LEAVE OUT YPSILANTI.

The Boland Electric Road will Run to Detroit via Plymouth.

"The extension of the Boland electric railway from Ann Arbor to Detroit will be by the way of Plymouth," said W. A. Foote, Mr. Boland's chief, recently, "and if I had the men I would put them out at once, buying private right of way between Ann Arbor and Plymouth."

The route chosen is four miles north of Ypsilanti, taking a direct route, through Dixboro and near Geer to Plymouth; east of Plymouth on a direct line touching Nankin, Pike's Peak and Wallaceville, to Grand River avenue, Detroit. It is understood that the Boland interests will use the tracks of the Citizens railway into Detroit. The proposed route will make connection with the Northville, Plymouth & Wayne electric road at Plymouth and with the Northwestern line at its spur from Farmington to Northville. While it has been suggested that the present electric railways between Plymouth and Detroit could be used by the Boland road, it is more than likely that the route suggested, being six miles shorter, will be the one used. W. A. Boland is in New York, but he is in continuous communication with Mr. Foote, and indications are that a definite plan has been decided upon.

"Cars must be running from Jackson to Detroit by September 1 without fail," is the word telegraphed by Mr. Boland. The significance of this declaration lies in the fact that there has been considerable talk of a purchase of the Hawks-Angus line by Mr. Boland's company, and negotiations to this end were supposed to have inspired the recent visit of that gentleman and Mr. Lewis to Detroit. The present indications of an intention to push the road eastward from Ann Arbor by a new route would seem to show that all negotiations for the purchase are off.

Lecture on St. Patrick.

In the presence of an audience numbering about 400 persons, Rev. William P. Considine delivered a most vigorous and inspiring lecture last Sunday evening, March 17th, in St. Mary's church on the illustrious apostle of Ireland, St. Patrick. Nearly 600 tickets were sold. A beautiful American flag was gracefully draped from gallery, while the sanctuary was made resplendent with many lights, tall graceful palms and pots of genuine shamrocks.

Miss Mary Clark ably presided at the organ and rendered several airs in a charming manner. Miss Mary Dunn of Detroit, a splendid vocalist with superb powers, sang the ever beautiful Irish songs, "The Harp that once through Tara's Halls," "The Minstrel Boy" and "Kathleen Mavourneen." Fr. Considine spoke for an hour and a half, in a modest way giving an interesting history of St. Patrick, the heroic struggle of the Irish people for liberty and their love for their faith and native land. It was an eloquent, inspiring and impressive recital of a great people, and was listened to with profound interest by the large audience. It was unquestionably the most successful lecture ever given in Chelsea and Father Considine is to be heartily congratulated on his superb presentation of his theme. The parish library is richer by $150 by this effort, and hearty thanks are due to all who contributed to bring about this successful result.

Death of a Pioneer.

Daniel B. Brown, the last of the five men who donated to the state the ground upon which the university is located, died at Ann Arbor last Thursday, aged 96 years. He was one of the most interesting characters in Michigan, and enjoyed a wide acquaintance all over the state. In his younger days he was a prominent Whig and helped organize the Republican party under the oaks at Jackson. Mr. Brown came to Washtenaw in 1826, and in 1833 was appointed sheriff. Later he was made superintendent of the Michigan Central railroad, while it was still operated by the state, and it was during his incumbency of the office that it was extended to Jackson from Ann Arbor, its then terminus. He held the position of superintendent until the state disposed of the road to a private company.

No wonder the fair sex is clamoring for equal rights. As it now stands, when a man dies his better half is entitled to only a third of his estate.

During the past eight months donations and subscriptions amounting to over $22,000 have been received for the Roman Catholic cathedral of Westminster, which structure is externally now practically complete.

Over $17,000,000 was spent on 102 vessels purchased by the navy department during the war with Spain. Seven of these were transferred to the war department, seven were sold and two sunk; thirteen are used by the state militia and five are at the navy yards or stations. Of all the remaining thirty-two seventeen are at the Asiatic station.

A queer sentence closes the inscription on a tombstone in a churchyard in Leigh, England. After announcing the name and other particulars of the lady there buried, these words follow: "A virtuous woman is 58, to her husband." The explanation is that space prevented "a crown" being cut in full, and the stonemason argued that a crown equals 58.

Mexico has a national bathing day. It comes once a year—on that day every Mexican, from the president down to the humblest servant or laborer, is expected to give himself or herself a good wash. Some of the Mexicans, probably fearing the pneumonia, rarely permit water to touch their bodies; but on the national bathing day the most of them like to get in the swim.

The Bon Marche, the great department store of Paris, feeds its 4,000 employees. The smallest kettle in its kitchen has a capacity of 100 quarts, and the largest 500. Each of the fifty frying pans is big enough for 300 cutlets. Every dish for baking potatoes holds 225 pounds. When omelets are on the bill of fare, 7,500 eggs are used at once. For cooking alone sixty cooks and 100 assistants are usually at the ranges.

A good story has been going the rounds of an old Spanish priest, who labored for a long time in the Philippine Islands. His friends entreated him, before he died, to write out in a book the knowledge which he had gained of the people for the enlightenment of his successors. After he was gone, they opened hopefully a large volume which he left, inscribed "What I know about the Filipinos," only to find that the pages were all blank.

Ohio capitalists closed a deal recently for the purchase of 4,000 acres of improved Florida lands, located on the St. John's river, forty-five miles south of Jacksonville. On the land is a beautiful magnolia grove and it is so situated that it is very desirable for residence purposes. During the coming summer the new owners will erect several handsome houses thereon, and the entire tract will be fenced and used as a game preserve for the enjoyment of the owners and their friends.

Philanthropy has been defined as Tom's opinion of what Dick ought to do for Harry. An ounce of illustration is worth a ton of definition. A visitor at a Hartford hospital was told that Nancy Cornelius, a young Indian nurse, could earn twenty dollars a week in that city, and have all her time employed. Feeling a call of duty to the sick and aged among her own people, this splendidly equipped woman offered her services as doctor, nurse, housekeeper and scrubwoman in a little hospital among the Wisconsin Indians. For this arduous work she receives the meager sum of $200 a year. Her returns in gratitude, and the humble efforts of her people to follow her lead to better things, pass all computation.

Captain George W. Streeter of Chicago entered the office of the chief clerk of the department of the interior the other afternoon and asked that he be sworn in as delegate in congress from the territory of Lake Michigan. He was informed that it is not a function of the department of the interior to administer the oath of office to members of congress. "But," persisted the captain, "I hold in my hand the electoral vote of the territory, which I must cast for president." Mr. De Lacy told the visitor he might get some light on the situation by going to the capitol and the captain moved eastward. Captain Streeter said in an interview: "Yes, it is true that I am the duly elected delegate for a term of four years from the new territory of Lake Michigan, east of Chicago, range 3, township 47. A territorial form of government was established there four years ago. We have a territory covering 300 acres and we have 127 voters. I am going up to the capitol to see Mr. Roosevelt."

Mothers never have any trouble with the naturally curly locks of their children, but it is the straight ones which perplex them. Some "hair doctors" say that if a child's hair be brushed upward instead of downward from infancy it will have acquired a tendency to curl by the end of the first year. In fact, hair dressing is a detail that receives too little attention in the case of little girls. Probably not one mother in three scores studies the contour of her daughter's face with a view to finding the most becoming head dressing.

30TH REGIMENT HOME AGAIN.

An Interesting Batch of Michigan Items Prepared for Quick Reading for Busy Michiganers—Many Lives Sacrificed in a Factory Fire at St. Joseph.

May Have All Perished.

Search of the ruins of the Noyes-Norman factory fire at St. Joseph, which was totally destroyed on the 17th inst., resulted in the finding of but two bodies, which have been identified. They are Miss Nora Bates and Louise Blondeau. A portion of another body, believed to be that of a woman, was found, but there is no way to identify the victim. Considerable difficulty was experienced in getting at the bodies. It was late before the fire had been controlled sufficiently to begin work. It has been learned that there was but one fire escape from the seventh floor of the building and at least 25 girls were on that floor. One of the girls who says she was the last to leave this floor says there were probably five or six other girls left behind when she went down the fire escape and she thinks all perished. The fire had been burning 15 minutes before the alarm to the girls on the top floor was given. Excuse is made on the grounds that the employees expected to put out the flames and gave the alarm when they discovered they could not succeed.

Will Pingree go Down in His Own Pocket?

Attorney-General Oren has filed his brief in the supreme court in the case brought by Judge Edward Cahill for a mandamus to compel the board of state auditors to allow his claim for legal services rendered ex-Gov. Pingree during several special sessions of the legislature. Mr. Oren appears for the and-opposes the granting of the mandamus. He states the facts to be that Judge Cahill was employed by the governor without knowledge of the attorney-general, and without the latter's consent, either expressed or implied; that the attorney-general was in no way disqualified to perform such services and was at all times, during the period in which they were rendered, accessible; that the auditors determined that the services were not rendered under such extraordinary circumstances as would justify the executive in employing counsel independent of the attorney-general, and that therefore no claim against the state was created.

30th Regiment Home Again.

The transport Hancock, carrying the 30th regiment, Col. Gardner's, which is made up of volunteers from Michigan and Illinois, arrived at San Francisco on the 12th and was sent to quarantine. The government tug Slocum, with army officers from the Piedmont, and a delegation from the local colony of Michigan and Illinois people, went out to the Hancock as soon as she got the quarantine tug's signal to come alongside. The soldiers were given a very cordial greeting. There were no deaths on the voyage and the health of the command is above the average. The voyage was a pleasant one and the soldiers are happy over the fact that it was made in quick time. There were in all 875 people on board, of which number 26 are army officers, 738 non-commissioned officers and men of the Thirtieth volunteers. The Hancock also brought 72 prisoners and discharged soldiers who were deported on a military order.

An Exciting Time at Hudson.

One of the most exciting scenes that has ever taken place in Hudson was witnessed there on the afternoon of March 11th when four alleged safe blowers who robbed a West Toledo postoffice on the 9th, stepped off the train from the east. City Marshal Chas. Atkinson attempted to arrest them and a desperate fight followed, in which about 50 shots were exchanged by officers and burglars. One of the burglars was held up by Theo. Atkinson near the depot and was arrested, while the other three escaped, with the officers in hot pursuit. About two miles from the city another of the robbers was captured after a hard fight, and another was overpowered at Posey lake, four miles north-east. The fourth man made his escape.

3,145 Deaths in Michigan in February.

There were 3,145 deaths reported to the secretary of state as having occurred in Michigan in February. This number is less than the number returned for January, but owing to the shortness of the month, the death rate per 1,000 population increased from 15.7 to 17.7. There were 472 more deaths in February, 1901, than in February, 1900. There was a marked decline in tubercular diseases, typhoid fever, diphtheria and croup, and a very considerable increase in the number of deaths reported from influenza. Pneumonia also increased, but not to as large an extent. There was one death reported from smallpox in the city of Saginaw.

The Caledonia State bank, capitalized at $20,000, which was to have started March 1, has thrown up the sponge and the charter already secured from Lansing has been returned.

As a result of a terrific blizzard throughout western Michigan on the 13th, trains on nearly all the railroads were stalled. The storm was considered one of the most disastrous one in years.

Chas. A. Johnson, cashier of the First National bank, at Niles, was arrested at Columbus on the 17th. He is badly broken in health, much emaciated and very nervous, but expressed a willingness to return to Niles.

A murder was committed at the Wayne county house on the night of the 13th. Two inmates named Wm. Harris and John MacMahon quarreled, when the former pulled a jackknife and stabbed the latter several times, caused his death a few minutes later.

The people at Harrison are scared over smallpox. The disease has not yet appeared there but there are several cases at the neighboring village of Clare. Public gatherings have been prohibited and general vaccination ordered. The March term of the circuit court has also been adjourned until April 22.

Rev. D. Cochlin, pastor of the Congregational church at Traverse City, has been nominated for alderman by the Republicans. He is vigorously opposing the brewery project in that place and one of the aldermen told him he was pumping more wind than gospel. He may cut some ice as a member of the council.

Coldwater is becoming a great shipping point for poultry. A single firm there paid out $55,000 last fall for poultry to ship to eastern markets. Work has begun on the construction of a big building with all the modern improvements for the handling of poultry, and it is said that when it is completed all the chickens and turkeys for miles around will be asking their owners to take them there when their time comes for being started on their way to become the piece de resistance for Thanksgiving dinners next year.

One death from smallpox was reported at Pinconning on the 12th.

Ex-Speaker Adams was invited to the house platform on the 12th, and among other things, he said: "If there is any cause rising on the people of Michigan its too much legislation. It would be a wise legislature that would carefully go over our statutes and reduce the number of laws so that one volume would hold them all. I want to congratulate you, gentlemen, upon the pleasant, sweet, harmonious session you have so far held."

Senator Kelly in the senate on the 12th called up his bill permitting 10 per cent of undersized fish to be sold. He made a little speech, but no one else talked, and the bill went to a vote. It was defeated by 16 yeas to 8 nays, 16 not being a majority. Kelly then had the vote reconsidered and the bill tabled. Half an hour later he called it up again, and then there was a long debate between him and Atwood. When this second vote was reached, Kelly moved a call of the senate, and this was done. This time the vote was 17 yeas to 11 nays, and Kelly was victorious.

OLD EMPLOYEES REMEMBERED

Andrew Carnegie Donated $5,000,000 for Endowment Fund.

THE GIFT IS WITHOUT A PEER.

By Contract the Carnegie Company Pays Its Employees 6 Per Cent on Their Savings and Loans Them Money to Build Homes—Other Items.

Sugar Beet Supply Insufficient.

By statistics recently compiled by the census bureau on the manufacture of beet sugar in the U. S., but one of the 31 factories in the whole country obtained sufficient beets in the last census year and many were operated to but a small fraction of their capacity. The bureau report says further: In the census year more than one-third of the domestic sugar product was obtained from beet and it was a year of extremely unfavorable agricultural conditions in beet districts. The factories could readily manufacture more than two and one-half times the quantity of sugar produced if supplied with sufficient raw material. Notwithstanding the very adverse agricultural conditions which resulted in the small supply of raw material, the value of the product was larger than the expenditures. A number of factories earned fair returns on the investments, others paid expenses and several lost heavily. The statistics demonstrate that beet sugar manufacture is a commercial success in the U. S.

Old Employes Remembered.

Two communications from Andrew Carnegie, which were officially made public on the 13th, tell of the steel king's retirement from active business life, and of his donation of $5,000,000 for the endowment of a fund for superannuated and disabled employes of the Carnegie company. This benefaction is by far the largest of the many created by Mr. Carnegie, and is probably without a counterpart anywhere in the world. This fund will in no wise interfere with the continuance of the savings fund, established by the company 15 years ago for the benefit of its employes. In this latter fund nearly $2,000,000 of the employes' savings are on deposit, upon which the company by contract pays 6 per cent and loans money to the workmen to build their own homes.

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

Many of the President's friends believe he will call an extra session of congress. He does not like the Philippine legislation, chiefly because of the Hoar amendment limiting the life of franchises to one year. The Cuban question bothers him. He does not want to pass on the Cuban constitution alone. In action taken affecting the colonies he wants congress to act with him.

NEWSY BREVITIES.

Gen. Gomez says he will not accept the presidency of Cuba, and is satisfied with the establishment of a republic.

The Utah legislature has passed the Evans bill, and Mormons can now be brought to trial for polygamy by family relatives only.

The transport Kilpatrick with 400 sick soldiers arrived at San Francisco from Manila on the 17th. Four privates died on the voyage.

Senator John T. Morgan, chairman of the committee on international canals, has given it as his opinion that the Nicaragua canal will be built, despite Great Britain's objections.

Capt. Gulick of the 47th volunteer infantry, has received the surrender of the insurgent Maj. Pulay, with 49 officers and 340 men, at the town of Gubat, in Albay province, southern Luzon.

The Brooklyn bridge authorities are contemplating the entire remodeling of the bridge in order to allow double capacity for elevated bridge trains. The cost, it is said, will be upwards of $1,000,000.

Lieut. Watson of the 45th volunteer infantry, while scouting near the hamlet of Bado, in Camarines province, southern Luzon, killed 15 insurgents and destroyed 15 of the enemy's thatched barracks.

Mrs. Carrie Nation's newspaper, the Smashers Mail, has appeared. It is a four column, 16-page paper of neat appearance, containing several half tone illustrations of various scenes during the last joint crusade. Mrs. Nation's paper prints only letters.

The bill which provides for a manual training school in Manila, as well as a normal school for the training of native teachers, opens up a new territory for American teachers. Over 1,000 teachers will be employed at salaries ranging from $800 to $1,500 a year.

When the jury in an assault case at Tiptonville, Tenn., reported that they could not agree that Ike Fitzgerald, the assaulter of a 19-year-old white girl named Miss Mina Davenport, was guilty, the mob seized him and hustled him from the courtroom and hanged him to the first tree.

The McKeesport, Pa., brewing plant, valued at $100,000 was completely demolished by an explosion of the "cooker," on the 12th. Three persons were killed and two injured by the collapse of the building following the explosion and one man is missing.

The boiler of an engine on the Lehigh Valley railroad exploded on the 13th, while the iron horse was pulling a train near Mud Run, Pa., and as a result three men were killed and the engine was blown into the Lehigh river. The train was not affected and ran for some distance without the engine.

CHINA WAR NEWS.

Inquiry in official circles in Berlin on the 13th developed the fact that nothing is known there officially regarding the report contained in a dispatch from Washington that Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang have advised the U. S. and other powers to induce Russia to abandon the Manchurian convention. The Pekin correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger gives statistics as to the number of foreign Christians killed during the troubles, exclusive of the Pekin siege. He enumerates 110 Englishmen, 70 Americans, Swedes and Norwegians, 25 Frenchmen, 11 Belgians, 10 Italians and Swiss, and 20 German. It is estimated that 20,000 native Christians perished.

Friction has arisen at Tien Tsin between the British and the Russians over a piece of land alleged to belong to the railway company and to have in possession of the company for some years. According to dispatches from Tien Tsin the Russians assert that this land is part of their new concessions and therefore Russian property. Mr. Kinder, manager of the railway had begun to make a siding, but was stopped by the Russian authorities. He appealed to Col. McDonald, who referred the matter to Gen. Barrow, British chief of staff in Pekin, who replied: "Carry on the siding with armed force, if necessary."

A general meeting of the foreign ministers was held on the 12th. There is strenuous opposition against demanding many more heads, but a list of 96 minor officials will be presented to Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang to be tried for complicity in the outrage and punished in such manner as the Chinese themselves see fit, except in the case of six men, who the ministers think should be excused.

The health of Li Hung Chang is again a matter of grave consideration to the ministers of the powers. Mr. Rockhill, the American special commissioner, who visited Earl Li on the 10th says he is a physical wreck and apparently in a state of utter collapse, although mentally as brilliant as ever. Mr. Rockhill says he would not be surprised to hear of his death at any moment.

A dispatch from Gen. Kitchener, dated Pretoria, March 12, says Gen. DeWet is north of Brandfont, Orange river colony. Continuous rains have interfered with the movements of the troops in Cape Colony. Two bands of Boers are being hunted among the hills by troops under Goring, Delisle, Grenfell and Hennenker.

The German war office received the following from Count von Waldsee on the 12th: In the fight west of Sulzing Pass we had only one slightly wounded. The Chinese left 250 dead on the field.

TRANSVAAL WAR ITEMS.

Gen. Botha is willing to surrender. He asked an armistice in order to communicate with Gen. DeWet and Mr. Steyn. Should they decline it is believed nevertheless that Gen. Botha will surrender.

Twelve fresh cases of bubonic plague, including three Europeans, were officially reported at Cape Town on the 12th. Another death, in this case a white person, has occurred from the disease.

Col. Pileher's column has cleared the country of Boers between Bloemfontein and the Orange river. The column, with 33 prisoners and 3,000 horses, has arrived at Bloemfontein.

The prospects of peace are still considered hopeful at Pretoria. The Boer losses last month were 160 killed, 400 wounded and 1,000 captured and surrendered.

The British naval estimates for 1911-1902 amount to $2,875,500, an increase of over $2,000,000, chiefly for shipbuilding.

Owing to the heavy rains, Gen. French's transport difficulties are still enormous.

Gen. DeWet's command has been broken up at Senekal, Orange river colony.

An agricultural station is to be established at Hawaii.

Bromwell from command of the Portsmouth navy yard, April 1, and ordering him to take command of the South Atlantic station, sailing from New York, April 3.

Getting Thin

is all right, if you are too fat and all wrong, if too thin already.

Fat, enough for your habit, is healthy; a little more, or less, is no great harm. Too fat, consult a doctor; too thin, persistently thin, no matter what cause, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil.

There are many causes of getting too thin; they all come under these two heads: over-work and under-digestion.

Stop over-work, if you can; but, whether you can or not, take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, to balance yourself with your work. You can't live on it—true—but, by it, you can. There's a limit, however; you'll pay for it.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the readiest cure for "can't eat," unless it comes of your doing no work—you can't long be well and strong, without some sort of activity.

The genuine has this picture on it, take no other.

If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you.

Fire broke out in the drying room of the Chelsea Steam Laundry about 8 o'clock last night and before it was extinguished considerable damage had been done, both by fire and water. The completed work on hand and the stock of caskets owned by S. A. Mapes & Co., were carried out, so that the damage to the stock is slight. The building owned by H. L. Wood.

The pile of wood in front of Hoag & Holmes' Saturday morning was the center of attraction, until R. A. Snyder's sharp saw, assisted by H. M. Twamley's ax and H. L. Wood's wheel barrow had succeeded in removing it from sight. Considerable sport was gotten out of the affair, but it will probably be some time before anyone around here makes any rash promises in regard to the election of certain candidates.

A bill now before the state legislature of special interest to the various villages of the state. It provides that village presidents shall be elected for a term of two years the same as trustees. The bill is now before the house committee on village corporations. In some localities the claim is made that it is hard to get good men to take to the office for one year, and if it were made a two year term it might be a still greater problem. Another bill before the same committee also amends the general village charter law of 1895 by making the office of marshal elective instead of appointive as at present.

NORTH LAKE.

We are glad to say that Frank A. Burkhart, who has been quite sick for five or six weeks is now recovered.

No event in the village of Chelsea has more shocked the community here than the sudden demise of George P. Glazier, with whom many of us have had pleasant business transactions.

The weather begins to act like spring and it is to be hoped with the advent of pleasant weather, better health conditions will prevail; and that another winter the grip will let us off easier.

R. C. Glenn, who has been very seriously ill with the grip and its concomitant evils, is now convalescent and was able to come to Chelsea Monday, being his first visit in nearly four months.

Last week, the winter term of school in district number 10, Lyndon, known as the Heatley and Hadley district, came to a close. After a week's vacation the scholars will resume their studies, under the same teacher, Dwight Marion for three months spring term.

Last Saturday afternoon the Unadilla Farmers' Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Hadley. The president is Emory L. Glenn, son of Wm. H. Glenn of North Lake, and secretary, Wm. Pyper of Unadilla. The opening paper was read by Wm. B. Collins of Lyndon, subject, "None but the best." We must compliment Mr. Collins both on his felicity of style and the good advice his paper contained. The discussion which followed was replete with information of a practical kind to farmers. Mrs. Geo. E. Marshall read a paper on "Housecleaning," which was appreciated and enjoyed, especially by the ladies. There were numerous recitations, also instrumental and vocal music of a high order of merit, and everyone felt on leaving that they had spent a most pleasant and profitable afternoon with neighbors and friends.

The regular meeting of the Grange was held last Wednesday evening. The weather being so cold and blizzardly there was not a large attendance, yet it was a lively and interesting session. Five new candidates for admission were voted on, and two interesting and instructive discussions were had upon the question: "The best and easiest way to raise strawberries," and "Which breed of sheep is the most profitable?" On Friday evening, the 23rd of March, an open meeting will be held in the hall, to which the public is cordially invited. There will be a full discussion of the question "Is culture an aid to labor?" There will be literary and musical selections, and the entertainment will conclude with a maple sugar supper. The Patrons of Husbandry extend a pressing invitation to all their neighbors, friends and well wishers to be present on that evening. The program commences at 7 o'clock.

FARMING IN WESTERN CANADA.

The Great Natural Fertility of the Soil in Manitoba, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

What Has Been Done by Premier Greenway, Himself a Leading Farmer.

Hon. Thomas Greenway, Premier of the Province of Manitoba, one of the foremost farmers of Western Canada, writes an excellent article to the press, from which the following extracts are made:

The writer came to Manitoba from Ontario in the autumn of 1878, and has ever since been engaged in agricultural pursuits. From the day, nearly twenty-two years ago, when he selected his homestead, he has had unbounded faith in the country as a place where farming can be successfully carried on, if pursued upon proper lines. There is a large number in this province who should rather be called "wheat-growers" than farmers. On account of the facilities, natural advantages, and therefore cheapness with which wheat can be grown, no doubt many have done exceedingly well by raising wheat only; still, it is far from ideal farming. Not only will such a course, if persisted in, have the effect of causing the land to run out, as has been the experience of those who pursued the same plan in the wheat-producing prairie States to the south of us, but it is far from being the most profitable course to adopt.

This fact is already being demonstrated in Manitoba. Let the farms in this Western country be managed upon the lines which were successful in the Eastern Provinces, and much more can be done here in a given time than was ever done in the East. The possibilities of failure are practically nil. Upon the farm there should be found horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry, according to the ability of the farmer, with respect to his means and the extent of his holding. The wanton waste which has hitherto been practiced by many farmers, that of burning vast quantities of excellent fodder after threshing is done, should cease; it should all be used upon the farm and converted into the old, sensible kind of fertilizer manure, and afterwards returned to the soil, so that what has been taken from it by the crop may be restored. Although admitting that the great natural fertility of the soil in Manitoba and the success that has attended the growing of wheat after a heat for years upon the same land have a tendency to make such a course as the one mentioned tempting, yet, if continued, wheat growing upon the same land year after year is undoubtedly a mistake.

The writer knows of no country that offers advantages so great to the agriculturist as does Manitoba. The various branches of farming can be carried on successfully, as twenty-two years of practical operations and observations of what others are doing have proven. To those desiring to make new homes for themselves, the low price of some of the best lands in the world (although rapidly advancing in price this year) offers still great opportunities. To all such the invitation is cordially given to "Come and see." There is land for all who choose to come, land upon which happy homes can be established, and from which ample resources can be gathered against old age. All that a man needs to achieve competence in this domain is common sense and industry. With these qualifications he is bound to succeed.

For information regarding free homestead lands, apply to any agent of the government whose advertisement appears elsewhere in these columns.

Hollow Ash... Hall BY MARGARET BLOUNT.

The rooms were all unfurnished; but in one, "The turret chamber," as it was called, though it was not built in turret fashion, Rose came upon a tangible relic of the past.

It was a large oaken cabinet, black with age. Its doors were open. As they approached it the setting sun broke from a bank of thin white fog, and filled the whole apartment with a ruddy glow. Rose, ever curious, was the first to search the cabinet.

There were several toilet ornaments in Venetian glass and gold upon the upper shelf. Upon the lower one lay a small yellow packet and a fragment of an old letter. Rose took it up eagerly and read these words traced in a delicate yet unformed handwriting:

"And so I send the gift, but I fear it will outlive your love. Last night, when you left me you forgot my goodbye kiss; and so this morning I thought—"

There the fragment ended. It was the old, old story, coming down from remote years. Woman's tender love—woman's pained recognition of a slight—woman's faith, mixed sweetly with woman's fear of losing what she prized far more than anything else the world had to bestow. Rose stood musing with the fragment of paper in her hand, till her father spoke.

"Poor little goose! I wonder where she and her lover are now? What is in the packet, Rose?"

The girl broke the string. A long tress of dark brown hair fell lightly over her hand. That was the "gift," no doubt, which was still fresh and glossy, while the head on which it grew was perhaps lying low in the grave.

Rose laid it reverently back beside the letter. Mr. Cowley fidgeted about a moment or two, and then said that they had better go. He had evidently seen enough for that day at least. As for Rose, the dead girl's words seemed sounding in her ear all the way home.

"Yet why die?" she asked herself that, as she woke with a start at two o'clock the next morning.

Mrs. Cowley went back to the village hotel in a more agreeable frame of mind. She fondly imagined that the gloom and silence of the Hall had been too much even for the jovial spirits of her husband to encounter. Brighton looked nearer than ever, as she sank placidly to sleep that night.

But the next morning undeceived her, Mr. Cowley was up with the lark, and when she descended with the girls to the nine o'clock breakfast, he was not there. "He had gone to the Hall," meek Mrs. Grimes informed them with a courtesy.

"To the Hall?" gasped Mrs. Cowley in dire dismay. "What for?"

"Mr. Grimes went up with him, mum. They took out a lot of painters and plasterers, mum. Not to speak of the two charwomen as is to go next week."

"Mercy preserve us!" exclaimed the horrified British matron. "Is the man in his senses? Can he think of living there after all that we saw last night?"

Mrs. Grimes shook her head and sighed.

"Men is that contrary, mum, that an angel from heaven would not well know what to do with them!" she observed, sympathizingly. And certainly, after living so many years with Simon Grimes, she ought to have been a judge.

Mrs. Cowley took her breakfast with what appetite she might. At noon her liege lord appeared—dusty, tired and cross. From him she learned that the workmen were progressing favorably, that the place would be ready for the charwomen by the end of that present week, instead of the next, and that everything would be finished by the last day of the month.

"So get ready to move on the first day of December, old lady," he added, merrily, "for we shall keep our Christmas there."

The "old lady" groaned at the thought. What sort of a Christmas would it be in that dismal, lonely, haunted ruin?

But Mr. Cowley carried his point, as he always did. Day after day did he spend at the Hall, sometimes with Mr. Grimes, sometimes with the agent, but often alone with his workmen, who did their tasks in platoons, and would, on no account, stay on the premises a moment after sundown. Not so the charwoman who succeeded them. She was a stranger in the place, and felt to reverence for its traditions. Consequently she refused to believe in the ghosts; and when Mr. Cowley heard her avow her want of faith in a great strong voice and with a hearty laugh he was so enchanted with her good sense that he engaged her on the spot to remain at the Hall as servant till the scruples of the neighboring damsel should be sufficiently overcome to enable them to serve, with or under her, or perhaps to take her place. But for her opportune arrival, Mrs. Cowley might have been forced to make her own bed, get her own dinner and black her husband's boots—for no village girl could have been induced for love or money to engage at the Hall till it was fairly proved whether Queen Bess was there or not.

Mrs. Macarthy, however, was a host in herself, and the sight of her broad, smiling face was enough to put the most crabbed ghost into good humor if by chance she should happen to meet one. She worked with a will during light hand upon her own. She shrieked wildly, and ran headlong down, only to find the whole family in the hall, looking pale and frightened, and evidently ready to face twenty ghosts, for the benefit of whose fleshless noses Mr. Cowley grasped the tongs.

"Good gracious, Rose!" exclaimed her mother, trembling from head to foot. "What is it? Have you seen anything?"

"No," said Rose, looking extremely silly; "but I was all in the dark at the head of the stairs, and I fancied some one touched me."

"I wish to goodness you would be sure of your danger, young lady, before you scare us all out of our wits another time!" said Mr. Cowley, leading the way back to the drawing-room and disposing of the tongs in their place once more. "I made sure by your squalling that old Queen Bess, at the very least, was after you. If you are going to fancy ghosts in every direction, you had better go back and take shelter with Mrs. Grimes as soon as you can. Why, here's Kitty, who couldn't bear the idea of this house, and look at her now. She don't like it, and she may believe there are ghosts here, but I don't think she would invent them for herself beforehand, as you seem to have done. No more nonsense, Rose, if you please, or every one in Banley shall know that you, who were so eager to get here, were the first to cry out 'Wolf!' half an hour after you came."

Mr. Cowley, having delivered his lecture, resumed the perusal of the Times. Catherine said nothing, it is true, but even her crochet needles, as she worked, seemed to assume an air of superiority over Rose. That young lady sat, looking sulky beside the fire. Human nature prompted her to throw her book at Catherine's head, but young lady nature came to the rescue, and prevented any such untoward act. At last her sense of injury subsided as she drew near the lamp and began to read.

Certainly she had chosen the queerest volume possible for such a place. It was Mrs. Crowe's "Night Side of Nature," a book well calculated to give a sound nightmare even to the most incredulous opponent of the ghost theory.

For some minutes she was very quiet; but Mrs. Cowley, looking up from her knitting, got a glimpse of the illustrated cover, where, beside the old hall clock, and by the light of a splendid harvest moon, a genuine orthodox ghost, in a winding sheet, is appearing to a terrified maid-servant, just preparing to faint upon the floor.

One look was enough for Mrs. Cowley. She uttered an exclamation that drew every eye to the unlucky book. Mr. Cowley looked over his spectacles at his daughter, as if he had thought she had suddenly gone mad.

"What could have possessed you to bring that horrible thing here?" he asked sternly. "It is the greatest nonsense, only fit to go into the fire. I have half a mind to make you put it there now!"

Miss Rose, at that moment, owed her entire family a grudge; and, having frightened herself to death with the grisly tales she had been reading, suddenly determined to frighten them also.

"If I can't sleep a wink tonight for thinking of these dreadful things, neither shall Catharine," was her amiable resolve. So, putting on her sweetest smile, she looked up from the obnoxious book into her father's face.

"Dear papa, you are just a little prejudiced against Mrs. Crowe—you know you are."

An Island of Sulphur.

In the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand, is situated White Island, which consists mostly of sulphur mixed with gypsum and a few other minerals. Over this island, which is about three miles in circumference, and which rises between 800 and 900 feet above the sea, floats continually an immense cloud of vapor, attaining an elevation of 10,000 feet. In the center is a boiling lake of acidulated water, covering fifty acres, and surrounded with blow-holes from which steam and sulphurous fumes are emitted with great force and noise. With care a boat can be navigated on the lake. The sulphur from White Island is very pure, but little effort has yet been made to procure it for commercial purposes.

Record for Longest Reign.

Now that Queen Victoria is dead, Francis Joseph of Austria holds the record of the longest reign in Europe, or, indeed, in the world. He has been on the throne more than fifty-two years and is in the seventy-first year of his life. But Francis Joseph is by no means the oldest ruler. The possessor of this distinction is neither the emperor of Austria nor, as is generally supposed, King Christian of Denmark, who is 82, and has reigned thirty-seven years. The oldest living ruler is a lesser known personality, the Grand Duke Adolphus of Luxembourg, who came into the world in 1817.

PEACE REIGNS AT TIENSIN

Latest Cables Say Diplomacy Has Won Dispute.

RUSSIA'S CLAIMS GRANTED.

Contingent on Priority of Rights—Was Between Two Countries Was Insistent Up to Last Moment—Russians Had Been Ordered to Use Force.

London, March 20.—Lord Salisbury and the Russian diplomats have settled amicably the Tientsin incident. Russia practically wins all her contentions. The misunderstanding was alleged to be due to Chinese duplicity granting two concessions of the same place.

Russia agrees to let England proceed with the building of the siding, providing that Russian priority of construction to the whole district is established and acknowledged by England.

AN EARLIER REPORT.

Russians Under Gen. Wogack Were Ready for Armed Conflict.

Tientsin, March 20.—General Wogack, the Russian commander here, has thrown his defiance and the defiance of Russia at Great Britain and the allies as represented by Field Marshal Count von Waldersee.

On an urgent telegram from his chief of staff Count von Waldersee returned from Kioachou, where he was spending a holiday, and sought as commander-in-chief to bring to an end the conflict between the British and Russian forces. The armies of these powers confront each other and are in a state of extreme exasperation.

General Wogack curtly declined to entertain the compromise suggested by the field marshal that both parties withdraw their troops from the disputed land, reiterating his declaration that the mere fact that he had a clash proved the necessity of maintaining a Russian guard. The situation is in the highest degree acute and a chance shot would be sure to provoke a bloody conflict.

The Russian commander is exerting himself as sincerely as is the British to prevent such an outbreak. Yet the situation is ominously suggestive of that other time, nearly half a century ago, when the British lay in the trenches before Sebastopol.

The officers and the two nations salute one another most courteously in their anxiety to prevent a clash, but the private soldiers, whose business is fighting, not diplomacy, have worked themselves up to a point of fury.

The French soldiers are more violent in their animosity toward the British than the Russians. Their officers try to maintain neutrality, but with difficulty.

LONDON HEARS BAD NEWS.

Tension Is Increasing and Report Says Conflict May Come.

London, March 20, 3 a. m.—A dispatch to the Times from Tientsin states that Field Marshal von Waldersee, as commander-in-chief of the allied forces, has induced the Russian and British troops to withdraw from the disputed siding. This dispatch is not confirmed from other sources.

On the other hand, a dispatch from Tientsin received in Paris during the night says that General Wogack declined a compromise of the railroad siding dispute that was suggested by Field Marshal Count von Waldersee.

In the meantime dispatches dated at Tientsin declare: "The tension is increasing and a conflict may be expected at any moment. The troops of all nations are under arms. The situation around the station is unchanged, although all is disquieting. It is possible that the French troops will interfere in the quarrel in spite of the efforts of their officers to preserve neutrality. Yesterday afternoon several groups of French soldiers walked to the British concession shouting: 'A bas les Anglais.' Quarrels resulted and in some cases blood was shed. The French never walk without their bayonets. Three Frenchmen attacked Captain Bogier of the British army and forced him to leave a rickshaw. The Captain defended himself with his fists. He had rid himself of some of the aggressors when a party of Sikhs came to his rescue. General Lord Campbell then called on the troops and drove the Frenchmen from the concession. I placed sentries around the British section and ordered them not to allow any more French soldiers to enter."

Glass Workers on Strike.

Toledo, Ohio, March 20.—Sixty-five members of the Glass Workers' union employed at the MacBeth Evans factory in this city went out on strike yesterday morning. Their grievance is that the company compels the men to stand all breakage.

Capture Noted Rebel.

Manila, March 20.—Capt. Shanks of the Eighteenth United States Infantry has captured Diocino, the noted Tagal leader, in Capiz province, island of Panay. Two rebels were killed and three, including Diocino, were wounded.

Last For Murder.

Helena, Ark., March 20.—Ed Hughes, a Mississippi negro, while drunk, went to a festival armed with a shotgun and fired twice into the crowd, wounding twenty-one people. He fled to his home, where he shot and killed his wife while she slept. It is probable that the negroes will lynch him.

ALARMING MORTALITY

Noticeable Among the Weak and Ailing.

BRINGING THE TIME DEATH NEAR ITS LARGEST HARVEST.

There is a Way of Blinding the Grim Destroyer.

Every Spring it is noticeable how many people are taken away that we have become accustomed to see in our daily life. Statistics show that at no other season of the year does so many deaths occur.

Especially large is the mortality among weak and sickly people. The reason for this is apparent. The body that is weakened by age or disease has much to contend with during the Winter months. Insufficient exercise frequently has been taken. Too much starchy and fatty foods have been eaten. The system has been allowed to become run down, and when Spring comes with its bright, sunshiny days, older people will begin to realize that their vitality has become very low. The same thing is true of people who are naturally sickly and weak.

This is the season of the year when even a strong person feels at his worst. That tired, restless feeling is experienced by too many.

There need not be as many deaths this year as usually take place. A little care will ward off many Spring fevers. If one is weak or ailing they should take time by the forelock and take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. This great medicine has been in many cases, and will continue to be, the means by which the black angel of Death has been driven from the threshold. It dispels the grim destroyer in a scientific way, for it purifies the blood and gives strength and vitality to the nerves. It tones up and restores to a healthy condition all of the great life-giving organs of the body.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will enable those who take it to throw off little ills that prove dangerous only when they attack a system already wasted and weakened.

From many people, who have experienced benefit from this great all-life-lengthener, comes the following from the famous General Longstreet of 1217 New Hampshire Ave., Washington, D. C. He says:

"It gives me great pleasure to add my testimony with many others for Dr. Greene's Remedy, which I have used with highly beneficial results, and I am able to recommend its virtues from experience. I have used it for catarrh and have derived help."

Mr. Wellington Hynes, Elizabethtown, N. Y., writes:

"I feel it my duty to tell how much good Dr. Greene's Nervura has done me. I was so run down that I could not sleep at night and everything worried me. I had no appetite and could not work, my head ached all the time and there was an all-gone feeling in my stomach, and I was always looking on the dark side of everything. I began to take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and in less than three weeks I felt like a new man. I can now do as much work as is expected of a man my age. I advise anyone who is troubled to take Dr. Greene's Nervura. Do not go to a doctor but get a bottle of Dr. Greene's Nervura. It is cheaper than a doctor's bill."

The latter part of Mr. Hynes' advice might be profitably disregarded, however, if you should feel you would like the advice of a physician. You can have such advice and have it free if you will write or call on the greatest known blood and nerve specialist, Dr. Greene, 35 W. 14th St., New York City.
