Always to the Front

In Giving the Buyer the most for his money.

A Whirlwind in Clothing.

Hundreds of Men's, Boy's and Children's suits to select from at not over one-half ordinary regular retail prices. Not an advertisement of wind, we advertise only when we have something worth advertising. We have the goods and at prices that cannot help but surprise you. Not an old chesnut—or a shoddy suit among them. First class goods made by first class workman for this season's trade, and are a part of a large purchase made by six retail dealers of Michigan from an eastern manufacturing concern, who recently failed, at less than the actual cost of material. We had to take over 500 suits to get in the deal, and in order to move them lively will make prices accordingly as we bought them. We don't want the earth, the cheaper we buy the cheaper we sell. This deal is an exceptional one, never had anything like it. We guarantee to doubly discount any 1/4 off or special clothing sale ever given in Chelsea. No shoddy. Not a suit but what we will stand by.

Bicycle Don'ts.

Don't wobble.
Don't ride "head down."
Don't ride a "dark wheel."
Don't "coast" without a brake.
Don't ride your sister's "bike."
Don't swear by your cyclometer.
Don't "scorch" on the crowded street.
Don't wear a black sweater in the summer.
Don't ride on the sidewalk. It may cost you $5.
Don't carry an extra load. One is enough for a wheel.
Don't try to pose. Bicycle riding is not a "cake walk."
Don't carry matches. It is cheaper to borrow, and more sociable.
Don't try to climb fences. The bicycle is unfitted for the steeple chase.
Don't forget your tool bag, unless you want to lead your "bike" home.
Don't hold too tightly to your handle bars. The vibration is very tiring.
Don't borrow a road map. Get one of your own, so that you can lend it.
Don't wear "toeclips" just because Zimmerman and Johnson use them.
Don't wear "puff" sleeves, as it is hard to sail against the wind with them.
Don't do stunts and fancy tricks on the road. Leave that to the vaudeville stage.

A Soap Bubble Party.

A popular entertainment for children is a "soap-bubble party." The fluid that is recommended to produce the best results is made from an ounce of white castile soap cut into small pieces and boiled three or four minutes in three-fourths of a pint of water. When the liquid is cold add three-fourths of an ounce of glycerine. Make this preparation the day before your party, and put it in a tightly corked can or bottle. The bubbles made in this way are very brilliant in color. Often tin horns about eight inches long and an inch and an eighth in diameter at the big end are used in stead of pipes. They can be made at the tinsmith's at slight expense. A long table covered with an old blanket is a very good place for showing off the bubbles.

Resignation. O God! nor dare I feel thy chastening rod. O God! nor dare I murmur aught against Thy just decree: A bruised reed, I yet will come to Thee, And know that Thou wilt hearken to my prayer. AT TWILIGHT.

I sit in my room when the gathering gloom
Of the early night draws on.

With her cheek so fair, and her dusky hair,
And her dark eyes slumbering fire,

Then a brave young lad, like a hunter clad
In shining robes of fur,

Then, white tents rise, under starlit skies;
Then, the sentinel's measured tramp,

Till the maid's soft word, and the dream is blurred.—
Here is my cup of tea.

ANN'S HOME COMING.

BY ELIZABETH C. SHIPMAN.

Fred Roberts had long been the vagabond of the Bevinville district of Barclay. He knew this himself, but he had never felt it so strongly as today, when Ann was coming home.

"Now, Mr. Roberts, I want to see you go fix yo' self up nice and genteel.
These are some things I've been gettin'
ready 'gainst Ann come home."

"Yes," he answered, pulling a ragged letter from his pocket, "yes, this is what she says: 'I have given the last three years to the piano, and my teacher
says that I am a fairly good pianist.'"

"Well, well," sighed Mrs. Jackson.
"I reckon I wouldn't know her, little kissed Annie! I know it's a sinful thing to say, but I don't know how anything could happen better in the world than fo' yo' sister to die
right now an' leave Ann independent."

"Oh, pray, Mr. Roberts, don't touch
a drop. It would make Ann ashamed, indeed, to see her father in drink today."

"I expect we'll all be mighty surprised when she drives up, an' I want to have you as neat as a new pin when she sees you. If Turk wa'n't a dog,
I believe in my soul I'd put a ribbon
around his neck."

He managed to smile at the image of Turk with a gay colored ribbon around his great bull neck. The smile rejoiced the heart of Mrs. Jackson, who,

having roused the fire from its languor
to a brisk glow, said as she withdrew:
"Indeed an' deed, we'll all find Ann grown such a fine, handsome young lady that Mr. Jackson says he's sho' we won't know her excep' by that pretty voice of hers."

When the door closed a man walked toward the fireplace, feeling as he went that he was bowed and shabby.
A glance in the wavering surface of his dim shaving mirror confirmed the sensation. Shaggy gray hair stood out around a lined face, ruddy naturally,

And Ann, during the ten years, had been ascending till she stood like a star above him. Her letters showed him that. He had one in his hand now which he opened and looked at, striving to put together the unkempt,

He turned resolutely to dress, and fought down his feeling. The clothes were fresh and well-fitting, and he could not help thinking that he looked more 'genteel,' as Mrs. Jackson said,

"This hair don't look so young, Uncle Josh. I reckon you'll have to give it a right good cropping."

"No, suh," answered the old negro, emphatically. "When Miss Ann was sent away, yo' ha'r was as black as coal."

"What has Turk been doing now?"
"Hain't you hyar?" asked the old negro in shrill tones of surprise, through which the listener detected a note of relief.

"Lemme rub the sculp wid liquor,
Mr. Roberts," he said, pouring out a liberal saucerful from the bottle on the shelf. "Liquor's the life of the sculp an' de stomach." He rubbed it in vigorously and went on: "Now jes'
stan' out in de sun awhile to tek away
de smell, 'case de ladies cyan't bar it,
an' I 'spec' Miss Ann 'am lack de res' o'
'em now. You'se got to be mighty keerful now, suh, mighty keerful! Miss Ann is a town lady now, 'en I always hyar tell what've'y delicate noses dey has."

The operation was completely over now, and the barber stood awaiting his pay, a brimming glass of whisky from the familiar bottle. As he drank to Miss Anne's health, he regarded his handiwork with pride, the hair parted
by a gleaming white line just above
the one ear and plastered down upon the forehead in scooping waves.

—Some boys were asked the other day to define "editor." Here are some of their definitions: "An editor is a man who handles words;" "An editor
makes his living out of the English language;" "An editor is somebody who does not do anything himself, and when somebody else does, goes and tells other people all about it;" "An editor is a man who has the industry of a beaver, the instincts of a bee and the patience of an ass."

Robert donned his waistcoat and coat and walked to the window. The trees on the horizon were leafless and black, but an afternoon haze softened their iron outlines. The locusts below in the yard stretched bare boughs, and the rose bushes had only stems to show
after all their summer wealth.

The man felt the chill from his drenched head. It crept downward and rendered the stiff shirt unbearable.
Now it reached his heart and awoke despair. Everyone, even the old negro there, warned him that he was unfit for Ann. He had always known it, but he had hoped that their love met above
and annulled the unfitness.

With trembling, burning fingers, he tore off the new clothes he had put on an hour before, and dressed himself in his everyday garments.
They were rough, unbrushed and disreputable, yet he welcomed them. He felt that he was himself again, the outcast who worked long enough to buy whisky; who begged food, shelter and clothing. He had dreamed of deliverance from without; a deliverance he was too weak to effect within himself,

He opened his door and crept down the stairs and across the hall. His fingers rattled the knob of the door so uncontrollably that he feared some one would hear, and he halted, expecting a summons to explain. No voice questioned, however. He stepped out on porch, thence to the lawn and softly whistled to Turk. The animal bounded joyously around the corner of the house, leaping and fawning about his master. The two struck westward across the lawn, and, as he went, Roberts heard the sound of a window thrown up and a voice crying:

"Mr. Roberts, upon my soul! Mr.
Roberts!"
He gave no heed, but plunged into the orchard, feeling the cold evening
air, and seeing through the black twigs of bushes and trees the vivid thread of scarlet just above the horizon line of woods. He had a stick with him, and thrust into a pocket of his coat a bottle which he had seized from the mantel.

As he went on and the evening fell darker, and Turk walked ahead more sedately, he could not keep weak tears from his eyes. He did not know what they were there for. Sometimes they seemed to flow at the picture of himself, lonely, homeless, without place or worth, wandering in darkness, but mostly they rushed unbidden at the thought of Ann, his little Annie of ten years back. To his dazed mind she seemed dead, and he mourned over her as he would over a dead child. How she used to shield him! When he lay weak from his drunken stupors, mind;
here was warmth and an anodyne;
then he wrenched the bottle from his pocket and flung it far into the darkness. He listened to the faint crash, and sat erect for a few minutes. After awhile he folded his arms and rested
his head upon them.

"It's better for her," he murmured, heavy with drowsiness. In spite of the bitter cold sleep seemed deliciously near and grateful. He dozed in snatches, now and again recovering consciousness.

"It's better for her. She's got me gentle blood as any, and without me to hinder she can go with the best. She has money, too, thank God"

He was drifting into irresistible sleep, but through its veil he felt the dog at his side get up and run forward.
He put out a languid hand; his touch
fell on rough stubble and dried weeds.
A bitterness that even the popped ease of sleep could not prevent flooded his soul. He rested in desolation on the inhospitable ground, feeling the moments go by. Then the sigh he could not keep back, the salt drops forcing their heavy, unwilling way through his lids, were checked by Ann's voice;
not by her voice alone, but by her cheek pressed to his cold face.

Over the upper peninsula and ex-

the southern half of the state, how-suffered greatly. Wheat and grass show the continued lack of moisture

the most, being thin and having very short straw. Corn is generally reported as growing finely.

STEAM PIPE BURSTS.

Accident on the Whaleback Steamer
Columbus—Two Men Die.
CHICAGO, June 24.—The whaleback
steamer Christopher Columbus met with a serious accident to her machinery on her return trip from Milwaukee Saturday night. The wind was blowing from the south and she was making fast time until about 7 o'clock, when directly off Waukegan
there was a terrible explosion followed by a flash of flame and the boat was immediately enveloped in a cloud of steam. The victims are:

Dead—Frank Wilson, married, coal passer,
South Chicago, died from inhaling steam;
John Sitts, lately of Chicago, fireman, died
from burns.

Fatally injured—John Hopp, fireman, burned
about the head, inhaled steam and will die
badly scalded—James Ryerson, fireman;
Frank Rosner, Robert McConky, George
Keough, Buffalo, N. Y.

Slightly scalded—H. H. Darrow, Jessie L.
Stone, Arnold Klens, Dubuque, Ia.; N. Setter, water tender; James Lorrimer, water tender.

On the arrival of the steamer at her dock at 3 o'clock Sunday morning the injured were taken in police ambulances to St. Luke's hospital, where it was said that all but two of the injured would recover. The cause of the accident as explained by Engineer Webster, of the whaleback, was that the fitting on the main steam pipe "let go." This caused the explosion and the escape of the steam. The accident was unavoidable and unaccountable.
The boilers were tested only last week
and found to be all right.

As soon as the explosion took place
the utmost excitement ensued among the passengers, and the captain and stewards had considerable difficulty in calming their fears. There were three physicians on board and the injured were attended to promptly. The pipe that burst was disconnected at once from the boiler and the boat came on slowly under reduced steam with three boilers until met off Grosse Point by a tug and brought into port.

The Christopher Columbus went into commission for the season Saturday morning. She left on a trip to Milwaukee with 500 passengers on board and left the Cream city on time for the return to this city. Everything went all right until off Waukegan, when the accident took place. It is asserted by passengers that the Columbus was racing with the Virginia, of the Goodrich line, but Capt. Robert Smith denied this, saying that the boat had new engines and that he was not foolhardy enough to attempt to race
with any boat.

PLAGUE RAGES IN FOO CHOW.

Chinese City Now at the Mercy of a Ghastly Epidemic.
SHANGHAI, June 24.—The plague in Foo-Chow is now an established epidemic. It is confined to the city proper, most of the deaths occurring within the walls near the gates. Several cases are alleged to have occurred among the natives of a village on the island of Mantai in the vicinity of the foreign settlement, but the reports do not say that these are real cases of plague.
The epidemic is identical with that which visited Hong Kong and Canton last year. It is impossible to institute any sort of sanitary measures in Foo-Chow, and unless the epidemic dies out of its own accord there are good prospects for an alarming mortality.

WILL SET ASIDE.

Action of the Kentucky Supreme Court in a Celebrated Case.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 24.—The celebrated case of the late Baroness Fah-nenberg was overturned by the Kentucky court of appeals Saturday. By this action the wife of Gen. Basil Duke, of Louisville; Capt. Charlton Morgan, of Lexington, and a few other Morgan heirs become entitled to an estate of $300,000.
[The Baroness Fahrenberg was a Miss Nellie Strother, and died in France in 1885.
She left a will providing for the erection at Spa, Germany, of a marble chapel for the repose of the remains of her mother and herself at a cost of $50,000. The rest of the estate was to be used for the erection and endowment of a home for indigent Protestant men, women and children at Lexington. It was this will that was set aside.]

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IN MISSOURI.

Man at Webster Grove Kills Two Women
and Commits Suicide.

St. LOUIS, June 24.—At Webster
Grove, a suburban town 10 miles west of the city, between 3 and 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Dr. Frank
Seitle shot and instantly killed
Mrs. Jane Peterson, his sister-in-law. Mrs. Peterson's sister, Mrs. Horish, attempted to stay his murderous arm, and Seitle leveled the revolver at her and fired. She fell with a bullet in her breast. Seitle then pressed the muzzle of the weapon against his temple and sent a bullet into his own brain. He dropped dead.
They had quarreled over a trivial division of property.

HAWAII'S LEGISLATURE.

Holds Its First Session at Honolulu—Policy of the Government.

HONOLULU, June 24.—The first legislature under the republic was called together on the 11th inst. The president's message deals with many questions of local interest. In speaking of annexation to the United States the president says:

"While the annexation of this country to the United States of America has not yet been accomplished it still remains the policy of the government. Its consummation will be earnestly sought, with an abiding faith that such a result will be of great and lasting benefit to our country."

The W. R. C. will hold their regular meeting this week Friday evening June 28, at half past seven.

A regular meeting of Olive Chapter O. E. S. will be held Wednesday evening July 3, 1895, at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Lehman and children, of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday with relatives in this village.

Dr. R. McColgan will remove to the Durand house, which he recently purchased, the first week in July.

Mrs. J. C. Winans, Mrs. A. Van Tyne, Mrs. Wm. Yocum and Mrs. L. Conk are visiting at white Oak this week.

Dr. J. C. Twitchell has purchased of H. S. Holmes the property on South Main street now occupied by Dr. R. McColgan.

Miss Gillam took a party of lady friends to Dexter last Thursday evening to attend High School commencement. Mrs. Geo. Kempf chaperoned the party.

The Misses Jennie, Alice and Kate Gorman, Mary Shanahan, Thos. McNamara and Family and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Whitaker, spent Sunday at South Lake.

John J. Kline and Miss Nellie Wedemeyer, both of Lima, were married June 20, 1895. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Max Hein, of Ann Arbor.

James McLaren, Jr., came near losing one of his fingers of his left hand one day last week, by the accidental discharge of a revolver. As it is the finger will always be stiff.

Commencement exercises are the chief attraction this week and many bright and promising young men and women will emerge from school life to begin life's hard school.

The following young ladies spent Saturday at North Lake: Miss K. Haarer, Miss C. McClaskie, Miss M. Kempf, Miss T. Schlotterbeck, Miss M. Wheeler and Miss M. Gillam.

Mrs. Julia Ewers entertained a company of friends at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Twitchell last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Ewers will return to Saginaw, her former home, next week.

Miss Jessie Walker, of Ann Arbor, who has been teaching in District No. 3, Lyndon, closed her school last Friday, and on Saturday the children, with their parents and teacher, held a picnic in the grove. Miss Walker returned to Ann Arbor Monday.

A Chelsea youth went to a doctor the other day and asked him if cigarette smoking was injurious to the brain. He was hardly satisfied with the reply, for the doctor imparted the following information: "Oh, no, not in the least; for a boy who has brains will not smoke them."

Mrs. Lettie J. Johnson.

Mrs. Lettie J. Johnson, whose maiden name was Allyn, was born in Lyndon, May 23, 1860, and died at her home in Dexter township, June 10, 1895. She was married to Albert E. Johnson Dec 31, 1891, now a bereaved husband. While in the best of health, she was taken sick, and during her short illness, not one murmur escaped her lips. Believing until unconscious that her life would be spared. Her pleasant smile and winning way will be missed by those who knew her best. While young she united with the M. E. church, of North Lake, and was in sympathy with that church at her death.

Those mild soft words of hers,
Works love exquisite thrill,
Her winning smile, her last sad hours,
Plays round our heart strings still.
We know that she is free from care,
God's holy will is best.
Gone from temptations hidden snare,
Gone from this world to rest.

Teachers' Institute.

The State Teachers' Institute for Wash-taw County will be held at Ann Arbor commencing at 10 o'clock, a. m., Monday, July 29, and closing at 4 p. m., Friday, August 2 Commr. W. W. Wedemeyer, Ann Arbor, Local Committee.

There is no doubt as to the value of a good live institute. Experience proves that, as a rule, the most successful, alert, progressive teachers are those who avail themselves of the work given at such meetings.

The persons in charge of the instruction at these institutes are those who have had practical experience in school work and know how to impart to others a portion of what they have gained in this experience. Effort has been put forth to give the county the best institute ever held.

The work will combine professional and academic instruction. The institute will be divided into sections, and the instructors will conduct classes for the purpose of reviewing some studies, and also to illustrate certain methods of instruction. The workers have been urged to arrange for calisthenic exercises, singing, marching, and the like, so as to make the work move off cheerily and without fatigue.

The time for study at the institute will be necessarily limited, and in order to permit the most profitable of class exercises the following topics are suggested, so that those who purpose attending may make some preparation:

Arithmetic—(1) Mental arithmetic drill, (2) applications in percentage.

Grammar—(1) Substantive clauses, (2) synopsis of verbs, (3) analysis of sentences selected from Vision of Sir Launfal.

Geography—(1) Michigan, (2) model outline of Europe.

History—(1) 1789-1815, (2) slavery, (3) political parties, (4) important current events.

Physiology—(1) The skin, (2) health lessons—see manual for country schools—(3) circulation of blood, (4) the eye.

Civil Government—(1) Legislative officers of the nation, state, county, city, village, (2) compare duties of governor and president (3) prohibitions on states, on congress.

Pedagogy—The sixth and seventh chapters of Putnam's Primer, or its equivalent.

Reading and Orthography—Vision of Sir Launfal. A spelling match will be conducted on Michigan test and fifty technical words of physiology and geography.

The preceding topics are given to aid in a proper preparation for the work. Bring any text-books. Be thinking and studying along the lines of the topics suggested and even a week's institute may be made very profitable with class work and lectures combined.

The institute law allows teachers, whose schools are in session at the time appointed for the county institute held under the direction of the State Superintendent, to close their schools during the continuance of such institute without forfeiting their wages for as many half days as they are in attendance at the institute.

There will be no enrollment fee, and every wide-awake pedagog or would-be pedagog, should arrange to attend every session. Try and be present at the first session.

Full particulars in regard to board, etc., may be obtained upon application to the local committee.

The Adrian Press is authority for the following: The drouth is so severe up at Grass Lake, that the lake is so shallow the bull heads can't keep their horns under water, and the News man is busy every day putting brass buttons on those horns, so they can't hook him when he goes fishing next spring.

The anniversary of the Declaration of Independence continues to be the chief of American holidays. The Revolution recedes from us into the past, and its heroes are not the commanding figures and ideal characters they were before the civil war. But this day, commemorative of the first great step toward the establishment of a distinct and individual American nationality, remains fresh in the public regard.

It is said that a well-known Lima farmer went into his cow stable the other night and by mistake mixed up a nice mash in a box filled with sawdust instead of bran. The cow merely supposing the hard times had come and they were all going to economize, meekly ate her supper, and the man never discovered his mistake until the next morning when he milked that cow, and she gave down half gallon of turpentine, a quart of shoe pegs and a bundle of lath.

Rev. R. S. Inglis officiated. Only the relatives of the bride were present. On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Hammond left for Chelsea, where they will make their home. We are sorry to lose Mrs. Hammond from our church and Sabbath school. She was a member of Mr. Campbell's class. The Jackson Presbyterian extends congratulations, and prays long life and prosperity, with abundant happiness, for these young people."

The people of St Patrick's Parish Northfield, are going to hold a grand celebration at Whitmore Lake July 4th. Children only 15 cents. The ladies will furnish a grand dinner, consisting of chicken pot-pie, good meats, and the many other good things of the season, for merely 25 cents. Good speaking and singing will be one of the principle attractions. Jas. Harkins, of Ann Arbor, will sing the latest comic songs of the day and none are ever disappointed with his efforts. The Beethoven Quartette will sing "The Jolly Cobler" "Who Stole my Poodle" "Doughty Men." Character songs, and recitations will also be given by persons of capability in this particular line. P. O'Neil will trip the light fantastic, in his presentation of well executed reels, horn pipes and jigs. Music which will be of the first class order will be furnished by the well known Minnis Orchestra. All who attend the celebration will return home, well pleased with the days enjoyment at this beautiful summer resort.

Cheap Telephones for Chelsea.

A company is now being organized here for the purpose of putting in a telephone exchange. They propose to put in this exchange and rent telephones at the extremely low rate of $15.00 per year in residences, and $18.00 in business places.

This rate is so low that every business place and one half of the residences can afford to have them. This company contemplates building a line to Cavanaugh Lake, and one to Waterloo, both to connect with this exchange. This is something that will interest every business man in Chelsea.

Solidity of Jersey Butter Proven in Chicago Tests.

While Chief Buchanan and all the authorities of the World's Columbian Exposition did all in their power, against the obstacles they had to contend with, to give the cows engaged in the World's Fair dairy tests a chance for as good production as was possible, there were many conditions that were unfavorable to attaining the best results, not only as far as regards the production from the cows, but also in the making of the butter. The dairy itself was far too warm to allow the production of as fine an article of butter as the cream was capable of making. The temperature at all times during the heat of the summer was very excessive, and the butter had, in many cases, to be put into the refrigerator twice before it could be properly worked. These conditions did not tend to produce a butter good in texture and in solidity. But, notwithstanding these adverse conditions, the texture of the Jersey butter, and the solidity of it, as compared with that of the other breeds, were most marked at all time; so much so, that it established the fact that, in a temperature higher than that in which good butter should be made Jersey cream can be handled so as to produce an article of butter superior in texture and solidity to that made from the cream of other breeds. Had this occurred in only one or two cases, it could not be claimed as a breed characteristic; but inasmuch as it was universal throughout the tests, it proves that it is a characteristic of the breed. This is a very important matter for dairymen who have a hot climate to contend with, and who are not always able to maintain their room at as low a temperature as is desirable, as, for instance in the Southern States. It is a matter of grave import to them to know what breed will produce a cream and butter that, being from force of circumstances worked in too hot a room, will retain the texture and solidity that is desirable in the highest class butter. The records of these tests show that the Jersey cow is pre-eminent in these essentials, and this characteristic of the breed is to be commended to the earnest and thoughtful consideration of all Southern dairymen.

Another feature of the Jersey cream was that it could be churned at a very much higher temperature than that of the other breeds. This is another matter proved by these tests that may well engage the attention of Southern dairymen.

What is your foot Like?

An artistic sentimental foot is thus described: The second toe should be longer than the other to denote an artistic temperament. Here sentimentalism dwells and romance and imagination. If the larger toe is strong and broad the inclination toward idealism will be checked by a good amount of practical sense. In the purely artistic foot, the little member of the five should curl inward; its arching upward denotes a passionate nature. The women of southern countries are noted for this distinction.

LEAGUE CLUBS.

Many Republicans Come Together at Cleveland.

President Tracy's Address - Wednesday Night's Mass Meeting - Warner Miller Makes a Speech - McAlpin Elected President.

CLEVELAND, O., June 21.—Seldom has so much interest been manifested in a convention of the League of Republican Clubs as in the one which convened in Music hall Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

After prayer by Rev. S. L. Darsie, Secretary Humphrey read the call and addresses of welcome were made by Mayor Robert F. McKisson and President D. D. Woodmansee...

Address of President Tracy. President Tracy, of Chicago, then delivered the annual address in part as follows:

"In the eighth year of our organization we find ourselves grown beyond our expectations. Our conventions are the opening guns of every campaign...

"It is our work to elect, not select, candidates, and promote, not promulgate, platforms. Party platforms and party candidates must have the approval of the people...

man being nominated for the presidency, was the first speaker at the mass meeting in Music hall at night. He said in part:

"The republican party must show itself equal to grappling with and working out the perplexing problems now looming up dark and threatening on the legislative horizon. The monetary question is attracting attention, seeming to some to be more immediate in its demand than ever was that of the tariff...

Senator Thurston Talks. Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, made a red-hot protective tariff speech. He said among other things that the great trouble in this country to-day is that the opportunities to exchange American muscle for American money were too few...

"The republican party will never let the tariff question rest until it has been settled right and forever. What this country needs is not an opening of the mints to the silver of the world, but an opening of industries to the muscle of the citizens."

Mrs. Foster Is Heard. Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, president of the Women's Republican League, followed Senator Thurston. She said that she had come from New Mexico, 300 miles, to talk at the meeting. The three great republican victories of the year were designated as the overthrow of Tammany in New York, Waiteism in Colorado and the victory in Kansas...

"Wherever women are entitled to vote she said, 'the republican party is the gainer. It has been demonstrated in every case. The great questions before the republican party are the tariff, as a matter of course, non-partisanship in municipal affairs and the settlement of the controversy between capital and labor."

Cummins Says Tariff Is the Thing. Hon. A. B. It has been decided to hold the next convention of the National League of Republican clubs in the city of Milwaukee. Thursday's Session. CLEVELAND, O., June 22.—The work of the eighth convention of the National League of Republican Clubs was practically ended Thursday night at 6 o'clock when the committee on resolutions finished its deliberations and formulated its address...

Friday's Work. CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—It was 11 o'clock Friday morning before Gen. McAlpin, in his new capacity as president of the National League of Republican Clubs, called the meeting to order. There was a full attendance of delegates. At the beginning of the morning session, the first business was the election of a secretary to the convention. T. E. Byrnes, of Minnesota, nominated M. J. Dowling, of the same state. William Kelly, of Wisconsin, seconded the nomination of William Grant Eden, of Illinois...

The roll call on the election of secretary was begun, but was interrupted by Chairman Robinson, of the committee on resolutions, who asked unanimous consent to report. This was refused. M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, was elected. The vote was made unanimous, on the motion of Gen. Goff, of Illinois.

The committee on resolutions then reported the resolution. There was not even a show of fight over the resolution. Nobody raised his voice against it. When Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, who was in the chair, put the motion on the passage of the resolution, a loud chorus of ayes arose. Only three or four feeble noes were heard when the other side of the question was put.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the people of Cleveland and ex-President W. W. Tracy. The election of treasurer was passed, and the convention adjourned sine die. It will now devolve on the executive committee to choose the treasurer.

CRISIS IN ENGLAND.

Campbell-Bannerman Resigns from the Cabinet - Government Defeated.

LONDON, June 24.—The government was defeated Friday on the motion of Hon. William St. John F. Broderick, conservative member for the Guilford division of Surrey, to reduce the salary of the secretary of war by £100 on account of an alleged deficiency in the army stores and munitions of war, chiefly corflite. The motion was adopted by a vote of 132 to 123.

The war secretary, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, instantly wrote out his resignation, which he forwarded to the prime minister to hand to the queen. He feels the defeat as a personal affront, and resents its instigation by the opposition bench, to whom he had promised to give the information sought if expressly called on to do so.

Altgeld Not Worried. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 21.—Gov. Altgeld is not at all worried about the claim that the legislature will have to be prorogued and a new proclamation issued, thus causing $20,000 additional expense. He said that such talk was all political claptrap and nonsense.

By the collision of two trolley cars on the Walden & Orange Lake road, 7 miles west of Newburg, N. Y., nine men were severely injured.

government bonds for the issues of bank notes. He hoped the party would stand by its record for bimetalism on a party. He had the fullest confidence in other nations soon consenting through an international commission to the restoration of silver to its old place as a standard money, and believed it would be impossible to bring about such a result without the cooperation of other countries.

At the afternoon session Chairman Nagle, of the committee on time and place, reported recommending Milwaukee as the next place of meeting, the time to be fixed by executive committee some time after that of the national convention. The roll was then called and vice presidents and executive committee members respectively named.

McAlpin Chosen President.

The committee on resolutions, not yet being ready to report, the rules were suspended and the league proceeded to the election of officers. George E. Green, of New York, nominated Adjt. Gen. E. A. McAlpin for the presidency. The mention of Gen. McAlpin's name was the signal for tremendous cheering. Numerous seconds followed, and the rules were suspended and the election made unanimous.

Nominations for secretary were next in order. H. E. Churchill nominated John F. Burns, of Denver. Marcus Pulaski nominated William Grant Edens, of Springfield, Ill., vice president of the Illinois league. F. W. Collins, of Nebraska, nominated L. E. Walker. The proceedings at this juncture were interrupted by the entrance of President-elect McAlpin, who received an enthusiastic welcome. Gen. McAlpin then addressed the convention, and, after returning his thanks for the honor conferred on him, said:

"It is true that the delegates here represented do not, as a matter of fact, represent the entire republican vote of the United States, for they are the representatives of volunteer republican organizations throughout the different states and territories. For this very same reason our deliberations and work should be marked by the highest frankness and candor of intercourse, and a desire to advance the best interests of the government through the medium of the great republican party of which the league forms so large a part.

"The republican party stands for all that is best in our national history: it demands for its government honest currency and an honest tariff. It believes in the equal rights of all at home and commands respect abroad. These, briefly stated, are the principles to be contended for by our party, by us members of the Republican League, and which, if honestly followed, will bring success in the next great national election."

Friday's Work. CLEVELAND, O., June 24.—It was 11 o'clock Friday morning before Gen. McAlpin, in his new capacity as president of the National League of Republican Clubs, called the meeting to order. There was a full attendance of delegates. At the beginning of the morning session, the first business was the election of a secretary to the convention. T. E. Byrnes, of Minnesota, nominated M. J. Dowling, of the same state. William Kelly, of Wisconsin, seconded the nomination of William Grant Eden, of Illinois...

The roll call on the election of secretary was begun, but was interrupted by Chairman Robinson, of the committee on resolutions, who asked unanimous consent to report. This was refused. M. J. Dowling, of Minnesota, was elected. The vote was made unanimous, on the motion of Gen. Goff, of Illinois.

The committee on resolutions then reported the resolution. There was not even a show of fight over the resolution. Nobody raised his voice against it. When Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, who was in the chair, put the motion on the passage of the resolution, a loud chorus of ayes arose. Only three or four feeble noes were heard when the other side of the question was put.

Votes of thanks were tendered to the people of Cleveland and ex-President W. W. Tracy. The election of treasurer was passed, and the convention adjourned sine die. It will now devolve on the executive committee to choose the treasurer.

CRISIS IN ENGLAND. Campbell-Bannerman Resigns from the Cabinet - Government Defeated. LONDON, June 24.—The government was defeated Friday on the motion of Hon. William St. John F. Broderick, conservative member for the Guilford division of Surrey, to reduce the salary of the secretary of war by £100 on account of an alleged deficiency in the army stores and munitions of war, chiefly corflite. The motion was adopted by a vote of 132 to 123.

The war secretary, Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, instantly wrote out his resignation, which he forwarded to the prime minister to hand to the queen. He feels the defeat as a personal affront, and resents its instigation by the opposition bench, to whom he had promised to give the information sought if expressly called on to do so.

Altgeld Not Worried. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 21.—Gov. Altgeld is not at all worried about the claim that the legislature will have to be prorogued and a new proclamation issued, thus causing $20,000 additional expense. He said that such talk was all political claptrap and nonsense.

By the collision of two trolley cars on the Walden & Orange Lake road, 7 miles west of Newburg, N. Y., nine men were severely injured.

ROSEBERY QUILTS.

He Tenders His Resignation as England's Prime Minister.

His Cabinet Officers Follow Suit - The Queen Accepts and Commends Lord Salisbury to Form a New Ministry.

LONDON, June 24.—It is officially announced that the Rosebery government will resign. Lord Salisbury will be summoned by the queen to form a ministry, and his cabinet will proceed with the routine business of the house, obtain provisional supplies and then dissolve parliament. It is expected that the elections will take place the 10th of July. The second meeting of the cabinet Saturday afternoon began at 4 o'clock and lasted until 5:45. The meeting was held to decide whether the government should resign or dissolve parliament. It was decided to resign.

After dinner at Windsor castle Saturday night, Lord Rosebery had a long private audience with the queen and communicated to her the decision arrived at by the government. Upon Lord Rosebery's return to London, he drove immediately to his official residence in Downing street. Here he found waiting for him Lord Tweedmouth, lord of the privy seal and chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster, and Mr. Arnold Morley, postmaster general. Mr. Asquith arrived soon after Lord Rosebery. The quartette conferred until 6:45 o'clock.

About half an hour later the fact became known that the action of the house of commons on Friday accepting the motion of Mr. Broderick to reduce by £100 the salary of Mr. Campbell-Bannerman, secretary of state for war, a motion made solely for the purpose of calling the attention of the house to an alleged deficiency in the small arms and ammunition stores, had resulted in the overthrow of the liberal ministry. The court circular contains the following: "Earl Rosebery, K. G., first lord of the treasury and lord president of the council, arrived at the castle and tendered his resignation to her majesty, by whom it was accepted."

Of course nothing yet is definitely known as to who will be selected by Lord Salisbury for ministerial and other positions. Complete harmony prevails between the liberal unionists and the conservatives.

The leading conservatives declare that the marquis of Salisbury will not formally take office until parliament is dissolved. He will insist that the government before yielding the seats shall pass a vote of an amount necessary for the expenditures for two months to enable a general election to be held. The conservatives will thus be in a position of attack instead of defense.

The money market is in a helpless condition. A great amount of money cannot even find borrowers, and the end of the half year will be got over easily. All hopes of relief from improving trade are shattered by the political crisis.

Earl Rosebery was offered the office of prime minister by the queen on March 3, 1894. Mr. Gladstone having offered his resignation on account of his falling eyesight, Lord Rosebery had occupied the position of foreign secretary in Mr. Gladstone's cabinet and had been prominently considered for ten years as the probable successor of Mr. Gladstone in the leadership of the liberal party when the time for the retirement of that gentleman should come. About the only objection urged against the appointment as premier was that the leader of the party should be a member of the house of commons and that the party cannot be managed from the house of lords. Lord Rosebery, upon assuming the premiership, took the place of first lord of the treasury in the cabinet and called the earl of Kimberley to succeed himself as foreign secretary. The leadership in the house of commons was intrusted to Sir William Vernon Harcourt, who retained his place in the cabinet as chancellor of the exchequer. The retirement of Mr. Gladstone was considered a severe strain upon the government, and many persons looked for the defeat of the liberals and the resignation of the cabinet at that time.

SAIL THE BALTIC CANAL.

New Waterway Formally Opened—Stars and Stripes Cheered.

KIEL, June 22.—With imperial pomp and ceremony and amid the plaudits of thousands upon thousands of people the great canal connecting the Baltic and North seas was opened to commerce Thursday.

The Hohenzollern passed into the western water gate at 3:45 o'clock Thursday morning. As the Hohenzollern passed into the canal, the entrance to which was beflagged at every point, a salute was fired by a park of artillery stationed a little distance from the entrance to the lock, while the soldiery, composed of cavalry, infantry and pioneers, lining both banks, presented arms.

The Hohenzollern at 4 o'clock cut the thread which had been stretched across the entrance to the canal and began her passage through to Kiel, the bands on shore playing national airs, and the crowds cheering.

At 12:30 p. m. the Hohenzollern was in sight of the Holtenau locks at the east end of the canal. The immense crowd of people who had assembled on the Holtenau festplatz, to witness the spectacle, set up a mighty cheer as the imperial yacht was sighted.

At 12:40 all of the ships in the bay fired an imperial salute. It was a grand spectacle.

KIEL, June 24.—Everybody was stirring at an early hour Friday morning, securing places of vantage to see the ceremony of laying the keystone of the canal at Holtenau. Dozens of steamers went from Kiel to places near the lock, among which was the press steamer which was allotted a good place.

The kaiser, wearing the uniform of the gardes du corps, accompanied by the kaiserin, in a crushed strawberry gown, arrived at the keystone at 10:55. The stone was flanked by a battalion of marines. As his majesty gave the stone the first stroke, a detachment of artillery stationed on the hill behind the platforms fired a royal salute, which was followed by salutes fired by the warships in the bay and the bands played "Heil dir Siegerkranz."

Chancellor Hohenlohe met the emperor at the jetty and led him to the marquee. Chancellor Hohenlohe's document, giving a history of the canal, with a set of coins of the reign of Emperor Frederick III, was placed in the stone, which was then closed. After the emperor had tapped the stone with a mallet the empress stepped forward and performed the same act, followed by the crown prince of Prussia, the prince regent of Bavaria, the king of Saxony, the grand duke of Baden, the grand duke of Hesse and a number of others.

At dusk the scene on the water was one of unparalleled beauty. All the warships were outlined with a fairy-like tracery of lamps, and some of them had brilliant displays of fireworks. Altogether the display was the most brilliant ever seen here in Germany.

The fireworks display of the Americans was the most admired. The New York, the temporary flagship of the squadron, had a magnificent design 50 feet long against her funnels. It read: "America sends hearty greeting to Germany upon the completion of the canal." Set pieces, pictures of the emperor and President Cleveland, each 40 feet square, were also displayed. Hundreds of officers have inspected the American vessels. They are especially interested in the Columbia. The Russian officers have thrice examined her minutely.

The great banquet which practically wound up the ceremonies of opening the Baltic-North sea canal took place Friday evening in the much-discussed structure representing the old German warship Niobe. About 1,000 guests participated in the entertainment.

Men Who Flatter.

Now, girls, let me give you a huge slice of friendly advice. It is fashioned from a common sense recipe and is worthy of your notice. Do not allow heart and mind to become entrapped by attentions that are not attentions. Society is overrun with young men who are selfishly inconsiderate in this direction. They do not mean to be, but every allowance must be made for them upon the score of not understanding a woman's heart. She will always remain to a man an unfathomable mystery. Born with a tender loving nature that longs for some one to appreciate and care for her, she is too apt to place her heart, mind and soul in the keeping of an admirer who is simply that and nothing more. Now an admirer does not mean a lover by any means. A man may admire a woman heartily and sincerely without the slightest thought of making her his wife, but just let an officious friend stand at her elbow and throw in a word of encouragement. It is only a hint here or a suggestion there, but it goes Trifles light as are given a pitiful substantiality, and one fine day this victim to a woman's credulity wakes up to find herself an object for divinest pity.—Ex.

It May Do as Much for You.

Mr. Fred Miller, of Irving, Ill., writes that he had a Severe Kidney trouble for many years, with severe pains in his back and also that his bladder was affected. He tried many so called Kidney cures but without any good result. About a year ago he began use of Electric Bitters and found relief at once. Electric Bitters is especially adapted to cure of all Kidney and Liver troubles and often gives almost instant relief. One trial will prove our statement. Price only 50c for large bottle. At F. P. Glazier & Co's. Drug Store.

Last Sunday morning about three o'clock the barn of Randolph Cook in Sharon was burned to the ground. A span of Mr Cook's horses were burned also a horse belonging to Thos. Faulkner, who was passing the night as the guest of the family. The building was insured for $500. How fire was communicated is only conjecturable. A tramp was known to have taken up his quarters that night in the school house near by, and it is not an unreasonable supposition that he changed his lodging-place to the barn and thus was the originator of the disaster.—Grass Lake News.

Freaks Thrive in Indiana.

Northern Indiana has become a great freak-producing section. Albert Martin, who resides near the Fulton county line, has a Plymouth Rock hen, which has not been laying for some time. Yesterday she went on the nest and the family was greatly astonished to discover, when she left it shortly afterward, that she had laid a live chick. Only a few bits of broken shell were about the head of the chick, which was still wet. The supposition is that the egg in some manner, retarded in its progress, was held in the sack until the germ developed and proceeded to the stage of incubation. So far as known this is the first case of the kind on record.

Odd and Ends.

If it costs $448 to convert a sinner in Chicago, as a clergyman declares revivalism must be the most profitable business in that town.

Chinese dentists rub a secret powder on the gum over the affected tooth and after about five minutes the patient is told to sneeze. The tooth then falls out. Many attempts have been made by European dentists to secure this powder, but none has ever succeeded in doing so.

Of all the disagreeable habits the world was ever tormented with, scolding is the most annoying. To hear a saw filed, to hear a steam whistle, to hear an ass bray, to hear a peacock scream or an Indian yell is music compared with it. From childhood we have always abhorred scolding. It is no wonder some children are bad; the good is all scolded out of them. It is stunted or killed by early frosts of cold, icy scolding. What a frost is to the spring buds, is scolding to the best things in the heart of a child. Scolding folks at home—how miserable! Lightning, thunder, hail storm and winds—let them all come rather than a cyclone of scolding. Let all the powers that be wage a war of kindness on all the scolders, that they may be overcome with a better spirit.

In nearly every live county in Michigan there is one day of the year set apart for Sunday School Day. On that day all the Sunday School children of the county; of ALL denominations, gather together, have a parade, sing songs, partake of a banquet or lunch, and have a good time all along the line. In other counties this day is looked forward to by the Sunday School children with great anticipations. Prizes are sometimes offered for the school turning out the most members, and the occasion is made such that the children bear it in their memories as long as life lasts. Washtenaw is behind the times in this. Why should she be? She has more Sunday schools and more Sunday School scholars than most of the counties of the state. With three or four exceptions she stands at the head. Why not have one day of the year given to showing the people the great strength of this youthful army? All it needs is some one to lead. Who shall it be?—Ann Arbor Courier.
