BEGINS TO HURT

The New Insurance Co. is getting in its work on the Old Co.

It is said from reliable sources that some of the members from the old Washenaw Mutual Fire Insurance Co. are kicking themselves for having joined the perspective new company and are seeking protection under the wing of the old company again. Dexter Leader. There has not been anyone "kicking" around as a result of the "kicking" spoken above.

The Northwestern Washenaw Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. has been doing business one month and has 150 policies in force representing $424,000, with applications coming in every day. The record made by the old company the past year has not been such as to endear any of the members in this "neck-of-woods" to it, and that is the reason for the rush for membership in the new company. This company was not organized with any thought of running out the old company, but many such attacks as have been made by the latter will but injure itself.

There are people in other sections of the county who have their eyes on the new company, and it will not be long before other companies will be started, and then the old company will have time to write more articles of a nature similar to the one at the head of this article. The word "perspective" in the item is "good."

IN THE WAR

How the University of Michigan Was Represented Therein.

The University of Michigan played an important part in the personnel of the American army in the Spanish war, and the current number of the Michigan Alumnus, which has been collecting the data, is a valuable and historical edition given up entirely to this subject.

The U. of M. furnished one cabinet officer, Secretary of State William H. Day.
Also two members of the peace commission—William H. Day and Senator

Cushman K. Davis.
Says the Alumnus: To the army properly we have contributed a brigadier general, thirteen majors, all but two of these being in the medical service, six assistant surgeons, eleven captains, thirteen first lieutenants, five second lieutenants, twenty-two sergeants, eighteen corporals, eighty privates, eight hospital stewards, and twenty-four whose rank of duty is unknown. Of the Michigan Volunteer Infantry had, the 31st regiment had sixty-five of our men; the 32d had thirty-nine; the 33d, seven; the 34th thirteen; and the 35th, six, making a hundred and sixteen in all. Michigan men were found in the volunteer regiments of fifteen other states; the greatest number being from Illinois, who sent ten.
In the United States Volunteer Cavalry we had seven men, three in the 1st regiment, the famous "Rough Riders" of Roosevelt, and in the 2nd, known as Farrar's Rough Riders, we had four.
Two men out of those seventy-one in each regiment, lost their lives. Seven of our men were in the regular army. In the navy, we had fifty-six, all but ten of them being on the Yosemite, in the Michigan Naval Reserves. Of the rest, the ships upon which two sailed are not known.
Each of the following men of war had one—Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Niagara, Montgomery, Manhattan, Helena and Oregon. Including both army and navy the literary department sent eighty-two men.
The engineering department, thirty-four; medical, twenty-six; law, one hundred one; pharmacy, twelve; dental, fifteen; homeopathic, four. This makes a grand total of two hundred and fifty-nine, after deducting fifteen for names counted twice. One hundred and thirteen undergraduates went to the front, twenty-seven of them being of the class of '98. Of those whose connection with the University was in the past, 104 were graduates, 42 were non-graduates, and two honorary degrees. It is necessary here also to deduct for names counted twice. And of those who gave the last and greatest gift, their lives, there were eight. One was killed at San Juan, and the rest succumbed to disease of camp and transport ship.

Y. P. S. C. E. Fair.

It is a very difficult matter to select holiday presents, but the Y. P. S. C. E. will be in a position at their fair to help you out on this difficult question.

At the plain and fancywork booth will be displayed an endless variety of those dainty and substantial articles that help to beautify the home. The doll booth will make the children's eyes sparkle with delight when they see it. The candy booth will contain sweet things in that line. And the miscellaneous booth will contain various other articles which may be purchased at moderate prices.

A fish pond will be there also, where all may try their skill at angling, and a great bag out of which will come many wonderful things (if you pay for the privilege of taking them out).
A fine program—different each night—will be rendered.

Friday evening a chicken pie supper will be served, and on Saturday evening a New England supper will be served in the good old style. The time for these suppers will be from 5 to 7:30 p. m.

Tickets of admission to the fair, including supper, 15c. Watch for the fine souvenir program which will be given you at the door. Remember the time and place—Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening, December 9 and 10, at the opera house.

SUGAR BEET BELT

Michigan is in the Heart of It—Tests Prove the Product Above the Average.

The mind of almost every farmer in the state is now directed toward the possibility of raising the sugar beet. A study of the map showing the beet sugar belt, lately issued by the department of agriculture at Washington, finds almost the entire lower peninsula of Michigan covered by it. The soil and climate of the southern peninsula are possibly the best to be found in the entire sugar beet belt. The results of tests of beets grown in this immediate part of the state show the average weight of the samples to be seventeen ounces, with an average content of sugar of 15.5 per cent and an average purity of 83.2 per cent.

The present total production of sugar in the world is, in round numbers, 8,000, 000 tons, and the United States consumes just one-quarter of the entire production.
Of the 8,000,000 tons produced, 6,000,000 tons is beet sugar and the balance is cane sugar.

The total present production of the United States is only 325,000 tons, of which 275,000 tons is cane and 50,000 tons beet sugar. The United States is now annually importing 1,875,000 tons sugar.

This country is not only the greatest consumer of sugar in the world, but the rate of increase in consumption of sugar is greater than that of any country, the average increase being 12.1 per cent for the past twenty-five years.

Obituary.

Stephen R. Chase, who was taken with malaria fever eight weeks ago and which terminated in Bright's disease, died in Detroit at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. F. Canfield, Monday night, November 28, 1898. He was the only son of Romeyn P. and Lucia E. Chase and was born April 1, 1874. His remains were brought here Thursday, December 1st, and interred in Vermont cemetery in sight of his boyhood home. The services were held in the First Baptist church where the last tender words of sympathy were spoken by his loving pastor, Rev.
Frank E. Arnold, who baptized him September 11, 1890. Pathetic in their tenderness were the words spoken to a crowded house (all of whom were mourners) as he admonished them to think not sadly on the parting, but to look up with joy to the coronation.

Filled with an ambition to honor some profession he early set about fitting himself for life's great work, but all his efforts seemed to be thwarted by a "still small voice" constantly saying "Go into all the world and preach the gospel." Finally heeding the call he decided to make that his life's work. Attending for a time the Baptist Institute at Kalamazoo, going from there to Moody's Institute at Chicago, working in the slums and prisons of the city, always taking his Bible and his Saviour with him, feeling no danger, but meeting with great success in his evangelistic work, and for the last six months preaching at Flat Rock, endeavoring himself to all who knew him until God said, "It is enough, come up higher."
"For death and life, with ceaseless strife, Beat wild on this world's shore,
And all our calm is in that balm.
Not lost, but gone before."

"Oh, there at last, life's trials past, We'll meet our loved ones once more, Whom we have trod the path to find.
Not lost, but gone before."

Resolutions.

Whereas, our brother, Stephen R.
Chase, has been removed to his home with our Lord, it seems fitting that we, the young people of the Baptist church, of which he was a loved member, express our appreciation of his Christian fidelity and consecrated, shining life that grew more bright till it opened into perfect day. Therefore, be it Resolved, That his Christian spirit be added incentive to us, to cultivate those gentle, holy graces that God requires in His children.

Resolved, That we hereby express our deep sympathy with the family in their deep sorrow and loss, not forgetting his infants gain.

Resolved, That we ask the publication of these resolutions in our local papers.

The Editor's Dream.

The editor sat in his office cold when all but him had fled, but he wished that every last dead beat was in his grave—stone dead. His mind then wandered far away in the time when he should die, and his loyal, editorial soul go soaring to the sky; when he'd roam the fields of paradise and sail o'er Jasper seas, and all things, glorious combined, his every sense to please. He thought how then he'd look across the great gulf dark and drear, that yawned between his happy soul and those that dwelled here. And when for water they should call, and in agony they'd caper, he'd shout to them:

"Just moisten your tongue with the 'due that's on your paper'—Ex."

suing year:

Town Killers.

Town killers are classified into seven separate bunches, as follow: "First, those who go out of town to do their shopping; second, those who are opposed to improvements; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business; fourth, those who imagine they own the town; fifth, those who desire public spirited men; sixth, those who oppose every movement that does not appear to benefit him; seventh, those who seek to injure the credit or reputation of individuals."

Voting Machines.

The numerous contests, recounts and squabbles throughout the state over the recent elections, and the bungling work of election boards in many places unearthed, should prove a strong argument for the use of voting machines. With them there is no chance for errors, consequently no possibility of the nuisance and expense involved in a recount or revision of the bungling work of canvassing boards.—Jackson Patriot.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to extend our heartfelt thanks to those who assisted us in our late bereavement, to the choir and all who comforted us with their sympathy and help. May the Lord reward you.
Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith,
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Canfield, Miss Abbie C. Chase.

A Really Historical Novel.

To produce a so-called historical novel has been attempted by many, but with indifferent success by the majority, so far as history is concerned. Unlike the best known and the most successful authors of this class are Scott, Kingley and Lytton. In grouping books of this type in an order of merit based on their historical worth, it cannot be denied that "The Last of the Barons" should be awarded the first place, with "Henry Esmond" and "Hereford the Wake" bracketed as second. Victor Hugo's "L'Historie d'un Crime," which has been called "the apotheosis of the special correspondent," is a notable example of a contemporary history written under a thin disguise of fiction.— Pearson's Weekly.

A Talented House Agent.

Mrs. Homemaker—You certainly don't expect anybody to take this house?
Why, the floor all run down hill.
Agent (a smart man)—It was built in that way on purpose, mum, to keep peace in the family. Greatest invention of the age, mum.
Mrs. Homemaker—Keep peace in the family? What do you mean?
Agent—It's all right, mum; nothing like it. Whenever your husband drops his collar button, they'll roll down to that wall, and he'll always know where to find em.—London Tit-Bits.

Chinese Taxes Very Light.

The Chinese are perhaps the most highly taxed people in the world. In China all the land belongs to the state, and a trifling sum per acre—never altered through long centuries—is paid as rent. This is the only tax in the country, and it amounts to about half a crown per head yearly.—London News.

Bismarck as Dr. Jekyll.

No greater contrast could possibly be imagined than that which existed between the Bismarck of private life and the Bismarck of politics. "In the home circle," writes a correspondent who knew him well, "he was perfectly charming, easy going and good natured.
He was passionately fond of children, and I have seen him over and over again have a game with the little ones of his gardener, who were very familiar with him and would not hesitate to climb upon his knee."
"Once when his gardener's little girl died the great statesman went to con-dole with him. He was dreadfully upset and while holding the poor father's hand burst into tears, for he was very fond of the child. He kissed the little corpse and himself placed a bunch of roses in its hand. He was always eager to assist his poorer neighbors and enjoyed chatting with them on all subjects but politics. These he never mentioned."—London Chronicle.

COUNTY AND VICINITY.

1900?—Interesting item in the last week's Adrian Press.

Saline's fine new Presbyterian church was dedicated with appropriate exercises Sunday.

W. A. Wilcox of Addison, was accidentally made a prisoner in a refrigerator car last week. He got so hot about it that all the ice in the car was melted before he was let loose.

Our council at its meeting Wednesday night tabled the proposition to light the streets of this village with electricity. So the citizens will have to carry lanterns on dark nights as in the past. —Mifflin Leader.

F. W. Witten of Brighton, has hauled 1,750 bushels of potatoes to this city this fall. He is the man who found on returning from one of his trips, a bright little baby boy his wife had presented him with in his absence. —Argus-Democrat.

At the county farm there is a baby boy weighing over 300 pounds. His mind has not developed at all since having an attack of scarlet fever when 3 years old, though now he has reached his majority. His feet are so large that his shoes have to be made to order. The unfortunate youth was brought to the city yesterday to be measured for a pair of shoes. It requires five yards of cloth to make him a pair of trousers. —Jackson Press.

Paris Bimfield received a letter last week from Chas. W. Mellor, formerly of this city and who is now in London, England, acting as the English agent of the Fox Machine Co., of Grand Rapids, Mich. Mr. Mellor expects to return to Grand Rapids next spring. Mr. Mellor says: "I see by the American papers that they think of sending Alger to London as Ambassador; but the people here speak of him in very great contempt." —Ann Arbor Register.

Stephen F. Corwin, formerly of Grass Lake and brother of Claude, grows grain on a large scale near Jamestown, North Dakota. And his thrashing facilities are on a corresponding large scale. One day this fall he thrashed 1,250 bushels of wheat and 2000 bushels of oats and barley or 3250 bushels in all. Mr. Corwin, like all the great grain producers of the Dakotas, owns his own thrasher, which is run by a horse power engine. —Grass Lake News.

Among the fresh fish stories told by H. M. Randall of Saginaw, who is visiting his father here, is a catch he recently made in Saginaw Bay. He was fishing with a line with a frog bait and pulled in a big pickerel and a good sized bass at the same time with one hook. The frog with the hook had gone in the pickerel's mouth and through his gill, being taken by a bass after passing through the gill. In the absence of later stories this will be given the first prize. —Argus-Democrat.

Through facilities afforded by the Peninsular Paper Co., of Ypsilanti, the seniors in steam engineering will have an opportunity to carry on some very practical work. The company has erected a new plant at Ypsilanti, and the faculty of the engineering department have arranged for a series of boiler tests to be made by the students. Experiments will be made to test the horse-power of the boilers, the most economical coal to use, and the nature of the gases generated. —Evening Times.

The News last week intimated that one of our most exemplary young men, who is a pillar in the church and an ornament to educational circles, had smiled himself out of town to get married. The News was victimized by common report and the asseverations of one or two hitherto respectable citizens, but common report, etc., were false. There was no truth in the intimation; and any man who comes round to stuff us with such report again, will court a coffin and the fatal grave. —Grass Lake News.

Letters bearing a Detroit postmark have flooded the city making a slanderous attack on the good name of a widow and her sister living on Division street. Yesterday seven different young men called at the home "to investigate," and each was armed with these unwarranted letters. Chief & West got hold of four of the letters today. The lady says she did not know that she had enemy on earth and is nearly frantic with grief. She has always borne a good name in the community. Just what object the miscreant had, who wrote them, is not known. He is menacing the United States mail, and if the authorities can catch him it will be a sorry thing for him, but a good one for the community. —Evening Times.

A prominent business man of Ypsilanti came up to Ann Arbor yesterday as Ypsilanti frequently do, to get some money. Having secured $1,200 of the convulsed root of evil, he placed it in a large envelope, went into a barber shop, laid his package on the cigar case, secured a smooth Ann Arbor shave and such information as the tonorial artist had on tap, put on his overcoat and went his way rejoicing. After about 15 minutes he happened to remember that little package of bills and his speed exceeded that of a Mauser bullet on the return trip to that barber shop, where he found his money intact. —Argus-Democrat.

THE FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS.

Professor Draper's Sister Sat Thirty Minutes For Her Portrait.

Elizabeth Flint Wade has an illustrated paper on "Photography—Its Mar-vels" in St. Nicholas. The author says: The first accounts of this great discovery are very entertaining reading.
Professor Morse, the inventor of the telegraph, was in Paris when the news was published, and at once went to see Daguerre's wonderful pictures. In describing them afterward he said that moving objects made no impression on the plate, for a picture taken of a crowded boulevard showed it as if entirely deserted, with the exception of a man having his shoes polished. The man's feet, he said, were well defined, because they were kept stationary, but he was without head or body, for these were in motion.

To America belongs the honor of making the first photographic portrait, the artist being Professor John Draper, a professor and afterward the president of the University of New York. His victim was his sister, Miss Catherine Draper. He powdered her face, that the likeness might be more quickly impressed on the sensitive plate, and for 30 minutes Miss Draper sat—or, at least, tried to sit—as immovable as a statue.
The first class in photography was formed in Boston in the spring of 1840 by Daguerre's agent, Gouard of Paris.
The Rev. Edward Everett Hale, then a student in Harvard, became an enthusiastic member of the class. In his diary, under date of April 1, 1840, is this entry: "On my way home I stopped at the shop and got my daguerreotype thermometer. There seems to be a great demand; there were three or four others there."

THE RICH RUSSIAN.

He Has Weakness For an Army of Family Servants.

We were a family of 8, occasionally of 10 or 12 says Prince Kropotkin in The Atlantic, but 50 servants at Moscow and half as many more in the country, were considered not one too many. Four concluded to attend a dozen horses, three cooks for the masters and two more for the servants, a dozen men to wait upon us at dinner time—one man, plate in hand, standing behind each person seated at the table—and girls innumerable in the maid-servants' room, but how could any one do with less than this?

Besides, the ambition of every landed proprietor was that everything required for his household should be made at home by his "own" men.
"How nicely your piano is always tuned," I suppose Herr Schimmel must be your tuner?" one of the visitors would remark.

To be able to answer, "I have my own piano tuner," was in those times the correct thing.
"What beautiful pastry!" the guests would exclaim when a work of art composed of ices and pastries, appeared toward the end of the dinner. "Confess, prince, that it comes from Trebnie!" (the fashionable pastry cook).

It is my own confectioner, a pupil of Tremble, whom I have allowed to show what he can do!" was the reply which elicited general admiration.
To have upholsteries, harnesses, furniture—in fact, everything—made by one's "own" men was the ideal of the rich and respected landed proprietor.

BEATS THE KLONDIKE.

Mr. A. C. Thomas, of Marysville, Tex., has found a more valuable discovery than has yet been made in the Klondike. For years he suffered untold agony from consumption, accompanied by hemorrhages, and was absolutely cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. He declares that gold is of little value in comparison with this marvelous cure, would have it even if it cost a hundred dollars a bottle. Asthma, bronchitis and all throat and lung affections are positively cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's drug store. Regular size 50 cts. and $1.00.
