Commencement.

The commencement exercises of the Chelsea High School for '97 now exist only as a memory.

Commencement week is always looked forward to with a good deal of pleasure on the part of the pupils and much of lively interest on the part of anxious fathers and mothers. The exercises as presented are in part a test of school drill and discipline, as well as a presentation of the best efforts of the pupils themselves. On the present occasion nothing was left undone to make the exercises a success. The pupils entered enthusiastically into the work of decorating the Opera House, and transformed the stage into a scene of artistic beauty.

The exercises which marked the close of the school year were a fitting and worthy representation of the work which is being done in our high school. A higher standard of excellence is demanded of the teachers, and more thorough work is required in the school room.

The past week was a busy one in the Chelsea schools. Examinations, rehearsals, exercises in the lower rooms, decorations, etc., kept the scholars and teachers in a hurry.

The graduating class this year was composed of eight young ladies, and in point of intellectuality will compare favorably with any preceding class.

The Class Day exercises of the graduating class were held at the Opera House Wednesday evening, June 23. Thursday, June 24, was Commencement Day proper. The exercises were held at the Opera House, and Hon. H. R. Pattengil was the orator.

It would be impossible, on account of time, to speak of each part separately.

Won Honors.

The Misses Mary McKune, Katharine McGuire and Winifred Cassidy have returned from St. Joseph's Academy, Adrian, to spend their vacation after a year of hard and successful work. Miss Cassidy took the gold medal for penmanship, and the other ladies beautiful books as premiums. Miss McGuire gave a splendid recitation at the Commencement, which was very impressive. The Misses Cassidy and McKune had very prominent parts in the exercises and acquitted themselves very creditably. In fact, Chelsea was very much in evidence. Miss Devereaux, of Plockney, gave the valedictory in a very feeling manner.

The improvement shown by the pupils in one year was really marvelous. Dr. Reilly distributed the premiums and conferred the honors in a beautiful and eloquent address. The audience was very select. Fifteen priests attended the exercises.

The Sisters of St. Dominic in their first Commencement have set a high standard, and have given a most creditable exhibition. The Mother Superior is a most charming and accomplished woman, and won all hearts by her kindness and hospitality. These nuns are famous for their culture and learning, and for $100 per year an admirable and very practical education is given. Chelsea will send a large delegation next year.

Annual School Meeting.

The annual school meeting for District No. 3, fractional Sylvania and Lima, will be held at the Town Hall, Monday, July 12, 1897, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the election of two trustees and the transaction of such business as shall come before the meeting. WILLIAM BACON, Director.

Climate and Crop Bulletin.

CHICAGO, June 28, 1897.—The reports as to the condition of the crops throughout the country and the general effect of the weather upon the growth and cultivation of the crops were made yesterday by the directors of the several climate and crop sections. The reports received at Chicago were as follows:

The week ending June 28 was warmer
than usual in the southern states, including Oklahoma, Kansas and portions of Missouri and New Mexico. It was also slightly warmer than usual over portions of the north Pacific coast. Along the west Gulf states and central Florida
nearly normal temperature conditions prevailed. The deficiency in temperature from central Montana eastward to the New England coast exceeded three degrees per day and amounted to six degrees in the upper Ohio valley and lake region.

Except over limited areas in Kentucky, Tennessee and portions of the south Atlantic and east Gulf states, where the rainfall was excessive, the week was generally drier than usual from the lake region and New England southward to the Gulf coast. It was also drier than usual in central and northern Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, over the western portions of Nebraska and Kansas and generally throughout the central and southern Rocky Mountain regions.

While somewhat too cool for best results over the more northerly districts,
with excessive heat in the southern states,
the week has, upon the whole, been favorable for growth and cultivation of crops and harvesting of grain. Local storms have caused injury to crops in portions of New Jersey, Alabama, Kentucky and Missouri, but the damage has been comparatively light. Portions of the Ohio valley, Gulf states, western Kansas
and Colorado are needing rain.

Splendid weather for work and fair for growth. Corn and oats have good color, are much improved but backward. Wheat continues promising and is just beginning to turn. Beans made good stand. Corn and early potatoes about all cultivated.
Clover haying well started and is heavy crop, but cures slowly. Scarcely any damage from Monday's frost.

E. B. GARRIOTT,
Professor, Weather Bureau.

What Comes From Laziness.

Laziness is the besetting sin of small towns. There is not a small city or village in the country where there are not a dozen or more men doing nothing and doing it industriously (?). They are simply too lazy to work. They are sure to be found about the stores, at the railway stations and upon the street corners, as well as at every public gathering. They stand around, a gaping, gossiping, good-
for-nothing, growling crowd.

The evil would not be so great if the lazy fellows alone suffered, but the fact is, they suffer the least. Somebody must support them in idleness. An added burden is thus placed upon the community.
Either mother, father, wife or some one must work to keep them in idleness.

We talk about decreasing the number of hours for the workers of the world. We could cheerfully join in an agitation to increase the number of workers from the ranks of the idlers. If all the chronic loafers could be put to work ten hours,
the day's labor would be diminished
without assistance.

From this idle, shiftless class come the recruits which keep the standing army of American criminals full. It is an old but entirely true saying that an idle brain is the devil's workshop. Mr. Devil has more workshops in this and every other town than we are apt to think.—He is not idle.—Courier.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison of Worthington, (Ind.) Sun, writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for Constipation and Sick Headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal." Mrs. Annie Stehle, 2625 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest
food, had a headache which never left her,
and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1.00. Get a bottle at Glazier &

From the school rooms of the country this month there comes an army of young men and women to take up life's work.

Whether that work be as successful as these graduates anticipate or not, the comforting thought comes to us that our poorhouses and penal institutions are not occupied with persons who have even a fair education. The right kind of an education is a preventative of crime. Such an education is not entirely acquired in school, and yet good students come from homes where the surroundings are not all that could be desired, and they maintain in after life the honorable position they held in the school.—Jonesville Independent.

The picnic to be held at Whitmore Lake on Monday, July 5, for the benefit of Ann Arbor's new Catholic church promises to be a monster affair. All the neighboring parishes have been invited and all will turn out. All the rest of the country is hereby invited. Don't stay at home lest you be alone. Special reduced rates may be had on all railways. The fare to Whitmore Lake and return from Ann Arbor will be only 25c; Howell to Whitmore Lake and return only 30c. Correspondingly low rates from other points. An excellent program is being prepared. Mr. T. J. McDonald, one of Ohio's great orators, will be the principal speaker. Henry Coulon is also on for a short speech. Jim Harkins and Dean Seabolt will introduce some specialties. "Jim" is always a cure for indigestion. Good singing by Miss Frances Caspary, Bruno St. James, Frank McIntyre, Joseph Kelly and others. Save your money for a good square meal consisting of roast beef, chicken pot pie, pork and beans, spring lamb, bread, country butter, tea or coffee, cake, etc., all for 25c. Father Goldrick will be toastmaster. Everybody will be made welcome. Remember the date, July 5.

If we want honest government, honest men must combine and work to get it. They must do this not in one election, but in every election. The bosses have taken possession of our nominating system, and through it have established their depotisms because of the neglect of the duties of citizenship by the great mass of the people. These depotisms will continue just as long as this neglect continues. Railing at them, feeling ashamed of them, getting despondent about the future of popular government because of them, will not disturb them a particle. If we are too busy, or too indifferent, or too lazy, or too unpatriotic to attend to the business of government ourselves, the bosses will attend to it for us in their own way, and be mighty glad of the opportunity. The responsibility for it and the shame of it rest not upon them, but upon us. When the burden becomes intolerable, there will be an "uprising of the people in their might and majesty," and the bosses, together with their system, will be swept away. When this upheaval will come no man can say, but one would think that it must be at hand. It may be that an inscrutable Providence is subjecting us to a period of boss depotism in order that we may perceive the advantage of popular government and may exert ourselves sufficiently to bring about its restoration.—Mr. J. B. Bishop, in the June Forum.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25, 1897.—The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations devoted the entire time of its meeting this week to the treaty for the annexation of Hawaii and the protest against the treaty that has been made by Japan. The treaty was referred to a sub-committee consisting of Senators Davis, Foraker and Morgan, all favorable to annexation, with instructions to investigate and report to the full committee. As the sub-committee will go into the subject thoroughly, there is no probability of a report being made before December, unless some exigency should demand an earlier one. Japanese business men now in Washington do not hesitate to say that their government is much more anxious to increase Japanese trade with the United States than to quarrel with us about the annexation of Hawaii, which makes it appear that the Japanese protest has been filed more with the hope of obtaining trade concessions of some sort with us than with any idea of retarding or preventing annexation.

The tariff bill will not be a law by the 4th of July, but present indications are that it will have passed the Senate by that date, notwithstanding the wrangles, political, personal and industrial, which have characterized the debate this week. It is perfectly clear to the Senate that the people of the country, both those who believe that the new tariff will bring better times and those who do not, want the tariff bill passed, and the Senate is going to pass it. Agreements have been reached upon all the schedules over which there was a division among the republicans, and it is difficult to see what is to prevent a final vote being reached by the close of next week.

It will be an honor seldom accorded to a new member of the Senate, even when he is of the same politics as the majority, should the republican members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, to which the whole subject was referred for consideration, decide to recommend the adoption of the anti-trust amendment to the tariff bill offered by Senator Pettus, as the best amendment proposed, as report says they will.

The fact was very clearly demonstrated in the Senate this week that the necessary votes to pass the tariff bill could only be obtained by granting the greater portion of the demands made by Senators from the wool-growing states. This was made apparent to everybody just after the Senate had by the unexpectedly large majority of 55 to 13 voted to adopt the Finance Committee amendment reducing the House rates on third-class wools from 11 to 10 cents. There was more or less excitement on the floor just after that vote was taken when Senator Carter said impressively: "The vote just taken discloses a purpose to make reductions in the rates on raw wools. The day of reckoning is yet to come. The votes which have combined for this reduction will not combine to pass the bill." Senator Foraker added to the excitement by intimating bad faith on the part of Senator Allison and the committee. Senators Allison and Platt, of Connecticut, replied on behalf of the committee. Senators Vest and Teller nagged the republicans by charging them with delaying the tariff bill. But it was a case of must with the committee, and after a hurried consultation, without leaving the chamber, Senator Allison offered the amendment demanded by the wool men—providing that scoured wool of the third class shall pay three times the duty of unscoured wool of the same class, and it was adopted by a vote of 29 to 26, and everything became calm again; but the incident shows how easy it would be to raise a storm that would wreck the bill.

Senator Butler this week called up and had read his resolution directing the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections to inquire into and report upon the practicability of applying the principle of the initiative and referendum to federal legislation, and Senator Perkins reintroduced his bill of last session providing for the appointment of a commission for the investigation of labor agricultural and industrial conditions and problems.

Somebody must have been mistaken in announcing when Mr. Calhoun first returned from Cuba that his report was not satisfactory to President McKinley. Presidents, like other men, do not reward their agents whose work is not satisfactory, and the responsible position of Comptroller of the Treasury has been tendered to Mr. Calhoun.

Another move was made in the fight between the United States government and the two companies which have a monopoly of the making of armor plates for our navy vessels, when the Senate Committee on Appropriations this week reported the general deficiency appropriation bill to the Senate. This bill limits the price that the Secretary of the Navy may pay for armor to $435 a ton. The last naval appropriation bill limited the price to $400 a ton, and the two companies which have armor making plants refused to bid, claiming that they could not furnish the armor at a profit for less than $450 a ton. Whether they will bid under the new limit remains to be ascertained.

An Ideal Hostess.

Opinions differ as to what constitutes an ideal hostess, but according to a number of society women, who were recently discussing the subject, here are some of the indispensable qualities she must possess:

She must make you feel individually that you are the favored guest.

She must make you feel perfectly at home.

She must see everything and yet possess the art of seeming to see nothing.

She must never look bored.

She must be able to hear the same story over a hundred different times, and still be competent to smile approvingly at the right point.

She must know how to get congenial people together.

She must know how to keep discussions of religion and politics off of the carpet.

She must know how to compliment a guest's gown.

She must never monopolize the conversation.

She must know how to let people be mistaken.

She must be generous enough to let other people have different opinions from hers.

She must never let anyone be slighted or overlooked.

She must know when to ask the amateur musician or elocutionist to display their talents.

She must never dress as handsomely as her guests.

She must be perfectly unselfish about her own pleasures.

She must never know fatigue, but be able to stand and smile "So glad to see you. So good of you to come" by the hour.

She must listen courteously to the long-winded talker.

She must not neglect her guests, nor yet give them too much of her society.

She must remember that nothing is so tiresome, so surely death to all enjoyment, as the feeling that one is being entertained.

In a word, the ideal hostess must possess patience, long-suffering, endurance and charity.

If she has all these she may be rewarded by being permitted to wag her tongue at somebody else's tea, when some other woman is the martyr to social conventions.—Dorothy Dix.
