The Cheerful Farmer.

One of the important qualifications necessary for a farmer to make the farm pay is to be satisfied with his calling and make the best of his surroundings. The farmer who is always grumbling because his neighbor is getting along better than he, or wants to run the finance of the country and cursing the money-lenders, is not the farmer that will make the farm pay. On the other hand, the farmer who has the better qualifications—a cheerful disposition, a close observer how the successful neighbor manages, and much more unless asked, and keeys within his means, will make the farm pay

THE GUNMAKER OF ILION

Jefferson M. Clough Refuses Tempting Offer from the Chinese Government

His Health Was Too Poor to Permit Attention to Business-A Great Sufferer for Many Years, But Has Now Recovered.

(From the Springfield, Mass , Union.) There isn't a gun manufacturer in the United States who does not know Jefferson M. Clough, and why? Because he has been intimately associated all his life with the development of the two best American rifles, the Remington and Winchester. For years he was superintendent of the E. Remington & Sons' great factory at Ilion, N. Y. After leaving there he refused a tempting offer of the Chinese Government to go to China to superintend their government factories-and accepted instead the superintendency of the Winchester-Arms Co., at New Haven, at a salary of $7,500 a year.

It was after this long term of active labor as a business man that he found himself incapacitated for further service by the embargo which rheumatism had laid upon him and resigned his position more than two years ago, and returned to Belchertown, Mass., where he now lives and owns the Phelps farm, a retired spot where he has five hundred acres of land.

Being a man of means he did not spare the cost and was treated by leading physicians and by baths at celebrated springs without receiving any benefit worth notice. During the summer of 1893 and the winter of 1894 Mr. Clough was confined to his house in Belchertown, being unable to rise from his bed without assistance, and suffering continually with acute pains and with no taste or desire for food, nor was he able to obtain sufficient sleep.

Early in the year 1894 Mr. Clough heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. He began taking these pills about the first of March 1894 and continued to do so until the first part of September following. The first effect noticed was a better appealte and he began to note more ability to help himself off the bed and to be better generally. Last August (1894) he was able to go alone to his summer residence and farm of 163 acres on Grenadier Island, among the Thousand Islands, in the river St. Lawrence, where from the highest land of his farm he commands a view for 13 miles down the river, and 60 of the Thousand Islands can be seen. Instead of being confined to his bed Mr.

Clough is now and has been for some time able to be about the farm to direct the men employed there and he is thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for him. These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and are never sold in bulk. They may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company.

I would not say that trees at all Were of our blood and race, Yet, lingering where our shadows fall, Isometimes think I trace Akinship, whose far-reaching root Grew when the world began, ad made them best of all things mute To be the friends of man.

Held down by whatsoever might Unto an earthly sod. They stretch forth arms for air and light As we do after God. And when in all their boughs the breeze Moans loud, or softly sings, Asour own hearts in us, the trees Are almost human things.

What wonder in the days that burned With old poetic dream. Dead Phaeton's fair sisters turned To poplars by the stream? In many a light cotillion stept The trees when fluters blew; and many a tear, 'tis said, they wept For human sorrow too.

Mute, said I? They are seldom thus; They whisper each to each, and each and all of them to us, Is varied forms of speech. Be serious," the solemn pine Is saying overhead: Be beautiful," the elm-tree fine Has always finely said.

Be quick to feel," the aspen still Repeats the whole day long; While, from the green slope of the hill, The oak-tree adds: "Be strong." When with my burden, as I hear Their distant voices call, Irise, and listen, and draw near, "Be patient," say they all. Samuel V. Cole, in Youth's Companion.

He Halled from Texas.

There was a tall, gaunt Texan who came on to Washington during Cleveland's first administration. He had a pile of letters and recommendations and indorsements about the size of a bundle of fodder. He was in high spirits and perfectly confident that he would get his appointment at once. He took in the town with some of the choice spirits of the Texas colony, and regaled them with bright pictures of what he was going to do just as soon as he was confirmed. It turned out. however, that he hadn't been in Texas for ten years. Another officeseeker caught on to this fact, and used it for all it was worth. The Texan went up to see the secretary, and had a painful interview with him, and wound up by saying: "It's true, Mr. Secretary, I do business in New York, but I live in Texas, at least I don't think I'm living unless I'm there. Besides, if a man can't hail from Texas, where in the - can he hail from?"-Washington

SIGNED AND VETOED.

Gov. Rich Disposes of All Bills in His Hands.

Several Measures Receive His Signature-Others Are Vetoed, and the Reasons Are Given for the Action Taken.

Gov. Rich signed the following bills within the time required by law:

Senate bill limiting the aggregate salaries at at any insane asylum in the lower peninsula to $12,000, and in the upper peninsula to $8,000 Senate bill permitting owners of skating rinks to own real estate to the value of $100,- eath to be administered to persons whose votes at school meetings may be challenged. Senate enrolled number 137, providing that bodies of Wayne county paupers may be sent to the Detroit and Michigan colleges for dissection.

Senate bill amending the law relative to the Senate enrolled number 146, amending the charter of the city of Detroit. Senate enrolled number 136, reincorporating the city of Muskegon. House enrolled number 335, empowering fiduciary companies to become sureties on the bonds of state officers.

House enrolled 339, legalizing the acts of benefit societies at Grand Rapids, Bay City and Saginaw, and exempting them from the provisions relative to the lodge system. House enrolled number 345, providing for the incorporation of mutual insurance companies which shall have power to limit the liability of stockholders.

The following bills were vetoed, with the reasons for such action: The Donovan bill, so-called, which provides for an interchangeable mileage book, is a measure which was passed by the legislature at the earnest request of the commercial travelers of the state. If such a ticket could be provided as could be used without discrimination on all railroads, it would supply a much sought for means of transportation for commercial travelers and others, and it was evidently the purpose of the legislature to meet this demand that the bill was passed. Only one similar act has become a law in the United States. and that in the state of Massachusetts, and which the supreme court of that state decided to be unconstitutional on the ground that it was taking private property for the use and benefit of the public without providing adequate compensation therefor.

After the most careful consideration it has been decided not to sign the bill, but its importance and the wide interest which has been shown to exist in its favor leads to giving more fully than usual the reasons for such action. If the bill could do no harm, and might do good, the question of its constitutionality could be safely left for the courts to decide. But in this case the probability that it will be set aside by the courts when brought to their attention, and promulgated its passage, and thousands of innocent purchasers of those tickets in But in the present situation it seems to be case the law was declared void, the opportu- | mere felly to talk about the free. eclarge nity for fraud and the manifest injustice to many of the roads, the inevitable loss to some one, and the creation of equitable claims against the state to reimburse innocent purchasers of tickets upon the representation of the state through legislative enactment, and last, but not least, the impossibility of carrying out the intent of the law. cause the withholding of executive approval. Some of the inconsistencies of the bill are then shown by the governor.

Approval of the bill providing that not more than one graduate of the agricultural college shall be appointed to the board of agriculture at any one time is withheld, because of the belief that no such restriction is needed in the formation of this board. It can safely be left to the judgment of the executive.

In the bill providing a penalty for posting notices on bridges, the penalty seems exceedingly severe, and the provisions of the bill ap-

The bill providing for the sale of state tax lands would result in a material loss to the state treasury, as shown by the books of the auditor general

Joint resolutions providing for the relief of Ben Stresenreuter, Alphonso Button and Charles A. Howing all fail because they did not receive a two-thirds vote, and were not considered on their merits.

The bill authorizing and regulating the printing, publishing and distribution of documents and reports fails because I believe the ad vantages provided for by the bill are not equal to the objectionable features, and that instead of being a saving to the state it would be a positive loss. I believe it would create friction among the different departments of the state government, and would necessitate another bureau with a considerable force of clerks, and in the end there would be no more accomplished and no clerks would be relieved in other departments.

The bill for licensing homesteaders on state tax lands makes the state liable for improvements made by homesteaders in case the title should be declared void, which in the end would lead to considerable expense and possible litigation on the part of the state. It is believed best to wait until the state has a title, and then if it is desired to give the land to homesteaders it can be done safely and advisedly. The several bills appropriating state swamp lands for the improvement of certain streams were objected to in the first instance because it was proposed to sell scrip which really represented worthless lands, and it was thought that the state ought not to be a party to obligations of that kind. This objection would have been removed had specific descriptions of land been inserted in the bill and the appropriation made by the requisite two-thirds vote; but no bills of this character received a two-thirds vote, so that all fail for that rea-

The bill amending the general tax law seems to provide for an extension of time for making out the tax-roll in the upper peninsula, but whether it is intended to be every fifth year or every year except the fifth, it is impossible to determine. As no good reason is snown why the bill should become a law, and owing to its ambiguity of language, the bill has not been approved.

Mr. Wagar's bill amending the act relative to the commissioner of railroads was not signed because it would lead to conflict owing to the failure of passage of two other bills on the same subject, which was necessary to make the whole legislation harmonious. The bill making an appropriation for an electric light plant at the university is not signed for the reason that it is not in accordance with a distinct understanding had in the passage of the one-sixth mill tax bill two years ago, It is an appropriation for a purpose not granted to any other state institution this year, on account of the condition of the treasury, and of the people of the state. Then again, the appropriation is made available nine months before it will be collected.

The bill creating a state board of medical examiners to examine and pass upon appli-cants to practice medicine, which was fought for so vigorously by members of the State Medical society, also fell under the veto The reason given for the veto is that the pro islons of the bill are so conflicting as to render it in-operative. The bill as engrossed and sent to the governor failed to show certain amend-ments made by the legislature.

HAS COME TO STAY.

All Indications Point to Permanent Improvement in Trade. NEW YORK, June 17.-R G. Dun &

Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "It is no longer a question whether business improves. Not for a long time have our reports from all parts of the country been so uniformly favorable. The daily average of bank clearings in June is 248 per cent. larger than last year, though 11.4 per cent. less than in 1892. The most potent influence has been the receipt of more favorable advices regarding growing crops. Even official statements helped. because altogether less gloomy than previous rumars. Labor troubles are getting out of the way, wages in many establishments are rising, and with the iron industry just now leading, there is general improvemement in manufactures. Monetary conditions also help. The time draws near when, with good crops, exports will bring gold hither, and though foreign operations in stocks and bonds have been insignificant this week, the effect of previous transactions has not been exhausted. Much diminished receipts of money from the interior indicate better employment in business, especially at the west, and the volume of commercial loans steadily rises, and is now fair for, this season even in a good year. "The government crop reports were so much less dismal than was expected that they really extinguished for a time a host of calamitous ramors. The decidedly cheering outlook for spring wheat, which our own and other private advices confirms goes far to balance reports of loss in winter wheat regions, and even these, in the light of the demonstrated deficiency of official returns of acreage were found far more encouraging than previous accounts. "Failures for the week ending June 6 are swelled by the cordage statement to $10.801,498, of which 19,622,468 were of manufacturing and $1,129,030 of trading concerns. Exclusive of cordage, other failures showed $1,641,198 liabilities, of which, $462,468 were of manufacturing concerns, and last year the aggregate for the week was $2,507,228, of which $473,548 was of manufacturing and $1.872,261 of trading concerns. The completed statements for May show an aggregate of $9,560,281 against $9.787,-921 last year. Failures for the past week have been 241 in the United States against 232 last year and 24 in Canada against 40 last year."

HARMON IS HEARD.

New Attorney General Gives Expression to Financial Views.

WASHINGTON, June 13 .- The new attorney general has views upon the financial question, and believes there is no impropriety in expressing them. He made a speech on "Money" at the banquet given in Cincinnati, March 4, to Representative Bellamy Storer, and the opinions there expressed were reiterated Tuesday by the new attorney general. He said:

"I want the American dollar to be just as good as anybody eise's dollar, and with that qualification I don't care what it is made of of silver. The only way we float silver we now have attaching an implied greenback to every dollar; or, in other words, by the government promising to redeem it with a gold dollar, if necessary to keep the two equal. Of course there is a very narrow limit to the government's spility to do that; besides, I knew of no reason why it should do it. "If there were free and unlimited coinage of silver, the government could not keep the two metals on a parity very long and the result would be, by the law of money that has been settled from the time that man has had money. the gold would all disappear and there would be only a silver basis. "If the situation should change, it might be that silver and gold would be of equal steadiness in value, so that both might in a measure at least be used as money. It would be possible, as has been the case in the history of the world, that silver might at some time have more necessary qualities of money than gold! of that nobody can say. But it has not now, and, therefore, it cannot be used as money without a limit and side by side with gold. How soon the situation may change, nobody can tell."

"Do you believe in having an international conference in regard to the matter?"

"Yes. But we cannot tell exactly how an international agreement might affect it. It would to a certain extent, but until governments can control the laws of trade, there is a limit to the effect which international agreements could have over money.'

FOUR ARE DEAD.

A Boiler Explodes at Fall River with Awful Results.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 17 .- A catastrophe which created the greatest excitement in the city since the granite mill fire, occurred Friday morning at the Langley loom harness shop on County street, a three-story wooden building, owned by Henry I. Langley. A fifty-horse-power boiler of the Cunningham make exploded in the rear part of the basement, blowing out the sides of the building, knocking away the supports and allowing the upper floors to settle into a mass of ruins. Fire started in the ruins and began to burn briskly.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 17 .- The police report of the explosion given out at midnight shows that there were seventeen people in the building. this number four were burned to death, seven were more or less injured, while the others escaped with no more than a severe shock. Of the injured, Thomas Bury is in a critical condi-

Gov. Matthews for Silver.

LA PORTE, Ind., June 13.-In answer to the question: "Do you favor the free coinage of silver by the United States, independent of the action of any other nation?" Gov. Matthews said that he believed in the United States taking the initiative to bring about a speedy agreement or refusal between the commercial nations as to the coinage of silver, and failing in this he favors the independent coinage by the United States of the silver product of this country, excluding foreign bullion.

Quality of Cheese In The worlds Fair Dairy Cheese Test.

While the Jersey cows in the Chicago World's Fair dairy tests exceeded the Gurnseys and Short Horns, their competitors, in the quantity of milk and cheese produced per herd and per head, it was a matter of surprise to many who were not familiar with this breed to learn of their ability to make a large quantity of cheese per hundred pounds of milk. This test at Chicago has pretty well settled the question as to the value of a milk rich in butter fat for cheese-making purposes, and has quite conclusively demonstrated "that the solids follow the fat." I think I was among the first to claim that the Jersey milk was, through its very richness in butter fat, the mort desirable for the production of cheese, not only on account of the cheese produced therefrom, but also from the quantity; and it was especially gratifying to me to have the opinions which I expressed some years ago so amply demonstrated. The oft-told story of the yields of the breeds in milk and cheese has proved conclusively the great victory won by the Jerseys in the cheese test; and inasmuch as all the cheese was scored by experts and the value given by the quality according to a scale of points fixed by Chief Buchanan, the figures below demonstrate that the quality of the Jersey cheese exceeded that of the other breeds, the average value per pound of cheese being as follows: Jerseys, 13 36-100c. per The Glazier Stove Co. will deliver the pound; Short-Horns, 13 1-00 c. per pound,

SILVERITES MEET.

Doings of the Great National Rally at Memphis.

Full Text of the Platform and Resolutions-Isham G. Harris and Others Threaten to Secede-Tillman Makes a Speech.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 14.-Friends of silver, representing twenty-six states of the south and west, began a two days' convention in this city yesterday. Fifteen hundred delegates, comprising democrats, republicans and populists, filled the lower floor and a large portion of the balcony at the Auditorium when the gathering was called to order. On the stage, besides the officers of the Central Bimetallic league of Memphis, under whose auspices the gathering was held, were with very few exceptions all the leading advocates of the free coinage of silver in the United States. Senator Harris, of Tennessee, made a clear-cut statement of the objects of the convention. He said it was called by the Central Bimetallic league of Shelby county, a strictly non-partisan organization composed of democrats, republicans and populists. Its doors were thrown open to every American citizen who honestly believed in the propriety, the advisability and the necessity of the rehabilitation of silver. Their doctrine is bimetallism. They hold that a democrat can be present and participate in its deliberations without impairing his allegiance or fidelity to his own party organization, and the same is true of republicans and populists, whose party fealty cannot be impeached because of their open advocacy of free coinage. "We are here," concluded the senator "as a band of freemen to consider this Alaska is seldom frozen over, and only all-absorbing question which now confronts the American people. We are the ice from either side to the islands here to consider the coinage question and that question only."

A permanent organization was ef-Diomedes. The channel from one fected with Senator Turpie, of Indiana, as chairman, and addresses were delivered by that gentleman and Alexander Delmar, of California, in the afternoon, and by Congressman Sibley, of Pennsylvania; C. S. Thomas, of Denver, and Aaron Wolcott, of Indiana, in the evening.

Congressman Joseph C. Sibley, who is the leading silverite candidate for the presidency, in closing his remarks,

'We must win this fight in 1896. If we don't THE "spectrum top" is one of the win it then it will be too late. There will be two avenues open to the people after 189c. One will be repudiation and the other revolution, and both I dread. "If the English were to land in New York tant. It has only black and white you would help to drive them out, wouldn't you? The English are in New York now; they have been for years. Will you drive them out, even if party lines have to be dropped? When we can get together on broad lines; when tonian spectrum. Mr. Benham, the country means more than party, we will win the fight."

Thursday's Proceedings.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 15.-Notwithstanding the cloud that for a moment threatened to darken the horizon of the free silver convention of the southern and western states in the shape of the secession of a number of prominent democrats from the convention because of the advocacy of the abolition of party lines by one or two of the speakers, the end was harmony and there was no fight over the able to ignore. resolutions after they were read to the convention, for the reason that they carefully avoided any reference calculated to produce discord. The resolutions advocate the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, declare that international cooperation is not necessary, and attribute the recent hard times entirely to the demonitization of silver. Although nothing was said in the resolutions about the abolition of party lines as proposed by Sibley, Stewart and others, the speak ers of the day, almost without exception, took care to assert their democracy and to repudiate any affiliation with either republicans or populists. The resolutions follow:

The Platform.

"Silver and gold coin have in all ages constituted the money of the world, were the money of the fathers of the republic, the money of history and of the constitution.

"The universal experience of mankind has demonstrated that the joint use of both silver and gold coin as money constitutes the most appointment of an executive committee conamount of both metals is necessary as a medium of exchange.

"The demonetization of either of these historic metals means an appreciation from the value of money, a fall in the prices of commodtoric metals means an appreciation from the value of money, a fall in the prices of commodities, a diminution of the profits of legitimate business, a continuing increase in the burden of debts, a withdrawal of money from the channels of trade and industry where it no less at the head of the faction advocating simon pure demonstrate. channels of trade and industry where it no late the head of the faction advocation and sure return and its ing simon pure democracy. With him were M. C. Galloway, of Memphis, formerly in number of the country.

The mead of the faction advocating simon pure democracy. With him were M. C. Galloway, of Memphis, formerly in number of the country.

There is no health or soundness in a financial system under which a hoarded dollar is productive of increase to its possessor while an invested dollar fields a constantly diminishing return, and under which fortunes are made by the accretions of idle capital or destroyed a persistent fall in the price of commodities and a persistent dwindling in the margin of profits in almost every branch of useful indus-try. Such a system is a premium upon sloth and a penalty upon industry, and such a system is that which the criminal legislation f 1873 has imposed upon this country.

Tested and Approved. "The bimetallic standard of silver and gold has behind it the experience of ages and has been tested and approved by the enlightened and deliberate judgment of mankind. The gold standard is a departure from the established policy of the civilized world, with nothing to commend but twenty-two years of depression and disaster to the people and extraordinary accumulation of wealth in the hands of the few.

"There are some facts bearing upon this question recognized and admitted by all candid men, whether advocates of bimetallism or of the single gold standard Among these is the fact that the very year that marked the change from the bimetallic to the single gold standard is the very year that marked the change from a condition of rising prices, large profits, general contentment and great prosperity, to a condition of falling prices, diminishing profits, insecurity of investments, unemployed laber and a heavy depression in all branches of trade and industry. It is not a matter of dispute, even among the honest advocates of the gold standard, that general prosperity came to an end with the destruction of the bimetallic sy tem and that hard times, falling prices, idle workingmen and widespread depression came in with the gold standard and prevails to-day wherever the gold standard has been adopted.

A Blunder, 1f Not a Crime.

"Every international monetary conference that has been called, every demand in this country and Europe for an international agreement to reestablish the bimetallic standard, is a confession that the demonetization of the system was a blunder, if not a crime, that its consequences have been disastrous and that the conditions that it has wrought are full of menace and of peril.

"The logic of facts establishes beyond intelligent question that the destruction of silver as primary money by a conspiracy of selfish interests is the cause of the widespread depression and suffering that began with the gold standard. There can be no restoration of prosperity, no permanent relief from prevailing conditions until the great cause has been removed by a complete restoration of silver to its proper place as a money metal, equal with

How to Secure a Stable Standard

"We believe in a stable value; we believe least of all in an appreciating standard; it is only through the practical operation of bimetallism that a stable standard of value can be secured. A standard constituted of money constantly increasing in value is not a sound, a single nor a stable standard but a constantly changing standard. The effect of gold monometallism is to establish one standard for the creditor and another for the debtor; and there can be no more dishonest monetary system than that which gives short measure to the borrower and long measure to the lender. Under the policy prevailing prior to 1878 there can be no violent change in the relative value of the two metals, for a rise in value of one metal is counteracted by a decreased demand, and a fall in value by an increased demand. Under the operation of this beneficent law a stable relation was maintained between them in spite of the most extreme changes in relative productions. From the first period of our history up to 1873 the right of the debtor to choose whether he should pay his debts in silver or gold coin was always recognized. The subsequent policy has been to transfer this right to the creditor, thus tending to constantly increase the value of the dearer metal and destroy the parity between them.

Coinage Free and Unlimited.

"Believing that it is absolutely necessary to reverse this iniquitous and ruinous policy, we therefore resolve: "That we favor the immediate restoration of silver to its former place as a full legal tender standard money, equal with gold, and the free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1 and upon terms of exact

"That while we should welcome the cooperation of other nations we believe that the United States should not wait upon the pleasure of foreign governments or the consent of foreign creditors but should themselves proceed to reverse the 'grinding process' that is destroying the prosperity of the people and should lead by their example the nations of the earth.

"That the rights of the American people, the nterests of American labor and the prosperity of American industry have a higher claim to the consideration of the people's lawmakers than the greed of foreign the avaricious demands made by idle holders of idle capital The right to regulate its own monetary system in the interests of its own people is a right which no free government can barter, sell or surrender. This reserved right is a part of every bond, of every contract and of every obligation. No creditor or claimant can set up a right that can take precedence over a nation's obligations to promote the welfare of the masses of its own people. This is a debt higher and more binding than all other debts, and one which is not only dishonest but treason-

Result of Existing Policy.

"Under the financial policy that now prevalis we see the land filled with idle and discontented workingmen and an evergrowing army of tramps, men whom lack of work and opportunity have made outcasts and beggars. At the other end we find that a few thousand families own one-half the wealth of the country. The centralization of wealth has gone hand in hand with the spread of poverty. The pauper, and the plutocrat are twin children of the same vicious and unholy system. The situation is full of menace to the liberties of the peoand the life of the republic. The issue is enfranchisement or hopeless servitude. Whatever the power of money can do by debauchery and corruption to maintain its grasp on the lawmaking power will be done. We therefore appeal to the plain people of the land with perfect confidence in their patriotism and intelligence to arouse themselves to a full sense of the peril that confronts them and defend the citadel of their liberties with a vigilance that shall neither slumber nor sleep.

An Executive Committee.

The committee on resolutions also introduced a resolution which, like the platform, was unanimously adopted, providing for the g of one member from each state to advance the interests of bimetallism, call a national conference, etc.

kames. besides many others of political prom inence in their own parts of the country. These men all said that they would secode from the convention if it indorsed Mr. Sibley's radical sentiments. Mr. Sibley said in his speech that the time had come to abolish the party in favor of the principle, and it was to this idea that the democrats took exception. They declared the democratic party was strong enough in itself to champion the cause of silver, and they did not propose to turn over the convention to the populists and republicans, although these latter were welcome to the ranks of free silver. The fight spread to the room where the committee on resolutions was holding its deliberations, but fortunately it got no further. Nevertheless the compromise was absolute. The platform as it was originally intended it should not, the call being strictly nonpartisan, contains no mention of any party. The convention adjourned Thursday night after speeches by W. J. Bryan, A. J Warner and State Senator Wolcost, of Indiana

Mr. Bryan Talks.

Probably the leading address at night was that of Ex-Congressman W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska. He said among other things:

"I hail it as a glad sign that men from all parties, forgetting for the time all party principles, can come here and agree on the one question of most vital interest-the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 without the cooperation of foreign nations. We say to all parties, go on, with silver at your front, and we shall not envy you one laurel on your brow. There is no fence here. Every man must come out on one side or the other. The line is so narrow that no man can occupy a middle ground Eager to Lend.

"Now they tell us if we were on a silver basis we could not borrow money. Yet to-day, England, Russia, Germany and France are quarreling over the privilege of which shall lend money to China-money which they know will be paid back in silver. Don't you suppose that if they would lend money to a nation like China, just recovering from a disastrous war, they would lend to the United States?

Tillman Talks.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, made a speech somewhat on the sensational order. A portion of his remarks follows:

"I am not here to discuss this question in any partisan way, as you will find out directly. I am a silver democrat, but Mr. Sibley and Mr. Thomas went too far in the announcement of their belief that the democratic party was hopelessly split: though true it takes a very florid imagination to believe that it is possible for them to elect a president next year, and that their party will disintegrate and that we will form a new one. Now, I am not going that far, but I am going a long way toward it, and I am going to tell you why. There are some things I can say that no other man dare say. I have been that way a good while in my politics, boys, and that is the reason people in South Carolina like me.

Hard Words for Cleveland. "What is the condition of the democratic party? Now, this has no direct bearing on the silver question, and you will see it directly. What is that condition? As a democrat I am almost ashamed to catalogue it or speak of it in an assembly mostly democratic. The president whom we elected by a vote almost larger than that received by any of his predecessors has betrayed the party. There is no use to deny that fact. I use the good old honest language, you know, and I believe he is first cousin to Benedict Arnold in polities, for if that platform on which he was nominated and elected, and which he accepted without any dodging (I did not see in his letter of acceptance any sign of dodging it) meant anything it meant that silver should have the same access to the mints of the United States as gold. They put in some muddle about 'parity,' and they have gone and killed poor silver on that plea of parity. When this was done and we tried through the income tax to get back some of the money wrung out of the people the supreme court, after one justice had slept on it and considered it, reversed itself in three weeks and declared the law unconstitutional Did they buy

"I don't say so. I think, like Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Carlisle, that he is the victim of his environment. He could not stand the social pressure of the Rothschilds and Belmonts and other millionaires, who eat on his mahogany and invite him out occasionally.

"Oh, they charge me with being a new firebrand, preaching sectionalism because I mention the south and west as against the east and middle and New England states. If there is sectionalism in that it is the sectionalism of poverty and wrong on one side against robbery and rascality on the other, and the day is going to come very soon, for come it must, when you cannot stand this much ionger, when there will be a day of reckoning with these men. We will have constitutional amendments enough to give us an income tax, and it will be a graduated income tax, such as will not only tax the income above a certain amount a reasonable per cent. on it, but as it goes up the tax itself will go up, and whenever a man gets above a certain amount we will take all it. [Applause.]

" 'Socialism!' they will cry. 'Hear that socialist from South Carolina! Hear that anarchist-that agrarian!' It is simply the damming up of the water of indignation, and when it breaks loose it will wash things beyond all reasonable bounds."

Senator Stewart Speaks.

At the opening of the morning session Senator Stewart, of Nevada, was introduced, and spoke in part as fol-

"The object lessons of the last three years show that the American people are face to face with concentrated capital, the enemy which destroyed all previous civilizations. A shrinking volume of money as compared with population and business produces falling prices, paralyzes industry and compels the producers of wealth to pawn their property to continue the struggle against impend-

"Silver was demonetized by the republican party and leaders of that party have tried to keep it demonetized. The great mass of the democratic party favored the repeal of the act of 1873, but Cleveland thwarted their desires. The political cyclone of 1893 was caused by republicans who sailed with the wind from money kings. The people, however, have now taken the matter into their own hands and after twenty years of betrayal will seek those who will carry out their desires. They now know that every man who qualifies his determination to fight for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 by the United States alone is an enemy of the cause. All they demand is the 16 to 1 statutes of 1834 and 1837. There were no "ifs" or "ands" about those statutes. There are none in the creed of ue bimetallist. The policy of the enemy to impoverish the masses is now well understood. One more gold president might do the work and destroy the foundation of republican institutions, which is independence and prosperity of the people. The only differ-ence between the republican leaders and Cleveland was that he did openly what the hypocrites do secretly."

Appointed by the Governor.

The recent state legislature passed a law providing for the appointment by the governor, upon the recommendation of the supreme court, of a state board to examine and pass upon all applications for admission to the bar. The court recommended the appointment of the following persons who are to hold office one, two, three, four and five years in the order named: George H. Durand, Flint; Philip T. Van Zile. Detroit; Mark Norris, Grand Rapids; Russell C. Ostrander, Lansing, and Floyd R. Mechem, Detroit.

Average Is Low.

Important information regarding the wheat crop of 1895 is given by the secretary of state in the monthly crop report for May. The secretary says:

"The average condition of wheat June 1 in the southern counties of the state, where 83 per cent. of the wheat crop is raised. was 65 per cent.; in the central counties. 83. and the northern, 87, making the average for the state 73 per cent. Only once in ten years, it is stated, has the condition been reported lower, and that was in 1888. Meadows and pastures are in poor condition. Apples are estimated at 47 per cent. and peaches at 63 per cent. of an average crop, although in some localities the latter fruit promises a full crop.'

Demanded Food.

Twenty-four men, heads of families at Hubbard, marched into Midland and besieged the courthouse, demanding something to eat from the county officials. They claimed that thirty families were destitute, and that the women and children were crying for bread. Hubbard was settled about three years ago, and the men claim that they were promised a mill and steady work, which had failed to mate-

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended June 8, reports sent in by forty-six observers in various portions of the state to the state board of health indicated that scarlet fever and diarrhea decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 153 places, typhoid fever at twelve, diphtheria at twenty-one. scarlet feverat forty, measles at fifteen. and smallpox at Detroit, Battle Creek and Olivet.

MUST BE NEUTRAL

President Cleveland Issues a Proclamation Regarding Cuba.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—The secretary of state has sent formal communications to the attorney general and secretaries of the treasury and navy directing them to take all necessary steps to enforce the neutrality laws in view of the increased activity of the insurrectionists in Cuba and their sympathizers in this country.

WASHINGTON. June 14.—The president has issued the following proclamation: "Whereas, the island of Cuba is now the seat of serious civil disturbance accompanied by armed resistance to the authority of the established government of Spain, a power with which the United States are and desire to remain on the terms of peace and amity;

"Whereas, the laws of the United States prohibit their citizens, as well as all others being within and subject to their jurisdiction, from taking part in such disturbances adversely to such established government, by accepting or exercising commissions for warlike service against it, by procuring others to enlist for such service, by fitting out or arming or procuring to be fitted out and armed ships of war for such service, by augmenting the force of any ship of war engaged in such service and arriving in a port of the United States, and by setting on foot or providing or preparing the means for military enterprises to be carried on from the United States against the territory of such government.

"Now, therefore, in recognition of the laws aforesaid and in discharge of the obligations of the United States towards a foreign power. and as a measure of precaution, and to the end that citizens of the United States and all others within its jurisdiction may be deterred from subjecting themselves to legal forfeitures and penalties.

"I. Grover Cleveland, president of the United States of America, do hereby admonish all such citizens and other persons to abstain from every violation of the laws hereinbefore referred to, and do hereby warn them that all violation of such laws will be rigorousty prosecuted; and I do hereby enjoin upon all officers of the United States charged with execution of said laws the utmost diligence in preventing violations thereof and in bringing to trial and punishment any offenders against Hubbard, a populist-labor editor of this city, with whom the president of the American Railway union left the Monadnock building Tuesday under promise of return at 4 p. m. The appearance of both Debs and Hubbard indicated to the marshal that neither had slept much during the night and he doubted the story they told.

The marshal put Debs on a couch in the jury room to rest until he was taken to the depot at 5 o'clock and put on the train for Woodstock in charge of Chief Deputy Logan. He told the marshal this was the first time he had broken his word to any man and he felt the disgrace keenly, although he would not admit he had been intoxicated. His condition, however, spoke for itself.

Martin J. Elliott, the Pennsylvania director of the American Railway union, reported to the marshal Wednesday. He left for Woodstock jail at 5 p. m. in care of Chief Deputy Logan.

George W. Howard, the A. R. U. vice president who did not want to serve his term with his former colleagues, was taken by Marshal Arnold Wednesday evening to the county jail at Plaintiff in a Damage Suit Awarded a Slice Amounting to $940,000.

DULUTH, Minn., June 14.—Early Thursday evening the federal jury in the $1,250,000 suit of Alfred Merritt vs. John D. Rockefeller, the oilking, after being out five hours returned a verdict of $940,000 for the plaintiff. The case is probably one of the most important and hard fought ever tried in the northwest and has caused general re-

The suit was based on the ground that Rockefeller both by his personal representations in an interview with brother of the plaintiff at his office in New York city about year ago and also through the fraudulent representations of his gent, Rev. F. T. Gates, a former Baptist preacher, and Charles W. Wetmore, a New York capitalist and lawyer, had induced the defendant, together with his brothers, to place in a consolidation of iron mining companies their properties on the Meaba ranges. The jury decided that the evidence showed that the representations of Rockefeller and his agent as to the solveney of the Gogebic and Cuban mines which were put in by them and their friends, here false and made with the intent to defraud the Merritts.

LOST ITS CHARTER.

The Whisky Trust Declared an Illegal Concern.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 15 .- The decision handed down by the supreme court Thursday morning in the whisky trust case in which the decision of the Cook county court declaring the trust illegal is affirmed, is one of the strongest arraignments of combinations And I couldn't fer my life be broken up or for the purpose of cornering or controlling prices in products ever promulgated by any court. The language is of no uncertain character, And I thinks, thinks I, they never flew like and has given Attorney General Moloney and his assistants much satisfaction. The principle of corporations and trusts of this character is hit hard by the court, and the attorney general feels that the principles underlying Is a sound I always reckon on a store: the decision are broad enough to include the Pullman company. He feels that the adverse decision in the Pull- That I never heard a blackbird sing afore. man case will be reversed on reaching the Illinois supreme court.

The opinion is voluminous, contain- Than I can recollect it did last year; ing forty-nine pages of closely-written type manuscript, and goes fully into the details of the case. Many citations are made, among them Chicago gas and the match trust, to which, the court maintains, the whisky trust bears similarity. This deduction is made from the fact that the Chicago Gas and Diamond Match companies exceeded their charter rights by engaging in lines of business not granted in their charters. The whisky trust, the court Effectually, yet gently, when costive or bilmaintains, exceeded its charter by forming a combination to control prices rather than to manufacture healthy activity without irritating or weak-

In speaking of the claim made by the appellant that the surrendering and gathering in of stock of different distilleries purged the trust of illegality, the court maintains that this is a false presumption. To quote: "There is no magic in the trust certificates that can purge the trust scheme of its illegality."

The gist of the decision is contained in the fellowing paragraphs:

"But it is urged that the defendant by its charter is authorized to purchase and own distillery property, and that there is no limit placed upon the amount of property which it may thus acquire By its certificate of organization it is authorized to engage in a general distillery business in Illinois and elsewhere and to own the propertry necessary for that purpose. It should be remembered that grants of powers in corporate charters are to be construed strictly, and what is not given is CHICAGO, June 14.—Eugene V. Debs by implication denied. The defendant is authorized to own such propert, as is necessary for its business, and no more. Its power to acquire and hold property is limited to that

"In acquiring distillery properties in the manner and for the purposes shown by the information, the defendant has not only misused and abused the powers granted by its charter. but he has usurped and exercised powers not conferred by but which are wholly foreign to that instrument. It has thus rendered itself liable to prosecution by the state by quo warranto and we are of the opinion that upon the facts shown by the information, the judgment of ouster is clearly warranted."

Although the trust is really out of existence, by the provisions of the statutes of this state the odor of the trust will continue to hang around these parts for the period of two years. The reason for that apparently strange anomaly is that two LARD..... years' time is considered necessary for winding up the affairs of a great corporation. So, for a number of legal purposes, the Cattle-Feeding and Distilling company will exist for two CATTLE-Steers ............ 13 50 @

Will Study History.

The University Association for the Systematic Study of History, with head- the fragrant violet is so poisonous that a quarters in Chicago, at 160 Adams street, very little of it caused nausea, interrupted has recently been organized with a care- heart action, difficulty of breathing, and fully selected corps of instructors and announces its courses and planes for the comming year. The distinctive value of the work attempted by this new organization is in the manner of study, a strict confinement to one branch of study, and in the subject-matter treated, one of the most important and yet one of the most eglected by the average student or readern

Supplementing the printed studies will be the regular club meeting and the lectures on subjects that are being pursued in the classes. From those uniting with the club, which will be in general limited to a membership of twenty-five or thirty it is expected that some competent person can be selected who will accept, without compensation, the position, of local instructor. He will act under the direction of the instructors at the head of the movement.

The lecturers that will be needed will be supplied from the central headquarters, but will be paid for by the local clubs which obtain their services.

The originator of this movement to bring historical education within the reach of all is Milton Hopkins Tipton. ex-President of the Northwestern Christian College, who has had the plan in contemplation for nearly two years. He has assocrated with him the following officers: Vice President, the Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, D. D. L. L. D.; Secretary, W. E. Ernest; Directors, Charles Louis Loos, L. L. D. President of Kentucky University; David W. D. De'Lay, A. M. ex Superintendent of Schools, Marion, Kas. William O. Krohn, Ph. D. Professor of Psychology University of Illinois; Henry McCormick, Ph. D. Professor of History, Illinois State Normal University.

J. M. Sweeney, Traveling Sec., is here for the purpose of organizang a branch of the association, and we understand that he is meeting considerable encouragement.

It is said that a publisher on one occasion failing to get any response to his numerous duns concluded to publish an obituary notice of one of his subscribers on the supposition that he was dead. An exchange intimates that it may have to do the same thing if some of its subscribers continue to ignore their bills. It is curious question, but why is it that many people will neglect and semetimes refuse | awake.

Odds and Ends.

A well-known botanist says the root of other organic complications, which may result in serious illness.

A little girl was overheard talking to her doll, whose arm had come off, exposing the sawdust stuffing. You dear good, obedient dolly, I knew I had told you to chew your food fine, but I didnt think you would chew it so fine as that."

Daniel B. Brown, of Ann Arbor, who recently celebrated his 90th birthday, had been married 69 years, lived in Ann Arbor 69 years and been a church deacon 47 years. He helped organize the republican party under the oaks of Jackson and had as much to do as any one in getting the university located at Ann Arbor.

A lady says that she never uses window screens in the summer, but keeps flies out of her house by the use of oil of lavender She buys five cents worth of the oil, and mixes it with a like quantity of water. This solution she sprays around her room with a common glass atomizer, particularly in places where flies are most likely to collect.

Letter writers in some of the newspaper are discussing the comparrative discomfort for horses, of being "docked" and there fore eaten by flies, and going undocked with nothing to eat for themselves But gentlemen and ladies, is there no alternative for the horses? Must they be either the one or the other of these? And inasmuch as they cannot express choice as to which of these is the lesser evil, why force either on them?

vicnity of Springport will not exceed a to have his house covered with lightning quarter of a crop, and many farmers are rods. plowing up what have been good meadows on account of their poor condition. If the time between now and harvest is good, wheat will turn out about half the crop. Oats are looking very poorly now, but with favorable weather may turn out a fair yield. Corn is looking nicely and with good weather will be nearly a full crop.

Girls that can be hired to do house work in this village, are getting awful scarce, Apples, per bushel...... 1.00 and it is almost impossible to get a good Onions, per bushel..... one for love or money. There are just as many girls in Chelsea now as at any time, but they don't seem to want to do housework. They will work with a dressmaker or milliner, or clerk in a store at a small salary, when they might earn just as much by doing housework and have a good share of the afternoon to themselves and the entire evening. But perhaps the girls know what kind of work suits them better than we do.

Countless items of news are lost to the newspaper by the modesty of people who hesitate to tell a reporter of matters concerning themselves, not because they do not wank it to appear in print but they are afraid some one will think they are pushing themselves forward. Such an There would be a good deal less pravidea is wrong. The Detroit Journal gives the following rules for mounting the bicycle: To mount properly one should first get a firm hold of the handle-bar, with the right pedal of the bicycle a little forward of the center. In springing into the saddle one should lean upon the handle-bar and the moment his foot begins to push down upon the pedal, raise himself into the saddle, partly by the foot, but more by the hands. By doing this a person has complete control of his wheel and at the Old people who require medicine to first attempt can swing himself into the regulate the bowles and kidneys will find saddle without any falce motions. "What has become of all the lightning rods?" asked a friend of mine. "Have you noticed that of late years you can scarcely find a house in a day's journey which is fitted up with these old-time protections against electric bolts? Why a few years ago every prosperous farmer would as soon have thought of leaving his stock without water as to neglect protecting his house and barns with lightning rods. Agents coined money traveling around the country in wagons and putting up these contrivances to ward off danger. But their day was soon run. More disasters were created than averted by these so-called protectors. The insulators would become loosened, and when the electric fluid began running down the rods instead of being grounded, as was intended it should an inviting chance to dodge off into the building which the rods were supposed to protect. My old father had the lightning rod business down fine. He never could be persuaded to put one on a house or barn He used to declare that he'd rather have one good tree in his door An exchange says that hay in the yard as a protection against lightning than
