Joseph Stapish.

Last Saturday November 9, Mr. Joseph Stapish, aged 57 years, who lives about two miles north of town, was striken with apoplexy while about his daily duties. The death of Mr. Stapish was a great shock to his many friends. He was an old and exemplary citizen, and greatly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a widow and eight children to mourn his loss. Among the latter are Mr. William Stapish, a student of the Dental College at Ann Arbor, and Miss Matie Stapish, an efficient teacher in our public school. The funeral was held from St. Mary's church, the Rev. W. P. Considine officiating, last Tuesday in the presence of a large congregations of relatives and friends. The choir sang with great feeling, "Rest, Spirit, Rest," at the offertory. The Men's Sodality attended the funeral in a body. The remains were tenderly laid away in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Mrs. Stapish and children have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

James Cunningham.

Death has been busy of late in Chelsea Last Sunday morning, November 10th, Mr. James Cunningham, a respected resident of this town for many years, went to his eternal reward, after a lingering lliness. Mr. Cunningham was an honest, gentle, unassuming character, of fervent piety and untiring industry. His funeral took place from St. Mary's church on Wednesday morning, November 13th. There was a large attendance at the solemn services, which were performed by the Rev. W. P. Considine. He leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his doss, among the latter being Mrs. John Clark of Lyndon, and Mrs. Josephine Gibbin of Chicago. The remains were interred in Mt. Olivet cemetety to await the ressurrection morn.

The average condition in the state November 1, since 1889 has been reported as follows: 1890, 105; 1891, 91; 1892, 87; 1893, 89; and 1894, 94. The average condition this year is 16 per cent lower than one year ago.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers since the October report was published is 1,124,247 and in the three months, August, September and October, 2,922,715. This is 698,013 bushels less than reported marketed in the same months last year.

The average yield of corn per acre is estimated at 61 bushels in the state, 58 bushels in the southern counties, 68 bushels in the central, and 64 bushels in the northern counties.

The clover seed crop is less than half the usual acreage, and the yield is about 1 bushel per acre. The yield per acre of potatoes is estimated at 96 per cent of an average in the state. The acreage is in excess of the acreage in average years. The estimated yield per acre in the northern counties is 9 per cent above the yield in average years. Live stock is in usually good condition. The crop growing season of 1895 in the lower peninsula of Michigan may be characterized as hot and dry. The readiest limitation and probably the most just is that of age or length of service. A man who, at fiscal year 258,536 immigrants arrived in the age of seventy years, has practically the United States, which is the smallest all his life, been a faithful, conscientious immigration since 1879. Twenty years of continuous service in government employ will unfit any man, however ruggedly constituted in brain or body, for any other form of profitable employment, and the English government long ago found that it is squeezing its civil servants dry and then in their declining years turn them loose without means and without prospects.

A significant fact, as bearing on Mr. Cleveland's attitude toward Mr. Olney's announced "foreign policy," has just been disclosed. It is already known that work on the naval vessels under construction and on the ordinance has been hastened. It is now stated that the hastening of the work was by the direct personal order of Mr. Cleveland. It is an unusual thing for the president to interfere in matters of this sort, they are left entirely to the secretary. The anxiety to have the vessels completed and fitted for actual service as soon as possible, to the extent of personally directing that the work be pressed, is therefore quite significant. Interest is added by the fact that, by special order of the secretary of navy, the season's work of the Naval War College was directed to the study of a plan of defence of the NewEngland coast against a naval force such as Great Britain could send against us. The work on the New England coast was completed, and the answer as to the best mode of defence was worked out and will be kept secret.

A project is on foot to transfer the pension office to the war department, and to age being represented by 100. The conthis end a bill will, it is said, be introduced in congress an an early date. Some tral sections is lower than reported in any such step was advoca ed in the last congress, but was never made an issue. It is now said to be the intention of the promotors of the movement to push it vigorously forward in both the house and senate. Grand Army men are said to be opposed to the change, and the attempt to carry it through the house and senate will probably be contested. They prefer to wait, in the expectation that the pension office will soon be under a new administration. To place the pension office under the war department would virtually remove it permanently from the the political tapis. Grand Army man believe that the pension bureau can be better administered as a part of the interior department than as an adjunct of the department of war, and will contest the change on general principles.

Washington society is as notable for the number of clever matrons this winter as it is rich in its array of the younger children of Vanity Fair. One of the most striking and agreeable features here is that society is not turned over to boys and girls. The capital is one of the few cities in America where the older people control, and their social authority is recognized. Of course young people must always form a bright element, but it requires the presence of the savant, the scholar, and the statesman to give the socio-political circle body, and put it on a level with other capitals. And it is the matron who gives it character and enforces the amenities of social life. The charm of it all is that it is representativethe southern four tiers of counties being ly American and cosmopolitan besides.

The Costliest Book in the World. The only gold-and-silver-bound, diamond-incrusted book in the world was lately enshrined in the holy Mohammedan city of Isnan-Ruza, Persia. The book is, of course, a copy of the Aleconomy to abandon the practice of koran, and is a gift from Abd-ur-Rahnan, whir of Alghanistan

The covers of this unique volume, the sides of which are 91/4x4 inches, are of solid gold plates, one-eighth of an inch in thickness, lined with silver sheets of the same thickness.

The centerpiece, as well as the corners, are symbolic designs, wrought in diamonds, rubies and pearls. The center figure is a crescent, with a star between its points, the whole design being composed of 109 small diamonds, 167 pearls and 122 rubies. The diamonds on each corner, which are almost hidden in their golden setting, and the orange-colored lacquer with which they are fastened, are each worth about $5,000.

The book itself is on parchment, entirely written by hand. It is valued at $125,000. There are said to have been over 100,000 visitors present in Isnan-Ruza the day the holy relic was enshrined.

The Only Venomous Bird Known.

Among all the thousands of feathered creatures classified by the trained ornithologists but one, the rpir n'doob, or "bird of death," is known to be venomous. This queer and deadly species of the winged and feathered tribe is a native of the island of Papua, or New Guinea. The bird is described as being about the size of a common tame pigeon, of gray plumage, and a tail of extraordinary length, ending in a tip of brilliant scarlet red. The venom with which he inoculates is distilled in a set of organs which nature has provided for that purpose, and which lie in the upper mandible just below the openings of the nostrils. Under this poisonsecreting laboratory in the roof of the mouth is a small, fleshy knob. When the bird sets its beak in the flesh of a victim this knob receives a pressure which liberates the venom and inoculates the wound. No man, native or otherwise, was ever known to recover from a bite inflicted by a rpir n'doob.

Fast Railway Time.

A new train on the London and Southwestern Rallroad recently ran from London to Aberdeen, 540 miles, in two minutes less than nine hours, or at an average rate of a little over 60 miles an hour. This beats the record in that country for long-sustained high speed, held by the same road, which was 55.4 miles an hour from London to Edinburgh, 400 miles. But the long-distance record in the United States is still unsurpassed, the New York Central having made the run from Buffalo to New York, 436.5 miles, at an average rate of 61.56 miles an hour. The record for the fastest single mile is also held by that road and train, being one mile in 32 Park street across from the Methodist seconds, or at the rate of 112.5 miles church. GAIN FIVE SENATORS.

REPUBLICANS GET CONTROL OF THE UPPER HOUSE.

Leather Trust Affairs May Be Aired in the Courts-Dead May Number Forty-Another Chicago Murder-Denver's Courthouse Guarded.

Effect on the Senate. When the President to be inaugurated March 4, 1897, begins sending nominations to the Senate that body will be Republican, with a majority of at least eighteen over all opposition. Last year the Democrats lost seven Senators, and this year they lose four more. In the last Congress they had forty-four Senators, one more than a majority of the Senate as then constituted, there being three vacaneies. In the Congress to meet next month they will have only thirty-eight Senators. After March 4, 1897, the Democratic strength in the Senate will be reduced to thirty-three.

The Leather Combine.

"Shoe leather will be dearer than car fare soon if the leather trust has its own way," said a Chicago shoe dealer Thursday. But whether the leather trust will have its own way or not is another matter. From Maine to California a howl goes up from shoe dealers, shoe manufacturers and shoe wearers against the machinations of the trust. It is even whispered that echoes of this how; will be heard before long in courts of law, where trusts are supposed to be nonexistent, or at least where any trust is liable to be flayed alive if caught in the act of being a trust. The leather trust, in its own quiet, unobtrueive way, has been doing business ever since May 1, 1893, steeping hides in pickling vats, shoveling bark on top of them, screping the skins, drying them and finally distributing them all over the world for anybody who had the price to walk over them. When the trust was organized there were twenty-nine firms doing business as tanners, where now there is but one.

Pay for Towing the Obdam. The International Navgation Company has libeled the Netherlands-American Line steamship Obdam, which was towed into Halifax with her shaft broken by the Pennland, for $100,000. It is the general opinion of shipping men that the case is one in which unusually meritorious services were rendered, as the vessel would have been driven ashore on Sable Island and become a total loss during the storm of the following night had she not been fallen in with by the Fennland. A strange coincidence is that just six years ago the Pennland was towed into Halifax under similar conditions by one of the steamships of the Netherlands-Amer-

The second trial of Harry and Dallas Hyans, for the murder of Wells, the first trial having ended in a disagreement, opened at Toronto. It is rumored that the Washington authorities have applied, through Sir Julian Pauncefote, the Britich ambassador, for the release of the twin prisoners on the ground that the weight of evidence is in favor of their acquittal-that eleven jurors to one were in favor of a verdict of "not guilty," and and that the lives of two men who were practically declared innocent should not be imperiled by a second trial.

Newfoundland Poor in Danger. The St. John's, N. F., Herald prints a series of letters from correspondents along the south and west coast to the effect that dire distress prevails among the poorest class of people, especially those receiving pauper relief. The streams are full of treacherous falls and hidden bowlders, and on the Copper River there is a band of Indians who have resclutely kept all miners out of their terri-

The Bardwell Evangelical Church at Tunkhanuock, Pa., was wrecked with dynamite Thursday night while a gospel meeting was in progress. No one was injured. The motive is ascribed to the bitter warfare growing out of the transfer of the church property from the fol-lowers of Bishop Dubs to the Bowman-Esher people.

The Buffalo elevators are becoming blocked with the great flood of grain now being shipped from Lake Superior. Close to 2,000,000 bushels of grain is there, and a large fleet is due. The Erie elevator had five boats Tuesday waiting to unload, and not a car for shipment. Many of the elevators are full, and vessels are experiencing serious delays.

Captain Frederick Lang and his wife were murdered at their home on Franklin avenue, Gardenville, Baltimore, Monday night. Their skulls were crushed as they lay in bed and the flouse was ransacked. It is supposed that robbery was the incentive of the double murder. Captain Lang was a Baltimorean. He was about fifty years old and very wealthy. He owned a great deal of property, including a num-

Its purpose is to hold an international exposition in the City of Mexico in 1898 under grants from the Mexican Government. The capitalization is to be $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares. Besides holding the exposition the company will build tramways and hotels, grant concessions, establish a permanent amusement park and erect buildings. H. H. Holmes was convicted at Philadelphia Saturday of the murder of Benjamin F. Pitzel. "This man of steel and heart of stone," as the District Attorney described him to the jury, does not evince in the slightest any outward signs of breaking down. With death actually before him now, he is the same cool and callous Holmes. The prison regulations prevented any one from interviewing him Sunday, but a message was sent out that he slept well and was feeling comfortable and still confident his innocence would yet be established. Extra care has been taken that the man shall not frustrate the efforts of the prosecution by committing suicide. A double guard has been placed on his cell and will remain there until he has paid the penalty of his crime.

At San Francisco Judge Troutt has annulled the marriage of C. W. Saunders and Mrs. Sadie Saunders, of East Boston, Mass., on the ground that Saunders was a minor when the ceremony was performed. Saunders, who is a son of Oliver H. Saunders, of Boston, testified that he married the woman against his will, and has not seen her since. The lowest estimated value placed upon the taxable property of the city of Chicago is more than ten times its assessed valuation for the present year. A fair appraisement of the city would fix its property value at not less than $2,-500,000,000. This statement is based upon the conservative estimates of insurance, financial and real estate authorities.

Theodore Durrant, assistant superintendent of Emanuel Baptist Church Sunday school at San Francisco, Cal., was on Friday convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont, for which he has been on trial since July 22 last. The jury was out twenty minutes, and arrived at the verdict on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy the punishment was fixed at death.

died Thursday afternoon at Chicago, from the effects of an unsuccessful surgical operation. Mr. Burgess is said to have been second only to Judge Lyman Trumbull in point of length of practice before the Chicago bar. In the organization of special courts in Northern Illinois Mr. Burgess was one of the most prom-inent participants. William T. Burgess was born in 1816 at Magra, Canada, His parents were among the earliest settlers of Northern America, where his father engaged in trading and mercantile pursuits. Mr. Burgess was educated at private schools in his native city, and at the age of 19 crossed the lake to Buffalo. After spending several months in the East he came to Western Illinois. first settled at Itockford, and transacted legal affairs for the residents of several counties. Newspaper circles and clergy of the city, and the whole poetry-loving, English speaking world, is profoundly touched with sorrow at the demise of this best-loved of men. The loss does not come alone to men and women. Children's eyes all over the land will flush with tears and childish hands forsake their play because the touch of death has fallen upon the lips of him who sang their sweetest lullabys. What child is there in a home worth the calling who has not "sailed away in the wooden shoon" with Wynken, Blynken and Nod, or gazed with swelling throat and overflowing eyes upon the deserted tin soldier, sturdy and stanch, and the other toys, awaiting the return of Little Boy Blue, "since he kissed them and put them there?" And not one of all these little folk but will know a new grief when they learn that this friend of faries and children, this dreamful and gentle-souled jester, has gone to look for his Little Boy Blue. Whether in the West or the East, in America or in Eugland, the most authoritative critics have paid Field their praises as a poet who sang the simple songs of the human heart with a faultless melody and touched his lyre with an exquisite delicacy.

The President also appointed Patrick H. Kirwan, of Olivia, surveyor general of Minnesota.

Prof. W. J. McGee, chief anthropologist of the bureau of ethnology, left Washington on what will probably prove one of the most interesting expeditions ever sent out by the department. Professor McGee intends, if possible, to visit the stronghold of the Seri Indians on Tiburon Island, a rocky bit of territory in the Gulf of California, nominally a possession of Mexico, but practically a possession of the Seri Indians. It is a spot that has never been visited by white men. The treasury statement of receipts and disbursements for October and the first four months of the current fiscal year affords some comparisons which will interest business men. The October deficit was whittled down during the last ten days from $10,500,000 to $6,161,000, which reduces the total shortage for the four months to $16,045,000, or $4,000, 000, which is the almost exact average monthly deficit during the thirty-two months of the Cleveland regime. The October receipts footed up $28,000,000 and the disbursements $34,000,000. The governmental income and outgo for the first four months of 1895-1896, as compared with the corresponding period of last year, is set forth with some detail in the following tabulation:

A severe and prolonged earthquake shock was felt at Home, Italy, at 4:39 Friday morning. Many houses swayed badly, walls were cracked, pictures and other articles fell from the walls and other places, people ran panic-stricken into the streets and a serious disaster was for a time apprehended. Happily, the first shock seems to have ended the seismic disturbanti. So far as is known no serious damage was done. An inspec tion of the public buildings will be made to determine the extent of the injuries, if any, that have been sustained. The prison of Regina Colli was so badly shaken that the terrified prisoners broke out into open revolt and tried to escape. The situation became so serious that the troops from a neighboring barrack were hastily summoned. The inmates were driven back to their cells at the point of the bayonet. The Vatican buildings were severely shaken. The series of shocks lasted about eleven seconds. Two clocks in the observatory were stopped, and the old tower of the Roman College was cracked. Earthquake shocks were also felt at Rocca di Papa, but, although the people were thrown into a panic, no serious damage was done.

IN GENERAL

The Canadian Government is reported to be establishing fortified posts along what they claim is the Alaskan boundary. The United States Leather Company, known as the leather trust, has shut down the 100 taneries under its control for sixty days.

The Cunard Line steamship Campania, rom New York to Queenstown, reports that on Monday, in latitude 45 and longitude 48, she saw a burning three-masted wooden vessel. The Campania bore down upon her and found she had been deserted. It is supposed that the crew had already been picked up by a passing vessel. The passengers of the Campania say that the burning ship presented a grand spectacle.

Information has reached Washington that the members of the Nicaraguan Canal Commission have signed their report on the inspection of the proposed route for the waterway and sent it to the State Department. It is generally believed that the report is favorable to the construction of the canal under Government management. It is thought the estimate as to its prospective cost will be about $100,000,-

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The rapid recovery in cotton, and the rise in sterling exchange to the point at which the last exports of gold were made, have not increased conidence. There is a little better demand for most manufacturing products, and retail distribution is fairly encouraging and the closing of many works is less significant at this season than it might be at others. It is a time of waiting, and uncertainty may naturally continue for some weeks."

Five more of the whaling fleet arrived at San Francisco from the north Tuesday. They were the steamers Narwhal and Orca, the brig Hidalgo and the barks Alice Knowles and Lydia. With the arrival of the Orca, the last hope of a catch in the late season dies. The Iosario brought news that the whalers had gone to the westward and there was yet a chance for the blubber hunters to redeem themselves. According to Captain Mc-Gregor there were any number of whales to the westward, but they were inaccessible on account of the ice. McGregor says this ends the worst year he ever experienced in the Arctic. He caught but one whale. The catch of the Arctic fleet amounted in all to twenty-six whales, the smallest known in many years. The yield of bone from the catch will be about 40,000 pounds, which means that whalebone will be high this year. Bone is now selling for $2.75 a pound, and it is estimated that the price will be advanced to $5 before the sale begins.

So quick were they that the thieves got away from the train before the passengers really knew what had occurred. They secured nothing from Muller, Muller was a passenger on the Erie train that leaves the Monon depot at Polk street at 8 o'clock. Before getting on the train, and, in fact, early in the day, he had been warned of the danger of carrying any sum of money in his clothes, and taking that advice he had his money converted into bills of exchange and carried only a few cents on his person.

Grand Vizier Goes Out.

Constantinople advices say: Kiamil Pasha, the Grand Vizier, has resigned. According to the most recent reports Kiamil Pasha will be replaced as Grand Vizier by Said Pasha, formerly Grand Vizier, and now Minister for Foreign Affairs, and the latter will be succeeded by Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish Ambassador to Germany, who has left Berlin for the city. The report that the Ambassador of the powers, owing to the recurring disturbances in various parts of the Turkish empire, went to the Porte and urged that immediate and adequate measures for the restoration of order be taken, is confirmed in official circles. The representatives of the powers declared that otherwise the powers, acting in concert, would take their own steps in the matter, and the Turkish Minister for Foreign Affairs, Said Pasha, was requested to state what steps the Porte intends to take in order to terminate the present state of anarchy.

Marlborough Claims His Bride. Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt was united in marriage at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday, in the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. Thomas, New York, to Charles Richard John Spencer Churchill, ninth Duke of Mariborough, Earl of Sunderland, Baron Spencer of Wormleighton, Baron Churchill of Sandridge, Prince of the Holy Roman Empire and Prince of Mindelheim, in Swabia. As upon previous occasions when American heiresses have bestowed themselves upon titled foreigners, the ceremony was witnessed by that select and exclusive body known as "society." Following the ceremony at the church, for which over 4,000 invitations were issued, there was a breakfast and reception at the home of Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, the guests for the latter function being limited to 300 in number.

Probably Forty Killed.

The hundred or more employes of the Detroit, Mich., Journal were busy early Wednesday morning preparing for an extra edition, when suddenly a part of the building was wrecked by the explosion of boilers in the basement. Seventeen bodies were recovered from the ruins by night, some thirty tenants and employes in the building were yet missing, and there can be no doubt that most of these are lying dead under the debris. The work of rescue was rushed to the utmost all day and night, but progress was very slow. The debris and brick were dumped into an almost solid mass, upon which quantities of water were poured and into which comparatively little headway could be made. Twenty-two were rescued in a helpless condition. Of these several will

The judge found the five prisoners guilty, and sentenced them to terms of imprisonment of from twenty to forty days each together with fines of from $100 to $200 each. All the cases were appealed to the Supreme Court. The most prominent of those connected is Michael Tobin, one of the Whitewayite members of the assembly for Placentia district, and the governor of the savings bank. The others are also strong supporters of the Whitewayite government.

DURRANT IS DOOMED

FOUND GUILTY OF THE MURDER OF BLANCHE LAMONT.

End of the Trial at San Francisco-Verdict Falls with Crushing Effect Upon Prisoner and Friends-Extraordinary Scene in the Court Room

Death the Penalty. Theodore Durrant, of San Francisco, tist Church Sunday school, was on Friday convicted of the murder of Blanche Lamont, for which he has been on trial since July 22 last. The jury was out-twenty minutes and arrived at the verdier on the first ballot. As there was no recommendation of mercy the punishment was fixed at death.

There was no deliberation at all. The jury had evidently decided upon a verdict before they left the box. It was 3:33 when they filed out of the courtroom.

and at 3:55 a knock on the door announced that a verdict had been found It took just five minutes of actual time to elect a foreman and take the one ballot necessary.

As the aged foreman, pale and trembling, read the words that fixed Durrant's fate a noise like the roar of a mob arose from the rear of the courtroom. The next moment men were cheering wildly, while women wept hysterically in excitement. The bailiff rapped loudly for order, but the tumult continued for a minute before anything like quiet could be brought out of the disorder. Judge Murphy named the day for sentence, and said he would then also fix the date of Durrant's trial for the murder of Minnie Williams.

During the tumult that followed the announcement of the verdict Durrant and his mother were lost sight of except by the few who sat nearest them. As the 'ast words of the verdict were uttered Durrant made a spasmodic effort to arise

Aside from the spectators Mrs. Noble Blanche Lamont's aunt, and Maud Le mont, the dead girl's sister, were apparently the happiest persons in the room When the verdict was announced Mand Lamont sprung from her seat, clasped her hands and then cried of sheer exritement. Mrs. Noble mixed smiles with tears and shook hands with a number of friends who crowded around to congratulate her.

"Steady, old man. I tell you I was not but at myself. My dear old Paul, I can't afford to laugh at you because I am just as bad. Here we are, two days out on the briny sea, tossing about like mad, and I'm bound to confess that it seems quite natural. Only it does seem strange to me. Instead of attending lectures and seeing operations and waiting patiently till six months are over and I can succeed to my practice, here I am, bound for a savage island in the Caribbean

EATING MEAT RAW.

A Curious Habit Said to Be Increasing in London.

The well-known favor with which Englishmen regard underdone beef brings to notice a curious habit which is said by the New York Advertiser to be on the increase in London, that of eating meat raw, or nearly so. The habit started from a belief that it was conducive to health.

Of late years there has been a great wrote that might have been describing run on the gravy or juice expressed from raw beef by the latter being squeezed into pulp; but, quite apart from this, many regular customers buy the finest cuts with a special view to eating the latter raw, each customer having an earnest belief that he benefits in health from the practice. In said Bart, after a glance at Paul. "But most cases it is more a matter of health I say, what is that we read about the than of actual taste. There are two remarkable points about raw meat eating, one of them being that a great yourselves. It's a savage kind of faith the blacks brought with them from the many butchers themselves constantly west coast of Africa, and the colored cut prime bits off and chew them.

The other point is that a great many people, who do not at home eat in a raw state the meat that they buy, judge the quality when buying by chewing a bit of raw meat, just as they might taste of butter or cheese. A celebrated London barrister eats quantities of the best steak finely minced with salad, and in a great many other cases the meat is cut into very slim shreds and made into sandwiches, with seasoning added. Restaurant-keepers say that the chief call is for meat very much unas a degrading superstition; but to a derdone, but there are great numbers of faddy people who eat meat absolutely

Cuban Coffee Making.

In a letter to the New York Tribune by an expert on coffee, the writer, after speaking of the different varieties of the bean and their comparative merits, gives the details of making coffee as it is done in Cuba, where the most delicious coffee obtainable anywhere is to found. "It is prepared by first half filling a coarse flanuel bag with finely pulverized, roasted coffee, and suspending it from a hook over the pot or other vessel. Cold water is poured on the bag at intervals until the entire mass is well saturated, then the first drippings, which have fallen into the receptacle, are poured again over the bag until the liquid becomes almost thick and very black. One teaspoonful of this extracted liquid, placed in a cup of boiling milk, will yield a draught of coffee that is simply delicious-a nectar fit for the gods. In Cuba this flannel bag hangs day and night on the wall, the process of pouring on the cold water and allowing it to drip being almost ceaseless in its operation. All classes, ages and conditions drink coffee there as freely as we do water."

The Als nt-Minded Professor. Prof. C. had gone to spend the evening at a friend's house. When he was about to leave it was raining very heavily, wherefore the hostess kindly offered him accommodations for the night, which he readily accepted. Suddenly the guest disappeared, nobody knowing what had become of him, and the family was about to retire for the night when Prof. C. walked in, as wet as a drowned rat. He had been home to fetch his night shirt!

The famous stallion Ambassador, the property of the Kalamazoo Farm Company, died at the Kalamazoo farm Friday morning. But three years ago S. A. Brown & Co. were offered $60,000 for Ambassador. The purchase price was $18,500. Among his most illustrious performers are Sciota Girl, Lady Wilkin, Cuckoo, Dancourt and Wyandot, all with records better than 2:20. Dancourt's famous victory at the Blue Ribbon meeting in Detroit in 1894 is still fresh in the minds of horsemen all over the country.

May Be Depopulated of Deer. The open season for the killing of deer in Michigan is on and the exodus to the north woods during the last few days has been enormous. It is estimated that over 10,000 licenses to hunt deer have been granted by the county clerks. Each license entitles the holder to kill five deer, and a coupon must be attached to each animal shipped. If every deer hunter kills the number to which he is entitled there will not be enough deer left in Michigan to perpetuate the species. The license fee is 50 cents for residents and $25 for non-residents. Pot hunters who desire to slaughter a large number of deer will find an opportunity to evade the law by taking out several licenses under dif-

A New Reading Circle.

The growing abundance of literature is making it more and more difficult to select and to read with profit. Long ago admirable reading courses were devised which served a double purpose subjects and books were selected after a true educational plan and studies were helpfully directed. Often these courses were long and expensive, preventing people of small leisure and means for reading from accepting their good offices. Nearly two years ago a company of literary people devised the Bay View Reading Circle, to serve where the others bad failed, and its short and low-priced course has become very popular. This year the circle makes a specialty of England and astronomy. The course requires an average of less than half an hour daily, and the books, which may be bought anywhere, cost but $3. It is possible for every place to have a circle. Descriptive circulars of the course and telling how to organize can always be procured from the central office, which is located at Flint, Mich.

Girls in Grewsome Business. Secretary Wade, of the U. of M., re ceived a letter from Eaton County, and opened it under the impression that he was the officer intended in the direction-"Superintendent of College, Ann Arbor, Mich." The contents were as follows:

"Sir-Could you tell me where it is in Ann Arbor they buy persons' bodies and pay for them now, and then have them when dead? My chum is 19 years old, has light hair, blue eyes, and weight is 120; height, 5 feet 7 inches; name Miss _____, and I am 5 feet 7½ inches, weight 130, brown hair and eyes, age 19 years; name is ---. The names are both feminine and the address is a well-known city. The university people are not likely to engage in such a speculation, even to accommodate two young ladies of 19.

Lumber Statistics. Lumber shipments from Saginaw River for September aggregated 17,084,000 feet. No shingles went out by water and only 702,000 pieces of lath. Total shipments from opening of navigation to date were 113,366,292 feet of lumber, 8,165,-000 shingles and 1,357,000 pieces of lath. Lumber shipments are 54,000,000 feet less for the same period in 1894, and 200,000,000 less than for the same months in 1892. Lake freights are $2 from Bay City and $2.12 from Saginaw to Buffalo, and $1.50 and $1.52 to Ohio ports.

An unusual scene was witnessed in Kalamazoo Wednesday. At the request of the Ministerial alliance, under whose auspices Evangelists Whittle and Burke are conducting revival meetings there, that day was selected as a day of prayer in the city. All the business houses were asked to close from 2 to 4, and the great majority agreed to do so. It was suggested that the tt.loonkeepers also be asked to close during these hours and a committee went around to secure their consent. As a result every prominent saloon in the place was absolutely shut up during the two hours requested, and on some of the doors was posted this sign: "Closed from 2 to 4 for the prayer meeting." As far as known it is the first time in the State that liquor dealers have closed to help out evangelists. The meeting was crowded and drinks could not be obtained during the two hours

A big scheme has been evolved to develop the northeastern part of Wexford County. W. W. Cummer and his Cadillac associates hold 27,000 acres of hardwood land in this district, and they intend, instead of taking off the timber and letting the land go to waste, to divide it up into farms after it is partially cleared. The land will be divided into sections and standard-guage logging railroads will run along each section line, all the crossroads connecting with the main line. The timber will be taken out on each side of the railroads, but much will be left in the center of cach section, when the land is offered for sale. The rails will then be taken up and good roads made by a liberal application of gravel. The timber, as it is cut, will be taken to Cadillac to be manufactured. The Cummers still own 200,000,000 feet of pine in that vicinity, and it will take fully three years to clear it off. Then they will commence on the hardwood.

Port Huron is now in the throes of a coal rate war, and consumers are correspondingly happy. A short time ago all the coal dealers of the city advanced the price of hard coal to $6 per ton. Shortly thereafter H. H. Buckeridge entered the field as a coal dealer and started in to fight the local association, reducin; the price of his coal to $5.50 per ton. Since Mr. Buckeridge has been doing a landoffice business, getting more orders than he could supply. A few days ago, it is alleged, Mr. Buckeridge received notice from the anthracite coal trust not to cut prices or else suffer a boycott. Mr. Buckeridge paid no attention to the threat and all other coal dealers in the city reduced the price of hard coal to $5 per ton for cash. It is now a war of extermination between the dealers and the price will perhaps go still lower. Last year a similar war was on and coal sold all winter for $5 per ton. This year the consumers are reaping another benefit.

The American, United States, National, Wells-Fargo, and Pacific express companies have promulgated a new schedule. General Agent Reed of the American express company said: "All the companies have had hold-ups during the last few months and robbed of more than $100, 000. The expenses of protecting money by armed guards on the trains and by detectives has made it necessary to increase the charges on carrying money, and the companies have decided to make a general raise in the charge." Asked if the banks would not retaliate by refusing to cash the express companies' money-orders, he said: "No, they cannot afford to do so, as they know we protect our orders.' The Canadian companies are not in the combine, it appears, and will maintain old rates. The Michigan Bankers' Association, as soon as notified of the increase for transporting money, held a meeting and decided to fight the companies, and as a means of winning will establish clearing houses.

The last Legislature enacted a law prohibiting fire insurance companies from writing policies limiting or restricting their liability by reason of the failure to insure his property for any certain amount or for any proportion of the actual cash value of the property. This law was designed to do away with the 80 per cent. coinsurance clause which had for several years been a part of the Michigan standard policy. In August last the State policy commission accepted two riders which were presented by fire-insurance companies and which, it is claimed, gives the companies the benefits the law prohibits. Manufacturers and lumbermen, who are most affected by these riders, assert that property-owners were given no hearing on the question of adopting these riders, the companies alone being represented at the meeting of the policy commission. The manufacturers assert that the new riders are in flagrant violation of the law, and the petition of about 200 of them for a rehearing has been granted by the commis-

For the first tin e in the history of the University of Michigan a foreigner has been elected to fill a class office. At the class election of the '96 medics Miss Mary Stone was chosen as vice president. About ten years ago Miss Howe, a missionary to China from the United States, picked up two little waifs-Mary Stone and Ida Kahn. At this time the girls were heathens, but Miss Howe put theil in a missionary school and taught them to speak and read English, and soon converted them to the Christian religion. Mary proved a brilliant student and after three years' study in the mission was able to read and write English perfectly. Knowing the brilliant mind of her pupil, Miss Howe determined to bring her to America for a college education. Mary Stone and Ida Kahn, her companion, left Kinkiang, China, with three Chipese boys under Miss Howe's care. On arriving in this country the party was allowed to enter without trouble, so much did they resemble English people. They started at once for Ann Arbor, and Miss Stone and Miss Kahn and two of the boys took the entrance examinations and all passed with high honors and are still studying there in the university. Miss Stone entered the medical department and soon showed herself to be an apt At Ypsilanti William Wortley and wife

WORKS WHILE HE SLEEPS.

Singular Faculty of a Kentucky Man of an Industrious Turn.

Archibald Clark, a farmer living a few miles from Greenup, is without doubt the most remarkable somnambulist in the State. During the past summer he has been accusing his neighbors of slipping into his truck patches at night and cultivating them. Of course he did not object to this, but thought it most extraordinary. It was also a strange fact that they always did at night what he intended to do the following day. Becoming anxious to know which of the neighbors he was indebted to for the kindness he spent many wakeful nights watching his truck patches, but without success. No one ever came into them when he was on the watch, but when he would miss watching for a night there was invariably some work done. A short time ago he drove his wagon into his potato patch late one evening, so that he could load it early in the morning. He was very anxious to get well on his way to market before sun-up. However, he overslept himself, and got up in a terrible stew; but great was his surprise when he went into the potato patch to find the wagon already loaded and horses hitched to it, ready to start, thus saving him a couple of hours' time and hard work. One night his wife saw him stealing out of the house in his night clothes, and, following him to the barn, saw him take a mattock and go out and begin digging up grubs in an old fence row. She then understood who had been doing her husband's work.-Louisville Post.

In the Autumn.

They did not meet again until the autumn. It happened quite accidentally. Her sweet eyes were the same that he had seen ever before him, waking or sleeping, since their parting, but there was no trace of the old tenderness, and her cheek never pinkened when she saw him.

Was it possible that she had forgotten? And he had been dreaming of her. Picturing their first meeting; the clasp of their hands; the warm fragrance of

The long mornings in the canoe, the lazy afternoons on the slanting yacht deck, she enthroned in a cushloned chair, he at her feet with book or banjo, their love all the sweeter for being unspoken-and that day riding through the shady country lane, when he had nearly told herwhen she gayly plucked a rose from an overhanging vine and leaned across in her saddle to fasten it in his coat.

He looked at her over the blurred space between them with the old mastery in his eyes; but her voice was steady, and she said quite distinctly: "If you can match this shade exactly, you may send me four yards and threeeighths in the same width."

Feud Settled by Marriage.

A feud lasting over ten years, in which blood was twice spilled, once on a church step, has just ended by the marriage of William Hyland and Jessie Potter at Maidstone, Ont. A decade ago William began to court Jessie, and her parents seriously objected, even to the point of kicking Hyland from the house, setting the dog at him, blazing away at him with a shotgun and later attacking him on the church steps. The church, even, was divided on the affair; families were set against each other, and two or three court cases grew out of it. Hyland had perseverance and Jessie was constant, and despite the combinations of clubs, shotguns and flerce dogs they succeeded in ending their ten years' courtship. When Jessie's father and brother heard of the ending they decided that Hyland had fairly won the bride, and sent word to him to come over to the house, that all was forgiven. Maidstone people are singing psalms of rejoicing over the happy culmination of the long fight.

Ancient Roman Wines.

A curious account of ancient Reman wines was written toward the end of his life by M. Grenier, of the Paris Constitutionel, who died a few days ago. It appears that all our preconceived ideas as to wine must be abandoned in thinking of these liquids. They were rather to be compared to the sweetened drinks and even to the confections of our own day, being either sweet by nature or rendered so by mixing with them a compound of various solid substances. Honey, cheese, essence of flowers and many other ingredients were thus used, and in such quantities as often to convert the wine into a sort of jelly.

Lined with Sardine Boxes. A short time ago a lady in Paris became violently insane on the street and was sent to an asylum. Her apartments in the Rue Rambuteau-fine ones, for which she paid an annual rent of 2,000 francs-were then visited. An intolerable stench pervaded them. The demented woman had completely "tinned" them with empty sardine boxes, which emitted the peculiar perfume. There were four cartfuls of these odorous boxes.

Throwing Away Fruit. So much fruit has been raised in California this season that the local markets have been glutted, and in San Francisco tons of melons, pears and plums have been thrown into the sea. The latter way of disposing of the fruit was one of wilful waste, for it might have been given to the poor of the city -people too poor even to buy the stuff, cheap as it was. But this course would not have been business, and probably would have prevented sales on succeeding days. One day recently canteloupes were selling in San Francisco for 10 cents a crate, and watermelons could not be sold even at two to five cents each. That same afternoon 500 crates of canteloupes, 200 crates of watermelons and a great amount of plums and pears were dumped into the bay.

The gold which is taken from teeth which have been filled or which is filed or scraped from the gold used in making tooth-crowns or new gold fillings is no inconsiderable item for a dentist to consider. A New York dentist recently told a reporter that the sweepings from his carpet netted him $35 in a single month. The little scraps of gold that remain after many operations are gathered in bottles and sold at a mercial value. The price paid by dealers is, of course, much less than that years as they have been coming down asked for the sheets of gold bought by the dentist.

Gold used in dental operations is of several degrees of fineness. Fourteencarat gold has its uses in the making time is not unusual with a busy member ofthe profession. Where assistants are employed by a dentist in the manufacture of teeth, the amount which they are to use is weighed out to them and a record is kept of the amount which is used. The sweepings from the laboratory often contain much valuable metal. Even the coats of those who are at work on the gold are carefully brushed and many particles of the precious metal removed and preserved. A vial containing bits of gold mixed with other metals did not present and let them come to a boil, then he an attractive appearance when it was recently shown in a New York dentist's office, but the contents of the vial were said to be valued at $25. > New Species of Roses. A new race of roses has been introduced by some Paris growers. They belong to the polyantha group-that is to say, they bear their flowers in trusses. The new roses have the advantage over others of being "perpetual," and consequently they flower continuously all through the summer. This advantage they owe to their origin, a natural cross (croisement naturel), observed in the Lyons gardens, between the flowers of the first specimens of polyantha introduced from Japan and some hybrid perpetual roses. which, like annuals, germinate, flower and produce seeds in less than a year. The term "dwarf" is justified by the height, which, in adult plants, is only about twenty inches. The flowers are single, semi-double or double in almost equal proportions, and present almost all the variation of color observed in cultivated roses. Flowering commences in the first year and even a few months after sowing. This precocity is one of the most remarkable and interesting features of this new type.

Why She Wanted a Continuance. An old lawyer once told about a case he had, but which he didn't keep.

An old Irishwoman sent for him in great haste one day. She wanted him to meet her in the criminal court. He hastened to the court house all out of breath. The woman's son was about to the lawyer entered the court room the old woman rushed up to him and in an excited voice said: "Mr. B-, Ol want ye to git a con-tinyance for me b'y Jimmie.' "Very well, madam," replied the lawyer. "I will do so if I can, but it will be necessary to present to the court some grounds for a continuance. What shall I say?"

"Shure, ye can jist tell the court Of want a continyance till Oi can get a better lawyer to try the case."

The lawyer nearly fainted when he heard this, and after telling the woman that she would have to get another lawyer to get the continuance he hurried back to his office a very angry man.

Washington as a Mason.

George Washington, it is recalled now that the annual convention of the Knights Templar is attracting attention to the Masons, entered the fraterity before he was 21. He took his second degree when he came of age. His degrees were conferred in Fredericksburg Lodge 4, which was organized in Virginia under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts. The following records are copied from the books of Fredericksburg Lodge; November 4, 5752—Received of George Washington, for his entrance, £2.3." "March 3, 5753—George Washington passed Fellow Craft." "August 4, 5753 George Washington raised Master

It is singular and yet a fact that the virtues we are most loath to believe used by others are those we are ncapable of ourselves.

It is a habit with some people when they wish their own virtues to look the whitest, always to use the faults of others as a background.

Results of the Election. A landslide in Maryland, a Republican victory in Kentucky, and the return to power of Tammany in New York City were the features of the elections, In Maryland the Democrats met a veritable Waterloo. The whole State seemingly repudiated Senator Gorman and the indications now are that a Republican will succeed Senator Gibson. Baltimore went Republican by from 5,000 to 10,000. Lowndes' election as Governor by a majority of anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 is conceded by the Democratic committee.

In New York the Republicans elect their entire State ticket and carry the State by an increased majority. Gonservative estimates place the figures at from 50,000 to 60,000. New York City is carried by Tammany, but the combined Democratic vote of that city and Brooklyn shows a loss of about 12,000. The Legislature is solidly Republican. New Jersey was carried by the Republicans by from 18,000 to 20,000. John W. Griggs is elected Governor Cities and precincts expected to give large Democratic majorities were found to have gone

In Kansas the election of David Marthe Republican candidate for rhief justice of the Supreme Court, is conceded The Republicans carried Chicago and Cook County by pluralities considerably less than those given their ticket one year ago. The Democrats made gains in almost every ward of the city, but their combined gains were not sufficient to overcome the Republican excess in 1894. Farlin Q. Ball, Republican, defeated Richard W. Morrison, Democrat, for the vacancy on the Superior Court bench by 36,098 plurality. For the full term on the same bench Judge Henry M. Shepard, Democrat, was elected without opposition to succeed himself. Judge Shepard received a total vote of 134,339, which was only about 2,000 less than the combined vote of Ball and Morrison. HORROR IN DETROIT.

Beiler Explosion Wrecks a Building -Seventeen Persons Killed. At about 9 o'clock Wednesday morn the boilers in the Journal Building, ner of Larned and Shelby streets, De troit, exploded with terrific force. That portion of the building, about forty feet wide, immediately collapsed, scores of people in the ruins. A great many girls and women were employed in the building. Within a short time nine unidentified bodies had been taken from the ruins, and many more were inaccessible. While the work of rescue was progressing, voices could be heard from imprisoned sufferers.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the ruins broke out in flames, and the great clouds of stifling smoke seriously impeded the firemen in their work of rescue. A number of stereotypers at work on the fifth floor went down with the wreck. There were from twenty-five to thirty at work in the Days that flitted-none knew where; building. The large building was cut cleanly in two from front to rear by a gap of forty feet wide, at the bottom of which was left an almost solid pile of timbers, bricks and debris.

From revised lists of tenants and employes it is thought there were nearly fifty people in the collapsed section Up to midnight Wednesday seventeen bodies had been taken to the morgue and twentyseven persons were still unaccounted for. A Farewell. Months of sunny life and fair Hours of pleasure, hours of pain, Hours that ne'er can come again. They are gone, but do you find You can leave them all behind?

Come not memories evermore Drifting round you from that shore? Words which lessened every care, Thoughts no other e'en could share, Duties that we ever met With one thought-can you forget?

Can you calmly thus efface From life's tablet every trace Of the hopes and prayers and tears We have shared in all these years? Can we all these memories smother, And "be nothing to each other?"

When for us life's task is o'er And we tread its path no more; When, 'mid shadows dimly falling We shall hear the angels calling, As we calmly stand and wait, Just outside the golden gate-

Then will these dark moments seem But a phantom or a dream. In that dawn of purer light You will read all things aright, False words will not seem as true-In that morn-Adieu! Adieu! -Lillian Whiting.

A Fabulous Fortune. In a humble house in Natoma street San Francisco, in circumstances far from easy, lives John Poultney, heir to something like $400,000,000, and incidentally owner of a seat in the upper house of the British Parliament. At least, that is the story he tells. With almost indisputable evidence in his possession to substantiate it, he has had very little trouble in securing the assistance of several well-known lawyers. There are now interested in the case

J. A. Hale, ex-District Attorney of Santa Cruz; Judge Walter H. Levy, W. H. H. Hart and Joseph P. Kelly. These gentlemen think so well of the proofs submitted by Mr. Poultney that at a meeting held yesterday at the office of Judge Levy they decided to send Mr. Kelly to England to secure the one link in the chain of evidence connecting and able to work. In fact, he has wor in the chain of evidence connecting all the present season, and worked had their client with the hundreds of milliions left by Sir William Poultney, prominent in the social and political history of England. -This gentleman was, during his time, a barrister of great note, and at one time Lord of the Exchequer. In 1885 he died intestate, leaving an estate worth many millions. The San Francisco claimant has filed with his attorneys a clear statement of his relationship to the dead Sir William Poultney, and a general summary of the property owned by him.

The attorneys who have taken up the cause of the San Francisco claimant are positive of their ultimately securing the estate for their client. There is one missing link, and it is to pick this one missing link, and it is to pick this up, if possible, that Mr. Kelly will make that this "F. H. HILL, Druggist" the trip to England. They say that this is not absolutely necessary to the success of the cause, though without it the present trustee would not yield the $400,000,000 without a long legal struggle.-Philadelphia Item.

Massachusetts Republicans re-elected Gov. Greenhalge by increased majorities. In spite of its being an off year the ticket went through with more to spare than it

Big Majorities in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania went Republican with increased majorities. The voting early in the day indicated but little interest, and a probable falling off of the votes of both the big parties. In the late hours, however, this was overcome by the rapidly increasing number of electors, who appeared at the pools. The vote was fully up to expectations and the majorities will average 80,000 and better. In Philadelphia alone there was a heavy increase in the Republican vote. The city went Republican by 60,000. This may send the toal majority in the State over 100,000. In Ohio Bushnell, the Republican candidate, is elected Governor over Campbell by from 80,000 to 100,000 majority. His vote exceeded that of McKinley right through the State. In addition to electing Bushnell and the rest of the State ticket the Republicans have fully threefourths of each branch of the Legislature, thus enabling them to elect a Republican successor to Brice in the United States

Iowa surprised the Democrats and even the Republicans by giving Gen. Drake an estimated plurality of 60,000. The Legislature will be overwhelmingly Republican, and a Republican successor to Senator Allison is thus assured. The vote throughout the State was light, farmers in many sections being too busy in their fields to take the time to go to the polls. The Populists showed a large gain in their vote, many free silver Democrats giving their ticket support.

In Nebraska T. L. Norval, Republican candidate for the Supreme bench, is probably elected by 15,000 majority. Maxwell (Pop.) polled less than 60,000, while Phelps (Silver Dem.) got about 25,000. Mahoney, the straight Democratic caudidate, will not receive to exceed 10,000. Forty-two precincts out of seventy-six in Omaha gave Broatch (Rep.), for Mayor, 800 plurality. His total plurality is estimated at 2,000.

Kentucky Goes Republican. Kentucky has been conceded to the Republicans on the Governorship by the Democrats. The chairman of the Republican State committee claims the election of Bradley over Hardin by 15,000 and asserts that the Legislature will be close.

In Virginia the Democrats elected three-fourths of the Legislature. Little interest was taken in the election all over the State. In many counties there was so little at stake that many negro voters remained at home. The Utah Republicans elected the State safe majority. Re turns from 215 precincts out of 320 give Wells, for Governor, vote was polled, and the majority ranges from the bite of a cat. between 30,000 and 40,000. The principal interest centered in six or eight of the strong Populist counties, where there were lively contests over the county offices.

THAT LYDIA E. PINKHAMS VEGETABLE COMPOUND

is Daily Curing Backache, Dizziness, Faintness, Irregularity, and all Female Complaints.

(SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.) Intelligent women no longer doubt the plue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It speedily relieves irregu-larity, suppressed or painful menstruations, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, leucorrhœa, womb trouble, flooding, nervous prostration, head-ache, general debility, etc. Symptoms of Womb Troubles are dizziness, faintness, extreme lassi-"don't care," and "want to be left alone" feelings, excitability, irrita-bility, nervousness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy, or the "blues," and backache. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vege-table Compound will correct all this trouble as sure as the sun shines. That Bearing-Down Feeling, causing pain, weight, and backache, is instantly relieved and permanently cured by its use. Under all circumstances it acts in perfect harmony with the laws that govern the female system, is as harmless as water. It is wonderful for Kidney Complaints in either sex.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills work in unison with the Compound, and are a sure cure for constipation and sickpeadache. Mrs. Pinkham's Sanative Wash is frequently found of great value for local application. Correspondence is freely solicited by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., and the strictest confidence assured. All druggists sell the Pinkham remedies. The Vegetable Compound in three forms, -Liquid, Pills, and Lozenges.

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live bet-ter than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleas-ant to the taste, the refreshing and truly ant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from ening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

TALE OF A TRUNK.

What Story It Conveyed to New York Baggage Smasher.

There are trunks and trunks. I here are trunks which the law requires in the spectacular drama for the marching woman, and there is the trunk the elephant brakes on the road, and the commercial traveler's trunk that always blocks up the passageways of the country hotels, and the steamer trunk constructed with the view to certain spaces under the berths, and the humpbacked Saratoga that is as big as a chicken house and as light as a grip, and the sole leather unsmashable affair | from south Georgia yesterday, "but I that has been around the world. But the trunk that was hustled into the Marlborough Wednesday morning before breakfast was none of these. It was in construction an ordinary, smart, new, medium sized trunk. Yet people lingered on the walks and gazed at if and smiled and looked pleased at each other as the grinning baggageman took it down from the heap. They stopped across the way on Thirty-sixth street and watched him. Even as far as Broadway the infection spread and the public generally approved of this trunk. For it had dainty white satin ribbon tied in big bows on the handles. There were other still daintier bows of the same innocent material attached to the locks and hugging the slats and kissing the cold iron plates and caressing the solid corners. And how tenderly the baggage man and the hotel porters handled that trunk! If it had been made of spun glass or stuck together with candy it would have come off safely without a scratch or crack. Other trunks were dumped on the stones and banged and bruised and shaken up in the usual method. This trunk floated through space as if it were a pitcher of cream, and its precious contents might slop over. I don't say that the rough baggageman actually kissed it, but he really looked as if he wanted to kiss it-while the porter gently smoothed out the pretty bows until the fringed ends seemed to hve been newly done up. And the pleased public looking on distinctly approved of the trunk and and porters and everything and everybody concerned.-New York Herald. An Accommodating Man.

A genial Philadelphian, who for obvious reasons, does not care to have his name printed on this occasion, secured a parlor car seat on an express train for Reading a few days ago, and as he was about to pass through the gates was surprised to hear himself accosted in feminine tones with the somewhat startling question: "Please, mister, could I borrow you for a while?" Looking around he found two buxom women who hastily and hesitatingly explained that they were riding on a pass made out in the name of a gentleman and his wife, and the gentleman was not present, they wanted the geniallooking citizen to place his bought ticket at the disposal of one lady andtake the other one under his wing, while he personated the absent owner of the pass. "Which is my wife?" he inquired with an inward qualm lest his own absent better half should ever hear the story. "You can take your choice, sir," said the lady in search of an escort, and he promptly did so by tucking the arm of the younger fair one under his own and leading her into the car. The couple proved to be right jolly traveling companions, and the citizen's only regret in the transaction was due to a fear that the story might leak out and get home ahead of him. But it didn't .- Philadelphia Record.

Street Signals.

An apparatus for street signalling has been invented by the chief of the Glasgow Fire Brigade, and is about to be extensively adopted in the streets of Glasgow. The apparatus consists of a post to be fixed at the curb of the pavement; upon the post is a box containing a telephone. The box is locked, but keys are to be liberatly supplied to cidzens who may apply for them. The keys will se numbered, and once introduced into the lock cannot be withdrawn by the possessor, so that false alarms will be rendered almost impossible. The telephone will be in connection with the district and central police offices, and may be used in case of fire, robbery, riot, or other emergency. A signal for use by day or night in order to attract the attention of policemen in the neighborhood is fitted on top of the box.

Lowell's Advice to Young Men. He had enjoyed heartly his own frequent reading of the works of the great authors he wrote about, and he was able to convey some of this enjoyment to his own readers, and to explain to them the reasons for his liking. His favorite of all was the mighty Florentine poet, Dante, whom Lowell steadily studied from early life. Indeed, the advice he gave to young men seeking culture was to find the great writer whom they most appreciated, and to give themselves to the constant perusal of this great writer, growing up to him slowly, and discovering gradually that to understand him adequately would force them sooner or later to learn many of the things best worth learning.-St. Nicholas.

Types of Beauty It is said that when artists are seeking for models the palm for beauty and symmetry of figure is given to the girls of Spain, while the daughters of rural Ireland are a good second. The pretty faces and graceful throats are found among English maidens. A model for a perfect arm would be sought for among Grecian ladies, while a lady of the white ribbon and the baggageman | the Turkish harem would be regarded as the possessor of a dalutily commendable hand. Italians are usually good in figure, and some of the most beautiful models, perfectly proportioned, are derived from the women of sunny Italy. Frenchwomen, as a rule, are not in request, being too thin and vivacious for the purpose; while the face and limbs of a German frau are too commonplace for artistic work.

Mr. A. P. St. John, a citizen of Oregon, Wisconsin, in an interview had with D. E. Williams, of the Oregon Observer, on the 6th day of May, 1895, said: "For a long time I have been more or less troubled with dyspepsia. Having considerable hard work to do, if I followed the cravings of my appetite it was sure to result in those terrible distressing pains of the stomach. When in the most agony I would endeavor to obtain partial relief by some 'grandmother' treatment, which, if of any benefit, was to strengthen the imagination that the distress was a trifle less. At times I have suffered intensely. While visiting my sister Cora I was recommended to try Ripans Tabules, which I soon discovered were a blessing to mankind. Now I am never without them, and am pleased to recommend them as a Godsend to those troubled with dyspepsia."

Ripans Tabuses are sold by druggists or by mail if the price (50 cents a boz) is sent to The Ripans themi-cal Company, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York. Sample vial, 10 cents.

THE BICYCLE

Ite Progress in Civilize! Countries Is Simply Marvelous.

The progress which the bicycle has made and is making in the leading civilized countries of the world is simply marvelous. In fact, in every land where civilization is at its height the two-wheeled system of self-propelled locemotion is considered an established institution, says the St. Louis Republic. In America alone more than 1,000,-000 men, women and children are own- Opening Week, September 16th to 21st ers of their wheels, while another half million of the population well understand the art of riding the delusive "bike." During the year 1894 upwards of 300,000 blcycles were made and sold in this country, and the estimate for 1895, made by conservative men, is 600,000. Is it any wonder that the liveryman sees only a dark future for his business, and that the industry of horse-racing is anxious?

In Europe the bicycle craze is even more virulent than it is in America. In London and Paris thousands of infatuated wheelers plunge madly about the streets from dark until 2 and 8 BAPTIST-Rev. J. H. Girdwood, pastor o'clock in the morning. Great Britain has 1,300,000 cyclists, and a capital of £75,000,000 invested in the production of bicycles and tricycles, and the factories in which such machines are manufactured give daily employment to 42,-

The census returns of France enumerate 161,271 cycles which are used solely for pleasure. Those used by tradesmen in any of their business transactions are not taxed. On that account the above figures fail to convey anything like an accurate idea of the number of wheels owned in that country.

In Belgium, Holland, Germany, Austria and Italy the bicycle is fast superseding all other means of locomotion, especially where pleasure and health are the objects sought. In short, the bicycle has, within a very few years, become a very necessary adjunct to modern civilization.

Slept Twenty Years in a Coffin, It is seldom that a man dies in a coffin, but that is exactly what old Barney Frickers, of Alliance, Ohio, did when he finally gave up the ghost in the fall of 1890. For more than twenty years "Old Barney" had been haunted with the idea that he was on the verge of the grave. Every evening he declared that he would never again see the sun rise. He constantly brooded over his queer hallucination, and never allowed himself to go to sleep without being carefully prepared for death and burial. Every night he robed himself in his grave clothes and solemnly laid down in his coffin and passed the night firmly believing and probably hoping that for him the day would never dawn again. Finally death came, but, grim and sly as he was, he did not find "Old Barney" unprepared. The coffin in which this queer old character had so often awakened disappointed was of his own make, and was said to have been a curiosity in itself, being literally covered with all kinds, patterns

At an entertainment in Dublin a thought reader boasted that he could find a marked pin hidden by one of the audience The pin was hidden by a Trinity student in an adjoining room in the presence of the committee, among whom was a confederate The student, suspecting the man from his looks, slyly took away the pin from its hiding place. On his return to the platform the thought reader gazed into the hider's face, and, putting his hand to his brow, was blindfolded and led the student to the hiding place, but of course could find no pin. He returned, acknowledged his defeat and looked daggers at his confederate. "Now, gentlemen," said the student, "I'll undertake to say that if this diviner of the human mind will do as I tell him, half the audience, without a single hint, will know where the pin is;" and turning to the thought reader, he said: down." He did so. There was a yell, and jumping up, the thought reader hastily pulled from his coat tails the marked pin.

Game in Maine.

This will be a great year for hunters in Maine if the deer are as plentiful in he woods next fall as they are now reported to be in the grain fields, orchards and vegetable patches all over the State. Farmers have been telling all summer of the notable tameness of the animals, and lately they say the creatures have become actually bold. A Caribou farmer says that last week he saw four fine deer in his oat field and drove them out. As soon as he had gone away they came right back. This was repeated several times. Of course he dared not shoot them. Other farmers tell like stories. A party of girls picking berries near North Rockport a few days ago left their pails for a few minutes, and on returning for them found a big buck eating the berries. And he continued eating until actually driven away.

John Is Not "Muchee Foolee." There is one lesson that John Chinaman has imbibed very thoroughly from his life in this country, and that is the art of making his religion do him a good turn, says a Washington paper. Four celestials managing four branches of the same laundry have experienced a conviction of their original sin in four different denominations, and in order to elp them as far as possible on the right road the members of the different congregations patronize their respec-

Nervous Prostration Cured by Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Prolonged derangement of the nervous system not only affects the brain and mental powers, but develops disease in some of the vital organs. The most dangerous of these indirect results is when the heart is affected. This was the case of the Rev. N. F. Surface, Fawn River, Mich., who writes

"Fourteen years ago I had a slight stroke of paralysis. Overwork brought on nervous prostration. I was exceedingly nervous and the exertion of public speaking caused heart palpitation that Chreatened my life. I used two bottles of Dr. Miles' New Heart Oure for my heart trouble, and two of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for my nervousness and feel better than I ever expected to feel again. I can speak for hours without tiring or having my heart flutter as it for-merly did, and I have you to thank that I am alive today."
