DONATING RIGHT OF WAY.

People are Desirous That the Lansing & Southeastern Be Built.

Jackson Patriot: H. S. Holmes, of Chelsea, was in the city Friday, en route to his home. He is a member of the prison board and one of the capitalists interested in the projected Lansing & Southeastern electric railway, the route of which is from Chelsea by way of Stockbridge, Dansville and Mason to Lansing. Mr. Holmes stated that franchises had been obtained for nearly all the whole route, but Lansing had not yet granted a franchise, but no particular difficulty was expected at Lansing. "The farmers along the route are thoroughly interested in having the line built," said Mr. Holmes, "and we expect the farmers to donate a private right of way in many instances, and as a matter of fact many donations of right of way have already been made. As soon as spring opens we will begin grading the road."

WOMEN OF THE UNITED STATES

Regard Peruna as Their Shield Against Catarrh, Coughs, Colds, Grip and Catarrhal Diseases.

MRS. BELVA A. LOCKWOOD, LATE CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.

Mrs. Belva Lockwood, the eminent barrister, of Washington, D. C., is the only woman who has ever been a candidate for the President of the United States. She is the best known woman in America. As the pioneer of her sex in the legal profession she has gathered fame and fortune. In a letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, she says:

"I have used your Peruna both for myself and my mother, Mrs. Hannah J. Bennett, now in her 88th year, and I find it an invaluable remedy for cold, catarrh, hay fever and kindred diseases; also a good tonic for feeble and old people, or those run down, and with nerves unstrung."—Belva A. Lockwood.

Mrs. T. Pelton.

Mrs. T. Pelton, 562 St. Anthony avenue, St. Paul, Minn., writes: "Peruna has done wonders for me. It has cured my headache and palpitation of the heart; has built up my whole system. I cheerfully recommend Peruna to all sufferers afflicted with catarrh. My mother is never without Peruna. When one is tired and generally out of sorts, if Peruna is taken it immediately removes that tired feeling." Peruna cures catarrh by removing the cause, inflamed mucous membranes. Dr. Hartman, the compounder of Peruna, once said, in a lecture to women: "A great number of women consult me every year. I often have occasion to say to these patients, 'I fear you have catarrh, madam.' They will generally reply, 'Oh, no, I never had catarrh. My nose is perfectly clear and my breath is not bad. I am not troubled with coughing or spitting or any other disagreeable symptoms of catarrh.' But, my dear madam, you may have catarrh all the same. Catarrh is not always located in the head. You may have catarrh of the lungs, or stomach, or liver, or kidneys, and especially you may have catarrh of the pelvic organs."

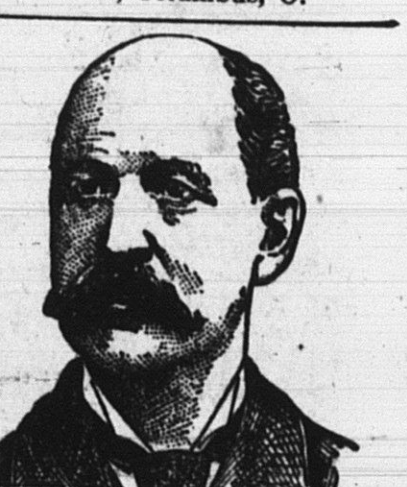

The doctor went on to say: "I have been preaching this doctrine for the last forty years, but there are vast multitudes of women who have never heard it yet. Catarrh may attack any organ of the body. Women are especially liable to catarrh of the pelvic organs. There are one hundred cases of catarrh of the pelvic organs to one of catarrh of the head. Most people think, because they have not catarrh of the head, they have not catarrh at all. This is a great mistake and is the cause of many cases of sickness and death. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O."

Mrs. Julia C. Brown, of Peconic, N. Y., says: "I have used Peruna in my home for the past four years and am thoroughly convinced that it is a reliable family remedy." Julia C. Brown.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

OUR OWN Washington

OU have all of you heard before, I know, How, over a hundred years ago, King George looked over the ocean, And said: "Those colonies seem to be forgetting they all belong to me, I must set my troops in motion."

So over the redcoats proudly came, To have a nice little jolly game At teaching the rebels manners; Thinking it would be rarest fun To see the pitiful Yankees run At sight of the royal banners.

How their bayonets flashed and gleamed, How their eyes with ardor beamed, As forward they marched to battle! Sure of putting the foe to rout, Sure of wiping rebellion out, At the first musket rattle.

Then came along a great surprise, And old King George he opened his eyes At hearing the news so stunning. Plenty of soldiers turned their back In quick retreat, but, alack, alack! 'Twas the redcoats did the running.

Sometimes they won, but the poor old king Found it rather a serious thing, This tramping out of treason. Still the vagabond rebel crew Laughed at him and his soldiers, too. Where could he find a reason?

Oh, George the Third, if you had but known We had a George of our very own, Leading us on to glory! How little, a hundred years ago, You dreamed that to-day we boys, ho, ho! Would all be telling his story!

POLLY'S HIDING-PLACE. A STORY OF THE REVOLUTION.

BLACK-WINGED crows went sailing across the blue sky, cawing lazily as they flew; and the hot sun of a September afternoon glowed upon the dusty highway and upon the wide expanse of level fields that hedged in the old house at Crawford's plantation in the Waxhaw region of the Carolinas, as Mary Crawford, or Polly, as everybody called her, sat by the window, stitching a sampler, but looking up ever and anon to watch for travelers that might be coming up the road.

The Crawford house stood well back from the highway, with a garden between, bisected by a carriage drive from the big white gates upon the road; but the young girl could readily descry anyone passing up or down the thoroughfare, a distance of a quarter of a mile from the house. The watch she kept was a keen one, for upon her faithful sentinelship depended the safety of a loved father.

Maj. Crawford was an officer in the patriot army under Gen. Gates, who had just an hour before, weary, travel-stained, and alone, arrived at his plantation after an absence of many weeks. He was at this moment in the kitchen, eating the lunch that had been hastily prepared by Mrs. Crawford and the colored cook, Chloe, preparatory to continuing his journey to Sumpter's army, which was encamped on the Wateree. Meanwhile Polly had been stationed at the window to keep a lookout against the approach of any tory or British party that might be on his track. It was just after the defeat of Gates at Camden, and the king's men were jubilant and active through the Carolinas.

Polly Crawford was a chubby, bright-eyed, saucy-looking girl of 13 or 14 years. She was the major's only child, and was an arrant little rebel. The sampler she was at work upon represented Elijah fed by the ravens. There was a marvelous background of shrubs and trees, all wrought in the finest tint stitch; and, beside a stone done in orange color, lay the recumbent figure of the shaggy-haired prophet. A flock of birds, each one laden with a huge "two-penny pan loaf," were gracefully approaching from the left-hand corner of the canvas. The girl's deft fingers were busily ornamenting Elijah with two prominent eyes of the deepest cobalt blue, when her ears caught the sound of hoofs coming at a sharp gallop up the road.

She glanced hastily from the window, and descried, mounted on a "grass pony" (a horse of the South Carolina swamps, rough, Shetlandish, wild), a tall, slender, "gangling fellow," legs long enough to almost meet under the pony, damaged, wide-brimmed hat flapping down over his face, which was freckled and worn, the figure covered with dust, tired looking, as though the youth had ridden till he could scarcely sit on his pony. Before she could run to the door the forlorn apparition hailed her with the tidings:

"The British are coming! A party of their dragoons, under Capt. Dacy, conducted by that tory, Wilson, are riding up from Charlotte like the wind."

The messenger, whom Polly recognized as a boy of the neighboring village, dashed on again, without waiting to answer any questions.

Polly gave no further thought to the cobalt-blue eyes of the old Gileadite, staring at her from the sampler. Her who had recovered her courage wonderfully.

"You do not deny, then, that the traitor is within?"

"Search for yourself. If my husband is here, you can find him." And Mrs. Crawford sat quietly down.

"Show me the way to your cellar, girl," said the Englishman to Polly.

"Would it not be best to begin with the garrets, and go down?" asked the young girl, her black eyes dancing saucily. "Because," she continued, "we have wine in the cellars, and your men might not be able to prosecute the search any further."

Capt. Dacy gave her a look that he intended to be very severe. "Lead the way to the cellar," he said, sternly.

Polly obeyed with a pretty pout. "Do you think my father is like pork and potatoes, to be in our cellar?" she asked.

"He is in the house somewhere, and we intend to find him," answered the officer, a young man who affected the brusque style of Tarleton, well known on both sides for his cruelty, and soldierlike qualities.

But they found no hint of anybody's presence in the cellar; and, after a careful examination, the officer led his soldiers up the stairs.

The upper rooms of the mansion were subjected to the same careful search as the cellar had been, and with the same ill-success. The walls and the sides of the room were sounded with swords and bayonets, but no signs of a living being in hiding was discovered.

"This is strange," declared the captain. "Maj. Crawford's horse is in the tered the room, after a short absence.

"However, he is here to speak for himself."

"Yes, I am here; and I have decided objections to such sentiments being drunk in my house."

The Briton and the tory looked up and saw, framed in the doorway, the very man for whom they had been searching so vainly. He held in each hand a loaded pistol, and their muzzles were pointed at the hearts of the banqueters.

"Don't stir, or you are dead men!" he cried, as the British officer attempted to place his hand upon his sword.

"What do you intend to do?" asked the embarrassed captain.

"I mean to take you prisoner," answered Maj. Crawford. "I will not harm you if you offer no resistance. Polly, you may fasten his arms, so that he will not be able to harm us. There is a cord on the peg behind you."

The Briton glanced ferociously at his enemy. "Put your hands close behind you, or I shall be obliged to maim you," said the major, calmly.

Capt. Dacy obeyed, though with a bad grace; and the young girl fastened his wrists together with a stout rope.

"Now, it's your turn, Wilson," said the major, addressing the tory. "You thought to take me, but the tables are reversed."

After Polly had performed the same operation upon the tory, and the two men stood securely bound, the major very coolly sat down and finished his interrupted repast. He was just done when a woolly head thrust itself into the doorway.

"Massa, de horses am saddled and bridled."

"All right, Cato. Are the dragoons out of sight?"

"Dey is. I's jes' com' in, an' de last soger's coat tail am out ob sight."

"It's time I should be going, then. I shall be with Sumpter by midnight. Help me to mount these prisoners' Cato."

"Golly, massa, and you's took um buff prissummers? Guess dey won't feel like laffin' at Cato ag'in. Cum' long, old red cote!" And the negro pulled Capt. Dacy unceremoniously toward his horse.

The sun was casting lengthening shadows on the green as the major bade his wife and daughter good-by, and he and the faithful Cato rode away with their two captives.

There were anxious hearts at the mansion until Cato returned with the news of their safe arrival at Sumpter's camp. In little more than a year the war closed; and Maj. Crawford himself came back to his plantation, which he carried on for many years. He always told Polly that it was to her thoughtfulness and strategy he owed his escape from capture and turning the tables upon his enemies. As for Polly, she carried a memento of that day in the shape of a dagger—a small, slender poniard, which dropped from Capt. Dacy's belt in the affray, and which she ever after wore as an ornament in her hair. This dagger is preserved as an heirloom by her descendants, and anyone seeing it will be told the story of the brave young girl who did not fail to act well her part in the times which tried men's souls.—Christian Register.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Franchises Are Taxable.

The opinion of the supreme court in the case of the Detroit Citizens' Street Railway company versus the Detroit common council establishes the right to consider franchises in assessing the personal property of corporations. Last year the assessors increased the personal assessment of the street railway company from $1,500,000 to $5,000,000, the greater part of the increase being the value of the franchise. The council, sitting as a board of review, confirmed this assessment, and the company asked for a mandamus to compel the council to strike from the roll the amount alleged to represent the value of the franchise. The supreme court declares that the propriety of treating aggregations of property as a unit is as natural and proper for the purposes of assessment as for sale.

Health in Michigan.

Consumption was reported at 163 places, measles at 22, typhoid fever at 66, scarlet fever at 103, diphtheria at 30, whooping cough at 12, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 3 and smallpox at 25 places.

Pardon Was Too Late.

Gov. Bliss acted promptly on receipt of the recommendation of the advisory board of pardons that executive clemency be granted to John Becker, of Quincy, confined in Jackson prison. Becker was in a serious condition, but it was thought he would live long enough to go home a free man. He died a convict, however, having passed away a short time before Gov. Bliss affixed his signature to his pardon.

Pardons in Vain.

Judge Smith has declined to act in the case of James H. Brumm, the Dimondale murderer now confined in the Eaton county jail awaiting the operation of certain provisions specified in Pingree's pardon. The opinion handed down by the court is in shape of a reply to the petition of the counsel for the prisoner. Brumm refuses to discuss the action of Judge Smith.

Ten Per Cent. Dividend.

Charles T. Russell, receiver of the People's savings bank in Mount Pleasant, is paying a dividend of ten per cent. to the depositors. This is the third dividend he has paid, and makes the aggregate 50 per cent. It is thought that about 65 per cent. will be paid before the affairs of the bank are closed.

The nobility of France is said to have organized a company which will guarantee the title of its members, and make stiff bargains with American heiresses who wish to acquire the same. This is certainly the age of organization.

The United States is very generous in giving pensions, but it will probably draw the line at the request of a Pennsylvania man who not only wants a refunding of the money he paid for a substitute, but also wants a pension for the substitute who was killed.

Henry A. Everett, the new president of the Detroit United Railway, is said to be considering the advisability of organizing his company on the co-operative plan, and allow his employees to purchase stock in his new company at just what it cost him. He thinks the service would be improved by this means.

In the face of the fact that Richard Croker was compelled to pay $5,000 income tax in England, this sum representing an income of at least $100,000, which again represents a capital of some $2,000,000, he has been assessed at only $25,000 of capital in New York. But, of course, it is the mistake of the British.

The Detroit Free Press in its report of the Washtenaw county Republican convention of Thursday last, spoke of Charles E. Foster, the nominee for county school commissioner, as being "superintendent of schools at Chelsea." The Free Press Ann Arbor correspondent was off, Prof. W. W. Gifford is superintendent of schools in this village.

The first annual meeting of the Michigan village association has been called to meet at Lansing on March 5 and 6. Much interest has been shown by members of this organization and a large attendance is expected. Fifty-one divorce cases are at present pending in the circuit court for this county. During the past year 77 bills were filed and only three petitions were withdrawn. The number of divorces granted last year was 52. In only one case was a decree refused. The new pipe organ for the M. An eastbound cattle train was run into by a special horse train. Several animals in each train were killed, but no person was injured. Prof. E. F. Johnson, who has been connected with the law department of the U. of M. since 1888, has been appointed to one of the supreme judgeships of the Philippines at a salary of $5,500. If he accepts he will sail April 1. Prof. Johnson is well known as a working member of the Republican party of Washtenaw county. Dr. J. N. Martin, professor of obstetrics and gynecology at the U. of M., and Dr. J. G. Lynds, who is demonstrator in the same branches of medical study, have tendered their resignations to President Angell, to take effect at the end of the college year. Both gentlemen are at the fore front of their profession and will be a great loss to the medical department. Dr. Lynds practiced in Chelsea about 14 years ago. The members of the faculties and other officers in the University of Michigan for the college year 1900-1901, including the summer session of 1900, number 257. They may be classified as follows: President, 1; professors, 59; junior professors, 12; assistant professors, 20; lecturer, 1; non-resident lecturers, 18; non-resident lecturers in summer session, 4; instructors, 54; librarian and other officers of administration, 15; assistants and demonstrators, 72. The Grass Lake News says: "Gildart of the Stockbridge Sun ventured over to Waterloo village a few days ago and 'got lost in that burg.' Waterloo cider always lands its man." To this fling Gildart thus makes answer: "Well there is some satisfaction in the fact that Bro. Carleton lies about us. But then this lack of veracity is probably due to an exchange of courtesies with 'I. W. Harper,' who furnishes editors 'the kind your grandfather used,' in exchange for space in paper. Bro. Carleton will never get lost on 'Waterloo cider!' 'That's too thin.'"

Don't forget the Jubilee Singers at the Methodist church tomorrow, Friday, evening. The Rev. A. C. Dixon, of Hanson Place Baptist church, Brooklyn, N. Y., says of them: "The Fisk Jubilee Singers are artists of the first quality. It is the judgment of those who have heard them, that they excel the first Jubilee Singers, whom Fisk University sent out. They have sung in the churches of Greater New York; in the Academy of Music, Brooklyn; Carnegie Hall and Cooper Union, New York. To the delight of all who heard them." Tickets are only 25 cents.

A new floor has been laid in the store occupied by the Miller Sisters. The Independent Order of Foresters carries a total of $315,000,000 insurance. Charles W. Dickinson, of Ypsilanti, has taken out a patent on a new float for fish lines. The next teachers' examination for this county will be held in Ann Arbor Thursday March 28. Senator Kelly has introduced a bill in the senate to prohibit the serving of free lunches in saloons, barrooms, etc. The Lutheran church box social at Mr. and Mrs. Dan Wacker's Tuesday evening was a largely attended and pleasant one. The proceeds amounted to about $28. If you fail to hear Prof. Stanley at the dedicatory organ recital at the Methodist church Monday night you will feel dissatisfied with yourself the rest of your days. A sack of flour unceremoniously dumped in the cheerless house of a poor and needy family, will carry more solid comfort to a hungry stomach than all the eloquent sermons combined. H. Wirt Newkirk, ex judge of probate, of Ann Arbor, had a bad fall on an icy sidewalk Tuesday, wrenching his back and injuring his spine, left leg and right arm. He will be confined to his home for some time. The Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church will serve a New England supper in the Macabee hall on Saturday evening from 5 o'clock until all are served. Price of supper 15 cents. An invitation is extended to all to be present. While coasting in Ann Arbor Monday night Miss Paulina Galbraith, a student at the University School of Music, had both legs broken below the knees. She was helping draw a pair of bobs up the hill when another sled coming down struck her. In response to a very general request Rev. C. S. Jones will repeat his sermon on "What is the Bible?" at the Congregational church Sunday evening, March 3. The snowstorm prevented a very large attendance when the sermon was delivered two weeks ago. A California physician says: Put an ounce of cream of tartar in 16 ounces of water and take a tablespoonful three times a day, and you may sleep with a smallpox patient with perfect impunity. If every citizen would do this for 15 days there would be an end to smallpox in any city. That beats vaccination all hollow. When the fast train went through here Saturday morning the mail pouch was thrown off in such a way as to strike a passing freight train and fell under the wheels where it was cut in pieces. Postmaster Riemschneider had a job of patching up letters and redirecting them in official envelopes in consequence. There are many fakirs going through the country now, and the farmers should give them a wide berth as they particularly like to work the farmer because they have a better chance to get away before being discovered than they would have in town. The best way is to buy from those you know, and who are here to buy your produce as well as sell you goods. An exchange says that in a neighboring town a minister is trying to stop his congregation twisting around to see who comes in, by announcing the name of every one who enters the church after service has begun, and what they have on. It sounds odd to hear him in a glowing remark about heaven stop and say, "Here comes Mrs. Smith, and she is wearing the same cloak and hat she wore all last winter," but it may cure his congregation of a very bad habit. There is a great treat in store for all who attend the Methodist church next Sunday. Rev. G. R. Turk, of Toronto, Ont., will preach in the morning and in the evening will deliver an address to the young people. Every young person in Chelsea ought to hear this address. Mr. Turk is one of the ablest preachers in the Methodist church of Canada, and is now pastor of the Carlton street Methodist church in Toronto. The choir is preparing some special music which will add greatly to the services. Mr. P. Schenk, of Ann Arbor, will preside at the organ for all the services Sunday.

Had to Conquer or Die.
"I was just about gone," writes Mrs. Rosa Richardson, of Laurel Springs, N. C., "I had consumption so bad that the best doctors said I could not live more than a month, but I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by seven bottles and am now strong and well." It's an unrivaled life saver in consumption, pneumonia, influenza and bronchitis, infallible for coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, croup or whooping cough. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. TO CHICAGO COMMONS.

Michigan Student Will Study "The Social Forces That Cause Disintegration of Family."

THE SIXTH TO FILL THE FELLOWSHIP.

Students in the Literary Department on Diplomas—Fellowships in Pharmacy—Faculty Members—The Outlook for Baseball—Annual Banquet of the Freshman Law Class.

[Special Correspondence.]

University of Michigan, Feb. 18.—William Lionel Heap, a senior law student from Muskegon, has been appointed to the University of Michigan fellowship at the Chicago Commons. He left Monday for Chicago and is already at work on a five months' study of "The Social Forces That Cause the Disintegration of the Family." Mr. Heap was chosen for this fellowship because of his special fitness for carrying on social settlement work. He is the sixth person to fill the fellowship. His predecessors are Jesse R. Murden, now a missionary at Aintab, Turkey; William B. Harrison, Daniel E. Darmerberg, Royal L. Melendy, author of "The Ethical Substitutes for the Saloon in Chicago," and Miss Edith L. Clarke, who worked out the subject "Juvenile Delinquency and Delinquency in Chicago."

Mr. Heap graduated from the Muskegon high school in 1898. After spending the spring and early summer as a resident of Graham Taylor's settlement he will prepare to return to the university. Before leaving Ann Arbor for good he expects to receive a degree from both law and literary departments.

Entered Without Examination.

The present year 243 students entered the literary department on diploma, that is, without examinations. They came from 105 different high schools. Of the total number 188 came from 63 schools in Michigan and 55 came from 42 schools in 11 different states. Twenty-one schools in Illinois contributed 27 students, six schools in New York six students, five schools in Ohio five students, three schools in Indiana nine students, one school in Missouri two students, and one school in each of the following states one student: Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, Washington, Wisconsin. Twelve of the 27 students from Illinois came from nine schools in the city of Chicago.

Fellowships in Pharmacy.

Hudson Sheldon and Lemuel W. Famulener are busy in the chemistry laboratories working out special problems. The first is securing information regarding "Some Organic Hyperoxides," and the second is making a study of "The Physiological Assay of Drugs and Drug Constituents." The funds for the work carried on by these men are furnished by two Detroit houses who are manufacturing pharmacists. Park, Davis & Co. contribute $500 a year for the fellowship held by Mr. Sheldon, and Nelson, Baker & Co. contribute the same amount for the fellowship held by Mr. Famulener.

Faculty Members.

The lists of faculty members and other officers of the university for the present college year contains the names of 257 persons. Of this number 59 are professors, 32 junior and assistant professors, 23 lecturers, 54 instructors, 16 officers of administration and 72 demonstrators and assistants.

Baseball Outlook.

At the meeting held recently for the purpose of making a canvass of the baseball outlook it was discovered that there were among the candidates for the varsity team nine pitchers, five catchers and about 20 field men. The work of training will begin at once, so that the men may be in prime condition when the first game comes, April 13. The schedule of games for the season is as follows:

Spring Trip.—April 13, Illinois, at Champaign; April 15, Northwestern, at Evanston; April 16, Wisconsin, at Madison; April 17, Beloit, at Beloit; April 18, Chicago, at Chicago; April 19, Purdue, at Lafayette; April 20, still open.
Early Home Games.—April 27, Beloit; May 4, open; May 11, Illinois; May 15, Chicago.
Eastern Trip.—May 17, Cornell, at Buffalo; May 18, Cornell, at Ithaca; May 20, Syracuse, at Syracuse; May 22, Yale, at New Haven; May 23, Manhattan, at New York; May 25, Harvard, at Cambridge.
Closing Games.—May 30, Illinois, at Ann Arbor; June 1, Wisconsin, at Ann Arbor; June 8, Chicago, at Ann Arbor; June 15, Cornell, at Ann Arbor; June 16, Cornell, possibly at Detroit; June 17, Cornell, at Chicago.

Freshman Law Banquet.

The annual banquet of the freshman law class was held Tuesday evening, February 12. There was more than usual interest in the event because of the supposed kidnapping of the toastmaster. In the past freshman toastmasters had been stolen, and Leslie S. Kinnard, who held that position for this year, decided that such a fate should not befall his class. He went into hiding five days before the date of the banquet and kept his whereabouts unknown until just a few minutes before the feast. He was then got into the hall by a back way and with a strong guard of classmates accompanying him. The joke, however, of the whole affair is that the upper class men did not care a rap about the banquet and had no desire to carry off the toastmaster. He simply became scared at his own shadow.

HAZERS HALTED.

Freshmen in Michigan's Agricultural College Checks Sophomores with a Revolver.

W. L. Lamoreaux, a freshman at the agricultural college in Lansing, withstood a rush of sophomores who were bent on "stacking" his room by shoving a revolver in the faces of the upper class men and threatening to shoot them if they crossed the threshold.

Lamoreaux is president of the freshman class, and during the last few days class spirit has been running high. There have been a number of rushes, and Freshman Johnson, who was taken from his room and tumbled about in the snow by the sophomores, sustained a badly dislocated shoulder. The freshmen tried to hold a meeting, but as fast as they arrived at the classroom they were captured by the sophomores and given a bath in the deep snow.

When the sophomores visited Lamoreaux's room and ordered his roommate, a new freshman, to "dance or eat soap" the freshman president had his ire aroused. He promptly drew his revolver and drove the sophomores from his chamber. He was afterward dispossessed of the weapon, but not without a hard scuffle, in which a number of seniors participated. Lamoreaux claims that he did not intend to shoot, but he was in great anger and was not a man to be trifled with.

The college authorities have taken no action in the matter, and the trouble between the classes is likely to be resumed at any time. This is the first year when the freshmen have not been able to take care of themselves in a scuffle with the sophomores.

Elect Officers.

Out of 191 lodges of the A. O. U. W. in Michigan, 150 were represented at the twenty-fourth annual meeting of the grand lodge in Saginaw. At the election of officers the following were chosen:

Grand master workman, Fred C. Wetmore, of Cadillac; grand foreman, William Cochran, of St. Johns; grand overseer, Josiah C. Thomas, of Ironwood; grand recorder, George Latham, of Detroit; grand receiver, John C. Ellsworth, of Pontiac; grand guide, Byron W. Hewitt, of Maple Rapids; supreme lodge representatives, Fred C. Wetmore, of Cadillac; John C. Ellsworth, of Pontiac; John P. C. Hollings, of Detroit.

Claims a Record.

Coldwater lays claim to having more societies than any other place in the state of Michigan—size considered. In addition to its 11 churches and Y. M. C. A., with their numerous societies in connection, there are 50 secret societies, several of them having 300 or more members each. There are also not far from the same number of literary, musical and social organizations. The latter have run out of names, so the newest one is called the "Who and What" club. Seven-eighths of the population "belong" to something.

Farmers' Round-Up Institute.

One of the interesting features of the state round-up farmers' institutes at the Agricultural college in Lansing the last three days of February will be the exercises of Tuesday evening, made up of addresses by the governor, the auditor general, speaker of the house, and Judge Montgomery. Hon. F. A. Converse, of New York, is also to be present on Wednesday to teach the judging of dairy cattle, to talk also on the feeding and care of dairy cows, and finally to tell about the Pan-American exposition.

Need a New Law.

Chief Wilbur, of the vital statistics department of the secretary of state's office, says that an improved law governing the registration of births is needed. It is believed that by employing the modern methods now in use for mortality statistics in this state a fairly accurate and reliable registration of births could be obtained. He says the present law is obsolete.

A Familiar Story.

Joseph F. Reinger, of Escanaba, has been notified that he is the heir to $180,000 from a relative in Spain. In receiving this he also is to be the guardian of a young girl who also has a snug fortune of her own. Father Pedro, of Spain, and his charge, will arrive in Escanaba in a short time. Quite a romantic tale is connected with the fortune.

Wrestling Match.

Melvin Marsh, of Decorah, Ia., defeated D. A. McMillan, of San Francisco, Cal., in a wrestling match at the Soo opera house in Sault Ste. Marie for a purse of $400, best three in five falls. The contest was one of the best exhibitions of wrestling ever seen there.

RURAL POPULATION.

Some Startling Figures from the Recent Census Regarding the Decrease in Michigan.

The feature of the State Dairyman's association in Lansing was the address of President Fred M. Warner, who gave some startling figures from the recent census regarding the decrease of population in this state, with particular reference to the rural communities. Mr. Warner said that in the 25 counties in the southern four tiers of counties 62 per cent. of the farms and 70 per cent. of the improved land in the state are found. In this section 85 per cent. of the wheat, 78 per cent. of the corn and 65 per cent. of the oats of the state are grown. It contains 60 per cent. of the population of the state. In 10 of these counties the population has decreased during the past ten years, and in all but four of them the increase in the cities is balanced by the decrease in the townships and unincorporated villages. The total loss in population in these 10 counties is 40,000. Gains are noticed in Monroe, Berrien, Ottawa and Wayne, and are ascribed to local causes.

These figures apparently show that there has been a migration of people from the farms because of the lack of profit in farming. While there has been an increase of 15,000 cows and of 8,000 cattle other than milk cows in the last ten years, there has been a loss of 15,000 horses, 125,000 hogs and 540,000 sheep in the same period.

AN OLD MAN'S TROUBLE.

Deeds His Farm to His Wife and is Then Driven from Home in a Destitute Condition.

George Nash, once a prominent and prosperous farmer near Niles, now an old man 70 years of age, is scantily clothed, weak from sickness and want of food, deserted and alone, with visions of the county poor farm staring him in the face, and all because he wanted to see his wife well cared for before he died. Recently Nash was taken seriously ill, and his wife told him he was going to die, and persuaded him to deed the farm to her. He recovered, she left him, and at the instance of the woman he has been ordered by law to vacate his home. Nash prays for an injunction, saying he would have no place to lay his head.

His Life Work Ended.

Word has been received from Wauwatosa, Wis., of the death of Rev. R. W. Putnam, father of Principal Ritchie Putnam, of Detroit, formerly for 15 years superintendent of schools at Ypsilanti, and also professor of mathematics in Kalamazoo college. For two decades he was prominent in conducting district teachers' institutes throughout the state and was widely known in school circles in Michigan. He was ordained to the Baptist ministry at Ishpeming, where he had charge before going to Wisconsin.

Plans Arsenical Smelter.

The Mohawk Mining company is contemplating the erection of an arsenical smelter at Buffalo to treat the new mineral Mohawkite, which is a compound of arsenite of copper and nickel carrying small percentages of antimony and cobalt mineral, found only in this mine, and is at present the source of much of the nickel produced in the United States. Mohawkite is worth $150 to $200 per ton and is at present smelted at Swansea, Wales, because no American smelter is adapted to handling arsenical ores.

Railroad Earnings.

Railroad Commissioner Osborn reports that the Michigan earnings of railroad companies for 1900 were the largest in the history of the state. The aggregate Michigan earnings for the year were $39,176,939.78. This was an increase of $4,202,469.16, or 12.04 per cent. over the earnings of 1899. The earnings for December, 1900, were $3,276,139.65, an increase of $48,940.73 over December, 1899.

Aged Suitor Missing.

The authorities of Berrien county are searching for Clarence Wagener, 70 years old, who courted Mrs. Mary Schaus, of Coloma, and skipped out with $250 belonging to her. The story of the aged woman's lost love leaked out when she learned that Wagner could not be found. He came to the village of Coloma as a stranger in needy circumstances and Mrs. Schaus befriended him.

New Railway.

The management of the Copper Range railway has decided to build from Houghton to Calumet this year. The only barrier is in difficulty experienced in securing the right to cross the Portage lake bridge. The Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway claims the perpetual right to the use of the bridge.

The Last Straw.

The name Bad Axe has been mutilated various and sundry times and in an unlimited number of ways, but the last straw was added the other day when a letter arrived that was addressed to Battle Axe. It was covered with post marks, having traveled all over Michigan.

Sore Hands

Red, Rough Hands, Itching, Burning Palms, and Painful Finger Ends.

One Night Treatment

Soak the hands on retiring in a strong, hot, creamy lather of CUTICURA SOAP. Dry, and anoint freely with CUTICURA, the great skin cure and purest of emollients. Wear, during the night, old, loose kid gloves, with the finger ends cut off and air holes cut in the palms. For red, rough, chapped hands, dry, fissured, itching, feverish palms, with shapeless nails and painful finger ends, this treatment is simply wonderful, and points to a speedy cure of the most distressing cases when physicians and all else fail.

Cured by Cuticura

I WAS troubled with hands so sore that when I put them in water the pain would near set me crazy, the skin would peel off, and the flesh would get hard and break, then the blood would flow from at least fifty places on each hand. Words never can tell the suffering I endured for three years.

I tried at least eight doctors, but my hands were worse than when I commenced doctoring. I tried every old granny remedy that was ever thought of without one cent's worth of good and could not even get relief.

I would feel so badly mornings when I got up, to think that I had to go to work and stand pain for eight or nine hours, that I often felt like giving up my job, which was in the bottling works of Mr. E. L. Kerns, the leading bottler of Trenton, N. J., who will vouch for the truth of my sufferings.

Before I could start to work, I would have to wrap each finger on both hands, and then wear gloves, which I hated to do, for when I came to take them off, it would take two hours and the flesh would break and bleed. Some of my friends who had seen my hands would say, "If they had such hands they would have them amputated"; others would say "they would never work," and more would turn away in disgust. But thanks to Cuticura, the greatest of skin cures, it ended all my sufferings.

Just to think, after doctoring three years, and spending dollar after dollar during that time, Cuticura cured me. It has now been two years since I used it and I do not know what sore hands are. I never lost a day's work while I was using it or since, and I have been working at the same business, and in acids, etc.

DEALING WITH CRIMES IN CANADA.

From the Chicago-Times Herald on January 18th, 1901.

"The citizens of the Dominion of Canada have just cause to be proud of their record as law-abiding people. The annual report of the criminal statistics of the Dominion, which has a population of over 6,000,000, shows that there were only twenty-five indictments for murder in 1899, of which only two were left without final action. Eleven of those indicted were hanged, nine acquitted and three confined as insane.

"Canada is a country of vast proportions. Its people are scattered over a wide stretch of territory, making police surveillance particularly difficult and in many districts impossible. Yet a city like New York, or Chicago alone furnishes a far greater criminal list every year than the whole vast stretch of territory from Quebec to Vancouver.

"The Canadians ascribe their immunity from crime to the promptness with which punishment is meted out to offenders. When a man is caught red-handed in the act of robbing another he is not released on straw ball by some justice of the peace from the slums, to go out and repeat the offense. Sharp and sure justice is meted out to criminals of all kinds, the result being that when the guardians of the public peace succeed in bringing a thug to the bar they are seldom called upon to hunt him a second time.

"Furthermore there are few court delays in Canada when a criminal is brought to book. They have no Dreyer cases over there. There are no methods whereby Canadian criminals can have the proceedings stayed from month to month and from year to year or after being convicted, appeal from one court to another until witnesses die of old age or opportunities for corruption can be found.

"Nor does this swift method of treating with wrong-doers in Canada leave the innocent unable to properly defend themselves. They have all the opportunities and privileges that our own laws extend to them. The extent to shield the guilty is lacking—that is all."

The above taken from the editorial column of the Times-Herald gives some idea of the immunity from crime that exists in Canada, and this is one of the many inducements held out for Americans to settle in the district known as Western Canada. The season of 1901 will see a few sections of the country opened up for settlement. They are attractive in every respect. It is understood that one of the best Indian Reserves in the famous Valley of the Saskatchewan will be opened up this year, and an invitation is extended to those desiring homes to make inquiries. The price of the land is said to be nominal. Besides these lands, the several railway companies have lands to sell; also the Government. For particulars write to the Agent of the Government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere.

A Familiar Sound.

Mrs. Johnson—Has Mr. Johnson come home for dinner yet?

A Remedy for the Grippe.

Physicians recommend KEMP'S BAL-SAM for patients afflicted with the grippe, as it is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. Don't wait for the first symptoms, but get a bottle to-day and keep it on hand for use the moment it is needed. If neglected the grippe brings on pneumonia. KEMP'S BAL-SAM prevents this by keeping the cough loose and the lungs free from inflammation. All druggists, 25c and 50c.

INHERITANCE TAX LAW.

The More Prominent Features of This Law, Which the Courts Have Held to Be Good.

The inheritance tax law, which the courts have just held good, is not yet generally understood by the people, and we herewith give its more prominent features. The law is a lengthy one and taxes all inheritances or deeds, gifts or sales, made in contemplation of death, of property over $500 in value.

If the inheritance is by a father, mother, husband, wife, child, brother, sister, son-in-law or daughter-in-law, it is not to be taxed unless it is personal property of over $5,000 in amount, in which case it pays a tax of one per cent on the clear market value over $5,000.

If the property, real or personal, goes to other heirs than those above mentioned the tax is five per cent on its clear market value.

The law applies to all inheritances after its passage whether the death of the former holder of the property occurred before its passage or not.

The tax constitutes a lien on the property until paid and the person to whom the property is transferred, the administrators, executors or trustees are made personally liable.

The tax is payable to the county treasurer. If paid within six months of its accruing a discount of five per cent is deducted therefrom. If not paid within 18 months, interest at the rate of 8 per cent from the time the tax accrued shall be added.

The tax goes into the state treasury and is to be used to pay the interest upon primary school, university and other educational funds and the interest and principal of the state debt until the state debt is extinguished, when the money thus realized shall go into the primary school fund.

Executors, administrators or trustees are to collect this tax within 30 days. If a legacy be not in money the tax shall be collected upon an appraised valuation. The appraiser is to be appointed by the probate judge.

When a legatee or heir does not come immediately into possession of property, the tax on it may be deferred until he does so come into possession, if a bond to be approved by the probate judge is given.

The county treasurer shall notify the prosecuting attorney if he thinks any tax is not being paid.

The law went into effect July 31, 1899, and estates which came into existence in the probate court subsequent to that time will be affected.

Love of country is so fine a virtue that it seems difficult to carry it to excess. A resident of a small village in the north of Scotland paid a business visit to London the other day. He happened to call on a merchant who unknown to him had once made a stay in his native place.

In the course of conversation the visitor made use of an expression that led the other to exclaim, "Surely, you come from Glen McLuskie?" The assertion, however, was denied.

Presently, to the merchant's surprise, another Glen McLuskie expression was heard. "My dear Mr. MacTavish, I feel convinced that you are a Glen McLuskie man after all," insisted the merchant.

"Well," returned the other, "I'll deny it any longer."

"Then why didn't you say so at first?" demanded the Englishman.

"Well," was the calm response, "I didn't like to boast of it in London."
