New Grange at North Lake.

As previously announced a metting of at the hall and a good degree of interest was shown. Geo. B. Horton, Master of the State Grange gave an address and explained the importance of farmers being organized and and working together for their general benefit. All other interests are using the power of co operative effort and faimers must do likewise. Farm people need advanced social and educational advantages. They must organize to exert a united influence on legislation. They must provide opportunities France, that the dependent ribbon to fit themselves for the requirements of advanced citizenship. All the perplexities of successful farm management must be solved. The young people on the farm must have opportunities for a clean and useful development. Farmers must co-operate and and make the business of farming more successful. All these esa new Grange and a second meeting will 13th for the purpose of organizing. The

Egyptian Burials.

It has hitherto been supposed that in Egypt the practice of embalming the bodies of the dead and forming them taught the world that the insane are into mummies was the most ancient method of sepulture, but Professor Flinders Petrie, the well known Egyptologist, has by recent excavations thrown quite a new light upon this question of the ancient method of disposing of the dead. At Deshasheh, a place about 50 miles south of Cairo, he has discovered a series of tombs, in the coffins of which he has found complete skeletons from which the flesh has been carefully dissected, evidently previous to burial. The coffins are of admirable workmanship, are made of sycamore and are in perfect preservation not withstanding their 5,000 years' burial in the sand. It remains to be proved by in town. Goods delivered when desired. further excavations whether the mutilation of the bodies was performed as a ceremonial rite or whether this removal of flesh from the bones points to cannibalism on the part of the ancient people. -- Chambers' Journal.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical pain, it does not seem to have been nature's plan that women otherwise healthy should suffer so severely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It relieves the condition that produces so much discomfort and robs menstruction of its terrors. Here is proof: DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:-How can I thank you enough for what you have done for me? When I wrote to you I was suffering untold pain at time of menstruation; was nervous, had headache all the time, no appetite, that tired feeling, and did not care for anything. I have taken three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, oneof Blood Purifier, two boxes of Liver Pills, and to-day I am a well person. I would like to have those who suffer know that I am one of the many who have been cured of female complaints by your wonderful medicine and advice. -MISS JENNIE R. MILES. Leon, Wis.

If you are suffering in this way, write as Miss Miles did to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for the advice which she offers free of charge to all women.

No theatrical production made in many years has attracted so much attention as Jacob Litt's presentation of the great English melodrama, "Sporting Life." The play is acknowledged to be the best of the many of its character sent here from across the water, and never in the history of the American stage has a play been staged on so magnificent a scale. Like all melodramas, "Sporting Life" shows /a wide diversity of scene of action and in this case sixteen huge sets of scenery are used during the course of the play. The cast includes forty-five speaking parts and there are over 200 auxiliaries used to complete the stage pictures which have been pronounced unsurpassed in beauty. The company includes many of the most noted players on the American stage. This great production has been running all winter at the Academy of Music in New York, filling it at every performance, notwithstanding the fact that, barring the Auditorium in Chicago, it is the largest theater in the country. Early in February this immense production will be brought intact to McVicker's Theater in Chicago with all its great scenery, 'cast, accessories of production, which include a stable of thoroughbred race horses. The story of "Sporting Life" is one which wiff interest every true American. Here, as in England, the love of true sport is strong in every heart. The play deals with the sports of the English-speaking race in a most delightful manner, almost every known form of sport being shown during the play. A stirring story of love and adventure runs through it, enlivened by incidents both picturesque and thrilling. The run of this play at McVicker's Theater promises to be one of the sensations theatrically of the year.

Cecil Rhodes' great scheme for a rail-Cairo is meeting with financial encouragement. The line from Buluwayo, the terminus of the present Cape system, to Khartoum will be more than 3.000 miles long, and is estimated to cost $47,000,-000. Mr. Rhodès has been assured of $10,000,000 for the section from Buluwayo to Lake Tanganyika, and the remainder can be secured when the surveys from Tanganyika to Khartoum are made.

Detroit shipbuilders have closed contracts for four steel freight steamers, all of the very largest class, 7,000 to 8,000 net capacity, and of about $1,000,000 in aggregate value. These four orders bring the number of new freight carriers under contract on the great lakes up to eighteen. Their aggregate carrying capacity will be about 101,400 net tons, on seventeen feet draught. The number of vessels of all kinds now under contract in lake shipyards is thirty-one and the aggregate value $4,174,000.

At the annual meeting of the Cleveland Rolling Mill Company it developed that a majority of the stock had been bought by stockholders of the American Steel and Wire Company of Illinois, which is the prime mover in the big wire and wire nail combination to be known as the American Steel and Wire Company of New Jersey. The old officers were re-elected and will serve pending the completion of the consolidation. President William B. Chisholders of stock not yet purchased are nila. given thirty days in which to sell at $1,250 per share.

He was one of the delegates-at-large from Maine to the Republican national convention in 1876 and served on the committee on resolutions and was, one of the sub-committee of five who drafted the platform. He actively participated in the presidential campaign of 1876 and in the State conventions of 1877-8-9. In 1879-80 he vas chairman of the Republican executive committee. In 1881 Mr. Dingley was and $200 taken. He was elected by a majority of over 5,000, nearly twice as large as ever before given to any candidate in that district. During early terms in the House Mr. Dingley was active in work for the revival of-American shipping. In June, 1886, Mr. Dingley was re-elected to the Fiftieth Congress and again elected to the Fifty-first Congress in 1888, to the Fifty-second in 1890, the Fiftythird in 1893, the Fifty-fourth in 1894 and the Fifty-fifth in 1896 by large and increased majorities. In the Fifty-second and Fifty-third Congresses he was an active member of the Committee on Appropriations. In forming his cabinet prior to entering on the duties of chief executive March 4, 1897, President McKinley tendered the position of Secretary of the Treasury to Mr. Dingley, but he declined the offer, preferring to remain in his position as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and floor leader of the Republican majority of the House. Under his lead the House within sixteen days after the Fifty-fifth Congress was 15th of March, 1897, by President Mc- isolated. Kinley, passed a bill revising the tariff. Mr. Dingley was a Congregationalist in religion. He was married June 11, 1857, to Miss Salome McKenney of Auburn, Me. They have had six children-Henry M., Charles L. (deceased), Edward N., Arthur H., Albert G. and Edith Dingley.

WEARY OF WRANGLES.

President Resolved to Stop the Bickerings in the Army.

A Washington correspondent asserts that the President is profoundly displeased with the scandalous wranglings of army officers, which have been so conspicaous in the past few months. While he is most anxious to act as a peacemaker, he will stop these useless bickerings in the army and put an end to the possibilities of further scandal, even if he has to order several more courts martial to accomplish his purpose. The strained relations between the general in command of the army and the War Department proper will not be eased by the punishment of Commissary General Eagan. It is the general belief that Miles has been deliberately seeking trouble.

Considering the directness of the evidence which will support the charges and specifications, it can make little difference to Gen. Eagan who tries him. He will be convicted of conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman and conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline. The sentence of the court will be dismissal from the service of the United States, and it will remain with the President to approve or mitigate the finding. It has been the President's desire to censure Gen. Eagan for his extraordinary language, and he would have done have permitted.

The President Tuesday announced at order a court martial to try Commissary General Eagan for the abusive and violent Prior to the cabinet session the President utterances was decided and when the cabinet met the President announced he had reached a decision in the matter. ARMY CHIEPS BLAMED BY WAR INVESTIGATORS.

Commission's Report Takes a Rap at Everybody Concerned-Even Rebukes Congress for Failing to Provide tmokeless Powder-Reef Charges.

The New York Herald, in its Washington dispatches, outlines what it declares will be the findings of the commission to investigate the war. It will show that the primary trouble was due to lack of proper military organization and then proceed to distribute this blame upon Secretary Alger, Gens. Miles, Shafter, Brooke and Breckinridge, and upon Congress itself, the censure in the latter case being for its failure to make appropriations for smokeless powder. The Manila campaign alone, apparently, will escape criticism-a fact foreseen from the first. Secretary Alger will be censured, it is said, for weakness, especially with Gen. Miles, while the commanding general will be blamed for several matters in his conduct "before, during and after the war, for his selection of certain army camps, for telling Secretary Alger he was in the so without a court if the precedents would habit of making out his own orders, and for bringing unfounded charges that bad

Secretary of State Gardner Makes a Very Favorable Report.

The annual report of Secretary of State Gardner, showing the condition of the building and loan associations doing business in Michigan at the close of the fiscal year, June 30 last, was recently made public. At that time there were seventysix duly authorized associations, operating in this State, from which annual reports were received:

B. AND L. ASSOCIATIONS.

The Iosco Savings and Loan Association of East Tawas is voluntarily liquidating, and the Alpena Loan and Building Association of Alpena has also gone into liquidation. The Ann Arbor Savings Association of Ann Arbor has consolidated with the Huron Valley Building and Savings Association; of the same city.

The capital stock of the seventy-six associations in force on June 30 last was 28,744,300 shares, while their authorized capital aggregated $275,875,000. The assets were $10,885,708.15; as compored with $11,231,246.01 the previous year.

Secretary Gardner says amendments should be made to the present law governing building and loan associations and suggests the following: An obligatory reserve fund to meet losses due to shrinkage in real estate values; associations which desire to do so should be given authority by law to issue paid-up or prepaid stock, and to pay to the holders of such stock a certain per cent of their net earnings as cash dividends; authority to dispense with the open bid method of awarding loans, if they so desire, and instead to loan at a fixed premium, or to abandon the premium altogether, charging straight rate of interest; an annual examination of the affairs of associations, and to provide for the merging of associations, authorize the investment in national, State or municipal securities, of surplus moneys not demanded by borrowers, or the loan of same on good mortgage security to other than members; limit the amount of capital dues applied to expenses, or better still, abolish the expense fund and pay expenses from the earn-

Railroad Commissioner Wesselius recently filed his annual report. The statement is made that the general stagnation which has existed in railroad circles for as efficiently as could have been expected the past five years has almost wholly disunder the circumstances. No fault will appeared, reports for the calendar year just closed showing a net increase of 15 per cent over the business of the year previous.

> The total mileage in the State is now 7,816.55 miles of main track, and 2,198,40 miles of side tracks and spurs, a total of 10,018 miles. During the year the railroads carried 9,802,491 passengers within this State, and of this number only three word killed and six injured, while 31 employes were killed and 259 injured. One hundred and six other persons, principally trespassers upon tracks and trains, were killed and 79 injured.

Taxes were computed last year under the Merriam law which amends the general railroad law, and the computations showed a net increase of $203,075.86 over

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL. MICHIGAN SOLONS.

A Scholarly Exposition of the Lesson -Thoughts Worthy of Calm Reflection-Half an Hour's Study of the Scriptures-Time Well Spent.

Lesson for January 29. Golden Text.-"Wl.osoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst."-John 1: 14.

The text of this lesson is in John 4: 5-15; its subject is "Christ at Jacob's Well." The present lesson may be classed with occurred in the journey from Judea to Galilee, and its type of teaching is that of the Judean rather than the Galilean ministry. The date is about December, A. D. 27. after a summer and autumn spent in teaching in Judea. During this time, shortly before the imprisonment of John the Baptist, that prophet pays a high tribute to his Master (John 3: 27-30.)

Explanatory.

The reason for Jesus' departure from Judea (4: 1, 2) was that he might not incur the open opposition of the Pharisees through their jealousy of his growing power. He did not fear them; at a later period he fearlessly condemned and withstood them. But just now it did not suit his plan to provoke a conflict in Judea. He had work first to do in Galilee. Hit route lay through the country of the Samaritans, unless he crossed the Jordan and took a circuitous course on the east of that river, recrossing it just south of the Sea of Galilee.

The feud between the Jews and the Samaritans was a long standing one. It dated back to the return of the Jews from the Babylonian captivity in the sixth century before Christ. They found established in the hill country a few miles north of Jerusalem a mixed race descended from the intermarriages of the foreign colonists placed there by the Assyrian conqueror after the fall of Samaria in 721 (2 Kings 17: 24), and the Hebrews who had remained in the land. The book of Nehemiah records some of the quarrels with these people which arose during the rebuilding of Jerusalem. From that time on there was hatred between the two nations. This was intensified by religious. or theological antagonism; the Samaritans rejecting all of the Bible save the pentateuch, denying the duty to worship in the temple at Jerusalem, and maintaining a temple of their own on Mount Gerizim. The original temple was in ruins in the time of Jesus, but the Samaritans continued to worship on the mountain; and to the present day, the little handful of Samaritans, descended from the ančient race, who reside in and near the modern village of Nablous, the ancient Shechem, between Moun's Ebal and Geri zim, continue this practice.

This spot of land surrounding Jacob's well and in the immediate vicinity was full of ancient traditions even in the time of Jesus. Here Jacob bought a piece of Gen. 33: 19 and Josh. 24: 32. The well remains to-day, one of the few sites in Palestine concerning which there is no dispute. It is said to be now about seventy-five feet deep and contains rainwater except in the dry season. Anciently, as shown by the word used in the Greek, it was a spring, containing "living" or running water.

Licut. Gov. Robinson, in naming the Senate committees on Friday, gave the advantage to the friends of the administration. The Senators who felt themselves aggrieved by the assignments offered a resolution increasing the membership of all the important committees and naming the new members, and the resolution was adopted by a vote of 18 to 9.

On .Monday night bills were introduced providing for a graduated income tax and for an inheritance tax and to prevent the consolidation of express offices in cities of the fourth class and larger. Also to require fire insurance companies to pay the full face of the policy in case of total loss. A futile attempt was made in the the early Judean ministry, as its incidents House to have a special committee investigate and report, with special reference to the value of all corporate and other property, and the estimated tax railroad, telegraph, express and telephone companies would pay under the Atkinson bill.

The Senate on Tuesday directed that at least one member of the Committee on Appropriations and Finance shall accompany the committee appointed to visit each State institution, the purpose being to insure the exercise of the strictest economy in making up the appropriation budget. A Representative who claims that in his immediate neighborhood there are seven idiotic children as the result of the marriages of cousins has introduced a bill to prohibit such marriages. The rapid increase of suburban electric roads has led to the introduction of a bill requiring that automatic guards be maintained at all crossings of such roads with highways in the State. A bill was introduced providing for the abolishment of all election primaries and for the nomination of all candidates for office by a direct vote of the people. The Legislature voted for United States Senator, Senator Burrows receiving 85 votes in the House and 25 in the Senate, while Daniel J. Campau, Michigan's member of the national Democratic committee, reeived 8 votes in the House and 5 in the Senate.

The two houses of the Legislature met in joint convention on Wednesday and ratified the election held by the Senate and House separately the day before. Senator Julius C. Burrows received 110 votes; Daniel J. Campau, Democrat, received 13 votes. The Republican factions in the lower house indulged in an all-day fight, which resulted in a victory for the mati-Pingree men over a combination of the Pingree men and Democrats. It was given out that the combine had agreed to an increase of the Committee on Elections in the interest of Representative Schmidt of Saginaw, whose seat is being contested. In return, it is said, the Democrats were to vote for Pingree legislation, particularly the Atkinson bill. A resolution adding one member of the Pingree faction and one Democrat to the committee was offered. It was hotly opposed by the anti-Pingree men, who finally defeated it by vote of 47 to 44. Detroit people who are booming a celebration commemorative of the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of their city, secured passage by ground, which he later gave to Joseph and both houses and the signing of the Govthere Joseph was finally buried. ### STONE THE SPANISH FLAG.

Havana Hotel-Keeper Makes Mistake in Running It Up.

In Havana, a company of the Tenth infantry was called out Sunday evening to quell an outbreak occasioned by a hotel keeper on the Calzada del Monte running up a Spanish flag. A crowd of Cubans gathered and stoned the flag and threatened the proprietor with yiolence. The officer in command of the soldiers explained to the proprietor that the flag ought to be lowered, because it was likely to produce fur ther disorder. The proprietor, in reply, assured the officer that no offense had been intended, and that, having seen the English and German flags flying, he thought he would be at liberty to raise the flag of Spain. Two members of the company lowered the flag. At Cienfuegos the Spanish troops, who are thickly quartered in the warehouses the city day and night. Their officers crowd the hotels. The soldiers are poorly fed and have had no pay for months. They are quiet enough, but their presence makes impossible a proper cleaning of the town and prevents activity on the part of the American administration.

The plantations of the district are resuming grinding. The public buildings in Cienfuegos are still in possession of the Spaniards, and Gen. Bates and his staff are crowded into inadequate quarters.

FOURTH ON ITS WAY.

Bound for a trip more than half around the world to the east, officers and men of the Fourth United States infantry left Fort Sheridan Sunday morning. With few halts they are to hasten to the Philippines, where service in the tropics will claim them for indefinite months or years. The stops on the long journey of nearly 15,000 miles will be New York, Gibraltar, Port Said, Aden, Colombo and Singapore, all except one of which are practically British ports. Three days are to be spent at each halting place, but the troops are not to be debarked from the transport

For seven or eight weeks they will be cooped up in the ship, sometimes in the furnace-like heat of the Red Sea, where night brings no relief from the sizzle and men tell of boats that have to turn about in-order to get a little breeze for stifling passengers. ### WHEAT HAS SUFFERED LITTLE.

Live Stock in Good Condition and Prices thow an Increase.

The January crop report says that the ground in the principal wheat growing sections of Michigan was fairly well covered with snow until the latter part of December. The common opinion among correspondents is that wheat suffered only a slight injury, if at all, during December. The average condition of live stock in the State is reported as follows, comand along the wharves, swarm through parison being with stock in good, healthy and thrifty condition: Horses, cattle and sheep, 97 per cent, and swine, 96,per cent. The prices of farm products vary considerably when compared with those of Jan. 1, 1898. The price of wheat shows a decline of 23 cents per bushel, while the prices of oats and corn have increased 5 cents and 8 cents respectively. One year ago the price of hay showed a decline of $1.39 for the previous year, At this time it shows a still further decline of 13 cents per ton. The average price of dressed pork has declined 12 cents per cwt; fat hogs, 8 cents per cwt., and stock hogs, 22 cents per cwt; the average price of fat cattle is the same as one year ago. The price of live stock as a whole shows an increase of S per cent. State Items of Interest.

"Being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well": rather, by the well, perhaps on the stones that formed its curb. The little word "thus" is very suggestive. Being weary, he sat down just as he was; tired, like any other man; not miraculously redeemed from the ordinary fatigues of life, nor from its hunger and thirst. And it was while he was sitting "thus" by the well, unfit, as we should say, for any exertion, that he ex- tion of the greatest truths in the simerted himself to declare the truth to this plest way. A writer in the Church outcast woman. "The sixth hour" was probably noon; although some have supposed that John uses the Roman mode of reckoning, which was the same as our own, and that this was six o'clock in the afternoon. At that hour, however, there would have been many women drawing water and the conversation would have been interrupted.

It is an artificial view of the whole story which makes Jesus ask for a drink with the sole purpose of opening a conversation with the woman upon her spiritual welfare. This story has the stamp of nattrainess. He asked for a drink because he was thirsty and had no jar or rope to draw water with.

In any such narrative we find it impossible to decide exactly what shade of meaning the speakers may have conveyed by their accent and their facial expression. Thus, for example, when the woman inquired, "How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me?" etc., we cannot tell certainly whether she spoke, as one commentator suggests, in a "half-amused and half-triumphant manner," or whether there was a slight touch of surprised gratitude at the courteous tone and the implied confidence of this high-bred Jewish stranger. Knowing the woman's character, one inclines to the former alternative, yet either is possible.

The woman speaks of some Samaritan tradition, not of anything found in the Jewish scriptures, when she claims Jacob as the ancestor of her race and the well as a gift by him to the nation. Her point seems to be that if Jesus could draw water out of this deep well without bucket or rope he would be a greater man than the patriarch who dug the well.

"Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst." A very strong expression in the Greek: "will certainly not thirst forever."

The lesson should not stop here; for the woman's request, at this point, for the water was not an intelligent request for. the spiritual refreshment and strength which Jesus promised.

The writer's grandfather had an old colored workman, who had been a slave, and was used to the severest kind of labor. No need of a slave-driver for him, however, as his tasks were always conscientiously performed.

Corporal, as the old slave was called, was of a religious turn, and believed with an unalterable firmness in the truths brought to him. In his own simple way he was a good deal-of a philosopher, and did not a little good by the every-day showing of his quiet faith. Finally the time came for Corporal to leave this world. The doctor said to him:

"Corporal, it is only right to tell you that you must die."

"Bless you, doctor; don't let that bother you. That's what I've been living for." said Corporal, with the happlest of smiles.

Edison's Plan for Removing Snow. Edison's latest suggestion is that snow can be removed from city streets not by melting machines, but by portable steam power compressors, which will scoop up the snow in steel scoop buckets and squeeze it into cakes 12x12x12 inches in volume, which will be practically solid ice. Carts and men following the compressor can take up the akes with tongs as they drop to the street, says Edison, and a market can be found for enough snow cubes to pay the interest on the cost of the machinery.

a mile and one-half long, hundreds of feet wide and in places twenty-five to thirty feet deep. The break allowed torrents of water to pour down on the flats below. The cause of the flood is the recent heavy rains, the melting snow from the hillsides and a pond of several acres overflowing. Streams for several miles up the guily added their quota of water.

The Willson avenue bridge is 700 feet long and has been built but a few months. It cost $350,000. The break in the dam, which was an unsubstantial mass of earth, occurred while thirty men were at work in the artificial canal being sunk by the city engineers to allow the pentup water to find a gradual and safe outet. These men had a most harrowing experience and escaped with their lives with not one second to spare. The warning given them was not sufficient to even arouse their fears of what was happening, and hardly a man had looked up from the bottom of the deep trench in which they were working before the crash came and the awful flood had broken loose. The water undermined an embankment 150 feet high and fifty feet in area, sweeping it down with the raging flood.

As soon as the service: were over the House adjourned. The Sen ate held no session for the transaction of business on Monday.

The House on Tuesday passed the naval personnel bill without division on the final passage, thus accomplishing what the officers of the navy have striven for during more than a decade. By its provisions the line and the engineer corps are welded into an amalgamated line, staff officers are given positive rank, but their command is limited to their own corps, and a system of voluntary and compulsory retirement on three-quarters pay, as of the next higher rank of forty officers a year, is es--tablished, which is designed to remove the congestion in the lower rank at forty-five. The bill also practically equalizes their pay with that of army officers. The most important change in the bill as reported was the adoption, after a hard fight, of a substitute for the organization of the ma-

This will increase the marine corps by 1,300 men and increase the cost of its maintenance $1,500,000. Several unimportant bills were passed by unanimous consent before the personnel bill was taken up. Almost the entire session of the Senate was devoted to consideration of the pending Nicaragua canal bill. Speeches were made in support of the measure by Mr. Chilton (Tex.) and Mr. Turner (Wash.) and in opposition to it by Mr. Spooner (Wis.). At 3 o'clock consideration of the bill under the fifteen-minute rule was begun and was continued to the close of the session The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce had the right of way in the House on Wednesday and succeeded in passing quite a number of bills of minor importance, most of which authorized the construction of lighthouses, fog signals, etc. Then the bill to grant the Pacific Cable Company a subsidy of $100,000 a year for twenty years for the construction and operation of a cable was called up and

No conclusion was reached at the hour of adjournment, and as the special order under which the House was operating expired with the adjournment, and as objection was made to fixing another day for its consideration, it goes over indefinitely. The Senate listened further on Thursday to a discussion of the policy of expansion. Mr. Turner (Wash., Pop.) delivered a carefully prepared speech on the Vest resolution. The speech was for the most part a constitutional argument in which Mr. Turner took issue with Sena-

It provides that bond payments shall not exceed $20,000,000 in any fiscal year. The amendment as amended was then adopted, 41 to 19. The last hour of the session was occupied in discussion of several amendments offered by Mr. Caffery of Louisiana, all of which were defeated. ### His Fighting Name.

An army officer here in town tells a story which throws a side light on the ways of recruiting officers. In his command during the Cuban campaign was a private who came every day to ask for letters. Joseph Murphy was his name on the roll, but the tang of his tongue did not suggest even remotely the Emerald Isle - Day after day and no letter came Murphy's face grew longer and his query more pathetic every time he appeared.

"No letter," said the officer one morning "No letter for you. There's only one addressed to-let me see-to Giovanni Paladini Castellazzia-or something like that; none for you."

Murphy's face beamed with delight. 'That-a one for me," he said. "My name lika that I go to the recruiting office. I am wanting to go fight. Officer say, 'What your name?' I say, 'Giovanni Paladini Castellazzia, and he say 'Oh, heiladam, that no name for you. You not fight with name.
