Henry F. Gilbert.

Mr. Henry F. Gilbert, a well-known citizen of Chelsea and vicinity, passed away suddenly Monday evening, Sept. 9, 1895. He was married to Miss Hattie Van Tyne Oct. 31, 1877, in the village of Chelsea, by Rev. E. A. Gay.

He left home Monday morning, apparently as well as usual, with a friend on a pleasure trip, returning in the evening. After some little delay his friends found him in a barn near the Baptist parsonage, where he had been caring for his horse. He was sitting in a posture apparently resting. Dr. Schmidt was immediately called and pronounced him dead. Cause, apoplexy.

Mr. Gilbert was a member of the G. A. R. Post in Chelsea, ever in sympathy with its interests and ready to labor for its comrades, in sickness or in health; a man of kind and upright purpose in life, beloved by those who best knew him; a good citizen and faithful friend. He will be missed in the community for his cheerful, hopeful goodwill to all, always so kindly expressed. He has answered the last roll call and laid aside the armor of the soldier like a warrior taking his rest.

The funeral services were held from the Baptist Church, at one o'clock, Sept. 11, 1895. Rev. J. H. Girdwood, of Chelsea, and Rev. H. M. Gallup, of Ypsilanti, officiated.

John E. Cooley.

Died at his home in Coldwater, on Saturday, September 14th, 1895, John E. Cooley, aged 72. Mr. Cooley was born in Seneca county, N. Y., on the 17th day of August, 1823; was married January 14th, 1852, to Miss Julia M. Clark; came to Michigan and located in the town of Lima in 1867, where he has resided ever since, except the last two years. His wife died in 1887, and in 1893 he married Mrs. Elizabeth Markeal, of Coldwater, where he has since resided, and where he died. Only two of his seven children survive him—Mrs. J. J. Wood, of Lima, and Mrs. George T. English, of Branch county. Mr. Cooley was a worthy and respected citizen. He will be deeply mourned by those related to him by family ties, and sadly missed in the neighborhood where he resided so long. Funeral services were held at the residence of his son-in-law, J. J. Wood, on the 18th instant, and his remains were interred at Chelsea.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to express appreciation of the kind aid rendered me in my late bereavement. To the members of the G. A. R., to the choir, to those who furnished flowers, and to all who extended sympathy, I return my sincere thanks.

HATTIE V. GILBERT.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey or other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alternative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old People find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents per bottle at F. P. Glazier and Co's Drug Store.

NO BONDS YET.

Belief That It Will Not Be Necessary to Issue Them.

The President is Silent on the Subject, and We May Be Able to Get Along Without Them—Banks Offer Aid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—In financial and official circles in this city the most prominent subject of gossip is the probability or possibility of another bond issue. The trend of opinion is that there will be an issue if the drain of gold should not soon show a subsidence. There is no one in Washington to-day who can say knowingly that there will be an issue of bonds. The popular belief is based upon the remark that President Cleveland made previous to the last issue—that he should not hesitate to issue bonds at any time when, in his opinion, the situation demanded it. So far the president has made no sign, nor has anyone been authorized to be his mouthpiece. It is known that he looks for a speedy reversal of present financial conditions, and it is believed that he will allow the longest possible time to elapse before he acts.

It is known here that President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle have a distinct understanding as to the treasury. Their policy is to take measures to replenish the reserve whenever the danger point is reached. If the demand for gold for export shall continue unabated, and despite the efforts of public-spirited bankers to assist the government in its struggle the reserve shall certainly dwindle, of course the danger line will be approached sooner or later and the sale of additional securities be made.

Those who are best informed as to the financial situation are very hopeful that trade conditions will shift within the next week or two so that the flow of gold to the other side will stop. Our exports are slowly increasing and the statement issued by the statistical bureau of the treasury department Saturday afternoon shows that our imports are decreasing. The drain upon our resources, chargeable largely to the expenses of American tourists abroad, is falling off very rapidly and so it can be said that the equilibrium is in process of rapid restoration. There is an end to everything and it stands to reason that the balance against us, which is now being settled in gold, will one of these days be entirely paid off, and when that is done exportation of the yellow metal will cease.

Even if the present conditions continue some weeks longer, it is argued that there need be no cause for alarm. The syndicate with which Mr. Cleveland made an arrangement last spring has so far protected the $100,000,000 reserve and has declared its intention of continuing to do so. Perhaps the exportation of $20,000,000 or $30,000,000 more of gold may be endured before anything like a crisis will approach. By that time congress will be again in session.

What action congress will take in the matter is problematical, yet it seems more than probable that the administration will present some plan for the retirement of the United States notes now outstanding. These amount to over $247,500,000, and their presence in our currency is regarded by him as a constant menace to our financial stability. That some measure to this end will be presented in Mr. Cleveland's message on the reconvening of congress is very probable, and it is thought that Mr. Carlisle is now working out a scheme by which this volume of currency can be retired without any serious financial disturbance.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 16.—The news that the heavy withdrawal of gold from the treasury on Friday had reduced the gold surplus to a figure considerable under $100,000,000 caused the banks of Springfield to make an offer on Saturday to the secretary of the treasury to furnish the government $100,000 in gold in exchange for currency. The offer of the Springfield banks is purely patriotic and no demand for a premium on the gold will be made.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—Representatives of Pittsburgh and Rochester banks on Saturday made an offer to deposit $1,000,000 in gold in the subtreasury here to help keep the gold reserve intact, the offer being accompanied by the proviso that the government pay the express charges on the gold.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Friday's excitement over the financial situation engendered by the impression that the bond syndicate had withdrawn its protection from the government gold reserve was succeeded by a calm Saturday. There were no developments to add to the uneasiness in the circles and consequently the feeling tended toward reassurance. The treasury's offer to ship currency taken in exchange for gold at government rates will, it is anticipated, result in deposits of gold next week.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Transfers by telegraph were made Saturday of $405,000 in small bills and $20,000 in silver dollars from the New York subtreasury to the subtreasuries in Chicago and New Orleans. Large bills were deposited in the New York subtreasury by the banks for the currency and silver certificates for the specie. The money is to be used in moving the cotton and wheat crops.

The Forty-Fifth Star.

Another star, the forty-fifth, is going to be added to the flag. The new star will represent Utah, and the order for its addition to the national colors was issued by Secretary Lamont recently. The star will be placed to the right of the fourth row from the top.

The order for the addition of the star is accompanied by one changing the size of the colors. Heretofore the standard has been six feet by five. The new order makes the regulation size five feet six inches by four feet four inches.

The order provides for the new colors to be issued to all infantry, artillery and the battalions of engineers, and also for new standards for all cavalry. The new flags will be very handsome. They are to be made of the finest American silk, and their cost will be quite considerable.

Utah will not attain statehood until the fourth day of next July, but all the flags hereafter contracted for and issued will contain the star heralding the admission of that territory into the union states.

A Few of the Reasons Why Horses are Cheap.

Between electricity or other power on street railroads and the rapid growth of bicycling it is not surprising that the horse is being crowded out of many positions of usefulness which he occupied. Other and superior powers, such as compressed air, bid fair to continue to supply the place of the horse with something more efficient and cheaper, and the prospect is that the market for ordinary horses will not be brisk for a long time. Carriages and coaches propelled by steam are not unheard of. Races between horseless carriages have taken place near Paris this summer.

A firm in New York city is making coaches for pleasure and street traffic propelled by electricity, and capable of outrunning a horse. A Des Moines firm is making an electric carriage which it is claimed will travel 180 miles without having the power diminished. Motor bicycles are now on the market, and are being extensively advertised in the trade papers. The possibilities of compressed air as motive power for carriages and bicycles is a matter for speculation, but that compressed air has a promising future cannot be disputed. This year half a million bicycles have been sold, and manufacturers cannot possibly supply the demand. But with all these improvements, present and to come, there will still be a demand for good horses for business and pleasure, and they will be cheaper and better animals.

The improvements in carrying vehicles will bring improvement in country highways, and the cheapened horses will enable many who can never find any real substitute for the equine quadruped to enjoy the luxury of a horse and carriage. —Electrical Student.

By a law passed last winter every resident of this state who wishes to hunt deer must pay a fee of 50 cents and those from outside the state the sum of $25, getting in return a license from the county clerk of the county in which the application is made. It is estimated that 15,000 blanks will be needed this year.

We clip the following from the Eaton Rapids Herald: "A woman in a city not far from here after burying her seventh husband erected a monument for the whole lot. It consisted of a marble head with the index finger pointing to the sky, and on the base instead of names, ages, etc., were the words 'seven up.'"

The "new woman" is only copying after the ancient dame when she rides astride, as is now the fashion of the royal princesses and the leading equestriennes of both England and America. Joan of Arc rode astride at the head of the French army, and Queen Elizabeth used to ride to falcon hunts in this fashion behind Lord Leicester. It was only in the sixteenth century that the side saddle came into use in England, and women rode astride in Germany until the close of the eighteenth century. In most foreign countries the fashion of riding on one side has never been adopted by women.

People Mentally Onesided.

There are many people who refuse to read anything which does not strictly coincide with their own views. In other words they persistently refuse to hear more than one side of a question, whether they view the subject from a true or false premise, and they become onesided themselves. Such people become narrow-minded and selfish, not the most genial companions. Two people may occupy adverse sides of a question, be honest, and both be in a measure right in their views. Man is a finite being, with limitation in knowledge as well as in power, and he should conduct himself accordingly, as an intimation that other people may know something and be as honest as himself. There is danger, too, in the strict adherence to these, our onesided views, as they often tend to unbalance the mind, create a form of insanity which often designate people as "cranks." Making a hobby of any one question, to the neglect of others of equal importance, is certainly dangerous to the sanity and good common sense with which level-headed people are endowed. The reading of but one newspaper, and that a partisan sheet, or the religious literature in the name of a particular church, which is intensely sectarian, to the exclusion of the more liberal views of other good and intelligent people, is certainly a dangerous thing. Man was not built on this plan, for were every one so constituted man's nature would be out of harmony with the law of progress, and no advance in civilization could be made. As in the dark ages, the few who manifested any degree of political or religious freedom would suffer martyrdom now as they did then.

The intensity of the lives of our American people are too much directed in special lines of thought, which adds a mental strain and tension to the over-worked bodies and brains of our race, which they are unable to bear. The all absorbing greed for money, for power, for fame, for dress, for something good to eat or drink, the undying tenacity of adherence to a particular party or church creed or to some other "hobby horse" ridden to death, must in the nature of things be the mental death of all who "ride." We have seen many cases of this kind, and when we hear people continually "harping" upon a single topic, we cannot help but view their mental safety with some degree of concern. Above all things be charitable with your neighbors and fellow-men. Break the confines of self and let the world know that you are a part of it in sympathy and mutual helpfulness. Consider the fact that the world was not made in a day, nor will the millennium come in a day or a year, and cease to turn the one crank which already offensively squeaks to drive away those who might join in as good or better plan for the reforms which the world needs. No progress can be made without somebody conceding something to make possible and effective the united effort of the majorities which may be got together upon the same platform. Let us have progress, though it be upon conservative lines. Yes! rather conservative than those so radical that only a bloody revolution can open the way for them. The only solution for the removal of the many evils which beset our civilization can be found in the broader and more liberal education of the people—Farmer's Union.

The State Commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. Any person who takes the paper regularly from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not, is responsible for the pay. GREAT BRITAIN has been increasing the force of men in her fleet year after year, thousands at a time, until the total now reaches 83,400. Yet her estimate for the coming year adds 5,450 to that number. The increase of 1,000 which Secretary Herbert will ask for our navy is small, by comparison.

MARK LOUNSBURY of Seymour, Conn., is the head of a great pin factory. Recently he hauled away several tons of defective pins and made of them a sidewalk in front of his house. He expects as soon as these useful implements rust and are pounded down to have the finest pavement in this country.

AMONG the treasures of the Austrian crown are some religious relics that would make the fortune of a church. HORSES are a drug in the market at Port Huron, Mich. Good horses have been offered for sale as low as $15 per head. A farmer living near Port Huron said a few days ago that before spring many farmers would be glad to give their stock away. Many have not hay enough on hand to winter them through.

MR. H. H. BANCROFT, the California historian, and his wife, will make their residence in Cambridge, Mass., while their sons are at Harvard. A GREAT glacier, northeast of Avalanche lake, Mont., and perhaps the only one in the United States south of Alaska, has been discovered, partially explored and photographed. JUDGE SPAMER, of Clifton Hill, Mo., was called upon recently to write and secure signatures for a warranty deed which for the number of legacies surpasses anything of the sort on record. The land was purchased for $1,501 and in order to give a warranty deed it required the signatures from 101 parties, scattered from North Carolina to Oklahoma and Texas.

OUT of total revenues of $300,000,000 Germany spends $118,000,000 for army and navy; England $180,000,000 out of $488,000,000, and France $174,000,000 out of $670,000,000. Dr. Mendes, who gives these figures, estimates the annual military expense of the United States at $80,000,000, but this omits $140,000,000 for military pensions. When these are included our total military expenses are greater than those of any other country with the possible exception of Russia.

THE Hungarian authority who has made, in the past, very close estimates of wheat crops, makes the world's yield for 1895 72,400,000 bushels less than the crop of 1894. This is not a great falling off in the total crop of 2,402,760,000 bushels. The rye crop, upon which Europe quite generally depends, is reported to be 152,000,000 bushels short, so that the aggregate falling off from 1894 of these two bread cereals is about 225,000,000 bushels—not a large quantity, but enough to affect prices unless a large amount is stored away in Europe.

THE Spanish treasury was short in its accounts when it made its last annual settlement some $8,350,000. The total annual receipts from all sources, including lottery schemes galore, are but $140,323,795, and in times of peace the expenses exceed this amount by some eight or ten million. In time of war of course this deficit grows enormously. The total budget debt now is upwards of $100,000,000, an enormous sum for a poor country wholly without credit anywhere north of the Pyrenees. Home rule in Cuba seems among the immediate probabilities.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

Veterans of the Late War Meet in Louisville.

The Blue and the Gray Join Hands—Heroes March the Streets—Watterson's Eloquent Address—Commander in Chief Chosen.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12.—It is doubtful if this city, famous for fair women and fast horses, ever before entertained as many guests as were here Tuesday. Certain it is the town never before had within its limits so many battle-scarred soldiers. It is conservatively estimated that nearly 200,000 strangers are here, but the majority of them thirty years ago bore arms either for the blue or the gray. But the blue and gray are one to-day, and men who were then at war walk arm in arm as brothers. The bitter hatred of these dark days has vanished.

The hour set for the starting of the naval veterans' parade was 10:30 o'clock. But, as usual, there was some delay, not enough, however, to tire the anxious patriotic thousands who had gathered to see it. When the order to "forward, march" was given, the old-timers moved. There were fully 10,000 men in line. Of course, they were not all veterans, or of the United States navy. But these veterans of the navy were the center of attraction, and as those grizzled and gray old heroes passed through the streets they were greeted by patriotic cheers from the throats of the tens of thousands of citizens on the sidewalks, from the windows and housetops.

The Big Parade.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12.—Fifty thousand ex-soldiers of the union army marched through the streets of this southern city Wednesday. Before them at the head of the column rode two Kentuckians who enlisted in the confederate service at the outset of hostilities and fought to the last ditch. One bore aloft the stars and stripes, the other a silken banner of virgin white, having in its center a golden dove, and in its mouth an olive branch. This was typified "The Flag of Peace"—the reunion thirty years after of the victors and vanquished. Three hundred thousand people lined the streets and windows and house-tops and gave the marching hosts a reception that will be memorable in grand army annals, and remembrances of which will be carried by every participant to his last hours.

These great throngs of spectators were tens of thousands of those that fought on the other side, that even today speak with pride of the fact that they rallied under the stars and bars and wore the gray that was so dear to southern hearts. These were the loudest in their plaudits and the most vociferous in joining in the chorus when the strains of "Rally Round the Flag" and other northern war songs filled the air and proudly the great unarmed army received the plaudits of their one-time foemen.

Mounted police first cleared the way. The parade was headed in front of the first division by two distinguished ex-confederates on horseback, Capt. John H. Weller and Capt. William H. Harrison. They did not wear the gray, but were dressed in black Prince Alberts with silk hats and red, white and blue sashes, the same as the members of the citizens' committee. They also wore red, white and blue scarfs and rosettes. Capt. Weller carried a very large flag, and the stars and stripes were proudly borne by him. Capt. Harrison carried a very large white banner of peace mounted on a staff like the stars and stripes carried by his confederate comrade.

Henry Watterson Cheered.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 14.—Glad of the opportunity to rest awhile from the pleasures and festivities that have been showered upon them during the week, the official delegates to the twenty-ninth encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic assembled Thursday morning in Music hall, which had been handsomely decorated with national colors and the official flags of the organization. Promptly at 10 o'clock Commander in Chief Lawler called the encampment to order, and State Commander Kelly was presented to extend greetings to the delegates in behalf of the city and the Kentucky grand army department. Ex-Congressman Warner, of Kansas City, responded for the grand army. Then amid a scene of wild enthusiasm, the delegates rising en masse, and cheering and waving of hats, Henry Watterson, whose oration at Pittsburgh last year brought the encampment to Louisville, was escorted to the footlights, and addressed the grand encampment in a speech full of patriotism and good taste. He said:

Part of the Address.

"Except that historic distinctions have long been obliterated here, it might be mentioned that I appear before you as the representative alike of those who wore the blue and of those who wore the gray in that great sectional combat, which, whatever else it did or did not, left no shadow upon American soldiery, no stain upon American manhood. But, in Kentucky, the war ended 30 years ago. Familiar intercommunication between those who fought in it upon opposing sides, marriage and giving in marriage; the rearing of a common progeny; the ministrations of private friendship; the all-subduing influence of home and church and school, of wife and child, have culminated in such a closely-knit web of interests and affections that none of us care to disentangle the threads that compose it, and few of us could do so if we would.

"God Bless the Flag."

"And the flag! God bless the flag! As the heart of McCallum More warmed to the tartan, do all hearts warm to the flag! Have you upon your round of sight-seeing missed it hereabouts? Does it make itself on any hand conspicuous by its absence? Can you doubt the loyal sincerity of those who from housetop and rooftop have thrown it to the breeze? Let some sacrilegious hand be raised to haul it down and see! No, no, comrades: the people en masse do not deal in subtleties; they do not stoop to conquer; they may be wrong; they may be perverse; but they never dissemble. These are honest flags with honest hearts behind them. They are the symbols of a nationality as precious to us as to you.

Welcome of the South.

"It is with a kind of exultation that I fling open the gates of this gateway to the south! I bid you welcome in the name of the people whose voice is the voice of God. You came and we resisted you; you came, and we greet you; for times change and men change with them. You will find here scarcely a sign of the battle, not a reminiscence of its passions. Grim-visaged war has smoothed his wrinkled front, and wherever you turn on either side, deepening as you advance—across the Chaplin Hills, where Jackson fell; to Stone's river, where Ross fought—and on to Chattanooga and Chickamauga and over Missionary Ridge, and down by Resaca and Renssaw and Allatoona, where Corse held the fort, as a second time you march to the sea—pausing awhile about Atlanta to look with wonder on a scene risen as by the hand of enchantment—thence returning by way of Franklin and Nashville—you shall encounter, as you pass those moldering heaps, which remind you of your valor and travail, only the magnanimous spirit of dead heroes, with Grant and Sherman and Thomas and McPherson and Logan looking down from the happy stars, as if repeating the words of the master: 'Charity for all, malice toward none.'

"We, too, have our graves, we, too, had our heroes! All, all are comrades now upon the other side, where you and I must shortly join them; blessed, thrice blessed we who have lived to see it fulfilled."

The Business Session.

The hall was then cleared of all not members of the G. A. R., and after prayer the business session of the encampment began. Commander in Chief Lawler, in his annual address, touched on many subjects of interest to the veterans.

Adjutant General's Report.

The report of Adj. Gen. C. C. Jones showed that the total membership in good standing on July 1 was 357,639.

COL. L. N. WALKER.

The number of members suspended at the same date was 49,000, figures which he regards as astounding. Nearly 8,000 veterans died during the year. There are 7,245 posts in the country.

St. Paul Wins.

When the encampment reassembled at 2:30 the location of the next encampment was made the special order. The claims of St. Paul were presented by Henry A. Castle and ex-Gov. McGill, those of Denver by Nicholas O'Brien and Gen. John Cook, Jr., and those of Buffalo by F. L. Atkinson, ex-consul to Toronto, and James Graham. The first ballot resulted: St. Paul, 395; Buffalo, 226; Denver, 187; Nashville, 26. The selection of St. Paul was made unanimous.

Indiana Honored.

The election of officers was the next order. For commander in chief Gen. I. N. Walker, of Indianapolis, was nominated by his only competitor, Gen. Thayer, of Nebraska, and chosen unanimously. For senior vice commander in chief Gen. G. H. Hobson, of Greensburg, Ky., and for junior vice commander in chief S. G. Cosgrove, of the state of Washington, were chosen by acclamation.

Veterans at a Barbecue.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 16.—While the Ladies of the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps, as well as the national encampment proper, continued their sessions Friday, there was a special attraction for those who are not delegates in either of these three assemblages. At Wilder park the entire day was devoted to the biggest "old Kentucky barbecue" that was ever spread.

The committee on pensions made a voluminous report in which the order voices its solemn protest against any policy which will impair or diminish the liberal provisions made during the past thirty years for the assistance of veterans of the late war. The report denounces the burdens and restrictions imposed upon pensioners by recent constructions placed upon the laws as unjust and unwise in the extreme. It insists that the law which constitutes a pension once granted a vested right of which the possessor cannot be deprived except by due process of law shall be carried out with the utmost good faith. The newly elected officers were installed and the encampment adjourned sine die.

At the meeting of the new council of administration Friday night Commander in Chief Walker announced the appointment of Gen. Irvin Robbins, of Indianapolis, to be adjutant general.

DEFENDER WINS.

America's Cup Will Stay on This Side of the Water.

The Second Contest Given to the Yankee Boat on a Foul—Valkyrie Backs Down on the Third and Defender Runs Alone.

SANDY HOOK, Sept. 12.—The second contest between the Valkyrie and Defender on Tuesday was marred by an untoward incident. The jockeying for position at the start was as fine a piece of work as has ever been seen, but, unfortunately, it ended in a foul just as the boats were crossing the line. The Defender stood over toward the Long Island shore, and the Valkyrie pursued her. The Defender gybed and stood for the line at 10:54. Capt. Cranfield swung the Valkyrie around, and he was then between the Defender and the wind. Both shot out baby jib topsails. Defender tried a luffing game, but Cranfield was too quick. He held the windward berth as both boats made for the line. They were almost side by side and Defender was trying to walk through the Britisher's lee. Five seconds before gun fire the boats came together, the Valkyrie's steel boom raking across the Defender's deck and carrying away the topmast backstay of the American boat. The Valkyrie then crossed the line and went on her way. The Defender lost several minutes while things were being straightened out. A protest flag was shown by Defender and answered for the judges' boat. The Defender pluckily went in pursuit of the enemy. The official time of start was:

Valkyrie, 11:00:13; Defender, 11:01:15. The damage caused by the accident prevented the Defender from carrying her jib topsail while the Valkyrie held on to hers. Valkyrie turned first mark at 12:57:43; Defender, 1:01:35.

The second leg was a broad stretch to port. The difference in sails was now more marked, and the Valkyrie drew rapidly away. A half an hour before reaching the second mark the English boat led by half a mile. At 1:40 when Capt. Cranfield started to take in the balloon jib, it dragged in the water and held his boat back somewhat. In a few minutes, however, he had it on board again. The Valkyrie was now quite near the mark, and behind her came the Defender. Coming in for the last 3 miles the American boat picked up considerable lost ground, and, notwithstanding her protest flag, finished gallantly. The official bulletin read as follows: Valkyrie, 2:55:22; Defender, 2:57:40. Elapsed time—Valkyrie, 3:55:09; Defender, 3:56:25. Corrected time—Valkyrie, 3:55:09; Defender, 3:55:56. Valkyrie wins, subject to protest, by 47 seconds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The regatta committee of the New York Yacht club reached a decision late Wednesday afternoon in the Defender protest matter, giving the race to the American boat. Lord Dunraven accepts the decision, although he holds that his boat was crowded by the Defender, and that the accident was unavoidable. He said: "I believe in the ability and honesty of the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club. I believe that no effort has been made to influence their decision. While it is very certain that the America's cup is lost by reason of the Valkyrie's racing showing, it is by no means certain that at some time the cup may not be carried across the Atlantic."

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The America's cup races ended in a fiasco. Lord Dunraven withdrew the Valkyrie immediately after the start and the Defender sailed over the course alone. The America's cup committee notified C. Oliver Iselin that three races and the cup were awarded the gallant Defender, and the crowds afloat and ashore cheered the ship that sustained Uncle Sam's supremacy on the seas, and the skipper and crew that sailed her. For at least another year the international trophy is ours, and in all probability it will be many years before a British yacht again challenges for the cup. The mishap of last Tuesday and the rather remarkable action of Lord Dunraven Thursday will not further the interests of international sport. Americans have complained of not being given fair play when racing in English waters, and both in 1893 and this year extra pains have been taken to prevent his lordship from having cause to complain of unfairness here. In withdrawing he does not charge any special unfairness to his boat, but bases his action upon the interference with both yachts caused by the large excursion fleet. The trouble was not caused Thursday, for the course was clear at the start when the British boat withdrew. The objections raised by the owner of the Valkyrie were made before the boats reached the line, and based upon the conduct of the attendant fleet on Saturday and Tuesday. Lord Dunraven sent the America's cup committee a strongly worded letter complaining about the action of steamboats and tugs, and stating that he was not willing to continue racing the Valkyrie unless a clear course was provided. He added that in his opinion the course should be distant from any large city.

Up to the time for the start for Thursday's race, Lord Dunraven had received no reply to his communication. After his withdrawal from the race, he said it was his intention to start if he received a reply, but none coming to hand he merely went down and crossed the line, to give the other boat a chance to make the race.

At 10:55 a gun boomed from the committee boat and the American yacht's ensign went up at the fore. That was the preliminary signal and gave the yachts notice that the preparatory signal would be given fifteen minutes later. All eyes were turned on the British boat and as no steamers were near the course it was expected that she would send up her club topsail and get ready for the race. Great was the disappointment when no activity could be seen on Valkyrie's deck.

At 11:10 a puff of smoke was seen coming from the committee boat and one red ball was sent up. The boats now had ten minutes for jockeying, but the Englishman held aloof. He cruised about the lightship end of the line and did not go near the committee boat. The minutes before the start grew less and less. The Defender bore away for the line with boom to port and spinnaker pole to starboard and the big sail in stops ready for the signal.

At 11:19 the Valkyrie ran up to the windward of the line and swung about and started for it as the Defender crossed. She had not sent up her topsail and had no spinnaker ready. At 11:20 the starting gun sounded. The Defender broke out her big spinnaker and crossed at 11:20:24 official time.

The Valkyrie went over the line near the lightship end at 11:21:59, just one second before the handicap gun. Then she luffed up around the lightship and a red protest flag fluttered from the starboard rigging. They objected to something and had quit the race. Their tug evidently had a preliminary tip, for it was close to the lightship waiting for her. A line was taken from the tug and the cup challenger headed for New York.

The Defender, with spinnaker and balloon drawing well, proceeded on the course alone, finishing in good racing style. The America's cup will remain on this side of the water this year.

Defender crossed the line at 11:20:24. Made the first turn at 1:26:58. Crossed the finish line at 4:04:46. Time of the Defender over the course, 4:48:43, official.

THE GOLD RESERVE.

Heavy Withdrawals for Shipment Abroad Create an Uneasy Feeling.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The chief topic of discussion in financial circles has been the surprisingly heavy gold engagements for shipment by Saturday's steamers. The actual engagements amounted to over $5,000,000. The sudden engagement of $2,500,000 in gold by Lazard Freres & Co., who have been accounted leading members of the government bond syndicate, made a general impression that the syndicate which has stood between the treasury and the gold exporters had been disrupted. J. Pierpont Morgan, the head of the syndicate, specifically denied this. The syndicate says that all its obligations to the government were fulfilled in June last and that there is no agreement to maintain the reserve at the $100,000,000 mark until October, but that since last June they have voluntarily put gold into the treasury to maintain its reserve and would continue to do so even up to the 1st of January if necessary, and if existing conditions make it feasible. Experts explain the steady drain upon the treasury's gold by the backwardness of the cotton and corn crops. In a few weeks, it is predicted, there will be an abundance of commercial bills in the market and the pressure will be relieved.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—The treasury general balance is $181,962,000, of which $99,568,000 is in gold. The deficit so far this fiscal year is $14,000,000, and with the revenues running at the present figures this deficit by January 1 next will approximate $25,000,000 or $30,000,000. The amount realized by the three bond issues made within the past two years exceeds by only $6,000,000 the total treasury balance, so without those issues there would now be an empty treasury. With a full treasury of course it follows that gold can always be had, but with a treasury depleted by expenditures exceeding the revenues, and with the tide of commercial exchange against us, gold is difficult to retain in the treasury.

QUEEN LIL PARDONED.

Hawaiian Council of State Grants Her Amnesty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 14.—Advice from Honolulu per steamer Australia are to the effect that the council of state held a meeting September 5, and after appropriating $10,000 for expenses incurred by the board of health the matter of pardoning political prisoners came up for consideration. The executive recommended that Carl Winemann, "Cupid," the four Lane boys, Junius Kano, Joe Widdlefield and thirty-nine others be pardoned. The council adopted the recommendation. At the same meeting the queen was pardoned also and the others will be liberated as soon as the pardons are made out. Bowler, Rickard, Walker, Seward, Wilcox and the other long-term prisoners will remain in jail. The government will allow all exiles to return to the country with the exception of the Ashford brothers, now in San Francisco.

Odde and Ends.

Robert C. McCabe, a Philadelphian, has memorized the whole of the Bible and can recite it word for word. But what better off is Robert than the man who can repeat only the ten commandments?

One thing the $35,000,000 paper trust will have to do when it begins to cut shingles and show its teeth will be to meet the newspapers of the United States. In such a fight the paper trust won't know whether "it is afoot or a critter-back." The American people are against trusts—and the paper trust may be just the "feather to break the back" of all such monopolies.

From the Grass Lake News: "The village of Napoleon, in this county, boasts of the only base ball nine of the kind in existence. Caleb Foster, of that place, is the father of 11 sons, nine of whom compose a base ball team which puts up a strong game. The youngest is 16 years old and the oldest 35, and all are over six feet in height. It is called the 'Foster Bros.' nine."

And now that the religious papers are waging war against the bloomers, and calling them immodest and almost immoral, a correspondingly great wave of enthusiasm is rising in their favor in feminine hearts, and the whole country is blooming like the poetical rose. Not only bloomers but the masculine knickerbockers are, with us. If the reformers of this, to them, indecency would only learn from experience they would cease to agitate the question and let the fad die out. But it is the same thing which makes our novels popular. Let but the religious press denounce a novel and proclaim it immoral and its author's fortune is made. And now the crime seems to be "Long live the bloomers." Women's fads live on men's objections.

Will Flood the Schools.

If the new compulsory school law, which requires that all children between the ages of 7 and 16 years shall attend school, is enforced as rigidly elsewhere as it is in Lansing, the attendance at the public schools of the state will greatly increase. The local truant officer has been on duty there but three days, but has ordered nearly 75 children under 16 years old to quit work and go to school. Sixteen boys were ordered out of a single factory, and the order retires all the telegraph messengers and numerous cash and parcel boys.

A Book for Young Men.

Edward Bok, the editor of The Ladies' Home Journal, has written a book for young men called "Successward: A Young Man's Book for Young Men," which the Revells will publish in a fortnight. The book aims to cover all the important phases of a young man's life; his business life, social life, his amusements, religious life, dress, his attitude toward women and the question of his marriage. This is Mr. Bok's first book.

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful Speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 For each dollar invested can be made by our Systematic Plan of Speculation originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by a systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred thousand dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE! Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success.
