COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

Class of '01 Chelsea High School Will Graduate Friday, June 21.

The commencement exercises of the Chelsea high school will open with the baccalaureate sermon to be delivered by Rev. C. S. Jones at the Congregational church next Sunday evening, June 16, at 7:30 o'clock. The subject of the sermon will be "The blessing of a life of service." This year a departure has been made from having the class day and commencement exercises occupy two evenings. There will be no class day exercises, and the commencement exercises will be held Friday evening, June 21, in the opera house. There will be no reading of essays as has been done in former years. Instead of this, each graduate hands in an essay to the superintendent and receives proper credit for it.

The exercises Friday evening will be according to the following program:

Piano Solo, Op. 9.....J. Schulhoff
Miss Florence Hascall.
Invocation.....
Rev. F. A. Stiles
Vocal Solo—"The Bird and the Rose".....
.....Hard 'Olett
Master Leslie Brown.
Violin Solo—Concerto No. VII, Op. 76,.....

The graduating class has 12 members as follows:

Classical Course—Howard G. Armstrong and A. Zoe BeGole.
Latin Course—Enid P. Holmes, Emilie Steinbach and Mabelle E. Bacon.
English Course—W. Augustus BeGole, Karl E. Vogel, Inez J. Marshall, Verna E. Hawley, Warren G. Geddes, Carl G. W. Plow and Edward Zincke.

The officers of the class are Edward Zincke, president; Mabelle E. Bacon, vice president; Verna E. Hawley, secretary; W. Augustus BeGole, Treasurer.

The class motto is "For value received, we promise to pay"; the colors, red and white; flower, the rose.

BAY VIEW READING CIRCLE

Gave an interesting "Nineteenth Century Program" Monday Evening.

The closing meeting of the Bay View Reading circle was held at the home of Mrs. A. A. VanTyne Monday evening, and was a very pleasant event. The house was decorated for the occasion with palms and ferns. About 70 people were present which number included several invited guests. The guests on arriving were received by Mesdames A. A. VanTyne, J. R. Gates and Warren Cushman. The following interesting "Nineteenth Century Program" was carried out, the singing of Miss Nickerson being particularly pleasing:

Piano duet—Mrs E. Keenan and Miss Jessie Everett.

Reading—Mrs. C. E. Stimson.
1800-1825—Mrs. J. S. Gorman.
Reading, "Toscoea, the beautiful"—Mrs. H. S. Holmes.

Piano solo—Mrs. Ed. Hammond.
1825-1850—Mrs. G. W. Palmer.
Reading, "The Courtin'"—Mrs. E. Keenan.

Piano solo—Mrs. J. W. McKain.
1850-1875—Miss Mary VanTyne.
Reading, "Why he wouldn't sell the farm"—Mrs. D. C. McLaren.

Quartet—Mesdames Congdon, Cummings, Keenan, Miss Margaret Nickerson.
1875-1900—Miss Elizabeth Depew.
Recitation—Harlan Depew.

Vocal solo, "The Silver Ring," "Were I a Gard'ner," "Irish Folk Song"—Miss Margaret Nickerson.

After the program dainty refreshments were served in four courses in the dining room. The table decorations were pink and white carnations and were very pretty.

WASHTENAW COUNTY PIONEERS

Held Their Interesting Annual Meeting at Dexter Yesterday.

The annual meeting of the Washtenaw County Pioneer Society held in the M. E. church, Dexter, yesterday was attended by about 150 people. The rostrum was decorated with flowers and evergreens and an evergreen arch with the word "Welcome" in white flowers was erected over the center aisle. It was noticeable to one who has attended the gatherings of the society in former years that the older members of the society, and whose faces have become familiar, are fast losing their vitality. Their steps are more feeble than of yore, their heads whiter, and though they are still healthy, one is forcibly reminded that their remaining years upon earth are but few, and the ranks of the society must be replenished from the younger generations if the society is to be kept alive.

The meeting was called to order by President R. P. Copeland, of Dexter, about 11 o'clock. After prayer by Rev. O. J. Perrin and music by the choir, Secretary Robert Campbell read the minutes of the last annual meeting, which embodied his report. R. C. Reeves read his report as treasurer and W. H. Lay read his report as necrologist.

It showed 78 deaths reported during the year, 48 males and 35 females, although there were far more deaths than that number. The reports from the various vice presidents were very incomplete during the year.

A nominating committee was appointed by the chairman, and after music by the choir the morning session closed.

A fine substantial dinner, served by the ladies of Dexter, in the dining room of the church, was the next thing on the program. It was heartily enjoyed by all. After dinner a group picture of the old pioneers was taken.

When the afternoon session was called to order the nominating committee reported as follows: Place of meeting in 1902, Chelsea; president, Orin C. Burkhardt; secretary, Robert Campbell, Ann Arbor; treasurer, R. C. Reeves, Dexter; necrologist, Wm. H. Lay, Ypsilanti; committee on arrangements, the officers named, Rev. Thomas Holmes, James P. Woods, W. P. Schenk, George E. Davis, F. H. Sweetland. The committee also reported the names of the vice presidents for each city and township.

Mrs. Smith and George C. Page were presented with bouquets of flowers for being the oldest persons present. On motion of Mrs. J. W. Babbitt this ceremony will be observed at future annual meetings.

Music by the choir followed after, which interesting remarks were made by John K. Campbell, of Augusta; John A. McDougall, of Superior; J. R. Sage, of Ann Arbor; F. A. Graves, of Ypsilanti; J. W. Wing, of Scio; H. Wirt Newkirk, of Ann Arbor; Mrs. J. W. Babbitt, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Graves, of Ypsilanti; Geo. M. Wheeler, of Salem, and others. These remarks were interspersed with singing by Jas. R. Sage, of Ann Arbor, the old pioneer singing master, and a male quartet.

R. C. Reeves noted the death of W. D. Smith, of Dexter, last Sunday, and read a memorial account of the life of Dennis Warner, deceased.

The time having arrived for those from the eastern part of the county to return home the meeting shortly afterwards broke up.

IMPROVING SLOWLY.

Strong Hopes of Mrs. McKinley's Recovery Entertained.

Her Condition, However, Is Still Extremely Grave—May Be Removed to Canton—Full Explanation of Her Ailment.

Washington, June 10.—The slight improvement in Mrs. McKinley's health which manifested itself the latter part of the week continues and hope begins to be felt that she may after all recover from the present attack. The improvement, however, is so slight as not to change materially the extreme gravity of the case. The usual consultation of the physicians was held Sunday morning and at its close the following bulletin was issued: "Mrs. McKinley's physicians report that she passed a very comfortable night and continues to improve."

The fact that Mrs. McKinley has more than held her own and that no unfavorable turn has occurred is considered in every way encouraging, but as this result is due partly to the constant use of powerful medicines the physicians fear the effect of reducing the stimulants, and likewise have to cope with the effect on her system of the constant administration of the only means of prolonging her life and making ultimate recovery at least a possibility. These stimulants and the complaint from which she suffered in California, which is now under better control, have so weakened her powers of resistance that apprehension is ever present that a sinking spell may occur suddenly from which she cannot be rallied. Dr. Rixey regularly makes three visits each day, one in the morning, when there is a consultation of physicians, another in the afternoon and a third in the evening.

Dr. Rixey, after his visit to the white house Sunday evening, said on leaving at 10:30 o'clock: "Mrs. McKinley is slowly improving. She is resting very comfortably now and is doing very nicely."

Mrs. McKinley will be taken to Canton whenever she is in condition to bear the journey. Extensive improvements have been made at the McKinley home in Canton, including the building of a porte cochere and the remodeling of portions of the house, and it was planned last autumn that she and the president should go to Canton about July 1 of this summer. In case Mrs. McKinley recovers, this plan will be carried out, though it is not expected she would be strong enough to leave here the first of July, even if improvement should continue steadily. Dr. Rixey said he was unprepared to predict whether she would be able to carry out these plans. It is believed that considerable benefit would accrue from removal to her old home, especially as it is cooler and more breezy there than here.

Mrs. McKinley's Ailment.

Washington, June 10.—Mrs. McKinley's physicians were in consultation about two hours Saturday and subsequently a very complete statement of the true character of the illness from which she has been suffering was issued. Such a statement has been promised from time to time, and while in San Francisco it was said that the president desired a fuller announcement of the nature of Mrs. McKinley's illness given to the public. But, for one reason or another, it has been withheld up to the present time. The bulletin is as follows:

"Mrs. McKinley's illness has been a blood infection resulting from perlostitis of the index finger (bone felon), which began in Los Angeles and which was promptly treated by incision. The subsequent condition of exhaustion was due to the same blood infection associated with a severe diarrhea. She improved, however, and was brought home in comfort and without loss of strength. The principal cause of anxiety in her case since her arrival in Washington has been acute endocarditis (inflammation of the lining membrane of the heart), involving the mitral valve, the result of the same blood infection. This does not appear to be progressive and there has been an improvement in the diarrhea and in her general condition. Mrs. McKinley's case at the present time presents a more cheerful aspect."

THREE GIRLS DROWNED.

Sad Result of a Boating Accident on the Delaware River Near Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, June 10.—A party of six persons, three men and three girls, while sailing on the Delaware river Sunday afternoon, off North Esington, a few miles below this city, were thrown into the water by the swamping of their skiff during a squall, and the three girls were drowned. The names of the girls are: Rosie Koons, aged 17 years; Mary Koons, 19; Mamie Traynor, 22. The party were guests of the Federal Boat club. Other members of the club heard the cries of the unfortunate and immediately set about rescuing them. The three men were quickly hauled into other boats, but the girls sank before they could be reached.

Help for Women Who Are Always Tired.

"I do not feel very well, I am so tired all the time."

You hear these words every day; as often as you meet your friends just so often are these words repeated. More than likely you speak the same significant words yourself, and no doubt you do feel far from well most of the time.

Mrs. Ella Rice, of Chelsea, Wis., whose portrait we publish, writes that she suffered for two years with bearing-down pains, headache, backache, and had all kinds of miserable feelings, all of which was caused by falling and inflammation of the womb, and after doctoring with physicians and numerous medicines she was entirely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are troubled with pains, fainting spells, depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere, headache, backache, and always tired, please remember that there is an absolute remedy which will relieve you of your suffering as it did Mrs. Rice. Proof is monumental that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the greatest medicine for suffering women.

COULDN'T WEAR SHOES.

Sumpter, Ill., June 10.—Mrs. J. B. Flanigan, of this place, had suffered with Dropsy for fifteen years. She was so very bad that for the last three years, she has not been able to wear her shoes. She had doctored all the time, but was gradually getting worse.

Last winter Mr. Flanigan, who was very much discouraged, called for some medicine at Mr. J. J. Dale's drug store in Carmi. Mr. Dale persuaded him to have his wife try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and he bought six boxes. His wife used five out of the six, before she was entirely cured. She is now as sound and well as ever she was, completely restored to health, and free from any symptom whatever of Dropsy.

To say that Mrs. Flanigan is pleased at her wonderful deliverance, does not half express her feelings, and she and Mr. Flanigan are loud in their praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and of Mr. Dale for recommending this wonderful remedy to them.

The fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mrs. Flanigan of such a severe case of Dropsy, after the doctors had given her up, has made them the most talked-of remedy ever known in White County.

PRAYED TO ANIMALS.

Ancient Egyptians Worshipped Cows, Bulls and Cats.

They Also Venerated Serpents and Other Reptiles—Other Nations of Antiquity Imitated Their Example.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

WEBSTER says that religion is "any system of faith and worship." This is generally acknowledged to be an age of religions—but it would be too much to ask that a large proportion of the devotees of the various cults in vogue should have faith or belief in all the tenets of the sect to which they ardently attach themselves to-day, only to seek another to-morrow.

There are only a few well-known animals that have not in some time or place figured in religious ceremonies. The Egyptians worshipped cats, pined bulls, crocodiles, apes, serpents, and numberless other creatures. In fact, domestic cats are supposed to have originated in or near Egypt, for from the earliest times temples were erected in their honor and devotions offered to them. The family in whose house a cat died shaved their eyebrows.

A cat was supposed to symbolize the moon, which was accounted only less sacred than the sun. It was a capital offense to kill a cat in the land. When dead it was embalmed and usually buried in Bubastium, which sacred city was dedicated to the moon. Painted cats figured in the finest mural decorations. In the middle ages cats were supposed to be the familiars of witches, and in our own New England may still be heard (when the lights are low) blood-curdling stories of the achievements of old Mrs. M—, a well-known witch, and her familiar, and "it is a fact that when that old black cat came into the room our Jim caught him and put him into the fireplace, where he was held till he was dreadfully burned, when, with a terrible scream, he tore away and sun's disk between her horns. She is represented as a cow and also as a bird with a human face, horns and a sun's disk. The third month of the Egyptian year was named for her. Many instances are mentioned in the Bible of the Hebrews being led to worshipping a calf by observing the customs of nations around them.

The sacred bull of India is dedicated to Siva. Many figures of him, carved from rock, are found near Mysore. Of these the famous "Nandi," of Hindoo worship, is the largest. Devotees kneel on the flight of 660 stone steps which lead up to it. As the River Nile was to the Egyptians a very god, the crocodile, its creature, was a sacred thing which they feared, but never injured. Until a very recent date its worship in Egypt continued vigorously.

Serpent worship was most developed in Egypt, where a serpent represented both the evil and the good principles. The evil, red serpent, Typhon, caused the death of the good Osiris, who was sometimes represented as a falcon-headed serpent. The asp symbolized the goddess who protected houses, gardens and the infancy of a royal child. Bel was worshipped by the Chaldeans in the form of a serpent. As a dragon it abounds in Chinese mythology.

A worshipped serpent was believed to have delivered Rome from an epidemic. In our southern states and in Hayti are still to be found remnants of snake-worship. The Mohicans call a rattlesnake their grandfather. The Moquiss hold snake-dances. Unless we may except the cow no creature has been more widely venerated than the serpent from the earliest times. The Phoenicians adored it as a good genius and made offerings of milk and fruit to it. Zoroaster, founder of the Magian religion of the Persians, taught that the serpent was Ahriman, Lord of Evil, who made men to sin. The Greeks worshipped a serpent as representative of Aesculapius, the famous healing god. He learned so much from watching them that they were pictured with him, placed in his temples and worshipped in his honor. Of all the serpents of his worship the Hindoo venerates the cobra most. When he finds a snake's hole he places a daily offering of food near it that the evil spirit may be propitiated. The Hindoos rested the world upon a serpent. The Orphites were a sect in the second century who venerated the serpent that tempted Eve and worshiped a real serpent, which they allowed to curl around loaves of bread which were afterward broken and distributed around as the Eucharist.

Almost god-like honors were paid to the eagle as the symbol of Jove by the Romans. Misroch was the eagle-headed deity of Assyria. Chickens and doves were used in divination. The lamb often figures in different forms of worship. The great

If a cat cried on a house-top, it was considered a sure "forerunner" of death. In all ages the supposed attributes of cats have received a great deal of attention. In some lands they have been deeply venerated, while in others they have been regarded with extreme dread. Satan's favorite materialization was said to be the form of a black cat. Probably the favorite Egyptian animal was the sacred bull, Apis, worshipped with divine honors. It was regarded as a symbol of Osiris, god of the Nile, husband of Isis, and great divinity of Egypt. His residence was a sacred court in the temple of Ptah, at Memphis, where he was waited upon by priests. Oxen were sacrificed to him. His changes of appetite, choice of places, and all movements were religiously regarded as oracles. It was understood that he would not live more than 25 years, and if he reached that age the priests quietly disposed of him in a sacred well into which it was popularly believed that he had cast himself. If he died a natural death he was placed with great ceremony in the temple of Serapis, in Memphis.

At the inauguration of a new bull at Apis bacchanalian festivities were held. This animal must be black, with a white square on the brow, the figure of an eagle on the back and a knot under the tongue. His birthday and the day of his discovery were celebrated as high festivities. He was supposed to preside over agriculture. Decked with wreaths of flowers, and led by a priest, he was worshipped by the people who danced around him. Osiris was worshipped throughout Egypt as a human body with bull's head or in the form of a bull. Isis, wife of Osiris, was worshipped under the form of a cow. She is often seen represented with a cow's head, sometimes causing her to be identified with Athor, a second-class divinity, the daughter of Ra, the sun. The Greeks believed Athor to be one with Aphrodite. The cow was her symbol, and she generally appears in hieroglyphics with a cow's head, with a

EGYPTIAN GOD WITH RAM'S HEAD

Egyptian god, Ammon, is represented as having a ram's head. The goat also received honor. The Siamese venerate a white elephant. The greater part of the zodiacal signs are represented by animals. Legends of Vishnu closely resemble the red Indian myths and totemism is in the same class. The Indian's manitou is generally an animal chosen by himself when he reaches maturity and later adopted as the totem of his tribe. A picture of his manitou is often painted on his skin. Tattooing and heraldry are remnants of idolatry.

WAS A GREAT BELLE.

Margaret O'Neil, Popularly Known as "Pretty Peggy."

House in Which Famous Beauty Was Born About to Be Torn Down—Her Fair Name Defended by Andrew Jackson.

[Special Washington Letter.]

ONE by one the landmarks which the "old families" loved and now revere are being removed to make way for the march of modern enterprise. It is now said that an enormous apartment house is to be erected on the site of the famous "O'Neil's tavern," the home of beautiful Margaret O'Neil, who was known more than half a century ago as "Pretty Peggy," the most influential as well as the most beautiful woman of her day.

Anyone strolling up Pennsylvania avenue will notice a row of red brick dwellings at the northeast corner of I and Twenty-first streets. But few know that within the corner house have wine and dined some of the most famous men of the past, and that one woman who lived there helped to make history. The spot has vastly changed since the days of long ago, when "Billy" O'Neil was the owner of the place, and the estate then extended down to what is now the market, comprising innumerable out-houses and stables clustering about the main building. The house was then kept as an inn, and was widely known as the "Tavern," being the most conspicuous hotel in town, which was then but a city of cottages and streets of mud. It was to Billy O'Neil's house that the famous statesmen of the day

William O'Neil was descended from ancestors of that name, whose ancient home had been in County Ulster, Ireland. His wife was a woman of great beauty, and of beautiful piety. Her daughter, who became a historical character, was even more beautiful than her mother—and more brilliant because of her opportunities for intellectual development. The child was born in this city in June, 1799, when Napoleon was first consul of France. As she grew up she was famed for her charms, having soft, brown hair of a chestnut tint, clear, rosy complexion and beautiful gray eyes. At a school commencement in Georgetown she was crowned by the wife of President Madison as a reward for her graceful dancing.

Beautiful Margaret O'Neil had scarce budded into womanhood before she made herself conspicuous by her conquests. An elopement with one lover had been arranged, when the child, by accidentally upsetting a flowerpot, discovered her flight to her father, who stopped the runaway and sent her off to school in New York. On her return she made the acquaintance of young Timberlake, a purser in the navy, and the wedding took place in two weeks.

It was as Mrs. Timberlake that Margaret lived in the house on the corner of I and Twenty-first, and here she spent five happy years of married life. She had two daughters, Virginia and Margaret, as well as a son, who died very young. Her husband left on a cruise, and it was while on board of the Constitution, stationed at Port Mahone, that he suddenly died of heart failure; and the heart-broken young widow was wounded by the unfounded rumor that he had committed suicide.

When this wonderful woman was in her eightieth year, only a few weeks before her death (and that was about 20 years ago), she said to the writer: "Gen. Jackson was kind and fatherly to my two little girls, and I adore his memory. Gen. Eaton, of Tennessee, was also kind to me, and I married him. My beauty was a fatal gift to me, for it made me unhappy. It was not my fault. I am an old woman now, and I have no worldly thoughts; but you may be sure that unusual beauty was my bane. Women suspected me of captivating some men whom I merely entertained, because of my social position; and many of them I smiled upon when, in my heart, I loathed even to meet them."

At that time, when she was the object and subject of malice, envy, jealousy and the other malevolent susceptibilities of women, her husband, Gen. John H. Eaton, was made secretary of war by President Andrew Jackson. The wives of the other members of the cabinet refused to socially recognize the wife of the secretary of war, because they believed the current calumnies concerning her. But the sturdy president in a manly manner stood by the maligned woman, broke up his cabinet and appointed men whose wives did not rule them in everything.

Gen. Eaton was afterwards appointed governor of the territory of Florida and minister to Spain. While in Madrid Margaret Eaton became an intimate friend of Queen Christina, the latter being especially fond of the two beautiful Timberlake girls, who accompanied their mother abroad. Though snubbed in her own land, she was much admired and toasted in Europe, and there Mrs. Eaton reigned as a belle, her daughter Virginia being famed for her loveliness. Both girls were highly accomplished and educated. Virginia was a clever instrumentalist, being known especially as a superior harpist; while her sister Margaret, lovingly known in the home circle as "Madge," was a wonderful amateur contralto.

The writer knew that historic fem-

NOVELISTS PASS AWAY.

Death in England of Sir Walter Besant and Robert Williams Buchanan.

London, June 11.—Sir Walter Besant, the novelist, died at his residence in Hampstead, after a fortnight's illness, from influenza. He was born in 1836.

Besant was to have attended the Atlantic Union dinner Monday night and propose the toast to "English Speaking Communities."

Sir Walter Besant was born at Portsmouth, England, in 1836. He was educated at King's college, London, and at Cambridge university, from which he graduated with high mathematical honors. He was intended for the church, but abandoned this career for literature. He was for several years professor of the Royal college of Mauritius, but resigned on account of ill health and returned to England. His first work, "Studies in Early French Poetry," was published in 1862. In 1873 appeared "The French Humorists," in 1877 "Rabelais" and in 1883 "Readings from Rabelais." Meanwhile his first novels, "Coligny" and "Whittington," had appeared and the writer had formed a partnership with James Rice in the production of a series of novels that bear their names. The most famous of Mr. Besant's own novels is "All Sorts and Conditions of Men," a work which led to the establishment of the People's palace in East London.

Among the author's other books are "Children of Gibeon," 1888; "The World Went Very Well Then," 1887; "For Faith and Freedom," 1888; "The Bell of St. Paul's," 1899; "Arnold of Lyonesse," 1890; "The Rebel Queen," 1893; "The Master Craftsman" and "The City of Refuge," 1896. Of late years Mr. Besant gave his time largely to a series of illustrated historical works on old London, which he handled in an interesting way.

Mr. Besant founded the Society of Authors, an organization formed to promote the well-being of the profession, and he was editor of the monthly organ, the Author.

London, June 11.—Robert Williams Buchanan, poet and prose writer, is dead.

Robert Williams Buchanan was born in Staffordshire in 1841. He was the son of Robert Buchanan, socialist, journalist and missionary. He was educated at Glasgow university. His first writing was poetry. "Idylls and Legends of Inverburn" appeared in 1863 and "London Poems" in 1866. Several other volumes of verse followed. In 1872 appeared "The Fleishy School of Poetry," a fierce attack upon the poems of Rossetti and Swinburne.

Much of his later work was written for the stage. Among his dramas are "A Man's Shadow," "Dick Sheridan" and "The Charlatan." His first novel, "The Shadow of the Sword," was published in 1876. In 1879 followed "A Child of Nature" and in 1881 "God and the Man." Two humorous stories in verse, "St. Abe and His Seven Wives" and "White Rose and Red," attained wide popularity.

Buchanan was one of Kipling's severest critics. His attack on the author of "Barrack Room Ballads" a few years ago caused a sensation. He charged Kipling with singing "the coarse and soulless patriotism of the hour," and said he seldom wrote anything that did not suggest moral baseness.

FOUND GUILTY.

Jury in Chicago Declares Unger and Brown to Be Insurance Conspirators.

Chicago, June 11.—Dr. August M. Unger and E. Wayland Brown were Monday found guilty of conspiracy to commit the insurance frauds which culminated in the death of Marie Defenbach last fall. The jurors, who for 24 days have listened to the evidence and arguments, were unanimous for conviction on the first ballot. It took them only 55 minutes to look over the judge's instructions, sum up the evidence and prepare their written verdict. Punishment by imprisonment in the penitentiary for an indeterminate term of from one to five years is the penalty. Sentence will be passed next week upon the two men and at the same time upon Frank H. Smiley, the third conspirator, who pleaded guilty at the beginning of the trial.

[The Defenbach case may be said to have had its inception April 3, 1900, when Dr. Unger, under the assumed name of Dr. Scott, in company of Marie Defenbach, called on one of the officials of the Independent Order of Foresters. Marie sought to secure $5,000 insurance, and after some weeks of waiting her name was finally entered on the rolls of the organization. This was the beginning of a series of dealings with insurance companies and organizations which finally resulted in an aggregate of $12,000 in insurance being secured on the life of the girl. This money was distributed as follows: Independent Order of Foresters, $5,000; New York Life Insurance company, $5,000; Knights and Ladies of Honor, $2,000. If they had been successful in all their efforts she would have carried a total of $67,000 in insurance. Brown and Smiley came into prominence through an arrangement making Smiley, as her affianced husband, the beneficiary in the foresters' policy. The girl died on the night of August 25. For an hour before her death she suffered intense agony. She called repeatedly for Dr. Unger. The day following the body was embalmed at a neighboring undertaking establishment. Brown and Smiley called at the house and made all preparations for the funeral and the disposition of her personal effects. Tuesday she was cremated at Graceland in accordance with the provisions of a will found in her bedroom and dated August 23. Smiley and Brown set to work to collect the $5,000 policy in the foresters and Unger sought to get the money called for in the other two policies. Smiley attempted to probate the will and the publicity brought about an expose, arrests and finally conviction.]

The Crops.

Washington, June 11.—The government June crop report suggests a wheat yield of 617,000,000 bushels and an oats yield of 697,000,000 bushels. The wheat figures, while very large, are much less than private crop statisticians have been assuming. The oats percentages suggest 100,800,000 bushels.

Evils of Politics.

Blithers—Our old friend, Col. Beetbad, is another instance of the strenuous life of politics.

Blithers—How's that?

Blithers—He sued an opposition party paper for printing a caricature of him, and the jury decided that the picture flattered the colonel.—Ohio State Journal.

Sleep

is Nature's time for rest; and the man who does not take sufficient time to sleep or who cannot sleep when he makes the effort, is wearing out his nervous strength and consuming his vital power. Marshal Jay Woods says he will put a stop to baseball and football playing on the streets. Now, if he could stop the bicycle riding on the sidewalks, he would have a good trio of things to work on.

Rev. Paul Irion, pastor of the Bethel's church in Freedom, has been re-elected president of the Michigan synod conference of the German Evangelical church, at the session just held in Laporte, Ind.

County Drain Commissioner Barry, of Northfield, was in Chelsea yesterday. He was getting the right of way for a drain four miles long which will run through Sylvan and Lima north and east of Chelsea.

The Unadilla correspondent to some of our exchanges says: "Chelsea wool buyers are making the farmers in this vicinity look pleased by coming around and paying from one-half to two cents per pound more than home buyers were offering. This aroused our buyers, who have begun to hustle."

Seventeen languages besides English will be taught at the University of Michigan hereafter, according to the new calendar for 1901-2. They are Greek, Latin, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Sanskrit, Hellenistic Greek, Hebrew, Assyrian, Arabic, Gothic, Scandinavian, Old English, Aramaic, Syriac and Ethiopic.

The editor and his wife disagree with each other very materially. She sets things to rights and he writes things to set. She reads what others write and he writes what others read. So says an exchange.

For more than fifty years an Englishwoman (who is still living) has cherished a little sheaf of letters written by Charles Dickens. These charming letters show the novelist in a new part—that of the successful matchmaker. They tell the story of another man's courtship and show how the writer spurred a faint heart into winning a fair lady. They will be printed—for the first time—in the Saturday Evening Post for June 15.

The July number of the Delinctor is a gem. The magazine is always a work of art, but this number is particularly so. An article on the Pan-American exposition is beautifully illustrated with engravings printed in three colors that were worked up from the original water color sketches of C. Y. Turner, director of color to the Pan American Exposition. This magazine has steadily advanced during the past two years into the front rank of popular periodicals, one of its prominent features being the exquisite work done on its colored fashion plates.

Greenleaf-Schumacher.

A very pretty, informal wedding took place last evening, when Miss Ida D. Schumacher, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schumacher, a young lady who is most deservedly popular among her friends and those who knew her for so many years as a clerk in the Holmes Mercantile Co.'s store, was married to Mr. David W. Greenleaf, assistant teller in the Chelsea Savings Bank.

The wedding company consisted of about 45 of the relatives, business companions and intimate friends, who as they arrived at the house were greeted by the young couple. The house was prettily decorated with pink and white carnations. The marriage ceremony was conducted by Rev. C. S. Jones in the parlor under a bower of asparagus, smilax and maiden hair ferns, the bride and groom being unattended. The bride was becomingly attired in a white organdie dress, trimmed with accordeon pleating and lace. After the ceremony a bounteous wedding supper was served. The presents were numerous and tasteful. Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf did not take any wedding trip. During the evening the Chelsea Cornet Band serenaded the couple. They will be at home to their friends after Aug. 1.

Death of Claude S. Martin.
Claude S. Martin died Sunday morning at his home on East street after a short but painful sickness from inflammatory rheumatism, aged 49 years, 5 months and 18 days.

Mr. Martin was born in Dexter, Dec. 23, 1851. His father died when he was but seven years old and his boyhood days were spent between his Dexter home and that of his uncle Thos. S. Sears, of Lima. At the age of 13 he was appointed a page in the house of representatives and served as such in 1863-64 and in 1867. In the fall of 1875 he went to Reading, and Sept. 24, 1879, was married to Miss Anna Jewel Colby, of that place. In May, 1873, he came to Chelsea, which has since been his home. His wife and two children, Florence and Paul, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Perry, of Morris, N. Y., Mrs. J. W. Chapman, of Detroit, and Mrs. Morris Meigs, of Reading, survive him, and mourn the loss of a devoted husband and father, and a faithful brother. Mr. Martin's genial, kindly ways made him hosts of friends who sincerely sympathize with the family in their hour of affliction.

The funeral services held at the house yesterday afternoon were conducted by Rev. C. S. Jones. The Maccabees attended the funeral in a body and conducted their burial service at the grave in Oak Grove cemetery.

Ringling Bros.' Excursions.

Arrangements have been completed by which all who wish to attend the performances of Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows in Ann Arbor, Saturday, June 29, can secure special excursion rates on all lines of travel. This will be the only point in this vicinity where the great show will exhibit during the present season, and those who fail to see it will miss the grandest amusement event of the year. Since last season Ringling Bros.' famous exhibition has been greatly enlarged and is now beyond all question the largest and best combined circus, menagerie and hippodrome in the United States. The performance is given by over 300 high-salaried specialists, in three rings, on two stages, in mid-air, and on a huge quarter-mile hippodrome track. The trained animal features, which are alone worth many times the price of admission to see, include Ringling Brothers' latest sensation, twenty elephants performing at one time, in one ring; Lockhart's famous elephant comedians; O'Brien's wonderful sixty one horse act, and many other great trained animal displays. The grand free street parade which takes place at 10 o'clock on the morning of the exhibition is the most magnificent display ever seen. Don't miss it.

Don't get side-tracked in business. Business sometimes passes for death. Mrs. Brown's house has been moved and repaired.

Estella Guerin and Verne Hawley spent last Tuesday in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Jennie Luick has gone to Canada to spend two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Parker have been spending a few days at Mt. Clemens.

John Wisner, of Manchester, boss of the house moving gang, was called home last week his son having fallen and injured his spine. The boy died Friday night.

TEACHERS FOR FILIPINOS.

Five Graduates of the University of Michigan to Instruct Natives of the Far-Off Islands.

THREE OF THE NUMBER ARE WOMEN.

Search for Artesian Water—High Honors for Dean Vaughan—Bust for Dean Taft—Important Discovery—New Fellowship of a Naval Character—Other Notes of Interest.

[Special Correspondence.]

University of Michigan, June 10.—Five graduates of the university have been chosen for positions as teachers in the Philippines. Some time ago the university was asked to recommend, through its appointment committee, persons whose scholarship and experience was such as to make them of value in organizing a school system in the Philippine islands. The appointment committee made recommendations to the government officer making the request for the same, and now the names of those chosen are made public. They are, with the degrees they have received from the university, as follows: Otto H. Bollman, B.S. 1900; Charles H. Covell, A.B. 1895; Eurette A. Hoyle, A.B. 1898; H. Emily Keith, B.L. 1898, M.L. 1899; Nina H. Paddock, B.L. 1896.

Search for Artesian Water.
Prof. Israel C. Russell, head of the department of geology, will spend the summer in the employ of the United States geological survey. He will make a survey of the territory of southern Idaho for the purpose of determining whether the geological formation is, such as to indicate the presence of artesian water at a reasonable depth. If the data secured establish a reasonable probability of a large supply of water below the surface, wells will be sunk and the Snake River desert put under cultivation. Prof. Russell will fit out an expedition at Boise City and then go into the territory to be examined. He will carry tents, etc., and camp out on the mountain sides.

High Honors.
Dr. Victor C. Vaughan, dean of the medical department, is the recipient of high honors. At the meetings of the American Medical association and the American Academy of Medicine, held in St. Paul, Tuesday, he was selected president of each association. The American Medical association, according to the report of the secretary, has a membership of over 106,000. During the past year the increase has been over 1,500. The meeting was attended by 1,500 physicians. Dr. Vaughan had several papers before the associations. One of these was regarding entrance requirements to medical colleges.

Bronze Bust of Dean Taft.
The alumni of the dental department are raising funds to procure a bronze bust of Dr. Jonathan Taft, dean of the department. Some time ago a very good bust of Dr. Taft was made in plaster of paris, and it is now proposed to duplicate this in bronze. About $300 will be raised to accomplish the purpose. Dr. Louis P. Hall is acting as treasurer and receiving contributions from the graduates and former students.

Dr. Taft has been connected with the department ever since its organization in 1873.

An Important Discovery.
Drs. Frederick G. Novy and Paul C. Freer have made a discovery that is going to be of great value in surgery, and, in fact, in medicine in general. They have discovered several antiseptics that will do wonders. The two have been at work in their respective laboratories on the subject for over a year. The new antiseptics are organic acid hyperoxides in solution. The experiments went to show that these peroxides are decomposed by water giving solutions, which, even with a contents of about 5-1000 of one per cent. of active oxygen derived from the hyperoxide, are fatal to all bacteria, and that a solution of ten times the above strength can destroy even the spores. The antiseptic, as experiments with dogs proved, can be taken internally, even in large doses, without any poisonous effect.

A New Fellowship.
The Pilgrim Publishing company, of Battle Creek, has just established a fellowship of a novel character. It is entitled "A graduate fellowship for research in rhetoric and English composition," and its purpose is to bring about improvement in the teaching of those subjects in the public schools. The work of the incumbent, when he is appointed, will be to investigate present methods of teaching English composition, especially with reference to the causes of success or failure, and to discover, if he can, a remedy for the evils. The fellowship was secured for the university by Prof. F. N. Scott, who for the past four years has been collecting from several hundred schools in all parts of the United States the material that will be used in the investigation. This is believed to be the first time in the history of education that a university fellowship has been established by a magazine. It is also the first time that a fellowship has been established by anyone for the express purpose of improving the teaching of English composition in the public schools.

Going to Chicago.
Warren W. Florer, instructor in German at the university, is the latest pedagogue to be enticed away from the state institution by the offer of a higher salary. He will be a professor at Chicago university and draw twice the $900 which he is now receiving. Dr. Florer is a Cornell fellowship man and studied in Leipzig for two years. Later he entered the faculty at the University of Michigan, where he has been instructing since 1897.

LAW IS ALL RIGHT.

The Michigan Supreme Court Says the New Medical Registration Act is Constitutional.

The new medical regulation law has been sustained by the supreme court in the case against August G. Reetz, who was prosecuted for his failure to comply with the medical registration law, and convicted. In affirming the conviction the court says the new law is not different from the laws which it amends and which were sustained by this court in the People vs. Phippin, 70 Mich. 6. The court says:

"Counsel argue that such legislation is an interference with the inalienable right of a citizen when ill to employ anybody he chooses as his physician. This contention is not supported by authority or reason. The practice of medicine affects the public health, and it is clearly within the police power of the state to provide that those dealing with disease shall be amply qualified to do so, so far as human experience and education may qualify them. If this contention be adopted then the law providing for the admission of attorneys to practice law is unconstitutional and void. This legislation has been almost universally sustained by the courts of other states and the supreme court of the United States."

THE NATIONAL GUARD.

Gov. Bliss Has Signed the Military Bill Which Makes Important Changes in Government.

Gov. Bliss has signed the bill for the reorganization of the national guard, and it is now a law of the state. The new law makes several important changes in the government of the national guard. The governor is given greater power, the membership of the military board is increased by the addition of the brigadier general and the commandant of the naval reserves, the board is empowered whenever it is deemed expedient to increase the number of military companies to more than 40, to muster in a company of colored troops; the state encampment will last ten days instead of six, and a more rigid military government will be the result of the new law. Hereafter applicants for admission to the national guard must undergo a physical examination, and in many ways the law in Michigan is drawn after that governing the regular army.

EXTRA SESSION LIKELY.

Gov. Bliss Thinks the Legislature Should Act on Some of the Measures It Shelved.

It is stated that Gov. Bliss is very likely to call a special session of the legislature. It is known that he is dissatisfied with what the legislature has done, or rather with what it has not done. The governor so expressed himself pretty plainly. The following are a few of the bills the governor wants the legislature to pass during his term of office: A bill reducing fares on upper peninsula railroads, taxing sleeping car companies, taxing telegraph companies, an inheritance tax bill, an anti-cigarette bill, Dingley joint resolution providing for a separation of state and county taxes and a bill amending the general tax law on lines laid down by the tax commission. Those who have talked with Mr. Bliss look for a special session.

Close Copper Mines.

The Calumet & Hecla mine at Houghton has laid off 500 men and closed all shafts on the Osceola lode. It is probable that the closing down will be for some time, though the Calumet & Hecla proper will work with its usual strong forces. It is understood that the closing of the Osceola lode shafts is in line with a policy of retrenchment decided on recently, to be carried out by the new local management.

Free Delivery.

Additional rural free delivery service has been ordered established at Kalamazoo, to take effect July 1. The two routes will be 47 1/2 miles in length, will cover an area of 71 square miles, and serve a population of 1,211. The star route and the post office at Texas will both be discontinued. Mail to Kalamazoo.

A train on the Michigan Central struck and killed six horses belonging to Joseph Hanaw about two miles north of Jackson.

Y. M. C. A. JUBILEE.

Thousands of Delegates Representing Every Civilized Country in the World, Gather at Boston.

Boston, June 11.—Streaming into Boston from nearly every quarter of the globe come delegates to the semi-centennial and international jubilee convention of the Young Men's Christian Association of North America. Practically every civilized country in the world will be represented to-day when the convention is called to order in the exhibition hall of the Mechanics' building, and it is confidently expected that there will be nearly 5,000 delegates from the different associations in attendance during the six days the convention is in session. Those who reached here Monday afternoon scarcely paused to shake the dust of travel from their clothes before appearing at the headquarters, where a large force of officials was ready to assign suitable boarding places and attend to the needs of the visitors.

Not a delegate left the building without a thorough inspection of the jubilee exhibit in one of the large halls of Mechanics' building. This consists of photographs of Y. M. C. A. camps, athletic teams, gymnasiums and diagrams of work done in Bible study, sent by associations in all sections of the country. Awards of merit, consisting of blue ribbons and red ribbons, for first and second prizes, had been distributed among the different classes of exhibits. The exhibit contained material from all kinds of associations, in all departments of activity and designed to graphically present the history of the movement in the American associations for the past 50 years. Aside from this there was material showing the nature and extent of work done in the most important Bible study and religious work activities, the practical educational work in its numerous phases of library, reading-room, literary societies, educational clubs, lectures and valuable class work; the important physical work and all that stands for symmetrical body-building and clean sport; the social work, employment bureau, women's auxiliary, and the newly appreciated and vastly important work for boys.

HELD FOR MURDER.

Wife of a Michigan Farmer Charged with Causing the Death of a Neighbor.

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—A special to the Free Press from St. Louis, Mich., says Mrs. Charles Yates, wife of a well-known farmer living near here, was placed under arrest Monday afternoon by order of Prosecuting Attorney Kirby, charged with murder. Sunday the dead body of Jasper Wright, a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Yates, was found in a thicket near their home. Monday while a coroner's jury was investigating the cause of death, Mrs. Yates testified that while in the woods gathering flowers she discovered the body of the man and called her husband and a man by the name of Vanderkirk, who were nearby. Mrs. Yates while on the witness stand disclaimed an intimate acquaintance with Wright, but later admitted that she had been alone with him. She then became hysterical and was excused. Mr. Yates followed her on the stand and stated that he was not acquainted with his neighbor, but admitted that he had heard rumors of intimacy between his wife and Wright. Mrs. Yates on being recalled confessed that she had been accustomed to meeting Wright, and that when she went into the thicket Sunday she saw Wright kneeling on the ground. He complained of being sick and then rolled over and died. When Mrs. Yates concluded her statement the prosecutor ordered her under arrest on a charge of murder and the inquest was adjourned until June 13. Great excitement prevails here over the affair.

MICHIGAN'S BUILDING.

Fine Structure Erected at Buffalo Exposition Dedicated with Appropriate Exercises.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 11.—Although not so designated, Monday was really a day for the people of Michigan at the Pan-American exposition, it being the occasion of the dedication of the magnificent structure erected by that state, from material brought from Michigan, and by labor imported from that commonwealth. The contractors formally turned over the building to President George H. Barbour, of the Michigan commission, who in turn transferred it to Gov. Bliss for the people of the state. The governor delivered an address accepting the building and giving his views of the Pan-American exposition and its importance, especially in developing trade with the Latin-American countries.

Congressman Washington Gardner was the orator of the day. The ceremonies were interspersed with music by one of the exposition bands.

DEATH IN THE STORM.

Furious Tornado Sweeps Over Portions of Kansas and Oklahoma—Several Lives Lost.

Perry, Okla., June 10.—In a furious tornado which swept over portions of Kansas and Oklahoma several persons were killed. Information from the devastated district is meager. Rushing down from the Kansas state line and covering about 50 miles in width, the rain, wind and hail swept over the country to the southern boundary of Oklahoma. The rain fell in torrents from early Friday evening until midnight. The fury of the storm centered in a tornado at about 6:30 p. m., which formed at a point near the Kansas state line and just on the county lines of Kay and Grant, Okla. It took a southeasterly course and was most disastrous on a belt of ten miles square in eastern Kay county. The little town of Eddy was struck and of the 12 or 15 buildings in the place all were leveled to the ground except the railroad station and elevator. Flying lumber was scattered for miles. One unknown man was killed and several persons injured by flying debris.

The country in the track of the storm between this point and Tonkawa, a distance of about eight miles, was laid waste. Five farmhouses with barns and outbuildings were blown away, but the occupants all escaped without injury.

At Tonkawa 30 dwellings and business houses were scattered like so much loose lumber. The citizens of the town had been watching the advance of the storm and had sought shelter in eaves and cellars. No fatalities are reported at this point.

At Blackwell, a few miles north of Tonkawa, F. H. Crawford, a carpenter, who was working on a house, was struck by lightning during the storm and instantly killed.

Wichita, Kan., June 10.—A correspondent who has arrived here from the scene of devastation in Kay county, Oklahoma, says that the storm of Friday night ruined the wheat crop of 400 farms west and northwest of Blackwell. These farms are all in one body of territory. The farmers, who had purchased twine and harvest machinery, are asking the local dealers to take them back, and the dealers have referred the matter to the factories. The loss of crops will cause no distress, as the farmers are in good condition financially, owing to a succession of good crops during the past five seasons.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

Chicagoan Kills His Mother-in-Law Near Toronto and Blows Out His Own Brains.

London, Ont., June 10.—Crazed by love for his young wife whom it is said he had driven from his home in Chicago, Robert Fulford, a prosperous Chicago contractor, Saturday night killed his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jennie McCord, and then blew out his own brains. The tragedy occurred on the McCord farm at Ilderton, near here. The victims were first cousins. Fulford married Gertrude McCord seven years ago, his first wife having secured a divorce from him. Three weeks ago Fulford and his wife had a dispute and she returned to her parents. Fulford followed Saturday. He drove to the McCord farm and demanded that Mrs. McCord, who was milking in the yard, tell him where his wife was. She refused, and he fired four shots from a revolver into her body, killing her instantly. He then turned the weapon on himself, blowing out his brains.

DYNAMITE EXPLODES.

Collision of Freight Trains Results in Five Deaths—Both Trains Are Destroyed.

Binghamton, N. Y., June 10.—A freight train taking water at Vestal, ten miles west of here, Saturday night, was run into from behind by a double-header wildcat freight and the explosion of a large quantity of dynamite in one of the cars killed five men, injured seven others and blew both trains to atoms. The explosion was terrific and was felt at a distance of 30 miles. In addition to wrecking both trains, most of the windows in Vestal and at Union, across the river from Vestal, were shattered. Many of the large plate-glass windows in Binghamton were also broken.

DECLARED CONSTITUTIONAL.

Iowa's Anti-Cigarette Law Held to Be Valid by the District Court at Marshalltown.

Marshalltown, Ia., June 10.—Judge Burnham, of the district court, Saturday decided that the Iowa cigarette tax law is constitutional, and that the property of dealers in cigarettes and owners of buildings where they are sold may be attached and sold for said taxes. There are several thousand dollars in this county alone in back tax money due the state. Similar suits pending in other counties have been awaiting the decision in Marshall county. The American Tobacco company, it is said, will appeal.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Deed of a Maniac.

William Arnell, Jr., proprietor of the Commercial house at Beaverton, while insane from liquor, shot and killed his four-year-old daughter Rea, fatally wounded his wife, shot his mother, Mrs. William Arnell, in the arm, and also fired a bullet at his sister, Mabel, and at another sister, Mrs. Samuel Dopp, but failed to hit them. Arnell was captured and taken to the county jail at Gladwin. There was apparently no motive for the deed, except that Arnell was insane from liquor. He had been on a spree for a week.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 91 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended June 1 indicate that diphtheria, measles and whooping cough increased and erysipelas decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 200 places, measles at 32, typhoid fever at 28, scarlet fever at 69, diphtheria at 31, whooping cough at 20, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 2 and smallpox at 70 places.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:

Continued low temperatures and much cloudiness have checked germination of corn and growth of vegetation; early corn up and looks yellow; some late seeding has rotted; Hessian fly doing great damage to winter wheat in southern counties; sugar beets slow, but doing well, being thinned and weeded; oats short, but healthy; hay prospect fair; frost, damage very light.

Killed by the Cars.

A passenger engine of the Big Four road ran into a gypsy outfit south of Niles, killing Ethel Whipple, aged six, fatally injuring her brother Pabst, and her father, Charles Whipple, was badly injured. The accident occurred at a blind crossing and the wagon was not seen till too late to stop the train, though air brakes were applied.

Girls Attempt Suicide.

Josie Shattuck, aged 17, was discovered near the high school grounds in Big Rapids suffering from morphine poisoning, and later a companion, Vernice Davis, 18 years old, was found near by in the same condition. They had decided to die on account of love affairs.

Eight Men Killed.

Eight men were killed in the Chapin mine at Iron Mountain by an explosion and suffocation from the fumes of burning powder. All the men except one were married, and nearly 30 children are rendered fatherless by the accident.

News Briefly Stated.

Gov. Bliss has appointed Hon. Arthur Hill, of Saginaw, a member of the board of regents of the state university, to succeed W. J. Cocker, deceased.

Mrs. Nelson A. Malott, daughter of R. Hathaway, of the Hathaway Graphite company, formerly of Detroit, was carried over the falls in Silver river at L'Anse and drowned.

Elizabeth Tierney, a 17-year-old inmate of the industrial home for girls at Adrian, hanged herself after a quarrel with another inmate of the house.

Ernst Dell is dead, aged 70 years. He came to this country from Germany at the age of 19 years. He had been treasurer of Alaedon township and supervisor for 14 years.

HANDY MARKING TOOLS.

Description of Two Simple Devices Which Will Do the Work Required of Them Quite Well.

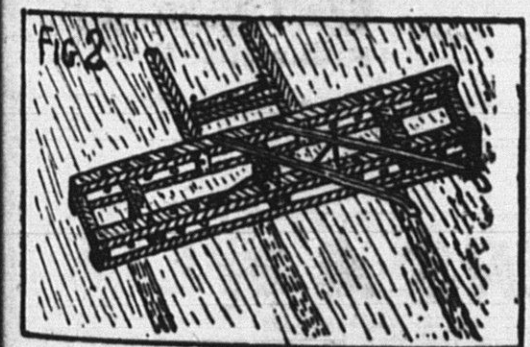

A reader requests a description of a handy device for marking ground. If the inquirer has on hand an old iron frame walking cultivator, he may construct a two-row marker with little trouble. Remove all the shovels but the rear one on each side; spread the frame to hold the two remaining teeth or shovels at the desired distance apart, bracing with a four by one-inch board of suitable length; wrap with wire where ends of brace touch frame-pieces to hold the board secure. In the illustration, Fig. 1, is shown a two-horse marker of the kind that is most in favor with farmers in general, by reason of its simplicity and its adaptability to work on uneven ground. It is well explained in the cut itself and but little description is necessary. Use 2 or 2½-inch plank, eight inches wide, and anywhere from two to three feet in length for runners. Two two by four cross-pieces are spiked after mortising slightly, to middle runners, projecting six inches over the runners. Similar pieces are spiked to the outside runners and hinged to the projecting ends of the middle pair by running a long bolt or rod through, as illustrated. A wagon tongue is fitted between a pair of three by four-inch pieces bolted lengthwise on top of cross-pieces of middle runners, and well braced. The runners may be braced by iron strips as is shown on the two outside runners in the illustration, or in any other manner deemed advisable. A seat may be easily fitted on, if required, and a gage pole hinged to one of the cross pieces of middle runners, so as to extend to either side of marker and hold a drag chain or wooden tooth. When turning, lift side runners up on top of middle pair.

An adjustable marker is shown in Fig. 2. This may be used to mark rows of from six inches to four feet distance apart. Use four two by two or two by three-inch pieces of well-seasoned oak about eight feet and eight inches long, and five pieces of two by four-inch stuff, say 12 inches long. Lay the long pieces down in pairs and bolt permanently three of the two by four-inch pieces between them, one at each end and one directly in middle. The other two two by four's are left movable between the long pieces. Set a share from an old shovel plow or the like in the center piece and in the movable pieces. Holes being bored in the frame, the movable shovel holders may be set at point desired and held by one-eighth-inch bolts. Fit in shafts and attach old plow handles, as illustrated. This will mark three rows at a time, and two of the markers being movable, the rows may be spaced to suit the demand.

No exact rules need be adhered to in making either of the markers described, and the constructor may adapt them to suit his particular requirements, and use the material that is most convenient.—J. G. Allshouse, in Ohio Farmer.

HELPFUL HORSE HINTS.

Feeding and constipative foods are bad for colts and for brood mares.

Horses and colts do well on carrots and other roots as a part of their rations.

Iron mangers for grain are preferable to others, as they are easily kept sweet and clean.

The colt's future strength depends upon his development during the first two years of his life.

The brood-mare should have regular exercise, but it should never be carried to the point of fatigue.

If a horse is inclined to stock up in a stall, he should have the freedom of a box stall. Try it. The high-spirited, nervous horse will always do better in a box stall.

A STRONG HAY RACK.

When Properly Made, Painted and Kept Dry When Not in Use, It Will Last a Lifetime.

In making a hay rack I would by all means use a low wagon; no other wagon is as handy for hauling hay or grain. Use strong pine and have it smoothed. As shown herewith, the sills (a) should be 18 feet by 2x7 inches. The four cross pieces (c) are 6½ feet by 2x5 inches. These can be made lighter by cutting down to 3 inches from sills to end. The small piece (c) explains how this is done. Cross pieces (c) are all placed on top of sills (a). Dropping cross pieces (c), one-half inch in sills (a), as shown, will make the rack more durable and secure. Four bolts, one-half by 12 inches, for end cross pieces, and four bolts, one-half by 14 inches, for the two centerpieces, will be required. These 14-inch bolts will be long enough to fasten two strips of boards underneath sills to rest bottom boards on. Two boards (b), one on each side, the whole length of the rack, 1x10 inches, are placed on top of cross pieces. It will require 16 5x½-inch bolts to fasten boards. Put these bolts down from top of boards so as to have the surface smooth. Do not put pins in top of boards; they are dangerous. Many farmers have been severely injured by protruding pins.

Make the back (e) 6 inches narrower than front of bolster. This will be an advantage in turning. Bore 2-inch holes about 6 inches from each end of sills and insert uprights before putting rack together. This should fold down nicely when necessary. These uprights may be wired to cross pieces, for if not folded down they may cause trouble. For going to the field holes may be made in single upright (f) with a pin to secure boom pole. Take a scantling 4x5 inches for bolster and secure it to rack about 2 feet from front end of the sills (g) with one-half by 12-inch bolts. The 2x4-inch scantling placed on the bolster behind this rack on a low wagon will not interfere with wheels. Use washers on all bolts; I had my blacksmith drill five-eighth-inch holes through strips of iron 10 inches long to put bolts through boards on cross pieces. This will keep boards down nicely. This rack, properly made, will last a lifetime. Do not forget to paint it and keep dry when not in use.—Abram Stull, in Farm and Home.

Placing Eggs for Hatching.

If you use an incubator, select eggs as near of an age as possible. Have them as perfect in shape as can be, and wash them with a moist cloth. Have them all ready for the machine at the same time. If you employ the old hen for incubation, select a quiet one, and one not too large, so she will be quiet when being handled. Have nest large enough to allow her to turn around on it without trampling the eggs. Set the hen where she may conveniently come off at will to get feed and water. Keep some kind of grit where she can get it. Dust her well with some good insect powder when first put on the nest and a few days before she comes off with chicks. More little chicks are killed by lice than by all other causes.—Ohio Farmer.

How to Prevent Swarming.

It is very nice to have swarms of bees if we have use for them, but it is too expensive a thing to have just for the fun of it. If you want the best returns in honey and no increase in bees, do not allow them to swarm. The first preventive is to give them plenty of room to store surplus honey. This will check many swarms. If they persist in swarming, take out all their queen cells as fast as they build them preparatory to swarming. If they still persist in swarming, take away their queen, and this will settle it for the present. But in most cases it is best to let these persistent swarms swarm and then hive them in new quarters. Farmers' Voice.

The Money Value of Blood.

If any man doubts the value of blood he can learn a few valuable lessons by a trip to a market where stockers and feeders are handled. There he will see well-bred steers commanding a premium over others of equal growth and weight that will open his eyes. There are a good many stockers and feeders handled every spring at our great markets, but never too many of the right kind appear for sale. When extra bred ones come in they are gobbled up at a good figure regardless of the condition of the trade for other kinds.—National Stockman.

The horse has a rather small stomach. This truth should be kept in mind when coarse fodder is fed to horses.

A GLORIOUS SIGHT.

Fields of Wheat in Which the Stocks Were So Thick It Was Impossible to Drive Between Them.

To the Editor:

A gentleman from Duluth made a trip through a portion of Western Canada last summer, and writing of what he saw, says:

"Wheat, for instance, will average twenty-five or thirty bushels to the acre. I saw shocks so thick in the field that it would be almost impossible to drive between them. Winters, it is said, are longer than near Duluth, but the Japan current, warm chinook winds and dry atmosphere make the winters comparatively mild."

Thousands of such testimonies are to be had from settlers who have taken advantage of the low-priced lands of Western Canada. During the present year new districts will be opened up in the Saskatchewan Valley, and advantage should be taken of this at once. Information can be had from any agent of the Government, whose advertisement appears elsewhere in your columns.

FOR SYSTEMIC CATARRH

Peculiar to Summer Pe-ru-na Gives Prompt and Permanent Relief.

Clem G. Moore, Editor of the Advocate-Democrat of Crawfordsville, Ga., writes the Peruna Medicine Company as follows:

Gentlemen—"After four years of intense suffering, caused by systemic catarrh, which I contracted while editing, and traveling for my paper, I have been greatly relieved by the use of Peruna. I gave up work during these years of torture, tried various remedies and many doctors, but all the permanent relief came from the use of Peruna. My trouble was called indigestion, but it was catarrh all through my system, and a few bottles of Peruna made me feel like another person, noting the improvement after I had used the first bottle. Peruna is undoubtedly the best catarrh remedy ever compounded.—Clem G. Moore.

Captain Percy W. Moss, Paragould, Ark., says: "I think Peruna is undoubtedly the finest and surest catarrh cure ever prepared, and it has taken but two bottles to convince me of this fact."

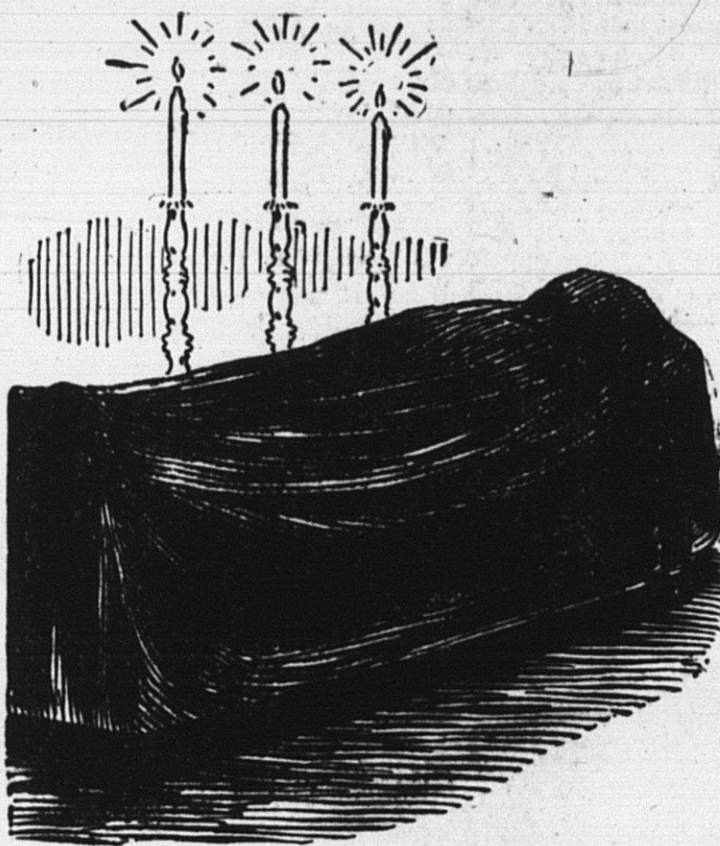

Judge Wm. T. Zenor, of Washington, D. C., writes from 213 N. Capital Street, Washington, D. C.:

"I take pleasure in saying that I can cheerfully recommend the use of Perunas a remedy for catarrhal trouble and a most excellent tonic for general conditions.—Wm. T. Zenor.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

DEATH

begins in the bowels. It's the unclean places that breed infectious epidemics, and it's the unclean body—unclean inside—that "catches" the disease. A person whose stomach and bowels are kept clean and whose liver is lively, and blood pure, is safe against yellow fever, or any other of the dreadful diseases that desolate our beautiful land. Some of the cleanest people outside are filthiest inside, and they are the ones who not only "catch" the infections, but endanger the lives of all their friends and relatives. There's only one certain way of keeping clean inside so as to prevent disease and that is to take CASCARETS. Perfect disinfectant and bowel strengtheners. All diseases are

Ordinance No. 29 was read as follows:

ORDINANCE NO. 29.
An Ordinance relative to the better enforcement of the liquor laws of the state in the village of Chelsea, and to regulate the time saloons and all other places, except drug stores, where malt or spirituous liquors are sold or kept for sale, shall be closed, and prescribing
the duties of the Marshal and Village
Attorney in enforcing the same.

The village of Chelsea ordains:
SECTION 1. It shall not be lawful for any person to allow any minor to visit or remain in any room where spirituous or malt liquors are sold or kept for sale

unless accompanied by his or her father, or other legal guardian.

SEC. 2. All saloons and other places, except drug stores, where intoxicating liquors are sold shall be closed on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, all election days and legal holidays, and until six o'clock of the following morning, and on other week day nights from and after nine o'clock p. m. until six o'clock of the succeeding day; and provided further, that each such person carrying on such liquor business may from May 1st to November 15th in each year on said week day nights continue open on Monday to Friday evenings inclusive, until 9:30 o'clock p. m., and on Saturday evenings until 10:30 o'clock p. m. Provided that such persons shall in good faith comply with the general laws of the state and of this ordinance in the conduct of his said business; and provided further, that should any such person be convicted of a violation of the liquor laws of the state, or under this ordinance, then he shall from the time of such conviction forfeit all right to keep open his place of business said additional time beyond nine o'clock p. m. of said week days, in addition to the penalty prescribed by the court on such conviction.

SEC. 3. Any person or persons violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof before any justice of the peace having jurisdiction shall be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars and cost of prosecution, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed sixty days, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 4. It is hereby made the duty of the Marshal to strictly enforce this ordinance and make the necessary complaints against all persons violating the same, and it shall be the duty of the Village Attorney to appear and prosecute all such offenders, whether such complaint shall be made by said Marshal or any other person.

SEC. 5. All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, conflicting with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

SEC. 6. This ordinance shall take effect and be in full force from and after its publication.

Approved June 6, 1901, by order of the Village Council.

File No. 886.
G. W. Turnbull, Atty-at-Law, Chelsea, Mich.

Estate of Margaret Foran.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Washtenaw ss. At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw, holden at the Probate Office in the city of Ann Arbor, on Tuesday, the 4th day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred and one.

Present, W. L. Watkins, Judge of Probate.
In the matter of the estate of Margaret Foran, deceased.
On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of James Taylor, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this Court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be admitted to probate and that administration of said estate may be granted to himself, the executor in said will named or to some other suitable person.

Thereupon it is ordered that Friday, the 28th day of June, next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the devisees, legatees and heirs at law of said deceased, and all other persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at a session of said Court, then to be holden at the Probate Office, in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, and show cause, if any there be,
why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted: And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Herald, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

W. L. WATKINS,
Judge of Probate.

Mortgage Sale.
BY a mortgage bearing date May 14
of 1890, and recorded on the 21st day of May, 1890, in the office of the register of deeds for the county of Washtenaw, in the state of Michigan, in liber 57 of mortgages on page 163, Joseph Dunnebacke, and Bertha Dunnebacke, his wife, duly mortgaged to Edmund Z. Derbyshire, duly attesting and being in the township of Ypsilanti, in the county of Washtenaw, state of Michigan, and described as follows, to wit: The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section twenty-seven, township three south of range seven east, Michigan. The said mortgage was afterwards duly assigned by the said Edmund Z. Derbyshire to Benjamin D. Kelly and Emily M. Kelly, by instrument of assignment, dated December 7, 1890, and recorded in said register's office December 8, 1890, in liber 7 of assignment of mortgages, on page 163, and by the said Benjamin D. Kelly and Emily M. Kelly duly assigned to Wilber West, by instrument of assignment, dated March 23, 1891, and recorded in said register's office November 15, 1891, in liber 7 of assignment of mortgages, on page 263, and by the said
Wilber West duly assigned to Ninetta
Stone, by instrument of assignment, dated November 9, 1891, and recorded in said register's office November 15, 1891, in liber 7 of assignment of mortgages,
on page 263, and by the said Ninetta Stone duly assigned to Susan Clement, by instrument of assignment dated April 14,
1898, and recorded in said register's office July 25, 1898, in liber 11 of assignment of mortgages, on page 438. The amount claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice for principal, interest and attorney's fees as provided for, is the sum of nine hundred seventy and fifty-nine one-hundredths (975.59) dollars. Default having occurred in the conditions of said mortgage, by which the power of sale therein contained has become operative, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the debt thereby secured or any part thereof, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be fore-closed by a sale of said mortgaged premises, to satisfy the amount due, at public vendue, to the highest bidder, on the twenty-fourth day of June, 1901, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the east front door of the court house in the city of Ann Arbor, in said county, said court house being the place of holding the circuit court within said county.

Dated, March 26, 1901.
SUSAN CLEMENT,
Assignee of said Mortgage.
JOHN P. KIRK, Attorney for Assignee.
