Jacob F. Schuh, who has been nominated for County Clerk on the Democratic ticket, well merits a triumphant re-election. He has made an excellent clerk. The business of the office has been thoroughly and correctly done, and the files and books of the office have been kept up-to-date. It is a good plan to reward faithful, honest and efficient service with re-election. It is an object lesson to office holders that the best way to continue in the public service is to serve the people faithfully. The office of County Clerk was never in better or more capable hands than now. Captain Schuh has been a most economical clerk, cutting down the county expenditures wherever possible, and the contingent expenses of the clerk's office have never been smaller than under Capt. Schuh. This fact alone should entitle him to the votes of careful taxpayers. He has always shown himself a true friend to the laboring man, and treats all who visit his office with consideration and respect. His life has been spent in our midst, and he has always been known as a public spirited citizen. The people have an opportunity to reward a good and faithful public servant.—Argus.

In some parts of the State the buildings on fair grounds, which had no fairs in late years, are being torn down and the ground put to some other use. Will Chelsea have to do likewise with their fair grounds?

Some newspapers are raising the price per copy and per year, while others are cutting down. Papers that reduced prices during the panic times have hard work to get them up again even if the price of white paper is going up.

We are still having fine mid-autumn weather, with wind, rains and frosts occasionally. The out-door work in the onion and potato patches is getting near the end for this season, and by the first of next month the garden truck and fruit crop will be over for this year.

Every day in the year the papers could post people to beware of the "fakirs" who come along at regular intervals, and yet there would be many to doubt the assertions of the editor. The sign was all right lately at the fairs, for the "fakirs" caught the "suckers" right and left. They worked the old envelope game, and a large number of farmers and others paid from 50 cents to $3 for a little box of saw-dust or an empty envelope. Now as the fairs are nearly over they may make Chelsea a visit, to play their little games. Don't bite, boys.

Sportsmen should take the best of care of their shot-guns. If a gun has been out in a storm the first thing to do after cleaning the bores should be to wipe every part as dry as possible, including the action and mechanism of the lock, if they are wet,—they should not be allowed to get wet if possible to prevent it,—then, before being put together, all parts should be thoroughly dried and carefully oiled. A gun, like its owner, will stand lots of hard knocks in the field if properly groomed after the day's work is finished.

Federal office-holders will not be slow in taking the hint conveyed by Perry Heath, First Assistant Postmaster General, when he said, in a published interview: "There is absolutely nothing in the civil service laws that forbids a postmaster, or any other government official, from participating in conventions, making political speeches, or exercising any of the rights that belong to him as a private individual. For my own part, I have never been able to see why the mere fact that a man holds an office should make it impossible for him to exercise his privileges as an American citizen or to identify himself with the party to which he owes allegiance."

Washtenaw Co. Teachers' Association

The teachers of Washtenaw county will meet at Manchester, on Saturday, Oct. 22, 1898. The programme is as follows:

Teaching Patriotism—Julius Schmid.

PATRONS' MEETING AND ROUND TABLE DISCUSSIONS.

Cheerful School-rooms—(a) Importance; (b) How to secure them; (c) What has been done in this direction? (d) Does it pay?

The Mother and the School—Mrs. Emma Campbell, Augusta.

This programme is a departure from last year's work, and has for its object not only the improvement of the teachers but the forming of better acquaintance, and therefore a closer sympathy between teachers and patrons.

If it is impossible to place a copy of this programme in the hands of all who are interested, it is hoped, however, that a general attendance will take place.

Music will be prepared under the direction of the Manchester Public Schools.

In talking about the monument to be erected in memory of Lafayette, the teacher of the 2nd grade spoke about Pingree. A scholar raised his hand and said he knew Pingree, that he went out in the country with him and that he caught rats. He meant Tom Mack's bull dog.

Obituary.

We publish the following by request, from the Chicago Black Diamond of July 9th, 1898:

Michael J. Fleming, who was recently stricken with paralysis while on the street in Chicago, died July 3, 1898, in this city, aged 51 years. The funeral services were held at the Church of the Redeemer, on Washington avenue and Fifty-sixth street, the rector, the Rev. Percival McIntire, officiating. The music was furnished by the Imperial Quartette. The interment was at Oakwoods. The hallbearers were Messrs. Birkland, DeLand, Brackebush, Van Inwegen, Hostler and Elliott. The designs in flowers were in elegant taste—crosses, wreaths, etc. The late Mr. Fleming was one of the oldest and best-known traveling men, making Chicago his headquarters. In the year 1875 he entered the employ of A. C. Brackebush, Chicago, as traveling salesman, covering the territory embraced by Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Nebraska, which position he retained for several years, during which time he cultivated a large acquaintance among the country trade. Subsequently he took a similar position with L. A. Barnard & Co., from whom he went into the employ of the Crescent Coal and Mining Co., and latterly, for the past four years prior to his death, he acted as salesman with the late firm of Robert Law up to the death of that pioneer of the coal trade. His genial good fellowship won him a host of friends in the trade, which has been manifested both in word and deed by all to whom his sudden disease became known. Surviving him are a wife and daughter. He was a Mason of high degree, being a Knight Templar and a Shriner. Among the friends and others who attended the funeral were the following from Chicago and the outside coal trade: Alexander Robertson, Highland Park, Ill.; Wm. G. Weigle, J. Frank Herral, Aurora, Ill.; A. D. Leonhardt, Evanston; and Messrs. Clark, DeLand, Barnard, Hostler, Birkland, R. B. Hammond, Howes, Ellicott, VanInwegen and Captain Lucas, editor of The Black Diamond.

BECOME WANDERERS.

Springfield, Ill., Rids Herself of the Imported Negroes.

Loaded on a Train and Shipped to St. Louis, Where They Are Stranded—Gov. Tanner Explains His Attitude Fully.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—While over 2,000 miners were lined up in the street near the Church of the Immaculate Conception ready to follow the remains of their deceased companion, Edward Welsh, who was killed in the riot at Virden Wednesday, to the cemetery, the imported negroes from Alabama were quietly smuggled out of the city and sent to St. Louis. Chief of Police Castles had decided the best time to get the negroes out of the city was while the miners were in procession waiting for the funeral of Welsh to be over. Therefore, about three o'clock Friday afternoon the 106 negroes were hustled out of Allen's hall, and, guarded by a platoon of police and company E, of Macomb, Sons of Veterans and troop B, First Illinois cavalry, Bloomington, they were hurried to the Central Union railway station, only four blocks distant, and placed in a coach which was in waiting and then taken to the Bluff line yards, where they were put on a special train and taken to St. Louis, leaving Springfield at 3:20 o'clock. A subscription was taken up among the business men and the money hurriedly raised to get the negroes out of town.

Reinforcements Sent to Pana.

Capt. Harris, of company G, Sons of Veterans, telephoned Adj. Gen. Reece from Pana that it was believed the negroes who were prevented from landing at Virden Thursday evening would be brought to Pana to reinforce the negroes there. He was ordered to guard all the coal mines and railway approaches and prevent any negroes from landing and to call on citizens to assist him if necessary. As company G is the only command of military at Pana, company F, Third infantry, Macomb, and troop B, First cavalry, of Bloomington, with a Gatling gun, were sent to Pana on a special train on the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern at 3:45 p. m. to reinforce him.

Stranded in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Oct. 15.—Fifty-seven negroes who came from Alabama to work in the mines at Virden, Ill., are stranded in this city. They arrived here Friday night over the Chicago & Alton road from Springfield, Ill., and as they have no transportation beyond St. Louis the men are unable to get out of the city. For the night the unfortunate men who were not allowed to stop at Virden were cared for in the emigrants' waiting-room. To-day they will have to vacate, and they will have no place to go. On the same train with the colored miners were six wounded guards, who were injured in the battle with the striking miners at Virden. They are St. Louis men. Station Agent Cokley said that the negroes were turned over to him by the conductor with the statement that transportation for them had been furnished only as far as St. Louis.

More Excitement at Virden.

Virden, Ill., Oct. 15.—A new quiver of excitement swept over this town hourly throughout the afternoon and from two o'clock till nightfall rumor followed rumor and not even the best informed had any definite idea as to what would develop during the night. The first rumor started was that another train load of negroes would be taken through here from Springfield during the afternoon. The station platform and the half mile of railroad between the station and stockade was cleared of citizens and thereafter kept cleared by the soldiers. At 4:00 o'clock a special train pulled in from the south and the usual excitement ensued. The train came on to the station, received orders and backed north and to the stockade, where the six wounded men from within were taken aboard. No interference was offered, although the miners thronged along the track back of the soldier line and the train proceeded southward. Word was received at 5:30 o'clock by Col. Young stating that a train load of negroes, heavily guarded, had left Springfield en route south. Another rumor circulated to the effect that the miners at Pana would make an effort during the night to drive the negroes from Pana. These rumors served to hold the excitement tense here; and the town is patrolled in all parts near the railroad and stockade by the blue coats.

More Troops Arrive.

The second detachment of Col. Young's cavalry, composed of 80 men, arrived Friday night. Regimental headquarters have been established at the opera house. It is connected by a direct telephone line with the stockade, and half-hour reports are received from the mine by Col. Young, who has settled down apparently for an indefinite stay. He has 500 men now under his command and considers that he is master of the situation. "The only thing that can bring about trouble," he said, "will be another attempt to bring the colored miners, and I have no idea this will be attempted. It would make no difference about the trouble whether we were here or not. If the troops should be removed and the miners landed the blacks the strikers would attack them, so it is as broad as it is long." Col. Young said he had heard nothing that would indicate that an attempt would be made to land the negroes at Pana. The town was perfectly quiet at midnight, with no one on the streets except the militia patrolling their beats.

Testimony at Stockade.

When the coroner's jury arrived at the stockade they were accompanied by Hon. J. W. Patton, of Springfield, Ill., who is Manager Lukins' attorney, and also by a representative of the legal department of the Chicago & Alton railroad, who is here looking after the interest of the railroad company. Several witnesses were examined before noon, when the jury took a recess until 1:30 p. m.

The afternoon session of the coroner's jury lasted several hours, taking the testimony of the wounded guards, 11 in number. In order to accomplish this a house-to-house canvass was necessary, as many of the special officers were confined to their bunks in the companies' houses. The statements of the wounded men who were on the train with the negroes developed nothing different from what was stated during the morning session of the jury, the majority claiming that the firing was commenced by the strikers. In some of the statements it was acknowledged that when the guards on the train learned that the miners were firing on them they returned the fire. They claimed they had strict orders from Capt. Schumacker under no circumstances to fire a shot except in defense of their lives. The men who testified denied that there were any shots fired by the guards on the train and said that not a man fired a shot until they saw their comrades dropping on all sides of them.

Tanner's Attitude.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—Gov. Tanner gave out a lengthy interview regarding the situation at Virden and his attitude on the importation of miners into the state. He said:

"Certain yellow journals industriously tried to have my position misunderstood by stating that I was opposed to the importation, as they put it, of 'niggers.' Certain newspaper reports have charged Gen. Reece and Capt. Craig, of the battery, of speaking disrespectfully of the imported 'niggers,' as they see fit to call them. This is absolutely untrue of Gen. Reece and Capt. Craig, as well as myself. My position has been from the beginning, and I am now more positive in that position, emphatically against the importation of labor into Illinois, not from the southern states alone, but from all other states, because such a pernicious system, as I have said before, necessarily brings to our state and dumps upon society an undesirable class of citizens, and I do not propose, if I can help it, that the state of Illinois shall be used as a dumping ground for the criminal and idle classes of other countries or other states. If one, two or three, or even larger numbers come to our state in the proper order, and in the ordinary way, seeking honest employment, and the mine owners see fit to employ them, I will give them all the protection necessary to peacefully operate their mines."

Coal Company an Outlaw.

Gov. Tanner further said that the Chicago-Virden company has been an intentional outlaw; has sent an agent to Alabama and by false pretenses induced negroes to come here, loading them on the trains like cattle, locking the doors of the cars, feeding them like stock, and procuring the services of armed guards from a detective agency, and invading the state in an illegal manner, as no governor of another state would do without the consent of the governor whose state was to be entered. Gov. Tanner says if he had been apprised of the coming of the train he should have had it met at the state line with the national guard and disarmed and made prisoners of every man bearing arms. He charges the owners of the Chicago-Virden mine with firing on the miners first, and with being law breakers and criminally responsible for the bloodshed of Wednesday, and their detectives and guards as guilty of murder and should be, and he believes will be, indicted by the Macoupin county grand jury for murder.

Exceeded His Authority.

Referring to the action of Capt. Craig in searching the train which bore the negro miners back to Virden Friday evening, the governor said that Capt. Craig had exceeded his authority, and that he had instructed Col. Young, now commanding at Virden, not to interfere with the operation of the trains nor to invade them, but to only prevent the unloading of imported laborers, which unloading would at once bring about trouble.

The governor continued: "As I said in the beginning, it is not my purpose, nor has it been from the first, to discriminate against the negro. The negro has the same rights under our laws and constitution as all other classes and nationalities. What I am opposed to is the pernicious system of importing labor. Perhaps in placing an embargo on imported labor I am a little in advance of statutory enactment. However, sometimes in the interest of society, it becomes necessary to enforce a law in advance of its statutory enactment."

"Many good people, perhaps, think that I should have sent troops to Virden before this difficulty occurred. Had I done so I would have been using the state as an agent to further the interests of the mine owners, as the moment the troops had been landed they would have dispersed the idle miners, and of course the avaricious mine owners could have landed their imported labor without difficulty, thus accomplishing their end."

Troops Must Not Board Trains.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—William Brown, of Jacksonville, general counsel of the Chicago & Alton railroad, called on Gov. Tanner Friday evening and protested in the name of the railroad company against the state troops boarding the company's trains and searching them. The result of Mr. Brown's protest was that Gov. Tanner gave instructions to Col. Young, in command of the state troops at Virden, not to allow troops to board the Chicago & Alton trains and search them, but to prevent the unloading of negro miners there.

train Wednesday and reaching the inside of the stockade. In the face of this, it is asserted about town that none of the imported miners left the train when it passed through here. The members of company B are quartered in houses of the coal company inside the stockade and have been supplied with bedding by Manager Lukins. Notwithstanding the hard work and privations the Sons of Veterans had to contend with both at Pana and since their arrival here the general health of the company is good.

Not Allowed to Land.

A "wild" train composed of four passenger coaches, two box cars and a caboose whizzed through Virden late Thursday afternoon. The coaches were the same as were riddled in Wednesday's battle. The sides of the cars were scarred and the windows broken. Not a human being was to be seen on the train, and it was given out that the cars were to be taken to the repair shop in St. Louis. It was learned afterward, however, that the box car and the first two passenger coaches were filled with colored men. Those in the coaches were down between the seats. An attempt to disembark the men here was prevented by the militia, acting under Gov. Tanner's orders, and the train was run through to Girard. Superintendent Lukens later notified the authorities that the men would be brought back and that the company

BLOODY MINERS' BATTLE.

An Attempt to Place Imported Negro Laborers in the Mines Brings On the Conflict.

TRAIN IS ATTACKED BY ARMED MINERS.

Ten Men Are Killed and More Than Twice as Many Badly Wounded—Town Is Now Comparatively Quiet—How the Battle Commenced—Engineer of Train Is Wounded.

Virden, Ill., Oct. 13.—The little town of Virden is comparatively quiet after a day of riot and bloodshed, the long-expected clash occurring between the union miners and imported negroes. At 12:40 o'clock Wednesday afternoon a Chicago & Alton special train bearing 200 negro miners from the south arrived at the stockade around the Chicago-Virden Coal company's mines, and immediately a terrific fire began from the union miners. The list at midnight stands ten dead and 25 or more wounded. The victims outside of the stockade are as follows:

The Victims.

DEAD—Ed Welsh, Springfield; Frank Blyeu, Springfield; Albert Smith, Mount Olive; Joe Kitterly, Mount Olive; Ernest Keutner, Mount Olive; A. H. Breneman, Girard; D. H. Kelly, C. & A. detective; Tom Preston, Chicago; Ed Green, Mount Olive.

WOUNDED—Ansk Ankel, Mount Olive; Gustav Wewsep, Mount Olive; Ed Upton, Springfield; Thomas Jennings, Springfield; Joe Haines, Girard, shot in leg; Joe Runk, Girard, shot in arm; George Runk, Girard, shot in stomach; William Herman, Girard, shot in hand; Joe Baston, Mount Olive, shot in stomach; Joe Sprim, Mount Olive, shot in arm; Bart Tigar, engineer C. & A., shot in arm; J. F. Eyster, superintendent Climax Trading company, shot and beaten.

The dead miners were removed from the vicinity of the stockade to hotels and livery stables, and the wounded miners were taken on litters to the station and then to Springfield.

Victims in the Stockade.

A press representative secured admittance to the stockade late at night. The list of dead and wounded inside the stockade is as follows:

DEAD—A. W. Morgan, Chicago.

WOUNDED—H. Gritgesell, wounded in shoulder; O. J. Snyder, shot in face and leg; James Suckles, Chicago, shot in leg; Frank Wilder, Chicago, shot in arm; Thomas McEntee, Chicago, shot in leg; J. W. Moonan, St. Louis, slightly injured; P. J. Hanan, slightly injured; J. H. Smith, Chicago, slightly injured.

The Train Arrives.

For the past two weeks rumors have reached Virden daily that a train having negroes from Alabama would reach the city, and the C. & A. depot has been surrounded day and night by vigilant miners determinedly awaiting their arrival. Wednesday the C. & A. limited, due to pass here at ten o'clock, shot through en route to Chicago an hour late, displaying flags on the rear, indicating that a special was following. Immediately the word was spread and a dense crowd of miners lined the station platform, while another crowd collected at the entrance of the stockade, a half mile north of the station. D. B. Kiley, a C. & A. detective, stood guard at a switch at the south end of the station platform to see it was not tampered with. At 12:40 the special train passed the station and signal shots were fired from the south end of the train announcing the special's arrival.

The Battle Begins.

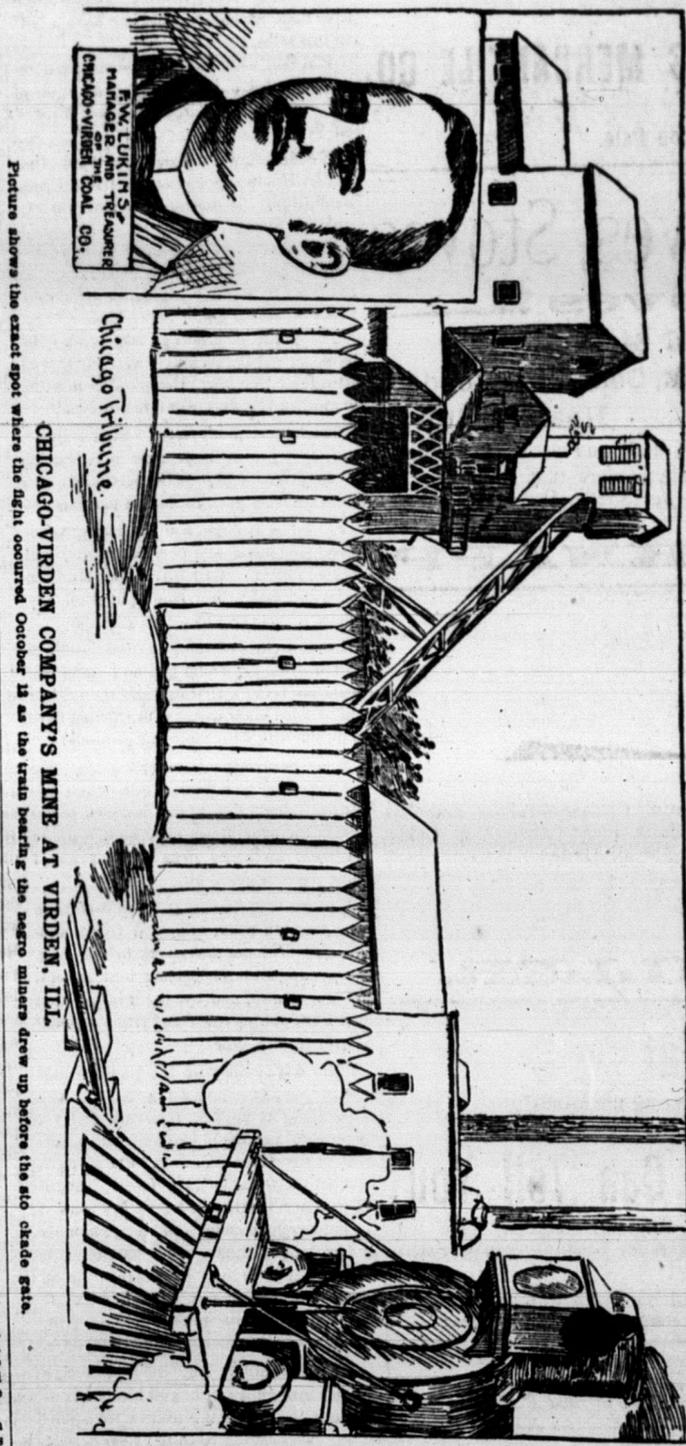

Immediately shots were fired from the moving train and outside, and the battle was on. A few moments after the train had passed the switch where Kiley was stationed, while he was talking with two citizens, he threw up his arms and dropped dead with a bullet through his brain. He was the first man killed. The train continued to the stockade, the miners firing into it all along the route and the negro passengers returning the fire. The moment the train reached the stockade the miners opened a desperate fire with Winchesters, revolvers and firearms of all descriptions. The negroes on the train answered with a steady fire, and the carnage of battle reigned. The miners and the train were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and the shooting sounded like a continuous volley. Engineer Burt Tigar received a bullet in the arm and dropped from his seat. His fireman seized the throttle, pulled it open and with a jerk the train was under speed, carrying a load of wounded negro passengers to Springfield.

Situation at the Stockade.

The stockade surrounds about 20 acres of ground in a square and is made of pine boards an inch thick, set on edge to edge, about 12 feet high. On each of the four sides, about midway, is a small watch tower containing a guard armed with a Winchester. There are three entrances, which are closely guarded by half a dozen armed sentries day and night. The fight occurred at the east entrance.

Given Comfortable Quarters.

New York, Oct. 13.—A hundred and sixty soldiers from the Obdam, which arrived Tuesday, were taken in charge by Miss Helen Gould's agent Wednesday and comfortably housed in "Camp Walworth," on East Fifteenth street. The men are members of the First Kentucky, Fourth Ohio, Third Wisconsin, Twelfth Wisconsin and First United States volunteer engineer corps.

Picture shows the exact spot where the fight occurred October 13 as the train bearing the negro miners drew up before the stockade gate.

began, Mount Olive; Russell Warren, Centralia.

Troops Arrive.

At 10:20 o'clock p. m., a special train arrived bearing troops A and C, dismounted cavalry, from Chicago and three companies of sons of veterans, known as the new Third from Rockford, Macomb, Oregon and DeKalb, under command of Col. E. C. Young. The train was sidetracked on the west side of the station and troop C, of the cavalry, was assigned to the opera house to cooperate with Capt. Craig. One company of the sons of veterans, under Capt. Stein, was sent to the stockade to reinforce the soldiers guarding the coal company's property. The other troop of cavalry and two companies of sons of veterans remained at the train. Col. Young stated that he had no definite orders other than to reinforce the soldiers already here. There were very few miners in the street when the troop train arrived and these few gave the arrival only passing interest.

Negroes in the Stockade.

Several negroes are now inside the stockade and it is understood that they were not here until after Wednesday's fight. From good information it was learned that six or seven of the negroes succeeded in escaping from the stockade and demanded the surrender of the arms of the guards, who have occupied that place for several weeks, the request was quickly complied with. At ten o'clock Capt. Craig, with a squad of 16 men and a wagon, marched to the stockade and took possession of the Winchesters which had previously been packed in boxes, and brought them to army headquarters. The company's mines are now patrolled by soldiers under Capt. Craig's command. There are about 40 of the infantry on picket duty inside the inclosure, and no one is allowed to approach within 20 feet of the high board fence which encircles the company's property.

Disarm the Guards.

When Adj. Gen. Reece went to the stockade and demanded the surrender of the arms of the guards, who have occupied that place for several weeks, the request was quickly complied with. At ten o'clock Capt. Craig, with a squad of 16 men and a wagon, marched to the stockade and took possession of the Winchesters which had previously been packed in boxes, and brought them to army headquarters. The company's mines are now patrolled by soldiers under Capt. Craig's command. There are about 40 of the infantry on picket duty inside the inclosure, and no one is allowed to approach within 20 feet of the high board fence which encircles the company's property.

PROFITS ARE SMALL.

This is the Cause of Considerable Complaint in Trade Circles—Review of Situation.

New York, Oct. 15.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: "With actual payments through clearing houses 19.2 per cent, larger than in the same week of 1892, it cannot be said that business is in any sense falling off, and yet many are complaining because the amount realized as profit is smaller than was formerly realized in good times. In almost every branch of business trade is now transacted on a narrower margin of profit than in any other time of fair prosperity. There is a great change, and perhaps a permanent one, in the percentage of profits derivable from trade and manufacture as well as in the profits obtainable by transporters. Progressive civilization calls for a lower range of profits and of prices as the volume of business transacted increases in order to make possible improvement in the condition of the working millions.

"Wheat business is more active, with prices about two cents higher for spot and nearly three cents for the December options. Very heavy purchases have been made within the past few days, not as yet reflected in the official record of shipments, but the exports from both coasts, four included, have been 4,101,770 bushels, against 4,886,015 for the same week last year. It is especially interesting that in spite of the general disposition of farmers to hold back their wheat, the western receipts have been for the week much larger than last year. While little attention is now paid to the official reports, they seem to foreshadow a larger return for the crop than has been made in any previous year. The price of corn has advanced about two cents, though the receipts are just now larger than a year ago.

"The iron manufacture again reports a small increase in weekly output. There are quite heavy eastern orders for foundry iron, fully supporting prices, and at Chicago prices of local iron are strong, with less disposition to sell southern pig at reduced quotations. The orders for finished products include a very heavy demand for plates, especially for ship yards, several of considerable magnitude for structural works covering about 15,000 tons, and an unusually heavy demand for bars, especially on account of orders for car works.

"Failures for the week were 265 in the United States, against 223 last year, and 25 in Canada, against 36 last year."

Bradstreet's says: "While the advent of cooler weather in most sections of the country has undoubtedly been instrumental in causing some of the improvement in the tone of distributive trade perceptible at most markets this week, beneficial effect upon general business and particularly upon agricultural products of the reported improved demand abroad for our staple cereals should not be lost sight of. At most western centers an improvement in the retail and jobbing trade in seasonable dry goods, clothing and shoes is reported, and more seasonable weather at the south is responsible for some relaxation of the absurd quarantines which have done so much to cripple trade in that section. Iron trade reports are a repetition of recent weeks, new business being of moderate proportions, but mills and foundries are kept fully employed on early orders."

NIPPED IN THE BUD.

Plot to Assassinate Emperor William at Alexandria, Egypt, is Foiled.

Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 15.—The Alexandria police have arrested nine Italian anarchists and have thereby frustrated a plot against Emperor William, now on his way to the Holy Land, to be present at the consecration of the Church of the Savior at Jerusalem. The first to be arrested is a cafe keeper, a well-known anarchist, in whose house the police discovered two wire-wound bombs of great strength, full of bullets. This arrest was made in consequence of a notification from the Italian consul general at Cairo that two anarchists had left Cairo for Port Said. The police investigation showed that the arrested cafe keeper had bribed the steward of a steamer sailing from Alexandria to Port Said and Syria to take on board a box of bombs. Apparently the anarchists originally intended to use the bombs at the Palais Abidin, at Cairo, while Emperor William and the khedive were there. When the kaiser decided not to visit Egypt the anarchists changed their plans and decided to attack him in Palestine. The liveliest satisfaction is felt over the smart captures; and the German consulate has expressed its warmest thanks.

DEMANDS TO SEE EMPEROR.

Dowager Empress of China May Not Grant Request of the New Italian Minister.

Peking, Oct. 15.—The new Italian minister, Signor Martino, has arrived here and demands the customary audience of the emperor. Much interest is aroused in the part the dowager empress will take in the ceremony.

The emperor is practically imprisoned in the island palace, which is strongly guarded. Not a boat is allowed to land there unless with the expressed consent of the dowager empress.

All the decrees are now issued by the dowager empress, the last pretense of the emperor's power having been abolished.

Glass Factories to Shut Down.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 15.—The failure of the glasscutters' scale committee and the committee of the American Windowglass Manufacturers' association to reach the agreement on the wage question for the ensuing year, will prevent a general resumption of the factories in the country. It is probable, however, that the independent factories will begin operations as previously arranged for.

THE MAJOR'S EXPERIENCE.

From the Detroit Free Press.

One of the staunchest supporters of the deep-water way from the Great Lakes to the ocean is Major A. C. Bishop, of 715 Third Ave., Detroit, a civil engineer of wide experience and considerable prominence in his profession. He was assistant engineer on the Hudson River Railroad in 1850 and has since conducted large engineering operations. He has been located in Detroit, since 1815, and has a large acquaintance among the business men and citizens of this city.

Two years ago, for the first time, Major Bishop was in the hospital. For two months he had the best of medical attendance, but when he was discharged he was not like the Major Bishop of old. When asked regarding his health, he said: "When I had my last spell of sickness and came out of the hospital I was a sorry sight, I could not gain my strength, and could not walk over a block for several weeks."

Major Bishop.

"I noticed some articles in the newspapers regarding Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which convinced me that they were worth trying and I bought two boxes. I did not take them for my complexion but for strength. After using them I felt better, and I know they did me worlds of good. I am pleased to recommend them to invalids who need a tonic to build up their constitutions."

The pure, powerful vegetable ingredients in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People supply the antidote for poisonous matter in the blood and add those elements needed to build up body and brains. Many diseases long supposed by the medical profession to be incurable have succumbed to the potent influence of these pills. They can be taken by young or old, being harmless in their nature, but powerful in eliminating disease.

Justification.—"How dared you strike a woman!" he yelled, indignantly. "Well, there was no man around from whom I could borrow anything," pleaded the culprit.—Philadelphia North American.

Boys and Girls on the Farm.

At a meeting of the Illinois Dairymen's Association at Red Bud, Illinois, Mary A. Mayo read an interesting paper on "How to Keep the Boys and Girls on the Farm," in the course of which she made the following apt remarks:

"The successful farmer to-day must be an educated man. He must make a special preparation for it, not only that he may make a success of the farm, but of the farmer. His boys and girls are thinking, reasonable beings; their eyes are quick to see; their ears are quick to hear. Have their faculties been trained for the farm that they may succeed as farmers, and, been such as will fit them for the farm; and, let me ask, has their life been such as shall bind them to the farm with bonds that can only be severed by death? Now, friends, we do not want to talk sentiment, but fact.

"Would you be willing to trust your life or the life of your child in the hands of an unskilled, untrained, uneducated doctor? Would you trust a case at law in the hands of an attorney in whose ability you had no faith because of his lack of knowledge of law and jurisprudence? Would you be willing to ride over great trunk lines, with their almost incessant rattle of trains, if they did not know that skilled hands held the lever, and that men thoroughly educated in railway work and all its departments were dispatching and managing successfully the rolling stock of these roads?

"These sons and daughters of ours must be trained and educated to a love of the farm. How can this be done? If you are able, send them to such schools as shall instill into them a love for labor. Send them to schools of agriculture, to agricultural colleges, where the developing of the mental faculties is joined to a trained eye and a skilled hand—a hand skilled in labor. I find some fault with our high schools. I think they really educate more young people away from the farm than to it. They do not usually send their pupils back to the farm home with elevated ideas as to the dignity of labor; but they go back sometimes with this one thought—to stay only until they can find something else to do, something that savors less of work than life upon the farm. To keep the boys and girls upon the farm we need to make our country schools better schools. Let the farm stock serve as object lessons. I would teach elementary agriculture, plant life, the chemistry of soils, the chemistry of the kitchen, growth of seeds, growth of buds, and in every lesson there should be an idea impressed of labor; that every thing must labor in some way—that it is one of the fundamental principles of this universe. Then, if able, let the agricultural college succeed the district school. There is no reason why such a boy or girl may not go directly from the common school to the agricultural college. Some will tell you—but they are generally persons who do not know—that agricultural colleges educate away from the farm. This is not so, especially it is not so as regards the agricultural college with which I am acquainted."

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centers in the stomach, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. "If a newspaper man knew how many knocks he receives behind his back he would choose another calling," remarked a citizen the other day. The citizen was mistaken. The newspaper man who succeeds must be maligned by every law-breaker, swindler and hypocrite, every carping critic and every lover of notoriety who is ignored, and, in fact, all persons who do not agree with him on public and private questions. The newspaper man who expects to go through life without being misrepresented and unjustly censured should make arrangements to die when young.—Ex.

Throw the Blues Away.

Cheer up old man! Be happy! Don't look so awful grim! Remember the good times you've had—there's better ones to come; Don't think because the clouds are black it will forever rain—Hope on a little longer and you'll see the sun again.

Most business men have ups and downs, some worries and some care, And sickness often is to them the heaviest load to bear,

Why fret about fair-weather friends? The old ones still are true, The road's been long and lonesome, but I think you're almost through.

This life is all a mixture of happiness and pain, And joy will follow sorrow as sunshine follows rain,

A spell of sickness makes a man appreciate good health, Reverses also teach us how to better value wealth.

Then let us hear your voice again and see your old time smile, Just pull yourself together and go in and make a pile.

Come! face the music like a man, and throw the blues away; You'll live to give advice yourself, and laugh at this some day.
