A Sad Untimely Death.

The death of William Martin, baggage-man at the M. C. depot, which occurred Sunday, Feb. 12, 1899, was peculiarly sad. He was married on Jan 4, 1899, to Miss Jennie Gorman, and was buried just six weeks from that date. He was stricken with pneumonia, aggravated by the grip, and after great suffering yielded up his spirit to his Maker. Mr. Martin had never been baptized and had never joined any church, but last Friday he sent for Rev. Father Considine, and was received into the Catholic church.

The funeral was held from St. Mary's church, Chelsea, on Wednesday, Feb 15, 1899, the Rev. Father Considine officiating. The church was filled with relatives and friends. The altars were tastefully decorated with the emblems of mourning, the music of the requiem Mass was beautifully rendered, Mr. Burg singing at the offertory with exquisite feeling, "Thy Will Be Done," and the reverend rector preached a most appropriate sermon. By permission of Bishop Foley, of Detroit, the body was interred in Oak Grove cemetery beside the remains of his father.

Mr. Martin was an industrious young man, with kindly ways, who made many warm friends, who sincerely regret his untimely departure. He was happily married, and had established a cosy and pleasant home, and was looking forward to a bright future, but God had willed otherwise. His afflicted wife and relatives have the profound sympathy of the entire community in their great loss.

Father Considine blessed the grave, and said the final prayer at the cemetery.

Sylvan Republican Caucus.

The Republican caucus to elect 14 delegates from Sylvan township to the Republican county convention at Ann Arbor today, was held at the town hall, Monday afternoon. It was a very short and quickly dispatched matter, not taking over 25 minutes in all from the time Chairman James L. Gilbert called the meeting to order until the motion to adjourn was put and carried and the caucus dispersed. George L. Mitchell acted as secretary and the tellers were R. A. Snyder and Fred Rodell. There were about 75 people present and 64 votes in all were cast, resulting in the choice of the following delegation: H. S. Holmes, W. F. Riemenschneider, Phillip Schweinfurth, A. W. Wilkinson, James L. Gilbert, Martin Merkle, Wesley Canfield, George Cross, W. J. Knapp, B. F. Judson, Michael Wackenhut, L. T. Freeman, O. T. Hoover and Jacob Hummel.

Addition to the County Jail.

The committee on county buildings of the board of supervisors met in Ann Arbor, Monday, to award the contract for an addition to the residence part of the county jail. It was at first proposed to have a one story addition and to that end the sum of $550 had been appropriated. It was, however, found that in order to get in a stairway half of the addition would have to be two stories high, so it was decided to make it all the same height. The contract was let to Henry G. Pipp, of Ann Arbor, for $787.86. The plans were prepared by Herman Pipp, also of Ann Arbor. The addition will have offices on the ground floor and a bath room and toilet room on the second floor. It was a much needed improvement.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest Pile cure on Earth, and the best Salve in the World; 25 cents a box. Sold at Glazier & Stimson's Bank Drug Store.

Miles Dolbee, of Van Buren township, Wayne county, is in jail in Ann Arbor on a charge of arson. It is alleged that he set fire to the house of Leslie Ammerman, of Ypsilanti township, which was burned to the ground. One of two watches which were supposed to have been burned in the house was the cause of his arrest. Mr. Ammerman saw the timepiece hanging in E. N. Colby's jewelry store, at Ypsilanti. He went in and asked who had left it there and was told one John Poll had done so. Poll was arrested and sentenced to jail for 30 days for larceny and afterwards implicated Dolbee in the burning of the house.

ON CANADA'S FREE HOME-STEAD LANDS.

Wetaskiwin, Alta, April 6th, 1898.

W. F. McCreary, Govt. Immigration Commissioner, Winnipeg.

Dear Sir: I like the country very much so far; have seen a great number of farmers from the States and every one seen so far says they have done well and like it here far better than where they came from, and all claim it to be the best country for a poor man that they were ever in, and with good crops this season, I predict a great rush. There are some nice claims to be had yet, but will not last the summer through.

I do not find it any colder than in Iowa, and am feeling much better than when I left there March 1st. I think this a great country for those who are suffering with throat and lung troubles. I have seen men that had as high as 51 1/2 bushels of wheat per acre, and near 100 bushels of oats, but they weigh from 45 to 51 pounds per bushel, but the general run is 25 to 50 wheat, 50 to 75 oats, and stock looking fine; some cattle running out were nearly in market flesh.

I expect to return to the States late this fall for stock, etc. Will write you when I want to go. Thanking you all for past favors, by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

I remain, Most respectfully yours, DR. D. E. STREVELL.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Locomotor Ataxia and Paralysis Can be Cured.

These extreme nervous disorders were treated with wonderful success by the discoverer of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, previous to his discovery being offered to the public generally. This remedy is the only known specific in many diseases that, until recent years, were pronounced incurable. Here is the proof:

James Crockett, a sturdy old Scotchman living in Detroit, Mich., at 83 Montcalm St., was cured of Locomotor Ataxia by these pills. For many years he has been a chief engineer of one of those big passenger palace steamers plying upon the great lakes. This is a position of great responsibility and the anxiety causes a great nervous strain. Mr. Crockett says: "For fifteen years I watched the big engines and boilers without a single accident, and only noticed that I was getting nervous. Suddenly without warning I was taken sick, and was prostrated. I had the best of physicians but grew gradually worse. At a council of doctors, they said I had nervous prostration, and had destroyed my whole nervous system and would never recover. For three years I was unable to move from my bed. The doctor said I had locomotor ataxia, and would never be able to walk again. "The pains and suffering I experienced during those years are almost indescribable. The friends that came to see me bid me good-bye when they left me and I was given up. The doctors said nothing more could be done. My wife kept reading to me, articles about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. We finally decided to try them. The first box gave me relief. I continued to use them for about two years before I could get strength enough to walk. I am nearly seventy-five years old and there is not a man in this city that can kick higher or walk further than I can and to-day I owe my present good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People for they saved my life."—Detroit Evening News.

CHINESE and Italian fishermen have an ingenious way of training the otter. They catch the small cub and put a collar round the throat. The little creature, finding itself unable for days together to swallow anything it catches, gives up trying to do so, and faithfully brings to the bank all the fish it captures.

A BILL has been introduced in the Oklahoma legislature which provides for the formation of a constitution and state government for the state of Oklahoma. ACTION is being taken by certain enlightened natives to ameliorate the shocking condition of the average Hindoo widow, says the Bombay Advocate, of India. To begin with, the Indian widow is shaved bald, and can only hide her baldness with her cloth; she is deprived of all jewelry, wears coarser clothes than the rest of womankind, must fast on certain days and every day has fewer meals than are taken as a rule by the rest of the family. The scheme of relief afoot is that no widow shall be shaven until she is 21.

THE boudoir of the czarina at Czarskoye Selo is said to be a spacious apartment, very light and very sparsely furnished. Masses of tropical verdure divide the room into several cozy apartments and give it a very picturesque appearance. The dado of the wall is formed almost entirely of photographs. An easel in one of the window recesses and a grand piano in another testify to the czarina's artistic tastes; several of her own water colors hang on the walls and she is in the habit of singing to the czar the folk songs of his own country.

THE senate of Alabama has passed a dispensary bill, authorizing each county and incorporated town or city in which the sale of liquor is not now prohibited to establish a dispensary like those in South Carolina. In each town which has a population of 10,000 or less there may be one dispensary, and in larger cities there may be one dispensary for each 10,000 inhabitants. In counties, at places outside of incorporated towns or cities, dispensaries may be established on the petition of twenty or more householders and freeholders.

FOR years inventors worked on the problem of cutting out square holes by machinery, and were able to solve the puzzle, practical machines for the purpose appearing on the market. Just at this time, however, they were rendered useless because of the development of hydraulic power which makes it possible to punch holes of any shape in almost any material. There are other machines for mortising, etc., which cut holes square, oblong and of other shapes. These, however, do not cut out square finished holes in the sense that an augur cuts out a circular hole.

[Special Correspondence.] Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 8.—Last week was a stirring one at the University of Michigan.

On Monday evening Prof. Taussig, of Harvard university, spoke before the Good Government club on a phase of taxation. He opposed the taxation of securities and advocated as a substitute the federal taxation of incomes.

The Labor Question.
The following evening Eugene V. Debs appeared before the same organization and spoke to a crowded hall. He took up the subject: "The Laboring Man's Interest in Good Government." His main thought was that although we enjoy a free political government we are oppressed by a despotic industrial government, and that as economic conditions control all others in order to free ourselves we must correct these troubles.

Music and Militarism.
On Friday evening occurred an entertainment in the Choral Union musical course. The week's series of visits from distinguished men closed Saturday evening with an oration from Hon. W. Bourke Cockran on "Militarism and Wages." It was a discussion of the subject of expansion.

Among others that visited the university during the week were Prof. George Coe, of Northwestern university, who addressed the Philosophical society, and Prof. Robert L. Fulton, of Ohio state university, who addressed the Oratorical association.

Examination Week.
Examinations for the first half of the collegiate year are now in full force. Students of all departments and classes are grinding away day and night in the hopes of mastering a few more facts, fixing this or that principle in their head, or are busy getting their laboratory work closed up before the hour of trial.

Recitations Cease.
Regular recitations have ceased and everything points towards the "exams." The students who are successful in the examinations will be "passed," those who do not do quite as well will be "conditioned," and those whose knowledge of the particular subject on which they are being examined is a minus quantity will be "plucked."

Second Half of the Year.
With the close of the examinations will begin the second half year's work. The students in the literary department have a week in which to decide what studies they will pursue. During this week they will spend no little time "sampling" courses to see if the work is such as they desire. But with the commencement of the second week of the semester, as the half year is called, work in real earnest will begin and it will be one steady pull to the end of the year in June.

R. H. ELSWORTH.

To Tour Europe on Wheels.
Mr. and Mrs. Stuart E. Perry, of Pontiac, the former an attorney, the latter a magazine writer of distinction, and both graduates of the University of Michigan, left for New York en route to Europe. They will spend six months on the continent and in the British Isles, and nearly all of their traveling will be done on wheels, which they will take with them. They will land in Italy and will visit nearly all of the important cities of that country as well as of the other countries of Europe.

An Artistic Quilt.
Mrs. D. T. Bascom, of Kinderhook, has completed a unique bed quilt, made entirely of ribbons and artistically joined with embroidery stitch, the quilt consisting of 210 pieces of ribbon, 134 of which were prizes awarded Mrs. Bascom at the world's fair, and also at the state fairs held in Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Ohio and New York.

Off For the Klondike.
Schuyler Hodges, who made a successful trip to the Klondike a year ago, has left Pontiac for another trip to the frozen country. He will take ten tons of provisions from Seattle, from which he expects to reap a handsome profit. Hodges and Will Van Buskirk have a claim near Dawson City which promises well.

Holds the Record.
Michael Finn, of Hancock, is the holder of a record which cannot probably be equalled by anyone else in the state. He has been township clerk, village clerk and justice of the peace continuously for 33 years. Of late years his reelection to these offices has been looked upon as a matter of course, and such a thing as opposition to him on election day is not thought of.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Daily Summary of the Work Done by the Lawmakers in the Senate and House.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 8.—No business of importance was transacted in the senate yesterday. In the house Mr. Chamberlain has introduced a bill relative to teaching polygamy in Michigan. It provides that whoever shall solicit to a polygamist life, or teach polygamy as a correct form of family life, or advocate the doctrine to persuade any person, by private or public discourse, to adopt a polygamist life, shall be guilty of a felony. The penalty provided is imprisonment for not less than two nor more than ten years.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 9.—Just before the legislature adjourned for its junket to the upper peninsula Gov. Pingree sent in a special message criticizing the junket and intimating that former legislatures had used the people's money illegally. The senate yesterday countered on the governor by adopting a resolution congratulating him on his sudden solicitude lest public funds be extravagantly used and directing its committee on supplies and expenditures to investigate the expenditures of the executive office during the Pingree administration. The committee is empowered to send for persons and papers, examine witnesses, etc. Bills have been introduced to amend the law governing the incorporation of mining and smelting companies. At present the law fixes $2,500,000 as the maximum capital stock of such corporations. Senator Smith's bill seeks to increase the limit to $5,000,000; requiring all insurance contracts for reinsurance to be authorized by the commissioner of insurance; providing a tax of three per cent. on gross premium of fire insurance written by companies incorporated outside of the state; equalizing the rate of taxation between this state and other states regarding insurance companies; changing the name of the Michigan state normal school to Michigan state normal college. In the house a bill was introduced providing for a bounty of one dollar a ton on iron products made in the state from iron mined in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 10.—The legislature has interested itself in the long-continued strike of the Flint & Pere Marquette railway employes at Ludington, and has directed the state court of mediation and arbitration to tender its services, with a view to settling the difficulty. This court is not in the best standing, and a bill was introduced in the senate Thursday to repeal the law creating it. A bill permitting the cities of the state to adopt the single tax system in their discretion was introduced in the house yesterday.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 11.—Bills have been introduced in the senate appropriating $146,600 to state agricultural college; appropriating $10,000 for summer session of state normal school; barring dower in land by married women over 21 years of age; revising laws providing for incorporation of Protestant Episcopal churches; appropriating $170,000 to Michigan college of mines; authorizing quartermaster-general to furnish Sons of Veterans camps with condemned rifles; changing name of Michigan state normal school to Michigan state normal college; permitting incorporated cities to raise money for municipal improvements by taxing land values exclusive of improvements thereon; allowing more than one person to use mileage books on railroads at the same time; providing for the collection of a specific state tax from mining companies in the upper peninsula. In the house bills have been introduced providing for the examination, licensing and registration of physicians; providing for the assessment, levy and collection of taxes on property of railroads, telegraph, telephone and express companies, and for the election of a state board of assessors; providing for the holding of annual meetings in townships for the promotion of public health; appropriating $5,000 for use of the state board of health; compelling railroads to furnish facilities to townships of 150 persons not more than half a mile from the railroad; providing relief for honorably discharged soldiers and sailors outside of soldiers' homes; providing for inspection by state board of agriculture of all plants, shrubs, etc., offered for sale; fixing beet sugar bounty at one mill per pound; providing for the admission to kindergarten of children between four and seven years of age in school districts. Bills have been passed vacating townships of Blaine, Grove, Ball and Center Plains, Crawford county, and incorporating same with townships of Maple Forest, South Branch, Beaver Creek and Grayling; vacating townships of Wheatfield, Montmorency county, and incorporating it with Vienna township; detaching territory from West Bay City and attaching it to Bangor township.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 12.—A bill has been passed in the senate providing for the relief of sick, disabled or needy soldiers and marines of the late Spanish-American war. Bills have been introduced preventing commitment of offenses by a married man against the person or property of his wife and to provide punishment for the same; reorganizing townships of Fort Gratiot and Fort Huron; amending constitution so as to grant direct legislation to electors; preventing deception and sale of imitation butter; providing for a uniform text book law; extension of corporate life of banks. In the house bills have been passed providing for an assistant prosecuting attorney in Tuscola county; for an additional voting precinct in the township of Home, Menominee county; for two voting precincts in Sault Ste. Marie township, Chippewa county. Bills have been introduced providing that county clerks shall notify notaries public on the expiration of their commissions; reducing beet sugar bounties from one to one-half cent. per pound, and placing control of bounty in hands of secretary of state; requiring all persons having taxable property to make statements of same to local assessing officers; for a state armory and museum; prohibiting the running of bucket shops.

THE MAINE FUND.

It Has Reached the Sum of Over $100,400—Corner Stone of Memorial to Be Laid in April.

New York, Feb. 13.—The committee which has had in charge the gathering of a fund for the building of a fitting memorial to the destruction of the Maine in Havana harbor reports that it has in hand in cash $100,488.86. Besides this $10,000 has been pledged. More than 1,000,000 persons have contributed to this amount. The school children of the country gave $20,000 and the churches gave $25,000. It is hoped to lay the corner stone on April 21 next, the first anniversary of the declaration of war with Spain. One year later the completed monument will be unveiled.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Wheat Has Suffered.

The Michigan crop report for January, issued by the secretary of state, says:

"The prevailing opinion is that wheat has suffered considerable injury. Conditions have been very unfavorable, yet the outcome depends very largely on the weather that follows. The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed in the six months, August to January, is 10,858,010 bushels, or 594,146 more than reported marketed in the same months last year. Live stock throughout the state is in fairly good condition, food being plenty; there are some reports of horses having distemper, of cholera among hogs and of minor diseases among other stock."

Burned to Death.

Fire at midnight destroyed the home of Thomas Lowden, seven miles north of Sears. After rescuing his wife and four children Mr. Lowden reentered the dwelling for his five-year-old boy, who was sleeping upstairs. The father was overcome and both perished in the flames. Mrs. Lowden, leaving three of her children in the barn, walked barefooted and in her night robe, with her baby in her arms, to the nearest neighbor's house, half a mile distant.

After More Wealth.

Phiscator, the Klondike gold king, left St. Joseph for the north, where it is believed he will meet his agent and will return with another bag of gold. On Phiscator's return three years ago he brought $200,000 in nuggets, and last year nearly $100,000. One claim alone in Alaska Phiscator sold to eastern capitalists two years ago for $3,000,000. He is accompanied on this trip by the bride to whom he was married last Thanksgiving.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 47 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended February 4 indicate that consumption and pleuritis increased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 100 places, measles at 17, typhoid fever at 28, scarlet fever at 47, diphtheria at 25, whooping cough at 17 places, and smallpox at Detroit and Redford.

The Colored Masons.

Manuel, Battle Creek; grand secretary, C. T. White, Bay City; grand lecturer, Jay Powers, Niles; grand tyler, Alex Dixon, Battle Creek.

Cattle Blamed.

A. O. Crozier, of Grand Rapids, states that his brother, Prof. Arthur Crozier, who died of consumption, acquired the disease while attending the state agricultural college. His window faced the spot where a herd of consumptive cattle was killed, and, it is claimed, germs found their way into his system, killing him.

A GOOD SHOWING.

Reports Made at the Annual Meeting of the State Fair Association Are Very Encouraging.

At the annual meeting of the Michigan State Fair association in Grand Rapids the veteran president, William Ball, of Hamburg, who declined a reelection last fall, presented his retiring address. He outlined the history of the association, showing its steady growth and the difficulties its promoters met with in their attempts to make it a success. He held that the coming to Grand Rapids was the turning point in the association's progress, and since then there has been evidence of ultimate success and future usefulness.

The report of the business committee of the association showed that since the last fair there has been paid on the indebtedness $3,105.07, and that there yet remains on unpaid premiums $197.09 and $1,000 of borrowed money, leaving the total indebtedness at the present time $1,197.09. The treasurer's report that during the past there was paid out the sum of $12,828.84 on business orders, $7,146.75 on the premium list of 1898 and $1,428.07 on the premium list of 1892, leaving a total of $125.51 in the treasury to be turned over to the new officers.

NEGROES IN MICHIGAN.

Labor Commissioner Cox Says the Number Has Been on the Decrease the Past Twenty Years.

Labor Commissioner Cox in his annual report will include a chapter on negroes in the state of Michigan, prepared by A. A. Owens and Harvey C. Jackson, two very intelligent citizens of Afro-American origin. The article is the first ever contained in a state report on this subject, and is of considerable interest. The negro population of the state, as shown by the census of 1894, was 16,240, being little less than three-fourths of one per cent. of the total population. In 1870 the negro population was one per cent. of the total population, but there has since been a continual decrease in the per cent.

It is shown that a large portion of the negroes are engaged in agriculture, and in Calvin township, Cass county, there are 847 negroes, nearly all of whom are owners of farms. Doctors, lawyers, pharmacists, dentists and other professional men are to be found among the negroes of the state.

NOT AN ACCIDENT.

Light Thrown on the Death of Judge Corbett, of Traverse City, While Hunting in Upper Peninsula.

When Judge R. L. Corbett, of Traverse City, was shot while hunting in the upper peninsula last November the report went out that his son Charles had shot him by accident. Circumstances, however, and the statement of the boy disproved this.

Members of the local bar appointed a committee to make an investigation and a report has just been made. The committee finds that Judge Corbett was not killed by the gun carried by his son. The wound was made by a large-sized rifle ball, while the gun carried by the boy was a shotgun and the weapon of the judge was a small caliber rifle. The gun of Corbett was loaded when the body was found.

The committee states that the circumstances indicate that Judge Corbett was killed by design. Efforts are now being made to bring the murderer to justice.

AN INDIAN MOUND.

Investigation Made in Cass County Brings to Light Many Relics of an Interesting Character.

During a recent investigation by Dr. E. J. Bonine, of Niles, of the mounds in Pokagon township, Cass county, the bones of perhaps 100 persons were found in the center of one mound and under these, and separated from his companions, were the bones of a man who in life must have been fully nine feet tall, occupying a sitting position with his feet under him. A number of copper bodkins or pins, from two to three inches in length, were found, and also pins made from the bones of a wolf.

There were numerous copper hatchets, two-edged and sharp, without sockets for handles, one of which was wrapped in a linen cloth resembling in texture those of to-day; also a large seashell that had evidently been used for a dipper.

Will Bore for Coal.

More than $1,000 has been subscribed to make coal tests in the neighborhood of Ithaca. When the wells from which the village gets its supply of water were put down a 16-foot vein of so-called "shale" was found at a depth of 380 feet, beside strong indications of oil. It is now believed that this "shale" is nothing more nor less than coal.

Fine Gift to Albion.

At a council meeting in Albion a deed of the new literary and clubhouse building was offered by Mrs. Mary Sheldon-Ismon to the city and accepted in accordance with the provisions of the offer. The building, which is just about completed, is valued in excess of $20,000.

THE CHELSEA HERALD

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1894

A FAREWELL AND A GREETING.

In retiring from the proprietorship of the Chelsea Herald, I desire to thank all its patrons, readers and friends for the kindly support they have extended to me during the period of over 27 years that has passed since I published the first issue on Oct. 5, 1871.

Bodily infirmity and ever-increasing old age have fully impressed upon me that such a step was necessary and although it is hard to say farewell, such a word must be spoken at some time, and, so, to all my friends and patrons I now say "farewell," with every wish for their future welfare and prosperity.

For my successor, Mr. T. W. Mingay, I bespeak an even more extended patronage, knowing that you will find him fully worthy of it.
A. ALLISON.

In assuming the editorial control and ownership of the Chelsea Herald, which I have purchased from Mr. A. Allison, I desire to say that it will be my endeavor to make the paper one worthy of the patronage of the people of Chelsea and vicinity. I shall at all times do all in my power to promote the welfare of Chelsea, its business men and residents.

The news and all the news of Chelsea and surrounding country will find a place in the columns of the Herald, and to secure this end I ask the cordial co-operation of all, irrespective of party, creed or profession.

The appearance and general makeup of the paper will be improved as fast as circumstances will permit and the paper will be enlarged.

In politics the Herald will be Republican, but it will at all times endeavor to be fair in its treatment of matters that shall be discussed.

I ask for a fair share of your advertising and jobbing patronage and by fair and courteous treatment of all and by doing all work neatly and promptly, at fair prices to merit your kindly support.
Respectfully yours,
TOM W. MINGAY.

The bill before the legislature to make the desertion of one's wife and family a felony instead of a misdemeanor, as at present, is a most righteous one and should become a law and be rigidly enforced. The man who marries a trusting woman and then after living with her for a few years basely deserts her, leaving her to support the young family that has grown up around them, should find a lodgment in the only place fit for him—a prison cell.

The 19 delegates to be elected at the Republican county convention today to the judicial convention of the 22d judicial circuit should be men who will go there in a solid array for the renomination of the present incumbent of the office Judge Edward D. Kinne, of Ann Arbor. He is an honest, honorable and upright judge, skilled in the law and its interpretation, impartial in his administration of it, and has strong running qualities.

William N. Lister, of Saline, the present county commissioner of school, has given the duties of his office a painstaking and conscientious administration, and will receive a renomination at the county convention in accordance with Republican precedent.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stinson's Bank Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Aaron Canine, of York, was struck by an electric car in Ann Arbor Friday afternoon. He was walking behind his horse and wagon and ran to pick up the lines when he heard the car coming and was knocked under his wagon, without injury, however. Canine's experience with the electric cars is not at all a satisfactory one as it was only last year he was arrested for placing obstructions on the track in the township of Pittsfield.

Martin Schatble, of Manchester, took a dose of nitrate of potash (saltpetre), mistaking it for salts, and had a very uncomfortable time and a close call for his life before the doctors could relieve him of the stuff. A Manchester Pioneer's Death.

"Aunt Mary" Walbridge, one of the oldest and best known residents of Manchester, was found frozen to death in the woodshed at the rear of her house, where she lived all alone, by Artie Bailey, on Wednesday morning of last week. There was a large gash in the back of her head, caused by her fall the afternoon previous, and her face and hands were also badly bruised from striking against sticks of wood that were scattered about. Mrs. Walbridge was 87 years old, but in spite of her great age persisted in living alone, refusing the offers of a home with her nephew, A. F. Freeman, or her niece, Mrs. T. B. Bailey. For the past few years it had been necessary to furnish her meals, and when her supper was taken to her Tuesday evening, Feb. 7th, she was not in the house, but nothing was thought of it. It is now supposed that she was even then lying in the woodshed unable to make any outcry. She was the widow of Chauncey Walbridge, who died in 1887. They came to Manchester at an early day and kept the hotel there before the Lake Shore railroad was built. The funeral services held Friday were largely attended in spite of the terribly cold weather.

It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold at Glazier & Stinson's Bank Drug Store. Guaranteed.

The foundry at the Glazier Stove Works has been obliged to be idle for several days the past week on account of the extreme cold weather having delayed the receipt of the coke supply. The railroads have put aside all such shipments possible in order to properly care for their perishable freight is the cause of this.

C. Schafer, the new butcher, who has opened up in the Klein building on North Main street, has as nicely fitted up a shop as can be found in many places of more pretentious size even than Chelsea. He comes to us well recommended and will doubtless receive a full share of public patronage. Success to him.

The Washtenaw County Teachers' Association will meet in Dexter to-morrow evening and Saturday. The full program was published in these columns last week. Our teachers generally should make it a point to attend this meeting as the papers read and the discussions that follow them are productive of a great deal of good.

William Haar, living in Waterloo township, about 10 miles north of this village, met with a fatal accident Tuesday while chopping wood with another man. They were cutting a tree up into firewood when one of the limbs struck him on the back of the head. He died within 15 minutes and before a physician could be summoned. He was 21 years of age.

Miss Cadence Johnson, daughter of Horace N. Johnson, died very suddenly of apoplexy at the family home near North Lake, in Dexter township, last Friday, aged 49 years. The funeral services were held at the house on Monday morning. The remains were brought to Chelsea and interred in the family burial lot in Oak Grove cemetery.

The severe weather of the past two weeks has been especially hard on the game birds, particularly quail, which are more easily affected by cold than any others. Hunters report that when the cold weather comes on a bevy of quail will seek some dense underbrush and all huddle together to keep warm, and therefore are frequently found dead and frozen in a mass.

The Grass Lake News calls the alderman of the fifth ward in Jackson a "bung starter," because he introduced a resolution, before the city council, which was carried, to appropriate $100 to buy an artificial leg for a colored man who lost his own natural leg in a railroad accident. That name must have originated from the fact that the alderman by his resolution opened the bung of the municipal money "bar".

Charles R. Whitman, well known to many residents of Chelsea, who was formerly a successful lawyer in Ann Arbor, removing his office from that city to Detroit two years ago, has now moved to Chicago where he will practice his profession. He was at one time prosecuting attorney of this county and his eloquent tongue has been frequently heard in this village discussing democratic principles during a political campaign.

Saturday last Cavanaugh & Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, acting for the state food commissioner, E. O. Grosvenor, applied to E. D. Kinne for a mandamus to compel Justice John Duffy, of Ann Arbor, to entertain a complaint against an Ann Arbor grocer, for selling oleomargarine not colored in accordance with the provisions of the state law. On Monday the judge denied the mandamus and the case will now be carried to the supreme court to test the constitutionality of the law.

Interested parties from Ann Arbor have been in Grass Lake asking the town board to grant the right of way for an electric road through that town. The board offered them the privilege with a 30 years franchise, but the applicants wanted a perpetual franchise. The Grass Lake News is justly indignant at such a demand, and insists that the rights of the people "be jealously guarded, as such companies as the one in question, when once established, will not only grant no favors, but consider it their privilege on opportune occasions to rob and skin the public and treat its rights and interests with contempt." The News man evidently knows whereof he talks.

Speaking of the purchase by Eugene K. Frueauff of Senator Ward's interest in the Ann Arbor Argus-Democrat, the Grass Lake News man says: "Eugene is well up in newspaper work, leads the singing at prayer meeting and implicitly believes that in time our language will furnish a word that will rhyme with 'month.' He'll prove a hummer on the Argus-D." The writer has known E. K. for a good many years and was always aware that he never could whistle and to tell the truth this is the first time he ever knew that he could sing and lead a prayer meeting. But he is a good newspaper man in spite of these drawbacks.

The valentine social for the young folks given by the Junior Endeavor Society of the Congregation church in the church parlors Tuesday evening was well attended, and was the source of much innocent and pleasurable amusement. A bountiful supper was served at 6 o'clock to which the young people and those of more mature years did equal justice. After tea the sale of the valentines and their subsequent delivery to the little ones by means of an improvised postoffice and letter carriers caused lots of fun. This was the fourth annual affair of its kind that has been given by the Junior Endeavor, and it lacked none of the interest that characterized its predecessors.

The Home College Reading Circle very charmingly entertained the Bay View Reading Circle at the home of Mrs. A. R. Welch, Tuesday evening. A pleasing program was given, the main feature of which was an address on "Hawaii; Its Importance in the World's Progress," by Miss H. S. Norton, of Howell, who spent nearly four years in Honolulu as principal of the ladies' seminary. Miss Norton gave a graphic description of the islands and people, and proved herself such an entertaining speaker that the time allotted her went all too fast. Dainty refreshments were served in a prettily decorated dining room. The souvenirs were heart-shaped and artistically ornamented in honor of St. Valentine's day.

A petition is being circulated and quite generally signed requesting Representative George S. Wheeler, of this district, to vote for and use his influence in favor of the enacting by the legislature of a bill to change the present statutes relative to garnishee proceedings. The petition asks for the following changes: Exempting 80 per cent of all wages up to $10 per week, thus leaving only 20 per cent subject to garnishment, and while protecting every man of family in the purchase of necessities of life, it leaves a creditor a chance of getting at least a portion of his bill. Also requiring all assignments of pay or money due or to become due to be recorded with the town or city clerk in order to be binding, thus preventing the common practice of dating back assignments to defraud creditors.

THE FLAG OF WASHINGTON.

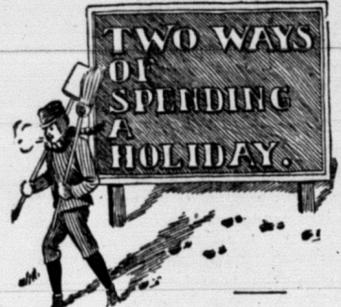

EAR banner of my native land! ye glimmering silver stars, Broad, spotless ground of purity, crossed with your azure bars—

Clasped by the hero-father's hand— watched over in his might, Through battle-hour and day of peace, bright morn and moonless night, Because, within your clustering folds, he knew you surely bore Dear Freedom's hope for human souls to every sea and shore! O precious flag, beneath whose folds such noble deeds are done— The dear old Flag! the starry Flag, the Flag of Washington!

Unfurl, bright stripes—shine forth, clear stars—swing outward to the breeze— Go bear your message to the wilds—go tell it on the seas, That poor men sit within your shade, and rich men in their pride— That beggar boys and statesmen's sons walk 'neath you, side by side; You guard the schoolhouse on the green, the church upon the hill, And fold your precious blessings round the cabin by the rill. While weary hearts from every land beneath the shining sun Find work, and rest, and home beneath the Flag of Washington.

And never, never on the earth, however brave they be, Shall friends or foes bear down this great, proud standard of the Free, Though they around its staff may pour red blood in rushing waves, And build beneath its starry folds great pyramids of graves; For God looks out, with sleepless eye, upon His children's deeds, And sees through all their good and ill, their sufferings and their needs, And He will watch, and He will keep, till human rights have won, The dear old Flag, the starry Flag! the Flag of Washington!

—F. W. Gillett, in Union Signal.

TWO WAYS OF SPENDING A HOLIDAY.

IT WAS Washington's birthday, and the snow had been falling steadily all night, so that when the sun forced its way at last through the hanging clouds, the whole city lay covered with a smooth, white mantle. Two very different little boys stood at the windows of two very different homes, and looking out upon the snow with a very different feeling in their hearts.

"I tell you what, mother," said Connor McGuire, "here is a stroke of luck! No school to-day, and the snow at least eight inches deep. How many quarters do you suppose I'll make shoveling pavements between this and dinner time?"

"Indeed and it's the money that will be welcome," said his mother, looking up from the stove, where their modest breakfast was in preparation. "But it's a poor way to be spending your holiday, Connor—working harder than if you were at school."

"Bah! that's nothing. Shoveling snow is as good as play," answered Connor, who, to tell the truth, was not very fond of his books. "Give me my cup of coffee, mother, and I'm off. It's rich we're going to be this day, and me with a new wooden shovel that will make the snow fly quicker than powder."

"Good-by, then, and good luck to you," said his mother, as the little figure trudged gayly off, with the new shovel resting on one shoulder and his broom on the other. "It's the jewel of a boy you are, anyway, and your father's very self over again, more's my luck."

And the widow turned back cheerfully to her own hard day's work.

"Dear me!" sighed Freddy Lester, as he stood looking disconsolately out of his nursery window. "Too much snow to go out, and nothing to do at home. I don't see what's the use of having a holiday if one can't have a little fun on it."

"Why, Master Fred, I am ashamed of you!" said his nurse. "Haven't you toys, and books, and games, and a dear little sister to play with? And isn't your father going to take you out sleighing this very afternoon, if you are a good boy?"

"But I don't suppose I will be good," replied Fred, in an injured tone. "How is a boy to be good when there is nothing to amuse him? And I don't want to play with Nell. She is only a baby, and a silly one at that. Didn't she drop my best agate out of the window yesterday and break it all to bits? I wish I could go out!" and he leaned moodily against the window sill and gazed down into the streets.

Underneath a boy, not much taller than himself, was cleaning off the snow, working away vigorously, and stopping every now and then to hold his ears with his red-mittened hands or to warm his feet by stamping up and down the frosty pavement.

Fred watched him with interest. After awhile the boy looked up, and, seeing the curly head in the window, nodded and smiled, upon which Fred nodded and smiled back, and for the moment quite forgot to be cross.

When the pavement was nearly clean he slipped out of the nursery, ran down the stairs and softly opened the big front door.

"Good morning!" he said. Aren't you very cold?"

"Good morning!" responded the boy, taking off his cap politely and eying the small, shivering figure in the doorway. "No, I am not so very cold, but I am thinking you will be soon."

"Oh, I can go in and warm myself," said Fred, "and so can you, if you want to. I'll take you into the kitchen."

"Thank you!" answered Connor, for it was he. "But I want to clean as many pavements as I can this morning, and I have no time to spare."

"And what are you going to get for this one?"

"Twenty cents."

"Is that all? What a lot of work for only 20 cents!"

Connor laughed.

"But you see," he said, "this is my third pavement this morning. That makes 60 cents. And if I clean three more that will be a dollar and twenty cents."

"But at that rate you will be at work nearly all day," said Fred. "Now, I am going sleighing with my father this afternoon. Were you ever in a sleigh?"

"Once only—in the milkman's. But I have a sled of my own. I made it all myself."

"Master Fred! Master Fred!" called a voice from the hall; and nurse, hurrying out, drew in her charge and shut the door with a bang. "Do you want to catch your death of cold, standing on the steps this freezing morning without so much as a cap on your head? If you are not more care than a baby!"

had cleaned the pavement in the morning came slowly by, tugging after him a big, rough sled. Recognizing the house, he glanced up and saw the woe-begone little figure standing behind the parlor curtains.

"Good day!" he said, in a friendly fashion. "Are you waiting for your sleigh ride?"

Fred, glad to have some one to talk to, threw open the window and leaned out.

"I am not going," he said, disconsolately.

"Not going! Why?"

"Because I was bad, and papa wouldn't take me."

"Whew!" Connor gave a sympathetic whistle. "What all have you been doing?"

"Oh, I broke Nell's doll, and kicked my shoe into the fire, and would not have my hair brushed, and—lots of things!" said Fred, dismissing the rest of his shortcomings in a breath.

Connor gave another whistle.

"Well, you did make it lively," he said, "and I don't much wonder that you lost your drive. But put on your coat and come out, and I'll give you a pull on my sled instead."

"Oh, shall I?" cried Fred, delighted, and then stopped. "Papa told me I was not to leave the house to-day," he said, slowly. "But I think it's too bad not to have any fun at all on Washington's birthday. I just hate Washington and his birthday, too."

"Oh, it isn't Washington's fault, you know!" said Connor, impatiently. "But, of course, you can't come if your father said not to. I am real sorry, though; and my day has been such a jolly one."

"Has it?" asked Fred, curiously. "How much did you make cleaning pavements?"

"A dollar and a quarter—just five cents more than I expected."

"And what are you going to do with the money?"

"Spent—every penny of it!"

"What! All on candy?" asked Fred, measuring his companion's capacity in the line by his own.

"Candy!" echoed Connor, contemptuously. "I should think not." Then checking off the sums rapidly on his fingers: "Mutton, 35 cents; coal, 40;

LESTER SEES THE JEWEL OF A BOY.

Fred wriggled away from her and scampered upstairs to avoid further scolding.

"Oh, dear!" he sighed. "I hate this old nursery, and it will be hours and hours before afternoon comes. I just know I am not going to be good at all. I don't feel any goodness in me!"

And apparently he didn't. A restless spirit of mischief seemed to have taken possession of the child, and its twofold result was to keep the nursery in hot water all morning and himself at home all afternoon.

"He is not often this naughty," pleaded his mother, sorry for her little boy's disappointment. "But the walking was too bad for him to go out, and there was nothing to occupy him in the house."

"Wasn't there?" said his father, dryly. "Well, all I know is that he has more toys and books now upstairs than I ever saw when I was a child; and, if I had ever ventured to be one-half as troublesome and disobedient as he has been this morning, I would have found myself in bed about three hours ago. It's no use, Fred! A bargain is a bargain, and you have broken your half of it. So don't cry like a baby, but take your punishment like a little man."

Poor Fred! He was not a baby, with all his faults, and he stood quietly by the window, choking back his rising tears, as the sleigh drove gayly off with his mother and Baby Nell tucked away under the warm carriage robe, and an empty place by his father where he ought to have been. Even after it had disappeared, he stood gazing into the streets, which were growing misty before his eyes, when the same boy who tea, 25; sugar, nine; bread, seven, and the rest in apples for the children. Not a bad day's work that; and now I am going to the hill for a coast."

Fred was silent for a minute. There was something in his companion's day that made him feel a little ashamed of his own.

"Good-by," he said, soberly. "I wish I could go coasting, too; but I know I can't."

And, shutting the window resolutely, he turned back into the lonely room.

"I am afraid my little boy has not had a very pleasant or profitable holiday," said his mother, when she tucked him in bed that night, and gave him a last kiss.

"Well, no, I haven't," Fred admitted. "But the boy—the snow boy I told you about, mamma—said it wasn't Washington's fault. So maybe—perhaps—it was mine."—Agnes Repplier, in Golden Days.

Washington's Plan.

"I won by beating retreats," said Gen. Washington at the close of the war. "Whenever I found the enemy too strong I beat a retreat."

"But you won many victories," said Cornwallis.

"Well," said George, with a twinkle in his eye, "doesn't a victory beat a retreat?"—Up to Date.

Several hands went up.

"Better Be Wise Than Rich."

Wise people are also rich when they know a perfect remedy for all annoying diseases of the blood, kidneys, liver and bowels. It is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is perfect in its action. It so regulates the entire system as to bring vigorous health. It never disappoints.

Coltre.—For 42 years I had coltre, or swellings on my neck, which was discouraging and troublesome. Rheumatism also annoyed me. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me completely and the swelling has entirely disappeared. A lady in Michigan saw my previous testimonial and used Hood's and was entirely cured of the same trouble. She thanked me for recommending it. Mrs. ANNA SUTHERLAND, 406 Lovel Street, Kalamazoo, Mich.

Poor Health.—Had poor health for years, pains in shoulders, back and hips, with constant headache, nervousness and no appetite. Used Hood's Sarsaparilla, gained strength and can work hard all day; eat heartily and sleep well. I took it because it helped my husband." Mrs. ELIZABETH J. GIFFELS, Moose Lake, Minn.

MALABON CAPTURED.

Gen. Otis Takes Another Insurgent Stronghold After a Hard Fight—The Losses.

Manila, Feb. 13.—Malabon was taken Saturday by the American troops, the insurgents setting fire to the town as they retreated. The outposts have been advanced beyond Caloocan, and Malabon, north of Caloocan, was shelled Saturday morning by the monitor Monadnock and the cruiser Charleston. In extending the left wing of the American army much desultory firing from the insurgents has been encountered. The monitor Monadnock steamed from her position off Malabon and hurled scores of shells along the coast line, demoralizing the insurgents and sending them scurrying toward the mountains while the American column was advancing.

In this attack the American arms suffered a loss of two killed and nine wounded. The insurgent loss was heavy. After the retreat of the insurgent forces plans showing a meditated attack upon Manila were discovered. It is estimated that the strength of Aguinaldo's army is about 40,000, which is made up in part of Ygarotes and mountaineers. The evident design of Gen. Otis' campaign is to pursue the rebels into the mountains and so surround them as to prevent the escape of Aguinaldo, who, it is now understood, is on his way to the insurgent capital, Malolos. Here, it is thought, he will attempt to make a last stand with what is left of his shattered army, and when forced back the insurgent army will break into outlaw bands and seek the fastnesses of the mountains for security. It is impossible for the American army. They are, however, attempting to destroy the towns from which they are driven.

The fire at Malabon, set by the insurgents as they retreated, was also put out without great difficulty. Beyond Caloocan the railroad lines are still held by the rebels, but up to this point the American troops are in possession and have most of the road's rolling stock. Haytag and Canita has surrendered to the American advance guard. Hundreds of unarmed Filipinos are seeking asylum within the American lines.

Manila, Feb. 13.—Friday afternoon a reconnoitering party of the Fourteenth infantry came upon a large body of the enemy in the jungle near Camp Dewey. The rebels were attacked, and fell back upon the main line of the insurgents. The Fourteenth infantry, the North Dakota volunteers, and the Fourth cavalry then engaged the enemy and drove them toward the beach, where one of the gunboats received them with a fusillade from automatic Colt guns. The enemy's loss is severe, and they scattered along the beach, seeking cover from the fire of the Americans.

Privates Ransom, Hensel and Saunders, of company F, of the Fourteenth infantry, and two troopers of the Fourth cavalry were wounded. The bodies of two members of the California regiment were subsequently found in the bush to the right of the line. They had been shot to pieces by the enemy. One of these bodies was identified as that of Private Abneppham, but the other has not yet been identified.

It is now known that the Filipino loss is fully 2,500 killed, with wounded vastly in excess of that number, and thousands are held prisoners. All this has been achieved at the cost of 65 Americans killed and 276 wounded. There are 25 Americans missing and unaccounted for. No fewer than ten of the native villages have surrendered or been captured. Several have been destroyed because their houses harbored men, frequently disguised in female attire, who shot from windows and roof tops at the American troops. Many rifles and a ton of ammunition have been seized. As might be expected, there has been looting in the outskirts, but it has not been general, and has been done in direct violation of orders.

Washington, Feb. 13.—A dispatch from Gen. Otis received at the War department Sunday morning says he has been informed that the attack made on the American forces by the rebels was in pursuance of advices received by Aguinaldo from Hong-Kong.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Gen. Otis sent two cablegrams from Manila giving the names of the American soldiers killed and wounded in Friday's battle at Caloocan. Four men were killed and 46 wounded. Thousands of Filipinos were killed or wounded.

BAD FIRE IN CHICAGO.

Book and Stationery Firm of A. C. McClurg & Co., Suffer a Loss of $450,000.

Chicago, Feb. 13.—Fire Sunday destroyed the five-story brick building on the northwest corner of Madison street and Wabash avenue, occupied by the book and stationery firm of A. C. McClurg & Co., entailing a loss of $450,000, of which $300,000 is on stock. Mandel Bros., dry goods store, adjoining in the rear, was damaged $10,000. The fire was caused by an explosion of gas from a leaking pipe on the third floor. Zero weather hindered the firemen, many of whom were severely frostbitten. Frozen water mains checked the supply of water. McClurg's stock was insured for $350,000.

INSANE WOMEN BURN.

Seventeen Inmates of South Dakota Insane Asylum Perish in a Fire Which Destroys a Cottage.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 13.—A Bee special from Yankton, S. D., says: One of the most horrifying fires in the history of Yankton occurred Sunday morning at two o'clock at the state insane asylum when one of the cottages took fire in the basement, completely gutting the building and causing the loss of lives of 17 inmates confined there. The names of those missing and the counties from whence they came, are:

Augusta Boerse, Lake county; Julia Erickson Meade, Ella Lokken, Coddington; Margaret Lynch, Union; Jostiana Olson, Hamlin; Martenia Tennyson, Pennington; Elizabeth Stolpe, Davison; Mrs. Kampani, Brown; Maggie Flynn, Hamlin; Lucina Gossage, Hamlin; Adelina Hurley, Potter; Christina Johnston, Coddington; Jennie Kronig, Pennington; Lusia Keene, Coddington; Caroline Lindberg, Brown; Katie Plavitz, Bonhomme; Gaim Swanson, Kingsbury.

The cottage was erected of stone and granite walls with wooden interior and intended for laundry purposes, but owing to the crowded condition of the main building 40 of the female patients were placed here with the laundry in the basement. The exact cause of the fire is not known, except that it originated in the dryroom of the laundry. Here there is a coil of steam pipes and the theory is that either fine particles similar to lint settled on the pipes which ignited, or that clothes, which were thickly hung here, dropped on the pipes and were fired.

With the thermometer standing at 23 degrees below zero it was a heart-rending sight to witness those escaping coming down the narrow flight of stairs in their night clothing and bare feet into the bitter cold, and had it not been for the nearness of shelter the suffering and probable loss of life from freezing would have been terrible. The building was three stories high, with an attic and two entrances, one east and one west. There was one stairway from the second and third floors which led into the main halls to these entrances, thus giving but one egress for those in the second and third floors and attic. Fifty-two persons were in the burning building, 40 patients and 12 female attendants. The attendants escaped, as did the others who were saved, with none of their personal effects, many losing all that they possessed.

An inquest is now in progress at the asylum, not yet completed, which may develop the exact cause of the fire. It is not thought blame will be attached to anyone for carelessness. Portions of charred remains can be seen in the debris at the bottom of the basement which appear to be nearly in a pile near the northwest wall. The four walls of huge stone still stand black and grim and will make the work of removal dangerous, as a total collapse is liable to occur without a moment's warning. Competent labor will be employed for the removal of the walls, debris and remains. The replacing of the laundry will necessarily be made at once and undoubtedly steps for the immediate replacing of the building will be taken. The asylum in 1882, then a frame building, was destroyed and only six lives lost except for loss of property. It was in no sense an instance to this fire. Total loss on building and machinery is estimated to be $18,000. No insurance whatever.

LUCK OF A WISCONSIN MAN.

H. A. Taylor, Editor of the State Journal, Is Nominated for Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 13.—"Hod" A. Taylor, nominated Saturday for assistant secretary of the treasury, is one of the keenest politicians in Wisconsin. He is 61 years old and was born in St. Lawrence county, N. Y. Moving to Wisconsin in 1855, he worked on a farm, drove a stage and became a printer. He first came into prominence as editor of the Hudson Star and Times. There he met Senator Spooner and the two have since been close personal friends. He was chairman of the republican state central committee for years. He has had rare success as an officeholder. He made his tenstrike while a state senator by fighting the railroads. Then President Harrison made him railroad commissioner. He was state timber agent from 1876 to 1881, when he resigned to take the position of consul to Marseilles. During the world's fair he was a commissioner. He was twice an unsuccessful aspirant for the republican nomination for governor. He has been in Madison since 1893 as editor of the State Journal.

Even after dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness and constipation have secured a foothold and become chronic, the Bitters will afford speedy relief.

HEALTHY MATERNITY.

Two Grateful Women Tell of the Help They Have Received From Mrs. Pinkham.

The climax of life force in woman is capable motherhood. The first requisite for a good mother is good health. Health of body means health of the generative organs.

Read what Mrs. G. A. NONMAKER, Bluffton, Ohio, says about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and how well it prepared her for maternity:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I must say a word in praise of your Vegetable Compound. I used three bottles of it when I was pregnant, and labor was not nearly as long as it was with my other babies; and my baby is so healthy to what the others were. I think every woman should use your Compound when pregnant, it will save them so much suffering and misery. I cannot say enough in praise of it. If ever I need medicine again, I shall use your Compound."

The most successful tonic known to medicine for women approaching maternity is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a safeguard for every woman who uses it, and the fullest benefit comes from its use with Mrs. Pinkham's advice freely offered to all woman. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Here is a convincing statement, bearing directly on this subject, from Mrs. E. BISHOP, of 1848 Pacific St., Brooklyn, N. Y.:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am a great believer in your Compound. I was almost despairing of ever again being well, as I was a great sufferer, and had been for years. I suffered from womb trouble, and had terrible blind fits. After writing to you I tried your Compound. The result was astonishing. I have used it and advocated it ever since. In childbirth it is a perfect boon. I have often said that I should like to have its merits thrown on the sky with a search-light, so that all women would read, and be convinced that there is a remedy for their sufferings."

A Million Women have been Benefited by Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Medicine

Two Marriages

The wedding of Mr William Frederic Kress, of Freedom, and Miss Frances Neuburger, an estimable young lady of Chelsea, was one of the prettiest of the season, and was solemnized at St. Mary's church, Chelsea, on Tuesday, Feb. 14, '99.

After the ceremony a large reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neuburger, during which the company sat down to an elegant wedding breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Kress left on the evening train for Detroit to make a brief visit with Sister Evangelista, formerly Miss Emelie Neuburger, who is a sister of the bride.

On Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, 1899, at St. Mary's rectory, Mr. Franklin Edward Gieske and Miss Caroline Forner, both of Sharon, were united in marriage by the Rev. William P. Considine, rector of St. Mary's church.

They will begin housekeeping at once, attended by the good wishes of many friends for a happy wedded life.

Michigan Crop Report.

Lansing, Feb. 8, 1899.

There was very little precipitation in Michigan in January until the last few days of the month. The average depth of snow on the 15th inst. was in the southern counties 0.16 of an inch, in the central 0.37 of an inch, and in the northern counties 4.67 inches.

In reply to the question, "has wheat during January suffered injury from any cause?" 372 correspondents in the southern counties answer "yes," and 72 "no."

The prevailing opinion is that wheat has suffered considerable injury. Conditions have been very unfavorable, yet the outcome depends very largely on the weather that follows.

The total number of bushels of wheat reported marketed by farmers in January at the flouring mills is 526,901, and at the elevators 561,943, or a total of 1,088,844 bushels for the month.

Live stock throughout the State is in fairly good condition, feed being plenty; there are some reports of horses having distemper, of cholera among hogs, and of minor diseases among other stock.

Washington News.

Washington, D. C., February 10, 1899.—It is not surprising that Aguinaldo should have had the idea that the sovereignty of the Philippines would be passed from Spain to the United States by the ratification of the treaty of peace by our Senate.

Nothing but good words are heard in administration and Congressional circles, and also, from the general public, for Gen. Otis. He has proven his soldierly qualities by giving the Filipinos as thorough a thrashing as was ever administered to any army.

Gen. Eagan's suspension from rank and duty for six years by the President, is generally regarded as justifiable punishment. Under that sentence Gen. Eagan will continue to draw the salary of a brigadier-general, —$5,500,—but all of the usual allowances for officers will be cut off.

It has generally been known since the first session of the present Congress that bills providing for the erection of public buildings were on Speaker Reed's black list, although he soothed many advocates of such bills by hinting that they would be given a chance later.

War Department officials object to having the gentlemen selected to consider matters relating to Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines, referred to as the "Colonial board," and say that they are merely advisers of the War Department.

Although there is still a possibility that this Congress will pass and send to the President a Nicaragua Canal bill, Senator Morgan, whose bill passed the Senate, is not confident of the success of the scheme to pass the Hepburn bill as a substitute for his, in the House, and then get the matter referred to a conference committee, which can agree upon something between the two bills.

The report of the War Investigating Commission, like reports from most government commissions, does not please anybody overmuch. Those who expected wholesale condemnation of the War Department call it a "whitewash," while there are officials who consider it unnecessarily harsh towards them.
