent rate. There are now about 15,000 men out. Thursday evening the miners' officials received information that the owners of the Catsburg mines, near Monongahela City, had agreed to pay the 69-cent rate demanded by their 250 men. Five other coal operators have since granted the same rate to their men.

All revolutionists who are Spanish subjects will be dealt with according to martial law.

FOUND GUILTY.

Harry Hayward Convicted of Murder in the First Degree.

The Jury Returns Its Verdict—Hayward Takes It Calmly—Witnesses for the Defense Arrested for Perjury.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 11.—On the night of December 3 last Catherine Ging was murdered by Claus A. Blixt at the instigation of Harry T. Hayward, who at the moment the murder was committed was occupying a seat at the Grand opera house. Friday the jury, after it had settled down to rest after dinner, took one ballot and found Hayward guilty of murder in the first degree. Two hours later it filed into court and the verdict was read. The jury retired at 11 o'clock Friday morning after listening to Attorney Erwin's closing remarks and the judge's charge. At 2:10 it reported an agreement and at 2:30 the verdict was rendered.

When Hayward appeared he was as faultlessly dressed as usual and apparently as cool as ever, but he was somewhat out of humor for he threw his hat down on the attorney's table with force enough to split it. His attorney cautioned him not to exhibit any temper and he subsided.

The verdict presented, every eye was turned to Hayward as the clerk started to read the paper. There was nothing in his face to indicate that he had heard a word of it. He threw his head back as the word "guilty" was pronounced, but it was only to adjust his collar band. He did not change color by a single shade. Then, looking around at the crowd, he raised his eyebrows inquiringly. During the polling of the jury he listened to the answers but the expression in his face was one of indignation rather than any other sentiment.

Monday, April 15, has been set as the date of the trial of Claus Blixt. It is learned from good authority that Judge Pond will hear the case in accordance with an agreement between the judges.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 9.—Two of the most important witnesses for the defense in the Hayward case were on Friday night arrested for perjury upon complaints sworn out by R. R. O'Dell, attorney for C. A. Blixt, the real murderer. While the warrants were issued at the instance of O'Dell, it is the prevailing opinion that he is acting in accord with an agreement with the state's attorney's office.

The witnesses arrested are G. A. Grindall and Miss Maggie Wachter, formerly a stenographer in the employ of Blixt's attorney. The testimony upon which the warrant for Grindall is based is that relative to the mysterious "third man." Grindall declared positively that on the night of the murder he saw a man enter the buggy which Miss Ging was driving, near the West hotel. His testimony was uncorroborated, while a number of other witnesses said he was a mile or more away from the West hotel at the time specified.

Miss Wachter's testimony was in regard to a statement claimed to have been made by Blixt to his attorney to the effect that Adry Hayward had instigated the murder and that the two had planned to throw the crime upon Harry should they be arrested for it. Miss Wachter had testified that Blixt had made the statement that Adry was the instigator of the murder, and had been severely chided for so doing.

The arrests were totally unexpected, and Miss Wachter and Grindall were locked up in the Central police station early Friday evening. Several other witnesses are said to be on the state's list, but some of them are known to have left town.

GEN. HARRISON ILL.

The Ex-President a Sufferer from Grip and Its Complications.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 11.—Gen. Harrison's condition is much improved and his physician is hopeful of his rapid recovery. His trouble is an acute attack of bronchitis, and his condition was regarded as somewhat alarming. The fever has been rapidly reduced, however, and his temperature is normal. He has been sick since Saturday, March 2.

Mr. Harrison returned to Indianapolis Saturday, March 2, from Richmond, where he had been engaged for forty-one days trying the Morrison will case. He was in an enfeebled condition and was also suffering from a severe cold. He became much worse Sunday morning, March 3, and was forced to keep to his bed. He was too ill to return to Richmond Monday for the trial. There was such a change in his condition Friday night that a carefully worded telegram was sent to his daughter, Mrs. McKee, telling her it was advisable for her to come to the sick man's home.

Dr. Jameson made several visits to the patient Sunday and, while giving out reports that are more favorable than those of Saturday, it is apparent from his manner that he regards it as necessary to give the ex-president the closest attention. He has prohibited all study, and does even allow him to indulge in the lightest reading, such exercise increasing the pain in his head and making him very restless. Mrs. McKee reached his bedside at a late hour Saturday night and has been constantly with him.

Dr. Jameson said, after visiting him Sunday evening, that if he continued to improve he might be able to leave his room within a few days, possibly within a week, but care must be exercised to prevent a relapse, and especially to prevent additional cold. Mr. Harrison sat up for a few moments Sunday afternoon.

COIT IS EXONERATED.

Ohio Militia Officer's Work at Washington Court House Approved.

COLUMBUS, O., March 11.—The findings of the special court of inquiry appointed by Gov. McKinley in the case of the Washington Court House rioting and killing by the troops, was made public Saturday. The court finds that neither Col. A. B. Coit nor anyone in responsible command was under the influence of liquor in the slightest degree, but the soldiers were permitted to visit saloons during the day preceding the firing, and at least three of them became drunk. This is severely criticized. The disposition of his troops and the plan of defense made by Col. Coit are thoroughly approved, and the severe measures he finally resorted to to prevent the capture and lynching of the prisoner, were fully warranted by the defiant attitude and the repeated assaults made upon the courthouse. Col. Coit is, however, criticised for permitting the arms of a company to remain stacked and unguarded in easy reach of the mob. The firing was fully justified and the crowd had repeated warnings to disperse. In approving the finding Gov. McKinley complimented the troops for their soldierly action.

THE MOON'S ECLIPSE.

Clouds Baffle the Efforts of Scientists to Make Observations.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 11.—The preparations that were made at Harvard observatory to observe the total eclipse of the moon Sunday evening were baffled by the unfavorable condition of the heavens. Prof. Pickering, the director of the observatory, said that there would probably be nothing of scientific importance in the eclipse. Arrangements had been made to photograph the heavens in the vicinity of the moon in the hope of discovering a satellite or of recording occultations or eclipses of smaller bodies.

NEW YORK, March 11.—The eclipse of the moon was plainly visible in this city Sunday night. The night was clear and propitious to the occasion. After 10 o'clock the moon was, at short intervals, totally obscured from view, then segmental portions of it were suddenly revealed again. The celestial spectacle was witnessed by many persons who assembled in the city hall park, though the hundreds of persons who thronged the Brooklyn bridge had the vantage ground for viewing the various phases of the strange scene. No scientific observations were made.

END OF A SPREE.

A Drunken Man Sets Fire to His Room and Loses His Life.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 11.—John A. Sweeney, aged 40, lost his life and his wife received probably fatal injuries by the burning of their house, No. 69 Henderson street, Allegheny, early Sunday morning. Sweeney came home drunk and went upstairs to bed, leaving his wife asleep on the first floor. At 2 o'clock she detected the odor of smoke, and on going to her husband's room found the lamp overturned and the room in a blaze. She repeatedly attempted to drag Sweeney to the stairs but was unable. She was severely burned before she abandoned the attempt, and to save her own life leaped from a window. The firemen dragged Sweeney out, but he died in a few minutes. Mrs. Sweeney inhaled the flames and was terribly bruised by her fall. The couple were childless.

SERVED IN TWO WARS.

The Grip Almost Won Where the Bullet Failed.

Our Sympathies Always Enlisted in the Infirmitie of the Veteran.

(From the Herald, Woodstock, Va.)

There is an old soldier in Woodstock, Va., who served in the war with Mexico and in the war of the rebellion, Mr. Levi McInturf. He passed through both these wars with a serious wound. The hardships, however, told seriously on him, for when the grip attacked him four years ago it nearly killed him. Who can look on the infirmities of a veteran without a feeling of the deepest sympathy? His townspeople saw him confined to his house so prostrated with great nervousness that he could not walk to work, and as he attempted it, he stumbled and fell. They saw him unable to walk to work, and as he attempted it, he stumbled and fell. They saw him unable to walk to work, and as he attempted it, he stumbled and fell.

He was in town last Monday, court day, and was loud in his praises of the medicine that had given him so great relief. He purchased another box and took it home with him. Mr. McInturf is willing to make affidavit to these facts.

The proprietors of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills state that they are not a patent medicine but a prescription used for many years by an eminent practitioner who produced the most wonderful results with them, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves, and fruitful causes of almost every ill to which flesh is heir. The pills are also a specific for the troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, all forms of weakness, chronic constipation, bearing down pains, etc., and in the case of men will give speedy relief and effect a permanent cure in all cases arising from mental nature, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature. They are entirely harmless and can be given to weak and sickly children with the greatest good without the slightest danger. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, (50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

To One Who Has Returned.

Dear heart, I waited many weary years In distant dole, afar off lingering; And once was there a dream of fallen tears, And once a strife, and once a song to sing.

But now, with glad gray eyes, again you bring— When nights are long, and the dim sun grown old.

Scare with one smile may peer through winter cold— Sweet unremembered blossoms of the spring.

A Bank Failure.

AN INVESTIGATION DEMANDED.

A general banking business is done by the human system, because the blood deposits in its vaults whatever wealth we may gain from day to day. This wealth is laid up against "a rainy day" as a reserve fund. If we are in a condition of healthy prosperity and draw upon in the hour of our greatest need, there is danger in getting thin, because it's a sign of letting down in health. To gain in blood is nearly always to gain in whole-some flesh. The odds are in favor of the germs of consumption, grip, or pneumonia, if our liver be inactive and our blood impure, or if our flesh be reduced below a healthy standard. What is required is an increase in our germ-fighting strength. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery enriches the blood and makes it wholesome, stops the waste of tissue and at the same time builds up the strength. A medicine which will rid the blood of its poisons, cleanse and invigorate the great organs of the body, with new energy and thrill the whole being, is surely a remedy of great value. But when we make a positive statement that 98 percent of all cases of consumption can, if taken in the early stages of the disease, be cured with the "Discovery," it seems like a bold assertion. All Dr. Pierce asks is that you make a thorough investigation and satisfy yourself of the truth of his assertion. By sending to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., you can get a free book with the names, addresses and photographs of a large number of those cured of throat, bronchial and lung diseases, as well as of skin and scrofulous affections, by the "Golden Medical Discovery." They also publish a book of 160 pages, being a medical treatise on consumption, bronchitis, asthma, catarrh, which will be mailed on receipt of address and six cents in stamps.

BANDITS IN ADEL.

Many Citizens Are Injured and One of the Robbers Killed.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 8.—Adel, Ia., the county seat of Dallas county, 22 miles northwest of here, was the scene of a bold bank robbery Wednesday morning, followed by the pursuit of the amateur bandits, the killing of one of them and the formation of an angry mob which surged about the county jail Wednesday night and threatened to have the life of the living robber. The funds of the bank were saved by the presence of mind of the cashier who, after receiving a load of shot in his body, swung shut the door to the vault and turned the combination. As a result of the battle which followed the attack on the bank, the flight and pursuit of the robbers, the following list of casualties is recorded:

DEAD—Orlando P. Wilkins, a robber from Patterson, Madison county, Ia., aged 30, shot by pursuers.

INJURED—S. N. Leach, cashier of the Bank of Adel, seriously shot in left shoulder and neck; C. D. Bailey, leading merchant of Adel, shot in left shoulder; J. M. Byers, prominent citizen of Adel, shot in the hand and arm; R. S. Barr, postmaster at Adel, shot in left arm; C. L. Simpson, a well-known citizen, and Cecil Dexter, a boy of Adel, slightly wounded.

The robbers were O. P. Wilkins and C. W. Crawford, farmers living in Patterson. A little after 8 o'clock Wednesday morning they drove into Adel in a buggy. Leaving the rig a block away they went to the bank. Wilkins carried a repeating shotgun with six loads. They entered the bank just as Cashier Leach was taking the money from the vault. C. D. Bailey was in the bank at the time. Crawford remarked that they wished to make a deposit. Cashier Leach was busy at the time, but turned with the inquiry: "What is it?" As he did so he looked into the barrel of the shotgun held by Wilkins, who immediately fired.

Cashier Leach staggered and fell, but, rousing himself, flung the currency and gold on the counter into the vault and closed the door. Wilkins fired again, wounding Mr. Bailey. Then Crawford kicked in the door leading behind the counter and he and Wilkins scooped the loose silver into a sack. It amounted to $287. By this time Sheriff Payne, who was on the street, had his attention attracted and opened fire on the bandits.

They made a rush for their buggy, Wilkins firing as he ran and wounding the other citizens mentioned. The robbers started to drive southwest across the country. They were hotly pursued, the hastily collected posse being often within 200 or 300 yards of the fugitives. Many shots were fired, some of which took effect in the horses driven by Crawford and Wilkins.

After a chase of nearly 12 miles the wounded horses could go no further and were abandoned by the bandits, who separated at what is known as "Neal's Crossing." There Crawford secreted himself in a clump of timber, but was soon surrounded and surrendered. Wilkins took refuge in a barn, which was surrounded. To repeated orders to come out he made no reply. Then Crawford was forced at the point of a Winchester rifle to carry a can of kerosene, saturate a straw stack near the barn and start a fire. Wilkins did not shoot at his comrade, and when the flames closed about him made a break across the open space for the timber.

He had proceeded but a few yards when he fell pierced by a bullet from a rifle held, it is said, by a prominent farmer named Pritchard. Then the mob lost control of itself, and the body was riddled by bullets. The corpse of the dead robber and his living companion were later taken back to Adel, where Crawford made a full confession. He claimed that he had been forced into the job by Wilkins, who threatened to kill him if his nerve weakened. The two left Patterson Tuesday and spent the night with a farmer 5 miles from Adel.

FIVE WERE DROWNED.

A Steamer Becomes Unmanageable in a Fog—Crashes Into a Bridge.

CINCINNATI, March 11.—At 6 o'clock Friday morning the stern-wheel steamer Longfellow, of the Memphis & Cincinnati Packet company, left its landing at the foot of Main street and started for New Orleans. At 7 o'clock she struck the south pier of the C. & O. railroad bridge and sank in 40 feet of water. Five persons were drowned and one man is missing. He was undoubtedly drowned.

The real cause of the accident, it is said, was the fact that the boat, like the ill-fated steamer State of Missouri, was so unwieldy that she became unmanageable and the pilots were powerless to control her.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, March 8.—George L. Shoup (rep.) was reelected United States senator on Thursday. On the first ballot he received the entire Morgan vote. St. Jacobs Oil is made to cure RHEUMATISM

"Aye! There's the rub!" And that ought to be enough in itself to seal the doom of bar soap. This rubbing with soap may get clothes clean, if you work hard enough, but can't you see how it wears them out?

Follow the directions that come on every package of Pearline, and you'll find that you not only do away with the hard and ruinous work of rubbing—but that you save time, and actually get better results. At every point Pearline is better than soap. But the mere fact that Pearline saves the rubbing—that ought to settle it. BEWARE Peddlers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." HAS AN ANNUAL SALE OF 3,000 TONS.

Last year we commenced an elaborate plan of advertising, but before we were half through, OUR ADVERTISEMENTS DISAPPEARED. Why? Because WE WERE OVERWHELMED WITH BUSINESS. There was but one thing to do: withdraw the advertising and devote every energy to filling the orders with which we were flooded. This we did, and our business rose to a most unprecedented year's business.

WITH ENLARGED FACTORIES, INCREASED FACILITIES, AND TWENTY BRANCH HOUSES FROM WHICH TO DESPATCH OUR GOODS, WE CAN NOW CARE FOR ALL WHO COME. Last year we could not reduce prices because we were compelled in some way to limit the demand for our goods. We would have been satisfied with lower prices, but why create a demand which we could not supply? We have made the heaviest purchases of steel and material bought in America this year, and at unprecedented prices, and have made terms to dealers which enable them to make unprecedented prices.

In quality, character, variety, finish, and accessibility to full stock of goods and repairs, we are without competitors. Our plan of advertising last year, we proposed to furnish a free cutter under certain conditions for $15. For reasons stated above we did not complete the advertising, and the free cutter was not put out. We now propose to make amends in the following manner: We will announce in this paper our NEW ALL-STEEL VERY SUPERIOR FEED CUTTER, WORTH cash with order, f. o. b. Chicago. Only one to one person, he to furnish addresses of his neighbors who ought to have some thing in our line. Cut, description and full information regarding it will appear soon.

Odds and Ends.

Some of the forty or fifty State agricultural colleges make special provision for students wishing to work their way through college. Such students work daily on the experimental college farm and receive current wages. There are many free scholarships in these colleges, and board and lodging are cheap, so that a working student finds that his labor goes far toward paying his way. Tutoring pays better however, and very clever men some times earn from $1,000 to $1,500 per year in helping through their duller fellows. Such opportunities, however are found only in the great colleges and are few. At one of these institutions one successful young lawyer, of New York City, is said to have earned $2,000 in a single year tutoring while yet an undergraduate.

The great mistake people make on the water question is in supposing that water that looks, tastes and smells perfectly clean is necessarily all right. When we take into consideration that the germs of the most deadly disease are discoverable only with the aid of the most powerful microscope, we may readily understand how a few millions of them more or less, may be taken into the system without our knowledge. Once settled in their comfortable environment, they grow and flourish until the mischief is too far advanced to be counteracted. Every family should have a good filter, and that filter should be renewed as often as once in two or four weeks, according to the condition of the water. Very few people realize what a deadly thing an impure filter is. Instead of removing the cause, it simply amounts to a carefully-swept and garished residence for myriads of disease germs of various kinds. They flourish undisturbed in the filtering medium, building their homes on the grains of sands that are to them very much what the Palisades would be to us—remote and unoccupied territory, with encouragement for increasing and multiplying to an unlimited extent.

One thing that, if not a necessity, is at least conducive to comfortable living, is hardly appreciated even by those who most need it. This is the need of having some time each day entirely alone. It is impossible to live comfortably without composure of mind, and there is no way of securing it so surely as to spend a short time each day (and a long time is even better) in silence, and free from interruptions. It is soothing to tired nerves, and strengthening to a tired mind. The person who does not like to be alone, who does not even strongly desire to be alone once in a while, is already on the high road toward ill-health. It is the only way to have relief from the confusion of always being in some one's presence, which will, sooner or later, either affect the nerves or weaken the mind. Where ever, or however, you live, then, see to it that you have at least one hour out of every twenty four that you can call your own. Some busy people may at first think this is impossible; but we rarely find anyone who does not waste more than this every day, and who is not the worse off for the waste. The very act of taking this hour strengthens the will and adds that much to the comfort of living, since a week-willed person is at the mercy of everything and every person that encroaches upon his rights; and not the least of these is the right to live a healthy, comfortable life.

The farmer has got the short end of the ever in hauling public burdens, says the Jackson Patriot. All of his property is in sight and none of it escapes taxation. Twenty five years ago there were more farmers in Michigan loaning money on mortgages than there are now with twice the population. Nearly all fiscal legislation for thirty years has been hostile to the farmer. Under it agricultural land has declined one-half, and products have fallen in price in about the same proportion. A new and dearer money measure of value was surreptitiously created by law twenty-five years ago, and under it the farmers have suffered more than any other class. Besides this terrible evil, they have now to meet larger production in other parts of the world, aided by improved implements and the construction of railroads in South America, Asia and Africa. Only the most progressive and the most economical tillers of the soil, who own their land free from incumbrance, can keep even. Those who have fine-wool sheep, a poor breed of hogs, and scrub cattle, will necessarily run behind. Legislatures may pass laws for his alleged benefit, such as crop reports and other things the farmer cannot take advantage of, and they will add to his taxes without bringing an iota of benefit. It comes down to this—that the farmer who can produce the best at the least cost is the one who can hold his own from year to year. What this country really needs is a more practical agricultural and less professional education.

Ice and Typhoid Fevers.

A great deal of discussion has been provoked by the use of ice in typhoid fever. The new fad is to pack the patient in ice for a given number of minutes, when the packing must be removed, to be replaced again at a given time. Because a few patients have recovered, the ice enthusiasts are in high glee, and there is reason to apprehend that this method of treatment may become popular among general practitioners. Because the victim has survived, the efficacy of this form of handling can scarcely be said to have become established. The human organism is in some instances so tenacious of life that it will resist almost every abuse, and this is about the last extreme to which the body can be subjected. Violent shocks and extreme measures are to be deprecated in all cases, and in none more than this, when the system is struggling against such fearful odds to dislodge the millions of bacilli that have fastened upon it. It has been demonstrated beyond the possibility of doubt that the use of tepid water inside of the body as well outside will relieve the patient and give nature a chance to build up again the destroyed material. But this is too simple; it furnishes no food for speculation and is too easy. Typhoid fever certainly can be speedily washed out of the system by tepid water and will leave no after consequences; but the ice treatment adds to rather than takes from the danger. The after-effects of this intense cold are nervous weakness, neuralgia and a long train of ills. Robust health afterward is thought to be almost impossible.

Selecting a College.

The wise parent, in trying to select a college for his son, will ask first, not where the most learned professors are—still less, of course, where the best baseball team is, or where most sons of millionaires congregate—but where the tone of social life is purest and manliest; where the young men believe neither as young monkeys nor as rakes, where the conditions for complete moral autonomy are most fully established. At the same time he will ask what college best understands its business, which is to impart that culture, intellectual and moral, which is essential to free manhood, and does not attempt to forestall the university by dabbling in professional knowledge or erudition—Thomas Davidson in Forum

Why He Employs Women.

It is a significant fact that out of the sixty employees in the ten great Hoard creameries in two daily newspaper establishments at Fort Atkinson, Wis., forty are women. Governor Hoard on being recently asked why this was so, quoted a certain business man in Chicago in reply: "It took me some years and a good many thousands of dollars to learn that a woman won't drink up my money, and she is seldom supporting an extravagant member of the opposite sex on my money."

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y. says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at F. P. Glazier & Co's Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

Good things are always the cheapest, says Bob Burdette. For instance: "Spring water costs less than whiskey; a box of cigars will buy two or three Bibles; a state election costs more than a revival of religion; you can sleep in a church every Sabbath morning for nothing, but a nap in a Pullman car costs you $2.00 every time; the circus takes 50 cents and a theatre $1.00, but the missionary box is grateful for a penny; the race horse scoops in $2,000 the first day, while the church bazaar lasts a week, works twenty-five to thirty of the best women in America nearly to death, and comes out with $10 to $100."

Is a well-known fact that judicious advertising always pays—especially newspaper advertising. If you put your "ad" in the right paper your business will grow, because people will see that you are alive, and they would rather deal with a live man than a corpse. If you advertise in this paper you will find that it Pays.

John A. Manlin says: "I was one of the countless victims of early ignorance commenced at 15 years of age. I tried seven medical firms and spent $300 without avail. I gave up in despair. The drains on my system were weakening my intellect as well as my sexual and physical life. My brother advised me as a last resort to consult Dr. Kennedy & Kergan. I commenced their New Method Treatment and in a few weeks was a new man, with new life and ambition. This was four years ago, and now I am married and happy. I recommend these reliable specialists to all my afflicted fellowmen."

"The vices of early boyhood laid the foundation of my ruin. Later on 'gay life' and exposure to blood diseases completed the work. I had all the symptoms of Nervous Debility—sunken eyes, emissions, drain in urine, nervousness, weak back, etc. Syphilis caused my hair to fall out, bone pains, ulcers in mouth and on tongue, blotches on body, etc. I thank God I tried Dr. Kennedy & Kergan.
