COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Of the Class of '01 Chelsea High School, Friday Evening.

One of the most auspicious occasions in the lives of girls and boys is that on which they graduate from the high school, and the class of '01 of the Chelsea high school showed that they deemed it to be such by the amount of labor and trouble they expended in celebrating their commencement exercises. The stage in the opera house, where the exercises were held never looked prettier than it did last Friday evening, and a large share of its fine appearance is due to the good taste of Mrs. George A. BeGole, who superintended its whole arrangement. The decorations were all in red and white—the class colors. The ceiling was covered with a canopy of white bunting in the center of which was placed a cluster of five electric lights. The upper part of the side walls were covered with pleated white bunting and the lower half was covered with scarlet drapery. The proscenium was trimmed with red and white puffings, and the front of the stage was festooned in red and white, banked with palms and ferns. Red and white blossoms were also freely used in the decorations. The floor of the stage was covered with robes and rugs. At the back of the stage three large mirrors were placed, and a statue of Apollo, on a pedestal, also graced the surroundings. The seats used were willow rockers. In the foreground at the left side of the stage was a handsome Ludwig piano in an oak case, kindly loaned for the occasion by the Ann Arbor Music Co. All in all, it was indeed a beautiful stage setting.

The hall was well filled, and after the class, the speaker and Superintendent Gifford had taken their seats, the following program was rendered:

Piano Solo, Op. 2. J. Schulhoff
Miss Florence Hascall.
Invocation Rev. F. A. Stiles
Vocal Solo—"Angels ever bright and fair" Haendel Master Leslie Brown.
Violin Solo—Concerto No. VII, Op. 78. De Beriot
Andante tranquillo: allegro moderato.
Miss Katherine M. Lindenschmitt.
Address—Living One's Life. Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, D. D., Detroit.
Vocal Solo—"The Bird and the Rose". Horrocks
Master Brown.
Piano Solo—"Frühlingsrauschen". Siuding
Miss Hascall.
Presentation of Diplomas Prof. W. W. Gifford.
Vocal Solo—"Il Bacio". Arditi
Master Brown.
Benediction. Rev. A. Schoen
Accompanists—Prof. R. H. Kempf, and Miss Helene Steinbach.

The piano solos were well rendered. The vocal solos by Master Leslie Brown, of Ann Arbor, were beautifully sung and enthusiastically received, and he responded to the encore given to his last number by singing "The Minuet." Miss Katharine Lindenschmitt's violin solo was artistically played and she was given a hearty encore, to which she gracefully responded.

The address on "Living One's Life," by Rev. Nehemiah Boynton, D. D., of Detroit, was a masterly one throughout. The central thoughts of it being that character is more to be sought after than cash in the battle of life; the companionship of good books is one of the most to be preferred of any that a man can form; and with these religion should go hand in hand. He congratulated the class on what they had accomplished and urged them to be true to their motto "For value received we promise to pay."

At the point in the program where the diplomas were to be presented to the class Prof. W. W. Gifford stepped forward and said:

My friends, I am sure you have enjoyed with me the words of the speaker who has just delivered the commencement address to the graduating class of 1901, and I am sure you appreciate with me the work of willing hands who have contributed to the very beautiful and artistic design of our stage decorations, and on behalf of the class of 1901 I desire to thank all who have contributed to make the exercises of the evening pleasant and enjoyable. I desire, also, to thank the Ann Arbor Music Company for their kindness in furnishing this beautiful piano for our use this evening, and those who have aided us with music, for their part in

POWER HOUSE IN CHELSEA.

The Detroit & Chicago Traction Co. Has a Large One in Course of Erection.

Matters regarding the Boland electric road between Jackson and Ann Arbor are progressing rapidly despite obstacles which occasionally appear. The road between Jackson and Grass Lake has been practically completed, except a little fixing on minor matters. Next Saturday cars will begin running to Grass Lake from Jackson regularly, every hour, the rate being 15 cents or 25 cents for return tickets.

On Tuesday a frame power house 30x80 and 18 feet high to the eaves was commenced on the south side of Jackson street, just east of Mrs. Barthel's property. George Beckwith has the contract for the building which is already enclosed up to the roof. It will be divided into two parts, an engine and boiler room and a machinery room. The engine room will contain a 360-horse Worthington boiler and a 550-horse Westinghouse engine. The machinery room will contain a 575-volt electric generator. This machinery and house will cost over $15,000, and with the 2,000-horse power engines and the machinery now in the Jackson power house will give sufficient power to run the cars between Jackson and Ann Arbor until the big power house shall be completed.

The men are busy completing the line from Grass Lake to Chelsea. Cars will be run from Jackson to Chelsea, it is promised, a month hence. The grading is complete on this section, the poles are all set, all the material is on the ground and about three miles of track is laid.

The grading is nearly completed between Chelsea and Dexter, but from Dexter to Ann Arbor very little is done except to purchase right of way and have some of the material on the ground. The graders will be kept ahead of the road construction gang, and it is confidently expected to run cars from Jackson to Ann Arbor by the middle of August or September 1.

McNeil-Wallace.

A very pleasant wedding took place last evening at the home of the Misses Wallace, the contracting parties being Miss Marion Frances Wallace, of this place, and Mr. Charles M. McNeil, of Jackson. Rev. F. A. Stiles was the officiating clergyman. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and ferns. The bride was tastefully dressed and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Gertrude Sanborn, and the groomsmen Mr. Christ. Boos, both of Jackson. The bridal party was preceded by little Nellie Grant, a niece of the bride, who carried a bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony a dainty three course supper was served. The useful and beautiful presents that were given them were numerous. Mr. and Mrs. McNeil left for a short wedding trip east on the 9:15 train last night. After their return they will make their home in Jackson, where the groom has a house already furnished for the reception of his bride.

The guests from out of town were Miss Gertrude Sanborn, Christ. Boos, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kinne, Ralph. Webb and Robert McNeil, of Jackson; Miss Georgella Reilly, of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Grant, of Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Johnson and Herbert Johnson, of North Lake.

Death of Mrs. Lucy Woodin.

Mrs. Lucy Woodin died at her home on Railroad street, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. She had been ailing for a long time from the effects of a broken hip, but was able to get about the house until a little over a week ago when she took to her bed.

Mrs. Woodin was born in Niagara county, Canada, June 16, 1818, and was 83 years old. Her maiden name was Lucy Stevenson. She came to Michigan with her parents in 1834, and the next year was married to Allen Conkright, who built the old tavern at Lima Center, where they lived for two or three years, when they moved to Sylvan Center and built and occupied the Prairie Ronde tavern. A son, A. A. Conkright, of Detroit, and a daughter, Mrs. Eli Ward, of Jackson, are the children from this marriage. After Mr. Conkright's death she married successively Ira Woodin and his brother Anar Woodin surviving them all. Her daughter Mrs. Ed. Moore is the survivor of two children by her second husband.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the house, Rev. J. I. Nickerson officiating.

In 1896 Mr. Pingree was selected as governor of Michigan by 83,000 plurality, running ahead of the national ticket by 26,000 votes. He was reelected governor in 1898 by about 100,000 plurality, and served out his term, which expired in 1900. Last March he started on the trip to South Africa, which resulted in his death in London.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 87 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended June 15 indicate that cholera morbus and pleuritis increased and typhoid fever and diphtheria decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 203 places, measles at 35, typhoid fever at 24, scarlet fever at 69, diphtheria at 25, whooping cough at 12, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 3 and smallpox at 82 places.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan:

Week generally favorable for field work and crop growth; frosts in upper peninsula and northern counties did some damage to corn, potatoes, garden truck and small fruit; corn and oats generally much improved; early potatoes in fine condition; bean and late potato planting well advanced; sugar beets generally healthy, but rather slow; old meadows light, but new ones progressing; wheat continues to fall, now heading.

Was a Saginaw Girl.

Because the man she married tried to force her to live a vicious life, Mrs. Edith Smith, a bride of 12 days, committed suicide in Evanston, Ill., by shooting herself through the heart. Mrs. Smith, who was 18 years old, and whose maiden name was Lewis, was married on June 4 to Ami Smith of Chicago. Her home was in Saginaw, where her stepfather lives. Smith's parents also live in Saginaw.

Killed by Lightning.

During the progress of a terrible electrical storm which passed over Allegan county the barn of Sullivan Case, near Scott Lake, was struck by lightning and burned. and the charred remains of Case were found in the ruins. John Yerger and his son James, of Mill Grove, were killed by lightning, having sought refuge from the storm in a barn. Much damage to crops was done.

Murder Suspected.

John E. Mitchell, a Milwaukee traveling man, died in terrible agony in the Pere Marquette depot in Benton Harbor. His last words were: "They're after me." Death was caused by poison, and suicidal and murder theories are advanced. The latter is believed as the more probable, because of his cries. He was an Australian and his parents are in New Zealand.

Did Not Take Action.

The G. A. R. state encampment in Flint did not take action on a resolution to erect a monument in honor of Michigan soldiers on the site of the Andersonville stockade. The question will come up again next year, as will also Chaplain White's recommendation that some plan be devised to perpetuate the observance of Memorial day.

News Briefly Stated.

At a meeting in Deckerville a permanent organization was formed creating the Deckerville Fair association. At a special election held in Oceana county the proposition to raise $10,000 for a new jail was defeated. The new state bank in Ludington will open its doors for business July 1. A swarm of bees attacked Charles Fie, of Charlotte, as he was trying to swarm them, and stung him so badly that his recovery is doubtful.

ISSUES A WARNING.

All Claims Will Be Settled by Auditor General's Department Without Recourse to a Second Party.

Auditor General Perry F. Powers in a public circular says:

"Through information received from various sections of the state I learn that letters and postal cards are being sent out from Ann Arbor and elsewhere making promises of assistance, for a stipulated amount, in securing money due to individuals and estates, in cases of double payments of taxes occasioned in most cases through redemptions by the owners after the purchase of state tax certificates. It is the present policy of this department to ascertain as to all amounts that are held by the state and due to individuals and estates and to remit such amounts with interest, where interest is due, as rapidly as possible.

"In the meantime those interested should not make any payment or promises of payment to individuals to secure amounts due them. They should send such letters or postal cards or any information which they may possess relative to amounts due them to me, and their claim will be promptly adjusted in full. Inasmuch as some of these unsettled matters have been on the books of this department for 40 years or more, it will require time and labor to properly adjust them, but work in this direction is now in progress, and will be hurried forward until completed."

LUMBER FIRMS COMBINE.

Four of the Largest Plants on the Saginaw River Have Decided to Consolidate.

Four of the largest lumbering plants on the Saginaw river are forming a combine for the purpose of economy in operation of the plants. They are W. B. Merston & Co., William Schuette & Co., S. L. Eastman & Co., of Saginaw, and the Eddy-Sheldon company of Bay City. The capital stock of the new company is to be $1,000,000. It is understood that the main office will be located at Saginaw, and the idea is to have the new corporation begin business July 1.

The four establishments handle over 100,000,000 feet of lumber annually, operating planing mills, lumber yards, box factories and sash and door factories. The firms employ about 800 men. In addition to buying largely of manufactured stock in Michigan, they secure large quantities of lumber in the Lake Superior district and also in Canada. The name of the concern will be the Merston-Schuette-Parker company.

WAS A PIONEER.

Death of Ame Vennema, Member of the Little Party That Founded Town of Holland.

Ame Vennema, who died at the house of his daughter in Orange City, Ia., was buried at Holland. He was one of the oldest residents of that town, being a member of the little party that located there in 1848 and founded the place. He lived there until 1900, when he went to live with his daughter in the Iowa village. Mr. Vennema was born at Groningen, in the Netherlands, 78 years ago. He came to America and direct to Chicago in 1848. He stopped in Chicago, however, only a few days, and with his companions set out on foot to find a new location. They decided to settle where the town of Holland has since grown up. Six sons besides the daughter survive him. Among them are ministers, lawyers and doctors.

HOODOO FARM SOLD.

Bay City Man Disposes of Land in Lapeer County Where Many Accidents Have Occurred.

Dr. D. F. Stone, of Bay City, has sold his beautiful Riverdale farm in Metamora for a consideration of $13,000 to a Mr. Lindsay, of Cleveland, O. It is a beautiful home, but it has been one of many heartaches because of the number of accidents occurring to people who lived there. Mont. Wickham was injured 14 years ago and has never recovered. William Merryweather was kicked by a horse and died of his injuries. Frank Arnold also received fatal injuries while working on the farm. D. F. Campbell lived there at the time of Saginaw's terrible street car disaster, in which Mrs. Campbell and three children were drowned.

Liberal Contributions.

The Olivet college catalogue for 1900-01 is out. It is the quinquennial edition, containing the names and residences of all alumni, who number 505. Contributions during the year have amounted to $64,571, of which $53,255 applied on the new endowment. The total attendance for the year is 268.

Smallpox Not Bad.

Secretary Baker, of the state board of health, says that while there are a good many cases of smallpox in Michigan, the conditions here are as good, if not better, than they are in other states. Most of the outbreaks in the state have been traceable to immigrants from other states.

Discharged.

Mrs. Charles Yates, who was arrested in St. Louis in connection with the death of Jasper N. Wright, who died suddenly under suspicious circumstances a couple of months ago, was discharged from custody. The jury decided that Wright died from natural causes.

FORCED TO RETREAT.

Strikers Drive Posse of Deputy Marshals from the West Virginia Coal Fields.

Huntington, W. Va., June 25.—Monday a posse of deputy United States marshals, led by A. C. Hufford, of Bluefield, were fired on by the strikers and forced to flee from the coal fields at Matewan. Sunday afternoon the marshals, under the leadership of A. C. Hufford, set out from Bluefield to reach the scene of the miners' riots. When they arrived within 20 miles of Thacker they found that they could proceed no further by rail on account of the flood. They struck out across the mountains, encountering almost unsurmountable difficulties, and late Sunday afternoon reached the end of their destination. Proceeding to work, they began serving notices of the injunction which had been issued by Judge Jackson. A mob of strikers followed, armed to the teeth with firearms. On all sides could be heard the cry: "Down with government by injunction!" Men threatened them with their weapons, women called down the vengeance of Heaven upon them and children hurled stones. When nightfall came notices had been served on the strikers of all the coal companies but one, and that was to be served at the Lick Fork Coal & Coke company at Thacker.

Fearing an ambush, they waited until morning, and early Monday set out for Thacker. Some time before noon they attempted to serve the injunction papers at the above-named colliery. A mob followed, enraged to desperation at the sweeping character of the injunction. One reckless fellow fired the first shot, and quick as lightning the mountain sides echoed and re-echoed with resounding reports that followed the crack of 20 or 30 rifles. The deputies were forced to take refuge in flight, and then barely escaped with their lives. The strike situation is assuming a frightful stage. Sheriff Hatfield has withdrawn all his deputies, because, it is said, he does not believe in the policy being used to put down the strike. The United States marshals have been left alone, and after being chased from the fields, it is believed they will be strongly reinforced and ready to fight when they again appear to enforce the injunction.

MORE GOLD COMES.

Heavy Receipts of the Precious Metal from the Klondike—More on the Way.

Seattle, Wash., June 25.—Gold receipts by the steamship Dolphin from the Klondike Monday are: For Canadian bank of commerce, $1,000,000; individual dust, $350,000. There was shipped via St. Michaels on the 12th inst. $2,500,000, and there is on the way up the river (estimated) $1,000,000. Over three tons of gold, or $2,500,000, is on its way down the Yukon. It will be brought from St. Michaels probably on the Roanoke. On the 20th over $1,000,000 was on its way up the Yukon from Dawson. It will probably arrive on the next steamer. An estimate of the total clean-up for the district for the season places the amount at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.

Mrs. McKinley Improves.

Washington, June 25.—For the first time since she was brought home from California in a very feeble condition, Mrs. McKinley Monday was able to go downstairs and joint the president while the latter was at luncheon. She remained at the table for some little time and then returned to her room, having enjoyed the break in the daily routine of life for the past month. Apparently she was not fatigued by the extra exertion. Mrs. McKinley's general condition continues favorable and Dr. Rixey said she was improving steadily.

Sheep Killed by Hail.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 25.—Reports have been received here of heavy storms on all sides. At Spearfish, S. D., 200 sheep were killed by hail. At Duluth, 23 inches of rain fell Monday morning and several washouts on railroads are reported. Valley City, N. D., had a severe storm, lightning doing great damage. At Ada, Minn., 3½ inches of rain fell in a short time, greatly damaging crops. A terrific windstorm passed over the district around Bossevain, Manitoba, badly damaging all crops.

Fighting in Cape Colony.

Cradock, Cape Colony, June 25.—The detachment of the colonial mounted rifles which was attacked by the Boers at Waterkloof, June 20, was pursuing Commandant Malan, when Gen. Krizinger surprised the rifles' camp at Waterkloof while the colonial troopers were saddling up. The fight lasted two and a half hours.

May Negotiate Treaty.

London, June 25.—The Daily Mail hears that the sultan of Morocco has authorized his envoy now in London, Kaid el Mehedi el Menebbi, to negotiate a commercial treaty with Great Britain, which will open Morocco to European commerce.

WOMAN POLICE SERGEANT.

Mrs. Mary E. Owens, of Chicago, Holds This Rank, and is Earning Her Salary, Too.

Sergeant Mary E. Owens, of the Chicago police department, is the only woman in the world holding such rank and title, and if she is not a good officer six mayors of that city have failed to find it out. She is on the regular police pay roll, wears sergeant's badge No. 97 and reports daily to Chief Coleran, of the detectives. Nobody, from the chief of police down, gives her orders. In the language of the street, "she knows her business," and it is an open secret that she knows it so well that she can wear her badge and draw her salary as long as she likes.

She began her official career in 1889, says the Chicago Record-Herald, soon after the death of her husband. The support of a family of three young children devolved upon her suddenly, while she was yet ignorant of any profession, trade or method of money-making. Her husband's friends brought enough pressure to bear to have her chosen one of the five women health officers appointed by Mayor Cregier. She did the rest herself. When the women were dropped by the health department Mrs. Owens had made herself so conspicuously useful to the police that the elder Carter Harrison told Chief McClaughry to appoint her patrolwoman, with a special assignment in the sweatshops, department stores and shopping districts, where most of the violations of the child labor and compulsory education laws were being violated.

"I never arrest anybody," said Mrs. Owens, laughing, "and it is mean to say that I am 'the shoplifting sleuth.' I have nothing to do with general detective work and never had."

"For years I have been attached to the board of education as a special officer. Of course, I have full police power, but I find myself more than busy rounding up truants, looking after cruel parents and preventing violations of the child labor law. Sometimes I arrest tots whom I find peddling around the saloons or sleeping in down-town doorways when they ought to be at home in bed. One night, not long ago, I picked up a mere baby dozing in a doorway, all played out and with a box of chewing gum she had been peddling. I took her to the Harrison street annex, and when we got there the child's father and mother suddenly appeared and claimed their baby. Of course they had been hiding in some adjacent doorway while their little one worked on the sympathies of passers-by. I kept the child all night, and the parents, protesting in vain, waited for her. But they never again sent her out to peddle among saloons or on the streets.

"If a truant is reported at the school headquarters as having gone to work under the legal age I make a round of stores and find the child. The affidavit of the parents stating that the child is 14 years old or older must be forthcoming or I send the little one home in a hurry."

"I can generally get the truth out of the children, and storekeepers are usually anxious to aid me. I have known cases where the earnings of a child 12 or 13 years old were absolutely necessary to the support of a widowed or invalid mother. I don't push the law too hard in such cases, and so long as the affidavit is there I don't bother them."

Mrs. Owens is nearly 35 years old, but she looks younger and is enthusiastic over her peculiar situation. She has four children, three boys and a girl, the eldest of whom is 18 and the youngest 12. She is giving them all a good education, and her housekeeping is done by a hired maid. City officials agree in stating that, aside from her police work, she has accomplished great good in the cause of charity. Every factory employer, manager and owner of a store in the business district of Chicago knows Mrs. Owens, and she has made most of them her friends.

LANGTRY'S NEW HAT.

Famous English Actress Inaugurated a Millinery Fashion That Should Become Popular.

From across the water comes the news that Mrs. Langtry has a wonderful hat which she wears with stunning effect in her new play, "The Royal Necklace." It is a leghorn, that charming straw of smooth, delicate weave which is beloved by every woman who ever looked into a hat window. It is heavily trimmed with a simple wreath of May flowers.

As every woman knows, these "simple" effects are not simple at all, but "simply maddening" to arrange. Since

MRS. LANGTRY'S NEW HAT.

Mrs. Langtry has set the style it is likely that there will soon be a raid on American millinery counters for these particular hats.

There is something deliciously charming about a hat of this style. It is so distinctly feminine and its waving brim can give an air of coquetry to even the most uncoquettish face. Correctly, it should be worn with a dimity or organdie gown of many ruffles, with silk mitts—which are quite the vogue—and with a parasol that is a fluff of chiffon and a foam of founces or a great big slapdash bouquet of real lace.

Probably no style of hat is so becoming to all ages and all types of women as the leghorn. It is pretty on the petite girl with her fluffy pigtail tied with ribbons. It is picturesque and lovely on the large girl—the Mrs. Langtry type, for instance.

Even on elderly dames it is not entirely out of place, and everyone knows how cunningly lovely the leghorn hat is on babies, its waving, lilted brim shading kissable curls and sweet laughing eyes.

All hail the leghorn! Mrs. Langtry has not tucked it back in feminine hearts, because it has never been out of them, but she has reminded womankind of its perfections, and for that womankind will be more than grateful.

THE ATHLETIC GIRL.

Her Prestige Is Being Slowly But Surely Usurped by the Soft, Clinging Maid of Yore.

Backward and forward swings the pendulum of fashion. We fancy we have put away certain frivolities forever, and presto! here they are back again as pronounced as ever. The fact is that the man and woman in esse have not changed at all.

Circumscribed as we are, therefore, by the limitations of our humanity, we find in our orbit that now, as in the days of Solomon, "there is no new thing under the sun," and fashion must perforce swing around in an erratic circle of periods—the Victorian, the Napoleonic, the Louis XVI., the Renaissance, the Grecian, etc.—to gratify the love of change. This may seem like a rather elaborate preamble to an analysis of the coming summer girl of 1901, but it is curiously apropos to observe that the athletic girl's prestige seems to be more or less on the wane, and that a soft feminine creature, like the grandmother of 50 years ago, who does nothing but look supremely pretty in her muslins and laces and makes herself entertaining, is coming very much to the fore.

A couple of years ago it was generally thought that the athletic movement which was so pronounced all over the country would develop a new woman, and that the fluffy summer girl of yore had vanished forever, but to the great joy of the maidens (and they are not a few), who have all along secretly defested sport, it seems now quite on the tapis that they may be as much in the fashion this summer as their more amazonian companions and may openly avow their preference for shady corners and tete-a-tetes without incurring disapprobation.—Chicago Daily News.

How to Cool a Room.

A good way to cool a room on a hot day is to hang up a large wet cloth. If hung in the window, it will often change a hot, dusty breeze into one cool and refreshing.

A Clever Woman's Rebuke.

A clever woman said to an excited sister: "My dear, do not use a pile driver to pin on a bow of ribbon."

Tired

that's all. No energy, no vim, no vigor, no ambition. The head aches, thoughts are confused, memory fails. Life becomes a round of work but half accomplished, of eating that does not nourish, of sleep that fails to refresh and of resting that never rests. That's the beginning of nervous prostration.

"I never had anything do me so much good as Dr. Miles' Nervine. I was tired, nervous, sleepless and worn-out and Nervine cured me. I know of nothing so good for indigestion and general building up of the system."

GRAMMARIANS OF '01.

Their Pleasing and Excellent Graduating Exercises Last Thursday.

The graduating exercises of the Grammarians of '01 were held at the high school Thursday afternoon, and were largely attended. The walls were nicely decorated with flags and bunting and the bright, happy faces of the 11 young graduates added animation to the scene.

The exercises opened with a march played by Miss Mabel Bacon, to which the class marched in and took their places. Rev. J. I. Nickerson then offered prayer. The class sang a pretty little piece "Fairland Waltz," and Bert M. Snyder gave the salutatory. It was a well argued composition, was well memorized and well delivered. Cora A. Burkhart followed with a bright class history, given in a piquant and pleasing manner. Next followed a whistling solo by Miss Lovejoy. Edna M. Ives' essay "Side Talks with Boys," was well written and contained lots of good advice for the boys. Leone Gieske played a piano solo in a most creditable manner for one so young and was roundly applauded. Elmer E. Wiggins then read the class will. It was a formidable document abounding in legal phrases and bequeathed to the class of '02 a number of possible and impossible things to carry out. Another whistling solo by Miss Lovejoy was followed by the valedictory by the class president Leone Gieske. At the close of each number the little flower girls Ruth Raftery and Vesta Welch presented those giving them with baskets and bouquets of flowers.

Prof. W. W. Gifford then addressed a few earnest words to the class, commending them for their excellent deportment during the year, and admonishing them to keep up the good record and work as hard and faithfully in the high school as they had done in the eighth grade and success would be theirs. He then presented the diplomas to the 11 graduates.

After a song "Away to the Woods," by the class, Rev. J. I. Nickerson closed the exercises with the benediction.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES.

contributing to the pleasure of this occasion.

The class of 1901, which I present to you this evening for the honors of graduation, is, in many respects, unique. Not only are they unique in the excellence of their baccalaureate and commencement addresses, but they themselves have reached a high degree of merit. While, perhaps, they may not be better than other classes that have preceded them, yet they have reached a degree of perfection and attainment which entitles them to the honors of graduation and of which we all may justly feel proud. I do not wish to boast because they are my pupils, nor because they are citizens of Chelsea and graduates of the Chelsea high school, nor yet because they are your sons and daughters, but because they will compare favorably with the graduates from the better high schools throughout the state and are entitled to the diplomas which I now present to them.

Then, addressing the class he said: In behalf of the Board of Education I present these diplomas to the members of the class of 1901, as a token of appreciation of merit and as an evidence of the full completion of all the requirements of the various courses pursued.

You have reached the first goal of your ambition and the hour of parting is now passing before you. The golden links in the chain of memory alone can bind all the bright hopes and the sunshine of schooldays to the ripper years of your lives, when you must meet the stern realities of life and forget the season of youth. Henceforth, you go out into the world soon to fight life's mighty battles alone. Improve the golden opportunities of life as they pass. With muscle or with mind carve out with a will the destiny that lies before you. Be brave in the hour of adversity, generous in the hour of prosperity, and noble in the hour of victory, for Meredith says:

Man is born on a battlefield.
He leaps with a wall into being; and lo!
His own mother, fierce Nature herself, is his foe.

Her snows fall to freeze him; her suns burn to brand;
Her seas yawn to engulf him; her rocks rise to crush.

The stars keep their secrets, the earth hides her own,
And bold must the man be who braves the Unknown.

Lift then the veil of the future and choose what you will be and be what you will. Live out your lives, nor submit to mere passive existence. Be active in living, not merely passive in your being. Every life has one supreme object of its existence. Think each for yourselves what is the objective future of your life and strive with one purpose for its attainment; for it has been said:

The man who seeks one thing in life, and but one.

May hope to achieve it before life be done:
But he who seeks all things, wherever he goes,
Only reaps from the hopes which around him he sows.

A harvest of barren regrets.

He who thinks most, lives most. If, in gaining an education, you have only met with the rugged facts of knowledge and have not learned to concentrate the mental activities into the form of crystallized thought, you have missed the great purpose of an education. Think of the gratitude you owe to kind parents. Think of the duty, the deep and sacred duty you owe to yourselves and be men and women whom the world will honor and esteem for the good that you may do. Think of the sympathy you owe to those around you who may be less favored than you, where, perhaps, as Dunbar has said,
A crust of bread and a corner to sleep in,
A minute to smile and an hour to weep in,
A pint of joy to a peck of trouble,
And never a laugh but the means come double.

And that is life.

—for them. Think kindly of her who taught you to lip first accents of love for mother, and let self sink deep into the service of love for God and your fellow men, and as you look in the future at these memorials of the happy moments of your younger schooldays that will long since have passed away, remember your motto, wherein you have pledged that "For value received we promise to pay," and may Godspeed go with you in the journey of life.

The exercises closed with the benediction by Rev. A. Schoen.

The graduating class had 12 members as follows:

Classical Course—Howard G. Armstrong and A. Zoe BeGole.

Latin Course—Enid P. Holmes, Emilie Steinbach and Mabelle E. Bacon.

English Course—W. Augustus BeGole, Karl E. Vogel, Inez J. Marshall, Verna E. Hawley, Warren G. Geddes, Carl G. W. Plowe and Edward Zincke.

The officers of the class were Edward Zincke, president; Mabelle E. Bacon, vice president; Verna E. Hawley, secretary; W. Augustus BeGole, Treasurer.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Rev. C. W. Rice, of the Congregational church, Pinckney, has tendered his resignation to take effect Sept. 30.

Ann Arbor Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, held its final initiation for the season last night. Among those initiated were Floyd Van Riper and B. J. Conlan, of Chelsea.

Seven complete Indian skeletons were unearthed in the D. Y. & A. A. gravel pit at Ypsilanti, Tuesday, with a quantity of arrow and hatchet heads, copper beads, knives, pipe heads, spoons, etc. The skeletons were found a few feet below the surface and all were lying with the feet toward the east.

There are few towns of its size that do more for church work than does Chelsea. Take last Sunday's work of giving for an example. In the M. E. church $263 was taken up as a missionary offering. In the Congregational church after the regular morning offering had been taken, a special offering for the Salvation Army was taken and realized $11.88. The total collection for the Salvation Army work during the day amounted to at least $25. The regular collections in the other three churches in the village also amounted to goodly sums.

One of the most remarkable proofs of the amazing growth of that vast region of our country commonly called the Northwest, with its numerous sisterhood of states and its population of more than seven million people, is the fact that it is only a little more than eighty years since the first white baby was born there. The child was a girl, the daughter of a regular army officer, and she is still living. A fascinating account of her eventful life, the early years of which were spent among soldiers and savages, will appear in an early issue of the Ladies' Home Journal.

County Valuation Dropped $361,977

The board of supervisors met in Ann Arbor Tuesday to equalize the valuation of the county, 27 out of 29 supervisors being present. The committee on equalization reported the total valuation of the county as being: Real estate, $26,233,284; personal, $7,706,376; total, $33,939,760. On motion the equalization was fixed on this basis of valuation, a decrease of $361,977 from last year. Sylvan's share of the equalization is $904,815 real, $447,958 personal; Lima, $741,715 real, $167,062 personal; Lyndon, $418,795 real, $34,378 personal; Sharon, $767,450 real, $124,750 personal; Dexter, $489,610 real, $81,800 personal. It was decided to send B. C. Whitaker and John R. Miner to Lansing to represent Washtenaw county at the meeting of the state board of equalization. Supervisor Beach, of Lima, was elected chairman of the board.

He was 53 years old and leaves a widow and several children.

Marshall News: The sparrow law which has recently been repealed by the legislature, furnishes some interesting statistics. Since the law has been in force thousands of sparrows have been slain for which a bounty of 2 cents per head has been paid. The slaughter has been so great and the number of birds decreased so rapidly the matter was taken up by the legislature and the law repealed. Those in favor advanced the idea that the birds did more good than harm as they kept the worms and other insects from destroying the crops. Since the sparrow bounty law has been in force it has been a very noticeable fact that the worms and insects have been seen in much greater numbers.

The case of James Snow vs. Charles Jenks, which has been commenced in the circuit court by Lehman Bros. & Stivers has something of a local interest. A year ago Mr. Jenks went to the farm of Thos. S. Sears, in Lima, and purchased a colt that was not halter-broke. He could not, therefore, tie the horse to the buggy. He engaged James Snow to lead the horse. This Snow tried, and having trouble, after going some distance, Mr. Jenks had him get into the buggy and drive, while he (Jenks) tried to lead the colt by a halter. The animal refused to move and Jenks got his whip and struck the horse, which reared and plunged into the rear of the buggy, knocking Snow out breaking several ribs and hurting him otherwise. He wants $1,000 for his injuries.

On account of Ringling Bros.' circus at Ann Arbor, Saturday next, June 29, the Michigan Central will make a special rate of one fare for the round trip. The tickets will be good on all regular passenger trains, and in addition train No. 37 leaving Ann Arbor at 12:30 a. m. will stop at Chelsea, thus giving all who desire it a chance to attend the evening performance.

An official of the Michigan Central is quoted by the Ann Arbor Argus as having said that on the first of next January that road would put on a suburban service between Detroit and Jackson and would make rates to compete with the electric lines. They will put on just as many trains as the traffic will warrant and will make stops at every little place along the line.

The high school nine played a game of baseball Saturday afternoon, on the grounds near R. A. Snyder's, with a nine of the alumni of the high school. There was lots of fun making and the high school boys beat their opponents by a score of 33 to 19. The umpire was William Bacon and he performed that unpleasant duty to the satisfaction of all parties.

A very fine service was held at the Methodist church Sunday morning when 48 probationers were taken into full membership in the church. During the service a missionary offering of $263 was taken up. The first magazine article written by M. Loubet since he became President of the French Republic will appear in the Saturday Evening Post for July 13. This important paper, entitled "Young Men and the Republic," after touching upon our pleasant relations with the French Republic, continues with a significant reference to the attitude of France toward the other Powers. The masterly summing up with which the article concludes is a fine expression of the strong republican spirit which reigns in France today.

Farmers and others who have recently purchased the Montgomery Ward & Co. catalogues would do well to stick to their own town, upon which depends the value of their real estate. You cannot sell your produce in Chicago, and if you by trading with Chicago parties bring about conditions that will not warrant your home merchants in paying you as much for your produce as you now get, you will have only yourselves to blame. The catalogue houses will not help you pay your taxes nor will they bear any portion of the support of your local government. All your home conveniences, your post office, church, store, shopkeeper and doctor make you mutually dependent. Think of it. We can't be independent in this world if we try.

Alumni Day.
Reunions were held by the literary class of '61, '71, '81, '91, '97 and the medical class of '91. An effort was made to get the two surviving members of the class of 1861 to visit the university, but neither was able to get away from their daily duties. The '51 are Rev. Joseph W. Bancroft, of Hastings, Mich., and Frederick B. Porter, of Detroit. Of the class of '61 there were 11 members present. Among them were Col. L. H. Elliott, who had come all the way from Roswell, N. M., to see his former classmates. The class of '76 had a turnout of 25 members, and in was their twenty-fifth anniversary. The class of '97 had a much larger representation.

Alumni Meeting.
The annual meeting of the general Alumni association was held in the afternoon. The report of the secretary said that the addresses of about 20,000 alumni were known. From reports received 3,793 alumni were known to be deceased. During the preceding year information had been received regarding the death of 605 alumni. These were in the several departments as follows: Literary, 109; engineering, 3; medical, 35; law, 172; pharmaceutical, 15; homeopathy, 14; dental, 10; officers, 7. The total receipts of the association for the year were $8,893.96; the total expenditures, $6,398.93. The cash in the endowment fund was $4,526.30, and the notes belonging to that fund amounted to $37,666.40.

The directors elected were: Louis P. Jocelyn, Prof. Victor H. Lone; Prof. Fred N. Scott, Edward W. Pendleton. The directors elected officers as follows: President, Victor H. Lone; vice president, Edward W. Pendleton; Secretary, Louis P. Jocelyn; treasurer, G. Carl Huber.

After the general alumni meeting President and Mrs. James B. Angell received the alumni at their home. During the day the Woman's league also entertained the visitors.

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises began early Thursday forenoon. The different classes formed in line at their several buildings and finally became part of the grand procession which marched along the campus walks. President Angell and Prof. Albert B. Hart, of Harvard university, the orator of the day, led the long line. They were followed by the regents, then by the professors, and the professors by the graduating classes. The formal exercises in University hall consisted of an address by Prof. Haed and the conferring of diplomas by President Angell. The subject of the address was "The Practical Man." It was a comparison of the relative worth to society and civilization of the practical man and the book man. The 734 graduates marched across the platform by classes, and each member received a diploma from the hands of Ex. Angell.

Commencement Dinner.
The finale of all the exercises was the commencement dinner. This was held in the gymnasium and was attended by over 600 persons. President Angell was toastmaster for the occasion. Speeches were made by Col. Louis H. Elliott, '61, Roswell, N. M.,

Ex-Regent Charles J. Willett, '71, Pasadena, Cal.; Prof. Hart, Alice Freeman Palmer, '76; Homer H. Kingsley, '81, Evanston, Ill.

The two days following the close of commencement witness the departure of the students who had not already left Ann Arbor for the summer. Now the place is almost as quiet as a country village, although things will liven up a little this week as the summer sessions in the literary, law and medical departments open.

Seven Weddings.

Not less than seven commencement weddings have been held recently. Five of these were solemnized in Ann Arbor, one in Detroit and one in Rome, Italy. The contracting parties to the wedding celebrated in Rome were Alfred R. Crittenden and Lila Alice Van Valkenburg. Both are graduates of the university in a former class and so selected the commencement season as one appropriate for their marriage. During the past year they have been students in the universities of Rome and Athens. After a trip through Europe they will return to America to take up their residence in Ann Arbor.

Minister from Argentina.

Dr. T. B. Zubiaur, of Buenos Ayres, South America, has been a visitor at the university the past week. He is a member of the national board of education of the Argentine Republic, special agent of the Argentine government at the Pan-American exposition and special correspondent of the Nation of Buenos Ayres, the largest and most influential daily newspaper published in South America. He has been commissioned by the Argentine government because of his many years' experience as an educator to spend one year in the United States, studying our university system and the results of manual training in our public schools.

Regents' Meeting.

At the June meeting of the board of regents a department of forestry was established. The purpose of this department is to investigate forestry problems in Michigan, to cooperate with the state forestry commission in their efforts to secure the adoption of a rational forestry problem by the state, and to organize a course of study preparatory to a technical forestry course.

Robert E. Bunker, of Muskegon, was appointed to the professorship in law made vacant by the departure of Prof. E. Finley Johnson to the Philippines. His salary was placed at $3,000. Another appointment was that of Charles B. Morrill, of Battle Creek, as instructor in English at a salary of $900.

Daily War Averted.

The prospective war between two college daily newspapers has been averted. The promoters of the present U. of M. Daily and the proposed 'Varsity News have united their interests and will publish the Michigan Daily News. The new company will incorporate with $3,000 capital. The paper will begin publication the latter part of September.

Brothers Reunited.

George Bloom, of Centerville, has found in Edward and Jacob Bloom, of Goshen, Ind., and Samuel Bloom, of Middlebury, Ind., three brothers from whom he had been separated for a period of 40 years, and concerning whose whereabouts he knew nothing, having mourned them as dead. The Indiana brothers recently began a search for the missing brother, whom they believed was still alive, with the result that he was found near Centerville, and a reunion took place.

New Branch Line.

It is rumored in Northville that the Everett-Moore syndicate intends to build a line from Ann Arbor via Salem to Northville to connect with the Detroit & Northwestern electric railway. The syndicate has already secured the right of way from Adrian to Saline and Ann Arbor and the coming to Northville seems a most natural result. Should the rumor prove true the new line will operate through a part of the country that will give a heavy passenger and freight traffic.

Elect Officers.

The Michigan League of Municipalities in session at Battle Creek elected the following officers:

President, Mayor George R. Perry, Grand Rapids; vice president, Mayor Frank E. Palmer, Jackson; secretary, Alderman George H. Phillips, Battle Creek; treasurer, Mayor A. J. Mills, Kalamazoo; trustees, Mayor James A. Gordon, Owosso; Alderman H. H. Ferguson, Adrian; ex-Mayor Frank Hamilton, Traverse City; Mayor L. M. Gillette, Battle Creek; Mayor William B. Baum, Saginaw.

Pear Crop a Failure.

What promised to be the largest pear crop in the vicinity of Gallen for many years is turning out a complete failure. The frost did the work. The fruit did not seem to be hurt at the time of the frost, but after attaining quite a size all began to drop off. There will not be ten barrels of the fruit in that end of the fruit belt.

Driven to Death.

In a horse-racing carnival at Hancock one of the favorites of the track, Jerry T., valued at several thousand dollars, dropped dead on the home stretch in the last heat of the free-for-all from overhear, and the bursting of a blood vessel.

THE AMERICAN NAVY

A History of Its Victories to Be Published Very Soon.

In One Day Yankee Ingenuity Revolutionized Naval Warfare—Momentous Results of the Duel in Hampton Roads.

(Special Washington Letter.)

In the Army and Navy club one evening recently Admiral Joutet as having said: "All of the navies, of Great Britain, France, Spain, Russia, in fact of every nation on earth, were driven from the seas in one day by Yankee ingenuity and fighting. All of them, every battleship, man-of-war and cruiser, fell into helplessness in one day, and the Yankee nation ruled the seas."

The veteran then explained that he referred to the battles of March 8 and 9, 1862, when the ironclad Merrimac and the turreted Monitor fought at Hampton Roads, Va., and he added: "But for the fact that the Yankee nation was then divided into two hostile camps we could have swept the high seas and defied the world. When the Merrimac hammered and rammed the best men-of-war in the American navy the officers of foreign navies who witnessed the feat agreed in saying: 'We have not a real warship in our navies. The wooden ship is no longer a warship.'"

These remarks have been verified in every respect. The British navy, which had cost hundreds of millions of dollars, was as effectually destroyed on that fateful 8th of March as when the noble old Cumberland was sunk to her topsail yards by the Merrimac's ram. The 9th of March but emphasized the value and importance of iron-plated vessels, and illustrated two great principles in the construction of warships which must last for all time, the deflecting and turreted armors. The Monitor reached Hampton Roads on the night of the 8th, and the next day she and the Merrimac pounded each other, at a few yards distance, with the heaviest guns then known, from eight a. m. until one p. m., when they retired from the conflict, neither materially damaged, and each claiming to have gotten a little the best of it: Either of these vessels, with sufficient ammunition, could have destroyed the English, French and Spanish fleets combined in the greatest naval battle of former history, that of Trafalgar.

Another weapon developed by the war and destined to play a wonderful part in future naval conflicts was the torpedo. The confederates by the use of this terrible weapon destroyed more than 50 United States men-of-war. Although in its infancy, the destructiveness of the torpedo was assured, and its application almost infinite. Its improvements have about kept pace with those of guns and ships, neither of which would likely be understood or even recognized by an ante-bellum officer.

When the war with Spain was declared, Admiral Joutet, quoted above, said to the writer: "We will have no trouble with the Spanish navy. Give me the monitor Puritan and I will go out to meet any fleet that Spain can send over here. They could not see me and locate me with their range-finders until they were within two or three miles of me. I could see them seven miles off, and, with my big guns down close to the water's edge, I could sink them before they realized that the most powerful fighting machine on any water was doing the deadly work."

The history of our navy has never been officially published, but it is now well under way. Twenty years ago the congress authorized the publication of the records of the war of the rebellion, but that history related chiefly to the movements of the armies and not of our fleets. The preservation of the official records of the navy during the war, 1861-1865, was first broached by Secretary Chandler in 1884. Secretary Whitney heartily committed himself to it, and it was on his recommendation that an appropriation was made, which became available under Secretary Tracy, who also indorsed the measure with equally unstinted commendation.

Under Secretary Chandler there were but one clerk and one copyist. Secretary Whitney strongly appealed to congress and the infant began to learn to walk. Prof. James R. Soley, of the naval academy, was placed in charge of the work, where he remained until appointed assistant secretary of the navy.

As generally acknowledged he was most admirably equipped for the work, and was devoting himself with enthusiasm and excellent results to the task of carrying the records of the navy up to an approximate standard of the merit and value of the records of the army, when he was called to another, if more eminent, no less honorable, field of labor. Lieut. Commander F. M. Wise was left in charge of the work, and under his regime of research and investigation most gratifying progress was made.

No history of the civil war, and no history of the war with Spain, could be complete or just without the stories of the brilliant exploits and heroic daring of the navy. During the civil war, on both sides, a genius and courage were displayed which must ever redound to the glory of American arms. The inspirations of the one were born of the necessities of the other. The Monitor was begotten of the Merrimac. And from that result, in an hour, the terrible armadas of Europe incumbered the seas as mere wooden merchantmen.

There were indeed many features in the operations of the navies in that war so unique and important as to astound and startle the old world. A glance at contemporaneous European publications shows how profound a sensation was created by the combat between the Monitor and the Merrimac. England, until then the boasted mistress of the seas, and France and Spain, and all the rest who could, hastened to build and equip vessels on the Yankee plan. It was the only war in which ironclads, rams, rifled ordnance and torpedoes had been employed, and in which a steam blockade had been kept up extending over thousands of miles of coast. In no war of modern times had naval operations been so extensively carried on, or with the achievement of so stupendous results.

At the outbreak of the war the union had a navy. The south had none, not even a shop in which the simplest marine engine could be built. Yet so great were the earnestness, the courage and the ingenuity of her people that the reverberation of her guns afloat, the prowess of her rams, the wrecks caused by her torpedoes made indelible her claim to have been conspicuous in the revolutionizing and rebuilding of the navies of the world.

The naval war records will give to history all of these facts, in detail, with copies of official orders issued, as well as with statements of deeds accomplished. The work done by the navy in our recent war will also be portrayed officially, and then we will know all of the reasons which actuated the admirals and their efficient captains, and the men behind the guns. We are to be told all about the wise and swift work done to prepare ammunition and supplies for the war which we did not want, tried to avoid, and were compelled to undertake, because of the inhumanity of man to man, culminating in the destruction of our battleship and the assassination of our sailors in a supposedly friendly harbor, in time of profound peace with all the world.

The naval war records show many facts concerning which casual readers are not informed, particularly as to the work of the federal army during the civil war. Grant's army was aided in a manner not generally chronicled by the gunboats at Fort Donelson, Pittsburgh Landing and Vicksburg. McClellan could not have saved his army at Harrison's Landing but for the gunboats. Two years later, on the same river, Grant maintained his army on both banks of the James by aid of gunboats, in violation of the Napoleonic axiom: "No army can be maintained on both sides of a river." But Napoleon knew nothing of ironclad gunboats.

The naval war records will show that Grant's greatest campaign, resulting in the capture of Vicksburg, was planned with complete reliance upon the Mississippi fleet. We are all proud of our navy; but up to date we have had more army history than navy history, an unfairness which is being corrected none too soon.

EDUCATORS TO MEET.

Fortieth Annual Meeting of the National Association to Be Held in Detroit in July.

At the National Educational association, which is to hold its fortieth annual meeting in Detroit in July, 15,000 schoolmasters and schoolmistresses, representing everything from a college president to the smallest kindergarten instructor, will be present.

The purposes of this great organization can be expressed no more clearly and succinctly than by the preamble of the constitution of the society: "To elevate the character and advance the interest of the profession of teaching, and to promote the cause of popular education in the United States."

The society is 40 years old, and in its inception was called the National Teachers' association. There has been an annual meeting from its beginning until the present year, with a few exceptions. In membership it includes teachers of any or every grade in public or private schools, everyone who is engaged in educational work, from the commissioner of education down to the humblest teacher, and embraces also librarians and specialists. For that reason the present name of Educational association is more fitting than the first title. The society is incorporated and the president is James M. Green, of Trenton, N. J. At the meeting next month there will be teachers and educational workers from Maine to California.

SOCIETY GIRL ELOPES.

The Grandniece of Ex-President Harrison Marries in Detroit Without Her Parents' Consent.

Mabel May Morris, grandniece of the late Benjamin Harrison, former president of the United States, and Fred A. Barron, a young man well known in Detroit, were married unknown to the parents of either. Mr. Barron had been paying attentions to Miss Morris for some time against their wishes, as she is aged only 18 years, but the other day she visited a cousin, Mrs. Perkins, who lives near her home and did not return, telling her parents next day she remained at her relative's overnight. In the evening she went out, presumably to attend a ball, and afterward a note was received by her parents telling of the marriage. They threatened to disown her, but the parental forgiveness has been bestowed.

Roosevelt Honored.

The commencement exercises of Hope college closed in Holland with the graduation of a class of 15. The degree of LL. D. was conferred upon Theodore Roosevelt, vice president of the United States; the degree of D. D. upon Rev. Samuel Zwemer, of Arabia; A. M. upon George Baert, M. D. of Grand Rapids, and T. G. Huizenga, of Zeeland.

Valuable Papers.

The state librarian has received from Washington copies of papers passing between the territory of Michigan and the general government from 1805 to 1815. The papers were secured through the efforts of Senator McMillan's private secretary, Charles Moore. They will constitute a valuable addition to the state library.

Local Option.

A local option mass meeting was held in Charlotte and a complete county organization was effected and the following officers were elected: President, Rev. L. C. Strickland, of Bellevue; secretary, D. M. Allen, of Charlotte; treasurer, John Ewing, of Oneida; executive board, O. E. Packard, of Charlotte; C. E. Chappel, of Charlotte; George Newcombe, of Hamlin.

Sale of Lands.

A deed has been recorded in Crystal Falls conveying to John R. Walsh, of Chicago, an interest in a large tract of ore land in Iron county. This conveyance is supposed to have some connection with the proposed extension of the Wisconsin & Michigan railway from Faithon Junction northward.

WHY MRS. PINKHAM

Is Able to Help Sick Women When Doctors Fail.

How gladly would men fly to woman's aid did they but understand a woman's feelings, trials, sensibilities, and peculiar organic disturbances.

Those things are known only to women, and the aid a man would give is not at his command.

To treat a case properly it is necessary to know all about it, and full information, many times, cannot be given by a woman to her family physician.

Mrs. G. H. CHAPPELL.

Physician. She cannot bring herself to tell everything, and the physician is at a constant disadvantage. This is why, for the past twenty-five years, thousands of women have been confiding their troubles to Mrs. Pinkham, and whose advice has brought happiness and health to countless women in the United States.

Mrs. Chappell, of Grant Park, Ill., whose portrait we publish, advises all suffering women to seek Mrs. Pinkham's advice and use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as they cured her of inflammation of the ovaries and womb; she, therefore, speaks from knowledge, and her experience ought to give others confidence. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is absolutely free.

A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING.

Three per cent. of steamers and four per cent. of sailing vessels are lost at sea yearly.

Bananas with purple leaves and seedless fruit have been introduced into British conservatories.

The Porto Rican native is very much given to dancing. Both men and women have a natural love for the ballroom.

There are fewer contested seats in the Fifty-seventh congress than in any previous one for many years. There are practically no contests in the senate, though the session will open in December with Delaware, one of the original states, with no representative.

Extensive investigations are about to be made by the agricultural department of the whole question of fruit harvesting and marketing, including the application of refrigeration to fruit storage, both in the warehouse and in transit, so as to help the people of all the states in putting their fruits upon foreign markets.

A new whisky bottle contains a float which sinks as the spirit is extracted, always remaining on the surface; but if any other liquid is added, the position of the float is altered. It will sink below the surface if any other fluid is added to the whisky. This is intended to prevent dishonest persons taking some of the contents and replacing with water.

AMBROSE MCKAY'S CASE.

Rockbridge, Mo., June 24th:—The neighborhood and particularly the members of Rockbridge Lodge, No. 435, A. F. & A. M., are feeling very much pleased over the recovery of Mr. Ambrose McKay, a prominent citizen and an honored member of the Masonic Fraternity.

Mr. McKay had been suffering for years with Diabetes and Rheumatism, which recently threatened to end his days. His limbs were so filled with pain that he could not sleep. He was very bad.

Just then, someone suggested a new remedy—Dodd's Kidney Pills—which has been much advertised recently, as a cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble.

After Mr. McKay had used a few boxes, he commenced to improve. His pain all left him, and he is almost as well as ever. He says Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth much more than they cost. They are certainly getting a great reputation in Missouri, and many very startling cures are being reported.

LIST IS SHORTENED.

Number of Deaths by Flood Less Than Reported.

Latest Estimates Place the Figure at About Sixty—The Property Loss Is Very Heavy—Much Suffering.

Roanoke, W. Va., June 25.—It is now reported that not over 60 people are missing in the coal fields as a result of Saturday's flood. The town of Keystone, while much damaged, is not wiped out, as reported. No estimate of property loss has been made either by coal operators or the railroad officials. The loss, however, is far up in the thousands. No definite news has been received from the coal fields, as all the wires are still down, and there is no means of communication. The estimates that 200 or more lives were lost is certainly too great. The railroad companies' loss will reach $500,000. Men and material are being hurried from all over the line of the Norfolk & Western.

Reports Exaggerated.

Bluefields, W. Va., June 25.—At this juncture it is extremely hard to determine the exact situation of the flood. Wires are now open to Ennis, W. Va., this point being practically the mouth of the devastated section. At Ennis the depot and post office were washed completely away and miles of track torn up. No trains are going farther west than Ennis. Two thousand men are repairing the damage to the Norfolk & Western railway. The estimated damage to railway property now is $1,000,000, though this does not include the loss sustained in loss of revenue. The entire property loss is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. It is now positive that the reports of 200 lives lost were exaggerated, but officials estimate that the number of lives lost by flood will run up to 75 easily.

News Hard to Get.

Roanoke, Va., June 25.—There has been very little news received here Monday from the West Virginia flood. One train came in Monday afternoon, but not much new information could be gained from the passengers. The trains are running from Bluefield and Ennis, which places are just outside the territory visited by the cloudburst on last Saturday morning. All day long Roanokers who have friends and relatives in the coal fields and the coal operators here who have large financial interests in the devastated strip have been lingering around the railroad station, awaiting the arrival of the belated train. These people, making inquiries concerning relatives and property, have been besieging the railroad and commercial telegraphic offices since early Monday morning. The wires all being down west of Bluefield, save one wire which goes through to Ennis, but is being used as a train wire, prevented the public from gaining any additional particulars.

How many are dead is not definitely known, and it necessarily will be several days yet before the exact number can be given out as official, but the various reports in circulation here are that all the way from 50 to 200 persons have been drowned. It is probably safe to assume the former figures as being more correct than the latter. The damage to property will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars. Miles of railroad track are washed out and great gulches have been created.

The Stricken Section.

The devastated section covers an area of about 20 miles west of Bluefield. It is a narrow valley, not much wider than a broad street in some places. Coal mines are scattered all along the road. Keystone, the town reported to have been so greatly damaged, and which was at first believed to be wiped out of existence, is a village of between 2,000 and 3,000 people and is built along the narrow valley and on the sides of the bluffs. There is a creek which runs through the town, over which most of the houses are built on piles and rocks. This creek runs in a zigzag way through the narrow village and has a gradual fall. The mountains on either side loom up for hundreds of feet and the town is so narrow in places that one is obliged to go into the middle of it to see the sky. Persons familiar with the situation of the town say that it would be a death trap if the flood was as heavy as reported.

Appeal for Aid.

Charleston, W. Va., June 25.—After a consultation with Secretary of State Col. William M. O. Dawson and Adj. Gen. Baker, Gov. White issued the following appeal to West Virginians only:

"Executive Department, June 24.—To the Citizens of West Virginia: An appalling disaster by flood has overtaken the people of the Flat Top coal region. The people of life and property is very great. While I am as yet without definite information, undoubtedly great destitution and suffering will follow. Aid is required to suffering from the destitute and bury the dead. Generous gifts of money are urgently needed, with which necessary supplies can be purchased. Contributions may be sent by wire or otherwise to the adjutant general at Charleston, or any bank at Bluefield. He gives twice who gives quickly. A. B. WHITE, Governor."

ALL SORTS.

A writer in the Lancet thinks it probable that a female fly might have 25,000,000 descendants in one summer.

Among the marine articulates life is often prolonged for years. Some of the larger crabs and few species may live on to nearly two decades before attaining their fullest growth.

A certain Hepzibah Merton, in Puritan times, was in the habit of baking two or three dozen apple pies every Saturday, which were to last her family through the week. She placed them in her pantry, labeling one or more for each day in the week. The pantry thus arranged was said to be in apple-pie order.

South Africa is a good market for cement. All public buildings, stores and dwellings are coated with cement. There are few wooden buildings erected. The masons in South Africa are mostly Malays. They are skilled in their trade and do the work neatly. Cement is also largely used in the construction of aqueducts, wharves, chimneys, walls, etc.

A recent judgment of the British court of appeals in the case of the Campania against the bark Emption has decided that nine knots is not moderate speed in a fog within the meaning of the admiralty regulations in the case of ocean liners. There was no question about the Campania's having slowed down, but the court held that the speed was excessive.

SUMMER SASHES.

Sashes are again to be worn.

Some sashes are fringed, others are hemstitched, and the ends of some are trimmed with lace and insertion.

All the delicate colors are seen in sashes and the ribbon has the soft, satiny finish called pastel last season, the only difference being that both sides are of the same color. These sashes fasten in a tight rosette at the back and hang in long ends, reaching to the skirt hem.

He thinks he lives, but he's a dead one. No person is really alive whose liver is dead. During the winter most people spend nearly all their time in warm, stuffy houses or offices or workshops. Many don't get as much exercise as they ought, and everybody knows that people gain weight in winter. As a rule it is not sound weight, but means a lot of flabby fat and useless, rotting matter staying in the body when it ought to have been driven out. But the liver was overburdened, deadened—stopped work. There you are, with a dead liver, and right now is the time for resurrection. Wake up the dead! Get all the filth out of your system, and get ready for the summer's trials with clean, clear blood, body, brain free from bile. Force is dangerous and destructive unless used in a gentle persuasive way, and the right plan is to give new strength to the muscular walls of the bowels, and stir up the liver to new life and work with CASCARETS, the great spring cleaner, disinfectant and bowel tonic. Get a 50c box to-day—a whole month's treatment—and see how quickly you will be attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk,

N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had consumption in an advanced stage, also used

Western Washtenaw Farmers' Club.

The last meeting of this club until September was held at the home of Irving Storms, in Lima Center, Thursday afternoon, and was largely attended despite the threatening weather. It was devoted mainly to the amusement of the children and they enjoyed themselves greatly.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. F. A. Stiles. The minutes of the last meeting were read, after which came a series of exercises by the children, consisting of singing and recitations, which were very pleasing. Frank Storms also gave a German recitation in good style.

The paper by Rev. C. S. Jones on "What shall we do to suppress the ring power in politics?" was a good one and contained many practical and timely suggestions. It was fully discussed by E. A.
Nordman, W. E. Stocking, R. C. Reeves,
M. A. Lowry and George Boynton.

An extended report of the national and state legislation enacted which affects the farmers was made by W. E. Stocking.

A fine supper was served on the lawn to which all did ample justice. George Chapman took a group picture of the party, and then followed a foot race for the championship of the club. There were five contestants, George Boynton,
F. A. Stiles, Howard Everett, W. E.
Stocking and C. S. Jones. Mr. Stiles proved himself the best sprinter and carried off the championship.

The construction gang of the D. Y. A.
A. & J. Ry. started to string the wire between Ann Arbor and Chelsea Monday.

The wire fencing for the Detroit and Chicago Traction Co.'s electric line has all been distributed between Dexter and Chelsea.

Henry A. Everett, Edward W. Moore,
J. D. Hawks, S. F. Angus, J. C. Hutchins and other electric railroad men were in Chelsea Thursday afternoon. They were making a tour of inspection of the D. Y. A. A. & J. electric railroad.

The Michigan Central and the Detroit & Chicago Traction Co. have been unable to get together respecting a sidetrack to the coalbins of the latter company at the new power house in Jackson. W. A.
Foote, of that city, says in this connection:
"The question of electric roads getting coal is not to be a prolonged one. With the Everett Moore syndicate buying roads along the lake shore and into the coal fields of Ohio, the electric roads will soon be in a position to haul their own coal."

Pan-American Exposition, May 1 to
Oct. 31. Round trip tickets, Chelsea to Buffalo and return, at $14.95, good for 30 days, $11.25 good for 15 days, and $9.65 good for 5 days.
