DEDICATE NEW HALL

Chelsea Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees Celebrate with

FEASTING, AND SONGS AND SPEECHES

Commodious New Quarters.

A Royal Good Time. Which Was Participated in by 250 People Who Were Kept Interested from Start to Finish of the Program.

Chelsea never does anything by halves and the dedication banquet of the new home of Chelsea Tent, No. 281, K. O T. M., and Columbian Hive, No. 284, L. O. T. M., on Tuesday evening was no exception to the rule. At first it was pro posed to have it exclusively for Maccabees and their families and a few invited guests, but it was finally decided to let the public generally have a share in the rejoicing at getting into their new and larger quarters, and so tickets were sold to those who wished to attend until there were about 250 people gathered in the G. A. R. hall when it was announced about 8 o'clock that it was time to go ever to the Maccabee hall, which had been handsomely decorated for the occasion. It was a good natured crowd in spite of the fact that all could not get a seat at the tables, but had to eat their share of the banquet with their plates in their laps (but then that's the thing, you know, in high toned receptions, so the "Macs" were strictly in it). The waitresses in their cute little mob caps were untiring in their efforts to see that all were properly served with the good things which the careful forethought of the ladies had provided and the banquet end of the occasion was a success. During the banquet an orchestra composed of A. M. Freer and Mrs. Blanche Wood, violins, Frank Shaver, cornet;

Otto Steinbach, bass, Helena Steinbach, piano, rendered some good music. Below is given the menu:

Chicken

Jelly Escalloped Potatoes Biscuits Ice Cream

Sliced Ham

Fruit Coffee The "feast of reason and flow of soul" was no less of a success than the supper, and from 9 to 11 o'clock, songs and speeches followed one after the other, under the able toastmastership of Hi Lighthall, and no one got tired of the good things that were said.

The male quartette, George and Floyd were first introduced and sang a song which was heartily encored. Then the of the growth of the order in Chelsea, its institution 19 years ago, its trials and tribulations, until finally with its present large and increasing membership, it finds, itself located in its present comfortable and commodious quarters. He wound up with an appeal to the members of the tent not to lay back and allow a few to do all the work, but to come out and attend there were 129 of them. the meetings of the tent and encourage the officers by their presence.

Commander J. W. Speer then told why Maccabees are the whole thing.

"Why So?" was the next theme but T. E. Wood, who was to speak on this subject, was so busy attending to other matters connected with the banquet that he was excused. "I will tell you," was O. T. Hoover's subject, but he was also ex-

The male quartette sang another song and were again given an encore. Mrs. Mary L. Boyd was the next speaker and the only lady on the program, but she gave one of the best talks of the evening in speaking to the toast "Our part of the work." She told of the growth of the L. O. T. M. in Michigan from its inception at the home of Mrs. A. G. Ward, of Muskegon, in March, 1884, to its present membership of 46,000. The men had discouraged them in every way, but the women had had their eyes opened as to their own capabilities and at last they had also opened the eyes of the men. Columbian Hive was started six years ago and now has a membership of 146. She claimed the L. O. T. M. was doing a greater work in the world than any other W. N. a good story in answer to his toast of 'Present."

subject "Then and Now," and taking for his text the obligation of the order gave a whole lot of good advice to the members to always follow its tenets.

The male quartette sung a song and Rev. C. S. Jones was introduced to speak for the clergymen of the village who were present. He put his hearers in high good The Dedication of Their Handsome humor with a couple of witty stories, and tollowed them up with his ideas of what fellowship and brotherhood meant and the good that was being accomplished in the world by these ties.

Judge Newkirk's after dinner speeches are well known to everyone as always be ing up to the scratch, and his flow of story telling and good sound sentiment was not one whit diminished on this occasion, and although he was the last speaker on the program, his remarks lost none of their interest on that account.

After a couple of stories from Rev. J. I. Nickerson the happy occasion was brought to a close by the singing of 'America."

THE PASSION PLAY

Was Greeted by Good Audiences and Was Much Enjoyed.

The cinematrograph pictures of "The Passion Play" were presented to three good audiences at St. Mary's church Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening by G. T. Hornburger and his assistants. The number attending was about 900. The pictures present in a striking manner various scenes from the life of Christ, commencing with the annunciation and birth of the Savior and ending with his crucifixion, resurrection and ascension. The lecture that is delivered as the scenes are given is a history in brief of the life and deeds of Christ. During the progress of the exhibition the choir of St. Mary's church sang two elections, and at the time appropriate for them, Mr. Louis Burg sang "The Holy City" and "Calvary."

The Baptist Supper and Fair.

The chicken pie supper given by the ladies of the Baptist church at the town hall last evening, for the benefit of the furnace fund of the churc.h was most successful. Not only was it one of the nicest, tastiest arranged and best waited on socials that has been held in Chelsea in many a day, but it was well patronized, about 300 people partaking of the excel lent chicken pie and other good things provided. After the supper a good program of music and recitations was given, consisting of two selections by the church choir, a solo by Mrs. W. E. Depew, a duet by Miss Fannie Warner and Miss Ella Barber, and recitations by Miss Vivian McDaid, Nathaniel Laird and Ward, Louis Burg and John Eisenman, George E. Davis. The fair was also very well patronized. The total proceeds were about $115, which included a check for tostmaster by way of introduction spoke $25 given by one philanthropic gentleman who is not a Baptist. The ladies one and all say that too much praise cannot be given Mrs. W. E. Depew, as it was through her untiring efforts and good management that the social was such a success. The handsome hand painted satin souvenirs given to the ladies who went to the supper were all her work and

MRS. DEWEY GETS THE HOME.

Washington Home Presented to the Admiral is Deeded Over to His Wife.

Washington, Nov. 21 .- A formal deed of conveyance was placed on file, transferring from Admiral George Dewey to Mrs. Mildred Dewey, his wife, the property, No. 1747 Rhode Island avenue, in this city, which was presented to the admiral by popular subscription. A nominal consideration is named in the instrument.

The transfer was made through John V. Crawford, the admiral's secretary, to whom the property was first deeded. and then by Crawford to Mrs. Dewey.

Mrs. Dewey thus becomes the undisputed owner of the house for which the people subscribed $50,000. She can sell or convey it to anyone in her own right. The house was purchased by a committee of officials with the money subscribed by about 45,000 citizens of the United States for the express purpose of honoring the admiral, and before it was known he even contemplated a mar

The local papers in announcing the transfer print communications from contributors to the Dewey fund in which the transfer is severely condemned. Members of the committee that had charge of the contributions express surprise and disappointment that the admiral has not retained the title to the home.

Admiral Dewey has studiously denied himself to newspaper correspondents since the papers consummating the transfer were filed. He has, however, admitted to his home a number of friends from the various departments who are supposed to have called to protest against his action in transferring his home that was the gift of the people of the United States. Just what explanations he made to these friends they have refused to disclose, but it is known that he said in part to at least two of them: "When the public understands the motives underlying this bit of business it will not judge me harshly. hope that the public will withhold judgment until my friends are in a position to make an explanation."

SITUATION IN KENTUCKY.

Taylor's Election on Face of Returns Is Admitted-Sole Hope of the Democratic State Committee.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 21.-The democratic state campaign committee concedes that Taylor has a majority on the face of the returns, but bases a hope of the election of the democratic ticket on throwing out the vote of Louisville, on account of interference of Gov. Bradley's soldiers, and Johnson and Knox counties, where tissue ballots were used The Kentucky election law plainly provides for a secret ballot, and the republicans admit that they are not as well fortified in the defense of their interests in the Johnson and Knox counties cases as might be, but do not credit to any extent the democratic claim regarding Louisville. In fact, they assert that should Louisville be thrown out on the pretext claimed they will not stand for it, and that they have assurances that Gov. Bradley will back them up in resistance which they say is already fully planned.

Democratic newspaper figures now give Taylor, a plurality of nearly 2,000 on the state. They show that 2,489 votes are in contest and that Goebel has a plurality of 937 on the uncontested votes.

PLANS MAKE PROVISION FOR SIX WARDS

separate from the Building Will Be a Home for Nurses-Some Hospital Statistics-Old Spanish Mortar to Be Mounted-Other Notes of Interest.

[Special Correspondence.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.- The new homeopathic hospital that is being erected for the homeopathical medical college of the University of Michigan has a frontage of 175 feet. The main wing extends back 130 feet. The walls to the top of the first story are to be of field stone, and above this pressed brick of a gray color. The roof is to be of red

Six Wards.

The plans provide for six wards. They are a men's medical, a men's surgical, a women's medical, a women's surgical, an obstetrical and a children's ward. In connection with the principal wards and facing the south are four sun rooms. Two anaesthetical rooms have been arranged for, besides recoveryrooms, several private rooms and a lecture-room for general medical, elinical and demonstration courses.

Operating Rooms.

The operating rooms will be two in number-one for major cases and the other for diseases of the eye. The first, which is the larger, will be finished in marble, and the second in white tile. The normal capacity of the hospital will be 100, although it will be possible to crowd, 140 patients into the building.

To Test Thermometers. Prof. Mortimer E. Cooley, of the engineering department of the university, has designed an apparatus for testing thermometers up to a temperature of about 500 degrees fahrenheit. An experimental instrument is being constructed in the mechanical laboratory of the university.

Makes Recommendations.

President Angell, of the university, in his annual report to the board of regents, said that provision had been made for instruction in marine architecture, and recommended the establishment of complete courses in international law and consular service. R. H. E.

A MOTHER'S LOVE.

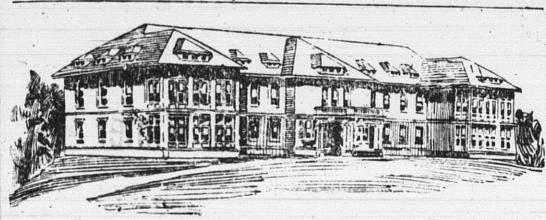

The Extent to Which It Will Reach Portrayed in a Pathetic Manner at Port Huron.

The extent to which a mother's love will reach was portrayed in a pathetic manner in the police court in Port Huron when the gray-haired and aged mother of Olic Bane paid a $14 fine to save her daughter from going to the workhouse. The girl had been picked up drunk several days ago and found guilty. The old mother, who lives a number of miles out in the country, gathered together every cent possible and, having completed the required sum, she started from home before daylight, during a pouring rain, lighting her way with a lantern, so as to get her erring daughter out of jail at the earliest moment possible.

WELCOME TO HUNT.

Michigan Farmer Says Sportsman Can Enter His Premises and Also Get a Dinner.

Farmers around Sand Lake, Lenawee county, have formed an organization to keep hunters off their lands and preserve the game for their own shooting. Separate from the hospital building All of the members have posted notices from the city of Ann Arbor, which purchased them at a cost of $17,000. The contract price of the hospital is $48,670. This does not include lighting, heating and ventilating fixtures nor hospital equipment. The valuation of the property when properly completed and equipped will be in the neighborhood of $90,000.

Some Statistics.

The homeopathic hospital statistics for last year show that 1.218 patients were received at the present hospital building. Of this number 523 were in-patients and 695 out-patients. One thousand one hundred and fifty-three were from the state of Michigan and 65 from 22 states and foreign countries. A larger number came from the farm than from any other walk in life. The increase in the fact that more patients were registhe five years from 1889 to 1894. In the eye and ear clinic alone, as many cases were treated this year as during, the first six years following the organization of the chair. The receipts of the hospital for the year were $9,014.46, as against $5,335.81 for the preceding year.

Old Spanish Mortar.

The Spanish mortar taken from Morro Castle, Santiago de Cuba, and obained, through the good offices of Gov. ingree, for a class memorial by the lass of 1899, will soon be fittingly mounted near its present position at he base of the campus flagstaff. Specifications for this purpose have been prepared by Prof. M. E. Cooley, of the ngineering department of the univerity. If his plans are followed the old annon will present much the same apedrance as when it was used to fire pon the United States battleships dur- retary of the interior says the comng the recent war with Spain. Of Interest to Barbers.

Secretary Charles Reiger, of the state barbers' commission, has been given an opinion by the attorney general to the effect that all barbers who have not been continuously employed at the business prior to the date upon which the new barbers' law took effect must be examined by the board before they can lawfully shave the public. The barbers' commission expects to turn several thousand dollars into the state treasury during the first year of its existence.

At the fifteenth annual conference in Grand Rapids of the Methodist Home the number of patients is illustrated by Missionary Society of Western Michigan Congressman Roberts was deered during the past year than during, nounced vigorously, and it was declared that the Mormons were spreading their faith to an alarming extent through Michigan by door to door work, no less than 50 of their missionaries working in Michigan at present, including six in Grand Rapids.

To Test Pure Food Law.

In circuit court in Menominee James Murphy, agent for a company in Chicago, was convicted of selling impure food, but was released on suspended sentence. The case will be taken to the supreme court to test the validity of the law. Murphy took an order for mustard and the company sent an impure article. The law holds that the agent must know of the purity of the goods.

FATS HAVE MANY USES.

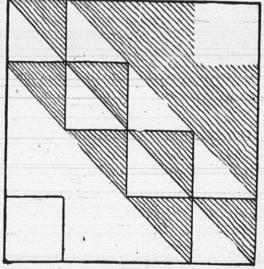

Some Suggestions Which Economical Housekeepers Will Not Neglect to Put in Practice.

There are many fats that can be used in cooking. All of these should be saved by themselves for culinary purposes. Fresh pork fat should always be saved, as it is as nice as lard for frying. Mutton and lamb fat, however, is strong and of no culinary value. Beef fat is valuable for frying, but should be mixed when tried out with about half its bulk of lard or tried out in chicken fat. A combination of various meat fats used in the kitchen makes a better medium for frying than pure lard and is more wholesome. Butter is the poorest fat for frying. It cannot be successfully used in deep frying, as doughnuts and croquettes are fried, because it burns before it can be heated to the proper temperature. Keep two separate jars for cooking fats, one for coarse fats, the other for finer. Those jars of a half gallon size, with straight sides like butter jars, are the best for the purpose. For keeping soap fats a lard pail of the size that holds five pounds when filled is the cheapest and most convenient to use. Try out all the pieces of fat until only scraps are left. Fry a slice of raw potato in it to clarify it if the fat is used in cooking, and pour it into the jar in which the general fat is kept. Save chicken fat, which is delicate enough to use in place of olive oil for dressing, in a small jar by itself. Turkey fat is too strong to use in cooking, but, like lamb and mutton fats, it should be tried out, but strained into the soap fat. It pays to keep this fat clean and to strain it as it is tried out from time to time. It is easy to keep a supply of soft soap in the house from this source, which will be very valuable for house cleaning and washing up greasy pots and kettles, even if it is used for no other purpose .- N. IRISH CHAIN OUILT.

Our Grandmothers Were Very Fond of This Attractive and Easily Constructed Pattern.

Cut nine-inch squares of light and dark cloth. Divide each of these into two triangles; from the right-angle corner of each of these triangles cut a three-inch square. To the hypotenuse or base of the dark apex-gouged triangle thus obtained join the bases of smaller light-colored triangles made by dividing three-inch squares. Into the spaces between these fit four small. dark triangles of the same size. This wiff give half of the block. Make the other half by reversing the colors, and join the two by their long sides. To join the blocks, fit the points made by cutting out the three-inch squares from a dark triangle into the corresponding space of the light side of another block. -Ohio Farmer.

MINGLE WITH OTHERS.

Why It Is Absolutely Necessary for Women to Come in Frequent Contact With Others.

If a woman is to protect herself from the ravages of worry, and to retain her youth for a longer period, she must come into more frequent contact with other people--as her husband doesand read good books; she must relieve the monotony of her duties and the limiting influence of confinement within four walls by taking outdoor exercise—a walk every day, or a spin on the bicycle; in short, she must exercise the body and mind in a healthful manner, and she will find the bloom of youth and health remain with her for years after it has faded in other women of the same age.

"The ordinary woman," says a celebrated physician, "leads such a monotonous existence that her mind has no occupation but worry.

"What she needs is to come out of herself much more than she does. She must have intercourse with more people and take more exercise.

"This she can do without neglecting home, and every right-minded man will do his best to secure for his mother, or his sister, or his wife, these aids to the mind."--Woman's Life.

GIRL IN HARD LUCK.

Hated to Remove Her Hat in the Theater Because Her Hair Was Done Up in Papers.

She swept down the aisle of a down own theater at a matinee the other day in company with a woman companion and took a conspicuous position in the parquet. As she settled herself in her seat her hands instinctively went to her large hat, but she suddenly stopped with a start, and slowly rushed back the half-removed pin. Then she turned and gasped something to her compan-

"What in the world shall I do?" she whispered, after she had made a brief. explanation. "You know we didn't intend to come here and I didn't expect to have my hat off at all. I'm so afraid the usher will come down and make me take it off."

"Wait till he does," advised her companion.

Every time an usher approached the woman with the hat fidgeted nervously.

CURL PAPERS WERE TAKEN OUT.

Two or three times her fears were unfounded, but finally came a request that the headpiece be removed.

The woman flushed and hesitated. At last she was apparently seized with a desperate resolve to do or die.

The elaborate headgear was removed and one by one, as quickly as her fingers could fly, the curl papers, which stood out prominently against her dark hair, were taken out. There were several suppressed snickers. The woman's face became scarlet and she stared intently at the stage while the performance went on.-Chi-

VICTORIA AS HAUSFRAU.

The Queen of Great Britain and Ire land Is to a Large Extent Her Own Housekeeper.

Notwithstanding the enormous amount of business with which she has to deal, the queen is to a large extent her own housekeeper. The first thing every morning a paper of suggestions from the clerk of the kitchen is placed before her, from which in her own hand she orders the menus of the day, both for herself and such of her grandchildren as may be with her. These menus are at once sent to the kitchens, gardens and other departments concerned, to obtain the viands required; and their contents duly entered, together with the quantites of matrials used, in the books which are kept in the royal kitchen.

The queen's chef receives a salary of £500 per annum, and has as satellites four master cooks, two yoemen of the kitchen, two assistant cooks, six apprentices, and six kitchen maids, besides pantrymen and other lesser lights. In addition to the great kitchen at Windsor, there are the greenroom, for vegetables, and the confectionery and pastry kitchen. This last is a most important department, controlled by a confectioner with six assistants, and fitted in the most complete manner. All her majesty's favored cakes, biscuits, pastry, etc., are made here, and sent by special messengers several times a week to whichever of her residences the court may be staying at.

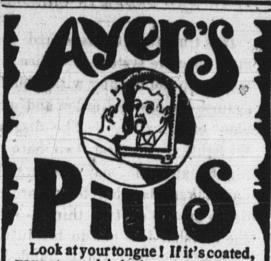

All stores at Windsor are under proper supervision, no materials being served without proper requisition signed by the head of the department concerned. Not a bag of dog biscuits can even be ordered for the kennels unless on the printed form. In fact, the whole establishment is practically as methodically conducted as any great London business. This method, which was evolved by her majesty and the late prince consort out of the chaos which descended from the days of George IV., entirely does away with waste, extravagance, and moreover enables her majesty to exercise that wise control over her finances which enables her to keep the grandest establishment on relatively the smallest royal income in Europe.-E. M. Jessop, in Pall Mall.

Stole a Queen's Chattels.

An extraordinary case of theft is reported from The Hague, the victim being no less a personage than Quéen Wilhelmina herself. The culprit appears to be the person to whom the safe custody of the young queen's valuables was intrusted. The stolen articles consist of valuable gold and silver toilet pieces, and seem to have been abstracted from her majesty's dressing-room. Their disappearance was the cause of inquiries being made, and when the bulk of them were discovered in the possession of a silversmith he stated that retention of youthfulness of body and he had bought them from the official in question, who has now absconded.

LAW AND ORDER IN CHELSEA.

It is time that Chelsea had some more effective system of police protection and of dealing with offenders table. If she has constipation or kidney against the law and order and good name of the village, The disgrace- ed complexion, Electric Bitters is the best ful fights of the last two Saturday nights and the many others that have taken place heretofore are evidence of one of two things-either the marshal does not do his duty, or he is not capable, single handed, of coping with the matter and quelling such disturbances before they assume the proportions of a knock down

As a further proof of the necessity of better police service it is only necessary to speak of the gang of boys from 12 to 18 years of age who infest the street corners and entry ways to buildings and make insulting allusions about the passers by. Be they man or woman makes no difference to these callow youths, everyone is the butt for their insults.

The sidewalk leading to the opera house is a favorite place of resort for this class when an entertainment or anything else in in progress. Last when the rehearsals for the cantata were going on at the opera house a party of these youngsters were stationed in front of the building as usual maktheir remarks. The marshal stood at the west corner of the opera house building and his attention was called to the actions of the boys. His reply up," but no attempt was made to put a stop to the boys' actions or to disperse them.

Later in the evening the boys went into the opera house, where their presence was a source of disturbance, and they were quietly requested by Rev. C. S. Jones to withdraw. When they went out he locked the door. They soon returned, however, and forcibly opening the door again entered. When Mr. Jones went down the aisle towards them this time they fled out of the doors and along the street yelling like Comanche Indians. The doors were then bolted. On their next visit, the boys, finding they could not get in, began to kick the doors, or throw stones at them, almost drowning the sounds within. Had they been dispersed, as they should have been, this unseemly annoyance would have been prevented.

Again we say, some more stringent means of dealing with these offenders against the law and order and good name of Chelsea should be adopted. The little bits of fines imposed on the one class have no more effect on them than a flea bite and only serve to make them worse, if anything. And in the case of the boys, frequent successes in having no effort made to check their bad behavior only makes them bolder and more impudent. "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure," and if that principle is carried out this sort of hoodlumism will soon die aut. The sentimeut of the law-abiding portion of the citizens is against this sort of thing, and strange though it may seem to some they are the ones who pay the bulk of the taxes and who should have a village shall be governed.

Zamboanga Is Occupied-Gen. MacArthur Finds Dagupan Deserted-Gen. Wheeler Decides to Stay at the Front.

Washington, Nov. 21. - Three cable dispatches were received at the war department from Gen. Otis. They are all dated Monday, but received at different times. The first, received at two a. m.,

"MacArthur's advance within five miles of Dagupan, to which point railroad intact from Bamban, excepting Tarlac break. The northern five miles destroyed by rails recovered. Large quantity rolling stock destroyed along line. Probably either Lawton's or Wheaton's men in Dagupan. No report from those officers since 17th; should hear to-day. Roads becoming practicable for transportation, and troops moving from San Jose to Lawton's front. Leonhaeuser with three companies Twenty-fifth infantry by night, much surprised and captured, without casualties, insurgent force at O'Donell, seven miles from railroad station, Bambon or Capas. One insurgent killed, force consisted of four officers and 200 men, their rifles, 10,000 rounds of ammunition, transportaion, four tons subsistence, official records and considerable clothing secured. Insurgents south of Manila somewhat restless, again driven back from Imus; six men slightly

Zamboanga Occupied.

The second relates to affairs in the southern islands and was received at 3:50 a. m. It follows:

'One of the contending insurgent factions at Zamboanga secured the city and turned same over to Capt. Very, of the United States war vessel in the harbor; other insurgent faction made demonstration against city and Very called on Jolo for troops. One company sent. The commanding officer asked permission to send three additional, leaving two there; two companies will be dispatched from Jolo. Both Jolo and Zamboanga must be reenforced as soon as practicable. It will require several days; it was not intended to take possession of Zamboanga until later; no provisions made. Latter part September members of insurgent government in Cottabato district, southern Mindanao, be-New government formed which calls for United States troops. Cities of Cottabao, Duvao, Surigao, northwestern point of Mindanao, of importance; troops will be sent to these points when available. Hughes moving in Panay with two columns; insurgents have retreated from southwestern portion of island."

MacArthur at Dagupan.

The following relates to movements farther north:

MacArthur's advance entered Dagupan to-day; ascertained that Wheaton's troops had been there yesterday and were withdrawn last evening. Is believed that many insurgent detachments are west of railroad in the province of Zambales, meditating concentration and future demonstrations; they will be looked after; nothing yet received from either Lawton or

The navy department also received a report of the acquisition of Zamboanga, which differs in some respects from the story of that event told in Gen. Otis' cablegram. The naval account is contained in the following cablegram from Admiral Watson, dated at Manila Mon-

"Commander Very, of the Castine, with friendly natives and Moros, combined, captured Zamboanga on the 16th inst. No casualties. Landing parties from Castine and the Manila held the town with Fort Nazro. commanding it, pending arrival of troops from Jolo. There is a considerable force of insurgents at Mercedes, four miles

Of Great Importance.

The acquisition of Zamboanga at this time is of great importance from a military point of view. It is the principal city of Mindanao, and dominates the entire southern half of that island, which is second in importance only to Luzon. It has a population of nearly 22,000 people and is well fortified, so that a small garrison of troops could hold it indefinitely against native attacks. In addition, it is a naval station, where the Spaniards used to rendezvous their ships in the southern archi-

Found Dagupan Deserted.

Manila, Nov. 21.—Gen. MacArthur's reconnoissance entered Dagupan Monday afternoon. The Americans found that no insurgents had been there for four days. The Thirty-third infantry was probably in Dagupan Sunday, leaving Sunday night. No insurgents have been seen anywhere near the railroad, and it is believed that the only armed force of any size is in the mountains of the province of Zambles, to the west, although there are reports of insurgents concentrating at San Miguel de Camilang, west of Panique, and at Mangatarom (or Mangalaron), west of Bayabang. Gen. MacArthur is prepared for the attack, his forces being disposed between Durban, province of Tarlac, and Dagupan. The Twelfth infantry, a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry and two troops of cavalry are with Gen. MacArthur below Dagupan.

Wheeler Will Stay.

Gen. Wheeler has decided not to return for congress. He is writing a letter to President Mckinley, with a request that it be forwarded to the house of representatives. In the course of an interview he said:

"Congress, if it occupies the first day of the session in passing a resolution declaring in unmistakable terms that the sovereignty of the United States is to be maintained in the Philippines, thus dispelling Aguinaldo's delusion that the anti-imperialists can assist him, will be performing a such a resolution the lives of many American soldiers and of thousands of deluded Filipinos, would avert famine, suffering and desolation from these islands, and would render unnecessary the expenditure of hundreds of mildions of dollars."

IS NOT CONFIRMED.

Rumor of Battles Before Ladysmith, with Heavy Boer Losses, Is Disbelieved.

London, Nov. 21 .- A special dispatch from Estcourt, dated November 20, says a report has reached there of a battle at Ladysmith Wednesday, November 15, lasting from daybreak until two in the afternoon. Many Boers are said to have been killed and many are reported to have been taken prisoners. The British losses are reported to be much less.

Another battle is said to have occurred Thursday. It is described as the heaviest yet fought. The Boers dead, it is added, number hundreds, while the British losses were comparatively small.

London, Nov. 21 .- The reports of heavy fighting at Ladysmith last Wednesday have not been confirmed. On the contrary, the most reliable advices from Estcourt indicate that there was nothing more than a desultory cannonade. Probably the rumor of a serious engagement grew out of the fact that the Boers threw a few harmless shells late Tuesday night, leading to the supposition that an attack was imminent. Nothing, however, happened Wednesday.

Beyond the fact that the Boers are daily receiving fresh reenforcements and supplies there is practically nothing new from the front.

The Boer invasion of Cape Colony continues steadily and rapidly. There are 1,300 Boers at Colesburg, and news has reached East London that Ladygrey, near Aliwal North, has been deserted by the British and is now in the hands of the enemy.

Although Kimberley is supposed to be the objective of Gen. Methuen, many military critics are of the opinion that his advance will not be toward Kimberley, but across the Orange Free State, in order to secure complete command of the Orange river.

The debarkation of troops at Cape Town is proceeding in the most satisfactory manner. One thousand eight hundred and fifty railway carriages have been collected there for the conveyance of troops northward, and there is talk of suspending the suburban traffic so as to accelerate military work.

Ladysmith, Thursday, Nov. 16 (by runner to Estcourt) .- All is well here, with nothing important to report. We are amply supplied with ammunition and confident of our ability to hold out. Information from outside is very scarce, but it is believed here that the Boers now investing the town are only a small force. The heavy weather continues and the rain is hampering the Boer operations severely.

Estcourt, Natal, Nov. 21.-Maj. Bethune's patrols have located the enemy on the northwest, about ten miles off. The Boers would not be drawn. Fighting is reported at the Mooi river. The Boers are doing more looting than fighting, and all their parties south of Ladysmith are foraging on the farms.

HAVE AIDED LABOR.

Samuel Gompers, Before the Industrial Commission, Says a Good Word for Trusts.

Washington, Nov. 21 .- Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was the only witness before the industrial commission Monday. Mr. Gompers said there were 37 different organizations now using the union label and that it was growing in popularity rapidly. He defended the boycott as a legal and proper weapon for the workingman, holding that what he had a right as an individual to do he was justified in uniting with others

In a reply to a question Mr. Gompers said that organized labor viewed trusts simply as its employers. There had been cases in which the organizations had been benefited by the combination of capital. It was too early to decide whether men would be more steadily employed by the trusts than by other employers. He had found that these combinations had more influence in securing legislation than had unorganized capital. He took a position against cooperative schemes, saying experience had proved that laborers secured no greater advantages under them than under the wage system. He had no fear of the future for organized labor. Labor was now in better condition than ever before.

Mr. Gompers favored an amendment to the constitution fixing a maximum of hours per day for labor.

THE MESSAGE.

President McKinley Has Practically Completed Some Portions, But Much Remains to Be Done.

Washington, Nov. 21 .- The secretary of war spent over two hours with the president Monday in discussing his annual report, on which report will be based some of the most important sections of the president's message to congress. It is understood that this section of the message will be held open as long as possible, awaiting developments in the Philippines, which may change the status of the situation almost any day. The other sections of the message are nearly completed, but to finish the mesa large amount of hard work.

ARMORED TRAIN WRECKED.

British Troops Fall Into a Trap Laid by Boers-Capture of Dublin Fusileers.

London, Nov. 17 .- Misfortune steadfastly pursues British employment of armored trains, the fascination for which has given the Boers their first and latest victories. On this last occasion the British seem to have walked into a deliberate trap, with the result that, according to the best accounts, 90 men are either killed, wounded or missing. Of these the fusileers claim 50 and the Durban infantry 40. It is believed that few escaped and that the others are prisoners in the hands of the Boers. Many of the wounded were brought back on the locomotive and tender of the armored train. Capt. Haldane, of the Gordon Highlanders, was attached to the fusileers, and other officers were with them. The list of casualties is awaited with great anxiety. In time of trouble Lieut. Winston Churchill has proved himself more a soldier than a correspondent, and his gallantry is highly praised on all sides.

London, Nov. 17 .- Special dispatches from Estcourt estimate the wounded and missing of the armored train contingent at from 100 to 150. The missing

REVIEW OF TRADE

The General Situation Is Reported as Encouraging-Views of Bradstreet and Dunn.

New York, Nov. 18 .- Bradstreet's says: "General trade and industry continue at a maximum volume for this season of the year, while prices, as a whole, manifest a strength unapproached in recent years. Strength of values is still most notable among manufactured textiles, but cereals, hides, leather and manufactures thereof have also strengthened slightly. On the other hand, pork products, raw cotton and tin are slightly lower. The great majority of prices, however, remain firm at unchanged quotations. Cereals do not manifest any striking change this week, but the resisting power of the market is apparently greater, more moderate receipts of wheat at the west inducing some covering, and corn is sympathetically stronger. Another feature naturally attracting attention at this time of year is the active de mand for, but generally reported small, stocks of coal available, both east and west. Lumber displays continued strength, and advices are of an expected very heavy cu this winter, both in the northwest and a the south. Some shading in provision prices is noted, largely as a result of heavier receipts of hogs. Sugar is in rather slow demand, notwithstanding reiterated reports of the settlement of the war among

London, Nov. 18. - The war office has received the following dispatch from

Gen. Buller: "Cape Town, Nov. 16 .- Have received from Hildyard, Pietermaritzburg, a telegram dated November 15, of which the ollowing is the purport: 'The officer commanding the troops at Estcourt reports. at midday, that an armored train left Est court this morning, with a company of the Dublin fusileers and a company of the Durban volunteers. North of Frere they encountered a party of Boers and began to withdraw. While retiring, some of the trucks were derailed. The Dublins turned out and advanced towards the enemy, while the rest of the train appears to have returned without them to Estcourt.

The officer commanding the troops re ports that he was sending mounted troops in order to cover their withdrawal, but that about 100 are missing.''

London, Nov. 18.—Special dispatches from Pietermaritzburg and Lourenzo Marques say that Ladysmith is bombarded night and day and hard pressed. On November 9, having during the night placed men close to the town, the Boers, after a heavy bombardment, began an assault, but were repulsed at every point with heavy losses. The Boers have destroyed one of the bridges over the Tugela river.

Fire in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 16 .- Fire which started in the inflammables of a wholesale mil linery stock did extensive damage to the buildings at 146 and 148 State street at three a. m. The actual losses are unknown, but may aggregate $150,000. An explosion of gas injured several firemen. The principal losers are H. H. Kohlsaat & Co., restaurant; Chambers, optician; Boston Dental Co.; Sievers & Co., millinery.

Need More Men.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 16.-The local mine operators in this district are all united in offering one dollar per ton for mining coal, and even at this rate, which is 20 per cent. higher than that agreed are not able to get enough men. The sage before congress meets will call for dollar in order to get enough men to er grades were advanced also. A further meet the demand.

quoted lower only because premiums for earlier deliveries are no longer paid, plates are quoted lower at the east with some small mills selling at 2.5 cents at Pittsburgh, and sheets are sold by some works there at three to four dollars less than the regular price, Strength of bars at the west is largely due to the great demand for cars, of which it is said that 1,000 per day are ordered, but at the east prices are a shade lower. MILES' REPORT.

It Is Extremely Brief and Formal in Character-Made Public at War Department.

Washington, Nov. 15 .- The annual report of Maj. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commanding the army, was made public at the war department. It bears date October 17, 1899, and is extremely brief and formal in character. It announces the transmission to the secretary of war of the reports of the department and staff commanders and makes a brief statement of the strength and distribution of the army including the muster out of the volunteer regiments, most of the details of which have been already published in the reports of the adjutant general.

Michigan Democrats for Bryan.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 16 .- The democratie state central committee, after a meeting Wednesday announced its intention of indorsing W. J. Bryan as the next democratic presidential candidate. They also declared in favor of a campaign conducted on anti-imperialism and anti-trust lines, at the same time reaffirming their allegiance to the Chicago platform and its free silver plank mmissioner Jones, in His Annual Report, Tells of Education of the Nation's Wards.

Washington, Nov. 20. The annual report of the commissioner of Indian affairs, William A. Jones, besides reviewing the progress of affairs in all branches of the service, urges more schools, more systematic methods, study of individual traits and consideration of subsequent environment in outlining studies in the Indian schools, The entire educational system of the Indian office, he says, is predicated upon the final abolishment of the anomalous Indian reservation system. There are now 20,522 boys and girls in attendance on the various Indian schools out of an enrollment of over 25,000. The Indian population from which these are taken being 181.000.

While the population has remained stationary, there has been such a steady increase in the number of the Indians being educated as to warrant the opinion that the next quarter century will witness not a diminu. tion of the Indian population, but an extinguishment of Indian tribes. One discouraging factor, however, is disclosed by the unsatisfactory results of the past nine years' trial of coeducation of the Indians with the whites in the public schools. The report sar's the results of this coeducation are not commensurate with the expenditure; that the idea theoretically is an admirable expedient for breaking down prejudices and civilizing the Indian, but the figures show it is not an unqualified success The full blood, who needs such contact most, is rarely secured, and the groundwork, at least, of Indian education must be laid under the government auspices and

Stronger measures for forcing the attendance on Indian schools are urged. There are 2,562 employes in the Indian service, and the policy is to employ Indiana in every position to which they are adapted by nature and education. A thorough and exhaustive investigation of the Seminoles in Florida has resulted in the discontinuance of the offices of industrial teacher and other employes, and no school will be established for them at present, their real and fancied wrongs having embittered them against governmental assistance. The removal of the Perris school, in southern California, and rebuilding it in a more suitable locality will be recommended to

Concerning the Indian territory, the report severely arraigns nepotism, lack of management, demoralized conditions and a deplorable state of affairs generally in administering the schools and orphan asylums of the five Indian nations. Out of 21 boarding schools, not more than four of the superintendents are reported competent to teach the ordinary English branches, and financial mismanagement is especially complained of.

Reporting on the Chippewa outbreak of last autumn, Commissioner Jones says: 'For many years Chippewas have been arrested and taken from their homes to St. Paul and other points as witnesses or as offenders, chiefly in whisky cases. Often wholesale arrests have been made solely for the fees which would accrue to the officials. Indians have been helped to obtain for using it. In some cases Indians carried off to court have been left to get back home as best they could. The whole matter of arrests by deputy marshals had come to be a farce, a fraud and a hardship to the Chippewas, and a disgrace to the com-

"But neither does this by itself explain the outbreak. When a delegation of Chippewas visited Washington last winter, their most bitter complaint was about injustice in the use of their funds, and frauds in the disposition of their timber. Without going into details, it is sufficient to say that in 1889 the Chippewas were with difficulty induced to cede to the United States large tracts of valuable pine lands on the repremintation that the sale of the pine would bring them in a fund of several million dollars. As is always the case, many Indians were utterly opposed to the negotiations. "A commission was appointed to make allotments on ceded and reservation lands and to secure removals to White Earth of those who were willing to go there. Estimators were appointed to appraise the Chippewa pine. The expense of both is charged to the fund of the Indians. The expense of the commission up to date has not been less than $200,000, most of it in salaries. The work of the estimators proved worthless, and a second set of estimators was appointed, with no better results, and a third set of men was assigned to the work. Up to date about $280,000 has been charged to the Indians for estimating. large tracts of pine, which had been estimated at from one-fourth to one-half their value, were sold, and that loss also fel upon the Indians. Again, under authority to dispose of dead and down timber, contractors have cut large quantities of green standing timber. There are also strong indications that considerable timber was fired to bring it nominally under the head of "dead" timber. This was another loss to the Indians. All these and other minor influences wrought together to produce the general feeling of oppression and distrust and exasperation which found expression when the arrests were undertaken by the aid of military force."

MAY ORDER A STRIKE

nless Its Demands Are Considered Mine Workers' Board Will Call Out 15,000 Men.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20 .- The excutive board of the United Mine Workers has voted to order a general strike of miners in the southwest unless railroad and coal companies consider demands made by the organization. The board wants to confer with coal operators and railroads in Missouri, Kansas and Texas, and the contemplated strike affects 5,000 miners, who are now idle in this district, besides others that are at work. The general strike will call out 15,000 men. It will tie up the coal shipments over railroads in the south-

Timely Suggestions Offered by Prof. F. A. Waugh, of the Vermont Experiment Station.

The distance between trees in the row will be influenced somewhat by the width of the street. In a wide street, where there is room enough for the full who desires to give his customers a development of each tree, they will be planted further apart. If the street is wide enough, the trees should always stand between the walk and the curb. It is wide enough if, from curb to curb. the width is one and a half times the distance recommended for the trees in the rows. On a narrower street, trees should stand between the walk and the buildings or should be dispensed with. There are many beautiful streets in this plest and best form for this is not country which support four rows of trees. Such streets should have the central avenue twice as wide as the distance between trees in the row; and the distance between the two rows on either side should be somewhat less than that between trees.

The American elm is doubtless the commonest street tree in America. It has many undeniably good qualities to recommend it. And yet there are serious objections to the elm as a street tree, besides the fact that it is often defoliated by caterpillars of various species, as, indeed, are many other trees. The elm varies greatly in size and form, and it is almost impossible to find a long street of old elms which does not suffer from the sad neglect of uniformity which this variability introduces. The elm is also one of the least formal of our trees, and so detracts from the unity of the geometrical idea in street planting. It would be silly to advise planters to discard the elm altogether; but it will not be too much to suggest that some other species should always be duly considered.

The maples are excellent street trees, especially the sugar maple, and many admirable examples of their effectiveness are to be found in the northern states. The sugar maple is a strong. healthy grower, with a regular, clearcut outline, and has the advantage of a very tidy appearance through the winter months. In southwestern states the toft maple, or silver maple (Acer dasycarpum), takes the place of the sugar maple, but is not so good a tree.

The American sycamore is one of our finest street trees in many situations. Anyone who does not know how beautiful this species is should study the effeets produced by it in Washington, especially in the magnificent avenue just west of the capitol. The sycamore does not succeed north of Massachusetts and central New York, but for the greater part of the United States it is worth careful consideration.

Other species which are sometimes used with happy results are honey locust, Kentucky coffee tree, pines and spruces. There is a most striking and beautiful avenue leading to the department of agriculture; and there are some pretty rows of ailanthus about the Temple square in Salt Lake City. Occasionally one will find an avenue of oaks, and if it is a good one there are ew trees more satisfactory. Poplars, he trans-Mississippi states, but they are usually a poor makeshift. It is always very gratifying to find a good freet of trees of an unusual species, and his is a thing which the street makers hight well hold in remembrance.

In fropical and subtropical countries, ^{ome} species of palms are unexcelled as treet trees. Our engraving presents view of one of the grandest avenues If this kind in the world, the royal palm venue near Havana, Cuba.—Orange udd Farmer.

COOLING THE MILK

essens the Capacity of Taking Up Odors and Arrests the Process of Fermentation.

Clean milking by clean hands, in as pure a stable atmosphere as is obtainable, must be supplemented by a rapid and thorough cooling of the milk. Cooling at once lessens the capacity of the milk to take up odors, arrests the process of fermentation, and, if well stirred during the cooling, the cream is kept from rising to the surface and will afterward more surely remain mixed with the milk while being distributed from the wagon. These are valuable considerations for a milkman good service.

Two or three plunges with this implement in a can of milk each time that a pail is emptied will be found to be very effective in agitating, and consequently in cooling, the milk.

Milk or any other fluid will cool much more readily when brought in close contact with water than in air, even though the air is considerably colder than the water. This is especially true of milk in tin cans or glass jars. If one must have an aerator, he should choose one through which water is run for cooling purposes. - F. W. Mossman, in Farmers' Advocate.

FOR HEATING WATER.

The Illustration Shows a Contrivance of Particular Interest to Bright Dairymen.

There is no question about the advisability of taking the chill off the water that is given to cattle in the winter. The problem is to secure a practical, cheap way of warming the water. The illustration shows how this may be done. The trough is raised as shown and a circular opening cut in the bottom. A thick body of white lead is spread about this opening and a sheet of galvanized iron is then tacked firmly down upon the lead, as shown. 'Under this is made a box, and in it is placed a small oil stove. Have two small holes in the door and in the rear wall of the box near the top. With the cover down, a whole troughful of icy-cold water can soon be brought to a temperature where it will be safe for stock to drink it, and that, too, at almost no trouble at all, and at hardly more than a cent's expense.--Orange Judd Farmer.

The Care of Asparagus.

Some people need a hint or two to remind them of what is in order "to do next." Well, one thing now is to cut specially the cottonwood, are used in down the asparagus straw, shape up the bed and cover well with compost, in the absence of which stable manure from the horse barn may be used. It will do no harm if the covering be six inches deep. It is in point here also to state that when the ground freezes up all the asparagus for next season is stored in the roots at that time, so that while the soil is open and the manure applied much of the fertilizing principle will reach the roots this fall. It has often been stated that the asparagus plant will rise an inch or more every year; hence, in the course of five or six will do no harm if the covering be six About two ounces of salt given every year; hence, in the course of five or six year; he plants would be near the top butter. As all increase the yield years, the plants would be near the top butter.
