SETTLED HIS CLAIM.
The Arbitrators Awarded J. V. N. Gregory Its Full Amount.
Ann Arbor Argus: The arbitrators in the case of John V. N. Gregory vs. The Washtenaw Mutual Fire Insurance Co., met in Ann Arbor, Wednesday of last week and after due deliberation awarded Mr. Gregory the amount he claimed, being $900 on the two barns and $424 on the personal property. So much interest has been manifested in this case that the Argus here gives the facts in the matter so far as they have come to its knowledge.
Last fall while the threshers were at work threshing the crop on J. V. N. Gregory's farm in Lima his two barns and a quantity of personal property were destroyed by fire. The property was insured by the Washtenaw Mutual and Mr. Gregory applied to have the amount due on his policy paid over to him. The board of directors declined to order the amount to be paid to him because it was shown that by law No. 32 of the policy carried by Mr. Gregory had been violated, by the use of wood for fuel in the engines instead of coal as the by-law calls for. This decision was arrived at by the board of directors after a most thorough investigation, in the course of which several witnesses were sworn and examined.
"Mr. Lutz, the tenant on the farm, testified that he bought 1,800 pounds of coal for use in the engine while threshing his part of the crop and with Mr. Gregory's permission got a load of wood for that gentleman's share. On the second day while threshing Mr. Gregory's share and using the wood for fuel the barns took fire from sparks from the engine, the wind at the time blowing strongly toward them, and, with their contents, the buildings were destroyed.
From this sworn testimony of Mr. Lutz, which was corroborated by Mr. Deidle, the engineer, and others who were present at the time, the board made up its mind that by law No. 32 of the policy had been violated at the time of the fire with the knowledge and consent of Mr. Gregory and it was unanimous in its rejection of the claim.
The charter of the company gives every member the right to appeal to arbitration, not only as to the amount of an award, but also questions as to the liability of the company in any claim. Upon this right Mr. Gregory appealed to arbitration and chose as his representative J. L. Gilbert of Sylvan. The company chose as its arbitrator George S. Rawson, of Bridgewater, and they two chose Fred Hutzel, of Pittsfield as the third man. The result of the arbitration was Messrs. Gilbert and Hutzel claimed that the company was liable, while Mr. Rawson held to the contrary and filed his reasons for such decision with the company. The articles of arbitration made binding on both parties to abide by the decision of the arbitrators and the company has settled the claim thus decided against them.
It is the intention of the board of directors to so amend by-law No. 32 that there will be no question in the future as to the liability of the company if any member uses wood for fuel while threshing after having once kindled the fire. Due notice of all action of the board in this matter will be sent to each member.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

As the farmers did not come forward with their milk as they agreed, there was no cheese made at the factory Monday and the machinery was shipped to Brooklyn, Tuesday. —Manchester Enterprise.

In Washtenaw county there are about fourteen hundred miles of roads composed of clay and mud and sand. The aim and object of those who have the care and supervision of our highways should be to make them good at that time of year when the conditions of the weather tend to make them bad. Farmers are apt to look with a great deal of suspicion on all who advocate better roads and conclude that our roads are good enough and nobody outside the districts have any right to interfere or complain. In other words, everybody gets the benefit of good roads and is wronged by bad roads. —Washtenaw Times.

Fred Carter, colored, of Augusta, was arrested yesterday after noon upon complaint of Lewis Boyles, who charges him with an attempted rape upon Minnie Carter, a niece of the arrested man. The complaint is backed up by an affidavit from Mrs. Johanna Carter, mother of the girl who says that on March 20 she entered the sleeping room of Minnie and saw Carter with his hand over her mouth and in a very compromising position. The girl is only 11 years of age. Carter was brought before Justice Childs and demanded an examination which was set for April 6. His bonds for appearance were placed at $1,000 which have not yet been furnished. —Manchester Enterprise.

Early this morning while Addison E. Gardner was digging a trench for a cellar drain in the yard back of his store his spade struck something which gave back a sharp metallic sound and on investigation proved to be a small tin box, nearly rusted to pieces with age. But the curious part of the find, and the part most pleasing to the delighted Mr. Gardner, was the fact that the little tin box was filled with U. S. gold double eagles, the dates on them ranged from 1804 to 1811, and are supposed to have been buried by some one during the war of 1812 with England.

The spot where the treasure was found is about three feet to the left of the trunk of an aged apple tree, and about thirty inches beneath the surface. The treasure is on exhibition today and Mr. Gardner is having scores of visitors.

THE STANDARD OF LIVING.

Its Direct Relation to the Scale of Laborer's Wages.

The price of labor in the same industries differs in different localities or markets, not because the skill of laborers so greatly differs, or because there is great diversity in the supply and demand for laborers, but because the cost of production (the cost of living) greatly differs in different localities. Thus, in New York city, carpenters, masons, printers and other mechanics get for the same work, 50, and sometimes 100 per cent more than in some other localities. While the cost of living is sometimes affected by the difference in prices of particular articles of consumption it is usually determined largely by the difference in the social style of living. The greater the variety of the things consumed and comforts enjoyed by the laborers the higher is their standard of living and the greater their expenses or cost of living. Now, it is universally known in all countries and localities that in proportion as this standard of living, or social expense of the laborer's family, rises among any class of laborers, wages rise, hence they are always highest in large cities and lowest in remote country districts.

It may be laid down, then, as a general principle that wages for similar labor in any given market are governed by the local standard of living of the laborers. Consequently all efforts to improve the condition of the laboring class, to be efficacious, must be directed toward increasing the influences which raise the standard of living among the laboring class. In no other way can a permanent increase of wages be secured, and it may be added that no scheme for social reform which does not tend to promote this end can be of any real benefit to the wage class. —Guntor's Magazine.

Appetite of the Florida Alligator.

The Florida alligator has an appetite that is hard to appease. A fisherman, weary with ill luck, pulled off his boots, stretched himself on the river's green bank and went to sleep. A saurian in search of a dinner, spied the sleeping fisherman, crawled up the bank, swallowed him and retired in good order. But after a time he remembered that the late fisherman's boots were also reposing on the bank. A dinner without dessert was no dinner at all, so he returned to the bank. But while he was in the act of swallowing them, another fisherman, recently arrived, shot him dead. "Probably the moral in this story is, 'Some alligators never know when they have enough.'"

Mortgage Sale.

DEFAULT HAVING BEEN MADE IN THE conditions of a certain mortgage made and executed by Adam Lockwood and wife, of Washtenaw, Michigan, to Matthew E. Keller of the township of Sharon, county of Washtenaw, and state of Michigan, dated the 29th day of December, A. D. 1895, and recorded in the office of the register of deeds for said county of Washtenaw, Michigan, in book number 10, page 47, by which default the power of sale in said mortgage has become operative, on which said mortgage there is due at the date of this notice the sum of sixteen hundred and ninety-six dollars, and no suit or proceeding at law or in equity, having been commenced to recover the money secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed on the 15th day of June, 1898, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the court house in front door of the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw county, Michigan, that being the place for holding the sale of said mortgage, and the attorney fee of twenty-five dollars provided for in said mortgage, the said premises to be sold are described in said mortgage as follows:

All those certain places or parcels or lots situate in the township of Sharon, the county of Washtenaw, state of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit:

The section 14 of the township of Sharon, and section number 15, south of range number three, east of range number three.

Said sale will be made subject to the payment of a prior mortgage made by said mortgagee, and the balance of the money to be paid to the mortgagee, the sum of sixteen hundred and ninety-six dollars, and interest at six per cent per annum, from the date of this notice, to the date of the sale, and the balance of the money to be paid to the mortgagee, the sum of sixteen hundred and ninety-six dollars, and interest at six per cent per annum, from the date of this notice, to the date of the sale.

Witness my hand and the seal of the court, this 29th day of April, 1898.

MATTHEW E. KELLER, Mortgagee.

G. W. Tress, Attorney for Mortgagee.

A LONG WALK.

The average person, who lives to be sixty years old and who is not a professional pedestrian, walks 112,000 miles in a lifetime. Most of the way they wear shoes. Whether this long walk is taken in the comfort it should be depends on where he gets his shoes.

We make it a business of selling the right kind of shoes at the right kind of prices. We have shoes for every shoe purpose. They are stylish, wearable and low priced. For your long walk it will take less shoes if you buy them of us, because each pair lasts longer—especially if they are stamped "Pinegrove & Smith." "Composite" or "Holmes Shoes."

HAT BEAUTY

Is largely a case of hat fitness. A pretty hat for one woman is an ugly hat for another. We study the effect of a hat on your face, on your general appearance, and make our suggestions accordingly. Many times hats of our design made especially for our customers are more becoming, and therefore more stylish looking, than our finest pattern hats. What we sell must be right. Miss Lizzie Derek of Detroit, a first class trimmer, is in our employ and will assist you with many suggestions.

A clever swindle has been working in this way. A genteel young man called at a furniture store, said the was contemplating matrimony, and bought an outfit of furniture amounting to $200, for which he gave a check. He said he would call for the goods when he got ready to have them delivered. In the meantime the check was presented at the bank on which it was drawn and declared worthless, the man being unknown and having no funds on deposit. The furniture was of course paid, and when the young man called he was told what had occurred. Simulating great wrath, he said: "Give me that check, I'll cash it for you." The merchant forgetting that he had endorsed the check, turned it over to him, and in a few minutes the stranger had obtained the money at a hotel and left the town.

Rev. H. W. Hicks appeared in this city last night as the third lecturer in the course at the Ames M. E. church. The subject of his lecture was "Character" and he handled it in a most entertaining manner. His lecture was replete with timely suggestions and careful hints for the betterment of those who might adopt his ideas. It was freely illustrated with incidents and experiences related in pleasing and entertaining manner. Plenty of valuable truth was given the listeners and the lecturer's effort was much appreciated. —Saginaw Evening News, December 18, 1897. Rev. H. W. Hicks will deliver the above lecture at M. E. church, Wednesday evening, April 13, and it will be the first of a series of lectures given for the benefit of the Epworth League. Season tickets 50 cents; single admission 15 cents.

Easter Sunday, the glorious Feast of the Resurrection, is marked each year by special services and music in all Catholic churches. St. Mary's church, as usual, will be no exception, and on Easter morn the subdued spirit of the penitential season will give way to feelings of joy and from the holy temple will go up the glad cry "Christ is risen." At the high mass at 10:30 a. m. the choir will sing Leonard's beautiful mass. At the offertory the grand Easter anthem, "Regnum Caeli," by Gloriosa will be rendered. Louis, Burg will sing for the first time a new and exquisite Easter song, "Christ, the Lord, is risen." In the evening at 7:30 o'clock Gregorian vespers will be chanted with Mozart's Magnificat, and "O Salutaris" by Gloriosa and "Tantum Ergo" by Rossi. The altars will be beautifully decorated with choice flowers. The collection at all the services will be in Easter offering to the pastor by the congregation.

Discovered by a Woman.
Another great discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery, by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose, that she slept all night; and with two bottles, has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Little. Thus writes W. C. Hammick & Co. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Silmon's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

HOW LILIES ARE GROWN

Farmers of Bermuda Have Reduced Their Culture to a Science.

Up in the Atlantic ocean, 580 miles east of the North Carolina coast, 300 tiny islands, called the Bermudas, and from them come 90 per cent of the Easter lilies used in this country. Some of these islands are so small and so close that no one lives there, for when the weather is turbulent the ocean has a habit of washing elephants over them. More than 300 of the islands are subject to visitations of this kind, or, worse, they would be inhabited and the lily crop would be a thousand-times larger.

"It was dark and I looked round to find mother and the baby. They were sitting on a box in the hallway. Mother cried when I told her as to how you had taken the things all to me."

The next day mother and me took the baby and walked around to find a place to stay in the night where we could look after the baby, for he was sick and freezing," mother said. "So she put her own shawl around it, and all day long I carried the basket full of bread, and we was glad we had that but by night-time we was still without a place to sleep again, so we slipped into a shed where we found nothin' in it. Mother kissed little brother many times like us to keep him warm with kisses; but I guess it was no good kissing him that. When I wanted in the morning to wake mother kind of easy like I tried to wake the baby, but I seed he was both asleep, and not a little boy like me, and I was 'tired 'em."

"I was both asleep, and she could not speak, but took the child by the hand and led him along the way to her father's house, and there she could speak again, she said. And where are you now, Freddie?"

"I am with some kind folks—the ones who lived in the little house that the shawl belonged to. They took care of mother ocean, 680 miles due east of the North Carolina coast, are 303 tiny islands. They are the Bermudas, and from them comes 90 per cent of the Easter lilies used in this country. Some of these islands are so small that a lone that no one lives on them, for when the weather is turbulent the ocean has a habit of washing clean over them. More than 300 of the islands are subject to visitations of this kind, otherwise they would be inhabited and the lily crop would be a thousand times larger than it now is.

In all of the 303 islands there are but 12,000 acres of land, not as much as in a fair-sized Texas cattle ranch, and of this only 4,000 acres are under cultivation. Onions, potatoes and lilies are grown, and that is about all. New York gets 90 per cent of these three crops for distribution through the country, and the best paying of the three is the lily crop.

Now many lilies are grown in the Bermudas, it is difficult to know how many. The figures run away into the tens of millions. They grow like weeds, and it is scarcely a matter of producing lilies. The Bermudas could easily flood the world with them from one year's end to the other. But the Bermuda lily farmers hank after their crop with only one purpose in view, and that is to make the beautiful plant bloom at Easter time. This, at first, was a difficult matter, but now it is accomplished with almost clock-like precision.

Aside from this there is little trouble in the work of growing lilies. The outer portion of each bulb consists of scales, overlying one upon the other. These scales represent leaves, and at the base of each of them is a bud. Each bud represents a plant. The Bermuda farmer saves a few of his bulbs each year for seed, as the Northern farmer saves potatoes for the same purpose. He pulls off the scales and plants them in September, in shallow boxes of moist sand. From the bulbs spring delicate rootlets, which quickly extend through the sand seeking for moisture. As soon as the roots are sufficiently formed the embryo plants are set out.

By the following summer little bulblets are developed. These the farmer calls his stock. It takes about sixty thousand of them to plant an acre. They keep on growing through all the mild weather, and in the following June are ready to be dug. An acre of land ought to produce forty thousand marketable bulbs, with a diameter of from four to seven inches. It takes four years and sometimes longer to produce the great bulbs from nine to fourteen inches in diameter, from which spring the cut stocks crowned with many blossoms.

An Ungratulant Philosopher

"I suppose," said the man whose hobby is economy, "that as people advance in years they increase in wisdom, but have my doubts."

"I'm sure that I have more practical views of life than I had some years ago," replied his wife.

"I won't dispute it. But the unalterable fact remains that a 7-year-old girl will be perfectly happy on Easter with a few hard-boiled eggs, which are inexpensive and good to eat, while a 27-year-old girl can exist without a high-priced man, whose only function is to make some woman a jealous in church or some man miserable in the theater."

Red Tape of Court Life

An English paper says that the other day, when Queen Victoria was seated in her drawing-room, with several of her household in attendance, the lamp placed close beside her began to smoke. "To the horror and astonishment of the company," the Queen promptly ordered the lamp to be turned down. "Your Majesty," said the lady-in-waiting, in a shocked tone, "why did you trouble yourself to do that yourself?" "The cause," said the Queen, "I had called out 'This lamp is smoking!' one of your ladies would have said to the eunuchs, 'The lamp is smoking!' and the eunuchs would have called out to the nearest servant. Here the Queen's lamp is smoking, and that servant would have called to a footman to attend to it, and all the time the lamp would have been smoking, so I preferred to turn it down myself."

AN AFFLICTED MOTHER.

From the Times, Paw Paw, Md.
A resident of this town who has lost two children during the past six years by violent deaths has been utterly prostrated by the shock, and seriously sick as a result of it. One child (aged 9) was killed by a cyclone in 1900 while at school; another, three years later, was run over by a Burlington R. R. train. That grief and misfortune may so prey on the mind as to lead to serious physical disorders has been well demonstrated in this case. As a result of them, her health was shattered and she has been a constant sufferer since 1900. Her principal trouble has been neurasthenia of the stomach, which was very painful and exhibited all the symptoms of ordinary neurasthenia, nervousness and indigestion. Physicians did her no good whatever. She was discouraged and abandoned all hope of getting well. Finally, however, certain well-known pills were recommended (Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People). She supplied herself with a quantity of them, and had not taken them two weeks when she noticed a marked improvement in her condition. She continued taking the pills and soon or eight boxes had been consumed and she considered herself entirely cured. She can now eat all kinds of food, which is something she has not been able to do for years, and is no longer in the least with nervousness. "If any one would like to hear more of the details of her suffering and relief gained by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People they may be obtained, probably, by writing the lady direct. She is one of our well-known residents, Mrs. Ellen A. Oederick, Paw Paw, Md."

Want He Said

"The late Sir Frank Lockwood was wont to relate with great relish an incident that happened while he was yet young as a lawyer. A barrister was conducting the prosecution of a man for stealing a teacup, and in the midst of his address to the jury a telegram was placed in his hand. Instantly the hapless recipient, who had taken a five-minute chance in the bar 'sweep,' exclaimed joyously: 'Calphurn's won, and I've won!'

This lordship, taken aback by this extraordinary proceeding, demanded to know the meaning of it. The barrister apologized for his conduct, and craved forgiveness. "It is most improper," said his lordship, "and I trust it may never occur again!"

The case was then about to be resumed, when the judge, dryly intervening, said: "Oh, by the way, Mr. X., did the telegram say what was third?"

The House spent Saturday in consideration of the naval appropriation bill. A strong effort was made during the day to dispose of the bill, but it failed. Another effort to have the government uniform the naval militia also failed. The main content of the day was over a proposition to increase the number of timber dry docks authorized by the bill from four to three. It led Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, who made the motion, to discuss the whole question of war preparations and to inveigh against undue extravagance. He was voted down—78 to 107. An amendment was adopted to permit the Secretary of the Navy to use any property of the government in connection with the repair of the damage to the Yangtze.

A message from President McKinley, outlining the findings of the Maine board of inquiry, was sent to the House on Monday. After being read it was promptly referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs. Mr. Walker of Massachusetts announced the death of his colleague, Mr. Stimpson, and moved that the House adjourn out of respect to his memory. This was done, and Speaker Reed appointed four members of the Foreign Relations Committee, to which the Maine report had been referred, to attend the funeral. In the Senate the President's message and the report of the board of inquiry were both read, after which the Senate adjourned.

After passing a bill to pension the widow of Gen. John L. Stevenson at the rate of $30 per month the House devoted the whole day Tuesday to the consideration of the bill to pay certain claims for stores and supplies furnished the Union by loyal citizens of the South during the war. There was a bitter contest over a claim of $277,000 preferred by the heirs of the widow of Gen. Robert B. Lee. She inherited the claim from Mrs. Fitzhugh, her aunt, and it was admitted, was loyal. The claim was finally stripped out, but the House recessed before the bill was passed. It provides for the payment of about $50 claims aggregating about $1,200,000. At an evening session session bills were passed. In the Senate, after the reading of the President's message, a speech by Senator Mason, twenty-four private pension bills were passed. Then Mr. Tillman presented resolutions concerning the death of the late Joseph A. Baker, Senator from South Carolina. Resolutions were delivered by Mr. McLean, Mr. Chandler, Mr. Clay, Mr. Spooner, Mr. Chilton, Mr. Cannon, Mr. Kenney, Mr. McPherson and Mr. Tillman.

A wild and uproarious scene occurred in the House on Wednesday when Mr. Bailey, the Democratic leader, attempted to force the hand of the Republicans on a proposition to override the Speaker and pass a resolution regarding the independence of the Cuban republic. Mr. Bailey presented the resolution as a privileged question. He was ruled out of order by the speaker. An appeal from the decision of the chair was laid on the table. The House then went into committee of the whole and resumed consideration of the naval appropriation bill. The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations has agreed to delay action on all Cuban questions now in its possession until after the President has had opportunity to conclude pending negotiations.

The House on Thursday listened to speeches on the Cuban question. The three speeches which stirred the assembly to the depths were made by Mr. (Governor of Ohio, who, it was assumed, spoke for the administration, and who practically placed it to the queue of free Cuba. Mr. Bailey of Texas, the Democratic leader, who announced the Democratic position as for free Cuba, without any if it could be avoided, but with war if necessary, and Mr. Johnson of Indiana, who spoke for peace, declaring that it was not duty to go to the extreme in magnanimity in order to avoid the horrors of war. In the Senate Mr. Frye of Maine, who reported from the Committee on Foreign Relations a resolution calling upon the President for the Cuban consular reports, requested that the resolution be on the table until such time as the committee desired to call it up. Mr. Chandler of New Hampshire objected to the making of any such statement as suggested. Mr. Frye moved that the resolution be re-submitted to the Foreign Relations Committee. After a somewhat heated discussion the motion was passed.

News of Minor Note

Orin W. Heretons, aged 25 years and married, was killed by falling into a mine shaft near Clippie Creek, Colo.

Judge Campbell of San Francisco has decided that a cat is not a domestic animal and cannot, therefore, be claimed as the property of any one.

William Johnson of Claremore, I. T., shot and killed United States Marshal A. J. and was himself killed by Deputy Hickey, while resisting arrest.

Capt. Sobral, Spain's late naval attaché at Cardiff, estimated the coal yield remaining in the South Wales coal fields at 31,000,000,000 tons, at the present rate of 34,000,000 tons annually, to last 920 years.

What Do the Children Drink? Don't give them tea or coffee. Try the new food-drink GRAIN-O. It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more GRAIN-O you give the children, the more health you distribute through their systems. GRAIN-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grade of coffee, but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 10c and 25c.

OVERWORKED WOMEN

Letters to Mrs. Pinkham From Women Who Have Been Helped From Sickness or Health.

The ordinary every-day life of most of our women is a countless treadmill of work. How much harder the daily tasks become when some derangement of the female organs makes every movement painful and keeps the nervous system unstrung.

The following letter from Mrs. WALTER S. BANTA, Sperrill, N. Y., tells the story of many women, and shows them how to get relief:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot thank you enough for all Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. When I wrote to you I had suffered for years with falling, inflammation and ulceration of the womb; my back ached, and I was so much distressed I could scarcely walk. I was a burden to myself and did not care whether I lived or died."

"I have taken five bottles of your medicine and it has done wonders for me as all my friends can testify. I can now do my own work, and do not know how to express my gratitude to you for the good your medicine and advice have done me. I owe my life to Mrs. Pinkham."

Mrs. Pinkham's counsel offered free to all women who need advice about their health. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Mrs. P. H. HURCHCOTT, Kelleton, Iowa, tells here in her own words how Mrs. Pinkham helped her:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was in a very bad condition before I wrote to you and began the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did not know what to do. I suffered terribly every month, when on my feet would have such a bearing-down feeling, was very weak, womb was swollen, back ached, appetite was very poor, also had trouble with my head. I have taken several bottles of your compound and cannot say enough in its favor. It helped more than all the doctors."
