IS NOW IN THE COURTS.

Judge Kinne Asked to Issue a Mandamus in the Electric Light and Water Works Case.

The dispute over the control of the Chelsea electric light and water works has finally landed, where it was all along expected it would, in the courts of law.

Feb. 6, 1901, the common council passed an ordinance establishing a board of commissioners consisting of five persons to control and manage the water works and electric light plant, one of whom was to serve for one year, two for two years and two for three years, and put all the contracts, etc., in the hands of the board and the secretary and treasurer it should name. The commissioners named were William Bacon for one year, D. C. McLaren and L. P. Vogel two years and H. S. Holmes and G. W. Turnbull three years. The board elected L. P. Vogel secretary and treasurer.

March 25 the new common council, elected March 4, passed an ordinance repealing the ordinance of Feb. 6 and abolishing the board of water and electric light commissioners and vesting the control in a committee of three of the common council. The committee named was President Glazier, John W. Schenk and O. C. Burkhardt.

At the meeting held April 10 the council appointed Bernard Parker secretary of the electric light and water works committee and in the same resolution instructed the village clerk to notify L. P. Vogel to "deliver to Mr. Parker all books, papers, monies and other property in his hands belonging to the village, and to render to Mr. Parker and also to the council a faithful and honest account of all business transacted by him" while holding the office of secretary of the board of electric light and water works commissioners.

April 19 the common council passed another resolution, which stated that the ordinance creating a board of electric light and water works commissioners had been repealed and in its place an ordinance enacted placing the control and management of the electric light and water works plant in the hands of a committee, and ordered and directed the village clerk to "at once make demand-upon Louis P. Vogel for the moneys, books, papers and other property in his hands or under his control belonging to said village of Chelsea and that the said Louis P. Vogel be required to deliver up possession of said money, books, orders and other property, and that in default thereof the president of the village of Chelsea is hereby instructed to take whatever legal steps are necessary for the recovery of the money and other property in the possession of the said Louis P. Vogel as secretary of said commission or board of commissioners."

The resolution further ordered that a copy of the resolution be personally served on each member of the board of commissioners.

The demand was not complied with and on Saturday Cavanaugh & Wedemeyer and H. D. Witherell, as attorneys for President Glazier and the common council, filed a petition with Judge E. D. Kinne asking that he grant an order that Louis P. Vogel be required to show cause why a peremptory mandamus should not issue compelling him to turn over all the water works papers, records, etc., while he was secretary and treasurer of the electric light and water works plant of Chelsea. The petition was granted and the hearing in the case was set for Monday next, May 6. Mr. Vogel's attorneys are A. J. Sawyer & Son, of Ann Arbor.

On Tuesday Cavanaugh & Wedemeyer commenced another suit against Louis P. Vogel, as principal, and D. C. McLaren and H. S. Holmes as his sureties, to recover all monies Mr. Vogel has in his possession by reason of having been secretary and treasurer of the plant. The hearing of the case is set for Tuesday, May 7.

COUNTY CONVENTION

Of Christian Endeavorers Possessed a Good Many Features of Interest.

The Washtenaw County Union Christian Endeavor convention held at the Congregational church last Friday had not as large an attendance as had been expected, but the 40 who were present made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers. The papers read were good ones and the discussions that followed them were well sustained. The address on "Ultimate America in the Mayflower," by Rev. R. W. McLaughlin, of Kalamazoo, at the evening session, was a fine effort and was attentively listened to.

The officers of the association elected for the ensuing year were:

President—Willis L. Gelston, Ann Arbor.

Vice President—Miss Kathrine Haarer, Chelsea.

Secretary and Treasurer—Francis L. D. Goodrich, Ann Arbor.

Missionary Superintendent—Miss Higley, Ypsilanti.

Junior Superintendent—Fred C. Mapes, Chelsea.

Executive Committee—Miss Jennie Woods, Ann Arbor; Miss Minnie Jones, Saline; D. W. Greenleaf, Chelsea.

The delegates from other places were most hospitably entertained by the Chelsea Endeavorers.

Electric Railway Notes.

The grade crossing of the Boland electric railroad over the Michigan Central spur at Jackson Junction has at last been approved by the railroad commissioner.

Washtenaw Times: Fred Siple has sold a strip of the north end of his lot on West Huron street, Ann Arbor, to the Boland people for $500. It is 75 feet wide on one end and 45 feet at the other.

Messrs. Selling and Hatch, attorneys, of Detroit, were in Saline Friday looking after a franchise for an electric road to run from Ann Arbor through that village to Macon, Clinton, Tecumseh and Adrian. Everett, the electric railroad magnate, is said to be back of the attorneys.

The Boland electric railroad interests Saturday closed a deal for land on North Mechanic street, Jackson, near the state prison, as a site for a main power house, paying $6,000 for the tract of land, 250x300 feet. The plant will consist of two large buildings, one for eight boilers with self-feeding mechanical stokers for the furnaces; the other for engines and dynamos, furnishing 5,000 horse power.

Superintendent J. B. Foote, of the Boland electric road, Friday purchased of the Michigan Central railroad a locomotive for use in the construction of the line. The engine is at Detroit, and will be delivered to the electric railroad people at Grass Lake, at which town it will be placed on the road of the Boland company and haul gravel trains, and perform other work in connection with the construction of the electric road.

Death of Mrs. Robert Howlett.

Mrs. Robert Howlett died at her home in Lyndon, Wednesday evening, April 24, aged 87 years, of pneumonia. Her aged husband and five sons, William, Thomas, Robert, John and Fred A., all of whom are well known in this vicinity, survive her. Mrs. Howlett was one of the old pioneers of this section and endured all the hardships and privations incident to a pioneer's life when she and her husband first settled in Lyndon. The funeral services were held at her late home Sunday and were largely attended by her relatives, friends and neighbors.

Their 25th Anniversary.

Friday was the 25th anniversary of the wedded life of Mr. and Mrs. James Speer. A number of their friends and neighbors hearing of the event got up a surprise on them and Thursday evening went over to their home on Railroad street. There were about 35 in the party and a merry evening was spent by all. Besides the good wishes they expressed when they departed for their homes the self-invited guests left a handsome couch with Mr. and Mrs. Speer as a memento of the occasion.

This is the address given in an order for Dodd's Kidney Pills, received and filled by the Dodd's Medicine Company, of Buffalo on Apr. 16th.
This unique direction means, that to reach the sick people of Iceland, the parcels must travel to New York, then to London, Eng., then northwest to Greenland, to be landed finally, on the lonely island at the edge of the Arctic Circle.
This is a pointed illustration of how United States goods find their way to the remotest corners of the earth.
America to-day, produces better medicines, as well as better manufactured articles than any other country in the world, and this fact accounts for the demand for Dodd's Kidney Pills from every part of the known universe.

"Now Don't Get the Blues."

When a cheerful, brave and light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the blues, it is a sad picture.

It is usually this way:
She has been feeling out of sorts for some time, experiencing severe headache and backache; sleeps very poorly and is exceedingly nervous.

Sometimes she is nearly overcome by faintness, dizziness, and palpitation of the heart; then that bearing-down feeling is dreadfully wearing.

Her husband says, "Now, don't get the blues! You will be all right after you have taken the doctor's medicine."

But she does not get all right. She grows worse day by day, until all at once she realizes that a distressing female complaint is established.

Her doctor has made a mistake.
She loses faith; hope vanishes; then comes the morbid, melancholy, everlasting blues. She should have been told just what the trouble was, but probably she withheld some information from the doctor, who, therefore, is unable to accurately locate her particular illness.

Mrs. Pinkham has relieved thousands of women from just this kind of trouble, and now retains their grateful letters in her library as proof of the great assistance she has rendered them. This same assistance awaits every sick woman in the land.

Mrs. Winifred Allender's Letter.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have received from your wonderful remedies. Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I was a misery to myself and every one around me. I suffered terrible pain in my back, head, and right side, was very nervous, would cry for hours. Menses would appear sometimes in two weeks, then again not for three or four months. I was so tired and weak, could not sleep nights, sharp pains would dart through my heart that would almost cause me to fall.

"My mother coaxed me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had no faith in it, but to please her I did so. The first bottle helped me so much that I continued its use. I am now well and weigh more than I ever did in my life."—MRS. WINIFRED ALLENDER, Farmington, Ill.

Here have gathered the aristocracy of the great east side—though the word itself is tabooed. Be you Jew or gentile, millionaire or commoner, you will be welcome to these free-for-all gatherings of the people. You may speak as you will and your words will receive careful heed. There is but one requirement for your admission to the circle of this illuminated brotherhood—cleverness. Here the highest class of intelligence may be found. Here you may meet men who are thinkers in the broadest sense of the word; men who have studied the lessons of life from theory and practice; men whose bodies have been pinched with want, but whose minds have feasted at the board of intellectual attainment.

You may hear Shakespeare quoted as if it were a primer. You may hear the Darwinian theory of evolution exents of a high order, be he comedian or tragedian, for you must know that the east side is a severe critic, and success can only be achieved there by true talent. He has about him an interested group. He is telling to them a story or an amusing incident. His listeners represent the lighter side of the night.

In another corner are eight or nine men silently watching two chess players absorbed in the intricacies of the game. Their faces betray the deepest interest. They are all experts and watch with an intensity that borders on worriment each move and study each possibility of the play.

Near the center is a man with unkempt hair and haggard eyes talking with an earnestness that demonstrates the faith in his own words. He is a socialist and the room is full of those who sympathize with him. He is discussing the situation in Russia. He knows the life and the movements of every czar. He knows of the horrors of Siberia. He calls by name this one and that one who has been driven in chains to a Russian prison. He draws a word picture of the oppression of his people and his very thoughts find an echo in the breasts of the men who surround him.

As one glances into the faces of the men assembled there he sees a little world the like of which has never before entered into his philosophy. The faces are thin and hungry looking. They are pale and drawn and they have about them the unmistakable air of the worker between brick walls; the toiler for bread on whom God's sunshine seldom shines. But through the eyes comes the light of the higher life. There may be hungry men there, but not one among that throng who would not forego his supper rather than miss the joy of that one night.

Despite the poverty that overshadows all there is a general air that bespeaks cleverness and wit and wisdom and casts a glamour over the midnight meetings in the Russian cafes that long remains upon the memory of those who visit them.

There is seriousness there, to be sure, but above it all bubbles an effervescent humor that causes all to smile and enter into the mood of joyous intellectuality that pervades all men and all things. And amidst them all circulates Mine Host. He is round and smooth of face, and his smile is contagious. He is not the stiff and indifferent proprietor who stands behind his counter, aloof from the guests. His business is to entertain in the full meaning of the term. To keep abreast of his guests he is posted on all the topics of the day. He knows his patrons by name. To show his willingness to provide for the comfort of all he has his apron tucked around his waist, but he seldom serves. He passes the good word with those seated about the table. He discusses the latest song, the news from Russia and Germany; the attitude of England toward the Boers; the crisis in the east; the political situation in New York, the rule of Tammany or the strong point in the sermon at one of the synagogues the preceding Sabbath. With each topic he is equally familiar.

Nearly all these bright men on the east side have their choice of cafes. This choice is generally decided according to the liking they may have for the proprietor. If he would make a success of his business he must be a man of brains, for his patrons are possessed of education and ability.

FREDERICK BOYD STEVENSON.

OLD DARKY AT SCHOOL.

Mrs. Jennie McCorkel, of Omaha, Neb., is 68, But Not Too Old to Learn to Read.

Mrs. Jennie McCorkel (colored), aged 68 years, is attending night school in Omaha, Neb., her purpose being to learn to read.

"I want to go to Heaven when I die," she says, "and if I'm going to do that I've got to read the Bible. But I never learned to read when I was little, so I've got to learn it now. All I'm going to school for is to learn to read the Bible. That's all I want to know."

What is true of Mrs. McCorkel is also true of Mrs. Linnie Copeland, 60 years old, and of Benjamin Jones, 55 years old. All are members of the colored colony down on the river bottoms and all are attending the night sessions of the Cass school.

They began three weeks ago, and thus far have learned the alphabet and to read words of two and three letters. They don't care to learn to write. Arithmetic is not in their curriculum and they consented to learn spelling only when told that they could not well read without it. As text-books they use Bibles, of which each has a handsome volume, bound in leather, with index and marginal notations.

"Ignorance is the curse of God, knowledge the wing wherewith we fly to Heaven," is a favorite quotation of Mrs. McCorkel, and though her teacher has frequently told her that this is from Shakespeare and not from the Bible her answer invariably is: "Well, if it ain't in the Bible, it ought to be there. It's true, anyway."

There are 40 pupils altogether in the school attended by the ancient trio, their ages ranging from seven to 68 years. All work during the day and study at night. Mmes. McCorkel and Copeland take in washing, while most of the younger ones are employed as cash girls, newsboys or messenger boys. One of the little girls, who lives just across the street, has been adopted by "Aunty" McCorkel as her special protegee, and when the latter gets sleepy, as she often does about recess time, "aunty" rocks her to sleep, singing to her one of the quaint plantation chants learned many years ago down in "Ol' Vaginee." Then, when school is dismissed, she carries the child across the street to her home and puts her to bed.

A most kindly spirit of friendship exists between the young and old pupils of the school. They mingle together on terms of perfect equality and the games of childhood they play appear to be enjoyed equally by both. The younger pupils do not taunt the older ones with either their age or color, and, on the other hand, the older ones take no offense when coaxed by the younger ones in their studies.

Just at present Mrs. McCorkel is studying from Psalms, large portions of which she can repeat from memory.

"O clap your hands, all ye people, and shout unto God with the voice of triumph," is one of her favorite passages. The sentiment seems to appeal to her.

"She is able to read it when she sees it in print," says the teacher, "but when I transpose the words she gets confused. Silent letters are also a great bugbear to her. For example, she can't understand why 'psalm' should be spelled with a p, as I dare say, few others can. But she is getting along nicely, and for all that I can see she is making about the same progress as a bright child of six or seven years. She is certainly the most devout soul I ever saw. The Bible is her law for every act of her life."—Chicago Chronicle.

Fresh Eggs Do Not Float.
The freshness of eggs may be determined by placing them in water. A stale egg floats, but a new-laid one sinks to the bottom.

THE PRINCESS VICTORIA.

King Edward's Youngest Daughter, Though Still Unwed, Has Had a Pretty Love Romance.

What Princess Beatrice was for many years to Queen Victoria—her closest friend and confidante, the youngest daughter of Edward VII., one of the late queen's numerous namesakes, will be to Queen Alexandra. Victoria disliked intensely three things; gas, cats and old maids, and it was a source of extreme annoyance that the youngest, cleverest and least plain of the Wales girls insisted upon remaining unwed. But the father and mother of the willful young woman, whether they abetted her design or not, were at least acquiescent, and it is a fact that she had a much more generous provision made for her than either of her sisters enjoyed during their girlhood.

THE PRINCESS VICTORIA. (Spinster Daughter of the King and Queen of Great Britain.)

Princess Victoria is 32 years old, and has lost the girlish prettiness which she once owned. She has an aristocratic face, but her features lack animation, and the general effect is rather heavy and dull. She is very reserved, prefers books to balls, and a quiet country life, with dogs, horses and a few chosen friends, to the gay round of society.

There is a romantic story concerning Princess Victoria, which purports to account for spinsterhood. It is said that she fell madly in love with a handsome young Indian prince who visited the English court some years ago. The dark-skinned Prince Charming was amiable, enlightened, highly educated and fabulously rich, and he returned the princess' affection with ardor. He was entertained at Sandringham, and in the course of a walk in the garden found an opportunity to propose to the young woman. She accepted him, provisionally, of course. A princess can do no more. The prince of Wales favored the alliance, but the princess, a remarkably proud woman, by the way, opposed it bitterly. The queen was also against the lovers. However, it was not deemed wise to refuse point-blank so powerful a ruler, even if he were of a subject race, so he was advised to return to India and let the matter be discussed by the princess' family. He went, and within a very short time died—a victim to the plague. The members of the royal family not directly concerned breathed sighs of polite regret and private relief. Princess Victoria suffered deeply. She has never been very strong since and has appeared but little in society. She wished to become an army nurse, but a princess is denied the solace of hard work, which has done so much for aching hearts the world over. She wears always a souvenir of her prince—a ruby ring which was brought her after his death by a servant.

Lately gossip has betrothed her to Prince George of Greece, but there has been no official announcement of the engagement. If she remains unmarried, her long seclusion will have to be broken now. The pomp and magnificence of Edward's court will force her to take her proper place as the only unmarried daughter of the house. The queen, it is well known, suffers from deafness, and shrinks from all except imperative public duties, so that Victoria will be called upon to represent her mother as Princess Beatrice did so often the late queen.—Detroit Free Press.

Nice Way to Cook Turnips.
An excellent way to cook turnips is to cut half a dozen of them into thin slices, and boil 15 minutes. Remove them from the water, and after draining place in a baking dish and pour over them a half-pint of clear soup stock heated and seasoned with salt, cayenne, sugar and nutmeg. Bake until tender, and baste from time to time with the stock. If the turnips are old it will be necessary to leave them in the open about 30 minutes. Serve on a hot platter with the pan gravy, to which have been added butter and flour to thicken.

Rare Excitement in Kansas.
There was a lively time in Ellenvood, Kan., when a mad bull dashed through the town. The men fled to halls and stairways, leaving the women on the streets exposed to peril. On the following day a jackrabbit scampered over the same course, and the male population bravely chased it for four miles, while the women fled in terror.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

End of War in Sight.
Certificates of deposit in the sum of $50,366.41, the proceeds of the sale of Paw Paw township bonds issued in aid of the erection of new county buildings, were presented to the board of supervisors at Paw Paw and accepted and a resolution adopted that new buildings be erected at Paw Paw. The indications now are that Paw Paw will remain permanently the capital of the county, that new buildings will be erected, and that the end of a bitter contest that has been in progress for the last 50 years is at last in sight.

Crop Outlook.
The first weekly crop bulletin of the Michigan weather bureau for the 1901 season says:

Plowing has been quite generally begun in the central and northern counties. Oat seeding is nearly completed in the southern tier of counties and has been begun as far north as the straits of Mackinac. In the northern and central counties considerable barley and peas have been sown, while in the extreme southern counties farmers are beginning to plow for corn and are preparing ground for early potatoes. Winter wheat, rye, grass and field work are in about the same stage as last year at this time.

Grieved Herself to Death.
Mrs. Charles Moak, widow of the late Charles Moak, was found lying across her husband's grave in Lakeside cemetery at Port Huron in an unconscious condition, and died some hours later. Since the death of her husband several months ago Mrs. Moak has grieved to such an extent that she became despondent. She often visited the cemetery, and it is believed that while on one of these trips she was stricken with apoplexy.

Boy Thieves.
A gang of 12 boys were arrested in Ludington, charged with larceny. Their parents appeared in court and pleaded piteously in their behalf. Five of the boys were let go on suspended sentences, one was remanded to jail for another trial, two were sentenced to 30 days in jail and four were sent to the industrial school at Lansing until 17 years old. The latter were Louie Oleson, James Rock, Peter Lemir and Carl Nelson, ages 13 to 15.

Returns Money.
A close friend of Charles A. Johnson, defaulting cashier of the Niles national bank, in jail in Grand Rapids awaiting the action of the federal grand jury, states that Johnson has returned to the bank over one-half the amount of his alleged defalcation, that he can satisfactorily account for the balance and that not one dollar of the bank's funds or his own was lost in gambling.

The Michigan Central railway has had men in Jackson the past week estimating the expense of completely modernizing its shops at that place by supplanting the steam power by an electric power house and motor system; also of enlarging the shops and doubling the capacity. The Ann Arbor dailies discovered a mare's nest a couple of weeks ago, and the egg it contained was that the Michigan Central was going to get after the electric railways and compete with them by putting on suburban trains. Their idea has been exploded, however, by the Michigan Central officials, who deny the rumor, and also claim that beyond a certain distance the electric lines are not rivals as their slow time puts them out of competition.

From all over the state comes the same outcry against the assessment blanks issued by the new tax commission, viz, that they cannot be justified under the law which prescribes a statutory form of blank and oath to be filled out and taken by the taxpayer when he makes his statement to the assessor.

Ann Arbor common council is having posted in conspicuous places on the business streets signs which read "Don't Spit on the Walks." The ladies will rise up in a body and call the men blessed, if they will only follow this injunction, and a majority of men who hate to see the sidewalks bespattered with tobacco juice will heartily say "Amen" to the ladies' exclamation.

Extensive and useful improvements are being made at the Chelsea house by Messrs Hoag & Updike. The dining room has been enlarged by the addition to it of the passageway 4x24 feet, thus adding 96 square feet to its capacity. Double doors have been hung at the entrance to the room and it has been repapered and painted. Electric lights are being put in every room in the house, thus doing away with the old fashioned bedroom lamp nuisance. The new livery and feed barn is to be erected at once and everything about the house is being done up to fill the requirements of modern taste and convenience.

LONG TOUR BEGINS.

President McKinley and His Party Leave Washington.

Will Journey to the Pacific Coast and Return—Warmly Greeted by Virginians—Extracts from Some of His Speeches.

Washington, April 30.—The train which is to carry President and Mrs. McKinley and their party on their long excursion across the continent and back made its start Monday precisely on schedule time, over the Southern road. Before ten o'clock many people had congregated about the station, and when the president and Mrs. McKinley arrived, as they did about 10:20, the building was thronged and many persons were congregated on the outside.

There was a cheer as the president's immediate party drove up to the station, and a general demonstration of affectionate regard as the head of the nation and his wife made their way through the crowd to the train. Mrs. McKinley leaned upon the arm of Dr. Rixey, and both she and the president smiled in response to the greetings which met them at every step. They were accompanied to the train by numerous friends and by many persons distinguished in the affairs of the nation.

Train Starts on Time.

Just as the minute hand of the big clock in the station touched the 10:30 o'clock point the train started upon its 10,000 mile journey. The crowd cheered enthusiastically and waved a good-by. The demonstration was continued until the train left the environs of Washington, the crowd extending well to the city limits.

Through Virginia.

Bristol, Tenn., April 30.—The first day of the president's long tour to the Pacific coast lay through a historic section in Virginia, across the valleys of the Rapidan and James, in sight of the homes of Madison and Jefferson, up past the peaks of Otter, so dear to the hearts of the Virginians, into the picturesque Blue Ridge mountains. The Tennessee line was reached at 10:56 Monday night with the arrival of the train at Bristol. The route, as far as Lynchburg, was over the Southern railway. There the train was shifted to the tracks of the Norfolk & Western for a short cut to Bristol, where it resumed its flight over the Southern road. The presidential party received a flattering ovation from the time the train left Washington. Large crowds assembled at every station, the countryside and cross roads each had its little group of waving watchers straining their eyes to catch a glimpse of the chief magistrate as the train whisked by.

Great Receptions.

If Monday's reception through Virginia is an indication of what is to occur throughout the rest of the trip the president's tour across the continent will be a triumphal one. Some of the people in their eagerness to grasp the president's hand clambered up the railing surrounding the platform. The president received these demonstrations good-naturedly and never failed smilingly to grasp the hand extended to him. Mrs. McKinley, sitting at the window in the observation car, smiling and waving her handkerchief in response to the greetings of the multitudes, created no less enthusiasm than the president.

His First Speech.

At Charlottesville the students of the University of Virginia turned out. The president, speaking from the platform of his car, said:

"It gives me great pleasure to receive the greetings of the people of Charlottesville and the cheers of the young men of the University of Virginia. (Applause.) Your institution is linked with great names and great deeds and has influenced not only the destinies of the nation but the destinies of the world. What an array of immortal names Virginia holds in her keeping to remind us of lofty patriotism, broad statesmanship and noble achievements. To no other state of the American union belongs such history to preserve and cherish and such examples to inspire and emulate. May the young men of the state of Virginia prove worthy sons of their noble ancestors and contribute to the well being and honor and glory of the republic. Let me assure you, young gentlemen, that the present and the future hold rich reward for good scholarship, high character and noble endeavor; and the wish which I leave with you is that of these you may have your full share." (Prolonged applause.)

At Lynchburg Senator Daniel, Virginia's crack orator, made a speech greeting the president, and at Roanoke two bands crashed out their welcome.

To Avoid Accidents.

The president and his party will keep in close touch with Washington throughout the trip to California, and every facility has been arranged to transact such business as is necessary from the train. The railroad officials in charge of the train and the various divisions over which it passed took every precaution to guard against the possibility of a mishap of any character. The tracks, switches and bridges were all carefully inspected just before the train reached a given station, everything on the road, passenger as well as freight, was sidetracked, and over the Norfolk & Western railroad a pilot train ran ahead of the presidential special.

MORGAN'S LATEST MOVE.

Purchases the Leyland Steamship Line and is Negotiating for Another.

London, April 30.—It has been reported that the Leyland line of 85 steamers, engaged in the Atlantic, Mediterranean and West Indian trade, has been purchased by J. Pierpont Morgan and that a deposit of $1,250,000 of the purchase money has been paid. Mr. Morgan and his associates are said to contemplate further purchases of British shipping. This means that the restless American financier, not content with organizing the iron and steel business on the greatest scale ever dreamed of, is now moving to give America the most complete merchant marine service that is possible. Controlling the iron and steel of the United States, and through that power practically controlling the product of the world, he will now have the vessels to ship the product anywhere demanded by his patrons.

The Leyland line of steamers is one of the greatest in the world. It is said that its purchase by Mr. Morgan is tantamount to a consolidation with the Atlantic Transport company, which owns a fleet worth $20,000,000. If this consolidation becomes an actual fact it will mean the greatest transportation service in the world.

The Daily Express asserts that the financiers for whom J. Pierpont Morgan is acting are ordering ten big liners, and that the Americans will spend £10,000,000 upon new vessels during the coming five years.

New York, April 30.—At the office of J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. it was said that no confirmation of the report of the purchase of the Leyland line had been received, nor could it be denied. Members of the firm said that they had no knowledge of the matter whatever. Afterwards it was intimated that this was but the beginning, and that other lines were likely to be brought into the combination.

The Leyland line is one of the largest in number of ships in the world, about 65 vessels being in its fleet. Most of them are in use on the north Atlantic. There is also a line to Mediterranean ports and one to Lisbon. Recently the company acquired by purchase the 20 ships of the West Indian & Pacific Steamship company.

These ships run by two routes to West Indian ports, and call at New Orleans on the return trip. Seven lines from this country are operated by the Leylands, the Boston to Liverpool, Boston to London, Portland, Me., to Antwerp, New York to Liverpool, Quebec to London, and New Orleans to London and to Liverpool. The chief business of all these lines is freight, but the newer ships have accommodation for passengers. The company has been largely interested in transport to South Africa for the British government. Six of its ships are now at Cape Town. It has carried most of the mules and the horses bought in this country to the Cape from New Orleans. The Leyland line is the second largest steamship company to pass out of the hands of the British in last year, the principal line of ships in the China coastwise trade having been bought by a German company in 1900.

It is stated in some quarters that the Atlantic transport line will be consolidated with the Leyland line.

The Leyland property was recently appraised at £15,000,000.

The Atlantic Transport company's fleet, estimated to be worth £4,000,000, making the total amount involved, £19,000,000, or nearly $100,000,000.

Iowa Man Has Difficulty Over Accounts While Acting as Commissary of State Regiment.

Des Moines, Ia., April 30.—George A. Reed, a lieutenant of the Fifty-first Iowa regiment, acting commissary at the Presidio in 1898 and 1899, has been made defendant in a suit for $22,442, for which it is alleged he failed to render a satisfactory accounting. The action was instituted by Lewis Miles, attorney for the southern district of Iowa, and is based on the report of F. E. Rittman, auditor for the war department. It is alleged supplies valued at $211,177 passed through Reed's hands.

Reed is in the harness business in this city. He declares that a supplemental accounting by him will explain the apparent shortage.

New Falls Discovered.

St. Paul, Minn., April 30.—Word has just been received here of the discovery of another natural wonder in the Yellowstone National park, by James Latherston, deputy game warden for Wyoming, who found a waterfall 300 feet high, which he named "Lost Falls"—the falls in Pox canyon, two and a half miles northwest of Hell's Half Acre. A person can go within 100 yards of them and never be aware of their presence. The water plunges from a comparative level to a sheer depth of 300 feet or more. A dense growth of timber overshadows the sheet of falling water, and a person can walk to the very brink without realizing his danger, except for the warning thunder of the tumbling waters.

FROM DEATH'S DOOR.

Hillsdale, Ill., April 29th.—Much interest has been aroused here over the case of William Marks, who has been in a dying condition for several months with an apparently incurable Kidney Disease.

The leading physicians of this place had pronounced his case a hopeless one, and others from Port Byron, Geneseo, and Davenport, Ia., had attended him, and in a consultation decided that he could not live.

In desperation, his nephew inquired of Mr. L. F. Giles, a local druggist, as to a last resort. Mr. Giles suggested Dodd's Kidney Pills, a remedy which had just been introduced here.

The results were marvelous. Mr. Marks immediately began to improve, and within a few weeks was able to be up and about, completely cured. His cure is the talk of the neighborhood, and is considered nothing short of a miracle.

There appears to be no doubt that this new remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills, will cure any case of Kidney Disease, for the more malignant forms, such as Bright's Disease, Diabetes, and Dropsy, yield readily to its remarkable influence. These forms of Chronic Kidney Disease have hitherto been considered incurable, and have baffled all medical skill, and yet, this new remedy has cured every single case in which it has been used, in this neighborhood. The doctors themselves are amazed at the wonderful work Dodd's Kidney Pills are accomplishing in Rock Island County.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only "constitutional cure on the market." It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. END THEIR MISSION.

The Cuban Delegates Take Leave of the Capital.

Will Sail for Havana on Wednesday—Belief That They Will Recommend Acceptance of Platt Amendment.

Washington, April 29.—The Cuban commissioners made their farewell call upon the President Saturday, and expressed the hope that there should be reciprocal trade relations established between Cuba and the United States. President McKinley told the Cubans that the formation of a government and the provision for political relation with the United States was the first question to be settled. After that is done and Cuba has a government capable of making treaties he will appoint commissioners to meet representatives of the Cuban government to negotiate a commercial treaty.

This was not entirely satisfactory to the Cubans, because it does not enable them to carry back a promise that Cuba shall have in the future either free trade or special benefits under our tariff laws. The Cubans, however, have been favorably impressed with their visit to Washington, and they express their highest appreciation of the courtesies and consideration shown them by the president, Secretary Root and the members of congress they have met.

Senor Lorente, who is recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in Cuba, expressed his admiration for the government of the United States, and said that the visit to Washington had made a profound impression upon all the commissioners. They now realize as never before the stupendous power and grandeur of the American republic. As they had traveled through a part of this country, and seen its development, and here in Washington had come in contact with the machinery of the government itself, they realized that the United States stood in the front rank of world powers, and that Cuba, whatever her ambitions, rested under the protecting wing of this great republic.

Impressed with its Democracy.

They had also been impressed with the democracy of this great government. Accustomed to dealing with an autocratic government like Spain, whose governor generals they had to approach with deference, they experienced the contrast between monarchy and democracy when they sat down with the president of the United States and conversed with him as they would among themselves.

While they have received no definite assurances from either the president or secretary of war, the commissioners will return to Havana and recommend the adoption by the constitutional convention of provisions substantially the same as those contained in the Platt amendment.

They have tried to find some way of modifying the paragraph regarding intervention which would make it specific rather than general, leaving to this government the absolute power to determine for itself what disorders should justify intervention. It has been pointed out to them that specific declarations would simply place Cuba under the power and protection of this government in a way to destroy its sovereignty and make Cuba as amenable to the federal power as a state in the union. It has been suggested to them that it is better for Cuba that this provision stand as it is in the Platt amendment, and trust to the democratic spirit of this government shown in its whole history in dealing with the republics on this continent that have enjoyed its protection. This suggestion appealed to the Cubans more strongly than any other argument that has been made, and they will present it as a satisfactory explanation to the Cuban convention.

Leave the Capital.

The delegates started for New York at 11 o'clock Saturday night, homeward bound. They will sail for Havana Wednesday.

PURSUE GEN. GAILLES.

American Troops Engaged in Chasing the Insurgent General—His Camp Surprised.

Manila, April 29.—Capt. Wilson Chase, with a detachment of the Twenty-first infantry, on April 26, surprised the camp of the insurgent Gen. Cailles at Dugot-Dugot, situated nine miles northeast of Cavinti, in the province of Laguna. Cailles was at his camp at the time of the American attack, but managed to escape. Capt. Chase's force captured his adjutant general, five other of his staff officers, 14 men, 20 rifles, a large amount of ammunition and stores and all the papers and personal effects of the Filipino general. The insurgent major Velo was killed during the engagement, as were Corp. McGill and Private Tippos, both belonging to company A, of the Twenty-first. Several columns of the American troops continue vigorously to pursue Gen. Cailles. Gen. Cailles recently offered a reward of $10,000 for the head of Capt. Edward N. Jones, Jr., of the Eighth infantry.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.

Daily Summary of the Proceedings in Senate and House at the Forty-first Session.

Lansing, Mich., April 24.—The senate yesterday passed the Chandler taxation bill by a vote of 20 to 8. This bill was passed by the house a week ago, and then it provided for the taxation of railroad, telegraph, telephone and express companies according to the ad valorem system instead of upon their earnings, as they are taxed at present. As the senate passed the bill it provides for the taxation of railroad property only, and was further amended so that a separate commission instead of the state tax commission shall assess the railroad property.

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—Following the action of the house in refusing to concur in the senate amendments to the Chandler railroad tax bill, the senate voted yesterday to insist on its amendments and each house has appointed a conference committee to consider their differences.

Lansing, Mich., April 26.—The senate yesterday agreed to Kelly's bill exempting from taxation the stock of foreign corporations held in this state when taxes are paid on the property represented by the stock in other states. The bill of Senator Murfin, placing a prohibitory tax on the business of selling cigarettes, was favorably reported. Bills have been passed to prohibit the catching of fish in Silver Lake, Oceana county; to prohibit fish spearing in Isabella county; to raise the salary of the state librarian from $1,200 to $1,800; for a normal school in western Michigan; to tax railroad companies on an ad valorem basis.

Lansing, Mich., April 27.—Bills have been passed in the senate to regulate fishing in the lakes of Cass county; to organize school districts in Ossineke township, Alpena county; to amend West Bay city charter; to amend Saginaw county officers; to organize school districts in North Star township, Gratiot county; to amend fishing laws of Muskegon county; relative to the incorporation of fraternal beneficiary associations; appropriation for state naval brigade.

House.

Lansing, Mich., April 24.—Several bills of minor importance were passed in the house yesterday.

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—By a vote of 92 to 0 the house yesterday refused to concur in the Chandler railroad tax bill, which the senate passed after amending it so as to tax railroads only, instead of including telegraph, telephone and express companies, as was originally proposed by the house.

Lansing, Mich., April 26.—The house agreed yesterday to the McKay bill, which prohibits the sale of cigarettes in any form, the prohibition also extending to cigarette wrappers and tobacco used for such purposes. A provision was added to avoid any conflict with the interstate commerce law.

Lansing, Mich., April 27.—The house has passed bills reappropriating $15,000 to improve the sewage system at Jackson prison; appropriation for state reformatory, $10,025; providing for the incorporation of Christian Reformed churches; relative to amending by-laws of corporations to prevent cruelty to children; amending general tax law relative to the payment of taxes on parcels of land; providing that registrars of deaths must file reports with county clerks in order to collect fees allowed; providing that the members of boards of review must be taxpayers and landowners; revision of laws relative to the inspection of coal mines, providing a board of examiners and providing for the appointment of an inspector of coal mines; providing that in acknowledging documents notaries must give the time of the expiration of their commissions; limiting time for the commencement of actions questioning the validity of tax titles to six months; appropriation for Marquette normal school, $35,200.

Must Be Appointed by Mayor.

Lansing, Mich., April 26.—The supreme court Thursday handed down an opinion in the case of D. W. H. Moreland vs. the Detroit board of public works involving the constitutionality of a bill passed by the legislature abolishing the present board and providing for a one-man board instead of the governor to appoint the first incumbent. When the bill was signed by the governor he at once appointed Mr. Moreland. The court holds that the appointment is void, but that the act abolishing the board and substituting a superintendent of public works is regular. The court decides that the appointing power should be vested in the mayor.

Lake Steamers Caught in Ice.

Port Huron, Mich., April 26.—Surrounded by a field of ice piled high, scarcely able to be seen from the shore, there is a fleet of 14 steamers on Lake Huron. They are caught in the miniature icebergs and are unable to help themselves or render any assistance to boats within hailing distance. The Pentwater and the Campbell have been held fast since last Thursday. Among the boats are the Campbell, Pentland, McVittie, St. Paul, Huron and Tampa. There are at least six other steamers whose names are unknown.

River Falling at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, April 30.—The Ohio river had fallen to 57 feet at one o'clock p. m., a total fall of 2.7 feet since Saturday afternoon. Its rate of fall will increase, and soon half of obstruction to traffic and business will be removed. The railroads are rapidly resuming their interrupted business from the regular freight depots and the Central Union passenger station will be ready for occupancy by Wednesday morning or perhaps earlier.

Mrs. Nation's Husband Robbed.

Mr. Nation is visiting his sister, Mrs. John Mills, of South Marion, and attended a dog and pony show in Marion in the afternoon. It is said he visited a saloon after leaving the circus, and it is alleged that it was in this place that he was robbed.

SPRING CATARRH MAKES PEOPLE WEAK AND NERVOUS.

MISS ANNA BRYAN, OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

Miss Anna Bryan, a favorite cousin of William Jennings Bryan, is well known socially in Washington, D. C., where she has a host of friends. Miss Bryan recently studied music at Fairmount Seminary, of Washington, D. C. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, she says:

1459 Florida Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen—"At the solicitation of a friend I began some weeks ago to take your Peruna and I now feel like a new person. I take pleasure in recommending it to all who want a good tonic and a permanent cure for catarrh."—Anna Bryan.

MRS. BERTHA KOCKLER, 177 Guinett street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna and Manalin have done me very great service, and I recommend them with pleasure to all who suffer with nervous catarrh of the stomach as I did. Should such a disease ever attack me again I shall immediately take Peruna. I now feel very well and have a good appetite all the time. I have gained in weight. I recommended Peruna to an acquaintance of ours and he is making remarkable progress. I looked so badly for a time before I began your medicine, that now when I meet some of my friends they say: 'I was very much worried about you, but now you are looking so well.' I shall always keep Peruna and Manalin in the house as family medicines."—Mrs. Bertha Kockler.

She Had Told the Truth.

Sue—You said you were going to marry an artist, and now you're engaged to a dentist.

Are You Going Abroad?

If you are going abroad be sure to select the Lackawanna Railroad as your route East. The terminus of that line is within two blocks of the docks of the ocean liners operated by the Cunard, Hamburg-American, White Star, North German Lloyd, Netherlands American, American, Red Star and French Lines. To the traveler, often encumbered with luggage and accompanied by his family, the advantage of landing so near his point of embarkation is at once apparent. Not only is the Lackawanna Railroad the most convenient line to the piers of the great Trans-Atlantic Steamers, but the comfort of its patrons is the special care of a Steamship Agent who will be found on the docks of all the principal lines. From Chicago three through trains are run daily in connection with the Nickel Plate offering a service unsurpassed in luxury and convenience. From St. Louis there is also a through daily service in connection with the Wabash Railroad.

A good many men are so shiftless that they never dress up except on Sunday or when their church gives a dinner.—Washington (Ia.) Democrat.

It's when things are coming your way that you admit they are going to suit you.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has gotten out a neat booklet descriptive of the beautiful summer resorts at Spirit and Okoboji Lakes in Northwest Iowa. Free copies will be mailed upon application to Jno. G. Farmer, Assistant Gen'l. Pass. Agt., Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Thousands of Fair Women Are Never Without Pe-ru-na The National Catarrh Remedy.

Miss Marie Coats, President of the Appleton Young Ladies' Club, writes the following concerning Peruna:
Appleton, Wis.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

Gentlemen—"I find Peruna an excellent spring and summer medicine and am glad to call the attention of my friends to it. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week. I have now used it for three seasons and find it very reliable and efficacious."—Marie Coats.

Mrs. Al. Wetzel, 21 South 17th street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes:

"Peruna is the greatest medicine on earth. I feel well and that tired feeling is all gone. When I began to take your medicine I could not smell nor hear a church bell ring. Now I can smell and hear. When I began your treatment my head was terrible, all sorts of buzzing, chirping and loud noises. Three months ago I dragged around like a snail; now I can walk as briskly as ever. I am going to go and see the doctor that said I was not long for this world, and tell him that Peruna cured me."—Mrs. Al. Wetzel.

If all the tired women and all the nervous women, and all the women that needed a tonic would read and heed the words of these three fair ladies who have spoken right to the point, how many invalids would be prevented and how many wretched lives be made happy.

Peruna restores health in a normal way. Peruna puts right all the mucous membranes of the body, and in this way restores the functions of every organ.

If it is the stomach that is out of order, and the digestion impaired, Peruna quickly makes things right by restoring the mucous membrane of the stomach.

If the nerves tingle, if the brain is tired, if the strength is flagging and the circulation of blood weakened by flabby mucous membranes of the digestive organs, Peruna reaches the spot at once by giving to these membranes the vitality and activity which belongs to them.

The pelvic organs are also lined with mucous membrane which in the female sex is especially liable to derangements. Peruna is an absolute specific in these cases. The women everywhere are praising it. No other remedy has ever received such unqualified praise from such a multitude of women.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.
