THEY CAME TO CHELSEA.

The First Car Over W. A. Boland's Line Was in Chelsea Saturday Afternoon.

In response to an invitation by telephone from W. A. Boland, the editor of the Herald in company with O. T. Hoover, of the Standard, and William Bacon, supervisor of Sylvan, took the 9:15 a. m. train to Jackson Saturday to join a party of gentlemen from Detroit and Jackson in an inspection trip over the Detroit & Chicago Traction Co.'s line as far as it was constructed from Jackson to Chelsea.

The party consisted of John A. Russell, Thomas E. Griffin, J. Emmet Sullivan, T. S. Sprague, Herbert Noble, H. P. Wickham, W. E. Moss, Frank Alderman, James H. Donovan, Cass Robinson, B. F. C. Eyre, J. T. Lynn and Henry C. Hart, of the Detroit Stock Exchange; James O'Donnell, of the Citizen, Jas. Frank, of the Patriot, C. V. DeLand, N. S. Potter, J. W. Miner, S. H. Carroll, Heman Griggs, W. A. Foote and J. B. Foote, of Jackson; M. G. Carlton, of the News, Grass Lake; Paul Leake, of the Tribune, Detroit; William Bacon, O. T. Hoover, of the Standard, and Tom W. Mingay, of the Herald, Chelsea. The party was chaperoned by W. A. Boland and his son in law Worrall Wilson.

After the party had been shown through the handsome suite of offices occupied by the company on West Main street, Jackson, the words "all aboard" were given. A special open car had been provided for the occasion and as soon as the last tardy one was on board a start was made. After a pleasant ride over the splendid roadbed, which, by the way, is as solid and substantial as that of a steam road, the first stop was made at Grey Tower station, where conveyances were on hand to take the party to Mr. Boland's beautiful home.

Arrived there a visit to the barns and stables was proposed, and it did seem as though it was specially provided that the visit was arranged for just that time, for in the engine room fire was discovered running up the siding of the room, which, had it remained undetected five minutes longer, would have resulted in the total destruction of the fine building, as it was filled with oats in the straw and hay. For five minutes there was a good deal of repressed excitement and considerable activity, but by that time the chemical fire extinguisher and pails full of water had put out the fire.

Returning to the house a brief examination of the elegant comforts and conveniences found within its walls was made and then the hungry party were invited to sit down to a lunch, spread in the dining room and conservatory, that was fit for the most pronounced epicure to partake of and which was heartily enjoyed by all.

The house was free to all after lunch and after wandering around the spacious rooms, admiring the beautiful furnishings, pictures and decorations, all gathered in the billiard room where conversation became general.

A meeting such as this without a few brief speeches would be totally foreign to American usage, so Hon. James O'Donnell called the gentlemen to order. With a few happy and witty remarks made in his well known inimitable manner, he called on John W. Miner, city attorney of Jackson, to speak.

In behalf of the mayor and city officials of Jackson Mr. Miner welcomed the guests. He reviewed the history of the old Jackson street railway prior to its purchase by Mr. Boland and since that time. He said the people had welcomed Mr. Boland in Jackson, Grass Lake, Chelsea, Dexter, Ann Arbor and all along the line. They hailed his coming with delight because it meant a great street railway system across the state to Detroit.

In speaking of the valuable franchise granted Mr. Boland in Jackson, he said that in return Mr. Boland had satisfied the people beyond expectation, that the street car business had taken new life and that Jackson today points with pride to the best electric street railway system in any city of 25,000 people between the lakes. He said that he felt honored in being called upon to address so representative a gathering of business men, composed of the members of the Stock Exchange of the city of Detroit, business men of Chelsea, officials of the road and other representative business men.

Mr. Boland was called for and in a brief speech welcomed his guests and told them he had not invited them because he had bonds to sell for they had none on the market. But if these bonds or stocks should be placed on the market, he wanted the men who would handle them to know there was value and strength behind them before they recommended them to their customers. Business is business, but it is your duty to protect your customers, and be able to convince them there is tangible value in the securities offered. He thought the state owed it to the widows and children, at least, whose interests were invested in stocks and bonds, to furnish some protection by preventing both over capitalization and bonding. He thanked all for their expressions of good will and friendship, and would reciprocate by saying all would find a kindly welcome to Grey Tower at any time they elected to draw upon its hospitality.

Herbert Noble and James H. Donovan responded briefly in behalf of the Detroit delegation, expressing their surprise and satisfaction at finding so substantial a line of road as that of the Detroit & Chicago Traction Co. They had heard the road was a bluff, but they found it the most substantial bluff they had ever run against. Both heartily thanked Mr. Boland for his hospitality.

N. S. Potter, of Jackson, spoke briefly on the satisfactory financial condition of the road.

Shortly afterwards the party again boarded the car. Just east of Grass Lake the company's locomotive was attached to it and the journey to Chelsea was made. Although a good part of the road was then unballasted its smoothness was remarkable. The journey ended opposite C. Steinbach's house on West Middle street, which was as far as the rails had been laid. There were hundreds of people on the street to see the first car come into the village and the look expressed on each face was one of intense satisfaction with perhaps a tinge of desire that it may not be long before the cars will be running regularly. Half an hour later the Detroit gentlemen took the 4:40 train for home and the Jackson contingent returned as they came by the electric line.

The general opinion of all who took the trip was that the road is being built in the most substantial and durable manner with an outlook to future prosperity and ability to care for business.

WORKED A "CON" GAME

And Got Away With a Portion of the Money They Secured.

Friday there came to Chelsea some people in a couple of gipsy wagons who did up several of the tender hearted ladies of the village for various sums of money ranging from $1 to $6. The confidence game was worked entirely by the women. At some places visited a story was told of being lace weavers. They were about to settle here and when they got settled they would weave curtains for the H. S. Holmes Mercantile Co. They had to pay their rent in advance and had not the money to do it. Then some knives and forks were exhibited, which were described as being solid silver, worth $15 and had belonged to the woman's mother, etc. Would the lady lend her $5 on them, keeping the goods as security, and in return for the kindness she would weave the lady a pair of lace curtains. In several instances the scheme worked and the money was loaned. Another scheme was to offer lace that retails in the stores at 8 to 10 cents a yard as "hand made lace" and by telling the same kind of a story induce her hearers to buy a few yards of it.

One of the ladies who bought some lace, about $6 worth, got suspicious of her bargain and called in the aid of a gentleman friend and Deputy W. R. Lehman. They overhauled one of the wagons and induced the occupants to disgorge $11, which was all they claimed to have, stating that the people in the other wagon had the rest.

There is a moral attached to this and that is, "Do your trading at home with merchants whom you know and do not invest in snap bargains offered you by peddlers and strangers."

To Save Her Child

From frightful disfigurement Mrs. Nanie Galleger, of La Grange, Ga., applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve to great sores on her head and face, and writes its quick cure exceeded all her hopes. It works wonders in sores, bruises, skin eruptions, cuts, burns, scalds and piles. 25c. Cure guaranteed by Glazier & Stinson, druggist.

INTELLIGENCE FROM ALL PARTS

DOMESTIC.

The warships Wisconsin and Iowa have been ordered to be in readiness to go to Panama to protect American interests in the Colombian rebellion.

Prof. Triggs, of Chicago university, told his class in English literature that Longfellow's poetry was trivial and unworthy of consideration and scored Oliver Wendell Holmes.

A thief who robbed the Washburn Jewelry company, of Anderson, Ind., of $3,000 worth of goods, repented and confessed to a priest, who returned the plunder.

Clements Buchter shot and killed his daughter, aged 19, and fatally wounded his wife in Louisville, Ky.

Officials of the steel companies admit that thousands of men will obey the order of President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, and go out, but deny that the tie-up will be general.

The exchanges at the leading clearing houses in the United States during the seven days ended on the 9th aggregated $1,932,529,352, against $1,793,365,296 the previous week. The increase compared with the corresponding week of last year was 52.0.

There were 173 business failures in the United States in the seven days ended on the 9th, against 160 the week previous and 177 the corresponding period of 1900.

Preparations are being made by the war department to make a further reduction in the military force in the Philippine islands.

Women taxpayers in Alabama have been given the privilege of voting on questions of issuing bonds or incurring obligations.

The entire business district of Rantoul, Ill., and half a dozen blocks of residences were destroyed by fire.

September 5 will be "President's day" at the Pan-American exposition in Buffalo.

A census bulletin gives Michigan 1,248,905 males and 1,172,077 females, and Minnesota 932,490 males and 818,904 females.

The Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America in session in Hartford, Conn., passed resolutions condemning the custom of treating.

Benjamin Boyce was hanged at Tacoma, Wash., for killing his wife.

Jesse Jamison, chief of the Seneca Indians, was killed in a fight on the Cattaraugus (N. Y.) reservation.

The business portion of Lime Springs, Ia., was wiped out by fire. Senator Tillman has been sued for $10,000 damages for slander by a resident of Columbia, S. C.

Ten persons were hurt, two fatally, in an accident on the Lehigh Valley railroad near North Leroy, N. Y.

The business section of Mercer, Mo., was destroyed by fire.

David Nation, of Medicine Lodge, Kan., began suit for divorce from his wife, Carrie Nation, because of the notoriety she gained in smashing saloons.

Commercial agencies in their weekly report declare business little affected by the steel strike so far.

A mining stampede has been started to the Big Snowy mountain, 100 miles east of Helena, Mont., by the discovery of rich gold fields.

The commissioner of internal revenue decided that dealers in "puts" and "calls" must pay a stamp tax and a special tax on every office maintained by such dealers.

Michael Davitt praised the Boers, and thinks they will continue the war. Conditions in Ireland, he says, are improved.

Judge Harney, of Montana, replied to attacks of the Amalgamated Copper company, charging that representatives of that corporation offered him $250,000 in connection with the mining case, and that charges against him are in pursuance of a threat to ruin him made at that time.

The response to President Shaffer's call was not general in and about Pittsburg. The Carnegie mills are running. The Republic plant's men voted to quit. At McKeesport, where 5,000 were expected to strike only 1,000 walked out. Steel workers of the Bay View mills, at Milwaukee, voted unanimously against striking. A ballot was taken at Joliet, but announcement of result is withheld. Indications are against a walk-out. South Chicago union workers voted 158 to 7—against going on a strike. Shamrock II has arrived off Sandy Hook in tow of the Erin.

United States trade with Germany shows marvelous growth since 1870. Imports increased from $27,000,000 to $100,000,000 and the exports jumped from $42,000,000 to $191,000,000.

The navy department reprimanded Admiral Evans for his offensive criticism of former Secretary of the Navy W. E. Chandler in his book, "A Sailor's Log."

A Boer sympathizer attempted to blow up the British transport at New Orleans used for carrying mules to South Africa.

John Winters confessed robbing the Selby smelting works at Vallejo, Cal., and revealed the place where he had hidden the money in the sea. Nearly half of it was recovered.

The government crop report gives condition of corn August 1 as 54 per cent., a loss of 27.3 points during July, due to drought. Spring wheat, oats, potatoes and hay also show considerable loss from unfavorable weather.

The personal estate of W. M. Everts amounted to $315,175.

Gold assaying $306 to the ton has been found near Ottawa, Ill.

The Amalgamated association is to begin legal action at Columbus, O., to test the right of the steel trust to do business in the state.

PERSONAL AND POLITICAL.

Iowa republicans in convention in Des Moines nominated A. B. Cummins, of that city, for governor. The platform lauds the national and state administrations, emphasizes fealty to the gold standard, denounces southern laws for the disfranchisement of the negroes, and favors such tariff changes as may be made advisable by changing conditions.

Nebraska democrats, populists and free silver republicans will hold a fusion convention in Lincoln September 17.

William A. Newell, congressman from 1847 to 1851, governor of New Jersey in 1856, governor of Washington territory in 1876, and originator of the life-saving service and department of agriculture, died in Allentown, N. J., aged 84 years.

ARE SLOW TO COMPLY

Men Take Their Time in Obeying Request to Strike.

About 14,000 Have Quit in Response to Shaffer's Call - Total Number Now on Strike 60,000—Appeal for Financial Aid.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—The struggle for mastery between manufacturers and men in the steel industry is now fairly launched, and on the first show of strength advantage is with the former. The general strike order issued by President Shaffer, of the Amalgamated association, has so far been obeyed by only about 14,000 men, according to the best figures obtainable here. The first two preliminary calls were answered by about 45,000 men, so that the total number now outside is in the neighborhood of 60,000. The strikers made gains here Monday over the showing of Sunday, and their prospects for further accessions at both McKeesport and Wheeling during the week are very favorable. The action of the Amalgamated men at Chicago, Joliet and Bay View in refusing to come out, and their failure to secure any recruits in the Carnegie group throughout the Kiskiminetas valley and the big plants at Youngstown and Columbus, O., have been markedly disappointing to them. They are keeping up the fight, however, in a spirited manner, and claim that they have strength in reserve which will surprise their opponents. They assert that they have gained a foothold in the Carnegie mills in this city, and at the time desired the men will come out. They are pressing their advantages at McKeesport and Wheeling, and their organizers are still at work in those two cities.

Shaffer and Williams Talk.

President Shaffer made a brief statement at noon. He said:

"We have no official information about the situation in the west. I do not believe Vice-President Davis, of Chicago, has accepted a superintendency from the trust as reported. My only regret is that some men working in the slave pens of the trust had not spirit enough to come out and join the strikers. I will not take any part in calling out the American Federation of Labor. Its action must be voluntary. The Amalgamated has not lost anything but has made gains."

Secretary Williams said:

"I think the greatest surprise of the strike will come to the steel officials when they find we have invaded the Carnegie plant. We have reliable reports to the effect that the Lower city mill is tied up and that but one mill in the Upper mill is on. We have not made known our plans and still have some surprises for the manufacturers."

Appeal to Public for Aid.

The appeal for financial assistance was prepared on Friday last, but was not sent out until Monday. It reads as follows:

"To the Members of Organized Labor—Brethren: As you are undoubtedly aware the United States Steel corporation are now waging a war against organized labor by making the Amalgamated association the subject on which to begin operations. At our last convention it was unanimously decided to ask the United States Steel corporation, when settling their annual scale with the Amalgamated association, that they sign or recognize the scale of the Amalgamated association in all their mills. When the matter was broached the matter was peremptorily refused. After the holding of several conferences, the demand of our organization was modified so as to take in only the mills of three of their constituent companies, viz.: The American Sheet Steel company, the American Tin Plate company and the American Steel Hoop company, where local lodges had been formed, and where the men were very desirous of being union men, and we are now out on strike for recognition."

"In the conferences which were held by the representatives of the United States Steel corporation and the Amalgamated association, the representatives of the United States Steel company's only arguments were that they did not desire the Amalgamated association to become too powerful, and that they should hold the balance of power. Later conferences were held with the heads of the United States Steel company, who submitted a proposition that we only sign for the mills signed last year, with the exception of the sheet mills in Saltsburg and Scottdale, which were signed for the year previously. Their proposition was rejected, as it meant that the Amalgamated association would merely have to remain in a quiescent state, while they were expanding and adding to their nonunion possessions."

"They are waging a fight for the extermination of the Amalgamated association and for the workmen to combine, a principle which they have demonstrated to the people of the United States they desire themselves, and so persistently refuse to grant us. This blow is not alone directed at the Amalgamated association, but at organized labor in general, and should they succeed in defeating the Amalgamated association it will affect every organized labor body in the United States."

"To succeed in this struggle it will be necessary to seek the aid of every organized body as well as the general public, whose sympathies we know are with us in the present struggle. To this end we ask that you give us your more than financial aid. A liberal response financially will materially assist us in conducting a victorious campaign for a principle which is the inalienable right of every American freeman."

"If you desire to aid the Amalgamated association in the present struggle financially, all money should be forwarded to John Williams, secretary-treasurer, Bissell Block, Pittsburg, Pa. Fraternally yours,

WILL ACT FOR COLOMBIA.

American Representative at Caracas, Venezuela, Given Instructions by State Department.

Washington, Aug. 13.—The state department has authorized the American charge d'affaires at Caracas, Venezuela, to use his good offices for Colombia in case the Colombian minister at the Venezuelan capital leaves that country. Mr. Russell telegraphed last week seeking information as to his course of action in case of the withdrawal of the Colombian minister, which apparently was in contemplation at that time. He did not, however, indicate that this withdrawal was preliminary to any rupture between the two republics, but simply asked if he would be authorized to act temporarily in looking after Colombia's interest in case of the withdrawal of the minister. The state department has no information as to whether the Colombian minister has withdrawn from Venezuela, or whether Mr. Russell is fulfilling this temporary duty.

The navy department has now definitely determined to make use of the battleship Iowa, instead of the Wisconsin, for use on the Pacific side of the Isthmus, in case affairs become serious there.

WINS RACE WITH DEATH.

Sinking Steamer with 250 Passengers, Goes Down After Safely Landing All.

Boston, Aug. 13.—A race with death that was all but lost kept 250 passengers, mostly women and children, on board the Plant line steamer Halifax, in a state bordering on panic for nearly an hour Monday. The steamer, which was coming in from Halifax with returning tourists, struck a rock off Minot's light near the entrance to Boston harbor and stove a great hole in her bottom. With the water rushing into her hold at a terrific rate and her passengers momentarily expecting to be cast into the sea, she steamed with all possible speed for the nearest land. Just as the vessel reached the beach, after a run of 53 minutes, her bow went down and under. Had she then been in deep water many lives must have been lost. Capt. Pye and his officers and crew showed the utmost coolness, and to them is due the fact that a panic did not occur, as the alarm of all the passengers was intense.

THREE DROWNED.

A Yacht, Her Owner and His Guests Are Lost in the Galoup Rapids.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Charles White, James Whitney and Edgar Lane were drowned in the Galoup rapids Monday afternoon by the sinking of the private yacht Rhea. Whitney, who was the owner of the yacht, had as guests on board the boat Lane and White, Hugh Raney, the Misses Whitney and the Misses McPherson. The four ladies and Mr. Raney got out at the head of the lock to walk to the foot of the rapids. The other three men remained on board the yacht which, after passing the first swell of the rapids, entered what is known as "the cellar" and disappeared, carrying the three men down with her. The bodies have not been recovered. All of the parties resided at Prescott.

AGREED TO AT LAST.

Draft of Final Protocol Meets the Approval of All of the Ministers at Peking.

Washington, Aug. 15.—The state department has received a cablegram from Mr. Rockhill, at Peking, reporting that the draft of the final protocol has been agreed upon. A tariff of five per cent. ad valorem, effective, will be put in force two months after the signing of the final protocol excepting on goods shipped within ten days after signing and will continue until the conversion to specific rates has been effected by the expert commission. The Chinese free list will include rice, foreign cereals and flour, gold and silver bullion and coin. This inclusion of flour in the free list is of much importance particularly to Pacific coast shippers.

STATE SENATOR IN TROUBLE.

Gov. Nash, of Ohio, Asked by Indiana Governor to Surrender Frank D. Archer, of Belmont County, O.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—Application for a requisition from the governor of Indiana was received at the office of Gov. Nash Monday for State Senator Frank D. Archer, of Belmont county, O. It is claimed that he misrepresented his financial standing to two Belford (Ind.) men, who went on a street improving bond as a result, and were compelled to stand good for $2,000. An effort was made to keep the matter secret here.

Gov. Nash later refused to grant the requisition, holding that the evidence submitted did not justify the charges made.

Agricultural Independence of Uncle Sam

With the Aid of Our Dependencies We Should Produce All the Agricultural Products We Use

IN 1900, the domestic exports of the United States amounted to $1,370,763,571, the total imports to $849,941,184; or, to make the comparison more impressive, thirteen hundred millions against eight hundred millions. One-and-a-half times as much sent out as brought in. The agricultural exports were to the agricultural imports as two to one, $844,616,530 against $420,139,288. But let us go back ten years. The agricultural exports in 1891 amounted to $652,407,931, the imports to $420,211,949. In 1891 the breadstuffs exported were valued at $128,121,056; in 1900, at $262,744,078. The value of the export of meat products in 1891 was $129,994,766, in 1900 $173,751,471; the pig alone contributing in 1900 $112,000,000. Giant ships and leviathan trains were called into requisition to carry our produce last year, and the phenomenal year preceding.

Jean de Bloch, the Russian military expert, says America could speedily starve Europe in the event of a trans-oceanic war. So it seems military independence should refer to more than armament, it must also include agricultural independence. The strictly military independence of the United States was looked out for long ago by the wise foresight of those that dreamed dreams of the place this country was destined to take some day among the great nations of the world. To-day, whether it be for peace or for tariff war, the dream of our statesmen is agricultural independence for the United States.

We certainly now can produce the necessities of life for many peoples. Our agriculturists are called the uncrowned rulers of Europe, and this year it is rumored they can command their own price for their surplus product. But it is not concerning wheat, corn or cotton, the agricultural department is boasting just at present; it is concerning possibilities for the home production of that which the country now is forced to import. Sugar, tea, coffee and rice, as well as rubber and silk—we are assured, before long, shall be home-grown, home, of course, reaching from Porto Rico to the Philippines.

Over half of the agricultural products imported for the United States come from the tropics, and many of the other imports are tropical products received indirectly as re-exports.

With the tropics we have lately annexed, or put a protecting arm about, we surely shall be able to reduce very greatly our amount of imports, and be propelled a long way on the road to agricultural independence. Just look at the amount of money we sent out of the country in 1900 for those two common articles of food, sugar and coffee; the value of the sugar $100,250,974, of the coffee $35,275,470. The countries that have been furnishing us with most of our sugar are Cuba, Germany, the Hawaiian islands, the Dutch and East Indies, the British West In-trees in those islands and many of the planters are discouraged. It is thought if an expert entomologist were sent to study the subject, and should be able to stay the ravages of the pest, the coffee industry might revive.

In the United States we use considerable tea also, in 1900, $10,558,110 worth; and this we are told we ought to grow ourselves. It may be some day "South Carolina" will rank with "Oolong" and "Ceylon;" for two tons of tea were grown last year at Summerville, S. C., and proved so satisfactory that New York investors became interested in the industry to the extent of forming a syndicate and purchasing 6,000 acres of land in South Carolina, upon which the experiment will be further advanced.

To all the gulf states the department of agriculture last year sent tea-plants, and are pushing the experiment rapidly. Plants of the best grade are imported from China, Ceylon and Japan, and the aim is to produce tea of a fine quality. The question of labor will not be troublesome, as the pickaninies that abound down south can do the work of leaf-picking. We now get most of our tea from China and Japan.

The rice industry in this country has been much aided by the investigations of an expert in Japan, sent there to study certain phases of rice cultivation, in the hope that the quality of the rice grown at home might be improved. In 1898, Dr. S. A. Knapp, of Louisiana, the expert mentioned, procured the importation of Kinshu rice, and it has led to a marked improvement of the United States crop. In regard to our own product, we quote from Dr. Knapp's report: "The department never spent money that helped the country more than that spent on the importation of this Japanese rice. It has brought about the opening up and development of an extensive region in southwestern Louisiana and southeastern Texas, where the land was not previously of any value except for cattle-raising. It has resulted in the investment of probably $20,000,000. It has increased the production of rice in Louisiana more than $1,000,000 per annum. Rice has now a future in the United States second only to wheat." In 1900, the value of the rice imported, including rice-flour, rice-meal, and broken rice, was only $2,279,036.

There is a good deal of theorizing connected with these large schemes, and a good deal of experimenting and practical work also. In regard to silk culture, Secretary Wilson recommends that the money now paid to foreign labor be utilized at home. In 1900 the United States paid out $45,329,760 for raw silk. Japan sends us about one-half of our silk, and China comes next in the amount sent over. Italy and France also send goodly quantities. Utah has given much attention to this industry, and the secretary suggests those skilled in it teach residents of other states whose soil and climate are adapted to the growth of the mulberry tree. The picking of the leaves, feeding the worms and winding the cocoons can be trusted to the class of labor made use of in tea and cotton fields.

So not only are we to produce our own silk, but in working for this desirable end we shall help also the solution of our race problem. In that not far-distant future when myriad mulberry trees put forth their leaves myriad little darkies will be set to the conjugal task of plucking these self-same leaves for the myriad silk worms that are diligently to work in the interests of American silk; the darkies thus saved from becoming the very undesirable surplus population they threaten. It all sounds beautiful, and appeals to our Yankee patriotism and spirit of enterprise.

The department of agriculture has its hands pretty full at present. In addition to the development of home products, scientists are at work studying our insular possessions; their present products and future possibilities.

If the dissemination of improved methods of agriculture be general throughout our broad area of 3,670,000 square miles, may we not confidently look forward to agricultural independence for the United States?

CROP REPORT.

Weather Bureau Makes Its Weekly Statement Regarding the Outlook for Crops.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The weather bureau weekly report of crop conditions is as follows:

With more moderate temperatures and good rains over a large part of the drought-stricken area, the weather conditions of the week ending August 5 were the most favorable to agricultural interests in the states of the central valleys that have prevailed since the latter part of June. In the states of the Missouri valley the severe and protracted drought has been very largely relieved, but to the eastward of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river only partial relief has been afforded by insufficient showers, the drought conditions in the upper valley being more serious than at any previous time this season. In the east gulf and portions of the south Atlantic states and New England and throughout the Pacific coast districts the week has proved generally favorable.

In the great corn states late corn—and fortunately a much larger proportion than usual of this year's crop was planted late—has experienced a general, and in some cases a decided, improvement, but the early corn has been practically ruined. In Kansas the cooler weather with better-distributed rains decidedly improved conditions in the eastern and western divisions of the state and slightly benefited the central portions, and in many of the eastern, western and southern central counties late corn still promises from one-fourth to half a crop. In Nebraska the improvement has been less marked and is confined largely to the northern and extreme eastern counties. In Iowa the late planted is making a better showing, and, under favorable conditions the balance of the season promises a considerable yield of sound grain; the extent of irreparable damage in this state cannot yet be estimated. In Missouri, where good local showers fell, except in portions of the southern section, late corn has been much improved, but elsewhere it continues to deteriorate. In Illinois corn has greatly improved in the northern part of the state, but has deteriorated in parts of the central and southern portions. In a few favored districts of northern Indiana corn is still promising, but elsewhere the upland and early planted is almost beyond recovery; with immediate rains about an average crop of lowland and late planted would be produced. Over the greater part of Ohio the condition of corn has been materially lowered, a portion of the crop in the southwest part of the state being past help; in northeastern Ohio its condition is more hopeful. In Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia the condition of corn has been materially reduced during the past week. In the middle Atlantic states an excellent crop of corn is now practically assured.

The weather conditions in the spring wheat region have been very favorable for harvesting, which is nearing completion in the southern districts. Some damage has resulted from hail in South Dakota, and the unfavorable effects of recent hot weather in North Dakota are becoming apparent. Some grain in the last-mentioned state has been badly lodged. In Washington a splendid crop is promised, and in Oregon the yields are better than were expected. The oat harvest is mostly completed and the yields are generally unsatisfactory.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

According to Bradstreet's Commercial Agency the Situation is Generally Hopeful.

New York, Aug. 10.—Bradstreet's says: "Despite some irregularity, due to the recurrence of corn damage reports from the eastern surplus-producing states and the formal launching of the much heralded general steel workers' strike, the aggregate business of the country over seems to be good, and in most sections unprecedented volume for this season of the year. Changes were noted for the week have been rather of tone than of actual demand, and it is in this matter of tone or sentiment that the favorable developments have arisen. All available measures of supply, demand and movement point to the business done in July having exceeded anything transacted in any similar midsummer month. This, too, despite the exceptionally hot weather, drought, strike talk and similar conditions unfavorable to business extension. Cereal prices have been rather irregular, but the main tendency has been upward, partly because of renewed crop damage reports as to corn 'frosts' having already begun to be sighted by nervous crop estimators. The main strength of wheat, however, lies in the continued heavy export business. The clearances this week were enormous and far in excess of any previous week on record, and the rather smaller volume of receipts weakened early in the week in sympathy with the corn market, but steadied later without, however, reaching the early loss. The world's statistical position of late is a very strong one. New features are scarce in the iron and steel trade. The strike is still the great central feature, around which revolve high premium prices for plates, bars and sheets and tinned plates. Black sheets will be imported and tinned here. Structural material, not affected as yet by the strike, is in very heavy demand, and producers are being hard pressed to meet orders.

"Failures for the week were 173 in the United States, against 177 last year, and 31 in Canada, against 23 last year."

The Shirt Waist Indorsed.
Austin, Tex., Aug. 7.—The Texas legislature convened in special session here Tuesday to consider, among other things, a redistricting of the congressional districts so as to add three additional districts to the present 13. The house indorsed the shirt waist fad by adopting a resolution recommending that its members go in their shirt sleeves or in shirt waists during the present session, owing to the hot weather.

Old-Time Musician Dead.
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 7.—Philip J. Hoaffner, 83 years of age, who came to America and accompanied the celebrated Jenny Lind on her triumphant tour, died Tuesday morning at his home near Yorktown. Mr. Hoaffner was one of the most noted and conservative musicians in the central states and half a century ago set the American public talking by his wonderful ability as a violinist.

VEILS ARE NOT HURTFUL.

Latest Dictum Says They May Be Worn with Impunity by Any Who Fancy Them.

Much has been said about the harmfulness of veils. They have been charged with responsibility for the headaches that so frequently afflict femininity; they have been accused of making the girls cross-eyed and near-sighted; they have been compelled to bear the blame for all the blotches that on occasions disfigure the complexion. They have especially called forth the disapproval of the physician and the animadversion of the oculist. This fact, however, has never interfered with the wearing of these filmy beautifiers.

There are some women who decline to wear dotted veils; there are a few who refuse to wear veils of any kind, but the great majority of them would as soon go out of doors without a collar as without a veil. Some of these enthusiasts have been collecting statistics, and they are triumphant. Men never wear veils, they say, except in the deserts, where dust storms are frequent, and yet men habitually resort to the use of glasses at an earlier age than women. They likewise call attention to the fact that women habitually do fine needlework and embroidery, which is far more trying to the eyes than the work of the average man could possibly be.

In regard to the statement that veils are injurious to the complexion, these women argue that not only does a veil keep the dust out of the pores, but it protects the tender cuticle from the effects of wind and sun, and so prevents wrinkles and retards the inevitable darkening of the skin by the march of time. That a filmy bit of silk tissue or lace can heat the skin and cause it to be covered with a sticky moisture is, they declare, impossible. That it can interfere with the circulation is also extremely unlikely. And so madam, secure in the panoply of her own observation and experience, calmly proceeds to tie a fresh veil over her pretty face and go on her conquering way.—Chicago Chronicle.

BIG SWARM OF BEES.

Hived in an Extraordinary Way by a Lady Who Evidently Knows No Fear.

Bees are easy enough to handle if you understand how to manage them. In the accompanying picture is shown a whole swarm, gathered upon a tree branch, which a lady (in Washington, D. C.) is coolly putting into a hive. She will encourage them to enter by brushing them with the feather which she holds in her right hand.

The bees could sting the lady to death in five minutes, if they took a notion to do so. Scientists say that the poison of a honey bee is probably as intense and as deadly as that of a rattlesnake, though the quantity secreted by a single individual is too small to cause any injury beyond a painful swelling. Many stings, however, are dangerous, and have often been known to destroy the life of a human being.

These are Carniolan bees, an imported race from Austria, which are very gentle. If they are not roughly treated they never think of stinging anybody.—N. Y. Herald.

Men Who Shouldn't Marry.
M. Max O'Rell thinks, on the whole, that the literary man and the artist ought not to marry. "I have come across hundreds of cases," he says, "where artists and literary efforts have been checked, and sometimes killed outright, by the petty cares and worries of domestic life. The brain worker is easily irked and tormented by the most trivial things. He is irritable and most sensitive. I have known literary men to put right off their work for days simply because devoted women came into their studies, and after giving them an encouraging kiss, carried off their pens to make out their washing list."

A GIRL IN BUSINESS.

She Spent All Her Prospective Profits Long Before Actual Returns Began to Come In.

It was agreed that Aramintha should have the chicken money. If they were going to live in the suburbs, father argued, they might as well have the privileges of the country. What could be more healthful than a nice, fresh, new-laid egg for one's breakfast? Father fairly reveled in the outlook.

"Further," he said, discarding on the subject to his wife's relatives, "I believe in a girl learning business methods. She couldn't begin too early to learn the value of money and how to make it as well as spend it. If I had 12 daughters they should all be taught in the same practical, common sense school. Give Aramintha the chickens to attend to and let the family buy their eggs and young fries of her at the market price. Then let Aramintha handle her own money and buy her own clothes."

"THEY ARE SHABBY," AGREED MOTHER.

Aramintha was delighted with the arrangement and entered into the plan with enthusiasm. As she explained, a girl needs so many things it is a nuisance to have to bother her parents about; so the chicken business started with the unanimous consent of the household.

One day Aramintha was found mournfully staring at the parlor curtains.

"They are shabby," agreed mother. "And we won't put up with them another season!" exclaimed Aramintha. "We'll have new ones; I'll get them myself out of the chicken money."

No one could object, so the new curtains were purchased.

This began it. A new hammock, new covers for the 24 cushions, new rugs for the front step, an extra trip to Chicago every bargain day, a new Gainsborough, extra hot-weather gowns, all were accounted for by the chicken money. No extravagance was counted an extravagance if the chicken money paid for it.

Had those brown leghorns laid eggs of gold their purchasing power could not have been greater than it was under Aramintha's elastic touch; it became so great that at last father called for a statement.

"Those chickens of yours beat the board of trade. I'm seriously thinking of retiring and devoting all my time and money to chickens, with you as manager. How goes it, anyway?" Aramintha proceeded to get out her books.

"You see, father," she explained, sweetly and lucidly, "here it all is: Started chicken business May 1 with 20 hens.

Each hen to set on 13 eggs makes 260 chickens.

Two hundred and sixty chickens at 25 cents apiece, $65.

Hens lay through summer, 1,800 eggs.

Eggs sell at 20 cents a dozen (fresh ones are higher), $30.

"You see that comes to about $100 by fall, and—"

"But, Aramintha, it is not September yet; the summer is just spring. And what allowance have you made for chicken feed and chickens that do not hatch, and so on? Does your chicken yard live up to these books?"

"I—I haven't kept any account of the chicken yard. I didn't see the use of keeping two accounts," she answered, in an injured tone.

Now father declares there is no use trying to pound business sense into a girl's head. If he had 12 daughters he would give them an allowance, but he would expect to be wrecked in a year if they were all in business.—Chicago Daily News.

The Hair in Hot Weather.

Oil the head at night three times weekly. On the following day wash with soap and water, rinse and expose to the sun's heat for as many hours as possible. Let the sun fall on the scalp. It is not necessary to expose the entire scalp at one time. One part may be shielded while another is having its sun bath. Few people are aware that by a skillful use of the comb severe straightness can be remedied. It is difficult to convey in words a correct idea of the necessary motion of the hand. It resembles that employed in whisking an egg into a frothy state. The comb is moved rapidly and very lightly, with the result that the hair assumes a fluffy condition. But this is merely temporary.

Feeble Pulse,

palor, fainting, smothering or sinking spells all point in the same direction—an impaired heart action. A heart that is weak or diseased cannot do full duty and the circulation of the blood is interfered with. There is a medicine that gives new strength to the heart, new power to the pulse and puts new color into cheek and lip.

"I was short of breath, dizzy, had smothering sensations, intense pain in heart, was feeble and pulse so weak that I could not raise myself in bed. I found a perfect cure in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure." A. T. JACKSON, Kewanna, Ind.

BOLD YOUNG THIEVES.

They Broke into a House in Broad Daylight and Stole.

Last Thursday morning two lads broke into Abner Spencer's house on railroad street, by tearing a hole in the wire screen door and then breaking the bolt of the inner door with a broadaxe. They ransacked the bureau drawers pretty thoroughly and stole a razor, jackknife, some toilet soap, a pair of socks, etc. Before they had completed their depredations Mr. Spencer drove into the yard. He went away again at once and in a few minutes Mrs. Spencer returned home and saw the boys leaving the house. She hurried back up town and notified Deputy Sheriff Lehman, telling him the direction the boys had taken. With a horse and rig he soon overtook them and brought them back. When they were searched Mr. Spencer's property was found on them, also three gold watches, some jewelry and other property. They at first claimed to be 12 and 13 years old and P. J. Lehman, of Ann Arbor, county agent for juveniles, came here Friday to look after them. Subsequently they gave their names as Frank Kline and Joseph Lerverne and their ages as 16 and 17 years. A charge of breaking into a house and stealing was entered against them in Justice Parker's court and they were remanded to the county jail for trial at the next term of the circuit court.

A Well Known Business Man Dead.

Christian Mack, one of the best known merchants and business men in Washtenaw county, died suddenly of heart disease in the basement of his store in Ann Arbor yesterday morning. He was 67 years old and had been in the dry goods business in Ann Arbor 44 years. He had been president of the Ann Arbor Savings Bank since 1875, and was continuously a member of the school board for over 25 years. His fortune is variously estimated at $500,000 to $750,000. His wife, two sons, and two daughters survive him.

JACKSON RACES.

It Will Be a Banner Meeting and Some Good Pursees Are Hung Up.

The August meeting of the Jackson County Driving Club will be held at Jackson, Aug. 20 to 23, and it is the aim of the management to make this meeting a banner one in Jackson's history. The grounds have been put into splendid condition, the entry list is a large one made up of high class horses, and with good weather fine sport is assured. The program for the four days has been arranged in a most attractive manner commencing on Tuesday, Aug. 20th, with a free-for-all pace, a 2:25 trot and a 2:35 trot, with $300 purses for each.

If a dealer asks you to take something said to be "just as good as Rocky Mountain Tea made by Madison Medicine Co.," ask him if he makes more money. Glazier & Stimson.

Electric Railway Notes.

The third rail system will be used on the Detroit & Chicago Traction Co.'s line along its private right of way.

The D., Y., A. A. & J. say that when their line is completed to Jackson, two fast express cars will be put on, which will make the distance in 2 1/4 hours.

Work is under way upon the transformer station for the D., Y., A. A. & J. line at Lima Center. It is also reported that this company will build a grain elevator near Pacey's corners.

The Detroit & Chicago Traction Co. has had a gang of men at work west of Jackson putting the bridge over Sandstone creek. The bridge is about half way between Jackson and Parma.

Work on the electric line between Marshall and Albion was commenced Monday. To avoid crossing the Michigan Central tracks the highway will be straightened in three places at the expense of the company.

There will be nine engines in the enlarged power house of the D., Y., A. A. & J. line at Ypsilanti, which will furnish power for the whole line from Detroit to Jackson. By means of generators placed every few miles, a voltage of 16,500 will be carried 80 miles.

October 15 is the date now set when the through cars between Detroit and Jackson, on the D., Y., A. A. & J. electric line will commence running, unless strikes should delay the construction work. The grading of the uncompleted section of the line—Ann Arbor to Jackson—is nearly finished, and in two weeks all of the rails will be down.

St. Mary's Parish Picnic.

This annual picnic will take place at Cavanaugh Lake next Tuesday, Aug. 20. Preparations for a good time have been made and the program will be fully carried out. Conveyances will be at the church at 9 a. m. to take those who have not rigs of their own to the lake. There will be speeches by Congressman Henry C. Smith, of Adrian, W. W. Wedemeyer, of Ann Arbor, and the Rev. Dr. Whelan, of Baltimore, Md. The Chelsea Cornet Band will furnish music. There will be a series of games for which prizes will be given to the successful contestants. An elegant silver watch will be raffled off, the proceeds to be for the benefit of the church. A solid gold ring will be given to the girl selling the most chances and a watch will be given to the boy who does the same. A fine dinner will be served for 25 cents, and ice cream, cake, soft drinks and cigars will also be for sale. A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present.

Says Grossman Was Murdered.

Edward Grossman, of Manchester, met his death in Middleton, Ohio, April 30, supposedly from being struck by a railroad train. A man named Medler, who is dying of consumption in a Cincinnati hospital, now tells a different story. He states that Grossman was working in a paper mill at Franklin, O., and incurred the enmity of the other employees, who placed a rope about his neck and raised and lowered him a beam, finally hurling his head against the iron shafting and fracturing his skull. Grossman was then placed upon the railroad tracks to cover up the crime. George Stagg, living near Franklin, O., has been arrested, presumably in connection with the affair.

Was Badly Scalded.

Mrs. William Dowling, of Grass Lake, mother of Mrs. John Merrinane, of this place, was badly scalded Saturday morning through a boiler of scalding water tipping over on her. She had pushed the boiler of water over to the edge of the stove, in order to put in some wood and was reaching over to get the wood when the boiler tipped over spilling the scalding water all over her back. From her head to her heels she was scalded terribly.

Mrs. Merrinane went to Grass Lake Saturday in response to a telegram and is still there in attendance on her mother, who is doing as well as could be expected.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

Have you seen Chelsea's "Majestic" building? That is the name the Watson-Welch Grain & Coal Co. have christened their office.

Today is the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a holy day of obligation in the Catholic church. Services are held both morning and evening.

Matinee races will be held at the fair grounds, Ann Arbor, tomorrow afternoon. There will be a match race for $100 between Ferguson & Corrao's Dick S., and John Gillen's Billy G., also two other races.

There will be a special meeting of the Royal Neighbors of America next Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 21, at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to be present as business of importance will be transacted.

Four of the new large locomotives have arrived at the Michigan Central round house, Jackson. They are known as the consolidated compound engines and are said to be able to handle a 30,000 ton train, or about three ordinary freight trains. The weight of each engine is 176,000 pounds.

Anticipating the increased demand for more building space on the university campus at Ann Arbor, the board of regents has just purchased two pieces of property adjacent to it. The carpenter shop and horse barn will be at once removed from the campus to one of these pieces of property.

Another close call for a jail delivery took place at the county jail, Ann Arbor, last Thursday. Deputy Fred Gillen caught James H. Davis, who is in jail for stealing a bicycle, sawing out the bars of the corridor window. An investigation showed that one of the bars had been sawed at each end, and that the prisoners had four steel hack saws in their possession.

Mrs. Kate Heselochwerdt, of Sylvan Center, by her attorneys Lehman Bros. & Stivers, has entered a damage suit in the circuit court against Russell J. West, of the same place, for $5,000. In the bill of complaint the plaintiff alleges that on April 12 and again on April 23 the defendant said certain things in the presence of others, from which it would be inferred that her character for chastity was not good.

Frederick Wurster, of Ann Arbor, a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steinbach, of Chelsea, died Thursday, aged 68 years. He had been in poor health, caused by a stomach trouble, for many years, but had only been sick in bed a week. The funeral held Sunday afternoon was largely attended, among those present being Mr. and Mrs. C. Steinbach and their sons Henry and K. Otto Steinbach.

The Ann Arbor railroad, at a cost of $150,000 will build a railway to connect Crystal Lake with Frankfort. The road will run for a great distance along the shores of Lake Michigan and Crystal Lake. The primary purpose of this improvement is to enable the guests at the new hotel and the occupants of the summer cottages at Frankfort to enjoy the splendid bathing facilities which will be provided at Crystal Lake. In the summer open cars will leave Frankfort every 45 minutes.

Martin L. Sweet, who a few years ago was a wealthy banker, grain merchant, and proprietor of the well known Sweet's hotel at Grand Rapids, is today at the age of 82 years in the employ of the city of Grand Rapids drawing the pay of a common laborer for his services. This shows the fickleness of fortune and that riches oftentimes take wings and fly away. When Mr. Sweet first came to Michigan and prior to his going to Grand Rapids in 1846 he worked in flouring mills at Ann Arbor, Dexter and Delhi, building a mill for himself at the latter named place.

The business end of the County Sunday School Association met at Ann Arbor Friday. There were 19 people present from different parts of the county. They listened to the reports of the treasurer, C. E. Deake, the primary superintendent, Miss Rose Wood-Allen, and discussed at length the program of the county convention to be held at Dexter, Oct. 29 and 30. Rev. W. L. Tedrow was appointed county superintendent of house to house visitation, and the appointing of a normal superintendent to succeed A. Riley Crittenden was left to the president and secretary.

Next Tuesday, Aug. 20, is Michigan Day at the Pan-American.

The Unadilla Farmers' Club will picnic at Joalin's lake Saturday of this week.

The anti-oleomargarine law passed at the last session of the legislature goes into effect Sept. 1.

Born, Thursday, Aug. 8, 1901, to Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Hindelang, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a daughter.

Chauncey Stephens is having a cement sidewalk put down in front of his property on East Middle street.

Jacob Hummel, sr., went to the home of the Little Sister of the Poor, at Detroit, Tuesday, which will be his home for the future.

St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school had its annual picnic at Cavanaugh Lake yesterday. It was largely attended and a good time is reported.

Rev. Edgar Killam, of Philadelphia, Pa., preached in the Baptist church Sunday in the absence of the pastor. Mr. Killam is an old Lima boy.

Mrs. Mary Wortley has purchased the house on West Middle street, now occupied by Lewis Emmer, from A. A. Conkright. The price paid was $1,000.

Arrangements are under way to give a U. of M. picnic on Belle Isle, Aug. 31. A special excursion will be run from Ann Arbor by the Students' Christian Association.

The Michigan crop report for August says of Washtenaw county: Corn, late potatoes, buckwheat and beans doing well; fall plowing in progress; apple prospect poor.

At a meeting of the full board of directors of the Washtenaw Mutual Fire Insurance Co. held at Ann Arbor Saturday, 10 lightning losses and one fire loss were adjusted, amounting to $2,864.78.

The recent census placed the population of Michigan at 2,420,982, of which 1,248,905 were male and 1,172,077 females. Out of the total population 15,816 were Negroes, 240 Chinese, 9 Japanese, and 6,354 Indians (taxed).

Members of Ann Arbor Commandery, No. 13, Knights Templar, residing in Ann Arbor, to the number of 28, met at 4 o'clock Monday morning and conferred the Templar degree upon M. M. Hawxhurst, after which breakfast was served.

A good heavy rain would be welcomed by everybody. The bean and corn crops are suffering for lack of it, and the residents of Middle street are just about choked by the clouds of dust that arise by reason of the work being done for the electric road.

Several young men have requested the publication of the following information: "There is nothing that tends to shorten the lives of old people and injure their health so much as sitting up late evenings, especially if there be a grown daughter in the family."

The will of the late Frederick Vogel has been filed for probate. His personal property has been estimated at $3,500, and real estate at $1,500. He gives his wife, Anna Maria, the use of all his property. His son Edward Vogel is named as executor. The will is dated Oct. 8, 1894, and was witnessed by James L. Gilbert and William R. Lehman, of Chelsea.

The Wolverine Land Company, of Ann Arbor, has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Capital stock $15,000. Dayton W. Closser, of Ann Arbor, holds 750 shares, J. Ellis 500, and R. S. Woodliff, of Jackson, 250. The purpose of the corporation is to acquire and dispose of lands, tax titles and personal rights arising by reason of purchase, attempt at purchase, or mistake of purchase.

The fiery element seems to have a peculiar liking for W. A. Boland's property. When he was building Grey Tower, the first house he put up was burned to the ground just as it was about completed. On Saturday a fire got started in his fine large barn at Grey Tower, and at the same time a disastrous fire occurred at the Lexington, Ky., fair grounds, where Mr. Boland's prize cattle were on exhibition. The animals were gotten out of their stalls in safety, but all the blankets, feed and other necessities were destroyed by the flames.

The University of Michigan has just received a high compliment from the University of Missouri. J. S. Maddox of the latter institution has come to Ann Arbor to get pointers on the administration of the affairs of a great university. He was sent there after the president of his own institution had corresponded with the presidents of the larger institutions over the country. In speaking about the matter, Mr. Maddox said: "From the letter received from President Angell it was easy to see that Michigan had worked out most thoroughly the problems that are bothering us."

The Dexter Leader advocates the purchase of the electric light works in that village by the people, provided they can be had at a reasonable figure.

The yellows has struck the peach orchards around Ann Arbor pretty hard. C. L. Tuomey, Robert McCarty, J. J. Parshall and Dr. W. W. Nichols will lose 400 trees.

A Port Huron woman has sued the Michigan Central Railroad Co. for $5,000, claiming she caught a bad cold on a train in 1899. What next will be the grounds for a damage suit?

James Goodyear, of Wichita, Kas., formerly of Manchester, a brother of J. A. Goodyear of that village, was one of the lucky ones to draw a 160 acre farm in the El Reno district, Oklahoma.

The Michigan Milling Co., of Ann Arbor, has placed on the market a wheat breakfast food called "Ajax Breakfast Food" which is warranted to be equal to the best and sells at 10 cents for a two pound package.

The O. C. Schmid Chemical Co., with a capital stock of $25,000, has been organized and will be established in Jackson. It will engage in the manufacture of compressed tablets, fluids, extracts, etc. Mr. Schmid, the chief promoter, is the son of Frederick Schmid, of Ann Arbor.

About 20 contract holders in the defunct Tontine Surety Co., who reside in Ann Arbor are again making a desperate effort to get some of their money back. Chelsea people did not take very kindly to the tontine business and we have not heard of a single victim of misplaced confidence, so far.

An officer of a fraternal accident society illustrates the prompt methods of his society by the following statement: "One of our members lately fell from the roof of a five-story building and a check for the amount of his certificate was handed him from the second story window on his way down."

Friday, Aug. 9, was the 65th birthday of James McLaren, sr., of Lima, and he will not soon forget the occasion. He was very pleasantly surprised during the day by a visit from his children and grandchildren, who presented him with a handsome leather upholstered chair. Long may he live to occupy it.

The first of the three jubilee processions which it is incumbent on the people of St. Mary's church to make before Aug. 30, on account of the jubilee year that is being observed in the Catholic church, took place Sunday evening. About 150 people participated in it. The second procession will take place this evening and the final one next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

German Day at Ann Arbor last Thursday was participated in by delegations estimated to number 3,000 from outside the city, besides those resident there. The parade was fine, the address of Rudolf Worch, of Jackson, the orator of the day, was thoughtful, eloquent and witty, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. Next year's celebration will be held in Ypsilanti.

Auditor-General Powers has prepared a table showing the equalized valuation of the counties of this state in 1896 and the present assessed valuation. According to this table Washtenaw county shows an increase of $2,939,760; Jackson shows a loss of $1,718,659; Livingston a loss of $1,006,920; Oakland a loss of $438,725, and Lenawee a loss of $1,419,658. As an evidence of prosperity in Washtenaw this is all right, but how will it be when the state board of equalization meets next Monday?

Their Secret is Out.

All Sadieville, Ky., was curious to learn the cause of the vast improvement in the health of Mrs. S. P. Whitaker, who had for a long time endured untold suffering from a chronic bronchial trouble. "It's all due to Dr. King's New Discovery," writes her husband. "It completely cured her and also cured our little granddaughter of a severe attack of whooping cough." It positively cures coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis, all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

GOES TO THE PHILIPPINES

Prof. Freer Will Have Full Charge of the Government Laboratories on the Islands.

TO BE A MEMBER OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

Eighty-Eight Courses Offered for Studies in Higher Commercial Education - Missouri Compliments Michigan-Goin' to Corea as a Missionary-Other Notes of Interest.

[Special Correspondence.]

University of Michigan, Aug. 12.

Prof. Paul C. Freer, director of the department of general chemistry, has started for the Philippines, where he will become superintendent of the government laboratories for the study of the diseases that are peculiar to the islands. Dr. Freer, by virtue of being superintendent of the laboratories, will be a member of the board of health of the islands. Provision has been made for the establishment of a series of government laboratories throughout the islands. Each laboratory will have its own director, but the whole series will be under the supervision of Dr. Freer. The chemical laboratories are to give special attention to research work which will help develop the commercial resources of the country. A study will be made of the different vegetable and mineral products of the islands with the view of determining how they can better be got into the markets of the world. The drug producing plants will be investigated for the purpose of discovering better and cheaper means for raising the plants and better methods for extracting the drugs.

Eighty-Eight Courses Offered.

The detailed announcement for the studies in higher commercial education for the coming year is descriptive of 85 courses. Of this number 28 are in history, ten in government, 15 in political economy, ten in industry and commerce, seven in general and commercial law, three in Roman law and institutions, two in international law, two in hygiene and 11 in social philosophy.

Some of the more characteristic of the new courses are: "Commercial Geography of the Extractive Industries," "The Distributive and Regulatory Industries of the United States," "Technique of Foreign Trade," "American Trade with China, Japan and the Philippines," "History of Industrial Physics." The instruction in the higher commercial education studies will be given the coming year by a corps of 25 professors and instructors. This will be the second year that the university has given special attention to the subject of higher commercial education.

Compliment to Michigan.

The university has just received a high compliment from the University of Missouri. J. S. Maddox, of the latter institution, visited Ann Arbor last week to get pointers on the administration of the affairs of a great university. He was sent here after the president of his own institution had corresponded with the presidents of the larger institutions over the country. In speaking about the matter, Mr. Maddox said: "From the letter received from President Angell it was easy to see that Michigan had worked out most thoroughly the problems that are bothering us. As near as we could judge, Michigan has been unusually active in the matter of the organization of its alumni association, in the matter of advertising itself and in the keeping of records in a systematic way." Mr. Maddox was here nearly a week studying the organization and administration of the departments, which exercise the above activities.

Will Go to Corea.

Margaret J. Edmunds, of Toledo, who graduated from the training school for nurses several years ago, has been appointed by the Methodist mission board as a missionary to Seoul, Corea. Miss Edmunds' special mission will be to organize and conduct at Seoul a school which will train the native women as nurses. The mission boards in carrying on their work in the eastern countries, have experienced considerable difficulty in reaching the people. The men missionaries sent out have found it next to impossible to get into the homes.

The women missionaries have had somewhat better success, for they have by alleviating the physical pains of women won the confidence of the sex and thus have been able to tell their message. The limit, however, to the number of persons they can influence is the number that they can care for personally. With native nurses it is expected that the number of persons that can be reached and influenced by a single missionary will be increased several times. The missionary physician will see the patients through the critical periods, and then will go on to the next patient, trusting to the native nurse to care for the convalescents.

As the work of the nurses will be under the direction of the missionaries, the latter will have their hold upon the patients for religious instruction.

While the idea of using natives to assist in the care of the sick is not new, the plan of organizing a school for the training of native nurses is new. If it proves a success it will very materially increase the effectiveness of the work of missions.

Will Practice in Manila.

Miss Floye V. Gilmore, of Elwood, Ind., a graduate of the law department with the class of 1901, has decided to go to Manila to begin the practice of her profession. She will enter the office of Judge E. F. Johnson, who was formerly connected with the university as a professor in the law department.

Gone to Glasgow.

Prof. Henry S. Carhart is on his way to Glasgow, where he will attend the international engineering congress as a delegate from the American Institute of Electrical Engineering.

Buy House and Lot.

The university has purchased a house and lot to the north of the campus at a cost of $4,000. The ground will be hung onto as a good site for some future building.

Football Season.

The football season will open here September 9. On that day those students who expect to try for the varsity eleven will begin training under the direction of Coach Yost. The first game of the season will be played in this city with the team from Albion college.

New grand stands with a seating capacity of 2,000 are to be erected at the athletic field this fall. With these there will be no difficulty in seating 5,000 people on the grounds. R. H. E.

SAGINAW LUMBER.

Not a Foot Was Shipped by Water During July, Breaking a Record of Forty Years.

The July report of Deputy Collector of Customs Stewart shows the remarkable fact that not a foot of lumber was shipped out of Saginaw during the month of July, the first time that shipments have not been made by water in that month in 40 years. The lumber is now handled largely by rail in car lots. There has been shipped from the Saginaw river by water this season to date only 3,530,619 feet of lumber. The shipments by water during the same period in 1882 aggregated more than 400,000,000 feet.

The receipts of lumber in the Saginaw river by water during the month just ended were 13,801,793 feet, and from the opening of navigation to date they were 34,845,419 feet.

During July the receipts at Bay City were 11,114,713 feet of lumber; 6,000,000 feet of sawlogs; 7,500 railroad ties; 2,000 cedar poles and 600 tons of coal.

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Those Doing Business in Michigan Pay a Large Bunch of Money Into the State Treasury.

The insurance companies doing business in Michigan paid a bunch of money into the state treasury for the privilege of transacting business in the state last year. The total amount received was $293,139.40, which is $22,890.29 more than was paid during the previous year. The fire and marine insurance companies paid $148,337.38; the life companies $116,122.41; the casualty companies, $9,589.96; the cooperative companies, $785, and the retaliatory fees collected amounted to $18,304.65. The old line life companies are carrying risks in Michigan aggregating $175,000,000 and the fraternal's $370,000,000.

Feeling Still High.

There is yet much feeling over the merging of Beulah into Benzonia. Village President Harrison had occasion to pass through Beulah recently and was bombarded with rotten eggs. They broke on all sides of him, but none of them landed directly on him. This act has stirred up more feeling. The local business men say they deplore the incident and state emphatically that they do not approve of it.

Sent to France.

The Rescue Lifeboat company, of Muskegon, has shipped to Capt. S. Dechaillie, director of the signal and life saving service, a 30-foot Rescue lifeboat. The boat will take part in the contest September 9 for the Anthony Pollock prize of $20,000 offered for the best life-saving device. The contest will take place under the auspices of the Havre chamber of commerce in the English channel.

Lucky Michiganders.

Michigan people who were successful in the land lottery held in El Reno, Okla., were: Dennis A. Barnum, Owosso; Frank Wolverton, Flint; G. Barnum, Saginaw; D. W. Putnam, Port Huron; Frank H. Waldo, Concord; Flora M. Sherwood, Grand Rapids; Charles M. Schneider, Adrian; Porter Denmore, Litchfield; L. M. Hill, place of residence not given; C. H. Holbrook, Portland.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Fatal Dispute.

Poundmaster Joe Lennen, of Crystal Falls, placed a cow belonging to Capt. Bennett, superintendent of the Oliver Mining company, in the pound. Bennett became very angry, and on meeting Lennen hot words followed, and the result was that the captain pulled his revolver and shot the poundmaster through the heart. The affair has created a great sensation. Bennett is one of the best known mining men in the upper peninsula, and is said to be worth $300,000. He was arrested.

Got Poisoned Fruit.

Mrs. Clara Wandell found a bag of beautiful peaches on the knob of her door in Battle Creek with a note reading: "Expressly for Clara." She ate them, and was at the point of death. Each peach contained strychnine inserted in small slits. Mrs. Wandell had quarreled with Edward Deforest, and he is in jail on suspicion of having left the poisoned fruit. Deforest denies the crime, but the police claim to have a good amount of circumstantial evidence.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 92 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended August 3 indicate that pleuritis and whooping cough increased and intermittent fever decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 190 places, measles at 16, typhoid fever at 60, scarlet fever at 50, diphtheria at 21, whooping cough at 13, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 4 and smallpox at 78 places.

Volunteers Get Medals.

At the St. Clair hotel in Port Huron six soldier boys of Port Huron who served in the Philippines were presented with handsome bronze medals in recognition of their services. The following received medals: Sergt. Beeley, Corps. Halfman and Nichols, and Privates Morrill, Emerson and Krenke. About eight others who were unable to be present will also receive medals.

Wanted Things to Fly.

John Vinson (colored), claiming to hail from Tennessee, has been sentenced in Albion to ten days in jail for boarding a train. Vinson is charged with placing obstructions on the Michigan Central track, and he will later be tried for this offense. He has confessed. He says he didn't mean any harm; that he only wanted to see things fly.

Wish Fulfilled.

In the death of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Jones, old and wealthy residents of Kinderhook, occurred a strange fulfillment of the expressed wish of the wife that she should not live after her husband had died. Mr. Jones expired suddenly at the house of a neighbor. The wife was sent for, and as she approached her husband's body she fell dead.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan: Weather very favorable for crops, but has slightly delayed field work; corn and sugar beets in fine condition; pastures, meadows and late potatoes much improved; beans and buckwheat doing well; fair crop of peaches nearly ripe; apples continue to drop badly; oat harvest nearing completion, with light yield.

Student Killed.

While assisting Railroad Engineer Adams in surveying in the railway yards at Ann Arbor Henry L. L'Home-dieu, son of Superintendent L'Home-dieu, of the Michigan Central, and a student in the engineering department of the university, was struck from behind by the Grand Rapids express and instantly killed.

Landed in a Tree.

Lillie Arnold, an aeronaut, made a balloon ascension and parachute drop at Owosso, coming down in a tree, where she was caught 75 feet from the ground. She hung there for three hours in a perilous position, and finally dropped into blankets held by a dozen men.

News Briefly Stated.

Ex-Justice Lawrence Kinney, aged 48, was found dead by his wife in his garden in Detroit. Apoplexy was the cause.

The three-year-old son of Marcus Ferris, of Cheshire, fell into a water tank and was drowned.

John Pool, an old miller in Lyons, got caught in the rollers at Hale & Son's mill and lost his right hand.

The little settlement of Wagar, six miles west of Hesperia, consisting of a sawmill, store and a number of dwellings, was burned, excepting the store and one dwelling.

Harvey Wardell was arrested in Adrian, charged with deserting from company B, Twenty-ninth infantry at Fort Sheridan on June 12 last.

Judge Frank Whipple died at his home in Port Huron, aged 62 years. He was a civil war veteran.

Mrs. Mary Snow, for 50 years a resident of Cascade township, died at her farm home, aged 77 years.

MICHIGAN PROPERTY.

Table Prepared by Auditor General Powers Shows an Increase in the Assessed Valuation.

Auditor General Powers has been preparing a table for the information of the state board of equalization which shows by counties the assessed valuation of the property of the state and the equalized valuations as fixed by the boards of equalization in the several counties last June. The table shows an increased assessed valuation over 1896 of $372,000,000 in round numbers. The following are the totals as compared with those of 1896 when the last meeting of the state board of equalization was held:

Acres assessed, 34,149,851; in 1896, 33,036,270.
Real estate assessed, $1,017,071,643; in 1896, $805,553,976.
Personal assessed, $311,561,048; in 1896, $140,055,900.
Total valuation assessed, $1,328,632,691; in 1896, $946,609,941.
Personal equalized, $311,907,442; in 1896, $120,367,715.
Real estate equalized, $923,878,583; in 1896, $697,730,744.
Total valuation equalized, $1,235,806,025; in 1896, $818,088,460.

These figures show over 1,000,000 more acres on the assessment rolls than there were five years ago; personal property more than double the amount on the assessment rolls, and an equalized valuation closely approximating the assessed valuation.

BAN ON EDUCATORS.

Michigan Authorities Try to Bar a Chicago League from Business in the State.

"The League of Educators," the Chicago institution which has done considerable business in the vicinity of Ludington, is one of the organizations which the attorney general's department proposes to chase out of the state. This organization is worked on the cooperative insurance plan, and the stationery sent out contains the cut of an immense five-story brown stone building named the "Eligible Building," to be erected some time "for the exclusive use of members and their friends when in Chicago." For $300 a certificate of membership is issued to the person who bites, which calls for $500 "when the terms of the certificate are all faithfully complied with." These certificates mature after five years. Assessments are levied regularly, and at the end of one year, if the member marries, he or she receives $12.50, but three new members must have been secured. At the end of two years the subscriber receives $25; three years, $37.50; four years, $50. This company has done an enormous business in this section of the state, and also in the upper peninsula and northern Wisconsin.

FORESTRY COMMISSION.

Preparations Are Being Made for Active Field Work in Northern Michigan.

The state forestry commission met in Lansing and decided to commence active field work in the northern part of the state next month. The commission will be assisted by T. H. Shepard, an expert connected with the national forestry commission. The legislature has already appropriated 57,000 acres for the experimental work of the commission, and the auditor general has decided to deed the remainder of the delinquent tax lands in Rosecon county to the land commissioner, who will withhold the lands from homestead entry until the next legislature shall appropriate them to the forestry commission.

Auditor General Powers has decided to deed to the land commissioner the 19,000 acres of delinquent tax lands in the northern part of the state desired by the Turtle Lake Fishing & Hunting club. The lands will then be offered at public sale and will doubtless be purchased by the club.

Under Arrest.

A man answering the description of Albert Ryan, wanted on a charge of shooting his wife at Litchfield on July 24 last, was arrested at Au Sable. He refuses to acknowledge his identity, but the officers say they are sure they have the right man. He has made contradictory statements to the authorities. A dispatch from Litchfield says that Mrs. Ryan is still improving, and Ryan may escape trial on a charge of murder.

Rural High Schools.

The bill passed by the last legislature providing for the establishment of rural high schools will become operative on September 5, and permits the establishment of rural high schools in townships which do not have within their limits an incorporated village or city, when a majority of the taxpayers of the township vote favorably on the proposition.

New Industry.

Negotiations have been closed whereby Lansing secures the largest manufacturing industry yet to come within the borders of this already thriving manufacturing city. It is the Olds motor works of Detroit, and it is pledged on the part of the company that 1,200 men will be employed within one year.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Mob in Georgia Takes Revenge on the Colored Assailant of a White Woman.

Savannah, Ga., Aug. 12.—The negro assailant of Mrs. J. J. Clark was captured at Liberty City Friday by R. L. Young, a section master of the Seaboard air line. Friday night he was taken to Ways Station and identified by Mrs. Clark positively. While being removed from Ways to Bryan county jail the prisoner was taken away from his captors by a mob, and, it is reported, was burned at the stake. With his prisoner Mr. Young reached Ways Station at 8:30 o'clock, but found no one in authority waiting to receive him and take charge of the negro. The negro up to this time had stolidly denied all knowledge of the assault upon Mrs. Clark. He was carried before his victim, and she positively identified him as the man who had assaulted her. She said there could be no doubt that the negro under arrest was the guilty man, and with this positive assurance Mr. Young started with his prisoner for Bryan county jail. He was not permitted to reach his destination. Five hundred yards from the place where the crime was committed a mob of 400 or 500 men was collected. Its leader demanded the surrender of the prisoner, and Mr. Young had no alternative but obedience to their demand. He was ordered then to leave the vicinity, and he obeyed this command. A short time afterward he saw a fire, the flames from which ascended above the tops of the surrounding trees. He telegraphed that he had no doubt that the negro was burned at the stake.

Later the story of the burning of the negro was confirmed. His positive identification by his victim sealed his fate. A mob of 400 men clamored for his life, but the leaders of the mob, numbering less than a dozen, carried into execution the plans of vengeance they had formed. The rest of the mob was kept at a distance and was not permitted to come within 100 yards of the place where Washington met his death. This was at a spot a few feet from the railway track and not 500 yards from the house in which the ravisher committed the crime for which he paid so dreadful a penalty. He walked to his death without a tremor and met it without a prayer or an appeal for mercy. He admitted his guilt of crimes incident to the principal one, which proved his guilt of that. But to the end he stubbornly refused to acknowledge that he had assaulted Mrs. Clark. Along the side of the railway track a crowbar was driven into the earth. To this Washington was forced, and bound in a sitting position. His legs extended straight in front of him on either side of the bar. A chain held him fast around the waist, while a heavy rope encircled the bar and his neck.

Washington's victim had been asked by the leaders of the mob to apply the torch to the pyre, but at this office her soul revolted and she refused. Her husband was selected in her stead. Washington looked straight into the eyes of Clark as the latter stooped down to apply the match. The wood was rich, fat pine and was saturated with kerosene oil. The flames leaped hungrily towards Washington's body. The man showed no signs in his face of the agony he must have suffered, and met death without a groan, as seemingly he had faced it without fear. The leaders of the mob watched the work of the flames until Washington's head fell back upon his shoulders and he died. For some minutes longer they waited around the spot, and then, without a shot having been fired, without noise and without undue excitement, they dispersed.

CRISPI IS DEAD.

The Famous Italian Statesman Succumbs to His Recent Attack.

Naples, Aug. 12.—Signor Crispi died at 7:45 p. m. Sunday. He was surrounded by the members of his family and several intimate friends. The news was immediately telegraphed to SIGNOR CRISPI.

King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helen. The evening papers assert that the body will be conveyed by steamer to Palermo, where the municipality will arrange for a great public funeral. It is rumored that Signor Crispi's will authorizes a prominent Italian politician to examine his papers and to publish his memoirs.

A CHECK ON BULLS.

Improvement on an American Device Suggested by South Australian Experimenters.

The Australian Leader suggests this improvement on a device to prevent bulls from breaking fences which was published years ago in the Country Gentleman—devised by the South Australian department of agriculture. It is described as follows:

"A block of wood is screwed on to each horn, and a wire stretched from block to block and also to the nose ring, as shown. So long as there is no pressure on the wires between the ring and the horns, the nose ring is simply held upwards without any discomfort to the animal. Should the bull rush any other animal, or attempt to get through any fence, the pressure pulls the nose ring upwards, causing considerable pain. It requires very few experiments to teach the animal that any misbehavior on his part is attended by suffering to himself. One prominent breeder says even the fiercest of bulls is quickly tamed by this device. In place of the blocks on the horns, the latter are sometimes bored through near the point and the wires secured. The blocks may also be put on in different ways, the object being to bring the wires from the horns to the nose away from the head and face."

KOCH ON TUBERCULOSIS.

Recent Statements of the German Pathologist Should Be Taken with a Grain of Salt.

London dispatches state that Prof. Koch, the German pathologist, who is attending the British congress called to consider means for the prevention of consumption, in the course of an interview with a newspaper reporter authorized the statement that he has demonstrated that the meat and milk of cattle infected with tuberculosis may be consumed with impunity. To the newspaper correspondent he is reported to have said: "You may say substantially that I have reached the conclusion that mankind's fear of contact with tuberculosis-infected flesh and fluid is unnecessary and unfounded. I arrived at the discovery through what I consider practically indisputable tests. These experiments lead me to believe that human tuberculosis and bovine tuberculosis are two entirely distinct species. I have found the human tubercle incapable of inoculation into the animal system. Proceeding from that premise, I am prepared to show that humanity's far-reaching precautions against infected cattle may once for all be abandoned."

The results which Dr. Koch is credited with securing are not in accord with those which have been the product of similar tests made by many pathologists of this country and Europe, and before accepting these statements at their face value we shall await further particulars.—Farmers' Review.

Wide Tires Are a Success.

At the Missouri Agricultural college they found by actual test that on blue grass sward the same draft that pulled 2,000 pounds on a wagon with 1 1/2-inch tires would pull a load of 3,248 pounds on a wagon with three-inch tires. The narrow tires cut ruts that could be seen all the season, and if running down a hill might be well adapted to start a gully or ditch in which the fertility of the surface soil would wash away, while the three-inch tire with the heavier load made no marked impression on the sward land.

Girls as Butter Makers.

Every farmer's wife ought to teach her daughters to make good butter. No matter what the girls intend to do for a living, it is an honor to them to be able to say that they know just how butter is made; and the time will surely come when they will rise up and call their mothers blessed if they have taught them the noble art of making butter. Especially will this be true if by any chance they should become the wives of farmers.—Farm Journal.

UNPROFITABLE TREES.

Some Reasons Why the Fruit Crop of Many Orchards Is Not What It Should Be.

In some cases it will be found that old fruit trees, though profitable at present, consist of good salable kinds, and the question is: By what means can such trees be brought into fruitful or profitable condition? A fruit tree of this kind need not necessarily be unprofitable because it is old, though if it is old and has been neglected it must be. We find that many of this class of tree are what they are through neglect. The heads have for years been allowed to become a tangled mass of growth. The head wood has become crowded, so that too many fruits set, and in the end do not come to a salable size, neither do they color up as they should do. In such cases the remedy is simple. The old, dead growth must be cut out thoroughly. The moss-covered boughs must be cleaned. All branches that cross and rub against each other must be regulated by removal, and generally the pruning process must be carried out in such a way that when finished the heads of the trees will be open and airy, which will insure a free crop of the best fruits. If anyone will look into the matters with which we deal they will find that the majority of the profitless fruit trees we refer to are planted in grass land. The fact is instructive, and it justifies in the most emphatic manner the denunciations that we have launched against the system for years. It is utterly impossible to grow the best apples and pears in grass land—there can be no doubt about that. If we pay a visit in the fruiting season to the fruit trees set in grass we shall be struck with the small size of the fruits the trees usually bear. There may be plenty of apples or pears, but there will be few good-sized fruits to be seen among them. Tillage is of the utmost importance to fruit trees, but this important operation cannot be carried out when the trees are surrounded with grass. Aeration, so necessary in the production of large-sized fruits, becomes impossible, and the fine surface tilth that is so needful under good culture cannot be produced unless the land is open and uncropped by grass or any crops growing right up to the stems of the trees.—London Globe.

CHEAP GARDEN ROLLER.

Can Be Made at a Trifling Cost and Is as Useful as a More Expensive Article.

Procure a ten-gallon oil or carbide can, cut out the top and bottom smoothly. Next make a square box of inch boards. This box makes center of roller. Stay this in can by means of long nails. Set the can and box on a wide board and fill the space with one part Portland cement and three parts sand, put in enough water to make it thin enough to pour, being careful to keep can round. After drying out well center ends and bore holes size of rod or broomstick and mount in a frame as shown in the illustration, made of one-inch boards four inches wide, braced well. The diameter of the box regulates the weight of roller. If not heavy enough weights can be put on the frame in a shallow box. All this costs but little. The one I made cost not to exceed 50 cents.—J. O. Peeks, in Agricultural Epitome.

A Comfortable Possibility.

Never hesitating to slur the plain farmer, some of the big city dailies are cartooning the proposition advanced in a western state to establish steam laundries and bakeries in well-populated neighborhoods. Whether feasible or not, the inspiration is a good one. The hard-working farmer's wife has never been able to share very much in the labor-saving machinery and implements employed on the farm, and her position has been one of hand to hand contact with the pressing work which must be accomplished 365 days in the year. Not impossibly these enterprises could be successfully run by farmers on the cooperative plan, affording needed relief to the overworked helpmate who does so much toward the permanent success of the farmer's business and toward his comfort.—Farm and Home.

SCATTERED FAR AND WIDE.

Germany owns 742,000 acres in Central America, with 20,000,000 coffee trees.

Brazil produces 350,000 tons of coffee out of the world's yearly crop of 600,000 tons.

The population of the United Kingdom passed that of France for the first time in 1892.

The bee and honey raisers of North Germany are having a hard time. They feel the competition of the artificial honey factories very much. The artificial product contains often no more than ten per cent. of natural honey.

FOR WOMEN'S TROUBLES TOO.

New Baden, Ill., August 12th.—Mrs. Anton Griesbaum, Jr., has been very ill. Female weakness had run her down so low that she could not do her housework. She had tried many things, but got no relief.

Dodd's Kidney Pills, a new remedy, which is better known here as a cure for Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Dropsy, and Rheumatism, worked like a charm in Mrs. Griesbaum's case. She used three boxes and is now a new woman, able to do her work as well as ever she was. Her general health is much improved, and she has not a single symptom of Female Trouble left.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are making a wonderful reputation for themselves in this part of the state.

Lyndon.

Geo. Gorman is working for Thos.
Stanfield.
Jas. Smith is working for Edward Shanahan.
C. S. Fenn, of Chelsea, was through here this week buying poultry.
Dr. Austin Howlett made a business trip to Ann Arbor on Monday.
We understand that the North Lake grange will hold a picnic Aug. 23.
Mat. Harker and Thos. Stanfield are making hay on Jas. Shanahan's farm.
The directors of the Lyndon cheese factory held their regular monthly meeting Monday.
Roberts, the peddler, of Detroit, is making his rounds this week among his Lyndon customers.
There will be some peaches in Lyndon orchards this season, but hardly enough to supply the home demand.
Mr. and Mrs. John Clark visited with Mr. and Mrs. Beach at their summer cottage, Portage Lake, on Friday.
Mr. and Mrs. Norgate, of Pittsfield, have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Jas.
Howlett and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Howlett
this week.
Miss Theresa Kavanaugh, who has been spending some time with her schoolmate
Miss Anna McKune, returned to her home in Adrian last week.
A good rain would be very much welcomed by everybody just now. The corn, bean and potato crops will be seriously shortened if rain does not come soon.
Lyndon has two dentists just now. Dr.
Austin Howlett and Dr. Thomas Clark are both at home. We understand neither of the boys have decided upon a location.
Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cunningham, of Jackson, have left their children in care of the former's sister, Mrs. John Clark, while they are away at the Pan American.
During July the Lyndon cheese factory took in 89,718 pounds of milk, paying 65 cents per hundred for same. The factory pays 75 cents per hundred for August milk.
