Miss Elizabeth Banks gave a concert solo, Miss Florence Beckett a flute solo, Miss Grace Hastings two violin solos and Mr. Carl Cranoe two vocal solos, all of which were highly appreciated by the large audience present.

A. E. Jennings of Detroit, representing the Hawks-Angus electric railway, was in the city Friday. His company, he said, had secured the right of way from Ann Arbor to within a quarter of a mile of Jackson, and rails will be delivered along this section within 30 days. All the bridges between Chelsea and Ann Arbor are completed and work is being done on those between Jackson and Chelsea. A contract for an addition to the power house at Ypsilanti, which will supply power for the entire line, has been awarded. The Hawks-Angus company is not looking for no franchise in Jackson, and Mr. Jennings was confident that no difficulty would be experienced in securing the franchise when the time came.—Argus.

A number of the young ladies of Chelsea have organized a society called the Theta Rho Delta. They were entertained by Miss Beatrice Bacon, Tuesday evening, at which time the following officers were elected: President, Miss Nellie Mingay; vice president, Miss Grace Brown; secretary and treasurer, Miss Iona Wood. They adopted royal purple and lemon yellow as their colors.

The ghost of Detroit's bi-centennial is once more prowling about, and the state is to be asked to contribute $25,000, so that Detroit can properly celebrate the occasion. Poor Detroit! The spectacle presented by the city in the garb of a beggar is pitiful in the extreme, but we doubt if the hearts of the lawmakers at Lansing will be softened by the sight, to the extent of relieving the treasury of the amount named. At least the Standard hopes not.

The high wind which was very much in evidence for a short time about 9 o'clock Sunday evening done considerable damage in this vicinity. The smoke-stack at the electric light station was blown down and in the fall smashed a large section of the roof in a bad manner. Frank Leach's windmill in the western part of the village was badly damaged, and chimneys in various parts of the village were blown down. A barn on the farm of Chas. Downer, just east of the village was also wrecked.

"Frances Gildersleeve Crozier, Tura, Assam, 5 pounds, January 26, 1901," is the inscription on a wooden card received by John Bosworth today. It was the first tidings of a new granddaughter, the daughter of Dr. G. G. Crozier and Mrs. Mabel Bosworth Crozier, both formerly of this city, who are now doing missionary work in Assam.—Washtenaw Times. Dr. Crozier is well known to many of The Standard readers, and was pastor of the Christian Union church at Sylvan for some time previous to his departure for Assam.

The first serious accident in constructing the Hawks-Angus road occurred Friday noon when Orrin Rounds, a married man, of Dexter had his eyes injured and his face and right shoulder and arm badly lacerated by an explosion of dynamite about five miles east of Jackson. It is necessary to blast the frozen earth. A charge had not exploded, and it is said the foreman ordered Rounds to bore the hole deeper. He had set to work to deepen the hole, when the dynamite exploded, blowing him some distance and injuring him badly. There is some question about restoring his vision, but it is believed the man will recover.

The publisher of a newspaper has one thing to sell and one thing to rent. He has the newspaper to sell, and the space in his columns to rent. Can any one inform us why he should be expected to give away either the one or the other? He can if he chooses, and he does, as a matter of fact, furnish a great deal of space rent free, but it does not follow that he ought to be expected to do so. It ought to be recognized as a contribution, exactly as would be the giving of sugar or coffee by a grocer. But, strange to say, it is not looked upon in that light at all; and yet everybody knows that the existence of a newspaper depends upon rent of its space and the sale of the paper, just the same as a merchant's success depends on selling his goods, instead of giving them away.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank all of the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during our recent bereavement. Mrs. John Cook, N. H. Cook and Family.
