Memorial Day.

Memorial Day was observed at this place last Saturday with all due ceremony, but under weeping skies and a chilling atmosphere.

The exercises of the day were held according to the program published last week, and the large number of people in attendance showed that with each recurring year the sentiment of the day is taking a deeper hold upon the American people.

The Town Hall, where the services were held, was the center of activity, and there could be seen men, women and children hustling to and fro with flowers and plants, each trying to do something towards making the occasion one long to be remembered.

The exercises were very appropriate. Col. R. B. Robbins, of Adrian, was the speaker, and he did ample justice to his subject.

After the exercises at the hall a procession was formed, headed by the Chelsea Cornet Band, which marched to Oak Grove Cemetery, where the graves of the unfortunate soldiers were strewn with flowers.

This ended the ceremonies, which were very impressive from first to last.

School Report.

The report for the school in district No. 10, Sylvan Township, for the month ending May 29 is as follows:

THE NEWS.

Compiled From Late Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Proceedings of the First Session.
The general deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the supply bills, was before the senate on the 25th and passed just before adjournment. The house spent the day in committee of the whole on the free alcohol repeal bill. There was general debate, but no action.

Tariff and finance each came in for a share of consideration in the senate on the 25th. While discussing the cheese bill Senator Dubois (Idaho) offered an amendment adding 75 cents per barrel to the tax on beer, but the bill and pending beer amendment were displaced by the bond bill, which was considered. In the house the bill for the repeal of section 51 of the present tariff law providing for a rebate on alcohol used in the arts or medicinal compounds was passed by a vote of 165 to 69.

The senate on the 27th defeated the proposition to increase the beer tax 75 cents a barrel by a vote of 34 to 27. The filled cheese bill was further discussed, as was also the bond bill. A bill was favorably reported to increase the pay of letter carriers throughout the United States. The house spent almost the entire day discussing the senate amendment to the general deficiency bill appropriating large sums for various claims, and it was adopted finally.

The bond bill was further discussed in the senate on the 28th. Senator Carter, of Montana, gave notice of an amendment to the filled cheese bill, putting on a tax and establishing regulations against adulterated beer. In the house a partial conference report on the Indian appropriation bill occasioned an animated controversy. A resolution adopted by the senate providing for the loan of tents by the war department and such other relief as the secretary may deem necessary to the sufferers by the St. Louis storm was concurred in.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

First to Place a Presidential Ticket in the Field.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—At 10:30 p. m. Thursday the prohibition national convention nominated Hon. Joshua Levering, of Maryland, for president of the United States, and Hon. Hale Johnson, of Illinois, for vice president.

The faction known as the "broad-gaugers" bolted the convention on being unable to secure the insertion of a free-silver plank in the platform, and organized the "national party." They placed the following ticket in the field: For president, C. E. Bentley, of Nebraska; for vice president, J. H. Southgate, of North Carolina. A platform embodying the minority report submitted to and refuted by the regular convention was adopted.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 29.—One of the first acts of the prohibition convention when it reassembled in exposition hall Thursday morning was to send a telegram of sympathy to the mayor of St. Louis.

Dr. J. K. Funk, of New York, chairman of the committee on platform, then reported the platform as agreed upon by the majority of the committee.

The first six planks, denunciatory of the liquor traffic and proposing straight out prohibition, he said, had been unanimously adopted. The seventh plank, which declared that no citizen should be denied the right to vote on account of sex, he said had been adopted by only a small majority. The other planks upon which there was some division in the committee were:

Clause 8, that all citizens should be protected in their right to one day's rest a week.

9. Non-sectarian schools to be taught in the English language.

10. Election of president, vice president and senators directly by the people.

11. Liberal pensions.

12. Exclusion of pauper and criminal immigrants.

13. The naturalized citizen not to vote till a year after naturalization.

14. Favoring arbitration.

15. Inviting cooperation of all persons favoring these views.

When Gov. St. John rose to present the minority report, he was received with loud applause from the broad gauge faction, which increased as he read the minority plank as follows:

"Resolved, That all money be issued by the government only and without the intervention of any private citizen, corporation or banking institution. It should be based upon the wealth, stability and integrity of the nation and be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and should be of sufficient volume to meet the demands of the legitimate business interests of the country and for the purpose of honestly liquidating all our outstanding obligations payable in coin. We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at a ratio of sixteen to one, without consulting any other nation."

The other points on which the minority asked action were as follows:

17. Preserving public lands from monopoly and speculation.

18. Government control of railroads and telegraphs.

19. Favoring an income tax and imposing only such import duties as are necessary to secure equitable commercial relations with other nations.

And lastly, clause 20, favoring the adoption of the initiative and referendum as a means of obtaining free expression of the popular will.

The vote was then taken on a motion to table Gov. St. John's proposition, and resulted as follows:

Yeas, 310; ayes, 492. So the convention refused to table the motion to make the minority report a part of the majority report.

Mr. Patton, of Illinois, precipitated a lively debate by opposing the non-sectarian school resolution, as being the work of the American Protective union and then appealed to the convention not to adopt anything which would prevent their enlisting all good citizens to aid them in fighting against the rum power. He proposed a substitute platform which omitted mention of every subject (woman suffrage included) except prohibition.

In a scene of intense confusion, the previous question was ordered by a rising vote, and Mr. Patton's substitute was declared adopted, and thus became the sole platform of the party. Its full text was as follows:

"The prohibition party in national convention assembled, declares its firm conviction that the manufacture, exportation, importation and sale of alcoholic beverages has produced such social, commercial, industrial and political wrongs, and is now threatening the perpetuity of all our social and political institutions, that the suppression of the same by a national party, organized therefore, is the greatest object to be accomplished by the voters of our country; is of such importance that it, of right, ought to control the political action of all our patriotic citizens until such suppression is accomplished. The urgency of this cause demands the union without further delay of all citizens who desire the prohibition of the liquor traffic. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we favor the legal prohibition by state and national legislation of the manufacture, importation, exportation, interstate transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages."

"That we declare our purpose to organize and unite all the friends of prohibition into our party and in order to accomplish this end we demand it but right to leave every prohibitionist the freedom of his own convictions upon all other questions and trust our representatives to take such action upon other political questions as the changes occasioned by prohibition and the welfare of the whole people shall demand."

Dropped Out of Sight.

St. Paul, Minn., May 29.—Three hundred feet of the roadway of the Northern Pacific railway sunk in Bumars lake, near Aitkin, before daylight Thursday morning, and 20 feet of water now washes over the spot where heavy trains were running Wednesday. The grade was built upon the north shore of the little lake and has been "washed" over an underground lake, as the whole track simply dropped out of sight. A west-bound freight barely escaped a complete wreck there at four o'clock a. m. The engineer saw the waves rolling ahead of him where the track had always been. Applying the brakes, the fireman jumped from the engine just as it leaped over the bank into the lake.

Summer Homes.

In the Lake regions of Wisconsin, Northern Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa and Dakota, there are hundreds of charming localities pre-eminently fitted for summer homes. Nearly all are located on or near lakes which have not been fished out. These resorts are easily reached by railway and range in variety from the "full dress for dinner" to the flannel-shirt costume for every meal. Among the list are names familiar to many of our readers as the perfection of Northern summer resorts. Nearly all of the Wisconsin points of interest are within a short distance from Chicago or Milwaukee, and none of them are so far away from the "busy marts of civilization" that they cannot be reached in a few hours of travel, by frequent trains, over the finest road in the northwest—the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway. A description of the principal resorts, with list of summer hotels and boarding houses, and rates for board, will be sent free on application to Geo. H. HEATFOOT, General Passenger Agent, Chicago.

Mrs. LAKE FRONT—"I know I've met that Mr. Jaybird somewhere before. I told him so, but all he answered was that he knew my former husband. The man must be an idiot." Mrs. Hyde Park—"Why so?" Mrs. Lake Front—"I've had four former husbands!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

KENNEDY'S MEDICAL DISCOVERY.

DONALD KENNEDY, of ROXBURY, MASS., Has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. Send postal card for book.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the right quantity is taken.

When the lungs are affected it causes shooting pains, like needles passing through them; the same with the Liver or Bowels. This is caused by the ducts being stopped, and always disappears in a week after taking it. Read the label.

If the stomach is foul or bilious it will cause squemish feelings at first.

No change of diet ever necessary. Eat the best you can get, and enough of it. Dose, one tablespoonful in water at bedtime. Sold by all Druggists.

Killed His Fiance.

The usual peace and quiet of Waterloo township was rudely broken shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday morning by the report that Lewis Heydlauff had shot and killed Miss Emma May Moeckel and had attempted to take his own life.

Lewis Heydlauff, aged 26 years, is the son of John Heydlauff, a well-to-do farmer of Waterloo, and has always been considered an exemplary young man.
Miss Emma Moeckel, aged 20, was the daughter of Frederick Moeckel, who is also a farmer in comfortable circumstances. Both families have resided about a mile apart for years, and the two young people had grown up together and for the past six years had been very warm friends, which at one time, it is said, had ripened into an engagement. Both were steady and industrious and were held in the highest esteem. Recently, however, it seems a coolness had grown up between them, and the engagement had been broken off. Recently Miss Moeckel had been going with a young man named George Tisch, for whose parents she had been working.

She was expected home to remain Sunday morning, and young Heydlauff went to the residence of Mr. Moeckel about 9 o'clock and asked if Emma was at home.
He was informed that she was not, but was told that she was expected home in time to go to church and asked to come in and wait for her. He did so and while waiting conversed pleasantly with the family, talking of sheep shearing and other matters connected with farm work, exhibiting nothing whatever that would indicate the turbulent condition of his mind. About half an hour later Miss Moeckel arrived, accompanied by George Tisch. As she entered she greeted the family and the visitor pleasantly and passed through the room into the parlor.
Young Heydlauff followed her in and closed the door, and a few moments later a number of shots were heard. Mr.
Moeckel rushed into the room and found Emma lying dead on the floor in a pool of blood and Heydlauff also lying on the floor on his back with the revolver lying on his breast. As Mr. Moeckel entered, Heydlauff said: "Help me up; I'm dying." Mr. Moeckel replied that he had better lie there, and ran out of the room to notify the other members of the family.
Heydlauff got up, walked out into the yard and was preparing to reload the revolver, when Mr. Moeckel took it from him. He then said he was going home.
A few minutes later he went outdoors and started to run, but fell. He then picked up a stone and attempted to beat out his brains. This was taken away from him, and he secured a brick and made another attempt, but was again foiled. He was then taken into the house and kept until his father came for him. Dr. Conlin, of Munith, was called. He found two wounds, one bullet having entered his left side above the heart, making a slight flesh wound, and the other entered about the center of the breast. The physician did not probe for the ball, as the wounded man objected to his doing so, and it cannot be told yet how serious the case may be. Young Heydlauff told the doctor that he intended to kill himself anyway, and he could not bear the thought of leaving Emma.

Dr. Brogan, of Stockbridge, was called to see the girl, but her death was almost instantaneous. He found two wounds, one below the tenth rib on the right side and the other just to the right of the breast bone between the first and second ribs. Both took a downward course, and in the opinion of the doctor either would have caused death.

Justice Gorton was called, and with the assistance of Deputy Sheriff David Croman a jury was summoned for an inquest, consisting of Chas. Crane, Emanuel Harr, Fred J. Artz, J. H. Hubbard, Henry Lehman and Andrew Runciman. The inquest was held Sunday afternoon. Frederick Moeckel, Dr. Conlin and Dr. Brogan testified to the facts as stated above, and a verdict was rendered to the effect that she came to her death from gunshot wounds inflicted by Lewis Heydlauff.—

A New York statistician has, after careful study and inquiry, reached the conclusion that the consumption of wheat in this country is a little less than four bushels per capita.

Bulletin 131 from the agricultural college, regarding experiment work with potatoes, and 182 on climbing cut worms,

The Lakeside creamery at Grass Lake was damaged by fire at noon Wednesday of last week. The fire caught from the furnace and spread rapidly to the second floor and roof. It was extinguished by the local fire department, but not until both building and machinery was considerably damaged.

A new pest has appeared as a menace to cherry trees in Michigan. It is a small red bug, and at the present time may be seen in large quantities devouring the foliage of the trees. The eggs are deposited in and around the base of the tree underneath the rough bark. The insect seems also to have a liking for currant and gooseberry shrubs.

The supreme chief ranger has issued an order to Foresters in Michigan and elsewhere to the effect that members must pay their monthly dues in advance, on or before the last day of the preceding month, or stand suspended ipso facto.
They cannot regain standing except by application to the supreme court and the payment of all arrearages.

In addition to the terrible loss of life the financial loss by the late cyclone in Michigan is in the neighborhood of half a million dollars, and it has largely fallen on those in very poor circumstances, many having lost everything they had. Gov.
Rich has made a careful examination of the sufferers' condition, and reports that it will take from $20,000 to $25,000 to relieve their immediate wants.

The bicycle craze is so rampant and wheels are becoming so very numerous on our streets that accidents will be more or less frequent. Riders should be careful to have their wheels under full control when passing approaching vehicles or pedestrians, or wheelmen, or wheel-women; turn to the right, and those going in the same direction turn to the left.
Avoid bumping and scorching on city or village streets and keep off the sidewalks.

A little country schoolmarm north of Union City has devised a novel plan to prevent tardiness at school. On a large blackboard she has drawn a life-size picture of a cow with an exceedingly long tail. All tardy scholars have their names placed on the cow's tail for a day, and the second offense is punishable by a week's attachment to the tail. The plan has worked wonders in this little district school. For the past two weeks not a name has been on the tail.

Now that the season for the cooling cucumiform comestible is at hand, the following receipt for "creamed cucumbers," taken from an exchange, may be appreciated by housekeepers: "Slice very thinly the number of cucumbers required and cover for one hour with ice cold salt water. For the cream dressing proceed as follows: Beat into a cup of cream a tablespoon of sugar, a little salt, half a saltspoonful of pepper, and vinegar sufficient to make it pleasantly tart. Pour this over the sliced cucumbers and allow them to stand on the ice for an hour or two before serving."

Here is a receipt which, it is said, will knock out the carpet bug every time: One ounce of alum, one ounce of chloride of zinc, three ounces of salt. Mix with one quart of water and let it stand over night in covered vessel so that all sediment may be left behind. Dilute this with two quarts of water and apply by sprinkling the edges of the carpet about a foot from the wall. This is all that is necessary.
They will leave boxes, bedding and any other resort which has been sprinkled with the solution, on the shortest notice, and nothing will be injured in texture or color.

Boys who feel that they should attempt to kill every bird they see may save themselves considerable trouble by pinning this item in their hats. The legislature has passed an act that reads as follows:
Any person who shall at any time, within this state, kill any robin, night hawk, whippoorwill, finch, thrush, lark or any other song bird, or rob the nests of such birds, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be fined $5 for every bird so killed and for each nest so robbed, or confined in the county jail for ten days, or both fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1896.—
For a time this week it looked as though the silver Senators would succeed in putting the Senate on record in favor of giving the Treasury $25,000,000 a year additional revenue by putting an additional tax of 75 cents a barrel on beer, and if they had all been in their seats the end of the attempt might have been different. When Senator Dnbois offered the beer tax amendment to the filled cheese bill Senator Sherman moved to lay it on the table, and the motion was defeated by a vote of 30 to 25.
The expiration of the "morning hour" prevented Senator Dubois following up his advantage, and the next day the Senate voted down the amendment, 34 to 27.
There was some odd voting in this business. For instance, Senator Hansbrough voted against tabling the amendment one day, and the next day voted against the amendment itself; Senator Vest stated after he had voted for the amendment that if it had passed he would have voted against the amended bill as a whole, and Senator Faulkner voted against tabling the amendment and then against the amendment. This indicates to a certainty that this session of Congress will not provide any additional revenue for the government.

The Senate will pass Mr. Butler's bill prohibiting the further issue of bonds without the consent of Congress, but it will not be allowed to come up in the House at this session. It is only because it is known that it has no show in the House that its opponents have not tried to talk it to death in the Senate.

There may be a very lively time in Congress when President Cleveland sends in the veto message he is now preparing on the river and harbor bill, if it be the sort of document expected, and a fight may be started which may delay adjournment.
According to the opinion of nearly all the prominent members of both branches of Congress, the river and harbor bill will be passed over the veto.

Party lines were not drawn in the vote by which the House passed a bill repealing that clause of the present tariff law which provides for the admission free of duty of foreign alcohol which is to be used in the arts or manufactures. One hundred and four Republicans, 56 Democrats and 5 Populists voted for the repeal bill, and 60 Republicans and 9 Democrats against it. Owing to defects in the clause it had never been enforced, and claims were simply being piled up against the Treasury for rebate of duty paid on alcohol.
Secretary Carlisle asked for repeal, and his request was endorsed by the House Ways and Means Committee. Whether the bill will get through the Senate is yet a question, although it has been given a place on the program prepared by the steering committees.

The silver Democrats are fully determined, they say, that they shall not be kept out of the control of the Chicago convention by any manipulation by the national committee of the contested delegations, and notice to that effect has been served upon Chairman Harrity of that committee, who is now in Washington.
Mr. Harrity denies that his committee has any intention of trying to use its authority in making up the temporary roll of the convention to keep silver delegates out of their seats, but the silver men do not entirely accept his denial, and say that they are going to take steps which will stop any such scheme as that, even if every silver delegate has to stay out of the convention to do it. This question is arousing the greatest interest among the politicians of all parties in Washington, and doubtless as much elsewhere. It is generally believed that the silver men will have a majority of that convention, but there is much doubt as to whether that majority will exercise its power by the adoption of an out-and-out free coinage platform, and that a silver man will head the ticket in minated. A majority can make the platform, but unless the old rule is changed it will require two-thirds to nominate.

The decision of the Supreme Court that the sugar bounty money which was held up by Controller Bowler should be paid if it had settled for once and all the question of the constitutionality of the sugar bounty. It merely decided that the money appropriated by Congress must be paid, which will put about $5,250,000 in circulation, and left the more important question still open to dispute. It seems, however, to have put an end to the absurd idea that a minor Treasury official has more authority than Congress and the President, and for that reason has been thankfully received by many who will not get any of the sugar bounty money.

A service pension bill giving every man who served 30 days $3 a month and one cent a month additional for each day served in excess of ninety, has been favorably reported to the House. It will not be acted upon at this session. It is estimated that it will cost between twenty-five and thirty millions a year to carry out this bill.

NEWSPAPER LAWS.

Any person who takes the paper regularly from the postoffice, whether directed to his name or whether he is a subscriber or not, is responsible for the pay. The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers and periodicals from the postoffice, or removing and leaving them unclaimed for a prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

DETROIT is preparing to celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the evacuation of that city by the British on July 11.

LI HUNG CHANG, the Chinese envoy now in Moscow, says he is coming over here to study the American system of government with a view to introducing its features into China.

VICE PRESIDENT BROOKS, of the Pennsylvania railroad, says that during 1893 $135,000,000 was collected by the employees of the road, and that not one dollar of this sum was lost by fraud or embezzlement.

EMPEROR MENELEK especially honors Hebrews at his court. He asserts that he is the possessor of the genuine ark of the covenant, and that it was transported by miracles from Palestine to Abyssinia. As did the Levites, the priests of his church dance before it on the most joyful occasions of worship.

BOTH of the men just elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church—Cranston and McCabe—are natives of Ohio, as are six of the sixteen bishops now on the board. The retiring Bishop Foster is also an Ohio man, as was the late Bishop Simpson, reputed to be the most eloquent bishop the church ever had.

THE late Judge Fain, of Atlanta, was a curious example of exceeding thrift carried almost to the verge of monomania. In his desk after his death were found all the ink-bottles he had ever used—hundreds of them—and several thousands of worn-out pens, and large bundles of envelopes which had been sent through the mails and were wholly useless.

DR. PETRIE, who is now conducting explorations in Egypt, writes to the head of the department of Egyptology at the University of Chicago that he has found in a temple at Thebes a slab of basalt on which is written the earliest known record of the children of Israel. He says the slab is ten feet long, five feet wide and one foot thick, and is the largest slab of basalt ever found.

IN spite of the hostility of certain members of the medical profession to the use of anti-toxine in diphtheria cases, official inquiry into the results of the treatment strengthen the belief in its efficacy. The St. Louis board of health has found that out of 326 cases of diphtheria only fifteen were fatal. This is a percentage of 4.6, whereas the percentage of deaths in cases not treated with anti-toxine was 60.

ADVICES from Buffalo, Wyo., state that there is a big gold excitement all over that region created by the latest development in the cement belt. The discovery of big pay in the cement had led to search for the mother lode, which is believed to have been found on the main divide of the Big Horn mountains, 30 miles west of Buffalo. It consists of a pure ruby quartz which assays from the croppings from $4 to $12 per ton.

A RUSSIAN citizen of Manistique, Mich., has received notice from the Russian government that he is expected to return to that country and do military service or pay $300, in case of refusal to do either of which the property of his relatives in that country will be confiscated. He is a naturalized citizen of this country and has consequently applied to the government authorities for advice in the case.

THE Spokane Reporter states that two miners have just returned from the Colville reservation, where they have made the richest strike yet reported from the new gold fields. They, with another party, have located four claims on a 60-foot ledge, assays from the surface of which went $60 in gold and very high in silver and copper. Marcus Daly, the Montana millionaire, offered to bond the claims for $250,000, but the offer was refused.

IT is gratifying to know that out of 43 samples of butter sent from the United States to England and examined by the British board of agriculture not one case of adulteration was found. On the other hand, Denmark, by far the largest contributor of foreign butter products to the British market, and heretofore enjoying an almost irreproachable reputation in the butter market, was found to have contributed five per cent. of adulterated samples.

LEWIS KILMER, while plowing some old soil at his East Lee (Mass.) farm a few days ago, unearthed an old cannon, which has quite an interesting history. The cannon was once owned by several young men in East Lee, and was the envy of the up-town boys. At the time of Gen. Butler's election to the governor's chair the cannon was stolen and used to celebrate the event. During the great melee which followed on election night the cannon was regained by its former owners, and, for fear of detection, it was buried deep, and its sudden disappearance was soon forgotten.

SCORES BURIED.

More Than 200 Interments of Cyclone Victims in Two Days.

Further Details of the Disaster at St. Louis and East St. Louis—Latest Estimate of Deaths, 424; of Property Losses, $10,000,000.

St. Louis June 1.—Two hundred and eighteen victims of Wednesday's horror were laid to rest Saturday and Sunday in the cemeteries of this city and East St. Louis. The total of interments would have been larger but for the fact that the facilities of the undertaking establishments were inadequate to the sudden and pressing requirements of the situation. No pretense was made of observing a time schedule, and in many cases the bereaved relatives and mourners sat from early morning until late in the day awaiting the coming of the funeral equipages. Hearses did treble and quadruple duty, the hearses being driven at breakneck speed from the cemeteries to the devastated districts as rapidly as their loads had been deposited at the door of the vault or by the side of a grave. In several instances a single hearse bore three caskets, one containing the remains of an adult and the others those of little ones.

At the graves the religious rites were abbreviated, and addresses of eulogy or condolence were dispensed with. The interments in this city were divided between Calvary, Bellefontaine, Sts. Peter and Paul, Picket and Hebrew cemeteries, the two first named receiving the greatest numbers. Denominational lines were closed up, and there were times when the solemn words of the communal services of Catholics and Episcopalians, Presbyterians and Methodists, Baptists and Congregationalists, German Lutherans, Unitarians and Universalists were being repeated in different cemeteries at the same moment. The interments will be resumed to-day and by nightfall it is expected that all of the identified dead will have been laid to rest. The unrecognized bodies will be held until Tuesday when such disposition as may be deemed best will be made of them.

Searching the Ruins. Relief work has been systematized. Rev. Dr. W. W. Boyd, chairman of the committee, says that 3,500 deserving applicants received assistance Sunday. The mails are beginning to bring subscriptions from the whole country. While the demand for help is great, it is still believed that the citizens of this city will be able to care for all without appealing for outside help. Up to nine o'clock Sunday night the various relief committees report that $151,000 has been subscribed toward a fund for alleviating the distress of the tornado victims.

The Losses. Three of the principal real estate dealers in this city state that they have figured that the actual real estate loss in St. Louis will not exceed $10,000,000. The damage to household property, bric-a-brac, paintings, statuary, etc., will however, swell this amount nearly $2,000,000 more. The loss in shade trees and ornamental shrubbery is beyond computation. Lafayette park, for two decades past the pride of the aristocrat-le "French residents," is but a memory. Not a tree is left standing in all its broad domain and it is surrounded by a quadrangle of demolished houses—many of which can only be located by the numbers on the adjoining ones that escaped. The following figures, showing losses, have been obtained from persons in possession, in almost every place, of personal knowledge:

Losses on the River. A revised list of financial losses incurred by owners of river craft shows that a total of 50 steamboats and barges were sunk or badly damaged, inflicting a total marine loss of $402,000.

Losses in East St. Louis. Vice President Henry D. Sexton, of the Workmen's national bank, who has large property interests all over East St. Louis, has made a thorough tour of the city. He aggregates the loss at $3,500,000. This table aggregates less than $4,000,000, a total quite large enough, but almost insignificant when compared with the fabulous estimates. To this, however, must be added the damage done to residence property throughout the city, which, while it will be very large, cannot in the nature of the case amount to as much as that done to business property as shown above. Viewing the situation in this light, it will be seen that $10,000,000 should be ample to cover the actual property damage. This estimate has not included the loss and damage of furniture. This will never be known.

Later Figures on Deaths. At midnight the total number of dead, missing and fatally injured in the two cities number 424. This estimate will undoubtedly be added to when all the ruins shall have been uncovered.

Convention Hall Repaired. The criminal exaggeration of damage to large buildings and hotels by newspaper correspondents is to be investigated. Not one large hotel in this city suffered even temporary inconvenience. The convention auditorium, which was slightly damaged, Contractor McClure repaired the building in a few hours, and to-day it will be turned over to the Business Men's league ready for occupation.

Relief Coming In. A relief committee, with Rev. W. W. Boyd, chairman, has assumed the task of receiving and distributing contributions to the fund. Notwithstanding no appeal for outside assistance has been made, the relief committee is deluged with substantial gifts of money from every quarter, all of them accompanied with expressions of sympathy and words of good cheer. These are being rejected with kindly words of appreciation and the statement that St. Louis is amply competent to take care of all her destitute and deserving. Among the first to wire practical sympathy was the boards of trade of Sherman, Tex., Columbus, O., Denver and Cripple Creek, Col. and Chicago. Offers from individuals and corporations are pouring in. Such sums as may be received from abroad will be received and properly applied, but St. Louis desires it well understood that until all her own resources are exhausted no appeal to the outside world will be made. Many hundreds of the homeless are already receiving assistance from the committee. The great demand is for food and clothing, as those who have roofs over their heads are sharing their homes with their less fortunate neighbors.

Situation in East St. Louis.

East St. Louis is waking from its stupor of terror, and things are beginning now to shape themselves to the amelioration of the condition of afflicted and the preservation of the property left after the feast of the hurricane. A relief committee has been formed with an auxiliary woman's corps. Money is being subscribed with local constabulary and two companies of militia; streets are being cleared, homes made habitable and a feeble effort at being cheerful to the distress is being made for the townspeople. The bright sunshine has served to lighten somewhat the load of sorrow, but now in their sober moments the completeness of the disaster appears the more appalling.

WRECKAGE IN THE COURT OF THE CITY HOSPITAL, ST. LOUIS.

Thursday night the island, where the destruction of property was so frightful, was guarded by both the police and militia. There are two companies of national guard in the city. One from Belleville, Company D, under Capt. Rogers, arrived at two a. m. A company from Greenville, under Capt. Harris, arrived Friday morning. Thursday the latter body was at Birkner helping remove the dead and injured in that place to the county farm.

Outside Help Needed. Gov. Altgeld visited the stricken city Thursday night and had a talk with Mayor Bader and other prominent citizens. He readily acceded to the mayor's request for a call of troops, but his published statement that he did not believe the city was in need of outside aid has not met with a kind reception. Mayor Bader and the rest of the townspeople here feel that they are in most urgent need of all assistance they can get. The rich have suffered with the poor, and the resources of those who could ordinarily extend a helping hand to their more unfortunate brothers will be so strained in recovering their own positions that it will be difficult for them to do much more than help themselves. There are hundreds of persons here with no homes, no money and even without a stitch of clothing of their own to be provided for, and assistance from other cities will be required.

In a brief interview Mayor Bader said there were at least 2,500 people in the city that are utterly without shelter, food or clothing. He estimated the number of houses destroyed at 600. Furniture, bedding and clothing were included in the destruction, and few of the sufferers had money to buy more.

Warning to Criminals. In East St. Louis the business men have organized a vigilance committee and on the telegraph and electric light poles written notices are posted to the effect that ghouls and perliners of property or railroad cars will be given a short shrift and an opportunity of diving from the Eads bridge into the Mississippi river. Instructions have also been given to the police of the Illinois city to shoot on sight every individual caught in the act of robbing the ruins.

TWENTY-FIVE DROWNED.

Cloudburst Turns Creeks in Seneca, Mo., Into Raging Waters.

Seneca, Mo., June 1.—A cloudburst broke over the city at four o'clock Saturday morning, and in ten minutes the water in Lost creek, which traverses the town, had risen to a depth of eight to ten feet and a breadth of over half a mile, sweeping through the city like a mill race, carrying away every structure in its path. Not a house in the district south of the creek is left intact on its foundations. Twenty-five persons were drowned in the rushing waters in this city and vicinity. Eight bodies have been recovered. Among the buildings destroyed here were two churches, the office of the Seneca Despatch, Wier's livery stable and a score of dwellings. The water flooded the principal stores on Cherokee avenue, running over the counters of McGannon's emporium. The property loss in this city alone will reach $100,000.

MOURN HER DEATH.

Sorrow at Seattle Over the Demise of a Notable Woman.

Seattle, Wash., June 1.—Princess Angeline, daughter of Chief Seattle, after whom this city was named, died here Sunday. She was one of the most noted celebrities of the North Pacific coast. In the early 50's Angeline, at the peril of her own life, apprised the population of Seattle of an intended massacre, thus saving 300 or 400 lives and endearing herself to pioneers and their descendants. She has been the subject of numerous magazine articles and her name has graced the pages of many leading journals. There is general sorrow on every hand at her demise, and it is said that her funeral will be attended by thousands of mourners.

Depew for Chairman.

Springfield, O., May 30.—It is authoritatively stated here that Chauncey M. Depew is Maj. McKinley's selection for chairman of the national republican convention. A man who is in the inner councils of the McKinley managers said that Dr. Depew would be beyond all doubt the man chosen.

Yellow Fever Rages in Cuba.

Tampa, Fla., June 1.—Private advices from Cuba announce that yellow fever is raging there. On the 29th a train from Matanzas brought into Havana from one battalion 60 men afflicted with the fever. This, united with the continual desertions, is reducing the Spanish forces greatly.

Death of an Ex-Congressman.

Salisbury, N. Y., May 30.—Francis E. Shober, a member of the Forty-first and Forty-second congresses and at one time secretary of the United States senate, died at his home Friday.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS

Condition of Michigan Banks. An abstract of the reports of 175 state banks and four trust companies in Michigan at the closing of business May 7 shows a very gratifying condition of financial institutions of the state. The loans, discounts, stocks, bonds and mortgages aggregate $69,446,423, an increase of $1,714,128 since the report of December last. The deposits aggregate $68,426,365; the savings deposits have increased $1,500,000 since December and the commercial deposits show a falling off of $12,000. The aggregate cash on hand is $13,724,625, of which sum $3,119,312 is in gold.

High License Successful.

From a statement issued by Auditor General Turner it is shown that high license in Michigan has resulted in decreasing the number of saloons, while at the same time it has increased the revenue derived from the traffic. In 1894 the total number of licenses granted in the state was 4,535 and the amount of licenses received $1,825,996. In 1895 the number of licenses was 4,048, a decrease of 487, and the amount of tax received $1,899,752, an increase of $73,754.

L'Anse Wiped Out.

There is little probability that the village of L'Anse will recover from the effects of the fire which two weeks ago wiped out half the town. Many business men who sustained loss will not rebuild, but the most discouraging fact of all is the reported intention of J. H. Smith to remove to Detroit. Smith's large sawmill and general store were the main enterprise and dependence of the village.

Death of Lieut. Baker.

L. B. Baker, aged 66, a lieutenant in the First District of Columbia cavalry, died in Lansing, where he had lived for a number of years. He was famous as the man who captured J. Wilkes Booth, Lincoln's murderer. At that time he was in the war detective service, and was in charge of the capturing party. It was he who called upon Booth to surrender and he was with the murderer when he died.

Equal Suffragists.

At annual convention in Pontiac the Michigan Equal Suffrage association officers were chosen as follows: President, Mrs. May Stocking Knapp, Bay City; vice-president, Mrs. Belle M. Perry, of Charlotte; secretary, Mrs. H. P. Jenkins, of Detroit; treasurer, Mrs. A. Root, of Bay City; recording secretary, Miss Ethel Hall, of Lansing; member executive board of National Woman Suffrage association, Mrs. Emily B. Ketchum, of Grand Rapids.

A Bank Failure.

The Citizens' bank closed its doors at Edwardsburg. At a meeting of the stockholders Cashier J. L. Kleckner confessed that he had used more than $4,000 of the bank's money speculating on the Chicago board of trade. He had also spent $16,000 of his own money. Kleckner has secured the bank and it would resume business in a short time.

Templars Elect Officers.

At the 40th annual session in Grand Rapids of the Michigan grand commandery, Knights Templar, the election of officers resulted as follows: Eminent grand commander, E. D. Wheeler, Manistee; deputy, Albert Stiles, Jackson; generalissimo, Frank M. Moore, Bay City; captain general, Eugene P. Robertson, Albion; prelate, F. A. Blader, Detroit; treasurer, Charles A. ## Health in Michigan.

During the week ended May 23 reports sent in by 56 observers in various portions of the state indicate that inflammation of the bowels increased and neuralgia and bronchitis decreased. Area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 26 places, typhoid fever at 25, diphtheria at 21, scarlet fever at 23, measles at 37 and whooping cough at 37.

Slept Herself Away.

Ellen, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Breiter, died in Saginaw after falling asleep 18 days ago. The little one, about whom so much tender interest centered, was incapable of motion or sensation and peacefully slept herself into another world. The doctor characterized it as a peculiar brain disease.

Brief News Items.

The Elms Buggy company filed chattel mortgages at Albion aggregating $81,000 to secure its creditors. Local banks are the principal creditors. The company has ample assets and will continue business.

Eight miners were imprisoned in cave-in in the Ashland mine at Ironwood. They were all rescued by miners who drifted through to them from the Norrie mine. All were uninjured.

Whole orchards of young apple trees near Deerfield which were lately in blossom, are now covered with brown shriveled leaves, the work of canker worms.

In less than half an hour the large dry goods establishment of Jewett & Knapp was ruined by fire at Albion. Three hundred men were laid off at the Norrie, East Norrie and Pabst mines in Ironwood. The reason given for the curtailment of forces was the unsatisfactory condition of the iron market.

The common council of Lansing adopted the eight-hour day for laborers on the city streets, and fixed the price for such labor at 15 cents per hour.

AWFUL DISASTER.

Tragedy Attends a Coronation Feast at Moscow.

Thousands Become Frantic in a Rush for Food—Trample One Another—Late Shapeless Masses—Over 1,300 Killed.

Moscow, June 1.—One of the most terrible disasters that ever overtook the common people of Russia, who have for years been the butt of misfortune, happened Saturday in this city, when over 1,300 persons were killed or received injuries from which they afterward died. A panic on Khodjinskoje plain, precipitated during festivities in honor of the coronation of the czar. The official report places the number of dead at 1,300. Most of these persons were instantly trampled to death, and the spectacle presented when the portion of the plain on which the stampede took place was cleared of the survivors was sickening in the extreme. The crowd was waiting the signal to dine at tables held out of doors and the distribution of presents from the royal house when the disaster occurred. The immediate cause of it was the pitching into the midst of the dense throng assembled for the coronation of the czar. Had the police been present in sufficient numbers the catastrophe might have been averted.

The disaster, it is now explained, was due mainly to the absence of the police, who had not arrived at so early an hour as the morning at the scene where the festivities were scheduled to take place. Fully 200,000 persons of all grades of society had gathered together on the Khodjinskoje plain at the time the disaster occurred. Only about 1,000 attendants were in charge, and they seemed to be unable to control the mob. Hoping to lessen the pressure of the assembled hundreds of thousands, all moving toward a common center, they closed the packages and presents into the midst of the crowd. This seemingly precipitated the panic, since a scramble to obtain possession of the gifts ensued and the hollow piece of ground near the center formed a death trap for the thousands. The police made desperate attempts to control the people, but all their efforts were futile, and men, women and children were trampled upon by hundreds. For a time the officials in charge of the banquet lost their heads entirely. The crowds seemed to have gone mad with rage and excitement, shouting, cursing and yelling as they pressed onward over a path strewn with dead and dying human beings.

At the place where the disaster occurred the czar had planned to give a banquet on a mammoth scale to the multitudes of people who had come to Moscow to participate in the coronation ceremonies. To the people, especially those of the peasant class, this was one of the most attractive features of the week, and the banquet grounds on the Hoynsky plain were jammed at early dawn. In the open air long lines of rough tables, flanked by rougher benches, had been erected. It was at first arranged to accommodate 400,000 people, but in view of the immense crowds assembled in and about this city for the coronation fetes, extra tables and benches were hastily erected. Twice 400,000 persons were desirous of taking part in the feast, but the authorities decided that there must be a limit to the number to be entertained, and so the figure was fixed at 500,000.

To feed this multitude an army of cooks and waiters was gathered, the army bakeries were taxed to their utmost capacity, and 500,000 mugs, each bearing portraits of the czar and czarina, were manufactured for presentation to the people taking part in the banquet. Thousands of cattle, trainloads of provisions and shiploads of liquid refreshments were sent to the Hoynsky plain during the week, and Saturday morning all was in readiness for the gigantic meal.

By dawn the mass of peasants about the tables was enormous and they were all desperately hungry, some of them having fasted, by choice or necessity, for nearly 24 hours. The guards did everything possible to keep back the crowd, but suddenly the masses, impatient to get at the food, pressed forward, swept everything before them, and overturned tables and benches as if made of grass, trampling thousands under foot and crushing the life out of a great number of people. The oldest and weakest naturally suffered the most.

The passage between the various booths became a scene of the wildest struggles. Here it was the most were killed. Despite the best efforts of the constables and of the police, who unfortunately arrived too late to be of much service, the crowd constantly increased. It was a long time before the place could be cleared enough to allow the work of rescue to proceed. Many of the injured were carried to the various hospitals, which were soon filled to overflowing. Hundreds of persons who were wounded, however, were removed to their own homes or taken to private residences. Most of the victims were women and children.

Thirty bodies were found Sunday in an old disused well in the middle of the plain. The well had been covered with planks which had collapsed when the crowd passed over them. Some of the bodies had been presented at the tables before the rush began. Among the bodies in the well were two living persons who had been made insane by the horror of the position. The ravings when rescued were terrible to hear. Great efforts were made throughout the day to clear the plain, but it is still littered with fragments of clothing and human hair. In some places where the crush was greatest the ground is soaked with the blood of those whose life had been trodden out.

Saturday evening, after receiving deputations, the czar and czarina attended and danced at the brilliant ball at the French embassy. Preparations had been made on a most elaborate scale for his ball, and it is asserted that $70,000 was expended on the supper alone, rare viands and delicious fruits and vegetables being brought from the most distant climes to add to the delights of the feast. While the dance within the French embassy continued, amid all the accompaniments of luxury and gaiety, disconsolate friends and relatives wandered over the desolate plain among the dead and the suffering looking, often in vain, for their missing.

ADDRESS TO THE SILVER MEN.

National Silver Party Urges Friends of the White Metal to Organize.

Washington, June 1.—The national silver party, through its chairman, J. J. Mott, has issued from its headquarters in this city an address to the friends of silver. This address recites that since the founding of the national silver party on January 22 last the work of organization has been steadily but quietly pursued and the country aroused to a pitch of excitement unknown since the civil war. It declares that the convention of the party to be held in St. Louis on June 22 will undoubtedly be one of the most important conventions and notable gatherings ever assembled in this country. Upon the wisdom of its acts and that of the people's party convention to be held at the same place and time depends, the address declares, "the vital question as to whether we can have a just settlement of this money issue in our generation. The address concludes as follows:

"The republican party is committed to the gold standard through the platforms of 80 per cent. of the state conventions, and any straddle that may be made in its national platform will deceive no one. The democratic party must not expect the country to accept any candidate it may name who is acquiescent in by the gold wing of that party. The question of vital importance is for silver men to name a candidate for president whose nomination will be readily acquiescent in by the believers in monetary reform. Friends of silver, look to your interests and organize now while the fruit is ripe for plucking. Do not wait on the problematical action of any party."

"BRICK" POMEROY IS DEAD.

Famous Editor and Politician Expires in Brooklyn.

New York, June 1.—Marcus Mills Pomeroy, commonly known as "Brick" Pomeroy, died Saturday at his home in Brooklyn at the age of 63. Death resulted from a general breaking down.

(Mr. Pomeroy was born in Elmira, N. Y., December 25, 1823. At an early age he determined to be a printer, and for a number of years worked at the case in his chosen calling. In 1854 he founded the first paper in Corning, N. Y. This he published till 1857, when he moved to La Crosse, Wis., where for seven years he published the La Crosse Democrat. In 1863 Mr. Pomeroy removed to New York and attracted much attention. The paper gained a large circulation and survived for many years as an independent sheet. In 1875 Mr. Pomeroy settled in Chicago, but eventually returned to New York. From Chicago, however, Mr. Pomeroy went to Denver, and in 1889 started the Great West, a weekly paper, used to advertise a scheme he had of running a tunnel through a mountain at its base, which was supposed to be rich with gold, but the scheme failed. In 1877 Pomeroy merged the Democrat into Pomeroy's Advance Thought, a journal whose character was well expressed in its name. Mr. Pomeroy published several books and attained no little fame as a humorist. His first book was issued in New York in 1883 under the title of "Sense." This was followed in the same year by a second volume, called "Nonsense." Four years later he published "Gold Dust," which he supplemented later in the year with a second volume which he called "Brick Dust." In 1878 he put "Our Saturday Night" on the market, and in 1879 "Home Harmonies." "Perpetual Money" was published in 1878.)

KENTUCKY FOR SILVER.

Free Coinage Advocates Elect a Majority of Delegates.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—Free silver carried the state of Kentucky Saturday in the democratic county primaries by a good-sized majority. The conventions were called to select delegates to the democratic and district conventions, which meet at Lexington June 3. Wherever free silver was endorsed resolutions were adopted declaring United States Senator Joseph Blackburn to be the democratic nominee for reelection as United States senator. Many counties refused to endorse Carlisle for the presidency.

Accurate figures on returns from the entire state shows 670 silver delegates to the state convention against 240 for gold. The silver men carried every congressional district in the state, except the Fifth, which is the Louisville district. The western end of the state, including the First, Second, Third and Fourth districts, did not send a single sound-money delegate. The friends of Carlisle and Cleveland say they will not vote for a free-silver candidate for president. They openly avow their preference for McKinley or any other republican for president over a silver democrat running on a free-silver platform.

The Blue and the Gray.

Both men and women are apt to feel a little blue, when the gray hairs begin to show. It's a very natural feeling. In the normal condition of things gray hairs belong to advanced age. They have no business whitening the head of man or woman, who has not begun to go down the slope of life. As a matter of fact, the hair turns gray regardless of age, or of life's seasons; sometimes it is whitened by sickness, but more often from lack of care. When the hair fades or turns gray there's no need to resort to hair dyes. The normal color of the hair is restored and retained by the use of

Anent Small Fruit.

To secure large, nice fruit, severe pruning is necessary. New growth on both old and new currants and gooseberries should be cut back and old wood in center of bush removed. Laterals on black raspberries cut back one-third or one-half. Remove all weak canes and broken branches. The ideal bush should be round or oval in form, stocky, and pruned to admit free circulation of air. Currants are often injured by the borer. The egg is deposited about June 1, and as soon as hatched the young borer eats its way into the pith and feeds on the life of the plant. As soon as the leaves start, the affected canes, which now have a black center, are easily discovered by their sickly appearance, and should be cut out and burned at once.—M. A. Thayer.

Climate and Crop Bulletin.

CHICAGO, June 2, 1896.—The reports as to the condition of the crops throughout the country and the general effect of the weather upon the growth, cultivation and harvest of same were to-day made by the directors of the several climate and crop sections. The reports received at Chicago were as follows:

Throughout the southern states and on the Atlantic coast, except in northern New England and extreme southern Florida, where the temperature was nearly normal, the week ending June 1 was warmer than usual.

More than the usual amount of rain has fallen in the central Mississippi, lower Missouri and lower Ohio valleys, and also over Tennessee, portions of the lake region, south Atlantic and east Gulf states and generally throughout New England. The actual rainfall exceeded two inches over an area extending from the eastern portions of Kansas and Nebraska, over Missouri and southern Illinois to the eastern portions of Kentucky and Tennessee.

Except in the states of the lower Missouri and central Mississippi valleys, where severe local storms and heavy rainfall have caused much damage, and over the western portion of the Gulf states, where drought is becoming more or less serious, the past week has been generally favorable. On the Pacific coast and in the Rocky Mountain districts it has been the best week of the season for farm work and also for the growth of vegetation. Corn planting is now practically finished in the more northerly corn states, except in North Dakota, where it is still in progress. In the central corn belt the crop has made rapid growth during the week and is generally in excellent condition. Too much rain, however, has greatly interfered with cultivation in Iowa, Missouri, southern Illinois and Kentucky, where the crop is grassy.

Michigan: Cool wet weather has improved wheat and grass, and there is less complaint of rust and Hessian fly in wheat. Rye nearly all in head and looks fine. Corn about all planted and cultivation becoming general. Oats have grown slowly but in good shape. Cherries and pears badly whipped off by wind, but other fruit very promising.

Weather Bureau.

The Wheel.

Clayton, Lambert & Co., of Ypsilanti, will hold a diamond race meet at the Ypsilanti fair ground Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13. These gentlemen have been prominently mentioned in bicycle matters for the last few years, and without question this meet will be a successful affair. The great Fowler Sextet, which was seen by a great many people at their spring show, will endeavor each day to beat a mile record of 1:50. One hundred dollars in gold is offered them if at either or both of these trials they succeed in bettering this record. Their program embraces 15 events, eight of which are professional, and as the track has been put in most excellent condition, records will undoubtedly be made and broken. Over $500 worth of diamonds and other prizes are offered to the fellows who are in the lead, and every possible detail has been seen to with the end in view of making an honest, clean race meet, and seeing to the welfare of all visitors.

When and How to Bathe.

Dr. Cyrus Edson, ex-president of the New York Board of Health, writes concerning bathing, in June Ladies' Home Journal: "A cold douche or any form of shower bath should not be used when a person is tired or exhausted from any cause, as the reaction, on which the shock depends for its beneficial result, does not follow effectually when the system is tired."

"The result of the shower in such a case is apt to be internal congestion, which may be disastrous. It does not follow, however, that a perspiring person should not bathe until cooled off. As a matter of fact, if the person is not exhausted the fact that the pores are open is rather advantageous than otherwise, as the reaction is enhanced and will probably follow more energetically. A bath should never be taken within two hours of a hearty meal. The first effect of immersion in warm or cold water is to seriously derange the digestive process if that is progressing at the time, and by a physiological effect that naturally follows, to unbalance or derange the whole nervous system. The result of this is extremely dangerous to the bather. There are numerous instances of severe illness and even of death caused by bathing while the stomach was full."

The Chewing Gum Face.

The chewing gum face is the latest scientific discovery, and it is argued by the discoverer that no one who chews gum can possibly be beautiful. This will not have any influence upon the homely, but to actresses and others who imagine they have good looks that should not be wantonly chewed away it should prove a deterrent. Perchance the ceaseless chewing habit of the dromedary, who chews as fastidiously and industriously upon a peanut as upon a squash, is the real cause of that useful quadruped's haggard, gaunt and infinite homeliness. We should think that smoking cheap cigars, through the incessant hard puffing devolved on the smoker, would abnormally develop his masseter muscles and give him a tobacco face that should prove instrumental in securing for him the position of a cigar store Indian.

We will not allude to the cigarette face, says Truth, or any other face that, like the chewing gum face, is a false face, inasmuch as it is not a natural face. A happy, well-fed, contented-looking man, who is the picture of health, is the man with a certified check face. From the constant handling of certified checks drawn in his favor his face becomes a sort of palpitant rose garden. This is so much better than the chewing gum face that we wear it more from preference than from force of circumstances.

The Currant Worm.

This pest first makes its appearance on the lower leaves near the ground, eating small holes in the leaves, and a spraying or dusting with Paris green at this period is most effective, and not at all dangerous, as the fruit has not formed. For additional work white hellebore may be used, and it has been found to be most effective if steeped in hot water and applied with a watering can or knapsack sprayer.—Ex.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Caillouette, Druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with La Grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. 'We won't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial at F. P. Glazier & Co's Drug Store."

Odds and Ends.

The mayor of Omaha vetoed the so-called "curfew ordinance." He says that it would be a dead letter if passed, and that it savors too much of Connecticut blue laws. If boys are disorderly upon the streets the police have ample power under existing ordinances.

"Girls develop with wonderful rapidity," remarked the Concord Sage anent the woman question; "for in these days it is only a step from pantalette to pantaloons."

On the boundary line of Penobscot and Hancock counties, Me., there is a post, it is said, upon which a man may sit with his feet in Hancock county and his coat tails hanging down in Penobscot county. He may take a pipe out of a pocket in Holden, tobacco out of a pocket in Bucksport, and lighting the pipe, blow smoke into the town of Dedham.

A certain bachelor editor of a northern Iowa town is in a predicament, so an exchange avers, as the result of a care's proof reader. Having occasion to apologize to his readers for a delay in issuing his paper, he wrote: "We beg the indulgence of our readers for being a day late this week. Our failure to get on time was on account of the physical demoralization of the editor, caused by sleeping too close to the boarding window." The cussed compositor set the last word "widow," and the proof reader failed to discover the omission of the "n."

"Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," sang the choir, and the fellow felt around for his rubbers. "Praise Him all creatures here below," the man had slipped them both on and is reaching for his coat. "Praise Him above, ye heavenly host," and he has switched himself into his coat, though some of those near him received several punches during the operation. "Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost," by this time he is fishing the gloves out of his pocket, and by the time the preacher says "Amen" he has them on, and, snatching for his hat, he rushes for the door; when once on the street, he stands and watches every one come out.

Two fellows last Saturday evening went up into the law office of Mike Lehman, an attorney in Ann Arbor, for advice, or something. Mike was there, and the question submitted and advice given did not "assimilate" with the views of the visitors, which led to a dialogue, of which we have no stenographic or other account. The difference of views aroused a sentiment of combativeness, and one of the debaters seized a bottle of ink and slammed Mike over the knowledge box with such force as to smash the bottle, slash his scalp, and make him the ink of Ann Arbor. This account may be somewhat colored, but no more so than was Mike's face. Probably two gold bugs trying to convince Lehman that Jim Gorman is in favor of honest money.—Adrian Press.

A Sufferer Cured

"Every season, from the time I was two years old, I suffered dreadfully from erysipelas, which kept growing worse until my hands were almost useless. The bones softened so that they would bend, and several of my fingers are now crooked from this cause. On my hand I carry large scars, which, but for Ayer's Sarsaparilla cured me, so that I have had no return of the disease for more than twenty years. The first bottle seemed to reach the spot and a persistent use of it perfected the cure."—O. C. DAVIS, Wautoma, Wis.
