GRADUATING CLASS OF '99

Are Now in the Midst of Their Commencement Exercises.

THE CLASS DAY EXERCISES

LAST EVENING PASSED OFF MOST PLEASANTLY.—ALL WHO PARTICIPATED DID SO WITH CREDIT TO THEMSELVES AND TO THEIR TEACHERS.

The weather the past few days has been ideal weather for commencement week and has had a correspondingly brightening effect on the 17 boys and girls who will receive their diplomas as graduates of the Chelsea High School tonight.

The commencement exercises opened on Sunday evening with the baccalaureate sermon which was preached at St. Mary's Catholic church by the pastor Rev. Wm. Considine. The church was nicely decorated and was filled to overflowing by the large congregation that had assembled. The music was fine, Miss Dunn's solos being especially admired. Rev. Fr. Considine's sermon was an excellent one, full of good advice to the coming graduates, on whom he urged the importance of being faithful in all they undertook to do or be.

The class day exercises were held last evening in the opera house and it was filled with the relatives and friends of the graduates. It must be admitted, however, that were it not for the ladies the attendance would have been a slim one, for, as the Irishman said, "The gentlemen present were notable by their absence." The stage was decorated overhead with the yellow and blue colors of the class and plants and flowers added to its pretty appearance.

The program opened with a lively selection by the Eolian Orchestra, which was excellently rendered and showed a great improvement in their work over their first appearance in public March 17. To the closing strains of a march played on the piano by Mrs. George P. Staffan, the class of '99 marched on the stage, preceded by the two little pages, Marjorie Freeman and Dorothea Bacon, and took their seats. Rev. C. S. Jones then offered an invocation and Messrs. Louis Burg, John Eisenmann, George A. and Floyd Ward sang a pretty quartet. The full program was as follows:

The salutatory by John Hindelang was well prepared and well delivered. In it he said the class of '99 had the distinction of being the last class to graduate in the 19th century and the first to enter the U. of M. without examination.

Miss Emma Wines' essay on "Beauty" came next on the program and was well received.

The class history by Miss Edith Bacon was bright and piquant and caused many audible smiles during its delivery.

Faye Palmer's class poem was unique in the many rubs that it gave to different parties, particularly the one given to parents and guardians who seldom if ever visit the schools and by their presence encourage their children to persevere.

Mr. George H. Kempf next sang "The Brigand's Love Song," in good style and with pleasing effect.

The oration "Our Country in War," by Ralph H. Holmes, was the best number of the evening, given in a clear and ringing voice with considerable fire and animation as befitted such a subject. He said it was a mistake to think that the time when war should be no more had come, and then pictured the war history of America from the landing of the pilgrim fathers down to the present time. He was roundly applauded at the close of his speech.

Warren Boyd's class prophecy was well written, well thought out and well delivered, containing many pleasant drives at his classmates, but as he claimed to have been asleep under an apple tree at the time he

TRAPPED BY REBELS.

Battalion of American Troops Fight for Their Lives.

Attacked by Apparently Friendly Filipinos, Their Ammunition Runs Out—Wheaton to the Rescue—Loss 5 Killed and 25 Wounded.

Imus, June 20, 8:40 o'clock a. m. (by carrier pigeon to Manila).—Gen. Wheaton is advancing into the village of Perezdasmarinas. The insurgents are flying before the American forces. Monday evening the out troops drove the insurgents from the position from which the attack was made yesterday. The men rested for the night after the battle and this morning the advance was begun early, under Wheaton's leadership.

Fought for Their Lives.

Members of the First battalion of the Fourth infantry fought for their lives Monday. They were attacked in the rear by apparently friendly Filipinos. The 300 Americans who form Maj. Bubb's command found themselves almost surrounded by 1,000 Filipinos when fully six miles from reinforcements. In order to make the annihilation of the Americans more certain the insurgent commander sent 1,000 more Filipinos to make a flank movement on the left of Maj. Bubb's little band. The battle began at noon near Perezdasmarinas, about six miles south of Imus, which was the American base. Maj. Bubb with the First battalion of the Fourth infantry and Lieut. Koepfer with one piece of artillery had been sent from Imus to take possession of Perezdasmarinas.

Mixed by the Friendlies.

The American officers had received reports that the enemy had deserted the village. The alcalde of the town came to Imus, formally surrendered the town and urged that a force be sent there to prevent the insurgents from looting it. As Maj. Bubb's men advanced they noticed that the houses along the roadside were filled with amigos (friendlies), who pretended to welcome them.

The battalion advanced confidently until within three-quarters of a mile of Perezdasmarinas, when Maj. Bubb discovered that the enemy was paralleling the road for a long distance on both sides of the battalion. The Americans were practically surrounded. When they had reached a place in the roadway sunk beneath the rest of the country the insurgents opened fire. Their volleys were augmented by the insurgents hidden in the houses along the road, who poured a murderous fire into the rear of our troops.

Maj. Bubb's men immediately went into action, and while engaging the force to the right side of the road another equally strong force appeared on their left. They received with cheers the news that they were being flanked, and a part of the battalion turned upon the enemy in the new direction and met the attack with steady volleys.

Terrible Fire from Insurgents.

The fight began at noon. The enemy's fire was silenced by the Americans in an hour. Maj. Bubb in retiring discovered that he had been surrounded. He sent skirmish lines which crowded the Filipinos back toward Imus. The outflankers were under a fire from both the right and the left. The rear guard was fighting desperately to hold the enemy's rushes in check. There was an incessant and galling fire down the main road. Men were falling everywhere. The ambulance was filled with the wounded. Carts were pressed into the service, loaded with the wounded and dead and dragged by prisoners whom our troops had captured.

Wheaton to the Rescue.

At three o'clock it looked as if nothing could save the battalion. Our men had been forced to leave two of our dead behind. At four they had pressed the enemy off to the right, and were at last behind them. Fifteen minutes later Capt. Hazard, an aid of Gen. Wheaton's, pushed through alone with the news that Wheaton was coming to the relief. The men cheered wildly, and went for the Filipinos again.

Mowed Down the Rebels.

When Gen. Wheaton arrived he found the enemy, 1,000 strong, moving to intercept the road which runs at right angles to that leading to Imus. He opened with shrapnel and mowed down the insurgents until the left wing of our troops was cleared of the enemy. Then he advanced rapidly, and at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon had the enemy in full rout. The insurgents fought desperately. Finally, after an hour's constant firing, they began slowly to retreat. The Americans followed up their advantage, giving the Filipinos fearful punishment.

Natives in white clothes were captured by Fourth infantry men with their guns in their hands. This clearly proves the whole movement was a scheme by which the insurgents hoped to wipe out the small American force. It might have succeeded but for the marvelous courage of the troops and officers.

The regiment bivouacked Monday night in the rice fields. Food and ammunition were rushed forward to them. The Americans lost five killed and 25 wounded.

[LETTER TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 7641]

"One year ago last June three doctors gave me up to die, and as I had at different times used your Vegetable Compound with good results, I had too much faith in it to die until I had tried it again. I was apparently an invalid, was confined to my bed for ten weeks (I believe my trouble was ulceration of womb).

"After taking four bottles of the Compound and using some of the Liver Pills and Sanative Wash, at the end of two months I had greatly improved and weighed 155 pounds, when I never before weighed over 138. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine I ever used, and I recommend it to all my friends." Mrs. ANNA EVA GUNTER, HIGGINSVILLE, MO.

Detroit Journal: Had the legislators thought of it they might have had the new carpet cut up into strips for door mats. It is believed that no guilty cuspidor escaped.

The legislature stopped legislating last Friday, and the legislators packed their grips with a good many things not contained in them when they were taken to Lansing, and departed for their several homes.

Governor Pingree's veto of the bill appropriating $40,000 for the Buffalo exposition will meet with the favor of the farming community. His veto of the beet sugar bounty bill will meet with equal favor from the city folks, and so both classes of voters are, in a measure, pleased.

Ann Arbor Courier: Ex-Sheriff Judson was one of the most active supporters of the one-fourth mill bill during its consideration at the state capitol. He openly espoused the bill and assisted its many other supporters in the house and senate. Ann Arbor will remember its friends.

When the session of the Kansas legislature was about to close last winter guards were placed at the doors of the state capitol to prevent the legislators running off with the furniture, etc., that they had been using during the session. The disgraceful scene has been witnessed the past week of Michigan law makers doing just such a thing. Not content with carting off ink and mucilage bottles, pens, ink, pencils, paper knives, etc., they even swiped the $1 gilt cuspidors which they daily used to spit in. Bah! such a condition of petty spoliation is disgusting.

There is a grave financial crisis existing at present in Great Britain. The Bank of England has allowed its gold reserve to be tapped to such an extent that only the importation of gold from the United States will prevent, or at least tide over, a financial crash. This is a great turn over in the money market. Under President Cleveland's administration bonds had to be issued to keep the United States gold reserve above the danger line. Now, under a Republican administration, there is a billion dollars in gold in the country, and this result has been accomplished in a little over two years. Heretofore Lombard street, London, has been looked to as dominating the money of the world, now Lombard street is looking to Washington, U. S. A., for help to tide over a possible financial crisis. These facts, with the era of prosperity that exists in the country, despite the cries of the croakers and calamity howlers, is a good argument in favor of the general soundness of Republican governmental doctrine.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood-purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold at Glazier & Stinson's Bank Drug Store. Guaranteed

The announcement has just been made of the marriage of Andrew J. Sawyer, jr., and Miss Lulu Rose, of Stockbridge, Mich. The ceremony took place at Sandwich, Ont. July 20, 1898, but has been kept a secret until very recently. Mrs. Sawyer arrived in Ann Arbor yesterday to join her husband.

Lewis Stevens, of Waterloo, was lying asleep under the shade of a tree Tuesday when a chap came along who thought he would see how close he could drive a cart, in which he was riding, to Stevens' body. Newspaper men a great many times, are blamed for a lot of things they cannot help, such as partiality in mentioning visitors, giving news about some folks and leaving out others. They simply print the news they can find. A reporter should not be expected to know the names of your uncles, aunts and cousins, even if he should see them get off the train. He will be pleased to have you tell him about it. Paste this in your hat and when you have an item of news give it to the editor of the Herald or put it in the item box at the foot of the stairs leading to the office.

The Grass Lake News says: "Victor Moeckel, of Waterloo, fell from the porch of their house to the ground, a distance of about one foot, and broke his arm." That must have been the dog house judging from the height of the porch.

George Webster, court deputy of Court Chelsea, No. 1612, sent in to the High Court officers the $1,000 claim of Albert Hindelang, deceased, for settlement. A draft in payment of the same was returned to him Friday afternoon last and he paid it over to the beneficiaries the same evening.

The story that Rev. L. Koelbing, pastor of St. Paul's church, had been held up by tramps and robbed turns out to be a fake of the largest proportions. Mr. Koelbing says there is no truth in it whatever and furthermore he was not away from the house the day on which the hold-up was said to have occurred.

The Michigan monthly bulletin of vital statistics for May shows that there were 34 deaths in Washtenaw county during that month. Of this number Ann Arbor city had 13, Ypsilanti city 3, Augusta, Lima, Lodi, Lyndon, Manchester, Northfield, Scio, Webster, York and Ypsilanti town 1 each, Salem and Superior 3 each, Saline village 1.

The genial congressman's many friends in this county and the editors of the county newspapers with their wives have been invited to meet him. It will be a pleasant affair. Several Chelsea people have received invitations to be present.

A recent ruling of the international revenue department which will interest a large number of people is to the effect that an order for the payment of money, drawn by one officer of a lodge or society on the treasurer thereof, does not require to be stamped, if presented for payment by the party in whose favor it is drawn. But if the order is cashed by the bank or otherwise negotiated and presented to the treasurer for payment by a party other than the one in whose favor it was originally drawn, it requires a 2-cent stamp.

Mrs. Schefferstein is building a two room addition to her house on Washington street.

Two hundred and seventy-five graduates of the law department, U. of M., were admitted to the bar in the Washtenaw circuit court Monday morning. Hon. A. J. Sawyer, in an appropriate speech, moved that they be admitted. Judge Kinne said: "Like all men and women with whom you come in contact, Mr. Sawyer, I cannot resist your appeal," and the class took the oath together. One hundred of the number will practice in Michigan.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Recreation Park Association held last Saturday it was decided to sell off the land lying on the north end of the park in four one-acre lots, also the main building, sheds, etc., by auction on Saturday, July 1. It is believed that by so doing enough money can be raised so that the parties can be found who will put up the necessary funds to retain the remaining 18 acres, the grand stand, etc., for race or show ground purposes.

According to the Ann Arbor Argus Peter Lehman claims that the real name of Postmaster Pond, of Ann Arbor, is George Wasserloch. Editor Helber, of the Neue Washtenaw Post, says that is a mistake, as the real name is George Teich. The Argus further says, "This will be quite a relief to friend George, as it will be much easier for him to write his name Teich than Wasserloch." George is quite a "Tige" anyhow. See, how he did "sic-em" after that post office; and he got it, too.

Discovered by a Woman.

Another great discovery has been made, and that too by a lady in this country. "Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night; and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamnick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's Bank Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

TOOK ACTIVE PART IN LITERARY AFFAIRS

"A Little Duffer with a Cane"—Football in the Sixties—Description of a "Rush" and a Baseball Game Given in a Pleasing and Entertaining Manner.

[Special Correspondence.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 14.—Among the present day writers who are graduates of the University of Michigan is Stanley Waterloo. He entered the literary department of the university as a freshman in the fall of 1865, taking the scientific course. Although in the university but two years, he took an active part in college affairs. In his freshman year he was honored with the position of class secretary and was elected to membership in the Alpha Nu Literary society and the Prescott club. In his sophomore year he became a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity, one of the secret Greek letter societies existing in Ann Arbor, and filled the office of secretary of the Alpha Nu society during the first semester.

A Great Reader.

As a student Mr. Waterloo was not conspicuous for his brilliancy. The greater part of his time he spent in the library, devouring volume after volume. The college life of the time can be learned from his recent novel, entitled "The Launching of a Man." In this the while the freshmen were cast aside to watery graves of a moment. There were too many freshmen, though, in the rear. The lines upon the walk were too long. There were in their columns too many pounds of healthy flesh and bone to be effirely carried away by the sophomore rush. . . . The freshmen, some of them giants, thrown into the water by the first rush, were scrambling to their feet, leaping fiercely against the sophomore line and from it tearing men down into the water with them. Each such rough abstraction weakened the hitherto solid column, and it wavered and swung. The strong men in front grappled with those opposing them, and they swayed and surged, then toppled into the water by twos and twos, with mighty splashes.

More men rushed forward and went off in turn, and so this rush degenerated into a mighty aquatic hand-to-hand struggle, with freshmen nearly in the proportion of two to one. It was a battle to become famous in college annals. There were cries and shouts, and the waters, so peaceful and apparently pure a few minutes before, were a roily expanse in which men splashed and wallowed, and which some of them swallowed in unseemly quantity. . . . A lull came, and as the two classes stood glowering at each other, the argus-eyed Billy Barnes discovered among the sophomores some half-dozen gentlemen whose garb was in perfect order, unwet and unstained. He intimated that if anything in the world were desirable in a sophomore class it was what he termed "homogeneity of appearance," and suggested that a result so desirable could be easily secured. His suggestion was received with wildest shouts. There was a rush upon the infamously dry ones, and they were hustled to the water and plunged beneath its murky flood. This punitive performance was observed instantly by the freshmen upon the other side, and with a roar they encircled their own recreants. It was a fine and edifying performance, a carnival of sanguinary baptism, and all were happy save the unfortunates who had been laggard in the late encounter. . . . And the sun dried the combatants for a long half hour, until class time came and they entered the recitation rooms still steaming. The professors made no comment. Not theirs to regulate the bathing times of their pupils.

A Baseball Game.

Another incident which Mr. Waterloo has described in a pleasing way is a baseball game at Detroit between the 'varsity nine and a Detroit nine. The score was a tie in the ninth inning and remained so during the tenth and first half of the eleventh. Sargent came to bat for the university in the last half of the eleventh:

He struck once and missed. He seemed dazed a little and set his teeth. The shadow flitted again, and again he missed. Then his face whitened a little, and the muscles and veins stood out well where the bat was clasped. The pitcher, big, steady of nerve, and fine, sent another twisting, invisible sphere toward the man at the bat, and the man seemed to spring all apart as he struck with the home-stroke.

There was a crack as when lightning has struck something. There was an upward looking of all eyes. Upon a great green sward, men were running like "white heads." Between the bases other men were running. The audience of thousands was composed no longer of anything in particular. It was a bawl! And, when the roar slackened for a moment, high above everything could be heard the ear-piercing squall of Billy Barnes, and his cry: "This is a red-letter day, to be marked with a white stone!"

THE FIRST LIFER.

The State House of Correction at Ionia Receives the Murderer of an Old Woman.

During its existence the state house of correction in Ionia has entertained all kinds and classes of inmates and for nearly every period, but never until now has a life convict crossed its threshold. His name is Charles Smith, about 35 years of age, sent from Barry county. He is not over bright and pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree for killing an old woman, his crime having been in the nature of an assault. The judge gave him all the law allowed, sentencing him to Ionia for the period of his natural life.

Took a Long Time.

A few days ago a Grand Rapids man received a postal card from a Detroit firm acknowledging receipt of a check for $8.70. As he had sent no such check he thought it was peculiar until he happened to notice that the postal card was dated April 25, 1878. It had taken over 21 years to travel from Detroit, where it was mailed, to Grand Rapids, a trip which usually takes about four or five hours.

Queer Bed of Clay.

J. Z. Stanley, who owns a farm near Harrietta village, has discovered a peculiar bed of clay on his property. The clay seems to possess material which is either combustible or assists greatly in creating heat and producing gas. The bed is 75 feet deep and extends over many acres, and may prove a valuable possession. Experiments and investigations are now in progress to ascertain its value.

New Railroad Proposed.

The latest railroad proposition in northern Michigan is for a road across the state from Alpena to Traverse City. Such a road would open up an immense amount of land and would be a great thing for the villages along the line, which would thus be given another outlet for their produce aside from the present north and south railroads on which they are located.

An Unprofitable Month.

May was a very unprofitable month for insurance companies haying risks in Berrien county. During the month 25 buildings insured in the Berrien County Mutual Insurance company were struck by lightning and destroyed, a larger number of losses than have been sustained in any full year in the previous history of the company.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop bulletin says: Warmer temperatures and ample rainfall have generally been very beneficial to all vegetation, but have retarded farm work. Oats, early potatoes and garden truck have made good progress and are all in good condition. Meadows have been greatly improved. Wheat is heading and its condition is better than for some weeks past, but it still indicates a very light yield. Heavy rains have washed out some corn, making replanting necessary, but generally corn has made fine progress and shows a healthy stand. Sugar beets made good progress in most counties, and thinning and cultivation have begun. Later potato planting is still in progress. Early potatoes are up, growing finely, and so far have not been much affected by potato bugs. Pasture is excellent.

Wheat Very Poor.

Secretary of State Stearns reports that wheat in Michigan has not been in as poor condition in many years. The crop has steadily declined since last fall, all conditions having been against its progress, and now the estimate of the state is but 45 per cent. of an average crop. Corn, oats, barley, meadows, potatoes and sugar beets are in excellent condition. All fruits except peaches and pears promise fairly well. Peaches are estimated at six and pears at forty per cent. of an average crop.

Slain in His Barn.

Lyman Putnam, a well-to-do farmer of Cambria township, was murdered by an unknown man, who made his escape before the body was found. Mr. Putnam went out to the barn early in the evening, and not returning within a reasonable time, search was made for him by members of his family. He was found lying on the floor with his head crushed to a pulp. The floor was covered with blood, and there was evidence of a fearful struggle. No motive for the murder is known.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 78 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended on June 10 indicate that inflammation of the bowels and intermittent fever increased and pneumonia and pleuritis decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported in 175 places, measles at 53, typhoid fever at 15, scarlet fever at 40, diphtheria at 17, whooping cough at 5 and cerebro-spinal meningitis at 8 places.

Lake Rises Three Feet.

Paw Paw lake, near Benton Harbor, rose three feet two inches higher than usual and over $50,000 damage was done to cottages and summer homes and land owners and resorters threaten to bring suit against the persons who obstructed Paw Paw river dam at Watervliet. The obstruction and continued rains were the causes of the water flowing into the lake at the rate of eight miles an hour.

Killed by Electricity.

While attempting to turn on an electric light in the basement of Carlos D. Sheldon's house in West Houghton, Mary Manderfield, a servant girl, received a shock which caused instant death. It was not supposed that the current on an incandescent circuit was powerful enough to be fatal to human life.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Daily Summary of the Work Done by the Lawmakers in the Senate and House.

Lansing, Mich., June 15.—The senate yesterday, by a vote of 9 to 21, refused to repeal the special charter of the Michigan Central Railway company and passed the house bill providing for a commission to negotiate with all railroad companies having special charters, to ascertain and report to the next legislature on what terms they will surrender their charters to the state and reincorporate under the general laws of the state. . . . A bill providing for submission to the people of any city of the proposition to assess city taxes upon the land values, upon petition of 20 per cent. of the taxpayers of the city, which had passed the senate, was defeated by a vote of 50 years to 41 nays, 51 being a majority of the members-elect.

Lansing, Mich., June 16.—The house yesterday passed the Sayre anti-trust bill, which was passed in the senate several weeks ago. If constitutional the act will very effectually shut out of the state all trusts and combinations. The special committee appointed several weeks ago to investigate charges of cruel treatment of inmates of the industrial home for girls reported that all the charges had been sustained. These were extreme corporal punishment, paddling, solitary confinement, requiring girls to wear badges marked "Liar," "Thief," etc., and giving hot baths as means of punishment. The committee recommended that Mrs. A. T. Bliss, of Saginaw, and Mrs. A. H. Smith, of Flint, members of the board of managers during the time punishment charged was inflicted, be removed by the governor and that the reorganized board appoint a man and his wife as superintendents to succeed Mrs. Lucy M. Sickels, who has been superintendent for the past eight years and under whose supervision the alleged punishment was inflicted. The house adopted the report.

Gov. Pingree has vetoed the bill limiting to $7.50 a week the portion of the wages of a household that shall be exempt from garnishment.

Lansing, Mich., June 17.—The legislature ceased doing business at 12:30 p. m. last night. Final adjournment will be June 24. The principal business transacted by the senate yesterday was the passage of the Oren permanent tax commission bill and the bill reorganizing the state militia. Both houses passed a bill creating a commission for the Ohio centennial, and also a substitute sugar bounty bill, giving the factors $25,000 a year each, but the senate added an amendment to the effect that the provisions of the bill shall not become operative until 1904. The bill so amended did not reach the house in time for action and consequently the present bounty of one cent per pound stands. Both houses also passed the Sayre anti-trust bill recommended by Gov. Pingree. A bill appropriating $40,000 for a state building and exhibit at the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo was vetoed by the governor.

NOT TOLD TO CHOOSE.

Story That Canada Had Served Notice on Great Britain Is Declared to Be Untrue.

London, June 20.—The officials of the colonial office Monday were shown the dispatch from Washington, saying that Canada had served notice on Great Britain that she must choose between the United States and her North American dominion in the settlement of the Alaskan boundary dispute. They declared that the story is wrong both in substance and fact and that it can be further reaffirmed that a modus vivendi was reached early last week, as cabled to the press at the time. The arrangement, which is a verbal one, deals with the question on broad lines. One or two minor details are still under discussion and when they are settled a final arrangement will be drawn up.

Generally speaking it may be said that the boundary agreed upon follows the summits of the White and Chilcot passes.

Ottawa, Ont., June 20.—The statement published in New York Monday that the dominion government has told England to choose between Canada and the United States in the Alaskan boundary negotiations is positively contradicted in government circles here.

ELEVEN NEW CARDINALS.

Pope Holds a Consistory and Designates Names for Promotion—Number of New Bishops.

Rome, June 20.—The pope at the consistory held Monday morning created 11 cardinals and a number of bishops.

The bishops preconized included Mgr. Blenk, of Porto Rico, and Mgr. Barnaba Aguilar, of Santiago de Cuba.

The pope, who was in good health, delivered an address dealing with the union of churches.

The cardinals created are:

Mgr. Jos. Fracica-Nava di Bontif, papal nuncio at Madrid; the archbishop of Goeritz, of Austria-Hungary; the archbishop of Toulouse, France; the Latin patriarch of Constantinople; the Latin patriarch of Antioch; the archbishop of Turin; the archbishop of Ferrara; the archbishop of Reggio; Mgr. Clasca, secretary of the propaganda; Mgr. Trombaggata, secretary of the congregation (bishops and friars); Mgr. Lienaveras.

Recommends an Increase.

Detroit, Mich., June 20.—The report of the committee of 15 appointed by the supreme lodge Knights of Honor, to recommend as to proposed changes in the assessment system and rates of the order, completed its final report. It is in the hands of the printer, and will be submitted to the supreme lodge later. The report recommends an average increase of ten per cent. and an equalizing as to certain ages, some classes having been paying more proportionately than others.

EASE THE WORN NERVES.

A Woman's Life Should Not Be All Rush and Hurry If She Wants to Be Truly Happy.

The word "duty" in the mouth of the ordinary woman is synonymous with discomfort. The secret of happiness consists in looking upon what one must do in this world as the pleasantest thing life offers. It is only another case of the point of view. The people who stay young longest and who are most attractive, whether young or old, are those who do things that they ought to do, not from a sense of duty, but because it is a pleasure.

The woman who stays up at night to nurse a sick friend or to finish a dozen shirts for the heathen because duty glows prompts her, while it is a weariness of the flesh only sustained by the commendations of conscience, is doing herself and the relative or the heathen wrong. She is dragging through a task which is repugnant to her, and she shows in her face before many years have passed lines indicative of unnecessary worry.

Contrast with the nervous, hurried woman the wholesome, red-cheeked matron who "takes things easy." It is not necessary to neglect home or husband to do this, for she does quite as much in her way as the woman who is always "rushed to death." The one who lives by conscience feels that she must do by her neighbors as they do by her, and consequently her friends receive invitations to dine at her house even when they find the hostess in a state bordering in nervous prostration. She must return the hospitalities she has received at any cost, and if her income is limited she will make up the deficiency by overwork and overworry. Her friends know this, and it is a trial for them to dine at her house. It is absurd to say that one hasn't time to take care of one's self or must not offer poorer fare than one receives.—Chicago Chronicle.

FOR COOL EVENINGS.

This Is a Dainty But Rather Expensive Creation to Throw Over an Evening Gown.

This is an illustration of the saying that the best goods sometimes come in the smallest packages. Really you can do up the fashionable little summer cape into a parcel so small that it can be stuck away in the handbag and yet have room enough for something else. But the little cape is indeed a very large affair in matter of cost. It is one of the frivolities of the season that scarcely leave you car fare out of a hundred-dollar bill.

All summer wraps are made of delicate, light materials. They are mostly for show, and the fancier they are built, the better.

This very pretty cape was exhibited a few days ago by a leading modiste. It is developed in dotted Dresden silk of turquoise blue, with the figures in dark green. The cape was trimmed around the edge with a ruffle of spangled tulle set over another ruffle of turquoise silk.

The lapels are of dark green silk, bordered with a heavy ruching of white chiffon with fancy edge. A row of the ruching is arranged over the shoulders and across the back to form a round yoke.

The collar is a high, rolling Medici of Dresden silk, lined with numerous ruffles of pale blue chiffon. The cape is lined with blue silk and fastened with jeweled clasps.

An Idea in Upholstery.

A white enameled chair, with seat upholstered in forest-green creton, put on without braid, and with tiny brass tacks placed very close together, is so attractive that it forms the keynote for a whole set of delightful furniture evolved from a much bescratched and shabby bedroom suite. If forest-green is used to paint old furniture it shows its best effects when oak is the wood, the handsome grain showing to perfection under the green color, and giving to the piece a richness and beauty that are most satisfactory.

NOVEL FANCY LAMP.

Unique Design in Oriental Wood Delicately Carved and Very Highly Polished.

Just now when the housewife's thoughts are turning toward pretty furnishings for the summer home, a word about lamps is not amiss. The new designs are strikingly unique this year and they are made of all imaginary materials.

The shapes, too, are very much changed from those of previous years, for in lieu of the short, dumpy lamp with its large round bowl, there is a long, slender vessel with an oil receptacle scarcely larger than a good-sized teacup.

A pretty new lamp design is one that is made of oriental wood delicately carved and highly polished. The wood is a dark brown and the figures are enameled in dark green. The lamp stands almost 1½ feet high, exclusive of its base. The proper shade for such a lamp is made of deep red French tissue paper, trimmed around the edge with frills of chiffon.

SOME ODD UMBRELLAS.

Europeans Take More Pride in Their Rain Protectors Than Do People of This Country.

Many curious umbrellas are made. One I have seen can be taken apart and put in one's pocket. The stick is of wood about an inch in diameter. The cover can be turned inside out and folded into a small bundle. By touching a spring the ribs come off, straighten out and may be placed in the hollow of the stick, which is then a very presentable walking stick. It is found very convenient by its owner, who is a drummer. Another is still more ingenious. The handle is curved, and when a spring is pressed a pipe flies out. The ribs are stowed away in the center and the owner has a walking stick, but in the center there is also a rapier, which may be drawn out. Another neat invention is a hollow stick which contains a camp chair. Three steel supports are pressed out of the top of the stick, a triangular piece of canvas put on, and a seat is had which is at least as comfortable as a bicycle saddle. All of these strange umbrellas come from the old world. The umbrella-makers say that Europeans take much more pride in their umbrellas than do people of this country. Many little jokes are concealed in the umbrella handles there. A handle may present the appearance of the head of a monkey or a cat or some other animal, and a secret spring will cause the little creature to open its mouth and spurt a drop of cologne on the beholder.—John Gilmer Speed, in Woman's Home Companion.

A Pretty Color Scheme.

A green and white bedroom, with walls of silvery green, has a frieze of white curtains of dotted muslin next the pane, with inside curtains of pale green art muslin patterned with white lilies. A pretty bedspread seen in a room where pale green was the prevailing hue was made of coarse wide bobinet trimmed with a loosely gathered frill or valance of the same lace, which had been darned in a conventional pattern with coarse green flax. The spread was lined with green silesia and was made long enough to pass under the pillows over which it was then brought and tucked under them again. At the place where the center of each pillow would come was worked in the green flax, in bold outline, the monogram of the owner of the pretty room.

Colonial Draperies.

Some of the prettiest window curtains and portieres of country houses, and, indeed, suitable for city rooms that are furnished in old colonial style, are the colonial draperies, in various colors, such as old blue, old red and forest green.

They have narrow cross-stripes in self-colorings mingled with white, and on the ends these cross-stripes are in groups, forming a border. The material is of cotton, of rather loose weave, and heavy enough to hang peacefully. It is the same on both sides, and is moderate in price.

A Fact Worth Remembering.

That wormwood boiled in vinegar and applied as hot as can be borne on a sprain or bruise is an invaluable remedy. The affected member should afterward be rolled in flannel to retain the heat.

SCHOOL LANDS.

Michigan Still Has 171,264 Acres Which Will Be Appraised and Placed on the Market.

Land Commissioner French has made an order withdrawing from the market all the university and primary school lands belonging to the state. These lands have been held at the uniform price of four dollars per acre, whereas, as a matter of fact, some of them are not worth ten cents. The lands will be reappraised and offered at prices which they are really worth. There are but 40 acres of university land remaining in possession of the state, this being located in Kalamazoo county. The state still has 171,264.53 acres of school land, apportioned as follows:

Alcona county, 2,723.64 acres; Alger, 12,505.74; Allegan, 489; Alpena, 3,440; Arenac, 555.59; Baraga, 7,105.95; Barry, 68.18; Benzie, 160; Charlevoix, 895.45; Cheboygan, 4,256.62; Clare, 16,729.58; Clinton, 1,737.77; Crawford, 2,910.70; Delta, 6,002.57; Dickinson, 2,920; Emmet, 760; Gladwin, 774.78; Gogebic, 4,620.97; Grand Traverse, 440; Houghton, 5,640; Huron, 70.65; Ingham, 40; Iosco, 3,433.11; Iron, 3,498.65; Isabella, 120; Jackson, 400; Kalamazoo, 1,224.12; Kent, 80; Keweenaw, 3,441.50; Lake, 3,331.05; Leelanau, 820.95; Lapeer, 13,286.02; Mackinac, 12,474.22; Manistee, 581.32; Marquette, 13,988.97; Mason, 560; Menominee, 1,729.45; Midland, 547.56; Missaukee, 773; Montmorency, 3,548.20; Muskegon, 240; Newaygo, 680; Oceana, 200; Ogemaw, 1,922.69; Ontonagon, 4,673.46; Osceola, 223.67; Oscoda, 4,200; Otsego, 1,240; Ottawa, 112.37; Presque Isle, 3,676.57; Roscommon, 3,327.76; Schoolcraft, 11,509.01; Tuscola, 325; Wexford, 1,036.96.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

Gov. Pingree Signs the Measure Expected to Open Thousands of Acres for Settlement.

Gov. Pingree has signed the Gillam homestead bill, under which it is expected that many thousands of acres of land will be opened for settlement in this state. The bill provides as follows:

Where taxes have remained unpaid for five years, where the lands have been sold to the state, and where no application has been made to set aside the state's title to the land, the state is to be given a deed, which is to be registered in the office of the register of deeds in the county where the lands may be situated. Any person may make application for these lands and get them, upon payment of ten cents an acre, though the amount to be granted is limited to 160 acres, and if within the limits of any city or village to one block. The homesteader is to live on the land for five years and to improve it. Land Commissioner French says that the new law will bring many thousands of settlers into Michigan. It is apt to bring into use for farms much of the land in the northern portion of the state, from which pine has been cut, and whose owners abandoned it. Since this land has been given up taxes have been piled up to such an extent that there was no temptation to any chattel mortgage shark to attempt to get possession of the property.

MUST BE ACCEPTED.

The Supreme Court Renders an Important Decision for Officials and Liquor Dealers.

An opinion in the case of Hawkins against the village of Litchfield, filed by the supreme court, is of interest to city officials and liquor dealers. In 1896 the village council fixed the amount of liquor bonds at $6,000, and in 1897 the council reduced the amount to $3,000; since that time no amount has been fixed. The relator this spring filed a bond for $3,000, but the council refused to act upon it. Mandamus to compel action on the bond was denied in the lower court, but the supreme court holds that as the common council is a continuing body liquor bonds in Litchfield have been fixed at $3,000, and that the council must act upon the bond. Saloons, it is said, cannot be suppressed by the inaction of the council.

Druggist Hit Hard.

Dr. E. B. Longwell, a druggist in the southern part of the state, who was convicted of selling liquor contrary to law and appealed his case to the supreme court, has been compelled to submit to an affirmation of his case in the supreme court. Dr. Longwell's defense was that the sale was made by his clerk contrary to his general instructions. The supreme court says that any person who by himself or by his clerk, agent or employee shall make an illegal sale shall be punished.

A Thrilling Ride.

Frank Matthews, the 15-year-old son of Joseph Matthews, of Menominee, had a thrilling ride the other day. He was discovered riding on the fore trucks of a chair car on a Chicago & Northwestern fast express train. The train was running a mile a minute, and how the lad managed to hang on is a mystery. The train crew avers that the cool-headedness of young Matthews eclipses anything they ever heard of.

The Menominee & St. Paul Railway company was organized in Menominee with a capital stock of $2,000,000. It will build a road from Menominee to St. Paul, a distance of 300 miles.

Exhibits at Paris.

There will be a large exhibit from this country at the Paris exposition in 1900, which will prove very interesting to all who may attend, but no more so than the news that the famous American remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will positively cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and nervousness. To all sufferers of the above complaints a trial is recommended, with the assurance that when honestly used a cure will be effected. It also tones up the entire system.

His scheme is cooler than fans and cheaper than ice."—Chicago Evening News.

Western Washtenaw Farmers' Club.

The Western Washtenaw Union Farmers' Club held their June meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chapman Thursday last. The meeting was the largest one held since the club's organization, there being over 90 present. A number of good recitations, select readings and songs were well rendered. The question for discussion was "Would the proposed disarmament of the nations hasten the coming of universal peace?" One of the most attractive features of the meeting was a paper edited by the club and its contents were thoroughly entertaining. As this was the last meeting until September every one seemed to enter into the spirit of the occasion and enjoy themselves. The enthusiasm thus expressed betokens a pleasant time at their next meeting with Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Chase, September 21.

The Late Mrs. J. C. Winans.

After a lingering illness of many weeks' duration Mrs. John C. Winans passed away at her home on South Main street, last Saturday about noon, aged 70 years, 6 months and 11 days. She had been a resident of Chelsea for 37 years and was greatly beloved by a wide circle of relatives and friends. Mrs. Winans' maiden name was Hannah S. Johnson. She was born at Tom's River, Ocean county, N. J., December 6, 1828. She came to Michigan and settled at Waterloo in 1860. Twelve years later she came to Chelsea and engaged in the millinery business, in which she made many warm friends by her unvaried courteous dealings. She united with the Congregational church in 1866, and although not a woman of many words she was always a faithful and devoted member of the church. Aug. 7, 1872, she was married to John C. Winans, then a prominent business man of Chelsea. Two sisters, Mrs. William Yocum and Mrs. Lewis Cook, and her daughter Mrs. A. A. VanTyne, survive her and mourn the loss of one who was always devoted to her husband and family. The funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon and were conducted by Rev. C. S. Jones. The remains were interred in Oak Grove cemetery.

One after another our dear ones leave, And by earthly homes they are no more known; By this would Our Father have men perceive That the heaven's more homelike because they're gone To "mansions prepared," from old, for all The redeemed, who answer with joy his "Come!" For his voice is divinely musical, And the light of his eyes worth all the gloom Of the path that leads us home.

Chelsea School Children Picked.

The scholars of the seventh and fifth grades of the Chelsea schools, taught by Miss Mamie E. Fletcher and Miss Elizabeth Depew, respectively, had a most enjoyable picnic Friday at the home of Miss Fletcher in Sharon, 6 1/2 miles south of Chelsea. A start was made at 8:30 o'clock, although two anxious boys got away at 7 o'clock. "Zack" Chandler's bus, a hay rack, a long spring wagon and a number of buggies were brought into requisition to transport the happy crowd of boys and girls to the farm, where they were turned loose to play as they pleased. Fishing, wading, swimming, playing ball, jumping the rope, killing snakes, and playing with the pet pig, kept them all busy.

Dinner, consisting of biscuits and butter, salmon, boiled ham, pickles, baked beans, cakes and 5 1/2 gallons of milk just off the ice, was eaten picnic fashion. At 3 o'clock 14 quarts of ice cream was frozen, and this with 12 quarts of strawberries, biscuits and butter, dried beef, and 12 cakes furnished the banquet at 5 o'clock. At 6 o'clock the tired but happy children started for home. The only casualties were a bumped head to one boy who was struck to the floor by a swing, and the loss of her hat by one of the girls, neither of which were sufficient to dampen the enjoyment of the youngsters, who wish that picnics would come every day.
