AVOIDED A CLASH.

The Republicans of Washtenaw Held Two Separate Conventions.

The two factions in the Republican party of Washtenaw county avoided a clash at Ann Arbor, Thursday, by holding two conventions. The Judson convention, so-called, met in the court room, while the Antis held their convention in the supervisors' room, from where they adjourned to the opera house in the afternoon.

The first named convention was called to order at 11 o'clock standard time by O. E. Butterfield, chairman of the county committee. Capt. E. P. Allen, of Ypsilanti, was called to the chair, and Frank Creech was chosen secretary.

The committee on resolutions in its report reaffirmed loyalty to the national Republican platform of 1896; congratulated the country and the president on the fulfillment of pledges then made; demanded that the pledges made by the party in Michigan in 1896 be carried out; and commended Congressman Henry C. Smith for his industry and ability, and pledged the party to do all it could for his renomination and election.

The committee on credentials reported no contests and that the delegates from the following places were authorized to act in the convention: Sylvan, Dexter, Salem, Saline, Augusta, Manchester, Sharon, Ann Arbor (second, third and fourth wards), Ypsilanti (first, third, fourth and fifth wards), Freedom, Northfield and Bridgewater. This made 115 delegates.

William Judson was chosen delegate at large to the state convention to nominate state officers, and a full delegation was subsequently chosen by the district conventions. Among the delegates are F. P. Glazier and A. W. Wilkinson, of Chelsea.

Fred W. Green, of Ypsilanti, was elected delegate at large to the state convention at Detroit May 3, to send delegates to the national convention. He will be accompanied by a full delegation, one of which is William Judson.

Rev. D. R. Shier was elected delegate at large to the congressional district convention held at Wyandotte, May 2, to send delegates to the national convention. A full list of delegates was chosen. William Judson being one of them.

Frank P. Glazier was chosen as delegate at large to the congressional district convention to nominate a congressman. Among the other delegates are: P. J. Lehman, W. W. Wedemeyer and William Judson, of Ann Arbor; F. P. Glazier and H. S. Holmes, of Chelsea.

O. E. Butterfield, of Ann Arbor, was elected chairman of the county committee and Frank Creech, of Ypsilanti, secretary. The members of the committee are: Ann Arbor city—First ward, Wm. Eldert; second, P. J. Lehman; third, C. J. Ruele; fourth, Frank Vandawarker; fifth, J. H. Shadford; sixth, Prof. E. F. Johnson; seventh, Wm. Dansingburg; Ann Arbor town, Fred Braun; Augusta, Chas. H. Greenman; Bridgewater, F. W. Sloane; Dexter, R. S. Whalian; Freedom, John Reno; Lima, Arl Guerin; Lodi, Albert Daniels; Lyndon, Charles Canfield; Manchester, Fred M. Freeman; Northfield, Henry P. Dodge; Pittsfield, Morton F. Case; Salem, Fred C. Wheeler; Saline, Fred Jerry; Scio, E. Jedele; Sharon, Henry O'Neil; Superior, Frank Galpin; Sylvan, A. W. Wilkinson; Webster, Geo. Pheat; York, Charles Blackman; Ypsilanti city—First ward, Fred W. Green; second, Eugene Holbrook; fourth, Thos. Creech; Ypsilanti town, Frank Ward.

A resolution was presented by Fred W. Green and adopted, endorsing George S. Wheeler, of Salem, for the office of state land commissioner.

The Antis convention was called to order in the supervisors' room at 11 o'clock local time, by H. G. Prettyman, of Ann Arbor. Col. Henry S. Dean was called to the chair and W. M. Osband, of Ypsilanti, was chosen secretary.

The committee on credentials reported delegations from 14 towns, Ann Arbor, Augusta, Bridgewater, Dexter, Lima, Lodi, Lyndon, Pittsfield, Scio, Sharon, Superior, Webster, York and Ypsilanti, and all the wards of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti cities.

The report of the committee on resolutions reiterated confidence in the 1896 platform of the Republican party, in the administration of President McKinley, and in the ability of the Republican party to look after the interests of the United States at home and abroad; approved of the policy of bringing to speedy justice all persons guilty of fraud or criminal practice against the state; its belief in equal taxation; and congratulated Congressman Henry C. Smith on his brilliant record for the welfare of his constituents.

A. J. Sawyer, of Ann Arbor, was elected delegate at large to the convention to nominate state officers. Among the rest of the delegates are George H. Kempf and William Bacon, of Chelsea.

J. H. Kingsley, of Manchester, was elected delegate at large to state convention May 3 to send delegates to the national convention. He will be accompanied by a full delegation.

SILVER ISSUE DROPPED.

The Washtenaw Democratic Convention Decided to Do so Temporarily.

Every township delegation was filed at the Democratic county convention held at Ann Arbor, Friday. Senator Charles A. Ward was chairman and Sid W. Millard secretary. In his opening speech to the convention Mr. Ward advocated the shelving of the free silver issue until such time as would be more favorable for its appearance.

Martin J. Cavanaugh was elected delegate at large to the state convention and the following delegates accompanied him: First District—Thos. D. Kearney, S. W. Beakes, Moses Seabolt, J. F. Schuh, John Naylor, of Ann Arbor; Dr. E. P. Wade, of Salem; J. Edward McKune and Frank Leach, of Sylvan; Theodore Prochuow, of Northfield.

Death of Daniel Keyes.

Daniel Keyes died in St. Joseph's retreat at Dearborn, Monday, aged 68 years and 6 months. Two and a half years ago while residing with his son in Detroit he had a stroke of apoplexy which made him insane. His remains were brought here yesterday and were interred in Oak Grove cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. William Clark, D. D., of Detroit, and Rev. G. B. Marsh, of Chelsea. The deceased was a brother of Elijah Keyes, of Lima, and uncle to Mrs. E. L. Negus and Mrs. Chauncey Stephens, of this village.

Owners of Dogs.

Having been appointed dog warden for the Township of Sylvan, I will receive taxes and issue dog tags from my office in the TurnBull & Wilkinson block. The appointment is made in compliance with Act No. 229, Public Acts 1899, which provides that all dogs shall be killed not wearing tags issued by the dog warden. All owners of dogs who do not intend to pay the taxes are requested to kill their dogs on or before the 5th day of May, 1900, thus saving the warden's fee to the school fund. Taxes are now due.

HON. THOMAS JONES

Will Come to Beautiful Chelsea to Take Up His Residence.

WILL BE A DESIRABLE ADDITION

To the Town's Business and Social Circles—Inherited Wealth—He Will Build a House—Interesting Gossip Concerning Mr. Jones' Family.

(Copyright, 1898-1899, by Geo. S. Seales.)

The Hon. Thomas Jones, who is a well known and successful stock raiser and farmer, has sold his farm in Iowa and will soon come to Chelsea to reside in order to give his family the benefit of the excellent social and educational advantages for which this town is noted. Mr. Jones has been known in his community as a man whose word is as good as a bond, and his fellow townsmen have availed themselves of his ability by placing him on the school board, electing him a supervisor of his township, and sending him to the legislature. Mr. Jones is a graduate of the Northern Indiana Normal, while Mrs. Jones was educated at Olivet. They have two daughters and one son. The former are much given to music—a taste inherited from their refined mother.

It is understood that by the death of a distant relative, who gained a large fortune in Australia last year, the Joneses have come into a very tidy fortune and mean to get all the good out of it money can secure.

Hon. Thomas Jones has bought a nearby farm as an investment and very desirable lots in Chelsea, and let the contract for building a modern twelve-room cottage, to cost about $8,000. The walls and floor of the bath room will be covered with white tiles and the floor of the vestibule with mosaics. Winifred and Tom, Jr., insisted that there should be a bicycle room in the new house and the architect readily evolved one that will be used in many of his future plans for modern homes.

On the completion of their new home the Joneses contemplate giving a reception, which, no doubt, will prove a notable event in the social functions of Chelsea.

The Joneses in Chelsea.

Mr. Thomas Jones and family were in Chelsea Monday and a representative of the Herald found the Hon. Thomas Jones enjoying a fragrant cigar in the hotel lobby and was granted a very pleasant interview.

The reporter learned that the family was in Chelsea for the purpose of contracting for the materials for and the building of their new house, purchasing supplies, and arranging for its furnishing in all its details.

Mr. Jones believed they could complete their buying in two days, as they had in mind nearly everything wanted. They had obtained copies of the Herald some time ago, and from a close study of its advertising and local news columns, had learned of the people who kept the goods desired. After making their purchases, they would leave for a visit to Mr. Jones' boyhood's home in Fulton county, N. Y., and return only when their house was nearly completed.

Jones Visits a Bank.

Thomas Jones visited the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank and presented a letter of introduction from the president of the First National of Moneyville. He had placed to his credit a certificate of deposit for $10,000. Mr. Jones secured a check book, left his signature, and told Cashier J. A. Palmer that he had carefully investigated the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank and was pleased to open an account with them. He expected to pay out a number of checks in the next two days, as he would purchase largely before going east. Mr. Jones learned that the Kempf Commercial and Savings Bank pays interest at the rate of three per cent on small as well as large deposits, and he placed $100 to the credit of both Winifred and Tom, Jr., as the nucleus for a savings fund for each.

Will Build Jones' House.

C. W. Maroney, the well known contractor and builder, easily secured the contract to build Hon. Thomas Jones' elegant $8,000 cottage. His reputation for excellent, conscientious work assures Mr. Jones a satisfactory job. The many fine buildings and residences erected by Mr. Maroney in his 25 years of practical experience are enduring monuments to his skill and ability. The Herald might mention W. J. Andrew's fine residence on South Twelfth street, Ann Arbor, as one of Mr. Maroney's outside contracts, while he has worked on many buildings in Chelsea. He is now putting up the Chelsea creamery building. Mr. Maroney's shop is in the rear of his residence, corner of North Railroad and McKinley streets.

Will Furnish Jones' Lumber.

Kempf & Bacon will furnish the lumber for Thomas Jones' new house, as well as the sash, doors, blinds, ornamental woodwork, interior finish, and the lime, brick, etc., to enter into its construction. Everything is to be A. 1. and Kempf & Bacon supply that grade. Kempf & Bacon are fully equipped to supply the materials for a large and artistic dwelling for a small amount of money. Their enviable reputation for fair dealing recommends them to the entire confidence of Hon. Thomas Jones. Their office and yards are on North Main street, near the M. C. R. R. station. Kempf & Bacon also sell a great amount of salt.

Secures the Order.

There was considerable competition to sell Jones his builders' hardware, and there was not much difference in prices. One of the men who advertised secured the order. "In the copies of the Herald sent me," said Mr. Jones, "I read among others, W. J. Knapp's advertisement. Now, as a stranger, I appreciate the courtesy of being invited to visit his store, and I know from experience that the men who advertise are progressive dealers and the ones who keep the latest and best goods in their lines." W. J. Knapp's prices were satisfactory, and he received Mr. Jones' order for the builders' hardware and also sold him one of the celebrated Garland steel ranges and a B. and B. oil stove.

Will Use W. J. Knapp's Paints.

W. J. Knapp will furnish the paints to be used on both the inside and outside of Thomas Jones' new house. They include strictly pure brands of white lead and oil, including DeVoe's Master Painters' white lead and Boydell Bros.' mixed paints. W. J. Knapp's paints always give satisfaction.

Will Spread the Paint.

Harrington & Leach, the well known artists of the brushes, will furnish the famous Alfred Peats wall paper for Hon. Thomas Jones' new house, and do the painting, decorating and paper hanging. Their reputation as competent, artistic workmen insure the Joneses satisfactory and conscientious work. In sign writing, this firm excels, and many of the hand some and artistic signs displayed in Chelsea are the work of Harrington & Leach. They also do carriage painting. Orders left at the shop, over the Chelsea Wagon and Buggy Works, or sent by mail, will receive prompt attention.

Sells Jones Furniture.

When it came to buying furniture for the new house, the entire Jones family was called in for consultation. Mrs. Jones selected the more important articles for the principal rooms, aided by an occasional suggestion from Mr. Jones. The young ladies and Tom, Jr., were given the happy privilege of choosing furniture for their respective rooms, and they were not long in making their choice. The goods were bought from W. J. Knapp's new stock, who agreed that the delivery should be made as soon as the Joneses were ready to receive them. Mrs. Jones arranged with Mr. Knapp to newly frame several of her most choice pictures, she selecting handsome designs from Mr. Knapp's large stock of picture and room moldings.

Jones Buys a Fine Carriage.

Anyone who knows the pleasure there is in spinning along with a fine turnout under the shady trees of our beautiful town, will commend Mr. Jones for looking about for the finest carriage in the market. He went to the Chelsea Wagon and Buggy Works, A. G. Faust, manager, and was surprised to get such an elegant carriage at so reasonable a price. He ordered a carriage with the popular mohair plush trimming, selecting this from several styles of trimming which this company furnishes. He was pleased to know that the carriages made by the Chelsea Wagon and Buggy Works are not guaranteed for one year only, but are the handmade work of experienced Chelsea mechanics, and are guaranteed through their life. Buying of a home concern, any defects can be made good, although defects are rarely found in Mr. Faust's carriages. Mr. Jones also bought one of this concern's famous steel skid farm wagons for use on his farm, and is satisfied that he has a wagon that will wear a lifetime. Intending buyers of a carriage or wagon should see Mr. Faust and his stock before purchasing.

Selects the Chelsea Roller Straight.

Jones is not what is termed a fussy man, but he does enjoy good flour at such times as baking is done at his house. He asked the advice of a prominent grocer, who told him the best family flour was the "Chelsea Roller Straight," made at the Chelsea roller mills by R. Blanchard. He sold more of the "Chelsea Roller Straight" than of any other brands, and he heard the same report from other grocers. This mill does a large exchange business with farmers, on a liberal basis. Mr. Blanchard sells all kinds of feed and does all kinds of custom grinding. He pays the highest cash price for grain.

Jones and the Dress Suit.

Mr. Jones had one more commission to give before lunch, and that was for a dress suit. He found exactly what he desired at J. George Webster's custom tailoring establishment, in the Kempf bank building, and was satisfied that he would make a favorable impression at the reception. Mr. Webster's line of new spring and summer overcoats, suitings and trousseaus, and prices were so attractive that Mr. Jones arranged to have Tom, Jr., leave his measure and have the suit forwarded. Mr. Webster carries everything usually found in a first class merchant tailoring establishment, while his prices are much below neighboring cities for the same goods.

It Counts.

Whether the familiar saying that "clothes may make or mar the man," be true or not, there can be no question as to the improving effects of a luxurious shave or a stylish hair cut. The Hon. Jones and Tom, Jr., found Jacob Eder's barber shop, first door south of the Boyd house, the ideal place for a hair cut or shave. The furnishings of Jacob Eder's shop are first class, including the easiest of chairs, fine mirrors and the sharpest of razors. Everything about the shop is kept scrupulously clean. Everything is first class.

Delight of Women.

Mrs. Thomas Jones is not hypercritical in the matter of dress, but everything she wears is selected with the best of taste. An attractive millinery display in the window of Miss Mary Haab's store, in the Staffan block, South Main street, induced her to step in, as the name was familiar. She was soon canvassing the merits of half a dozen pattern hats, and selected three beautiful ones for herself and daughters from the elegant new spring designs. Miss Haab's hats are the very latest creations in the millinery art. Mrs. Jones was so well satisfied with the stock displayed, the low prices, and the courtesy shown her that she volunteered to give Miss Haab future orders.

Will Make the Reception Gowns.

Mrs. Jones and her daughters next called on the Misses Wight and Ward, who have recently opened dress making parlors over Eppler's market, on South Main street, in regard to the making of reception gowns. The young ladies displayed a lively interest in the discussion which ensued. Mrs. Jones was so well pleased with the costumes designed by the Misses Wight and Ward that she left the decision with them. Misses Wight and Ward will make the skirt of Miss Jones' reception gown of turquoise blue satin, finished at the bottom with an accordion pleated flounce of chiffon of the same color. The corsage is to be made of velvet, the same color as the skirt, in a darker shade, and trimmed with ruchings of the same color.

Winifred's white organdie will be made over white silk taffeta with ruffles trimmed with lace, and a sash of white moire.

It is a very desirable thing for a family to have a group picture taken at regular intervals and oftener than is usually done. Such a picture frequently becomes a cherished keepsake beyond price. The girls had decided that E. E. Shaver was the artist to do their work, and 2:30 o'clock found the family in the studio. With the pleasure of possessing a new bicycle shining in his face, even Tom Jr., managed to "look pleasant," through what was to him a trying ordeal. Mr. Shaver pronounced the negative a fine one. Proofs were to be forwarded, and the Jones departed from the studio well pleased with having given their order to Mr. Shaver and promising to sit for single pictures on their return from the east. Mr. Shaver makes the popular photo buttons, does enlarging in crayon, and finishes for amatetta.

Mrs. Jones Orders Invitations.

Mrs. Jones ordered invitations for the reception from the Herald job room. She thought 200 would be sufficient. She was pleased with the samples shown and replaced her order with the date of reception to be determined later.

Tom, Jr.'s Shoes.

Tom, Jr., had spent the forenoon with much satisfaction to himself and without credit to his family. He made sure of the new shoes suggested by his father. Young Tom's tastes were the substantial as well as the ornamental. He selected a pair of tan shoes at $3, as he had heretofore paid $4 for and worn on Sundays only. He bought them at John Farrell's Pure Food Store. His attention was attracted to the very low prices at which Mr. Farrell sold shoes and also to the fact that Mr. Farrell gives rebate checks for every ten cent purchase at his store.

Inspects a Market.

Tom, Jr., critically inspected R. A. Snyder's (successor to Chas. Behr) market from the outside. Everything had been indicated cleanliness. Then he went inside. His inspection here was satisfactory, to. The plump yellow legged chickens, tender looking steaks, browned hams, etc., and the white aproned, cleanly appearing men in charge convinced Tom, Jr., that the family could not go wrong in buying their meat of R. A. Snyder.

Chooses a Grocer.

Tom, Jr., adopted a novel plan by which to choose a grocer. He went to J. S. Cummings, the corner grocer, and waited to see if he would be served in his turn. The show of goods outside and inside the store was large and attractive and included all kinds of staple and fancy groceries, foreign and domestic fruits, etc. A number of people were ahead of him and others entered after him. Much to Tom, Jr.'s surprise and gratification when his turn came he was courteously asked how he could be served. He found the Mr. Cummings sold Phelps Brace's Royal Tiger coffee, such as his father liked, and a full line of the best Japan teas, while his mother always drank. He bought some oranges and went away convinced that a firm which recognized the rights of a boy would be equally conscientious in selling goods. J. S. Cummings will furnish the Joneses with groceries. Mr. Cummings has a large stock of carefully selected garden seeds, which are true to name and sure growers.

Visits a Bakery.

Although brought up on a farm, Tom Jr., has a well developed sweet tooth, and next to visiting a candy shop he enjoys the privileges of a bakery. He went to Canright Bros.' bakery, West Middle street, and while stowing away a nickel worth of jelly roll inspected the store. The bread looked deliciously browned and appetizing, the cakes were the acme of housewife's dream, and as Tom's mouthful of jelly roll was put where would do him the most good, he decided that Canright Bros.' bread and cakes were just what the Jones family was looking for. The Canright Bros. serve very nice lunches at all hours at moderate prices.

The Joneses Go East.

The Hon. Thomas Jones and family left Chelsea for Fulton county, N. Y., on the Atlantic express at 7:15 Wednesday morning. The family will return in about two months, and some of Chelsea's best people have already decided to give receptions to their honor. The progress made in the construction of Mr. Jones' handsome house will be watched with interest.

Pain in Head, Side and Back

For years I suffered with pain in the back, pain in the side, and in the small of the back. I was nervous and constipated and could not sleep. The pills and other medicines I took only made a bad matter worse. Then I used Celery King. One package cured me. I made a new woman of me. Mrs. T. M. Hammer, Crofton-on-Hudson, N. Y. A dog belonging to the Royal English Engineers found his way up to Madder river from Cape Town, a distance of 623 miles and appeared most unexpectedly among the men of his company.

After the battle of Spion Kop one of the English soldiers was found dead with his finger on the trigger of his rifle. A Boer who attempted to take the rifle out of his hands was shot dead by a slip of the dead man's finger.

There are in Germany 26,689 physicians for a total population of 52,251,917, making an average of one doctor for every 1,957 inhabitants. Since 1886 the medical profession has increased by 63 per cent., while the increase in population during the same period has only been a trifle over 11 per cent.

It is the custom for parties of Turkish officers to take temporary service in the German army, for the purpose of learning the methods of modern warfare. They are drafted into different corps as lieutenants, but receive no pay. The term of service is generally three years, during which they are subject to the same discipline as German soldiers.

Among curious articles of commerce are toothpicks made of walrus whiskers, vast quantities of which are shipped from Alaska to Europe. Those who ship them pull them out one by one, with special tweezers. They are used principally by the wealthier classes in China and Russia, and are also beginning to come into favor in the most noted clubs in London.

Six months ago the motor car as applied for business purposes in London was not being very generally adopted, but since the outbreak of hostilities in South Africa, the streets have become comparatively thronged with "auto-vans." The horses of the omnibus companies which have been commended by the government have had to be replaced. The motor vehicles are supplying the want.

When the duke of Norfolk reaches South Africa there will be four holders of the highest rank in the peerage taking part in the operations against the enemy. The postmaster general, who, of course, is the premier duke of England, is also the oldest of the four, being 52; the duke of Marlborough is 29; his cousin, the duke of Roxburgh, is 24, and the duke of Westminster is the youngest of the ducal quartet, having just come of age.

Last summer the flannel suit became for the first time in New York an article for general city wear. It had previously been confined to country use, but English tailors sending over these garments in dark colors, made them popular in town. In all probability many more of them will be seen this summer. They have the advantage of being somewhat cheaper than serge or the cloths customarily used, and they possess the merit of lightness.

During the eight years ending June 30, 1899, the net increase of railroad mileage in Texas, exclusive of yard tracks and sidings, was 1,047.92 miles, an average of about 131 miles per year, or half a mile per day. The period referred to represents the time during which the railroad commission has been in operation. From present indications the average bids fair to be fully maintained and even increased in the future.

M. Pallez, the French sculptor, has finished a model in wax of the sword to be presented by M. Rochefort and the readers of the Intransigent, to Gen. Cronje. The cost of the weapon, which is to be in solid gold, will be $3,000. The hilt represents a Boer soldier strangling a leopard, which carries on its head, in lieu of a crown, a shield with the British arms. On the hilt is the vierkleur. This is to be in colored enamel.

"Turkey is a very interesting mission," says Hon. Oscar S. Straus, minister to Turkey. "Turkey is the only country, excepting China, where the American minister has to look after the extra-territorial rights of Americans. In this capacity the minister has judicial powers. There are not very many Americans who get into trouble, but constantly arising are questions which involve their rights and have to be settled by the minister. The missionaries furnish considerable of this class of business."

To gain control of all the automobile manufacturing and transportation companies, Philadelphia and other capitalists have organized the Anglo-American Rapid Vehicle Co., and steps are now being taken to amalgamate the various concerns in a gigantic trust. The capital stock is $75,000,000, all of which is common stock, divided into 750,000 shares of the par value of $100 each.

[The republican nominee for governor of Indiana is a native of the state, having been born at Lawrenceburg May 4, 1847. He served throughout the civil war as a private in an Indiana regiment. He taught school during his early life and then became a dry goods clerk in St. Louis, arising later to confidential credit man for the firm. He removed to Anderson in 1879 and engaged in banking. He is still in this business, and is also connected with the natural gas enterprises of Indiana. He has been known as a strong republican since he was a youth. He has declined to accept public office. In 1892 he went to the national republican convention as a delegate, having prior to that time served as a member of the republican state committee. In 1896 he was made a member of the national committee from Indiana, and since that time he has taken a prominent part in the work of the national party. He has taken an active part in grand army affairs. Mr. Durbin was appointed colonel by Gov. Mount to serve in the late Spanish-American war as commander of the One Hundred and Sixty-first regiment. He and his regiment went to Cuba, where it did garrison duty.]

PRACTICALLY AN ULTIMATUM.

American Note to Sultan Produces Great Impression—Not Ready to Pay, However.

Constantinople, April 28.—The American note handed to the Turkish minister of foreign affairs, Tewfik Pasha, on Tuesday, is couched in peremptory terms, demanding immediate payment for the indemnity several times promised to Minister Straus by the sultan. The note does not fix a time limit for an answer, but its tenor is not far from the character of an ultimatum. It has produced a great impression upon the porte, which, however, shows no disposition to modify the attitude hitherto maintained, namely, repudiating the responsibility and seeking to diminish the importance of the matter. It is presumed that the porte's reply will be in this sense; and hence, it is feared the United States government will be obliged to take steps to enforce its demands.

Many Japanese Coming.

Seattle, Wash., April 25.—United States Immigrant Agent Healey gives an interview on the Japanese tidal wave, in which he says the rush will cause a labor upheaval. Five thousand are on the high seas and 25,000 are to come, he says. They will mostly land in British Columbia and sneak over the line into the United States. A systematic plan of importation is in force. He says Canada and the states should take joint action at once.

Cholera Raging.

London, April 27.—A special dispatch from Bombay says the cholera is raging fearfully at the great camp at Godra, where thousands of famine-stricken natives are receiving relief. A hundred and fifty corpses were removed yesterday, but 100 others had to be left because it was impossible to procure bearers.

Woman Roasted to Death.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 28.—While fighting a fire in a 20-acre wood lot on their farm near Lawton Friday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. William Brace were hemmed in by the flames. Mrs. Brace was burned to death and her husband was so severely burned that his recovery is doubtful.

WORK OF FLAMES.

Millions of Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed in a Conflagration in Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., April 28.—Over five square miles of territory burned over; more than 2,000 buildings destroyed; 7 lives lost; 7,000 men, women and children homeless, and property loss of $17,000,000, according to the latest estimate, insured for about half its value are the results of the destructive fire which swept this city and Hull Thursday and Friday. Although under control for many hours, the flames were not entirely extinguished until about noon Friday.

The neighboring villages of Hintonburg, Mechanicville, Eddyville and Birchtown have also been the victims of the terrible visitation.

The dead are: Miss Minnie Cook, aged 40 years, cremated in her own house; John Pumble, car repairer, 646 Somerset, suffocated in Canadian Pacific railroad yards; George Peely, shoemaker, 124 Queen street, West, suffocated; John Dare, Hull, fireman for E. B. Eddy & Co.; unknown man, found dead in Meyer's house, Wellington street, Hull; Mrs. Carron, Wellington street, Hull, died from fright, aged 80 years; A. Baudin, eight years old, son of Charles Baudin, Duke street, Hull.

A relief committee has been formed by the citizens, and this, together with the Catholic archbishops of Ottawa and Montreal, will make an appeal for relief to the country. The most serious problem that confronts Hull is that of work. The majority of householders who were burned out are poor and have large families. It is not expected there will be employment for a considerable period, and the way in which many of the poor are going to live in the meantime is doubtful. On the Ottawa side fully two-thirds of Dalhousie ward is devastated, and an estimate by residents of the district places the number who were without roofs of their own in this district at 5,000.

The fire area was viewed by hundreds of people Friday afternoon and evening. One of the most remarkable things about the sad scene was that no smoke was to be seen. There were no half-burned buildings or smoldering logs anywhere. Everything that the fire touched was burned to ashes. All of Hull's principal buildings, with the exception of the Catholic church, are things of the past. The buildings and land in the place are valued at $2,700,000, and of this amount over $1,000,000 may be put down as a loss. Then in stocks, fixtures, household effects and wearing apparel there is a loss of nearly $3,000,000. The vast piles of lumber which went up in smoke may be reckoned at $2,000,000 more.

HAS TWO SIDES.

Trade Situation Shows Varying Conditions, But Is, on the Whole, Very Favorable.

New York, April 28.—Bradstreet's says: Evidence of the fact that there are now two sides to the general trade situation, where for a year past there was but one, come to sight each week. Different sections of the country and lines of business return differing reports, but that the situation as a whole is a favorable one and suffers merely by commiseration with the great speculative centers the aggregate of business is undoubtedly larger than a year ago and the business done even in several industries reporting reduced activity would seem very large even for the month. The results of the winter wheat crop prospects in the sections west of the Mississippi. Spring wheat seeding is reported almost completed in the northwest, much ahead of the average. Corn has been quite strong, partly on continued good export demand and partly in sympathy with provisions, which are stronger, more because of speculative requirements than because of lighter receipts of hogs.

"Failures for the week have been 204 in the United States, against 184 last year, and 22 in Canada, against 23 last year."

Drowned.

New Haven, Conn., April 27.—J. W. Cardownie, a Scotch dancer, leader of the "European Premier International Dancers," and Vivian Clerise, one of the Clerise sisters, who did a musical sketch act, were drowned in Lake Whitney, near this city, Thursday. Cardownie and the two Clerise sisters, who had been playing at a local theater, went rowing on the lake and their skiff was capsized while they were changing positions. A Yale student rescued Ethel Clerise.

Must Reduce Fares.

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—The state supreme court in a suit brought against the Wabash railway by State Railroad Commissioner Osborn decided that carrying of baggage, express and mail is legally a part of the earning power of passenger trains, and that on the company's reports of earnings made to the commissioner for the year 1898 it must reduce its passenger fares from three cents to two and one-half cents per mile in Michigan.

WOMAN HOME.

MESSAGE FOR THE FACE.

When Properly Administered It Is a Boon to the Skin and Improves the Complexion.

No woman, however regular her features or charming her form, is beautiful if her complexion be bad. The complexion is the keystone of good looks.

One of the reasons little children are so sweet is that they have such peachy, kissable complexions.

You can, perhaps, on a poor, ill-used digestion and miserable circulation, bolster up an artificial complexion for a night. But it deceives nobody. The woman with a muddy, wrinkled skin must go to the root of the evil.

She must attend to her general health. Let her see to her digestion, take plenty of exercise, eat wholesome food, and neither too much nor too little of that; bathe regularly and well every day—in a word, observe the ordinary rules of health. Then it will be time to begin what is called local treatment of the skin.

It is very difficult to lay down positive rules that every woman should follow for her individual complexion. What benefits one skin is downright ruin to another. Some skins thrive on drastic scrubbing; others need tender care. Facial massage, properly administered, is a boon to the skin, but no woman should ever attempt to manipulate her face without thoroughly understanding how it should be done. The flesh around the chin and under the eyes must be touched with a light, firm movement; that of the forehead and cheeks will stand stronger manipulation. The cheeks are kneaded firmly with the thumb and first finger of both hands.

However, the woman who would do her own facial massage ought first to go to a reliable masseur or masseuse and watch carefully how the operation is performed.—N. Y. World.

A PNEUMATIC MODEL.

Western Woman's Device for Taking Absolutely Exact Measurements of a Person.

Some time ago a very elaborate apparatus for taking exact measurements of a person, for the use of the tailor or dressmaker, was illustrated, and the device here shown, which is a pneumatic model, completes the sartorial artist's appliances, giving him an exact model on which to fit garments, particularly waists, without requiring the presence of the person for whom the garment is intended. It consists of an inflatable rubber form, conforming, when inflated, approximately to the shape of the body. In using this form, one of a series of different sizes and shapes covers of canvas, or other suitable material, is placed upon it, when in a deflated condition, and over this is fitted a restrainer or lining made according to measurements taken from the person for whom the garment is intended. When, therefore, the lining, which forms the pattern for the waist, is thus placed on the cover, and the body is inflated by the air pump, the rubber form expands and takes the exact shape of the lining, which can then be used as a model upon which to secure a perfect fit. The canvas cover underneath is used to prevent the elastic material from being pierced by pins or other fastening devices when fitting the pieces for the garment over the lining. Provision has been made by the inventor, a woman, Ella M. Schrader, of Seattle, Wash., to reinforce the portions of the lining where it is apt to expand unduly. An elastic belt, adjustable to any size, which encircles the waist portion of the body, prevents undue expansion at this point. When the average woman's dread of having to stand for a dress fitting is remembered, the boon that a Miss Schrader has conferred upon femininity the world over will be readily appreciated.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Up to 1864 Berlin had only one medical journal. Now there are about a dozen.

ELLEN TERRY'S DEBUT.

Her First Appearance on the Stage, Says the Great Actress, Was Not a Success.

From the time that I can remember it was always an understood fact that one day I would go upon the stage. My father, who was a very charming elocutionist, and my mother, who read Shakespeare beautifully, gave me my training.

I was only eight years old when I made my first appearance at the Princess theater. My father and my sister were members of the company playing there at the time, which gave me some degree of confidence.

On the 28th of April, 1856, I began my stage career as Mamilius in "The Winter's Tale." The cast was an interesting one:

Leontes.....Charles Keen
Hermione.....Mrs. Charles Keen
Oficer of the Court of Judicature,
Mr. Terry

Servant of the Old Shepherd,
Miss Kate Terry
Mamilius.....Miss Ellen Terry

How my young heart swelled with pride—I can recall the sensation now—when I was told what I had to do! There is something, I suppose, in a woman's nature which always makes her recollect how she was dressed at any especially eventful moment of her life, and I can see myself as though it were yesterday in my red and white coat, very short, very pink silk stockings and a row of tight sausage curls—my mother was always careful that they should be in perfect order and regularity—clustered round my head. A small go-cart which it was my duty to drag around the stage, was also a keen source of pride and a great trouble to me.

My first dramatic failure dates from that go-cart. I was told to run about with it on the stage, and while carrying out my instructions with more vigor than discretion I tripped over the handle and down I came on my back. A titter ran through the house and I felt that my career as an actress, was ruined forever. Bitter and copious were the tears I shed.

The audience on this occasion included her majesty, the queen, Prince Albert and the princess royal, and to have royalty behold my mishap seemed a misfortune greater than I could bear. But I am not sure that the incident has materially altered the course of my life.

Playing before such fine persons and the play running for 250 consecutive nights, a long run ever in these days, gave me a good send-off, and I consider that I have been fortunate ever since.—Ellen Terry, in Chicago Democrat.

Recipe for Cheese Cake.

Put two quarts of milk in a pan. When lukewarm add two junket tablets. Stand this aside gently until it becomes thick and jellylike, then with a fork separate the curd from the whey and drain it in a bag. Put this into a bowl and add to it four eggs well beaten. Beat to a cream two tablespoonfuls of butter, adding gradually two-thirds of a cupful of sugar. Add half a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg and stir this into the other mixture. Line a square dish with good paste and turn the mixture in. Bake for half an hour. Send to the table cold. Cheese cake may also be made from the ordinary cottage or sour-milk cheese, using the same proportions of the other ingredients.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Worry Leads to Failure.

Worry is the twin sister of nervousness. Neither should ever enter into the daily life of any one. God, in His all-wise providence, put the head of a human being on top, that all might be subservient to it. There is something wrong above the eyes, in the region of the will power, when one becomes nervous in the sense of excitability. "Know thyself," is good; control thyself, is better. Worry and excitement never aided anyone. Any fool can get along when everything is all right, but it takes a wise man, a level-headed man, to get along and not worry or become nervous when everything is all wrong.—Ladies' Home Journal.

MANILA BAY BATTLE.

Fought by Commodore Dewey and His Fleet May 1, 1898.

Probably the Greatest as Well as the Most Unique Naval Victory on Record—Origin of "Manila Day."

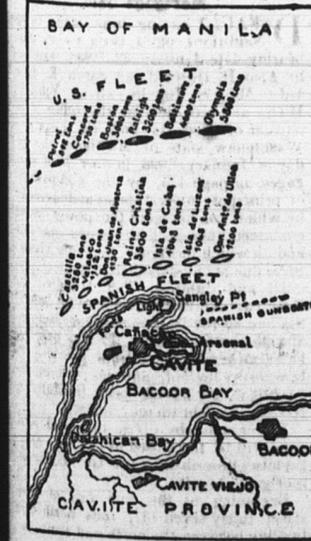

MAY 1, 1898, will always be a glorious day in the annals of the American navy, for on that day was fought the battle of Manila bay which, according to historians, did more to bring about peace with Spain than any other single event of the war of that year. Formal declaration of war against the United States was made by Spain on Sunday, April 24.

ADMIRAL DEWEY IN 1898.

Commodore George Dewey, commanding the Asiatic squadron of the United States, was at Hong-Kong when this event occurred. Instantly orders were cabled to him to move against Manila, the capital of the Philippine islands. These orders had hardly reached him when Great Britain issued a proclamation of neutrality, the terms of which compelled him to take the squadron away from Hong-Kong, a British port, within 24 hours. Accordingly he took his ships to Mirs bay, a Chinese port, only a few miles away, where he continued the preparations for battle which he had begun some days before. These preparations were completed on April 27, and Commodore Dewey at once set sail for Manila with his fleet, consisting of the flagship Olympia, Capt. Gridley; the Baltimore, Capt. Dyer; the Raleigh, Capt. Coghlan; the Boston, Capt. Wildes; the Concord, Commander Walker, and the Petrel, Commander Wood. On the evening of April 30 the American squadron sighted Corregidor island, at the entrance of the Bay of Manila.

Corregidor was known to be well fortified, but Commodore Dewey concluded to enter the bay at once. With the Olympia in the lead, and the Boston bringing up the rear, the squadron steamed quietly past the island. It was early evening and the moon was shining brightly, but not until the flagship was a mile beyond the Corregidor batteries was the entrance of the American ships discovered by the Spaniards. Then a shot passed over the Raleigh and another fell astern of the Olympia. The rearward vessels of the fleet gave back shot for shot. Some of the Concord's shells fell inside the batteries, and they were heard from no more. After that the squadron steamed steadily up the bay, the men sleeping by their guns.

Daybreak found the American fleet within five miles of the city of Manila, and at the same time the Spanish fleet, commanded by Admiral Montejó, was sighted lying under the protecting guns of the fort of Cavite. The admiral's flag was flying from the Reina Cristina, a protected cruiser of 3,500 tons. Anchored just ahead of her was the Castilla, a protected cruiser of 3,200 tons, and astern were the cruisers Don Juan d'Austria, Don Antonio de Ulloa, Isla de Cuba, Isla de Luzon and the gunboats Quirás, Marquis de Otero and Correo. Commodore Dewey lost no time in forcing the fight, which was inevitable. Led by the Olympia, the American ships moved to the attack on the line ahead, at a speed of eight knots, the map accompanying this article showing the positions of the two fleets. The position of the United States ships, as shown, was, of course, only momentary, as they were constantly in motion, but it indicates their track while destroying the Spanish ships fairly well.

Neither the fire of the land batteries in front of Manila nor the danger from the explosion of submarine mines in the bay could stay the progress of the American fleet, and the fire from the shore battery at Cavite point proved not a particle more effective. The American sailors, stripped to the waist and eager for the fray, stood at their posts, awaiting orders to open fire from Commodore Dewey, who, with his chief of staff, Commander Benjamin P. Lambertson, had taken his place on the forward bridge of the Olympia. Capt. Gridley, commander of the flagship, was in the conning tower. At 19 minutes before six o'clock, on the morning of May 1, 1898, the commodore turned to the conning tower and ordered the beginning of the battle.

Capt. Gridley immediately gave the necessary orders, and the starboard eight-inch gun in the forward turret of the Olympia let go at the fortifications of Cavite. At the same moment the Baltimore and Boston opened fire on the Castilla and the Reina Cristina, while the flagship led the line straight for the center of the Spanish fleet. When within 4,000 yards of Admiral Montejó's position, the Olympia changed her course and ran parallel to the Spanish line, the other ships following. "Open with all guns," signaled the commodore, and a storm of shells rained upon the enemy's vessels and the fortifications of Cavite. Four times the American vessels swept the Spanish lines at a distance of 4,000 yards. Then, with a lead to watch the depth of the water, the flagship again started over the course, running this time within 2,000 yards of the enemy. At this range even the small six-pounders did deadly work. The Spanish fleet, which from the first had made a gallant fight, soon showed by weakening fire the results that were being accomplished, and when the run was finished three of the Spanish ships were seen to be on fire.

MAP OF SOUTHERN LUZON.

ished three of the Spanish ships were seen to be on fire.

The result of the engagement being now no longer in doubt, Commodore Dewey decided to stop the fighting long enough for the crews of his ships to have breakfast. Accordingly the American fleet withdrew to the other side of the bay, until shortly before 11 o'clock, when fighting was resumed. This time the Baltimore led, with the Olympia and the other ships following, and at 11:16 began hurling shells at the Spanish fleet, which returned the fire so slowly and feebly that Commodore Dewey ordered four of his vessels into the inner harbor to make an end of what was left of Montejó's fleet. By this time the Reina Cristina had been sunk and the Castilla almost consumed by fire. In face of a withering fire at close range the Spaniards were forced to desert their ships one by one, the Don Antonio de Ulloa being the last vessel to be abandoned, just before she sank.

At 12:30 the white flag was hoisted on the Cavite arsenal, the Spanish colors being hauled down, and then Lieut. Hughes, with a boat's crew from the Petrel, went into the inner harbor and set fire to the Don Juan d'Austria, the Isla de Cuba, the Marquis del Otero and the Correo. The transport Manila and some smaller vessels were taken as prizes.

Commodore Dewey had not a man killed, and only eight wounded, and the total damage done to his ships by the Spanish shells amounted to less than $5,000. On May 2 he drove the Spanish forces from the navy yard and arsenal at Cavite, blew up the batteries at the entrance to Manila bay and established the blockade of the city. Within 48 hours the Spaniards had lost property to the value of $8,000,000, 1,200 soldiers and sailors had been killed and the cable connecting Manila with the outside world cut. Manila, Cavite, Corregidor, Subig and other fortified points, shown big and other fortified points, shown in the second map, were in American hands ten days after war had been declared.

MEDICINE AND MISSIONS.

Subject Considered by the Delegates to the Ecumenical Conference at New York.

New York, May 1. — The general topic for discussion at the morning session of the ecumenical conference in Carnegie hall Monday was "Medical Work." A number of interesting papers were read treating of this branch of mission duties in its various phases. The devotional exercises which preceded the business session were conducted by Dr. Henry Foster, of the Clifton Springs sanitarium.

itations and Results," was discussed in papers by Rev. Dr. George E. Post, professor of surgery of the Syrian Protestant college, and Dr. C. F. Hartford, Battersby, of the Livingstone Medical college, England.

Dr. F. Howard Taylor, of China inland mission, read a paper on "Qualifications for Medical Work," and Dr. O. R. Avison, of Seoul, Korea, read the concluding paper on "Comity in Medical Work."

Chancellor McCracken, of New York university, presided at the Madison Avenue Reformed church, where "Literary Work" was under discussion.

At the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian church meeting, Dr. E. N. Bliss, of the Independent, dwelt upon the press as a means for the distribution of missionary information.

Probably the most interesting event of the day in connection with the ecumenical conference, which will close to-day, was the reception at Sherry's Monday night tendered to 300 missionaries who are British subjects, or who pursue their work of teaching in British possessions, by the British residents of New York. Several hundred persons of British birth were present at this reception.

In the early part of the evening a large reception committee comprising members of the St. George society, St. Andrew's society, the Canadian society, the British schools and the University club, and the New York Graduates' society of McGill university and others, devoted its efforts to making the missionaries feel at home in the large ballroom. The big room was decorated with British and American flags, smilax and palms. American, English, Irish, Scotch, Welsh and Canadian and Australian airs were played by the orchestra. After the reception an address of welcome was made by George Gray Ward, president of the St. George society and chairman of the executive committee. Bishop Potter, E. R. Gould and Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur were among the speakers.

Another interesting reception was that tendered the missionaries and delegates by the Chinese Christians of Greater New York at the Presbyterian Chinese mission. There were present about 150 missionaries and 300 visitors and friends.

SWEEP BY FLAMES.

Michigan Towns of Gladwin, Ames and Others Suffer Severely by Fire.

Gladwin, Mich., May 1. — Aided by a high wind fire destroyed 16 buildings here, including the Methodist church, Michigan Central depot, Brunswick hotel, and the city hose house, causing a total loss of $50,000. The fire originated in a billiard hall, and Albert Bergen, who slept there, is believed to have burned to death. The destroyed property was insured for only about $5,000.

Fisher, Mich., May 1. — Forest fires raged furiously north of Fisher, along the right of way of the Wisconsin & Michigan railway, Saturday and Sunday. The town of Ames, Mich., was practically wiped out, the loss being $30,000.

Athens, Mich., May 1. — All but three of the buildings in the east side of Main street were burned Sunday. The losses aggregate $18,000. The fire started in the Athens hotel.

British Aristocracy Blamed.

Many people attribute the recent reverses of the British to the degeneracy of the aristocracy. The life of luxury certainly does not produce vigor. Indigestible suppers, late hours, constant nerve strain and lack of exercise upset the stomach and weaken both physical and mental vitality. The blood that makes men heroes must come from active, healthy stomachs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach. It cures constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and biliousness.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was very thin and my friends thought I was in consumption."

"Had continual headaches, backache and falling of uterus, and my eyes were affected."

"Every one noticed how poorly I looked and I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

"One bottle relieved me, and after taking eight bottles am now a healthy woman; have gained in weight from 95 pounds to 140; everyone asks what makes me so stout."

MRS. A. TOLLE, 1946 Hillton St., Philadelphia, Pa.

DAN GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Peruna is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, of the Famous Ohio Family.

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy." Very respectfully, Dan. A. Grosvenor.

Hal P. Denton, Chief National Export Exposition, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was completely run down from overwork and the responsibility naturally connected with the exploitation of a great international exposition. My physician recommended an extended vacation. When life seemed almost a burden I began taking Peruna, and with the use of the fifth bottle I found myself in a normal condition. I have since enjoyed the best of health."

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

THE WYANDOTTE CONVENTION.

The second congressional district convention held in Wyandotte yesterday resulted in a victory for the Stearns-Judson forces of Washtenaw county. The entire delegation was accepted by the convention as the regularly nominated and elected delegates from this county. The Wayne county delegation and many of the other delegates who are known as Ferry men, voted for them, declaring they were the only properly elected delegates.

Hon. James O'Donnell was the chairman of the convention. A. J. Sawyer and Col. H. S. Dean were the speakers who presented the case for the defeated delegation, and W. W. Wedemeyer and Capt. E. P. Allen spoke for the victors. When the vote was taken the Jackson county delegation voted against seating either delegations. Monroe stood 9 for the Stearns-Judson men to 4 against, Lenawee's 23 votes were favorable, and Wayne's 10 votes were for seating them. The vote stood 42 to 25 and the Judson men took their seats.

Charles G. Edwards, of Carleton, was elected first delegate to the national convention, and L. B. Robertson, of Adrian, second delegate. The alternates are J. H. Bishop, of Wyandotte, and Charles H. Smith, of Jackson.

Hon. James O'Donnell, of Jackson, is the almost unanimous choice of the convention for governor on second choice.

At the Democratic state convention in Port Huron Tuesday, D. J. Campau, Thomas E. Barkworth, Wellington R. Burt and Rush Culver were elected delegates at large to the national convention at Kansas City, Mo., July 4.

At the Democratic county convention last Friday, Chairman Ward in his speech advised the shelving of that shibboleth of the campaign of 1896, Free Silver, until the coming of a period, which he believes is not far distant, when the world will have to come to the doctrine of bi-metalism.

"Yes, monkey shooting in Soerbo is great sport," said Old Traveler, as he settled himself comfortably in the biggest chair in the hotel lobby. "Monkeys are such human-acting things; I shall never forget a pair that I saw one day. They were in fine range, and I was just about to shoot, but decided to watch them a few moments before doing so. Well, it was amusing. There they were, walking along, side by side, like a pair of lovers. Finally, they came to a log, sat down and talked a while, and then decided to move on. Well, Mr. Monkey, who was the larger of the two, got up first. Then he turned to Miss Monkey, and you never saw anything more gallant than the way he extended his arms and helped her up. It was too much for me. I didn't have the heart to shoot after that."

VARICOCELE & STRICTURE

No other disease is so prevalent among men as Varicocele. THE WYANDOTTE CONVENTION

The second congressional convention held in Wyandotteray resulted in a victory for Stearns-Judson forces of Wyandot county. The entire delegation accepted by the convention regularly nominated and elected delegates from this county. The county delegation and many other delegates who are known as the "Ferry men," voted for them, and they were the only proper delegates.

Hon. James O'Donnell, chairman of the convention, Sawyer and Col. H. S. Dean, speakers who presented the defeated delegation, and Wedemeyer and Capt. E. spoke for the victors. A vote was taken the Jackson delegation voted against the other delegations. Monroe for the Stearns-Judson men against Lenawee's 23 votes, and Wayne's 10 votes for seating them. The vote was 25 and the Judson men took seats.

Charles G. Edwards, of Chelsea, was elected first delegate to the national convention, and L. B. son, of Adrian, second delegate. Alternates are J. H. Bishop, of Detroit, and Charles H. Sn Jackson.

Hon. James O'Donnell, of Chelsea, is the almost unanimous choice of the convention for governor.

At the Democratic state convention in Port Huron Tuesday, Campau, Thomas E. Bar Wellington R. Burt and R. were elected delegates at the national convention at City, Mo., July 4.

At the Democratic county convention last Friday, Chairman V his speech advised the shiel that shibboleth of the camp 1896, Free Silver, until the of a period, which he believes far distant, when the world w to come to the doctrine of bi lism.

EATING WEEDS.

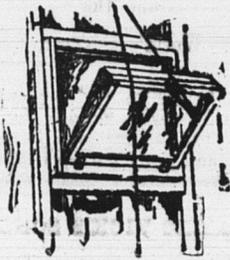

Many Plants Usually Classed as Weeds Are Eaten by Sheep as a Tonic.

The American Sheep Breeder points out the fact that many plants usually classed as weeds are, in pastures, often eaten by sheep, either to give variety to their diet or for the tonic effect on their systems. It mentions the common dandelion, parsley, yarrow, and even thoroughwort, as desirable for this purpose. In England, sheep growers purposely sow yarrow when laying down pastures for sheep, and also the narrow-leaved plantain. Most of these are somewhat bitter to the taste, and the liking for what is bitter seems to be a peculiarity of the sheep, which often leads it to eat leaves that are poisonous rather than medicinal. It is possible that all these plants have medicinal qualities, but the sheep does not know enough to doctor itself with them, as sheep are often poisoned by eating leaves of laurel when allowed to run where that poisonous plant grows. We have known sheep to be poisoned when an overdose of cherry leaves was probably the cause. The leaves of the cherry, peach, almond and of the common oleander all contain prussic acid, and are all poisonous when eaten in any quantity.

It is chiefly, we think, when pastures are dried up, and the sheep's appetites are clamorous for some green thing, that these fresh leaves are most attractive to them. Yet we should hate to leave even dried leaves of the cherry, almond or peach where sheep could eat all they liked of them. The craving for something bitter probably explains why sheep will eat the tender shoots of nearly all deciduous trees which are almost invariably bitter to the palate. With regard to anything uncleanly as regards animal excrement or blood, the taste of the sheep is more refined and sensitive than that of any other farm animal. But it unquestionably does have a liking for what is bitter to the taste, and will eat the small, wormy apples that a hog will turn up his nose at, while the hog will pick its favorite food among filth that no sheep could be brought near enough to touch. In the early summer, while the small, bitter, wormy apples are falling, the sheep is therefore a much better scavenger in the orchard than the hog.

Ventilating a Farm Building

Barns should have means of ventilation, but it should be ventilation that can be controlled. One of the best plans is by a window in each gable end of the building, up near the peak of the roof. Have these windows arranged as shown in the cut, and they can be opened and closed at will from the ground floor. The triangular pieces nailed to the sides of the sash hold the window a little inclined inward, so that it falls open by its own weight when the cord is loosened. The same result could be obtained by the usual sash that closes to a perpendicular position, but has a second cord running from the outer end of the iron rod down to the floor. Pulling on this cord would open the window, while pulling on the pulley cord would close it when the lid could be fastened below.

Cotton Seed Meal.

Cotton seed meal, fed judiciously, is one of the very best milk producers that we have. It is very rich in protein. Its favorable effects upon the flow of milk are immediate. It is very pure and solid and should be mixed with bran or some other coarse feed. Bran, mixed with it, has always given me good satisfaction; I feed four parts of bran and one of meal. If fed by itself it will be hard to digest. Some mix it with cut hay. A writer has said some things about it that I have never recognized in it, except that it is not best to feed too much of it, and it has a tendency to make the butter hard. He says: "Too much of it will injure the flavor of milk and butter, and will make the butter so hard that it will be difficult to work and handle it. Too much of it tends to give butter a rank or old flavor. It is a splendid article for making hard, solid butter in summer. Churning can be done at a higher temperature when cotton seed meal is fed. Two to three pounds a day can be fed without any danger of any kind; that is about as cows will relish. It will pay any dairyman to feed it. It not more than one pound a day. It possesses a magic power for opening the milk fountains. It has a tendency to age butter sooner than other articles of feed. Cotton seed meal should have a bright, golden color; if dark, it is not good. It tends to constipation, and should be fed with some laxative feed."

It is better not to feed too much of it, but I have fed five pounds a day and never saw any effect upon the butter, except as before mentioned. I have never seen cows refuse to eat it. I fed some oil meal, but only to regulate the bowels.—Jasper D. Ewin.

Plowing Early for Corn.

Corn thrives in a fermenting sod, one that is fresh-turned and subjected to heat and moisture, but experience indicates that early plowing of sod-land for corn is safest. Two reasons for this appear. Early plowing helps to insure early planting; that is, the planting that is done as soon as the ground warms up sufficiently for a tender plant, and early-plowed land holds the most moisture during drought. In a summer that is wet the sod-land that is not broken until just before time for planting does the best, because a spring growth of grass is obtained to help out fertility, and the freshest sod remains the loosest and driest in such a summer; but drought is the usual midsummer condition, and moisture, with early planting, is the prime consideration. Four years out of five the early plowing gives the best results—planting is earlier and moisture is more easily held during drought.

Sowing Clover Early.

Very many more fields of clover are injured by heat and drought after the removal of the grain crop than by freezes in late spring immediately after the plants come up. Late seeding to clover gives small and tender plants at the time the grain crop is removed; and while such a seeding gives most satisfactory results in a favorable season, it is less safe and sure than an early seeding. It is a rare thing that a good stand of plants is not carried through all spring freezes. The seed can be sowed while the ground is frozen, and preferably when the surface has been checked thoroughly by several freezes and thaws. It rolls into the small crevices, and usually sprouts before all spring frosts are past; but serious injury from them is rare. Start the clover early, so that it will be well rooted before dry weather.

Early Lice.

It is a task to get into the poultry-house at night, take each hen off the roost and dust the body with some substance obnoxious to lice, yet there are times when it should be done, especially during the warm season. A mixture for that purpose, and which is cheap, is made by using one pound of sulphur, four ounces of Scotch snuff, two ounces of Dalmatian insect-powder and half a pound of carbonate (not carbonate) of lime. It must be thoroughly mixed and kept in a closed vessel. Hold the fowls head down, and with a pepper-box dust well in among the feathers.

A Fragrant Scent.

Take one ounce each of coriander powder, Florentine orris, powdered rose leaves, powdered sweet-scented flag root, two ounces of powdered lavender flowers, half a scruple of musk and half a drachm of sandal wood. Mix together well and pass several times through a fine sieve.

Washtenaw Times: A deed was filed with the county recorder yesterday, which was so poorly written that the gentleman who presented it loaned the former deed of the property that Mr. Creech might have something to compare if he couldn't read it. DEWEY IN THE WEST.

Chicago Opens Her Gates to the Hero of Manila.

Chicago, May 1.—Admiral George Dewey stepped inside Chicago's gates Monday forenoon to the thunderous music of booming cannon and the cheers of 5,000 lusty-voiced Americans gathered in and around the Grand Central passenger station. It was a welcome typical of the warm-hearted, whole-souled northwest of a people who like a man of action, and who know how to tell him about it. They shouted and waved their hats and kerchiefs, they gave cheers and more cheers for "the hero of Manila bay," and they surged and struggled around him as he left his train, fighting for a chance to grasp his hand.

Mayor Harrison welcomed him to the city, and the cheering multitudes that patiently waited for his arrival greeted him as he drove through the streets to the hotel. Salutes of 17 guns heralded his arrival at the Grand Central station at 10:55 o'clock, five minutes ahead of the scheduled time.

Two thousand persons attended the ball in the Auditorium Monday night given in honor of Admiral Dewey. The great hall was never more beautifully and artistically decorated, the predominant colors being green and white. The doors of the ballroom were opened at 8:30, and half an hour later the patroness managers of the ball, who formed the reception committee, assembled in the ladies' room at the south end of the foyer. Headed by Mayor Harrison and Mrs. Arthur Catton, the committee entered the ballroom behind two long strands of silken ribbon and took their stand at the north end of the hall, there awaiting the distinguished guests. As soon as the reception committee had taken position there was a glitter of gold and flutter of lace at the rear door of the second tier of boxes on the south side of the hall. Admiral and Mrs. Dewey entered, followed by naval officers on duty in Chicago, and officers of the United States steamship Michigan, with their wives. Behind the navy came the army, headed by Maj. Gen. James F. Wade and Mrs. Wade. Officers of the revenue service followed, and behind them came Brig. Gen. Charles Fitz Simons, commanding the First brigade, Illinois national guard, and Mrs. Fitz Simons, members of Gen. Fitz Simons' staff, with their wives, closing the procession of the city's guests.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey, after they had exchanged greetings with members of the reception committee, took their stand at Mayor Harrison's right, and to them were presented the guests of the city, who followed them into the ball. Then came in long lines the guests of the ball, all who desired being afforded an opportunity of greeting the admiral. There was no grand march, the admiral's party retiring to a box when the line of guests had passed. At midnight Admiral Dewey left the hall for luncheon given in an adjoining room by Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor; then, after returning to the ballroom for a brief interval, the party retired.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey entered, followed by naval officers on duty in Chicago, and officers of the United States steamship Michigan, with their wives. Behind the navy came the army, headed by Maj. Gen. James F. Wade and Mrs. Wade. Officers of the revenue service followed, and behind them came Brig. Gen. Charles Fitz Simons, commanding the First brigade, Illinois national guard, and Mrs. Fitz Simons, members of Gen. Fitz Simons' staff, with their wives, closing the procession of the city's guests.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey, after they had exchanged greetings with members of the reception committee, took their stand at Mayor Harrison's right, and to them were presented the guests of the city, who followed them into the ball. Then came in long lines the guests of the ball, all who desired being afforded an opportunity of greeting the admiral. There was no grand march, the admiral's party retiring to a box when the line of guests had passed. At midnight Admiral Dewey left the hall for luncheon given in an adjoining room by Hobart C. Chatfield-Taylor; then, after returning to the ballroom for a brief interval, the party retired.

Frankfort, Ky., May 1.—The circuit court convened at two p. m. Caleb Powers, John Davis, Harlan Whittaker, W. H. Culton and "Tallow Dick" Combs were arraigned on motion of the commonwealth, on the charge of murdering William Goebel. Judge Cantrill overruled a motion to take up the motion for a change of venue in advance of arraignment. Combs and Whittaker were first arraigned, and each entered a plea of not guilty. All of the defendants were brought into court and arraigned. All of them entered pleas of not guilty.

Chicago, May 1.—Admiral George Dewey stepped inside Chicago's gates Monday forenoon to the thunderous music of booming cannon and the cheers of 5,000 lusty-voiced Americans gathered in and around the Grand Central passenger station. It was a welcome typical of the warm-hearted, whole-souled northwest of a people who like a man of action, and who know how to tell him about it. They shouted and waved their hats and kerchiefs, they gave cheers and more cheers for "the hero of Manila bay," and they surged and struggled around him as he left his train, fighting for a chance to grasp his hand.

Mayor Harrison welcomed him to the city, and the cheering multitudes that patiently waited for his arrival greeted him as he drove through the streets to the hotel. Salutes of 17 guns heralded his arrival at the Grand Central station at 10:55 o'clock, five minutes ahead of the scheduled time.

Two thousand persons attended the ball in the Auditorium Monday night given in honor of Admiral Dewey. The great hall was never more beautifully and artistically decorated, the predominant colors being green and white. The doors of the ballroom were opened at 8:30, and half an hour later the patroness managers of the ball, who formed the reception committee, assembled in the ladies' room at the south end of the foyer. Headed by Mayor Harrison and Mrs. Arthur Catton, the committee entered the ballroom behind two long strands of silken ribbon and took their stand at the north end of the hall, there awaiting the distinguished guests. As soon as the reception committee had taken position there was a glitter of gold and flutter of lace at the rear door of the second tier of boxes on the south side of the hall. Admiral and Mrs. Dewey entered, followed by naval officers on duty in Chicago, and officers of the United States steamship Michigan, with their wives. Behind the navy came the army, headed by Maj. Coming from Kansas.

Prof. Arthur Graves Canfield, of the University of Kansas, has been appointed to the chair of romance languages and literatures. He will take up his work with the beginning of the coming college year.

Musical Trip.

The musical clubs have been given permission to take a trip this year. They will visit Grand Rapids Friday, May 4, and give an entertainment in the evening. This concert is to be made a social success. Mayor Perry, one of Grand Rapids' most influential democrats, and Mr. Verdier, a prominent republican leader, have gotten together on the Boer war question and have written a song. This is to be set to music by Prof. Stanley, of the university, and rendered by the Glee club. This fact and the general interest manifested there insures a most successful evening. Saturday evening they will be at Battle Creek.

Don't Like It.

A matter that is disturbing the student world just now is the defeat of the Alpha Nu debating team at Albion. This team, without permission from its own society or from the debating board of the university, sneaked over to Albion and got licked. The U. of M. feels very proud of its debating record, having won nine out of the 12 intercollegiate debates in which it has been officially represented. Consequently there is trouble when individuals, with no special training and without authority, go about representing themselves as a university debating team. The student body is expressing its disapproval in quite emphatic terms of the recent performance.

Buttons.

Another matter which has received attention from the students is the distribution of athletic association buttons. These are given to members of the association who are in good standing. They are a receipt for the annual dues. Great, this fall, was the surprise when the retiring board of directors voted themselves a half dozen buttons apiece. Fortunately, the treasurer was slow about turning over the much-desired articles, and the new board of directors rescinded the action taken by the old board. So an athletic button is still a receipt for three dollars.

QUACKS MUST GO.

Near Eight Hundred Incompetent Physicians in Michigan Must Find Other Business.

Over 780 incompetent physicians, unfit to doctor humanity, are now practicing medicine in the state of Michigan. Thousands of people are daily under their care. That is the statement of Dr. Albert Lodge, of the state medical board of registration. He also says by next fall none of these physicians will be allowed to practice their profession in the state.

"I expect the state board," said Dr. Albert Lodge, "will be able to complete its work of registration by next fall. From careful computation it is estimated that 20 per cent. of the practicing physicians of the state will be ruled out of practice. This will leave about 3,500 in the field. When the work is completed it will go hard with those who are found practicing without licenses."

QUITS THE PULPIT.

Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Morenci Retires and Gives His Reasons for So Doing.

For the past few years the pulpit of the Morenci Presbyterian church has been occupied, by Rev. A. M. Rhinbar, a Syrian, converted in youth, educated under missionary auspices and a man of some prominence in his denomination in this state as a writer and lecturer. At a called meeting of his church the other evening he announced his retirement from the pulpit for the following reasons:

Disbelief in the divinity of Christ, in a personal devil, in vicarious atonement, in eternal punishment or that all the Bible is inspired.

DEWEY CANNON BOOMS.

Fired at Three Oaks for First Time in America Because of the Admiral's Coming Visit.

The world-renowned Dewey cannon boomed for the first time on American soil at sunset at Three Oaks. The cause of the demonstration was a telegram received from Mayor E. K. Warren, who had an interview with Admiral George Dewey the other morning, in which the admiral gave his full and definite promise that he would devote at least two hours to Three Oaks early in June at the time of his promised western trip, which covers Detroit, Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids and a few other prominent cities.

There will be no saloons at Ovid the coming year. The powers have so ordained and will see to it that their rule is followed as strictly as vigilance and the sharp eyes of the temperance people will provide. The saloon licenses expire on May 1, and the council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the issuance of new licenses.

THE SOLDIERS' SABBATH.

General Orders from Michigan Department of the Grand Army for Observing Decoration Day.

General orders, No. 7, from the headquarters of the Michigan department, G. A. R., signed by Russell R. Pealer, department commander, has been issued for Memorial day. They read as follows:

Thirty-two years have come and gone since Gen. John A. Logan, our most distinguished volunteer officer in the civil war, and then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, instituted Memorial day. Since that patriotic citizens have made it a holiday in most of the states and as a rule it has been tenderly observed by a grateful people. It is regarded by the survivors of the war as the Soldier's Sabbath, and it ought to be to all Americans a holy day, never a day for celebrations, noisy demonstrations, fireworks or field sports, but a day of sacred observances; a day for strewing the most fragrant and beautiful flowers on the graves of our dead comrades. It should not only be kept sacred to the memory of the dead, but should also be devoted to patriotic teaching, and nothing should be arranged to divert the attention of the young. Thoughtful and patriotic citizens observe it with increasing interest.

Gen. Logan, when inaugurating the day, urged all "to tenderly cherish the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes. Their soldier lives were the revellie of freedom to a race in chains, and their deaths the tattoo of rebellious tyranny in arms."

"We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of her slain defenders. Let no wanton fool tread rudely on such hallowed grounds. Let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

"If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the solemn trust, ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us.

From the programmes, the processions, the music, the flags and patriotic addresses of the day, lessons of patriotism are taught and there comes a hallowed influence which tends to make all who enter into the exercises and spirit of the occasion better citizens, and to keep pure the sources of national life and to strengthen the nation by increasing the love of country. Let our services at the dawn of the twentieth century be of the very best.

Do not overlook the importance of patriotic services in the schools on Friday afternoon previous and in the churches on Memorial Sunday. The teachers and ministers have done and will continue to do invaluable work.

Gen. Logan invoked the friendly aid of the press, and we have always had it, and we believe we shall have its support in every reasonable effort to arrest any tendency to arrange sporting programmes which will tend to defeat the proper observance of the service of the day.

Do not hurry the decorating service too much; give ample time. A quiet hour spent in reflection in the presence of the graves of our comrades is in keeping with the purposes of the day.

Invite the soldiers of the late war, the state troops and citizens all to take part. Decorate the graves of our soldiers of all the wars.

By command of
RUSSELL R. PEALER,
Department Commander.
C. V. R. POND,
Assistant Adjutant General.

RULES AGAINST DOCTOR.

Michigan Law Enforced Against a Benton Harbor Doctor Who Claimed Old Registry.

Dr. Richard Metcalfe, of Benton Harbor, has failed in his attempt to force the state medical department to issue him a certificate of registration under the law of 1899 without requiring him to pass an examination. He based his claim on the fact that he was registered under the old law, notwithstanding the fact that his affidavit showed that he attended the Independent medical college of Chicago but a single day. The supreme court says that his affidavit showed that Metcalfe was not entitled to practice and that he gained no right by the action of the county clerk in registering him. The decision affects about 200 persons now practicing in Michigan.

Lumbermen Lose.

The court of appeals at Toronto, Ont., gave judgment, dismissing with costs the suit of the lumbermen of Michigan who have for a year or more been trying to invalidate the provincial law requiring all lumber cut to be sawed in the country and all supplies for the lumber camps purchased in Canada. The lumbermen may now appeal to the imperial privy council of Britain, but it looks as if they had given up the fight, for they are obeying the law.

Governing a Province.

Maj. Henry H. Bandholtz, of Constantine, has been appointed military governor of the province of Sagua La Grande, Cuba, with headquarters at Matanzas. Bandholtz served with the Thirty-third Michigan volunteers during the Spanish war with much ability. He is only 30 years of age, but has seen much service in the regular army and state troops since his graduation from West Point.

Inclosed Grounds.

For some time quiet negotiations have been pushed by President Ashley towards securing a large inclosed athletic field for Albion college, and it has been given out that arrangements have been practically settled which will secure for Albion athletes some of the best grounds for the purpose in Michigan.

SHOW MORE ACTIVITY.

Boer Forces Threaten to Interrupt British Communications at Warrenton.

London, May 1.—The Boers are now showing uncommon activity west of Bloemfontein. They are in force between Fourteen Streams and Kimberley. On Sunday they occupied Wind-sorton, west of the railway, and now threaten to interrupt the communications of the British force at Warrenton, to the north. This, too, at a time when Gen. Hunter is about to start on a 200-mile march to Mafeking, probably with 5,000 men.

According to information from Maseru, the main body of the Boers reached Leeuw river, due west of Ladybrand, Sunday, small parties trailing behind at intervals of ten miles to protect the rear and whip up the herds.

Slight outpost actions take place daily beyond Karre Siding, where the head of the British invasion is cantoned.

The morning papers give special prominence to the statement of a news agency that Sir Redvers Buller sent his resignation to Lord Roberts after the Spion kop censures were published, and that Lord Roberts declined to accept it.

London, May 1.—The latest news received from the Orange Free State indicates that though the Boers have evacuated Thaba N' Chu they have only done so in order to occupy stronger positions. On Sunday, April 29, Gen. De Wet made an effort to turn French's eastern flank, which was only foiled by the cavalry after vigorous maneuvering. The Boers hold the ridges to the eastward, whence they will probably fall back when the pressure of superior numbers increases.

The British casualties sustained during the Thaba N' Chu fighting were slight.

Gen. French's object, now that all chance of catching the main bodies of the burghers has disappeared, is to harass the Boers and prevent any well organized retreat.

A conception of the continuous ravages of the war can be gathered from a Cape Town dispatch, dated Monday, briefly announcing the arrival from Natal of 25 officers and 252 men invalided home, and the sailing of the Aurania for England with 400 sick and wounded soldiers.

Endeavors are being made to remedy the remount question, a Simla dispatch announcing that 500 experienced native horse keepers, 150 shoemiths, and 50 veterinary officers have been drawn from India for service in South Africa.

Ladysmith, May 1.—The country north of Sunday's river seems comparatively clear of Boers. Gen. Louis Botha has returned to Pretoria to resume the supreme command of the Transvaal forces.

METHODISTS TO MEET.

Quadrennial Conference Is to Be Held in Chicago This Week—Its Scope.

Chicago, May 1.—The quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, bringing together 725 delegates from all parts of the world, and attracting an attendance now estimated at 15,000 people, will open in Chicago this week, the first regular session to be held in the Auditorium on Wednesday morning. The deliberations of this body will embrace discussions of and action on questions of religious, political and economical interest to present-day civilization. The conference will occupy the principal halls of the city, will crowd the hotels for a month with its delegates, and in debate will give to large audiences of people an expression of church opinion on affairs of national importance and popular interest. The conference of 1900 is looked on by many as the third in a great trio, the first that of 1844 when, by the division of the church North and South on the question of slavery, the coming division of the nation was foreshadowed; the second that of 1872, when "King Georgeism" in church rule was broken by the seating of the laity; this third being in prophecy of great importance because it will involve the relation of church and state in the policy of expansion and possibly institute a church movement to solve the greatest of economic questions, the relation of labor and capital.

DENIED BY PINGREE.

Governor of Michigan Says He Was Incorrectly Reported in a Recent Interview.

Detroit, Mich., May 1.—Gov. Pingree Monday night denied the correctness of an interview published in a local paper which quoted him as saying that "the hope of the people in this year's general election is in the democratic party," and as also saying of the increasing power of the trusts that "there is no use in hoping the republican party will do anything with them." The governor asserts that as a basis for the interview in question the reporter incorrectly reported a private conversation which he overheard after the governor had refused to express any views on the political situation for publication.
