TALKED ABOUT PEAT.

The Promoters of the Chelsea Compresso Peat Co. Were Here Monday Night.

An informal meeting to talk over the peat factory that is projected to be built in Chelsea and to give people a chance to see the burning and heat producing qualities of compressed peat was held in Staffan's vacant store Monday evening. The meeting was well attended by all classes. E. G. Palmer, secretary of the Chelsea Compresso Peat company, Ernest C. Miller, its treasurer, and Frank T. Lodge, the attorney for the company, all of Detroit, were present, and each made brief addresses on the subject.

Mr. Lodge told the people what peat was in its natural state, spoke of its many advantages over coal, its cheapness, its bright flame and intense heat from the moment it was ignited, its complete combustion and long lasting qualities, and the success that had attended its manufacture in Canada, where it cannot be made fast enough to supply even the local trade. He also spoke of the benefit to Chelsea that such a factory would be.

Mr. Palmer gave some further details of the manufacture of peat in Canada, spoke of the imperfections in the machinery used there, and of the improved machinery, the invention of A. A. Sutherland, one of the members of this company, which would enable them to turn out compressed peat in half pound blocks at a cost of from 50 to 75 cents a ton. He further stated that it was the desire of the promoters of this company to have $50,000 for a working capital and they wanted to have two or three residents of Chelsea on its board of directors, who would look after the interests of the company when the factory was started and to that end he invited subscriptions to the capital stock of the company at 50 cents on the dollar.

Mr. Miller spoke of the profitable nature of an investment in the stock of the company which at the lowest estimate would yield a dividend of 12 1/2 per cent.

Some have already expressed their willingness to take stock in the company which does seem to have a successful future before it.

Death of Dr. Robert McColgan.

Dr. Robert McColgan died at his home on South Main street Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock, of peritonitis, after a brief sickness. He was taken with an attack of diarrhoea Friday morning and later inflammatory symptoms set in. The funeral services were held at the house Tuesday afternoon, and yesterday morning the remains were taken to his boyhood home at Elora, Ont., where they will be interred in the family burying ground.

Dr. McColgan came to Chelsea about 10 years ago, and during his residence here had built up a good practice. He was of a retiring disposition and did not make friends with people very rapidly, but those who knew him best speak in high terms of the sterling nature of his character.

He is survived by his wife and one child, his mother, and two brothers, Dr. James McColgan, of Grass Lake, and Dr. Ed. McColgan, of Brooklyn. He would have been 45 years old the 28th of this month.

The remains of his little daughter which had lain in Oak Grove cemetery for three years, were disinterred and taken to Elora to be buried with her father.

Ruptured the Drum of His Ear.

William Hall, a painter who has been working around here all summer, was driving a horse and buggy about the streets Tuesday afternoon in a very erratic manner, he being intoxicated. The horse finally ran away, and turning sharply round the corner by the Baptist church, Hall was thrown violently from the buggy. When he was picked up it was found that he was bleeding badly from his right ear. Medical examination showed that he had ruptured the drum of his ear. The horse was not injured, but the hind axle of the buggy was badly sprung and the top somewhat damaged. M. C. Updike owned the rig and Hall had hired it saying he wanted to go to Dexter.

A Shocking Calamity

"Lately befell a railroad laborer," writes Dr. A. Kellett, of Williford, Ark. "His foot was badly crushed, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly cured him. It's simply wonderful for burns, boils, piles and all skin eruptions. It's the world's champion healer. Cure guaranteed. 25c. Sold by Glazier & Stimson."

A MEMORABLE OCCASION

Was the Wedding Anniversary and Christening at Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Lehman's Sunday.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Lehman, on Congdon street, was the scene of a great gathering on Sunday last. That day was the ninth anniversary of their wedded life and the occasion of the baptizing of six of their seven children. There were present in all 230 persons, most of whom were relatives and they came from Jackson, Leslie, Sharon, Manchester, Ann Arbor, Danaville, Stockbridge, Waterloo, Chelsea, and other places.

The baptismal ceremony was performed at 11 a. m. by Rev. A. Schoen, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. The little ones, all of whom are girls, received the names of Leta Marie, Alice Cecilia and Agnes Irene (twins), Gladys Wilhelmina, Doris Ellen and Dorothy Myrta (twins). The service was conducted in English.

After the ceremony a sumptuous dinner was served under a large canvas in front of the house, and the bountifully laden tables were spread twice for the numerous party. The balance of the time the guests were there was spent in visiting and social chat together.

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman were the recipients of a great number of handsome presents in silverware, china, glassware, etc. Among the presents were a couch and rocking chair presented by 15 of their neighbors. It is safe to say that it was one of the greatest occasions of the kind that has ever taken place in Chelsea.

Died From His Injuries.

John Wheelock, who was formerly the blacksmith at Lima Center, died in Dexter Monday morning, about 8 o'clock, from injuries received by falling off the railway bridge just west of Dexter station at the place known as "The Tunnel," to the highway below, or being knocked therefrom by a train. He was found about 11 o'clock Sunday night lying in the road and was taken to Dr. Neil Gates' office. An examination showed that his left arm was broken in two places, two of his ribs on the left side were broken and he had an abrasion on his forehead over his left eye. He died as stated above at 3 o'clock Monday morning. He was 69 years old. His remains were brought to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Guerio, on West Middle street, Monday night. The funeral services were held at the Lima M. E. church yesterday morning and were conducted by Rev. C. S. Jones, of Chelsea. The remains were interred in the Lima burying ground.

The Late Joseph McGraw.

Joseph McGraw was born in Chelsea, Sept. 25, 1857, and died at the city hospital, Jackson, at 10:45 p. m. Tuesday, Sept. 3, 1901, from injuries received through being struck by an electric car while standing on the switch track at Michigan Center that night. He was a quiet, unassuming man, a faithful employee, and was well liked by all who knew him. He had been in the employ of the Michigan Central since 1885 and was employed at Battle Creek prior to his death. The funeral services were held at St. John's church, Jackson, Friday last, and the remains were interred in St. John's cemetery, Jackson. He is survived by his mother, two brothers, C. Peter McGraw, of Chelsea, and John McGraw, of Michigan Center, and three sisters, Mrs. Wm. Ryan, of Bunker Hill, Mrs. Wm. Bullis, of Iosco, and Mrs. Isaac Reese, of Owosso. Mr. McGraw was a widower, having lost his wife about six years ago.

Struck a Sink Hole.

Dexter Leader: The team work on the Michigan Central grading between Dexter and Geddes is about completed and the track is now being put down and ballasted. The bridge work, which is behind, is being rushed and it is expected to have the double track completed by cold weather. A sink hole in the new grade was struck about two miles east of this station, near the new water tank. Twenty-five carloads of crushed limestone are here with which to fill it. It is thought that this will make a solid foundation for the tracks.

To my many friends:

I am pleased to make a report to you of the pleasant visit my wife and I had in Western Canada.

We visited the territories of Alberta, Assiniboia, and Saskatchewan, and found them far surpassing our imagination, but little did I expect to find such rich, loamy soil, so much of it, and so uniform in its level prairie lay. I do think the soil of Canada as a rule equals if not exceeds the finest prairie farm lands of Indiana. These lands are immense in their richness, and when once the sod is rotted and pulverized, it is as pliable and as easily cultivated as Indiana sandy soil.

Western Canada, from my point of view, offers as fine opportunities for mixed farming as any place in my knowledge. The long, sunny days, together with the rich soil, produce very fine wheat, oats, barley, flax and other cereal products. There is scarcely any attempt to raise corn, except early varieties for table use. The season is too short to depend upon maturing field corn. From the standpoint of getting this land ready for the plow, I must say that I never saw such a vast extent, practically all ready, so all that one has to do is to hitch up the plow and go to work. This is not the case with all the Canadian land, however; some of it has quite a bit of timber, much of it may be called brush land, and some of it has lovely forest groves, dotted here and there, thereby covering a hundred and sixty acres.

I have no doubt but that this country excels as a grazing or ranching country, because they have such rich grass, having an abundance of rain to keep it fresh. They also have plenty of water streams, and as a rule water may be reached at a depth of from 20 to 40 feet. From this you see there can be plenty of hay mown for winter feeding, and I have had reliable farmers to tell me that their stock will feed on hay alone, and be ready for market in the spring. Upon inquiring about the expense of raising a steer, a farmer replied that he did not consider it would cost any more than $4.00 or $6.00 to develop a three-year-old steer.

I truly think Canada offers a fine opening for a young man or a man who is renting land in Indiana. One hundred and sixty acres of good black land will cost you only $10.00 at the time you enter it, and by plowing and cultivating five acres each year for three years, gives you one hundred and sixty acres of good land for $10.00. This land can be bought from the Railroad Companies, private corporations or the Government for $3.00 to $4.00 per acre.

From a financial standpoint, I believe that for a series of years (five), a young man can make $10.00 in Canada, whereas he would only make $1.00 here, and I feel sure that I spent more money to get my eighty acre farm in White County, Indiana, cultivated, than it would cost me to cultivate eight hundred acres in Canada. This may seem a strong view to take of the matter, but when you take into consideration the clearing, ditching, fencing and the expensive breaking in of the stumps, and then compare the expense to that of land needing only the breaking, you will conclude that it is not such a wild or exaggerated statement as you might at first think.

I enjoyed the balmy, breezy atmosphere, which was bracing and refreshing, and the cool nights which made it so pleasant for sleep.

On making inquiries regarding the winters in this country I learned that the people never suffer from the cold, as the weather is dry and invigorating, and in a great many places, farmers and herders allow their stock to run outside the year round.

One great advantage to the settlers in Western Canada is the free creameries established by the Government, and run exclusively in the interest of the farmer.

I visited Thomas Daley, a farmer near Edmonton, Alberta, who showed me oats he had raised, some of which took the first prize at the Paris Exposition last year. The same yielded 110 bushels to the acre in 1899.

Yours truly,
FRANK FISHER.

MICHIGAN STATE NEWS.

Health in Michigan.

Reports to the state board of health from 81 observers in various portions of the state for the week ended August 31 indicate that inflammation of the bowels and influenza increased and whooping cough decreased in area of prevalence. Consumption was reported at 192 places, measles at 12, typhoid fever at 100, scarlet fever at 56, diphtheria at 18, whooping cough at 11, cerebro-spinal meningitis at 2 and smallpox at 39 places.

A Generous Action.

Capt. Daniel G. Parr, of Louisville, Ky., has presented to the First Baptist church in Petoskey city the Park hotel property, worth upwards of $22,000, to be used for building a Mary Marmaduke Parr memorial church worth $15,000. The remaining $7,000 is an endowment for the pastor's salary. The church was very poor and had been split up several times by factional contests.

A Fatal Blow.

Leon Green, the Eaton Rapids boy who was hit on the head by a beer bottle thrown by Howard Burchfield at the carnival in Charlotte, died of his injuries. Burchfield had been drinking, and he intended the missile for Dan Hickey, a local saloon keeper. The affair happened in a booth just outside and in connection with Hickey's saloon.

Queer Prank of Lightning.

Lightning played a peculiar prank at George Parker's residence in South Lyon. After doing considerable damage to the house it stripped the stockings entirely off Mrs. Parker, tearing them in shreds, and burned and tore the flesh quite severely from the knees down. Mr. Parker was also knocked down, but not injured.

Crop Outlook.

The weekly crop report of the Washington weather bureau says for Michigan: General showers, beneficial to corn, pastures, and late potatoes; fodder and early corn being cut; late corn well eared, glazing generally, promising, and will be safe from frost about September 12; late bean harvest begun; sugar beets continue promising; soil in fine condition for plowing, which is well advanced; rye seeding begun in northern counties.

Corner Stone Laid.

Before a large crowd of people the corner stone of the new courthouse was laid at Paw Paw by the great commander of the grand lodge, Frank O. Gilbert. The town was gayly decorated for the occasion and delegates from all over the county were present.

AFTER THE ANARCHISTS.

National and State Authorities Are Determined to Stamp Out Anarchism in America.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The determination of the authorities—national, state and municipal—to stamp out anarchism in this country is shown by dispatches from the leading cities this morning. The New York police have orders to arrest Emma Goldman and any other person known to be an avowed anarchist. The police of Philadelphia and other large cities have their dragnets out.

At Pittsburg two important arrests have been made which may supply the missing links in the chain of evidence connecting Emma Goldman with the attempt on President McKinley's life. The federal authorities arrested near Silver City, N. M., Antonio Maggio, who predicted that the president would be assassinated before October 1.

EMMA GOLDMAN.

Arrests have also been made at Omaha and other cities.

The federal authorities at Washington believe they have discovered a statute under which anarchists may be tried for conspiracy.

In all parts of the country men who express sympathy for Czolgosz are being dismissed from their positions or summarily punished by their neighbors.

From nearly every state in the union and from nearly every public man comes the demand for the crushing of anarchism, the arrest of its exponents, the suppression of its literature, and the interdiction of its meetings.

United States secret service officers have come to the conclusion that the attempted assassination of President McKinley was the result of a carefully worked out conspiracy, and that in all probability the details of the plot were arranged in Chicago. As a result of information that they gathered Monday the following dispatch was sent to Chief, Wilkie, of the secret service, early Monday night:

"Rush anarchist's coat to us by express at once. Believe that with it in our possession we will be able to trace his residence here and his acquaintances during his stay."

The assassin's coat will be here this morning, and Capt. Porter will at once start out to work on what he believes is the one direct clew thus far gathered from the local situation.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—Nine men charged with entering into a conspiracy to kill the president of the United States were held without bail in the court of Justice Prindiville at the Harrison street police station Monday. They have a further hearing before Justice Prindiville September 19. Three women, against whom the same accusation is made by the city prosecutor, were also held for further hearing, but were given the opportunity of release on $3,000 bond.

UNDER THE BAN.

Chicago Priests Have Taken Steps to Prevent Catholics from Marrying in St. Joseph.

Headed by Rev. Francis J. Barry, chancellor of the Chicago archdiocese and secretary to Archbishop Patrick A. Feehan, the priests of Chicago are sounding a note of warning to the Roman Catholic church against marriages in St. Joseph. The priests urge that to follow the strict law of the church on the question of marriage is the only safeguard for the youth.

The law of the Roman Catholic church obliges every Catholic to be married in his home parish; names of both parties must be proclaimed in that parish unless special dispensation from the bishop of the diocese excuses them. Though many Roman Catholics have been married in St. Joe, Chancellor Barry declares that the instances of applying for dispensations are very rare, and says:

"We find that these marriages are not entered into with either thought or discretion. Outside of the church with reference to their pastors and the publishing of their marriages in the church to which they belong, these marriages are often entered upon without the consent of the parents of either party, thereby causing much pain, sorrow and dissension in homes. "It has come to my personal observation and knowledge, both when the 'Gretna Green' was in Milwaukee and now when it is in St. Joe, that parties left Chicago with no intention of marriage, but when they sailed across the lake they contracted marriages. Of course no one will say or hold that such alliances can be productive of peace and happiness, when they violate the most sacred laws of the church and the rights and sentiments of those to whom they have owed and should owe filial respect and obedience within reason."

FORESTRY DEPARTMENT.

State Board of Agriculture Favors Establishing One at the Agricultural College.

At the last meeting at the state agricultural college of the state board of agriculture considerable important business was transacted. The resignation of Prof. H. W. Mumford, professor of agriculture, was accepted, with the regrets of the board in losing Prof. Mumford. The board adopted a resolution that a department of forestry be established at the college, and the committee on employes was instructed to secure a suitable person for recommendation to the board to place at the head of the department. Joseph Meyers, a graduate of the University of Illinois, was appointed instructor in zoology. Philip H. Stevens, a graduate of Grinnell college, Iowa, was elected instructor in English. S. E. Brasefield, a graduate of the C. E. department of Lafayette college, was appointed assistant in mathematics.

Miss Maude Gilchrist, of Jacksonville, Ill., was elected dean of the woman's course. Miss Gilchrist is a graduate of Wellesley, and taught botany there for ten years. For the past four years she has been dean in the Illinois college for women.

DIDN'T PAY TAXES.

Believer in a Peculiar Kind of Faith Says Property Belongs to the Lord, Not Man.

Irving Jaquay has commenced ejectment proceedings in Benton Harbor against Alva and Emma Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Wood reside in a neat little cottage on High street, and Mr. Jaquay married the daughter. After living together a short time Mr. and Mrs. Jaquay separated, the latter going home to her parents.

It appears that Mr. Wood is a believer in a peculiar religious faith and refused to pay taxes on his home, declaring that it had been dedicated to the Lord and the Lord would certainly look after His own property. Mr. Jaquay paid up the back taxes and has paid them for several years. He now claims the house and lot.

After Twenty-Three Years.

For the first time in 23 years circuit court opened in Manistee with a Manistee judge on the bench. In 1878 Hon. Aaron V. McAlvy held the judgeship for a few months by appointment from the governor, and now he again holds the same position, in like manner. The judge's desk was tastefully decked with flowers when he ascended the bench.

THE WOMAN OF POISE.

Her Restfulness Is Not the Result of Accident But of Self-Education Along Right Lines.

The woman of poise is restful to those with whom she comes in contact. To the woman aspiring to this enviable state of mental equilibrium, of controlled power, I would say: First, remember to be saving of your nervous force. Do not dissipate your strength upon meaningless movements of hands, feet, eyes or head. Let each motion have a purpose, and expend no more strength upon it than it calls for. Learn to relax and keep the body in that state except so far as some member of it is called upon for action. Do not give a strong grasp where a light touch will do the work. Learn to be like an elastic band, which stretches no more than is required, and the strain removed returns at once to its normal condition. Second, it is trite to say: "Don't worry," so I shall modify the advice and make it possible to follow by saying: "Don't worry unnecessarily." With most women worry becomes a habit, and habits are hard to break, this one particularly. But it can be done. Sit down some day and think how few impending calamities ever get beyond the potential stage. Worry if you must, but do not begin before it is time. Life's tangles have a way of straightening out when we come close to them. Third, talk much or little, as is natural for you, but be sure that when you speak you say something. Endeavor to put individuality, which is a very different thing from eccentricity, into your remarks.

Let your speech, even though it be about trifles, have pith and point. In conversation, as in most things, it is well to have a goal. The mention of a goal suggests a word about what is perhaps, aside from nerves, the greatest enemy to poise. This is aimlessness. Too many women are aimless in their talk, aimless in their actions, aimless in their lives. Thus they fritter away the forces which, if concentrated, would result in that useful and harmoniously beautiful product of civilization, the highest type of woman—the woman of poise.—Ina Brevoort Roberts, in Woman's Home Companion.

LOVER'S CLEVER TRICK.

How He Changed the Color of a Rose and Surprised His Innocent Best Girl.

It was a lover who lately discovered this trick. When he was not with his ladylove he was studying chemistry and experimenting, and one day recently he found an easy method of changing the natural colors of flowers. He was in the habit of presenting his sweetheart with bouquets of beautiful roses, which grew in his garden, and a few hours after he had made the discovery he took her half a dozen of the choicest white roses and told her that she could learn through them whether he was really in love with her or not.

"If you and I are destined for each other," he said, "these white roses will become crimson within five or six hours from now. Gradually but surely they will change color and you may regard the change not only as an indication that the flowers are delighted to be worn by you, but also as an infallible sign that happiness is assured to us in the future."

Sure enough, says the New York Herald, before the eyes of the wondering maiden the roses changed color and were crimson at sunset that evening. Marvelous indeed the change seemed to her, for how could she know that the roses were originally red and that her lover had simply bleached them white by holding them for some time over a pan filled with smoking sulphur before he handed them to her?

Mouse Cake for Children.

A chocolate cake covered with white mice is sure to be hailed with appreciation by the youngsters at a child's party. A layer cake with chocolate icing should be used. The mice are made of marshmallows, pinched into shape and finished with white icing for tails and chocolate dots for eyes.

BUSY WOMEN STUDENTS.

How Poor Undergraduates Manage to Make Both Ends Meet at American Colleges.

Miss Alice Fallows is the author of an article in the Century, which is entitled "Working One's Way Through Women's Colleges."

Just within the entrance of the gymnasium at Smith college is a small square room which looks like a booth at a church fair. The bulletin-boards on its walls are covered with blue prints, copies of Gibson pictures, painted frames, college flags, brightly-colored class banners, pincushions, pillow-covers and a score of other fancy articles which seem the pastime of an idle hour. In reality, each one represents the serious investment of a girl who is working her way. The Smith college calendar hanging in a corner took one girl half through the term. The picture-frame opposite paid the incidental expenses of another for a year, while the jolly pair of football players, constructed out of tissue-paper and pecans, sitting on the window-sill made the temporary fortune of their inventor. A day after she had slipped in and put them there they became the college fad, and for weeks she could not turn them out fast enough to fill her orders. Then suddenly their popularity waned; no one wanted them; and now, faded and covered with dust, the two favorites of a past hour sit neglected in their corner, a pathetic warning of the inconstancy of college demand.

Like Smith students, college girls everywhere try these picturesque methods of making money. The pretty trifles which they sell might seem to a poet the spontaneous expression of the feminine instinct for grace and beauty, but they illustrate rather a poverty of financial opportunities. A college man in his effort to support himself is limited only by his capacity. He can break stones in the road or publish a paper, as his talent provides. He is free to enter any trade or business in the town, or invent a new one if he pleases. He may wander where he will along economic highways and byways. No one thinks of putting an obstacle in his way.

But when a girl, out of the fullness of her desire, determines to work her way through college, she must first rid herself of the notion that she can copy her college brother. Otherwise she will meet with disappointment, for long ago Mrs. Grundy set a distinction between labor fitting for men and for women, and our colleges for girls still respect it. During undergraduate days, at least, they believe in an emphasis of the woman womanly. The self-supporting girl, therefore, finds before many an industry open to her college brother a sign on which custom or the college president has written the uncompromising words: "No Admittance." She can neither weed lawns nor dig gardens, clean furnaces nor shovel snow. The girl who should turn grocery clerk or who became a component part of a baker's or butcher's or hotel-keeper's staff in her college town would be a focus for the puzzled attention of the whole faculty, while a student dairymaid, fruiterer, or butter-merchant within the confines of the college would raise a storm of protest from Maine to California. Yet college men in similar positions meet only praise and commendation.

Doubtless some of the occupations in the diminished list for girls declared official by college censors will seem trivial enough to the masculine student-merchant who sells milk by the thousand quarts and butter by the countless pounds. Nevertheless, the college girl invests as much energy and strength and originality in her tasks as the college man in his. If she earns as much money as he, her effort must be almost doubled. Few girls, under the circumstances, have the physical exuberance necessary to meet the strain of entire self-support. They must stop short at self-help. But the attitude of a woman's college is strongly paternal. Though restrictions are laid on the student who works her way, scholarships and loans, as far as they go, are the compensations, and, when these are exhausted, a protective care and watchfulness which seldom fall to the lot of the college man.

Sinking Spells,

Overcome these faults by building up the heart-muscles and making the heart-nerves strong and vigorous. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is the remedy to use. It is the best.

"I would have spells when I would get weak and faint and my heart would seem to stop beating, then it would beat very hard. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and when I had used twelve bottles my heart was all right." Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Owensboro, Ky.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1901.

FRIENDS AND PATRONS OF THE CHELSEA HERALD WHO HAVE BUSINESS AT THE PROBATE OFFICE ARE REQUESTED TO HAVE JUDGE WATKINS SEND THEIR PROBATE AND OTHER LEGAL NOTICES FROM THAT OFFICE TO THE HERALD.

The whole world was horrified when it heard of the attempted assassination of President McKinley at Buffalo last Friday, by the anarchist Czolgosz. Now, the whole world, and particularly the people of the United States, are rejoicing at the bright prospects for his recovery. Words cannot describe the feelings of indignation and disgust that sweep over the majority of people for the miserable cowardly devils who, under the guise of manhood and womanhood, are continually plotting against the lives of the rulers of all civilized nations. The sooner the government of the United States closes its open door to this class of people and puts a stop to the treasonable utterances that are at all times too prevalent in this country, the better it will be for our good name and fame and the welfare of all concerned. The right of free speech at all times is a grand thing and one that should be upheld to the uttermost. But the right of treasonable speech should be sat down upon in no uncertain manner. Congress should take action on this question at its next session.

In connection with the attack upon the life of the President, the words of the anarchist, Herr Johann Most, have peculiar significance. He bluntly blames the New York Journal with having incited Czolgosz to do the crime by its cartoons. He says:

"You wish to make this man one of us. Why don't you read the Journal. Look at the caricatures on the last page, where your president is portrayed in a way that would make even a bootblack ashamed. Is it a wonder if this poor Czolgosz permits himself to be incited to make an attempt that may produce complications that we cannot even foresee? These pictures daily show the president as a little, foolish man. He is ridiculed, and such ridicule affects the ignorant mind."

"Why should this murderer be called an anarchist? Why should the anarchists be held responsible for him? In China the schoolmaster is held responsible for wrong done by a pupil, because it is held that the pupil must have not been educated properly. So the schoolmaster is punished. Instead of punishing the drunkard they punish the man who sells the liquor. Wouldn't it be well to apply this rule to cases like this once in a while?"

Most's remarks may be made to draw attention from the accusation that an anarchistic plot is at the bottom of the attempt on the President's life, but there is a good deal of truth in them just the same. That such a statement should be made by such a man should be sufficient evidence of the evil effects of some of the all-prevalent cartoons on the minds of disaffected people.

Police Justice Kelley, of Bay City, slugged Dr. C. A. Stewart, for making, as he thought, the declaration that President McKinley deserved to be shot. In his own court Monday morning Justice Kelley fined himself $5 or 10 days in jail for assault and battery, and paid the fine. The justice explained this action by saying that he did it because people might say he committed the assault because being police justice he knew no complaint would be made against him and he wanted to clear that up.

A Grand Rapids Russian-Polander who is a well educated newspaper writer, says that "Czolgosz is pronounced Chowgosh and is derived from the Russian word czolzac (imp-verb), meaning to creep, to crawl; (2) to crouch, to grovel." It is a fitting name, with a fitting derivation, for such a crawling vermin as the would be assassin of President McKinley.

WONDERFUL ACCOMPLISHMENT.

Around the World in One Day—A Great Achievement in News Gathering.

In the matter of newspapers, the first impulse is, of course, to provide yourself with the local journal, which presents in detail the important happenings in your immediate vicinity, the doings of your friends and neighbors and keeps watch for you over your city or county government. But in these days of rapid transit and electrical communication, the community is no longer a unit in itself. Even the farmer, with his free rural delivery, is beginning to feel himself a part of the great whole, and to recognize the necessity for keeping in touch with the world and its doings. This can be effectively realized only by taking a metropolitan daily, and fortunately, the developments of modern journalism have made it possible to do this at so slight an expense that it will hardly be noticed. When you can get the Detroit Evening News for 6 cents a week, you have no excuse for not knowing the latest international, national and state affairs. Its enterprise and activity have laid all the nations of the globe and the islands of the sea under tribute for the information they can furnish, and the news in every department of human endeavor from empire building to berry picking flows into its columns for the benefit of its continually increasing and always satisfied army of readers. It spends money not only to get the news but to have it written and edited in the brightest, freshest and crispest fashion possible, and to provide such intelligent comment and explanation as double and treble its value. If you see it in the News, it's new, and it isn't colored by prejudice, partisanship or private interest.

A Night of Terror.

"A awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham, of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, which had more than once saved her life, and cured her of consumption. After taking, she slept all night. Further use entirely cured her." This marvellous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1. Trial bottles free at Glazier & Stimson's drug store.

The mail pouch for Chelsea on the 2:25
train Tuesday afternoon got badly cut up, together its contents, through being drawn under the wheels of the moving cars by the suction of air. Those who saw the pouch thrown off say that if the mail agent had exerted a little of his strength to throw the pouch off, instead of kicking it out of the car with his foot, it would not have been cut up.

The missions-fest at the Bethel church,
in Freedom, Sunday, was a most auspicious occasion. The sermons at all the three services were fine. There were about 1,500 people present. The offering amounted to about $250. Among those present from Chelsea were Rev. A. Schoen and Miss Schoen, Mr. and Mrs. John Messner, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Wacker. Rev. A. Schoen preached in

The smoke from forest fires in the northern counties of Michigan was driven down here in heavy volumes by the high wind of Saturday night. It made everything look hazy for several hours. On the Detroit river it was so bad that five excursion boats loaded with passengers had to tie up and remain where they were until the smoke and fog lifted. On one of the boats were 200 German ministers who were attending conference in Detroit. The boats arrived in port about 1 a. m. Sunday.

Rev. J. I. Nickerson, who has been pastor of the Chelsea M. E. church for the past five years, has been transferred to Adrian, where 15 years ago at this time he was received into full membership in the Detroit conference. He will be succeeded by Rev. E. E. Caster, from Howell.
During Mr. Nickerson's pastorate the church has made phenomenal growth in membership and resources, and much of this is due to his energy of character. Mr.
Nickerson and his family have many friends in Chelsea, both in and out of his church, who will regret to see them leave. Mr.
Nickerson will preach his first sermon in his new charge next Sunday. He will move his family and household goods to

The chicken pie supper given by the Modern Woodmen of America and the Royal Neighbors at their hall in the Rt. Rev. J. S. Foley, bishop of the diocese of Detroit, will begin his annual autumn visit to the churches of the diocese on Sept. 15 and will administer confirma-

The will of the late Stephen O. Hadley, of Lyndon, which was petitioned for to be probated in the probate court last Thursday is to be contested. Mr. Hadley's estate amounted to between $5,000 and $6,000, and by the terms of the will he left it all to his six daughters. His five sons are the contestants of the will, claiming that Mr. Hadley was incompetent to make a will and that undue influence was used when it was made. Forty witnesses will be subpoenaed in the case, the hearing of which is set for next Thursday, Sept.
19.

Owing to the scarcity of bidders for the work on the Mill Creek extension drain in Lima and Sylvan at the time appointed for letting the bids on Thursday last, the time of letting the contracts was extended until Thursday next, Sept. 19, at 10 o'clock a. m. At that time D. W.
Barry, county drain commissioner, will be at the lower end of the drain on the land of Thos. S. Sears, in section 6, Lima, and will award the contracts to the lowest bidders. All ditchers are invited to attend the sale at that time.

Friday evening last, C. Steinbach, J. D.
Schnaitman, R. Blanchard, Ed. Whipple,
Andres Gulde, Geo. T. Jackson, Messrs.
Stowe and Hughes, went to Dexter to a meeting of Washtenaw Lodge, F. & A.
M. The third degree was conferred on Henry Steinbach, the work being done in an excellent manner by Fred Kauska, worshipful master, and his corps of officers. After the work a nice supper was served in the Oddfellows' hall. The Chelsea visitors arrived home shortly after 12 o'clock and report a very pleasant time.

A COWARDLY FOE.

Anarchist Makes Desperate Attempt to Kill President McKinley.

Shoots the Nation's Executive Twice at the Pan-American Temple of Music.

Wounds Are of a Very Dangerous Character, Yet He Will Probably Recover.

He Makes a Gallant Fight for Life, Aided by a Staff of Eminent Surgeons.

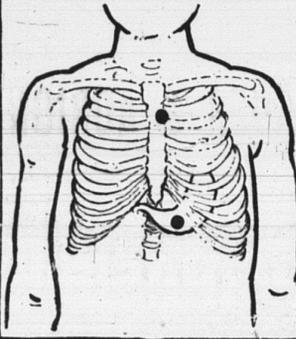

Leon Czolgosz, His Assailant, Captured—Tells Why He Wanted to Kill the President.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—While President McKinley was receiving in the Temple of Music Friday afternoon he was approached by a man with a dark mustache and with one hand covered with a handkerchief. As the man extended his hand to the president, apparently with the intention of shaking hands with him, he fired a shot which entered the president's right breast, lodging against the breast bone. Another shot was fired at once, which entered the president's abdomen. The assailant was immediately arrested and was thrown to the ground and quick as flash 21 men were upon him. When rescued he was covered with blood from a gash in his face. Cries of lynching were heard in every direction, but the police managed to get the man out of the grounds and locked him up in a station house a short distance from the grounds. Later he was removed to the police headquarters.

The Wounds Described.

Secretary Cortelyou gave out the following statement: "The president was shot about four o'clock, one bullet struck him on the upper portion of the breastbone, glancing and not penetrating; the second bullet penetrated the abdomen five inches below the left nipple and 1 1/2 inches to the left of the median line. The abdomen was opened through the line of the bullet wound. It was found that the bullet had penetrated the stomach. The opening in the front wall of the stomach was carefully closed with silk stitches, after which a search was made for a hole in the back wall of the stomach. This was found and also closed in the same way. The further course of the bullet could not be discovered, although careful search was made. The abdominal wound was closed without drainage. No injury to the intestines or other abdominal organ was discovered. The patient stood the operation well; pulse of good quality, rate of 130, condition at the conclusion of operation gratifying. The result cannot be foretold. His condition at present justifies hope of recovery."

The Assassin.

Late Friday night the police learned that instead of Fred Nieman, the real name of the would-be assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit, and came here from Cleveland. He is about 28 years old, stands five feet nine inches high, weighs 160 pounds, has dark brown hair, blue eyes, smooth face, regular features, with prominent nose.

Makes a Confession.

Leon Czolgosz, the accused and self-confessed assassin, has signed a confession covering six pages of foolscap, which state that he is an anarchist, and that he became an enthusiastic member of that body through the influence of Emma Goldman, whose writings he had read and whose lectures he had listened to. He denies having any confederate, and says he decided on the act three days ago, and bought the revolver with which the act was committed in Buffalo.

Exposed to Danger.

The president, though well guarded by United States secret service detectives, was fully exposed to such an attack as occurred. He stood at the edge of the raised dais upon which stands the great pipe organ at the east side of the magnificent structure. Throngs of people crowded in at the various entrances to gaze upon their executive, perchance to clasp his hand.

The Assassin Approaches.

It was shortly after four p. m., when one of the throng which surrounded the presidential party, a medium-sized man of ordinary appearance and plainly dressed in black, approached as if to greet the president. Both Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn noticed that the man's hand was swathed in a bandage or handkerchief. Reports of bystanders differ as to which hand. He worked his way amid the stream of people up to the edge of the dais until he was within two feet of the president.

Fires the Shots.

President McKinley smiled, bowed and extended his hand in that spirit of geniality the American people so well know, when suddenly the sharp crack of a revolver rang out loud and clear above the hum of voices, the shuffling of myriad feet and vibrating waves of applause that ever and anon swept here and there over the assemblage.

There was an instant of almost complete silence. The president stood stock still, a look of hesitancy, almost of bewilderment on his face. Then he retreated a step, while a

After the first shock of the assassin's shot he retreated a step; then, as the detectives leaped upon his assailant, he turned, walked steadily to a chair and seated himself, at the same time removing his hat and bowing his head in his hands.

Urged All to Be Calm.

In an instant Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn were at his side. His waistcoat was hurriedly opened, the president meanwhile admonishing those about him to remain calm and telling them not to be alarmed.

"But you are wounded," cried his secretary; "let me examine."

"No, I think not," answered the president. "I am not badly hurt, I assure you."

Nevertheless his outer garments were hastily loosened, and when a trickling stream of crimson was seen to wind its way down his breast, spreading its telltale stain over the white surface of the linen, their worst fears were confirmed.

Asks Mercy for Assailant.

Moved by a paroxysm he writhed to the left and then his eyes fell on the prostrate form of the would-be assassin. Czolgosz, lying on the floor bloody and helpless beneath the blows of the guard.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY.

pallor began to steal over his features. The multitude, only partially aware that something serious had happened, paused in surprise while necks were craned and all eyes turned as one to the rostrum where a great tragedy was being enacted.

Captured.

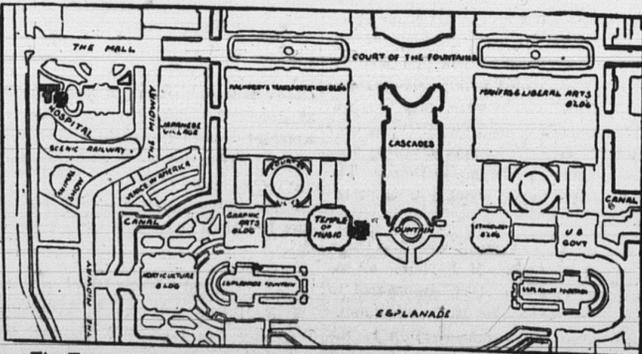

Then came a commotion. With the leap of a tiger three men threw themselves forward, as with one impulse, and sprang toward the would-be assassin. Two of them were United States secret service men who were on the lookout and whose duty it was to guard against just such a calamity as had here befallen the president and the nation. The third was a bystander, a negro who had only an instant previously grasped in his dusky palm the hand of the presi-

The president raised his right hand, red with his own blood, and placed it on the shoulder of his secretary. "Let no one hurt him," he gasped, and sank back in the chair, while the guards carried Czolgosz out of his sight.

Taken to the Hospital.

The president's assailant in the meantime had been hustled to the rear of the building by exposition guards, where he was held while the building was cleared, and later he was turned over to Superintendent Bull, of the Buffalo police department, who took the prisoner to No. 13 police station and afterwards to police headquarters. As soon as the crowd in the Temple of Music had been dispersed sufficiently the president was removed in the automobile ambulance and taken to dent. As one man they hurled themselves upon the president's assailant. In a twinkling he was borne to the ground, his weapon was wrested from his grasp and strong arms pinioned him down.

Coolness of the President.

But of the multitude which witnessed or bore a part in the scene of turmoil and turbulence there was but one mind which seemed to retain its equilibrium, one hand which remained steady, one eye which gazed with unflinching calmness and one voice which retained its even tenor and faltered not at the most critical juncture. They were the mind and hand and the eye and the voice of President McKinley.

the exposition hospital, where an examination was made. The best medical skill was summoned, and within a brief period several of Buffalo's best known practitioners were at the patient's side.

The Wounds Examined.

The president retained the full exercise of his faculties until placed on the operating table and subjected to an anaesthetic. Upon the first examination it was ascertained that one bullet had taken effect in the right breast just below the nipple, causing a comparatively harmless wound. The other took effect in the abdomen, about four inches below the left nipple, four inches to the left of the navel and about on a level with it. Upon arrival at the exposition hospital the second bullet was probed for. The walls of the abdomen were opened, but the ball was not located.

Mrs. McKinley Bears Up Well.

When the news of the crime was telephoned to the home of President Milburn, where Mrs. McKinley was resting, immediate steps were taken to spare her the shock of a premature statement of the occurrence before the true condition of the president should be ascertained. Guards were stationed, and no one was permitted to approach the house. When it was decided to remove the president from the exposition hospital to the Milburn residence the news was broken to Mrs. McKinley as gently as might be by the members of the Milburn family. She bore the shock remarkably well, and displayed the utmost fortitude. She said that if it was possible to bring her husband to her she wanted it done. Dr. Rixey assured her that the president could be brought with safety from the exposition grounds.

STEADILY IMPROVES.

Satisfactory Progress Made in President's Condition.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Private Secretary Cortelyou Sunday night gave out the following statement:

"The public will be kept fully advised of the actual condition of the president. Each bulletin is carefully and conservatively prepared and is an authoritative statement of the most important features of the case at the hour it is issued. The people are entitled to the facts and shall have them."

"GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, Secretary to the President."

This statement is intended to put at rest any idea that the official bulletins underestimate the conditions, and at the same time to give assurance that those with the president intend that the people shall have the facts.

The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at four p. m.:

"The president since the last bulletin has slept quietly, four hours altogether since nine o'clock. His condition is satisfactory to all the physicians present. Pulse, 123; temperature, 101; respiration, 23."

"P. M. RIXEY,
"M. D. MANN,
"ROSWELL PARK,
"HERMAN MYNTER,
"EUGENE WADDIN,
"CHARLES M'BURNEY."

The same physicians united in signing the following bulletin, issued at nine p. m.:

"The president is resting comfortably and there is no special change since last bulletin. Pulse, 130; temperature, 101.6; respiration, 30."

Messages of Sympathy.

The messages of sympathy from all over the United States and all over the world, in fact, have fairly overwhelmed Secretary Cortelyou. Two more white house stenographers have been sent for, and upon their arrival, perhaps to-day, some of the more important messages will be made public. Almost every government in the world has been heard from, most of the crowned heads of Europe sending personal messages. Among the latter are King Edward VII., Emperor William, the kings of Portugal, Italy, and Sweden and the sultan of Turkey. President Loubet, of the republic of France, has also cabled his sympathy direct. One of the most touching messages thus far received was from Mme. Labori, the wife of Maitre Labori, who defended Dreyfus in his famous trial at Rennes, and the detectives are now trailing them.

EVERY SIGN HOPEFUL.

Although Not Out of Danger, the Chances for Recovery Increase.

Milburn House, Buffalo, Sept. 10.—The physicians finished their consultation at 9:45 p. m. and announced there was no material change in the president's condition. An official bulletin issued later, signed by all the physicians, says: "The president's condition continues favorable. Pulse, 112; temperature, 101; respiration, 27."

Hope Unshaken.

Milburn House, Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 10.—"God's contribution to the American people will be the sparing of the president's life." As the evening shadows were falling Monday night John G. Milburn, president of the Pan-American exposition, reverently uttered these words as he stood before the house in which the nation's patient was fighting so bravely with death. And all who have been at the Milburn residence reflect the view that the battle will be won and the prayers of the world will be answered. Since Sunday night not an unfavorable symptom has appeared. Every hour has been a victory. Faith in the outcome grows stronger and stronger, and hope mounts higher and higher until in the minds of some the danger of all future complications is brushed aside, and hope has become conviction.

Not Out of Danger.

Still, that the president is by no means out of danger is the verdict of each of them. Not one of them will risk his professional reputation with a statement that the president will live. All they will say is that with every peritonitis or blood poisoning decreases. Dr. McBurney, the most eminent of the physicians in attendance, expresses the opinion that if the improvement continues it will be a week before the president can be pronounced out of danger and convalescent. And some of his colleagues, like Dr. Mann, place the limit of danger still further away. The fear of peritonitis, it can be said positively, has well-nigh disappeared. At the expiration of the 72-hour period, at four o'clock Monday afternoon, danger from that source was almost gone.

The president himself has been cheerful, and has expressed confidence in his recovery. Monday he asked for a morning paper, but this, of course, had to be denied him. It is with some difficulty that he can be restrained from talking, and Col. Myron T. Herick, of Cleveland, is quoted as authority for the statement that he has spoken at intervals of several things he proposes to do in the future. Monday morning he asked to be allowed to change his position, and when permission was given, before the attendants could move him, he changed to the position he desired to assume without difficulty or pain. This speaks much for his general strength and spirits. Mrs. McKinley saw him again Monday for a brief visit, and Secretary Cortelyou was admitted for the first time. No one else was allowed to see him, although he inquired several times who were below stairs.

Is Given Nourishment.

He was given nourishment Monday in the form of eggs beaten in milk administered through the rectum. The water which has been given heretofore did not appear to agree with him, and since Sunday night very hot water has been taken into the stomach through the mouth with splendid results. His bowels moved freely during the day, and this also was considered an excellent symptom. If he continues to improve it will be gradually. If he should grow worse the change in that direction also, probably, will be slow. This is the opinion of Dr. Mann. There will be no crisis. If he arrives at convalescence Dr. Park expresses the opinion that it will be three weeks before it will be safe to move him. It is expected that the interior wounds will heal first. The sutures of the lacerated tissue were made so soon after the bullet passed that they are probably healing rapidly. With the exterior wound it is a slower process.

THE HOSPITAL WHERE PRESIDENT WAS TAKEN.

HAD NO ACCOMPLICE.

President's Assailant Insists He Was Alone in His Crime.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 10.—Czolgosz had made no additional admissions to the police officials and nothing that they have learned from him has aided toward a solution of the criminal side of the case. He still insists that he alone conceived, planned and carried out the crime and that he alone must answer for it. He admits that he attended meetings at which Emma Goldman spoke and where he and his fellow anarchists discussed their propaganda of murder, but steadfastly denies that any of them had a part in his plan. His talks with them were fairly general, he says, and he did not divulge to them any feature of his scheme to come here and kill the president. His statement on that feature made on Saturday created the impression that he acknowledged a general talk with his associates on this particular crime, but he now says there was no justification for that impression.

Unconcerned as to His Fate.

Czolgosz is still kept secluded and the detectives are the only ones who have access to him. He is still strong and healthy and eats with a will. Knowledge of the condition of the president is kept from him. He knew on Friday night that the president was still alive, but has been given no information since then. No one since his confinement, either in talking with his guards or when up for examination, has he asked as to the fate of his victim. No plan for the arraignment of the prisoner has been considered by District Attorney Penney.

It is believed that both Emma Goldman and Julius Schwab will be detained by the police whenever they are found. Superintendent Bull has made a general request to the police of the country that anyone suspected of complicity be detained and examined. The police of Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and other middle state cities are co-operating with the local officers in tracing out the movements of the prisoner before the crime, and Superintendent Bull said that they had practically accounted for him for the six weeks that preceded his arrival here.

CRAZY SUMMER FAD.

Lovers' Initials Tattooed on Pretty Maidens' Arms.

Some Employ an Old Sailor to Do the Work, Others Turn the Job Over to the Genial Rays of the Sun.

[Special New York Letter.]
 THE old sailor in the little shop in the Bowery looked up from his work mending the union of a young woman dressed in a dainty summer gown had darkened the doorway. The tar knew what she wanted before she spoke. He tossed the folds of the flag from off his lap revealing a timber leg—a good old-fashioned wooden stump—not one of the new-fangled affairs made of cork and springs and calculated to deceive. He was a salt of the old school, indicated by his look and actions. His very manner brought to mind the sea and the fading outlines of white sails against the horizon of blue.
 The shop was a mere hole in the

The young woman smiled, started toward the door, then turned and asked: "Oh, will it hurt much?"
 The old sailor shifted his wooden leg, shrugged his shoulders and grinned, but made no reply.
 The young lady was but one of a score or more a week that visit the little shop on the Bowery. To be sure there are tattooers who have put out their signs at Newport, but they are not the old genius on the Bowery. His fame has spread among those who follow the fads. The tattooing of the arms of young women of society was very popular a few years ago. Then it dropped out of vogue. But this season it has been taken up again with renewed favor by the Newport set, and Newport after all, you know, leads the fashion.
 Formerly it was the proper thing to have a tsar, a rose, or some fanciful design tattooed upon one's arm. Now, to be perfectly correct, it must be initials. And these mean something. They must be the initials of the young lady's fiance. That means constancy, indeed, for what young lady would have indelibly stamped upon her arm the initials of a man she did not fully intend to marry? It is taken as a foregone conclusion,

LATEST FAD OF GOTHAM'S SMART SET.

There was a chair or two inside and the bench on which the old almanac sat. A few sharp-pointed needles were in a cushion on a low table, and arranged in a semicircle about them were a half dozen sticks of India ink. These alone would have told the occupation of the sailor. If not, the decorations on the walls, which consisted of pictures of human limbs covered with various fantastic designs, would have made it clear. But if one were especially all the sign over the door would have removed all doubt, for it read:

ARTISTIC TATTOOING.
 Work for Women
 A SPECIALTY.

The young woman smiled as she handed the old man a card. It bore

TATTOOED BY THE SUN.

The address of one of the most popular women in New York and Newport society. She had sent many patrons to this artist of the India ink. Hundreds of pretty maidens in the smartest bear evidences of his art.
 "Yes, yes," he said, as he read the description. "And what design do you want?"
 "I want initials," replied the maiden, and just the suspicion of a blush mounted to her cheek, made brown by the sea breeze and the sun at Newport.
 "Oh, ho," said the salt. "And they will be—?"
 She picked up the card she had brought from the table and wrote on the back three letters. The sailor made an entry in a little grimy book. "Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock," he said, and the appointment was made.

therefore, when a pretty girl has the first letters of a young man's name on her arm that young man will be her partner for life. It is more binding than the most ironclad contract that the shrewdest lawyer could evolve. It goes without saying that in order to be fully effective the young man in the case has the initials of his sweetheart also pricked in his arm.

But while the old sailor's customers are numerous not all the young people who visit him have initials placed upon their arms. Many of them will not take the chances of Newport engagements. Instead, they carry out the fad by resorting to the old style, and order some small and neat design.

The romance, however, of the interchange of lovers' initials is too charming to be lost. So within the last few weeks a subterfuge has been adopted that has proved quite popular among those who are not quite sure of their minds in a matrimonial way. This new method was invented by a chaperon at Newport and she has received the blessings of all the young men and women who desire to keep in the center of the social whirl. It is very simple and by following the directions the most timid debutant may stand in the same row with her stronger-minded sisters and display on her promenades on the beach a bared arm bearing the initials of the young man who has posed as her escort for the season.

The imitation tattoo has also this advantage: it can be made much larger and therefore much more sensational. The receipt for making it is this:
 The initials desired to be reproduced are cut out of court plaster and pasted on the arm. Then the candidate sits on the beach with her arm exposed for several days. All except the part covered by the court-plaster is tanned a dark brown and when the strips are removed the initials appear in a lighter shade. This method is a very good one, indeed, for a summer resort. If the young lady—as young ladies sometimes do—should happen to quarrel with her escort, or for other reason should desire to make a change, the sun will soon help her out of her difficulty as far as his initials are concerned and tan the letters as brown as the remainder of her arm.

 "Oh, yes," replied the husband; "I think she talked all the time she was asleep."—Yonkers Statesman.

COMPARISON OF NATIONS.

England has 366 convicts for every 100,000 of population, France, 453. England uses 26,000 pounds of quinine a year, France 49,000, Germany, 55,000.
 Forty-six per cent. of British property is insured against fire, 75 per cent. of French.
 In 1850 British expenditure was 16 per cent. of that for all Europe. It is now ten per cent.
 England's death rate for babies under a year old is 15 per cent., Scotland's, 12; Ireland's, 11 only.
 France has 9,370 yachts, averaging three tons in size and £61 in value. England has 4,030 yachts.
 Only 4 per 1,000 English people go to hospital yearly, compared with 12 in France and 15 in Spain.
 The government of the United Kingdom costs only 31 per cent. of her revenue, that of India 64 per cent.
 There are five times as many boiler explosions in the United States as in Great Britain. The number last year was 393, more than one a day.
 Brazil has now the most mixed population of any country on earth. It includes 1,250,000 Italians, 800,000 Portuguese, 300,000 Germans, and 100,000 Spaniards.
 France, with 21 gallons a head, is the greatest consumer of wine; the United States, with half a gallon a head yearly, the smallest. English people average a fraction more.

THERE ARE TIMES—

- When one feels that living is a luxury.
- When imagination does better service than memory.
- When character is formed according to financial conditions.
- When force of circumstances is only the result of a well-laid plan.
- When it is not safe to presume on the generosity of your best friend.
- When a woman recalls with pain her maiden days when her pa kept an open purse.
- When one can't help feeling that the burden of wealth could pleasantly be borne.
- When a man looks with something akin to sorrow on the easy life of his bachelor friends.
- When there is a sense of luxury in even the most commonplace event.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

COULDN'T WEAR SHOES.

Sumpter, Ill., June 10.—Mrs. J. B. Flanigan, of this place, had suffered with Dropsy for fifteen years. She was so very bad that for the last three years, she has not been able to wear her shoes. She had doctored all the time, but was gradually getting worse.

Last winter Mr. Flanigan, who was very much discouraged, called for some medicine at Mr. J. Dale's drug store in Carmi. Mr. Dale persuaded him to have his wife try Dodd's Kidney Pills, and he bought six boxes. His wife used five out of the six, before she was entirely cured. She is now as sound and well as ever she was, completely restored to health, and free from any symptom whatever of Dropsy.

To say that Mrs. Flanigan is pleased at her wonderful deliverance, does not half express her feelings, and she and Mr. Flanigan are loud in their praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and of Mr. Dale for recommending this wonderful remedy to them. The fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured Mrs. Flanigan of such a severe case of Dropsy, after the doctors had given her up, has made them the most talked-of remedy ever known in White County.

A METHODIST BISHOP GIVES PE-RU-NA GREAT CREDIT.

BISHOP GRANT, OF INDIANAPOLIS.

Bishop A. Grant, of Indianapolis, Ind., writes the following letter:
 Indianapolis, Indiana,
 3349 N. Pennsylvania Street.
 Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:
 Gentlemen—"I have been using Peruna for catarrh and can cheerfully recommend your remedy to anyone who wants a good medicine."—A. Grant.

Prominent members of the clergy are giving Peruna their unqualified endorsement. These men find Peruna especially adapted to preserve them from catarrh of the vocal organs which has always been the bane of public speakers, and general catarrhal debility incident to the sedentary life of the clergyman. Among the recent utterances of noted clergymen on the curative virtues of Peruna is the above one from Bishop Grant.

Writes His Recommendation for the Famous Catarrh Remedy, Pe-ru-na.

The day was when men of prominence hesitated to give their testimonials to proprietary medicines for publication. This remains true to-day of most proprietary medicines. But Peruna has become so justly famous, its merits are known to so many people of high and low station that none hesitates to see his name in print recommending Peruna.

The following letters from pastors who use Peruna speak for themselves:
 Rev. E. G. Smith, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, of Greensboro, Ga., writes:

"My little boy had been suffering for some time with catarrh of the lower bowels. Other remedies had failed, but after taking two bottles of Peruna the trouble almost entirely disappeared. For this special malady I consider it well nigh a specific."—Rev. E. G. Smith.

Rev. A. S. Vaughn, Eureka Springs, Ark., says: "I had been prostrated by congestive chills and was almost dead; as soon as able to be about, I commenced the use of Peruna. I took five bottles; my strength returned rapidly and I am now enjoying my usual health."—Rev. A. S. Vaughn.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

A CASE OF BAD BOWELS
 Are you happy? Not if your liver and bowels don't work. Happiness depends on the bowels. Your stomach is sour, your skin yellow, your breath offensive, and you hate yourself and all mankind. Winter or summer it's all the same, when you are unclean inside, you are unhappy and so is everybody near you. The cure is pleasant, quick, easy, cheap, never fails. Cascarets, the world's greatest bowel cleaner and liver tonic. Women of Georgia.
The situation in Georgia, so far as the women of the legislature are concerned, is summed up by the Atlanta Georgian and New Era, the woman's club paper, as follows:
"Our present legislature is making an unenviable record in the way of voting down bills looking to the moral, physical and educational advancement of the state. The bill asking for the raise in the age of consent was defeated. The bill asking that girls be admitted to the School of Textiles was defeated. The child labor bill met a similar fate, and now the dispensary bill has been lost. What's the matter with Georgia, anyway?"
The answer to this question is that the constituents who asked for these measures have no votes.
