STORIES OF RELIEF.

Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

Mrs. JOHN WILLIAMS, Englishtown, N. J., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I cannot begin to tell you how I suffered before taking your remedies. I was so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without falling. I had womb trouble and such a bearing-down feeling; also suffered with my back and limbs, pain in womb, inflammation of the bladder, piles and indigestion. Before I had taken one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt a great deal better, and after taking two and one-half bottles and half a box of your Liver Pills I was cured. If more would take your medicine they would not have to suffer so much."

Mrs. JOSEPH PETERSON, 513 East St., Warren, Pa., writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered with womb trouble over fifteen years. I had inflammation, enlargement and displacement of the womb. I had the backache constantly, also headache, and was so dizzy. I had heart trouble, it seemed as though my heart was in my throat at times choking me. I could not walk around and I could not lie down, for then my heart would beat so fast I would feel as though I was smothering. I had to sit up in bed nights in order to breathe. I was so weak I could not do anything."

"I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and used three packages of Sanative Wash, and can say I am perfectly cured. I do not think I could have lived long if Mrs. Pinkham's medicine had not helped me."

To make the triumph of paper more emphatic, the proprietor has resolved that the whole of the furniture shall be made of the same material.

JAMES S. WORCESTER, of Newark, after having made a long study of the manner in which fish swim, has invented a unique propeller which works on the fish fin principle. An engine of 4 1/2 inches diameter and 4 1/2 inches stroke will furnish the motive power. It is hoped to make 20 miles an hour, with a propeller which is to be but six inches wide and 18 inches long. The propeller will not revolve, but will imitate the motions of the fish's tail and fins.

A STEAMBOAT company which operates boats on one of the Bavarian lakes has introduced a curious innovation in the manner of children's fares, which are in future to be regulated by measure. Children under 60 centimeters in height are to go free; children measuring over 60 and under 130 centimeters must pay half price. Presumably this regulation has been introduced because parents, however capable of cheating as regards their offsprings' age can not deceive the company in regard to their height.

THE newest disease to be added to the troubles of mankind is called emphysema. The death from the disease at St. Vincent's hospital, a few days ago, of John McGuire, was the sixth death from it so far recorded, and three of these were in St. Vincent's. The disease is produced from a germ known as the aerogenes bacillus, which becomes active underneath the skin and produces air. The skin is expanded in such a way that the victim takes shape out of all resemblance to that of a human being.

ARKANSAS has passed a road law providing for the appointment by county courts of road and bridge commissions. Their duty is to divide counties into road districts and to appoint overseers. All male persons more than 18 years and less than 45 years of age are subject to road duty for at least five days in the year, exemption to be obtained upon payment of $1 a day. County courts are authorized to levy taxes not to exceed three mills for road purposes. Convicts may be worked on the roads by the counties at the rate of 75 cents a day.

THE faculty of the University of Michigan is investigating a case of initiation into the mysteries of one of the fraternities. A freshman candidate, whose name is concealed, after being blindfolded, was taken to a railroad sidetrack near the Michigan Central track and tied to the rails. He was left there until the through passenger train came, and as it thundered down upon him he screamed and struggled and finally lost consciousness just as the train went by a few feet from him. The freshman has since been delirious.

THE first of the new crop of pineapples from the neighborhood of Orlando, Fla., has begun to move, and it is estimated that the pines in that neighborhood will ship about $50,000 of that fruit before January 1. The pines now being planted, or made ready for planting, within a couple of miles of Orlando, according to a dispatch to the Savannah News from that place, will call for 100,000 new plants. These come from the old fruiting plants in the form of suckers. The old plants will produce two to five or six of these each year.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Prof. Wenley, Formerly of Glasgow, Gives an Interesting Talk to Faculty and Students.

MAGNITUDE OF SCHOOL NOT REALIZED.

Greatest Danger of the College Man Is Seclusion and Separation from the World Beyond College Walls—Absence of Rowdism a Great Relief—Other Notes of Interest.

[Special Correspondence.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 2.—It is always interesting and profitable to see ourselves as others see us. The opportunity to do this has recently come to the faculty, students and alumni of the University of Michigan through the utterances of Prof. R. M. Wenley, now professor of philosophy at Michigan, but formerly of the University of Glasgow. Dr. Wenley, besides being a graduate of Glasgow university, is familiar with the great universities and colleges of the British isles and continental Europe. A short time since, in referring to the condition of affairs at Ann Arbor, he expressed himself as struck by the fact that the citizens of Michigan seem very far from realizing the magnitude of the university which their liberality and wisdom have created. This institution enrolls annually more students than Edinburgh, Oxford or Cambridge, the most populous of the British universities. Indeed, in point of attendance, it is the second university in the Anglo-Saxon world.

A Spirit of Freedom.

This, he believes, may be traced mainly to the spirit of freedom which is so characteristic of Ann Arbor.

Brought Face to Face.

"Colleagues who have much more right to speak than I can claim," said the doctor, "have told me time and again that no other institution of the United States having a large undergraduate department is so free as Michigan, with the exception of Harvard. As a result, students are brought face to face with the actualities of life, even in the artificially restricted academic society to which they belong during their years of residence. Long may Michigan preserve this, her peculiar genius, and guard her alumni against the greatest danger of the college man—seclusion and separation from the great world beyond the halls.

Absence of Rowdism.

"The student's docility in class furnishes me with matter for continual reflection. Rowdy classes are unknown. Gangs of young men who go to a room intent on 'hazing' the professor, do not exist. The 'hazing' parties, card parties, classroom lunch parties, 'mauling' matches, and snowball matches, of my student days appear to have no place in the Michigan round of social enjoyment. Possibly this may be due to the softening influence of the women students; possibly it may be due to the great need for work which presses upon so many of our undergraduates. But whatever its causes, one is relieved never to be called upon to take the obstreperous class of some easy-going colleague in order to give it an hour's lesson in academic manners. It lifts a burden, too, to know that in one's own rooms one need not pay attention to 'keeping order,' but can devote exclusive care to the matters on hand.

Youth and Vigor of Teachers.

"Once more, still keeping the personnel in view, a stranger cannot help being struck by the comparative youth and intense vigor of the great majority of the teachers. At home I had been accustomed to listen to elderly men who had long since made their reputation and who had nothing left to live for in this matter. Here, the professors not only have reputations, but are bent upon increasing the respect with which they are viewed by the world beyond. The youth of this country thrills in their hearts, and years have but little power over most of them to bring the canker of age.

Lack of Funds.

"But, overburdened as they are, I wonder that they do not lose heart, for no university anywhere is compelled to make bricks without straw to the same extent as Michigan. The manner in which the usefulness of the institution is limited, its growth hindered and its fame obscured by lack of funds would be a standing disgrace to the people of their state and to all interested in the university were they aware of the facts, which I very much fear they are not. In these days a university depends for its supremacy upon the eminence of its teachers. Buildings don't matter much. Impressive ceremonies are debatable adjuncts to pressing the front rank, you must—but, to keep to work the vessel. Now, have the men to employ effective means of there is one supremely effective means of losing good equipment and you possess the moderate equipment and you possess the unfailing recipe. Thanks to her poverty, the University of Michigan has seen this danger in the past and is still exposed to it.

Trained in Poverty.

"Money ought to come to Michigan, because a long course of training in poverty has taught her the secret of making money. To do the most that it is capable of. To an outsider it seems a strange if not a monstrous thing that such an institution, with its boundless possibilities, should be in continuous and sore straits. If a poor country like Scotland can afford $750,000 for its universities, a rich state like Michigan, with a territory ten times that of Scotland, can surely allow $250,000."

Students as Missionaries.

Four of the students that graduated with the medical classes of 1898 have gone into the field as foreign missionaries. They are Jesse K. Marden, of New Boston, N. H.; William S. Lehman, of Edison, Neb.; Sharon J. Thoms, of Three Rivers, Mich., and Miss Marion Wells, now Mrs. Thoms, of Garbult, N. Y.

Dr. Marden is at Aintab, in Asiatic Turkey, under the auspices of the American board of foreign missions. Aintab is a city with about 30,000 inhabitants. It is in the hospital connected with the American college located there that Dr. Marden will work.

Dr. William S. Lehman is at Lolodorf, Kameruns, West Africa, laboring under the direction of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions, among the dwarfs of that region.

Dr. Sharon J. Thoms and his wife, Dr. Marion Wells-Thoms, have been assigned by the board of foreign missions of the Reform church of America to the Busrah mission, near the Euphrates river, in Arabia. The city of Busrah has a population of nearly a million. The mission, which was established in 1891, has a hospital connected with it, at which more than 6,000 patients were treated last year. Dr. Thoms on his arrival will take charge of the hospital and eventually the entire work.

Another university graduate of the medical class of '98 who expects to become a missionary is Dr. Ernest R. Pike, of Abington, Conn. As soon as an opportunity presents itself he will leave for the field.

R. H. ELSWORTH.

Will Help Bay City.

A stock yard and cattle farm are among the enterprises that are likely to follow in the wake of the beet sugar factory. Outside capital has been in Bay City for the purpose of investigating the quality of beet pulp to be obtained from the factory, and also to look over property near the works suitable for a stock yard and cattle ranch. In the west the refuse from sugar factories is used for the fattening of cattle and swine and it is proposed to do the same thing in Bay City.

Agreed to Disagree.

A couple east of Alma, after living together until their grandchildren are big enough to play around their door, have at last, after quarreling for nearly a year, agreed to disagree and have drawn up papers to that effect, she taking all the cows, chickens, ducks and nearly all the household furniture, with six swarms of bees, and leaving him the farm heavily mortgaged, one swarm of bees and one flat iron as his portion.

Sugar Beets Shipped.

The Buckeye & Douglas Lumber company shipped from Manistee the first carload of sugar beets that ever left that part of the state. They were consigned to the Bay City sugar factory. The car contained 1,000 bushels, and six more cars will be shipped this fall. The beets are the product of the company's farm, where systematic efforts are being made to develop their culture.

Soldiers' Home Full.

The Michigan soldiers' home in Grand Rapids is now crowded to the extreme limit, and at a session of the board of managers a resolution was adopted instructing the commandant to receive no more applicants except to fill vacancies caused by the diminution of the present number of inmates. There are now 770 men in the institution.

Hindered by Leaves.

Railroad trains of the Munising railway, in the upper peninsula, have been much delayed recently in a peculiar manner. Dead leaves cover the tracks to such a depth that trains are hardly able to run. The leaves are thoroughly soaked by rains and dew, which makes it hard to push them from the rails.

Big Thing for Farmers.

The good apple crop in Michigan this season, coupled with the fact that in the other states of the union the crop has been a failure, has been a big thing for the farmers of this state, and they have a good many dollars to show for what in some years is left on the ground to rot or be eaten by hogs.

Died Suddenly.

E. E. Whipple died suddenly in a parlor of the Wayne hotel in Detroit of heart disease while talking with two of his friends. Mr. Whipple recently went to Detroit from St. Johns intending to establish his residence there and to give his attention to a patent on a farm implement.

Great Month for Weddings.

October has been a great month for weddings in Calhoun county, going away ahead of June, always supposed to be the most popular month for committing matrimony. Fifty-seven licenses were issued by the county clerk for the month, while in June the number was only 46.

Good Tobacco Crop.

A farmer near Royal Oak planted 16 acres of tobacco the past season, and expects to realize about $4,000 from his crop. His success has interested other farmers in Oakland county, and considerable of the weed may be grown there next season.

REFUSE TO ACCEPT TERMS.

Spanish Peace Commissioners Formally Reject Our Proposition Regarding the Philippines.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The Spanish commissioners, in the course of a two-hours' session of the peace conference Friday, flatly refused to accept Monday's proposition by the Americans to take the entire Philippine group and to reimburse Spain for her "pacific" expenditures there. This negative action was expected. The Spanish commissioners had also a number of positive declarations which filled some 37 sheets of a typewritten presentment. In this statement the Spaniards held that the United States had no ultimate rights in the Philippine islands and could have none save by the consent of Spain in these negotiations and upon terms satisfactory to her. According to the Spanish contention in the formal statement, the United States entertained no thought of annexing the Philippines when the protocol was signed, or it would have been expressed in the protocol as clearly as the conditions regarding the cession of territory in the Antilles and the orient. M. Cambon, before the signature of the protocol, received from Madrid—the presentment alleged—a cable dispatch clearly setting forth that the maintenance of Spain's authority over the Philippines should not be affected by the protocol, to which reservation the United States made at that time no protest or objection. This dispatch to M. Cambon, as the Spaniards claimed, embodied also the view that the United States had no valid basis for claims in the archipelago. It was further held by Senor Rios and his colleagues that the capitulation

TO BE SENT TO NEUVITAS.

Order Issued for the Movement of Troops to Cuba About November 22.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Secretary Alger issued the first order looking to the military occupation of Cuba by the United States troops. The order was issued only after very careful consideration of the reports of the military officers now in Cuba, and of the Hecker board and other expert commissioners, which have been in the field. The order looks to the occupation of two points to begin with, namely: Neuvas and Puerto Principe, but the occupation will be extended as rapidly as the Spanish evacuation proceeds. The order directs the movement to begin at once, but according to the calculations of the department it will scarcely be possible to make the first landing before November 22.

It was explained at the war department that this first movement of troops to Cuba was ordered in advance of the date originally intended for the reason that the Spanish evacuation commissioners had unexpectedly notified the American commissioners that they intended to evacuate Puerto Principe on the 22d of the present month. Consequently it became necessary to have United States troops on hand in Cuba to replace these Spanish forces to maintain order and protect life and property.

Trial for Conspiracy in the Oshkosh (Wis.) Strike Results in an Acquittal.

of Manila, having occurred after the signing of the protocol, and thus after the suspension of hostilities, was invalid.

Burned at Sea.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Nov. 5.—A disaster at sea, with loss of life, five persons in all, was made known Friday by the landing here of 22 persons who escaped from the burning steamer Croatan, of the Clyde line, bound from New York for Wilmington, N. C., and Georgetown, S. C. The disaster occurred on November 1, about 18 miles north of Cape Charles, and about 206 miles from New York, from which port the steamer sailed on October 31, with a general cargo and eight passengers.

The Public Debt.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The treasury statement of the public debt shows that at the close of business October 31, 1898, the debt, less net cash in the treasury, amounted to $1,110,966,922, an increase for the month of $43,487,717. This increase is accounted for by the issue during the month of about $36,680,000 of the new three per cent. bonds and a decrease of about $7,238,000 in the cash on hand. The entire amount of the new loan so far taken up in the monthly statement is $179,399,180.

Mines to Be Consolidated.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—A Free Press special from Houghton, Mich., says the Mass, Ridge, Ogemaw, Hazard and Merimac mines, located near Ontonagon, are to be consolidated. After consolidation they will be known as the Mass Consolidated Mining company. At the outset the company will be stocked at $2,500,000. The consolidation will give the company control over about 3,000 acres of land on the mineral belt. It is hoped that 500 men will be employed within a year.

Severe Loss to Kansas Town.

McPherson, Kan., Nov. 5.—In Little River, 20 miles west of here, fire destroyed every building on the west side of Main street, including 18 houses and a hotel. The east side of the street was only saved by hard work. Loss, $18,000; insurance, small.

ber, accused of conspiring to injure the business of the Paine Lumber company, of this city, were acquitted in the municipal court Wednesday. The jury was out about an hour. The case has been watched by the labor organizations throughout the country. The Oshkosh case followed the woodworkers' strike of last summer, which lasted 13 weeks and involved 1,600 men. Mr. Kidd was secretary of the International Woodworkers' union and was prominent in directing the strike, while Zenter was captain of the pickets, and Troiber was a picket. The case of the defendants rested largely upon the legality or illegality of the practice of picketing, which the state maintained amounted to conspiracy, but which the defense contended was in itself innocent and lawful.

A Turko-German Alliance.

London, Nov. 4.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard says: Emperor William's visit to Constantinople has resulted in an agreement with the sultan whereby the latter gives the kaiser the right to plant a large German colony along the whole frontier of Tripoli. This arrangement will protect the sultan against French encroachments across the Tripoli-Tunis frontier and will avoid granting a concession in Asia Minor, which would induce Russia to demand compensation.

Cuban Exiles Return.

New York, Nov. 5.—Seventeen Cubans arrived here on the steamer Kaiser Wilhelm, having been released from the Spanish prison at Ceuta recently. They were sent to this country at the expense of the United States government and are the first batch of released political prisoners to arrive in New York. They will be returned to Cuba at the expense of the United States.

Consul-General at Berlin Dead.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Word was received Thursday that Julius Goldschmidt, consul-general for the United States at Berlin, died in the German capital after an illness of several months. Mr. Goldschmidt had been seriously ill some time, but his death at this time was not looked for.

Washington News.

Washington, D. C., November 4, 1898.

The administration is allowing Spain to do all the floor-walking on the Philippine question. Having, through the American Commissioners, at Paris, submitted its demand for all the islands, and having expressed its willingness to repay Spain all the money it has actually spent for public improvements in the Philippines, this government now patiently waits for Spain to get through its needless and useless objections and get down to business, by either agreeing to our demand or by refusing it.

If it agrees to it, the drawing up of the treaty of peace will be an easy matter, and soon accomplished. If it refuses, that breaks up the Peace Commission, and this government will proceed to take military possession of the Philippines, and will then consider whether it will be worth while to make war afresh upon the Spanish soldiers in Cuba, and upon Spain itself, at home.

It is the unanimous opinion of the President and every member of his cabinet, that after keeping up its objections and attempts to extend the discussion long enough to pacify its own citizens and to become convinced that the position of this government cannot be changed, Spain will say that it agrees to our demands simply because it cannot do anything else. If the Republicans elect a majority of the next

House, as now seems probable, it is believed that the peace negotiations will be speedily concluded; but should the Republicans lose the House, it may result in prolonging the negotiations, as the Spaniards would regard that as a condemnation of the administration policy and would make extraordinary attempts to secure better terms.

So far as Washington is concerned, there is very little interest in the movements of the War Investigation Commission, a portion of which is now at Camp Meade. One session was held in Washington this week, but there was nothing of importance or that was new in the testimony taken.

Although it is certain that Gen. Greeley did not mean to reflect upon the War and Navy Departments when he said, in the course of an address on the work of the Signal Service, of which he is chief officer, during the war with Spain, that one of the principal reasons for the great success of the work of the Signal Corps was that it had a ship of its own, chartered in the name of a private individual, and not subject to the control of the army or navy, it sounded as though he did; and he is anything but pleased with the use made of his language by the critics of the conduct of the war. The address was delivered before a church club and no reporters were admitted, but it was published in substance the next morning, all the same.

Secretary Bliss has decided that a thorough investigation be made of the charge of Indian Commissioner Jones, that the recent Indian trouble in Minnesota was caused by the injustice of deputy United States marshals in dealing with the Indians. The Department of Justice is also looking into the matter, although its official are disposed to accept the denials made by the marshal for himself and his deputies. The official report of General Bacon, who commanded the troops which fought the Indians, just made public, also refers to promiscuous arrests of Indians by deputy marshals as one of the causes of the outbreak.

The Post-office Department has given the necessary orders for the establishment of a "post-office on wheels," to be operated in the vicinity of Westminster, Md.

At present this experiment will be confined to a postal wagon, which will travel over a designated route and deliver and collect mail from boxes along the route. Later, the postal wagon will issue money orders and register letters and packages. If the experiment is the success that it is expected to be, "post-offices on wheels" will be set up in every direction.

While looking up the record of a revolutionary soldier, a rare and valuable historical document was discovered in the Pension Bureau. It is a book in which was written by Major Fred Wersenfels, who accompanied the expedition, a complete roster of the officers of the ill-fated

American army which invaded Canada during the winter of 1775-76, under the command of Gen. Benedict Arnold. There are 85 names on the roster, many of whom afterwards became famous, among them being Aaron Burr, aide-de-camp and judge-advocate; Gen. Wooster, Col. Livingston,

Col. Waterbury, Col. Clinton, Col. Donald

Campbell, and Capt. VanRensselaer. All the histories of the expedition against

Quebec have omitted the names of the superior officers because no list of them was known to exist, although many historical writers have made diligent and lengthy searches for it. This roster will take its place among the valued archives of the government, but permission to copy it will be given to historical societies by the Pension Bureau.

Report of Hon. Willis H. Roberts, United States Treasurer.

The Revenues and Expenditures for the Year—Cost of the War with Spain—Gold Balance and Public Debt.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The treasurer of the United States, Hon. Willis H. Roberts, has submitted to the secretary of the treasury the annual report on the transactions and condition of the treasury for the past fiscal year. The net ordinary revenues of the government were $405,321,335, an increase of $57,597,630 over those of the previous year, while the net ordinary expenditures were $443,363,582, an increase of $77,594,423. The resulting deficiency of $37,042,247 exceeds that of the preceding year by $19,994,793. In the receipts are included $64,751,223 paid into the treasury on account of the Union Pacific and Kansas Pacific railroads. Out of them were paid $23,850,952 of the bonds issued for the construction of the Pacific railroads, which went to increase the expenditures.

War Expenditures.

Up to the close of the fiscal year the increase of the expenditures on account of the war with Spain was $43,041,732 for the war department, and $24,262,438 for the navy department. For the four months of July, August, September and October, 1898, the expenditures of the war department were $107,530,368, being $81,613,131 greater than for the same months in 1897. For the same months this year the navy department expended $27,459,577, which was $16,014,926 more than it spent in the like period in 1897. Up to October 31 the war with Spain added to the disbursements of these two departments the sum of $164,932,228.

Stronger Than a Year Ago.

Independently of the prospects of revenue or expenditure the treasurer regards the treasury as having been stronger at the close than at the opening of the fiscal year, the insignificant shrinkage in the amount of the assets having been more than compensated for in the improvement which took place in this character. Against a net loss of $7,500,000 in the total holdings available for the fiscal operations of the government, there was a gain of upward of $26,000,000 in free gold, coupled with an increase of nearly $23,000,000 in absolutely secured deposits with banks, and these changes were effected at no greater cost than the loss of so much in silver and treasury notes.

The total available assets were $374,764,377 on June 30, 1897, and $339,006,736 a year later. By the addition of the unavailable assets carried by the department these totals are swelled to $394,411,578 and $369,202,941 respectively. On June 30, 1898, the treasurer's liability to the general treasury fund was $775,751,968, with one of $68,465,100 sustained in his capacity as the depository of public officers, and one of $26,396,413 for moneys paid into his hands, but not yet covered by warrant into the general account.

In every year, during the period of the movement of the crops, there is a demand in the producing parts of the country for small notes.

The Circulation.

By forethought and care during the past fiscal year and the autumn following it an adequate stock of notes of different denominations was provided and the exchange of small notes for large was readily made. The outstanding notes of the denominations of $20 and under, which decreased in volume by $11,522,157 from September 30, 1896, to the same date in 1897, increased by $41,637,037 in the 12 months ended September 30, 1898. The gold in circulation rose steadily, by $49,327,263 in the former of the two periods and by $94,551,059 in the latter. The total currency of all kinds in circulation shows an increase of $96,539,249 in the former year and one of $137,755,854 in the latter, a gain of $234,294,103 for the two years.

National Bank Statistics.

In answer to inquiries from the west and northwest the treasurer has prepared a table which shows the amount of the capital, surplus, undivided profits and deposits of the national banks in the territory north of the Ohio river and west of the Mississippi in July in each of the last three years. The aggregates for the three periods are successively $223,979,746, $218,252,479 and $287,840,166. While these figures do not show the resources of this sort in their completeness, they furnish irrefragable evidence of the strength which this immense region has gathered in the instruments of commerce.

The Gold Balance.

In a chapter in which the treasurer reviews the history of the net gold balance in the treasury, he says that prior to September 1, 1898, the highest point which this balance had ever attained was $219,069,232, on April 3, 1888. On June 6, 1893, the amount was $89,589,364, the lowest in 15 years, or from June, 1878. By the exchange of notes for gold with the banks, the net gold balance was brought up to $103,863,290 by August 10, 1893. Another minimum mark was reached February 1, 1894, at $65,438,378. By the proceeds of a sale of bonds amounting to $58,660,917, the net gold balance was increased to $107,446,902 by March 6. Under reaction, however, it again fell to $64,575,607 by the end of July, 1894. Another sale of bonds, in November and December of that year, brought it to $53,719,730, and the gold balance on December 4, 1894, was again $111,142,021. The remedy was of actual fact a brief period, for on February 11, 1895, the treasury held only $41,340,181 in free gold. Again bonds were sold, for which payments aggregating $65,428,056 were received from February to June. Thus the net gold balance was carried up to $107,591,230 by July 8, 1895. Once more the relief was but temporary, and by February 6, 1896, the gold balance had fallen to $44,563,493. For the fourth time, resort was had to a sale of bonds, which produced, up to June, $111,855,612, and brought the gold balance up to a maximum of $128,713,709, from which point it sank again by July 22, 1896, to $89,669,975.

Since that month the reserve of $100,000,000 has not been touched upon. With some fluctuations, the tendency of the gold balance has been steadily upward. The sources of supply have been the mines of the northwestern states, Alaska and Australia, with importations from Europe, the customs and the hoards of the banks. Until the beginning of the calendar year 1888 the receipts of gold at the New York custom house were a negligible quantity, but in March they rose to 17.6 per cent. of the whole; in April, to 52.7 per cent., and after some fluctuations reached 78 per cent. in September and 79.6 in October. The tenders of gold from banks and individuals in exchange for paper have been greater than the resources of the treasury have enabled it to accept.

The Public Debt.

The only change of importance in the public was the payment of $23,850,952 of the Pacific railroad bonds. The remainder of this loan outstanding on June 30, was $14,133,560, all of which will be payable after January 1, 1899.

DISASTER IN DETROIT.

Roof of a New Theater Collapses—Eleven Men Killed and a Large Number Injured.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—The new five-story Wonderland theater is in a hopeless mass of debris, and at least eleven lives were sacrificed by an accident which occurred Saturday afternoon. Shortly before two o'clock, while 35 men were at work in various parts of the half-finished portion of the structure, the roof fell in without a second's warning. Nearly every workman was carried down into the theater pit; the top gallery was crushed down upon the lower gallery, forming a sort of fatal hillside, down which slid broken steel girders, planks, timbers, brick and a great quantity of cement from the roof, and carrying along a struggling company of men into the pit below, very few of whom escaped injury. Rescuers were at work, when a portion of a wall left standing fell, burying several, but killing none.

The Known Dead are as follows:

John Czeselski, laborer; James Geger-schke, laborer; August Janusowski, laborer; Cornelius McCarron, laborer; Theodore Mertens, laborer; August Sallach, laborer; Martin Shafer, painter; George W. White, tinner; Peter Pfeiffe, Frank Wolfe, Max Poll.

Those missing and believed dead are: Peter Connors, laborer; Jacob Lewen, metal polisher; Frank Wolfe, cornice-maker; — Betts, metal cornice-maker; O. Mullin.

The injured are: Charles Cross, arm badly cut and bruised internally; Joseph McBride, ankle terribly crushed, two scalp wounds; Oscar Robinson, severely bruised about the lungs and internally injured; John Dunchinsky, ribs broken; Jacob Polke, nose partly severed and bad scalp wound; Joseph Ferguson, seriously injured about head and face; Edward Fisher, leg broken and badly hurt internally, may not recover; William Grossfield, scalp wound and arm injured; Paul Skoskowski, spine injured and body bruised; J. W. Wilson, eyelid torn, heel broken, two ribs broken, badly shocked, may die; Louis Schmidt, foot crushed, badly bruised, will recover.

After the first crash the front wall of the building remained practically intact, but the east wall bulged and buckled threateningly.

Notwithstanding the danger, the work of rescuing the injured and taking out the dead was rushed and good progress made until 5:15 o'clock, when the upper portion of the east wall fell, a shower of bricks striking around the crowd of laborers, officers and newspaper men, extinguishing the temporary electric lights and causing a stampede for the street. Fortunately none of those who were struck by the second downfall was seriously injured, although several were precipitated into the basement through the steel joist over which only a few loose planks were laid.

The cause of the catastrophe has not yet been definitely settled. It seems to rest, however, between too much weight in the roof and faulty steel beams used in its construction. The top of the roof was of cement, about eight inches thick, and many builders lean to the opinion that this was too weighty for the supporting steel work. Others say the fault lies in the steel work, which they allege was of poor quality. Several of the beams snapped off instead of bending. Most of the debris landed in front of the stage, and looking from there one could see a hill of bent and twisted iron beams, split planks and huge jagged blocks of cement. The lower balcony held firm, which doubtless saved the lives of a number of the workmen who were under it. The firemen rescued a number of those who had fallen on top of the wreckage.

The board of public works soon had all their available employees at work. As fast as a mangled workman was extricated he was tenderly carried to one of the waiting hospital ambulances, and the usual pitiful scenes were witnessed at morgue and hospitals.

The walls, steel work and roof were the only completed portions of Wonderland, which was without floors or interior finish. The property is owned by Patrick Wiggins, partner of James H. Moore in his combined theater and museum enterprises. The property loss is yet unestimated. The police have secured a number of the broken girders, to be used as evidence later.

DAVID A. WELLS DEAD.

Noted Economist Passes Away at His Home in Norwich, Conn., After a Brief Illness.

Norwich, Conn., Nov. 7.—David A. Wells, the noted economist, died at his home here at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He had been ill for two weeks with a complication of diseases.

[David Ames Wells was born at Springfield, Mass., June 17, 1828. He graduated from Williams college in 1847 and entered the field of journalism as assistant editor of the Springfield Republican. From 1849 to 1852 he spent in study at the Lawrence scientific school of Harvard university, in which he subsequently became an assistant professor, later publishing a series of scientific books. He was long prominent in public life. In 1866 he was appointed special commissioner of revenue, an office created for him, and later, under his direction, the bureau of statistics was formed. In 1867 he went to Europe as American commissioner to inquire into competitive industries. In 1872, after completing a work of inquiry into the taxation laws of New York state, he accepted a lectureship on political science in Yale. He served as delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1872 and 1880, and was a candidate for congress. Prof. Wells did much valuable work in the field of railroads and canals. In 1889 he was awarded the gold medal at the French exposition for his contribution to economic literature. He was the author of a number of books on tariff and financial questions.]

MARIA TERESA LOST.

The Ex-Flagship of Cervera's Squadron Sinks in a Storm While on Her Way to America.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 7.—The former Spanish cruiser Maria Teresa, the flagship of Admiral Cervera's fleet, which was raised by Naval Constructor Hobson, was lost in the storm which raged off the Bahama islands on Tuesday afternoon. The cruiser was abandoned by the crew only a short time before she went to the bottom. Everything was lost. The crew, however, was rescued without the loss of a man. The Teresa had been leaking all of Tuesday, and it was found that she was going under despite the work of the men at the pumps. As soon as this was known, all energies were devoted to saving the crew. The Teresa's men were put into the sea by means of slings and afterward picked up by surfboats from the wrecking tug Merritt.

The Teresa left Guantanamo bay last Saturday night in tow of the I. J. Merritt and the United States steamer Vulcan. The Vulcan accompanied the cruiser as a special convoy. The weather was favorable at first and there was not much indication of a storm. On Monday, however, the winds began to rage and a storm broke on the ships. At the time the tug was towing the Vulcan and the Vulcan in turn was towing the cruiser. The engines in the Teresa were only working slowly and the three ships, strung out in line, were going at a moderate rate of speed. Tuesday morning the Teresa was taking water. The gale was blowing at the rate of 50 miles an hour and it was seen that the cruiser was in trouble. By ten o'clock on Tuesday morning the water had reached the engine-room and the engineers had to quit. The fires were extinguished and all the time more water was pouring in. The newly riveted plugs in the hull of the cruiser began to give way and parts of the vessel which had been considered staunch rapidly weakened. When the engines had stopped the force turned in and worked hard at the pumps, but at two o'clock in the afternoon the pumps had made no headway against the water, and it was decided to leave the ship. All the while the vessel rolled and rocked. The orders were given to quit the pumps, and the crew went to the deck and prepared to get to the ships near by. The Vulcan was selected as the boat to hold the cruiser. The officers and crew were tossed overboard from the Teresa with slings, one at a time, and then picked up and gathered on the tug.

The Teresa went down in the sea bow foremost. The water was more than 300 fathoms deep. Two 11-inch guns which belonged to the Teresa and two 5½-inch guns which were taken from the Vizcaya were lost with the cruiser. All of the Teresa's secondary battery had been removed. When no signs of the wreck could be found on Wednesday morning the command was given for the Merritt to proceed to Charleston. The weather had moderated somewhat, but the results of the storm were still being felt. The tug was crowded. The men had to sleep on decks. Some of the men were without shoes. The tug was not provisioned for such a passenger list and short rations were necessary on the run to Charleston. The men, however, were all well when they arrived. The officers are unable to account for the sudden disappearance of the steamer Vulcan and the collier Leonidas. The latter was not in sight when the Maria Teresa went down. The Vulcan remained at her post until all the crew from the Teresa were rescued. When the line between the ships parted the cruiser was sinking rapidly. Then in the darkness the Vulcan moved away and signals from the tug were not answered.

[The Infanta Maria Teresa was in her prime the pride of Spain. It was not so much her power as a fighting ship that made her dear to the hearts of the Spaniards as the circumstances in which the vessel was built and launched. When the cruiser was floated it was the queen regent herself that released the boat from the ways. The building of the Maria Teresa was attended with great enthusiasm at a special plant in Bilbao under the name of La Sociedad Anonima de los Astilleros del Nervion. From this plant the Infanta Maria Teresa was launched in 1890. This superb war vessel was 364 feet long, 65 feet 2 inches of beam, 21 feet 6 inches mean draft, and her displacement, with all stores on board, 7,000 tons. She was what is called technically an armored cruiser. Her protection consisted of a belt on the water line 12 inches thick, extending over a length of 315 feet. Around the positions of the heavy guns was worked armor 10½ inches in thickness. She had a protected deck three inches thick. The main armor belt was five feet six inches in width. For armament the Maria Teresa had two 11-inch and ten 5.5-inch Hotchkiss guns in her main battery and 16 rapid-fire guns in the secondary battery. In speed she was the queen of the Spanish navy. The Infanta Maria Teresa was disabled in the great naval battle just outside Santiago de Cuba harbor July 3 last, when Sampson's ships, under the temporary command of Commodore Schley, wiped out Cervera's squadron. The Teresa sailed out of the bay at 9:35 o'clock that morning, bearing Cervera's flag and leading the Spanish squadron in its rush for liberty. The Brooklyn, Texas, Oregon, Indiana and Iowa, assisted by the other vessels in the American navy, poured a storm of shell into the flying Spaniards. During the first 15 minutes of the engagement the Oquendo and the Maria Teresa were set on fire by the American shells and were run to shore and beached. There the Maria Teresa lay until raised by Lieut. Hobson and entered into the American navy as one of its cruisers.

The cruiser cost the Spanish government $3,000,000 and the United States spent $125,000 refitting her for the sea. She represented Spain at the ceremony of the Grant monument unveiling in April last year.]

UNDER A NEW RULE.

Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras Unite to Form United States of Central America.

San Francisco, Nov. 2.—The steamer Acapulco, which arrived from South America Tuesday, brings news of the coalition of three Central American states, Salvador, Nicaragua and Honduras, which will be conducted under a common administration to be known as the United States of Central America. The inauguration of the new regime was to be ushered in Tuesday, according to the Acapulco's passengers, and a grand celebration in honor of the event was to be held at Amalpa, which is to be the seat of government. Under the form of the government the administration passes into the control of a representative from each of the republics—Dr. Salvador Callegas, of Salvador; Dr. Miguel Angel Ugarte, of Honduras, and Dr. Manuel Corroel Matus, of Nicaragua. The three gentlemen mentioned above will continue in power until the 14th of March next, when they will formally elect a president of the United States of Central America who will hold office four years.

World's Fair for St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 2.—The directors of the World's Columbian exposition, who arrived in St. Louis Monday from Chicago to hold their annual reunion, were entertained by the local reception committee at social functions Monday night and Tuesday morning, and departed Tuesday evening for Chicago. In the afternoon they met the local committee arranging for the celebration of the centennial of the Louisiana purchase in this city in 1903, and on the advice of Director-General Davis and his associates it was decided to give a world's fair here in that year.

Gen. Kitchener Honored.

London, Nov. 5.—The streets of the city were crowded all the morning, an immense number of people seeking to witness Gen. Kitchener's triumphal progress to the Guild hall, to receive the freedom of the city of London and the sword of honor presented to him in recognition of his defeat of the dervishes at Omdurman. The general received a great ovation as, accompanied by three aides-de-camp and dressed in full general's uniform with the Egyptian sash, he drove through the streets. In the evening a banquet was given in his honor.

The Spanish newspapers are venting their spleen on the Americans by publishing fictions to the effect that the United States sanitary officers at Gibara insisted upon the embarkation of dying Spanish soldiers.

LOSS IS VERY GREAT.

Explosion of Gas and Fire Create Havoc in the Capitol.

Rooms of the United States Supreme Court Are Wrecked—Famous Law Library and Priceless Records Practically Destroyed.

Washington, Nov. 7.—An explosion and fire at 5:15 Sunday afternoon wrecked the supreme courtroom and the rooms immediately adjoining it on the main floor of the capitol. The damage is enormous. The entire central eastern part of the great marble pile from the main floor to the subterranean basement practically is a mass of ruins. The force of the explosion was so heavy that the coping stones on the outer walls, just east of the point where the explosion occurred, were bulged out nearly two inches; windows in all that part of the building were blown out; and locked doors were forced from their hinges quite 150 feet from the scene of it. Fire followed the explosion so quickly as to seem practically simultaneous with it.

Priceless Books and Records Burned.

Before the flames could be subdued the priceless documents in the record-room had been almost totally destroyed and serious damage had been done in the marshal's office and some minor rooms in the immediate vicinity. The library of the supreme court, located immediately beneath the supreme court room, was badly damaged by fire, smoke and water, practically destroying the great collection of law reference books. The library contains about 20,000 volumes and was used not only by the justices of the supreme court, but by members of congress and lawyers practicing before the supreme court. Mr. Justice Harlan said that the library was very valuable. Many of the works it contained would, he thought, be difficult to replace. Librarian Clark, after a cursory examination necessarily made by the light of lanterns, expressed the opinion that many of the books could be saved, although they had been drenched by water from the streams poured into the library for two hours or more after the explosion occurred.

The most serious damage, in the opinion of the justices of the supreme court, is to the records stored in the subbasement. These included all of the records of the supreme court from 1792 to 1832. The room contains records of cash and opinions rendered by the fathers of the judiciary of the government. Apparently the documents in this room are either totally destroyed or so badly damaged by fire and water as to be useless.

Caused by Gas Explosion.

While many theories are offered as to the cause of the explosion, it seems beyond doubt to have been due to escaping gas. At seven minutes after five Lieut. Nelson, of the capitol police, detected an odor of gas in the corridor adjoining the supreme courtroom. Not being able to locate it he proceeded to Statuary hall—the old hall of the house of representatives—thinking the gas might be escaping from a burner in that vicinity. While he was endeavoring to locate the escape of the gas the explosion occurred. Only a few persons, principally officers of the capitol police, were in the building at the time, but several of them had narrow escapes. Before the fire department, which responded to an alarm sent in by a policeman three squares from the capitol, had arrived, C. P. Gliem, chief electrician of the capitol, and H. W. Taylor, chief engineer of the house side, had a stream playing into the supreme court record-room, which by that time was a roaring furnace. Within a few minutes after the arrival of the fire department the flames were under control.

Valuable Works of Art Destroyed.

Among the losses which will be most sincerely regretted are those of busts of Chief Justice Marshall and other distinguished members of the supreme court, which were arranged on small pedestals about the supreme court chamber. In the smoke and ruin which followed the explosion these valuable works of art were either badly damaged or wholly destroyed and with their destruction the country has suffered an irreparable loss. Many of them have been treasured as exhibits in the supreme court chamber for half a century.

Estimate of Loss.

No intelligent estimate of the money loss by the explosion and fire can be made. In the opinion of capitol officials and mechanics who examined the structure the loss will reach probably $200,000 to the building. The loss on the library and records as stated above, can scarcely be estimated in dollars and cents. A million dollars could not replace them because of many of them no duplicates are in existence.

The capitol building has been damaged a number of times before by fire, but it is believed that this fire will prove to be the most disastrous in the history of the building. On two occasions prior to this fire have been started by explosions of gas. Seventeen years ago a large amount of damage was done to the same part of the building by an explosion of this kind, and in 1876 there was an explosion of gas that killed one man and came near killing another.

RABBITS AND MICE.

How to Protect Fruit and Shade Trees Against Their Attacks, at Small Expense.

The frequent injuries done by rabbits or mice in girdling fruit and other trees has led to perhaps more experiment than the injuries done by any fungous disease or insect pest. Long before the practice of spraying came into vogue we find orchardists discussing this or that method of combating these foes, or of repairing the injuries done by them—mounds of earth or of tramped snow around the trees; planting cabbage to serve as food for rabbits; wrapping the trunks with wired lath, paper, tarred paper, corn-stalks, cloth; covering the trunks with manure-plasters, fats, axle-grease, blood, whitewash, tar and other substances supposedly obnoxious to mice and rabbits, have all been advocated. As a rule these remedies are only make-shifts, at least where the animals are abundant, and not a few trees have died from the effects of one or the other of these protective measures.

A spring-set fruit-tree entering its first winter is worth at least one dollar, and if it took a dollar to protect that tree the money would be well spent, especially if non-protection meant loss of the specimen and replanting. But it is not necessary to spend so much to get an efficient protector—a far better one than any enumerated above. Wire netting of a mesh not greater than half an inch and 18 inches wide cut across in strips at intervals of six or eight inches and sprung around the trunks and the lower ends buried an inch or so below the surface of the ground forms an absolute protection against these pests without in any way injuring the trees. If the netting be pressed and rolled tightly around a hoe-handle or a broom-stick to make the strips curl better they can be applied much easier, and when once in place cannot be shaken off by the wind. Such protectors need not cost more than three cents when in place upon the tree, and when once in place need no further attention, since being loosely applied they adjust themselves to the tree as it grows.—Farm and Fireside.

BROKEN-DOWN TREES.

An Idea That Can Be Used Advantageously by Those Who Wish to Repair Them.

The snow was very deep last winter in many parts of the country and much damage was done to fruit trees in breaking down the tops and side branches of the smaller sorts. A lot of dwarf pear trees that were left by the snow in the shape shown in Fig. 1 were treated as suggested in Fig. 2. The main stalk was grafted with a straight bit of branch, with the promise of thus quickly giving the little trees handsome and symmetrical tops again. This idea can often be used advantageously with other small trees besides dwarf pears.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Gooseberry Cultivation.
Gooseberries are propagated to some extent by cutting, but generally by layers. The earth is heaped in a mound around the bushes and the young sprouts will strike roots. They should be planted in rows four by four on a rich, heavy soil, well cultivated and heavily pruned. The fruit grows on the buds formed on two-year-old wood and on spurs and buds of older growth. Pruning should be directed to cutting back the new growth and occasionally cutting out extra shoots. Some cultivate in low tree form, but the shrub form is the more natural way of growing, says the Denver Field and Farm.

Death in Milk Cans.
A case of milk poisoning in Utica, N. Y., was traced first to the dealer whose milk cans were found to be clean. Then the health officer looked up the farmer who supplied the dealer, and found his cans in a most filthy condition, looking, he said, as if they had not been cleaned for a week. This is another fact to indicate the value of scrupulous cleanliness in the handling of milk. Another case, traced to the same cause, was that which occurred at Camp Eaton, Island Lake, Mich., where a number of soldiers were made violently ill from drinking milk taken from cans in every one of which decomposed milk was found in the seams and crevices of the can.

Every large fruit grower should have a cold storage plant.

PLATFORM FOR PLANTS.

A Stand Which Enables the Housewife to Preserve Her Floral Pets in Cold Weather.

Various are the contrivances for housing plants through the winter in country houses. Some people do not like their windows darkened and it is often a matter of much anxiety how and where the house plants can be kept. Where windows are small a shelf on a level with the window sill is the most convenient, although however faithfully a coal fire may be kept burning through the night, there are always a few nights through the winter when the temperature drops so low that there is danger of Jack Frost taking a nip of the choicest varieties unless they are moved out into the center of the room. Stiff, brown wrapping paper slipped between the plants and window is usually sufficient protection, but a flower lover often moves the plants rather than run any risk. Where the windows are large, reaching from floor to ceiling, accommodating a number of plants, this moving is quite a task. Most plant stands of the stepladder sort are not easily turned, hence the plant and flowers all grow toward the window.

A stand of the kind portrayed here has been found to fill the bill. Nail smooth boards on three cross pieces of rafter timber, making a strong platform the width of the window and which should extend out into the room four feet. When casters are screwed into each of the four corners it is just the height of the window-sill, about one and one-half feet from the floor. The flowers do not darken the window while they all get a share of the sun. One can enjoy the blossoms from the interior of the room; and looking down upon the mass of foliage and blossoms, it is like a flower garden in the room.—Alice E. Pinney, in Farm and Home.

ORCHARD MANAGEMENT.

Begin in a Small Way and Increase Acreage as Fast as Results Will Justify It.

If you cannot find time to trim that apple orchard all that is required, be sure and cut off those water sprouts that are growing on the body and limbs; also all sprouts from around the body and near the surface of the ground, remembering, as a rule, that fruit trees that are full of water sprouts have wet feet, that is, the land needs draining, and in such places the blight is worse. All these take just so much from the trees that ought to go to the fruit, and the growth of proper limbs to form fruit buds. In cutting limbs from trees, saw from underside partly first; this prevents splitting and peeling the bark. Cut up to the collar formed around the limb; do not cut into it or out beyond it, but just to it. Do not calculate on getting good crops every year unless you feed your trees with manure or by scattering plenty of straw under them, says a writer in Horticultural Visitor. What is better, let fowls and hogs run among them; the fowls will destroy the bugs and worms, and the hogs the stung fruit, preventing the worms in them from maturing to lay further eggs. Do not undertake too much. We know people who are successful in growing small patches of fruit and garden truck and getting the biggest returns, who would make a fizzle if put on 80 or 100 acres. Also farmers who make a success and a good income on the amount invested from a 40- or 80-acre farm that would make an entire failure if beginning on 300 acres. Begin in a small way and increase your work as fast as your knowledge will merit it.

Grapes on Little Land.

It is surprising how little extent of earth's surface is needed to root a grape vine. If it can grow upward and have open space enough on one or two sides to get plenty of sunshine, the area in which its roots can run is a matter of comparatively little importance. We have seen thrifty and productive grape vines where there was only three feet space between a house and its cellar wall on one side and the street sidewalk on the other. As the sidewalk was made of plank, the grape roots undoubtedly extended under it. But even with this there was scarcely a space seven by twenty-five feet on the earth's surface, and this supported for years two grape vines, each of which ran up a trellis as high as the house, and bore every year fine clusters of luscious fruit at the top.—Farmers' Review.

GEESE CARRIED A MESSAGE.

An Ingenious Scheme for Notifying Neighbors Who Have Trouble-some Fowl.

"Down in the Neck," two neighboring households once dwelt in amity. They still dwell there, but in amity no more. Let them here respectively be called the Hodkines and the Podkins for the very good reason that those names are unknown among the truck plantations. The Hodkines are keeping geese this year. The Podkins are not keeping geese—not if they know it. Now the Hodkines geese acquired the habit, when weary of resorting to the front lawn of the Podkins demesne. These invasions the Podkins resented. Their remonstrances failed of effect. A condition of strained relations ensued. Mrs. Podkins, kindly old soul, said she "didn't want ter git th' men-folks a-scrappin' and a-mixin' things up over a passel o' geese." So she organized a board of strategy, consisting of herself, her daughter "Sis" and her boy "Joe." The result of their deliberations and certain preparations, where figured needle and thread, some grains of corn and some bits of cardboard, became evident next morning. The Hodkines geese appeared as usual, but returned home quickly, squawking so noisily as to bring the Hodkines in a body to the front door. What they saw paralyzed them. Descending from each fowl's bill was a bit of thread, the inner end anchored to a grain of corn in the bird's interior department, while to the other end of the string was attached a card bearing this inscription: "Please Kepe Yur Durn Ole Gooses Home." The Hodkins water fowl are now reconcentrated upon the Hodkins home ranch.—Philadelphia Record.

A FATHER'S STORY.

From the Evening Crescent, Appleton, Wis. A remarkable cure from a disease which has generally wrecked the lives of children, and left them in a condition to which death itself would be preferred has attracted a great amount of attention among the residents of the west end of Appleton.

The case is that of little Willard Creech, son of Richard D. Creech, a well known employe of one of the large paper mills in the Fox River Valley. The lad was attacked by spinal disease and his parents had given up all hope of his ever being well again when, as by a miracle, he was healed and is now in school as happy as any of his mates.

Mr. Creech, the father of the boy, who resides at 1082 Second Street, Appleton, Wisconsin, told the following story:

He Goes to School.

"Our boy was absolutely helpless. His lower limbs were paralyzed, and when we used electricity he could not feel it below his hips. Finally we let the doctor go as he did not seem to help our son and we nearly gave up hope. Finally my mother who lives in Canada wrote advising the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and I bought some.

"This was when our boy had been on the stretcher for an entire year. In six weeks after taking the pills we noted signs of vitality in his legs, and in four months he was able to go to school.

"It is two years since he took the first of the pills and he is at school now just as happy and well as any of the other children. It was nothing else in the world that saved the boy than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. A morning newspaper in Scotland is noticing the death of a poetess thinks it necessary to mention that she belonged to a respectable family.

"An English board of guardians is accused of having granted a set of false teeth to a young widow who applied for assistance." They must have fallen in love with the dashing young widow.—Ed.

The secretary of the United States golf association asserts that £2,000,000 are spent annually in America on golf. I presume this does not include the lubricants which well-regulated club houses keep in a bottle.

A new theatre horror has emerged. This time it is the tall gent in the swell seats who folds his heavy overcoat into a great heap, places it on the seat and sits upon it. The matinee hat is a poor affair compared with this dreadfulness.

An auld wife, who was among the spectators at the trial of the new electric cars, the other night, seeing the sparks fly from the wire overhead, owing to the friction of the wheel, exclaimed: "Ma guidness, as sure as I'm here, thae sparks'll set fire to sum o' the hooses on the road!"

"The late Sir John Watson of Earnock narrowly escaped being a millionaire. His estate only reaches about £900,000. To be a millionaire in Great Britain you have to own £1,000,000, or $5,000,000." There are some people in this country who are really worth $1,000,000; but some people imagine they are worth a million, especially when they get "top-heavy."—Ed.

"A sea serpent appeared off Stonehaven to a crew of five fishermen the other day. It kept its tail out of sight, but about 70 feet of its length was exposed. It wore two fins on its back like small lug-sails, and had other trimmings." It seems they have sea-serpents in Scotland as well as in Michigan, and yet Scottish whisky is famous over the world over.—Ex. Yes, and there is whisky in some rural districts that will kill at forty rods, and lay you out stone-dead.—Ed.

There is a worthy old Ayrshire native who recounts this story: For some considerable time insomnia had been a special affliction of his. He was advised to consult a specialist, and this he determined to do. When the consultation was over the unsophisticated old man asked, what was to pay. "One guinea," said the doctor, and the old man paid it. Then he returned home, and recounting his experience he tells, with a pathetic quaver in his voice: "Yon mon cure mae sleeplessness! Dae ye ken, I coodna sleep for a hale fortnicht efter thinkin' on whit I had to pay him."

The Donkey and the Merchant.

A donkey stepped into a store one day and asked for the proprietor, who walked out of his private office to meet him, but was surprised to see a donkey in his store. "Why are you here?" he asked. "You know that this is no place for a donkey." "I am here," said the donkey, "because I saw your advertisement on the fence that surrounds my pasture. I know that you, too, must be a donkey, or you would have placed the advertisement in a live newspaper where it would be read by people, not donkeys. Being lonesome to-day, I thought I would be neighborly and call on you."—Ex. There are some fence advertisers near Chelsea that the donkey could call on.

Odds and Ends.

We occasionally read of May marrying old December; but lately old January at 98 didn't marry Miss May of "sweet 16," but old Mrs. February at 84. Such is life.

The boys who worked on farms the past several months are now striking for the north woods. They didn't want to lose their votes, or they would have gone long before this time.

Now as election is over hunters are going north to shoot deer; if they can't shoot deer they will shoot bear, or else wield the axe chopping down trees, which some are more accustomed to.

Some people like to jolly persons about this thing and that, and some take things coolly and don't care a tat; but others will get huffy and fight like a cat, and chaw you up like a dog does a rat.

Election now is over, but business still keeps slow, we all can't live in clover, but how some people crow, and say that they'll make business good, and no one can complain, but many must hustle for their food, in sunshine and in rain.

Nashville boasts of a hen that laid the largest egg on record, as hen's eggs go. The egg weighed 5½ ounces when laid—which is four ounces above the average—and was 10 inches long and 5½ inches in circumference. Of course the monstrosity was named Chicago as soon as it was discovered.—Ex. We think some of the old hens around Chelsea can beat it. Bring them into this office and we will mention it in another issue.

A preacher in a near town is said to have announced that he would discuss a family scandal from the pulpit, and as a result every seat in the church was filled long before time for church services, many standing in the aisles and a look of satisfaction on the faces of the entire congregation. The shrewd master of the flock then proceeded to discourse on Adam and Eve. A good way to get the people out at places of worship.

Mrs. Ballington Booth, of "The American Volunteers," is writing out her experiences in American prisons, and in the slums of New York, for The Ladies' Home Journal. Mrs. Booth has perhaps come closer to the lives and confidences of the men and women in prisons, and to know the poor better, than any woman living. She will not only tell what she has seen, but she will point out what her experience has shown her to be the most effective way in dealing with the people of the prisons and the slums.

The apple crop of the United States is smaller than it has been since reliable statistics have been collected. The total supply from the 1898 crop of the United States is 27,700,000 barrels, compared with something over 40,000,000 last year, and 70,000,000 in the record-breaking crop of 1896. The situation in Michigan is better than elsewhere, having about two-thirds of the bumper crop of 1896. The failure is principally attributed to the fact that during the blooming season there was excessive rainfall, which washed out the pollen and prevented proper fertilization by insects. The apple crop in the vicinity of Chelsea was only fair.

Last Saturday forenoon was very disagreeable, raining so hard that the farmers couldn't come to town, or the merchants do any business, and new voters didn't feel like registering; but when the sun came out about noon the farmers kept coming in, new voters registered, the merchants felt good, and the people went to the supper in the Staffan building; and hunters went out to shoot a bird or two for Sunday and foot-ball players were anxious to kick, carry or throw the ball around; but in the early evening a heavy rain set in and the farmers went home early and business was demoralized again for a short time, and about sunset it was getting clear again.

How to Look.

Good looks are really more than skin deep, depending entirely on a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach be disordered, you have a dispeptic look; if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health, and you will surely have good looks. "Electric Bitters" is a good Alterative and Tonic. Acts directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys. Purifies the blood, cures pimples, blotches, and boils, and gives a good complexion. Every bottle guaranteed. Sold at Glazier & Stimson's Drug Store. 50 cents per bottle.
