Called Up Higher.

Seldom has our community been so shocked as it was last Wednesday afternoon, July 31, 1895, at the announcement that Mrs. Phoebe Ann Hooker, wife of F. M. Hooker, had died instantaneously at Cavanaugh Lake. On that day she had gone to the lake with her husband, apparently in her usual health. About 80 minutes after reaching their cottage, while in conversation with her friends, she complained of dizziness, threw up her hands, and in a moment the spark of life was extinct.

Phoebe Ann Oxtoby was born in Bellona, Yates county, N. Y., Dec. 18th, 1825. She was the eldest of five children of the late Colonel George and Mary Oxtoby, who were among the pioneers of western New York.

On the 18th of June, 1846, she was united in marriage with Fisher M. Hooker. With their two children they came to Michigan in 1857 and settled in Chelsea, where, with the exception of one year, they resided until her decease.

Her life was one of unceasing activity and usefulness. In her home, among her large circle of relatives, in the church, and in whatever concerned the welfare of the community, she was constant in her devotion, ever exhibiting a most lovable disposition, and virtues of the most noble and sterling character.

She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church about fifty five years, quiet in her ministrations, but always active in the Sunday school and other departments of church work. It was her delight to be helpful to others to the full measure of her ability, by which means she won the confidence and esteem of all who knew her.

A large company of friends and relatives assembled at the home of the deceased at 1:30 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, August 3rd, to pay their last solemn and loving tribute of respect. In the absence of her own pastor, Rev. C. L. Adams, the funeral services were conducted by Rev. Thomas Holmes, D. D., of this place. Dr. Holmes had known Mrs. Hooker intimately many years, and in his beautiful address most touchingly and beautifully referred to the long and well spent life of the deceased.

The nearest surviving relatives are her husband; her daughters, Mrs. Dr. Thomas Shaw, of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Rev. J. C. Higgins, of Detroit; and Miss Kate Hooker, of Chelsea; also her brother, Wm. Oxtoby, of California, and her sister, Mrs. L. Babcock, of Chelsea; who, in their affliction, have the sincere and heartfelt sympathy of this entire community.

The Adrian Press Says.

The manager of the Brooklyn base ball team shakes a hundred dollars under the nose of the frog-bellied Grass Laker, and will bet that sum on the result of a game with them. Blood, Iago! Blood!

Prof. Bartholomew, the Jackson balloonist, threatens to go over Niagara Falls with a gas bag. He may do it and survive. The professor is one of the few balloonists who were never killed some time during their lives.

By a rising vote of the Sharon Center church, the young men of that place will be requested to hereafter desist from playing ball on Sunday. In these courteous days even the devil is treated with a great deal of politeness.

Guy Lighthall, lighthearted and gay, returning to Chelsea from a visit with his Grass Lake girl, failed to see a 300-pound hog that lay across the path of his bicycle. A fellow don't always see everything under such circumstances. With a "woof-woof" the hog arose, and Lighthall was pitched into the ditch. One of his eyes now looks like that of a man who has told another that he lied.

A game of ball at Pittsford between a married and an unmarried nine resulted 19 to 9 in favor of the unmarrieds. Well, what else was to have been expected? Think a man can walk the floor half the night with a colicky kid, whose mother, the new woman, is out with the bicycle club, and then play ball next day like a member of the national league? Verily we say unto you, not by a jug full.

DURING a tornado along the New Jersey coast houses were wrecked and five persons were drowned by the capsizing of boats.

TOO MUCH WATER. Fort Scott, Kan., Flooded—Seven Drowned at Albuquerque.

FORT SCOTT, Kan., Aug. 1.—An unprecedented precipitation of rain in the southeast corner of Kansas Tuesday morning has again flooded the streams and wreaked destruction to life and property. In seven hours 4.02 inches of water fell in the city and the entire portion of the town is inundated. The bodies of two boys lie somewhere on the submerged streets. The Missouri Pacific railroad shops are surrounded and the train service has been partially abandoned. Many families have been driven from their homes by the trespassing river which is still rising and another storm is threatening. The Marimaton river, Mill creek and Buck run have become one stream, spreading over sections of land which have not for years been submerged.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 1.—An electrical storm of unusual severity terrorized the residents here Tuesday, lightning striking almost simultaneously in four different places. The residence of Wolfe Londoner, on Capital Hill, was damaged $15,000, and the city hall narrowly escaped demolition. The fluid burned out all the police circuits, four fire alarm circuits and the switchboard in the city hall. The Boston and Symes blocks were also struck and slightly damaged. In twenty-five minutes nearly 1 inch of rain fell, making the storm one of the severest for years. All street car traffic was stopped for several hours.

SOCORRO, N. M., Aug. 3.—The excitement attendant upon the flood is over. The list of dead is eight, six of whom are the Duran family and the other two are children rescued from the flood and died Wednesday. The damage to the city is fifty buildings washed away and contents destroyed, about 100 buildings more or less damaged and a large portion of the contents destroyed. With these losses must be added the total destruction of gardens and vineyards and these losses fall upon the poorest part of the people.

OHIO POPULISTS. Planks of the Platform Presented to the State Convention.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 3.—Delegates from the people's party throughout the state are rallying here for the state convention, which opened late Thursday afternoon.

At midnight the committee on resolutions agreed upon a platform. It indorses Coxe's good roads and non-interest bearing bond plans, favors the abolishment of national banks, asks a law making all contracts providing for payments in gold, illegal, favors per diem pensions, demands the unlimited coinage of silver at the legal ratio, regardless of the policy of any other nation, and the issuance at once of sufficient greenbacks to make the volume of currency equal to $50 per capita. In state affairs it demands that the salaries paid in public employment offices and employes be reduced to rates paid in private employment and supports the miners in their demand for coal screen legislation.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 5.—Jacob S. Coxe, of Massillon, was Friday nominated by the populist convention for governor of this state.

BASEBALL. Standing of the Various League Clubs for the Week Ending Aug. 2.

A Mass of Flames. CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—The Inter Ocean special from Marinette, Wis., says that the probability is that 100 residents of Beaver island, located in Green Bay, at the entrance of the straits of Mackinaw, have been burned to death in the forest fires, which have desolated the entire island during the last few days. Capt. Young, of the steamer Cuba, who arrived Friday, reports that Beaver island is all fire. Wednesday night the island was enveloped in flames, which could be seen by passing vessels for many miles out into Lake Michigan.

Nicholson Law Void. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Aug. 3.—Judge Taylor of the circuit court has decided that the section of the new Nicholson saloon law restricting the liquor business and providing reader methods of prosecution of the violators of the law of 1875, which prescribes the hours of selling, etc., is inoperative.

A RAINY DAY.

There's something in a rainy day,
Though most folks call it dreary,
A kind of sense of comfort like,
That rests the when I'm weary.

I like to sit and hear it fall,
Like soothing music tappin'
Against the roof and window panes,
Like gentle spirits rappin'.

My mind turns back to boyhood days;
I think of old time doin's,
And all the castles that I built,
That now are mostly ruins.

A rainy day's a time to stop
And sort of take your bearin';
A day to leave to the old boat,
And mend the sails that's wearin'.

But when a reg'lar storm blows up,
The wind a-howlin' fiercely;
And all the trees stripped by the gale,
Not a leaf left on 'em, sincerely.

The rain comes down in cataracts:
The old house fairly rattles;
The rafters groan, the shutters bang,
Like the noise of forty battles.

You think of ships and gales and wrecks,
And sailors in the riggin';
Of men's hoarse cries and women's tears,
And death, and graves a-diggin'.

Oh, then you thank your lucky stars
For home and comforts many,
And pray the Lord for mercy on Poor souls that haven't any.

—Horace D. Reeve, in Once a Week.

KANGEGATSUK.

BY RALPH GRAHAM TABER.

It was the springtime of the year, but at Kikkertaksoak there were no soft May breezes, no blossoming flowers, no buds of delicate green. The season's heralds were the shrieking wind, the rushing torrents fed by melting snow, the crashing avalanches from the ice-bound heights, the surging of the mighty sea, which stretched its arms and breathed with sullen sighs, like some sound sleeper slowly wakening, and cracked and ground its covering of white, tossing huge fragments upon end, and filling the snowy open plain with hills and knolls, which scintillated with dazzling luster beneath the bright morning sun.

In the shadow of a lofty cliff, upon a bank of deeply drifted snow, were six white mounds, which might have attracted no attention except, perhaps,
by their regularity of form.

From one of these there emerged, upon all fours, the short, squat figure of an aged man, who rose erect, tossing the long, grizzled hair back from his eyes impatiently, and turned to address another following him.

"'Twas I who said it, Kupa, did I not?" he demanded.

His companion, scrambling to his feet, grunted an assent, and proceeded to envelope his head in the fox-trimmed hood which made one piece with his loose fitting upper garment.

Both men were clothed alike in heavy furs, the spotted hairy skins of the ranger seal; each carried a long, old-fashioned muzzle-loading rifle, and a heavy spear tipped with walrus tusk, attached to which was a long thong of walrus hide swinging in loose coils from his mittened hands.

Their full, broad, brownish faces, straight black hair, piercing eyes, flat noses and short statures proclaimed their race, if their dress and equipment would not have been sufficient.

"The foolish boy has not returned," continued the elder, in the Esquimaux tongue. "The time was ill and nothing could be gained. I said it, but the stripling mocked at me—me, Mauterjek —the oldest of the tribe! Was I not shaman before this cub was born?"

"Softly, master; we must be off to find the meat to-day, so let the trouble lie. It is not good to feed the empty stomach on idle thoughts; so thou thyself hast said. Thou art my mother's husband, the never-failing hunter, the true of aim. Our time will come. Shall we let our people starve while tootko (the deer) yet may roam the hills?
Sikeepa may have found him while we talk."

"That he will not!" the shaman cried. "Take which way thou wilt—the deer is mine, if any may be found."
And swinging his long gun to his shoulder he started off; with agility surprising in one so old, and soon was lost to sight among the drifts.

Sikeepa had started out the day before, in spite of storm of driving wind and biting hail, in search of anything that might be found for food.

The deer had disappeared across the land, the seals become exceptionally scarce; disease had visited the camp and robbed him of his father, the chieftain of the tribe, whose native judgment and instinctive knowledge of right and wrong, combined with strong will power and a kindly disposition, had made his wish a law with those he ruled, enabled him to settle all disputes and yet retain the loving veneration of his people.

The dying chief had let them understand that Sikeepa, though yet a youth in years, had met and slain Nanuk, the water bear, and earned his right to be their Kangegatsuk.

The father had then cautioned and advised him: "My son, thou'lt have short time to mourn my death. Sickness and famine, twin-born, are upon us. Thou wilt be envied, and thy actions watched that some cause may be found for thy displacement.

"Go, if thou canst, and fill the camp with food; so shalt thou prove thy worth and earn affection. Take on thyself the burdens of the whole; nor seek to rule thy elders; but advise them.

"Cross not the shaman. Pay him his tribute as a gift deserved by reason of the mysteries he knows; but be not ruled thyself by lesser ones. When thou dost know the right way, hold it fast, and be not turned aside though every man's hand should uplift against thee."

Thinking of these, his father's dying words, Sikeepa forced his way against the wind, narrowly watching for some sign of game, and clambering over the hummocks of rough ice which filled the broad channel round his island home and bound it to the distant Labrador main.

Khimik, his father's favorite hunter, gaunt leader of the team, trotted beside him, safely in leash.

So hour by hour they plodded on until the sun was low. Then Sikeepa, halting before a drift of snow, drew a broad knife out from its sheath, and with practiced skill slashed from the mass a number of wedge-like pieces, piling them in a circle as he worked,
which swiftly shaped itself into a hut.

A remarkably short time sufficed to complete his simple preparations for the night; and, once within the tiny ingloo, he pillowed his head on Khimik's shaggy back and slept.

The morning dawned bright and fair;
the wind still blew with wild persistency, but the sky was clear; and Sikeepa, drawing forth a small skin bag part filled with oil, shared the meager contents with his dog; then slit the bag and shared that morsel also, and started again upon the search for game, chewing the bit of sealskin as he went.

It might have been near noon when Khimik stopped, cocked up his ears and keenly sniffed the air.

Sikeepa's heavy heart grew light with joy, and, giving the dog more leash, he urged him on.

Khimik turned sharply toward the wind and ran a pace or two, halted, and then tugged fiercely at the leash, with head erect and tightly curling tail.

Sikeepa looked carefully to the priming of his gun, then gave the dog his will and followed noiselessly.

Presently the animal stopped and nosed the hard frozen surface of the snow-covered ice. Sikeepa, kneeling, saw a few faint scratches there and rose with glowing cheeks and flashing eyes.

"It is Nanuk!" he whispered, breathlessly. "Good dog, good Khimik, keep on!" And cautiously they followed up the trail.

Upon a cluster of rugged hummocks they found the bear lazily dozing in the noontide sun, and, keeping well to leeward, stole upon him with such silent tread that Nanuk took no note of their approach, nor dreamed an enemy shared the field with him, until a well-aimed bullet pierced his side and the red blood spurted forth. Then with a roar of mingled rage and pain the great beast rose and faced the daring boy—who now was hastily reloading his clumsy weapon—paused a moment and flung himself at his foe; but ere he reached his aim the gun was poised and two shots rang out simultaneously.

The monster staggered blindly, turned and beat the air with his huge forepaws, then fell on his side, and, drawing his knife, Sikeepa leaped upon him.

"Be not so fast!" a harsh voice called out, angrily. "Nanuk is dead, but 'tis because of me. And were I not still young enough to hunt, thy carcass would need skinning, not the bear's."
And Mauterjek, the shaman, stood beside him.

"Look! Here thy bullet sped—and here again. This is the killing blow, here in the neck. It is the place to strike. None but a foolish boy would aim so low. What! do you still dispute me? Be off at once and send the team and sledge; if nothing else, thy limbs know how to run. And tell no lying tales how thou didst kill."

Sikeepa, knife in hand, remained erect. His color came and went throughout this speech, but otherwise he seemed unmoved by it. Then, stooping quickly, he severed one big forepaw, slung it in a noose of sealskin thong, and with it on his shoulder strode away, nor answered Mauterjek by a single word.

Khimik hungrily lapped the warm, red blood; but the shaman drove him off with vigorous blows, and, whining, he limped away on the road his master was pursuing with nervous steps.

That night, when all had feasted and hunger was a memory fading fast, Sikeepa called the people to assemble and in a few words told them of the hunt.

Mauterjek claims the killing blow as his; yet you all saw the wound in Nanuk's neck. The bear was facing me, its side to him; say, then, whose bullet was it that did the work? He has reviled me in terms unjust, unfit. Had he been younger he would have heard from me. I do not war with age, nor bandy words. Is he to be your chieftain, or am I?"

The people looked anxiously at one another.

The shaman rose with brows darkened; his teeth were ground together and his bronzed features twitched. A moment passed before he could control his rage sufficiently to speak in measured tones, and then he said:

"Children, this upstart boy, this lying cub, would have you say that he had slain the bear; that he alone had found the camp this food; that he alone was fit to rule the tribe!"

Then swaying his body slowly to and fro, beginning in a low voice, but gradually gaining force with eloquence:

"Who is it drives away your aches and pains; restores your health and heals your wounds; charms the wild things which furnish us with food, brings buiyca (the seal) to your spears, draws fleet-foot tootko from the inland wastes?"

"Who weaves the spell to keep our ancient foes, the mountain folk, from spreading out upon our hunting ground to kill our deer and seals, to steal our wives, to trap our men like foxes in their holes?"

"If this young crow should set him over us, look not to Mauterjek again when food is gone; look not to Mauterjek when illness comes.

"War with the tribes, and worse;
disease, and worse; famine, and worse;
ay, death, and worse shall come; for none shall be left to build you burial cairns; the wolves shall end it! This I prophesy, I, Mauterjek! Oh, people, hear and heed your Mauterjek!"

And the harsh voice of the shaman rose to shrieking pitch, the people swayed to the rude rhythm of his speech; and Kupa threw himself, face downward, moaning: "Aillah! 'Tis thou hast said it. Aallah! thou art our shaman and our chief; Aillah!"

The morning star shone brightly overhead when a solitary figure appeared before the group of icy huts, and a low voice called: "Khimik, come.
Hauk! hauk!"

A whine responded as the dog thrust his sharp muzzle against Sikeepa's hand; and slowly, but without hesitation and with not one backward look, the youth and his mute comrade faced the south and left the camp behind.

"Khimik, I have heard them tell," he said, "of strange, good men, with faces like the snow, who come to teach the people wondrous truths.

"They worship something which they call a 'Book,' a package made of wafers, like crisp, dry leaves from off the berry vines, and covered with strange marks, at which they look and tell of many things; that some believe.

"'Tis many days and in a warmer land; but we will go to them and see if there be place for you and me."—N. Y.

Psychologically weighed.
His Will Was Congenitally Feeble—Was a Wretched Man.

The anti-vivisectionists sometimes horrify us by describing the poison which paralyzes all the active powers of the body, while leaving the sensibilities untouched. Coleridge offers a study of that kind to psychologists.

His will, no doubt, was congenitally feeble. "Indolence capable of energies," as he says in a remarkable passage of early self-portraiture, was characteristic of his whole appearance.

He could absorb enormous masses of reading and write or speak with amazing fluency, but the energy could not be co-ordinated or concentrated. It flowed hither and thither spontaneously along the channels dictated by the dominant feeling of the moment.

As psychologists phrase it, he had lost his power of "inhibition." He could not suppress or restrain his emotions. He valued metaphysical research, as he says in his pathetic ode, because,

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Believed Each Other Dead.
Charles L. Doebler and wife have been reunited in Lansing after a separation of over twenty-two years, during which time each believed the other was dead. In the early '70s the husband, a veteran of the rebellion, went west to take up some government land.
Not long after an acquaintance wrote Mrs. Doebler that in a fight with Indians her husband had been killed. A short time ago she applied for a pension, and an investigation resulted in locating Doebler in the soldiers' home at Dayton, O. A Detroit man heard that Mrs. Doebler was dead, and meeting Doebler in Colorado, so informed him.

Will Go to Chickamauga.
Nine regiments and two batteries from Michigan took part in the battles of Chickamauga, and the state military board which has charge of the fund appropriated for defraying the expenses of dedicating the Michigan monuments on this battlefield will send five representatives of each regiment and battery to the dedication, which takes place in September. Gov.
Rich and staff will also go.

Health in Michigan.
During the week ended July 27, reports sent in by sixty-one observers in various portions of the state indicated that inflammation of the bowels, typhoid fever and cholera morbus increased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 173 places, typhoid fever at thirty-three, diphtheria at seventeen, scarlet fever at twenty-eight, measles at ten and smallpox at Detroit and Battle Creek.

Bound Over for Trial.
George Johnson and John Bodewig, formerly employed as switchman and engineer, respectively, by the Chicago & Grand Trunk company, and who have been in jail in Lansing for the last year on charges of train wrecking, etc., growing out of last summer's strike, have been bound over for trial in the United States court on a charge of obstructing the mails.

Mines Will Close.
The call of the local mine managers in Marquette for all strikers to be at their places to learn what concessions would be made by the companies was entirely ignored by the strikers, and therefore at the mine offices pay rolls were being made up in full, and the managers said it was their intention to pay all wages due and then shut down the mines.

Fire at Menominee.
A terrific lumber yard fire raged in the north part of Menominee, extending over thirty acres of ground, which was covered by inflammable material.
Two men were killed and several dangerously injured by flying timber. The loss to A. Spies, the Girard Lumber company and the Bay Shore Lumber company was estimated at $250,000.

Must Have Written Consent.
After August 1 next any Michigan girl under 18 years of age wanting to get married will have to get the written consent of her parents or have her intended husband get it for her. A new law going into effect on that date requires that such a document be filed with the county clerk before the marriage license may be issued.

DEATHS BY DROWNING.

Two Men Perish in Niagara River—Death in an Eastern Storm.
NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Aug. 5.—Elwood F. Butler and Timothy Sweeney, while sailing on the Niagara river Sunday afternoon, were overtaken by a squal and the boat was capsized. Both were drowned and their bodies went over the falls.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 5.—The sloop yacht Ella S., of the Excelsior Boat club, started out Sunday evening for a sail in Jamaica bay with a party of five on board. They were John Strand, Sr., his sons, John Strand, Jr., George Strand and Andrew Strand, and Arthur Hemmingway.
Shortly before 3 o'clock, when off the foot of Ninety-third street, a squall which preceded a heavy shower, struck the little craft, capsizing it. In a moment all the occupants of the boat were floundering in the water but the elder Strand and his sons, Andrew and George, managed to cling to the overturned sloop.
Young John Strand and Hemmingway, however, drifted away with the strong current and were drowned.
The steam launch Edwin A. Powers rescued the three men who clung to the sloop.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Wind, rain and lightning combined in a savage tornado Sunday afternoon swept up the Jersey coast, burst over New York and its surrounding suburbs and waters in a series of storms, and went away to the northwest. It struck terror to the summer resorts and the crowds on the big excursion boats.

In its flight through the country places it tore down trees and robbed orchards of their ripening fruit. Not the least destructive element was the lightning—an incessant discharge of terrible thunderbolts that split trees and flagstaves and set their buildings on fire.

Of the drowning accidents the most melancholy was on the sound north of Hell Gate. John Hartmann, of No. 223 East One Hundred and Eighth street, who owns an 18-foot catboat, took his wife, Theresa, and their little son Leo, 7 years old, out for a Sunday sail on the sound. With the Hartmanns were Joseph Whitney, agent for the Germania Life Insurance company of No. 20 Nassau street, and his 2-year-old boy, Alexander. The swell caused by a passing steamer upset the catboat and all were drowned except Mrs.
Hartmann and her little boy, who were rescued by a boatman near at hand.

Down at Coney Island they say it was the wildest storm in ten years.
The Oriental hotel and the Hotel Brighton were struck by lightning. A bolt split the flagstaff on the Sea Beach pavilion, in Surf avenue, and shattered one corner of the roof.

There were 6,000 people on the island when the tornado suddenly appeared in the southwestern horizon, a towering mass of black shot with lightning.
It was not a full minute before the tornado was tearing through the streets of the flimsy summer city. The terror of the floods of water had added to it the terror of ear-splitting cracks of thunder bolts.

Leslie's pavilion at Brighton Beach was struck. About 1,500 people, the majority women and children, were huddled there. With the crash men, women and children rushed shouting and screaming into the wind and rain.
They saw the menagerie tent booming upward through the air. This left about 300 people and the animals exposed to the storm.

BOIES IS NOT A CANDIDATE.
Declines to Be Considered for Governor of Iowa.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 5.—Horace Boies has written a letter to H. O. Bishop, chairman of the Linn county democratic convention, in which he says his attention has been called to resolutions adopted favoring his nomination for governor, and stating he cannot consent to the use of his name in connection with the nomination for reasons which are wholly personal. He says he is in accord with democratic principles upon national issues and believes from the many able men in the party the convention will select one for a standard-bearer who will prove entirely acceptable to all.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 5.—The declination of ex-Gov. Boies to allow the use of his name as a candidate for governor by the Marshalltown convention is taken here to indicate that Judge Babb, of Mount Pleasant, will head the democratic ticket of Iowa this year.

AN ANARCHIST'S FATE.
Bomb He Was Carrying Under His Coat Explodes Prematurely—Many Hurt.

DOUAL, France, Aug. 5.—During the fetes in the mining district of Aniche, to celebrate the jubilee of M. Vuillemin, manager of the Aniche Colliery company, an anarchist named Decoux fired five revolver shots at M.
Vuillemin while he was leaving the church. Three of them took effect, although the wounds they inflicted were not serious. Directly afterward a tremendous explosion was heard, and Decoux's body was hurled several yards, while ten of the bystanders were injured by the explosion.

Decoux's father rushed upon the prostrate body of his son and kicked him, exclaiming, "Canaille, assassin!" Decoux had been carrying a bomb beneath his coat which was prematurely exploded. Decoux was disemboweled and terribly mutilated and died immediately.

BIG PROFITS ON Small Investments.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 For each dollar invested can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by a systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE.

was the guest of Chelsea friends last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Merch Brooks spent the past week with relatives and friends at Sheldon.

Harry E. Pond, of Ann Arbor, spent Sunday at Cavanaugh Lake, the guest of Ward Howlett.

The Misses Anna Klein, Nessa Bacon and Nan Wilkinson are spending the week at Cavanaugh Lake.

The W. R. C. will hold their regular meeting this week Friday afternoon, Aug.
9th, at half past two.

Misses Melita and Sophia Hutzel, of Ann Arbor, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. C.
Steinbach this week.

Children's Day will be observed at St.
Paul's Church next Sunday evening with an appropriate program.

Mrs. J. C. Twitchell, who has been spending a few days in Ludington, returned home last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Seckinger, of Jackson, were the guests of relatives and friends here the past week.

The sixth annual convention of the Epworth League for this district will be held in Chelsea August 13 and 14.

E. E. Shaver is attending the annual meeting of the American Photographers' Association in Detroit this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Knoll, of Ann Arbor, were guests of Mrs. M. J. Noyes Friday and Saturday at Cavanaugh Lake.

J. J. Ratray spent a few days in Howard City last week, and while there purchased thirty-five acres of land near the city.

Thomas Boardman, of Co. G., 18th Infantry, Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, is visiting his sister, Mrs. M. J.
Emmett.

The Misses Mame and Kate Ganley, of Detroit, and Kate Gallagher, of Adrian, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy McKone.

Mrs. Arthur Walker, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hudler, returned to her home in Detroit last Saturday.

Miss Carrie Moore and Miss Tillie
Dicor, of Coldwater, and Miss Amelia Exinger, of Ann Arbor, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Springale.

A new furnace is being put in St.
Mary's Rectory by Mr. Charles Whitaker.
Mr. Grant is doing the mason and Mr.
John Foster the carpenter work.

The Misses Lettie and Lillie Wackenhut left last Monday for Port Huron, where they will remain a couple of weeks, the guests of Rev. and Mrs. C. Haag.

The Rev. E. D. Kelly, of Ann Arbor, Rev. M. J. Fleming and Rev. John Wall, of Dexter, and Rev. Louis Weidenreich, of Manchester, were recent guests at St.
Mary's Rectory.

Rev. Father Considine is in Wayne, Mich., to-day, attending the dedication of the new Catholic Church recently erected under the supervision of Rev. Father Clarson, the energetic pastor of Milford and Wayne.

In Michigan alone during the past year there were 298 more names added to the pension roll than were taken off. If this ratio has been kept up in the other states there are 13,112 more names on the list than there one year ago.

A traveler says he recently went into the store of a business man who did not advertise, and was surprised to find him always busy. The storekeeper had the salt rheum and a Waterbury watch, and when he wasn't scratching himself he was winding his watch.

R. A. Snyder's dwelling was consumed by fire last Saturday afternoon, together with nearly all the contents. Loss on building, $1,500; insurance, $1,000; loss on contents, $1,400; insurance about $900.
It is thought the fire started from a gasoline stove in the summer kitchen.

To give good plants for winter blooming, pansy seed should be sown now. Sow in a pot or shallow box and place in a cool, shady place until the seedlings are well up. Pot them and still keep where it is cool. They should be nice plants by fall, and a thing of beauty is a joy forever.

In the southern counties the wages per month of farm hands average $15.60 with board, and $21.70 without board; in the central counties $14.66 with board, and $22.81 without board, and in the northern counties, 16.04 with board, and $25.59 without board. The average for the state are $15.45 with board, and $22.81 without board.

Local hunters look forward to unusually good sport this fall. The dry spring has been favorable for rabbits, as very few of the young ones were drowned in their burrows, which are usually made in damp places. The dry summer has encouraged the quail to breed twice, and farmers in all sections of the state report them present in unusual numbers.

Rev. W. P. Considine will celebrate Mass in Grass Lake at the home of Mr.
Edward Cullin on Tuesday, August 13, 1895, at 9 a. m. Services were to be held this week, but as Rev. George Clarson, of Milford, could not attend on account of the dedication of his church at Wayne, the visit was postponed until next week.
Father Clarson will preach on the occasion.

The State Dairymen's Association of Michigan, organized under the new law, will hold a series of dairy institutes at the various county fairs this fall, in which experienced dairymen will give familiar talks to butter and cheese makers on the practical side of dairying. They will hear and answer questions and illustrate their actual knowledge by pointing out defects in dairy products and tell how to remedy them. It is expected that ex-Governor Hoard, of Wisconsin, one of the best informed dairy experts in the country, will be one of the instructors.

From the last report from the State Department at Lansing the following hay statistics were gathered: There were 668,593 tons of hay sold during the year ending June 1, 1894, which is valued at $5,247,555, an average of $7.85 per ton, and there were 53,738 tons of straw sold, valued at $141,935, an average of $2.64 per ton. The entire hay crop of the state, 2,955,857 tons at the same value per ton as that sold, $7.85, was worth $23,208,477.
The hay sold was 22.62 per cent of the entire crop. The hay left on farms was 2,287,264 tons, worth $17,955,022.

The Catholics of St. Mary's parish, Pinckney, will hold their 10th annual picnic at Jackson's grove, near that village, on Thursday, Aug. 15, 1895. This picnic is a very pleasant affair and is always attended by hundreds of people, who attend because they enjoy it. There will be excellent speaking, fine music, games of base ball between Howell and Gregory and other clubs. The ladies of the parish will give an excellent dinner for 25 cents, and choice refreshments will be served on the grounds. A cordial invitation is extended to all our citizens to attend.

In view of the growing desire to spend the summer at a watering place, it seems singular that South Lake has not received more attention. Here is a lake worth everything an overworked rusticator might desire—woods, fish and game—and yet the crowds will go to places where furs and scales are almost unknown. Still the lake is all the better for those who do come. When its possibilities are understood, and shelter enough for the public is provided along the western shore, the transient population at South Lake will be largely increased. Put up your cottages, Shanahan. We want to come and fish.

The wheat crop is turning out better than expected; oats are also a fair crop; there are also many excellent pieces of corn and fields of beans and potatoes. No year in our recollection has brought to our ears the long and loud calamity howls of a crop failure as has been heard in Michigan this season. The grumblers seem to have forgotten that nature's God has promised seed time and harvest while the world endures. If crops are not in all cases fully up to the anticipation of the sower and planter at seed time, they are fully too ample, in accordance with Him who tempers the sunshine and the rain.

Here and There.

A. Burkhart was an Ann Arbor visitor last Friday.

Remember the social hop at Steinbach's Hall Saturday evening.

Messrs. E. C. Bridgman and A. C. Snow, of Jackson, spent Thursday in town.

Dr. G. W. Palmer has 16 acres of the finest corn in Jackson county, on his farm near Waterloo.

G. Weick, senior member of the firm of Weick, Staffan & Co., manufacturers of fine cigars, was in Ann Arbor Monday on business.

The common council of Bronson recently granted a franchise to Rheubottom & Bond, of Union City, to establish an electric light plant there for a period of 15 years.

The Dexter Leader says a Dexter lady is reported as having discovered a new use for chewing gum—removing corns. Whether the virtue of the remedy consists in subsequently chewing the "cud" does not appear.

In all your gettings, young man, don't get the big head. It shows a weak spot that will make you the laughing stock of your friends if indulged in too freely. Don't think for a minute that the world cannot get along without you, for it can. It was a pretty fair sort of a world before you got into it, and will be after you leave it.

The Ann Arbor Daily Courier says: "A swindling piano agent is said to be working this way. He solicits orders for the Fischer pianos, $5 to be paid to him in advance and the balance in $3 instalments, with 52 music lessons thrown in. He is a fraud of the first water, but talks and acts like a Quaker. Set the dog on him if he calls on you, and buy your piano of a reliable dealer.

It looks as though the future offered excellent inducements for meat products, not only in the form of beef, but also as pork, mutton and poultry. It is an excellent opening for profit; and, as stock raising provides a home market for much that is grown on the farm, there is something gained in that respect, while more manure and increased fertility of the soil will result from the keeping of stock.

Edwin Crisher, living at Diamondale, has a four-year-old colt that has developed a mania for chewing tobacco. Every one he sees take a chew he begs for a "cud" by a low whinney, and if he doesn't get it he becomes angry and makes his heels fly promiscuously. He chews and squirts the juice from one side of his mouth as natural as a tobacco toper. This habit has become so expensive to the owner that he offers to trade him for a calf of easy manners.

The state fair will be held at Grand Rapids this year, on the grounds of the West Michigan Association. A citizens' guarantee fund of $5,000 has been raised to cover any possible loss, and elaborate preparations are being made for the big show. It will not only be the state fair, but it will be in effect the best effort that three associations can put forth. The West Michigan and Kent County Associations are both enlisted in the work and will do everything possible for the success of the event.

George P. Horton, master of the state grange, has been given the title of "the cheese king" of Michigan. He has one of the handsomest farms in Michigan, 800 acres of rich land near Fruit Ridge, in Lenawee county, but two miles south of the village of Weston. On this farm 100 blooded cows graze, about one of the finest grange halls in the state. He has a handsome residence and owns and operates eight of the 16 cheese factories in the township. The output of these factories is 14,000 pounds of cheese daily.

Who is this hard-working man? This is the millionaire, the man who wanted to be rich and has got rich. Is he the happier for it? Bless your soul, he's more miserable, fuller of cares and anxieties and harder work than ever. He is the veriest slave of them all. He is pushed with business, and business is pushing him. He has so many irons in the fire that some of them are burning his fingers while others are getting cold. His present life is a rush from the meeting of this board to that board and thence to some other board. He is director of this company and trustee in that and silent partner in another, world without end and more coming. He hasn't time to eat and hardly to sleep, and when he does lay his poor head on the pillow he can't stop business plans and schemes, hopes and fears from whirling and whirling through it. He can't take a day to spend in quiet out of town, and if he could he would take all of his business with him into the woods. He is a slave and a victim. His millions in bank don't bring him so much enjoyment as a new ten-cent piece given to a boy ten years old.

Our School Law.

Believing that the following article regarding some changes of our school law will be of interest to many Herald readers, we reproduce it from the Shiawassee American:

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE.

All children between the ages of 8 and 14 years, or, if living in cities, between the ages of 7 and 16 years, must attend school at least four months in each school year unless physically unable. Children attending private school or those who have acquired the branches taught in the common schools may be exempted, as may those who have to travel more than two miles by the nearest traveled route to reach the school.

To enforce the provisions of this act, truant officers are provided for. In country districts organized under the primary school law the chairman of the town board of inspectors is made the truant officer. In schools organized under the grade school law the board, prior to the tenth of September, appoints a truant officer for the term of one year. In cities having a regular police force, officers may be detailed for the purpose. The compensation shall be fixed by the boards appointing and shall not be less than $1.50 for each day employed. When the truant officer is informed of continued non-attendance at school on the part of any child he is required to notify the parent or guardian that on the following Monday the child shall present himself at school with the proper books, and that his attendance must be continuous for at least eight half days each week for the balance of the term. Parents or guardians who fail to regard the notice are guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction liable to be fined from five to fifty dollars or imprisoned in the county jail from two to ninety days or both. Provision is made for the establishment of ungraded schools for truants and also for the sentencing of a certain class of truants to state industrial schools.

SCHOOL FLAGS.

Act No. 56 provides that school boards of all districts in the state shall purchase a United States flag, at least four feet two inches by eight feet, made of good flag bunting, with flag staff and other appliances, and have the same displayed each school day and such other times as they see fit, upon or near the school house. Failure to do so is a neglect of duty and punishable as such.

Act No. 101 provides for the examination of applicants for admission to the Agricultural College at the regular county examination by the county commissioner.

Provision is made in a separate act for instruction in all schools of the state on best methods of preventing the spread of dangerous communicable diseases. Teachers refusing or neglecting to comply are liable to dismissal.

Only two regular examinations are provided for by the statute, but the board of examiners are allowed to have two more. At the latter only second and third grade certificates may be granted. No certificates, however, shall be granted to a person who, being twenty-one years of age, is not a citizen of the United States.

Upon the question of voting at school meetings the law is slightly changed. It now reads that every citizen who has property assessed and who has lived in the district the required length of time can vote on all questions.

There must be at least five months school taught in each district each year. Failure in this regard will entail the loss of the primary money.

One fruitful source of dispute has been removed by the statute, defining what shall be furnished for the school house by the district. The following are the articles: Set of wall maps, showing grand divisions, United States and Michigan, not to cost more than $12, a globe not to cost more than $8, a dictionary not to exceed $10, a reading chart not exceeding $5, a case for library not exceeding $10, also looking glass, comb, towel, water pail, cup, ash pail, poker, shovel, broom, dustpan, duster, wash basin and soap.

The library money in each township can now be used only for library purposes and will be divided among the school libraries in the township.

Non-resident pupils may be admitted to any school, but the rate of tuition cannot be fixed at an increase of more than fifteen per capita in the district. In case their parents or guardians pay taxes in the district the amount of such tax shall be credited on the tuition.

SINFUL HABITS IN YOUTH

LATER EXCESSES IN MANHOOD

MAKE NERVOUS, DISEASED MEN

THE RESULT of ignorance and folly in youth, overexertion of mind and body induced by lust and exposure are constantly wrecking the lives and future happiness of thousands of promising young men. Some fade and wither at an early age, at the blossom of manhood, while others are forced to drag out a weary, fruitless and melancholy existence. Others reach matrimony but find no solace or comfort there. The victims are found in all stations of life:—The farm, the office, the workshop, the pulpit, the trades and the professions.

Wm. A. Walker of 16th Street says:—"I have suffered untold agonies for my 'any life.' I was indiscreet when young and ignorant. As 'One of the Boys' I contracted Syphilis and other Private Diseases. I had ulcers in the mouth and throat, bone pains, hair loss, pimples on face, finger nails came out, emissions, became thin and dependent. Seven doctors treated me with Mercury, Potash, etc. They helped me but could not cure me. Finally a friend induced me to try Drs. Kennedy & Kergan by their New Method Treatment. I felt new life thrill through my nerves. We were united again and are happy. This was six years ago. Drs. K. & K. are specialists and I heartily recommend them."

IMPOTENCY VARICOCELE EMISSIONS CURED

Wm. A. Walker of 16th Street says:—"I owe my life to Drs. K. & K. At 21 I had all the symptoms of Seminal Weakness and Spermatorrhoea. Emissions were draining and weakening my vitality. I was a wreck under advice of my family doctor, but it was in vain. In eighteen months we were divorced. I then consulted Drs. K. & K., who restored me to manhood by their New Method Treatment. I felt new life thrill through my nerves. We were united again and are happy. This was six years ago. Drs. K. & K. are specialists and I heartily recommend them."

MILITARY authorities estimate that in times of public danger we could put into the field a force of 2,500,000 or 3,000,000 men.

SINCE the United States government was organized less than 900 people have served as United States senators, while of these more than 200 had previously been members of the house of representatives.

It is said that of the 3,000 visitors to the National Yellowstone park during the past three years hardly 100 were Americans. Probably more Americans have climbed the Alps than have visited the Yosemite valley.

A SLICK individual is roaming around in southwestern Michigan, selling, what he claims to be a new variety of seed wheat, and which is guaranteed to produce a yield of from forty to sixty bushels per acre. Strange as it may seem, the fellow is finding some buyers at $4 per-bushel.

MARGHERITA, of Italy, is not only the most stylish but the most intellectual and accomplished of queens. She speaks English, French, German and Spanish, reads Latin and Greek, knows the great poets thoroughly, reads much theological literature and is a fair botanist and geologist.

A GERMAN method is now in operation of manufacturing glass which will transmit light freely, but not heat. A thin plate of this material allowed less than 1 per cent. of the heat of gas flames to pass, although transmitting 12 per cent. of the heat from sunlight. Ordinary window glass lets some 86 per cent. of the heat through.

A RECENT English writer on trial by jury says it was derived from Normandy. But it existed in Iceland from the earliest times, where the Normans certainly did not introduce it. As the Icelanders and the North Saxons were practically the same people, it is hardly open to question that their primitive customs were as nearly identical as their language.

In Texas a "norther" is a chilling blast that sweeps over the country, sending the temperature down as much as thirty degrees in as many minutes. But in California a "norther" is a hot wind that puts the temperature up ten to fifteen points above comfort, and, instead of freezing vegetation, does great damage by causing a too quick ripening.

WHEN Zerah Colburn, the Vermont mathematical prodigy, visited Harvard college, he told in four seconds the exact number of seconds in eleven years, and answered other similar questions with equal facility. He could no more tell how he did it than a child in singing can tell the laws of melody, but it is certain that it was done under natural law, and not in opposition to it.

A NOVEL co-operation system has lately been started among the carpenters and painters of San Francisco, through which the individual workmen are becoming owners of homes of their own without any cost for construction. As soon as any member of the local organization has saved enough money to buy a lot and the necessary lumber, all his fellow-workmen turn to the next Sunday and build the house for him.

A SMALL lake on the prairie near Constantine, Mich., has gone dry. The lake has not occurred before in many years, if ever. It is a legend of this pond that an early settler on the prairie dug a well in the lowest part of the hollow; that when he struck water it rose until the well was filled and overflowed and made a considerable pond of pure, cold water, which became a great watering place for the stock on the prairie, and was never afterward dry.

ROBERT J. KIRK, the United States consul at Copenhagen, says in a report recently submitted to the department of state that the consumption of American petroleum in Denmark has increased from 225,000 barrels in 1890 to 412,000 barrels in 1894, and that at the same time the Russian oil supply in the same country has dropped off from 68,880 barrels to 41,440. A statement from the treasury department shows that the petroleum exports in the past five years have been constantly on the increase to nearly all the countries of Europe except Germany and the Netherlands.

THREE miles southwest of Dansville, Mich., there lives a family named Hewes. The great-grandfather, aged eighty-five years, and the great-grandmother, eighty-three, are members of the family. They have been married sixty-four years, and have resided on the same farm fifty years. Their son, aged fifty-nine years, and his wife are also members of the family, and their son, twenty-six years, and wife and infant son, also dwell under the same roof. They eat on one table, use one pocketbook, and as far as known there has never been any unpleasantness in the family.

Horr and Harvey Discuss the Free Coinage Question.

Synopsis of Arguments Advanced at the Closing Sessions—The New Yorker Has the Last of the 145,000 Words.

Copyright, 1895, by Axel F. Hatch. CHICAGO, July 31.—The Horr-Harvey silver debate came to an end Monday. Every seat in the art gallery of the Illinois club was occupied when time was called for the closing session of the great war of words, and the walls were lined with listeners eager to catch the closing remarks of the contestants.

Twenty-four hours in all have been consumed in the debate which ran through eight days, and 145,000 words in all were spoken, according to the original agreement. The two gentlemen still have 2,500 words each in which to close. This is to be submitted, however, in manuscript any time within seven days, to be inserted in the book which is to be published. Resolutions were passed thanking the Illinois club for the use of their house and expressing appreciation of all that had been done by various ladies and gentlemen to assist in the carrying on of the debate. A resolution was also passed thanking Messrs Horr and Harvey for the mass of information with which they have presented the public since the debate began. Then the closing arguments were commenced.

Mr. Horr led with the sweeping assertion that in the few cases in which the figures cited by Mr. Harvey were correct they had tended to weaken his own argument. He then referred to Mr. Harvey's statement, which the latter had said was based upon the authority of Carroll D. Wright, United States commissioner of labor, to the effect that there were between 2,000,000 and 4,000,000 unemployed men in the country. In refutation of these figures, he produced a telegram from Mr. Wright expressly disclaiming them.

The effect of this shot was spoiled, however, by Mr. Harvey's explanation that these were the only figures that he had used in his book that had not been verified, and that immediately after the appearance of the first edition he had written to Mr. Wright and upon receipt of his reply had erased the incorrect data from the stereotype plates of the book. After this temporary digression, the silver champion expressed his obligations to every one who had assisted him in the debate, from the judge and referee to his fair stenographer, and then resumed the thread of his argument by producing a printed table showing the amounts of silver coined annually from 1792 to 1873, for the purpose of demonstrating the fallacy of the statement made by the monometallists that for the first fifty years of the present century the United States was on a silver basis, and on a gold basis from 1873 to 1875.

The statement, he said, that gold did not seek the mints for the first fifty years, and that silver did not seek the mints for the last thirty years prior to 1873, is not true. He quoted from the United States coinage laws, appendix of 1894. The stock of gold is there given as $3,901,900,000; the stock of silver, $3,981,300,000. On account of the great use of gold in the arts he maintained that "there was not enough of the yellow metal to answer the needs of money."

Mr. Horr maintained his previous statements that no nation alone can establish the gold ratio of 16 to 1, and he did not believe that Mr. Harvey thinks any one nation can do it. Nations by their laws do not fix the value of things. They cannot do it if they try. The actual value of the two metals at the present time is wide apart. The ratio of 16 to 1 is to day a thing of the past. Always from the earliest foundation of society the relative value between gold and silver has been fixed by the people of the world, and not by legislation. Mr. Harvey and I agree that the free coinage of silver will decrease the measure of value used here in this country. The burden of his whole talk in this debate is that we ought to have a cheaper measure; that the unit is worth too much. So now we agree that it will change the measure. Mr. Harvey says that is what ought to be done because, he says, the whole world is in debt and our country is on the brink of ruin because the present dollar is too valuable. That is a position in which I differ from him. The debts of the day have all been contracted with the gold dollar as the measure, and to relieve the payment of them in any way by a trick of this kind is repudiation.

Mr. Harvey continued his quotations from statistics in relation to the world's supply of gold and the bearing the arts had toward it. The more costly either gold or silver becomes, he said, the greater the demand among the rich for it for use as ornaments. Where the dealer is used exclusively for primary money it is the one that is hoarded. When gold and silver were both used as money in their own right silver was hoarded by the plain people and was brought forth to serve them in time of need. Gold is principally hoarded by the rich to serve a purpose in bulling the money market. Hoarding of silver by the people was beneficial; hoarding of gold is an injury. The cause of hoarding in the two instances is different. In the first instance it is to serve a natural law providing for the future; in the second instance it is a commercial motive affecting injuriously the community. This is one of the reasons why silver has always proved the more stable money.

Mr. Horr referred to Mr. Harvey's habit of comparing size as having something to do with value, and stated that the amount of gold in the world all put in a cube hasn't anything to do with how much it is worth. He accused Harvey of comparing things that are not alike with each other, and when a man does that, he said, he is always in the wrong. Now, there is no disputing the issue between us. It is simply this: Can we benefit the people of this republic now by making a dollar mean about half as much as it now means? Can we benefit them by making it seem any considerable amount less than it now is by making it actually less in value? We may disguise it as much as we will, the free coinage of silver on a ratio of 16 to 1 means silver monometallism.

Mr. Harvey maintained that there will be a commercial parity between gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. If the law is passed putting both metals on an equal footing at that ratio. What he meant by an equal footing is that both shall have the right to enter the mints free to be coined into money with 25 cents free to be coined to be a dollar and 37½ grains of pure silver to be a dollar. The mints made from both metals to the full legal tender money in the payment of all debts, and the debtor to have the right to pay in either metal. The supply of silver is limited. When a great nation like this, whose normal capacity for the absorption of money in the transaction of its normal business is not far from $4,000,000,000, opens its mints to silver it fixes the price of silver the world over. So long as the supply of silver is limited, as it is now, no one will part with it for any less than they can get for it in the United States. Mr. Horr will say to this: "The government does not buy the silver under free coinage. It stamps it and hands it back to the owner worth no more than when he brought it to the mint." What the government has done is this: It has given to silver a new use, and the use is what gives to it its value.

Mr. Horr closed the debate with an eloquent peroration on the revival of business; of the appeal of Cuba against oppression; of the distressing situation of the South American republics, and said: "We are fighting the battle of liberty for the world. The result of your verdict upon this momentous question will be world wide. It will convey words of cheer and stimulate the nerves of free men in every land."

A HOPEFUL SPIRIT.

It Still Prevails in Nearly All Lines of Trade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"The year's business will be most affected by the crops and the most hopeful estimate falls below a full yield, except for corn. Larger stocks than were immediately wanted have been taken by traders as prices were advancing, and these tend to limit future orders. The general advance in many products also causes reluctance to purchase, and the distribution of the past half year has been in part to make up for stocks and individual supplies depleted during two years of economy. On the other hand, there has been an increase in the working force and a considerable increase in wages paid, which enables people to buy more freely. Apprehension of monetary disturbance has been quite pushed aside. Strikes of some importance appear, but do not yet threaten to last long, though a strike of coal miners may for a time affect business somewhat extensively. The hopeful spirit prevailing in nearly all markets may find its warrant in spite of some shortage in crops.

"The failures for twenty-five days of July have been smaller in liabilities than a year ago, amounting to $8,327,737, of which $2,011,822 were of manufacturing, and $5,658,663 of trading concerns, while the liabilities last year were $9,016,778, of which $4,500,530 were of manufacturing, and $4,516,248 of trading concerns. Failures for the week have been 231 in the United States, against 230 last year, and 23 in Canada against 44 last year."

Joe Patchen Defeats Robert J.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 2.—Thursday was the banner day in the history of the Glenville track. It was estimated that 15,000 people saw the races. Robert J., the king of the turf, is king no longer. The honor was wrested from him by that game black stallion, Joe Patchen in the most exciting speed contest ever seen on a grand circuit track.

The Foresters.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The American delegates to the supreme court of foresters arrived in London Thursday. The delegates from the high court of California presented the flag of their order to the supreme court and requested that it be made the official emblem of the order. Judge McElfresh, of Los Angeles, acted in the capacity of donor, and made an appropriate presentation speech. The representatives of the supreme court accepted the flag and adopted it as the emblem of the order of foresters. The flag is red, white and blue, with a Maltese cross in the center.

Her Aim Was True.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Miss Elizabeth Flagler, daughter of Brig. Gen. Daniel W. Flagler, chief of ordnance U. S. A., shot and killed a colored youth named Ernest Green, who she detected stealing fruit at the suburban residence of her father about noon Friday, and was discharged by the coroner on the ground that the homicide was unintentional.

Wages Advanced.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Aug. 1.—Notice has been given the employees of the National Water Tube Boiler company of this city that beginning with next pay day their wages will be increased 10 per cent. The increase is general and affects every department of the works, which is one of the most important industries in the city, giving employment to a large number of men.

Judge Caton Is Dead.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Death robbed Chicago of one of its most distinguished citizens Tuesday when Judge John Dean Caton, one of the pioneers of the west, a resident here over sixty years, a jurist of national renown and an author and traveler of world-wide fame, passed away at his residence, 1900 Calumet avenue.

NEGROES SHOT DOWN.

Attacked by Italian Miners Near Spring Valley, Ill.

Many of Them Are Beaten, Shot and Otherwise Abused—Forced to Flee for Safety—Indications of Further Trouble.

PRINCETON, Ill., Aug. 5.—The Italians of Spring Valley broke out Sunday in a war upon the negroes with a view of either massacring them or driving them from within the city limits. The following negroes were seriously injured:

Granville Lewis, aged 35 years, shot in head and clubbed with rifles and face and neck badly lacerated, may die; Clem L. Martin, aged 22 years, shot in back of head with rifle ball, thirty buckshot in back and shoulders, seriously injured; Norman Bird, aged 38 years, shot in neck and head, badly bruised, internal injuries; Mrs. Bird, aged 31 years, wife of above, shot in right cheek and arm; Maria Bird, daughter of above, aged 14 years, shot in breast, may prove fatal; William Lee, aged 34 years, kicked and trampled upon; Jude Stuart, aged 47 years, trampled upon face, lacerated and injured internally, badly cut by barbed wire in attempting to escape from the mob; Oscar Prim, head bruised with rocks and stones; Silas Burken, bruised with clubs and shot at about thirty times; Jim Kelley, aged 26 years, flesh wounds and clothing riddled with shot; Will Beck, aged 30 years, badly bruised and internal injuries; Frank Turner, aged 68 years, shot twice in back of head and struck in back and shoulders by about forty buckshot; Frank Burner, head badly bruised, trampled upon and internal injuries.

The Italians for many months have wished to drive the negroes out of the coal mining belt and Sunday a plausible excuse for so doing presented itself. At 1 o'clock Sunday morning an Italian was held up on the public highway by four negroes, robbed and shot four times, from the effects of which his physician says he cannot live. A mass meeting of the Italians was called and at 10 o'clock a mob of over 300 that gathered started out for the negro village which is located 2 miles west of Spring Valley. They were headed by the Spring Valley Italian band and to deceive the negroes into thinking the assembly a peaceable one this band rendered several national anthems. The negroes as a result remained in their homes, and the Italians fell into them like a lot of Apache Indians.

The men were dragged out, clubbed, trampled upon and made the targets for the shotguns, rifles and small arms the mob had brought with them. The women were insulted, slapped and two of them while begging for mercy were shot down and fatally injured.

The Italian rioters served notice on the women and children who had not been driven out that they and the invalids would be given until night to leave the town forever, and that if they were not gone by dark they would be shot down in their tracks. Consequently all afternoon the women were packing all that was left of their household goods and fleeing over the hills in all directions. Large numbers have started out in the direction of Toluca and others have taken refuge at Seatonville.

The injured, many of whom are lying at the point of death, are sheltered in barns and under trees. Of those who are uninjured about thirty have gathered at Seatonville and have been collecting arms and ammunition and say they will at all hazards return to Spring Valley this morning and remain there until they are discharged from the services of the coal company. Some have homes there, and all have wages due them from the coal company. They claim that the city police have made very little effort to hunt down the criminals but that this is no fault of theirs and a matter for which they will not suffer. This resolution of the negroes has created considerable apprehension and more trouble is expected if it should be carried out.

When the rioters were organizing near the city hall the mayor was notified of the threatened trouble by a group of citizens, to whom, it is charged, he replied that it was no use for him to try to do anything and that he didn't know but what the negroes should be shot anyway. Word was then sent to Sheriff Clark at Princeton, who at once commenced the organizing of a posse by sounding the fire alarm and enlisting the men as fast as they turned out. By noon he had a sufficient number, but at that hour word was received that actual rioting had ceased, so he went to the scene of the trouble with only a dozen men. The negroes asked that protection he had given them so they could return to their homes but the sheriff referred them to the city authorities and the latter so far have refused protection of any nature.

BREAD RIOT.

A Fight at Tabrees in Which Twenty Are Killed.

TEHERAN, Aug. 5.—The scarcity of bread and the closure of the bazars to prevent disorders has led to serious rioting in Tabrees. The troops dispersed the rioters, twenty of whom were killed. The mob carried the corpses to the Russian consulate and demanded protection against the soldiers. The consul thereupon visited the governor, who promised a reduction in the price of bread. Nothing has yet been done in the matter, and the troops were still firing at the mob when this dispatch was sent.

MISSIONARIES MURDERED.

Thirteen Killed in the Late Massacre in China—Americans Safe.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Telegraph prints a dispatch from Shanghai stating that the massacre at Ku Chai occurred on July 31. The officials suppressed the news three days. The names of those killed are: Miss Elsie Marshall, Annie Gordon, Miss Bessie Newcomer and Miss Flora Stewart, all of the English Zenana mission; Miss Nellie Saunders, Miss Topsy Saunders, Rev. Stewart and Mrs. Stewart, of the Christian Missionary society. Five of Mr. Mrs. Stewart's children were killed and two survive. One had one leg broken and the other, a baby, lost an eye. The following were saved: Mr. Hartwell, of the American mission; Miss Coddington, of the English Zenana mission, and Rev. H. S. Phillips, of the English church mission society.

United States Consul Hixon, who stationed at Foy Chow with a party of volunteers, upon receipt of the news of the massacre started on a steamer launch for the scene and has returned bringing with him the wounded Americans. The experiences of the survivors were terrible. They say the death was the least part of the sufferings of the butchered women. The indignation here is intense. Nevertheless, the many warships in the harbor idle.

Rev. Mr. Stewart, wife and children were burned in their house. Two Misses Yellow and Marshall, two sisters named Saunders, two sisters named Gordon and Stevie Newcomer were murdered with spears and swords. Miss Coddington was seriously wounded about the head and Stewart's eldest child had a knee cap badly injured, while the youngest had an eye gouged out. Rev. Mr. Phillips, with two American Dr. Gregory and Miss Hartford, were both wounded, but arrived safely at Fu Chau Fu.

The Standard's special from Shanghai says that the news of the massacre suppressed for three days by the Chinese officials. The mandarins endeavor to throw all the blame upon the secret societies, but it is known that they were encouraged by responsible officials. The Chinese troops have been dispatched to the scene. British and American consuls will have an interview with the viceroy to-day.

LIGHTNING'S WORK.

It Strikes a Church and Injures Many Worshipers.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Aug. 3.—The words of a fervent benediction scarcely left the lips of Rev. Mr. Bowman, in the Methodist church here, Quakertown, 7 miles above, Sunday, when there came a blinding flash of lightning and a terrifying burst of thunder that all but wrecked the church building. The bolt entered the church and injured a score of people, several of them probably fatally. The list of those most seriously injured follows: James Hoff, Minnie Grace, Miss Hoffman, Asa Bannon, the sexton, and Mrs. Bowman, wife of the pastor.

The bolt seemed to enter the edifice by the basement, shooting up through the floor and bursting with the force of a huge cannon. Members of the congregation who had started to leave or were standing in groups conversing with each other were thrown into wild panic, while at least twenty of them received injuries more or less severe.

All the clothing was torn from Seaton Bannon, while his shoes looked though they had been run through a corn sheller, being literally cut to pieces. He is suffering from the shock and can hardly recover. The bolt struck through the floor, right in the feet of Minnie Grace, and she was thrown down with great violence. Her watchguard was melted, and the timepiece looks as though it had gone through a furnace. It stopped at 12:10, a grim record of the time of the cruel visitant. Miss Grace's life is spared. Mrs. Bowman, who stood near Miss Grace, was also thrown down by the awful explosion. Her hat was torn from her head and a steel rattle clean out of her corset. She is still unconscious from the shock.

Examination of the building after the excitement had subsided somewhat showed that the bolt had struck the outer wall, ran down to the basement 60 feet along the joists, and shot through the floor like a huge bullet. The large bell in the tower was loosened from its hangings and only a slender strip of scantling kept it from crashing down upon the heads and scores of people at the doorway.

FELL FROM A BALLOON.

A Female Aeronaut Badly Hurt at Vandercook Lake, Mich.

JACKSON, Mich., Aug. 5.—Sunday afternoon while Charles A. Elliott and Anna Peek were making a double ascension at Vandercook Lake an accident happened to the balloon which may cost the lady her life. The balloon was an old one, filled with hydrogen air. When the aeronauts were up 55 feet the ropes holding the basket to the gas bag pulled on the dropping both aeronauts to the ground. They struck a tree in their descent, breaking their fall, or both would have been killed outright. Elliott was badly bruised, but had no bones broken. Miss Peek had a leg and arm broken and it is feared suffered internal injuries.

Independent Order of Foresters.

The Supreme body of the Independent Order of Foresters met in biennial session in the world's metropolis on Thursday, Aug. 1, at 2 p. m. Over 150 officers and representatives were present. All the provinces of the Dominion and some twenty of the states of the Union, and England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland were represented. All the Supreme officers were present. Dr. Oronhyatekha, S. S. R., presided.

The tenth meeting of the Supreme Court was duly opened with prayer by the Rev. W. J. McCaughan, of Belfast, Ireland, Supreme Chaplain. The Supreme Chief appointed Committees on Credentials, Distribution, Finance, State of the Order, Constitution and Laws, Appeals and Petitions, New Business and Mileage and per diem.

SUPREME CHIEF RANGER'S REPORT.

The S. C. R. read his report, a lengthy and able document. From it we give the following facts:

The address began by a grateful acknowledgment of the kindness to the Order and its members of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe. It is said that since the last meeting, two years ago, the membership had increased over 30,000, being now 80,765. The surplus had increased by $636,000, and now stands at $1,881,890.73. The proportion per member has been steadily increasing and is now $600 per member more than it was five years ago. Reference was made to the decision of the Supreme Executive to invest a portion of the surplus in the Foresters' Temple, which will in future be the headquarters of the Order. The corner stone of what will be the most imposing fraternal building in the world was laid on May 30th by the Governor-General of Canada, the Earl of Aberdeen.

Reference was also made to several proposed amendments to the Constitution, among which were the striking out of sections referring to the expectation of life benefit, and increasing the rates between 45 and 50, and the holding of triennial sessions, and the admission of women into the Order. The Supreme Chief Ranger closed his report with a grateful acknowledgment of the honor conferred upon him and the kindness shown him ever since he had been their first executive officer.

SUPREME SECRETARY'S REPORT

The report of the Supreme Secretary was an elaborate document and gave a detailed statement of all receipts and disbursements since the last meeting. Among the interesting information obtained was the fact that since the Chicago meeting two years ago the number of High Courts had increased from 21 to 28, and the number of Subordinate Courts from 1,430 to 2,100, and the membership from 50,947 to 80,765. The deaths during the past two years have been 681. The amount paid in death and permanent disability claims in the past two years is $609,317.87.

The sick and funeral benefit department showed marked prosperity, and in it are enrolled about one-third of the membership. During the past two years $101,118 had been paid in sick and funeral benefits, leaving the surplus to the credit of this department, on the 1st of July, $62,139. When it is remembered that four years ago this fund was in debt, the adequacy of the rates and the efficiency of the management are apparent. The S. Secretary closed his report with an eloquent tribute to the ability of his colleagues and a grateful acknowledgment of the courtesy shown him by all with whom he had to do.

SUPREME PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

Dr. Millman, Supreme Physician, gave an exhaustive and interesting summary of the work in his department. It showed that for the eighteen months ending December 31st, 1894, the number of applications passed was 31,570, for insurance amounting to $20,108,000. For the same period there had been rejected 3,083 applications, representing insurance to the amount of $3,888,500. The causes of rejection are given, the principle ones being history of consumption, for which 618 were rejected, and heart complications, for which 416 were rejected. Intemperance was the cause of the rejection of 376. The average age of the member is only 34.83, as compared with 35.31 for 1893. The death rate has been remarkably low, 5.47 per 1,000.

In a supplementary statement giving the result of the examinations for the first six months of 1895 it appears that 16,835 examination papers were reviewed, of which 15,179 were accepted, making a total for the two years of 51,941 applications received, of which 5,729 were rejected.

The report of the Independent Forester, of which the Supreme Chief, Dr. Oronhyatekha, is Editor-in-chief, and Dan A. Rose, business manager, was submitted. The circulation for the year in the past four years showed, from 48,000 to 100, 000 per month, and the changes in the mailing list monthly are upwards of 5,000. Appreciative mention was made of the work of Bro. Rev. A. Macgillivray, P. H. C. R., of Ontario, who has been Literary Editor of the official organ for four years.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:
S. C. R. Oronhyatekha, M. D.
P. S. C. R. E. Botterell, Ottawa.
S. V. C. R., Hon. D. D. Aitken, M. C., Flint, Mich.
S. S., John A. McGillivray, Q. C.
S. Treas., H. A. Collins, Toronto.
S. Phy., T. Millman, M. D., Toronto.
S. Coun., Hon. Judge W. Wedderburn, Hampton, N. B.

The session in London closed on Saturday, the 3rd. An adjourned session will be held in Glasgow, Friday, Aug. 9th, and the closing session in Belfast on the 10th. Some of the delegates will leave for home on the 15th August by the Str. Pennland, sailing from Queenstown.

The next meeting of the Supreme Court will be held in Toronto.

The Country Home.

At this season of the year farm children have much more fun than the boys and girls that are obliged to stay in the city. But neither the young ruralists nor their fathers and mothers nor their grown-up brothers and sisters have nearly so much pleasure as they might have. The reason is that so many country people take no pains to make their homes attractive. Even those who are comparatively well-to-do are often content to live year after year in tumble-down houses, with weedy, shadeless yards about them, and not a flower to be seen.

Comparatively little labor and time would convert the old place into a bower of beauty which would be like an oasis in the desert in after years to the children. No farmhouse is so humble in all this broad land that it could not have porches with white climbing roses about them, an emerald green lawn shaded with fine maples and elms, a fragrant, beautiful honeysuckle hedge in place of the ramshackle old yard fence, a clump of rich, dark evergreens on the northwest exposure, a winding carriage drive, above which an avenue of trees grows—trees that nod their waving plumes across to one another in friendly recognition. Country boys and girls would not be so anxious to get away from home if the farmhouse were made more attractive.

Spend your Outing on the Great Lakes

Visit picturesque Mackinac Island. It will only cost you about $12.50 from Detroit; $15 from Toledo; $18 from Cleveland, for the round trip, including meals and berths. Avoid the heat and dust by traveling on the D. & C. floating palaces. The attractions of a trip to the Mackinac region are unsurpassed. The island itself is a grand romantic spot, its climate most invigorating. Two new steel passenger steamers have just been built for the upper lake route, costing $300,000 each. They are equipped with every modern convenience, annunciators, bath-rooms, etc., illuminated throughout by electricity, and are guaranteed to be the grandest, largest and safest steamers on fresh water. These steamers favorably compare with the great ocean liners in construction and speed. Four trips per week between Toledo, Detroit, Alpena, Mackinac, St. Ignace, Petosky, Chicago, "Soo" Marquette and Duluth. Daily between Cleveland and Detroit. Daily between Cleveland and Put-in-Bay. The cabins, parlors and staterooms of these steamers are designed for the complete entertainment of humanity under home conditions; the palatial equipment, the luxury of the appointment makes traveling on these steamers thoroughly enjoyable. Send for illustrated descriptive pamphlet. Address A. A. SCHANTZ, G. P. & T. A. D. & C. Detroit, Mich.

Hay Fever.

As the 30th of August approaches, you should fortify your system with Dr. Humphreys' Specific "77," and escape Hay Fever. Price, 50c—all druggists.

The Summer Girl.

It is safe to allege that the average summer girl in this country has been doing all she ought to do in the way of dancing, prancing, gadding, going, working, and generally spending her vital powers in the autumn, winter and spring immediately preceding, and consequently when summer comes—needs, quite as much as her parents, physical, mental and moral ozone.

But what does she prefer to do? Whether is she bent on leading her father by the nose with the assistance of her mother? To various places, according to her special predilection, and the farthest limit of the parental purse. If possible, to one of the gayest watering places, where she hopes to bathe, play tennis, walk, talk and drive during the day; paddle, stroll or sit out during the evening and dance until 12 o'clock at night two or three times a week. Else to some much advertised mountain catafact or lake resort, to lead a stagnant hotel corridor and piazza life, in the fond hope of seeing the vividly imagined Him alight from the stage coach some Saturday night. Meanwhile she is one of three-score forlorn girls who haunt the office and make eyes at the hotel clerk. The summer girl has a mania for the summer hotel. It seems to open to her radiant possibilities. She kindles at the mention of a hop in August, and if she is musical the tingle of her piano-playing reverberates through the house all day until the other boarders are driven nearly crazy.

And so it goes all summer. When autumn comes and the leaf is about to fall and Dorothy returns to town, what has she to show for it? A little tan and callous heart, a promised winter correspondence with the hotel clerk, new slang, some knack at banjo-playing, and considerable uncertainty in her mind as to whom she is engaged to, or whether she is engaged at all.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. Stevens, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at R. S. Armstrong and Co's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

To Serve Fruit.

Grapes are placed on a large fruit dish with green leaves around the edge.

Bananas are slightly opened at one end and served on individual fruit plates.

Oranges are cut in half and eaten with an orange spoon. The peel serves as a cup.

Berries are usually put in a large berry bowl and served in individual dishes at the table.

Pineapples are peeled, cut in very thin slices, the core cut out, and served with sugar.

Often several kinds of fruit are placed in one large fruit dish on the table, and each person provided with an individual fruit plate.

Oranges eaten in the natural state, or with the pulp prepared and simply sprinkled with sugar, are so delicious and healthful that it seems almost unnecessary to suggest other ways in which they may be utilized.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey or other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old People find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at F. P. Glazier and Co's Drug Store.

Karl's Clover Root, the great Blood purifier gives freshness and clearness to the Complexion and cures Constipation, 25 cts., and $1.00. Sold by Armstrong & Co.

An exchange very wisely says: "The young men who are too lazy to work and too lazy to go to school, and the dudes who part their hair in the middle and stroll around the city on Sundays and Mondays and every other day in the week, while their mothers dig in the garden, will be the calamity bowlers of the future of this country."

Notice.

Examinations of candidates for admission to the Michigan Agricultural College will be held at the time of the regular teachers' examinations, and will be conducted in the same manner as these examinations. The work of each and every candidate, together with the name and address, will be forwarded by the commissioner, within five days from the date of the examination, to the president of the college, who will examine and grade the answers and report to the candidate, within five days of the receipt of the paper, the result of the examination. A standard of 70 per cent in each branch will admit to the freshman class of the college without further examination.

Of Interest to Ladies.

We offer no apology in placing before you "THE LADIES' SAFE PROTECTOR" it is absolutely reliable, easily adjusted, does not become misplaced and insures protection. Can be worn when desired without observation or knowledge of another and prevents disagreeable annoyance under certain conditions. If you use it once you will never be without it. It is a faithful, safe, and reliable friend whenever needed by special circumstances requiring its use. It is an article every woman should keep ready for immediate use. It is simple to use, and inspires confidence to the woman using it. It is reliable and scientifically made, insures protection without injury to health, as any good physician would say. We are of the opinion that no article has ever been made which will give as much satisfaction to the woman of to-day as "THE LADIES' SAFE PROTECTOR". The immense sales of this article is substantial indorsement of our claim. Do not therefore experiment with any of the numerous unreliable articles as it is both dangerous to health and expensive to do so. Such experimenting can only result in loss of time, disappointment and dismal failure. Ladies should remember this before ordering other goods and not waste their time and money on inferior articles. The best is always the cheapest. "THE LADIES' SAFE PROTECTOR" is sold under a positive guarantee for use for one year, with full directions and is sent sealed in plain wrapper upon receipt of express money order for $2.00, three for $5.00. Probate Order.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw. In a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, on Monday, the 5th day of August in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five.

Present, J. Willard Babbitt, Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of Daniel Doran deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Margaret Conway praying that administration of said estate may be granted to herself or some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered, that Monday, the 2nd day of September next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law, of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the City of Ann Arbor, and show cause if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that notice of the hearing of said petition, and of the hearing of said estate of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this Order to be published in the Chelsea Herald, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

J. WILLARD BABBITT, Judge of Probate.
