DEDICATED THE ORGAN.

A Fine Recital and Concert at the M. E. Church Monday Evening.

The new Kimball pipe organ in the M. E. church was formally dedicated Monday evening, when Prof. A. A. Stanley, of the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, gave a masterly recital which showed up the grand capabilities of the fine instrument in a most artistic manner. The vocal numbers on the program by Mrs. A. R. Linn, of Detroit, Mr. Alvord, of Ann Arbor, and Miss Margaret Nickerson were also much admired.

The new organ is of the latest design, contains the latest inventions in the line of action, and is built in harmony with the church architecture and decoration. It is a triumph of artistic skill both in appearance and tone qualities. The valves are operated entirely by wind pressure, thereby rendering the touch very light and responsive, and the touch of the organ is the same whether one stop is drawn or all of the stops, including all of the couplers, are in use. The instrument is finished with a complete arrangement of couplers and accessories, placing the control of the organ very easily in the reach of the performer.

Democratic County Convention.

The Democratic county convention held in Ann Arbor last Thursday was a very quiet and harmonious one.

The delegates chosen to go to the state convention were: Delegate at large, M. J. Cavanaugh; First district—J. F. Schub, Moses Seabolt, Wm. McIntyre, of Ann Arbor, C. W. Maroney, of Sylvan, E. A. Nordman, of Lima, D. W. Barry, of Northfield, Byron C. Whitaker, of Scio, Charles F. Braun, of Ann Arbor town, George Runciman, of Lyndon, Michael Alber, of Freedom; Second district—Robert Martin, of Superior, D. Hitchingham, of Augusta, Henry Stumpfenhusen, of Ypsilanti town, W. H. Lewis, of Ypsilanti, V. L. Shankland, of Pittsfield, John P. Kirk, of Ypsilanti, Edward Depue, of Saline, Ira E. Wood, of Lodi, D. P. McLachlan, of York, Herman Rayer, of Pittsfield.

For county school commissioner Jas. S. Gorman nominated Dorsey Hoppe, of Sylvan, and D. A. Hammond nominated Warren H. Smith, of Ypsilanti, seconded by John P. Kirk. Mr Hoppe won out on the first ballot by a vote of 84 to 88.

Resolutions.

Whereas, God, in His infinite wisdom has seen fit to break our circle and remove from our midst, our brother, John Cook;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we as members of Olive Chapter, No. 108, Order of Eastern Star, hereby desire to express our deep felt sympathy in the loss of one of our earliest members. That we most sincerely sympathize with the family in their bereavement and commend them to our Heavenly Father, yet feeling that our loss is his gain, remembering "That every cloud has a silver lining" so we would strive to look beyond the cloud of affliction and point the loved ones to Him who alone can comfort all;

Resolved, that our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days, and, be it further resolved, that these resolutions be entered upon our records and a copy of the same sent to the sorrowing ones, also published in our local papers.

MRS. L. WINANS.
MRS. R. S. ARMSTRONG.
GEO. WARD.

Prof. Charles E. Foster,

the Republican nominee for county school commissioner, is a native of Washtenaw county. He was born at Chelsea, and was educated in the schools of the village and the State Normal College. At an early age through an accident he lost his right arm. Though thus handicapped he educated himself unassisted.

He has had several years' experience in teaching, in both district and graded schools. For over eight years he was superintendent of the schools at Fowlerville, Mich. During this time he was connected with the County Teachers' Association, and during part of each year conducted a County Teachers' Preparatory Class.

COUNTY JAIL TOO SMALL.

Forty-five People Confined Where There Is Only Room for Eighteen.

The report of the inspectors of the Washtenaw county jail for the six months ending February, 1901, shows that 467 prisoners were confined there during that period, of whom 390 were confined for the following offences: Drunk 314, vagrancy 41, disorderly 18, drunk and disorderly 1, drunkards and tipplers 12, begging 4.

The jail inspectors found that there are at present 45 incarcerated in the jail while there is accommodation for only 18, and state, therefore, that the jail is too small. The condition of the bedding, cells and halls is fair, while that of the water closets is good.

Ideal Entertainment Company.

The entertainment that is to be given at the opera house, Chelsea, Thursday, March 14, by the Ideal Entertainment Co., is undoubtedly going to be one of the finest that has ever visited our village.

We draw our conclusions from the most flattering press notices that this company are receiving wherever they play. For instance, the Daily News of Saginaw, Mich., recently devoted a third of a column on its editorial page to describing this entertainment as rendered in that city on the previous evening, declaring it to be one of the most novel and interesting entertainments that had visited that city. We have also seen a letter written by one opera house manager to another in which he refers to this entertainment as follows: "They showed here last night to a full house the best show of the kind that has ever been here."

This same company went through this part of the state last season giving excellent satisfaction. This season, however, they are out with an entire change of program and are offering many more instructive and amusing attractions than ever before. It is good for the mental man as well as for the physical man to go out occasionally and have a good laugh.

The entertainment is to be given for the benefit of Chelsea Tent, No. 281, K. O. T. M.

Death of John Cook.

John Cook, an old and highly respected resident of Sylvan, died at his home in this village Sunday morning, aged 71 years. Mr. Cook had been in poor health for several years and for the past year had been gradually failing until death relieved him from suffering as above stated.

Mr. Cook was born in Wayne county, N. Y., in 1830. The following year his parents came to this county and settled in York township. In 1853 he was married to Miss Jane Coe, who with two sons Oliver F. and Nelvin H., and one brother and a sister, survive him. He moved on his farm in Sylvan township in 1861 and resided there until 1892, when he moved to Chelsea. He joined the Congregational church March 1, 1868, and was a consistent member of that church.

The funeral services were held at the Congregational church yesterday afternoon, Rev. C. S. Jones officiating. They were largely attended by his old friends and neighbors. Olive Chapter, O. E. S., of which he was a member, attended in a body. The services at the grave in Oak Grove cemetery were in charge of Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M., of which he was an honored member.

HOW MONEY IS MADE

System of Coining Adopted in Uncle Sam's Mints.

No Business in the World is Conducted with More Care and Attention to Details—Loss Almost Impossible.

THERE is no subject with which humanity as a whole is more deeply concerned than that of "money making." However, this expression is seldom taken in its literal sense, but, since the earliest times, when the exchange of merchandise was the foundation of intercourse between the several races, money of some description has been manufactured. In ancient Rome leather money was in circulation, but, as a rule, civilized nations have employed medals and coins of metal. The Chinese are said to have had rude, square, bronze coins, 1120 B. C. Those in use in Greece, 300 B. C., equaled, if not surpassed, in design those of the present day. Portraits of individuals, records of historical events, languages and the fine arts have been preserved to us, in many instances, only through the coins and medals of the people with whom they passed current.

One of the first concerns of a nation, when it begins to individualize itself, is to have a legal tender of its own. Hence nothing could be more consistent than President Washington's approval, in 1792, of an act establishing a mint, and the first building erected in the United States, for public use, by authority of the federal government, was the United States mint building in Philadelphia. In 1829 a more pretentious structure was built to accommodate the growing requirements of the institution. In 1786 the present decimal system was established. The collection of United States coins up to the present time is complete at this mint, although, in some cases, only one was struck from a die. These are marked "unique," and are in value beyond price. The mints established in other cities, as the growing needs of the nation demanded, were, for many years, denominated "branch mints," but under the treasury department of the United States a bureau of the mint was established in 1873. The mints were then all made independent, reporting to a director at the head of the bureau.

The largest of our mints—in fact, the largest in the world, and, in many respects, the most interesting—is located in San Francisco. It issued its first money in 1854. The corner stone of the present edifice, which, with its site, cost $3,130,512, was laid in 1874. A visit to this building, under the escort of one of the conductors provided for the purpose, during the early part of the day, well repays anyone who is anxious to see how Uncle Sam makes his money. Of the 17 watchmen employed, 12 guard the treasure at night, four outside the building and eight inside. At stated periods each must be at certain designated points, and a system of electric signals keeps all in communication. In certain rooms no one watchman may go alone. In this mint are 230 employees. The capacity of the four vaults of the building is $60,000,000 in silver. There is also a vault for the assayer, cashier and receiver, two for the coiner and three for the melter and refiner, with a fourth in process of construction. When working to its full capacity, about 20 gold melts are made in the San Francisco mint per day, amounting to about $600,000, or 32 silver melts at $35,000. When gold is brought to the mint it is received on deposit after being weighed, and the depositor is given a receipt, which he may present the next day, when its value in coin will be paid. Meantime an assay is made, the dirt, quicksilver, silver and other substances being separated from the richer metal. Each deposit, weighed and tagged, is placed in a sheet iron box, inclosed in a lock box, and sent to the melting department. After being made into a bar it is returned, weighed and recorded and taken to the assayers, where chips are taken off to test its value, after which it is locked up in the receiver's room. When an assay has been reported the depositor may have his money.

As 1,000 is the standard for pure gold the number of thousands of gold in a mass of metal determines its fineness.

Gold is almost never found absolutely free from silver. The depositor receives payment for the silver as well as the gold which he brought. The baser material found in the mix is of almost no intrinsic value. The assaying process is very interesting.

After the baser metals have all been removed and the gold and silver parted, about 3,000 ounces of gold are weighed out for a "melt" and the requisite alloy of one-tenth copper added to make standard coin. If a slight particle of silver remains in the bar it must be taken into account in weighing in the alloy, and this fractional amount accounts for the difference in tint in gold coins. The copper is added to give necessary hardness to the coin. A $20 gold piece contains $19.99 and a fraction of pure gold. The first and last ingot cast from every melt is assayed to ascertain if the right proportion of alloy has been used. Out of 2,012 gold melts made last year, only seven were rejected. Each morning the melting room is charged with all the metal sent in, and everything returned is weighed and shortage noted before the workmen go out. At stated times the bits adhering to the crucibles and the ashes and sweepings of the room are recovered and entered to its credit.

The ingots, differing in size and weight according to the denomination for which they are to be used, are turned over to the coiner of the mint. Here they are rolled into thin strips, gauged, tested, annealed and taken to a cutting press, where planchets of the exact size and thickness of the coins into which they are to be made, are punched out. These blanks are sent to the adjusting room, where about 65 ladders are employed to weigh and file each. Each morning and evening the amount for a day's work is weighed. The checking system is close enough to detect the absence of a dime from 625,000 pieces. In the two adjusting rooms, each of the sections, into which the rows of long, marble-topped tables are divided, has a zinc-lined drawer for the use of an adjuster. A leather apron secured to the sides of the drawer has straps to pass over the shoulders of the adjuster, who is also provided with glove fingers, a linen apron and sleeves. The bits of metal adhering to all these are brushed into the drawer when the wearer leaves her post.

Each section is provided with scales, and every blank must be carefully filled until it is exactly of the required weight. The amount of filings and dust collected in this room is weighed and refined quarterly. From one of its carpets, burned in 1893, $4,415 in gold and $23 in silver were recovered. All the blanks which have passed the weighing test are taken to the coiners' room and fed by hand, through a vertical tube, into the milling machine. They are carried around at the rate of 600 revolutions per minute by an automatic feeder. The milling is for the purpose of raising the edge in order that the medallion work on the surface may be protected. It also serves to render the pieces perfectly round. They are then cleaned and taken to the pressroom, where a pressman feeds them to an automatic pair of feeders, which place each separate piece on the reverse, or lower die. The obverse die, fixed on a joint above, comes down and every mark is made upon the coin at one stroke. The pieces are then examined and, if all are perfect, are boxed and sent to the chief weigher of this department. Gold coins and silver dollars are counted by weight, and smaller silver coins are weighed, then counted by means of grooved boards provided for each denomination. The dime board holds 1,250 pieces, and by means of it an expert can count 10,000 pieces in three minutes. Two coins are sent from the first three deliveries of each week to the bureau of the mint at Washington, and one piece in each thousand of gold and one from each two thousand of silver pieces are sent to the Philadelphia mint for special assay. It is said that coin is manufactured at less cost in the San Francisco mint than elsewhere in this country.

The Trust Problem.
To a thoughtful mind, the trust problem is one of serious import. It must be firmly grappled with, for it creeps upon society before you are aware of its existence, in this respect much resembling the various disorders which attack the stomach, such as constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and biliousness. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure all such ailments, and prevent the grippe, malarial fever and ague. Be sure to give it a trial.

No man ever became great and good except through many and great mistakes.—Gladstone.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Physicians recommend KEMP'S BAL-SAM for patients afflicted with the grippe, as it is especially adapted for the throat and lungs. # ONE RAIDER IS SHOT.

Serious Outcome of Crusade Against Topeka Liquor House.

Police Drive Mob Back—A Riot in Which One Man Is Badly Wounded—A Preacher Placed Under Arrest.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 26.—J. W. Adams lies at the hospital, hovering between life and death. He was shot during a raid on a North Topeka wholesale liquor house.

At midnight Sunday night a crowd of from 30 to 60 citizens, heavily armed with revolvers, sledge hammers, crow-bars and a battering ram, broke into the wholesale liquor house of "Cash" Curtis, on West Curtis street, between Kansas avenue and Jackson street, and smashed the beer found there. Three policemen drove the crowd back.

Both the policemen and the citizens fired their revolvers, and J. W. Adams, a carpenter living at 524 West Grant street, was shot twice in the breast. He was taken in a hack to Riverside hospital, where he lies in a precarious condition.

Preacher Arrested.

Dr. M. R. Mitchell and Rev. F. W. Emerson were both arrested by the police. Rev. Mr. Emerson was taken to the police station, where he was booked under the charge of resisting an officer. He was allowed to go upon his own recognizance. Dr. Mitchell took the injured man to the hospital in a hack and was allowed to stay and administer to him without giving bond.

The three officers, Patrolmen Downey, Boyles and Private Watchman Connors, claim that Adams was shot by his own crowd while he was retreating from the place where the liquors were smashed, and Adams says that he was shot by a policeman, but does not know who. Connors says that his revolver, a Smith & Wesson .38-caliber, was knocked from his hand. Officer Downey says he did not arrive at the scene of the trouble until it was about over, and Officer Boyles, who carries a Colt's .44-caliber revolver, claims that the two shots he fired were in the air and that he did not aim at anyone. Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Charles W. Hammond, who cared for Adams at the hospital, say that he was shot with a .32 or .38-caliber revolver. One shot took effect in the center of his chest and the other in the right shoulder. The bullets did not come out.

Gathering of the Crowd.

The crowd which did the smashing met on West Curtis street about two blocks from the joint. The estimates of the number vary from 30 to 60. At a few moments past 12 o'clock the crowd moved east on Curtis street to Jackson street. The wholesale liquor house is a small frame building at the rear of the Curtis home, which faces on Curtis street. The crowd turned south on Jackson street and crossed the rear of the lots between the street and the liquor house.

Log Used for Battering Ram.

In one of the yards by a woodpile was a log a foot thick at the large end and about ten feet long. A half dozen men seized the log and used it as a battering ram. The men with the log rushed at the door and at the first blow the lock was broken, the door gave way and the crowd rushed in. At the first rush the lantern which the crowd carried was extinguished and work was done in the dark.

The Liquor Destroyed.

Three men stood inside and passed the cases and kegs of beer to the men in the doorway, who threw them into the yard to be smashed. The crowd used heavy sledge axes, masons' hammers and crowbars. Patrolman Boyles and Watchman Connors were called from the Union Pacific depot, two blocks away, and were the first officers there. They entered the yard from Curtis street and drove the crowd back. Before the officers arrived 30 cases and two kegs of beer had been smashed and the debris was scattered over the yard.

Rally Their Forces.

When the officers arrived the crowd fell back to a ditch near Jackson street where the leaders succeeded in rallying the forces. While the crowd was being driven back 20 or 30 shots were fired. When the crowd retreated to Jackson street the officers were near the building and Adams was between the officers and the crowd. When he was shot he fell by a pile of wood. Officer Boyles claims that Adams was facing west and running toward the crowd when he was shot.

When Adams fell the crowd thought he had tripped over the pile of wood. He did not rise and several ran to his assistance. He was carried to Jackson street. When the crowd found that one of the number had been wounded and was being taken to a hospital the members quickly dispersed.

Chief Stahl was summoned from his home and went directly to the scene of the trouble, but did not arrive until the crowd had left. When the crowd had left the broken cases and the smashed beer bottles were carried into the building and a man stood guard near the building with a shotgun.

CUBAN INDEPENDENCE.

Senate Committee Points Out What Is Expected of Island by the United States.

Washington, Feb. 26.—At 12:15 p. m. Monday Senator Platt, of Connecticut, chairman of the committee on relations with Cuba, reported the amendment agreed upon by the committee on Cuban relations to be attached to the army appropriation bill.

The entire committee was in agreement and there was no minority report, and no opposition is expected from the Democrats in the senate. It is the general impression that the agreement Monday makes an extra session of congress unnecessary.

The text of the amendment is as follows:

That in fulfillment of the declaration contained in the joint resolution approved April 20, 1898, entitled: "For the recognition of the independence of the people of Cuba, demanding that the government of Spain relinquish its authority and government in the island of Cuba, and to withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters, and directing the president of the United States to use the land and naval forces of the United States to carry these resolutions into effect," the president is hereby authorized to leave the government and control of the island of Cuba to its people as soon as a government shall have been established in said island under a constitution, which, either as a part thereof or in an ordinance appended thereto, shall define the future relations of the United States with Cuba, substantially as follows:

1. That the government of Cuba shall never enter into any treaty or other compact with any foreign power or powers which will impair or tend to impair the independence of Cuba, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise lodgment in or control over any portion of said island.

2. That said government shall not assume or contract any public debt, to pay the interest upon which and to make reasonable sinking fund provision for the ultimate discharge of which the ordinary revenues of the islands, after defraying the current expenses of government, shall be inadequate.

3. That the government of Cuba consents that the United States may exercise the right to intervene for the preservation of Cuban independence, the maintenance of a government adequate for the protection of life, property and individual liberty, and for discharging the obligations with respect to Cuba imposed by the treaty of Paris on the United States, now to be assumed and undertaken by the government of Cuba.

4. That all acts of the United States in Cuba during its military occupancy thereof are ratified and validated, and all lawful rights acquired thereunder shall be maintained and protected.

5. That the government of Cuba will execute, and as far as necessary extend, the plans already devised or other plans to be mutually agreed upon, for the sanitation of the cities of the island, to the end that a recurrence of epidemics and infectious diseases may be prevented, thereby assuring protection to the people and commerce of Cuba, as well as to the commerce of the southern ports of the United States and the people residing therein.

6. That the Isle of Pines shall be omitted from the proposed constitutional boundaries of Cuba, the title thereto being left to future adjustment by treaty.

7. That to enable the United States to maintain the independence of Cuba, and to protect the people thereof, as well as for its own defense, the government of Cuba will sell or lease to the United States lands necessary for coaling or naval stations at certain specified points, to be agreed upon with the president of the United States.

8. That by way of further assurance the government of Cuba will embody the foregoing provisions in a permanent treaty with the United States.

The amendment was referred to the committee on military affairs.

It can be stated on high authority that the Cuban amendment to the army appropriation bill is satisfactory to the president and that its adoption by congress will avoid the necessity for an extra session.

GOES TO THE BOTTOM.

Steamer City of Rio de Janeiro Sinks in San Francisco Harbor.

After Safe Voyage Across the Pacific Over 100 Persons Are Drowned in Sight of Port—Consul Wildman Among the Lost.

San Francisco, Feb. 23.—The Pacific Mail steamer City of Rio de Janeiro ran on a hidden rock while entering the Golden Gate early Friday morning in a dense fog. She sank a few minutes after striking. The loss is placed at 123 persons, most of whom were Chinese and Japanese.

Ten Bodies Recovered.

At five o'clock Friday afternoon ten bodies had been recovered, two white women, one white man and seven Chinese. The most prominent passenger on the steamer was Rounseville Wildman, United States consul at Hong-Kong, who was accompanied by his wife and two children. It is thought all were drowned. The ship was in command of Pilot Frederick Jordan when she struck. He was rescued. Capt. William Ward went down with his vessel.

As near as can be learned there were 201 people on board the Rio de Janeiro, as follows: Cabin passengers, 29; steerage (Asiatic), 58; second cabin, 7; white officers, 30; Asiatic crew, 77. The saved number 79, classified as follows: Cabin passengers, 12; white officers, 11; steerage (Asiatic), 15; crew (Chinese), 41. The lost number 122, classified as follows: Passengers, 24; officers, 19; crew (Chinese), 36; steerage (Asiatic), 43.

Struck in a Fog.

The Rio de Janeiro was three days overdue from Hong-Kong via Honolulu when she arrived off the Heads Thursday night, and the dense fog prevailing at the time induced Pilot Jordan to bring her to anchor until he could see his way clear through the gateway. She lay to until about 4:30 o'clock, when the atmosphere cleared, and she was started under a slow bell toward Point Bonita. All went well until 5:40 o'clock, when she struck. Most of the passengers were below at the time, and it is believed that many of them were drowned in their berths.

Officers Were Cool.

From all accounts it appears that the officers were cool and gave the necessary orders with the least possible confusion. There was not much excitement until, 15 minutes after striking, the bow of the vessel suddenly plunged under water. Then there was a wild rush for the boats. Two boats had already been lowered and others were getting away as rapidly as the trained discipline of the crew could prepare them. A thick fog enveloped everything, and as yet no sign had come from the life-saving stations. Darkness was all about, and with this added horror the people on the Rio had to cope.

Many Jumped Overboard.

Capt. Ward directed the passengers and tried to keep them from panic. He succeeded only partly, as many of the terrified people rushed to the railings and jumped overboard. Some of these were picked up, others were drowned. The Chinese crew, to the number of over a hundred, were terrorized. Some of them huddled in little groups, chattering in fear. Others crouched close to the deck, moaning pitifully. Many jumped into the sea. Capt. Ward remained on deck until the vessel had settled to such an extent that the water was engulfing him. Then he went up on the bridge and from there continued to issue his directions.

The wreck lies about three-fourths of a mile south of Port Point and about a thousand yards off the rocky shore. The smokestack and a portion of the upper works of the ill-fated steamer are visible.

Consul Wildman.

Rounseville Wildman, who is presumed to be lost, was well known in this city, where he resided for a number of years. He first came into prominence locally when he purchased the Overland, which he owned and edited for some years prior to entering the consular service at Hong-Kong. He resigned recently the post of consul general at Hong-Kong and was on his way home with his wife and family. Mr. Wildman married Miss Lettie Aldrich, daughter of Mrs. Louis Aldrich, a sister of United States Senator Stewart's wife.

The last seen of Consul Wildman was by George Englehardt. Mr. Englehardt says that Mr. Wildman went below in order to get some papers out of a tin box. Nothing was seen of him after this.

Elected President.

Washington, Feb. 23.—Mrs. Fairbanks has been elected president general of the Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She received 333 votes out of a total of 534 votes cast. Mrs. Donald McLean, of New York, received 208 votes, and Mrs. Washington Roebling, of New Jersey, 42.

A UNITED STATES SENATOR

Says Pe-ru-na, the Catarrh Cure, Gives Strength and Appetite.

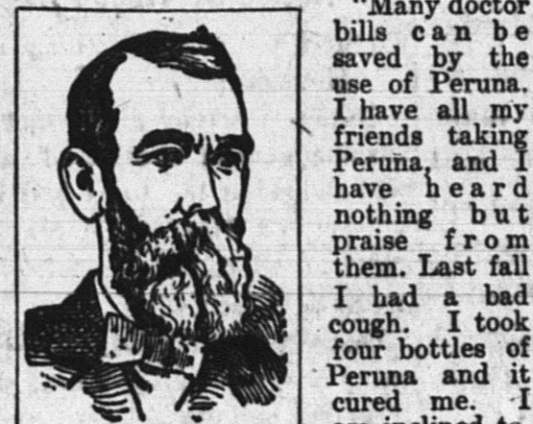

Hon. W. N. Roach, United States Senator from North Dakota.

"Hon. W. N. Roach, United States Senator from North Dakota, personally endorses Peruna, the great catarrh cure and tonic. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Company, at Columbus, Ohio, written from Washington, D. C., Senator Roach says:

"Persuaded by a friend I have used Peruna as a tonic, and I am glad to testify that it has greatly helped me in strength, vigor and appetite. I have been advised by friends that it is remarkably efficacious as a cure for the almost universal complaint of catarrh."—W. N. Roach, Larimore, North Dakota.

No other remedy can take the place of Peruna.

Mr. Ed. J. Makinson, contractor and builder, 610 Grand Block, Wabash Street, St. Paul, Minn., says:

Mr. Ed. J. Makinson, Contractor and Builder.

"Many doctor bills can be saved by the use of Peruna. I have all my friends taking Peruna, and I have heard nothing but praise from them. Last fall I had a bad cough. I took four bottles of Peruna and it cured me. I am inclined towards consumption, as all my family have died with it. I weigh 185 pounds, and I believe it is Peruna that has given me such good health."—J. Makinson.

As a result of the changeable climate, catarrh has become one of the most prevalent and universal diseases known to man. Nearly one-third of the people of the United States are afflicted with catarrh in some of its many phases and stages. Add to this the fact that catarrh rapidly tends to become fixed or chronic, also the further fact that it is capable of producing a great many other diseases, and we begin to realize the true nature of this dread disease.

So formidable has catarrh become that in every city or town of any size numerous doctors are to be found who make the treatment of catarrh a specialty. Of course a great deal of good is accomplished in this way, but as yet a comparatively small number of the people can avail themselves of this treatment because of the great expense necessarily attached to it.

To all such people Dr. Hartman's remedy, Peruna, comes as a great boon. Not only is it more successful in curing catarrh than the treatment of the catarrh specialists, but it is within the reach of every person in this land. Peruna can be bought at any drug store, and is a remedy without equal for catarrh in all forms, coughs, colds, bronchitis, consumption, and all climatic diseases of winter.

Peruna is not a guess, nor an experiment; it is an absolute, scientific certainty. Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna. Let no one persuade you that some other remedy will do nearly as well. There is no other systemic remedy for catarrh but Peruna.

Mr. Byron J. Kirkhuff, attorney, counsellor at law, writes from 691 Gates avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., the following:

"I have used your Peruna for catarrh and find its curative powers all you recommend. It cured me of a very bad attack and though I suffered for years I feel entirely relieved, and if it will benefit others, I gladly give it my endorsement."—B. J. Kirkhuff.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

If the Republicans of Washtenaw county will do their duty this spring and unitedly work for Charles E. Foster, the nominee for county school commissioner there is no good reason why he should not be elected. Mr. Foster has never been a politician, has never sat in a political convention as a delegate, he is clear of all political entanglements of every nature, and for these reasons is an ideal candidate for an office that should be removed as far from political "pull" as is possible. He has always attended strictly to the duties of his profession as a teacher, in which he has marked ability. Even during the five years he was in business life he never lost his interest in school matters and his counsel was often sought and followed on school questions in the town that was then his home. The interests of Washtenaw county's schools would be perfectly safe in Mr. Foster's hands and would be well looked after. We hope to see him elected.

The question of paying the members of the state legislature $1,000 a term and 10 cents a mile each way has passed the house and is to be submitted to the vote of the people at the coming spring election if the senate passes the bill and the Governor signs it. This will do away with special sessions and excessive legislation as the legislators will not care to waste any more time than they have to, when they get a stated salary.

The problem of who shall be tax commissioners was solved yesterday when Governor Bliss, finding he could not carry his point to make C. D. Lawton a commissioner, sent in the name of A. F. Freeman, of Manchester, to the senate, who immediately confirmed the appointment, having previously confirmed the appointment of Wm. T. Dust, of Detroit.

It's an unrivaled life-saver in consumption, pneumonia, la grippe and bronchitis, infallible for coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever, croup or whooping cough. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

THANKFUL TO MRS. PINKHAM

Letters Proving Positively that there is No Medicine for Woman's Ills Equal to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. ANNIE THOMPSON

"I cannot say enough in regard to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has done me more good than all the doctors. I have been troubled with female weakness in its worst form for about ten years. I had leucorrhoea and was so weak that I could not do my housework."

"I was taken sick five years ago with 'The Grippe,' and had a relapse and was given up by the doctor and my friends. Change of Life began to work on me. I flowed very badly until a year ago, then my stomach and lungs got so bad, I suffered terribly; the blood went up in my lungs and stomach, and I vomited it up. I could not eat scarcely anything. I cannot tell what I suffered with my head. My husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and before I had taken half of it I began to improve, and to-day I am another woman. Mrs. Pinkham's medicine has saved my life. I cannot praise it enough."

MRS. MADERSON

"I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound about 3 months ago, and cannot express the wonderful good it has done me. Menstruations were so profuse as to leave me very weak for some time after. Was also troubled with leucorrhoea, tired feeling, bearing down sensation, pain across the back and thighs. I felt as though there was a heavy weight in my stomach all the time. I have taken two bottles of the medicine, and now have better health than I have had for four years."

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL
Chelsea, Mich., Feb. 20, 1901.

Pursuant to regular adjourned meeting of Feb. 13, 1901, board met in regular session.

Meeting called to order by the president. Roll called by the clerk. Present, Wm. Bacon, president, and trustees Avery, Bachman, Burkhardt, Twamley and J. Bacon. Absent, R. A. Snyder.

Feb. 20, 1901.

To the honorable president and members of council of the village of Chelsea:

We would respectfully ask permission to place three 1 inch taps in the main near the tap which already supplies us with water, the same to be connected together on a 3 inch pipe to be used for the purpose of running motor to pump our organ. The taps will be made by Mr. Foster who will employ the same man who made the taps for Mr. Lighthall during the past summer. We will pay all the charges, and would also mention that the motor is of such construction that after it is in operation the proper water rate can very easily be computed. We will see that the main is tapped and fully covered up during the same day, thus allowing no chance whatever for freezing.

Respectfully submitted,

WOMAN'S WORK

WOMAN'S RELIEF CORPS WILL ERECT MONUMENT TO JENNIE WADE.

Why She Was Late—The Science of Killing—Changing Feminine Ideals, The American Girl Abroad—Mexican Women.

The Woman's Relief corps of Iowa has decided to erect a handsome monument to honor the memory of Jennie Wade, the heroine of the battle of Gettysburg. For the past 37 years this little grave has been unmarked save for a small stone. The monument will probably be erected in the spring and will be dedicated July 3, 1901, the thirty-eighth anniversary of the battle.

Jennie Wade was, at the time of the famous battle, only 20 years of age, and many of her old friends who are still living recall her as a noble and generous hearted girl. The first and second days of the battle she spent in carrying water to the soldiers on the firing line and helping to care for the sick and wounded.

Early in the morning of July 3, 1863, she was busy in the kitchen getting wood to heat the old fashioned brick oven, to bake bread for the soldiers. While thus employed she was called to the kitchen door, and as she went there was the whir of a bullet from a sharpshooter's rifle, and the brave girl dropped dead, shot through the heart.

On the evening of the same day, while the smoke of the battle still hung over Gettysburg, she was buried by the soldiers she had so ably assisted. Her coffin was one, that had been prepared for a Confederate colonel who had also died that day.

Every year on Memorial day her grave is decorated with flowers and American flags.

Why She Was Late. An intimate friend of a well known society young woman who was recently married undertook to honor the bride when she returned from an extended wedding tour by holding a reception for her, says the Chicago Democrat. All of the bride's associates in the circle were summoned to the house of her friend on a certain day. Every preparation that money could make in a wealthy household for such an event was carried out, and 4 o'clock was set as the hour for an elaborate dinner. The guests arrived promptly and were soon enjoying themselves in discussing the happy prospects of the bride and examining her numerous wedding gifts, which had been transported to the house for exhibition purposes.

When the hour for the dinner arrived the hostess was much worried to find that the bride was not present, and as yet no message explained her absence. Thinking that nothing serious, but something unforeseen, had delayed her, the guests were seated at the table at the appointed hour, as the feast could not well wait. When the courses were about half finished, a message came by telephone that the bride had fainted, but was recovering rapidly and no doubt would soon be able to be with her friends.

As the guests were leaving the dinner table a carriage drove up to the house and the bride alighted, presenting an appearance that surprised her old acquaintances. Instead of the neat and trim figure she had always presented and the smiles with which she greeted friends, her belt was hanging loose about her waist, her hair was unkempt and her collar missing. Her eyes were swollen from excessive crying, and tears were still on her cheeks. "What's the matter?" shouted a dozen or more women as she entered the house.

"Oh, he is all right now, but I was afraid he was going to die, and I fainted," she replied, still sobbing, and at the same time trying to regain her composure to explain further.

The friends crowded about and asked questions as to what terrible thing had happened the groom. The bride finally managed to say: "It wasn't George that was sick, but I do. I could not leave him alone, and, while waiting for George to come, after telephoning him, the poor dog grew worse and I could do nothing for him. George is there now, and it was safe for me to come away." It is not necessary to mention the effect of the little scene on the hostess and her guests.

A Woman as Engineer.

Of Miss Nevada Stout of Dyerville, O., who has received a license to run a stationary engine, the district examiner states that she answered correctly 24 of the 25 questions asked, which is better than the average male engineer does. He says: "I never was more surprised in my life than when I entered the engine room of the mill where this young woman is employed, for she is barely 18. The machinery was as clean as a new pin. There wasn't a speck of rust on it, and she was shoveling coal into the furnace and looking after the 50 horsepower engine in a way that indicated that she thoroughly understood her business. She was the only person about the mill, and yet the plant was running perfectly, and her employers had left her in charge, apparently with every confidence that she was fully competent and responsible."

Government Bulletins of Value to Mothers. Many valuable pamphlets which would be of great use to the house mother may be obtained free on application to the department of agriculture at Washington. Some of these are: The Nutritive Value and Cost of Foods; Souring of Milk and Other Changes in Milk Products; Meats; Composition and Cooking; Milk as Food; Fish as Food; Sugar as Food; Bread and Bread Making; Household Insects, in which much useful information is given as to their extermination.
