A PIONEER PROGRAM

Was the Pleasing Feature at the Last Meeting of the W. W. Union Farmers' Club.

The meeting of the Western Washtenaw Union Farmers' Club held with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chapman last Thursday afternoon was a peculiarly interesting one on account of the program being devoted to papers, readings and reminis-cences by the old pioneers of this section.
Considering the fact that farmers are a very busy class of people just now there was a large turnout, about 60 people being present, a goodly number of whom were old pioneers.

The meeting was opened about 2:30 p.
m. with an appropriate selection of music by the club quartet, "Don't forget the old folks." Rev. C. S. Jones offered prayer.
The report of the legislative committee was given by W. E. Stocking and then Jay Everett gave a reminiscence paper on "Pioneer justice," which was very good.

Mrs. Clarissa Lowry was not well enough to be present so her paper on "Pioneer social life," was read Mrs. M.
A. Lowry.

"A trip to California 50 years ago," by Mrs. Jay Everett, was a graphic and humorous description of her trip from Sharon to California in 1851, when her husband was suffering from an attack of the gold fever.

Truman Baldwin followed with a half hour's reminiscence talk, in the course of which he gave a history of the settlement of the Vermont settlement in Sylvan.

Geo. E. Davis gave a short talk on "The old-time choir," and his youthful impressions of the Sharon meeting house, which brought out ripples of laughter from his hearers at several points.

The meeting closed with the quartet singing "Sweet bye and bye," after which a bountiful and appetizing supper was served, the tables having to be set twice to accommodate all who were present.
After supper a season of visiting was indulged in and shortly after 6 o'clock all departed for home glad to have been present at such a pleasant gathering.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, June 20, with Mr. and Mrs. Irving Storms, when the program will be mainly for the children. It is as follows: "What shall we do to suppress the ring power in politics?" Rev. C. S.
Jones; address to the children, Frank Storms; exercises by the children.

DECORATION DAY

Will Be Fittingly Observed in Chelsea
Next Thursday.

Thursday next, May 30, will be the first Decoration Day of the 20th century and R. P. Carpenter Post, No. 40, G. A. R., and the Women's Relief Corps are making preparations to observe the day in a fitting and becoming manner. The Great Camp of the K. O. T. M. having also designated May 30 as the Memorial day for that order Chelsea Tent, No. 281, K.
O. T. M., and Columbian Hive, No. 284, L. O. T. M., will join with the other two societies in the celebration of the day.

It is 40 years since the first gun was fired on Sumpter, and the civil war was inaugurated, during which blood flowed freely as water. More than 95,000 men were killed in action or died of wounds, and about 800,000 died from disease or accident; making a total loss of more than 995,000 men, not including those who are living on to this day, suffering from wounds or exposure on the field or in prison pens.

The war was between men of the same race and country who differed as to questions of right and polity, and the passing years have largely effaced bitter memories.
Yet it is fitting that those who died that the Union might live should be remembered and their names handed down to subsequent generations for honor.

The services commemorative of the occasion will be as follows: Sunday, May 28, at 10:30 a. m., the members of the post and corps will attend service at the M. E. church, when Rev. J. I. Nickerson will preach the sermon. Thursday, May 30, there will be the usual exercises at the town hall, and Rev. F. A. Stiles will deliver the Memorial address. This will be followed by a procession to Oak Grove and Mt. Olivet cemeteries where the graves of deceased soldiers will be decorated.
The graves of comrades lying in other cemeteries nearby will also be decorated.

Those who have flowers they are willing to donate for decoration purposes are requested to take them to the town hall on the morning of Thursday.

THREE PIONEERS HAVE GONE.

One by One the Old Settlers Are Passing From Our Midst.

MRS. MARGARET FORAN.

Mrs. Margaret Foran, who has been a resident of Chelsea for the past 16 years, died at the home of her daughter Mrs.
Wm. Long, in Lyndon, Monday morning, aged 69 years. She was taken ill with pneumonia five weeks previous to her death. Last week her condition had improved somewhat and she was taken out to her daughter's home where she might be more comfortably cared for, but she had not vitality enough to rally.

Mrs. Foran's maiden name was Margaret Mason. She was born in Tipperary county, Ireland, March 17, 1832. She came to America in 1852 and located in Ann Arbor. In 1856 she was married to Matthew Foran and went to live on the farm in Webster which is still owned by the estate. Sixteen years ago, when the farmhouse burned down they came to Chelsea to live, and three years later Mr.
Foran died. Two sons, George, of Detroit, and Charles E., of Jackson, and two daughters, Mrs. Frank Lusty and Mrs.
William Long, of Lyndon, survive her.

The funeral services were held at St.
Mary's church yesterday morning. Rev.
W. P. Considine officiating. She was buried in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Her husband's remains will be removed from Northfield to rest beside her.

WILLIAM A. GRAHAM.

the stomach, William A. Graham died at his home on West Middle street Monday, aged 81 years. He was born in Erie county, Pa., in 1820. Coming to Michigan in 1838, he was married to Miss Ann Mc-Cowan in 1848. They settled in Kent county in 1845 taking up land from the government. They moved to Washtenaw county in 1856, and resided in Manchester, Sharon and Chelsea since that time. Of a family of eight children that were born to them seven are still alive.
Mrs. Graham has been dead several years.
The funeral services, held at the house yesterday morning, were conducted by Rev.
Thos. Holmes, D. D. Burial was in Manchester.

MRS. MARGARET DRAKE.

Mrs. Margaret Drake, widow of the late
H. J. Drake, died at her home in Lyndon Sunday afternoon of general debility, aged over 80 years. Mrs. Drake was one of the oldest settlers of Lyndon, having come to the township with her husband about 1840 and settled on the farm where she died, the land being taken up from the government. An only daughter, Mrs. George Sellers, of Stockbridge, survives her. The funeral services were held at the house Tuesday morning Rev. J. J. Cooper offi-

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

Is it not true? Women suffer, feel the very life crushed out of them, grow old before their time. Each morning wake up determined to do so much before the day ends, and yet—

Before the morning is very old the dreadful BACKACHE attacks them, the brave spirit sinks back in affright; no matter how hard they struggle, the "clutch" is upon them and they fall upon the couch crying:

"Why should I suffer so? What can I do?"

The answer is ready, your cry has been heard, and a woman is able to restore you to health and happiness.

Backache is only a symptom of more fatal trouble—heed its warning in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will stop your torture and restore your courage. Your pains come from unnatural menstruation or some derangement of the womb. Let those who are suffering read Mrs. Morton's letter and be guided by her experience.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been so delighted with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would write and thank you. My system was entirely run down. I suffered with terrible backache in the small of my back and could hardly stand upright; was more tired in the morning than on retiring at night. I had no appetite. Since taking your Compound I have gained fifteen pounds, and am gaining every week. My appetite has improved, have no backache, and I look better than I ever looked before. I shall recommend it to all my friends, as it certainly is a wonderful medicine."—MRS. E. F. MORTON, 826 York St., Cincinnati, O.

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health more than a million women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free.

$5000 REWARD

Owing to the fact that some skeptical people have from time to time questioned the genuineness of the testimonial letters we are constantly publishing, we have deposited with the National City Bank, of Lynn, Mass., $5,000 which will be paid to any person who can show that the above testimonial is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission.—LYDIA E. ## HAVE NO VACATIONS.

Justices of the Supreme Court Busy the Year Around.

When Not in Session at Washington They Either Act as Circuit Judges or Else Are Preparing Opinions.

[Special Washington Letter.]
THE United States supreme court never takes a vacation," said Senator Stewart of Nevada.

This seemed like a paradox, in view of the fact that we were talking about the official announcement that the high tribunal was about to adjourn, and actually take a vacation. By way of explanation Senator Stewart said:

"I've been acquainted with the supreme court for well-nigh 40 years, and have had many cases before that august body. It is, and always has been, an aggregation of great men, all of them great workers. Matt Carpenter once said to me: 'I never knew a body of lawyers who were such gluttons for work. They seem to revel in it.' What I mean and what Carpenter meant is that the chief justice and all of the associate justices are hard at work every day in the year, no matter whether the court is in session or not."

From that view point the sweeping statement of Senator Stewart is correct. Young lawyers throughout the land may envy these eminent gentlemen who receive $10,000 per annum for life; particularly when they read in the newspapers that the court has adjourned for three or four months at a time. They do not know that the chief justice, and each member of the court, takes with him a number of cases, upon which time and talent must be expended in order that comprehensive reports may be made as to law and fact, so that their conclusions may meet with the approval of the court as a body when it reconvenes for its next session. Their lives are not easy by any means.

The question of the $10,000 a year does not weigh in the matter at all, for any one of them could earn five times the sum in legal practice, which would not take one-twentieth the time he now devotes to his official duty. The honor of the position, the pride they take in filling it conscientiously, and the realization of the service they perform for their country and the profession is doubtless compensative to them, and furnishes sufficient inducement for retaining their positions.

Very few people, in fact very few lawyers, realize to what extent the duties of the members of the supreme court weigh them down with arduous and exacting details.

When the court is in regular session the chief justice and associate justices meet at the capitol every Saturday for consultation. They assemble in a little room set apart for that purpose. Up to this point the lawyers are well informed concerning each case; but here the public may not enter, and interested parties can only surmise. The consultation chamber is the holy of holies, where pro-

CHIEF JUSTICE FULLER AT WORK.

One foot dare not tread, curious eye may not rest, and, more than all, where no inquisitive ear can listen. What goes on within these walls is a secret locked in the breasts of the members themselves, and they never tell. It is surmised, however, that in this room and at this time the members of the court express their individual opinions upon each case at issue and reach conclusions on it. The chief justice thereupon designates one of his associates to prepare the opinion of the court to be delivered at some future day.

Each associate justice having now received authorization to present the opinion of the court upon a case, proceeds to draw it up, and this is a matter requiring care and deliberation, with rare choice of phrase in laying down the law. He knows that this opinion will be read by every lawyer in the country; will be criticised and scrutinized with keen eye and discriminating mind; and he must make it proof against assault for his own pride's sake. Moreover, this is to be the law of the land henceforth upon this particular subject, and he would like to have it stand as a monument to his ability. He realizes that the opinion to be presented may be quoted during this century, and in future centuries. It is a great and grave responsibility.

He is required to consider and digest the argument made by the attorneys and to make up his mind on the questions presented for his decision. In his argument the attorney made numerous citations of law, of references and precedents, which the associate justice must look up and verify, as he cannot afford to trust anything to the attorney's say so. It may have been a forced interpretation or application that the zealous attorney made of the citation, and this must be examined. He feels also that he must be thoroughly posted on the subject when it comes up for discussion in the privacy of the consultation chamber, for it is a point of pride with him that he must know as much about it as any of his colleagues. He has an office at his residence, with a reference library of standard legal works and law reports. The government furnishes him a secretary, who must be an expert stenographer and who attends him at his house. For a couple of hours or so in the morning the work of examining citations proceeds, the details varying with the nature of the case. In the evening he puts in his best work on the case in hand, and if it is an interesting one will probably keep at it until a late hour. Perhaps he has his secretary read him the cited passages or the provisions of the law, or the record of the lower court upon which the case was argued, while he ponders the matter from an easy chair. This is continued until he has absorbed clear ideas of his own of what ought to be the decision in the case. All of this, mind you, before he begins to prepare to write the ultimate decision.

Before any case is argued before the supreme court the lawyers are required to file briefs, fully setting forth their contentions; and the justices depend more upon these printed briefs than they do upon any oral arguments which may be made in open court. The arguments which are delivered are always prosy, uninteresting to laymen and devoid of oratory. Attorneys confine themselves to citations of law and of fact, because there is no jury to influence, and they know that the stern and solemn justices would quietly resent any attempt to affect their judgments with rhetorical flights or with oratorical exclamations for dramatic effect. For these and many minor reasons no oratory is ever heard in the supreme courtroom. Grover Cleveland, Benjamin Harrison and others of eminence have been heard there by the writer, but all of their arguments have been delivered in a conversational monotone.

Now when the supreme court adjourns for a term the associate justices do not go home, nor take trips to seashore or mountain. On the contrary, they pack their trunks, not only with clothing, but with pending cases, and proceed to go on their circuits and resume their judicial duties in various parts of the republic. In their capacity as circuit judges they conduct courts of appeals for the various circuits, and herein their duties are onerous as well as of great responsibility. There are many cases tried before the courts of appeals which are left for final hearings when the associate justice shall preside. In the event of dissatisfaction with the decisions reached under such conditions appeals may be taken to the supreme court. Here again is the burden of responsibility felt, because the traveling associate justice must give to each case such consideration that his decision will be sustained by the full bench if an appeal shall be taken. Consequently it is exceedingly rare that any decision of an associate justice, presiding over a circuit court of appeals, is ever overruled by the supreme court. This is a fact which younger practitioners might do well to file away in their memories, for it may save them a great deal of time and the waste of much talent in the future when they have cases before the circuit courts of appeals, with associate justices of the supreme court presiding and deciding issues of law and fact.

GEMS IN WASTE PAPER.

Employees in a St. Joseph Mill Have a Valuable Perquisite Once Every Week.

The employees of the Mullen Bros. Paper company, of St. Joseph, are rapidly acquiring valuable gems and expensive watches and chains and all sorts of jewelry. The paper comes to the factory in immense bales. It is picked up mostly in wholesale houses in Chicago and the newspaper offices. When the paper arrives at the mill it is put into an immense beater, where it is ground into pulp, the foreign matter settling to the bottom. Once every week the beater is cleaned, and this is a signal for a wild scramble on the part of the employees of the mill, who gather around the tank and wait until the last particle of pulp is drained off. Then they jump into the tank head first or any way that they can get in the handiest, and the search for valuables begins.

The men come up bearing their trophies. One will have a watch, another a chain, etc. Curry Allen, one of the oldest employees of the mill, has a two-ounce bottle full of gems that he has found in the tank. There are pearls, rubies and sapphires, and two diamonds of considerable value.

This year there have been found 12 rings set with different gems, all of value. There have also been found several first-class watches and many watch cases without the works. Most of these articles have the number and price cost on them. These all come from sweepings from the wholesale jewelry houses. The most valuable find this year was a solid gold fob chain. It contained three gold pieces linked together. Each man is allowed to keep all that he finds.

VITAL STATISTICS.

Monthly Bulletin Shows There Were No Deaths from Smallpox in Michigan in April.

The monthly bulletin of vital statistics, issued by the secretary of state, shows that notwithstanding the large number of cases of smallpox in Michigan not one death occurred during the month. The bulletin says:

There were 2,999 deaths reported, equivalent to a death rate of 15.3 per 1,000 population. This number is 489 less than the number reported for the preceding month, and 47 less than the number reported in April last year. There were 497 deaths of infants under one year of age, 175 deaths of children aged one to four years, inclusive, and 884 deaths of persons aged 65 years and over. Important causes of death were as follows: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 297; other forms of tuberculosis, 34; typhoid fever, 22; diphtheria and croup, 42; scarlet fever, 17; measles, 5; whooping cough, 15; pneumonia, 361; influenza, 142; cancer, 101; accidents and violence, 132. The principal decline during the month was shown in the death rate from pneumonia and influenza, which were considerably less than those reported for March. Scarlet fever and typhoid fever also showed a slight decrease.

RAILWAY EARNINGS.

A compilation completed by Railroad Commissioner Osborn shows that the total earnings in Michigan of the various railroad companies for the last calendar year were $39,607,805. The tax payable to the state in July next on these earnings aggregates $1,353,549, an increase of $122,773 over last year's revenue from this source. These taxes all are computed under the general railroad law, special charter provisions not being recognized. The largest tax is that of the Michigan Central and leased lines, which will pay $350,390; Pere Marquette, $225,651; Grand Trunk, $113,691; Chicago & Northwestern, $80,897; Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, $68,505; Grand Rapids & Indiana, $74,843; Wabash, $38,945.

New Railroad.

Julius Conitz, a banker, who is interested in the building of a railroad projected to run from Benton Harbor and St. Joseph to Toledo, makes the announcement that the first division from Benton Harbor to Dowagiac and Penn will be in operation not later than July 1. The plan of the bunders is to operate the road in connection with lines of steamers on Lake Michigan and Lake Erie. The road will be called the Eastern & Northwestern.

Favor Removal.

A majority of the supervisors of Alcona county are said to be in favor of removing the county seat from Harrisville, the present location, to some point nearer the geographical center of the county, and it is likely that a special election to vote on the matter will be called. One of the reasons urged for the removal is that the land on which the present buildings stand is not owned by the county.

Damage to Celery.

A heavy frost visited Muskegon and vicinity and serious damage is reported by the farmers and celery growers. Early planted celery is completely killed and later planting damaged slightly. Tomato plants were ripped and most sections report strawberries and peach buds as being badly nipped.

KILLED BY SCHOOLMATES.

Residents of Harbor Beach Are Much Exalted Over a Tragedy Among Children.

Blanche Reynolds, aged seven years, died in Harbor Beach as the result of an injury to her spine. She was waylaid by schoolmates on her way from school, it is charged, and pounded with a club. Her nine-year-old brother also was assaulted. Hattie Harriman, aged 14, is under arrest charged with the latter assault, but no other arrests have been made. Feeling is tense over the alleged assault on the girl, and the names of the other children implicated have been kept secret.

The little Reynolds girl belonged to one of the best families in the village, and was popular with her schoolmates, but in some way it is said she incurred the enmity of the older girls. As nearly as can be ascertained, Blanche was caught as she was on her way home from school, knocked to the ground and then pounded with a club until she was almost unconscious. She dragged herself home, where she suffered until death relieved her a few hours after. Before she died she told her parents the names of the children who had assaulted her. The prosecuting attorney of Huron county will take the matter up and make a full investigation.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Michigan Woman's Press Association Enjoys the Hospitality of the Citizens of Belding.

The Michigan Woman's Press association after music and prayer was welcomed to Belding by Mayor Leonard in a happy speech. Other prominent residents also extended their greetings. Mrs. T. S. Applegate, of Adrian, responded to all the welcomes in a pleasing strain. The regular programme consisted of a number of papers, which were very fine. The association indorsed the Detroit Federation of Clubs in trying to raise the age limit to 14 years that children may be admitted to the children's school at Coldwater. The association elected the following officers:

President, Mrs. T. S. Applegate, of the Adrian Times; first vice president, Mrs. Belle M. Perry, of the Charlotte Tribune; second vice president, Mrs. Mary K. Buck, of the Traverse City Herald; third vice president, Mrs. Mary E. H. Colville, of Belding; recording secretary, Mrs. Stella Marie Williams, of the Battle Creek Moon; corresponding secretary, Miss Ida F. Wain, of the News-Tribune, Detroit; treasurer, Mrs. Prueella Janet Sherman, of the News-Tribune, Detroit; editor of interchange, Mrs. Eva Belle Giles, of Battle Creek; executive committee, Dr. Emma E. Bower, editor Michigan Maccabee; Mrs. Francis Sanford Burns, of St. Louis, and Mrs. Martha E. Snyder Root, of Bay City.

STRANGE DEATH.

A Detroit Girl Was in a Cataleptic State Forty-Three Hours and Puzzled Doctors.

Miss Dora McDonald, of Detroit, who apparently died and whose condition was such that her physician, Dr. George S. Field, refused to pronounce her dead after 30 hours of suspended animation, owing to uncertain signs of life about the body, died after being in a cataleptic state 43 hours.

From the time when it is supposed death took possession of the body there were at stated intervals signs which completely mystified her physician, and others were called in for consultation. Early on the day of her death the watchers at her bedside were startled to observe a twitching of the muscles of the body, beginning at the neck and continuing to the lower part of the abdomen.

It was hoped that she would regain consciousness, but the convulsion lasted but a short time, the warmth leaving the body and unmistakable signs of death appearing. Several hours later Dr. Field pronounced her dead, and ascribed the immediate cause to paralysis of the heart.

Servant Girls' Union.

Servant girls of Houghton and Hancock have formed a labor union and demand a uniform scale of wages, shorter hours, more days off and privileges regarding entertainment of callers. A walking delegate has been appointed and householders are inclining to the opinion that the movement is by no means the joke it was first taken for.

Sight Restored.

An 80-year-old woman of Suttons Bay has been blind for the past 12 years, but a few days ago her sight was restored in a miraculous manner. She was out in her yard, where someone was chopping wood, and a chip flew in the air and struck her in the eyes. The blow brought back the long sight, and she is now able to see quite well.

Remains Identified.

The remains found in the river at Algonac recently have been identified as James Barry, of Point Edwards. He was a boilermaker at Sarnia, and in attempting to reach the ferry on Christmas day fell through the ice. His two sons took the remains home.

AN "M. D.'S" OPEN LETTER.

Benton, Ill., May 20th.—R. H. Dunaway, M. D. of this place, in an open letter, makes the following startling statement:

"I had Diabetes with all its worst symptoms. I applied every remedy known to the profession, as well as every prescription suggested in our books. In spite of all, I was dying, and I knew it.

"As a last resort, and with scarcely any faith whatever, I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. In one week I saw a great improvement. After I had taken five boxes, I was sound and well. This is ten months ago, and I have not taken any medicine of any kind since, and am convinced that my cure is a permanent one.

"As a practicing physician with years of experience, I most positively assert that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine in the world today, for Diabetes or any other Kidney Disease. Since using them myself, I have used them in many cases in my practice, and they have never failed. "I am making this statement as a professional man, after having made a most thorough test of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and because I feel it my duty to the public and to my professional brethren. The truth can never hurt anyone, and what I have said is the absolute truth."

It is no wonder that the public are enthusiastic over this new medicine, when our leading physicians themselves, are being won over to its use.

Keep Your Patronage at Home.

Montgomery Ward & Co., of Chicago, have had an agent at work during the past week selling their catalogues to all who would buy them at 5 cents each. It is fair to assume that those who buy them contemplate making purchases of the big Chicago house. Before they do so, the Herald would advise them to look at their home merchants' stocks of goods first. All assertions to the contrary, notwithstanding, there are few places in the county where you can buy as good goods at as reasonable prices as in Chelsea. When you add to the prices you pay this Chicago concern your expenses for catalogues, postage, express, etc., you have in nine cases out of ten paid far more for the articles than they would cost you at home. Added to which there is no chance to change them if they are not exactly what you want, and there is no guarantee of their quality.

Old Soldier's Experience.

M. M. Austin, a civil war veteran, of Winchester, Ind., writes: "My wife was sick a long time in spite of good doctor's treatment, but was wholly cured by Dr. King's New Life Pills, which worked wonders for her health." They always do. Try them. Only 25c at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

Factories in Washtenaw County.

From the annual report of the state factory inspectors it is seen that of the factories reported, those in Ann Arbor when running full time employ 524 hands, and when the inspection was made 448 were found at work. The factories in Ypsilanti were reported as employing 575 hands when running full time and 517 were found at work. The factories in Chelsea were reported as employing 186 hands and 97 were found at work. It will be noticed that the average rate of wages paid in Chelsea is higher than in any other place.

The total amount of wages paid per day to the 448 hands in Ann Arbor was $559.80, making the average to be $1.26 per day.

In Ypsilanti the 517 hands got $564.80, an average of $1.09.

In Chelsea the 97 hands got $127.50, an average of $1.30.

NEWSPAPER MAN SUED

Because He Did Not Keep His Written and Signed Agreement.

Junius E. Beal and L. A. Pratt, of Ann Arbor, have commenced suit against L. J. Lisemer, of the same city, to compel him, it is claimed, to simply keep his business word.

On April 11, 1900, Messrs. Beal and Pratt purchased from Mr. Lisemer the property of the Washtenaw Evening Times, paying therefor $5,000. Included in this sale was Mr. Lisemer's good will and he signed the following:

"I, L. J. Lisemer, hereby agree not to engage in the newspaper business in Washtenaw county for a period of five years from and after this date, nor in any way publish or be connected with the publication of any newspaper in said county."

L. J. LISEMER.
As long as Mr. Lisemer was conducting the Hausfreund und Post, a German paper, there was no kick made as the paper was already established, but when an English edition was published and an attempt made to cut in with a new English paper, Messrs. Beal and Pratt were forced to go into court to get protection for money they had paid out in good faith.

They ask that a permanent injunction be issued to keep Mr. Lisemer to his written and signed agreement.

Shudders at His Past.

"I recall now with horror," says Mail Carrier Burnett Mann, of Levanna, O., "my three years of suffering from kidney trouble. I was hardly ever free from dull aches or acute pains in my back. To stoop or lift mail sacks made me groan. I felt tired, worn out, about ready to give up, when I began to use Electric Bitters, but six bottles completely cured me and made me feel like a new man." ### Death of Regent Cocker.

Regent William J. Cocker, of Adrian, died at the Cook house, Ann Arbor, at 7 o'clock Sunday morning, from a complication of heart and stomach troubles. He was one of the most valued members of the board of regents of the university, by reason of his wide knowledge of the workings and needs of that institution. He was 55 years old and was a son of Dr. Benjamin F. Cocker, formerly professor of psychology, speculative philosophy and philosophy of religion at the U. of M. He was a prominent citizen of Adrian and was identified with several business interests.

WANT HOUSE FOR PLANTS

University of Michigan Needs a Conservatory Where Living Material Can Be Found.

STUDENTS STUDY UNDER DIFFICULTIES.

Prof. Demmon Going to a Memorial Celebration in England—Prospects Good for a New Medical Building—Choice Specimens Exhibited—Other Notes of Interest.

[Special Correspondence.]

University of Michigan, May 20.—An effort is being made to secure funds for the erection of a plant house in connection with the work in botany. Chicago, Cornell, Columbia, Harvard and other American universities are well equipped in this respect, and foreign universities are still better provided with conservatories in connection with their laboratories and gardens. Their necessity lies in the fact that botany, like other branches of science, has become so largely experimental and practical that the development and even the proper teaching of the science are impossible without an abundant supply of living material. This must be at hand at all times of year. It must, moreover, be grown where conditions of light, temperature and other important factors can be controlled. A proper water supply is a necessity. Workrooms with tables and facilities for setting up apparatus are required in order accurately to conduct experiments and record results.

Entirely Destitute.

All these and much more are now a part of the character not only of universities but of many other institutions in which modern botanical work is done. The agricultural college and the normal college of this state are both provided with one or more conservatories, while the university is entirely destitute of such facilities except as space is rented in a neighboring commercial establishment.

Study Under Difficulties.

Under difficulties students have conducted their studies of the influence of different food elements on plant growth, the adaptation of plants to aquatic and other conditions, the origin of various habits and structures, involving some of the more recondite problems of experimental evolution, a most important, though as yet undeveloped, department of biological study.

Need Is Urgent.

It has become evident that under present conditions work of this kind cannot be satisfactorily carried on. Apparatus set up has been disarranged and the work of weeks lost in consequence. Conditions of growth cannot be properly controlled, and the value of experiments is correspondingly lessened or vitiated. There is perhaps no single place in which, as regards the conduct of scientific investigation at this university, a moderate investment is more imperatively called for or from which a greater return may be expected. An outlay of $10,000 would provide a conservatory with heating plant and workrooms ready for use. It would seem that the university cannot afford to remain longer alone in the lack of this essential part of university equipment.

Going to England.

At the memorial celebration of the one thousandth anniversary of the death of King Alfred, to be held at Winchester, England, the latter part of July, the university will be represented by Prof. Isaac N. Demmon, head of the department of English. The other universities of the United States, which have been invited to send representatives to the celebration are the University of California, University of Chicago, Columbia university, Cornell university, Harvard university, Johns Hopkins university, University of Pennsylvania, Princeton university, University of Virginia, University of Wisconsin, Yale university.

New Medical Building.

The board of regents at the meeting last week devoted their best energies to solving the problem of arranging for more room for the medical department. The plan decided upon is to erect a $100,000 building where the tennis courts are now located and to remodel the interior of the old medical building. The new structure will be square, with a court in the center, three stories high, besides a large basement.

Medical Summer Session.

The first summer session of the medical department will begin Monday, June 24, 1901, and continue through Friday, August 9. Twenty-one courses in 12 subjects are offered. These courses are classified as special, designed for graduates and advanced students, for which no credit will be given, and credit courses which duplicate certain portions of the curriculum, and on the satisfactory completion of which credit will be given. In the laboratory and demonstration courses opportunity will be given for the student to do the work for himself, under the personal direction of the instructor. He may thus familiarize himself with the apparatus and instruments used in the laboratories and in diagnostic work and become conversant with their uses. The abundant clinical material of the university hospitals will be at the disposal of the instructors offering special clinical courses and will be freely used for diagnostic work, beside instruction and general clinics.

Choice Specimens Exhibited.

A collection of choice specimens from the pathological museums of the University of Michigan was exhibited at the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the Michigan State Medical society, held at Battle Creek May 15 and 16. The collection included about a dozen jars with specimens in alcohol, a number of gall stones and a number of photographs.

Wins a Live Pig.

Prof. Otis C. Johnson, a dignified faculty member at the university, has the proud distinction of winning the thirteenth prize in a dot-counting contest. The prize in this case is a live pig and a baseball. As yet Prof. Johnson has not claimed his property, and a drove of mirthful students intend to be on hand to see the finish when the pedagogue and the pig try conclusions with each other.

Michigan Wins Track Games.

Michigan won the dual track meet with Chicago on Regent's field Saturday afternoon by the score of 73 1-3 to 52 2-3. The event of the meet was the 880-yard run, in which Capt. Maloney, of the Chicago team, and Capt. Hayes, of the Michigan team, old-time rivals, met. Maloney won the event by 20 yards. Henry won the two-mile run for Chicago by a splendid sprint at the finish. The loss of Snow, who is away with the baseball team, seriously handicapped Michigan in the weight events. The following is the summary:

Hammer Throw—Carey, Chicago, first; Shorts, Michigan, second; Jahn, Chicago, third—distance, 123 feet 11 inches.
Discus Throw—Place, Chicago, first; Carey, Chicago, second; Hopkins, Chicago, third—distance, 110 feet.

Lansing, Mich., May 21.—The senate transacted no business of importance yesterday.

House.

Lansing, Mich., May 15.—The house yesterday passed a bill appropriating the state into congressional districts, no change whatever being made in the existing lines. A bill was also passed to amend the charter of Benton Harbor.

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—Mr. Moore worked a bill through the house exempting from the provision of the salt inspection law salt manufactured at St. Clair under the Williams and Alger process. The usual inspection charge is three mills for every 280 pounds, but he made the statement that this particular salt could not be inspected and it went. The house and senate conference committee have agreed on an ad valorem tax bill. The result is a victory for the senate, the house consenting to dropping telephone, telegraph and sleeping car companies from the bill, which now includes only railroad, union depot companies, express, fast freight and refrigerator companies.

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—Bills have been passed in the house appropriating $40,000 for an additional state normal school; providing that in cases before the state crossing boards the expenses and per diem compensation of the clerk shall be paid by the railroad applying for said hearing; providing for the registration of grange libraries; providing for the licensing and regulation of itinerant peddlers; providing that teachers must deposit their certificates in the county where they teach; making it a misdemeanor for messenger boys to divulge information entrusted to them; providing for the acceptance and collection of bequests, etc., to the state of Michigan; exempting salt manufactured by the Williams & Alger process from inspection; compelling township treasurers to have their stub tax receipts compared with those of the county treasurer; senatorial reapportionment bill; representative reapportionment bill; congressional reapportionment bill.

Lansing, Mich., May 18.—The house has passed bills amending the charter of Alpena; increasing salary of state librarian from $1,200 to $1,500 a year; authorizing state auditors to investigate claim of Ben Stresen Reuter, of Kalamazoo, who was injured by the explosion of a rifle at Island Lake; agricultural mill tax, $100,000 a year; providing an additional salary of $1,800 a year each for the three members of the state board of auditors, together with necessary traveling and hotel expenses.

Lansing, Mich., May 20.—Bills have been passed in the house authorizing the township of Decatur to borrow $10,000 for public improvements; Jackson charter bill; amending charter of Alpena to authorize city to purchase electric light plant; incorporating Clare under charter for fourth-class cities.

Lansing, Mich., May 21.—The house considered on special order the substitute bill for consolidating the laws relative to the incorporations of interurban railways. The judiciary committee has rearranged the schedule in the employees' salary bill, and as it now stands the chief clerks will get ten dollars a day, journal clerks seven dollars, bill, reading and financial clerks and proof readers six dollars and the sergeant at arms five dollars.

Victim of Heart Disease.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 20.—W. J. Crocker, of Adrian, Mich., who came to Ann Arbor several days ago to attend a meeting of the board of regents of the University of Michigan, of which he was a member, died Sunday after a brief illness of heart disease.

WESTERN CANADA'S DECEMBER WEATHER EQUAL TO THAT OF MAY IN MINNESOTA.

To the Editor:

Thomas Regan and C. Collins, of Eden Valley, Minnesota, went out to Western Canada last December as delegates, to look over the grazing and grain lands that are being offered at such low prices and reasonable terms. This is what they say:

"We arrived in Calgary about the 20th December and although we had left winter in Minnesota and Manitoba, we were surprised to find beautiful warm weather at this point, quite equal to what we have in May in Minnesota. There was no snow nor trace of winter to be seen, and the climate was really splendid. Horses, cattle and sheep were running out, in prime condition, with plenty of feed on the prairie, and really better than that of ours stabled in the south. We are impressed with this country as one of the finest mixed farming countries we have ever seen. The immense tracts of fertile lands, well sheltered and abundantly watered, leave nothing to be desired.

Leaving Alberta we returned east and visited the Yorkton district in Assiniboia. We drove out about ten miles at this point and were highly pleased with the splendid samples of grain we were able to see, wheat yielding 25 bushels, oats 60 bushels. Roots were also good specimens. From what we have seen, we have decided to throw in our lot with the Yorktoners—satisfied that this part of the country will furnish good opportunities for anyone anxious to make the best of a really good country. Any agent of the Canadian Government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in the columns of your paper will give you full particulars of the new districts being opened out this year in Assiniboia and Saskatchewan.

Yours truly,
OLD READER.

NEGRO GIRL EVANGELIST.

Feels Called of God to Do Revival Work Among White People as She Has Among Colored.

Isabella Horton, the 15-year-old colored evangelist whom many colored people of Brooklyn believe to be inspired, and who has been creating much religious excitement at New York, feels that she has been called to do a similar work among the white people of Brooklyn, and her mother has secured the Academy of Music, in Montague street, where she will hold services for the benefit of the white people. She will have to assist her several of the most enthusiastic colored people, who have been helping her at the colored churches. Mrs. Horton is a good singer herself.

The fact that the academy will accommodate 4,000 or 5,000 people seems not to embarrass the mother in the least, as she feels that "Bella," although but a child, is fully able to make herself heard in all parts of the big building. At one of the big meetings held by the girl evangelist down in Bridge street two fashionably-dressed white women, wearing picture hats, and, it is said, bedecked with jewelry, were present, and when the girl made an appeal to the sinners to come forward to be prayed for these two women went forward and knelt among the colored men and women and asked to be prayed for.

It is said that this was the girl's first intimation that she was inspired to call the whites, as well as the blacks, to repentance.

She says she has converted over 2,000 people, both white and colored.

COUNTRESS OF WARWICK.

Famous English Beauty Is Now Devoting Her Time and Fine Talents to Charity Work.

When King Edward succeeded to the throne of Great Britain the impression prevailed in court circles that the beautiful countess of Warwick would exercise great influence in the management of state affairs. The countess is a woman noted for brains, whose undertakings in business and charity have been eminently successful. King Edwards entertains the highest regard for her, and as prince of Wales consulted her whenever he encountered difficulties. There was said to be no woman of whose judgment he had a higher opinion. The countess had many enemies at court, however, and it is supposed that the king listened to their counsel, as since his accession he has ignored his old-time friend. The countess shocked British society a few years ago by opening a lace shop in Bond street, London, but according to the latest reports she has sold her lace and lingerie business and retired from trade. She is now devoting her time and her fine talents to promoting the education and welfare of country working girls. A rich dowager, whose name thus far has been kept a secret, gave her $500,000 to carry on this work. The countess is establishing schools, homes and boarding houses for the girls, where they are safe and enjoy many advantages.

Once in a While.
Once in a while in the desert sand
We find a spot of the fairest green;
Once in a while from where we stand
The hills of paradise are seen;
And a perfect joy in our hearts we hold,
A joy that the world cannot defile;
We trade earth's dross for the purest gold
Once in a while.
—Nixon Waterman, in Good Cheer.

The Way to Pan Chicken.
To pan chicken cut the chicken up as for fricassee. Put it into an ordinary baking-pan; dust with pepper, partly cover with water and place it in a very hot oven. Baste frequently. When it is half done add a teaspoonful of salt. When quite done, dish and serve with a brown sauce made from the water in the pan and browned flour.—Ladies' Home Journal.

MAKING NECKWEAR.

A New and Lucrative Field of Enterprise for the Ingenious and Tasteful Woman.

Among the strictly feminine professions none is just now more lucrative than the manufacture of neckwear. The decoration of tea-cloths and dollies, sofa-pillows and bureau-scarfs with drawn work and floss flowers threatens to become a forgotten art since the demand for pretty hand-made collars, berthas, stocks, etc., far exceeds the supply. Machine-made neckwear the well-dressed woman refuses to accept at any price. To her notion there is a set and a sameness about it that fails utterly to please; she has entirely forsworn the masculine linen shirt collar, and, however simple and tailorish her costume may be, her throat must be dressed with care, taste and originality. Therefore, whatever she ties about her neck must be hand-made, for this more or less shuts out the possibility of wholesale imitation of any particularly nice designs.

One woman who took advantage of this sentiment prevailing among her sex earned a tidy $500 last summer by making every variety of little silk, lawn, linen and lace turn over for fall stocks, and this year she has gone into the lucrative business of making smart tulle collars, roped with imitation pearls, for wear with decollete evening gowns. She also makes irresistible kerchiefs and berthas of lace and chiffon, and sells them readily to women who wish to freshen up their old evening waists at little expense and less trouble. She has improved on the transparent lace stock for this season by welding pieces of tea-tinted lace together, to form a sort of dog collar, and weaving through openings in the fretted band of gold or panne ribbon that ties in a broad-winged bow at the back of the neck.

This woman and her sister manufacturers haunt the remnant counters and pick up invaluable odds and ends for little or nothing; odds and ends, however, that in the true artist's fingers can be converted into the most delightful ornaments for a shirt-waist, a reception toilet, or a ball gown as the need may be; and one of these collar-makers, who keeps herself au courant with the fashions, is preparing a big stock of flat collars. Such collars, a little later on, with country muslins that have bell-mouthed sleeves, the women will adopt, pinning the flat lace boleros for the neck with the quaint cameo brooches that their mothers wore a half century ago.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

CHILDREN AT BED-TIME.

At No Other Hour of the Day Can Parents Exert a More Lasting or Higher Molding Power.

Every parent who has been in the habit of reading or talking to the little ones after they are safely tucked in bed will bear witness to the value of this mode of influence. With laying off the clothes, the angers, worries and discontents of the day subside. With the brief season of prayer they fly still farther into the background. And when the little form rests in its bed they seem to vanish out of sight. The body is at rest. The heart is plastic to the touch of a loving father or mother.

Now is the time to exert a molding power. At this hour the little ones listen with hushed attention to what is read to them. Hymns, the Scriptures, Bible stories, are heard with close attention, until the reader's voice is stilled or the hearers sink into gentle sleep; or conversation may take the place of reading. The will that was in a state of resistance an hour ago is now relaxed. The anger that blinded moral discernment has passed away. With open heart the child utters its confessions and gladly receives the forgiving kiss.

Plans for the morrow can be discussed, and duty can be made to put on an attractive form. Irritations can be looked at quietly, and admonitions to watchfulness may be dropped with soothing efficacy into the listening ear. And then how delightful the embrace with which the young arms clasp your neck, the intense "dear mother" with which the "good night" is said. Parents, if you have not thus parted from your birdlings at the evening hour, you have something yet to learn of love's delights.—Leslie's Weekly.

are to receive such attention as to make this one feature of the Pan-American Exposition of the greatest importance in the history of electrical development. In addition to the spectacular uses of electricity in illuminating buildings, towers, courts and fountains there will be very important demonstrations of the application of the force to many new purposes. Among them will be wireless telegraphy, the X rays, the electromobile, telegraphy to and from moving trains by induction, the improvements in the electric light and telephone. The wonderful labor saving qualities of electricity have revolutionized the production of many articles of merchandise within the past decade. This phase of employment of the electric fluid will form a most pleasant study for those who are interested in the newest of the sciences, and such a study as will only be possible at the Exposition. The development of electric power will be illustrated in a comprehensive manner.
