A SUCCESSFUL PICNIC.

St. Mary's Parish Adds Another to the Long List of Previous Successes.

The annual picnic of St. Mary's parish at Cavanaugh Lake Tuesday was very successful despite the threatening weather during the first part of the morning. The attendance was fully up to that of former years and the dinner and program would be hard to beat. There were several forms of amusement for those who cared to take a hand in them, and the Chelsea Band which played selections of music at intervals during the day, added to the general enjoyment.

James S. Gorman was the master of ceremonies and performed his duties in a most happy manner, at one time declaring that the reason Fr. Considine got him to officiate as toastmaster was not because of his particular ability in that line, but that as a Democrat he might take the curse off the galaxy of Republican orators which the reverend gentleman had invited to be present.

After a selection by a male quartette comprising Louis Burg, John Eisenman and Mort and Dan Conway, Mr. Gorman introduced W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, who spoke brief words of congratulation and commendation of such gatherings.

Miss Estella Conlan sang a good solo, and then Congressman H. C. Smith was introduced. He spoke to the farmers of the benefits of the free rural mail delivery service and gave them instructions as to how to proceed to get one established. He told of the $1,750,000 appropriated by congress for the further spread of the service and of the appointment of Henry Campbell, of Monroe, as special rural mail delivery agent for this district. The dissemination of good newspapers and magazines among the farming community is a valuable and productive source of information and education which the rural free mail delivery will greatly aid.

The quartette sang another selection and then Charles E. Townsend, of Jackson, spoke on our republican form of government which he said was as yet only an experiment, in which he had unbounded faith for its future, hope in the country and hope in the men who govern it no matter what party they belong to. He gave an eloquent speech which was attentively listened to and heartily applauded.

Some more music by the band concluded the program. The net proceeds will foot up to over $300. Thirty gallons of ice cream were disposed of and had they had 50 gallons it would have been none too much. E. L. Alexander furnished the cream and kept it in good condition until the last was sold.

CHELSEA SCHOOLS

Present an Excellent Opportunity for Young People to Obtain an Education.

The Chelsea schools will open Monday, Sept. 3, and it is with pleasure that we extend an invitation to young men and women living in the vicinity of Chelsea to share in the opportunities for the attainment of advanced high school education afforded in the schools of Chelsea.

A new and modern course of study has been recently adopted, leading to the various college requirements for high schools, and the work done in our schools has been approved by the Michigan University, Normal College at Ypsilanti, Albion and Olivet Colleges, and students who graduate from any of the various courses of our schools will be prepared to enter any of these institutions of learning without examination. The Olivet Scholarship recently granted to Chelsea schools affords an extra inducement to pupils to attain high standings and marked proficiency.

It is the desire and purpose of the board to make the schools worthy of the patronage of all who earnestly desire systematic advancement in learning, and no pains will be spared to make our schools both pleasant and profitable for all students.

Foreign pupils who contemplate attendance should begin as promptly as possible and thereby secure to themselves the most satisfactory results.

While we recognize the success of past years we believe that even greater advantages are offered this year than ever before, and already the prospect of a large foreign attendance is apparent.

SUNDAY'S BIG STORM.

It Was Very Destructive and Caused Heavy Losses to Many.

Sunday's storm while it did no damage in Chelsea, did not let the surrounding country get off quite so easily. The wind and the thunder and lightning were terrific. Trees were broken off, uprooted, and limbs torn off as if they were twigs, corn was laid flat and other crops, particularly fruit, was laid low, buildings were struck and blown over and the damage was great.

At Francisco the sheds belonging to the M. E. church were blown down and like casualties were frequent everywhere. The barn of August Obersmith in Sharon caught fire and was burned. The other buildings were saved by the energetic work of neighbors.

Three destructive storms visited Grass Lake. The steeple of the Congregational church was struck by lightning at 6 o'clock in the morning, the Baptist church had one section of the shutters at the base of the steeple blown away, and one of the windows in the west side of the Methodist church was blown in. Milton Dwelle, Alfred Brower and Henry Hobart had the wheels blown from their windmills and other damage done on their farms.

At Munith much damage was done to the crops and several buildings were set on fire by the lightning. The barn of Biney Adams was burned down, the loss, including grain, being about $1,000.

The most serious damage so far reported was to the buildings on the extensive farm of ex Senator John C. Sharp, in Summit township, Jackson county. A barn was struck by lightning at 6 o'clock in the afternoon and the flames extended to five other barns. All the six buildings with their contents were burned to the ground. The barns were filled with hay, grain and agricultural implements and one was occupied by a grist mill. The loss will be in the neighborhood of $10,000.

At Wolf Lake during the storm towards evening a number of water spouts were seen, some of them carrying the water into the air 50 feet.

At Stockbridge the barns of Gardner Sharp and W. B. Adams were destroyed.

OVERCOME BY THE HEAT.

John Beissel Died Very Suddenly on Saturday Morning.

A very sudden death occurred about noon on Saturday. John Beissel, an old and well known resident of Chelsea, was cutting the grass on H. S. Holmes' lawn during the morning and about noon was trimming out the grass underneath the well house. The sun was terrifically hot and beating on the side of the building it was reflected with redoubled fierceness on Mr. Beissel who was overcome by it and died. The deceased was an industrious man aged about 67 years. His wife died several years ago and he has since then made his home with his brother Thomas Beissel. He had two sons, Edward and John Beissel, both of whom survive him.

The funeral services were held at St. Mary's church Tuesday morning, Rev. W. P. Considine officiating. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Death of Mrs. Clara Merkle.

Mrs. Clara Merkle, widow of the late Henry Merkle, died Friday morning at 2 o'clock, at the home of her son Martin Merkle, in Sylvan, of general debility brought on by old age.

Mrs. Merkle's maiden name was Clara Foster. She was born in Baden, Germany, in June, 1827, and was over 73 years of age at the time of her death. She was married to Henry Merkle in 1849, and to them were born four sons, Michael, George, Peter and Martin. In 1873 the family came to America and settled in Sylvan on the farm where she died. Her brother, Michael Foster, had come to Sylvan in 1848, and it was through him that the Merkle came here. Her husband died several years ago, but all her sons survive her. Mrs. Merkle was known for her many good qualities of heart and hand, a loving wife and mother, a kind neighbor, and a christian woman, she was a devout member of the Roman Catholic faith and of St. Mary's church, Chelsea.

The funeral services held at St. Mary's church Monday morning, and conducted by Rev. W. P. Considine were largely attended. Her remains were interred beside those of her husband in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

FALLING HAIR

Save Your Hair with Shampoos of

Cuticura SOAP

And light dressings of CUTICURA, purest of emollient skin cures. This treatment at once stops falling hair, removes crusts, scales, and dandruff, soothes irritated, itching surfaces, stimulates the hair follicles, supplies the roots with energy and nourishment, and makes the hair grow upon a sweet, wholesome, healthy scalp when all else fails.

Millions of Women

Use CUTICURA SOAP exclusively for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and healing, red, rough, and sore hands, in the form of baths for annoying irritations and chafings, or too free or offensive perspiration, in the form of washes for ulcerative weaknesses, and for many antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to women, and especially mothers, and for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. No amount of persuasion can induce those who have once used it to use any other, especially for preserving and purifying the skin, scalp, and hair of infants and children. CUTICURA SOAP combines delicate emollient properties derived from CUTICURA, the great skin cure, with the purest of cleansing ingredients, and the most refreshing of flower odors. No other medicated soap ever compounded is to be compared with it for preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, scalp, hair, and hands. No other foreign or domestic toilet soap, however expensive, is to be compared with it for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Thus it combines, in ONE SOAP AT ONE PRICE, viz., TWENTY-FIVE CENTS, the BEST skin and complexion soap, the BEST toilet and BEST baby soap in the world.

All that has been said of CUTICURA SOAP may be said with even greater emphasis of CUTICURA Ointment, the most delicate, and yet most effective of emollients, and greatest of skin cures. Its use in connection with CUTICURA SOAP (as per directions around each package), in the "ONE NIGHT CURE FOR SORE HANDS," in the "INSTANT RELIEF TREATMENT FOR DISFIGURING ITCHINGS AND IRRITATIONS," and in many uses too numerous to mention, is sufficient to prove its superiority over all other preparations for the skin.

AMERICA AND CHINA.

Why Uncle Sam Will Find It Hard to Collect Indemnity.

Secretary Evarts' Letter of December 30, 1890, to the Peking Government May Prove Itself a Diplomatic Boomerang.

[Special Washington Letter.]

THERE is considerable talk in the newspapers about "indemnity" for the outrages which have been committed in China against foreigners temporarily resident in that empire.

At the department of state the officials express the belief that there will be neither indemnity, reparation nor retribution for anything which has been done. Of course these officials do not talk for publication, because that would be contrary to the rules and precedents of the department, but in private conversation with personal friends they say that "indemnity" is practically out of the question.

Li Hung Chang spoke for the imperial government when he said that the treasury of China is so depleted that no cash indemnity can be paid, and that the people of China will not permit any further concessions of territory to the countries interested. The word "indemnity" covers a great deal of ground in international law. It means a complaint, friendly, fraternal effort on the part of the country in which the outrages have been committed to bring the criminals to justice and retribution; an effort to indemnify the sufferers for their wrongs, or to indemnify their heirs if human lives have been sacrificed; or reparation in the form of abject apology, if the national honor has been specifically involved.

The utterances of Li Hung Chang indicate that the Chinese government does not intend to do any of these things, and the eminent oriental statesman speciously pleads the utter inability of the government of Peking to do anything more than publicly express regret for the consequences of the alleged insurrection. Present indications are that there will be no recognition of the fact that the national honor of any country has been involved.

What other nations may do under these circumstances can only be conjectured. It is well known that all of the powers of the world cannot demand an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth, because the invasion and destruction of the Chinese empire would be impossible. The reasons for this conclusion have heretofore been given with some degree of elaboration.

This republic is very unfortunately circumstanced in the matter. It has always fought off the payment of indemnities, and the admission of national responsibility for outrages committed in violation of treaty stipulations. There is one specific case in point which the Chinese government may well cite, and which it will un-

Chinese government can readily reply to any demand for indemnity or retribution: "Your own government has established the precedent that prevents you from making any demand upon China. We have the identical letter of your Secretary Evarts on this question, and you are estopped from requiring of China what you declined to admit when our citizens were outraged and killed in your country." That will undoubtedly be the unanswerable position to be taken.

"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap," is as true to-day as when it was first written; and it is as true of nations as it is of individuals. When our government declined to mete out justice to China, and to her outraged citizens, nobody could foresee the massacre of missionaries, their wives, children and the native converts. Nevertheless, the sense of justice and equity which is born in all men must have lived in the mind and heart of the great statesman who set aside justice and pleaded as Cain pleaded: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

But Secretary Evarts was not the first statesman to set up this plea of non-responsibility. So great a man as Daniel Webster, when he was secretary of state, wrote a letter to the Spanish minister on November 13, 1857, saying: "Private individuals, subjects of her Catholic majesty, coming to reside voluntarily in the United States, have certainly no cause of complaint if they are protected by the same law and the same administration of law as native born citizens of this country."

Secretary Blaine, in his letter to the Spanish minister, in reference to the New Orleans riot of 1891, said: "The United States did not by treaty (with Italy), become the insurer of the lives and property of Italian subjects residing within our territory. . . . Foreign residents are not a favored class."

That is the doctrine of American diplomacy, and it reads well from our standpoint. But when we are burning with indignation because of the outrages inflicted upon our own people in China it does not sound so well. The letter of Secretary Evarts to the Chinese minister, in 1890, applies directly to the present situation, and clearly demonstrates the difference between the selfishness of diplomacy and the justice of international procedure. Selfishness and self-seeking in nations ultimately prove to be as unfortunate and unwise as selfishness and self-seeking in individuals. It is particularly unfortunate that so-called Christian nations, living under the higher law, the law of love, should so place themselves.

Public men in the legislative and executive branches of our government regard it as a matter of deep regret that the federal government has no power to punish violators of international law and of treaty stipulations. State law, in all such cases, is in the way of federal law and procedure. Here are a few examples of riots in our own country, in which the federal government was unable to punish the criminals:

The riot in New Orleans in 1851, occasioned by the arrest and execution of some American filibusters in Cuba, when citizens of New Orleans inflicted injury upon the persons and property of Spanish subjects.

The riot in Denver, 1880, when two Chinese men were beaten to death and a number seriously maltreated.

The riot at Rock Springs, Wyo., September, 1885, when 764 Chinamen were killed and wounded.

The riot at New Orleans, in 1891, when 11 prisoners were taken from jail and put to death by a mob.

There are other incidents, but these will suffice. In each instance it was found impossible, on account of local sentiment, to successfully prosecute the perpetrators of these outrages in the local courts, and, in most instances, it was impossible even to institute a prosecution. In each case the foreign country interested insisted and demanded that the United States government should assert its authority and bring the offenders to justice, and seemed incapable of understanding why the United States government should be powerless to act in the premises.

When the millennium comes, if not sooner, statesmen will see that it is as wise to serve the nations as it is wise to serve individuals under the moral law, which is higher and better than national or international law, or diplomacy.

THREE FILIPINO STUDENTS.

Young Men from Manila Will Enter the University of Michigan the Coming Year.

THEY WILL TAKE UP CIVIL ENGINEERING

Fortunate Contracts Made for Winter Supplies—Prof. Kelsey Leaves for a Year of Study in Rome—President Angell and Wife Enjoying an Outing in Maine.

[Special Correspondence.]

University of Michigan, Aug. 20.—The newly acquired possessions of the United States will be numerously represented among the students of the university during the coming year. There is one Cuban here and several Porto Ricans are already registered. The other evening there arrived three Filipinos to take up work. They are Lorenzo Orirabia, of Cavite; Senores Artiraga, of Manila, and Juan Tecson, of Bulacan. All three are sent here by the International club of Manila, and were successful candidates in a competitive examination for scholarships in this country. Four Filipinos were sent to this country by the club, one entering the University of California, while these three came to Michigan through the influence of Commissioner Dean Worcester.

To Be Civil Engineers.

Artiraga and Tecson are each 21 years of age, and will take up civil engineering work. They have a good foundation of the English language, and possessing a fine intelligence, will be in shape to take up college work this fall. Orirabia is a bright little fellow of 11 years. He speaks most fluent English and generally acts as interpreter for the other two.

They were found in the hotel parlor. Tecson was seated at the piano and was showing a marked musical ability.

Their National March.

"Would you like to hear our national march—Aguinaldo's march?" asked the little fellow, Orirabia. The visitor said he would be delighted, and Orirabia turned to Tecson and asked him to play it. Tecson did so, and the other two immediately commenced to show much enthusiasm.

"Isn't that fine?" asked Orirabia, rapturously, at its conclusion.

Like This Country.

"I like this country here very much," said Orirabia. "It's nice and warm, just like our home." He was told that the past seven or eight days were record-breakers in regard to heat.

"When does it snow?" he then asked.

"It commences in November," he was informed.

"I have never seen snow. Then we will have to get skates and overcoats," he said, with an evident impression that those articles, useless in his own country, would be a joy and comfort.

They have letters of introduction to Prof. Paul C. Freer, President James B. Angell, Father Kelly and others.

Good Contracts.

The university has been very fortunate in contracting for its winter's supply of fuel. The other day Secretary James H. Wade closed a deal for 7,000 tons, more or less, for $2.23 a ton for three qualities of lump and $2.13 for the run of the mine. These are the lowest figures the university has ever secured in purchasing fuel. The greater portion of the 7,000 tons will be used for low pressure steam for heating the buildings on the campus and at the hospitals.

Gone to Rome.

Prof. Francis W. Kelsey has left Ann Arbor for a year in study at Rome. During the school year 1900-1901 he will be director of the American school in the Italian capital.

Way Down in Maine.

President and Mrs. James B. Angell are in Maine enjoying a summer vacation. Secretary James H. Wade is also absent for a few weeks of recreation.

More Attractive.

Among the buildings that are receiving considerable attention from the hands of the army of decorators and painters at work this summer is the museum. Both exterior and interior are receiving a generous quantity of paint. The result is going to be that this building, which has always been of interest to visitors, will be even more attractive in the future.

Gift to a College.

The will of the late Charles Bowen, partner of D. M. Ferry, was filed for probate in Detroit. The will is dated February 13, 1897. The homestead goes to the widow, Julia M. Bowen, together with all the appurtenances of the property. To the trustees of Kalamazoo college $50,000 is left to endow a Greek professorship to be known as the John A. Broadus professorship.

TWO WIDOWS.

The Title of Mrs. George H. Ward Is Claimed by Different Women in the City of Detroit.

The appearance in Detroit of a woman claiming to be the widow of the late George H. Ward has disclosed an unexpected condition. Two women, both treasuring a picture of the same man as their husband, have turned up. Each is known to different people as the wife of Ward, former president of the Detroit board of trade, a millionaire broker, and more recently a broker in New York city. The woman who came last, whose maiden name was Ada Mary Lavoy, was known both in Detroit and in New York as the wife of the broker by various persons. The other Mrs. Ward was a Detroit girl, whose maiden name was Minnie Coffey. She was known to many of the best families as Ward's wife during his career in Detroit, and she is now at Mackinac. It appears that J. M. Ward, the father of the late George H. Ward, knew about this double life, as he told Minnie Coffey Ward not to be troubled over the matter, as he would settle it. Ada Mary Ward was with the late George H. Ward at the time of his death in a New York hospital, where he was being treated for appendicitis. Mrs. Coffey Ward was not with him then. The police believe that Mrs. Lavoy Ward was at least the common-law wife of the late broker.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE.

Kalamazoo and Vicinity Swept by Vast Swarms of the Pests and Literally Choked by Them.

For the past week Kalamazoo and vicinity has been swept by vast swarms of grasshoppers, the worst ever known in Michigan. Houses and stores have been literally choked with them. Most of the grasshoppers are fully three inches in length. They swarm around the electric lights, and the globes of the lights were all filled with the insects at night, putting the city in total darkness. They got into the Poli restaurant in such swarms that the serving of meals was suspended. A train on the Chicago & Kalamazoo railway between Cressy and Dalton was stalled by a great drove of them. They covered the tracks to a depth of from six to eight inches for the distance of a mile. The train plunged into the seething mass, but the driving wheels soon refused to work, and the crew was compelled to shovel the grasshoppers off the track before the train could proceed. Business houses have been compelled to close down at times on account of the plague of grasshoppers.

FACTS AND FIGURES.

Collected by Labor Commissioner Cox Concerning Prisons and Reformatories in Michigan.

A total of 3,386 persons were confined in the various penal and reformatory institutions of Michigan on the first day of May last, according to figures collected by Labor Commissioner Cox. The above total is made up of 2,988 males and 398 females. The report says:

The native born population far exceeds the foreign born, the figures being 2,539 and 847, respectively. The prisoners are classified as to offenses as follows: Crimes against life, 238; crimes involving virtue, 407; involving property, 1,547; involving good government, 378; involving morality, 357. There were 15 insane persons in the jails of the state on the date of the census. The prisoners are divided among the different institutions as follows: Jackson prison, 766; state house of correction and reformatory at Ionia, 408; branch prison at Marquette, 203; Detroit house of correction, 423; industrial school, 630; Adrian industrial home for girls, 305; in county jails, 552; city prisons, 69; village lock-ups, 30.

CHARTER IS TANGLED.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining Company and Michigan Officials Fail to Agree.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining company, having decided to extend its corporate existence, the question of the termination of its last franchise has been raised. The company claims that this will not be until next May, 30 years after the date of the consolidation of the several companies which comprise the present organization, but state officials contend that the franchise expired in 1898, 30 years from the date of organization of the youngest company entering into the consolidation. Upon the determination of this question depends the preliminaries for reorganization, the laws relative to the two classes of companies being radically different.

Breach of Promise Suit.

Miss Minnie Kietzenwop brought action in Laporte, Ind., for $10,000 damages for alleged breach of promise against Theodore Harvey, of Berrien county. The complaint recites that Harvey's failure to marry her destroyed other prospects she had to get married, and for this reason, together with the fact that her reputation has suffered, she demands judgment for the amount stated in the complaint. Service had not been secured on Harvey, who was reported to have disappeared.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Health in Michigan.

She had just finished her evening's work, and expired without a moment's warning.

Veteran Editor Dies.

Hon. Francis Hamilton Rankin, the veteran editor of the Wolverine Citizen and one of the oldest newspaper men in the state, died at his home in Flint at the advanced age of 86 years. He had held several offices, was in the Michigan house of representatives from 1860 to 1865 and in the senate from 1877 to 1879, and was postmaster of Flint from 1879 to 1887. His widow and six children survive him.

Died While Dancing.

The merriment at Joe Bedore's place at St. Clair flats in Detroit was suddenly brought to an end by the instantaneous death of Max Condo, the well-known Detroit dancing master, in the midst of a waltz. Without a moment's warning the young man fell to the floor and before medical assistance could be summoned his life had passed away.

Suicides.

Peter Noret, a prominent citizen of Hart, committed suicide, taking carbolic acid. Mrs. Watkins, living four miles west of Decatur, took her life by saturating her clothes with kerosene and setting herself on fire. F. T. Kinsman, of Sparta, became despondent over family troubles and killed himself in his photograph gallery by shooting.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:

In central and southern counties corn, buckwheat and potatoes have suffered from hot, dry weather, but still look promising; beans have deteriorated and pasture is generally poor; sugar beets continue in good condition; corn crop will be safe from frost about September 12.

Forest Fires.

Forest fires have spread over Alabaster, Burleigh, Baldwin and Tawas townships, destroying a large amount of grain. In Burleigh township Fred Hess and C. F. Gordon lost their residences. Many of the corduroy roads, built at great expense to the townships, are burned out.

There were 2,509 deaths reported to the secretary of state for the month of July, corresponding to a death rate of 12.4 per 1,000 estimated population. This number is 216 more than the number registered for July, 1899.

A MASSACRE IN SHANTUNG.

doubtedly cite. On December 30, 1880, William M. Evarts, our secretary of state, wrote officially to the Chinese minister in Washington as follows:

"I know of no principle of national obligation, and there is certainly none arising from treaty stipulation, which renders it incumbent upon the government of the United States to make indemnity to the Chinese residents of Denver who, in common with the citizens of the United States, suffered losses by the operations of the mob. Whatever remedies may be offered to the citizens of Colorado, or to the citizens of the United States from other states in the union resident in Colorado, for losses resulting from that occurrence are equally open to the Chinese residents of Denver who may have suffered from the lawlessness of the mob."

Twenty years ago China was a small factor in international affairs, and every nation snubbed her in diplomatic correspondence. The Chinese minister replied to Secretary Evarts, saying: "China must submit to your decision as to her citizens who have been outraged by a mob in Denver; but I venture the expression of opinion that if the cases were reversed the United States would be disposed to beligerently demand indemnity."

The reverse side of the situation has come; and there stands the precedent established by this country. Citizens of China have suffered losses and have been deprived of their lives, and the Dated Aug. 22, 1900.

REPUBLICAN TOWN COMMITTEE,
 By A. W. WILKINSON, Chairman.

Governor Roosevelt will make a thorough canvass of the west and middle west during the next two months. He will speak at Detroit Sept. 6 and at Grand Rapids Sept. 7.

As has been all along expected M. G. Loennecker, of Jackson, was nominated as the Democratic candidate for congress from the second district at the convention held in Wyandotte Monday. M. J. Cavanaugh's name was presented by Jas. S. Gorman, but was withdrawn later and Mr. Loennecker's nomination was made unanimous.

From the Division of Statistics of the U. S. Bureau of Agriculture the following significant figures regarding the enormous increase in the value of the live stock owned by the farmers of Michigan are gleaned: Value Jan. 1, 1896—Horses, $20,340,685; mules, $142,802; cows, $11,788,039; other cattle, $7,018,495; sheep, $2,843,189; total, $43,133,210. J. 1, 1900, four years later—Horses, $23,752,443; mules, $166,161; milch cows, $15,162,925; other cattle, $9,043,695; sheep, $4,972,882; total, $52,098,106; increase in four years, $10,964,896. Every state in the union showed a proportionate increase in values, the total increase being $501,444,474. Such figures as these are a convincing argument in favor of the re-election of President McKinley and a continuance of this great era of prosperity.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. Came Near Drowning.

The plucky action of Oscar Barrus and the prompt assistance of Louis Burg Tuesday afternoon prevented the drowning of Ed. Chandler's 11 years old son Lee in Cavanaugh Lake. The two boys named and Arthur Raftery were bathing in what is known as the swimming hole, using an old boat floating bottom side up as a raft. Lee Chandler got out of his depth and he being unable to swim Oscar Barrus went to his assistance. Twice the plucky boy went down under the water with young Chandler clinging to him, and each time when he came up he called loudly for help. Louis Burg who was bathing near by swam to his assistance and succeeded in getting Chandler to shore by swimming with his right hand and supporting the boy with his left, who kept treading the water to keep himself afloat. It was a very narrow escape.

MINISTERS ARE SAFE

Allies' Forces Capture and Enter Chinese Capital.

They Meet with Desperate Resistance But Are Finally Successful—Empress and Emperor Leave Peking.

Washington, Aug. 18.—The allied armies have captured and entered Peking in the face of obstinate resistance, and the members of the foreign legations are safe. Official confirmation of the fall of the Chinese capital came to the United States government Friday night in the shape of two cablegrams, one from Admiral Remey and the other from Consul Fowler at Chefoo. The cablegram from Admiral Remey came to hand first, early in the evening, followed very soon after by that from Consul Fowler; and the officials, realizing the great public interest in the events which it was believed had happened in Peking, at once made them public.

Remey's Dispatch.

Admiral Remey's dispatch is as follows:

"Taku, Aug. 17.—Just received telegram from Tientsin, dated 15th, ten p. m.: 'Peking was captured on August 15. Foreign legations are safe. Details follow shortly.'"

"REMEY."

Met with Resistance. That from Consul Fowler, giving important details of the occurrences at the time of the capture of the city, is as follows:

"Chefoo, Aug. 17.—Secretary of State, Washington: Japanese admiral reports allies attacked Peking, East, 15th. Obstinate resistance. Evening, Japanese entered capital with other forces. Immediately surrounded legations. Inmates safe. Japanese loss over 100. Chinese 300. (Signed) "FOWLER."

"FOWLER."

Contrary to the press reports of Friday, Consul Fowler's dispatch shows that the attack on the city met with strong resistance. The Japanese force engaged with the advance, according to the understanding of the officials here, numbered 10,000 men, so that the loss suffered by them was over one per cent. Allowance is made for losses in the forces of the other armies, but it is presumed that it was in proportion to that suffered by the Japanese.

The President Pleased.

The president was overjoyed on hearing the news of the safety of Minister Conger and his associates. He has been hopeful all along that their rescue from the perilous position in which they have been for so long a time would be successfully accomplished. Friday night's news confirms that hope and brings a feeling of great relief to him.

London Hears the News.

London, Aug. 18.—"Peking was relieved on the night of the 15th." This message was received Friday evening at the imperial customs office in London from the commissioner of customs in Chefoo. It is the only official message that has reached England in confirmation of the earlier reports, Admiral Remey's dispatch not having arrived in time for publication in the London morning papers. The Morning Post, which is the only paper printing the Chefoo message, says: "To-day is not only a day of national rejoicing, it is also a day of congratulation, for all the powers of the world."

The Future.

Proceeding to discuss the probabilities of a cessation of hostilities, the Morning Post assumes that the United States are willing to abandon any idea of further aggressive action, but it questions the disposition of Germany and the other powers to agree to such a course.

The Daily Graphic, in a paragraph apparently inspired, says there is no reason to believe that any of the powers will repudiate the previous understanding to respect the integrity of the empire and the dynasty, adding that the proposal to land a British force at Shanghai originated not with the British government, but with the Chinese, who at the same time urged that this should not be done if likely to lead to international complications. "This," says the Daily Graphic, "disposes of the story that the viceroy of Nankin changed his mind under the influence of the consuls. Her majesty's government, we believe, have no intention of contesting the right of France or the United States to land troops should either think it necessary."

Empress Leaves Peking.

London, Aug. 18.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says:

"The allies entered Peking August 15. It is believed that Yuan-Shi-Kai's troops have gone thence to Shen-Si to protect the empress, who, according to reports received by local officials here, with Tuan, the imperial household and the bulk of the army and Boxers, left Peking August 7, for Hsian-Fu."

Went Against His Will.

London, Aug. 18.—Shanghai dispatches say that Emperor Kwang-Su, accompanied the empress dowager to Hsian Fu much against his will. Prince Tuan commanded the rear guard of the imperial escort, of which Boxers formed 65 per cent. It was expected that Gen. Tung Fuh Siang would follow after the arrival of the allies. All the palace treasures were sent to Hsian Fu.

MANY BUILDINGS WRECKED.

Fernado Causes Damage Estimated at $300,000 in the City of Sheboygan, Wis.

Milwaukee, Aug. 21.—A special from Sheboygan, Wis., says: A terrific windstorm struck the city Monday afternoon. The storm came very suddenly from the north. Eight large buildings were completely wrecked, and 200 small houses were blown down. The loss will be upwards of $300,000. At noon it was as dark as night and intensely hot. A few moments before one o'clock the storm broke, increasing in force until a cyclone was blowing. People were thrown down, and fences and signs hurled hundreds of feet. The storm raged for some minutes and passed off to the south. The storm started in the western part of the city, near the cemetery, and swept down onto the South side and off into the lake. It was two miles wide, and wrecked everything in its path. All was over in ten minutes, although it seemed hours to the panic stricken people. The roof of the large warehouse of the Crocker company was blown off and thrown against the large factory. The building was wrecked, and the large stock of chairs was left without protection from the rain which fell in torrents.

The street car barns were wrecked, and street cars were smashed to pieces. The electric wires were all blown down. The tent of a horse and pony show was torn from the ground and blown away. The animals were freed and ran panic stricken through the city. The roof of the malt house of the Konrad Schrieber Brewing company was lifted from the building and carried over 150 yards and thrown into the street. It was carried over the huge ventilators of the brewery. The American Folding Bed company's plant was demolished, and the sheds in the A. Zimball & Sons brick yards were blown down and the bricks scattered in every direction. The storm struck the South Side Lutheran church, and the steeple was blown down onto two residences, smashing in the roofs. The Fourth ward schoolhouse, a beautiful building, was completely wrecked, one side and the front being blown in, causing the roof to fall, crushing the floors down into the cellar. The plant of the Optenberg & Sonnenman company was partially wrecked. Several freight cars standing on the Northwestern railroad tracks were blown over on their sides.

That no one was killed seems almost a miracle. The wind wrecked building after building with the greatest rapidity, and there was little warning of the approach of the storm. The people in every case were out of their houses before the storm struck, and those who were struck by flying debris were only slightly injured. In the factories the employees were in many cases bruised and cut from wreckage. The large frame house of Herman Dehne was lifted off its foundation and thrown against that of Henry Tillmann. Other houses demolished, turned, twisted or blown completely away were those of Henry Schlemmer, Henry Tillmann, Charles Kotz, Otto Jaerns, Zimball & Son's brick kiln and barn, Gustave Roehborn, Mattoon Manufacturing company's tramway, Mrs. William Miles, Mrs. Leath, Thomas Atkins, Fred Mueller's barn, E. J. Stanton, William Groh and Emil Clarenbach. These structures were ruined and 150 more were ruined, and 150 more were more or less damaged.

THE PRESIDENT'S PLANS.

To Attend G. A. R. Encampment—Will Then Return to Canton Until Marriage of His Niece.

Washington, Aug. 21.—President and Mrs. McKinley will leave Washington Friday afternoon for Chicago to attend the annual encampment of the grand army. They will go in a special car attached to a regular train on the Pennsylvania railroad, and will arrive in Chicago on Saturday afternoon about three o'clock. They will remain in Chicago until late Wednesday afternoon of the next week, and will be quartered during their stay at the Palmer house. On Sunday the president will attend two union services in Chicago—one of the Sunday schools in the morning and the other of churches in the afternoon. On Monday and Tuesday he will review parades, and on Wednesday he will go to Fort Sheridan. He will be present at a number of banquets during his stay. Late Wednesday the party will return to Canton, where the President and Mrs. McKinley will remain until September 11, when they will go to Somerset, Pa., to attend the marriage of their niece, Miss Mabel McKinley, and Dr. Hermann Baer. The marriage will be solemnized on September 12 at the house of Abner McKinley.

Mrs. Lucy Parsons Fined.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—As a warning to anarchists Justice Sabath, in the Maxwell street police court Monday, imposed a fine of $50 on Lucy Parsons, arrested Sunday, August 5, near the West Twelfth Street Turner hall. Her four codefendants—Abraham Edelstadt, Clemens Pleutner, Herman Goodman and Paul Vandree—placed under arrest at the same time, were discharged after a severe scoring by the court.

FOUR MEET DEATH.

Drunken Doctor in Missouri Kills His Uncle, Mother-in-Law and the Sheriff—Is Slain Himself.

Leavenworth, Kan., Aug. 21.—A peculiarly distressing quadruple tragedy took place Monday at Farley, a small town across the river in Missouri. Dr. Sturley Harrington, a physician of Farley, drunk and imagining fancied wrongs, killed James Wallace, his uncle, a wealthy farmer; Mrs. William Wallace, Harrington's mother-in-law, and J. P. Dillingham, sheriff of Platte county, who tried to arrest him; and was in turn shot dead by Henry Dillingham, the sheriff's son. Before he was cornered by the sheriff's posse, Harrington held up the clerk in a general store at the point of his revolver, and exchanged shots with the clerk, firing into a crowd of spectators. Harrington's 12-year-old daughter was a forced witness of the different stages of the tragedy, the physician taking her with him in his buggy as he went from place to place on his bloody errand.

Saturday night Harrington quarreled with his wife and drove her from home, threatening her life. He had had words with James Wallace over a line fence and had been on a protracted spree. Mrs. Harrington had not returned home Monday morning, and Harrington, repairing to Wallace's home, demanded to know where she could be found. Wallace professed to have no knowledge of her whereabouts, whereat Harrington whipped out a revolver and shot him twice, once in the head and once through the heart.

Leaving his victim as he lay, Harrington drove half a mile to the home of Mrs. William Wallace, and again demanded to know of his wife. To Mrs. Wallace's answer that she knew nothing of Mrs. Harrington, the physician shot her dead before she could make outcry.

Harrington drove immediately to Leavenworth, taking his little girl with him. The Wallaces were alone, and no one gave chase. At Leavenworth Harrington appeared calm and collected. He purchased some cartridges for his revolver, and a 41-caliber rifle and ammunition for it. Reaching Farley, he entered William Wehee's general store, and demanded some money of Daniel Cannon, the clerk.

"I have only three dollars, and cannot let you have that," said Cannon. "Yes you can, for I will pay it back," replied Harrington.

Cannon still refused, and Harrington drew a revolver and demanded the money. There were a dozen men in the store, but none made a move to interfere. The clerk turned over the money, and Harrington started to leave the store. As he did so Cannon seized a revolver and fired one shot at him. He missed, and Harrington, turning quickly, emptied his revolver in the direction of the crowd. None of the shots took effect, but they sufficed to keep the people at bay, and Harrington sauntered toward the door.

Sheriff Dillingham and his posse had been following Harrington closely, and as the murderer emerged from the store he stood face to face with his pursuers. Harrington instantly raised his weapon and fired at the sheriff, the ball entering Dillingham's forehead.

Harrington a moment later stepped over the body of the dying sheriff and started to run. He had gone but a few rods when a shot from the revolver of Harry Dillingham, son of the sheriff, brought him to the ground. Both Sheriff Dillingham and Harrington died within a few minutes.

The cause of the shooting is said to be trouble caused by Harrington's having been expelled from the masonic lodge of Farley. He was expelled some time ago, and charged his uncle, James Wallace, and Daniel Cannon with being instrumental in the proceedings. It is said he made the threat that he would clean out every mason in Platte county for this action. No reason has been ascribed for Harrington having shot his mother-in-law, except that he was crazed with liquor.

Situation in India.

London, Aug. 21.—The viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, telegraphs that the heavy general rainfall has continued in most of the affected tracts. The crops promise well in the central provinces and Berar, sowing is active elsewhere, and the necessity for free kitchens will shortly disappear. Prices, however, are still very high everywhere. Cholera is prevalent throughout Hyderabad and in Bombay. There are 5,688,000 people receiving relief.

AN INDIAN HEIRESS.

Little Kiowa Girl Inherits the Fortune of a Millionaire Whose Life She Once Saved.

Annie Trueheart Dillion, a pretty Kiowa girl, about 14 years old, daughter of Black Wolf, a noted chief of his tribe, is sole heiress to the entire fortune of $1,000,000 and more left by John Dillion, a rich cattle man, who about seven years ago was saved from death at the hands of a half-breed assassin by this little girl. The girl's education is to be begun at once under the care of the bishop of Monterey.

Dillion was born and reared in Ireland, and when he came to America he went to Texas and worked on a ranch in that state as laborer and cowboy. By careful management he became rich.

One night he attended an Indian dance and drank more than was good for him. He had a great deal of money with him, and about all he remembered afterward was that late in the night he was seized with a sudden desire to lie down in some secluded spot, where he could enjoy a night's rest undisturbed. He supposed that he went to his buggy and got a blanket and sought a place that pleased him. Late in the night the old Texan felt something pulling at his arms, and when he opened his eyes he found that a little Indian girl was trying to wake him. As soon as the child saw that his eyes were open she whispered:

"Dillion, now you go putty quick. Hawk heap bad man. Putty soon he come. Him got big knife—kill white man—take horse—take heap money. Me hear him talk. Him heap drunk. You go now."

The child ran away, and Dillion slipped from under his blankets and rolled them together. After placing his hat at one end of the roll and his boots at the other he crawled away a short distance and laid down under a tree to watch for further developments. He did not wait long before he saw a man cautiously approach the pile of blankets. The drunken assassin was deceived by the hat and boots. He thought that his victim was at his mercy, and he drew a big knife from his belt and drove it into the roll of blankets with all his strength. The next instant Hawk sprang into the air with a wild yell and fell dead across the blankets, with a bullet in his heart. Dillion had killed him.

The old Texan never afterward was the same man. He continued to attend to his business and make money, but it was easy to see that there was a cloud on his mind. He never suspected his friend, Black Wolf, or any of the Indians of the village of having aided or abetted the assassin. He became attached devotedly to the Indian girl who had saved his life, and he finally got the chief's consent to let him educate her and make her his heir. She was to be given to him when she became 14 years old, but he died a short time ago, and now the girl's future and fortune are in the hands of important persons. John Rodgers, of Presidio, who was in the millionaire's employ for nearly a quarter of a century, is the executor of the will, and he says that the Indian girl will inherit a fortune of $1,000,000 in cash that is with a safe deposit company in New York, and, besides this, when she is of legal age, or when she marries, she will come into possession of a fine ranch in the Rio Grande that is well stocked with cattle, and one of the prettiest haciendas in old Mexico.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

How to Keep Tins Bright.

When tins are hard to wash, where food has burned on, like baked fish or oatmeal, put the dish on the stove, filled with cold water and a half-teaspoonful of baking powder, and let it boil, and your dish will wash readily and the odor of fish will be gone.

Muslins, lace and embroidery should be washed in soap suds rinsed well, starched immediately and then pulled into shape. Embroideries should be ironed on the wrong side over flannel.

This simple and inexpensive but effective fireplace was built by a country mason out of common brick, those making the arch being knocked out to a point before placing them in position. DAINTY SUMMER DISH.

Full Directions for Preparing Tomato Salad Parisienne, a New Hot Weather Delicacy.

Scald six round, ripe tomatoes of equal size, and remove the skin. Cut from the stem side a round piece two inches in diameter; scoop out the seeds, dust the shells with a pinch of salt, fill with cracked ice and leave on ice for three hours.

For the filling, boil a live lobster, weighing about two pounds, for fifteen minutes in a court bouillon made with four quarts of water, one gill of vinegar, one sliced onion, four sprigs of parsley, two cloves and one bay leaf. This must boil ten minutes before the lobster is put in. Allow an extra five minutes if the lobster weighs over three pounds. When cooked split the shell, remove the meat, cutting the latter in pieces a quarter-inch thick. Slice thin enough sour pickles to make two tablespoonfuls. Cut in small pieces the bottom of two artichokes which have previously been cooked for 40 minutes in plenty of salted boiling water and cooled. Have at hand also one quart cooked string beans. Cut in small pieces enough for four tablespoonfuls, reserving the balance with which to garnish. Put the four articles in a bowl and season with a half-teaspoonful salt, two pinches pepper, one salad-spoonful vinegar, two of olive oil. Mix gently, put on ice for an hour, then turn the salad into a strainer to drain, and put on ice for thirty minutes before returning to a cold bowl. Make with the yolk of an egg and two gills of olive oil a good stiff mayonnaise. Put aside two tablespoonfuls for the top of tomatoes, and mix the rest with the salad. Empty the tomatoes, drain, fill with the force meat, add the reserved mayonnaise and put on each a shrimp or lobster claw. Serve with the string beans dressed with a French dressing around them. Cold chicken or ham may be used instead of the lobster.—Harper's Bazar.

KISSING AND LEGISLATION.

Law Denies the Saluting with the Lips on Sunday in the "New-England State."

In the good old colonial days it was the custom for a lady to reserve the privilege of kissing her hand at meeting and parting for her intimate friends; a pretty custom, though probably not one that would find favor in this day of the equality of the sexes. Then, too, in the etiquette of kissing a girl gave "her hand to a friend, her cheek to a relative, and kept her lips for her lover," writes Frank H. Visser in the Woman's Home Companion. But there was always some busy-body around who wanted the matter of kissing regulated by law, so the legislature has been called upon more than once in different states to consider the subject. Under the unique blue laws of Connecticut no mother was allowed to kiss her child on the Sabbath or fasting day except under heavy penalties. Even within the last few months an appeal has gone out for the repeal of the law which has just been enforced in the Nutmeg state. According to the public press this law "forbids an eager young man to kiss a willing young girl, and even goes to the length of declaring that a man may not kiss his own lawful spouse on Sunday."
