THE NEWS.

Compiled From Late Dispatches. CONGRESSIONAL

The Proceedings of the Second Session

The senate spent its first hour on the 22d in listening to Washington's farewell address, read by Senator Daniel (Va.), and then occupied the rest of the time considering the Indian appropriation bill:...The house passed the general deficiency appropriation bill and began the consideration of the last of the money bills, that providing for the naval establishment, 16 of the 68 pages being completed.

The senate made slow progress on the 23d on the appropriation bills, disposing of only one item of the Indian bill. A resolution was adopted asking the president for information as to the death of Dr. Ruiz at Guanabacoa, Cuba....In the house most of the session was spent in consideration of the naval appropriation bill. A bill was passed, after several members had declared the civil service law a humbug, giving the governors of territories the power to remove as well as to appoint certain territorial officers. A resolution was introduced directing the president to demand of the Spanish authorities in Cuba the immediate restoration to liberty of every American citizen, native-born or naturalized, now imprisoned by them in the island of Cuba.

Resolutions were introduced in the senate on the 24th calling for the immediate release of Julio Sanguilly, held at Havana, and calling on the president to effectively protect American citizens in Cuba, and for that purpose to send battle ships to Cuban waters. The Indian appropriation bill was further discussed....In the house most of the day was devoted to District of Colum-

In the senate on the 25th the time was occupied in discussing the resolution for mending battle ships to Cuba to protect American interests and many senators extheir indignation towards Spain and criticised the state department for failure to take more aggressive measures. No decisive action was taken on the resolution....In the house Mr. Sulzer (N. Y.) introduced a bill declaring war between Spain and her colonies and the United States. Final action was had on both the agricultural and army bills and a bill was passed to clothe post office inspectors with the power of United States marshals in the matter of making arrests. The bill to authorize national banks to take out circulation to the par value of the bonds deposited was also passed.

BJORNSTJERNE BJORNSON is furious with Ibsen for writing his last play, "John Gabriel Borkmann," which he asserts is full of bitter attacks on his own family life. Ibsen's son is married to Bjornson's daughter and the relations between the fathers-in-law have been strained for some time. Bjornson proposes to show Ibsen up soon in a book.

Or the 3,300 original books by American authors published in 1896 the subject of law leads with 548 new works, while education and language together got 387, and literary history and miscellany follow with 353. It appears from this that the lawyers turned their attention to authorship more than any other class, possibly because they had little else to do.

As indicating the boom in railroad building due to the reduction in the cost of steel rails, the Pittsburgh correspondent of the Iron Age notes the export sales of steel rails aggregating 100,000 tons, of which 25,000 tons are intended for the use of the London & Northwestern, and 25,000 tons for the London Southwestern Railroads Co's. while 11, 000 tons will go to Japan.

THE Irish language still lingers in the Bahamas among the mixed descendants of the Hibernian patriots banished by Cromwell to the West Indies. One can occasionally hear, it is said, black sailors in the London docks, who can not speak a word of English, talking Irish to the old Irish apple women whom they meet, and thus making themselves intelligible without a knowledge of the Saxon tongue.

According to reports recently made by the adjutant general of the army this country is able to put into the field not less than 10,024,000 men, none under 18, and none more than 40 years of age. New York state, it is estimated, could send to the front 800,000 men, Pennsylvania a like number, Illinois and Ohio could each contribute not less than 700,000, Indiana more than half a million, Massachusetts 419,000, Missouri 400,000.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S apartments in the new hotel at Cimiez comprise more than 140 rooms. Most of them have been sumptuously decorated for royal occupancy, much of the furniture having been purchased in London. The queen's bed, easy chair and footstool were brought from Windsor castle. Victoria's health is said to be reasonably good, and as for the talk of her prospective abdication, Henry Labouchere says: "The queen no more contemplates abdication than swimming across the Solent."

A PARTY of South Australian surveyors, who have just made a trip from Adelaide to the Queensland border, report that the whole of the country they traversed some 2,000 miles—is in a deplorable state owing to the long-protracted drought. In many places the rabbits had eaten themselves out, and in other places the fittest only had survived, and these were meeting the times by stripping the bark off trees-climbing them to a fair height in many cases—and eating the hides of dead cattle.

A STILL WHITE FACE.

A still white face in calmness rests, Upturned from pillow gently set, Closed eyelids shutting out the light From life; eyelids that once were wet
With tears of sadness, pain and grief,
With light of gladness, joy and bliss;
Unbidden tears, their fount o'erfull
Of waves of sorrow, checked by kiss,
Of tender love and kindly word,
By voice of sympathy low heard.

still white face. Ah, that is all Now left to look upon, at last, No speech, no smile, no answering sign, No recognition of the past; To pressure from the folded hands.

No open ear to list the knell, Which comes when grieving souls must

"Dear still white face, 'Farewell, fare-Dear pulseless heart, dear sightless eye Dear leved and loving one, "Good-by,

Tears fall upon the still white face Like springing showers of summer rain, But wake not a response, as once,

When teardrops soothed and softened Dear still white face, my soul, though mute, Pleads earnestly with thee to tell, In answer: "Is it well with thee

In thy life?" Say: "Is it well, Dear still white face, speak but one 'Is it well?' " but no response is heard.

'Tis mine to look, and list, and pray That still white face once more to see, When I, in turn, alone must go Forever out, my guide to be; When I shall trace the dreary path That all in time must sure tread.

When mine shall be a still white face,

Numbered with thine, among the dead, Then still white face, come back and My passing through life's closing gate.

A DOWNRIGHT JUDGE.

AKER and Barker lived in the country, two or three miles from "town" -which was a small village. In common with other farmers, they had to "work on the road" two or three days per annum, and, as is usually the case, their attacks upon the highway were not vicious or prolonged. They had short hours for work and long ones for dinner, and generally went home at night feeling that they had had a very pleasant peaceable day.

One noon-time Baker and Barker were taking their luncheon in the shade, by the side of an exaggerated creek, which flowed along toward its foster-parent, the river, as lazily as if it, too, were working on the road. There were five or six fellow-toilers in the same little grove; and some of them took a good nap after eating, so as to be able afterwards to precipitate themselves upon the unmended thoroughfare in a way that it would recollect during the residue of the season.

Near where they ate and slumbered, a large, long log officiated as a footbridge across the creek. A slight breeze was tiptoeing down the stream, and Baker lay upon the log and enjoyed it. He finally fell asleep there, and woke the other toilers with hoarse and rough-hewed notes from his various respiratory organs.

The disturbed road-menders lay upon their elbows and gazed at him and each other. He was a long, large, not-particularly-clean man, and looked very suggestive and tempting as he lay there only a few inches from the water's surface, neatly poised on one side of the the day. Just as Baker had ceased snoring, and showed signs of awaking, he crept to the side of his comrade, gave him a slight impulse creekward, and dodged back. The result was that Baker went stomach-long into the water, and awoke dreaming that he had enlisted in Pharaoh's army, and that it was just attempting to ford the Red ha' done it just as well as I could." "Right on the edge of it, I s'pose, interrupted the justice. "Just kind of hanging by the bark of the timber, as it were."

"My defense is, your honor," replied date for the wedding.-London Tit-Bits.

"Yes," continued Barker, "and snoring like a blacksmith's bellows. He had woke us all up, an' we sort o' felt that it would do his whistle good to wet it a little, an' that he needed cleaning' up on general principles, anyhow. The others looked at me, an' I looked at them, an' we all looked at Baker."

"Ah! then the others were particeps criminis," exclaimed the justice, gravely.

At this, the others made a motion as if to leave the room; but there was too dense a crowd behind them. "Go on. sir," said the justice, meaning Barker.

"Particeps criminis again," said the justice, still more gravely. "We shall have 'a celebrated case' here, and an extensive one." The other farmers hung their heads.

"An' I thought 'now or never,' an' crep' up-an' up-"

"Had to go very still, I suppose," said the justice, leaning forward eagerly. "Never done anything so still in my life," said Barker. "Jes' before I got to him, he acted as if he was goin' to wake up."

"Gracious!" exclaimed the justice, with a suddenly worried look. "That is, I mean continue, sir."

"Wall, he didn't quite wake up." "He didn't quite awaken," interrupted the justice, with a look of relief on his stern face.

"No; an' then I crep' up-an' up-an'

"Up and up and up," repeated the justice, leaning forward as far as he could without leaving the bench, extending his long white hand, and evincing a most extraordinary interest. "Proceed, sir."

"An' jes' a second afore I got to him thought he was awake-but he wasn't -quite-"

"He wasn't quite," repeated the old justice, with both hands extended now. "An' I jest reached out this 'ere forefinger an' give him a little push-"

"Just enough to shift his ballast the eighth of an inch!" exclaimed the justice, in an intense tone, half rising to his feet.

"An' he started-slow at first." "Slow at first, sir," said the justice-"An' then a little faster, an' then-"And then-"

"Slap-bang-splash - swash! - he plunked in there, half like a frog an' half like a porpus; an' such a three-cornered fight atwixt earth, air an' water I never see afore. He was scramblin' an' kickin' an' puffin' an' blowin', an' blasphemin', all to once; an' I couldn't tell which was the most surprisedhim or the creek."

"By gracious," shouted the justice, rising to his feet, rubbing his hands, and dancing frantically about, "I'd have done it myself! Case is dismissed, an' no cause of action!"-Everywhere.

HALF CAT, HALF RABBIT.

Odd Freak Owned by New Jersey Bar-Groom Keeper.

Nature cuts many queer capers but no more strange example of her oddities can be seen in this section than a pet which is owned by a barroom keeper in Lambertville, N. J., says an exchange. The animal is half cat and half rabbit and has some of the habits and nature of both animals, while its anatomy consists of a peculiar commingling of each.

The freak from its head to the middle of its body looks like an ordinary kitten, the head and front paws being perfectly formed. The hindquarters of the animal are those of a rabbit, with a typical "cotton tail." The front feet are armed with sharp, curling claws, while the hind feet are equipped with long, straight claws for use in running. The fur is white, gray, black and yellow, in spots, and in quality is in places soft, in others harsh.

To see it run one would think it a rabbit, except for its short ears. When not in motion it squats on its hind legs just as a rabbit does and if a piece of cabbage or apple be given it it will take it in its front paws and nibble it contentedly. This strange animal, if disturbed or maddened, evinces at times all the nature of a cat, while again it will run away and hide behind any object of shelter. It is now about three months

MICHIGAN'S CAPITAL

The Question of Removal to Detroit Still Agitated.

No Bill, However, Was Introduced to That Effect-Loan Associations Fight-Bounty for Beet Sugar.

[Special Correspondence.] Lansing, March 1.-The total number of senate bills at this session is 540; house bills, 1,232. Last session senate bills numbered 518; house bills, 1,113. Among the entire lot presented it is surprising to most people that not one provides for submitting to the people the proposed amendment to the constitution providing for the removal of the capital of the state to Detroit. There has been so much talk of this matter, "Well," resumed Barker, "about that | and the project having the backing of so long a list of Detroit business men, to say nothing of the fact that it was favored by Gov. Pingree, it is a matter of comment that no measure was introduced. However, this situation of affairs is not an indication of the death of the proposed scheme. The first step toward bringing the capital to Detroit is really contained in the amendment to the Detroit charter introduced by Col. John Atkinson, which contemplates raising the limit of bonded indebtedness for Detroit from two to five per cent. Col. Atkinson, in talking about his bill said: "We must first have something to offer the people in order to induce the moving of the capital. When we have provided a site in Detroit for the capitol building and made other arrangements we can come to some future leg> tropolis the capital of the state." The national building and loan associations are making a determined fight against the bill placing them under the supervision of the state banking department. Two years ago a law was passed requiring them to make reports to and be subject to examination by the secretary of state. Now they protest against the repeal of this law before even the first annual report required by it has been made. In the event of its repeal, however, the associations ask that a new department be created for their supervision, claiming that as they are rivals of banks, the banking department would be prejudiced against them. The indications are that the law requiring that real estate mortgages be taxed will be repealed, the senate committee having so recommended. It is claimed the law has not only driven a vast amount of capital out of the state since its enactment several years ago, but that in nearly every instance the mortgageor is required to pay the tax.

The proposal to annex Isle Royal to Keweenaw county would make the English syndicate owning it pay its just share of taxes. At present the vaulation is $100,000, when it is known to be very rich in copper. The island is 40 miles long and one of the largest in the lakes.

The most important measure thus far passed by either body is the bill offering a bounty of one cent per pound for beet sugar of Michigan production. An effort made in the house to amend the bill so as to make $50,000 the limit of bounty to be paid in any one year was unsuccessful. The bill requires that such bounty shall be paid for seven years from the time the act takes effect,

The manufacturers of oleomargarine and other substitutes for butter were given a hard blow when the senate passed the Jibb bill prohibiting the coloring of these products to resumble butter. The bill is now sure to become a law.

The house special committee on violations of the law on railroad freight charges has decided that a circular letter shall be sent to shippers in districts where it is supposed that discriminations have been made in rates, asking the shippers for information.

The house committee on state affairs has reported favorably the bill providing for women physicians and attendants for women patients in insane asylums.

A bill hase been introduced in the house to make large department stores unlawful. It provides that all articles usually sold at retail shall be divided into 72 classes and the classes divided into 12 groups. A merchant can sell only the articles enumerated in a particular group.

The latest measure in which the governor is interested requires annual reports to be made by transportation companies of all kind, gas and electric lighting companies, covering their or ganization, capitalization, shareholders, volume of business, number of employes, earnings, expenses and every other item of business. These reports are to be made to the state bureau of statistics, which the bill creates. It is proposed to stop the practice of private individuals engaging in the banking business under a corporate title, and also to require all private bankers to submit to inspection and supervision by the state banking commissioner.

A bill to increase the revenues of the state increases by one per cent. the rate of taxation assessed against the gross Michigan earnings of all life and fire insurance companies transacting business in the state. This will increase the total revenue from this source 50 per

FACTORY INSPECTION.

Annual Report of the Michigan Commissioner of Labor. The results of factory inspection in the state of Michigan during the year 1896 are detailed in the annual report of the commissioner of labor just issued. The report says: There were 2,991 manufacturing places visited during the year, which is a decrease of 146 from the number inspected in 1895. The cause of the decrease is due to the necessity of bringing the year's work to a close earlier than usual.

For the convenience of the department the state is divided into five inspection districts. In the first 900 factories were visited, in the second 628, in the third 725, in the fourth 396 and in the fifth 342. Out of the total of 2,991 factories inspected 2,572 were running and 419 were idle. The number of factories running on full time was 2,187, and on part time 385. By reason of the factories running on short time a loss of 30,368 hours each week is figured by the inspectors. This means a loss to labor of 506 days each day or 158,378 days per year. The financial loss is computed at $194,804 per year, figuring each day's labor at $1.23, the average wages paid all factory employes in the state in 1896. A still greater loss is computed from the failure of the factories to be operated at their full capacity, the average financial loss being $18,745,163.

The number of male employes at the date of the inspection was $7,027 and of fe-males 14,026, a total of 101,053. The number of factories employing females was 884, and the number employing children over 14 and under 16 was 315, there being 1,444 children between the ages named employed. Thirty-seven factories were found where in the aggregate 66 children under the age of 14 were employed.

The aggregate monthly pay rolls in the factories inspected were $3,237,682, the average monthly pay roll $1,258.82, the average erage per capita per year for employes $384.48. Over 2,000 factories allow 60 minutes for dinner, while 564 allow less time. The average hours per day required of males under 18 and females under 21 is 9 4-5, a large majority of the factories requiring ten hours' labor.

The record of accidents for the year 1896 is a favorable one, the whole num ing 164, and the whole number of fatal accidents 14. Compared with 1895, this is a decrease of 89 in the number of accidents and of 29 in the number of fatalities.

In 1895 over 90 per cent, of the factories inspected were running, and about 82 per cent. were running full time. In 1896 only a little over 86 per cent. of the factories inspected were running, and only 73 per cent. of them were running on full time. 1895 the average wages per capita was $1.32 per day, while in 1896 it was $1.23.

Attention is called to the fact that there are to-day very few children employed in manufacturing establishments in violation of the law. It must be remembered, however, that where the employment of children under 14 years of age is absolutely prohibited, a certificate from parents or guardians admits any child over 14 into any factory. Undoubtedly a few children are employed after furnishing false certificates as to age, and the commissioner suggests that the law be amended so that parents may be compelled to furnish sworn certificates as to age. The factory inspection law, contrary to a prevalent idea, does not reach children employed in places other than factories, but it is said that a truancy effectually prevent the employment of children under 16 years of age.

During the three years the inspection law has been in force in the state 200 fire escapes have been caused to be put up, 350 elevators provided, 80 dust arresters or blowers pro-vided, 550 guards and safety devices constructed, 397 children under 14 years old discharged and 1,560 miscellaneous orders enforced by the inspectors. It is concluded that the law has been a success, and that very little ill-feeling has been engendered by the enforcement.

WILL BE BUILT.

The Proposed Railroad from Ohio to Grand Rapids.

It is announced that three capitalists from New York city have been in Battle Creek, incog., investigating the prospects of Jerry Boynton's proposed Central Michigan railroad from Ohio through Battle Creek to Grand Rapids and Grand Haven. They have been over the entire route and have visited the cities and towns through which it is proposed to pass, looking up the re-sources and business prospects and manufacturing interests of these towns. It is claimed that they were very faverably impressed with the prospects of the road, and it is further stated by persons who profess to know that the road will certainly be built this sum-

At the time of the failure a committee of the creditors reported only enough available assets to pay the secured creditors about 50 cents on the dollar. Mr. Peters failed six years ago, and the debts of himself and the R. G. Peters Salt and Lumber company aggregated nearly $2,500,000. It was the biggest failure western Michigan ever knew, and the banks in Grand Rapids and in Chicago and Milwaukee were deeply involved. All the debts, secured and unsecured, have been paid in full, and Mr. Peters has $1,000,000 worth of assets left.

Embryo Millionaires in Cass County Become Disheartened.

Some time ago the residents of the little village of Summerville, in Cass county, became considerably excited over the discovery of iron ore in that region in what was believed to be paying quantities. Specimens of the ore were sent away to be assayed, and when they were pronounced by the mineralogist to be rich in iron, the adjoining real estate took on a great boom. The most thorough prospecting, however, failed to find any more ore, and the disheartened embryo millionaires are now willing to make affidavit that the alleged specimens comprise all the mineral to be found in that region.

The address issued this week by the silver republicans in Congress has not pleased the politicians in either of the parties, because it indicates an intention to Resolved, That this Council protest maintain a silver republican party by and providing for it to hold a meeting in Chicago next June. Another thing about the address that the populists do not like is that Senator Jones. of Nevade, who last year publicly declared loose from the republican party, signed it. Senator Stewart, of the same state, did not sign it. The meeting at which the address was prepared was held at Senator Teller's house.

Some of the western men in Congress are making a warm fight on President Cleveland's proclamation setting aside 21,000,000 acres of land to make thirteen forest reservations. A delegation consisting of Senator Clark and Representative Mundell, of Wyoming, and Representative Gamble, of South Dakota, made a vigorous protest to Secretary Francis. Senator Wilson, of Washington. said on the floor of the Senate that the proclamation On motion, J. J. Raftrey and I. Vogel should not have been issued; Senator forest land tracts which contained no timber larger than a jack rabbit bush, and Senator Clark said he knew from personal observation that some of the land didn't have enough timber on it to build a fourrail fence around it. Secretary Francis. says the action of the President was based upon official information and a desire to stop the wholesale destruction of timber on the public lands in question,

Among the callers at the White House this week was Lord Aberdeen, the Goyernor General of Canada, who is a guest of Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British amabove named will be held at the Council bassador. Lord Aberdeen was presented to President Cleveland by Secretary Olney. The call was strictly social, as is the visit of Lord and Lady Aberdeen and their party to the United States.

The employes of the Pension Bureau, several thousand in number, would not object to having their building used for an inaugural ball two or three times a year, as they get a whole week's holiday with pay each time, because they cannot work in the building while the decorators are fixing up for the ball and because the By order of the Village Board of decorations require a day or two for their removal. A week's pay of all the employes of the Pension Bureau is what Uncle Sam contributes to each inaugural ball held in that building. It is probable that the inaugural ball would long ago have been done away with were it not that the money received from the sale of tickets to it at $5 each is depended upon to pay all the expenses incurred by the citizens' committee which has charge of the inauguration of a President, and always does it.

> There is undeniably a strong undercurrent among the republican politicians -yes, and those of other parties, tooagainst the civil service law as now interpreted. It broke out in a debate in the House this week on an insignificant little bill amending existing law as to the authority of the governors of territories to remove certain territorial officials, or rather in the applause which greeted every point against the civil service law in that debate. Whether a direct attempt will be made in the next Congress to overthrow the law is doubtful, although not a few predict that the attempt will be made and that it will be successful. That some of the present rules will be modified if not entirely rescinded is probable, and that all of them will be stretched to the utmost limit by the new appointing pow. ers is regarded as certain, owing to the great pressure that will be brought to bear to secure appointments.

Gives Greek Troops Three Days to Withdraw from Crete-British Policy Announced-Turks Prepare for Trouble.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 26. - Russia, through the Russian minister at Athens, M. K. Onou, has called upon Greece to withdraw all of her troops and the fleet from Crete within three days. The foregoing semiofficial announcement was accompanied by a long and involved statement of the motives actuating Russia, namely: That, to prevent the extension of the revolution to other portions of the Turkish empire imperiling the peace of Europe, a stop must be put to the action of Greece, which is in opposition to international law. Before negotiations for a future Cretan constitution can be entered upon, it is asserted, Russia has resolved to restore order in Crete. Then, after the Greek evacuation, under the protection of the powers, an autonomous government would be installed under the suzerainty of the sultan. In this policy, it is claimed, Russia is supported by France, Germany and Austria.

Great Britain's Policy.

London, Feb. 26.-In the house of lords Lord Salisbury announced that a telegram had been sent to the British representative at the capital of each of the combined European powers, the phraseology of which was as follows:

Inform the government to which you are accredited that her majesty's government propose to make the following declaration of the policy they intend to pursue, which they believe to be in accordance with that of their allies:

"First, That the establishment of administrative autonomy in Crete is necessary to the termination of international occupation of that island. Second, That subject to such system of administrative autonomy Crete ought to remain a portion of the Turkish em-"Third, That the governments of Turkey and Greece ought to be informed of this

That if either Turkey or Greece should persist in a refusal when required to withdraw her naval and military forces from the island, the powers should impose their decision by force.' Greece Remains Firm.

London, Feb. 27 .- The Athens correspondent of the Times telegraphs that Prime Minister Delyannis has informed him that Greece's decision to maintain her army in Crete is irrevocable, but that the troops will abstain from the offensive. They will only protect the Christians. Greece will not declare war against Turkey unless the Turks invade Thessaly or the powers render the position of the Greek troops in Crete unbearable.

Indignation Against the Powers.

Athens, Feb. 27. - The popular indignation against the great powers shows no signs of waning and if the people had their way they would fight with arms in their hands against the combined forces of Europe in defense of their right to protect the Christians in Crete. It is not alone among the people that this feeling prevails. Parliamentary and official opinion strongly favors resistance to the demands of the powers. The joint note addressed to the Greek government has not yet been delivered and the delay is unexplained. Only the Russian, Austrian and German ministers have been instructed by their governments concerning the note. It is reported that one of the powers has withdrawn from the concert. If this is true, it will leave matters in status quo, and will break up the concert, the efforts of which have been directed to overthrowing Greece by threats. Turkish Troops Massing.

Salonica, Feb. 27.—The massing of Turkish troops and munitions of war on the frontier is proceeding with feverish haste. All the soldiers on furlough have been recalled and 11 batteries of artillery, a regiment of cavalry and two battalious of infantry have gone from here, Monastir and elsewhere to Elassona. Two additional battalions of infantry have reached Katerina. The reliefs from Smyrna, Brusa, Trebizonde and elsewhere in Anatolia are on their way here and to the frontier, where a total of six divisions will be formed, with headquarters at Elassona. Redjet Pasha, until now in command at Bagdad, has been appointed commander in chief. The cruisers Mycali and Sfaktirea have arrived at the Piraeus from Crete. Grand Duke George of Russia arrived from Patras on board the Tsarevna and leaves at once for an unknown destination.

Women Fool with a Revolver. Long Island City, N. Y., Feb. 27.-Mrs. Annie Marion Brennan, 30 years old, was accidentally shot and killed by Mrs. John Delaney in the latter's home at one o'clock Friday afternoon. Mrs. Delaney pointed a revolver at Mrs. Brennan in play. The revolver exploded and the bullet lodged in Mrs. Brennan's forehead. She was taken to St. John's hospital, where she later made an antemortem statement exonerating Mrs. Delaney. Shortly after making the statement she died.

Cold Snap at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 27.-The mercury at seven o'clock Friday morning registered 28 degrees below zero in St Paul. This is the coldest weather of the winter, and the coldest so late in February in the history of the local weather station.

OLNEY STANDS BY LEE. Serves Notice That Spain Must Respect American Rights.

New York, March 1 .- A special to the Herald from Havana, Cuba, via Key West, Fla., says: While the state department has not backed up Consul-General Lee unreservedly the administration has at last taken a firm stand on one question, and that is the length of time an American citizen can be held incommunicado in a Spanish prison. Upon this question Secretary Olney fairly placed himself on record shoulder to shoulder with Gen. Lee. He has authorized Gen. Lee to demand the release of each and every American who may be arrested and kept incommunicado for more than 72 hours. He has informed the Madrid government of the clear and well defined attitude our government has assumed on this question. Only a few weeks ago Gen. Weyler informed Gen. Lee, both verbally and in writing, that the Spanish government had and proposed to exercise, the right of keeping Americans in prison and incommunicado 70 days if it should be so decided. The treaty rights contained in the treaty of 1795 and explained and interpreted by the protocol of 1878 had ceased to exist, contended Gen. Weyler the moment that his proclamation of martial law was published. Gen. Lee reported the mere facts to our government, and as a result the foregoing instructions have been forthcoming. It remains to be seen what policy the Madrid government will assume.

New York, March 1 .- The Herald's correspondent in Havana sends the following via Tampa: "I am informed on the very highest authority that Capt. Gen. Weyler has forwarded his resignation to the Spanish government at Madrid. The captain general, I am also informed, will leave the island as soon as possible, probably in about three weeks. This decisive step Gen. Weyler determined to take, my authority says, as soon as he heard of the release of Julio Sanguilly. The captain general had frequently said that he would resign if the crown should interfere with his policy in regard to prisoners, especially Americans, and he was incensed, I am told, beyond measure at being ignored in the negotiations carried on by the Spanish government in the case of the notable captive Sanguilly, who was released on Friday. It is reported that Gen. Ramon Blanco y Arenas, the marquis of Pena Plato, may be appointed to succeed Gen. Wey

SAYS WAR IS CERTAIN.

Greece Thinks the Powers Will Have Trouble Over Crete.

London, March 1 .- According to the Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail, the public feeling there is nothing can prevent the powers from coming to blows over Crete. The rumor was circulated yesterday morning that the English flag alone had been hoisted over the fortress of Izzeding. Everybody immediately leaped to the conclusion that England was trying to steal a march on the other powers by seizing Suda har-

It seems certain to the Daily Mail's correspondent that one of the powers is now urging the sultan to take the offensive immediately, possibly with the intention of stepping in to protect Greece in case the Turks should overrun Thessaly, but more probably with the ulterior design of seizing Constantinople.

The Daily Mail's advices from Canea report serious news from Candia. Col. Coracas, with 15,000 insurgents and three guns, threatens to attack Hierapetra, where the garrison is ill supplied with arms and ammunition and the forts are weak. It is feared that this may seriously complicate the situation. A famine is imminent in Candia, and it is apprehended that the troops there may pillage the district. Fighting is in progress at Malata. The Bashi-bazouks lost three killed and five wounded. The regulars lost eight killed and five wounded.

The Daily Mail's Constantinople correspondent reports that 15,000 troops have already been removed from Asia into Europe. The railway officials cannot provide for forwarding these soldiers toward Salonica at the rate of more than 3,000 daily.

VICTORY FOR PINGREE.

By Decision of Court Still Mayor and Governor.

Detroit, Mich., March 1.-Hazen S Pingree is still mayor of Detroit and governor of the state of Michigan, according to an opinion handed down by the full bench of the Wayne circuit court. The decision was upon the mandamus proceedings brought by Board of Public Works Commissioner Moreland to require the common council to declare the office of mayor vacant and issue a call for an election to fill the vacancy. The court holds that Mr. Moreland, standing alone, and without the relation of the attorncy general, has no standing in court, and the court has no jurisdiction.

School Girl Kills Herself.

Dallas, Tex., March 1 .- Miss Woodie Nash, pupil at the state normal school at Huntsville, Tex., committed suicide by shooting herself through the head. She had become despondent over the belief that she would fail to pass the approaching examination of her class. She left the breakfast table and went to her room and a moment later a shot was heard.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

A Resume of the Legislation of Both Houses.

Appropriations Will Amount to More Than $1,000,000,000 - No Measures for Public Buildings-Over 10,000 Bills Offered.

Washington, March 1.-The Fifty fourth congress, which will expire at noon on Thursday, will be held remark able, principally for what it has failed to accomplish. In one respect-in the number of bills and resolutions introduced-it was a record-breaker. In the house alone over 10,400 bills and 3,100 resolutions were introduced and referred to various committees. Only a fraction of these passed the house and fewer still became laws.

The principal business of the congress, aside from the passage of the ap propriation bills, was limited to the first session, the net results of which were the enactment into law of the bills creating the commission to determine the true divisional line between Venezuela and British Guiana; prohibiting prize fighting in the territories; per mitting appointments in the army and navy of former United States officers who served in the rebellion; making one year's residence in a territory neces sary for a divorce; incorporating the National Society of the Daughters of the Revolution; defining the penalty for interference with railway trains and persons riding thereon and sub stituting salaries for fees to United States marshals and district attorneys

Aside from the foregoing measures, the remaining bills (excepting the !mmigration bill and the joint resolution for an international monetary conference, passed at the second session) were of no general interest. Included in these were 700 private pension billsan unprecedented number.

In another respect the Fifty-fourth congress was remarkable. This was its failure to pass a single bill providing for public buildings. The house calendar contained 100 bills of this class, including the senate bill for a custom house in New York city. Speaker Reed, however, in his determination to reduce the expenditures to the lowest limit consistent with the necessities of the government, set his face sternly against all legislation of this character.

Notwithstanding this circumstances the present congress is the third in American history in which the appropriations have exceeded $1,000,000,000. If, it is claimed, these appropriations be deducted from the sum total the aggregate for the past two years would

A number of important measures which were reported to the house last session and were expected to receive favorable consideration during the present session were either defeated or were left on the calendar. The bill to settle the indebtedness of the bond-aided railways to the government, which was a legacy from the last session, suffered a crushing defeat in January last. The substitute measure prepared by Mr. Harrison, of Alabama, to adjust these claims through the medium of a cabinet commission was not permitted by the committee on rules to come before the house, thus leaving it an open question between the supporters and the opponents of the measure what its fate would have been.

No effort was made at the present session to call up the bills admitting Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma to statehood. The "sound money" men in the house were a practical unit against the admission of any territories which are likely to send advocates of free silver to the senate. Among the bills which passed the house but have not been acted upon in the senate are the Morse bill to prevent the selling of liquor in the capitol; the Brosius bill permitting the establishment of national banks with a capital of $20,000 in towns of 4,000 inhabitants, and the Loud bill to reclassify second-class mail

The ways and means committee gave series of hearings during the early weeks of the session, and remainder of the time was occupied by the republican members in formulating a new tariff bill. This will follow the general lines of the McKinley law of 1890 and will be reported to the house at the beginning of the extra session of the next con-

Much of the time of the senate has been consumed in the discussion of questions relating to our foreign relations, and while no positive action of any kind has been taken, many columns of the Congressional Record have been filled with speeches on these topics. Cuban resolutions have been introduced and pressed for action by the score, but, beyond precipitating debate, nothing has been accomplished. A treaty with Japan has been ratified, putting into immediate operation the clause of the treaty of commerce and navigation negotiated two years ago. The general treaty of arbitration with Great Britain, after being fruitlessly considered for two weeks, went over until the next session. The Alaskan boundary treaty with Great Britain has not even peen considered in committee. The Nicaraguan canal bill, which was debated for several weeks, was on the point of final passage with a comfortable majority in front of it when the protest of the minister representing the Greater Central American Republic was received.

MICHIGAN REPUBLICANS.

Proceedings of the State Convention Held in Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 24.-More than 1,000 delegates were present when Chairman Ferry rapped to order the state republican convention, called to nominate a justice of the supreme court and two regents of the university.

Chairman Ferry introduced Gen. R. A. Alger as chairman. The next secretary of war was greeted with great enthusiasm. He urged Michigan republicans to set the pace and make a mark In this state election for coming elec-

After adoption of the report of the committee on credentials the resolutions committee reported briefly, congratulating the country on the victory of last November, reaffirming the last national platform and reasserting that the trumph of republican principles would restore the country to that condition of prosperity which it always en-joyed under republican supremacy. The resolutions also commended the present state administration.

Judge Long, of the supreme court, was renominated by acclamation, as was also W. J. Cocker, of Adrian, for regent of the University of Michigan.

The struggle of the day came on the nomination of a second regent of the university. Some republicans advocated the reelection of Regent Barbour, a gold democrat, and others declared that they were sent there as republicans to nominate republicans. They opposed fusion in any form and declared that if patriotism had, in the cases of some democrats, risen above partisanship it was commendable, but that such virtue should be its own reward.

The candidates named were: Levi L. Barbour, Detroit; E. D. Nelson, Ironwood; Joseph R. McLaughlin, Detroit; James M. Wilkinson, Marquette, and Charles D. Lawton, of Van Buren coun-

The first vote by counties resulted: Barbour, 372; Nelson, 154; McLaughlin, 247; Wilkins, 132; Lawton, 189; necessary to a choice, 548.

The second ballot gave Barbour, 362; Nelson, 70; McLaughlin, 303; Wilkinson, 40; Lawton, 301.

The third ballot narrowed the contest to Lawton and McLaughlin, but the former made such gains that all the delegates went over to him and Lawton was declared the unanimous nominee.

Before adjournment resolutions were enthusiastically adopted thanking President-elect McKinley for Gen. Alger's appointment to the cabinet.

MAY BECOME TREELESS.

Report of Labor Commissioner Morse on Forestry.

In view of the interest which is being taken in the subject of forestry, Labor Commissioner Morse, in part three of his forthcoming annual report has devoted considerable attention to it, and he gives some interesting figures relative to the extent and character of the forests now remaining in the state. He

"Unquestionably Michigan must give this matter attention in the near future, or the state, once second to none in amount and value of its timber, will be nearly as treeless as the prairie states. The last annual message of Gov. Rich invites the attention of the legislature to the matter of forestry and makes pertinent recommendations. Land Commissioner French, also, in his last annual report, calls attention to the practicability of using the cheap lands of the state for the reproduction of forests. There is very little doubt that at a moderate expense a large amount of land now almost valueless may be made to yield valuable returns in the not remote future.

The number of surveyed townships and fractions of townships in the state is 1,859. The number of acres of standing hardwood is given at 6,166,977; of standing pine. at 775,208; hemlock, 1,468,166; of plains partly covered with bushes and scattering trees, 5,660,810; of swamps partly covered with small timber and bushes, at 3,265,667 acres: There are 18 counties in the state in which there is not an acre of pine, and there are 32 counties in which there are less than 100 acres each. In 23 counties there is no hem-

SOLD HIS WIFE.

Strange Transaction to Dissolve the Marriage Ties.

John Lane and his wife Mary, of Grand Rapids, got tired of marriage, so, for the sum of $25, to be paid by J. H. Hurst, John sold all right and title to Mary, and Mary relinquished all claims upon John. This peculiar bargain-counter disposal of a wife was made formal by a bill of sale signed by both Mary and John and Mr. Hurst. and witnessed by S. R. McMasters and Thomas Jones, two neighbors. After completing the deal all hands celebrated the event in the most fraternal way, and it is said that the purchase money was pretty well expended.

Fast Horses Killed. Two fast horses, "Uncle Henry," of Ypsilanti, just purchased by William Geddes, and a horse owned by M. J. Crane, collided on the race track at Frankfort, running the thills of the cutters entirely through the bodies of the horses, Uncle Henry being killed instantly and the other horse being so badly injured that he had to be killed.

Found a Whisky Joint.

The little village of Martin has not had a saloon for 30 years, but so many drunken men were seen on the streets lately that an investigation was ordered. The authorities found a joint containing 15 barrels of whisky in the cellar of a private residence near the ousiness center.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

The Thirty-Kinth General Assembly

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24.-A proposition was made in the senate yesterday to amer the constitution so as to make the regents of the university subject to legislative di-rection. At present the board cannot be coerced to act in any matter against its judgment. Bills have been introduced pro-viding for a one-tenth of a mill tax in townhips and cities for the relief of old so and for the creation of a relief commis-sion; prohibiting sale and manufacture of cigarettes; providing for the compulsory education of Mind children; suspending publication of all state documents for two years except the state manual and statutes; to amend liquor laws; raising license for retail dealers to $750 and for wholesale and retail to $1,000 per year; to divide the state into 12 congressional districts; to amend the act revising the laws authoriging the business of banking and to estaba banking department; to amend the constitution, adding a new section to Arti-cle 5 providing that the governor may re-quire that the supreme court pass on bills sent to him for approval; authorizing the governor to appoint a commission to revise the laws concerning private corporations and defining their powers and duties. Bills have passed to amend the act authorizing the formation of corporations; to amend act providing for the holding of primaries in cities of not less than 15,000; to provide for the printing and distribution of all laws of a public character; to amend act to prevent fraud and deception at elections.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 25 .- Several bills to reduce official salaries were among the bills introduced in the senate yesterday.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 26.-The indications are that the law requiring that real estate mortgages be taxed will be repealed, the senate committee having so recommended. It is claimed the law has not only driven a vast amount of capital out of the state since its enactment several years ago, but that in nearly every instance the mortgagor is required to pay the tax.

By a vote of 43 to 22 the republican senators and representatives in caucus voted to attend the inauguration at Washington next week. They will draw no pay for the time thus spent. Lansing, Mich., Feb. 27.-In the senate vesterday bills were passed for a bounty of one cent a pound for a period of seven years on beet sugar manufactured in the state; prohibiting the coloring of oleomargarine to resemble butter; prescribing rules for the use of the Abbott voting machine and permitting its use at Michigan elections. The action of the house in appropriating $7,500 for the Michigan exhibit at the Tennessee centennial exposition was not concurred in.

Bills have been introduced amending liquor law so that liquor tax shall be turned into state treasury; to amend constitution relative to regents of university to make them amenable to laws of the state; a congressional apportionment bill; amending the banking law; fixing rates of legal advertising at 50 cents a folio; reducing salaries of state officers from $61,400 to $52,-600: to prohibit the public exhibition of glove contests; to prohibit employment of emales as barkeepers or for dancing or to furnish amusement where liquor is sold.

The House. Lansing, Mich., Feb. 24.-A bill was introduced in the house yesterday providing for a tax on bachelors, who are required to pay a tax of $25 a year for the ten years between the ages of 35 and 45. A bill for the purpose of wiping out department stores was introduced. It classifies the lines of business which may be carried on in one establishment and groups certain classification which may be included in department stores. These are to pay a license fee of $500 a year and a heavy penity is provided for violations of the law relative to the lines of goods that may be handled. Bills have been introduced to declare unlawful and void all arrangements, contracts and agreements, trusts or combinations made with a view to lessen competition; authorizing the board of state auditors to print the report of the Michigan commission to the world's fair; providing for county auditors in every county; o amend fish law, preventing the use of rap, stake, gillor set net in waters connecting Lakes Huron and Erie; to provide that no person employed in a newspaper office shall

e compelled to disclose source of information; to provide appropriation of $6,000 for the state board of health. Lansing, Mich., Feb. 25.-In the house vesterday a bill was introduced requiring annual reports to be made by transportstion companies of all kinds, gas and electric lighting companies, covering their organization, capitalization, shareholders, volume of business, number of employes, earnings, expenses and every other item of business. These reports are to be made to the state bureau of statistics, which the bill creates. Another bill proposes to stop the practice of private individuals engaging n the banking business under a corporate title, and also to require all private bankers to submit to inspection and supervision by the state banking commissioner. A bill to increase the revenues of the state inreases by one per cent. the rate of taxation assessed against the gross Michigan earnings of all life and fire insurance companies transacting business in the state. This will increase the total revenue from this source 50 per cent. A reform bill prohibits the employment of females as bar-keepers or as dancers or musicians in any place where intoxicating liquors are sold. Lansing, Mich., Feb. 26.-In the house bills have been introduced to define diseases dangerous to public health; to license big department stores; to create an entirely new general law for the incorporation of fourth-class cities; for excise commissioners, with deputies in all counties, to examine all applicants for saloon licenses and to see that the liquor laws are enforced; fixing salaries of justices of the peace by statute as follows: In townships, from $10 to $300 per year; in villages, from $25 to $500; in cities, from $100 to $3,000 for a state tax commission to report on the best system of taxation on all lines to the next legislature; to have the receipts from liquor taxes turned back to the townships, villages or cities, instead of having all the money go to the county; providing a one-hundredth of a mill tax for the sup-port of the State Agricultural society and the maintenance of state fairs.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 27.-In the house the bill offering a bounty of one cent per pound for beet sugar of Michigan production was passed. Bills have been introduced appropriating $3,000 for university hospitals; for the taxation of real estate mortgages; to regulate relief for indigent war veterans and their families; making Lincoln's birth-day a legal holiday; to divorce the cities of Saginaw and East Saginaw; to organize county of Hoyt; to prevent the assignment of real estate mortgages to non residents; giving soldiers, sailors, etc. of the late war a free license to peddle In the state; to prevent grading of public schools on color lines; permitting marriage of girls of 12 years and males of 18 in order to legalize heirs; providing that first degree murderers shall be killed by electrocution

Mr. Chute introduced a joint resolution for an amendment to the constitution providing that legislators be paid five dollars a day, but only for the first 100 days, members to receive nothing after that many days of a regular session and nothing after the first 20 days of a special session. The Michigan League of Republican clubs held its annual convention at the Cadillac hotel in Detroit, about 300 delegates being present. The report of Secretary Meginnity showed that at the present time there were 349 clubs in the state league, with a membership of 80,000. The following officers were elected: President, E. N. Dingley, of Kalamazoo; vice president, Grant Fellows, of Hudson; treasurer, Frank S. Waite, of Sturgis; secretary, Bingley R. Fales, of Detroit.

Took His Own Life.

Baron and Freiherr Francis Xavier Ludwig Maximilian van Oeyen of Schloss Johannesburg, Bavaria, aged 72, committed suicide by taking morphine at his home in Detroit. The baron was a descendant of a princely house of Germany. He became involved in revolutionary projects, and fled to this country in 1850. Later he was disinherited, and swore he would never revisit his native land.

Met an Awful Death.

Frank Burdick, of Flint, met a terrible and unexpected death at Grand Blanc. He was stealing a ride to Detroit upon a freight train, and when neur Grand Blanc the train parted. When the sections came together again Burdick was knocked from his moorings and his body was cut in two, death following instantly. He was 31 years old and leaves a widow and two chil-

A Strange Cure.

Little Mamie Ellison, of Grand Ledge, had inflammation of the bowels and the family physician despaired. A neighbor urged upon the parents the use of cats' hides and the doctor interposed no objection. Twenty-nine felines, black ones preferably, were slaughtered and their pelts, warm and bleeding, were successively applied. Now the little one is convalescing.

Health in Michigan.

During the week ended February 20 reports sent in by 61 observers in various portion of the state indicated that inflammation of the kidneys and consumption increased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 172 places, typhoid fever at 20, diphtheria at 41, scarlet fever at 26, measles at 53 and whooping cough at 11 places

Pine Land Sold.

The Thayer Lumber company, of Muskegon, has purchased the 10,000 acre tract of pine land in Missaukee county of John Canfield, of Manistee, for about $1,200,000. The tract contains 300,000,-000,000 feet of pine land and is the largest block of standing pine left in the state. The logs will be taken to Muskegon by rail to be sawed.

TO GO ABROAD.

List of Men Said to Have Been Selected for Foreign Missions.

New York, March 1 .- A Washington dispatch to the New York Herald says that President-elect McKinley's announced purpose of delaying the question of patronage until the tariff bill is well under way will not apply to important foreign missions. Within a very short time after his cabinet has been nominated a batch of foreign appointments will be sent to the senate. Here are some of the appointments Maj. McKinley is expected to make very soon after he becomes president: Bellamy Storer, of Ohio, first assistant secretary of state.

John Hay, of Ohio, ambassador to Great Britain.

William F. Draper, of Massachusetts, or Horace Porter, of New York, ambassador

Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, minister to John A. Roche, of Illinois, minister to minister to China. William McKinley Osborne, consul general to London.

Perry S. Heath, of Indiana, or Chairman Gowdy, of Indiana, consul general to Paris.

The first nomination after the cabinet has been confirmed will be Bellamy Storer to be first assistant secretary of state, so that Mr. Storer may be on duty promptly to relieve Senator Sherman from much of the detail work of the department. It is regarded here as definitely settled that the names of John Hay, to be ambassador to England; Powell Clayton, to be minister to Mexico, and William McKinley Osborne, to be consul general to London, will be sent to the senate very soon after March 4.

There is no doubt that Gen. Porter has been slated for the French mission, but there is serious talk here about his becoming a member of the cabinet, to take the place which Col. McCook will not accept. It is known that several important messages have gone to Canton from here in his interest.

There has been considerable talk about Senator Cameron for one of the foreign missions, and the court of St. Petersburg has been mentioned in this connection. Russia is in the class of countries to which envoys extraordinary and ministers plenipotentiary are accredited, but it is very probable this' mission will soon be raised to the rank of an embassy. Senator Cameron's father represented the United States in St. Petersburg after leaving the cabinet of President Lincoln, and it is believed the senator is desirous of following his father in that line.

John Russell Young, another prominent Pennsylvanian, is also being seriously discussed for a diplomatic mission-mini er to China. When Li Hung Chang was here he publicly expressed the hope that the next administration would send Mr. Young back to China.

E. T. Mason, of New York, senior member of the importing house of E. T. Mason & Co., and a son of William Mason, of Fond du Lac, Wis., is said to have assurances of his selection by Maj. McKinley as minister to Japan. News to that effect has been received by Mr. Mason's relatives in Fond du Lac, and they have authorized the announcement to be made.

The recent visit of Chairman Gowdy, of the Indiana republican committee, was one of interest to all candidates for the consul-generalship in Paris. He spent the day in Canton and had an extended talk with the president-elect. Mr. Gowdy said Indiana would be modest in her demands upon the presidentelect and confessed that he would like to be appointed consul-general to Paris.

A Wonderful Statement

From Mrs. McGillas to Mrs. Pinkham.

I think it my duty, dear Mrs. Pinkham, to tell you what your wonderful Compound has done for me. I was dreadfully ill-the doctors said they could cure me but failed to do I gave up in despair and took to my bed. I had dreadful pains in my heart, faintingsparks before my my eyes and sometimes I would get so blind, I could not see for several minutes. I could not stand very long without feeling sick and vomiting. I could not breathe a long breath without screaming, my heart pained so.

I also had female weakness, inflammation of ovaries, painful menstruation, displacement of the womb, itching of the external parts, and ulceration of the womb. I have had all these complaints.

The pains I had to stand were something dreadful. My husband told me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Agent C. B. & Q. R. R., Chicago, Ill. medicine, which I did, and after taking it for a while, was cured. No other kind of medicine for me as long as you make Compound. I hope every woman who suffers will take your Compound and be cured. Mrs. J. S. McGillas, 113 Kilburn avenue, Rockford, Ill.

Would Be a Good Law.

Our attention has been called to a bill introduced in the House by Representative Goodell, of Wayne.

This proposed law requires township supervisors to keep and have printed for circulation among the taxpayers itemized accounts of all moneys expended. These are to be issued March 15, previous to

At present the supervisor reads over his statements on election day, between 12 and 1 o'clock (if he reads them at all), when but very few of the voters are around. In this way it is very difficult bach. for any one to get a clear idea of what is done with the town's money. If people pay taxes they have a right to know what disposition has been made of the money they have paid in for the support of the town. The bill should become a law. The supervisor ought to render his ac count once a year, and have it printed for distribution among the taxpayers at the annual spring election, so that each taxpayer could get a copy.

The cost would be very small, and the result would be more than satisfactory to the taxpayers. This will leave no room for fault finding, unless extravagant expenditures have been indulged in. A law similar to this one has been in operation in New York for a number of years and has given entire satisfaction.-Register.

McKinley Is Now President.

The advance agent of prosperity has now been inaugurated as President of the greatest and grandest republic on earth. Very few people can realize the significance of the mighty change about to take place. From an era of misrule and general depression of business we are about boy. to enter on an era of prosperity such as we have not seen for years; but the quickest and surest way to bring it about is to stop that calamity howl about hard times, and get down to business. The following is taken from an exchange, and the HERALD publishes it for what it is worth: "A man who goes to see a girl twice a week and takes her to places is legally engaged to her, according to a recent decision, whether he says any thing to her about marriage or not, and she could recover suit for breach of promise It is hoped that the girls will take advantage of this decision and force the young men to marry them. The Origin of Dixie.

On a Saturday night in 1859, when Dan Emmett was a member of Bry-ant's Minstrel's, New York, Dan Bryant came to him and said: "Dan, can't you get us up a 'walk around?' I want something new and lively for Monday night." Dan went to work, and by Sunday afternoon he had the words commencing, "I wish I was in Dixie." This expression was not Southern, but appeared among the circus people of the North. In early fall, when nipping frosts would overtake the tented wan derers, the boys would think of the warmth of the South, and the common expression would be, "Well, I wish I was in Dixie." This gave the catchline, and the rest of the song was original. On Monday morning it was rehearsed and highly commended, and at night a crowded house caught up the refrain, and half of them went home singing Dixie. The song became the rage, and W. W. Newcomb's Buckley Minstrels and others gave Dan five dol-lars each for the privilege of using it. Mr. Werlean wrote to Emmett to secure the copyright; but, without waiting for a reply, published it with words by a Mr. Peters. Pond, of New York, secured it from Emmett for $600; but Werland sold thousands of copies without gimet robbed of the profits of his some, but the authorship of it was disputable. Will S. Hayes claimed it as his cwa. Pond brought the matter before a music publisher's convention, and restled the anthorship; but Dan respective, benefit from this tardy justice.—Oakland (Oal) Times.
