Section 4. No person or persons shall pursue, hunt, or kill, capture or attempt to skin of such deer or fawn shall be prima facie evidence of illegal killing.

Section 5. No person or persons shall at any time, wound, kill or capture any deer in the waters of any of the streams, this state.

Section 6. No person or persons shall

Grape Seed Swallowing Nonsense.

"Don't swallow grape seeds for they may get into your vermiform appendix, and cause death or at least the surgeon's knife may follow." How many times that warning has been sounded in recent years.
We have no doubt whatever that it has lessened the use of one of the healthiest fruits under the sun, because few grape eaters, especially children, will spew out the seeds, even at the risk of appendicitis.
So they mustn't have grapes. Perhaps eyen less grape vines are planted as a result of the scare, for scare it is and nothing else. In thousands of operations which have taken place to remove the appendix in the human subject—some of them successful, many of them too late—there is not one authentic case of any grape or other seed or any foreign body being found in the organ. The reason is obvious for the interior of the appendix is big enough to admit only a medium sized darning needle. It is time, therefore, that the public knows the fact that danger from grape seeds is absolutely groundless. Let us not give up planting the vines fearing the race's extinction because of grape seeds in the appendix. Swallow the seeds if you like, and let the children swallow them. To most persons grapes are not grapes when the pulp is freed from the seed.

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES.

Called on to Guard Mines in West Virginia.

Operators to Confer on the True Uniformity Plan—Debs Says Some Pungent Things—Demands of Illinois Miners.

Fairmont, W. Va., July 23.—Armed deputy sheriffs of the county now guard the Hite mine at Kings, three miles above here on the Tygart's Valley river. The sheriff was called there Thursday afternoon, as the operators feared an outbreak, but no arrests were made. Early in the morning the drivers at that mine joined the strikers as a result of the efforts of Crawford Temple, a Monongah miner, who, since joining the union, has proved as efficient a missionary as the organizers could desire. The operators secured new drivers in an hour and at noon over half of the miners came out. Then the second lot of drivers threw up their positions and some of the men began stoning the miners, who were forced to leave their work, and who had assembled in front of the mine. Rolf Hite, the superintendent, soon had his faithful Winchester in his hands and three shots quenched the enthusiasm of all the strikers but one who made for Hite with a pick, but he was driven off at the point of a revolver. The operators, however, feared another outbreak and called on the county officials for aid.

Efforts at Arbitration.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 24.—The situation in this district has not materially changed. The efforts of the arbitration commission have been so far successful that a call for a meeting of operators on Tuesday next has been issued. It is signed by W. P. De Armit, for the New York & Cleveland Gas Coal company; J. B. Zerbe, for the Ohio & Pennsylvania Coal company; E. Young, for M. A. Hanna & Co.; George W. Schlendeburg, for the E. L. Robbins company, and other leading operators of the district. These names to the notice of a meeting is sufficient guarantee of the success of the gathering in point of attendance.

Listen to Debs.

Fairmont, W. Va., July 24.—Friday was the agitators' day. In the morning the miners at Hite's mines came out as did also 40 others at the shaft, and it is reported that some are out at the New England mines. A successful meeting was held at Willow Tree schoolhouse Friday afternoon by Debs, Ratchford and Mahon. Three hundred of the Monongah miners, accompanied by their wives and children and preceded by a band, marched through the broiling sun to an intermediate point between Monongah and Fairmont, where they were met by a delegation of miners from Hite's and other mines. Monongah Coal company officials were also present. Mr. Debs said in part:

"The longer a man works the poorer he is. The only way to get out of debt is to quit work. I had my choice of agitation or stagnation, and I chose the former, and in consequence I got in jail, and can go again if necessary. It has got to be so that if you want an honest man you must go to jail to get him. That flag that floats over your head is a piece of sarcasm. Slaves were worth $1,500. You miners are not worth 15 cents a shipload. You are the only commodity that has no commercial value. All you are good for is for fertilizer."

Kewanee (Ill.) Miners Quit.

Kewanee, Ill., July 24.—The miners, about 100 in number, at the Kewanee Coal company's shaft quit work Thursday night and refused to return Friday. It seems to be generally understood that there is no grievance here, but that the miners are out to assist the eastern strikers. This closing down of the mines which supplied the Western Tube company with coal is causing them much trouble and has already thrown a great many men out of work, but to keep the works in operation the company is burning wood and putting in oil burners under their boilers.

Arthur Keeps Hands Off.

Cleveland, O., July 24.—"Received your telegram. Cannot legally comply with the request," was the answer which P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, sent to President Ratchford's message requesting Arthur's presence at a conference of labor leaders to be held at Wheeling Monday or Tuesday.

Demands of Illinois Miners.

St. Louis, July 24.—The latest reports from Belleville, Ill., where 1,000 coal miners went out Thursday, are to the effect that everything is quiet there. The following demands have been formulated, and it is designed to make them apply throughout the southern Illinois coal field:

- 1.—That we demand 40 cents per ton, mine run, gross top weight, 2,000 pounds to constitute a ton.
- 2.—Loaders after mining machines who chute their own coal and timber their own places, 25 cents a ton, mine run, men to furnish their own supplies.
- 3.—Machine runners to receive four cents a ton, and machine helpers to receive three cents a ton mine run.
- 4.—Daily wages as follows: Track layers, $2.25; timbermen, $2.25; drivers, $2; trappers, 75 cents; laborers inside, not less than $1.75; laborers outside, not less than $1.65; dumpers, $2; box car laborers, not less than $1.85; car pilers, $2.

We further recommend that we restrict ourselves as follows: Hand miners to six tons a day; loaders after machine miners to nine tons a day; machine runners and helpers to 60 tons a day.

WANTED HER MONEY'S WORTH.

Something Lacking from Her Repair Kit.

Anyone who had not seen the woman with an angry eye wobble just before she dismounted from her wheel would have taken her for an experienced rider; a heroine of century runs. She strode with majestic confidence through the store, and so impressed another woman that she forgot herself and let the newcomer be waited on first.

"I suppose," she said to the clerk, "that I looked rather new at bicycling, and you thought that there wasn't very much use of bothering about me, because I wouldn't know the difference, anyhow."

The clerk assured her to the contrary, and said he was sure there was some misunderstanding.

"There was a misunderstanding," she answered. "I understand that when I bought this repair kit I was getting all that a repair kit ought to contain."

"Certainly," he answered. "Isn't it all right?"

"Didn't you expressly state that it contained everything that would be required for repairs in an ordinary accident?"

"Yes."

"And I bought it with that implied guarantee, didn't I?"

"Undeniably, you did."

"And if things didn't turn out just as you represented them it's your business to make good the deficiency?"

"I suppose so."

"All right. There's your repair kit. You can either put in a paper of pins and some sticking plaster, or else give me back my money."—Washington Star.

VERY ABRUPT.

Another One of Those Very Sudden Proposals.

Slowly the great steamer steamed from the dock. Between two stern parents a young girl in tears stood watching the receding shore.

A hatless young man rushed out on the pier and stretched out his arms toward the ship.

Alas! that parents will be so hard-hearted. "Mary," he cried, "will you be my wife?" And the sad waves rocked.

A year had passed. The young man had discovered a gold mine on Broadway, and was now worth $60,000,000.

He rode to the pier in a fine carriage. When the plank was lowered the young lady and her parents came ashore.

"Oh, Algernon," the young girl cried as she blushing laid her head on his manly bosom, "this is so sudden!"—N. Y. Journal.

Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cts. and 25 cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

Thunder-Like Tones.

"I really couldn't afford to let you board with me this summer," said an old farmer to a city man with a very deep bass voice.

"Why not?" roared the basso-profundo in tones that rattled the dried squashes in the rafters.

"Because whenever you talked or sang your voice would sour all the milk in my cellar."—Judge.

Lawyer—Did you see the beginning of this trouble?

BICYCLE SENSATION.

Cut in Prices Makes Makers and Buyers Think

The Racing World—Gardiner Shows Wonderful Speed, But Lacks Heart—Michael and Lesna Matched.

[Special Chicago Letter.] A big sensation was created not only in trade circles, but among the entire cycling public by a deduction of $25 in the price of the best-known make of bicycles in America July 1. This move carries all the more weight because the manufacturers of this machine, who are notorious for their conservatism, have always insisted that a thoroughly good bicycle was worth the $100 price and have rigidly maintained that figure regardless of the price cutting that has been indulged in by other makers. The announcement was a big surprise to the trade, for, although many manufacturers and dealers thought this concern would lower its prices at the beginning of the present season, it was generally supposed that after the prices had been upheld for more than half the season no cut would be made until next year. The move, therefore, which is a very radical one for this company, which has for many years held the reputation of being the dictator in the bicycle business, has set all the other makers to guessing and wondering what may be the cause of the reduction. Some assert that the medium-grade bicycles at popular prices have made great inroads in this concern's business and that with a large stock of unsalable high-grade machines on hand this late in the season the management had become alarmed and decided to lower the price as a last resort. Others prophesy that the concern has perfected a chainless bicycle model which will be manufactured in large numbers and pushed next season as a leader at $100.

Whatever the cause of the reduction may be, it will probably have a somewhat demoralizing effect on the trade this summer, although most of the large makers assert positively that they will make no attempt to meet the cut this year. It will have the effect, however, of driving a number of the small and weaker concerns out of the business and thus leave it on a firmer basis, and will also end the inflated-price evil, for with the very best makes selling at $75 there will be no excuse for building bicycles to list at $100 and sell for what can be got for them. The purchaser has long been aware of the fact that the average bicycle listed at $100 could be bought for almost any price above 50 per cent. of its list price. Nevertheless, he will welcome the time when all bicycles sell for just what they are worth and retail at one price to all. The maker will be glad to see that time also, since one of the peculiar phases of the cycle trade has been that all club members, racing men, and a long list of people with "pulls" have systematically "worked" the makers for bicycles for nothing or at cost price.

It is generally conceded among the trade that the price of high-grade chain bicycles will be only $75 next year, and that a number of chainless wheels will be put on the market at $100. A chainless machine is a delicate and rather impractical piece of mechanism, however, and it remains to be seen whether or not it will retain its popularity more than a season or two. Arthur Gardiner's victory at Chicago July 5 over the best field of crackjacks that has faced the starter at any race meet this year seems not to have surprised any of the well-posted racing enthusiasts very much. They are well aware that the Chicago lad had the requisite speed to beat the best man of the track, but assert that he lacks the heart to run a hotly-contested race. He would rather tack into somebody's rear wheel and finish second than go out and fight for first. He is a beautiful rider and can follow the fastest pace in good style, having held a number of American paced records, but his friends are anxious to see him win competitive races, and believe that by the exercise of determination and courage he will soon attain the high position his speed entitles him to occupy. In the national circuit meet, under the auspices of the Chicago cycling club, Gardiner defeated Bald Cooper and Kiser, upon whom all eyes have been turned this year, and John S. Johnson and L. D. Cabanne in the mile open race, and won the two-mile handicap from scratch, defeating A. D. Kennedy, Al. Weinig, Tracy Holmes, H. B. Wood and Bert Leslie. In the third-mile event he ran second to Cooper, with Bald third—no mean performance.

Earl Peabody, of the Chicago Cycling club, has won proud title of "amateur king of the west." His record last year and this has been quite remarkable, and it is his ambition this season to eclipse Arthur A. Zimmerman's most brilliant record of 101 prizes in one season. Last year Peabody scored more than 50 firsts, and already this year has won more than 25 of the races in which he started. He has been following the Michigan circuit, where he won the mile open events day after day with strange regularity. He began the season in New Orleans, where he defeated Irving A. Powell, the fastest amateur of the east, who has been creating quite a sensation. On the national circuit at Springfield and Racine Peabody has not done so well, having been defeated several times by C. R. McCarthy, the amateur crack of St. Louis, just enough times to even up old scores, and F. J. Morse and Charles Muss and others in handicap races. These defeats are undoubtedly due to overwork and poor form, and Earl is resting for a week or two to recuperate. Only the toughest campaigners can follow a circuit steadily, racing every two out of three days or oftener, and keep in good form right along. Peabody is a graduate of the University of Chicago, and is only 21 years old. He is an amateur of the purest stamp, as he succeeded in convincing the racing board, his father being abundantly able to let him travel all over the west.

A match race for the largest purse ever made in America has been arranged between James Michael and Lucien Lesna, the French racing man who landed in San Francisco last month from Australia, where he broke all the records from two to 100 miles. The contest will take place on the Charles River park track in Boston, and will be for a purse of $2,000 put up by the management, and a side bet of $250, making $2,500 in all. The event will be paced with multicycles, and the distance will be set at 33 miles, in order that the hour record of the world, which now stands at 32 1/4 miles, made by J. W. Stocks in England recently, may be broken. Unless some accident occurs it is confidently expected that the American record of 27 miles 1,600 yards, held by Michael, will be beaten, since both contestants are recognized leaders at middle distance work behind big machines. The date for the match has not been settled, but will probably be set for some time in early August, as Lesna (pronounced Lenna) needs some weeks for training and conditioning after nearly two months of traveling.

Lesna cannot speak a word of English, but his manager, M. Pognon, sporting manager of the Gladiator company of Paris, talks very entertainingly of their experiences in Australia, which country neither of them likes very much. Management of racing league affairs there is very poor and visiting racing men are not treated with much courtesy. M. Pognon considers Lesna's victory in the Australian cycle derby his best performance in the Antipodes. In that race he defeated Martin, the American; Megson, the Australian champion; Green, of England, and Walne and Porte, two of the fastest Australian riders. Another victory was the defeat of a picked team changing every mile, while Lesna rode the entire distance of 25 miles alone, covering it in 44:32 1-5, considerably under two minutes to the mile. In his record trials he cut the figures for 100 miles to 3:54:54, which is much under the existing American record.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Elopers Are Caught.

Mrs. Minnie Rohlman was arrested in San Francisco, Cal., on a charge of adultery and a warrant was out for the arrest of F. W. Kracht on a similar charge. The couple eloped from Mount Clemens in October, 1895, and went west. Kracht had a wife and two children and Mrs. Rohlman had a little girl, now seven years of age. The deserted wife did not get any trace of her husband till a few months ago, when she went to San Francisco, and the warrants were the result.

Divorced Six Times.

John S. Haller, of Sciota township, has brought suit against his neighbor, John G. Hartman, to recover $2,000 for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections. Haller charges that Hartman induced Mrs. Haller to apply for a divorce, and when she had secured legal separation from him Hartman married her. Haller and Hartman are well-to-do farmers. Mrs. Hartman, it is said, had been divorced from five husbands before her separation from Haller.

CURRENCY REFORM.

President Urges the Creation of a Commission.

Washington, July 26.—The president has sent the following message to congress:
"To the Congress of the United States: In my message convening the congress in extraordinary session I called attention to a single subject—that of providing revenue adequate to meet the reasonable and proper expenses of the government. I believed that to be the most pressing subject for settlement then. A bill to provide the necessary revenues for the government has already passed the house of representatives and the senate and awaits executive action.
"Another question of very great importance is that of the establishment of our currency and banking system on a better basis, which I commented upon in my inaugural address in the following words: 'Our financial system needs some revision; our money is all good, but its value must be further threatened. It should all be put upon an enduring basis, not subject to easy attack, nor a stability to doubt or dispute. The several forms of our paper money offer, in my judgment, a constant embarrassment to the government and imperil a safe balance in the treasury.'
"Nothing was settled more clearly at the late national election than the determination upon the part of the people to keep their currency stable in value and equal to that of the most advanced nations of the world.
"The soundness of our currency is nowhere questioned. No loss can occur to its holders. It is the system which should be simplified and strengthened, keeping our money just as good as it is now, with less expense to the government and the people.
"The sentiment of the country is strongly in favor of early action by congress in this direction, to revise our currency laws and remove them from partisan contention. A notable assembly of business men with delegates from 29 states and territories was held at Indianapolis in January of this year. The financial situation commanded their earnest attention, and after a two-day session the convention recommended to congress the appointment of a monetary commission.
"I commend this report to the consideration of congress. The authors of the report recommend a commission to make a thorough investigation of the monetary affairs and needs of this country in all relations and aspects and to make proper suggestions as to any evils found to exist and the remedies therefor.
"This subject should receive the attention of congress at the special session. It ought not to be postponed until the regular session.
"I therefore urgently recommend that a special commission be created, non-partisan in its character, to be composed of well-informed citizens of different parties, who will command the confidence of congress and the country, because of their special fitness for the work, whose duty it shall be to make recommendations of whatever changes in our present banking and currency laws may be found necessary and expedient, and to report their conclusions on or before the 1st day of November next in order that the same may be transmitted by me to congress for its consideration at its first regular session.
"It is to be hoped that the report thus made will be so comprehensive and sound as to receive the support of all parties and the favorable action of congress. At all events such a report cannot fail to be of value to the executive branch of the government as well as to those charged with public legislation, and to greatly assist in the establishment of an improved system of finance."

FAILS TO SWIM CHANNEL.

McNally Gives Up When Only Three Miles from the French Coast.
London, July 26.—After swimming 15 hours and ten minutes P. S. McNally, of Boston, American champion long-distance swimmer, was obliged to give up his attempt to swim the English channel when only three miles from shore. He hoped to break the record of Capt. Webb, who swam the channel in August, 1875, in 21 hours, covering about 30 miles. McNally made his start from Dover at 11:20 o'clock Saturday morning. He was given a royal send-off and was accompanied by a tug which contained newspaper men and members of London swimming clubs. McNally made good progress "across tide" for six hours northward, but when at the end of that time the tide turned he struck some terrific water, which carried him at least ten miles out of his course. It was seen that he could not possibly reach the cape and he was called on to quit. He continued, however, 30 minutes, when he began to swim in a circle, and his trainer took him aboard. McNally was given stimulants several times, and although he wore only a pair of silk trunks he showed little or no signs of fatigue.

HAS LIABILITIES OF $1,000,000.

Affairs of a Bankrupt Chicagoan Make a Very Bad Showing.
Chicago, July 26.—The liabilities of Theodore H. Schintz, the lawyer and real estate dealer who assigned last week, have been found to reach $1,000,000, while the available assets have dwindled down to less than $100,000. Only one mortgage has been found among the papers in Schintz' office of the scores that were given to him. Schintz is now believed to have got about $125,000 out of four or five banks in the city on collateral that is almost absolutely worthless. The best that can be realized on any of it was stated by one of the banks which held it to be less than 50 cents on the dollar.

Tragedy at Erie, Pa.

Erie, Pa., July 26.—Charles Edwards attempted to beat his wife to death Saturday night. Edwards was drunk. A fellow employe named William Allison and their employer, John Kane, heard the woman's cries and rushed to her assistance. When they entered Edwards' house, Edwards fired with a revolver, the bullets taking effect in both men. Allison died shortly after. Kane was shot through the neck, but may recover. Mrs. Edwards was badly beaten and physicians fear that she has suffered internal injuries. Edwards escaped.

WHAT MAY BE.

Bellamy on Dress in the Twentieth Century.

In his new and interesting book on "Equality," published by D. Appleton & Co., Edward Bellamy takes the following glimpse into the future as relating to the question of dress:
The extremely delicate tints of Edith's costume led me to remark that the color effects of the modern dress seemed to be in general very light as compared with those which prevailed in my day.
"The result," I said, "is extremely pleasing, but if you will excuse a rather prosaic suggestion, it occurs to me that with the whole nation given over to wearing these delicate schemes of color, the accounts for washing must be pretty large. I should suppose they would swamp the national treasury if laundry bills are anything like what they used to be."
"Doubtless we could not do much else if we washed our clothes," she said; "but you see we do not wash them."
"Not wash them! Why not?"
"Because we don't think it nice to wear clothes again after they have been so much soiled as to need washing."
"Well, I won't say that I am surprised," I replied; "in fact, I think I am no longer capable of being surprised at anything; but perhaps you will kindly tell me what you do with a dress when it becomes soiled."
"We throw it away—that is, it goes back to the mills to be made into something else."
"Indeed! To my nineteenth-century intellect, throwing away clothes would seem even more expensive than washing it."
"Oh, no, much less so. What do you suppose, now, this costume of mine cost?"
"I don't know, I'm sure. I never had a wife to pay dressmakers' bills for, but I should say certainly it cost a great deal of money."
"Such costumes cost from ten to twenty cents," said Edith. "What do you suppose it is made of?"
I took the edge of her mantle between my fingers.
"I thought it was silk or fine linen," I replied, "but I see it is not. Doubtless it is some new fiber."
"We have discovered many new fibers, but it is rather a question of process than material that I had in mind. This is not a textile fabric at all, but paper. That is the most common material for garments nowadays."
"But—but," I exclaimed, "what if it should come on to rain on these paper clothes? Would they not melt, and at a little strain would they not part?"
"A costume such as this," said Edith, "is not meant for stormy weather, and yet it would by no means melt in a rain-storm, however severe. For storm-garments we have a paper that is absolutely impervious to moisture on the outer surface. As to toughness, I think you would find it as hard to tear this paper as any ordinary cloth. The fabric is so strengthened with fiber as to hold together very stoutly."
"But in winter, at least, when you need warmth, you must have to fall back on your old friend, the sheep."
"You mean garments made of sheep's hair? Oh, no; there is no modern use for them. Porous paper makes a garment quite as warm as woolen could, and vastly lighter than the clothes you had. Nothing but eider-down could have been at once so warm and light as our winter coats of paper."
"And cotton!—linen! Don't tell me that they have been given up, like wool?"
"Oh, no; we weave fabrics of these and other vegetable products, and they are nearly as cheap as paper, but paper is so much lighter and more easily fashioned into all shapes that it is generally preferred for garments. But at any rate, we should consider no material fit for garments which could not be thrown away after being soiled. The idea of washing and cleaning articles of bodily use and using them over again would be quite intolerable. For this reason, while we want beautiful garments, we distinctly do not want durable ones. In your day, it seems, even worse than the practice of washing garments to be used again, you were in the habit of keeping your outer garments without washing at all, not only day after day, but week after week, year after year, sometimes whole lifetimes, when they were specially valuable, and finally, perhaps, giving them away to others. It seems that women sometimes kept their wedding dresses long enough for their daughters to wear at their weddings. That would seem shocking to us, and yet, even your fine ladies did such things. As for what the poor had to do in the way of keeping and wearing their old clothes till they went to rags, that is something won't bear thinking of."
"It is rather startling," I said, "to find the problem of clean clothes solved by the abolition of the wash-tub, although I perceive that that was the only radical solution."
Galen Clark, who has just resigned the post of guardian of the Yosemite valley, went there about 40 years ago, expecting to die in a year or two of consumption. He is now 83 years old and hale and hearty.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28, 1897.—It was a case of mistaken judgement on the part of those Senators who started out to filibuster against a vote on the conference report on the tariff bill, as they discovered as soon as they took time to do a little quiet thinking. The parliamentary status of the bill after the conference report was made tied its opponents hand and feet, unless they could control enough votes to reject the conference report as a motion to accept the report was the only one that was in order. Could separate votes have been taken a motion to reduce the duty on white pine lumber to $1 could easily have carried, as could motions to replace the cotton ties, bagging, burlaps and other articles on the free list, but when it came to rejecting the conference report, with all the uncertainty of what would be one result of reopening the entire bill to amendment a majority was opposed to it. The trouble with those who wished to change portions of the bill was that they did not include any of those who voted for the bill as a whole or who would have voted for it, even if the changes they wanted had been made. That is why the effort was a failure from the start.

It is somewhat uncertain whether the sugar trust imposed on congress and got much more than Congress thought it was getting in the final sugar schedule of the tariff bill, or whether it is now imposing upon that portion of the public which invest its money in stock speculations. If the present unprecedentedly high price for the sugar trust stock is maintained it will indicate that the first is true, but if the price of that stock takes a tumble, as some are predicting, it will be good evidence that the trust has worked the speculators to make up for what it failed to get from Congress.

That some people have queer ideas of the power of the President is shown by the urgent written appeals which have come to President McKinley concerning the big coal strike. Without exception these communications have come from educated people, and without exception the writers ask the President to stop the strike at once. Doubtless the writer of each of these appeals has an idea that all the President would have to do to stop the strike would be to intimate to the strikers and their employers that he wished it stopped. As a matter of fact the President has no more authority to stop the coal strike, or any other strike, than the humblest reader of this paragraph has. He might of course, influence either, or both sides, by suggestions or persuasion, but he cannot order them. It is very well known that Maj. McKinley would like to see the strike satisfactorily ended. He is much interested in the political campaign in Ohio, and he knows that a continuance of the strike is n't going to help Senator Hanna, but he is too shrewd a politician to take any chances of injuring himself by being too forward with suggestions. In plain English, while he wants the strike settled he doesn't wish to have any hand in the settlement, even if he had the power.

The opposition to Mr. Powderley's confirmation as Commissioner General of Immigration is so active that it is understood his friends in the Senate determined not to push the nomination to a vote at this session of Congress.

The Senate adopted the resolution authorizing the President to take steps for the release of those Americans arrested by the Spaniards on board of the alleged filibuster Competitor and since kept in prison; also for the return of the Competitor to its owner, but there is no probability that the House will act upon this or any other Cuban resolution at this session.

So much has been said about whether the Senate or House gained the victory in the conference on the tariff bill that a statement of the official figures is herewith presented. They were to start with 874 Senate amendments to the bill when it went before the conference. The Senate conferees agreed to let 511 of them stand while 145 of them were compromised. It is true that many of the Senate amendments accepted comparatively unimportant, but it is also true that many of them were important. On the whole, taking the importance of the amendments into consideration the House got a shade the best of the conference, but the victory was hardly pronounced enough to justify hiring a brass band and holding a jollification. It is probable because of the surprise that the House should get even a little the best of the Senate that so much shouting has been done.

Here and There.

A little turpentine and oil applied to furniture with a flannel cloth, the furniture then thoroughly rubbed, will give it a bright, clean appearance. If your rosewood refuses to polish have your furniture man repolish it for you. He will rub it down with sandpaper, and varnish it, so it will last for years.—Ladies' Home Journal.

P. T. Barnum once said: "If you have ten dollars to put in good use, put up one dollar for the article and the other nine for advertising. I can out-talk any man but a printer. The man who can stick type and the next morning talk to a thousand people while I am talking to one is the man I'm afraid of and I want him for my friend."

John E. DeMerett, a boy of 18, living at Newport, Neb., is the youngest ordained minister in the world. He was ordained by the Baptist church at Ft. Scott, Kansas, with full power to preach. He speaks extemporaneously, and is said to be very happy in his illustrations and to possess native eloquence that charms all who hear him.

Some people require more sleep than others. The more nervous the temperament the more sleep is required. Sleep is better than any stimulant. If all those who work mentally would take time in the middle of the day, say for a half an hour, and would accustom themselves to go to sleep, they would find that they would wear better; last longer and do their work much better. Sleep is a remedial agent. Brain workers require more sleep than physical workers. They should go to sleep at 10 o'clock at night and should have their breakfast at 8.

The best receipt we know of, if you want to be miserable, is to think of your self, how much you have lost and how much you have not made, and of the poor prospect of the future. A brave man with a soul in him gets out of such pitiful ruts and laughs at his discouragements, rolls up his sleeves, whistles and sings, and makes the most of life. The earth was never intended for a paradise, and the man who raises above his discouragements, and keeps his manhood, is better for his adversities. Many a noble ship has been saved by throwing overboard the most valuable valuable cargo, and many a man is better after having lost his gold.

All women desire to look graceful on a wheel, and this longed-for result lies largely with themselves. Avoid all unnecessary motion, particularly with the knees; learn to pedal as much as possible from the ankle. Have your machine perfectly adjusted to you; have a trim, well-made, becoming suit, fitted so well and fashioned on such lines that your coat-tails will not be flying out behind, your skirt blowing on either side and your neck bent to keep your hat from blowing off. Sit up straight have your handle bars sufficiently high to allow you to take a tight but firm hold with the forearm straight, and the elbow on a line with the waist. Don't despise the day of little things, consider every trifle about your costume, your wheel and your action; improve where improvement there can be, and when you can no longer do so be happy in having procured the desired end.

As flies are faithful conveyers of disease try very hard to keep them out of the house. Cover all windows and doors with netting. If you cannot afford frames tack the netting over the windows outside. This is a very good way. It allows one to lower the window from the top as well as to lift it from the bottom, making better ventilation. If door frames are out of the question tack netting very full to the top of the door casings. In the broad hem at the bottom sew sufficient good sized pebbles to give weight, that the netting may fall quickly in place. If by chance the children hold the doors open for a moment allowing flies to enter, place a little sticky fly paper here and there, or when you darken the room leave a crack of sunshine at any open window or door; the flies will in a moment follow the light and may then be easily brushed out of the room.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

The parents of beautiful children are often envied by their associates who have no children or only those who are ordinary looking and not specially attractive. But such parents very often make the most complete shipwreck of their children's lives by their injudicious management and the very evident pride they take in the appearance of the little ones. They must not study too much, as that would make them dull and spiritless. They must not wear old or unbecoming clothes, as that would detract from their loveliness and mortify their pride. One woman the mother of a very beautiful daughter, made the lives of her friends miserable by constant exhibitions of her child's attractiveness. She was always on the alert for some opportunity to draw comparisons between her daughter and other children, and eye of course to the credit of her own.

Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, July 26, 1897.—September wheat had a range from 74 1/4 to 73 to-day, the most strength being shown shortly after the opening and the greatest weakness near the close, which was 72 1/4 asked. It was, however, the first decisive victory for the bears in many a week, and the bottom price to-day was three points over the low of last week, when 69c was reached.

The cables came much stronger this morning than had been looked for and there was also a lot of foreign buying orders to be executed, principally by Schwartz, Dupee & Co., which gave an early firmness to prices and sent the September quotation to 74 1/4. From this point there was a gradual but steady decline, some of the reactions being very marked, owing to an absence of buying orders and quite a pressure to sell. Corn had early strength, September going to 27 3/4 at one time and falling off to 26 3/4, closing at those figures. There was considerable bull news in wheat, but the traders are all loaded up with the cereal, hence the market did not respond as it would ordinarily have done on the facts presented. Another bear fact was an increase of 708,000 bu. in the visible supply. The English visible decreased 1,200,000 bu. It is noticeable that whereas two weeks ago September wheat was below 66 is now seemingly impossible to get it within five cents of that figure, and considering the advance of over 10 cents per bushel that was had from the low point of only a short time ago the recent recessions are considered by many to be only natural. wheat is keeping on a much higher plane than it did a month ago, and the improvement looks permanent, the foreign demand continuing good while weather conditions from now on certainly cannot be in favor of the bears.

There was a good advance to day in ribs and lard, and for several days provisions have done well. The cash demand for meats is most encouraging. Pork was quiet to-day on small transactions, but the undertone to the market seems very strong.

The following table shows the range of prices last week and the close to-day of the principal articles dealt in on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Wheat Range Last Week.	Close To day

FINANCIAL.
The past week has been one of continued advancement from a financial and industrial standpoint. The reports of the Commercial agencies show that trade is steadily increasing in all legitimate channels. The cheapness of money continues, and this is an important factor in many operations of a far-reaching character, the ultimate benefits of which will be large. With the passage of the tariff bill comes a certainty that for the next four years at least it will be possible for prudent men to formulate and execute plans of great magnitude in manufacturing and other industrial enterprises.

The New York stock market, which is of necessity an unflattering index of the light in which aggregated capital regards the situation, is most encouraging in its recent substantial rise and present firmness. A marked instance of the changed feeling now obtained in regard to securities is the advance of about 35 points in sugar, which is now being bought, on an investment basis and put away in strong boxes by men who have only its earning power in view. The stocks of the crop-carrying railroads are another instance of the confidence of the public in the fixity of the present improved conditions. It is a known fact that our grain yield this year will be large. The better foreign demand is a demonstrated fact, and with such immense quantities of freight to be moved between now and the holidays the earnings of the granger roads cannot but be most gratifying. That the benefits to be derived from this increased business have to some extent already been discounted is shown by the fact that the advance in these stocks has been most marked during the last 30 days, as witness the following table of prices of granger stocks at the opening to-day and a month ago:

	June 26	July 26
C. B. & Q.	84 1/2	88
St. Paul	81 1/2	89 1/2
Rock Island	78 3/4	81 1/2
C. & N. W.	117	118

This is a magnificent showing for the properties whose prosperity is directly dependent upon good crops and good prices for the same throughout the northwest and therefore the figures are of value as well as interest to every farmer, merchant and mechanic in these states. In such parts of the west as do not produce largely of grain there are equally important facts pointing to prosperity of a permanent nature. Prices for live stock are much more satisfactory than for years past, and the production of precious metals and those largely used in commerce is large. Gold, silver, copper and lead to the value of hundreds of millions of dollars will be taken from the ground this year in Colorado, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana and California.

It is for this reason—the visible increase of real national wealth as evidenced by our grain fields and mining industries—that the New York stock market is high and firm and that it will continue to advance until a much higher plane of values is reached is the belief of many.

We Have All Seen Them.

People who never say much yet speak volumes.

People who say a great deal and do very little.

People who look like giants and behave like grasshoppers.

People who look like grasshoppers and behave like giants.

Truths Told in a Few Words.

A child's respect for its parent is not secured by over-leniently any more than by over-severity.

A daughter should never seek nor be allowed to out-dress her mother. In every family the mother should be the best-dressed member.

The discarded finery of a daughter should never constitute a mother's wardrobe. No one feels especially dignified in the presence of one whose old clothes she is wearing, and a mother should at all times preserve her dignity before her children. The mother who never loses her queenliness will never lose her crown.

Preventable misfortunes consist, chiefly of manifold things, little to do but immense things to have done.

The man who earns one dollar and spends two, and the man who earns two and spends one, stands on either side of the hair line between heedlessness and discretion, between ruin and safety.

Parents generally receive that measure filial respect they deserve—not always, perhaps, but generally.

When a mother allows her daughter to appropriate her wraps, gloves, veils, or other articles of personal attire, she begins a policy of familiarity which, sooner or later breeds contempt. A respect for one's belongings engenders a respect for their possessor.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

THE NEW TARIFF.

Synopsis of Bill as Agreed Upon in Conference.

Changes in the Various Schedules Made by the Committee and Reported to the House.

Washington, July 20.—The tariff bill was pushed through the conference stage yesterday after two hours' discussion before the full conference committee—democrats and republicans. The democratic conferees offered amendments to the report, but were met with the statement that it would merely consume time to urge amendments, as they would be rejected.

Mr. Wheeler (dem., Ala.) offered amendments placing cotton bagging and cotton ties on the free list; also a substitute proposition for rebates on these articles. These and other amendments were withdrawn, however, as there was no prospect of favorable action on them.

Revenue Expected.

As to the question of revenue to be raised by the bill, Mr. Dingley, in his speech, pointed out the difficulty resulting from the large anticipatory importations. The bill next year, he calculated, would raise $225,000,000, $75,000,000 more than the present law. Over $40,000,000 had been lost in this year's revenues by the importations of wool and sugar and other things, the duty on which was raised in the bill, so that he calculated that the bill this year would raise $185,000,000.

New Sugar Schedule.

The full text of the sugar schedule as finally agreed upon by the house and senate conferees is as follows:

"Sugars not above No. 16 Dutch standard in color tank bottoms, sirups of cane juice, melada, concentrated melada, concrete, and concentrated molasses, testing by the polariscope not above 75 degrees, 35 per cent. ad valorem; and for every additional degree shown by the polariscope test .035 of one cent per pound additional, and fractions of a degree in proportion; and on sugar above No. 16 Dutch standard in color, and on all sugar which has gone through a process of refining, 1.35 cents per pound; molasses testing above 40 degrees, and not above 56 degrees, 3 cents per gallon; testing 56 degrees and above, 6 cents per gallon; sugar drainings and sugar sweepings shall be subject to duty as molasses or sugar, as the case may be, according to polariscope test. Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of the treaty of commercial reciprocity concluded between the United States and the king of the Hawaiian islands on January 30, 1875, or the provisions of any act of congress heretofore passed for the execution of the same."

Duty on Sugar Cane.

The conference restored the house rate of 20 per cent. on sugar cane. Saccharine is made $1.50 per pound and 10 per cent. ad valorem.

The confectionery paragraph is changed to read as follows:

"Sugar candy and all confectionery not specially provided for in this act, valued at 15 cents per pound or less, and on sugars after being refined when tinted, colored, or in any way adulterated, 4 cents per pound and 15 per cent. ad valorem; valued at more than 15 cents per pound, 50 per cent. ad valorem. The weight and the value of the immediate coverings, other than the outer packing case or other covering, shall be included in the dutiable weight and the value of the merchandise."

The republican conferees also made public a statement concerning the conference report in which it reviewed the changes made. Of sugar the statement says:

"The house differential between raw and refined sugars and the general features of the house schedule are preserved, and the senate amendments increasing the differential to one-fifth and providing for a reduction of one-tenth of the duty on raw sugars not above 87 degrees, which would have given a duty of 1.35 on 88 degree sugar and only 1.25 on 87 degree sugar, are not adopted."

Beet Sugar.

"In deference to the wishes of those interested in beet sugar production, that the senate rate of 1.95 cents on refined sugar might be retained as an increased encouragement to this industry, the duty on raw sugars is increased .075 cents, so as to make the increase on them the same as the increase on refined sugar, and thus leave the differential between raw sugar and refined the same as in the house bill. And to meet the objection which has been urged that the house rates on low grade raw sugar show a higher ad valorem than those on the higher grades the duty on 75 degree sugar is reduced .50 cent and the duty per degree increased regularly from .03 cent (as proposed in the house bill) to .0325 cent, in order to raise the duty on raw sugars the same as on refined."

"By this arrangement the duty on raw sugars of 100 degrees purity is raised from 1.75 cents (as proposed originally by the house) to 1.825 cents, and the duty on refined sugar is raised from 1.875 cents (as proposed originally by the house) to 1.85 cents, thus giving the same differential of .125 cent between raw and refined sugar at this point as was originally given by the house."

"As this arrangement will increase the revenue over $2,000,000 and at the same time give additional encouragement to the production of sugar in this country, it is thought to be a desirable consummation."

Wool.

The changes in the wool schedule made in conference leave the duties on disputed items as follows:

Paragraph 364—The duty on wools of the first class, which shall be imported washed, shall be twice the amount of the duty to which they would be subjected if imported unwashed; and the duty on wools of the first and second classes which shall be imported scoured shall be three times the duty to which they would be subjected if imported unwashed. The duty on wools of the third class, if imported in condition for use in carding or spinning into yarns, or which shall not contain more than eight per cent. of dirt or other foreign substance, shall be three times the duty to which they would otherwise be subjected. The conference restored the house rates on first and second class wool.

Paragraph 365—On wools of the third class and on camel's hair of the third class, the value whereof shall exceed 12 cents per pound, the duty shall be seven cents per pound.

Paragraph 366—On wools of the third class and on camel's hair of the third class, the value whereof shall exceed 12 cents per pound, the duty shall be seven cents per pound.

Paragraph 362—Shoddy, 25 cents per pound; on oils, wool extract, yarn waste, thread waste, and all other wastes, composed wholly or in part of wool, and not specially provided for in this act, 20 cents per pound.

Paragraph 365—On yarns made wholly or in part of wool valued at not more than 30 cents per pound the duty per pound shall be 2 1/2 times the duty imposed by this act on one pound of unwashed wool of the first class; valued at more than 30 cents per pound, the duty shall be 3 1/2 times the duty imposed by this act on one pound of unwashed wool of the first class; and in addition thereto, upon all the foregoing, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 367—On blankets and flannels for underwear, composed wholly or in part of wool valued at not more than 40 cents per pound the duty per pound shall be the same as the duty imposed by this act on two pounds of unwashed wool of the first class and in addition thereto 30 per cent. ad valorem; valued at more than 40 cents and not more than 50 cents per pound, the duty per pound shall be three times the duty imposed by this act on one pound of unwashed wool of the first class and in addition thereto 35 per cent. ad valorem.

On blankets composed wholly or in part of wool valued at more than 50 cents per pound the duty per pound shall be three times the duty imposed by this act on one pound of unwashed wool of the first class and in addition thereto 40 per cent. ad valorem. Flannels, composed wholly or in part of wool valued at above 50 cents per pound shall be classified and pay the same duty as linings, Italian cloths, and goods of similar character and description provided by this act; provided, that on blankets over three yards in length the same duties shall be paid as on cloths.

Paragraph 370—On clothing, ready made, and articles of wearing apparel of every description, including shawls, whether knitted or woven, and knitted articles of every description made up or manufactured wholly or in part, felts not woven and not specially provided for in this act, composed wholly or in part of wool, the duty per pound shall be four times the duty imposed by this act on one pound of unwashed wool of the first class and in addition thereto 60 per cent. ad valorem.

Schedule on Carpets.

Paragraph 372—Aubusson, Axminster, Moquette and Chenille carpets, figured or plain, and all carpets or carpeting of like character or description, 60 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 373—Saxony, Wilton and Touraine velvet carpets, figured or plain, and all carpets or carpeting of like character or description, 60 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 374—Brussels carpets, figured or plain, and all carpets or carpeting of like character or description, 44 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 375—Velvet and tapestry velvet carpets, figured or plain, printed on the warp or otherwise, and all carpets or carpeting of like character or description, 40 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 376—Tapestry Brussels carpet, figured or plain, and all carpets or carpeting of like character or description printed on the warp or otherwise, 28 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 377—Trebles Ingrain, three ply, and all chain Venetian carpets, 22 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Paragraph 378—Dutch wool and two-ply carpets, 18 cents per square yard, and, in addition thereto, 40 per cent. ad valorem.

Wood.

The following was substituted for the paragraph on hewn timber:

"Timber hewn, sided, or squared (not less than 8 inches square), and round timber used for spars or in building wharves, one cent per cubic foot."

The paragraph relating to sawed boards and planks was amended by striking out the words "white pine" at $1 per 1,000 feet and by restoring the house rate on all the other items of the schedule, making the rates 50 cents per 1,000 feet for each side planed or finished, $1 for tongued or grooved, and $1.50 if planed on two sides and tongued and grooved. The legislative proviso to this paragraph inserted by the senate was changed so as to read as follows: "That if any country or any dependency shall impose an export duty upon saw logs, round manufactured timber, stave bolts, shingle bolts, or headed bolts, exported in the United States, or a discriminating charge upon boomsticks or chains used by American citizens in towing logs, the amount of such export duty, tax, or other charge, as the case may be, shall be added as an additional duty to the duties imposed upon the articles mentioned in this paragraph when imported from such country or dependency."

Fence posts are reduced from 20 to 10 per cent. ad valorem. The house rate of 30 per cent. ad valorem is restored on casks and barrels, sugar box shooks, etc.

The house rate of two cents per thousand and 15 per cent. ad valorem is restored on footpicks, as is the house rate of 40 cents per thousand upon butchers' skewers.

Tobacco.

The conference accepted the senate rate and language on wrapper and filler tobacco, except that the rate on wrapper tobacco was made $1.50 per pound instead of $1.75. The house rate on imported cigars, cigarettes, etc., of $4.50 per pound and 25 per cent. ad valorem was restored.

The senate made the rate $4 per pound and 25 per cent. ad valorem. There were no other changes in the schedule on imported tobacco.

Silk.

The conference accepted paragraph 366 as amended by the senate with the addition of the words "or plush" before ribbons in the first line, making plush ribbons dutiable at $1.50 per pound, and 15 per cent. ad valorem.

IT IS A LAW.

Tariff Measure Reaches the President and is Signed.

Senate Adopts the Conference Report by a Vote of 40 to 30—Question as to Exact Time New Rates Went into Effect.

Washington, July 26.—The tariff bill passed its last legislative stage at three p. m. Saturday, when the senate, by the decisive vote of 40 to 30, agreed to the conference report on the bill. The announcement of the result was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the crowded chamber. The bill was at once sent to President McKinley, who signed it at 4:07.

The Vote.

Yeas—Aldrich, Allison, Baker, Burrows, Carter, Clark, Davis, Deboe, Elkins, Fairbanks, Foraker, Frye, Gallinger, Gear, Hale, Hansbrough, Hawley, Hoar, Jones (Nev.), Lodge, McBride, McMillan, Mason, Morrill, Myers, Penrose, Perkins, Platt (Conn.), Nelson (N. Y.), Pritchard, Quay, Sewell, Spooner, Stewart, Thurston, Washburn, Wetmore—40.

Washington, July 26.—Treasury officials are all of the opinion that the new tariff law went into effect at midnight on Friday. The courts may eventually rule otherwise, but the present purpose of the department is to require payment in accordance with the Dingley law upon all goods entered Saturday. An opinion of the attorney general, however, will be obtained before a formal ruling on that subject is made. Hundreds of thousands of dollars depends on the ruling.

In anticipation of the passage of the law importers brought in large quantities of goods, which paid duties under the Wilson act. Importations have been extremely heavy since last March, and reached their highest point during the present month, although complete returns have not yet reached the department. The bureau of statistics estimated that during March, April, May and June nearly 3,000,000,000 pounds of sugar, valued at nearly $50,000,000, were imported into this country. The returns for July have not yet been received, but it is expected by the department that they will not fall below the average of over 7,000,000 pounds established by April, May and June.

For the three months, March, April and May, the value of hides imported was $44,023,298, while for the corresponding period of last year the value of the importations of this material was $33,223,298. A comparison of other goods imported during the same period will show a proportionately like difference between the values of 1896 and those of 1897. As importers attempted to enter goods before the Dingley act began operation, so brewers attempted to take advantage of the tax imposed by the Wilson law on beer. It is estimated that during the last three days beer stamps valued at $2,500,000 were sold, on which, under the old law, the brewers will get 7 1/2 per cent. rebate.

According to the most conservative estimates of the revenue to be produced by the new law, the total will exceed the amount raised in the last year of the Wilson bill by at least $30,000,000. This, too, in spite of the fact that the revenue-producing powers of the new law will be seriously crippled by the anticipatory importations of the last three or four months. The chemical schedule of the new law, it is expected, will produce revenue to the amount of $6,695,000. In 1896, under the Wilson law, it brought only $5,500,000 (in round numbers). The earthenware and glassware schedule is counted upon for $9,741,000, while under the Wilson law in 1896 it brought $7,900,000. Schedule C, metals and manufactures of metals, is expected to produce $17,000,000, while in 1896 the amount was only $13,300,000. The lumber schedule, it is anticipated, will produce $2,400,000.

Even with the enormous anticipatory importations the sugar schedule is expected to bring in, at the lowest estimate, $38,000,000, as against $29,000,000 under the Wilson law in 1896. A more liberal estimate places the prospective sugar revenues at $55,000,000. On tobacco and manufactures thereof the estimated revenue for the next year is $16,400,000, against $14,800,000 under the Wilson law last year. In the agricultural schedule the estimates of revenue run from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000, compared with $7,900,000 in 1896. Imported wines, spirits, and malt liquors are counted upon for $7,935,000, against $6,900,000 last year. Schedule I, manufactures of cotton, brought in $9,300,000 last year, and it is estimated will produce over $11,000,000 next year. In flax, hemp, jute, etc., the revenues for next year are estimated at from $13,000,000 to $19,000,000, contrasted with $12,000,000 last year. On wool and manufactures thereof the estimate is at least double the revenue of last year, which was $23,000,000. Silk and silk goods are expected to bring about $14,000,000, against $12,500,000 last year. On pulp, paper and books the estimate is $2,000,000, contrasted with $1,200,000 last year. The sundries schedule, which includes miscellaneous items not otherwise specified, produced $10,000,000 last year, and the lowest estimate for next year is $13,500,000, while a more liberal calculation places it at $20,000,000.

A PECULIAR FATE.

Strange Manner in Which a Pennsylvanian was Killed.

Chester, Pa., July 26.—James P. Campbell, ex-city clerk of Chester, was killed Sunday afternoon by a most peculiar accident. He was one of a party standing on the government pier awaiting the Wilmington (Del.) passenger steambot. A steam tug which was lying at the pier with a hawser attached to a post began to move, and the hawser, becoming taut, slipped over the top of the post, and, whirling rapidly through the air, caught Campbell under the chin. The rope encircled itself tightly about his neck, lifted the unfortunate man ten feet in the air and dropped him to the pier. His neck was broken and he was found to be dead when the horror-stricken spectators ran to assist him.

IN LOGAN'S MEMORY.

Equestrian Statue of the Great General Unveiled in Chicago.

The Ceremonies Imposing in the Extreme—A Parade of 20,000 Soldiers and Citizens—Great Naval Spectacle.

Chicago, July 23.—Thursday the center of the west was a little mound in Lake Front park upon whose summit stands the inspiring and lifelike statue of Logan as he appeared while rallying the broken ranks of the Army of the Tennessee, 33 years ago. Past its base for hour after hour swept rank after rank of men who had been defenders of their country throughout days which are at once the brightest and darkest in its history—rank after rank of fighting men of to-day, and rank after rank of boys who are to be the soldiers of the future. From three o'clock until six, the broad expanse of Michigan avenue was swept from curb to curb by a marching host. From end to end it was a glittering vision of weapons of war, tossing plumes and standards, and throughout its length a vast concourse of people packed sidewalks, filled windows, and scaled roofs to see as the soldiers marched how Illinois kept faith with the memory of John A. Logan.

Besides the members of Gen. Logan's immediate family the reviewers included: Gov. Tanner, of Illinois; Gov. Holcomb, of Nebraska; Gov. Drake, of Iowa; Gov. James A. Mount, of Indiana; Gov. Atkinson, of West Virginia; Gov. Scofield, of Wisconsin; Secretary of War R. A. Alger and Mrs. Alger; ex-Senator D. M. Sabin, of Minnesota; Archbishop John Ireland, of St. Paul; Lord Breadalbane, of England; Gov. Barnes, of Oklahoma. The two brothers of Gen. Logan—Thomas M. Logan, of Murphyboro, Ill., John A. Logan's birthplace, and James V. Logan of Olney, Ill., occupied places of honor.

The statue was presented to the state of Illinois in an appropriate address by Henry W. Blodgett, president of the board of commissioners appointed by the state to erect it. Gov. John R. Tanner accepted the gift on the part of the state. The oration of the day was delivered by George R. Peck, who said in part:

"Illinois is proud and happy. Waiting patiently for a fitting time, she opens all her welcoming gates and bids the world take note what breed of men she rears. Here is the product of her soil, and here she brings a mother's exultant heart to be enshrined. This great city, the lake with all its breadth of waters, the prairies stretching outward to the west, and the sky mingling light and cloud in an ever-changing picture, are resplendent witnesses of the scene. The event, the hour and the men are historic.

"Here we make a sacred place. Here we consecrate a name already consecrated in our bravest annals. We give the statue to the world, in the presence of the wife he loved and honored and whom we love and honor. His children and his children's children are here to learn how great a name they bear.

"He is not ours alone; but yet we claim him. In coming years the throngs that crowd the avenue will see a silent figure always on duty. They will know—all the world will know—it is Logan, Illinois has kept her trust."

A feature of great interest in the celebration was the firing of salutes. At the moment when little John A. Logan, grandson of the general, pulled the line which threw aside the draped flags, a salute of 13 guns was fired, the army leading with a boom of cannon, the revenue cutter Gresham following, and shore batteries then alternating with government boats till the significant 13 had been counted.

The pageant on land was supplemented by the finest marine display ever seen on Lake Michigan. Grouped around revenue cutters Gresham, Fessenden and Calumet, which anchored just off the monument, were nearly 200 vessels, of the merchant marine and private yachts, all gayly decorated for the occasion.

Shortly after eight o'clock Mrs. Logan and her party left the Auditorium Annex for the Coliseum. An immense throng had gathered to witness the Coliseum garden's fireworks, which were on a par with the lavish and beautiful display shown at intervals during the world's fair. At the conclusion of the spectacle the crowd turned into the Coliseum, where, for over an hour, Mrs. Logan, Secretary and Mrs. Alger and Sculptor Saint Gaudens received the thousands who pressed into the building.

BIFFLEBY GOES YACHTING.

The Only Outlay Was for a Bottle of Tar.

A life on the ocean wave, And a home on the rolling deep, Where the scattered waters rave, And the winds their revel keep.

"I don't know that I have the quotation exactly right," said Mr. Biffleby, "but it will serve as an introduction to what I want to say.

"I am very fond of yachting, but I don't go as much as I would like to on account of the expense. But I am not without the enjoyment of yachting; for when the desire for the water comes over me, as it does every summer, I manage to go yachting at home.

"Every spring I buy about a pound of tar, which I keep in a bottle tightly corked. When it comes along some drowsy summer day, and I feel that I would like to be lying on deck basking in the sun, with the yacht nodding along lazily in the summer breeze, then I take a trip at home.

"That night I eat fish for dinner, or clam chowder, and I go to bed early. Before going to bed I start the water running in the bathroom; the sound of it makes the waves, lapping against the bow of the boat. I clew up the awnings only partly; the starting of the awnings when the wind gets in their folds does for the swaying sails. I bring out the bottle of tar and uncork it, and set it on a chair up by the head of the bed. I douse the gim and tumble into bed. 'Rocked in the cradle of the deep.'"—N. Y. Sun.

B. & O. Fast Freight Schedule.

The Baltimore & Ohio, in connection with the Continental Line and Central States Dispatch fast freight lines, has inaugurated another fast freight schedule to the west, to be known as Train 95. It will be made up at Baltimore, and is put on especially to accommodate import business by way of Locust Point, and at the same time gives to Eastern manufacturers and wholesale dealers a rapid service to the west. The running time of the train is so arranged that it will make 50 hours to Chicago, 30 to Cincinnati, 30 to Cleveland, 34 to Columbus, 118 to Dallas, Tex., 50 to Detroit, 98 to Duluth, Minn., 37 to Indianapolis, 78 to Kansas City, 75 to Memphis, 50 to Louisville, 74 to Milwaukee, 83 to Minneapolis, 61 to Peoria, Ill., 20 to Pittsburgh, 50 to St. Louis, 81 to St. Paul, 39 to Sandusky, 231 to San Francisco, 44 to Toledo, and correspondingly quick time to other western and southern points.

The Freight Department expects to make 95 as popular and reliable a train as 97, which makes the run from New York to Chicago and St. Louis in 60 hours.

South Dakota Pays Off Its Debts.

Sioux Falls, S. D., July 13.—[Special].—"The people of South Dakota have, in the last four years, paid off $30,000,000 of their debts," said one of the best known loan agents of the State, "and they are now paying off at a very rapid rate. As things are now going the people of the State, and especially the farmers, will soon be well out of debt. The large crops of the last few years, coupled with the close times, have had the effect of giving the people an appetite for getting out of debt, and fortunately has also given them the ability to do so."

Another agent who represents a loan company which has several million dollars loaned on farm property in South Dakota, adds his testimony, but the agent complains that he cannot find takers for one-third of the amount he would like to loan.

"Our company has 1,500 loans in this State on farm lands," said the agent over referred to, "and we have not had over fifty foreclosures in seven years. The company does not own a foot of land in the State and never lost a cent on a loan."—(Chicago Tribune, July 14, 1897.)

That portion of South Dakota which is traversed by the lines of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway is the finest agricultural and stock growing section of the western country. For "Letters from Farmers," printed in pamphlet form, finely illustrated, and descriptions of farm lands, address Geo. H. Heaford, General Passenger Agent, Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill. Now is the time to look for homes in South Dakota, where land is cheap and good.

"I suppose," said the stern parent, "you know that the man who takes my daughter takes her as she stands, without a penny." "You don't say so," replied the impetuous lover; "in that case I shall be doing the dear girl a great wrong. I love her too well, sir, to take her under such conditions." And the stern parent embraced the impetuous lover, and folded him to his breast, and said unto him: "You are the man I have been looking for. You are an easy-going liar, and you have tact."—Boston Transcript.

The Pill that Will.

"The pill that will," implies the pills that won't. Their name is legion. The name of "the pill that will" is Ayer's Cathartic Pill. It is a pill to rely on. Properly used it will cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, and the other ills that result from torpid liver. Ayer's pills are not designed to spur the liver into a momentary activity, leaving it in yet more incapable condition after the immediate effect is past. They are compounded with the purpose of toning up the entire system, removing the obstructing conditions, and putting the liver into proper relations with the rest of the organs for natural co-operation. The record of Ayer's Pills during the half century they have been in public use establishes their great and permanent value in all liver affections.

Preference Shown For Men.

In speaking of men and women as clerks in a shoe store or department a well-known dealer said: "A woman cannot sell shoes to other women. Strange as it may appear, women will make their selections and purchases from male clerks every time, and it is for this reason that so few shoe dealers employ women clerks. It's not only in this, but in all other cities in this country that this is true. Now, in Europe it is somewhat the other way, and in many of the larger shoe establishments there are more women clerks than men clerks, and women customers prefer the women clerks nearly every time, except in the case when the purchasers are American. They prefer to deal with the men clerks. In buying shoes women are much more confidential than men are.—Ex.

Young Girl's Liberty.

The liberty and freedom of action allowed young girls of today is the subject of a forcible editorial by Edward W. Bok in the August Ladies' Home Journal. "That everything in life is tending to make people freer in thought and action is undoubtedly true, and it is a healthful tendency in the main—writes Mr. Bok. "But no advantages is without its disadvantages. The freer our lives become along healthful and safe lines the healthier will our minds become. But become we can safely profit by these advantages we must have lived long enough to know how to use them and to understand what phrases of them to disregard. Because women are freer to travel alone than ever before, it does not necessarily follow that it is wise and right that young girls should be permitted to travel alone. Here comes the truth of the proverb that "what's one man's poison is another man's meat." The time was when a woman could not, with self-respect go to a place of entertainment unattended. Now she can. But that does not make it right for her to do so. The chaperon is none the more the less indispensable to girls to-day than she was thirty years ago. She is really more necessary for as things become more and more possible for women, they should become more possible for girls. This may sound hard and severe, but young girls must remember that a woman's years are her protection, whereas a girl's lack of years is her danger. The very aim and purpose of the present tendency for woman's greater freedom will be defeated if we allow it to guide the actions of our girls. The danger to immaturity always becomes greater as the danger to maturity grows less. This we should never overlook. It is a blessed change that things are safely possible to women which were absolutely impossible a few years ago. But progress is dangerous as well as healthful. If parents interpret the present changing conditions by allowing greater freedom to their daughters they will make a very sad mistake."

There is too much shouting being done in church by people who don't weigh an ounce for the Lord anywhere else.

Odds and Ends.

The poultry editor of the Farmers' Review believes that mixed flocks of general purpose fowls do not average more than a hundred eggs per year per bird, and his belief is based on figures of egg production carefully kept up for years. Therefore, select the birds, and choose a special fowl for a special purpose.

This year witnesses the three hundredth anniversary of the planting of the potato in England. It was Sir Walter Raleigh, as everybody knows, who is responsible for the favor with which the gentle spud is regarded as an article of diet, and it was in 1597 that the seed, taken from America by the greatest courtier of his time, was planted in the garden of the famous botanist, Gerrard.

A Spanish editor referring to America, says, "lynching of prisoners is esteemed by authorities as legal." The editor is hardly fair with us, because neither the "authorities" or the best sentiment of the country look upon it as "legal" or defensible; but we must confess that he has some ground for his criticism. The gross violation of life and law by occasional lynching, is a stain upon us, and demands in every case, punishment.

At Geddes, Washtenaw, last week, a fisherman saw as plain as day, a woman with a red skirt lying at the bottom of the pond. A spear brought up a chunk of flesh and a smell that would have made a limburger cheese microb throw up its commission. That smell led a thousand people by the nose. The pond was drained and—phew! some slaughter house refuse in an old red tatter, told in language for the deaf, the story of the tragedy.—Adrian Press.

An English hygienist of reput says that a large proportion of the ills which afflict men past the middle of life are due to errors in diet, chiefly in the direction of excess in quantity. He even goes so far as to make the deliberate assertion that more mischief in the shape of lessened resisting powers, actual disease and shortened life comes to the inhabitants of Northern Europe from their habits of eating than from their abuse of alcoholic liquors.

The crow and toad are two familiar creatures whose popularity the agricultural department at Washington is trying to rehabilitate. A short time ago the department brought out a book to show how the crow earned the corn he ate by destroying injurious creatures. It mentioned the toad among his victims. This was followed by another work vindicating the toad and proving him to be a friend to man because of the number of noxious insects he destroys.

A new swindle is abroad. A stranger with various aliases, secured a number of heavy gold washed rings, upon the inside of each he engraved the words "From Mother," or "From Father," as the case might be. Selecting his victim, he would tell a most pathetic tale of misfortune (winding up with a request for the loan of $5 or so, offering to leave one of these rings as security.) His tearful reference to the departed, together with the apparent intrinsic value of the ring, frequently made his game a winning one.

The prison report for the six months ending June 30, shows the average number of men in the prison to be 817, July 1 1896, 824; received by sentence, 261; escapes returned, 1; returned from Ionia asylum, 2; returned from parole, 2; total receipts, 1,090. Discharged at expiration of sentence, 186; escaped, 1; discharged by orders of supreme court, 2; new trials granted, 2; transferred to the Ionia asylum, 13; to Detroit house of correction, 1; pardoned, 17; paroled, 18; total departure from prison, 247. Total number in prison June 30, 1897, 843.

"I just think it shameful the way that girl spits slang," said one Grand Lodge girl to another. "My! If I twirled my talker as she does, my blooming old dad would tan my duds until dust was thicker than fleas in fly time." "You betcher brass, and serve you right," replied the young lady. "My parents are sunflowers of the same hue, and if I should make a raw crack in my conversation they'd thrash the cussedness out of my angelic anatomy quicker than chain lightning." And then they proceeded to suck the juice of a lemon through a stick of candy.—Grand Lodge Republican.

When oats are raised for feed, especially in the straw—a practice that is on the increase in some parts of the country—they should be cut when the straw begins to turn and the grain has formed well. The straw will contain more nutriment and be better relished by the stock than if allowed to get ripe. But when they are to be threshed they should be allowed to get a little riper. With a small acreage a very good plan of arrangement is to mow down and manage the same as clover hay. They can be harvested at a less cost in this way than if cut and bound, and in feeding there is less waste.

The world has but little to hope from the man to whom the golden age of the past is more inspiring than the golden opportunity of the now.—Ram's Horn.

Left The Baby Out All Night.

The friends of a certain professional woman in Washington tell a story on her which they call a huge joke. There is a baby in the professional woman's family. The baby has a nurse. It has also a doting grandfather, who came to see it very early one morning recently. As he came near the house he saw the baby carriage standing near the side door. The house and doors were still locked. Nobody was stirring. The grandfather looked into the carriage, and there, to his amazement, lay the precious baby. It had actually been left out all night, for, as the mother explained, she had been busy all the evening and supposed nurse had baby, and the nurse had been busy all the evening and supposed that the mother had the baby. Between the two of them the child had been left out of doors all night.

He Had a Good Memory.

"How old are you, Johnnie?"
"Six."
"Ever been ill?"
"Yes."
"Often?"
"No."
"Have you ever had the doctor?"
"Yes."
"How often?"
"Just once."
"How long ago was that?"
"Bout six years."
"Was that the matter then?"
"I was getting bored."—Chic.

A good Sally Lum, made, according to the original Sally Lunn's recipe, without yeast is this: Mix 3 cups of flour, 3 tablespoonsful sugar, 3 tablespoonsfuls melted butter, a cup of milk, 3 teaspoonsfuls baking powder and 3 eggs together and bake a loaf. If a "raised" bread is desired, no thing is better than this often tested receipt. Add 2 tablespoonsfuls melted butter to a large pint of warmed milk, then 2 well beaten eggs and half a yeast cake dissolved in 3 tablespoonsfuls cold water. Pour gradually over a quart of flour and beat to a smooth batter. Add a teaspoonful salt and a teaspoonful of sugar. Set to rise for two hours in a warm place and bake. To those who like the hop taste a whole yeast cake may be used with these proportions and will, of course, accelerate considerably the rising process.—New York Post.

"Tell your readers," said a gentleman to the writer the other day, "that there is a simple and inexpensive way to keep milk sweet without having an ice box to keep it in." "How?" "Simply by taking as much powdered borax as you can between your thumb and finger, throwing it into your pan of milk, and taking a spoon and stirring it in. We have kept a pan of milk sweet five days in our cellar in that way, and I will warrant it for two days up stairs, even in this hot weather." The receipt is inexpensive, and if you doubt it there will be no harm in giving it a trial. Our informant says that it never fails at his home and he would not be without the knowledge of the little fact for a great deal.—Ann Arbor Courier.
