BUSINESS REORGANIZATION.

H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co. Reorganized for a Term of Five Years.

With this week the firm of H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co. has been reorganized for a period of five years. The junior partners in the firm—Edward Vogel, E. R. Dancer and D. H. Wurster—have each taken much larger interests than before, and H. S. Holmes, the senior member, has correspondingly reduced his holding.

This plan will relieve Mr. Holmes from some of the duties in the store which he has so assiduously performed since he started in business in March, 1872, and will enable him to devote more time to his private business and to the other business houses in which he is largely interested. Having been elected to the presidency of the Kempf Commercial & Savings Bank, naturally takes considerable of his time, and it seemed to be necessary for him to let up somewhere.

It is the intention of Mr. Holmes to build over the stores occupied by the firm during the coming season, and make it the most complete department store in the county.

The Herald extends its best wishes to the young men and trusts they will have the best of success in their increased business relations.

Death of Mrs. Austin Palmer.

Mrs. Austin Palmer, mother of John A. Palmer, cashier of the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank, died of heart disease, Thursday, March 1, at the home of her granddaughter Mrs. G. L. Miller, of Aurora, Ill., aged nearly 83 years. The remains were brought here Saturday to the home of her son and were interred in Oak Grove cemetery Sunday afternoon, Rev. C. S. Jones conducting the services.

Mrs. Palmer's maiden name was Jane Russell. She was born in the state of New York, June 27, 1818. She was married to Austin Palmer, Jan. 1, 1835. They first came to Michigan in 1836. She was the mother of six children, three of whom survive her, John A. Palmer, of Chelsea; R. C. and Mark Palmer, of Waukesha, Wis.

Washtenaw Co. Farmers' Institute.

At a meeting held in Ann Arbor last Friday, the Washtenaw County Farmers' Institute elected these officers for the ensuing year: H. J. Pinckney of Ypsilanti, president; Charles L. Foster of Ypsilanti, secretary and treasurer; H. J. Pinckney, Charles L. Foster, J. A. McDougall, Wm. Campbell and John H. Campbell, executive committee; vice presidents, J. K. Campbell, Augusta; H. Notice to Delinquent Taxpayers.

The auditor general's office calls the attention of property owners to the fact that lands which are delinquent for the taxes of 1898 and sold in May, 1899, may be redeemed by application to the auditor general until April 30 only. Unless these taxes are paid on or before the last mentioned date, settlement must then be made with the purchaser of the tax title, whom the law authorizes to charge double the amount of the taxes and charges paid by him, together with $3 additional for each description of land. Lands delinquent for the taxes of 1897 will be sold in May of this year, and payment to the county treasurer previous to that time will save additional interest charges.

Many a day I thought I would die before my husband returned from his labor. Since I am free from pain many of my friends are surprised, and say they will send for some of the '5 DROPS'. Sample bottles will be sent to anyone on receipt of 25c. Large bottles, containing 200 doses: $1.00. For information write, Swanston Rheumatic Cure Co., 164 E. Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

Chicago Is Growing Better

A Striking Comparison of the Old and the New Alderman—Other Stories

According to the Chicago Tribune the world and Chicago aldermen are growing better, and it presents figures to prove this; at least to prove that Chicago is growing better, and to the lake city Chicago means the world.

Were Boon Companions of Satan.

This comparison of the men who compose the Chicago city council of to-day with the men who held the seats in the council 12, ten, and even four and five years ago is quite interesting, even if it proves nothing. When one looks back upon the municipal legislation of the past it is easy to imagine the class of men who composed the city council in those days. Many of the ordinances still on the statute books of the city were a product of the fertile brain of the men of the council during the days from 1892 to 1897. Schemes of all kinds were proposed by the men who desired to benefit at the expense of the city. Franchises were granted with a free hand to parties unknown to the people, and who had no intention of using them excepting as a means for personal benefit. Gambling of every kind was legalized so far as the city council could do so.

The aldermanic body in those days did not represent the respectable portion of the city's population. The majority of the men sitting in the city council were of the lowest class of dive keepers and toughs, and their one interest was boodle.

According to the Tribune the majority of the Chicago aldermen of those days were the boon companions of Satan.

The Alderman of To-Day.

But what a change a few years has wrought. To-day Satan has tucked his tail between his legs and fled from the aldermanic saint who is legislating for the city of Chicago. The imp of darkness no longer finds pleasant company around the city hall; his boon companions of years gone by are waxing fat on the fruits of their lazariousness. A Model for All the World.

A Model for All the World.

The alderman of to-day in the Lake city poses as a model for all the world. The large checks and dazzling jewels of the past have given way, and in their place come the alderman of the present, garbed in black broadcloth and silk hat, while round his head floats the halo of honesty and truth. He is a superior specimen of the aldermanic species, whose equal is not to be found throughout the length and breadth of the land, even in Gotham.

While prosperity stalks abroad in the land, there is a look of poverty about the Chicago city hall. The "good things" of the past are no more, and while there are still a few of the old reign hanging onto the ragged edge of past history, and hold their seats in the council by the efforts of a machine which has not yet been broken, they are so far in the minority that their votes are a worthless commodity in the franchise market. For doing what little they can to block honest legislation the people of the city pay them a salary of $1,500 a year for a secretary which they do not need and never employ.

For this change Chicago is indebted to the Municipal Voters' league and the Civic Federation.

Unfaithful Policemen.

But while honesty and truth, in the garb of a reformed alderman, guards the treasury vaults of the city in the municipal building, thieves break in and steal of the citizens of the town.

Chicago is having an unprecedented number of burglaries and hold-ups that are taking place in every portion of the city. The papers are filled with accounts of these, and it is but seldom that the offenders against law and order are brought to the bar of justice.

The "Cop" Looks the Other Way.

A few days ago I was conversing with a "plain clothes" man of the city's detective force, and asked him if he could assign any cause for this reign of lawlessness, and who was to blame for it. "Blame the patrolmen," he replied. "I do not say that every policeman in the city is in league with these thieves, but I do say that on seven out of every ten beats along business streets of the city I could ransack any store I pleased, unless it is protected by a special watchman, and not be molested."

We were standing, at the time, in a store on one of the principal business streets of the South side of the city.

"Do you mean to say," I asked, "that you could enter this store at night without danger of being molested by the policeman?"

"That is just what I mean," he replied, "and this is not an exceptional case, in the least. All that is necessary to do is to look up the patrolman and say to him that you want him to keep away from such and such a place at such a time, and that you will divide the plunder, and in seven cases out of ten he will keep away. Policemen, like other men, have their price, and theirs is not a very big one."

Was Not Popular.

In Chicago local, and even national, affairs are forgotten as topics of conversation, and everyone turns to the English-Boer war.

It seems to be human nature to favor the under dog so long as the under dog has a chance to win, and so it was that when Gen. Buller was getting his daily thrashing while trying to force an entrance into beleaguered Ladysmith, everybody was hurrahing for the fellow who was wielding the lash. But friends slipped away from the Boer cause as the Boers slipped away from Ladysmith when once Gen. Roberts had entered Boer territory.

This, however, is not intended as a dissertation on the merits of the war, but is a little story of one man who wishes he was in it.

A few nights ago I met a man, residing here in Chicago, who wears on his breast the Victoria cross, and who was at one time a captain in the English army. To-day he is metaphorically kicking himself because he is not now fighting under the union jack in South Africa, and I asked him why he had left the military service of England to engage in civil pursuits in this country.

"I did the trick in 1880," he said, "after having served the queen faithfully for a number of years in different places. At that time I was on duty in England, and was one of the officers of the troops that were sent to Ireland to quell the anti-rent riots. The bloody Irish did not appreciate us in the least, and one day after I had assisted the civil officers in evicting an Irishman and his family from his home, the blooming idiot up and hit me in the head with a brick. I was so disgusted with a service that was not better appreciated that I resigned my commission within a week."

GROWTH OF ATHLETICS.

The University of Chicago's "Congregation" to Discuss the Subject.

Some of the professors on faculties of the University of Chicago who are opposed to having athletics the most prominent subject in the student mind have arranged to bring the question of interest in athletics up for discussion before the largest and most representative body of faculty members at the university, the congregation. The executive committee announced the decision in the University Record to discuss at the regular meeting next month the following question:

"Resolved, That the present increase of interest in athletics in the university is undesirable."

The congregation is only an advisory body, as was shown recently in connection with phonetic spelling. The sessions are secret. Another question to be discussed provides that the degree of bachelor of arts should be given not only to those who complete the so-called classical course, but to all undergraduates even if they do not take courses in Latin or Greek.

PLAYED ENOCH ARDEN.

A Michigan Man Returns After an Absence of Many Years and Finds His Wife Remarried.

Benton Harbor has a new Enoch Arden. Twenty-three years ago John B. Thompson, a farmer living in Lincoln township, near there, disappeared from home. He left a wife and four little children. For six years they had no word from him, and then his wife received a letter dated from some place in Cuba. That was the last heard of him, and Mrs. Thompson decided that her husband was dead.

Recently Mrs. Thompson, believing herself a widow, married Edward McGarvey, a man from Chicago. They settled happily on a little farm in Hagar township. A few weeks afterward the missing John Thompson came back to Benton Harbor. He proceeded at once to raise a family row with the McGarveys, and attempted to win back his former wife. Mrs. McGarvey, however, stood by her new husband. She quietly procured a divorce from Thompson and remarried McGarvey.

Thompson declines to give an account of himself during the last 23 years, further than to say that he has been living in Cuba and that he is going back there shortly.

A NEW RULING.

A Circuit Court Judge Says That Living Apart is No Ground for a Divorce.

Circuit Judge Wiest has made a new ruling in Lansing in divorce cases. The case was one wherein the husband asked for a decree on the ground of desertion, but testified that his wife left home with his consent and he had never endeavored to have her return. On this point the judge said:

"This is not desertion within the meaning of the statute. The law requires something more than mere living apart for two years. The law prohibits a divorce by consent of the parties. The marriage relations may not be laid aside by will of the parties. The law requires some preliminaries before the marriage can be performed, and also a few preliminaries before it can be dissolved. Desertion cannot exist where the parties desire to break up the home and sever the marital relations, and it can only exist where one party tries to maintain the relations and the other will not."

PIONEERS' BANQUET.

Oakland County Society Holds Its Twenty-Sixth Annual Meeting in Pontiac.

The twenty-sixth annual meeting and banquet of the Oakland County Pioneer society was held at the courthouse in Pontiac. Fully 600 people were present and an elaborate dinner, prepared by the ladies of the city, was served at noon. During the year 1899 there were 170 deaths recorded among pioneers and so far this year there have been 14 deaths. There were 49 pioneers present at the meeting over 80 years of age. The officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, Edwin Phelps; secretary and treasurer, Ezra W. Jewell; committee on next year's programme, E. J. Kelly, H. H. Colvin and J. K. Judd.

Trees Can Be Trimmed.

A case of considerable interest has been decided by the supreme court. Oscar Wyant, in the Berrien circuit court, secured a judgment against the Central Telephone company for damage done to shade trees which were trimmed by the telephone company in order to string its wires. The case was reversed by the supreme court on the ground that the right to string wires and erect poles along highways carries with it the right to trim trees, such right, however, to be exercised in a reasonable and proper way.

Stock Is Taxable.

Attorney General Oran has advised the secretary of state that foreign building and loan associations doing business in Michigan are not included in the law of 1887 exempting the stock of building and loan associations from taxation. He holds that only the stock of associations incorporated in Michigan are exempt. The effect will be to place on the tax rolls all stock of associations of other states owned in Michigan.

State Printing Contract.

It appears that the new state printers for whom Oscar L. McKinley secured the state contract is the Wynkoop-Hollenbeck-Crawford company, state printers of New York. H. C. Hollenbeck, who was in Lansing, says a Michigan corporation with $35,000 capital will be organized to do the printing, and a big plant will be maintained.

Brothers Reunited.

Two brothers, John and Wells Axtell, recently met at Olivet, after a separation of 36 years. They left home at the beginning of the civil war, joining different divisions of the army. After the war Wells settled in New York and John in Michigan.

Heir to Large Fortune.

The American consul at Edinburgh, Scotland, has notified William Whalin, of Bloomingdale, that he is one of the heirs to an estate in Scotland valued at $2,500,000. Whalin is a poor tailor and has been a resident here for many years.

THE COUNTESS OF AVA.

An American Girl Caught Up by Marriage Into the Lottiest of the British Peerage.

The countess of Ava, who in all human probability will be the next marchioness of Dufferin, is another American girl who has been caught up by marriage into the loftiest of the British peerage. "Pretty Flora Davis" she was called a few years ago when she presided over her father's house in Washington square, New York. Her mother, the wife of John H. Davis, the New York banker, died when the future countess was a child, and early in life the duties of hostess fell upon the beautiful girl, who may now be called upon to preside over the home of the great Dufferins.

Miss Davis and young Lord Blackwood met in Paris several years ago, when he was attache to his father's embassy and when she was spending a year or two abroad. The marriage was solemnized in Paris in 1893, and Lord and Lady Blackwood removed to London, where they lived for a short time in a quaint house in Cadogan square. They have two little daughters, but no son.

When Miss Davis married the second son of Lord Dufferin there seemed small hope that her husband would ever succeed to the title which his distinguished father had honored so highly and so long. On the contrary all the appearances were strongly against that prospect. Lord Dufferin's eldest son, the late earl of Ava and heir to the title, was young, and in the nature of things it was to be expected that he would marry and displace his brother in the position of heir presumptive, with a son of his own. But the earl did not marry. Whether he was a misogamist or had been severely disappointed in his early affections in such manner as to leave him with an incurable wound, who can say? At all events he passed the age of 37 wifeless. Romance or no romance, he went to the wars in South Africa, and there he found a soldier's grave.

The second son, Lord Blackwood, at once succeeded to the place of direct heir. Up to the death of his brother he had been heir presumptive, and he now assumed the title of earl of Ava. This title, by the way, does not appertain to the heir, but belongs to the marquis of Dufferin himself. It was added to his principal title by the queen on the occasion of the annexation of Burmah to the Indian empire, when Lord Dufferin was viceroy. Ava is the name of the former capital of Burmah, and the city is now partly in ruins. By courtesy the heir apparent uses the secondary title of his father—a custom that is common in the peerage.

Two other sons of Lord Dufferin are now in South Africa. One, Lord Frederick Temple, is in active service with his regiment in Gen. Methuen's march to the relief of Kimberley. The other, Lord Basil, is at the front in the interests of a London magazine. The present earl of Ava has been in the diplomatic service of his country for a long time. He and his wife are now at the Stockholm embassy, and the future marquis will probably continue to work on as a diplomat, in which capacity he has given evidences of that rare ability which has made his father the foremost diplomat of the age.

Plants in Sleeping-Rooms.

It is not wise to keep plants in the sleeping room at night, because the exhalations of these plants are not considered wholesome. The soil in which they are cultivated is prepared from rotted leaves and earth, taken from various localities where the soil is suitable for the purpose. Sometimes this soil is filled with malarious germs and may be a constant source of danger. "In the moist, warm air of a closed living-room," says an authority on this subject, "malarial germs grow luxuriant." It is said that malarial fevers have been traced to the lower pots in which plants were growing.

CRIME AND PAUPERISM.

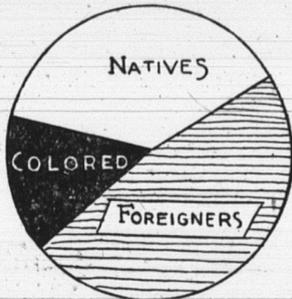

American Women Make an Excellent Showing in the Statistical Returns Just Completed.

Four persons out of every 3,000 men, women and children in the United States are either in jail, or out on bail, or are fugitives from justice. Their total number is 90,000, out of a population estimated at 70,000,000.

American women make an excellent showing—rather, lack of showing—in crime statistics. Only six per cent. of all those who have fallen foul of the law are women.

The sex, says the New York World, is most prominent in what are known as crimes against society, including bigamy. To this class of offenders it contributes 25 per cent. of the total.

The total number of crimes committed against the person, running the whole gamut from assault to murder, are 20 per cent. of the total of crimes committed in the country.

Against society are 25 per cent. of all the crimes punished in the United States, while ten per cent. are miscellaneous ones which it is impossible to classify.

The proportion of the natives to the foreign classes and to the colored class among the prisoners in the United States is interesting. It is surprising to find that less than five per cent. of all the prisoners are colored. Foreigners are much more numerous in the criminal courts, 30 per cent., perhaps, while 65 per cent. are natives.

It is recorded that of the total insane in the United States seven per cent. are colored, 28 per cent. are foreigners and 65 per cent. natives. This, of course, does not mean that the number of insane natives is greater in proportion to the population. Judged on this basis the percentage of native insane is smaller than among the foreigners or colored people. In sex there is almost no difference, the women outnumbering the men so slightly that the difference is scarcely appreciable.

In the pauper wards the relation of classes is very different. But 50 per cent. of the total number of paupers are natives, while 41 per cent. are foreigners and nine per cent. are colored. The women are outnumbered by the men in the asylums throughout the country by a ratio of 44 to 56.

The insane come in large proportions from country regions, in spite of the quiet, monotonous life.

WINTER-MADE JELLIES.

Excellent Way of Utilizing the Juice Left Over from Canned and Preserved Fruits.

There is always some fruit juice left from canned or preserved fruits. This sirup makes a delicious fruit jelly thickened with gelatine. Heat a pint to the boiling point and pour it over a third of a box of gelatine which has been soaking in a third of a cupful of cold water for two hours. Strain the mixture after stirring it well to melt the gelatine, and put it into the mold. Serve it with a little whipped cream or with preserved fruit and whipped cream. It is an improvement to this jelly if it is made of preserved sirup to add the juice of half a lemon to every pint. Candied cherries, peaches, apricots or other candied fruit may be used as a garnish to molds of this jelly. Bavarian creams are molded in combination with such jellies and make a delicious dessert. A combination of different kinds of fruit chopped may also be incorporated in such a jelly, which is then served for dessert with whipped cream.—N. Y. Tribune.

The Wearing of Veils.

Such a number of ladies have been having red noses, especially during cold weather, that a distinguished scientist has decided that this is due to the wearing of veils. The rough spots of the veil irritate the skin, and the vapor that collects tends to chap the face. Veils should not be worn too tightly, and in winter it is better to discard them almost entirely.

Best Way to Toast Cheese.

Cut two ounces of cheese into thin slices, put it into a saucepan, set it on the fire, and add one gill of fresh milk; simmer it till the cheese is quite dissolved, then take it from the fire and pour it into a shallow dish; when cooled a little add the yolk of an egg well beaten. Then place it before the fire and brown it nicely.

There is a growing demand in Japan for female clerks, and a special commercial education to fit them for their work is being agitated.

SCHOOL GIRL WITH MILLIONS Moreover This Young Kentuckian's Fortune Has a History of Its Own. "There is a school girl in Louisville," said a Kentucky man of political prominence, "pretty well along in her teens who is one of the richest persons of her age in the United States, and there is a gold mine romance goes with her fortune. Her grandfather was John B. Williams, born in Somerset, Ken. ucky, who as a young lawyer, went to San Francisco. There in the course of his practice he undertook to ficit a gold mine in Nevada, and he earned a fee of $1,500 for his labor. However, the mine didn't pan out right and the company went to pieces without paying Mr. Williams his fee—I may say that he was then or afterwards Attorney-General of the State—and it was agreed that he should foreclose on the mine and buy it in for his fee. This he did, and a couple of years or so later, a representative of the Flood, Mackey and O'Brien interests, just then coming into prominence came into his office one day and offered him $50,000 for his mine, which adjoined their Nevada property. He declined to sell, although nearly paralyzed by the proposition and the figures were rapidly advanced to $200,000, which Mr. Williams also declined, because he was sure now that he had a good thing, though he had not suspected it before, but he agreed to put the mine in with the other interest and take his share of the profits.

"On this basis the F. M. O. people took over the mine that had cost Williams $1,500 and he began to get dividends. Not a great while afterward a representative of the majority holders told Mr. Williams that somebody was bearing the stock in the market and he did not know what the result would be, but if he wanted to sell out he could do so. Mr. Williams was willing to sell if he could get his price, and after several days' dickering he sold his interest, receiving for it a check for $3,000,000, the largest check, by the way ever drawn by any one on the Pacific Coast. After that Mr. Williams was on Easy street, but money does not prolong life indefinitely and in time he died, leaving married sons and daughters who did not long survive him. The young girl I speak of is the daughter of one of Mr. Williams's daughters, and she is now the sole heir of the property of her grandfather which I am reliably informed has increased in value until it is worth somewhere between ten and twelve millions of dollars.

The Republican party has kept faith with the country. It pledged itself to revise the tariff on protection lines and to pass a bill establishing the gold standard. It has done both, and in addition it has added an imperial domain to the territory of the United States, has waged a successful war, and has taken the first steps towards building the Nicaraguan canal, to say nothing about the boundless prosperity that has accrued to the country at large and in which everyone has shared.

The supreme court has handed down a decision that the right given to a telephone company to string wires and erect poles along highways carries with it the right to trim shade trees, such right, however, to be exercised in a reasonable and proper way. Even if this right is exercised in the way in which the court says it shall be, the decision will not meet with much favor from those who have spent lots of time, patience and money to get a fine growth of shade trees on the highways in front of their property.

Michigan farmers seem to be somewhat in the dumps over the growing of sugar beets. The sentiment at the round-up farmers' institute at Ann Arbor last week was decidedly against their culture. The trouble seems to be that the farmers expected to reap a golden harvest the very first go off, and when the unpropitious season of last year came and they made little or no profits they became discouraged. When a man goes into a new business if he makes expenses the first year he is generally satisfied and he looks to the succeeding years to remunerate him. With every succeeding year of beet culture, if care is taken, the soil will be that much better fitted for growing beets and the chances for profit will be that much more enhanced.

FIFTH ANNUAL ROUND-UP.

State Farmers' Institute Held in Ann Arbor the Most Successful on Record.

HELD AT UNIVERSITY BY INVITATION.

President Angell Welcomes Guests and Throws the Doors Wide Open—Other Addresses of an Instructive Character—The Most Successful Meeting Ever Held.

[Special Correspondence.]

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 5.—The fifth annual round-up of the Michigan State Farmers' institute was held in Ann Arbor last week at the invitation of the board of regents of the University of Michigan. The institute opened Tuesday afternoon with over 300 farmers from different parts of the state in attendance.

Soil Tillage.

Tuesday afternoon was given over to the discussion of the general topic: "The Soil." The speakers were Dr. R. C. Kedzie, Prof. C. E. Marshall, Prof. Jeffries, Prof. J. D. Towar, of the agricultural college, and Roland Morrill, of Benton Harbor. The special subject taken up by Mr. Morrill was "Tillage in Theory and Practice," and in a forcible and interesting manner he dwelt on the necessity for thorough and scientific tillage, saying that no good crop could be raised unless the ground were suited and properly tilled and prepared for it. The greatest mistake farmers are making is tilling too much ground. They should till less and till it thoroughly and properly, and leave what they cannot till properly for pasturage and natural fertilization. He stated that one year he and a hired man devoted their entire time to the tilling of nine acres. Three of these were in melons. Out of these three acres he took in over $3,200, clearing over all expenses $1,950.

President Angell's Address.

The evening session on "Higher Education" was held in University hall. After a song by the Glee club President Angell welcomed the guests to the city and college halls, inviting them to inspect everything of interest to them on the grounds or in the buildings. All doors were thrown open to them. He regretted that the university was not portable, so that it could be moved from county to county and around to other states, that all might receive benefit from it. He said:

"We desire to show and explain to you everything which you wish to know. These great schools are not ours, but yours. They have been made possible only because of yours and the legislature's generosity. We are here as your servants, here to help you carry on the work of educating your sons and daughters. We come and go, but these institutions are here to stay. We are transients. Of the 200 and more persons now composing the university faculty only four were here when I came. The others have gone and we must soon follow.

Dr. Angell then referred to the constitution of 1877 and the great men who framed it. They were with them intellectual and we can never pay them sufficient honor. The section on education in the constitution was a remarkable piece of work. The foresight of these men has saved to Michigan two generations of educated men who otherwise would have grown up without the advantages they enjoyed.

"To-day there are 3,300 students in the university and over 30,000 students have been in attendance since the opening of the institution. At least 15,000 were the sons and daughters of farmers. The total expense to the state of Michigan for educating this large number is but equal to the cost of a modern battleship."

Principal Lyman's Address.

He was followed by Principal Lyman, of the Normal college, at Ypsilanti. In opening his remarks he paid a tribute to the university, of which he had been a student and instructor. In speaking of the Ypsilanti normal, of which he is the head, he said it had an attendance of over 1,100, and will graduate this year a class of 360. Of the 1,100 over 800 are women. All but 22 of the total number are from the state of Michigan. The aim of the institution is to furnish professional and academic training for those who are to teach.

"Normal graduates," said Principal Lyman, "keep up their scholarly habits after leaving the institution. They do not deteriorate." The speaker invited the farmers to visit the college on Thursday of this week, promising that every courtesy should be extended to them, and they should see the entire institution.

Principal Snyder Speaks.

President J. L. Snyder, of the Agricultural college, responded on behalf of that institution. He said, in part:

"The agricultural college, which I have the honor to represent, was established to give a higher education to the industrial classes of the state. It has a distinct field of its own, and is endeavoring to do its work well within its proper sphere. Its main purpose is to give a liberal and practical education to those who expect to follow industrial pursuits. It endeavors to bring all that is good in science, invention and method to bear directly upon the work of the farm, the mechanic arts and the home. It gives three four-year courses of study besides a number of special courses. In the agricultural course it trains young men for agricultural pursuits, but it keeps in mind that, first of all is the man himself; the man first and the farmer afterwards. In addition to the technical studies he is given a very thorough course in the natural sciences and their application to the particular work which he expects to follow in after life. In addition to this he is given a good training in English, literature, mathematics, history and economics. He is introduced to the thought and history of the past and, as far as possible, is given that solid foundation which will enable him to think clearly and express his thoughts forcibly. As far as possible, students are taught to appreciate all that is wholesome and good in country life, so that when they leave college they will enter upon their life work with enthusiasm and pleasure, and not with a feeling that they are 'brother to the ox.' The Agricultural college stands for higher training in industrial pursuits. Human industry deserves the best that science or human intelligence has to offer. It is as possible to endow and equip members of society to be the captains of industry as of war. In an industrial age like the present it is as much a function of education to produce the man efficient in directing industry as it is to produce one capable of directing the spiritual life, or protecting the legal rights of the people. The mission of the Agricultural college is to prepare leaders of industry. It confines its work to this sphere and leaves to the other institutions of the state the preparation for other callings and professions."

Other Addresses.

The second part of the programme was devoted to "Higher Education as It Appears to the Boards of Control." Regent H. S. Dean responded on behalf of the university. Prof. E. Finley Johnson, of the state board of education, spoke with reference to the normal schools and what they are doing for the educational welfare of the state.

Capt. E. P. Allen, of Ypsilanti, member of the agricultural board, concluded the discussion by speaking for the Agricultural college.

Wednesday's Session.

The county delegates, which in most cases meant the secretaries of the county institute associations, held an interesting conference early in the morning relative to their work and how to get the best out of it. The topic for the morning session was "Farm Crops." A. M. Brown, of Schoolcraft, gave a talk on "Lessons of the Year in Wheat Growing." E. A. Croman, Grass Lake, "Lessons of the Year in Growing Corn;" Prof. J. D. Towar, Agricultural college, "Results of Experiments with Beginners;" A. E. Palmer, Kalamazoo, "Rotation of Crops," and M. L. Dean, Agricultural college, "New Helps in Potato Growing."

In the afternoon the subject of "Fruit" was taken up. The speakers were: Roland Morrill, Benton Harbor; S. H. Fulton, South Haven; J. N. Stearns, Kalamazoo, and L. R. Taft, of the Agricultural college.

The evening session was divided into two parts. Part one was an illustrated lecture on liquid air by Dr. Paul C. Freer, of the university. This was open only to the out-of-town delegates at the institute. Part two consisted of two addresses. Dr. R. M. Wenley, professor of philosophy in the university, spoke on "Cooperation," and Prof. L. H. Bailey, of Cornell university, presented the subject of "The Trend of Agricultural Education."

Women's sections were held Wednesday afternoon, and were largely attended.

Thursday's Session.

Thursday forenoon was taken up with two sessions, both being held at the same time, but in different places. In one the subject of the manufacture of beet sugar was discussed, and in the other topics more generally of interest to the agricultural representatives at the institute.

In the afternoon the women delegates at the round-up were given an excursion through the university buildings. They visited the museum, the art galleries and the gymnasiums.

In the evening the programme consisted of an able paper by A. N. Kimmis, Midland, on the subject of Farmers' Organizations. Dr. H. W. Wiley, of the United States department of agriculture, presented the subject of "The Manufacture of Sugar from Beets." The principal address of the evening was by ex-Gov. Cyrus G. Luce, of Coldwater. He showed up the farmer as a citizen. Before closing he expressed himself in sympathy with the farmers of South Africa, who were fighting for their rights.

The Last Day.

Friday morning over 100 of the visiting guests took in the excursion to Ypsilanti to visit the state normal college. The others carried on a programme upon the subjects of "Dairy Cows" and "Hogs." In the afternoon the subject for consideration was "Sheep and Horses."

Best Ever Held.

All things considered, the "round-up" was the most successful yet held. The registration of out-of-town delegates was larger than at any previous meeting.

Good Peach Crop.

George B. Tatman, a prominent Benton Harbor peach grower, says that the peach trees in that vicinity are in excellent condition and the prospects for a large crop are very flattering. The weather has been cold and has kept the peach buds back. Tatman says that the trees are in such condition that they have nothing to fear from the month of March, and the only enemy with which they will have to contend is curl leaf, should the month of June happen to be wet.

LADYSMITH'S RELIEF

London Goes Mad with Joy When the News is Received.

Buller Finally Enters the beleaguered City—Details Concerning Capture of Gen. Cronje and His Army.

London, March 1, 9:52 a. m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Buller:

"Lyttelton's Headquarters, March 1—9:55 Morning.—Gen. Dundonald, with the Natal Carbineers and a composite regiment, entered Ladysmith last night. The country between me and Ladysmith is reported clear of the enemy. I am moving on Nelthorpe."

Condition of White's Forces. London, March 2.—Gen. Buller wires from Nelthorpe, under Thursday's date, that he has just returned from Ladysmith. He adds that the whole country south of that place is cleared of the Boers. He says:

"Nelthorpe, March 1.—I have just returned from Ladysmith. Except a small guard, north of Surprise hill, the whole of the enemy lately besieging the town have retired in hot haste, and to the south of the town the country is quite clear of them. The garrison were on half a pound of meal a man per day and supplementing the meat rations by horses and mules. The men will want a little nursing before being fit for the field."

London Mad with Joy.

London, March 2.—When the news of the relief of Ladysmith became generally known London literally went mad with joy and throughout England the scenes witnessed have no parallel in the memories of this generation. The pent-up jubilation at the relief of Kimberley and the defeat of Cronje could no longer be controlled, and with Thursday's crowning triumph the national trait of self-restraint was thrown to the winds. The lord mayor of London immediately telegraphed his congratulations to Gen. White and Buller.

When the queen received the news at Windsor the bells on the curfew tower of the castle were rung in honor of the event.

Dispatch from Roberts.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Paardeberg, 11 o'clock Tuesday morning.—From information furnished daily to me by the intelligence department, it became apparent that Gen. Cronje's force was becoming more depressed and that the discontent of the troops and the discord among the leaders were rapidly increasing. This feeling was doubtless accentuated by the disappointment caused when the Boer reinforcements which tried to relieve Gen. Cronje were defeated by our troops on February 23. I resolved, therefore, to bring pressure to bear upon enemy. Each night the trenches were pushed forward toward the enemy's laager so as to gradually contract his position, and at the same time it was heavily with artillery, which yesterday materially aided by the arrival of four six-inch howitzers which I had ordered up from De Aar.

Good Work of Captive Balloon.

"In carrying out these measures a captive balloon gave great assistance by keeping us informed of the dispositions and movements of the enemy. At three a. m. to-day a most dashing advance was made by the Canadian regiment and some engineers, supported by the First Gordon Highlanders and Second Shropshires, resulting in our gaining a point some 600 yards nearer the enemy and within about 80 yards of his trenches, where our men entrenched themselves and maintained their positions till morning, a gallant deed worthy of our colonial comrades and which, I am glad to say, was attended by comparatively slight loss.

Offers to Surrender.

"This apparently clinched matters, for at daylight to-day, a letter signed by Gen. Cronje, in which he stated that he surrendered unconditionally, was brought to our outposts under a flag of truce. "In my reply I told Gen. Cronje he must present himself at my camp and that his forces must come out of their laager after laying down their arms. By seven a. m. I received Gen. Cronje and dispatched a telegram to you announcing the fact. In the course of conversation he asked for kind treatment at our hands and also that his wife, grandson, private secretary, adjutant and servants might accompany him wherever he might be sent.

"I reassured him and told him his request would be complied with. I informed him that a general officer would be sent with him to Cape Town, to insure his being treated with proper respect en route. He will start this afternoon under charge of Maj. Gen. Pretymann, who will hand him over to the general commanding at Cape Town.

"The prisoners, who number about 3,000, will be formed into commandos under our own officers. They will also reach here to-day, reaching the Modder river to-morrow, when they will be rallied to Cape Town in detachments."

The above dispatch was read in both the house of lords and the house of commons Tuesday. The reference to the Canadians evoked immense and prolonged cheering.

Siege of Mafeking Raised.

New York, March 3.—A Boer report is published from Brussels that the siege of Mafeking has been raised. The news is unconfirmed, but is probably true.

Sharp Engagement with Filipinos.

Manila, March 2, 9 a. m.—Col. Anderson, with the Thirty-eighth infantry, employing the insurgents' own tactics, has ambushed the enemy near Batangas. Through spies Col. Anderson learned that a detachment of insurgents would pass a certain road. He posted his soldiers concealed among the trees lining the road, and when the enemy arrived the Americans volleyed unexpectedly, killing 24 insurgents, wounding 30 and capturing several. Some arms and ammunition also were captured. The effect of this blow has been salutary. The enemy in this locality is dismayed.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Burned to Death.

David M. Robeson was burned to death at his home in Port Huron. He had been sick for some time with malarial fever. After an alcohol bath he was tucked into bed. During the night William Robeson, who was sitting in the next room, saw a flash and rushed into the bedroom and found his brother was standing up in bed, a pillar of flame. William made an attempt to smother the flames and David's wife came to his assistance, but both were forced to leave the room on account of the heat. A fire engine extinguished the flames, but the body had been burned beyond recognition.

Shot His Wife.

Alan Geisler, aged 70, living on a fruit farm near St. Joseph, shot his wife and then walked out on the ice on the lake and ended his own life by drowning. Geisler and his wife had been married one year. There has been trouble, and a separation was determined upon, to take place March 4. Geisler was a wealthy German, and had been married twice before. The bullet was removed from the woman's skull and she may live. She was formerly Mrs. Annie Frick, of Chicago.

Killed Himself.

Former State Senator Joseph Fleishheim, aged 52, who failed for $75,000 recently, killed himself in Menominee by firing a bullet into his head. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of suicide during a fit of temporary insanity, caused by business reverses. Fleishheim was one of the oldest and most prominent business men of the city, and his failure was due to unsuccessful investments. His widow, two daughters and a son survive him. His life insurance amounts to $54,000.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 65 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended February 24 indicate that typhoid fever increased and pneumonia decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 167 places, measles at 80, typhoid fever at 31, scarlet fever at 64, diphtheria at 16, whooping cough at 27, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 3 places and smallpox at Benton Harbor, Salem and Wheatfield.

Not Exempt.

In 1887 the legislature enacted a law which has ever since been supposed to exempt from taxation all building and loan association stock held in Michigan, whether issued by companies incorporated in Michigan or elsewhere. Attorney General Oren has filed an opinion to the effect that the exemption applies only to the stock of associations incorporated in this state.

Manlaughter.

The jury in the Peter Flabby murder trial in Crystal Falls returned a verdict finding the defendant guilty of manslaughter. Flabby was charged with killing his wife. His testimony was that he went home intoxicated, and getting up late in the night he found his wife had been murdered. He was sentenced to 15 years in Marquette prison.

Elect Officers.

At the twenty-eighth annual convention in Kalamazoo of the Young Men's Christian association of Michigan officers were elected as follows: President, W. H. Gay, Grand Rapids; vice presidents, H. B. Coleman, Kalamazoo; L. W. Robinson, Battle Creek; W. D. Smith, Detroit; secretaries, George Fleming, Coldwater; H. H. Johnson, Albion.

A Bad Fire.

Fire which broke out in the center of the Woodward avenue shopping district, Detroit, gutted the four-story building occupied by Marr & Taylor, retail dry goods, George C. Darwin's ladies' clothing emporium, Mrs. H. S. Weaver, millinery, and Rosenzweig & Co., shoes. Loss, about $100,000.

BOERS TAKE FLIGHT.

Reported in Full Retreat Before Troops Under Gen. Brabant.

Stormberg, Evacuated by the South Africans, is Occupied by Gatacre—Movement for the Relief of Mafeking.

Dordrecht, March 6.—Gen. Brabant has scored a complete victory. The Boers are in full retreat with their guns and wagons, and are being pursued.

Stormberg Taken.

Sterkstroom, March 6.—Gen. Gatacre entered Stormberg unopposed Monday. The Boers destroyed the railway approach, but the station is intact.

To Relieve Mafeking.

London, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British forces already on the way to Kimberley can raise the siege. This force is described vaguely as "strong." Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has ceased again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen.

The Boer Position.

Osfontein, March 6.—The Boer position has now been fairly located as about four miles to the British front and extending about eight miles. The Boer right consists of a high, long mountain on the north side of the river, which Gen. French shelled. Apparently the space between the mountain and the river has been entrenched. South of the river the Boer lines cover more ground. A few days ago their left rested on the high kopjes standing in the middle of the plain. They have now been extended two miles further south, while six small kopjes stand in the plain between the center and the left and between the center and the river and form a ridge behind which the Boers move unseen. The weakness of the whole position, however, is that it can easily be turned in either direction. The country is flat and water abounds, the recent rains having nearly filled all the dams.

An Air of Mystery.

London, March 6.—The air of mystery which covers the movements of the main British army in South Africa continues, though what information leaks through indicates that the campaign is being carried on with steady progress. There are now practically three British armies in the field, one in the Free State, one in Cape Colony and the other in Natal.

All that is known about the first and most important is that it is in close touch with a body of Boers estimated to number about 6,000 men. Speculation as to the direction and method of Gen. Roberts' advance into the Free State is quite worthless, so carefully are the plans concealed. In Cape Colony, Gens. Brabant and Clements command the two horns of the army, while Gen. Gatacre holds the main Boer force in check. Gens. Gatacre and Clements will probably combine and advance on Bloemfontein, with Gen. Brabant guarding the right flank with the mobile colonials. This movement will be subsequent to securing a line of communications along the lines of the Free State railroads, which, according to the latest dispatches, seems almost accomplished.

The third army, that in Natal, is comparatively inactive and, with the exception of sorties, a serious movement can hardly be expected from it this week. When it will be ready to advance its movements must greatly depend upon how much distance the retreating Boers put between themselves and Gen. Buller. As an incident of the British main objective, which at last is clearly outlined as Pretoria, the relief of Mafeking by a force from the south may be expected any day. Col. Plumer's force, on the north, seeming incapable of accomplishing it.

Kruger's Terms.

Brussels, March 6.—The Transvaal agency here confirms the statement that President Kruger is ready to conclude peace with Great Britain on the basis of the independence of the two republics and that otherwise the struggle will continue to the bitter end.

CALLED BACK.

Order for shipment of Arms and Ammunition to London, Ky., is Revoked.

Frankfort, Ky., March 6.—The order for the shipment of guns and ammunition from the state arsenal here to London, Ky., by the republican state authorities was revoked Monday afternoon, and a car loaded with munitions of war, consigned to London, was unloaded and its contents returned to the arsenal in this city. The state officials give no reason for the change of programme. The soldiers worked all forenoon loading the car. There is a report that the war department at Washington interfered and requested the guns and ammunition already taken to London to be returned here.

Broke His Wife's Neck.

Brenham, Tex., March 6.—At the Carlisle plantation near Chappell Hill King Howard, in a fit of jealous rage, struck his wife with an iron bar, breaking her neck. The man then shot Luke Taylor to death and escaped.

TALKS OF OUR POLICY

Address of President McKinley at a New York Banquet.

His Emphatic Declaration That There Can Be No Imperialism—Question of Future of Our New Possessions to Be Settled by the People.

New York, March 5.—The Ohio Society of New York held its fourteenth annual dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Saturday night. William McKinley, president of the United States, was the guest of honor. More than 400 covers were laid. Before the banquet President McKinley, with President M. I. Southard, of the society, and Henry L. Burnett, chairman of the banquet committee, held a reception and shook the hands of the members of the society and the guests.

The list of speakers on the programme was as follows: President McKinley, Gov. George K. Nash, of Ohio; Solicitor General of the United States John A. Richards, Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff and James H. Hoyt.

Address by the President.

Mr. McKinley said, in part: "The statement which has been so often made is not far from the truth: 'Once an Ohioan, always an Ohioan.' It has been some years since I was your guest. Much has happened in the meantime. We have had our blessings and our burdens, and still have both. We will soon have legislative assurance of the continuance of the gold standard with which to measure our exchanges and we have the open door in the far east through which to market our products. We are neither in alliance nor antagonism nor entanglement with any foreign power, but on terms of amity and cordiality with all. We buy from all of them and sell to all of them, and our sales exceeded our purchases in the past two years by over $1,000,000,000. Markets have been increased and mortgages have been reduced. Interest has fallen and wages have advanced. The public debt is decreasing. The country is well to do. Its people, for the most part, are happy and contented. They have good times and are on good terms with the nations of the world.

"After 23 years of unbroken peace came an unavoidable war. Happily, the conclusion was quickly reached without a suspicion of unworthy motive of practice or purpose on our part and with fadeless honor to our arms. I cannot forget the quick response of the people to the country's need and the 250,000 men who freely offered their lives to their country's service. It was an impressive spectacle of national strength. It demonstrated our mighty reserve power and taught us that large standing armies are unnecessary when every citizen is a 'minute man,' ready to join the ranks for national defense.

"Out of these recent events have come to the United States grave trials and responsibilities. As it was the nation's war so are its results the nation's problem. Its solution rests upon us all. It is too serious to stifle. It is too earnest for repose. No phrase or catchword can cancel the sacred obligation it involves. No use of epithets, no aspersions of motives by those who differ, will contribute to that sober judgment so essential to right conclusions. No political outcry can abrogate our treaty of peace with Spain or absolve us from its solemn engagements. "It is the people's question and will be until its determination is written out in their enlightened verdict. We must choose between manly doing and base desertion. It will never be the latter. It must be soberly settled in justice and good conscience and it will be. Righteousness, which exalteth a nation, must control in its solution. No great emergency has arisen in this nation's history and progress which has not been met by the sovereign people with high capacity, with ample strength and with unflinching fidelity to every honorable obligation. Partisanship can hold few of us against solemn public duty. We have seen this so often demonstrated in the past as to mark unerringly what it will be in the future. The national sentiment and the national conscience was never stronger or higher than now. There has been a reunion of the people around the holy altar consecrated to country newly sanctified by common sacrifices. The followers of Grant and Lee have been found under the same flag and fallen for the same faith.

"Parties have loosened and the ties of union have been rooted in the hearts of the American people. Political passion has altogether subsided and patriotism glows with inextinguishable fervor in every home in the land. The flag has been sustained on distant seas and islands by the men of all parties and sections and creeds and races and nationalities, and its stars are only those of radiant hope to the remote peoples over whom it floats. "There can be no imperialism. Those who fear are against it. Those who have faith in the republic are against it. So that there is universal abhorrence for it and unanimous opposition to it. Our only difference is that those who do not agree with us have no confidence in the virtue or capacity or high purpose or good faith of this free people as a civilizing agency, while we believe that the century of free government which the American people have enjoyed has not rendered them faithless and irresolute, but has fitted them for the great task of lifting up and assisting to better conditions those distant peoples who have through the issue of battle become our wards. Let us fear not. There is no occasion for faint hearts, no excuse for regrets. "Nations do not grow in strength and the cause of liberty and law is not advanced by the doing of easy things. The harder the task the greater will be the result, the benefit and the honor. To doubt our power to accomplish is to lose faith in the soundness and strength of our popular institutions. The liberators will never become the oppressors. A self-governed people will never permit imperialism in any government which they foster and defend.

"Gentlemen, we have the new care and cannot shift it. And, breaking up the camp of ease and isolation, let us bravely and hopefully and soberly continue the work of faithful service and falter not until the work is done. It is not possible that 75,000,000 of American free men are unable to establish liberty and justice and good government in our new possessions. The burden is our opportunity. The opportunity is greater than the burden. May God give us strength to bear the one and wisdom so to embrace the other as to carry to our distant acquisitions the guarantees of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

MATTER OF DOUBT.

The Train Boy Knew People Pretty Well, But He Had a Guess Coming.

"One day last fall," said a well-known Montana man, "I was riding on a train in my state and got to be on pretty fair terms with the train boy by buying a few of the things he had to sell. It was not a very formal kind of a train, and when the boy had finished his rounds he came over to sit with me and 'chin a bit,' as he said. I was willing enough, as he was a sharp lad and there was nobody else to talk to, and he went right at things.

"Do you know," he said, "that I can tell by looking at a man's eyes near what he is. Now, there's that fellow over there in the corner; he's a Chicago drummer. I can tell him by the way he lets his money go and the flip style he has when he talks to people. And that chap over there with the silk hat on, he's a preacher from a country town, I'm dead sure, and I'll go ask him if you say so."

"I didn't say so, because I didn't care a continental, and the boy went on with his descriptions of the people on the train. At last I asked him what he thought I was. I had on a pretty flashy suit of light stuff and was thinking I was looking pretty well, so I was willing to risk the boy's venture. He looked me over for a full minute very carefully.

"Well," he said, at last, "you've got a sloo of money, but I ain't dead sure whether you are a cattleman or a gambler."—Washington Star.

THE BOY WAS BENEFITED.

His Parents Had a Falling Out and He Came Out a Winner in Consequence.

"The other afternoon," said the man in the box office of a theater, "a boy came to me and said: 'Are these any good?' and I took from him two front row seats for that night which had been open to a hundred pieces or so, and then cleverly pasted together again. 'Oh, yes, my child,' but how did this strange accident happen to the tickets?' The boy replied: 'Why, papa came home with them last night, and showed them to mamma, and he seemed to be in such a good humor somehow that mamma thought it would be a good time then to tell him how she owed over $100 for provisions. She told him of it, but he got so mad that he said that every night now he wouldn't come home till after 12 o'clock, and he told me for Heaven's sake, when I got married, to look out for a sensible woman. All the time mamma laughed, and he was getting madder, and so he said she wouldn't go to the theater with him, after that, and he tore the tickets up, and rushed out somewhere alone. He ain't back yet, either, but mamma don't care. I picked up the pieces of the carpet and pasted them together, and if you'll exchange the tickets for matinee ones I'll guess I'll come down on Saturday with some other fellow and take in the show.' I gave other tickets to the candid kid, and he walked away very well pleased with himself."—Philadelphia Record.

Our Increase of Insanity.

Much discussion has been aroused lately by the alarming increase of insanity. Our high rate of living is the cause assigned. In the rush for money, both men and women neglect their bodies and preserve health by a faithful use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The best way to preserve health is by a faithful use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is a nervous breakdown. It is also an excellent medicine for constipation, dyspepsia and biliousness.

Not So Sure.

A NOTED JUDGE SAVED BY PERUNA.

Had Catarrh Nine Years---All Doctors Failed.

HON. GEORGE KERSTEN, OF CHICAGO.

Hon. Geo. Kersten, a well-known Justice of the Peace, of Chicago, says:

"I was afflicted with catarrh for nine years. My catarrh was located chiefly in my head. I tried many remedies without avail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me. I learned of the remedy, Peruna, through the daily newspapers. After taking the remedy for 18 weeks I was entirely cured. I consider my cure permanent, as it has been two and a half years since I was cured."

Any man who wishes perfect health must be entirely free from catarrh. Catarrh is well-nigh universal; almost omnipresent. Peruna is the only absolute safeguard known. A cold is the beginning of catarrh. To prevent colds, to cure colds, is to cheat catarrh out of its victims. Peruna not only cures catarrh, but prevents it.

All families should provide themselves with a copy of Dr. Hartman's free book entitled "Winter Catarrh." This book consists of seven lectures on catarrh and la grippe delivered at The Hartman Sanitarium. It contains the latest information on the treatment of catarrhal diseases. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio.
