KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS RITUAL.

It Was Planned in a Little Old School House in Upper Michigan.

Mayor Miles S. Curtis, of Battle Creek, who is grand keeper of records and seals of the Michigan grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, has just received a souvenir that he highly prizes. It is a photograph of the old school house in Eagle Harbor, upper peninsula, where J. H. Rathbun, the founder of the order, while teaching school, conceived the scheme of writing a ritual of an order founded upon the story of Damon and Pythias.

Rathbun was born in Oneida county, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1839. In 1857 he went to the Lake Superior country and taught in Eagle Harbor, Eagle River and Central Mine. While teaching at Eagle Harbor school house he read the story of Damon and Pythias, and although he had never belonged to any secret society, and knew nothing of their workings, he planned the ritual of the Knights of Pythias.

Australian Oysters.

The Australian mollusk is of two kinds—the mud oyster and the rock oyster. The former grows to a larger size, but the rock oyster is more generally esteemed for flavor. Their names indicate their place of growth. The rock oysters love the beds and adjoining rocks of tidal streams. They grow in clusters, in a variety of shapes and sizes, and each cluster is attached to something solid. Here they are alternately bathed in salt water and in fresh or brackish. They are also left for hours high and dry until the incoming tide refreshes them. Nor do these oysters always select rocks on which to dwell.

These accommodating mollusks may frequently be found adhering to the roots and lower branches of the mangrove and other trees which delight in a sort of submarine residence. It is doubtless to this peculiarity that the sailor referred when he wrote to his mother at home, telling the old lady, and not untruly, that in Australia oysters grow on trees.—Chambers' Journal.

Rule Out Irish Bulls.

One of the finest specimens of a real Irish bull was perpetrated by that clever and witty but blundering Irish knight, Sir R. Steele, when inviting an English nobleman to visit him. "If, sir," said he, "you ever come within a mile of my home, I hope you will stay there."

A rich bull is recorded of an alderman at cards who, on inspecting the pool, found it deficient. "Here's a shilling short," said he. "Who put it in?"

At the time of the home rule difficulty and when the cause seemed to be languishing a meeting was held, and one of the speakers thus addressed the audience, "Friends, the cup of our trouble is running over, and it is not yet full."—London Telegraph.

A Fighting Diet.

In some remarks on vegetables as a fighting diet G. B. Shaw says: "Ninety-nine per cent of the world's fighting has been done on farinaceous food."

Compare the Tipperary peasant of the potato and buttermilk days with the modern gentleman who gorges himself with murdered oow. The Tipperary man never read bloody minded novels or cheered patriotic music hall tableaux, but he fought recklessly and wantonly. Your carnivorous gentleman is afraid of everything, including doctors, dogs, disease, death and truth telling."

Premature.

"You've kissed that young squirt
good night and let him go, haven't you, Stella?" said a weary voice at the top of the stairway.

There was an awful silence for a moment, and then in a timid, hesitating voice the young man in the darkened hall below responded:

"No, ma'am, but I—I think she's going to."—Chicago Tribune.

A Dangerous Secret.

By FLORENCE MARYATT.

CHAPTER XXII.

Delia makes her first entry into the cottage which have been allotted to her care with some degree of elation. It is not everybody who can get on with the poor. It requires more than a desire to do them good to be able to effect it. Delia possesses the essentials of a very sweet voice and affable manner that makes her appear even more interested than she is when discussing matters that do not concern herself. She will not carry tracts nor Bibles nor any of the formula of parish visiting in her hand. But she takes one or two illustrated papers from Mrs. Hephzibah's drawer, and a few roses out of the cottage garden. She will not enter the house without knocking, but stands on the threshold until she has received permission to enter.

The old people and the children stare at her at first with the unthought breeding of the lower orders, but although she is so untrained to their society, she makes them feel at home with her at once. Her secret is a simple one. She treats them as though they belonged to her own rank of life, and takes no liberty with them that she would be assumed to do with ladies and gentlemen.

So that even on that first day she receives many a cordial invitation to return soon, and has engaged herself to read the news, once a week, to such of her friends as may be able enough to assemble in one place to listen to her.

Mr. Le Mesurier laughs loudly when she reports her early efforts to establish a club in Cloverfield, and how it has set her thinking that if he can procure her a vacant room for the purpose, she might add to the pleasure by giving the old people tea or coffee, and permitting them to smoke while she reads to them.

"We shall have you setting up a 'free-and-easy' next, Mrs. Manners, and presiding at the piano and the bar yourself. What a dreadful mistake I have made by setting you, with all those loose continental notions in your head, to run riot among my innocent parishioners! Have you been able to make anything out of old Strother?"

"Not yet. He would not even look at me, far less speak. But I hope that may not last. Is he as surly with you?"

"Far worse! He has taken a hatred, or fear, of me. I cannot tell why, which has prevented my visiting him for a long time. I am afraid he is not a very amiable old person. I wish he had never come here."

"He is not a native of Cloverfield, then?"

"Oh, no. He is a Scotchman, the father of Mrs. Kennett, who died many years ago. His daughter undertook the charge of him when he became a widower. I consider the old man to be quite mad, and advised Kennett to place him in the county asylum, but it seems that he promised his wife upon her deathbed not to do so. So he will be saddled with his support as long as he lives, which must be very inconvenient, as he requires constant watching."

"His granddaughter, Patsy Kennett, complained bitterly to me the other day of the confinement it entailed on her."

"Poor Patsy! Yes, she is a fine girl," replies Mr. Le Mesurier, with a slight increase of color.

"She appears devoted to you."

"It is an funny, I assure you. She suffered terribly from neuralgia a short time since, and I was foolish enough to try if mesmerism would relieve her. The attempt was successful, but the natives do not understand the meaning nor the effect of such a cure, and I had great reason to regret having used it."

"In what way?"

"It attracted my patient too much toward me, and my motives and actions were altogether misinterpreted. That is one reason that I seldom cross Kennett's threshold now unless I am obliged to do so."

"You are a practical mesmerist, then?"

"Yes, yes. But pray don't speak of it. The subject is an unpleasant one to me, and I would rather not discuss it. Shall you see old Strother to-day?"

"I think I shall not find my way up to Kennett's farm to-day."

"Monday will be the day of the school feast, when I had hoped to have had your assistance in the field."

"If you will excuse me I would rather not be present. Mrs. Bond intends to be there, I know, with a sackful of toys and sugar plums; but I cannot play at children's games, and shall be more usefully employed elsewhere."

"In the matter of the school feast, she is determined not to be associated with him, because the affair itself is so thoroughly out of her line that her friends will of necessity think she has taken part in it with the simple intention of pleasing him. So she remains firm in her refusal; and on Monday afternoon, when the tent is pitched, and the flags are flying, and the village band is making most discordant music in the vicar's field, and the school children with their tin kettles hung round their necks, are marching two-and-two up the laureled drive, Delia is half a mile away, toiling along the lane that leads to Mr. Kennett's farm."

As she enters the long, narrow garden that fronts the house, she becomes aware of loud voices engaged in altercation and making themselves very audible through the open window.

"Now, then, Patsy!" exclaims Farmer Kennett, "off with all that fatal finery, and sit down to your work again, as I tell ye. Why, where wad ye be runnin' to at this time of the afternoon?"

"I'm going to the school feast, to be sure," replies the girl.

"Ay! I guessed as much. A follerin' the parson agin! A bleatin' aften'im like an unwashed lamb! Now, I tell ye, once for all, I won't have it! There's the old man's meals to be got, and he to be looked arter! and the parson may go to blazes before you shall neglect your pro-

"I suppose there's a box inside that wrapping?"

"Aiblins!"

"A box with clothes in it. Do you never take off the covers, Mr. Strother?"

"I no need to tak' them off."

"Do you never want to look at your treasures, then?"

"I dinna ken what you're speakin' about."

"Do you ever look at the things you've got in that parcel—well, the books, or whatever they may be?"

CHAPTER XXIV.

Simon Strother springs up from his perch like a jack-in-the-box, and comes down again upon the packet, glaring at his visitor.

"The buiks! the buiks! what do ye ken about the buiks? I was main careful of them. The fire burned the kirk, but it couldna harm the buiks, because the puir auld chiel carried them safe to his hame. He lo'd the buiks better than his bairns, and the awfu' fire daurna burn them! Hoot! see the lightnin', and listen to the peals of thoonder! The puir lassie 'ull be skeered wi' the flashes and the rain. Dinna gret, my puir, wee thing! Dootless but there's haird times before ye, but willna hae your wits burned out like puir auld Simon, wha saw the whole edifice come to the ground. But he saved the buiks—the gude auld buiks that had saiv'd the poverish for so many years. Ay! he was main careful of the buiks, and nae could thrave bleeme upon him because the buiks came to haim!"

"The books! the books! the kirk! Something like a gleam is dawning upon Delia's mind. It cannot be! It is altogether too unlikely—yet if it were!"

"Mr. Strother," she cries, "what was the name of the place where the kirk was burned down?"

"What? ye saw it dune, and ye canna remember the name of the place?" he returns, with a cunning leer.

"Was there a kirk married on that day in the church? Is it the storm at Chilton in Berwick you are speaking of? The lightning that burned Chilton Church to the ground twenty years ago?"

"Cheelton! Cheelton!" screams the old man, "wha daurna mention Cheelton, in Berwick to me? I ken naethin' of the town. I dinna ken if there is a kirk in Cheelton or no. I'm a Hielandman, I ken naethin' of the Berwick-land, and if any say I do, they lee. I tell ye they lee. Get out!" he continues, angrily, to Delia; "ye're a leear, I say—a leear! and naethin' in this parcel but a peer o' brooks. What would ye be lookin' at the aul' un's broek for? Get out, I say, and me to myself! I willna hae ye speering about my room in this shameless manner. And as for the parcel, it's my parcel, and ye shall nae hae my broeks; I'll see ye de fairst."

Delia, now fairly alarmed, rushes toward the door, and stumbles down the narrow staircase, where, to her infinite comfort, she encounters Patsy Kennett, who, much flushed and smiling, is mounting to relieve guard.

"O, Patsy! I am so thankful you have returned. Your grandfather has frightened me out of my senses."

"Has he, now? It's just like him! The old knave can't keep a civil tongue in his head for ten minutes together."

"I want to ask you a few questions. How long is it since your grandfather left Scotland?"

"A matter of five year or more, ma'am."

"Is he mad, Patsy?"

"Bless ye, yes, ma'am! as mad as a March hare."

"But what drove him out of his senses, Patsy?"

"'Twas a big fire, ma'am, and he was terribly burnt in it. You can see the scars on his breast and shoulders now. You see, grandfather he was parish clerk at a place called Chilton."

"Not Chilton in Berwick, Patsy?"

"Yes, ma'am! that's the place."

"Gracious heavens! is it possible? But Mr. Strother denied just now that he'd ever been there."

"Ah! that's his cunning! He won't bear the least talking to on the subject. But there was an awfu' fire there that burned down the church and the parsonage, and no one ever knew how it happened; but grandfather lost his situation, and took it so to heart that he's never been right in his head since."

The Largest Bible.

In 1857 Mindon-min, King of Burma, erected a monument near Mandalay, called the Kutho-daw. Then he built 700 temples, in each of which there is a slab of white marble. Upon these 700 slabs is engraved the whole of the Buddhist Bible, a vast literature in itself, equal to about six copies of the Holy Scriptures.

This marble Bible is engraved in the Pali language, thought to be that spoken by Buddha himself 500 B. C. Photographs of some of the inscriptions have reached England, and Professor Max Müller, perhaps the greatest linguist in the world, has examined them. But, alas for all this human ingenuity and perseverance! If his majesty, Mindon-min, thought to perpetuate the teachings of the Great Buddha by causing it to be graven on the rock, he nourished a vain ambition.

The climate of Burma is moist, and its effects have already wrought havoc on the surface of the white marble, and the photographs show a partial effacement of some of the Burmese characters in which the Pali text is engraved.

This is certainly the largest known copy of any portion of literature. Even the National Encyclopedia of China, in 5,000 volumes, occupies a comparatively small space. To reach the other end of the limits of the printers' and engravers' art we need only remember the "Smallest Bible in the World," and the diamond editions of Catullus, Tibullus and Propertius.

To engrave the Bible of Buddha on the marble slabs in the temples of Kutho-daw must have cost many thousands of dollars, but these sermons in stone are easily outclassed by a copy of the New Testament, which, beautifully printed, can be bought for 25 cents; and if carefully cherished will last many generations. Boston Traveller.

The greatest pilgrimage to the holy land are undertaken by the Russians. It has been calculated that between 30,000 and 40,000 Russians visit Palestine every year.

MOUNT VESUVIUS, WHICH HAS AGAIN BECOME ACTIVE.

DEATH IN ITS FLAMES.

Eruption of Vesuvius Threatens Destruction of Naples.

Vesuvius, the greatest volcano in the world, is again in eruption, belching forth great masses of fire and molten lava, which threaten destruction to the city of Naples. Nine new craters have formed within the past week around the central crater. The smoke, in a brownish yellow cloud, overhangs the mountain like a great pall. The lava torrent is half a mile in width and divides into three principal streams, each seventy to eighty yards wide. These as they pour down the mountain side subdivide into numerous smaller streams, carrying death to everything living, and advancing at the rate of forty yards an hour.

Lava in a volume of a thousand tons a minute pours out of the volcano. It has filled the Vetrana valley, a deep ravine. The ashes lie several inches deep for a long distance down the sides of the mountain and in the adjacent villages. At night the volcano is splendidly awful. The crater belches forth a flame, which rends the pall of smoke, reaches to the heavens, and at times takes on the colors of the rainbow. The lights are reflected in the broad waters of the Bay of Naples, the loveliest in the world.

Tremblings of the earth and subterranean explosions precede the outpourings of lava, and the wells on the mountain sides are beginning to dry up. A great stream of lava threatens to overwhelm the observatory built on that part of the volcano known as Monte Contarini. This observatory is on a hill 2,200 feet above the sea level. This observatory was established for the purpose of giving warning of all eruptions to those living on the mountain.

Vesuvius is eight miles from Naples, whose bay it overlooks, at the eastern extremity of a chain extending to the island of Ischia. It is believed that the whole gulf of Naples was once an immense crater, the northern end of a great rent in the earth's crust, Aetna being the southern end and Stromboli about the middle. At its base Vesuvius is thirty miles in circumference. Its height varies after its eruptions, but the average is about 4,000 feet. Its great crater is some 2,000 feet in diameter and about 500 feet deep.

WILL CHRISTEN THE WISCONSIN

Honor Is Given Miss Elizabeth Stephenson of Marinette.

Miss Elizabeth Stephenson, who has been selected to christen the battleship Wisconsin at San Francisco Nov. 26, is one of the fairest daughters of the Badger State. She is the child of ex-Congressman Isaac Stephenson of Marinette, and is just 21 years old. The Wisconsin sponsor was born in Marinette and was educated at Milwaukee, Dover College and LaSalle College, near Boston. She was graduated from the latter institution with high honors. Miss Stephenson is a magnificent specimen of young womanhood. She is almost six feet tall, and slender. She has dark eyes and a bright, attractive face. Her father is quite wealthy, and he will take his daughter across the continent with a large party of Wisconsin people in fine style.

HARD LUCK OF KLONDIKERS.

Out of a Party of Twenty-Six Only One Succeeded in Finding Dawson.

Out of a party of twenty-six men that left San Francisco early in the year to go to Dawson via the Stikine trail, Herman Loug of Seattle, Wash., is the only one that pushed through. Two of the number were drowned, two are insane and the others are far into the interior, regaining their health at trading points. In the swift Cheshley river, in the north rivers, seven of their boats were dashed to pieces on the rocks and the outfits were lost. In two of the wrecks Dr. Black and a man named Morgan, both from California, were drowned. Long says that many of the men went temporarily insane after their provisions began to give out, as several attempts at suicide were made.

Woodford Will Remain at Home.

Following the custom in the case of a minister who has been obliged to leave his post by the breaking out of hostilities, Stewart L. Woodford has filed his resignation as minister to Spain. It is believed that it will be six months before the United States has occasion to send another minister to Madrid.

By unanimous vote the First Congregational Church of Columbus, Ohio, authorized the pastor, Dr. Washington Gladden, to send congratulations to the Emperor of Russia upon his peace policy.

FRENCHMEN NOT FAVORABLE.

The General Atmosphere of Paris Does Not Incline Toward America.

While the reception accorded to the United States peace commission at Paris is all that could be desired, and while the French foreign office has taken great pains to treat the American and Spanish commissioners in precisely the same manner, it must be admitted that the general atmosphere of Paris, especially the diplomatic atmosphere, does not incline towards America. It is the general impression that the American commissioners have instructions to provide for the retention of Manila and the Island of Luzon, "and for a commission to pretend to negotiate is a farce," said a prominent diplomat. He continued: "America will put herself, diplomatically, in the wrong when she exceeds the provisions of the protocol, which both nations signed. I know the Spaniards have come prepared to make concessions; but, if the Americans' instructions are of an uncompromising nature, which is generally believed to be the case, you can rest assured that the work of the commission will be futile. The Spaniards will retire and America will at least have to threaten a resumption of hostilities before she will gain her point." The French newspapers, beyond announcing the arrival of the commissioners, make no comment upon the matter.

CUBANS THREATEN HOSTILITY.

Would Fight Americans Unless Their Independence Is Granted.

Reports from Guines, province of Havana, say that no farmer or landholder or tenant has turned his hand to the sowing of crops in that vicinity, and the district, therefore, will have no potatoes, tobacco, cane, cabbage, or other vegetables this year. This will further impoverish the district, and add to the distress. From now until February it will be impossible for farmers to sow crops and in February the ground will be prepared for spring harvest. Therefore the next six months will see a great deal of want and misfortune in that vicinity. This state of affairs is directly due to the unsettled condition of the country and the attitude of a certain portion of the Cubans who openly threaten hostility to the United States and are preparing to take the field and wage a guerrilla warfare against the Americans if any form of government short of absolute independence for the Cubans is established in the island. This matter is openly discussed in the public meeting places of the Cubans at Havana, the plan finding many advocates among certain classes of people.

NOT AS A STATE.

Hawaii to Come Into the United States as a Territory.

Hawaii is to come into the United States as a territory, with all the Government machinery of an embryonic state, according to plans reached by the commission which has returned from its visit to the islands. In a dispatch box, which is carefully guarded by a sergeant-at-arms, lies the draft of a bill for the government of the new territory. It was carefully considered by the entire commission, section by section, and while it has not passed to final approval, it contains all the salient features which will be found in the report which the commission makes to Congress at the opening of the session in December. The American members of the commission arrived in San Francisco by the steamer Gaelic, after nearly two months' absence, and started for the East. They will meet again in Washington Nov. 14, when they will be joined by the Hawaiian members, who are expected to come to this country about the first of next month.

KILLED AN AMERICAN.

Spanish Troops Mistook American Soldiers for Outlaws.

Word has reached San Juan, Porto Rico, that a Porto Rican residing at Aguadilla, near Mayaguez, asked the protection of both American and Spanish troops against depredations by outlaws, which it was predicted would occur. In response to his request, the American authorities sent to his residence two soldiers of a Kentucky regiment, who arrived there Sunday evening after dark. The resident had not notified the Spaniards that he had requested American protection and some Spanish soldiers who had been sent to guard his house, arriving after the Americans, mistook the latter for outlaws. In the confusion resulting the Spaniards fired, unfortunately killing one of the Americans.

Holding Wheat for Higher Prices.

Flouring mills all over Kansas are shutting down because they cannot get wheat to grind. It is estimated by grain men that nearly 100 flouring mills in the State have been forced to close for this reason. It is declared that the farmers of Kansas have combined to hold their wheat for better prices. More than 70,000,000 bushels of wheat is being held.

In the United States Court at Muskegon, I. T. Judge Thomas has rendered his opinion, in which he holds that the act of Congress giving the United States courts in the Indian Territory jurisdiction over all crimes committed in the territory, irrespective of the citizenship of the parties, and which went into effect on Jan. 1, 1898, is constitutional. This affirms the validity of the Curtis law, and renders Indians subject to trial and punishment by United States Indian Territory courts.

France is in a greatly excited condition over the Dreyfus case.

PEACE AT A HIGH PRICE.

It Will Cost More than $250,000 to Negotiate a Treaty.

It cost less than $150,000 to destroy the fleets of Cervera and Montejó. It will cost more than $250,000 to make a treaty of peace. The peace commissioners, secretaries and attaches at Paris will not lack pocket money. They will have everything to adequately maintain their official position, and even the messengers are to be given liberal allowances for their personal expenses. Funds to the amount of $250,000, it is understood, have been deposited to the credit of Judge Day in one of the Paris banks.

Despite the fact that to some extent at least the peace commissioners will be the guests of the French Government, it is expected that it will cost the United States a quarter of a million of dollars to negotiate the treaty of peace with Spain. The French Government has placed the celebrated Salon des Ambassadeurs at the disposal of the commission as a place in which to hold their meetings. This courtesy has relieved the commission of one item of expense. Despite this, however, it is said that the expenses of the commissioners and their staff will amount to something over $1,000 a day.

From a reliable source it is learned that a daily allowance has been made to the various members of the commission as follows:

To each of the commissioners, $150 a day; to Secretary Moore, $75; to Assistant Secretary MacArthur, $50; to Disputing Officer Brannigan and Chief Translator Rodriguez, $25; to each of the nine interpreters, attaches, stenographers, etc., $10, and to the two messengers, $5 per day, making a total of $1,025 per day, or for the ninety days that they are expected to be away, a grand total of $92,250. This is for the personal expenses alone of the various members, and does not include any salaries.

Because most of the members of the commission are already in the Government service, they will get no additional salaries for their work with the peace commission. Thus Commissioners Davis, Frye and Gray, who are drawing salaries as United States Senators, will not receive any additional compensation beyond the payment of their daily expenses. The same is true of all the minor attaches, each of whom is employed in one of the departments in Washington, and whose regular salaries are continued during their absence on this mission. The only men attached to the commission who will receive salaries for their services are Judge Day, the president of the commission; Whitehead Reid and Mr. Moore, who resigned his place as assistant Secretary of State to accompany the commission as its secretary and counselor. It is expected that Commissioners Day and Reid will be given a fee of $25,000 each for their work on the commission, and that Secretary Moore, upon whom much of the work of preparing the documents in the American case has devolved, will receive a fee of $20,000.

The American Government is paying the expense of the ladies who are members of the party, and it is calculated that the item of transportation alone for the thirty-five persons in the party by sea and rail will amount to at least $25,000. The special expenses of the commission in Paris for entertainments, etc., will probably be not less than $15,000 or $20,000.

FIRES IN THE FORESTS.

Lumber Districts of the North Are Threatened with Destruction.

Rain has come to the rescue of the timber districts and lumber towns in Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota, and the forest fires that threatened great destruction to cities and forests have been partially quenched. Reports received at St. Paul indicate that the worst is over, but precautions will not be relaxed. It is impossible to estimate the loss. Telegraphic communication with some of the stricken towns is still interrupted. Clayton, Clear Lake, Alameda and Poskin were almost wiped out, but many of the residents managed to save a goodly portion of their household goods. Latest reports from Barron said that place was still in danger, but it is probable that the greatest danger is passed.

The loss to standing pine in Chippewa County, Wisconsin, is enormous. Glenwood, Wis., passed the danger point, but a twelve hours' fight with the flames was necessary to avert entire destruction. Cedar Lake Dam suffered severely, many buildings being burned out and the place. Among the heaviest losers at Cedar Lake Dam are Knapp, Stout & Co., whose large lumber barns and other buildings were burned. Rice Lake, Wis., narrowly escaped being wiped out, sixteen farm houses on the outskirts being destroyed. Hundreds are homeless, and thousands of feet of hardwood lumber are lost. The fate of many settlers in the forests can only be conjectured. Fire departments in the big cities have been appealed to for assistance, and are ready to go if they are needed. Some estimates of the loss are $3,000,000. Many lives are supposed to have been lost in the forest fires around Lake Superior. The fires cover most of the northwestern part of the State, and the loss to woodlands is greater than money could replace. Counties most affected are Rount, Rio Blanco, Grand Lormer, Garfield, Eagle, Pitkin and Summit.

CANADA IS FOR PROHIBITION.

Majority in Favor of the "Dry" Policy Will Be About 10,000.

Canada has voted for prohibition, and when the returns are all in it is likely a majority of about 10,000 will be found in favor of the total prohibition of the liquor traffic in the entire province. The cities voted strong for the dry, but were outvoted by the country districts. The French province of Quebec gave a majority of 35,000 against prohibition. Ontario cities gave majorities of 8,000 against prohibition, the headquarters of the prohibitionists, voted 4,000 majority against prohibition.

Mrs. C. S. Foster, living in Louisville, Ky., sent her little 4-year-old daughter to a neighboring drug store to purchase a pound of quinine. The little girl returned with a powder which resembled quinine, but was some in her coffee and died soon after. It is believed the clerk in the drug store gave the child poison by mistake.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?

And why give them a chance to guess you are even five or ten years more?

Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer. It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.

It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.

It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.

We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expect from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

Fruit and Flower Farms.

Small fruit and flower farms pay well in England; why should they not do so here? The manufacture of jam might be made as profitable in some of our country towns as it is in the English village of Histon, which formerly had no staple industry. The land all about was neglected, landlords were in despair, and even the farmers were gradually withdrawing to other parts of the country. It occurred to S. Chivers, a highly esteemed farmer, that it would be a good idea, instead of leaving the neighborhood, to start a fruit farm. He did so. This was twenty-five years ago, and though he then had only about five hundred acres of land, to-day he has over five thousand. His strawberry fields stretch away across the country. He has provided employment year after year for about six hundred hands to do nothing but pick strawberries, raspberries, plums and apples; and where there was distress, there is now a perfect hive of industry, and prosperity abounds in villages within a radius of ten miles of Histon. Directly the fruit is picked, it is carted off and turned into jam. Of course, the field hands are employed only in the fruit season, but in the winter about five hundred hands are employed in the very large factory he has erected in making marmalade and jellies. Floriculture also pays well in rural England. There is an increasing demand for flowers in the great centers of population, and this demand is met. Not only have new flower farms, and especially bulb farms, been established in various parts of the country, but flowers have encroached upon vegetables and even upon fruit in the old market gardens. Some flowers are on sale all the year round, and a considerable number of varieties during the greater portion of the year. The growing of the narcissus is perhaps the most important single division of the open air flower industry. Some six hundred varieties are now known, of which one hundred and twenty are worth cultivating. There are growers of roses under glass who cut blooms for market every week-day in the year; and lilies of the valley, now grown in seasons not natural to them from crowns retarded in refrigerated chambers, can also be obtained all the year round. The chrysanthemum is a general favorite, and the quantity produced in the autumn and winter is simply enormous.

A DOMESTIC INCIDENT

From the Observer, Flushing, Mich.

"Early in November, 1894," says Frank Long, who lives near Lennon, Mich., "on starting to get up from the dinner table, I was taken with a pain in my back. The pain increased and I was obliged to take to my bed. The physician who was summoned pronounced my case muscular rheumatism accompanied by lumbago. He gave me remedies and injected morphine into my arm to ease the pain.

"My disease gradually became worse, until I thought that death would be welcome release from my sufferings. Besides my regular physician I also consulted another, but he gave me no encouragement.

On Getting Up from the Table.

"I was finally induced through reading some accounts in the newspapers regarding the wonderful cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, to try them. I took the pills according to directions and soon began to notice an improvement in my condition. Before the first box was used I could get about the house, and after using five boxes was entirely cured.

"Since that time I have felt no return of the rheumatic pains. I am confident that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life and I try to induce my friends who are sick to try the same remedy. I will gladly answer inquiries concerning my sickness and wonderful cure, provided stamp is enclosed for reply.

PRIDE OF THE NAVY.

MAMMOTH BATTLESHIP ILLINOIS IS LAUNCHED.

Steel Monster Will Probably Be the Most Powerful Fighting Craft Afloat—Nucleus of the "New Navy"—Cost Will Exceed $3,000,000.

The mammoth United States battleship Illinois, one of the three latest additions to the navy and probably the most powerful fighting machine afloat, was launched at Newport News, Va., Tuesday under auspicious circumstances. As the steel monster trembled in its flight from earth to sea, Nannie Leiter broke a bottle of sparkling champagne upon the vessel's prow and pronounced the words that made it the godchild of the great Western commonwealth and caused 25,000 people assembled to send up a cheer that could be heard for miles. Gov. Tanner of Virginia, the newly floated ship rose proudly from its initial dip, and the launching was pronounced a success.

From many points of view the launching of the Illinois was the most important of the kind in the history of the country. The vessel is the largest fighting ship ever floated under the Stars and Stripes, is the costliest ever built by the navy, and experts believe it will be the most formidable warship ever put in commission by any power.

There was never such a crowd in Newport News at any previous ship launching. They came from everywhere, from the North and South, and especially from the West. Long before the hour of the launching throngs began to gather about the spot, and by 11 o'clock standing room was worth its area in nickels everywhere within a block of the Illinois. Enthusiastic cheers greeted the arrival of the distinguished guests. Few in the vast crowd could hear the words spoken by Miss Leiter, but nearly all were able to see her, and when she raised the bottle of wine in her hand and dashed it against the steel of the battleship, the action was a signal for their enthusiasm to break forth with full force.

There was a groaning from the timbers, the ground trembled as the thousands of tons of steel shot downward and the spray that was sent aloft arose higher than the platform on which stood the little woman who had named the new craft. Shrieking whistles and a volume of applause which swept over the vast throng like a tidal wave of sound greeted the ship as it gracefully floated out into the stream. Again and again tumultuous cheers rang out for the Illinois as the officious little tug-fused around and drew the marine champion back to the shipyard pier, where it will receive the finishing touches.

The Illinois, with the Kearsarge and Kentucky, now nearing completion at Newport News; the Alabama, being constructed at Philadelphia, and the Wisconsin, under construction at San Francisco, are to constitute the nucleus of the "new navy," which is to stand comparison with the best in size and fighting qualities. She is a trifle less than 373 feet over all, and her width is somewhat greater in proportion to her length than that of the other battleships. Ten thousand-horse power is to be developed by the engines which will be used to propel the big ship.

NEGROES DRIVEN OUT.

White Miners at Washington, Ind., Drive Out Blacks.

Dispatches from Washington, Ind., state that 150 miners from Pennsylvania arrived there and routed the negro miners, who were compelled to leave the city at the point of revolvers. One negro who refused to go was fired upon, and it is said was killed. Masks were worn by the miners, and the police of Washington were unable to arrest any of them, although a fire alarm was sent in and a number of citizens were sworn in as deputy sheriffs.

The strikers visited every house in the city occupied by the negroes, who were brought from Kentucky a year ago, and the blacks were lined up, and then commenced a march west on the Baltimore and Ohio southwestern tracks. Upon reaching White River, Winchester, they were pointed at the negroes and they were given orders never to return to Washington; that if they did they would meet with more severe treatment the next time. A crowd of armed strikers visited the Cabel Company mines with the intention of capturing the negroes who dwell in a shack near the mines, but the negroes had evidently been notified of their coming and made their escape. The strikers fired several shots into the air, and this led to the report that a battle was in progress.

A consignment of 200 guns and 100 revolvers has been received by the miners' organization and hidden away. The provost guard is still on duty patrolling the streets. Reports that 150 more Alabama negroes were on their way there caused more bad feeling among the miners, and many threats were made.

During a thunder shower the other day the water supply at the home of Gilbert R. Ives of Sandfield, Mass., was shut off by lightning. The water was conducted to the house and barn by a pipe from a spring sixty rods away. A large tree standing near the pipe was struck and splintered, and then the lightning, entering the ground, followed the pipe to the spring, blowing off the boards and stones covering it to a distance of fifty feet. At the same time a ball of fire entered the house, shocking slightly one of the inmates, but doing no further damage.

Porter Sues the Empress.

The German Empress recently lost her insignia of the Royal Order of Victoria and Albert, a valuable jewel surrounded with brilliants. A porter found the bauble and claimed the reward as provided by the laws of Prussia, which give the finder of an article one-tenth of the value of the property restored to its owner. The Empress offered him 100 marks, but he refused, and as the Empress would not pay a tenth of what the insignia was worth the porter has begun a legal action against the Empress' cabinet.

Ovaritis or inflammation of the ovaries may result from sudden stopping of the monthly flow, from inflammation of the womb, and many other causes. The slightest indication of trouble with the ovaries should claim your instant attention. It will not cure itself, and a hospital operation with all its terrors may easily result from neglect.

The fullest counsel on this subject can be secured without cost by writing to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and asking for her advice. Your letter will be confidential and seen by women only.

Mrs. CARRIE F. TREMPER, Lake, Ind., whose letter we print, is only one of many that have been cured of ovarian troubles by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was suffering from congestion of the ovaries, misplacement of the womb, irregular, scanty, and painful menstruation, also kidney trouble. I had let it go on until I could not sit up, and could not straighten my left leg. My physician gave me relief, but failed to cure me. Reading the testimonials of different women, telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for them, I decided to give it a trial. I had almost given up hopes, as I had suffered untold agony. The first dose helped me. And now, after using eight bottles of Vegetable Compound, one bottle of Blood Purifier, one box of Liver Pills, I am proud to say I am as well as I ever was. I might have saved a large doctor's bill and much suffering, had I tried your precious medicine in the beginning of my sickness. All in the village know I was not expected to live, when I had the first and second attacks. In fact, I had no hope until I began taking your Vegetable Compound. It has saved my life."

What Do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food drink called GRAIN-O? It is delicious and nourishing, and takes the place of coffee. The more GRAIN-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. GRAIN-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee; but costs about 1/4 as much. All grocers sell it. 15c. and 25c.

A gentleman from Manchester was in the city today and said: "Rev. Dan Shier, of our place, is somewhat of a Rough Rider himself. Now keep an eye on him and you will see that, if Pingree is elected (which he will be,) the Reverend Dan will be made chaplain of the state's prison at Jackson. Mr. Shier has done some good work for Pingree and Judson, and I have got it straight that he is slated for the Jackson job." Here's congratulations to Rough Rider Shier!—Evening Times.

Yesterday a young man who lived with his mother in Detroit, who was born in Michigan and who owns considerable property in the state, was astonished to find that he was expected to pay the University the extra fees required of alien students. The reason was that his father is a citizen of another state. Secretary Wade rules that the residence of a minor remains with the father except in the case of a legal separation by which the care of the child is awarded to the mother.—Evening Times.

A man who seemed able to speak every language under the sun except the English was run in by the police this morning for making a holy show of himself on the streets. His trousers were torn, ripped, rent asunder and in pieces so that there wasn't a large enough piece to cover a lawyer's conscience. He looked as if he had either monkeyed with a threshing machine or had demanded a retraction from the Ann Arbor Democrat. He was supplied with clothes that would conform to the law and discharged.—Evening Times.

George E. Bliss of this city, who is a baggage man on the Michigan Central running from Detroit to Chicago, acquired considerable notoriety in Chicago Saturday by his capture of William Baum who was wanted on the charge of attempted murder. The crime was committed August 27, and ever since then Baum has eluded the officers. Saturday they located him, and four detectives were sent out to him. At the approach of the officers, Baum ran and the detectives together with a policeman started in pursuit. Altogether eight shots were fired at him but all missed the mark. Baum jumped over into the Illinois Central tracks and would have escaped had it not been for Bliss, who grabbed a Winchester rifle from the cars, and ordered Baum to throw up his hands. Baum surrendered to Bliss who held him covered until the officers arrived.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Who shall say this is not an age of progress and woman coming to the front. One lady at least has demonstrated this fact and puts to blush many a man who would not have exercised half the resolution which she has. We refer to Mrs. L. Francis Ellis, of Salem. In the spring she bought a forty acre farm on contract and has worked on it herself, letting out on shares what she could not take care of, has improved it in many ways with her own hands and has now with one horse put in four acres of wheat, all alone, except that a man sowed the wheat for her. She would have preferred to have done that also if he would only have instructed her how. She meets her payments promptly, lives entirely alone, and one would never suppose when she drives into the city, well dressed, and with decidedly a ladylike appearance that she is a farm toiler. All honor to her.—Ann Arbor Argus.

For Sale—140 acre farm, four good buildings—1 1/2 mile from Chelsea. A bargain. Owner is going to sell. Ask B. Parker.

Saturday, October 8th, at the reunion of the Everett family at the old home in Chelsea the entire number—father, mother and seven children—were together for the first time since 1886. Twenty-four enjoyed the hospitality as well as the roast pig dinner. Exercises in the afternoon consisted of recitations by the little folks, music, "Home, Sweet Home," "Old Kentucky Home," etc.; fitting remarks by Mr. Jay Everett, an appropriate selection, "The difference between the old way and the new," by Mrs. Jay Everett; and Klondike experiences by Fred Everett. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Jay Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Everett, Mrs. Carrie Coe, Mrs. Helen Gay, Mrs. Irene Fenner, Miss Jessie Everett, Fred Everett, and thirteen grandchildren.

Today Hazen S. Pingree wields a greater power in Michigan than was ever before exercised by any man. If he uses it wisely it will be difficult to set a limit to his ambition. A seat in the United States senate, or even a higher place, may be within his grasp before the end of this decade. Hazen S. Pingree's course during the next few years will be watched with more than passing interest by the politicians of the nation, for Pingree's influence is no longer circumscribed by the boundaries of Michigan. The name of the Detroit shoe maker is known throughout the United States, and the success of the Pingree reform movements will give that name, and the reforms for which it stands, additional prestige and popularity.—Bay City Tribune.

SCHOOL NOTES.

A QUESTION OF PRICE.

Many people judge quality by price—and so measure all advertisements by this one rule. It's a mistake. You can't measure WEBSTER'S quality with the offerings of the ordinary Tailors. We seek the BEST and get it. Other Tailors are not so particular—this is why WEBSTER'S clothing always gives so much satisfaction in wearing, as well as in appearance.

J. GEO. WEBSTER,
THE LEADING TAILOR.

The Right Way to Buy a Jacket or Cape

Is first to find a reliable place to purchase it, a place you've got faith in, a place where you can get satisfaction or get your money back if you want it—that place is our store.

Now, as to the garment itself. You don't want a back number, but a stylish, up-to-date garment, made from stylish material. WE ALWAYS HAVE THE BEST FITTING GARMENTS. We are offering better values this season than ever before.

James R. Wicker and John C. Gentry, owners of a sawmill in the South Park, Colo., and Benjamin Wolf and Matt Dolph have been arrested on a bench warrant from the United States District Court charging them with the theft of 500,000 feet of timber from Government lands in the South Park. John L. Russell, Government timber inspector, caused the arrests to be made.

George W. Clarke, under sentence to be hanged at San Quentin, Cal., for the murder of his brother, has made a confession, in which he states he alone is responsible for his brother's death. Clarke was enamored of his brother's wife and thought that should his brother be put out of the way the woman would marry him, and he made the confession for the purpose of exonerating her of any complicity in the crime.

Coroner Doren has completed his inquest into the death of Emma Gill, whose dismembered body was found in the Yellow Mill Pond at Bridgeport, Conn., a few weeks ago, finding that she came to her death by felonious homicide at the hands of Nancy A. Guilford, assisted and abetted by Alfred O'Neil and Rose Drayton. The grand jury has indicted Nancy Guilford for murder in the second degree. This will facilitate her extradition from England.

The Canadian police are completing the establishment of a chain of police stations along the Upper Yukon, from Dawson on to Lake Bennett. The stations are now about thirty miles apart. Five men have been detailed for each post. Each station has supplies for two years and numerous dogs. The soldiers are to carry dispatches and facilitate the forwarding of mails, and are instructed to assist all travelers, of whom from 6,000 to 8,000 are expected to come out over the ice.

J. M. Edmondson, a prominent attorney of San Antonio, Texas, formerly of Dallas, has sued the Pullman Palace Car Company in the United States Circuit Court at El Paso, Texas, for $15,000 alleged damages. The plaintiff grounds for the suit are somewhat novel. He claimed that while journeying in a Pullman car from San Antonio to Denver he was drenched with rain water through a hole in the roof while asleep in his berth. From the effects of the wetting, he says, he contracted a severe cold, which resulted in consumption.

Fireman Thomas Duckwall of Chicago was killed in a wreck on the Northwestern Railroad a few miles south of Milwaukee. The passenger train which left Chicago at 10:30 p. m. ran into the rear end of a freight that had stopped a short distance south of Cudahy station. Several freight cars were derailed and the wreck at once took fire from the passenger engine, which was derailed. The mail car was destroyed, together with the caboose and one other car of the freight train. Duckwall was killed outright. Engineer Lane, who escaped unhurt, claims that he was not given the proper signals, but the Hall automatic device was found to be working all right and the freight train crew claims that the usual precautions adopted when a train stops on the main track were taken.

Fourteen business houses in the business district of Lowell, Ind., were destroyed by fire early the other morning. The blaze broke out in Dr. Bacon's barn, in the rear of Main street, and as the town has no fire protection the flames spread rapidly and laid a whole block in ashes. Among the buildings burned were Nichols' opera house, the postoffice, Waters' drug store, the Viant building, Hayward's studio, Gersham's tailoring establishment, Spindler's store, the Lowell Record printing house, Hacker's saloon, George Deane's hardware store, a millinery store and several others. The loss will probably reach $40,000, with little insurance.

At Joplin, Mo., an old murder mystery that has puzzled the police for months has been solved by the confession of the murderer. The man, who abandoned mining shafts in Joplin and Galena have enabled murderers to quickly dispose of their victims by dropping them down into the shafts. Last February an old miner known as "Lengthy Bill" Smith suddenly disappeared. A few days later his body was found in an old shaft with indications of foul play, but the murder remained a mystery until a dispatch from La Grande, Ore., stated that a man named Weed had confessed to murdering Bill Smith at Joplin last spring. Weed will be brought to Joplin for trial.

The fortunate expeditions are those headed by Lieutenant Spurr and Captain McCombie. All other parties are safe, but will have to winter in the interior.

It is stated on good authority that a deal has been concluded by the Delaware Indians for the purchase of 550,000 acres of land in Mexico, and that as soon as they secure a settlement with the United States and the Cherokees they will remove there. It is thought that many of the full-blood Cherokees will accompany them. The tract purchased is on the Yazin river, State of Sonora, and is said to be fine land.

John Stanley, Mayor of Skagway, Alaska, who is now in San Francisco purchasing apparatus for a fire department, says: "The Pacific and Arctic Railroad, now being built from Skagway to Solikrik, is well under way. Rails have been laid to White Pass, and up to that point the road is in full working order. Over thirty-five tons of freight is daily shipped over this spur. Seven hundred men are working on the road. Last month the pay roll was $129,000. From White Pass to Lake Bennett, a distance of thirty miles, freight is transferred by sledges. Laborers on the road receive 35 cents an hour."

R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say: "Failures in September have been about $2,875,000, and for the quarter about $2,875,000. The returns indicate a smaller aggregate of failures than in any other month in many years, except in August of this year, and smaller for the quarter than in any other quarter since 1892. In fact, excepting one quarter in that year, no other appears to have shown a smaller aggregate unless, more than ten years ago, when the volume of solvent business was very much smaller than it is now. Evidently the complete picture in that respect more satisfactory than it has ever been, unless in one quarter of 1892."

BEAR ISLAND BATTLE.

Minnesota Indians Begin Attack by Firing Volleys from Ambush.

Leech Lake District Is the Scene of the Worst Conflict with Redskins in Recent Years—Soldiers Returned from Cuba Among Those Reported Massacred—General Slaughter of White Residents Feared—Secretary of War Orders Re-enforcements and Artillery to the Scene.

Word received in Duluth, Minn., Tuesday night from Brainerd was to the effect that the entire force of soldiers sent to Bear Lake Island under command of Gen. Bacon had been wiped out of existence. There were 100 men in the force of regulars, most of them veterans of the battle of Santiago. A Minneapolis report denied that the troops had been wiped out, but said the Indians got the best of it. Another report said that there were fifty dead Indians within a mile of the landing.

A special from Walker, Minn., says: Major Wilkinson, six privates and one Indian policeman are dead. Major Wilkinson was shot and killed while walking up and down admonishing the men to keep their heads low. Thirty Indians are dead. It is feared that the Indians will attack the settlers on and around the reservation. If a general uprising takes place 3,000 fighting braves will be in the field. The message to Brainerd came with a request to wire Washington for 5,000 troops.

A St. Paul, Minn., dispatch reported disbelieved there that a general massacre of troops had taken place at Bear Island, although the situation was acknowledged to be one of extreme gravity.

Secretary Bliss received a telegram in Washington from Inspector Tinker announcing a fight with the Bear Lake Indians. It did not say how many were killed. Marshal O'Connor wired Attorney General Griggs that a general Indian uprising was imminent. On receipt of these advices Secretary Alger ordered re-enforcements sent to the scene at once on a special train, and with a Gatling gun if needed.

Fight Lasted Three Hours.

The battle which took place at Bear Island was between a detachment of the Third United States Infantry and 250 Pillager Indians. The combat lasted three hours. The first shot came from Bog-Ah-Me-Gosh's house, while the troops were drinking coffee at noon. The ball broke the arm of Ed Harris, ex-marshal of Walker, a half-breed. The firing became general, the Indians shooting from ambush.

Three of Gen. Bacon's men dropped dead. At the first shot the line of blue coats vanished as the men sought protection by dropping on the ground. "Steady, men," shouted Gen. Bacon, who stood straight up by the side of Major Wilkinson, looking straight into the fire from the red men. At the second volley from the bushes the cracking of the Krag-Jorgensen rifles rattled out and six braves fell in their tracks. The Indians had fired twenty-five shots before the troops returned the fire. The reds could not withstand the deadly fire of the troops and were routed.

CAUSE OF THE OUTBREAK.

Marshal Attempts to Arrest Chief of the Pillager Tribe.

The present trouble with the Bear Lake or Pillager Indians started eight months ago when Deputy United States Marshal Warren of White Earth tried to arrest Chief Bush and nine other Indians of Bear Island, but they resisted authority. Some were charged with the illicit sale of whiskey and others were wanted as witnesses. All but the chief gave themselves up and were sentenced to 30 and 60 days. Chief Bush kept out of reach, however, until two weeks ago, when he came to be paid his annuity. When he was being taken from the Indian reservation jail to a boat for transmission to Duluth a large band attacked the deputy and his posse and Chief Bush escaped.

Sept. 30 twenty men from the Third Infantry under Lieut. Humphrey Walker, Minn., went to assist the marshal in recapturing Chief Bush and to take those who assisted the old chief to escape. The Indians kept away from the reservation and made ugly threats as to what they would do if any of their members were taken prisoners. It appeared evident that a trip by the twenty troops to Bear Island would result in their meeting with overwhelming defeat. Re-enforcements were ordered from Washington to assist in making the desired arrests. The full seriousness of the situation was then made known.

News of Minor Note.

Maroons in Jamaica are seizing valuable property owned by Englishmen.

There is an agitation in Japan in favor of the State purchase and operation of all railroads in that country.

Special Treasury Agent Murry, in charge of the seal islands, reports a general decrease of the seal herd.

Owing to ruinous competition with Southern cotton mills, New England manufacturers contemplate substituting machinery for the production of silk fabrics exclusively.

SOUTH ATLANTIC CYCLONE

Repetition of the Great Hurricane and Tidal Wave of 1893.

Reports of the damage caused by the hurricane and floods which swept the Atlantic coast Sunday say the property damage will reach into the millions, while the loss of life cannot be estimated, although it is known to be great. It was the worst flood since the sea islands were swept over, covering an area of seventy miles. It is now estimated that 1,000 houses and stores have been swept away. It is feared that the city of Darien has been swept out of existence. Darien was a city of about 7,000 inhabitants, being situated on one of the smaller islands. The land is low and marshy, being utilized exclusively for rice growing. It is the stopping place for all boats running between Savannah and Brunswick, but has no telegraphic communication. It was in the direct line of the flood, and is thought to be completely inundated.

Reports brought to Macon, Ga., by the Southern Pacific train state that the damage done by the flood is enormous, and that hundreds of lives were lost, being swept into the ocean, beyond any chance of even being saved. Whole families perished, their homes being entirely submerged in water, and the inhabitants being unaccounted for.

In Jacksonville, Fla., the rainfall during twenty-four hours was 3.57 inches, and was sufficient to swell the St. John's river to such an extent that many houses within seventy-five feet from shore were flooded. The camps presented a deplorable picture. Tents were flat on the ground, while every man within camp radius was wet through and through. The third division hospital was blown down and the sick were drenched.

The loss caused by the flood at Fernandina, Fla., is estimated at $500,000. As yet only three people are reported dead, but a further search will undoubtedly swell the list. Almost every dock on the water front has been washed away, with all that was piled on them.

Advices from different parts in South Carolina shows that the rice crops have been injured from 35 to 50 per cent by the floods. Breaks in the banks occurred on the Pot-Pou, Ashpoo and Combahee rivers, and these sections have suffered severely.

THE GAMBLER'S CAPPER.
"Many of the phases of life in the Tenderloin are kaleidoscopic in their changes," said a hotel detective, "but there is one little group of men in this precinct that is much the same now that it was a dozen years ago. I mean the outside men of the gambling houses. They are well known to all sporting men, and I could name four or five who have done little else all their lives. It is their business to know the regular patrons of faro banks, and if the man who employs them has been forced to close up his old place and open a new one it is their duty to circulate the tip."

"A good outside man spends his time around hotels and in all night restaurants and picks up acquaintances wherever he can. After working up to the subject of gambling he invites his new friend to go around to a little place that is run honestly and safely. One of the best dressed loungers on Broadway, whose face has long been familiar to paraders on that street, is a puller in for a gambling house. He was a bar-keeper a few years ago and there made a lot of acquaintances who are his stock in trade. He spends money as freely as a wine agent, and I have no doubt that he brings many thousands of dollars to the man who runs the gambling house."

A HARD RAILROAD TO BEAT.

One Man In Double Distilled Ill Luck Found It So.

The Southern Pacific is about the worst road in the wide, wide world to fool in the matter of transportation. The Southern Pacific has such a plain monopoly of California business that it is not necessary for it to look for favors, so it closes down very tight. Even the tickets which the scalpers succeed in getting are so hedged about with precautions that it is like taking a civil service examination to beat one of them.

The favorite is a long slip which is designed to be punched to fit the description of the purchaser, so that by no means can it be used by another than the rightful owner. When one of these tickets appears in a scalper's stock, it looks like a porous plaster, being punctured for the color of the eyes, the hair, stature, weight, complexion and other details of the physical make up.

Once Jim Crawford of Laramie found himself stuck in San Francisco with $4 and a fearful hunger for home. But $4 was as nothing to the fare back over the desert. While he was worrying his soul with regrets he came upon a neatly folded slip of paper which had been lost, doubtless by some hurried tourist. It was one of those pieces of organette music representing a ride back to Ogden.

Jim read it over, printed matter, punches and all, and rushed for a drug store. He bought dyes for his hair, a stain for his complexion, got a pair of blue goggles and ran a concealing bandage over his chin. A barber took off his mustache, and for a dollar a cheap oculist made his eyes blue, so that the goggles were re-enforced with corroboration. It took all his money but 40 cents. Then he climbed aboard the train.

He had reached Port Costa when the conductor came around and gave one hurried look at the ticket.

"This thing expired a month ago," he said tersely.

The telegraph poles were pendulous with blue and brimstone for two weeks after Crawford had finished his walk back to Oakland.—Chicago Record.

"NO BOXES SOLD HERE."

A Sign Displayed In Shops Which Guard

Carefully Their Reputations.

"No Boxes Sold Here" is the sign that hangs in one of the principal jewelry establishments in the city. The sign made its appearance after the shopping of one Christmas season. But there is no time of the year in which the demand for boxes is quite discontinued, and the sign serves its purpose always.

The demand for boxes was prompted by the amiable desire to deceive some friend or relative into the belief that the article presented to him came from the best establishment in the city. Similar attempts are made at the well known glass and china shops, at one of the well known French confectioners and at all of the establishments which have made a reputation in some particular field.

Nearly all of these answer such applications with the words of the sign, "No Boxes Sold Here," but there are some few which sell them as regularly as they do other objects of merchandise and are quite indifferent to what becomes of them so long as they get their rather high prices for the empty boxes bearing the name of the firm. Similar indifference is shown by a well known English pickle factory, which allows its labels to be sold here and pasted over any sort of stuff that the purchaser of them happens to concoct.—New York Sun.

The Nose Lasts Longest.

Bone and cartilage enter so largely into the structure of the nose and determine its characteristics that it undergoes little perceptible change, as a rule, with the lapse of years. The brow becomes wrinkled, and crows' feet gather round the eyes; which themselves gradually grow dim as time rolls on. Cheeks lose the bloom, which cosmetics cannot replace and lips their fullness and color.

The chin, dimpled in youth, develops angularities or globularities, as the case may be, and the eyebrows become heavy with the crop of many years' growth. The nose shows no mark comparable to these familiar facial indications of the approach of old age and practically enjoys immunity from the ravages which time makes on the other features of the face. Next to the nose, probably the ears, as a rule, show the fewest and least obvious signs of old age.

A Curious Sight.

In Japan the traveler sees many curious sights. One of the strangest of which is the population washing itself at the corners of streets toward evening. In Yeddo the citizens frequent large bathing establishments. The street doors of such resorts stand open, and a striking spectacle, to say the least, is presented by the inmates sitting washing themselves with the utmost unconcern. This is a general custom, and nothing whatever is thought of it. Such an apparent want of modesty is difficult to comprehend and is not reconcilable with the advanced state of civilization of the Japanese. In many other of the manners and customs do the Japs offer a striking antagonism to those accepted by us.

Watching Plants Grow.

Procure a little collomia seed. Take one of the seeds, and with a razor cut off a very thin slice, place it on a slide, cover with a glass and place under the microscope. The instrument must be in a vertical position. When it is well focused and lighted, moisten it with a drop of water. The seed will absorb the moisture and throw out a very large number of spiral fibers, giving the appearance of veritable germination. Beginners will find it easier if one applies the moisture while the other looks through the instrument.—Microscopical Journal.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D. "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in finally terminated in consumption. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed or price refunded.

STANDARD OFFICE*THE GREAT FOUR-C REMEDY FOR LA GRIPPE.

For Sale by R. S. Armstrong &amp; Co.

What if Not Miracles?

The great Four-C Remedy is doing work wherever introduced as nearly miraculously as it ever falls to the lot of any human agency to do (I will esteem it a favor for any one interested to write the persons whose names appear below or anyone whose name may appear among these testimonials.)

My aim is to convince the public of my sincerity and of the true merits of this remedy.

BENEFACTORS OF THE RACE.

Office of "KINGFISHER TIMES," 111

Kingfisher, (Ila., Dec. 12, '98.)

GENTLEMEN:—I believe it my duty to write you a line in regard to the beneficial effect of Phelps' "Four-C Remedy," so far as I am personally concerned. A week ago last Thursday, I was taken with a severe attack of la grippe and in a short time became so hoarse I could not speak above a whisper. The night previous I had coughed nearly the entire night; just before retiring I took a teaspoonful, and slept the entire night as sweetly as ever I did in my life, not coughing once. I was entirely relieved before taking one bottle. Phelps' Cough, Cold and Croup Cure should be in every household in the land. I send you this wholly unqualified by anyone, for we are benefactors of the race in giving it the antidote for some of the worst afflictions to which it is heir.

Very Truly Yours,

C. J. NESBITT, Editor.

UNBROKEN REST AT NIGHT.

J. B. HILLING, Manager,

Office Commercial Printing Co.,

196 South Clark St.

Chicago, Nov. 24, W.

R. B. Phelps, Esq., City.

DEAR SIR:—I wish to bear testimony to the great efficacy of your "Four-C" remedy in all cases of la grippe, colds, coughs, and croup. As a rule I have been up and about in a few days, and have been able to do my work. I have been very much convinced that at least one ready-made remedy is worthy of use. My children all take it with out the least objection, from oldest to youngest, and it is particularly noticeable that benefit is almost immediate. A single dose will check the most violent cough, and give a good night's rest at night. In my family "Four-C" is simply indispensable and I recommend it as qualifiedly,

Yours,

J. B. HILLING.

ACUTE LARYNGITIS.

Chicago, Sept. 25, '98.

For years back each winter I have suffered with acute laryngitis. Last winter was no exception. I could not leave my room for two weeks of speech above a whisper. I tried every known cough preparation from cough drops up and down with no relief, then in desperation I was induced to try Phelps' "Four-C." The first dose relieved my cough, giving me the first night's rest I had for weeks. Half the bottle cured me. I have never been without this wonderful remedy since. It is as different from other like remedies as molasses from vinegar or sugar from sand.

Miss JOSEPH E. CRUTE,

5313 Madison Ave.

IT IS A MIRACLE.

Conductor Eckard, the Railroad Correspondent of the Neodesha Kansas Register, has written to say of "Four-C," "Phelps' Cough and Cold Remedy, personally know it is just what it is represented to be. Too much cannot be said in its praise. It is a miracle."
