Canker Worms in the Apple Orchard.

The time for the orchard worm is near. The wingless female moths are now climbing the trees from their winter quarters in the ground to deposit their eggs, and the canker worms that hatch from them will soon appear. They are not a difficult pest to control if dealt with intelligently.

Some of the moths lay their eggs in the fall on the apple tree limbs, but more deposit them in the spring. The eggs hatch at the time the buds are swelling, and the young canker worms scatter over the trees and begin feeding at once on the tender foliage. By the time the leaves are partly open the worms are large enough to be easily seen. They are nearly half an inch long, a little larger around than a common pin and vary in color from a light brown, with darker stripes, to a chocolate brown. Annoy one of them and it will stand out like a dead twig, or start off at a looping gait. Jar or shake the limb lightly, and many of them will drop, and suspend themselves in mid air by a web which they spin as they fall.

It is while the canker worms are in this very young stage that the trees should be given a thorough spraying with Paris green or London purple at the rate of three ounces to forty gallons of water.

A quart or two of glucose or molasses, or pound of freshly slaked lime (strained) added to each barrel of water, will help to retain the poison on the foliage. The lime will at the same time insure the leaves against injury from soluble arsenic.

Up to this time the canker worms have merely eaten a few holes in the leaves, but if they remain a week or two longer they will destroy every leaf on the trees, if as common as they were last spring. They grow very fast and soon are from an inch and a quarter to an inch and a half long and as large around as a small twig. This is the time when people usually notice that something is eating the leaves in their orchard. Last spring letters came from all parts of the southern and central portions of the state, asking for help, but there was little that could be done as the culls came too late; the canker worms were mostly grown and were leaving the trees.

These facts regarding the canker worms demonstrate the importance of early spraying. Heavy rains may prevent complete success and a second spraying may occasionally be necessary.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y. says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at F. P. Glazier & Co's Drug Store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

SPRING CLEANING

Is such a trial that men say "Let the house take care of itself." But the conscientious wife feels bound to risk health and strength in this annual struggle with dust and dirt. The consequence of her feverish anxiety over extra work is depletion of the blood, the source of all life and strength, manifested in that weak, tired, nervous condition too prevalent at this season and very dangerous if allowed to continue. What every man and woman needs in the spring is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It keeps the blood vitalized and enriched, and thus sustains the nerves and all the bodily functions.

"I take Hood's Sarsaparilla every spring, and it is the only medicine I use through the year. It enables me to do my house cleaning and farm work all through the summer. It helped me very much for palpitation of the heart. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the medicine for everyone and all who take it will never be without it. I have also used Hood's Pills and they are the best I ever tried." Mrs. F. H. Andrews, S. Woodstock, Ct.

A GREAT COUGH REMEDY.

Perhaps you may think that Scott's Emulsion is only useful to fatten babies, to round up the angles and make comely and attractive, lean and angular women, and fill out the hollow cheeks and stop the wasting of the consumptive, and enrich and vitalize the blood of the scrofulous and anemic persons. It will do all this—but it will do more. It will cure a

The Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DONALD KENNEDY, of ROXBURY, MASS., Has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squeamish feelings at first. No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

I was afflicted with catarrh last autumn. During the month of October I could neither taste or smell and could hear but little. Ely's Cream Balm cured it.—Marion Geo. Shantz, Rahway, N. J.

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

THE PROBLEM SOLVED.

While great inventors try to save
The work a lazy person dreads,
While colleges o'er which we rave
Are teaching feet, instead of heads,
While lecturers without a rest
Are telling more than any school,
This fact has got to be confessed—
In money matters man's a fool.

In spite of what the parsons preach
With earnestness and ardent hope,
In spite of how we like to teach
Another what we practice not;
In spite of books without an end
And papers giving hints to all,
A man does not know how to spend
His income, be it big or small.

He thinks he does, and so he goes
On in his blind and foolish way
Until to his surprise he owes
More than he has the cash to pay;
Then comes his good resolves to save
And do without so much of style,
And like a hero—or a slave—
He does—for just a little while.

But habits formed are bound to stick;
The luxuries he had before
Become necessities, and quick
He finds economy a bore;
Then in the same old rut he falls
And bigger are the debts he owes;
Harassed with endless dunning calls,
A face of agony he shows.

He wrestles with the problem deep
Of how to make both ends meet right,
Until he loses half his sleep,
And, maybe, all his appetite;
Although with good intentions filled
He stumbles on from bad to worse,
And just because he isn't skilled
In knowing how to use his purse.

Now if the colleges that make
Our modern maid too smart for pie
Would banish Greek and make her take
Financial education high,
She might—when joined to helpless man—
Lay out his income, big or small,
On such a scientific plan
That he would have no care at all.

So much for clothing, food and rent
And all the other things that mix
And keep each measure to a cent,
No matter how the husband kicks—
If colleges would teach her this
Instead of making her too wise
A man would have a taste of bliss
Before he seeks it in the skies.

Yes, when girl colleges commence
To teach how incomes should be used,
A man—to save himself expense
And worry from a mind confused—
Will be compelled to wed a mate
To manage what he never can,
And every sweet girl graduate
Will find her mission—and a man.

NELLIE'S BLUE EYE.

BY HARRIET CARYL COX.

Robert Brayton, millionaire, sat in his private office for the moment alone. The morning had been a busy one, and his visitors of a particularly trying kind; and now they were gone he breathed a sigh of relief, a sigh that sounded exactly like that of any ordinary individual.

Harry Temple, clerk and private secretary, sat in the outer office, wearily opening the pile of letters the postman had just left on his desk. He had sorted them in piles—the business letters in one pile, circulars, etc., in a second, private letters in the third, while the fourth held what he termed the "crank letters."

The business letters were opened first, and more work given the young typewriter, who sat gazing out of the window. Those requiring Mr. Brayton's personal attention were merely glanced through, in order to ascertain their nature.

Finally, he reached the crank pile. It was larger than usual, but of the same nature. There were numerous demands for endowments for old ladies' homes, unheard of missions and numberless odd societies, and the usual number of requests for situations, advice, etc.

One ambitious young man wanted to borrow twenty-five dollars, that he might be married at once, and show the city swell whom he had cut out how things were done in Jersey.

A young girl far out in the country wanted his old neckties if they weren't too soiled. She was making a crazy quilt for the fall cattle show. Already she had bits of silk from several noted persons; wouldn't he please oblige her?

Another wanted any old gloves his daughter might be ready to lay aside. She wouldn't mind if they were a little large; they were better if they were.

It was the old story over again, and one after another they were thrown into the yawning waste basket.

The last envelope bore a child's handwriting. The address had begun boldly and with care; but it was too long, and the last name was crowded, and the letters ran uphill.

Half curiously young Temple tore it open. Children were not common as correspondents, and Mr. Brayton had a warm spot in his heart for children.

The paper was highly scented by a mixture of cheap cologne and soap; in the upper left-hand corner was an embossed landscape of the most impossible color and perspective. It read:

"Please Mr. Brayton, won't you help me buy Nellie Fowler a new eye? Maybe you don't know who she is, well she is a girl who got hurt when the men blasted the road she was near, and they didn't see her and a big piece of rock hit her in the eye and then she couldn't see, and the doctor he said it must come out, and so he cut it out and now she hasn't got but one eye and it looks bad. She used to be real pretty and we called her curly Lock 'cause her hair is curly, but it makes you kind of sick when you see that grate hole in her face, and she keeps a rag tied over it mostly, and she cries a great deal, 'cause she looks so homely, and the dr. he says she ought to have a Glass eye, but they don't make them here, and she's too poor any way 'cause her father's dead, and her mother's sick. I've kind o' adopted her and I want to get her an eye awful. Say, won't you help me. You can address me

"P. S.—Ain't this paper pretty. I bought it to the Post office and it cost five cents."

Harry Temple leaned back in his chair and gave a low whistle. The typewriter looked up from her pile of letters and smiled; but Harry was busy rereading the letter.

Just before the noon hour, when Mr. Brayton returned to his office, he was given his mail, and as he proceeded to open it, he noticed that young Temple lingered.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Here is a letter," hesitatingly replied the young man, "which I don't know whether you wish to see or not;" and he turned it over in his hand.

"One of your famous 'crank letters?'" queried Mr. Brayton. "Better let me see it, if it's a good one;" and he smiled as he held out his hand for it.

Young Temple went out from the office and shut the door and stood gazing down into the tumultuous street.

"Poor little cuss," he said to himself; "you pin all your faith in the goodness of rich men, don't you?"

But in a moment his meditations were disturbed. Mr. Brayton was a man of action, and he stood in the doorway now.

"Temple!" he called. His voice was quick and incisive. "Go out and buy a ticket to that unknown place, will you; and you, Miss Curry," turning to the typewriter, "inform Johnnie Lee, Esq., that Robert Brayton will receive him in his office at Mr. Lee's earliest convenience. And inclose ticket, please."

Her fingers flew over the keys, and Temple, who was half way to the door, stopped a moment. "The youngster may not have any decent clothes," he suggested.

Mr. Brayton looked thoughtful a moment.

"Pshaw! never mind, let us see him as he is," and the man of business went back to his stocks and bonds.

Three days passed and the episode had not been mentioned in the office.

Early on the morning of the fourth day, long before fashionable New York was awake, there was a timid knock at the office door. Then it opened.

It was a queer little figure that stood there, but Temple knew it at once. It was Johnnie Lee. He was a happy-looking youngster, round-faced and tanned and freckled. His clothes bore the unmistakable stamp of home manufacture from cast-off garments. But it was a cheery voice that spoke:

"Howdy do! Mr. Brayton to home? I'm Johnnie Lee."

"No," Temple informed him. "Mr. Brayton wasn't in yet; he could wait." And he gave him a chair and proceeded to question him how he managed to find his way.

"Oh," Johnnie said, "just's soon's I got your letter I wanted ter start right off; but I had to wait fer ma to make me a new coat." He glanced proudly at the ill-fitting jacket.

"It was great fun coming, 'cause in one place the cars was awful crowded, and lots of folks had to stand. One fellow wanted me to give him my seat, and the conductor said I'd better, too, 'cause I was a youngster, and could stand's well as not. But, sir, says I, no sir, I ain't a-giving up seats this trip, and I wish to be comfortable myself, for I have business with Mr. Robert Brayton. Then he looked at me queer and walked away. New York's an awful big place, ain't it? I've walked about a million miles, and I thought I must have got here a hundred times. I should think you'd find it pretty hard work getting here every day, don't you?"

Temple assured him, very gravely, that it was very easy after one knew the way.

And as they kept on talking Johnnie expressed his opinion on all subjects from the revival at home to the Brooklyn strike. He was an independent, he declared. He wouldn't be a democrat, because Tom Faber was, and he wouldn't be anything Tom was. He didn't quite like being a republican, either. It was more convenient to be on the fence.

Just here Mr. Brayton came in. Johnnie didn't notice him particularly, for a good many had come in since he had sat there. So for a moment or two Mr. Brayton listened with the others, then walked into his office, telling Temple to "send the youngster in."

And Johnnie went in; and just what conversation took place no one ever knew. The clerks in the outer office could hear the hum of voices, the rich, full voice of Mr. Brayton and the eager, childish voice of the boy. Then, when Mr. Brayton began to be in demand, Johnnie was sent out, and Temple was told to make him useful until noon.

So, until twelve, he was kept at one thing and another; then when Mr. Brayton went out, he took Johnnie with him.

First they went for lunch. Johnnie all unconscious of the interest and amusement he created, and Mr. Brayton only smiled and raised his eyebrows when his acquaintances looked, bowed and looked again.

Johnnie was modest in his desires for lunch. He despised soup—too watery for him, sir. He guessed he'd have some turkey and stuffin' and sweet potato, pumpkin pie, ice cream and nuts.

These disposed of, they went to a store, where Johnnie was told to select an eye like Nellie's; and as he did so, Mr. Brayton stood near the window, apparently looking; but his sharp eye was on the boy and his quick ear caught the conversation.

"No," said Johnnie, very emphatically, "that isn't the color at all. It's a different blue, just like the lake in summer when there ain't any clouds."

One tray and another was brought, but the blue that the boy wanted was not there. Finally he spied an eye in the showcase.

"That's it!" he cried. "Let's see her."

"That is an imported one of the very finest material," remarked the clerk, with a doubtful glance at Johnnie, and an inquiring one at Mr. Brayton's back, "and it costs a great deal."

"Well," said Johnnie, drawing himself up with an air of superiority, "I just guess you don't know who wants to buy that eye. Mr. Brayton here, sir, can buy anything in all this world that he wants. I guess if you'd only one eye, you'd want the other to be like it, even if it is 'imported,' with a mimicking stress on the word."

Here Mr. Brayton interposed.

"Let the boy have it," he said; and so, with the eye in his velvet box and Johnnie's pockets stuffed with pamphlets telling how to insert and clean the eye, they left the store. And then, after they had bought a box of candy for Nellie, they went back to the office.

There, he told them about what he had seen, then gravely shook hands with them all; said good-by, and started off. He had been gone only a few moments when Mr. Brayton came in from his office.

"Miss Curry," he said, "wouldn't you like a little trip? Our visitor has left the treasured eye behind him, and he may wish it. You might follow the youngster and see the end of this matter."

Miss Curry, nothing loth, shut her machine and departed. She caught sight of Johnnie just as he went into the ferry, and she followed him on to the train and stepped off at the little village where he did.

But then she couldn't keep up with him. She saw him turn into a house and when once she reached it, she paused at the open door.

There was a little girl standing, looking expectantly at Johnnie, who excitedly was turning his pockets inside out, in vain search for the eye.

"I had it! I had it!" he declared, and his face grew troubled, and finally the tears rolled down his cheeks.

"It was such a lovely eye," he moaned; "blue, just like yours, and now it's lost, and I hate myself," and he threw himself into a chair, as if all hope were gone.

The weary-faced mother turned her face away. Nellie's lips quivered, but she swallowed the sobs.

"Never mind, Johnnie," she said, stroking the freckled, tear-stained face of the boy, "never mind, Johnnie. You know it couldn't make me see, and I guess I don't look so very bad," and she put her hand to the bandaged eye.

Then she looked up, for a strange lady stood in the door and handed her a package.

"See, Johnnie!" she cried.

Johnnie dashed the tears from his eyes and looked at the package. His face grew bright and he tore off the papers, touched the spring of the box, and there on its white cushion lay the blue eye, smiling like Nellie's own.

"The eye! the eye!" he shouted.

"See, Nellie! it's your very own," and he threw his arms about her and kissed her again and again.

And Miss Curry, the tears fast blinding her eyes, hurried away from the happy scene.

This is no regulation story. Johnnie Lee did not become Mr. Brayton's office boy and finally a millionaire himself. Young Temple and the typewriter did not marry each other and "live happy ever after."

In fact, the whole episode was soon forgotten.

But in the far-away country town where Johnnie is growing to sturdy manhood, the story of his trip to New York is ever a new one.

Strangers sometimes speak of the marvelous blue of Nellie's eyes, with their long curling lashes.

Then she will repeat the words to Johnnie as he steps to leave the milk and chat, and they will laugh softly together while their faces are bright with happiness.—N. Y. Independent.

He Was the Man.

Here is a story of a colonel who was much addicted to traveling, and who once reached home when the house was full of his son's guests and stayed to dinner. One of the company, a notorious drawer of the long bow, told a story of his being off the cape of Good Hope in an Indian man, when a floating object was discovered, which proved to be a cask, whereon a man was seated clinging to a small staff in the bungle. "Come on board," retorted the ocean wail when hailed. "No, thank you. I'm very comfortable here. I'm bound for the cape. Can I take letters there for you? Don't bother about me. I'm all right." Then amid the silence which followed this incredible yarn, Col. G. arose and gravely addressed the narrator. "Sir," he said, "for years I have been trying to find anyone belonging to that ship to return thanks for the great courtesy shown to me on that occasion. At last I am enabled to do so, sir—I was the man on the cask."

CHINA AND JAPAN.

Protocols of Peace Signed at Shimonoseki.

Terms of the Compact—Possession of the Liao Tung Peninsula and Island of Formosa Granted—Russia Not Satisfied.

LONDON, April 19.—A dispatch to the Central News from Tokio says that peace ratifications will be exchanged within three weeks and that the armistice has been extended to midnight on May 8.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The Chinese Imperial edict sent Tuesday night from Tien-Tsin is accepted among officials and diplomats here as setting at rest the conflicting reports as to the final terms of peace, and as showing that the first reports via London were inaccurate in their details.

The indemnity of 200,000,000 taels is a compromise. Japan first demanded 300,000,000 taels, but on the solicitation of Prince Li threw off 100,000,000. At the Chinese legation it is stated that the tael varies in value, but that the present value of the customs or treasury tael, which is undoubtedly the one in which payment will be made, is $1.50 in Mexican silver, or about seventy-five cents in gold.

The Central News (London) correspondent in Tokio learns that the Chinese indemnity to Japan is to be paid in silver in five yearly installments.

The edict that Japan is to occupy the Liao Tung peninsula up to the 40th degree of latitude settles the important point that she is to have the great fortress of Port Arthur and the immediately surrounding territory, as foreshadowed in these dispatches. The Liao Tung peninsula is a small point of land jutting southward into the gulf of Pechili, with Port Arthur at its extreme point. The 40th degree of latitude cuts across the main land where the little peninsula broadens into the mainland of Manchuria.

The edict does not state whether Japan gets this acquisition permanently or until the indemnity is paid. She has contended on having it permanently, as it would give Japan command of the Gulf of Pechili leading to Peking. If the occupation is temporary it will give Japan a military command over China as long as the occupation lasts. The duration of the occupation is most important, and on this point undoubtedly will depend any action European powers may take.

The permanent occupancy of the island of Formosa has been settled for some time. The opening of Peking and four new ports of commerce, marks the introduction of modern methods in the interior of China. Japan has gained the privilege of establishing her cotton and other factories in China, but it remains to be seen whether Japanese capital will invest in the enterprises, or the Chinese will buy these modern fabrics.

The edict makes a significant omission as to the reported Japan-China alliance offensive and defensive, which, if consummated, would have given "the Orient to the Orientals." The Japanese and Chinese officials in Washington have never credited the report of this alliance.

BERLIN, April 20.—A dispatch received here from Tokio says that in addition to the places mentioned in previous dispatches the Japanese are to retain possession of Wei-Hai-Hai as a guaranty of the payment of the war indemnity.

LONDON, April 22.—The Standard's correspondent in St. Petersburg says: The newspapers continue to express discontent with the cession by China of mainland territory to Japan, but only a feeble idea is given by them of the extremely difficult position in which Russia is placed. It is a fact that the gravest apprehension exists in political circles, and it is evident that Russia cannot submit to the ratification of the treaty under the present conditions. But it is very difficult to see what path will remain open should Japan and China persist. There are excellent grounds for believing that Russia will ask for the cession of other Chinese mainland. If this be refused, consideration of her prestige will compel her to take decisive and prompt action.

The Standard's correspondent in Odessa says: In the last few weeks 6,000 soldiers have sailed from this port for Vladivostok and 5,000 more will embark soon. The cruisers are held ready to transport the troops, despite the conclusion of peace in the east.

Silver Leaders Talk.

DENVER, Col., April 18.—Thousands of citizens who believe in the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 gathered Tuesday in the capitol grounds and on the steps of the east entrance to honor their distinguished leaders in the free silver agitation, Gen. A. J. Warner, of New York, and ex-Congressman Sibley, of Pennsylvania, presidential candidates, who are making a political tour of this and other states.

Embezzlement Charged.

DUBOIS, Pa., April 17.—Ex-Cashier Wise, of the suspended bank of Dubois, was arrested Tuesday night on a charge of embezzlement. He gave bail in $2,500 for a hearing. More arrests are likely to follow.

ALLISON IS HEARD.

The Iowa Senator Talks of Questions of Finance.

MASSILLTOWN, Ia., April 22.—Senator Allison was banqueted by the Traveling Men's Republican club of this city Friday night, and spoke at length upon the silver question, with special reference to statements made in "Coin's Financial School." The banquet was held at the Pilgrim hotel. President E. M. Wentworth, of the club, presided, and introduced the senator, who said, among other things:

"I have no doubt that finance is a familiar topic to you, and it certainly is to me. I have seen more bills, received more pamphlets, and read more upon this subject during the last year than ever before. You can all see that—to use a familiar expression—there is a screw loose somewhere, for we have seen our country pass in two or two and a half years from a condition of prosperity to one of panic and distress. We are told we have come to this situation solely because of the condition of one of the precious metals, and I realize that there is no more important question than that of the money we use."

He added that gold and silver were precious metals because of their divisibility and their indestructibility. He referred to the fact that gold and silver were for thousands of years the money of the world, and rapidly sketched the history of the mining of these precious metals and the effect of their output as influenced by wars upon the stock of gold and silver in the world. He continued:

"It is said that in 1829 there was less than $1,000,000,000 of gold in the world. From 1830 to 1875 there was produced in the world of gold within about $200,000,000 of the amount produced from 1493 to 1850. During the 300 years prior to 1850 there was produced about $7,000,000,000 of silver, but during the twenty-five years ending 1875 there was produced nearly three times as much gold as silver."

"It is claimed that in 1873 silver began its downward course and that it was due to the action of the people by their representatives in congress. It was believed by many that this enormous increase in gold would go on from year to year. For fourteen years, during the enormous influx of gold, the gold only passed through our country to those lands where gold and silver were the measure of value. We had then suspended specie payments, and for these fourteen years we were on a paper basis, and therefore it was that it was claimed on account of the enormous production of gold that gold and silver could never again be a measure of value. However, during this time silver and gold reached side by side at a ratio of about 16 to 1."

The speaker referred at great length to money legislation in European countries. Referring to the cessation of free coinage of silver in the various mints of Europe, he said it was the diffusion of both metals through Europe that kept them at a parity.

"It is said in 1873 we demonetized silver. It is true that at that time we changed the laws of our mints and established gold as a standard of value. I believe now that it was a mistake for Europe and for us to have changed these standards. But for twelve years prior to 1873 we were on a paper basis and it was not looked upon by our people as an important feature. No action of ours in 1873 affected the price of silver or affected the action of Europe in dealing with silver."

"The effect of our action is claimed to have been to reduce the price of all commodities and appreciate gold in the same measure that silver was depreciated. I don't believe it. Since 1873 some prices have been reduced and some advanced. Gold and silver until put in shape of money were commodities and are governed by the laws of supply and demand; and just that thing happened to silver and gold as happened under these laws to other commodities. In every country of Europe in 1873 the mint was open to silver, and in 1877 not a single mint in Europe was open to silver except for fractional coins. We were then upon a paper basis, and could exert no influence upon supply and demand. From that time the supply of silver increased, and with an increased supply and no demand in Europe it was the most natural thing in the world that silver should depreciate."

"The amount of silver in circulation in 1894 in Europe, where a gold standard has taken the place of a double standard, is $1,315,000,000, and there are now in circulation in the United States $335,000,000, while in 1873 we had not a cent. And still they claim we demonetized silver. How can we demonetize silver when we put it in circulation to that extent in twenty-two years, and this silver passes current with gold?"

The senator continued that it was necessary to have both metals on a par with each other, and he predicted that an international agreement was surely coming.

ON REHEARING OF INCOME TAX.

Attorney General Thinks, If Granted, It Should Cover All Questions Involved.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Attorney General Olney filed a brief in the United States supreme court Wednesday upon the petition for a rehearing of the income tax case. The opening paragraph of the brief says:

"The United States, respectfully represents that if a rehearing is granted it should cover all the legal and constitutional questions involved, and not merely those as to which the court are equally divided."

He calls attention also to the fact that if this new exposition of the constitution announced in the opinion of the chief justice is to prevail as to the taxing power of the government, "the United States has under previous income tax laws collected vast sums of money which, on every principle of justice, it ought to refund."

An Answer from Nicaragua.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—It is authoritatively stated that Nicaragua has made a reply to Great Britain's ultimatum. It is in the nature of a counterproposal and not a direct acceptance or rejection of the British demands, and as such it is not yet known whether Great Britain will accept it as responsive to the ultimatum.

LONDON, April 19.—Great Britain has emphatically rejected Nicaragua's proposition. The conditions of the original ultimatum will be strictly enforced, and the leaving of the question of indemnity to a third party is absolutely refused, but the payment of £15,500 ($77,500) to British subjects for personal injuries will be insisted upon.

As the ladies of Columbian Hive were in the midst of the initiation of candidates Tuesday evening, a commotion was heard outside, and without a moment's warning the guards were over-powered and in rushed the Sir Knights of Chelsea Tent, at the front door, back door, side door, and even from the scuttle door above.

One small Sir Knight fearing he was not going to "get their" came down on a ladder, behind this came the goat driving a wagon loaded with provisions necessary for the Oriental "Degree." It looked as though they had come to stay. Well! they did stay. The ladies meekly took the back seats. Commander Sir Knight Speer, called the assembly to order. The Sir Knights rendered a very fine program after which the Oriental Degree was given. All enjoyed themselves and went home feeling that it is good to be a Maccabee.

Resolutions.

WHEREAS Our Heavenly Father in his wisdom and love has called unto Himself our beloved brother, Seymour Good-year:

Resolved, That while we recall with grateful hearts the privilege of fellowship with him as teacher and helper in our Sunday school and the uniform cheerfulness with which his duties were performed, we can but feel deeply our loss, and realizing that he will meet with us no more we sincerely sympathize with his grief-stricken family in their deep bereavement.

Resolved, Also, that believing in the supreme wisdom and goodness of Divine Providence we can but commend the sorrowing family of our own departed brother to our Risen Lord for comfort, who truly heals each broken heart and consolation gives for every grief.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the bereaved family and spread on the records of the Sunday school, and printed in the local papers.

Tobacco Smoke Kills Microbes.

M. Tassinari, a Parisian scientist, has been experimenting with the smoke of tobacco and finds it to be one of the most perfect germicides and disinfectants ever used. In proving his claims smoke from a cigar was blown across a strip of linen which had been dipped in a fluid containing thousands of virulent microbes. When the cigar was finished the linen was immediately placed in a bowl of beef broth, where common microbes are expected to breed and multiply very rapidly. To the surprise of the doubters it was found that the smoke had had the effect of delaying the growth of the organisms, that the majority of them were dead, and that those which managed to live never fully developed.

A Comfortable Squeak.

"Squeaky shoes," said Mr. Gratebar, "I don't like; but I rather admire a squeaky rocking chair, if it is old and comfortable. I shouldn't like to have a new chair squeak, but with an old chair it is different; that has earned a right to squeak. Of course I shouldn't like to have it squeak too much, for that would imply that it was insecure, and without security there can be no comfort; but I like to have it squeak gently, with one arm or one leg just a little loose. It doesn't squeak at all unless you rock back just so far and then it squeaks with precisely the same sound always, a rhythmic squeak that has rest and comfort in every note."—New York Sun.

Spend your Outing on the Great Lakes

Visit picturesque Mackinac Island. It will only cost you about $12.50 from Detroit; $15 from Toledo; $18 from Cleveland, for the round trip, including meals and berths. Avoid the heat and dust by traveling on the D. & C. floating palaces. The attractions of a trip to the Mackinac region are unsurpassed. The island itself is a grand romantic spot, its climate most invigorating. Two new steel passenger steamers have just been built for the upper lake route, costing $300,000 each. They are equipped with every modern convenience, annunciators, bath-rooms, etc., illuminated throughout by electricity, and are guaranteed to be the grandest, largest and safest steamers on fresh water. These steamers favorably compare with the great ocean liners in construction and speed. Four trips per week between Toledo-Detroit, Alpena, Mackinac, St. Ignace, Petosky, Chicago, "Soo" Marquette and Duluth. Daily between Cleveland and Detroit. Daily between Cleveland and Put in-Bay. The cabins, parlors and staterooms of these steamers are designed for the complete entertainment of humanity under home conditions; the palatial equipment, the luxury of the appointment makes traveling on these steamers thoroughly enjoyable. Send for illustrated descriptive pamphlet. Address A. A. SCHWARTZ, G. P. & T. A. D. & C. Detroit, Mich.

Died, at her home on South street, Wednesday, April 24, 1895, Mrs. Fred Mensing, aged about 71 years. A husband and seven children survive her.

Found, last Saturday, on the road between Chelsea and Freedom, a bag of barley, owner can have the same by calling and paying for this notice.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wight, formerly of Chelsea, but now of Detroit, have bought a lot, built a handsome dwelling house, and are now located in their new home at 305 Military Avenue, Detroit, where they will be pleased to have their Chelsea friends call on them when in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Glazier were surprised and delighted by receiving an express package containing a most exquisite collection of Roses and Lillies grown by Mrs. Liscomb (nee Miss Grace Flet) of Denver, Colorado. The flowers were very beautiful and stood their long journey well.

Thoughtful men will make preparation for the careful picking of their fruits during the summer and fall, and the kind of baskets in which to send them to market. A nice basket filled with choice fruit will nearly always sell for double the money and as quick again as and basket of the modest commonplace character. This applies to many other things besides fruit and basket.

In Michigan we have 468,711 cows of the average value of $38.27 each, aggregating $18,250,460. We rank sixth in value per head. We are thirteenth in number and ninth in total value. We produced over 50,000,000 pounds of butter, outside of creameries, and 224,500,000 gallons of milk, thus excelling six states that have more cows, and being excelled by none having a less number.

The Jackson annual convention of the Jackson association of Congregational churches ended its session at Ann Arbor Wednesday of last week. Among the officers chosen were the following Chelsea people: Dr. Thos. Holmes, committee on credentials; C. H. Kempf, one of the committee on home missionary work, Rev. W. H. Walker, one of the Sunday School committee. The next meeting will be held in Pluckney.

The following is the report of school district No. 10 Sylvan, for the month ending April 19, 1895. Number of days taught 20. Total enrollment 14. Grand total number days attendance, 240. Average daily attendance, 12. Number neither absent nor tardy, 12, viz: Arthur Youngs, Patrick Lingane, Vincent Lingane, Nellie Savage, Alice Savage, Alice McNaney, George McNaney, Mamie Ross, Jennie Ross. Almeda Parks, teacher.

According to Census Bulletin No. 4, recently issued by the secretary of state's office, Washtenaw county is by all odds the largest sheep growing and wool raising country in Michigan. In 1894, according to these census returns, this was the only country in the state to shear over a million pounds of wool, the amount sheared that year in Washtenaw reaching up to 1,384,363 pounds from 135,067 fleeces. This is nearly double the second largest wool raising county, Oakland, which had 102,394 fleeces and sheared 680,297 pounds of wool. Livingston comes third with 99,957 fleeces and 673,557 pounds, pounds, and Lenawee fourth with 90,930 fleeces and 573,231 pounds of wool. On June 1, 1894, there were in Washtenaw county 129,976 sheep, one year old and over, and 51,010 under one year old, including spring lambs. Washtenaw raised about one-tenth of all the wool raised in the state.

Effective Spraying.

Spraying is most effective when done early in the season. It is of little use when not done right or at the proper time. A fungicide is used for destroying parasites, such as rot, mildew, blight, rust etc. an insecticide for destroying insects. Various solutions are used. The copper solutions are fungicides "Bordeaux mixture" is made by dissolving six pounds of blue vitriol in four gallons of hot water, and then dilute to sixteen gallons. Slake four pounds of lime in six gallons of water, in a separate vessel, and when cool strain into the solution. Use wooden vessels and apply immediately after mixing. Another copper solution, "Eau Celeste," is made by dissolving two pounds of sulphate of copper (blue vitriol) in four gallons of water, adding three pints of ammonia, then diluting to fifty gallons, and applying as soon as made. "Ammoniacal solution" is made by dissolving three ounces of carbonate of copper in a gallon of water, and a pound of carbonate of ammonia in the same quantity of water separately. Mix and dilute to fifty gallons applying when mixed.

For insects kerosene emulsion is mostly used. A good recipe is this: Shave one pound of hard soap in a half a gallon of boiling water and when the soap is dissolved remove the boiling water from the fire and add half a gallon of kerosene, churning briskly with the force pump of the sprayer for fifteen minutes until the mixture has the appearance of thick cream. Kerosene will not mix with water, but will form an emulsion with soap. Now add slowly, stirring well, from ten to fifteen gallons water, according to the strength desired. It will keep any length of time, and destroys insects on trees and plants, as well as fleas, lice, etc., and does not injure plants like unadulterated kerosene, being also much cheaper. A gill of spirits of turpentine will improve the emulsion if added at the time of adding the kerosene. An efficient sprayer should throw a fine, mist-like spray, and the spray should spread over a large surface, so as to enable one to do the work quickly and thoroughly.

Bowie's Great Knife.

The bowie knife obtains its name from Rezin P. Bowie, who lived in Maryland in the early part of this century. He had a brother who had many enemies, and he, being turbulent and fond of hand to hand fights, stood in need of good weapons. Rezin undertook to furnish him with a weapon somewhat superior to any that could be found in those parts at that period. A knife was made out of a blacksmith's file, and a blade was had nine inches long, to which was fastened a handle of six inches. The knife was simple, strong in build and had an admirable temper. Bowie used it in 19 sanguinary contests, and then, happening in Philadelphia, he met with a cutler who fashioned it over for him. Bowie afterward settled on the Mississippi, and entertained the celebrated actor Edwin Forrest to whom he gave the original knife. Forrest placed the knife in his collection, where he retained it until his death—Hardware.

THIS IS A PROGRESSIVE AGE.

NEW AND STARTLING DISCOVERIES ARE MADE DAILY
 The greatest discovery for sufferers of catarrh, Hay fever, Asthma is Mayers, Magnetic Catarrh Cure. Its wonderful cures since its discovery are known to thousands.
 This grand medicine will positively cure all forms of these terrible diseases. It accomplishes what no other remedy has done. No cure no pay. One bottle will do the work and lasts for a three months treatment. Entirely new, no other remedy made like it. This is what the eminent Dr. Henry Carrington Alexander, D. D., L. L. D., has to say of its marvelous cure.
 The Mayers Drug Co., Oakland, Md.
 Gentlemen:—Ever since I have tried your famous catarrh remedy I have intended to give you a voluntary testimonial of its efficiency. I have been a sufferer for years from nasal and post nasal catarrh, and the bone in my nose has been visibly changed in its shape.
 After a trial of all manner of good and indifferent remedies, I have no hesitation in pronouncing your Magnetic Catarrh Cure the best, the speediest and most effectual remedy I have yet encountered. I wish and predict your success in the effort to demonstrate the value of your neat device in the way of a truly scientific and meritorious inhalant. You have made me your everlasting debtor.
 I am my dear sir,
 Yours faithfully,
 HENRY CARRINGTON ALEXANDER.

THE nineteenth century has witnessed many grand engineering triumphs. The government of Holland has projected one that will take rank with the greatest enterprises of the age. It is proposed to reclaim the lands now submerged by the Zuyder Zee. The work will be completed in 1928 and will cost $131,250,000.

For the Berlin exposition in 1896 a monster telescope is now being wrought. The four lenses measure each 110 centimeters (about forty-five inches) in diameter, but the length of the instrument will be but five and one-half meters. The lenses, therefore, will be larger, but the telescope shorter, than the Yerkes telescope.

A new substitute for ivory as the composition of billiard balls has been discovered in a combination of steel and aluminum and, according to the proprietor of a billiard room, this innovation will soon be introduced into the billiard establishments. The new composition will, of course, be much cheaper than ivory and will be absolutely proof against chipping.

ON the Belgian state railways fares are lower than anywhere else in Europe. Recently the Belgian government have made a fresh concession. For one pound sterling the traveler can obtain a ticket available for one person to travel over the entire system for a fortnight. For second-class the charge is about half as much again, and for the first-class about double.

He resigned about two years ago to accept the professorship of mechanical engineering in Harvard.

THE rupture between Sweden and Norway has broken out afresh. The issues are unchanged. Norway demands greater independence in the matter of a foreign policy, and insists upon separate diplomatic and consular service. This is virtually asking for autonomy. Of course Sweden objects. King Oscar has steadily resisted the Norwegian demands. The situation has become critical.

IN its present area of forty-one square miles New York city has 5,134 acres devoted to parks, of which 1,173 acres are below the Harlem river, this including Central park, covering 840 acres. But a densely crowded tenement population of 524,000 persons in the lower part of the city are without a park or playground, and the legislature has just appropriated $3,000,000 to open three small parks in the sections where none exist.

A SITE has been selected for the memorial hall at West Point, which is to bear the name of the late Gen. Geo. W. Cullum, who left $250,000 to the United States for its erection on this condition. Congress accepted the gift in 1892 and passed an act creating a board of trustees to erect the hall. It will stand on the most romantic part of the plateau, and the east front will rest on the edge of the precipitous rock. It is expected that the building will be finished in June, 1897.

LYNCHED.

An Alabama Mob Makes Short Work of a Brutal Gang.

A Young Man Murdered and His Body Burned—A Confession Follows and Two Men and Three Women, All Negroes, Are Hanged.

GREENVILLE, Ala., April 22.—Information has been received from Butler Springs of the brutal murder of Watts Murphy. He was a nephew of ex-Gov. Watts, of Alabama. He was murdered last Wednesday by five negroes, who placed his body in brush and set fire to the entire heap, the body being consumed. The young man having been missed from home, search was begun to find out his whereabouts, when one of the murderers confessed, implicating four other negroes, all of whom have been arrested and heavily guarded.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 22.—A gentleman who arrived at 9 o'clock Sunday night from Greenville, Ala., 40 miles south of here, reports that five negroes were lynched near there Saturday night. Just before his train left Greenville Sunday night the sheriff of the county came into town. He reported that in passing through the Buckalow plantation, 3 miles from town, he had found the five negroes, three men and two women, hanging by their necks to some trees. Their bodies were cold and they had evidently been dead for some hours.

The five dead negroes are supposed to be the murderers of Watts, who was killed and his body burned at Butler Springs last Wednesday. Three negroes were arrested for this crime, and one confessed, implicating two other negro men and two negro women.

A Greenville dispatch received at midnight confirms the lynching of the five negroes mentioned above. It says, however, that the victims of the mob were three women and two men, whose names were Mary Deane, Martha and Alice Greene, John Rattler and Zeb Calley. A posse of men who had charge of the five prisoners left Butler Springs about 11 o'clock Saturday night to bring them to the jail at Greenville for safe keeping. The route was a lonely one and the trip was necessarily slow. At about 3 o'clock Sunday morning, at a turn of the road, the party was suddenly surrounded by armed men, who seemed to spring from both sides of the road. The posse was covered with Winchester, and under pain of instant death was halted. Reports say that there were about 100 men in the attacking party, all heavily armed. They made short work of it. Taking the five negroes, they tied their hands and then the shuddering wretches were taken one at a time and were hanged to the limbs of the trees that lined the road.

There is considerable mystery as to the cause of the murder of Watts Murphy, in fact, no two stories from the scene agree. The story is that the negro who made his escape conceived the plot and that he planned the murder as revenge for an imaginary wrong of a trivial nature. The confession which implicated the men and women was full and explicit.

There is some talk about the negroes being highly wrought up. They are especially indignant over the hanging of the women. Whether the women had a hand in the actual killing or were only in the plot, as the negroes now claim, is not definitely known. There may, however, be trouble from them.

A NEW VENTURE.

American Industrial Union, the Latest Labor Society, Born in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 22.—The American Industrial union, a new labor organization, was born in this city Sunday. A constitution was adopted and officers were elected. J. H. Copeland, a lawyer, being chosen president, and George W. Howard, late vice president of the American Railway union, was made grand secretary. The plan of the organization follows closely the lines of the American Railway union, although its purposes as outlined in the constitution are entirely different from that organization.

These purposes are, in brief, general cooperation, establishment of employment bureaus, and the establishment of a general eight-hour work day throughout the country, to take effect September 1, 1897. The only thing of a political nature in the preamble is a declaration in favor of universal suffrage for women. All differences between employers and their employees are to be settled by arbitration. The cooperative feature is the one upon which greatest stress is laid. It is proposed to ask for the establishment of postal savings banks for the use of wage earners, and from this fund the organization expects to establish industries which will absorb the unemployed and enable them to become at least self-supporting.

Our Cruisers Will Take Part.

BERLIN, April 22.—The German government has been informed that the United States will send the cruisers New York, Columbia, San Francisco and Marblehead to take part in the naval demonstration at the opening of the North sea and Baltic canal. The celebration at Kiel now bids fair to exceed in size and splendor all previous expectations.

DURRANT HELD.

The Coroner's Jury Finds Him Guilty of Miss Williams' Murder.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—The coroner's jury investigating the case of the murder of Minnie Williams, one of the two young girls who were killed in Emanuel Baptist church, returned a verdict Friday charging Theodore Durrant with the murder.

Durrant was not present when the jury brought in the verdict. When it was shown him after his return to the city prison his face flushed for the first time since the terrible crime of which he is accused was discovered.

Mrs. Durrant, mother of the accused, says she has evidence for the defense which will go to upset the bearing of the statement of Witness Hill, who testified before the coroner's jury that he had seen a couple answering the description of Durrant and the dead girl standing near the church about 8:30 on the night of the murder and who afterwards entered the churchyard.

Doubt as to the guilt of W. H. T. Durrant, the young medical student who is accused formally of killing Miss Williams and suspected of having slain Miss Lamont, is freely expressed by many, and this doubt, fostered by the friends of the prisoner and those who mistrust circumstantial evidence, is spreading. There has been an undercurrent of opinion among these which was expressed in a statement to the newspapers by the mother of the accused man and which has also been boldly stated in anonymous letters to the coroner.

EAGER FOR STATEHOOD.

The Proposal to Establish the State of Superior Grows in Favor.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 22.—Sentiment in favor of carving the state of Superior out of the three Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota counties at the head of Lake Superior is growing very strong. Friday afternoon in the Minnesota senate Mr. Spencer, representing the Duluth district, speaking on the senate's adverse action on an appropriation for a normal school at Duluth, said, with much bitterness:

"This is the first time that I have explained my vote this session, but I wish to enter my protest against the infamous conduct of this senate in voting down certain measures in connection with this bill, and I want to serve notice and give due warning, that as a result of it, Minnesota will lose her brightest and richest diadem. The next decade will witness a difference. I have voted for a majority of the items in this bill, but St. Louis county is paying more than her proportion and getting nothing out of it. I want you to distinctly understand that within the next ten years the northern tier of counties will not be a part of this state."

Superior has already announced itself in favor of the new state, and this declaration by Senator Spencer indicates that St. Louis county, Minn., also wants to become a part of the state of Superior, although it is stated that Duluth prefers that the new state shall be known as Vermillion or Mesaba.

A BIG SHORTAGE.

Whisky Trust Balance Sheet Shows Over $1,000,000 Unaccounted For.

CHICAGO, April 18.—Of the many sensations furnished by the whisky trust since Joseph B. Greenhut first had himself appointed receiver and was ousted by the stockholders, none approaches in magnitude that furnished by the filing with Judge Showalter in the United States circuit court Tuesday afternoon of the balance sheet of the company as it appeared March 31, 1893. Practically the whole period of the reign of the Greenhut faction is covered by the figures given therein, which are startling even to those who had been told in advance that disclosures of an unusual nature were to be made. The enormous sum of $1,139,443 is totally unaccounted for, to say nothing of other items which appear all right at first glance and which are offset by figures on the books.

PEORIA, Ill., April 19.—At Wednesday's meeting of the stockholders of the Distilling & Cattle Feeding company J. B. Greenhut was expelled from the directory and presidency and S. M. Rice, of New York city, is slated as his successor in both.

Shot His Wife and Himself.

IDA GROVE, Ia., April 20.—Thursday morning A. Schleiter, one of the wealthiest and best-known business men of this place, shot his wife, then himself.

Schleiter is dead and Mrs. Schleiter cannot live. Several things indicate that he had for several days been planning the tragedy.

Old Wages to Be Restored.

FALL RIVER, Mass., April 17.—At a meeting of the Cotton Manufacturers' association, held Tuesday afternoon, it was voted to restore wages in the mills to the schedule in force previous to August 20, 1894, the restoration to go into effect April 22, next Monday.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

"Just for Fun."

George R. Chambers and Cella Baxter, of Marshall, were married "just for fun" in 1891, the bridegroom being 21 years of age and the bride 18. After the ceremony each of the parties returned to their homes and kept the marriage a profound secret. The couple never lived together, and Chambers declares that he has never seen his wife but once since the ceremony. He comes into court now and wants the marriage annulled, upon the plea that a marriage for fun is not legal provided the contracting parties never live together.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended April 13 reports sent in by fifty observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that pleuritis increased and inflammation of the bowels decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 148 places, typhoid fever at eleven, diphtheria at twenty-seven, scarlet fever at thirty-five, measles at seventeen and smallpox at Detroit and Grand Rapids.

Can Stop the Sale of Liquor.

Attorney General Maynard caused considerable of a sensation by rendering an opinion to the effect that the law enacted at the present session for the government of all Michigan villages gives the council of such villages power to prohibit the sale of spirituous and intoxicating liquors within the limits of the respective villages, whether located within local-option counties or not.

Prayer as a Cure for St. Vitus' Dance.

P. Toussant, of Menominee, an old soldier who had had St. Vitus' dance for eight years, making him unable to walk or talk, and who was pronounced incurable, has been restored to complete health almost instantly, and can now talk and walk as well as before his sickness. He claims he was cured by the prayers of sisters of charity. The cure is well vouched for.

Sues for Possession of the Farm.

Mrs. Eunice Williams, sister of Nathan Douglas, whom George W. King and his aunt, Douglas' former wife, are accused of poisoning, began proceedings at Muskegon to regain possession of the farm which Douglas had willed to his wife. The property was originally willed to Mrs. Williams, who was her brother's housekeeper previous to his marriage.

The Official Vote.

The official canvass of the vote cast at the recent special election in the Third congressional district to elect a successor to Congressman Burrows gives Alfred Milnes, (rep.), a total of 16,167 votes; Albert M. Todd, democrat, prohibition and free silver, 14,851; Patrick H. Gilkey, (dem.), 245. Milne's plurality was 1,316.

Just Tired of Living.

Walter Davis, of West Bay City, went duck hunting. On the way home he lay down near the road, saying he was tired of life, and telling his companions to go on. They did so. With his hands he dug a hole in the soft loam and pressed his face into the hole, holding it there until he was smothered.

Short But Newsworthy Items.

Joseph Richards, aged 17, accidentally shot and dangerously wounded his sister Mary, aged 12 years, at Houghton.

The defunct business college of Marshall will be reopened under the name of "Marshall School of Business." A stock company of citizens will control the concern.

The state military board decided to hold the annual encampment of the First brigade at Island lake for five days, commencing August 6.

The residence of Andrew McLaughlin was burned at Lake Linden. Loss, $1,000; insurance, $500. The great number of fires recently lead to suspicions of incendiarism.

Fifty of Union City's young men organized a military company, which will be suitably equipped with arms and uniforms.

Walter M. Wadley, a prominent farmer and drover at Fenton, was said to have absconded with about $5,000 which was loaned him by the bank at Bryon.

The common council at Vassar passed an ordinance to suppress saloons for the sale of spirituous liquors within the city limits.

Willie Bellamy, aged 10, son of George Bellamy, of Detroit, was reported to be missing from Toledo, O., where he was visiting. He was said to have been kidnapped.

Will Macard was sentenced at Grand Rapids to fifteen years for perjury. He gave false testimony in the trial of his brother, Charles Macard, for murder in an effort to establish an alibi.

Bois Blanc Island has been made a township by itself instead of being attached to one of the mainland townships.

The supreme court granted a new trial to William C. Liphardt, the ex-Detroit school inspector whose conviction for receiving a bribe and sentence to five years in state prison caused a sensation a few months ago.

Rev. Isaac Butterfield, one of the oldest Baptist ministers in Michigan, died at the home of his son, Roger W. Butterfield, in Grand Rapids.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Senate.

LANSING, Mich., April 17.—The senate today passed the bill creating a legal department for the city of Detroit and appointing Judge Speed, present city counselor by extending his term for two years.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—The senate committee on liquor traffic on Thursday reported the house $500 uniform liquor tax bill, amended as to leave it optional with the cities in cities whether saloons should be open on civil holidays or not; also changing the fiscal year for the payment of taxes to July 1 to conform with the government date.

LANSING, Mich., April 20.—The Jewell bill reducing the maximum rate of fare to be charged by the Michigan Central Railway company to two cents per mile was reported to the senate Friday without recommendation. The bill making it a misdemeanor to fraudulently use union labels was passed by the senate.

House.

LANSING, Mich., April 17.—The house Tuesday passed a bill for the creation of the office of state statistician for a period of five years at a salary of $1,500, his duties to be the gathering of information and statistics upon the subject of taxation and the making of an annual report to the governor for the benefit of the legislature.

LANSING, Mich., April 18.—The bill authorizing the Detroit city railway to jointly occupy a portion of the track of the Citizens' Railway company of Detroit was favorably reported from the house committee Wednesday. The house killed the bill changing the county seat of Emmet county from Harbor Springs to Petoskey. The house railroad committee has made a favorable report on the bill which contemplates amendment to the Michigan Central's general charter, bringing that railroad under the operation of the two-cent-a-mile law.

Gov. Rich has appointed Claude W. Cane and Arthur A. Henderson, of Newberry; Henry W. Jones, of Houghton; George L. Loupe, of Bessemer; Charles T. Fairbairn, of Ishpeming, and Theodore W. Burdick, of Sault Ste. Marie, trustees of the upper peninsula asylum for the insane.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—In the house Thursday, by a vote of 40 yeas to 32 nays, the bill authorizing the joint use of a portion of the Citizens' Street Car company's track on Woodward avenue, Detroit, by the Detroit company was lost.

LANSING, Mich., April 20.—The house committee on state affairs on Friday made a favorable report on the Jamieson bill repealing the law of 1847 which permits Roman Catholic bishops to hold real estate in trust. The bill passed the senate last week.

PATRIOTS' DAY.

Anniversary of Battle of Lexington Generally Observed in New England.

BOSTON, April 20.—Patriots' day, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington, was generally observed Friday, although not in so elaborate a manner as it was last year, when the holiday was legally commemorated for the first time. The day was ushered in by the ringing of bells and the booming of cannon, and at 11 o'clock the ride of Paul Revere was commemorated by exercises in Christ church, under the auspices of the Daughters of the American Revolution. In Lexington, Concord and Acton, there were salutes, parades and athletic sports and promenade concerts in the evening.

GOES TO HIGHEST BIDDER.

Novel Method Devised by Interior Department for Settling Land Disputes.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The secretary of the interior to-day made a ruling in a case where parties settled upon land simultaneously, which will establish a precedent in deciding like cases.

Lawrence J. O'Toole and William Spicer took up land in the Watertown (S. D.) land district at about the same hour of the day. The department being unable to decide as to the rightful claimant, the secretary of the interior decided that the land shall be sold to the highest bidder. The decision is similar to the rule where applications are made at the same time.

THE PENSION LIST.

Ruling Favorable to Minors That Will Cause Large Expenditures.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—A decision has been rendered by the secretary of the interior involving the right to pension on claims filed by persons after attaining their 16th year for or on account of whom no claim had been made during the period of their pensionable minority as children of a soldier who had died from causes originating in the service and line of duty. This decision is of the greatest importance, involving a great number of pending or rejected claims.

Sensational Divorce Proceedings.

OWosso, Mich., April 20.—A divorce proceeding of unusual feature was begun here Friday, Myrtle Southwell suing for a divorce from Bennot A. Southwell, of Perry. They were married last September and four weeks afterwards, the bill alleges, Southwell informed his wife that he was dishonest and guilty of larceny and wanted her to enter into a scheme for concealing ill-gotten goods. She refused and he has since abused her shamefully. The allegations have shocked the citizens of Perry, as Southwell was highly respected.

Say He Used Dynamite.

HOUGHTON, Mich., April 19.—Charles Ulrich, for seven years employed at the Hancock chemical works at Dollar Bay, was arrested Thursday, charged with blowing up the works and causing the death of Dominick Christians March 15. Ulrich's wages were reduced shortly before the explosion and considerable jealousy is said to have existed between Ulrich and Christians.

Temperance Sentiments Among Masons.

LA PORTE, Ind., April 20.—It is stated on seemingly good authority that the masonic orders in this state are to take an important step in the promotion of the temperance cause by making the use of intoxicants at public receptions a violation of the laws of the order and punished by severe penalties.

SEEKS MORE LIGHT.
Congressman Bryan Wants a Definition of "Sound Money."
OMAHA, Neb., April 20.—Ex-Congressman W. J. Bryan, who was Bland's lieutenant in the last house in the fight for silver, has sent President Cleveland every curt letter, in regard to the president's letter declining the invitation to speak in Chicago in the interests of sound money. Mr. Bryan says that since Mr. Cleveland secured the repeal of the Sherman law he (Mr. Cleveland) is now the acknowledged leader of the gold standard advocates, and therefore, the people naturally look to Mr. Cleveland for a plain presentation of the argument in favor of sound money, according to his understanding of sound money, or at least an intelligent definition of it. Mr. Bryan says that Mr. Cleveland makes frequent use of the phrase "sound money" and kindred expressions, but nowhere explains what he means by it. Everybody, Mr. Bryan says, favors "sound money." A plain statement by the president of what he means by those euphonious phrases might dispel the war clouds and make "line of battle" unnecessary. The letter goes on to outline the various positions that might be taken by those who favor sound money, and then declares: "Your opponents candidly avow their purpose and clearly outline the legislation which they desire. Is it not fair to ask that you declare your policy with as much frankness as they do?" "Is the failure," asks Mr. Bryan, "of the gold standard advocates to define their purpose and demand their financial system due to lack of knowledge of the subject or to an unwillingness to let the people know what they intend?" "If the properties" of your official place give you "to forego the enjoyment" which you would derive from the writing of another letter explaining your last letter and defining your position on the financial question please designate some one who has authority to speak for you so that the people may be afforded an intelligent opportunity, as you suggest, to study and decide this now paramount public question. Yours very truly, "W. J. BRYAN."

HIGHER PRICES.
They Appear in All the Speculative Markets.
NEW YORK, April 22.—Bradstreet says: "The volume of general trade has maintained the previous week's proportions, and at some points shows noteworthy increases as compared with the total a year ago. The reaction in petroleum prices appears to have been overcome, and the tendency is again upward, based on a drop in stocks from about 11,000 barrels of Pennsylvania oil in January, 1904, to less than 3,000,000 barrels of merchantable oil. So marked and rapid has been the appreciation in price of petroleum that speculation in it has been extended. Further advances in quotations are noted also for wheat, on improved demand for export; cotton, on a widened consumption, present and prospective; print cloths and other cotton goods, because of higher cost; Bessemer pig iron, on the increase of the cost of ore, and labor and shoes and leather, on the better stiffening of values of hides. The upward trend of prices for dressed beef and live cattle has been maintained. Coffee is lower, sugar and oats, but Indian corn and pork remain steady at last week's closing quotations. Wool is barely steady, as consumers are waiting the new crop before buying. "Relatively most improvement in trade is in the region west of Chicago and north of St. Louis and Kansas City. The rush of the spring demand for millinery, dry goods, clothing, groceries and hardware is over, but a fair volume of conservative trading continues. Mild weather and needed rains have greatly improved the agricultural and commercial outlook in the northwest. Trade between Seattle and Alaska is growing. The movement of merchandise throughout the central and northwestern states shows an increase in activity in the great spring wheat states. General trade conditions at the south are no better, and, in some respects, less satisfactory. Improvement in demand is not announced at any point."

MACEO ESCAPED.
Reported Capture Denied—Rebellion Probably Crushed.
HAVANA, April 18.—Rebel Gen. Jose Maceo has not been captured. Maceo's double was captured, but not Maceo. Anticipating unusual efforts to capture him, the wily Cuban general assumed a disguise and went to the front in command. Col. Guerra was the one captured, while Maceo escaped to the mountains with a few of his followers. Everything seems to indicate, however, that defeat is staring the revolutionists in the face and nothing but a miracle will now save Cuba from the domination of Spain. Havana hospitals are overflowing with the wounded. They come in at the rate of twenty-five a day. The dead are buried at night in order to avoid comment.

DAMAGE IN LAIBACH.
New Earthquake Shocks Demolish Buildings—Great Damage.
TRIESTE, April 19.—There was another violent earthquake shock at Laibach at 10:40 Wednesday morning. It is now found that the recent subterranean disturbances have damaged 98 per cent. of the houses at Laibach, and traffic and business there have been suspended. VIENNA, April 19.—Emperor Franz Joseph has given 10,000 florins to the sufferers in Laibach. The railway company has provided 500 cars and the army offices has sent all the available tents. Beyond this, however, little has been done to relieve the distress of the 50,000 homeless persons in the Laibach district. Greater New York. ALBANY, N. Y., April 18.—The senate committee has decided to report favorably Senator Lexow's "Greater New York" bill which was prepared by the greater New York commission.

De Profundis.
Father, I cry to Thee!
The way is long, and dark and drear;
There's not a ray of light to cheer;
O, comfort me!
Father, be Thou my guide!
I cannot see Thee midst the gloom
Which darkens round the open tomb
I pause beside.
Father, teach me Thy way!
It's hard to say: "Thy will be done!"
When Thou hast called my only one,
How can I pray?
Father, then heed my cry!
And may this lowly grave be given
To draw me nearer Thee and Heaven,
My home on high.
—Mrs. E. Burke Collins, in Magazine of Poetry.
Joy Cometh in the Morning.
A driving rain on the window pane,
A pall of night on the leas,
The wind's wild cry as it hurries by,
And the sigh of the bare tossed trees,
A cold hearth's gloom in a lonely room,
And a life that is shrunken and gray;
A heart that must ache for a true love's sake,
And a true love far away!
Night wind and rain, and longing and pain,
This hour is your own to hold;
To-morrow the sky will be blue on high,
And the sun in the sky be gold.
To-morrow the lark in the gray-paled park
Shall sing to the browsing deer,
To-morrow my heart and pain shall part
And my true love be here.
—Pall Mall Budget.

COMPLETELY PARALYZED

Physicians Are Astounded by a Peculiar Case.

A Young Man Stricken with Landry's Paralysis and Yet Recovers.

[From the Times, Philadelphia, Pa.]

Stricken with Landry's Paralysis, and yet cured. That means but little to the average layman but it means a miracle to a physician. Such is the experience of O. E. Dallimore now a resident of Madison, N. J., and a rare experience it is.

"Yes, it is true that I had Landry's Paralysis," said Mr. Dallimore to a reporter, "or else the most celebrated physicians of London were mistaken."

"It was on the 15th of March, this year," he continued, "when I was in New York city, that I first felt the symptoms of my trouble. I experienced difficulty in going up stairs, my legs failing to support me. I consulted a physician who informed me that I had every symptom of Locomotor Ataxia, but as the case developed he pronounced it a case of Landry's Paralysis and knowing the nature of the disease advised me to start for my home and friends. I gave up my work and on April 1st started for London, Ont. A well-known physician was consulted but I grew rapidly worse and on Saturday, April 7th, several eminent physicians held a consultation on my case and informed me that I was at death's door, having but three to six days to live, still I lingered on, by this time completely paralyzed, my hands and feet being dead, I could hardly whisper my wants and could only swallow liquids. Oh, the misery of those moments are beyond all description and death would really have been a welcome visitor."

"Now, comes the part that has astounded the physicians. Rev. Mr. Gandy, a clergyman who visited me in my last hours, as he supposed, told me of the marvellous cures of paralysis that had been performed by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I started to take the pills about April 28 and a week after that felt an improvement in my condition. There was a warm, tingling sensation in the limbs that had been entirely dead and I soon began to move my feet and hands, the improvement continued until May 23 when I was taken out of bed for a drive and drove the horse myself. By the beginning of July I was able to walk upstairs alone and paid a visit to Niagara."

"Slowly but surely I gained my old health and strength leaving Ontario for New York on October 11 and am gaining my work again on October 23, 1894. Cured of Landry's Paralysis in eight months." To confirm his story beyond all doubt, Mr. Dallimore made the following affidavit:

Sworn and subscribed before me December 3, 1894. AMOS C. RATHBUN, Notary Public.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are for sale by all druggists, or may be had by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., for 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $3.50.

What an ordinary man eats and the way he eats it would be enough to give dyspepsia to an ostrich—unless the ostrich were wise enough to assist his digestion from time to time with an efficient combination of vegetable extracts. Such a preparation is Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are the pills par excellence for those who sometimes eat the wrong things and too much. They stimulate action in all of the digestive organs. They stop sour stomach, windy belchings, heartburn, flatulence and cure constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache and kindred derangements.

Once used they are always in favor.

THERE is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Better use them this way, if you don't use Pearline. Give your tired arms and aching back a rest, somehow, when you're scrubbing and cleaning.

"An absurd idea?" Of course. But when a person has cleaned house with Pearline, year in and year out, and knows how much work it saves, and time, and rubbing, nothing seems more absurd than to try to clean house without it. Pearline—no soap with it—just Pearline—makes house-cleaning easy.

STEEL TANKS
We furnish steel tanks with covers, all galvanized after completion, in nests of ten, 8 to 12 feet high and 60 to 36 inches in diameter, at 2 1/2c. per gallon. They do not rust, shrink, leak, give taste to water, nor allow foreign substances to get in. They can be put in garret or barn and thus are protected from freezing. They take no setting up, are cheaper than wood. Tank substructures of all sizes made to order. Send for price list and designs for substructure and ornamental water supply.

AERMOTOR CO. CHICAGO. PER GAL.

2 1/2 Cts.

Did you ever stop to think how completely the Aermotor Co. made the modern windmill business? How it has monopolized the entire line of manufacture because of its ideas, inventions, designs, qualities and prices, or forced others to be literal and servile imitators? Witness the steel mill, the best guarded pump, the high speed power mill, the steel towers, fixed and tilting, the galvanizing of work after completion, the grinder centrifugal fans, the improved trip and other gears, the all steel pole saw—one of the most popular things we ever put out—the steel storage and stock tanks. Everything we have touched we have touched and changed. It is the things we have delighted in and it has paid. We have established a name of brand houses, so as to have all these goods near those who want them. The Aermotor Co. has but one more ambition. It wants to build and fill one more new building. It has 2 acres of land at its present location unoccupied by buildings. It expects to commence in June to cover that 2 acres with a single building 10 stories high. This will give it 10 more acres of space. Then when the public demand requires more goods than can be produced with this added space, it will refuse to extend further, or make any effort. It will have done his share to satisfy that demand. It will then turn away all new orders, UNTIL THAT TIME IT EXPECTS TO CONTINUE TO BUILD THE WORLD WITH THE GREATER PART OF ITS WINDMILLS, STEEL TOWERS, GRINDERS, FEED CUTTERS, PUMPS, STEEL FRAME BUSH SAYS, STEEL STORAGE AND STOCK TANKS, STEEL SUBSTRUCTURES, ETC., ETC. GALVANIZED AFTER COMPLETION. Probate Order.
STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Thursday, the 18th day of April in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.
Present, J. Willard Babitt, Judge of Probate in the matter of the estate of Bridget Mullen, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Mary H. Reynolds, praying that the administration of said estate may be granted to James P. Wood or some other suitable person.
Thereupon it is ordered that Monday, the 20th day of May next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition and that the heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petition should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that said petitioner, give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this Order to be published in the Chelsea Herald a newspaper printed and circulated in said county three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

A Valuable Find.
The Result of Years of Study and Labor.
There has at last been discovered a sure and never failing remedy. It has been tested on patients, who have despaired of ever being cured; the results have been in every case wonderful. Groff's Rheumatic Cure is unequalled as a positive remedy in all cases of Chronic and Acute Inflammatory Rheumatism, Gout, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia; especially Ovarian Neuralgia; Dysmenorrhoea and all kindred affections. It is also a valuable Blood Purifier, being especially useful in Eczema, Psoriasis, Scrofula, all Glandular Enlargements and diseases of the Liver and Kidneys. It is absolutely free from all narcotics. Severe attacks are relieved in from one to three days and a positive cure effected in from five to eighteen days. For sale by druggists. Manufactured and sold by the GROSS MEDICINE CO., Chicago, Ill.

OLD AND TRUE.
The secret of Ann Arbor's success and continuous growth while all other places are at a standstill, lies largely in the fact that her finances have been admirably managed and she has kept out of debt. Any person who advises her to run in debt for water works, for electric light plant, or any of these things that are now furnished by private corporation, is not a wise counsellor—Ann Arbor Courier—Same here.

This is what Peter Cooper who died worth many millions said of a newspaper: "In all towns where a newspaper is published every man should advertise in it, if nothing more than a card stating his name and the business he is engaged in. It does not only pay the advertiser, but lets people at a distance know that the town in which you reside is a prosperous community of business men. Never pull down your sign while you expect to do business."

Last week a merchant in one of our neighboring towns, while sweeping out his store, found a nickel on the floor. He put the following notice in his window:—"A sum of money found last Tuesday in this establishment. The owner will receive the same within upon stating the amount." Over 200 people called and announced the loss of money. The losses ranged from $1.50 to $1,600. No one claimed the loss of a five cent piece. Many of those who called spent more or less in the store. All of which proves the old adage that honesty is the best policy.

Charcoal is one of the most remarkable articles in common use, and possesses many qualities not generally understood by the laity. As an absorbent of bad odors it has no equal. Placed around articles of food it prevents decay and preserves them for a time in all their freshness. In fine powder it is one of the most perfect dressings for malignant wounds and those where proud flesh is present. As a cure for headache it is invaluable, a teaspoonful in a half a glass of water often affording immediate relief.

Nine persons out of ten, or thereabouts, if asked where the expression, "God tempests the wind to the shorn lamb," can be found, will answer, "In the Bible." But they will be mistaken. This is one of the three or four proverbial quotations generally believed to be in the Bible, which are not there. It is from Lawrence Stern's famous "Sentimental Journey," in the chapter called "Maria." The other proverbs commonly credited to the Bible are, "Cleanliness is next to godliness," which is found in one of John Wesley's sermons, and "Pour oil on the troubled waters," which is derived from a statement in Pliny's natural history, written 1,800 years ago.

In the Rochester Democrat a Judge of the Supreme Court thus explains why in England vehicles turn to the left in passing each other: "The foot traveler passed to the right that the shield on the left arm might be interposed to ward off a treacherous blow, and the right, or sword arm, free to strike. Horseman, however, usually had mail to protect them, and there was more safety in being near the antagonist than in having to strike across the horse, as would have been necessary had they turned to the right. When vehicles came into use later the drivers instinctively followed the old horseback custom and turned to the left. In this country horses were scarce for several generations after the first settlers, and the rule of the foot passenger. "Keep to the right," was the only one that obtained. When conveyances became common they still followed the more familiar custom of the pedestrian, instead of the forgotten tradition of the mother country." All ladies are invited.

"The Vice of early boyhood laid the foundation of my ruin. Later on a 'gay life' and exposure to blood lettings, completed the wreck. I had all the symptoms of Nervous Debility—sunken eyes, emaciated, drain in urine, nervousness, weak back, etc. Syphilis caused my hair to fall out, bone pains, ulcers in mouth and on tongue, blotches on body, etc. I thank God I tried Drs. Kennedy & Kergan. They restored me to health, vigor and happiness." CHAS. POWERS.
We treat and cure Varicocele, Emissions, Nervous Debility, Seminal Weakness, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, Unnatural Discharges, Self Abuse, Kidney and Bladder Diseases.
