WRECK ON

Train No. 8 Smashed into Rear of Freight Train Tuesday Morning.

ENGINEER STUCK TO HIS POST

Locomotive was Thrown into the Ditch But No One was Injured.

The first wreck that has occurred on he Michigan Central at this place for a number of years happened about 5:47 o'clock Tuesday morning. There was a heavy fog, making it impossible to see but a short distance. A freight train from the west was pulling in on a siding, when train No. 8, Chas. Chambers, conductor, which is due here at 5:22, ran into the rear of the freight with terrific force. The way car and two freight cars were completely wrecked, merchandise was scattered about, and the engine of the passenger train was overturned and thrown into the ditch. The engineer, John Saunders, stuck by his engine, reversing and throwing on the emergency brake, and doing all within his power to avert the catastrophe. He managed to crawl out from under his engine without receiving a scratch. The fireman, Gordon Clark, jumped and received a number of scratches and bruises on his face, but was otherwise uninjured. None of the crew of the freight were injured, the conductor and brakeman getting out of the way car just in time.

Both tracks were covered with wreckige, but the north track was soon cleared alowing trains to move. The passengers and baggage of No. 8 were transferred to train No. 36 due here at 7:15 o'clock. The passengers in the forward cars were considerably shaken up, but those in the sleepers scarcely knew that anything out of the ordinary had occurred.

The wrecking crews were soon here and the work of clearing up and rebuild ing the track, which had been broken and displaced went forward, and by night nearly everything but the overturned locomotive had been cleared up. The balance of the work was completed Wed

Killed by Electric Cars.

Joseph McGraw of Battle Creek, on visit to his brother, John McGraw, at Michigan Center, was run down and killed by a Boland electric car just east of Michigan Center about 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night. McGraw was walking on the track when struck. He was knocked to the side of the track and sustained injuried to the back and spine His brother was on the car, but was un aware of the identity of the man run down until he, with other passengers, ran back after the car was stopped to reder assistance. He was also a brother of C. P. McGraw of this placa.

WASPS, THE INVINCIBLES.

Where These Terrible Insects Swar It is Impossible to Resist

From early ages to the present time the "fiery darts of the wasps" have furnished illustrations of invincible attack. In the Bible the Lord uses the hornet to help clear a way for the chosen people: "And I sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites." Not only have armies been dispersed, but cities have been abandoned because of the onset of hornets. In "Waspa and Their Ways" many interesting examples are

In "Cruden's Concordance," in the introduction to the subject of hornets, we read that a "Christian city, being besleged by Sapores, king of Persia, was delivered by hornets; for the elephants and beasts, being stung by them, waxed unruly, and so the whole

Moffet says: "If we will credit Aclianus, the Phasilites, in times past, were constrained to forsake their city, for all their defense, munition and cruel flerceness of the wasps wherewith they were annoyed."

A more modern incident is this: "Eight miles from Grapdie the muleteers suddenly called out: 'Marambundas! Marambundas! which indieated the approach of wasps. In a moment all the animals, whether loaded or otherwise, lay down on their backs, kicking violently, while the blacks and others ran in different directions, all being careful to avoid by a wide sweep the swarms of tor-mentors that came forward like a

THAT WHICH IS QUOTED.

Of All Languages Latin Has Been the Most Cited, Says This Authority.

Quotation is a matter of memory, and when literature relied on memory literature mainly consisted of verse. It seems pretty clear that fixed rhythm was at least as much a practical expedient as an artistic device. And the poets most quotable and most quoted are those whose words have the most direct bearing on the common business of life, says a writer in the Saturday Review. The old theory of the poet's function was very different from the modern one. Now, he is taken to be a creature singing to himself, following out his own dreams, remote, in a sense that Horace or Horace's Greek models never contemplated, from common life. He does, in reality, hate the profanum vulgus; he shuts it off by a barrier of unintelligibility which the crowd shows no desire to break down. But the poet was formerly held to be one different indeed from his fellows, endowed with a special insight, but speaking to men of men's affairs in words that they could catch up and apply to many passages in life-that is, in words that naturally lent themselves to quotation. Too great insistence upon either aspect of the case naturally leads to error. Of all literatures Latin has been incomparably the most cited, partly because Latin is still familiar to every educat ed man, but largely also because of the practical bent of Latin genius. Horace is more quoted not only than Virgil but than any poet in the world, 17 lbs Granulated Sugar $1.00 yet no one assigns to him a rank corresponding to this fact. The weak ness of Horace lies just in the universal applicability of his sentiments: his counsels are so far-reaching in their wisdom that they approach to platitudes. As Mr. Austin Dobson puts it:

No man can say that life is short With mien so little fretful, And none to virtue's ways exhort

College Graduates Increasing.

The graduating lists of the American colleges this year show an increase of 25 per cent. It seems probable that all the institutions of learning will have more than their usual quota of students next fall, says Success. As celebrated college presidents have shown in the columns of Success from time to time, the demand for college men in all branches of business, as well as in the professions, is gradually increasing. Our colleges graduate men and women with practical as well as artistic ideals. A notion prevails that girls who have been so fortunate as to complete a course in a college do not make good wives. This notion is devoid of common sense. The more brain a man or woman can put into his or her work the better that work will be. This rule holds as surely in the responsible work of housekeeping, in social relations and in domestie economy as in agriculture, the arts, mechanism, law, medicine or theology. Censor Destroys Rhyme and Reason A Constantinople correspondent says that the Turkish government has prohibited the performance, of Rostand's play, "Cyrano de Bergerac," declaring it to be of a revolutionary character. The Turkish censor is very particular that no royalty is presented on the stage, and in all pieces the king is replaced by a prince or a duke. The comic effect of replacing a monosyllable by a longer word in Italian opera, which alone is performed in Constantinople, may readily be imagined. Most certainly no imputation of encouraging high treason can be brought against the Turk

Carried Off the Mugs.

At the recent Commers, at Bonn, in ionor of the German crown prince, at which the kaiser was present, an inpleasant incident arose. The guests thought that the beer mugs were keepsakes, and carried off 650 of them. The "Borussia" corps, which acted as armor, all through the multitude and host, instead of settling for the mugs, asked the guests who carried them away either to return them or to send 30 cents to the proprietor of the res-taurant where the Commers was held.

Report Accuses Him of Deceiving Western Men.

THINK STRIKE MISMANAG C.

J. D. Hickey, Seat by District No. 4 to Report on Real Situation, Says the Strike Is Lost Mentions Morgan's

Milwaukee, Wis., Scpt. 3.-Steel strikers in this city may return to work soon as a result of the report of the committees just back from investigating the situation in the east. Such action would probably be followed by the return of the Joliet workers and would justify the South Chicago men in their stand. The report accuses Shaffer of deceiving the western men as to the real situation, says 72 per cent of the steel mills are running. and that had the true condition in the case been known here the strike would never have been ordered. The Bay View lodge took not vote on the rein a week. The report was made by J. D. Hickey and J. P. Cooper sent as a special committee to Pittsburg. Mr. Hickey severely scored President Shaffer and the management of the strike. He said the management of the Amalgaated association must be taken from the hands of Shaffer at once. Shaffer had without authority caused to be printed and circulated copies of the constitution which left out three important clauses. He had mismanaged had occurred. the strike in such a way that it is lost and the men should at once return to work and do what they could to save the Amalgamated association. He said the true condition of affairs in the east had been misrepresented by Shaffer and Tighe, and that if it was known the men at Joliet and Bay View would never have struck. He claims that at one time during the negotiations with J. P. Morgan the latter had agreed to concede four non-union mills this year to the Amalgamated association, and he pledged his word to sign for all the mills in the combine within two years. If the negotiations had been properly conducted the association would have been stronger than ever, and there would have been no strike.

WU'S WIFE SOON TO COME.

Chinese Envoy Learns That His Helpmeet Will Sail in October.

Washington, Sept. 3.-Wu Tingfang the Chinese minister, now in here that he has received advices from Pekin that Mn.a. Wu will sail from Hong-Kong for San Francisco Oct. 25. Mr. Wu will go to San Francisco to meet his wife and while west will visit the great cities that have extended him their nospitalities. Some weeks ago, when the census bureau issued its figures on the population of New England states, some wag wrote a widely copied article stating that the women of New England were greatly alarmed over the figures officially promulgated. It detailed that there were at least five women for every man and that the women had concluded to form clubs to promote the idea of polygamy; otherwise they could never hope to get settled in life. The clipping caught Mr. Wu's eye and he was so profoundly impressed by the knowledge it contained that he sent it to his foreign office, with some comments on the strange situation. Afterward he related the circumstances at the Metropolitan club and was amazed at the laughter produced. It required the united efforts of several diplomats and able lawyers to make the envoy understand that the article was written satirically and the idea of American women advocating polygamy was preposterous.

"If you want an item of news, I have just received a cablegram that the steel strike is all settled." Mr. Gates continued. "The Chicago rolling mills were never involved, as the men did not go out, but I am now informed the whole strike is settled."

Mr. Gates will stay in London some

The story was that Mr. Gates while port, but another meeting will follow | playing "open bank" at Aix Les Baines, had seen a fan lightly held in a fair hand, carelessly fall down on the table and push some coins over the white line.

Mr. Gates had seen, too, a croup!er. possibly carried away by the general excitement of the moment, push across 2,000 francs ($400) to a certain player, where he should have paid 200 francs ($40), and it was by no means the first time that similar mistakes

Plan for Redmond's Tour.

London, Sept. 3.-John Redmond the leader of the Irish nationalist party, will arrive in New York about the middle of October on an American tour in support of the Irish cause. Mr Redmond's visit is heartily approved by his parliamentary colleagues and the directors of the United Irish league. The full programme of the tour is not yet settled. Mr. Redmond will be accompanied by Patrick Alycius McHugh, a member of parliament now undergoing six months' imprisonment in connection with his article condemning jury packing, and by one other of his colleagues. They will address meetings in most of the big cities. Nov. 23 has been fixed as the date of the Chicago meeting. The deputation will return to Europe before Christmas.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

A TALK FULL OF THE SUMMER SPIRIT.

"Go Forth Unto the Mount and Petch Olive Branches and Pine Branches and Myrile Branches and Palm Branches * * * * to Make Booths."-Neh. 8:15.

[Copyright, 1901, by Louis Klopsch, N. Y.] Washington, Sept. 1.—This discourse of Dr. Talmage is full of the breath of the hills and fields and is a summer sermon; text, Nehemiah vili, 15, "Go forth unto the mount and fetch olive branches and pine branches and myrtle branches and palm branches and branches of thick trees to make booths."

It seems as if Mount Olivet were unmoored. The people have gone into the mountain and have cut off tree branches and put them on their shoulders, and they come forth now into the streets of Jerusalem and on the house tops, and they twist these tree branches into arbors or booths. Then the people come forth from their comfortable homes and dwell for seven days in these booths or arbors. Why do they do that? Well, it is a great festal time. It is the feast of tabernacles, and these people are going to celebrate the desert travel of their fathers and their deliverance from their troubles, the experience of their fathers when, traveling in the desert, they lived in booths on their way to the land of Canaan. And so these booths also became highly suggestive -I will not say they are necessarily typical, but highly suggestive-of our march toward heaven and of the fact that we are only living temporarily here as it were, in booths or arbors, on our way to the Canaan of eternal rest. And what was said to the Jews literally may be said figuratively to all this audience. Go forth unto the mountain and fetch olive branches and pine banches and myrtle branches and palm branches and branches of thick trees to make booths.

We Need Olive Branches. Now, if we are today going to succeed in building this gospel arbor we must go into the mount of God's blessing and fetch the olive branches, and whatever else we must have we must have at least two olive branches, peace with God and peace with man. When I say peace with God, I do not mean to represent God as an angry chieftain, having a grudge against us, but I do mean to affirm that there is no more antagon'sm between a hound and a hare, between a hawk and a than there is hostility between holi- ments-you hear it, merchants tell you forth of olive branches. bringing against his Maker. That lawsuit is now on the calendar. It is the human versus the divine, it is iniquity versus the imaculate, it is weakness versus omnipotence. Man began it. God did not begin the lawsuit. We began it. We assaulted our Maker, and the sooner we end this part of the struggle, in which the finite attempts to overthrow the infinite and omnipotent-the sooner we end it the better. Travelers tell us there is no such place as Mount Calvary, that it is only a bill, only an insignificant hill, but I persist in calling it the mount of God's divine mercy and love far grander than any other place on earth, grander than the Alps or the Himalayas, and there are no other hills as compared with it, and I have noticed in every sect where the cross of Christ is set forth it is planted with olive branches. And all we have to do is to get rid of this war between God and ourselves, of which we are all tired. We want to back out of the war, we want to get rid of this hostility. All we have councillor of the French embassy, has to do is just to get up on the mount received from the Porte a copy of s of God's blessing and pluck these olive branches and wave them before the Health for Mind and Soul.

But my text goes further. It says, 'Go up into the mountain and fetch olive branches and pine branches." Now, what is suggested by the pine branch? The pine tree is healthy, it is aromatic, it is evergreen. How am so tempted, I am so pursued in often the physician says to his invalid patients: "Go and have a breath of the pines. That will invigorate you." Why do such thousands of people go south every year? It is not merely to go to a warmer climate, but to get the influence of the pine. There is health in it, and this pine branch of the text suggests the helpfulness of our holy no," you say, "I want God to be my religion. It is full of health-health for all, health for the mind, health for the soul. I knew an aged man who had no capital of physical health. But this evergreen of my text also suggests the simple fact that religion is evergreen. What does the pine branch care for the snow on its brow? It is only a crown of glory. The winter cannot freeze it out. This evergreen tree branch is as beautiful in winter cs it is in the summer. And that is the characteristic of our holy religion. In the sharpest, coldest winter of misfortune and disaster it is as good a religion as it is in the bright summer sunshine. Well, now, that is a practical truth. For suppose if I should go up and down these alsles I would not find in this house fifty people who had had no trouble, But there are some of you who have especial trouble. God only knows what you go through with. Oh, how many bereavements, how many poverties, how many persecutions, how many misrepresentations! And now, my brother, you have tried everything else, why do you not try this evergreen religion? It is just as good for you now as it was in the day of prosperity. It is better for you. Perhaps some of you feel almost like Muckle Backle, the fisherman, who was ch'ded one day because he kept on working. although that very day he buried his child. They came to him and said, "It is indecent for you to be manding that boat when this afternoon you buried your child." And the fisherman looked up and said, "Sir, it is very easy for you gent'e olks to stay in the house with your handkerchief to your eyes in grief; but, sir, ought I to let the other five children starve because one of them is drowned? No, sir. We maun work, we maun work, though fulness and of victory, and here are our hearts beat like this hammer."

The Significance of the Palm.

But my text takes a step further. and it says. Go into the mountain and fetch olive branches and pine branches and palm branches. Now, the palm tree was very much honored by the encients. It had 360 different uses. The fruit was conserved, the sap was beverage, the stems were ground up for food for camels. The base of the leaves was turned into hats and mats and baskets, and from the root to the top of the highest leaf there was usefulness. The tree grew 85 feet in height sometimes, and it spread leaves four and five fect long. It meant usefulness, and it meant victory-usefulness for what it produced and victory because it was brought into celebrations of triumph. And oh, how much we want the palm branches in the churches of Jesus Christ at this time! A great many Christians do not amount to anything. You have to shove them off the track to let the Lord's chariots come along.

I know the old plan was, the plan pullet, between elephant and swine, now is, in regard to worldly investness and sin. And if God is all holi- | -do not put everything luto one thing. ness and we are all sin there must be do not put all your eggs into one a treaty, there must be a stretching basket. But I have to tell you in this matter of religion you had better give There is a great lawsuit going on your all to God and then get in yournow, and it is a lawsuit which man is self. Oh, says some one, "My business is to sell silks and cloths." We'l, then, my brother, sell silks and cloths to the glory of God. And some one says, "My business is to raise corn and carrots." Then, my brother, raise corn and carrots to the glory of God. And some one says, "My business is to manufacture horseshoe nails." Then manufacture horseshoe nails to the glory of God. There is nothing for you to do that you ought to do but for the glory of God.

The Victory Over Satan-But the palm branch also meant victory. You all know that. In all ages, in all lands, the palm branch means victory. Well, now, we are by nature the servants of satan. He stole us, he has his eye on us, he wants to keep us. But word comes from our Father that if we will try to break loose from this doing of wrong our Father will help us, and some day we rouse up, and we look the black tyrant in the face, and we fly at him, and we wrestle him down, and we put our heel on his neck, and we grind him in the dust. and we say, "Victory, victory, through our Lord Jesus Christ!" Oh what a grand thing it is to have i.n under foot and a wasted life behind our throne. Peace through our Lord Jesus backs. "Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven and whose sin is going to be destroyed unless they repented and that there would be rain from heaven of sorrow and destruction unless they, too, repented. And the people in the school house sat and ground their teeth in anger and clinched their fists in anger, but before he got through with his sermon they got down on their knees and cried mercy while mercy could be found, Oh, it is a mighty gospel; not only an invitation, but a warning, an omnipotent truth, stout branches of thick trees. Well, my friends, you see I have omitted one or two points not because I forgot to present them, but because I have not time to present them. I have shown you here is the olive branch of peace, here is the pine branch of evergreen gospel consolation, here the palm tree branch of usethe stout branches of thick trees. The gospel arbor is done. The air isaromatic of heaven. The leaves rustle with the gladness of God. Come into the arbor. Come into the booth. I went out at different times with a fowler to the mountains to catch pigeons, and we made our booth, and we sat in that booth and watched for the pigeons to come. And we found left, flocks in the sky, and after awhile they dropped into the net, and we were successful. So I come now to the door of this gospel booth. I look out. I see flocks of souls flying hither and flying thither. Oh, that they might come like clouds and as doves to the window. Come into the booth. Come into the booth.

Some one says "How about the inture?" What, says the man, I feel so sick and worn out with the ailments of life. You are going to be more than conqueror. But, says the man, I li.e. You are going to be more than conqueror. I, who have so many ailments and heartaches, going to be more than conqueror? Yes, unless you are so self conceited that you want to manage all the affairs of your life yourself instead of letting God manage them. Do you want to drive and have God take a back seat? "Oh leader." Well, then, you will be more than conqueror. Your last sickness will come, and the physicians in the next room will be talking about what You are going to be well, everlastingly well. hold up the arbor or booth, and hence for the building or the arbor for this world we must have stout branches of thick trees. And so it is in the gospel arbor. Blessed be God that we have a brawny Christianity, not one easily upset. The storms of life will come upon us, and we want strong doctrine; not only love, but justice; not only invitation, but warning it is a mighty gospel; it is an omnipotent gospel. These are the stout branches of thick trees.

From girlhood she has been a stanch advocate of the idea that commercially, legally, professionally and politically, woman is and should be recognized as the equal of man. In 1888 she began the serious battle for this idea. She was chosen president of the State Equal Rights Association in that year and appeared in Frankfort with certain bills which the association wished to have passed. At first politicians laughed the matter away, but ere long they found occasion to review their opinion of the equal rights propaganda. They passed some of the bills and thought that ended the matter, but the next session found the women lobbying as actively as ever. Bills were passed going a step further, and now the committee from the Equal Rights Association is one of the fixtures at Frankfort.

When she gave herself to the royal acceptance she knew nothing of the worldknew nothing of the trials she would have to endure-and knew little of the character of the man who wore the crown. bird, little or big, that felt self-sufficlent enough to build a nest alone. That form of conceit they leave to the featherless bipeds of earth. But of all the bird world, not one male in the whole lot is as willing as the ostrich to tuck up his tall feathers and go to work. Mrs. Ostrich is not allowed to exert herself too much in the preparation of the house. Her criticism and advice are highly respected, however, so she usually stands near, ready to be of assistance, if needed. An ostrich's nest is really a dug-out, just the kind of abode suitable for a country where wind and sand frequently get mixed up together. The ostrich digs his home with his strong breastbone, kicking the sand out behind him. It takes strength and patience to do his work well, for he does not count it finished until he has hollowed out a hole about four feet in diameter and one foot deep. Sometimes his strength fails before the nest is uone, and then Mrs. Ostrich, like a good wife, comes to his aid and lends a helping breastbone, till he gets his wind again, The nest ready, Mr. Ostrich conducts his mate gallantly to her seat of honor there. Mrs. Ostrich, having a proper sense of her obligations to the world and the ostriculturist, proceeds to lay in the warm, sandy nest a big white egg that weighs about three and onehalf pounds. Every other day she lays one until twelve or fifteen are side by side in the hole in the ground. She and Mr. Ostrich look at them very fondly and often, and as a protection against the intense heat of the sun they scatter a little sand over the eggs. From this thoughtful act arises that ancient superstition that the eggs of the ostrich are hatched by the sun without the bird's help. All the time that Mrs. Ostrich is performing her delicate duty Mr. Ostrich keeps watchful guard of her. Woe be to the unhappy creature, be he brute or human. who tries to come near. MISS BESSIE KELLOG.

Miss Bessie Kellog President of the Young Woman's Club, of Valley City, North Dakota, writes the following from First street, South, Valley City, North Dakota:

"Ever since I matured I suffered with severe monthly pains. The doctor did not seem to understand what the trouble was and the medicine he prescribed from time to time did not help me. He finally suggested that I have an operation. One of my friends who had been cured of a similar affliction through the use of Peruna, advised me to give it a trial first, and so I used it for three weeks faithfully. My pains dimished very soon and within two months I had none at all.

"This is six months ago, and during that time I have not had an ache nor pain. I give highest praise to Peruna. Every woman ought to use it, and I feel sure that it would bring perfect health."-BESSIE KELLOG.

The experience of Miss Bessie Kellog, of North Dakota, ought to be read by every girl in the land. It is a critical period in a woman's life when she ceases to be a girl and becomes a woman. Very few pass through this period without some trouble. The doctor is The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Q.

called and he generally advises an operation. Perhaps he will subject the pa tient to a long series of experiments with nervines and tonics. The reason he does not often make a cure is because he does not recognize the trouble. In a large majority of the cases catarrh of the female organs is the cause. Peruna relieves these cases promptly because it cures the catarrh. Peruna is not a palliative or a sedative or a ner-vine or a stimulant. It is a specific for catarrh and cures catarrh wherever it may lurk in the system.

This girl was lucky enough to fine Peruna at last. As she says, the doctors did not seem to understand what the trouble was and the medicine he prescribed from time to time did not help her. Peruna hit the mark at once and she is now recommending this wonderful remedy to all the other girls in the United States.

Thousands of the girls who look at her beautiful face and read her s ncere testimonial, will be led to try Peruna in their times of trouble and critical periods. Peruna will not fail them. Every one of them will be glad and it is to be hoped that their enthusiasm will lead them to do as this girl didproclaim the fact to the world so that others may read it and do likewise.

Mrs. Christopher Fliehmann, Amsterdam, N. Y., writes: "I have been sick with catarrh of the stomach and pelvic organs for about five years, and had many a dector, but none could help me. Some said I would never get over it. One day when I read you almanac I saw those who had been cured by Peruna; then I thought I would try it. I did, and found relief

The largest factory in the country, at Perberton, O., can turn out 100,000 000 matches a day, probably a seventh of the entire consumption.

This country has a great advantage in the abundance of aspen, which tree is superior to all other timber for tural qualities and the ease with which A scientifically prepared and match-making, on account of its na it is worked. It is light, spongy and strictly pure Liquid Dentifrice splints easily, and though pine, linden, birch and other woods are also used in this and other countries, aspen is preferred to them all. European match manufacturers have been engaged in a scramble for years past to secure a sufficient quantity of aspen to supplement her own supplies.

How many matches are used in this country daily is not known, but if we figure on the British basis of eight matches per capita a day the home consumption is 610,427,096 matches a day. This enormous figure may be accepted as approximately the home consumption of home-made matches, in addition to the foreign matches that are found in all of our markets, but it by no means represents our total output, for a considerable quantity of American matches are sold in European and other countries.

The American Girl.

The charge made by a Chicago pro fessor against the American girl that she takes all from father or brother, giving nothing in return, is likely to meet with some contradiction. The man of learning either forgets or never knew what a wealth of brightness and cheer the American girl dispenses on her way through life, how her sympathy and help are so often above any price. The inference to be drawn from the professor's remarks is that either he is entirely ignorant of women and their ways or he is suffering from a disappointment in love or indigestion.

A Detroit Man Goes Without Food Forty-One Days.

FOUR CONVICTS OUT OF PRISON

Many Things Have Happened in the State in the Last Few Days and They are Briefly Given in Condensed Form for

The Belle Isle Suicide.

The man who committed suicide on Belle Isle Park, Detroit, by shooting himself is undoubtedly Frank Woodward, of Grand Rapids, Chief of Police Harvey O. Carr, of that city, telegraphed that Woodward had been missing since Sunday, Carr's description tallies exactly with the body of the suicide. Woodward left Grand Rapids on an excursion Sunday, taking with him his Rambler wheel, Near the suicide's body was a Rambler bicycle, Woodward were a light suit, as did the suicide, and also weighed about 120 pounds. But the point which seems to make the matter conclusive is the fact that Frank Woodward, of Grand Rapids, had a finger nail missing from the little finger of his right hand. So has the unknown. Frank B. Woodward was a farmer and fruit grower residing with his brother a few miles north. He was a bachelor, aged 41 years and had for some time been in poor health, which caused despondency. He left home Sunday morning about 4 o'clock with his wheel and when night came, and he did not return, examination of his room was made. A paper was found upon which was written a farewell to his brother and family.

Brutal and Disgraceful.

It is alleged that some of the state troops in camp at Manistee acted in a very reprehensible manner, in fact committed acts of brutality that are almost beyond belief. There has been an official investigation on an alleged outrage said to have been committed on a helpless woman during the state encampment by dissipated soldiers. The governor's secretary is reported to have said that: "The facts appear to be that one night during the encampment several soldiers raided a bad house and took one of the inmates out for a little fun. Her clothing was stripped off, and she was handled rather roughly. Each of the boys took some of the remnants as a souvenir, and beyond the few bruises the woman sustained there was nothing more we could find out. It was a bad case and we have investigated it thoroughly from the very beginning. The soldiers did not intend to do any harm, but in their freezy or delight for that kind of sport, ...ey went too far, and would have been severely punished if anything very serious could be established against them."

Let Out of Prison.

Governor Bliss has directed the release from the state prison at Jackson and the branch prison at Marquette of the following convicts:

Brainard Nelson, a convict in the state prison at Jackson, convicted in the Circuit Court of Gratiot county of manslaughter, and sentenced June 2, 1900, to two years and six months; pardoned. George L. Green, convict in the state's prison at Jackson, convicted in the Circuit Court of St. Joseph county of criminal assault and sentenced Oct. 15, 1892, to imprisonment for 20 years; sentence commuted to 12 years. John W. Hall, convict in the state's prison at Jackson, convicted in the Kalamazoo county Circuit Court of attempted criminal assault and sentenced Oct, 23, 1896, to imprisonment for 10 years; sentence commuted to six years and two months.

Leonard Lutonski, a convict in the branch prison at Marquette was paroled.

Benton Harbor's Big Factory.

The great sugar beet factory at St. Joseph, which cost complete $320,000, is the cause of one of the biggest chancery cases ever tried in Berrien county. The defendants are the Wolverine Sugar Co., the Farmers' & Merchants' bank of Benton Harbor, and the Northern Trust Co., of Chicago, The plant was built by the Dyer Co., of. Detroit, and equipped for business. The Wolverine Co. gave plaintiffs notes and mortgages for $107,700, upon which the interest has never been paid, and they now ask the court to sell the big plant to satisfy their claim. For the last two years the operators have failed to secure enough beets to run the factory, as the beets failed to mature, and the growers returned to the fruit industry. As a last resort the owners went to Shelby, Ind., where they contracted for 4,000 acres of beets for this season's run, Hopes were entertained that the factory would resume operations under satisfactory conditions in a few weeks.

His chief trouble was a stricture of the intestines. From the very first the doctor tried to persuade his patient to fast, but succeeded in doing so only a little over six weeks ago. The fast began July 5 and ended August 15. The physician says that he has a number of other patients who are fasting, including a consumptive. This last case is the first opportunity the doctor has had to make a fair trial of his methods on diseased lungs, and he says that the result, after two weeks, is encouraging. He uses very little medi-cine, confining his treatment almost entirely to water.

Colored Bishop Gives Startling Advice Coal Mine on Fire-Facts, Fan-les and Happenings From Various Parts of the Country Briefly Told.

Advises Branding Assaulters.

Bishop Turner, of the African Methodist church, so report from Atlanta, Ga., states, gives as his view of the method to stop assaults on white women the following method:

"African emigration would be best for the negro and best for the white man. There is an irresistible conflict between whites and blacks that nothing but separation can put an end to. Our children are generated and nurtured under a malignant and misanthropic spirit that will wreck the country and make our civilization a hissing and a byword.

"If it is a fact that the negro will not let the white women alone, then white men owe it to their manhood and honor to get rid of him; and if they will open up a highway to Africa millions of the black race will go. Rather than shed so much blood, and possibly some innocent blood, you had better enact laws to brand these fools and scoundiels and crop their ears and banish them to Africa.

"If the country will turn over all these criminals that they are burning. hanging and shooting, to me, and brand their cheeks and carry them to Africa, I will give the world another Rome, or establish a country like Australia, which was founded and built up by English cutthroats and penal convicts."

The Colombian Revolution. A Panama dispatch says:

and counter-plots fill the air. There is war here of the most hideous kind and strife that tears the country asunder, in which brother is pitted against brother, friend against friend and neighbor against neighbor. Fertile fields have been devastated. Once thriving towns have been decimated in population and villages have been wiped out of existence. Bands of armed men occupy every highway and traffic is practically at a standstill, while frantic women mourn their dead and hungry babes clamor for food. Great battles must soon be fought, and upon the results will depend not alone the supremacy of the clashing parties in Colombia, but also, perhaps, the integrity of the territory of three neighboring republics-Venezuela, Ec uador and Nicaragua.

A Colon report states that the govmment is alleged to have already spent not less than $120,000,000 in silver to suppress the rebellion, and the Liberals are said to have expended an even larger amount, although their volunteers are supposed to serve solely for patriotism and to receive no

A Terrible Disaster.

Twenty-eight dead and 13 injured is the awful record of a wreck on the Great Northern road near Nyack, Montana, Friday. Passenger No. 3 had just gone down the mountain and had reached the level when 28 wild cars loaded with shingles shot down from above and crashed into the rear of the passenger train. Mr. Downs, his son and cook were caught under the debris and burned to death.

Slavery in the Philippines. Hong Kong mail advices state that the Manila Times has caused a sensation by exposing what it terms the wholesale slave trading existing at Manila under the very eyes of American military and police officers. It is said that immorality is wholly responsible for the practice which is carried on at Manila and other cities on, the archipelago. Poverty-stricken Filipino parents are alleged to be selling their daughters and sometimes their sons. The Chinese are the principal purchasers, but Filipinos of wealth are not infrequent buyers. There is said to be regular markets where slave selling is carried on monthly. Girls sold range from 10 to 15 years of age. They do not question the right of their parents to seil them and become absolute staves.

Thirty Were Killed.

The net result of the explosion of the bollers of the steamboat City of Trenton on the Delaware river Wednesday will be probably 30 deaths. The steamer made trips daily between Philadelphia and Trenton, stopping at Burlington, N. J.; Bristol, Pa., and other points on the way. The scenes in the house of correction hospital were pitiable. Men and women with the flesh hanging from their limbs and bodies bore their suffering like stoles, and some even smiled while the doctors laved the raw and bleeding flesh with cooling lotions. None of the injured was able to give an account of the disaster. Chief Engineer Murphy. who was on watch when the accident happened, reported to the officials that the boiler which exploded carried only 150 pounds of steam.

Charges that the national officers of the Amalgamated Association had misrepresented the attitude of the United States Steel corporation toward organized labor, in order to get the members of the association out on strike were made by former Vice-President J. D. Hickey at a meeting of the Bay View lodge, Milwaukee: In a cool, unimpas sloned manner, Mr. Hickey gave the members of the lodge the result of his recent trip to Pittsburg. The situation as summed up by Mr. Hickey is that the strike is practically lost, as 72 per cent of the mills are working.

Mr. Hickey went into details to show that Secretary Tighe and President Shaffer had misrepresented the facts when they appealed to the members of the association to strike, on the ground that the steel corporation was determined to crush organization and ruin the Amalgamated Association.

Mr. Mergan offered Shaffer four additional mills for which he was willing to sign the scale as an experi-ment, and then he told Mr. Shaffer that if the organization kept faith in these four mills and lived up to the agreement be would pledge his word that in two years every mill in the combine would be included in the contract with the Amatgamated. This was the most reasonable proposition that has ever been made to the association and it was clearly the duty of President Shaffer to have accepted it then and there.

The Continent Alarmed, Senator Chauncey M. Depew, speak ing of the inroads made upon European commercial life by American competition and energy, said: "There is a genuine scare on the continent about the competition of American manufacturers in their markets, and cabinets are consulting if any combination is practical which will prevent the importation of American goods and check our invasion of the east, which has been opened at such vast expense and effort by Europe n governments. I heard a Russian statesman say, Concert of action may be impossible, but Russia, in response to discriminating duties, has shown how each country in its own way can stop this competition.' This unfriendliness is not likely to result in war. The relations of European governments are too intricate and uncertain among themselves for anyone to take that risk, and combination is

Sampson Unsound Mentally, The attorneys for Admiral Schley have been privately informed by the friends of Admiral Sampson that his health is such that he will not be able to appear as a witness before the court of inquiry. A news dispatch from Admiral Sampson's home guardedly intimated the real situation. It said:

"He is gaining in physical strength, but his mental health continues to steadily fall." In other words, it is suggested that his mental state is such that he is not competent to give testimony. For more than a year rumors have been coming from Boston concerning Sampson's mental indisposition. Recent reports seem to give substantial corroboration; for instance, friends are now saying that he cannot remember in the afternoon what he said or did in the morning.

Schley's attorneys, discussing this development, say they will insist upon the certificates of naval surgeons to the effect that he is unable to come to Washington.

Grand Army of the Republic, at Cleve-land, will undoubtedly mark the cli-max in gatherings of the bronzed, aged and battle-scarred veterans of the civil war. It brings together scores of old midiers, many of whom will not be on hand for another encampment. Those who have outlived the awful vicissitides of their campaigns, however, and here enjoyed the calm of industrial and business life since their camsigns closed, will be there in surprising numbers. Those whose means or apportunities do not permit them to attend the gathering of their comrades will be there in spirit and sympathy.

Held together entirely by community of sentiment and a spirit of mutual helpfulness, its existence has been a perpetual reminder of the strength of the bonds and the intensity of the patriotic spirit which united the men engaged in the war.

First G. A. R. Post. The Grand Army of the Republic has had a life of about thirty-five years.

The war was over and the re-united nation was just beginning to take up the work of peace when the first post vas formed. The origin of the order readers of history fully comprehend the magnitude of the civil war, the wonderful courage it revealed and the intensity of the feeling which gave, thousands of men year after year to the battlefield. The veterans alone are able to appreciate just what patient courage and endurance were necessary to live through the years of the rebellion. Considering the nature of that experience it is not surprising that the bond among the veterans should be strong. Their reunions commemorate events which loom large in the world's history. It is the memory

Eree quarters have been provided for from 25,000 to 30,000 veterans in school houses and halls, similar to the plan adopted by Chicago, and which worked so successfully last year.

The Forest City is a place of armories and monuments, and has many points of historic interest. Foremost among these is the tomb of the late President Garfield, whose home was in Mentor, only twenty-four miles from Cleveland. The mausoleum is located in Lake View cemetery, on a high piece of ground, and is the Mecca of many visitors to the city. The statue of Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry, the hero of the battle of Lake Erie in the war of 1812, was dedicated September 10, 1860, the anniversary of Perry's great victory. Some years ago it was removed from the public square, where it had been originally placed and taken to a beautiful spot in Wade park, where it now stands.

In the very Lart of the business section of the city stands one of the grandest soldiers' monuments in the United States. Within its walls are relics of wars and the names of departed heroes chiseled in the marble surroundings. This monument will no doubt be one of the greatest attractions at the encampment and will doubtless be visited by every veteran in attend-

The precipitation was the greatest in the history of the city, amounting to 4.28 inches in fourteen hours. Last night, after a brief respite, rain began falling again, and further damage is feared. Costly residences in the fashionable quarter were speedily inundated, and the panicstricken occupants were taken out in means ended yet. boats. Not only were the living driven from their homes, but the turbulent waters ravaged two cemeteries, tearing out the coffins and tossing them and their contents into the wreckage, which represents a property loss of $1,000,000. Streets, bridges, railway lines, telegraph and telephone poles fell before the terrific onslaught, Beautiful parks have been devastated, churches and residences undermined, flooded and filled with debris of every conceivable sort. It seems marvelous beautiful homes like stranded islanders, were almost panic-stricken, expecting to be called upon to wade out into the swirling waters at almost any minute. Danger signals were flashed about the city as speedily as the disabled telephone system would allow, and the work of rescue commenced. Row boats plied back and forth, ass sting whole families from perilous positions, but these proved pitifully inadequate, and it was soon found necessary to go to the extraordinary precaution of callirg on the life-saving craw from the river, a distance of seven miles. The lifeboats were quickly loaded on theatrical scenery wagons and hurried to the scene of destruction. The torrent surged with awful force for hours in Deering street from AVENUE TREATRE-Vaudeville-Prices: after-Fairmount to the boulevard, and over a dozen families were penned in like rats in a trap, with water five and six feet deep surrounding their homes. MAKE APPEAL FOR RELIEF.

Zapata County Reported to Be in Desperate Straits Desert District Is Far Removed From All Ballway Facilities -Drouth Causes Distress.

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 3.-Widespread starvation and terrible distress have followed in the wake of the drouth in Zapata and several adjoining counties in southern Texas. It is estimated that about 50,000 persons will be dependent for their very lives on the outside world for food and other assistance. After enduring their misery for weeks in the vain hope that they would be Matabele savages during a war against able to better their condition the people of Zapata county have at last appealed for assistance, and a generous response is being made by the citizens here, at San Antonio, Galveston and Austin. So far the governor has not issued a call for out of state aid, but if conditions continue to grow worse he may be requested to do so. However strange it may seem to the uninitiated that such a terrible condition could exist anywhere in the United with a petition for the removal of a States, there is nothing strange about United States judge. No railroad traverses it. The nearest railroad town is Laredo, the terminus of the International and Great Northern and sixty miles away. The 4,760 people of the county are Mexican rancheros and banqueros, women and children. The drouth began last summer. Since then no rain has fallen anywhere in the county. The cattle nibbled the dry and fast disappearing grass as long as any remained. Then they ate the sparse foliage of the mesquite, and at last, in their desperation, they devoured the prickly pear. The progress of the drouth to this point removed the only source of revenue which the people had. Their cattle no longer fit for sale, they faced the problem of existence. Their small stock of corn soon disappeared. They, of course, had no gardens. From that point it was a desperate struggle for mere existence. This has gone on for months, no word of it reaching the outside world. The Americans of the county and the most prosperous among the Mexicans have done their best to relieve the suffering, hoping always that rain would come. But no rain came. Cattle were dying by thousands. Women and children, gaunt and emaciated, were reduced to begging for food to keep body and soul together.

Iowa's Governor Says It Is Too Early to Talk of the Presidency.

Shaw of Iowa passed through this city and was shown the Dolliver interview in which his name was mentioned as Iewa's candidate for the presidency in 1904. The governor was evidently surprised by the language of the interview and was reluctant to talk on the subject. When asked as to whether he was a prospective candidate for the nomination he declined to say yes or no. Pressed for a direct answer, he said: "You may say this: I have not inspired any mention of my name in connection with 1904. Senator Dolliver is correct in the statements that it is too early to determine. The first thing for Iowa to do is to roll up for our own ticket the biggest majority ever polled in the state, and this we will now do." The governor further stated that his present plans contemplate resuming a business life on retiring from the governor's office next January. "I like business better than politics," he said, "and the two will not mix. I shall be slow to break away from my previous intention of keeping out of politics. It is too early to decide and too early to talk about it. The one thing to be considered now is the campaign upon which we are

Henry Ripley, wife and two children from Galveston, Texas, are visiting at Frank lves. The family were flood sufferers, having lost a son in that catastrophe. Mr. Ripley is a civil engineer and was in the government employ. Almon Young and wite of New York city are also guests at the Ives home. She was Ruth Dunning and is a niece of Mrs. Ives. They were in a fire catastrophe there and barely escaped death, by jumping from a fourth hours after the school passed Cape story into a firemen's net. They were both severely injured by the jumping and have been laid up ever since. The home of the Dunnings is at Harvey, Ill., and they are on their way there. -Stockbridge Sun.

E. A. Croman of this village, says the Grass Luke News, has a cabinet filled with Indian relies, some of which are rare, such as amulets, but as is usual in such collections, the major portion is made up of implements used in war or in the chase. We noticed over 70 arrow heads, some of which are large, designed for battle occasions or to bring down big game, while much smaller ones were adapted to shooting birds and little animals like squirrels, rabbits, etc. Battle axes, stones of a peculiar shape for skinning animals, charm stones, stones worn as ornainteresting collection. A few Mr. Croman picked up himself; one a flint arrow head, he found on his farm west of this village.

The mill pond on Wednesday moreing presented a sad spectacle. Since the water has been drawn down to enable the building of the bridge, the weeds have died and upon the water being raised again have poisoned the water so badly that the fish would die and come to shore so rapidly that they were picked up by the hundred. About three hundred were placed in the lakes and saved. The boys also picked up dead ones weighing from two to ten pounds filling six large washinbs. At one time the fish went through the race so rapidly that they stopped the mill by being caught in 6:20 p. m. the wheel, and still there are hundreds of dead fish in sight. The affair has crea ed so much excitement that the people come with wagons and barrels at daylight and are still transferring the live ones to other waters .-
