LIMA CENTER'S CELEBRATION.

There Was a Good Crowd and an Orderly Time with Good Financial Results.

Lima Center had a regular old fashioned good time at its celebration yesterday under the auspices of the Epworth League of the M. E. church. Full 200 people were present when the proceedings opened in the afternoon and that number was increased to 300 by the time evening arrived. Chelsea, Dexter, North Lake and the neighboring towns generally were well represented.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon Carl T. Storm, of Ann Arbor, delivered a good address, the main thought of which was the character of the American people and how they should govern themselves in the coming election. Following the speech came a parade headed by the Lima Center Band, in which the school children in a gaily decorated wagon, bicyclists and calithumplings took part. Fred Staebler was marshal of the procession. Next came various sports for prizes which created lots of amusement. At night there was a band concert, an address by Rev. George B. Marsh, and a good display of fireworks.

The demand for ice cream throughout the afternoon and evening was so great that it could not be made fast enough. Willing workers made the serving of the dinners and suppers easy, and the crowd was orderly in the extreme. No accidents occurred to mar the pleasure of the day. The Epworth League will clear over $40 from the day's receipts.

Chelsea Did Not Celebrate.

There was no celebration of Independence Day in Chelsea yesterday, and with the exception of the horrible din made on Tuesday night by the gangs of young men and boys who made everything ring with the firing of guns, pistols and cannon fire crackers, the Fourth was very quietly spent. A number went to the celebration at Manchester, still more to the celebration at Lima Center, while those of a more quiet turn of mind went to Cavanaugh and North lakes, where they had family and social gatherings and a general good time. At Cavanaugh Lake in the evening a generous display of fireworks was the feature.

School Commissioner Lister's Report

There are a number of interesting facts in the report of School Commissioner Lister to the state superintendent of public instruction, which was forwarded to Lansing Tuesday.

Four examinations have been held during the year, in which there were 239 applicants.

There were 25 applicants for special certificates, but none were granted.

One first grade certificate was issued and indorsed by the state department.

Twenty-six second grade and 111 third grade certificates were issued.

The requirement for first grade in this county has been 85 per cent of correct answers; on second grade questions 80 per cent of correct answers has secured a certificate; and on third grade questions, 75 per cent of correct answers secured certificates.

There are 164 districts in the county, one of which, Chelsea, has the free textbook system.

The Baptist Was "It."

An exchange says that a Baptist and a Methodist minister were by accident dining at the same house. As they took their seats there was an embarrassed pause, the hostess not knowing how to ask one minister to say grace without offending the other. The little son quickly grasped the situation, and half rising in his chair, moved his fingers rapidly around the table, reciting: "Eny mene miny mo, catch a niger by the toe." He ended by pointing his finger at the Baptist minister and shouting "You're it!" The reverend gentleman accepted the decision and said grace, but it lacked the usual solemnity.

Nation's Wheat Crop a Failure.

The Chicago Times-Herald publishes a crop report prepared by Snow, the crop expert, who has just completed a two weeks' trip through the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota. He declares the situation a national calamity and claims the wheat failure the worst ever known.

He estimates the Dakotas are promising over 20,000,000 bushels each, and Minnesota 35,000,000, a total of 75,000,000, against 200,000,000 last year and 226,000,000 in 1898.

AMUSING LETTERS

Addressed by Correspondents to the Head Office of Modern Woodman Society.

Too much care cannot be exercised in correspondence. This fact is emphasized by letters received at recent intervals by the head office of the Modern Woodman society, located at Rock Island, Ill.

A Kansas Woodman clerk, in reporting a death, writes: "This Neighbor became afflicted with rumatics about one year ago and has not been able to do a good day's work since his remains were brought back here for burial."

A Missouri Woodman in reporting the accidental drowning of two members of the society, while attempting to rescue a child, said: "They immediately jumped into the river after the little one while the woman stood on the bank with their clothes on."

A Nebraska Woodman writes: "It is with regret that I report to you for the first time the death of John Jones," while a prominent Woodman state deputy, who knows better, says: "It is with sadness I again report the death of Neighbor Browne."

Upon the death of an Illinois Woodman of exemplary character, the clerk of his camp feelingly pays this touching tribute: "He had no habits whatever."

The "Ad" Was There.

A minister over in Indiana found his people too poor to purchase hymn books, and being offered the same book by a patent medicine house provided they be allowed to insert their advertisement, ordered three dozen for his congregation. He was elated upon receiving them to find no advertisement in the same. The next Sunday he distributed the books telling his brethren of his good fortune and requesting that they sing 119. His chagrin may be imagined when they sang the hymn, "Hark, the heavenly angels sing, Johnson's pills are just the thing. The angelic voices meek and mild—two for a man and one for a child."

School Report.

James Young and Calista Boyce received eighth grade diplomas.

Boys, You Can't Afford It.

The time is coming when a boy will have to choose between a cigarette and a job. The boy who smokes cigarettes will not be fit for anything else. The fumes of the cigarette will sooner or later clog the machinery of his think works and the intellectual interior of the fish worm. In This world of hustle and hump you can't afford, young fellow, to trade the chances of a job for a little bit of tobacco wrapped in a rice paper. You can't afford to take the chances of beclouding your intellect until you cut no more figure in the world than a grasshopper in an ice factory.

A Girl's College Education.

A graduate of Cornell University will tell in a carefully detailed article in the August Ladies' Home Journal, "How a Girl Can Work Her Way Through College." There are almost innumerable methods by which a girl can pay for her education while she is studying. Colleges and universities make most generous provisions for young women and young men who are without money, but who have brains and energy. So no apt, worthy girl need be without a college education if she wants one and is determined to have it. This article will tell how it is to be obtained through personal effort.

School Notice.

Admiral Kempff reports Seymour's relief column surrounded ten miles from Tientsin. General R. Chaffee has been appointed to lead the American army in China. Lord Roberts started four separate armies against the Boers in the Free State. A crushing blow is designed. ## OLD RUMOR CONFIRMED.

Official Advice Tell of the Murder of the German Minister in Peking.

London, July 2.—Official dispatches received by the consular body at Shanghai, an express cable dated Shanghai, July 1, says, confirm in the fullest manner the report of the butchery of Baron Von Ketteler, the German minister, on June 18. The ambassador was riding on Legation street when he was attacked by Chinese troops and Boxers, dragged from his horse and killed. His body was hacked to pieces with swords. The German legation and six other buildings were burned and a number of servants of the legations were killed and their bodies thrown into the flames.

Official confirmation of this ghastly business has created the utmost consternation among the consular generals of the powers, who expressed fears that war a l'outrance will be declared against the Peking government. The consuls entertain little hope that any foreigners are left alive in the capital. There were 100 foreigners connected with the legations, 50 in the custom house, English and American tourists and others to the number of 150, and nearly 500 legation guards.

The British foreign office, the Daily Mail learns, has received news from the British consul at Chefoo that Baron Von Ketteler has been killed, but no other information.

A dispatch to the Express from Nanking, June 30, says: "French priests here have received report from Peking that the public executions of foreigners has been in progress since June 20. The news comes by runners from English priests at Peking, who state that they administered the last rites to the condemned men."

Washington, July 2.—Two important cablegrams were received by Secretary Hay Sunday from United States Consul General Goodnow, at Shanghai. The date is understood to be that of Saturday night. The text is withheld, but the consul states in substance as follows: It is rumored in Shanghai that the German minister to Peking, Baron von Ketteler, was killed at Peking on the 18th of June. On the 23d of June three of the legation buildings were still standing. The others have been burned. On the 26th of June a dispatch was received at Shanghai from Yung Lu (believed to be the viceroy of the province of Chih, where the principle troubles have occurred) stating that other ministers were safe.

Dispatches to Shanghai from different sources indicate that Prince Tuan, rather of the heir apparent, seems to be absolutely in control at Peking, and that his attitude is the worst possible and most hostile to foreigners. It even said that he issued an edict as far back as the 20th of June ordering all viceroys to attack the foreigners in their respective provinces—an order which has so far not been obeyed.

Washington, July 2. — The navy department has received the following cablegram from Admiral Kempff: "Chefoo, June 30.—Secretary Navy, Washington: Ministers at Peking were given 24 hours to leave on the 19th. They refused and are still there. The Peking relief forces got half way. They were attacked by imperial troops on the 18th. McCalla was in command. Four were killed and 25 wounded. McCalla and Ensign Taussig wounded, but not seriously. Now over 14,000 troops ashore. Commander Wise commands at Lung Ku, in charge of transportation rail and river. The combined nationalities find it necessary to make use of some villains to operate railway."

"KEMPFF"

THE OREGON DISASTER.

Report That the Big Battleship Was Aground Near Chefoo, China, Is Confirmed.

Washington, July 2.—The navy department has received a cablegram from Capt. Wilde, of the Oregon, dated Chefoo, Saturday confirming the report at his ship is aground 50 miles fromuku. The Iris and another relief ship are now with the Oregon. The point where the Oregon grounded is 25 miles west-northwest of Chefoo.uku is 150 miles west of Pinnacle rock, where she struck.

The following dispatches were received at the navy department Saturday morning relative to the grounding of the Oregon:

"Chefoo, June 29.—Secretary Navy: Anchored yesterday dense fog in 17 fathoms, five miles south of How Ke light, Gulf of Pe Chi Lu. Sent out two boats and under. Least water 3½ fathoms. Weather clear. Got under way and struck Pinnacle rock. Much water in forward compartment. Perfect smooth. All charter steamer if possible at Chefoo and lighten the ship. Rock through the side of ship above double bottom about 19. Small holes also through bottom of ship. WILDE."

Hong-Kong, June 29.—Secretary Navy, Washington: Princeton arrived. Brooks leaves for Nagasaki. The Zafro at Chefoo has been sent to assist Oregon reported by Rogers on a rock south How light. Iris going to her assistance. "REMEY."

Pinnacle rock, where the Oregon ran aground, is about 25 feet high and is 3-2 3 miles south of Howki island, and about 1¼ north-northeast of the land of Siao Lu Shan. The rock is encircled by a shoal and should not be approached nearer than three cables. Capt. Wilde's statement of the injuries sustained by the Oregon is sufficiently sufficient to enable the naval constructors here to form a definite opinion as to the prospects of saving the famous ship.

JOKE GAINED HIS POINT

A Michigan Statesman's Clever Ruse Worked on a Committee on Pensions

Not long ago Congressman "Hank" Smith, of the Second Michigan district, worked a joke off on the house committee on pensions. It should be explained, says the Chicago Chronicle, that this committee is not the one which has charge of the pensions which grew out of the civil war, says a correspondent. Its functions appertain to the granting of pensions to the widows and veterans of the Mexican and Black Hawk wars and other ancient unpleasantnesses. It should also be pointed out that one of their rules is that no widow's pension shall be larger than $8 a month. This proceeds upon the theory that any widow who survives a veteran of these wars must be a comparatively young woman and that she must have married the veteran in his dotage to get his pension. The new member from Michigan appeared before the committee at its last meeting and in an incidental and smiling way alluded to the rule.

"That is a fine rule," said he in a guileless sort of way. "I sympathize with its purpose and believe it should stand. But just to show good faith I am going to propose an amendment. I move that it be amended so as to read 'except in the case of widows over 100 years of age.'"

The members of the committee are always in favor of a joke and the proposition was adopted with a unanimous laugh.

And thereupon "Hank" produced from his pocket a bill to grant a pension of $12 a month to Mrs. Hixon, of Clinton, Mich. She had just passed her one hundredth year. It was not necessary to explain that her husband had served to within one day of the term requisite to get a pension in the regular manner. The committee reported the bill favorably.

KNOWN BY THEIR TUNES.

A Boss Carpenter's Queer Way of Discerning Capable Workmen.

Talking about the queer ways some people have of sizing up a man's capabilities for a job, said a resident of Paterson, N. J., to a Washington Star reporter the other day, "I recently died in my town of a boss carpenter named Hebart, who had one question which he always asked of journey-men who applied to him for employment. If the applicant was found to possess all the other necessary qualifications Hebart would ask:

"What are your favorite tunes?"

"Why, what do you want to know that for?"

"You whistle and sing some at your work, don't you?"

"Oh, yes."

"Well, what tunes do you generally whistle or sing?"

"Oh, there's 'Old Hundred,' and 'Auld Lang Syne,' and 'Down by the Weeping Willows,' and—"

"That's enough!" the boss would exclaim. "You won't do for me. These tunes are too slow for me. Good-day."

On the contrary, if the applicant answered: "Oh, I generally whistle 'Yankee Doodle,' 'The Fisher's Hornpipe,' or something of that sort, the carpenter would say at once: "I think you'll do! Take off your coat and come to work."

She Is Waiting for Him

A Waterloo man, while at Boone the other day, sought to telephone to his wife at home. He wires worked badly and the girl in the Webster City office offered to relay the message. "Tell my wife," said the man at Boone, "to send me my interchangeable marriage book." "All right," the Webster City girl replied, sweetly; and turning to the phone she said to the waiting wife at Waterloo: "Your husband wants you to send him his interchangeable marriage book to Boone at once, as he needs it to-night." "What!" screamed the Waterloo lady; "I'll interchangeable marriage book him!" and she hung up the receiver with a crash, doubtless intending to take the first train for Boone.—Webster City (Ia.) ## JOY AT THREE OAKS.

The Cannon Presented by Admiral Dewey Is Unveiled.

Thousands of Visitors Witness the Exercises—Miss Helen Gould Is the Honored Guest of the Occasion.

Three Oaks, Mich., June 29.—This little city was overcrowded with visitors on Thursday, the occasion being the unveiling of the Dewey cannon. This cannon, it will be remembered, was donated by Admiral Dewey to the national monument committee to be given by them to the town or village contributing the most to the memorial in proportion to population. Three Oaks entered the contest, won out, and on Thursday formally unveiled and dedicated the preeminent trophy of the Spanish-American war to which is attached the personality of Admiral Dewey. Thursday was a red-letter day in the history of Three Oaks. Ten thousand persons came by carriages, schedthat it should not be fired. The line of Dr. Barton's thought led up to the unveiling of the cannon.

Miss Gould Touches the Button.

Preparatory to this Mr. Warren led Miss Gould to the edge of the platform, saying: "I take pleasure in speaking for you and for millions more in this great nation who hold in love and reverence the name of Helen Miller Gould." Before touching the button she turned to President Warren and said: "It gives me great pleasure indeed to be present and take part in the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the Dewey cannon." Miss Gould was greeted with repeated and continued cheers. As the friend of the soldiers of the army and navy she gracefully acknowledged this, and at the proper time touched an electric button which released a spring to the tent-like canopy enveloping the cannon, the canopy dividing in eight sections, each section falling on the green turf of the mound below, outlining an eight-pointed red, white and blue star. The effect was indescribable. The assembled people had been standing in expectancy through the act, and when the white, inconspicuous tent unfolded like a flower and showed the brilliant colors of our national flag and revealed to view the relic of the great Manila battles, the crowd went nearly mad with cheering.

Sing "America."

The chorus was invited to sing the first two stanzas of "America" while the crowd moved back a little from the mound to allow the passage of Miss Gould and Gen. Alger, who both stepped off the historical slab of Vermont granite and retired to the speakers' platform, when the last two verses of "America" were sung and the benediction pronounced by Dr. Martin.

One of the flags which comprised the point of the star was given to the Gould party as a souvenir of the occasion. Just before her special train pulled out the party stood on the back platform, and, led by Mr. Walker, gave three

It is learned from official sources that 839 out of 1,210 townships in the state report an increase of $42,315,157 on personal property assessment, and 26 of the 83 cities in the state report an increase on personal property assessment amounting to $44,825,916. Of five men on the twenty-fifth level, near the explosion, at the bottom of the shaft, but one escaped by climbing the air hose to pure air. Gases and smoke asphyxiated the victims. The cause of the explosion is not known, but was probably due to sparks from a miner's pipe.

Fatally Stabbed.

Harry Hopkins, son of James Hopkins, a farmer, was fatally stabbed in the street at Baroda by J. P. Crowen, a berry picker. Crowen was placed under arrest, charged with murder. Great excitement prevailed among the people of the village, and threats were made to take his life. Realizing the danger, C. E. Ormsby, justice of the peace, took Crowen to St. Joseph. No reason has been assigned for the crime.

Crop Outlook.

The report of crop conditions issued by the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:

HOUSE BUILT BY WOMEN.

Four of Them Did All the Work, Even to Sawing Down the Trees and Lifting the Logs.

Near the border of Moosehead lake, in Maine, is a picturesque little log-house built by four women. Mrs. A. T. Sanden, an active member of the Little Mothers' Aid association, on whose ground the house was erected, participated in the work, which, although hard, proved novel and entertaining.

"We enjoyed every minute of the time we expended in building the little house," said Mrs. Sanden. "We happened upon the idea in the mid-summer, when we were discussing with our guests the various means of diversion at hand, and the plan was evolved to build a loghouse and do all the work on it, even to getting the lumber. We entered upon our talk with the greatest enthusiasm, and after some discussion decided that the house should contain one room 12 by 14 feet in dimensions. We then computed the length to be obtained in the logs, and the next day started on our logging expedition.

"The particular piece of woods from which we decided to get the lumber was situated less than half a mile from the house, and the spruce trees with their pretty bark were selected as the most even and attractive. Each log had to be seven inches in diameter.

"When we located a promising looking tree of sufficient height we got out our saw and set to work. The saw was of the kind having a handle at each end, and was manipulated by two of us at a time. When two of us got tired the other two shared the work, and in this manner we sawed down the lumber. When the tree was down we measured with one of those long tape measures the required length and sawed off the surplus portion from the tip. When we had secured two logs we began to feel a homeward inclination. Two of us took one of the logs between us on our shoulders, while the other two carried the second log in a similar manner. We arrived at home triumphant and hungry.

"I think it took 80 logs to complete the house, and we went logging every day for six weeks to get them. As we brought home the logs we placed them loghouse fashion, one on top of the other, crossing at the corners, and we carefully clipped off all the branches or rough places, so they presented a nice appearance. We decided to have a little porch, which was supported by pillars made of logs in the rough, and our foundations we made of pieces of rock obtained from the shores of the lake. For the little gable over the porch we secured logs of a smaller size than for the body of the house, and peeled off the bark in order to have the gable a light color and give the house a fancy finish. The flooring was of boards, and the 'chinking' or filling in of the cracks between the logs which formed the walls we accomplished by means of a tough moss obtained from around the roots of old trees and the rocks.

"It took the four of us three days to gather sufficient moss for the purpose, and when we had enough to fill all the cracks we each took a chisel and hammer, and wedging pieces of moss in the cracks, we hammered them snugly into place. When finished the walls were pretty and unique. To make an appropriate finishing we fastened to the walls various trophies of the chase, such as guns, deer heads, fishing rods and tackle, etc., and then proceeded to make the furniture. This was also finished in the rough.

"A complete little desk, with a drop front, pigeon-holes for documents, and everything handy and complete inside, was in the rough; the table was smooth on top and had the rustic finish on the sides, while the chairs were formed into inviting and comfortable armchairs by means of gnarled branches and roots, which curved sufficiently to give the required easy chairs and sofa. A bookcase was also finished in rustic style. For the porch we made a large easy chair, and the horse block for dismounting from a horse or carriage was made of one piece of the trunk of a large tree, with high supports formed from little saplings.

"We had many difficulties to overcome because of our inexperience, but they only served to inspire us with fresh enthusiasm, and when that house was completed we viewed our scratched and roughened hands with placid indifference and ignored the 'kinks' in our necks which we had acquired from the sideways position we were forced to hold while sawing down trees. We simply feasted our eyes on the pretty little house which we had completed in exactly six weeks from the day we entered upon the work. Having finished the house, we proceeded to make the surroundings as attractive as possible, while retaining the trees and bushes which were in keeping with the rustic appearance of the house. We leveled off a space for a croquet ground and put up rustic seats in various places. Although there is every arrangement for all sorts of games at our house near by, we all regard our loghouse with great affection, and spend many happy hours daily in its little room."—N. Y. Tribune.

EXPERT SHOEMAKER.

How a Danish Girl Compelled the Guild of Kolding to Admit Her to Membership.

An old proverb says: "Shoemaker, stick to your last," but in Denmark the shoemakers are in a quandary how to live up to the proverb, and the cause of all the trouble is a bright, good-looking Danish girl, Bertha Olesen, who has recently invaded the trade and compelled the ancient guild of the shoemakers to accept her as a fellow craftsman, and this is how it came about: Miss Olesen is the daughter of a respectable shoemaker in Frederikshaven, Denmark. Four years ago she surprised the members of the ancient shoemakers' guild by demanding to be registered as an apprentice to her father. To say that the members were furried does not fully describe the situation. Finally one guileless member found a way out of the difficulty. "Grant the request," he said. "She is like all women; she does not know her own mind. She will soon tire of her fad and we will never hear of her again." The advice was followed, but not with the result anticipated.

A few weeks ago Miss Olesen presented herself before the members of the guild in the city of Kolding and submitted a pair of shoes made in every detail by herself as a proof of her skill and knowledge of the trade, according to old-established customs, and applied for a membership in the guild. Her master proof was carefully examined and found to be perfect in every detail and so beautifully finished that the examining members not alone granted her a membership, but also awarded her the guild medal, which is only presented on most extraordinary occasions, and it was further decided to have the shoes sent to the Danish department of the Paris exposition as the first pair of shoes ever made by a Danish woman, and, as far as known, by any woman in Europe.

Miss Olesen is now 21 years of age. She expresses herself as delighted with her trade and would not exchange it for domestic or any other employment. She expects to establish herself in Copenhagen as a custom shoemaker and hopes to induce other women to come to her and learn the trade.

Inexpensive Silver Polish.

An inexpensive everyday polish for silverware is made by mixing half a teaspoonful of ammonia with all the whitening it will absorb, then adding enough of the water in which potatoes were boiled to make the consistency of bread.

Welcome Helen Gould.

The reception committee at 12:45 p.m. went to Niles to welcome Miss Gould. Mayor E. K. Warren, Hon. J. L. McKie and Mesdames Warren, Hall and Davis constituted this committee which had so delightful a pleasure before them. After waiting a few moments at Niles they were picked up by Michigan Central train No. 15, on which they found Miss Gould and her party, consisting of Dr. and Mrs. Palen, Misses Palen, Edwards and Colen, and Mr. H. B. Walker, and Gen. Withington, of Jackson. Gen. Alger was also greeted on the same train, and the party pulled into Three Oaks at 2:25 amid thundering cheers.

Review the Parade.

A reviewing stand had been constructed underneath a magnificent willow tree, and thither the party repaired to review a procession under the direction of Alva Sherwood, marshal of the day. The procession was divided into two divisions. The first containing the marshal and aids, Mills' military band, company I, of the Thirty-third Michigan volunteers, representatives of the G. A. R., the Dewey club, of Hastings, Mich., and individual guests on ponies and carriages. The second division was headed by the Three Oaks military band, followed by civic societies, the fire department, St. Joseph wagons and carriages. This procession occupied some three-quarters of an hour to pass, after which the way was again cleared through the crowds by competent guards and marshals, and Miss Gould, on the arm of Mayor Warren, walked to the speakers' platform, which had been conveniently arranged near the Dewey cannon mound. The other guests followed and took their places, the chorus of 250 voices having already seated themselves in their chairs, immediately back of the speaker's stand.

Greeted by the Mayor.

After a selection by the Hastings' band, the chorus rose to support Miss N. Estelle Harrington, of Chicago, who sang the verses of the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Prayer by Rev. Dr. M. H. Marten, of Ovid, was followed by an address of greeting by Mayor Warren.

Dr. Barton Delivers Oration.

The mayor was followed by Gen. Alger in an eloquent address, and then after singing by the big chorus Dr. W. E. Barton, of the First church of Oak Park, Chicago, delivered the oration of the day on the theme: "Victories of Peace and War." In closing Dr. Barton read greetings from the president and the admiral, with notice of the official condemnation of the cannon and its custody being placed in the hands of the village president, with the order cheers for Three Oaks, Miss Gould heartily joining with the others. The special left Three Oaks at seven o'clock.

A REVOLUTIONARY HEROINE.

A Massachusetts Girl Who Fought with Great Valor in a Soldier's Uniform.

Deborah Sampson, a Massachusetts girl, was one of the real heroines of the revolutionary war. Under the name of Robert Shurtleff she enlisted in the continental army and served valiantly in many hard-fought engagements. "While the army was stationed at West Point the true courage of this dauntless woman was shown by her constant volunteering to go upon scouting duty," says Mabel Percy Haskell, in the Ladies' Home Journal. "A great deal of scouting was done and Robert Shurtleff was always at the front of the party, the most fearless of all, leading the others and inspiring them by her utter fearlessness. On one of these expeditions she was twice wounded. She begged her companions to leave her, as she preferred to be left behind rather than to enter the hospital to have her wounds dressed. Her comrades would not heed her. She was placed on one of the horses in front of another soldier and taken to the hospital of a French encampment. When the surgeon came to dress her wounds she pointed out the one in her head, but said nothing about the other. After the surgeon's departure she extracted the ball from her hip with a penknife, having carefully observed the manner in which he had removed the other."

Lincoln Preferred to Walk.

Abraham Lincoln came to Columbus on September 16, 1859, and spoke from the east terrace of the state house. He was announced as "Hon. Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois," and came to Columbus under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican club, better known as the "Wide Awakes." This was his first speech in Ohio. He spoke in the forenoon to a large audience, and the late Hon. George M. Parsons was chairman of the meeting. That evening he was escorted to the market house on Town street, by a committee consisting of Hon. E. L. Taylor, Sr., Charles Scarlett, Gen. James M. Conley and Charles Wing, and he spoke for a second time. Mr. Lincoln stopped at the old Neil house, and when the committee met him there to take him to the market house meeting they had a carriage at the door. "Oh, let's walk, boys," and he started out with Taylor at his side, the great republican leader covering about five feet in each step. Every one of the party was well winded except Lincoln when they reached the speaking place.—Columbus (O.) State Journal.

In the same hall where four years ago Col. Aaron T. Bliss went down in defeat before the Pingree forces, he was nominated at Grand Rapids on Thursday last as the candidate for governor of Michigan on the Republican ticket.

The nomination of Col. Bliss gives satisfaction to Republicans generally and the splendid ticket which is at his back assures a victory for the Republican party this fall, as it is one that every Republican and many voters outside the party can and will support on election day.

For years the Grand Army men of all political faiths have been clamoring for one of their number to be nominated for governor and now with that end accomplished they will, of course, support him through a successful campaign and help land him in the gubernatorial chair.

Peace has practically been agreed to in the Philippines, the only point still at issue between the United States and the rebels being the expulsion of the friars. The United States cannot expel these people directly, and it is pledged by treaty to secure to them their landed property. But it will investigate their claims to this most strictly, and wherever clear titles cannot be shown, will seize it.

The Democratic national convention yesterday was barren of results except organization. The delegates are in a tangle over the declaration of principles, the financial plank in the platform proving a stumbling block. Bryan wants to go the 16 to 1 road but the party is not at all inclined to follow him.

Rev. Charles Sheldon, the Topeka "What Christ would do" preacher, says that he has seen more drunken men in London, England, in a week than he has seen in Topeka in 12 years. This seems to be about the usual proportion, inasmuch as London is some 600 times larger than Topeka.

B. H. Roberts has been expelled from Congress, convicted of polygamy by a jury, and fined $150 for having an extra wife. In the case of ordinary citizens it cannot be said that the tariff on extra wives comes very high.

Out in Chicago they have a bug that bites bicycle tires. Thus the process of "rubbering around" is spreading even in the insect creation.

The Chinese pig-tail makes fine twisting material for those persons who have been so persistently at work on the British lion's tail.

There is no encouragement for the foes of the United States in the Philadelphia platform.

When people can afford to buy potatoes the farmers get better prices for them. That is the reason why last year's potato crop was worth $10,500,000 more than the potato crop of 1895.

The dwelling house of Edward Gorman was badly damaged by fire on Saturday last. It is thought that a spark from the kitchen chimney blew through the open window of the bedroom in the second story, and falling on the bed ignited the bedding, as a strong wind was blowing at the time across the chimney towards the window. If it had not been for the persistent efforts of Mr. Barton, who happened to be passing at the time, with the assistance of Mrs. Gorman and her daughters, May and Edith, in carrying up water from the cistern, the house would surely have burned. The room in which the fire started was the boys' room, and five suits of good clothes with five good hats were burned. The house is insured in the Northwestern Washtenaw Mutual.

White Man Turned Yellow.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogarty, of Lexington, Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin was slowly changing color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly. His malady was yellow jaundice. He was treated by the best doctors, but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50 cents. Sold by Stimson, the druggist.

Money in the Quail Industry.

BROTHER FANCIER: Did you know there is big money in raising Quails for market? We know of men in Arkansas, Missouri and Texas, who are making fortunes out of this branch of poultry. Quails can be raised in confinement the same as Pigeons; they are a hardy and healthy bird, very prolific, while their feed costs comparatively nothing, an item worth remembering. Quails always command good prices and the market is never supplied. Hotels and restaurants are anxious for them, while Gun Clubs use them for trap shooting purposes and pay your own prices; others wanting to go into the business will pay well for breeding stock. You can always sell live Quails for a profit. We have so many inquiries in regard to raising this bird that we have written a book, "Culture of the Quail for Profit," which is postpaid to any address for 35 cents (in stamps). This book is neatly printed and gives all the information in regard to raising Quail and will start you right. Any one living in or near a city should go into this business; a trial will convince you there is big money in it. Having a list of nearly all Quail breeders in the United States we can give you names of men of each state who can supply stock. Very truly yours, W. B. CARAWAY.

Good Dairy Suggestions.

In starting a dairy it is important to select good cows, provide good feed of the right kind, feed liberally and treat kindly. Many cows are spoiled by rough and unkind treatment, such as whipping, kicking and clubbing. Do not, in the name of humanity, as well as on the score of good farm economy do any of these things, and on the other hand card and pet them—have the best kind of an understanding with your cows from calfhood up. Unless you can and will do this you better let dairying alone. If a cow kicks do not kick back, and she will soon forget to kick and will receive you kindly. You can coax bad tricks out of five cows where you can drive them out of one.

I have had some twenty-five years experience in cheese making and have not found it difficult to make from thirty to fifty dollars per cow the season. With a small dairy one can start with a large tub, a tin boiler inside a larger one, the latter to hold water and the former milk. This combination of boilers is for the purpose of heating the milk in a proper manner.

I began with seven cows and increased to thirty. For a dairy of 10 to 20 cows it is better to have a cheese vat, one made especially for that purpose.

The whey is good feed for hogs and hogs will help to pay farm expenses. Cheese can usually be sold for 8 to 10 cents per pound and should be sold as soon as ready for market. I would advise imitating, as nearly as possible English cheese. Cheese making pays every day. I know of several dairymen that paid for farms near mine by making cheese, as I did myself.—James Canora.

The Grass Lake News says: An immense snake haunts the Eschelbach neighborhood east of town. John Dakin and others have seen it, and report that it is of the color of rusty stove pipe and just about as large. It has a partial tooth for lambs, several of which have disappeared near its trail, but doesn't disdain young pigs if fat. A place where it had lain in the road was paced off and its length found to be 27 feet. Last Sunday folks around there didn't go to church but kept close at home. A number have bought shot guns. Several went down there from this village Monday armed, to the teeth. Where the reptile had crawled through the grass it looked as if a log had been hauled, but aside from this discovery nothing of moment developed.

An exchange says: No insect that crawls, not even the pesky bedbug, can live under the application of hot alum water. It will destroy red and black ants, cockroaches, spiders, and all myriads of crawling insects that infest our houses during the summer season. Try it on the festive carpet bug and note carefully the result.

Do you know what it means to you to do your trading at home? It means money in your town for your neighbors and friends. Do you save for your home dealer every cent you can, or, for the purpose of making a show, do you send or go to some city for a few dollars worth of goods every now and then? Buy everything you can at home, and if you pay as you go you will have friends. When you send your money out of town, it goes, in most cases to strangers who have no interest in you or your welfare. Do you see the point? Trade at home, buy goods made at home, encourage your neighbor. He may be able to help you some day.

Stockbridge Sun: The new bank building of Geo. P. Glazier & Gay on the south side of Main street just west of Clinton street is well under process of erection, and when completed will be a structure to which the citizens of our village can point with justifiable pride. Since coming to this place the banking firm has occupied a small corner of the C. E. DePuy stores but with the growth of their business this place was found to be inadequate and it became necessary to put up a suitable building for their occupancy. It is to be a one story building 22x50 feet with basement. The walls are to be of field stone—foundation two feet thick and 20 inches above ground. It will contain two vaults, one above the other, 7x8 feet 4 inches inside. These will be protected by the celebrated Mosler vault fronts. The inside finish is to be of natural wood.

Was It a Miracle?
"The marvellous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of consumption has created intense excitement in Cammack, Ind.," writes Marion Stuart, a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind. It has cured thousands of hopeless cases, and is positively guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases, 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Stimson's drug store.

Escaped From the County Jail.

A colored man named Bishop and a white man named Whitlark celebrated the Fourth at Ann Arbor by making their escape yesterday morning from the county jail by cutting their way through the brick wall surrounding the corridor. Both men were sent up from Milan, one for burglary, the other for larceny from the person. When the cells were locked up Tuesday night these men concealed themselves in the outside corridor. In the morning they were gone and they are still at liberty.

AN AWFUL DISASTER.

Fire Sweeps Away Big Docks and Ocean Steamships.

Three Vessels Burned at Hoboken, N. J.—Men and Women on Board Find Escape Cut Off—Fully 200 of Them Perish.

New York, July 2.—Probably 200 lives, perhaps more—some estimates put the number as high as 500—were lost Saturday afternoon in a fire horror that in many respects is unprecedented. Many of the unfortunates were burned to death, more were drowned. Over a thousand people were struggling in the water at one time, and how many of these were lost is only conjecture.

The same fire destroyed three great ocean steamships, the immense wharves of the North German Lloyd Steamship company, the Hamburg-American Steamship company and the Thingvall Steamship company, a vast storage warehouse in Hoboken, 12 canal boats and six barges.

The ocean liners destroyed were the Saale, the Bremen and the Main. All three of these ships belong to the North German Lloyd company.

The Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, the fastest and one of the largest passenger ships in the world, was damaged and had a narrow escape from total destruction.

There were hundreds of men on each of the destroyed steamships and a few women. There were crowds of dock laborers and employees on all of the piers. There were men, women and children in the canal boats and men on the barges and lighters.

Escape Quickly Cut Off.

So quickly did the fire spread that escape for all of these hundreds was cut off almost before they knew the fire had started.

Men working in the holds of the three steamships were shut in by walls of flame. It was impossible to reach them in any way. Men on the pier jumped into the water to save themselves. Many were saved; others sank before help could reach them.

Loss of Life Estimated at 200.

The North German Lloyd Steamship company estimates the loss of life by the fire at 200. The company took the crew lists, checked off those members who are in hospitals or reported safe, and believes the others to be lost. Among the dead are a number of officers. The body of Capt. Mirrow, of the Saale, has been found, burned so as to be unrecognizable. Fortunately the number of visitors on the pier and boats was unusually small, because no steamer was due to sail except the Saale, and she only for Boston, where she was to have taken on a load of Christian Endeavorers, bound for the convention in London. No passenger was lost on any of the boats. A number of Christian Endeavorers were visiting the Saale, drawn by the interest taken in the boat, because of her charter by the Boston Endeavorers. Some of these visitors were reported lost. The German consul general cabled to Berlin placing the death list at 200.

It is estimated that from 300 to 400 persons were injured and taken to the different hospitals in this city, Jersey City and Hoboken. Many of them were found to be not seriously hurt and were discharged Sunday. Many others are believed to be so seriously injured that they cannot recover.

May Be Larger.

One of the officers of the steamship Bremen said that there were fully 200 visitors on board that vessel when the fire touched there, the majority of them being women. A boat was lowered from the Bremen shortly after the alarm had been given, but the craft capsized as it touched the water and all hands were precipitated into the water, and none of them was saved by those remaining on the vessel. This in itself would indicate that the list of dead may be larger than it was first thought to be.

Eighteen Bodies Found.

Up to 11 o'clock Sunday night 18 bodies had been recovered. Eleven of these were placed in a row at the morgue in this city and numbered, this being the only means the authorities have of maintaining any sort of identity over the corpses, as they are so badly charred and dismembered that identification will be made only by trinkets or pieces of clothing that were found about the bodies.

The loss of life will probably prove greatest when the wreck of the Saale has been searched. Already a number of bodies have been taken off her, and as soon as the fire in her hold has been subdued enough to allow anyone to go down in her there is every probability that many bodies will be found below decks, as various tugboat captains claim to have seen 30 or 40 persons in one compartment just before the Saale went down. Some of those penned in by the flames were alive when the steamship was towed to the Jersey flats just north of Ellis island. Through the open deadlights or portholes the poor creatures appealed for help several times before the vessel was scuttled in the hope of putting out the fire which was raging in her upper works. The portholes being less than a foot in diameter, it was impossible to save them, and one after another the people inside succumbed to the smoke and flames.

Of the 266 persons who are reported missing it is believed that some will be found safe in sailors' boarding houses in this city, Jersey City and Hoboken.

The North German Lloyd officials deny that any passengers were lost; declare that few, if any, visitors perished, and that the loss of life was almost entirely among employees of the company. Officials declare positively that there were no members of the Christian Endeavor society aboard the Saale.

As many people, to avoid being roasted to death on the three steamships and the docks, jumped overboard and were drowned, searching parties kept up a close watch to-day along the shores of the North river, Brooklyn and Staten Island. As the tide was on the turn when the people were lost in the water, it is believed that their bodies were carried up stream and when they rise will come to the surface above Twenty-third street, unless they drifted into the central current and caught the flood tide running out. They are likely to be discovered mostly in the upper bay. Relatives of the missing employed rowboats and men to patrol in the vicinity of the disaster in the hope of picking up the remains of the missing ones. Other boatmen searched for the dead on speculation.

Damage of $10,000,000.

The property loss can simply be approximated at this time. None of the officials around the docks could give anything like a precise estimate of their losses and none was prepared to make a statement on this point. A conservative estimate made by a prominent fire underwriter places the entire damage at less than $10,000,000.

How Lives Were Lost.

Fully 1,500 people were working on the piers and vessels when the fire began. There were the longshoremen removing and loading cargoes, the sailors on the vessels, and even a number of passengers on one ship which had just arrived.

Cut off from shore by walls of fire, driven off the piers into the water, cooped up in cabins from which the sky could be seen through narrow portholes but no rescue could be had, hundreds of persons met fearful deaths. Nobody will ever know how great the number is. Many bodies have been recovered, unrecognizable.

Ships, piers and warehouses were all burning within nine minutes from the start of the fire. Then when the engines and fire tugs came they were powerless to put a limit to the flames. Not till a pier of the Hamburg-American line was blown up by dynamite was the fire under control.

Whisky Feeds the Flames.

In the middle of pier 3 was a large quantity of cotton bales, and alongside this inflammable substance were 100 barrels of whisky. The fire had its origin in the cotton and was fed by whisky. The casks which contained the spirits exploded and their contents were scattered over the inflammable merchandise upon the pier. The fire swept over the pier with greater rapidity than the devouring elements travel over the dry grass of the prairies. It caught the awnings and rigging of steamers and spread with inconceivable rapidity to the highly polished woodwork of the cabins and the inflammable cargoes which were being stored in the holds.

Firemen Helpless.

Such headway was gained by the fire that when the Hoboken fire department arrived the firemen were utterly helpless to cope with the flames. They were further handicapped by having several hundred feet of hose burned. Calls were made to the New York fire department for assistance, and fire tugs were sent over. These, however, had little effect on the great mountain of flame and smoke.

The steamships Saale and Bremen, after being pulled free from the docks, were towed ablaze down the bay and beached off Liberty island.

Vain Appeal for Help.

On the Bremen as it blazed out in midstream six men could be seen with their heads out of the portholes, waving handkerchiefs for assistance. Tugboats and small boats darted around the big steamships, making every effort to save the men, but the heat kept them away.

Miraculously Saved.

Superintendent Miller, of the Bremen piers, starting out late Saturday night in quest of the dead, most unexpectedly rescued 22 men. On the tug E. A. Stevens he approached the Bremen and found, to his amazement, that there were still men living aboard her. He took from one of the coal ports the fourth engineer and six of the crew who had managed to survive the fierceness of the fire in the lower part of the vessel. Then he visited the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, and, seeing the Main drifting with the tide, he followed in the Stevens to where the still burning liner was beached on Weehawken flats. Profiting by his experience on the Bremen, he scanned the sides of the vessel closely and descried at one of the coal ports a man who was calling for help. Going to the side of the vessel, he rescued this man and 14 others, all of whom had been in the bottom of the ship for nearly eight hours, with the flames roaring above them and working their way even nearer. The men were at their last stand and would soon have perished.

BLISS AT THE HEAD.

Nominated for Governor by Michigan Republicans.

Nineteen Ballots Were Taken Before Result Was Reached—Names of Other Nominees and Text of the Platform.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 28.—The republicans of Michigan met here in state convention on Wednesday and Daniel P. Markey, of Port Huron, was made both temporary and permanent chairman. After organization the following candidates were placed in nomination for governor: Col. A. T. Bliss, of Saginaw; Dexter M. Ferry, of Detroit; Justus S. Stearns, of Ludington; Charles S. Osborne, of the upper peninsula; James O'Donnell, of Jackson, and Milo D. Campbell, of Coldwater. Ten ballots were taken without result, and the convention adjourned until ten o'clock yesterday morning.

Bliss Is Nominated.

Grand Rapids, Mich., June 29.—The convention yesterday nominated Col. Aaron T. Bliss, of Saginaw, for governor on the nineteenth ballot. The ticket complete is as follows:

For governor, Col. Aaron T. Bliss, of Saginaw.

For lieutenant governor, O. W. Robinson, of Houghton, present incumbent.

For secretary of state, Fred M. Warner, of Farmington.

For state treasurer, Daniel McCoy, of Grand Rapids.

For auditor general, Perry F. Powers, of Cadillac.

For attorney general, H. M. Oren, of Sault Ste. Marie, present incumbent.

For state land commissioner, Edward Wildley, of Pawpaw.

For superintendent of public instruction, Delos Fall, of Albion.

For member of state board of education, James H. Thompson, of Osceola.

When the gavel fell upon the closing scene, not over one-fourth of the delegates remained in their seats. As soon as the nominations for the principal officers were completed, a motion to consider the report of the committee on resolutions at once was put, and carried. The committee on order of business had left the platform to the last, but many of the delegates must remain in the city over another night unless they can catch the early train. In order to permit them to do so the platform was read before nominations for members of the state board of education were made.

The Platform.

It indorses the administration of President McKinley, and commends his course in the conduct of the late war and his policy in relation to the government of the islands which, by the fortunes of war, have come to us for protection and guidance. It indorses the action of congress in establishing our currency on a sound basis, and commends that body for legislation looking toward the establishment of suitable government for newly acquired territory; promoting the general prosperity, and in their efforts to restrain trusts and monopolies.

It indorses the platform of principles adopted by the republican national convention at Philadelphia, June 19, 1900, and the ticket nominated, and pledges to President McKinley and Gov. Theodore Roosevelt united and energetic support; it suggests to the people that all the business interests of the state have prospered under republican rule, and that a change now would be disastrous.

It declares allegiance to the gold standard, places the stamp of disapproval upon all combinations of capital tending to restrict competition in business, to create monopolies, to limit production or to control prices, and favors legislation to that end; renews allegiance to the principle of equal and uniform taxation, and declares that all property owners in the state, whether individual, copartners, corporations, should contribute their just share to the public burden and expense, and demands that every dollar of wealth shall be taxed equally with every other. It favors the prompt repeal of all special railroad charters granting to any railroad in the state special privileges. It condemns the corruptions of state officials that has brought shame and disgrace to the state and demands the vigorous prosecution and punishment of all who are guilty. It favors the strictest economy in the disbursement of public monies and in the administration of state affairs. This resolution on the Boer war says:

"We sympathize with the people of the South African republics in their struggle for liberty and independence, and we commend President McKinley for promptly tendering the friendly offices of this government in the interest of peace; and while the American government, following the established precedent of noninterference in foreign affairs must maintain a position of strict neutrality, nevertheless we earnestly hope that honorable peace may be speedily secured."

The Candidate.

[Col. Bliss has been a candidate at every convention since 1892. He came within 51 votes of Plngree's total upon the deciding ballot in 1896. He was a member of the tenth New York cavalry during the civil war and won his way from private to colonel. He came to Michigan in 1895, and has amassed a comfortable fortune in the lumber business in Saginaw. He has served as congressman from the Eighth Michigan district in the national house of representatives.]

TALK OF THE PLATFORM.

Democratic Leaders Apparently Divided as to Its Utterance on the Silver Question.

Kansas City, Mo., July 2.—The platform to be adopted by the democratic national convention will contain a declaration for the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one unless Mr. Bryan changes his attitude, and each fresh arrival from Lincoln brings renewed assurance that the foreordained nominee of the convention is maintaining his position in favor of the declaration. Occasionally a delegate can be found who will take the position that not even Mr. Bryan can be allowed to dictate the party's platform, but a majority agree that as all the delegates are practically instructed for the renomination of the candidate of 1896, he has an exceptional right to ask to have the resolutions harmonize with his views on any and all subjects.

However, while it is true that the indications point strongly to the specific utterance above outlined, there is still a very determined opposition to such a course. This opposition apparently originated with former Senator Hill, of New York, and his following, and it has been taken up by other leaders in various sections of the country. The Tammany interest of New York appears to be entirely reconciled to any silver plank, however extreme, but other factions unite in opposing it.

Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the national committee, and ex-Gov. Stone, of Missouri, both of them recognized as staunch leaders of the silver sentiment, are of the opinion that a reaffirmation of the Chicago platform is all that is necessary. Gov. Stone said that he considered the differences that have manifested themselves a mere quibble, but he declined to say whether he would be willing to stop with the reaffirmation of the declaration of 1896. Many southern delegates express themselves as indifferent on the point, and are inclined to make the concession demanded by the Hill sentiment. National Committeeman Campau is also inclined to subordinate the question of ratio to other subjects of current importance.

On the other hand, George Fred Williams announces that he considers the financial question still of the greatest importance, and says he feels confident that the New England delegates are practically solid in that position. "The free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one was the touchstone of the campaign of 1896," he said, "and its reiteration will add strength to the cause in the coming campaign."

It is expected that the silver republican party will ask to be consulted upon the question of the financial plank. The representatives of that party already here express a strong preference for a positive declaration for the old ratio. "We want sixteen to one," said former Senator Dubois, of Idaho, "but if they will put Towne on the ticket with Bryan we will be willing to make concessions on the money plank. If, however, such a man as Hill is to be nominated, we want an ironclad silver platform. Thus you see," the ex-senator added, "the personality of the vice presidential candidate may have a decided influence upon the platform, and vice versa. Bryan and Towne would be a platform in themselves."

Mr. Bryan's position, as outlined by those close in touch with him, is this:

He holds that the popularity of the democratic ticket in 1896 was due very largely to the positive position taken on the silver question, and that to take a backward step at this time would be an evidence of waning and would weaken the ticket in its own stronghold without strengthening it where there is no hope of winning. He even goes so far as to say that he regards the platform of more importance than the ticket. He thinks also that if he should take any other position he would be accused of vacillation, and that, in short, everything is to be lost by making a change, while nothing is to be gained by it.

Those who agree with Mr. Bryan on this point contend that there is no possibility of his changing front before the time arrives for the party's official declaration, and they consider it preposterous that the convention should disregard his wishes on this point. Hence they contend with great confidence that whether the Chicago platform is reaffirmed or not there will be an unequivocal pronouncement for the old ratio.

For the rest, the resolutions will denounce the gold standard and the Porto Rican legislation of the last session of congress. It will condemn trusts in unmeasured terms, and at the same time accuse the republican party of fostering and maintaining them. The administration will also come in for strong censure for its policy in the Philippines, and it will be recommended that the Philippine archipelago be placed upon the same footing as Cuba. In the same connection there will be planks denouncing militarism and imperialism, and there will also be planks on the income tax, good roads, civil service, pensions, etc., and a strong resolution of sympathy with the Boers.

A dispatch from Lincoln, received late Sunday night, says that a draft of the platform, said to have the endorsement of Mr. Bryan and meeting the approval of his friends in nearly half the states in the union, has been made. It makes the three leading issues of the campaign imperialism, militarism and trusts, in the order named. The financial plank, according to the present draft, will be secondary. There will be a brief plank reaffirming the Chicago platform, and in that plank is the reaffirmation of sixteen to one, income tax, repeal of the currency laws and minor issues.

KILL FIFTY FILIPINOS.

Result of Week's Campaign in North Luzon—Gen. Aquino Captured by Gen. Grant.

Manila, July 2.—A week's scouting in northern Luzon resulted in 50 rebels being killed and 40 wounded. One American was killed.

Troops operating in North Ilocos have burned six of the barracks belonging to Gen. Tino's forces and captured Tino's correspondence. Gen. Tino, with 200 of his men, armed with rifles, succeeded in escaping.

At Angeles Gen. Aquino surrendered to Gen. Grant. Gen. Aquino, according to testimony of survivors, ordered the execution of several American volunteers last year at Arayat. This execution was effected in the face of a rescuing column. The restriction clauses in the amnesty proclamation recently issued by the American authorities are said to have been inserted principally to cover Aquino's action in this case.

The Filipinos attacked the town of Benguet twice on the morning of June 25. The garrison succeeded in driving off the insurgents, killing seven of them.

ALSCHULER FOR GOVERNOR.

Illinois Democrats Select Him to Head Their State Ticket—Prohibitionists at Chicago.

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—The following is the ticket nominated by the democratic convention in session here: Governor—Samuel Alschuler, of Aurora. Lieutenant Governor—Representative Elmer E. Perry, of Brown county. Secretary of State—James F. O'Donnell, of Bloomington.

Auditor—George B. Parsons, of Shawneetown.

Treasurer—M. F. Dunlap, of Jacksonville.

Attorney General—James Todd, of Cook. For Trustees of University of Illinois—Joseph Schwartz, of Marion county; Charles Bliss, of Hillsboro, and Mrs. Julia Holmes Smith, of Chicago.

Mayor Carter H. Harrison, chairman of the committee on resolutions, Wednesday presented the platform, which was read and unanimously adopted. Following is a synopsis:

It reaffirms in its entirety the Chicago platform of 1896; strongly condemns trusts; upholds the Monroe doctrine; denounces the "cowardly acts of President McKinley" in dealing with the Philippines; expresses sympathy with the Boers in their struggle for liberty; indorses the administration of Mayor Harrison, of Chicago, and his attitude on the street car question; and instructs the delegates to the national convention to vote for Bryan for president.

The platform makes no specific allusion to sixteen to one. This subject was debated at length in the subcommittee of seven, which by a vote of 5 to 2 decided merely to reaffirm the Chicago platform.

Chicago, June 27.—The prohibition state convention met here Tuesday and nominated the following ticket:

Governor, Judge V. V. Barnes; lieutenant governor, John A. Henderson; secretary of state, B. J. Radford; auditor, James A. Stone; treasurer, H. C. Tunison; attorney general, F. S. Regan; trustees Illinois state university, Mrs. Elvira S. Stewart, Mrs. Clara Hartford, J. E. Bittlinger.

FUN MAKERS AT MILWAUKEE.

Final Day of the Carnival Given Over to Fancy Costumed Individuals Who Make Merry.

Milwaukee, June 27.—Milwaukee's third annual summer carnival opened Tuesday. The city is filled with guests, the air is filled with music. The buildings on the lines of the various pageants are smothered with decorations in the carnival colors, red, cream and olive green, and the electrical appointments at the court of honor and the hundreds of electric arches which span the main streets and avenues give the city a very picturesque appearance. The most beautiful attraction thus far was the floral parade which moved over a five-mile course Wednesday afternoon. It is estimated that fully 200,000 persons viewed the pageant.

Milwaukee, June 29.—A thrilling fire run and automobile parade were the feature of the carnival Thursday afternoon.

Milwaukee, June 30.—The last day of the carnival was given over to the carnival corso, when the fun makers in fancy costumes had their usual parade.

The carnival came to a close at night, with a reception and ball at the Deutscher and Calumet clubs. About 5,000 persons attended.

Drought Is Broken.

La Crosse, Wis., June 27.—After a protracted drought, heavy rain has fallen, accompanied by lightning which did much damage. The storm was general throughout a radius of 150 miles from La Crosse, and arrived in time to prevent total failure of crops. In this city lightning struck in many places. One of the German Lutheran churches was struck, and was destroyed by fire. The Hotel Goodard was struck, but quite miraculously no lives were lost.

Will Drop Prosecution of Jester.

Kansas City, Mo., June 30.—A Star special from Mexico, Mo., says: It is said here that John W. Gates, the Chicago capitalist, has decided to drop the prosecution of the famous case of Alexander Jester, charged with killing his brother, Gilbert Gates, in Missouri 29 years ago. Jester, while under indictment for the murder, escaped from prison 28 years ago and was only arrested a year ago. He was tried in 1899, but the jury disagreed. A second trial had been set for next week at New London, Mo. Jester is 80 years of age.

Spoiled the Carnival.

St. Paul, Minn., June 27.—Tuesday night fire destroyed nearly half the booths, with contents, in the three squares devoted to the street fair part of the Elks' carnival. It is impossible to estimate the damage. The street was crowded and the panic that followed the alarm threatened to cause serious injuries, if not fatalities. However, early reports of deaths were unfounded and the injuries were slight. The Midway feature of the carnival escaped.

Henderson Renominated.

Waterloo, Ia., June 29.—Speaker Henderson was renominated by acclamation Thursday by the Third district republican convention for his tenth term as representative in congress. The nomination was made amid great enthusiasm. Speaker Henderson made a short speech of acceptance.
