SHOES

Two large stocks combined. Over $15,000.00 worth of shoes that must be reduced at least one-half during the next 60 days.

Prices only can do the business.

Don't forget that there is more chance for deception in shoes than any line of goods sold.

When you pay honest money for snide shoes, and the dealer disappears, who gets left?

Honest shoes are worth honest money.

If you want honest goods guaranteed "No matter how cheap" by a responsible concern, that can always be found in Chelsea, come to us.

A concern that can buy goods cheaper, and consequently sell cheaper, than any one else, fly-by-night, bogus, bust-up institutions on the face of the earth.

OUR LAMENT.

Laundry troubles oft remind us,
That our lot is not sublime.
Our work must never be behind us,
We must push it all the time.

On the shirts once new, now ragged,
And so old they're getting blue,
We must put a handsome polish,
And make them like new.

Then let's all be up and doing,
Send your shirts and collars here,
We will wash them, and construing,
Make them just like new appear.

$50,000.00 Blaze.

Shortly before 8 o'clock last Monday night the tooting of the Electric Light Company's whistle and the clanging of the fire bell, startled our citizens, and but a few minutes elapsed over the crowded gathered thick and fast. The fire was found to be in the tin shop of the Glazier Stove Co., corner Main and North streets, which was entirely consumed together with the testing building, located on the south, and the large warehouse on the east.

Mr. Glazier places the loss at $50,000.00, on which there is $31,000 insurance, placed as follows: North British, $3,300; Commercial Union, $2,500; Aetna, $3,000; Manchester, $1,000; Orient, $2,500; Liverpool, London & Globe, $3,300 Home, $2,500; German, $2,275; Germania, $2,550; Continental, $2,000; Rockford, $1,500; Northwest, $2,000; Grand Rapids, $1,000; Firemen's Fund, $1,500.

The next day after the fire a full force of men were put to work cleaning away the debris, and a large temporary frame building is being built for the present, as the company have a large number of orders which must be filled, and it is expected that the factory will be turning out stoves again within ten days.

The Tide is Rising.

We mean the temperance meetings at the Methodist church. The address given by Mr. Dunn on Sunday evening was an excellent beginning. Many signed the pledge, and donned the blue ribbon, thus saying, "we believe in temperance—of this good cause we are not ashamed—we are ready to do anything to help save our boys." The meeting on Monday evening was not so largely attended on account of the fire. On Tuesday evening there was a manifest increase of numbers and interest—more blue ribbons finding their appropriate place. The tide is surely rising. Oh! that the whole village of Chelsea could have heard that thrilling address on Tuesday evening. No pictures of the imagination were drawn—but sober, solid facts from personal experience and observation were given, showing the appalling effects of the rum-traffic. Come out ye fathers, and by example help save those imperiled boys whose multitudes speedily gathered at the late fire—a thousand-fold more terrible fire is actually burning toward many hearts and homes in Chelsea. Come out, one and all, and help our brother stop the fire! W.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St. San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at F. P. Glazier & Co's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.

STRONG NERVES

Depend upon pure, rich, red, nourishing, strength-giving blood. The nerves derive their sustenance from the blood and when they are weak it is because they do not receive the nourishment needed. The true cure for nervousness will not be found in opiate or sedative compounds. These only allay the symptoms.

"My wife suffered many years with various troubles, severe headaches, debility, nervousness, indigestion and dyspepsia. She has been treated by different doctors, and tried different remedies, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has done more for her than anything else. We consider Hood's Sarsaparilla a most indispensable medicine for family use, and for all disorders caused by torpid liver and impure blood, in fact it is a wonderful health restorer to the whole system. Hood's Sarsaparilla has proved itself in my wife's case, and we can faithfully recommend its use in every family." JACOB ROMMEL, Morrison, Mo.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Removes the cause by purifying and enriching the blood, giving to it just those qualities which are demanded for the proper support of the nervous system. Hundreds of women who once suffered from nervousness, write that they have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla and nervousness has disappeared. This was because Hood's Sarsaparilla purified their blood.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c.

What a Blessing
It is to have strong nerves, and how many are denied it. They to whom nature has been niggard in this respect can enjoy nerve vigor and quietude if they use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a tonic of the finest nerves and tonics in existence. Dyspepsia, a prolific source of nerve inquietude, is invariably overcome by this genial medicine, which is also potent as a remedy for malarial and kidney trouble and constipation.

TREE MEMORIES.

The woodland stretched its arms to me,
And into its heart I went,
While by my side invisibly
Walked musing-eyed content.

The woodland spoke no word to me,
But oh! its thoughts were sweet:
Against its spirit like a sea
I felt the thought-waves beat.

Before my vision starved and dull
The wood-shapes dropped their gold;
The young child trees were beautiful—
More beautiful the old.

Within their halls of memory
What heavenly scenes are drawn—
The stream, the wild birds' company—
The sky's cool face at dawn:

The golden lances of the sun;
The rain that feels its way;
The twilight steps that one by one
Lead to the moon's white ray:

The multitude of bright leaf forms
Engraved on earth and air;
The black and gold of midnight storms;
The blue that violets wear.

These through the greenwood memories;
Upon this perfumed track,
The thoughts of all the silent trees
Go wandering back and back.

This is the charm that cometh last,
Of all their sweets the sum—
The feeling of green summers past,
And fair green springs to come.

—Ethelwyn Wetherald, in Harper's Weekly.

Solberg is acknowledged chief. He is of modest demeanor and no boaster, and yet he has killed, in his solitary wanderings, more cougars, California lions, wolves and grizzly bears than would suffice to stock all the menageries in the United States. Unlike his fellows, he is a college-bred man, is a versatile talker and tells a good story.

During the past five years Solberg's range has been through northern California, eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho. His present hunting grounds comprise a wide expanse of rough country on the western slope of the Rockies, near the headwaters of the Salmon river.

Wonderful and thrilling as have been his past exploits, his last "big find," as he calls it, beats them all. To a correspondent who recently met Solberg in Spokane Falls the hunter told the following queer story:

It was early in September last that I started out to fill a Chicago order for a lot of cougar, black lynx and cinnamon bear skins. Having heard from remote settlers that game of all kinds had been driven down from the mountains by the severity of the past winter and sweeping forest fires, I directed my course toward the upper Salmon river, my objective point being two hundred miles southeast of Pierce City.

Besides Ben, a stout Lapwai half-breed, my faithful hired man of all work, caterer, tent-keeper, etc., my outfit consisted of two Indian ponies for packing service, three old hounds, camp fixtures, two Winchester rifles, a shotgun, revolvers, and plenty of canned provisions and ammunition. Ben carried his own shotgun and belt knives.

Ben sometimes accompanied me on short excursions, but on such occasions we left a couple of dogs at camp to give the alarm in case of mischief, and we never went beyond hearing distance of their baying, if they should be disturbed.

Monday, September 24, will always be a memorable day in my experience. Leaving Ben and one dog in camp, I started early in the morning for an all-day trip, directing my steps toward the headwaters of a little stream near which we were camped. We had gone about two miles from camp when Tig and Fan struck a scent and bounded off through the dense thicket. I quickened my pace in the direction the dogs had taken and soon came upon the tracks of what I knew must be those of a large grizzly bear. Presently, as I anticipated, the hounds brought the bear to bay a few hundred yards ahead. This was clearly evident from the altered tone of their cries. When I came up with the dogs, there, sure enough, was a big grizzly, sitting on his haunches and complacently taking in the situation.

I poised my rifle and was about to fire, when, to my utter surprise, I saw a stout leather strap about the bear's chubby neck, while from the brassing under his throat dangled a rosette and tassel made of red, white and blue ribbons. Besides, the animal's coat was as sleek and clean as if he had just come from a tub of soap and water. So long as I allowed the dogs to bark at a safe distance he sat bolt upright, perfectly still, neither sniffling nor growling, and with an air of stolid indifference.

Was the brute an escape from some menagerie? Was he a household pet, or was I dreaming? None of these, surely. We were in the heart of a mountain wilderness, more than thirty miles from the nearest border settlement, and two hundred miles from the nearest town ever visited by circus or menagerie. Besides, family pets are not made of grizzly bears weighing half a ton. Moreover, I was wide awake, and I had not tasted my brandy since leaving camp.

I called off the dogs and put them in leashes. Strangely enough, the huge beast plunged instantly into the thicket, and shambled off up the creek, while I followed as fast as I could lead the hounds. At a point about half a mile further up, the bear forded the stream, sealed the opposite bank and was soon lost in the brush. I followed, still leading the dogs, now furiously barking and madly trying to get loose. I could hear the crackling of dry twigs under the bear's feet, and, quieting the dogs in order to catch his course, I heard a human voice, the shrill, treble voice of a woman.

"Ho, Dio! Dio! Dio-o!" it came. Once more I was dazed. All the fairy stories of bears and wolves I had ever heard or read came back to me, and I was beginning to distrust the reliability of my senses, when the cry came again, a good deal nearer and louder: "Dio! Dio! Ho, Dio-o-o!"

Chaining the hounds to a sapling, I plunged forward. I soon overtook the bear, which paid no attention to me whatever, but lazily walked along, as if his business was his own, and nobody's else; halting, now and then, to munch a few berries from the bushes. As brain and I emerged from the thicket into a partially open space, what was my amazement to suddenly meet face to face a woman—a real, live woman! The apparition was clad in buckskin frock and leggings, with high brogans buckled over her feet, and her head covered with a brown slouch hat, from beneath which streamed her long hair. She was a blonde of the most perfect type.

She snapped her thumb and finger and the bear walked to her side, reared up on his hind feet and licked her cheek, while she stroked his shaggy coat.

"Now, sir," said the woman, "will you walk home with me and see where I live with Dio and his family?"

A twenty minutes' walk on a well-beaten trail brought us to a limestone cliff a few rods from the stream. This cliff was nearly perpendicular, forty or fifty feet high and in its face, on a level with the bank of the creek, there was a broad opening or cave perhaps ten feet high and thirty or forty feet deep. Just within was a snugly-built log cabin, its front gable end extending outside far enough to catch the sunlight and permit the escape of the smoke from a stick-and-clay chimney. This retreat was the home of the woman, while a family of bears occupied their own quarters in the further end of the cave.

Upon our arrival Mrs. Grizzly Bruin and two half-grown cubs made their appearance, all exhibiting the same docile characteristics which so distinguished the great Dio. A big Newfoundland dog also bounded forth to greet us. The cabin contained three airy and well-lighted rooms, a studio or parlor, bedroom and kitchen.

Retiring to her bedroom a few minutes the lady reappeared attired in her "reception suit," as she laughingly called it. While we sat at luncheon she told me her history, and I assure you it was only the old story, with romantic variations and practical illustrations. The gist of the whole matter was a love sorrow caused by the interference of unwise parents and resulting in the abandonment of a comfortable home for the precarious life of a recluse. Only two or three trusted friends knew the secret of her whereabouts and mode of living.

Backwoodsman built her, the cabin five years ago, and about that time she bought a pair of grizzly cubs from the Indians and reared them on condensed milk. To this simple diet and the kind treatment the philosophical lady attributes the wonderful docility of her grizzly pets. Frontiersmen hired for the purpose made monthly visits to the cabin, bringing upon pack animals every needed comfort and many luxuries.

The hermitess maintains that mercy between man and man and kindness to the lower animals must constitute the great panacea which is to redeem animated nature, bring back the golden age and hasten the millennium. Growing enthusiastic she cited many interesting facts in her own experience. It was a common thing every summer for humming birds to come through the open windows, build their nests and rear their young in the evergreen foliage that decorated her little parlor. The parent birds would come at her call and eat honey from the palm of her hand. Large birds built their nests under the eaves of her humble cabin, while grouse nested in the neighboring trees and brought their chicks to pick up the crumbs that she threw to them from her kitchen window. A couple of well-bred tabby cats share the house with their mistress and keep the storeroom free from mice. Volumes might be written upon what she has already done with the larger animals. While she does not believe in a charmed life, she declares that there is not a creature in the mountain forests round about that would harm her. — San Francisco Chronicle.

HER UNDERSTUDY.

Now a Little Love Affair Was Amicably and Satisfactorily Settled.

"If Mr. Collingwood calls this evening and asks for sister," said Lucy Fosdick to her maid, "show him into the parlor and bring his card upstairs to me."

The young man called, as Lucy knew he would; for he was her sister's accepted lover, and this was his regular evening. Lucy had no sweetheart, for she was not yet "out," and it was her mamma's intention to retard her debut at least until the next season, by which time she hoped that Mildred would be married.

"How charming you look to-night!" said the caller with the easy familiarity of a brother-in-law-elect, when Lucy appeared in the parlor.

She blushed and said: "You can't see sister to-night, Mr. Collingwood."

"Why?" he asked, in a tone which betrayed disappointment.

"She went out of town for a month's visit to Aunt Midge, and I was to tell you that she appointed me as her understudy in her absence. So, Mr. Collingwood, you may make your call upon me, to-night."

"Delighted, I'm sure," he said gallantly. But the tone did not exhibit any great depth of delight.

Lucy tried her best to fulfill her duties as understudy and entertain her sister's fiancé, and she succeeded very well, despite her lack of experience in that line; and when Mr. Collingwood took his departure at ten o'clock he had reached the conclusion that Lucy was a very good substitute for Mildred.

On his way home he reflected that his sweetheart had treated him very shabbily in going away for a month without giving him a chance to take that sort of tender farewell which he thought their relations demanded. There was not even a note bidding him au revoir, but merely a verbal message that she was going away for four whole weeks—think of what a long time that was!—and that she had left an understudy in her place. He resolved to punish her. He would flirt desperately with the understudy, and he would not waste much time in writing to her. He would not write at all, indeed, until she first wrote to him.

Two evenings later he was again at the Fosdicks'. This was oftener than he had been wont to call, but Lucy was glad to see him. At least she said she was, and it was perfectly proper for her to say that, if she would perform an understudy's duties satisfactorily. She thought she ought to like her future brother-in-law, and she did not find it difficult to conclude that Mildred had shown remarkably good taste in her selection of a sweetheart.

Mr. Collingwood called often. He thought he was carrying on a desperate flirtation, but in less than three weeks he found it was something much more serious. He discussed the situation with Lucy, and the outcome of the discussion was a letter from Mr. Collingwood to Miss Mildred Fosdick, which closed with these words:

"I have found the understudy you so thoughtfully left in your place such a charming girl that we have agreed to an engagement with her as the star. I suppose you will think I am a cad, to be so fickle in love, but—you'll congratulate us, won't you?"

Mr. Collingwood had many misgivings when he wrote and sent this letter. It is not a pleasant thing to tell a girl that you have learned to love another better, and the case is made infinitely worse when you transfer your affections from the elder daughter to her younger sister. He was in a fine state of nervous agitation until her reply came, which read as follows:

"Dear Charley: I was delighted with your letter, and I wish you and sister all the happiness in the world. And now, won't you extend your congratulations to me? Your friend, Mr. Doyers, proposed to me six weeks ago, but I told him I could not think of accepting him until you had released me from our engagement. I'll be a sister to you! Faithfully, MILDRED."

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

A Once Powerful Tribe.

In Emmett county live the remnants of a once powerful tribe of Ottawa Indians and the most bewitching maiden among them all was the daughter of Roaring Brook, the chief. Her heart was given to Motchi Manitou, who did not belong to her father's tribe. A young Ottawa brave, who loved the maiden abducted her secretly a short time ago. She tried to escape, but failed, and probably thinking there was no happiness in her future she climbed a tall tree and threw herself to its foot, nearly 100 feet below, killing herself.

Caused a Sensation.

Father Michael, a redemptorist Catholic missionary, caused a sensation at his lecture in Marquette on secret societies. The audience was composed largely of secret society men, who conspicuously wore their badges. This enraged the lecturer, who denounced them as anarchists. He was especially bitter against the masons, Knights of Pythias and A. P. A.'s and said he hoped America would soon have no secret society not indorsed by the Roman Catholic church.

Presentiment Comes True.

Ten years ago Elmer Dailey, aged 8 years, was playing with his little 2-year-old brother when he accidentally dropped an ax upon the latter's head, causing the little one's death. Ever since that time he had a presentiment that he would die suddenly himself for his carelessness in causing his brother's death. He was working in the woods at Arcadia recently, when a limb fell from a considerable height, and, striking him upon the head, fractured his skull, causing death.

Michigan Battle Flags.

The tattered and blood-stained battle flags of the Seventeenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth Michigan volunteer infantry were received at the governor's office from the war department at Washington and were unpacked and unfurled in the presence of several members of the three regiments. Notwithstanding the evident hard usage to which the flags have been subjected since the '60s, they are in a fairly good state of preservation.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended March 16 reports sent in by fifty-six observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that pleuritis and pneumonia increased in area of prevalence. Typhoid fever was reported at seven places, diphtheria at thirty, scarlet fever at forty-two, measles at twelve and smallpox at Detroit, Highland Park, Grand Rapids, Three Rivers and Ypsilanti.

The A. P. A. Elects Officers.

At the annual meeting in Saginaw of the state council of the A. P. A. the report of the state secretary showed a membership of 125,000. Officers were elected as follows: President, Charles T. Beatty, Detroit; vice president, Senator J. H. D. Stevens, Ironwood; secretary of state, Joseph McLean, Bay City; chaplain, G. C. Watson, Caro; secretary, S. D. Gage, Kalamazoo.

Plan of Lumbermen.

A meeting of a syndicate of western Michigan lumbermen was held at Muskegon to plan for gigantic lumbering operations, the first step of which will be the purchase of several thousand acres of pine lands on Georgian bay, Ont., the logs to be towed to Muskegon for sawing.

Short But Newsy Items.

A train was wrecked near Tawas City by a log falling from one of the cars and a man named Latter, of Lupton, was instantly killed and three of the passengers slightly hurt.

Hay is sold at Muskegon at $10.50 to $11, and good beech wood is only worth $1.25 a cord, and pine one dollar for a cord and a half.

The quarantine at the school for the blind at Flint has been raised, the scarlet fever patients having entirely recovered.

Ernst Gausess, a young German watchmaker who recently arrived at Essexville, Bay county, died very suddenly. He was 19 years old.

George Ainsworth, employed at Wickes' boiler factory at Saginaw, had both legs and his nose broken and one eye partly torn out by being crushed under a boiler.

Melvin Shaw, farmer, living near Horton, was so worried over his inability to pay the interest on a mortgage on his farm that he took a dose of laudanum and died.

Eaton Rapids merchants have organized an association to protect themselves against debtors who are in the habit of not paying up.

The mixing vault of the Hancock chemical company's dynamite factory at Houghton exploded and Dominick Christian, employed in the vault at the time, was blown to shreds.

The Hygeia sanitarium at Kalamazoo, principally owned by Dr. Charles A. Fletcher, was burned, the loss being $8,000.

At an adjourned session of the circuit court in Holland Judge Padgham granted full citizenship to 154 Hollanders.

Robert Ritchie, of Haynes township, Alcona county, a prosperous farmer, died at the age of 74. He leaves a widow and four children. He had been married fifty-four years.

AT DUTY'S POST.

Four Firemen Perish in a Burning Hotel at Denver, Col.

DENVER, Col., March 25.—All but one member of hose company No. 3 lost their lives at the St. James hotel fire Saturday night. The hose company, excepting the captain, is composed of colored men. The dead are: Harold W. Hartwell, captain; F. S. Brawley, lieutenant; Richard Dandridge and Stephen Martin.

In company with four other firemen they were groping about in the blinding smoke in the rotunda of the hotel when the tile and cement floor gave way precipitating them into the basement where the four unfortunates were mangled and suffocated. The other four firemen managed to climb out though badly bruised and lacerated and nearly overcome by the dense smoke. It was more than an hour after the accident that the body of Capt. Hartwell was found and fully two hours later before the others were removed.

When the floor broke there was a blind groping of hands by those above, wild calls of names and husky replies in the darkness. A minute had hardly passed from the time the crash of the falling floor was heard when Captain Kane of steamer No. 5 was being hauled out by Captain Ford of steamer No. 7. The two were close together when the fall occurred. Kane says he could see nothing around him, but felt the bodies of his comrades pressing against him. Reaching out his arms he was pulled out of his discomforting position by Capt. Ford. Another who came near losing his life was Fireman Whitney, of steamer No. 4. He was rescued with the others in nearly a suffocated condition.

As soon as possible after learning of the accident in the rotunda Chief Roberts and his men made their way by a basement entrance to the room below, and there a torchlight revealed the upturned face of Capt. Hartwell, and later the bodies of the three other firemen, partially covered by debris in the smoldering ruins.

Nearly the entire basement and the partitions of the first floor of the great building were burned out. In the upper floors water and smoke did the most damage. The property loss will amount to about $50,000. Manager Clark estimates the damage to his furniture and stock at $15,000. He had an insurance of $12,000 on this. The building was insured for $90,000.

WALLER COMES TO GRIEF.

Ex-Consul of United States Sentenced to Twenty Years' Imprisonment.

PORT LOUIS, Island of Mauritius, March 25.—Mr. John C. Waller, formerly United States consul at Tamatave, Madagascar, has been sentenced by the French to twenty years' imprisonment. Waller was convicted at a court-martial trial of having been correspondence with the Hovas.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—State department officials are of the opinion that the French government has exceeded its authority in trying John L. Waller, ex-consul of the United States to Madagascar, by military court and sentencing him to twenty years' imprisonment for complicity in the uprising of the native Hovas against French authority. This is, of course, upon the supposition that the dispatches from Mauritius to this effect are correct, of which the state department claims to have no information. In such case, this government, following precedent, will probably protest against the manner of Mr. Waller's conviction, for our treaties with all countries, including France, provide that a citizen of the United States, arrested for complicity in insurrection, shall be tried by a civil court, unless he is captured with arms in his hands, in which case he may be tried by court martial.

[John L. Waller is an educated colored man, who was born in Missouri in slavery and was one of several slaves confiscated by federal troops and sent to Iowa in 1862. He was then 11 years old. He acquired an education, became a lawyer and practiced at Topeka, Kan., up to the time of his appointment as consul to Tamatave. He was deputy county attorney and a Harrison elector in 1888. His indorsements for the consulship were excellent and his legal ability and habits were praised. Waller was appointed to the consulship February 12, 1891, and served until February 23, 1893, when his successor arrived at Tamatave.]

DEATH IN A STORM.

Several Persons Killed During a Severe Gale in England.

LONDON, March 25.—A severe gale swept the south of England Sunday afternoon and evening. Many houses have been unroofed. In London three persons have been killed and three others have been injured severely by falling walls. A race boat on the Thames was upset and its two occupants were drowned. Many isolated cases of death in the storm have been reported from the provinces. Several of the ancient and historic trees at Rugby and Oxford have been uprooted. Three of them were between 27 and 30 feet each in circumference.

In Birmingham the gale was felt with exceptional severity. A man and three children were killed there. The property damage in the town is estimated at thousands of pounds. Two men and a girl in Leicester were struck by falling debris and almost instantly killed. Every house in the Aylestone district was damaged. In Wolverhampton one person was killed and twelve injured.

A Howling Big Time

Ann Arbor sports had a big time Saturday night at the expense of two bull dogs and a half score of fighting cocks.
Early in the evening several bus loads of the sporting fraternity left the city, no one except the leaders knowing where they were going. They knew the object however, which was a cock fight between Ann Arbor and Jackson birds and a buldog contest between canines from the same cities. The affair came off about two miles out on the Dexter road in the bar of a man named Schaeffer. Between 80 and 100 men from Ann Arbor, Jackson,
Chelsea and Dexter were there.

There were about a half dozen cocking events, four Ann Arbor birds whipping six Jackson chickens. One Ann Arbor bird killed two Jackson towels.

The affair wound up with a grand bull dog fight. An Ann Arbor dog, belonging to a man named McNally, whipped a Jackson dog, and it is said, tore off both of his ears.

Ann Arbor's sports got most of the money that the Jackson men had with them, leaving them about enough to go home on the cars. It is reported that one whole professional fraternity of the University was out to the fight and won in the neighborhood of $500.

We copy the following from the Adrian Press: "The working men's ticket was elected over in Chelsea, with Geo. W.
Beckworth as president. They shut out the village ownership of the electric light plant, by a huge majority. Sensible.

Sow pansy seed in boxes and keep the boxes in the house, near the window, but do not give to much light. As soon as the weather permits they should be transplanted outside. They thrive best on rich ground, partial shaded. The flowers should be pulled off as fast as they appear in order to avoid having the plants produce seed, which prevents blooming.

We clip the following from the Bev-erton Record. "Having reviewed the various business establishments of the village of Beaverton we would next say that the medical profession is ably represented by Dr. F. N. Freer, who is known as one of the most successful physicians of the county. Dr. Freer is building up a flattering practice and his professional abilities have won for him the entire confidence of the people. He established here last year. Socially and professionally he is held in the highest regard. He holds the offices of coroner and health officer."

The time to sow cloverseed is at hand.
More and more the clover crop is recognized as an important one on Michigan farms. Alsike, thus far, has not been seriously injured by insect enemies. Clover benefits are threefold. Properly cured the hay is one of the best forage crops.
The influence clover has in enriching the land is well understood. The seed crop is one of the best money crops in many sections of the country. With all these things to recommend it, it is no wonder that clover is popular among wideawake farmers. In all probability more clover will be sown this spring than usual.
Prices for seed have not fluctuated much during the past winter, and the probabilities are that no great changes will occur during the seeding time. The matter of price should not influence the amount sown to any great extent, as where it can be raised a few cents in the cost of a bushel should not stand in the way of sowing clover wherever it can be used to advantage. It is too important a crop to be neglected, no matter what costs.

The Salary Question.

The submission of the amendment relative to the salaries of State officers has brought out considerable discussion and no little criticism. There seems to be a natural deep-seated antipathy, first, to the adoption of constitutional amendments, but more especially to the adoption of amendments increasing the salaries of State officials.

The question before the people this spring is not one of dollars and cents as, we think, can be shown by the figures which will follow.

The following is a list of the officers, their present and proposed salaries:

Officers	Present Salary	Proposed Salary
Secretary of State...	$ 800 00	$2 500 00
State Treasurer....	1 000 00	2 500 00
Attorney General...	800 00	2 500 00
Com'r Land Office...	800 00	2 500 00
Supt. Public Inst...	1 000 00	2 500 00

The above list comprises all the officers whose salaries it is proposed to change.
The salaries of the governor, lieutenant governor, auditor general, member State board of education, etc., remain as at present.

The total paid at present, $4 400 00 will be increased (if the amendment passes) to $13 5000 00 per annum, making an increase of $9 100 00 in the amount to be paid these State officers. This amount is to be spread over the whole State of Michigan, and, to find how much it will cost individuals, let us do a little calculating.

The assessed valuation of the State of Michigan is $1 130 000 000; $9 100 spread upon this amount means an increased tax of eight-tenths of a mill on each $100 of valuation, or eight mills on $1 000, or eight cents on $10 000.

The business man or farmer who pays taxes on an assessed valuation of $5 000 pays the price of two postage stamps for the privilege of knowing that the principal officers of his State are paid somewhere near what their services are worth to the State, and to make it possible for these officers to devote their time and energies to the office to which they have been chosen.

Pullets or Hens.

"Pullets excel for eggs, hens for anything else," says a writer for Farm Poultry, who explains as follows: Starting out in the spring of the year, pullets in the average case lay many more eggs than hens and are not so persistent in sitting. In summer the balance is about even, and in the fall the hen, as a rule, lays the first part before she molts, the pullet the last part after she molts, it usually being the case that the pullet is the first molter.
This leaves the chances in favor of the pullet as a winter layer.

With the spring hatched pullet a great deal lies in the individual, for some are more enterprising than others, and taken miscellaneous they would not do a bit better during the winter months than an equal number of early molters at any age. Hens throw stronger and more vigorous chickens than pullets, are more experienced and less foolish. Hence a greater per cent of their eggs will be fertile.
They are better mothers and usually better sitters. In a word, pullets for layers old fowls for breeders.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

It has been discovered that a Philadelphia pastor seventy-five years old, and long considered a model of purity and morality, has lived a double life for many years, and that, as usual in such cases, the "other" life has been a very wicked one. The tribe of Jekyll and Hyde in actual life seems quite large.

The attention of the world is being attracted to the Exposition of Industries and Fine Arts in the City of Mexico, which opens on April 2, 1896. A GERMAN chemist has found a way of preserving the colors of dried flowers, even of delicate poppies. Flowers lose their tints in drying through ammonia in the air. The inventor presses the specimens between sheets of paper which have previously been saturated with a solution of 1 per cent. of oxalic acid in water.

THE gold-beating industry is threatened with extinction by the Swan process of preparing gold leaf. This consists of depositing a thin coating of gold upon a copper base and then dissolving the base by submission to perchloride of iron. It is stated that the leaf may by this means be made of the thickness of 1-4,000,000th part of an inch.

GENEVA, in Switzerland, has the largest fountain in the world. It has only been finished lately and is situated on the shore of Lake Lemman. The water rises in a column 300 feet high. It is turned on every Sunday, and in the evening the main fountain is divided into a number of smaller sprays, which are illuminated by electricity in colors.

THE record of suicides in the United States is higher for 1894 than in previous years. They run as follows: For 1889, 2,224; 1890, 2,640; 1891, 3,331; 1892, 3,860; 1893, 4,400; 1894, 4,912. The causes are: Despondency, nearly one-half; insane, 457; liquor, 218; ill health, 270; domestic infelicity, 241; disappointed love, 232; business losses, 132; unknown, the remainder, 1,310.

THE town of Hanson, Mass., has put up lots of traps the past few months, but hopes to put up a smaller number in the months to come. The traps that do apply will be given a supper, lodging and breakfast, but at 7 o'clock the next morning will be put at work breaking stone and kept at work until 11 o'clock. Any tramp who is able to work and refuses to perform the task will be put before the court for vagrancy.

MRS. SAMUEL CRAWBAUGH, of Cleveland, O., is the first woman in Ohio to register as a qualified voter. She went to the board of election rooms in Cleveland the other day and remarked that she desired to register, as she would be out of the city on the regular registration days. She said she was sixty-one years old. Secretary Rowbottom placed the pen which was used in the safe and will present it to the Western Reserve Historical society.

THE American Manufacturer, in giving its reasons why iron and steel are cheaper, says: "In the United States the greatly reduced cost of iron and steel has resulted chiefly from the largely increased use of machinery, not only improved machinery to do what machinery did years ago, but to do what labor did at that time. It is reduced labor cost, the result chiefly of new methods and improved machinery, that has reduced the cost of production in iron and steel."

KATE FIELD's Washington says that some genius has devised for sleeping cars a system of beds made of rubber bags, which are to be stretched over steel frames and inflated with hot air from the locomotive. In fifteen minutes an entire car can be made ready for the night. In the morning, when the hot air is turned off, the mattresses and pillows will immediately collapse. Such beds, it is claimed, would be cheaper, lighter and more comfortable than those made now, and could be tucked away in far less space when not in use.

GRESHAM KEPT BUSY.

Between Spain and England He Has His Hands Full.

Complications Arising from the Alliance Incident—Great Britain, Nicaragua and Venezuela—The Monroe Doctrine.

HAVANA, March 20.—The commander of the Spanish cruiser Conde de Venadito reports that on March 8, while cruising off the eastern coast of the island, he sighted a steamer heading for Maisi point. The steamer's course was to the northeast. The cruiser hoisted a flag and the steamer replied by raising an English flag. The cruiser signalled the steamer to stop but without effect. As the steamer proceeded at full speed the cruiser first fired two blank shots, and then two solid shots. The commander says he did not desire to hit the steamer, but merely to cause her to heave to. He asserts that the steamer was but 1 1/4 miles off the Cuban coast when the firing occurred. The authorities here have ordered that a full inquiry be made into the commander's acts. Judging from Capt. Crossman's story nobody can doubt that the steamer was the Alliance, which was fired on by a Spanish cruiser on March 8.

KEY WEST, Fla., March 20.—News reached here Monday that the schooner Irene was fired into and dismantled by the Spanish cruiser Infanta Isabel. The news was brought to this city by a vessel engaged in the cattle trade between this port and Mainland. The Irene is a small schooner owned in this port by Canary Islanders. She has been employed in the fish trade all winter, but within the past few days returned with a party of court officials from Fort Myers, where an important murder trial has been held. She afterward sailed for the fish ranch at Punta Gorda, where, it was reported, an expedition sailed for Cuba. This point has been under surveillance by the Spanish cruiser, and the schooner was followed from here and fired into.

HAVANA, March 22.—The report of the captain of the cruiser Conde de Venadito, which fired on the Alliance March 8, off Cape Maisi, has been made public. In his report the captain says the cruiser was steaming leisurely along within 1 1/4 mile of land. The captain reasserts that the Alliance was within the 3 mile limit and was flying the British flag.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

United States Jealous of the Rights of Small American Republics.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 20.—The British government, through its minister here, has submitted an ultimatum to Nicaragua. It demands a cash indemnity of £15,000 as smart money to pay for the expulsion of Mr. Hatch, British consular agent at Bluefields during the troubles there last year, and also the appointment of a commission to adjudicate the damages sustained by the persons and property of British subjects who were expelled from the Mosquito reservation about the same time. By the terms of the ultimatum Great Britain is to name one of the commissioners and Nicaragua another, and these two are to choose a third, who shall not be a citizen of the United States. It was also made known that a British warship is now on her way to Nicaragua to enforce these demands, which must be complied with within seven weeks from February 23 last, the date of the ultimatum.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—The prospect of serious complications which threatens the United States through probable European encroachment on Venezuela and Nicaragua has assumed a phase of such danger to the principle laid down in the Monroe doctrine, that a special cabinet conference was held at the white house Wednesday afternoon to consider the subject. Secretary Gresham demanded that Great Britain show her hand. In the event that Nicaragua declines to accede to the demand made by her the United States wants to know just what England purposes to do.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The latest developments in the Nicaraguan question are of a character that at least temporarily sets at rest any baleful impressions that may have been created by the strong ground England has taken in the demands made by her upon the South American republic. The government is not on the verge of trouble with England, inasmuch as dispatches from Ambassador Bayard at London, in response to telegrams from this government requiring him to ascertain the attitude of Great Britain in case Nicaragua should refuse to pay the indemnity demanded for the outrage upon Mr. Hatch indicate very clearly that whatever else might happen England will not seek to acquire American territory. The telegram to Mr. Bayard was the result of the cabinet council of Wednesday and the reply received is regarded as very satisfactory. No less agreeable to the government here is the latest phase of the Venezuelan question which, inasmuch as there are instructions from the British government of a disposition to submit that case to arbitration, is held to be a diplomatic triumph for the administration.

Will Honor Bismarck.

BERLIN, March 23.—A decree has been issued ordering that all the German warships be dressed with flags on Bismarck's birthday, April 1.

SNUBBED.

Prince Bismarck Receives an Insult at the Reichstag's Hands.

BERLIN, March 23.—The reichstag Saturday by a vote of 163 to 146 rejected the proposal of the president of the reichstag, Herr Von Levelzow, that the house congratulate Prince Bismarck upon his birthday, whereupon Herr Von Levelzow, amid vociferous cheers from the members of the right, announced that he resigned the presidency.

The lower house of the landtag by a large majority decided Saturday to congratulate Prince Bismarck on the occasion of his 80th birthday. The centerist, volkspartei, freisinger and Polish members offered the resolution.

When Emperor William was apprised of the rejection by the reichstag of President von Levelzow's proposal that the reichstag vest in him (Levelzow) the duty of congratulating Prince Bismarck on the occasion of his 80th birthday, he wired to the ex-chancellor at Friedrichsruhe the following dispatch:

"I have to convey to your serene highness the expression of my most profound indignation at the resolution which the reichstag has just adopted. It is in most complete opposition to the feelings of all the German princes and peoples. (Signed) WILLIAM."

Prince Bismarck, in answer to the emperor's message, sent the following telegram:

"FRIEDRICHSHUHE, March 23.—I pray your majesty to accept my respectful expression of my gratitude for your most gracious message, whereby your majesty has transformed an unfriendly action of my political opponents, concerning which I am not yet fully informed, into a source of joyful satisfaction to me. (Signed) 'BISMARCK.'"

The Post (conservative) says:

"The emperor's dispatch to Prince Bismarck expresses the feelings of the nation. Every German must blush at the reichstag's disgraceful action. The parliamentary fruit brought forth by universal secret suffrage is still unripe. The reichstag is rapidly filling up its measure."

All officials likely to know the emperor's feelings agree that he was intensely disturbed by the reichstag's exhibition of itself. He is understood to have exclaimed when told by Herr Lucanus of the episode:

"It is scandalous. The vote is a reflection on me, the government and all the authorities and societies who unite in honoring Bismarck."

Dispatches received from Leipzig, Dresden, Munich, Essen, Mannheim, Cologne and Duesseldorf show that the people have been intensely excited by the reichstag's action. The denunciation of the deputies is almost universal, and there is a general demand for some national demonstration which shall serve as a complete peculiar disavowal of the vow.

Dr. Buerklin, vice president of the reichstag, was in Montreux, Switzerland, when apprised of the resignation of Herr von Levelzow as president of the reichstag and when he learned the cause, he at once telegraphed his resignation also.

LONDON, March 25.—The Daily News correspondent in Berlin says: The emperor's telegram to Bismarck involves him in an open conflict with parliament, which no longer possesses due authority. The only way out of the painful situation is a dissolution. This seems to be the secret aim of the conservatives. Herr von Levelzow knew beforehand that his motion would be rejected.

The Morning Post's Berlin correspondent says: The great majority of the reichstag would willingly have paid a graceful compliment to Bismarck had not the agrarians and national liberals for weeks past sought to make political capital out of it.

BERLIN, March 25.—The Friedrichsruhe railroad station has been decorated with evergreens and banners. Birthday presents are arriving from all parts of Europe and America—flowers, wine, cigars, furniture, silks, furs and a concert grand piano from the United States. Every train brings its load of packages for the castle.

BUTTER SUBSTITUTES IN LAW.

Legislative Action on Oleomargarine and Butterine in Several States.

CHICAGO, March 25.—Legislatures of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kansas, Nebraska, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have been discussing butterine and oleomargarine, millions of pounds of which are sold by Chicago producers. Prohibitory bills failed to pass in Kansas and Indiana, and on Friday New Jersey's solons passed a bill favorable to oleomargarine. Prohibitory bills have been passed in Nebraska and Missouri, though in the latter state Gov. Stone may not sign the measure. The legislatures of Illinois and Michigan have not yet acted. Pennsylvania's measure is to repeal the prohibitory law now in force.

AFTER MILLIONS.

Convention of Alleged Heirs of Anneke Jans to Meet in Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., March 25.—A convention of the alleged heirs of Anneke Jans has been called to meet in Omaha June 18. Indications point to the presence of about 200 who claim descent from the daughter of William, prince of Orange, whose property includes the Trinity church and Grand Central depot grounds in New York city. The Trinity church corporation acknowledges that the property does not belong to it and probably belongs to the heirs of Anneke Jans, but claims that the title is not good and the claims of the alleged descendants are not valid. The value of the property now is about $300,000,000.

Li Hung Chang, China's Peace Envoy, Shot At.

While Returning from the Conference at Shimonoseki a Young Jap Tried to Assassinate Him—His Wounds Not Dangerous.

SHIMONOSEKI, March 25.—As Li Hung Chang, the Chinese peace envoy, was returning to his lodgings in this place Sunday, after having attended a conference with Count Ito and Viscount Mutsu, the Japanese plenipotentiaries, a young Japanese fired a pistol at him. The bullet sped straight, but apparently did no more harm than to inflict a wound in Li Hung Chang's face.

Li Hung Chang was shot in the cheek. It is believed that the wound is not serious. Prime Minister Ito has telegraphed to Hiroshima asking that Dr. Sato, the imperial physician, be sent to Shimonoseki to attend the Chinese commissioner. The ministers of state and a number of other officials have visited Li Hung Chang and expressed their deep sorrow at the occurrence. Every precaution has been taken by prevent any trouble.

Count Ito, president of the Japanese council of ministers and one of the peace commissioners, has visited Li Hung Chang and expressed to him his sympathy and regret.

The attempt to assassinate the representative of the emperor of China caused the most intense excitement, and on every side there were expressions of deep regret. The would-be murderer was arrested. It is believed he was prompted to the crime by misguided patriotism. The name of the would-be-assassin is Koyama. He is 21 years old.

YOKOHAMA, March 25.—The news of the attempted assassination of Li Hung Chang created much excitement. The emperor and empress will send a messenger to Shimonoseki to express to the distinguished Chinese statesman their regrets at the most unfortunate occurrence.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The news of the assault on Li Hung Chang caused a sensation in diplomatic circles in this city. Cases where an envoy of any kind has been assaulted in the country to which he is accredited are rare, and those in which a peace commissioner is attacked are almost unheard of in modern days.

The opinion here is that Japan will suffer greatly as a consequence of the assault and that the position of China will be so strengthened that it may be able to secure better terms of peace than it otherwise could have hoped for. The incident may lead to the breaking off of peace negotiations, which were proceeding so satisfactorily, or at least may postpone further action in this direction until the Japanese have guaranteed the safety of China's envoy and made proper reparation.

No news of the attack on Li Hung Chang has been received by the Japanese legation here and Minister Kurino was unwilling to discuss the occurrence. The members of the legation realize that it is a serious matter but hope the first reports may prove to be exaggerated. They say no one will deplore such an affair more than the Japanese themselves.

The Chinese legation received prompt notification of the matter, but their advice contain nothing not in the press dispatches. Minister Yang Yu did not care to discuss the subject. It was said at the legation that it was not believed that it would lead to the total breaking off of the peace negotiations, although it might cause them to be interrupted for a time.

PASSED AWAY.

Death of Hon. Lycurgus Dalton, Postmaster of the House.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Lycurgus Dalton, postmaster of the house of representatives, died Sunday night at his residence in this city of bronchial trouble at 9:45 o'clock. Mr. Dalton was a native of Bedford, Ind., and a prominent democrat in politics, and had held the office of postmaster of the house through several administrations. He had been in bad health for some time. Mr. Dalton leaves a family.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., March 19.—Gov. Rich transmitted to the senate Monday a communication for Secretary of War Lamont, suggesting that a formal request be made upon the war department for ceding Mackinac island to the state for a military park and some person be named to receive the same on behalf of the state.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—The senate on Tuesday passed the house bill exempting from taxation the property of all charitable and industrial institutions to the extent of $10,000; also bills empowering the regents of the university to hold property in perpetual trust and increasing the penalty for embezzlement by administrators, executors and guardians to five years imprisonment.

LANSING, Mich., March 21.—The senate passed bills Wednesday as follows: Permitting the Lloyds insurance associations to do business in Michigan, providing they pay the tax of 3 per cent. levied on old-line companies; appropriating $8,000 for a continuance of the compilation of records of soldiers in the civil war; providing for deposit in the state treasury by the regents of the university of all moneys received in trust for the benefit of that institution; prohibiting publishers from mailing their publications to subscribers after subscriptions have expired; and authorizing the incorporation of the beneficiary order of Modern Craftsmen.

LANSING, Mich., March 22.—The senate had a hot debate Thursday over Mr. Jamison's bill to repeal the law authorizing Roman Catholic bishops to hold property in trust for the benefit of the church. It was finally laid on the table pending final passage. The house resolution providing for the appointment of a special joint committee to investigate the circumstances attending the introduction of Representative Matthews' pure-food bill was laid on the table. The senate passed a bill providing that cities and villages having a population of not to exceed 10,000 and which now own or operate electric-lighting plants may furnish light to private parties.

Both branches adjourned until Monday and by invitation of the regents of the university and Ann Arbor citizens the members left on a special train Thursday afternoon to visit the university.

House.

LANSING, Mich., March 19.—A bill passed the house Monday authorizing the Toledo & Ann Arbor railroad to organize in Michigan.

LANSING, Mich., March 20.—The house on Tuesday passed bills providing for the incorporation of mutual plate glass insurance companies, providing for the recovery of moneys paid "grave-yard insurance companies" if claim is made within six years, and authorizing the consolidation of gas and electric lighting companies, and the furnishing by them of gas and electricity to outside municipalities. LANSING, Mich., March 21.—The time of the house was occupied Wednesday in listening to representatives from Saginaw, Bay City, Port Huron and other cities in opposition to the charter bill prepared for third-class cities. It is designed to furnish a working charter for fifteen cities of the state, and its opponents insist upon the impossibility of harmonizing the various interests.

ARIZONA IN BAD SHAPE.

Left Without Funds by an Inharmonious Legislature.

PHOENIX, A. T., March 23.—The Eighteenth legislature adjourned at 1 o'clock Friday morning amid scenes disorderly. All day and fore part of the night there had been bitterly contested fights over the formation of Navajo county in the northeastern part of the territory. Its advocates succeeded in forcing the bill through at 10 o'clock, after which the appropriation bill was taken up in the house. This was delayed to kill chances of removal of penitentiary from Yuma to Prescott. The house bill had a clear majority and had passed the upper house. It was not allowed to appear, action on appropriations being delayed until after 12 o'clock, at which time the legislature lapsed through limitation.

Nearly all territorial institutions and officers are thus left without funds for the coming two years. Lawyers agree that the only remedy lies in an extra session which can be only called by congress next December.

Classical Conference at Ann Arbor, Mich.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 22.—A classical conference will be held here on Wednesday and Thursday of next week, March 27 and 28. Among those who will read papers are: Prof. Ashmore, of Union college; Prof. Bennett, of Cornell; Prof. Hempf, of Ann Arbor; Prof. Hendrickson, of Madison; Prof. Moss, of Champaign; Prof. Rolfe, of Ann Arbor, and Miss Esther Van Deman, of Wellesley. Some of the subjects that will be discussed are: "The Latin Recitation as Auxiliary to the Use of Good English," "The Origin of Mythology," "What Is Classical Philology?" "Influence of Classical Learning on English Literature," and the "Sources of Our Knowledge of the Pronunciation of Latin."

Desperate Fight with Tramps.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., March 19.—Fifty shots were exchanged Monday between officers and citizens and a couple of tramps. An attempt had been made to arrest the tramps, but they got away. The officers fired at them. The hoboes returned the fire, and then ran for the woods, swimming the river in order to escape. A hundred men joined in the pursuit. The tramps were captured after a 4-mile chase and after they had emptied their revolvers repeatedly at their pursuers. No one was hurt.

Fanning Mill Factory Burned.

SAGINAW, Mich., March 23.—The fanning mill factory of William Williamson, together with its contents, was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. Loss, $6,000; fully insured. During the fire, Fireman Morris McHally fell through an elevator shaft and received serious internal injuries, and Policeman Thomas Wilson was knocked senseless by a stream from a hose nozzle and is under a physician's care.
